DURHAM BULLS (3-8, 4TH/SOUTH, -4.0 GB) AT NORFOLK TIDES (5-8, 3RD/SOUTH, -3.0 GB)

RHP Luis Santos (0-0, 4.91) vs. RHP Luis Ortiz (0-1, 6.43)

TODAY'S GAME

The Durham Bulls will play game three of a four game series against the Norfolk Tides after dropping the first two games. Right-hander Luis Santos will make his first start as a Bull and do battle against Tides right-hander Luis Ortiz.

LAST TIME OUT

The Bulls suffered heartbreak, losing on a walk-off single by Anthony Santander in the bottom of ninth inning. Andrew Velazquez and Mike Brosseau each registered an RBI and Christian Arroyo hit his first home run of the season in the loss. Relievers Oliver Drake and Mike Franco extended their scoreless streaks in relief of starter Andrew Kittredge.

BULLS vs. TIDES

In 2019, the Bulls are 0-2 against the Tides, having been outscored 17-12.

In 2018, the Bulls went 16-6 against the Tides, outscoring the Tides 112-90. 13 different pitchers recorded a win for the Bulls, including Kyle Bird who recored two of his three wins. Reliever Jaime Schultz tallied two wins and a save and Hoby Milner recorded two additional saves. The 16 wins were the most against any opponent for the Bulls last season.

BULL-ET POINTS

- Andrew Velazquez set a career high in RBI's with five on April 4th.
- After tallying just two four-hit games in his career, Velazquez recorded two four-hit games on back-to-back days (April 4th-April 5th).
- Velazquez leads the team in taken pitches called balls with an astounding 86.57%. Curt Casali led the Bulls last season at 75%.
- Jake Cronenworth tied his career high in hits with four on April 5th and April 6th, marking the first he's accomplished this since 2016 with Bowling Green (A).
- Cronenworth lost his eight game hit streak on April 14th, but extended his season-opening on-base streak to 10 games on April 16th.
- Nick Solak extended his on-base streak to 10 games on April 16th.
- Mike Brosseau notched a single in the 5th inning on a 10-pitch at-bat, on April 14th the longest for a Bulls hitter this season. His longest prior at-bat this season was six pitches.
- Brosseau reached double digit RBI's on April 16th. He didn't reach that mark until May 4th last season.
- Colin Poche allowed five runs on April 15th, the most of his career, passing the three runs he allowed in 2016 with Hillsboro.
- The Bulls are four games back in the South Division for the first time since August 25th, 2016.
- The Bulls pitching staff did not walk a batter on April 9th, the first time that's been done since Game Three of the Governors' Cup Finals against Scranton/Wilkes-Barre on September 13th, 2018.

HOT AND COLD

Bulls pitching has recorded just 93.2 innings pitched good for the lowest mark in the International League. However, they rank third in strikeouts with 120, just one behind the co-leaders, and have recorded the fewest walks in league with 32. So where is the problem?

The Bulls have allowed 21 home runs in just 11 games, good for the most in the league. Most have come early in the game, with starting pitchers allowing 11 of 21 home runs in just 34 innings. Bulls pitching as a whole has allowed 66 of their 78 runs in the first six innings.

STEADY RELIEF

While the first inning has become a problem for the Bulls pitching staff (with 14 runs allowed), the Bulls have gotten terrific production from their middle relievers. Mike Franco is in the midst of a six inning scoreless streak in which he has struck out nine batters and walked no one. Ryan Merritt tied a team high for a reliever with seven strikeouts on April 14th (which tied Casey Sadler, who also accomplished the feat in middle relief). Oliver Drake has allowed just two hits all season and has been holding opposing batters to a .100 BAA. If the first inning blues can begin to change, the Bulls have a strong lineup of multi-inning relievers to fall back on.

VERSATILITY IS KEY

Andrew Velazquez is already off to a fast start for the Bulls this season. His 11 RBI's lead the team, while also hitting .319 with a home run, five doubles and a triple in just ten games. However, Velazquez's bat isn't the only one doing the talking.

Velazquez has moved all over the diamond on defense, playing second base, shortstop and center field. Over the course of his career, Velazquez has also played third base, left field and right field. He also recorded the Bulls' second outfield assist of the season on April 15th. His speed is also a factor, as Velazquez is just six stolen bases away from 150 in his MiLB career over 610 games played.

NOTE-A-BULLS

Pitcher Oliver Drake makes his return to Norfolk, where he recorded 33 saves over three seasons (2011, 2015-16) with the club, good for the most by any player since they became an Orioles affiliate in 2007.

Infielder Jake Cronenworth continues to lead the International League in batting average (.475), hits (19) and doubles (6), while ranking fourth in OBP (.512).
