FINAL 2018 SEASON NOTES

SUMMER OF ELOY Of all the talented prospects in the White Sox farm system, none had a better season than outfielder Eloy Jiménez. The 21-year-old joined the Barons on April 19 after starting the season on the DL and quickly became one of the most feared hitters in the Southern League. In the month of May, he could hardly be stopped, hitting .374 (40-for-107) with six home runs and 25 RBI to go along with 11 doubles and 17 runs. Named a Southern League All-Star, he was promoted to Triple-A Charlotte after playing in the midsummer classic at Regions Field on June 19. At Triple-A, he was even better, posting a .355 average (75-for-211) with 12 home runs. Combined, Jiménez finished with a .337 average (140-for-416) with 22 home runs, 75 RBI, 28 doubles, and 64 runs scored. He will look to make his MLB debut next season.

CEASE THE MOMENT Starter Dylan Cease has been making waves within the White Sox farm system. After joining the Barons on June 21, Cease did not give up an earned run in six of his 10 starts outings for a stellar 1.72 ERA (10 ER in 52.1 IP). He was at his best to end the season, going 1-0 with a 0.51 ERA (1 ER in 17.2 IP) in August. With 160 strikeouts between Winston-Salem and Birmingham this season, he finished 12th in all of MiLB and second behind Michael Kopec among White Sox farmhands. Also, the fireballer pitched in 2018 All-Stars Futures Game, and was named MLB Pipeline Pitcher of the Year. Furthermore, Cease has struck out no less than six batters in all but one of his starts with Birmingham.

POWER SURGE The 2018 season saw the Barons blast home runs at a pace rarely seen in the Magic City. Birmingham finished the season with 119 home runs to rank second in the Southern League. Led by six players with 10 or more homers, the Barons eclipsed the century mark for the first time since hitting 103 in 2013 and 2018 marks the second highest total of the past decade, only behind a massive 139 homer season in 2009. Eighteen different players went deep at least once for Birmingham, led by 16 from Matt Rose. Keon Barnum and Zack Collins were close behind, hitting 15 each.

COLLINS EYES THE PRIZE With three walks over the final series in Biloxi, Zack Collins hit the century mark with 101 free passes on the season, a new career-high to lead the Southern League. Recording 23 multi-walk games on the season, Collins has become the first Southern League player to reach 100 walks in a season since 2005, when Jeremy Hermida drew 111 for the Carolina Mudcats. The 101 walks rank second in all of Minor League Baseball, behind only 109 from Lansing's Ryan Noda. Collins' 15 homers tied for second on the team and he led the team with 68 RBI.

"TURN"-ING IT UP Birmingham reliever Colton Turner was one of the strongest arms from the bullpen this season. Over 42.0 innings of work spanning 27 appearances, Turner surrendered just four earned runs for a microscopic, sub-one ERA of 0.86. From the bullpen, he posted a 7-2 record and was 4-for-4 in save opportunities. This represents a big improvement from his 2017 season, when he posted a 4-2 record with one save and a 2.45 ERA (9 ER in 33.0 IP) over 20 relief appearances with the Barons. He was named Barons Pitcher of the Year by the coaching staff and earned a promotion to Triple-A Charlotte on August 22.

WHEEL OF ROTATION With a bevy of roster moves early in the second half, the Barons had nearly a completely new starting rotation after the All-Star break. New starters were the stars as Jimmy Lambert, Bernardo Flores, Dylan Cease, and Tanner Banks had a combined 2.56 ERA (58 ER in 204.0 IP) since joining the Barons. Flores twirled a quality start in 10 of his 13 starts at the Double-A level following a win in his final start on September 2, while Lambert had three before going on the DL on July 23. Cease was one of the league's best pitchers after joining the Double-A ranks, while Banks earned Southern League Pitcher of the Week honors for his performance from July 16-22 before earning two wins in his last four starts.

ATTENDANCE LEADERS AGAIN For the sixth consecutive season, the Barons led the Southern League in attendance in 2018, welcoming 391,061 fans through the gates at Regions Field and Rickwood Field, not including a sellout crowd of 8,500 at the Southern League All-Star Game on June 19. The Barons have led the Southern League in attendance every year since Regions Field opened in 2013.
