UPCOMING PROMOTIONS

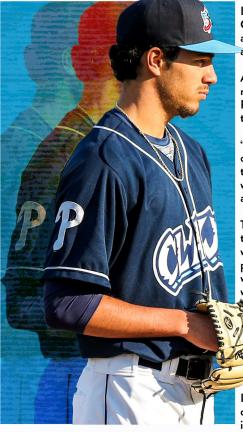

BlueClaws pitcher Dominic Pipkin came into a 2-1 game in Hickory on April 27th. He'd shown promise in his first three outings, but it was this game where he had his break-through.

The right-hander threw four scoreless innings, including striking out the side in the ninth inning to preserve a 4-1 BlueClaws win over the Crawdads. "I think it's just about time I flipped the script," he said.

For Pipkin, a 19-year old that is one of 12 players ages 20 and under to have suited up for the BlueClaws this year, he has seen the most improvement in his mechanics since being plucked from Pinole Valley High School in the ninth round of the draft by the Phillies last year. "[Pitching coach Matt] Hock [enberry] has been focusing on my delivery because I haven't been dragging my heel across my body so I haven't been getting full extension," Pipkin noted.

Coming out of his junior year of high school, Pipkin didn't necessarily envision an immediate professional career. He loved baseball and video games – "I definitely played a lot of Call of Duty. I had MLB2K10 on my PS3 and played that all the time too," he said.

"At the end of the summer before my senior year, I went to all the showcases and the Area Code Games," he recalled. "I started to get some attention and phone calls and thought it might be a possibility so I ran with it."

A big senior year propelled him into the ninth round, where the Phillies came calling. That gave Pipkin a decision to make – turn pro now or head to Cal.

"Berkeley got a new coaching staff and that kind of pushed me towards the Phillies. They were great too but I didn't have the same relationship I had with the first coach. The Phillies made the offer and that was enough for me to go," he said.

The first summer was spent in the stifling heat of the Gulf Coast League, playing day games all week. Pipkin pitched to a 3.64 ERA over 10 appearances. He was aggressively assigned to Lakewood to open his first full professional season, which isn't a frequent move. Pipkin, in fact, is the first Phillies pitcher drafted out of high school to play for the BlueClaws the year after he was drafted since Shane Watson in 2013 (a 2012 compensatory round selection) and Jesse Biddle in 2011 (a 2010 first round selection).

It's only been about a year since getting the call on draft day, but Pipkin feels he's already a much improved pitcher. "I think getting thrown into the fire of professional baseball made me grow up a little bit and that was all it took."

This year, he got off a slow start before his breakthrough game at Hickory. Pipkin had made his BlueClaws debut three weeks earlier against the Crawdads and went to work on how to improve off that outing.

"The first time I faced them I started off with a lot of first pitch fastballs and they're an aggressive team. Before the game, we looked at the heat maps and decided to start them off with off-speed and then come back with fastballs," he said.

"I think it comes down to execution. If you execute your pitches, you'll succeed."

The strong and well-executed plan gave the youngster his best outing of the season, capped with the exclamation point of striking out the side in the ninth inning.

The goal now is to build on that success and set himself up for the rest of this season and beyond.

"I think it comes down to execution. If you execute your pitches, you'll succeed."

The Medusas de Lakewood, the local entry into MiLB's Copa de la Diversion initiative, made their debut on Friday, May 3rd at FirstEnergy Park presented by Toyota World of Lakewood.

The night, like all 2019 Medusas games, featured fun for the entire family. There were food and drink specials throughout the park, live music in the Biergarten, special promotions, and much more.

Additionally, thanks to several local partners including Jose Angeles Painting, La Casa de la Tia, Latinos Unidos, the NAALP, OCEAN Inc, Prudential, State Farm, Reliance Medical Group, and Tornandez Mexicano, hundreds of local children were able to attend their first game. If you would like to participate as a Copa partner, email copa@blueclaws.com.

Our remaining Medusas de Lakewood games are June 23rd (Sunday, 1:05 pm), July 26th (Friday, 7:05 pm) and August 28th (Wednesday, 7:05 pm).

IVING

The next wave of BlueClaws ballpark enhancements comes in the form of brand-new, revamped Investors Bank Picnic Areas will be available for BlueClaws fans throughout the season.

Included with the new picnic area is an extensive redesign that will incorporate comfortable mesh swivel seats, tables and food service. The area also comes with better views of the game for fans, and new food and beverage menus as well. The new picnic area on the third base side is perfect for business and networking opportunities.

Meanwhile, the picnic area that is located on the first base side of the stadium, near Mini Golf and Shore Town Soft Serve, is ideal for family outings and other parties.

The picnic re-design comes one year after the BlueClaws opened a brand-new Mini Golf Course in right field, the Toyota World of Lakewood Home Run Pavilion in centerfield, and the Biergarten down the line in left field.

Bohm Promoted to Clearwater

Third baseman Alec Bohm, the third overall pick in last year's draft, began the season with Lakewood and hit .367 in 22 games and was promoted to Hi-A Clearwater. Bohm was also named Phillies Minor League Player of the Month. He was the second-highest draftee ever to play for Lakewood, following #1 overall pick Mickey Moniak, a 2017 BlueClaw.

Long Island Paying Dividends Again

The BlueClaws have had pitchers drafted out of Long Island high schools each of the last three seasons, with Ben Brown joining the group this year. Nick Fanti (Happauge High School) in 2017 and Kyle Young (St. Dominic High School) in 2018 are joined by Ben Brown (Ward Melville High School) in 2019.

Brown, a 33rd round pick in the 2017 draft, spent the bulk of the last two seasons with the Gulf Coast Phillies, but has blossomed this year. He threw 13.2 scoreless innings to start his BlueClaws tenure with 20 strikeouts in that stretch.

Ward Melville High School also produced Mets pitcher Steven Matz and 2016 Mets first-round pick Anthony Kay.

From the Shore to the Show

Edgar Garcia, a 2016 BlueClaw, made his big league debut with the Phillies on May 6th, becoming the 90th player to go From the Shore, to the Show. Garcia began the year with Lehigh Valley where he gave up three earned runs in 16.1 innings with 23 strikeouts.

Youth is Served

The BlueClaws are one of the youngest teams in Minor League Baseball. By early May, they had already used 12 players that were 20 years of age or younger. Nine of those 12 were 19 years of age or younger, including a pair of 18 year olds in Luis Garcia and Victor Santos.

Garcia, born on October 1, 2000, is the first player to play for the BlueClaws that was not yet born when the team's logo was unveiled in a downtown Lakewood ceremony on August 27, 2000.
