CELEBRITY HOME RUN DERBY & HITTING CHALLENGE

HOME RUN DERBY FORMAT

HOME RUN DERBY & HITTING CHALLENGE FORMAT

- All 14 position players from both the Eastern and Western Division All-Star rosters get an opportunity to bat along with 14 celebrity guests. The batters are divided up into six hitting groups - three groups representing the Eastern Division (red jerseys) and three groups representing the Western Division (black jerseys).
- Each batter has 90 second to hit. Batters accumulate points by hitting balls to or off the outfield wall, striking targets in the outfield and, of course, by hitting home runs. At the end of the 90-second round, each batter will be thrown a gold ball worth double amount of points. The batters with the top scores from each division will be awarded trophies giants 5-foot baseball bats at the conclusion of the event

OFFICIAL SCORING

- Flying Squirrels Vice President & COO Todd "Parney" Parnell will be positioned atop a scissor lift in shallow centerfield. If a batter hits the bucket of the lift (or Parney), he will be awarded 50 points. However, Parney will have a giant glove, and if he is somehow able catch a batted ball, the batter will lose 25 points.
 - A batter receives 20 points for hitting a home run or by hitting one of the bonus targets set up in the outfield either on the fly or on the ground. A batter is awarded 10 points for a ball that hits off the outfield wall on the fly and 5 points for a ball that rolls to the wall.

HONORARY BP PITCHERS

HONORARY SHAGGERS

The Lakeside Youth Baseball 15U Ardillas Voladoras adopted the Flying Squirrels' Copa de la Diversión moniker as a celebration of the league's diversity. The team won the Babe Ruth 2019 district championship and will compete at the state championships July 12.

CELEBRITY HOME RUN DERBY & HITTING CHALLENGE

CELEBRITY HOME RUN DERBY & HITTING CHALLENGE PARTICIPANTS

About Will Clark

Known lovingly by San Francisco Giants fans and the baseball world as "The Thrill," Will Clark became one of the Giants' all-time greats during his eight-year stay by the Bay. Clark, a native of New Orleans, continued his MLB career for seven seasons after leaving the Giants, finishing a decorated 15-year career with the St. Louis Cardinals in 2000. A six-time all-star and two-time NL Silver Slugger Award winner, Clark ended his career with a .303 average, 284 home runs and 2,176 hits. The sweet-swinging lefty was inducted into the College Baseball Hall of Fame in 2006 and currently serves as a Special Assistant for the Giants.

Now in his second season as the manager of the Flying Squirrels, Willie Harris became just the second manager in Flying Squirrels history to lead the club for multiple seasons in 2019, joining Dave Machemer (2011-2013). Known as a speedy and versatile utility man, Harris enjoyed a 12-year MLB career, suiting up for the Baltimore Orioles, Chicago White Sox, Boston Red Sox, Atlanta Braves, Washington Nationals, New York Mets and Cincinnati Reds. He won a World Series with the White Sox in 2005, scoring the clinching run in Game 4.

About Mike Mordecai

A Richmond Braves infielder for parts of five seasons in the mid-1990s, Mike Mordecai played in 241 career games with Richmond on his way to becoming an MLB regular. Currently in his first season as manager of the New Hampshire Fisher Cats, Mordecai played in the Majors for 12 seasons as a member of the Atlanta Braves, Montreal Expos and Florida Marlins. Mordecai is a two-time World Series champion, winning his first ring in 1995 with the Braves and his second in 2003 with the Marlins.

About Flliott Sadler

A native of Emporia, Va., Elliott Sadler has raced across a combined 22 seasons in NASCAR's top national circuits, including 16 seasons in the Cup Series.

During his decorated career, Sadler drove for some of the most storied teams in racing, including the Wood Brothers, Robert Yates Racing, Richard Petty Motorsports, Joe Gibbs Racing, Roush Fenway Racing and JR Motorsports.

Sadler picked up three career Cup Series wins and 69 top-ten finishes in his career. He qualified for the first-ever Chase for the Nextel Cup in 2004. In the Xfinity Series, Sadler finished in second place in the final standings four times (2011, 2012, 2016 and 2016) and won 13 races. He was selected as the Nation-wide/Xfinity Series Most Popular Driver four chase, more than any other driver. Sadler was the cover athlete for the EA Sports video game NASCAR 07 and was featured on the special-edition cover of NASCAR 09.

Sadler retired from full-time racing following the 2019 season, but he returned to run the ToyotaCare 250 at his home track, Richmond Raceway, back in April.

About Michael Robinson

A native of Richmond, Michael Robinson played eight seasons in the National Football League with the San Francisco 49ers and the Seattle Seahawks. He was selected for the Pro Bowl in 2011 and was part of Seattle's Super Bowl XLVIII championship. Robinson scored two touchdowns as a rookie with the 49ers in 2006 and primarily played fullback beginning in 2008.

During his collegiate career at Penn State, Robinson played multiple positions including quarterback and running back. In 2005, Robinson was selected as the Big Ten Conference Offensive Player of the Year and was named Second-Team All-Big Ten, and he finished the season ranked fifth in Penn State's storied history in single-season passing yards. Robinson was included on several award watch lists and finished fifth in Heisman Trophy voting that season as Penn State won the Big Ten and defeated Florida State in the Orange Bowl.

An alum of Varina High School, Robinson serves as an analyst on various programs across the NFL Network. He is the founder of the Excel to Excellence Foundation, which encourages kids to excel in academics and society.

About Aaron Brooks

A native of Newport News, Va., Aaron Brooks played seven seasons in the National Football League with the New Orleans Saints and the Oakland Raiders, throwing for 20,261 yards and 123 touchdowns.

With the Saints, Brooks started 82 games over six seasons. He is ranked third in all-time passing yards and second in all-time touchdown passes in Saints history. In the 2000 season as a rookie, Brooks helped lead the Saints to the NFC West championship and the first playoff victory in Saints history against the defending Super Bowl champion St. Louis Rams with four touchdown passes. Brooks was inducted into the Saints Hall of Fame in 2014.

Prior to being drafted by New Orleans in the fourth round in 1999, Brooks was a starting quarterback at the University of Virginia in 1997 and 1998, where he passed for 5,118 yards and 33 touchdowns, while also rushing for 14 touchdowns in his career. In 1998 with Brooks at quarterback, the Cavaliers reached as high as seventh in the AP Poll and went 9-2 in the regular season, earning a bid in the Peach Bowl.

About Chris Mooney
The winningest coach in the University of Richmond men's basketball history, Chris Mooney has been a stable force on the Spiders' bench since 2005. In his 14 seasons at Richmond, Mooney has led his team to seven postseason appearances, including back-to-back trips to the NCAA Tournament in 2010 and 2011, and the program's second-ever trip to the Sweet Sixteen in 2011.

An alum of Princeton and a native of Philadelphia, Mooney is the second longest-tenured coach in the Atlantic 10 and ranks fifth all-time in conference history with 250 wins at the University Richmond.

About Mike Rhoades

Mike Rhoades became the 12th head coach in the history of VCU men's basketball in 2017 and has quickly found success with the Rams, leading the team to a 2019 Atlantic 10 regular season championship and NCAA Tournament at-large berth in just his second season on Broad Street – all en route to becoming the 2019 Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year.

After thirteen years as a coach at Randolph-Macon, Rhoades joined Shaka Smart's staff at VCU as an assistant coach in 2009 and was part of the team's 2011 Final Four run. He returned to VCU in 2017 after three years as the head man at Rice, where he led the Owls to their second-best season in program history in his third year.

About Tim Hightower

A former running back at the University of Richmond, Tim Hightower played six seasons in the National Football League for the Arizona Cardinals, Washington Redskins and New Orleans Saints. For his career, he ran for 2,977 yards and 32 touchdowns, plus caught 162 receptions for 1,208 yards and two touchdowns.

Hightower earned All-Conference honors in his junior and senior seasons for the University of Richmond Spiders, and he ran for 1,924 yards as a senior and scored 20 touchdowns, finishing ranked sixth in the nation in rushing yards. The Arizona Cardinals drafted Hightower in the fifth round in 2008. After four years away from the NFL, Hightower returned with the New Orleans Saints in 2015, where he played the final two seasons of his professional career.

A member of the Flying Squirrels in 2012 and 2013, Mark Minicozzi had one of the most decorated careers of any hitter in team history while in Richmond. Over his 209 games with the Squirrels, Minicozzi played first base, second base, third base, shortstop, left field and right field.

Minicozzi's name fills the Flying Squirrels' record books. He holds the team's single-season record for most runs scored (74), most walks (62), highest on-base percentage (.400), most sacrifice flies (11) and highest batting average in a single month (.427 – May 2013). Minicozzi also holds the mark for the second-best batting average in a season in team history (.309) and the fifth-best slugging percentage in a single season (.445). His career .299 average is the fourth-best in franchise history.

Minicozzi was an Eastern League All-Star with the Flying Squirrels in 2013. He played 12 total professional seasons, totaling over 1,000 games played.

About Jonny Fairplay
A native of Danville, Va., Jonny Fairplay was a competitor and a memorable star on two seasons of the hit CBS television show, Survivor.

Along with 15 other castaways, Fairplay was a member of the seventh season of the Survivor series, Survivor: Pearl Islands. He lasted 38 of the 39 days in Panama before being voted out, finishing the season in third place. The season aired during the fall of 2009.

Fairplay returned for the 16th season of the show, which aired in the spring of 2008. The season, dubbed Survivor: Micronesia – Fans vs. Favorites, was filmed in Palau, and Fairplay finished in 20th place. Since his first run on Survivor, Fairplay has been featured in numerous television shows.

Now a tight end on the gridiron for the Indianapolis Colts, Mo Alie-Cox endeared himself on the hardwood to VCU basketball fans during his four years with the Rams thanks to his rim-rattling dunks and emphatic blocked shots. With a 7-foot-2 wingspan and 250-pound frame, Alie-Cox became VCU's all-time leader in career shooting percentage and ranks second in career blocks.

Despite last playing organized football during his freshman year of high school, the Arlington, Va. native was signed by the Colts in 2017 and caught his first career touchdown from Andrew Luck on October 28, 2018.

Rob Ukrop became one of Richmond's all-time soccer greats during his 12-year professional career, retiring in 2004 as the Richmond Kickers record holder for career goals, career assists and career matches. A former Collegiate Cougar and Davidson Wildcat, Ukrop led the nation in scoring in his senior season at Davidson en route to becoming a 1992 first-team All-American. The forward was inducted into the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame in 2016. A Richmond native and self-proclaimed "lover of all things RVA," Ukrop is currently an investor for the Richmond Kickers.
