PROMOTIONS

On Friday, April 26th, the Asheville Tourists were in West Virginia to take on the Power. Hunter Stovall, as he had done every day for the first three weeks of the season, was preparing for the game. Only this time, less than an hour before the game, he was called into manager Robinson Cancel's office.

"I figured we were going to talk about the game," Stovall said. But then they called the Rockies farm director. "I thought I was getting moved up or cut. But then they said that 'We just traded you to the Philadelphia Phillies.' It was mind-blowing at the time but hopefully it will work out in the end."

James Pazos, a left-handed reliever, was traded to Colorado in exchange for Stovall, a utility player the Rockies had drafted out of Mississippi State in the 21st round in 2018. The day after the trade, a Saturday, Stovall flew from West Virginia to Charlotte, then got a ride from Charlotte to Asheville. After clearing out some of his belongings, he met the BlueClaws in Hickory. He came back to New Jersey with the team on Sunday, got a physical on Monday, and was activated on Tuesday.

"I thought I was getting moved up or cut. But then they said that 'We just traded you to the Philadelphia Phillies.'"

Since joining the BlueClaws, he's been a key player, getting reps at second base, third base, and left field while also taking reps at catcher. Stovall was a catcher in high school and went to Mississippi State to catch, though he moved out to second base as a sophomore.

"I try to prepare myself so if I do get the opportunity to catch a game I'll be ready," he said. His versatility is something that he takes great pride in and hopes it helps him as he progresses. "It's a key to my success moving forward. Having a guy that can play in the corner, in the middle and in the outfield, it saves roster spots," he noted.

Stovall grew up in Birmingham and was a huge Auburn fan, "But I went there and didn't really like it. Mississippi State felt like home to me. It's had that small, Southern feel. I fell in love with the campus and it's the best place ever."

The 2018 Bulldogs got off to a rocky start, losing their head coach after just one series. "When he left the pitching coach took over," Stovall recalled. "But of course you had a young team that hadn't gone through adversity and hadn't gone through a tough time. We had to stick together." With Stovall as the team leader, they rallied and turned their season around, eventually reaching the College World Series.

After signing with the Rockies, Stovall made his way to Grand Junction for his rookie season. He hit 10 home runs, including two in his first professional game after he hit just four at Mississippi State. The stadium, Suplizio Field, is not quite like hitting in the spacious confines of FirstEnergy Park. "It's a lot different that hitting in Lakewood. The ball carries well. It's a pretty big park but the ball goes."

As he settles in with the BlueClaws, Stovall, who has said that his favorite player is Red Sox second baseman Dustin Pedroia, is beginning to feel a lot comfortable after the shocking news of his trade to a new organization less than one year after his selection. "I'm finally getting warmed up. I'm friends with the guys and everything and learning my role as a player and a person in the organization. I'm getting more comfortable and getting more confident."

NEW AND IMPROVED PICNIC AREAS

The next wave of BlueClaws ballpark enhancements comes in the form of brand-new,revamped Investors Bank Picnic Areas will be available for BlueClaws fans throughout the season.

Included with the new picnic area is an extensive redesign that will incorporate comfortable mesh swivel seats, tables and food service. The area also comes with better views of the game for fans, and new food and beverage menus as well. The new picnic area on the third base side is perfect for business and networking opportunities.

Meanwhile, the picnic area that is located on the first base side of the stadium, near Mini Golf and Shore Town Soft Serve, is ideal for family outings and other parties.

The picnic re-design comes one year after the BlueClaws opened a brand-new Mini Golf Course in right field, the Toyota World of Lakewood Home Run Pavilion in centerfield, and the Biergarten down the line in left field.

From the Shore, to the Show

Three BueClaws made big league debuts in just over a week with members of the 2015, 2016, and 2017 teams bringing the BlueClaws to 93 alums that have reached the big leagues.

On May 27th, 2016 BlueClaws RHP Jake Waguespack made his big league debut with the BlueClaws. A reliever on a team that reached the SAL Championship Series, Waguespack was traded to Toronto last year. On May 29th, 2015 BlueClaws LHP Josh Taylor made his big league debut with the Red Sox. Taylor was traded to the Diamondbacks while with Lakewood and was acquired by Boston last year.

Finally, 2017 BlueClaws OF Adam Haseley made his major league debut with the Phillies on June 4th. A first-round pick in the 2017 draft from the University of Virginia, Haseley spent the final three weeks of that year with Lakewood. He began this year with Double-A Reading before a late-may promotion to Lehigh Valley. He is the first player from the 2017 BlueClaws to reach the big leagues.

From Auckland to Charleston

BlueClaws pitcher Kyle Glogoski was named to the 2019 South Atlantic League All-Star Game and will represent the team on June 18th in Charleston, West Virginia. A New Zealand native, Glogoski joined the BlueClaws on May 1st and struck out 33 hitters, allowing just two earned runs in 18.2 innings, at the time of his selection.

Glogoski is attempting to become the first New Zealand-born player to reach the big leagues. He spent last winter pitching for the Auckland Tuatara of the Australian Winter League after pitching for the Gulf Coast Phillies last year.

The Walk-Off Claws

The BlueClaws had a stretch of four walk-off wins across just six home games through June 3rd. They had two wins on passed balls and two wins on walk-off singles on 0-2 pitches - one by Luke Miller and one by Cole Stobbe.
