Charleston RiverDogs (33-15) at Kannapolis Cannon Ballers (15-34)

LHP Ian Seymour (Pro Debut) vs. RHP Angel Acevedo (1-1, 4.07)

Tonight's Game: The Charleston RiverDogs (affiliate of the Tampa Bay Rays) continue a 12-game road trip by visiting the Kannapolis Cannon Ballers (affiliate of the Chicago White Sox) for the third game of six at Atrium Health Ballpark. This series represents the first and only meeting of the season between the two teams. RiverDogs-Cannon Ballers Season Series in 2021: Overall: RiverDogs 2, Cannon Ballers 0. At Atrium Health Ballpark: RiverDogs 2, Cannon Ballers 0.

Last Time Out: The RiverDogs put up a crooked number in the first inning and never looked back on the way to an 8-5 win over the Cannon Ballers on Wednesday night. The offense put up four runs in the opening frame with the help of an RBI double from Diego Infante, a two-run triple from Abiezel Ramirez and a double steal with men on the corners. That score stuck until the sixth inning when both teams traded home runs over the sixth and seventh innings. Johan Lopez and Brett Wisely blasted solo home runs for the RiverDogs while both Harvin Mendoza and Chase Krogman homered for the second straight night as Kannapolis pulled within 6-5. The RiverDogs scored a single run in each of the final two frames to reach the 8-5 final margin. Taj Bradley earned the win by allowing just one hit over 5.0 scoreless innings.

Playoff Plans: On Wednesday night, Minor League Baseball announced plans to hold a postseason for teams at the Low-A, High-A and Double-A levels. The top two teams in each league will meet in a best-of-five series between September 21-26. The RiverDogs are currently own the best record in the Low-A East and hold a 4.5 game cushion over third place Down East.

String of Success: As of May 30 this year, the last time the RiverDogs had won six consecutive games was in April of 2016. With a win tonight, the RiverDogs will stretch a winning streak to at least six games for the third time in the last month. This year's squad won seven straight games in June.

G'Days Mate: Australian Curtis Mead has been a problem for opposing pitching staffs all season. After a quiet opening week, the third baseman has registered a hit in 33 of the last 36 games he has played in. Since May 11, he has not gone hitless in consecutive games. Mead has 17 multi-hit games in the stretch. He leads the league in hits and doubles, second in extra-base hits and total bases, fifth in batting average and ninth in RBI.

Strikeout City: The RiverDogs pitching staff has thrived in striking out opposing hitters all season. Entering play tonight, the RiverDogs are third in the league in strikeouts, nine behind league leader Delmarva despite playing one fewer game than the Shorebirds and second place Columbia. They lead the league by averaging 11.0 strikeouts per game. Taj Bradley is third in the league with 55 strikeouts and Cole Wilcox is tied for fifth with 50.

That's Gross: Reliever Andrew Gross allowed three runs in his first appearance of the 2021 season back in May. In his 12 appearances since, he has not allowed another run. After tossing 3.0 perfect innings on Tuesday night, Gross has put together 27.0 consecutive scoreless innings, lowering his earned run average to 0.92. That scoreless innings streak is the longest active streak in MiLB and the second-longest of the season. Ken Waldichuk of Hudson Valley worked 30.2 innings without allowing a run earlier in the season.

Awards Season: The RiverDogs swept the weekly honors in the Low-A East last week with Curtis Mead being named Player of the Week for a second straight time and Andrew Gross earning recognition as the circuit's Pitcher of the Week. The pair have joined John Doxakis, now at High-A Bowling Green, as RiverDogs to be selected for weekly honors. Mead hit .450 with four doubles and seven RBI in the series against Augusta. Meanwhile, Gross tossed 6.0 scoreless innings and allowed just one baserunner in two relief appearances.

Prized Pups: The RiverDogs roster contains seven members of MLB Pipeline's Top 30 Rays prospects. The highest ranked of that group is starting pitcher Cole Wilcox who came in at #9. Outfielder/catcher Heriberto Hernandez is the most highly regarded position player at #13. The rest of the list is filled out by starting pitchers Seth Johnson (#15), Taj Bradley (#21) and Ian Seymour (#22), shortstops Osleivis Basabe (#24) and Alika Williams (#25) and outfielder Nick Schnell (#30).
