- A ball that caroms off the green facing of the dugout is alive unless it ricochets into the dugout. In such instance, the ball is dead.
- A ball that caroms off the blue facing of the dugout post is dead.
- A ball that lands on top of the dugout is dead.
- A player may lean against the tarp to make a play. However, he may not climb onto the tarp.
- A ball that lodges behind the tarp is out of play.
- A ball that goes into the bullpen is alive and in play. Players in the bullpen shall not obstruct the field in retrieving the ball.
- In such cases as a live ball bouncing over, going through or under a field or outfield fence, lodging in a fence, netting or umpire's equipment, the book rule will apply.

Northwest League Origins

The Northwest League has now completed its 58th season since its inception in 1955. Including its predecessor leagues, the NWL has existed since 1901. Because major-league baseball did not arrive on the west coast until the late 1950's, minor-league baseball prospered in the Northwest. Cities like Tacoma played the same role Eugene, Salem-Keizer, and Spokane do today. The Pacific Northwest league began in 1901-02, the Pacific National League operated in 1903-04, with the Northwestern League operating from 1905-18. The Pacific Coast International League followed from 1919-22 before a 15-year drought occurred. The Western International League followed in 1937 and lasted until 1954 when it disappeared at a Friday-Saturday meeting and was replaced by the Northwest League on Sunday. Charter members of the present Northwest League include Eugene, Spokane, and Yakima. The predecessor leagues operated under the Class B designation while the modern league is called short-season Class A.

A Look Back at 2013

The Boise Hawks ended the regular season with 41-35 record, going 21-17 in the first half and 20-18 in the second half, earning a South Division playoff spot for the second best overall record (Salem-Keizer won the first and second half titles). The Hawks swept S-K in the divisional playoffs, before losing a tough three-game series to Vancouver in the League Championship Series, falling 5-0 in the winner-take-all title game.

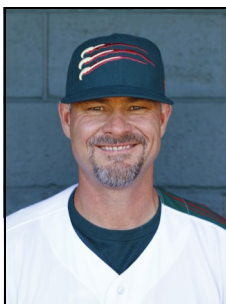

The Hawks were again among the top hitting teams in the NWL, leading the league in batting average (.269), hits (690), and home runs (50) - with Kevin Encarnacion winning the NWL batting title with a .355 average and Yasiel Balaguert leading the league in RBI with 48.

Encarnacion, an outfielder, had a banner campaign in a half-season in Boise, adding nine doubles, eight homers, and 30 RBI in 42 games. Danny Lockhart (.390 23 RBI), Jacob Rogers (.278 8 HR 47 RBI), Carlos Penalver (.261 1 HR 21 RBI), and David Bote (.250 6 HR 31 RBI) were the everyday infielders - while first-round pick Kris Bryant (.354 4 HR 16 RBI) was dominant in his three-week stint. Balaguert (.261 8 HR 48 RBI) was a steady right fielder, with Rony Rodriguez (.270 3 HR 23 RBI) and Shawon Dunston Jr. (.290 1 HR 19 RBI) platooning in left, and Cael Brockmeyer (.271 0 HR 14 RBI), Lance Rymel (.253 1 HR 18 RBI), and Justin Marra (.224 6 HR 16 RBI) sharing time behind the plate.

The pitching staff posted a solid 3.58 team ERA - lowest in years, thanks to starters Paul Blackburn (2-3 3.33 ERA) and Dillon Maples (5-2 2.14 ERA), who both turned in stellar performances in the postseason. James Pugliese (4-3 2.32 ERA) was solid before a mid-season call-up, with Corbin Hoffner (2-0 1.74 ERA), Jasvir Rakkar (4-1 3.58 ERA), Tyler Bremer (0-3 2.15 ERA, 7 saves), and Zack Godley (2-0 1.75 ERA) providing bullpen support.

Hawk Talk

The 2004 season marked the last time that the Boise Hawks won the Northwest League championship, with some crazy moments happening that season. The team was truly Road Warriors in August, as the squad recorded an 8-3 record during the annual Western Idaho Fair road trip, including a five-game sweep at Everett, to clinch the Eastern Division pennant. Earlier that season, the Hawks won one of the stranger games in franchise history in Yakima, as Boise committed a franchise worst nine errors, but still gutted out a 6-5 victory in 11 innings, as current Oakland Athletics reliever Jerry Blevins picked up the win. The team also played the longest game of the Cubs' era that July, as Ryan Norwood was plunked with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 16th inning to defeat Everett, 9-8. That game also featured slugger Ryan Harvey setting a franchise-record six times.

Hawk Talk

The 2003 team struggled to the worst record for a Boise Hawks squad with a major league affiliate, however, the five-man starting rotation to start the season featured a group who all went on to pitch in the Major Leagues - Rocky Cherry (Chicago, Baltimore), Billy Petrick (Chicago), Sean Marshall (Chicago, Cincinnati), Rich Hill (Chicago, Baltimore, Boston), and Adalberto Mendez (Miami).

June 29, 1989 - Hawks manager Mal Fichman was ejected in the sixth inning of the game vs. the Salem Dodgers. However, Fichman changes into the uniform of Humphrey the Hawk and returns to the field to instruct the team. Ironically, the manager of the Dodgers was Tom Beyers - who later managed the Hawks.

Hawk Talk

August 7, 2010 - The night will live in infamy as one of the weirdest nights in Hawks history. Following a two hour rain delay, manager Jody Davis pulls the team from the field in Everett due to "unplayable conditions" - after left fielder Ryan Cuneo slips on the warning track making a play on a fly ball. After another 30 minute delay, play resumed, without the Hawks, and Boise would forfeit the Northwest League game to the Aquasox, as Everett won the game by a score of 9-0.
