GROWING THE GAME

GROWING THE GAME

When USL launched its outdoor program in 1989, there were only 19 professional soccer teams in the country and no organized lower divisions for the sport. That eight-team USL outdoor league has grown into the 64-team PDL while USL has developed into one of the most sophisticated sports organizations in the U.S. and Canada.

Today, USL oversees the development of players, coaches, referees and administrators that participate in eight different leagues that encompass more than 150 men's and women's franchises and more than 500 youth teams.

Always a pioneer in the sport, USL launched the W-League in 1995 – long before women's professional soccer was born - and created the first national youth league with the Super Y-League in 1999. In 2014 - through a partnership with IMG Academy, USL set a new standard for youth soccer with the debut of the NextGen Series, which changes the way players, coaches, parents and clubs view youth development.

USL has seen many of its players go on to represent their countries in international competition. During the 2014 World Cup qualifying tournament the U.S. Men's National Team featured many players who have developed through the USL system including Tim Howard, Jozy Altidore, Geoff Cameron, Graham Zusi and Brad Evans. Canada continues to be led by 2011 MLS Most Valuable Player Dwayne De Rosario. The list includes veterans who got their break in the professional game in the USL First Division, such as De Rosario with the Richmond Kickers, to Premier Development League products like Cameron, Zusi and Evans. Leading the charge among the first generation of Super Y-League alumni to reach the world stage was Altidore.

The vertically-integrated structure of USL has been in place for more than a decade and the dividends of the early years are already showing. With USL and Major League Soccer teams focused on growing the game through a dedicated pyramid of soccer leagues from the youth ranks to the pros, future generations will continue to improve, year after year and tournament after tournament.

The dedication USL has shown to the women's game through the W-League and W-20 has paid off for not only the U.S. and Canadian Women's National Teams, but also for players from other countries. At the 2011 Women's World Cup in Germany, 62 former W-League players took to the field, including the United States' Abby Wambach, Christie Rampone and Alex Morgan, Canada's Christine Sinclair and Japan's Homare Sawa, who was named the FIFA Women's World Player of the Year after leading her nation to victory.

In January of 2014, the Major League Soccer SuperDraft saw 25 former PDL and Super-20 League players selected, including three of the top five selections, and the NWSL Draft featured 17 former W-League players including former Long Island Rough Riders forward Crystal Dunn, selected with the No. 1 overall pick by the Washington Spirit.

U.S. SOCCER FEDERATION

U.S. SOCCER FEDERATION

As the governing body of soccer in all its forms in the United States, U.S. Soccer has played an integral part in charting the course for the sport in the USA for 100 years. In that time, the Federation's mission statement has been clear and simple: to make soccer, in all its forms, a preeminent sport in the United States and to continue the development of soccer at all recreational and competitive levels.

From a viewership standpoint, nearly 20 million Americans watched the Round of 16 match at the 2010 FIFA World Cup on television. Soccer-specific stadiums have opened their doors to resounding success. The National Training Center in Carson, Calif., in its 10th year of existence, has been a valuable facility for all levels, including the U.S. Soccer Development Academy, which kicked off at the state-of-the-art complex with much fanfare in 2007.

In 1989, the U.S. Men's National Team had not played in a World Cup in 40 years and the U.S. Women's program was in its early stages. U.S. Soccer was playing games in small stadiums that did not reach capacity, few matches were televised, soccer-specific stadiums were yet to be created and there were no high-level professional outdoor leagues.

Since that time, the state of U.S. Soccer has evolved significantly. Entering 2013, the U.S. MNT played in six consecutive FIFA World Cups and advanced to the quarterfinals at the 2002 event. U.S. Soccer is a world leader in women's soccer at every level, and the U.S. WNT has won two FIFA Women's World Cups and four Olympic Gold Medals – an accomplishment that no other country on the men's and women's side has reached in Olympic competition. The United States has also hosted three World Cups with the support of its members and strong organizational abilities.

From a coaching standpoint in the United States, more classes are continually being offered around the country, and the number of licensed, well-educated trainers and managers is larger than ever. The education level among coaches has been tailored to match the expanding pool of talent in the U.S.

U.S. Soccer continues to set positive trends for referees in CONCACAF, with reinvigorated focus on education and training, including the realm of professional referees. In 2012, U.S. Soccer and MLS created the Professional Referee Organization (PRO) to manage the referee program in professional soccer leagues in the U.S. and Canada. The creation of PRO has been designed to increase the quality of officiating in U.S. and Canadian professional leagues, develop more professional quality officials at a younger age and develop officials who will represent the United States and Canada in FIFA competitions.

Participation in soccer continues at high levels among both youth and adults, with more than 4.3 million registered players among the 24 million participants in the sport, according to the FIFA Big Count.

For more information on all U.S. Soccer programs, visit the official organization website at ussoccer.com.

Throughout the 100-year history of U.S. Soccer, the organization has been known by three different names:

U.S. Soccer Football Association – 1945-1973

2013 U.S. OPEN CUP REVIEW LIONS MAKE LEAP FORWARD

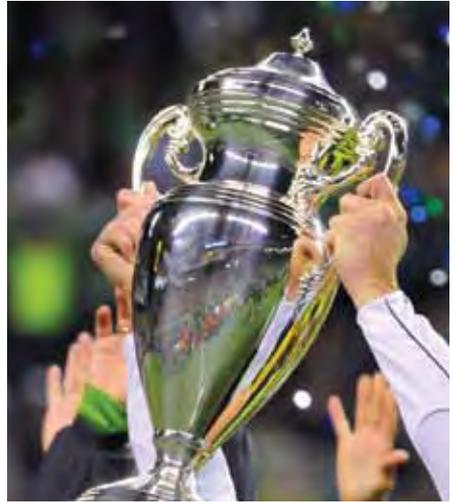

For all of Orlando City's success in their first two seasons in USL PRO, the club had come up short in their bid to make a run in Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup. In the Lions' third season, they were finally able to break through as they claimed a pair of victories against MLS opposition to reach the quarterfinals of the competition for the first time.

Orlando City opened the tournament in the second round, where it earned a 2-1 victory on the road against the PDL's Ocala Stampede. That brought a contest with the Colorado Rapids at the Citrus Bowl, where a big crowd saw the Lions take a commanding 3-1 victory behind a pair of goals from Dom Dwyer.

Dwyer, an All-League selection, had arrived at the start of the season on loan from Orlando's affiliate Sporting Kansas City, which would be the Lions' next opponent in the fourth round. Despite being without Dwyer, who was withdrawn from the contest by Sporting, Orlando was able to grab a surprise opening-minute lead through Long Tan and hold on for victory against the defending Open Cup champions.

The Charleston Battery also flew the USL PRO flag proudly in the 2013 competition as Colin Falvey's goal lifted his side to a 1-0 victory against the San Jose Earthquakes in the third round. The Battery then headed to Real Salt Lake for the fourth round, and took an early two-goal lead behind finishes from Dane Kelly and Nicki Paterson, only for the eventual finalists to rally for victory in extra time.

Orlando's run also came to an end in the quarterfinals as the Chicago Fire pulled away for victory at Toyota Park. The Lions' run, however, made them the fifth different USL PRO side to reach the quarterfinals in the past three seasons as they joined the Harrisburg City Islanders, Charlotte Eagles, Dayton Dutch Lions and Richmond Kickers in achieving the feat.

USL PRO CHAMPIONSHIP

ORLANDO CITY CLAIMS USL PRO CHAMPIONSHIP

Orlando City SC captured its second USL PRO Championship and Dom Dwyer claimed Most Valuable Player honors after a four-goal performance earned his side a 7-4 victory against the Charlotte Eagles. The victory came in front of a USL-record crowd of 20,886 at the Florida Citrus Bowl, with the Sporting Kansas City loanee sending the Lions' fans into wild celebrations at the end of a wild contest.

The Lions came out strongly in front of their raucous support and forced a pair of corners in the opening three minutes, the second of which saw Renan Bouffeur send a shot over the crossbar. Charlotte was able to withstand the early pressure, however, and grabbed the lead in the 20th minute as a corner from the left by Jorge Herrera went to the back post where Fejro Okiomah was on hand to head home and momentarily silence the Citrus Bowl.

Orlando maintained its high tempo and found an equalizer in the 33rd minute through Dwyer as he took possession off strike partner Dennis Chin 16 yards from goal as Chin held off a defender, and drove a low left-footed shot into the right corner of the net.

Dwyer struck again three minutes before halftime as he was able to rise highest to meet a cross by Erik Ustruck from the right for a header that went just past the outstretched hand of Eric Reed into the left corner. Orlando's lead was short-lived, however, as a minute later Charlotte hit back when Ben Newnam found space on the left and centered crisply to Christian

Ramirez, who fired home for his third goal of the USL PRO Playoffs to send the teams to the break all square.

The start of the second half proved more subdued than the first, but the game exploded into life in the 57th minute as Ramirez beat the Lions' outside trap and fired home his second goal of the night to put the Eagles back up 3-2. The Lions were back on level terms only four minutes later, though, as Adama Mbengue was brought down in the penalty area and Dwyer shot home into the left corner to record his hat trick.

Dwyer bagged his fourth with just more than 20 minutes remaining as a corner kick from the left by Anthony Pulis was headed home to restore the Lions' lead. Less than a minute later, Dennis Chin made it 5-3 as he struck a fine curling shot from 20 yards out into the right corner.

Charlotte pushed to try and get back on even terms in the final 15 minutes but was caught on the counter-attack with five minutes to go as Dwyer added an assist to his goals with a pass that slipped Mbengue into the left side of the penalty area for a low finish into the right corner. The Eagles found a consolation goal in the 88th minute as Christian Meza flicked in a header from a cross by Stefan Smith, but Chin capped the game with his second in the final minute as he drove home a left-footed shot as Charlotte defenders backed off and gave him space.

USL PRO, MLS CONTINUE GROUNDBREAKING PARTNERSHIP

Major League Soccer and USL PRO announced a groundbreaking, multi-year partnership in early 2013 designed to enhance the development of professional players in North America, strengthen the competition in both leagues, and establish a solid foundation for future collaboration.

“This partnership represents the first step in a long-term alliance between MLS and USL PRO to connect domestic professional soccer through a system that benefits player development, competition and the overall business of our sport.” MLS Executive Vice President of Player Relations & Competition Todd Durbin said at the time of the announcement.

“Over the past several years, USL PRO has made great strides in restructuring in a manner that serves to complement the objectives of MLS. This is a win-win for all involved and it demonstrates our strong commitment to growing North American professional soccer at all levels.”

The partnership produced immediate dividends with four USL PRO clubs announcing working affiliations with MLS teams in 2013, while the two leagues worked together to create inter-league games between USL PRO and MLS Reserve League teams that counted in the regular-season standings for both leagues.

Each club affiliation is customized to meet the needs of the respective teams, but all include at least four players on long-term loan from the MLS parent club to its USL PRO affiliate. Those MLS teams with formal USL PRO affiliates do not participate in the MLS Reserve League.

On the field, the impact of loaned MLS players was felt strongly by several clubs in the inaugural season of the partnership, with Richmond, Orlando and Harrisburg all getting important contributions as they finished in the top four of the league's standings.

Orlando's run to a championship was fueled greatly by All-League selection Dom Dwyer, who finished tied for the league's Golden Boot honor with 15 goals, a new league record. He returned from Sporting Kansas City to score four goals in the Lions' 7-4 victory against Charlotte at the 2013 USL PRO Championship Game, taking MVP honors.

Richmond also got important minutes from its loanees from D.C. United, with Andrew Dykstra earning Goalkeeper of the Year honors as he led the league with a 0.863 goals-against average. The Kickers, who claimed the USL PRO Commissioner's Cup as the regular season champion, also got important contributions from United forward Michael Seaton (five goals in 17 games) and defender Conor Shanosky (14 games, 1,147 minutes).

Harrisburg was also positively impacted by a pair of Philadelphia Union Homegrown Players, as Christian Hernandez had four goals and four assists in 20 appearances and Jimmy McLaughlin had five goals in 24 games for the City Islanders.

Overall, the 19 main loanees between the four affiliates recorded more than 18,000 minutes of action, with two players earning All-League selection, and one earning an official league award.

Entering 2014, the partnership has expanded greatly, with a total of 10 USL PRO teams holding MLS affiliation partnerships and the LA Galaxy becoming the first MLS club to place a second team – LA Galaxy II – in USL PRO. Each USL PRO team will once again pay two inter-league games against MLS Reserve teams in 2014, and by 2015 all 21 MLS clubs will either have an affiliation agreement with a USL PRO club or will have placed a team in USL PRO.

USL PRO-MLS PARTNERSHIP PAYING DEVELOPMENT DIVIDENDS

It's fair to say the inaugural season of the partnership between Sporting Kansas City and Orlando City was a success.

Both teams claimed championships in their respective leagues, with Orlando getting major production from USL PRO All-League selection Dom Dwyer, who helped the Lions claim the USL PRO Championship in September before playing a major role in SKC's run to a second MLS Cup in December.

While it was Dwyer that got much of the attention in 2013, however, two other young players also had their moments for the Lions, and are now seeing the impact of their time in Orlando as the club moves toward the start of the new MLS season in two weeks. Goalkeeper Jon Kempin and midfielder Christian Duke both played solid minutes for the Lions last summer, and according to SKC coach Peter Vermes, the elevation in their play has been noticeable.

"I've kind of mentioned this that I think there are quite a few young players that have really elevated their game from last year to this year, and Christian's one of them," Vermes said after the team's first game of the Disney Pro Soccer Classic. "He's actually very impressive, like today he got the assist on the goal, he listens really well, he's a really coachable kid, and those are the aspects that I like about him a lot."

While SKC, and the other three teams that partnered with USL PRO clubs, got the benefit of their players getting regular competitive minutes on a more intense stage than the MLS Reserve League, the teams the players spent time with reaped the benefits of having top young talent at their disposal. Three of the four clubs to affiliate with MLS sides in the partnership's first year finished in the top four of the league standings, with the Richmond Kickers taking the regular-season title.

The pioneers for what became a league-wide initiative last year continued to build their partnership, too, with Philadelphia Union Homegrown Players Jimmy McLaughlin and Cristhian Hernandez both putting in strong seasons for the Harrisburg City Islanders. Both played at least 20 games, with McLaughlin grateful for the opportunity to get meaningful minutes as he continued to develop as a professional.

"Right after the USL PRO season ended last year and we came back to the Union for the last two months or so, personally I felt much sharper and I felt my confidence was much higher from playing those minutes, and succeeding and doing well," McLaughlin said. "I think it really helped me mentally and physically, and I see it in this preseason as well, and I know it's the same for Christian as well."

Union head coach John Hackworth was also pleased with the continued partnership between the two clubs, and said he envisioned the players that the Union send to Harrisburg in the future could expand beyond those on their MLS roster.

"That should be our testing ground," Hackworth said. "No longer should we sign players straight from our academy without first testing them at the USL level. That's going to be so important. I think players will get tested, players will get pushed, players will develop and then that allows the first team to make much better decisions on those homegrown players."

As the Union's partnership with Harrisburg continues to grow, Sporting's with Orlando will come to an end following this season as the Lions become the latest USL club to join Major League Soccer in 2015. With that in mind, SKC has entered into a second partnership in 2014, with expansion side the OKC Energy FC, who are to be led by former Sporting captain and goalkeeper Jimmy Nielsen. Given the ties, and relative proximity between the two cities, Vermes anticipates a smooth transition, with Nielsen set to run his squad much in the way that Vermes runs his.

"I think he's going to do a lot of similar-type things that we have done with Sporting in the formation and the style of play," Vermes said "I think all of that coming together will help us in the long-run as well, because when our players go there, it's not going to be a big change for them, I think."

With the notable addition of the LA Galaxy II, and partnerships between 10 clubs from both MLS and USL PRO going into the new season, the future of the league, and player development in North America, is certainly moving quickly in the right direction.

GENERAL INFORMATION

ROSTERS

USL PRO rosters consist of 26 players with 18 designated for each game. In addition to the 26 players allowed on the master roster, a team may register as many as 5 academy players. Academy players do not count against the 26 players on the master roster and are allowed to participate in all competitions. To be considered an academy player, all of the following must be in place: a) player is younger than 21 as of the official start date of the current season, b) player cannot compete (or have ever previously have competed) in any NCAA or NAIA university or college soccer program, and c) player has never been signed or registered as a professional soccer player as recognized by FIFA. The academy player must play for a club which conducts its activities within the team's franchise territory or play for a club which has a documented affiliation with the team. Additionally, teams with MLS affiliations may use the academy players of their MLS affiliate. Academy players do count against a team's maximum of seven foreign players.

ROSTER FREEZE

USL PRO has a Roster Freeze Date after which no team may register any new players. For 2014, the date is August 19.

TRANSFER WINDOWS

FIFA will not register player transfers that take place outside of the following transfer windows:
- February 18 through May 12 (primary window)
- July 8 through August 6 (secondary window)

AMATEUR PLAYER DEFINITION

An amateur player is defined by the following: A player who does not receive payment for playing soccer and who has signed an amateur registration form with U.S. Soccer or Canadian Soccer Association. Amateur players may be reimbursed for certain expenses as allowed by USSF/CSA/NCAA rules.

POINT SYSTEM

The standard FIFA (3-1-0) system awards three points for a regulation or overtime victory. In the case of a tie, each team will be awarded one point.

GAME CLOCK

All games are comprised of 90 minutes (two 45-minute halves). No overtime is utilized.

LAWS OF THE GAME

USL PRO adheres to all the Laws of the Game as dictated by FIFA, soccer's international governing body.

SUBSTITUTIONS

Five (5) substitutions are allowed per league game with no re-entry permitted in USL PRO.

STANDINGS TIEBREAKERS

The breaking of ties in the final league standings, playoffs and finals is accomplished by applying the following criteria, listed in order of importance:

The following two guidelines will be followed during the implementation of USL tiebreakers for all ties involving three or more teams:

- 1) The tiebreaker will determine the winner first.
- 2) The tiebreaker will continue to be followed in order to determine the ranking of the remaining teams without restarting from the beginning.

1) Head-to-head record based on total points in league games

2) Total wins in league games

3) Goal difference in league games

4) Goals scored in league games

5) Total points within smallest grouping. If number of games is unequal, then point percentage will be used.

6) Ranking based on points earned against top four group finishers. This tiebreaker will not be used if four or fewer teams comprise the group. If number of games is unequal, then point percentage applies.

7) Point percentage outside/smallest division or conference in League games

8) Total points in all regular season and Open Cup Qualifying games combined. If number of games is unequal, then point percentage applies

9) FIFA Fair Play – Team with fewest disciplinary points in League games. (If number of games is unequal, points will be divided by games played to arrive at a common basis for comparison.)

10) Lottery conducted by USL at league office

Point Percentage: number of total points earned / maximum possible points (3 per game)

\ Should more than two teams involved have played each other an UNEQUAL number of times, this tiebreaker will be skipped.*

**Group: term used to describe the primary unit in which a team competes (i.e. PDL – Southwest Division)*

SCHEDULES

USL PRO teams will play 28 games in the 2014 season, including a pair of interleague games against MLS Reserve League teams.

PLAYOFFS

The 2014 USL PRO Playoffs will include the top eight finishers in the table, with the quarterfinals (No. 1 vs. No. 8, No. 2 vs. No. 7, etc.) set for the weekend of September 12-14. The semifinals featuring the four remaining teams will be played the following weekend, with the 2014 USL PRO Championship set for the weekend of September 26-28. All playoff rounds feature a single-game knockout format and teams will not be re-seeded following each round.

SINGLE PLAYOFF MATCHES

During postseason play, single games tied after regulation will be followed by two 15-minute overtime periods played in their entirety. If still tied, FIFA kicks from the penalty mark are used to determine the winner.

THREE SELECTED FOR USL HALL OF FAME

THREE CLUBS ALSO HONORED

Three individuals were chosen for the USL Men's and Women's Hall of Fame Class of 2013 and were recognized for helping to make USL a success through the years because of their tremendous efforts and personal sacrifices made on behalf of the sport of soccer in North America. Additionally, three USL clubs were honored as 10+ Clubs after having completed 10 years in USL PRO, the PDL and the W-League. Honorees were chosen through a vote of current Hall of Fame members, USL teams and the USL Hall of Fame Committee.

2013 USL MEN'S HALL OF FAME INDUCTEE

Coach – Mike Anhaeuser, Charleston Battery

A former player and assistant coach with the Battery, Anhaeuser assumed the head coaching position in 2005 and has continued the remarkable success of his predecessors. Named Coach of the Year in 2006 and 2010, Anhaeuser has won two championships with the Battery (2010 and 2012). Anhaeuser's finest moment may have come in 2008, however, as the Battery advanced to the final of the U.S. Open Cup, becoming the only lower-division club to achieve that feat since the Rochester Rhinos' championship in 1999.

In addition to success on the field, Anhaeuser has helped develop young players such as Osvaldo Alonso, Ryan Richter, Lamar Neagle, Tom Heinemann and Alex Caskey, all of whom now feature in Major League Soccer.

2013 USL WOMEN'S HALL OF FAME INDUCTEES

Builder – Patrick Stewart, Charlotte Lady Eagles

Stewart has been an integral figure to the Eagles' success on and off the field since joining the club full-time in 2002. In addition to leading the club to success on the field, the Eagles have reached the W-League postseason six times in the past eight seasons. After advancing to the semifinals in 2006, the Lady Eagles reached the conference finals four consecutive years from 2009-12. Perhaps more importantly, Stewart has helped lead the club's off-field mission that has helped change the lives of many in inner-city Charlotte.

Player – Mercy Akide-Udoh, Hampton Roads Piranhas

One of the most indelible names associated with the Hampton Roads (Virginia Beach) Piranhas, Akide spent seven seasons with the club, helping it to a championship in 2003. Akide appeared in 73 regular season games with the Piranhas, tallying 44 goals and 16 assists. She was named MVP of the 2003 W-League Championship when she scored the winning goal in overtime.

Also widely recognized as one of the most famous and accomplished women's player to come out of Africa, Akide represented the Nigerian

Women's National Team nearly 100 times and holds the record for most international goals scored by an African woman. She represented her country at three FIFA Women's World Cup tournaments, two Olympic Games and three African Women's Championship tournaments. She is also a three-time nominee for FIFA World Player of the Year and has been a two-time FIFA All Star. She earned NAIA All-American honors while playing with Milligan College, and became the first African woman to play professionally when she joined the WUSA's San Diego Spirit. Akide has been a youth coach with Beach FC in Virginia since 2008.

2013 USL 10+ CLUBS

Harrisburg City Islanders, USL PRO

The City Islanders have been one of the more successful members of USL's professional divisions since joining the USL Second Division in 2004. After reaching the playoffs their first season and the semifinals their second, the City Islanders captured their only title in 2007 in only their fourth season. Overall they've reached the postseason eight times in 10 seasons, reaching the final again in 2010, and have posted a regular-season record of 95-66-53 in 10 seasons. Among the former City Islanders now playing in Major League Soccer are Sheanon Williams, who recently made his 100th appearance for the Philadelphia Union, and Tom Heinemann, while the club has been a proving ground for its MLS partner, the Philadelphia Union, with players such as Jack McInerney and Antoine Hoppenot among those to spend time on City Island.

Laredo Heat, PDL

Success has been a constant for the Laredo Heat, who have reached the postseason each of the past nine seasons. Since 2005 the Heat have captured six division titles and have never finished lower than second, compiling an overall record of 88-34-28 and reaching the title game on four occasions. Laredo reached the pinnacle in 2007, defeating the Michigan Bucks in penalties to capture the PDL title.

London Gryphons, W-League

The Gryphons joined the W-League in 2004 and enjoyed success early, posting an 8-4-2 record in 2005 to fall a single point short of the playoffs. The mission of the Gryphons organization is its strong commitment to providing its players a world-class environment for soccer training focused on player development. The Gryphons have helped multiple players move on to achieve success, including current Indiana star Jessie Bujouves and former Hoosier Devon Beach.

UNITED SOCCER LEAGUES MOVES TO THE NIKE BRAND

Following the sale of the Umbro Brand by NIKE, Inc., the sponsorship of United Soccer Leagues (USL) transferred from Umbro to Nike, starting with the 2013 season. The sponsorship continues to involve support of USL PRO teams and events.

"We are really excited to be developing the relationship between USL and NIKE, Inc. and look forward working with USL and member teams to elevate the game of soccer in the U.S.," commented U.S. Soccer Sports Marketing Director, Joe Elsmore.

"We are very excited about this new partnership with Nike," USL CEO Alec Papadakis said.

"We've gone from a partnership with an iconic soccer brand to a partnership with the world's biggest sports and soccer brand, which is great news for everyone involved with USL. We expect this relationship to benefit all USL clubs, and we are eager to start working with Nike to develop programs that will benefit USL's properties both now and in the future."

EXPANDING INTERNATIONAL HORIZONS

USL has long been a leader when it comes to international influence of players, clubs, and executives in North America. Given the organization's unique landscape of clubs from the youth to professional ranks, USL provides many opportunities for foreign clubs to develop affiliations and partnerships with its franchises.

Identifying talented players and creating new commercial opportunities is a priority for clubs around the world, and USL provides clubs the best platform to connect these opportunities with clubs that desire to have a presence in North America.

In 2008, USL embarked on an international development initiative to connect USL clubs with foreign counterparts. As part of this initiative, USL partnered with Beswicks Sports, the specialist sports division of the United Kingdom-based legal group Beswicks. As USL's representative in the UK to broker partnerships between British football clubs and USL franchises, Beswicks Sports has been able to open up new avenues for clubs from across the Atlantic to make new professional partnerships.

The partnership with Beswicks Sports paid immediate dividends for USL, formalizing affiliations with English clubs such as Burnley and Stoke City FC. In addition, Beswicks was integral to the hiring of former West Ham United player Anthony Hudson when he took the coaching reins at Real Maryland FC of the USL Second Division for the 2009 season.

"The interest levels in USL and its various leagues have never been higher throughout Europe," said Gary Mellor, partner at Beswicks. "European clubs recognize that USL provides them with unequalled access to North American young talent as well as the opportunity to forge strategic partnerships and the commercial opportunities that follow."
