June 2009

Dear New York–Penn League Fans:

I welcome you to the New York–Penn League's 71st consecutive season, which makes it the oldest continuously-operated Class A league in Minor League Baseball. The New York–Penn League is comprised of 14 clubs located in Maryland (1), Massachusetts (1), New York (8), Ohio (1), Pennsylvania (2), and Vermont (1).

The 2008 season marked the seventh consecutive year that League attendance exceeded 1.75 million fans, which makes the New York–Penn League the premier short season league in Minor League Baseball.

The 5th Annual New York–Penn League All-Star Game will be held on August 18, 2009 in State College, Pennsylvania. The State College Spikes host this year's classic at Medlar Field at Lubano Park. The 2009 All-Star Game will, once again, pit the best prospects from the League's seven National League affiliates (Florida Marlins, Houston Astros, New York Mets, Philadelphia Phillies, Pittsburgh Pirates, St. Louis Cardinals, and Washington Nationals) against the best prospects from the League's seven American League affiliates (Baltimore Orioles, Boston Red Sox, Cleveland Indians, Detroit Tigers, New York Yankees, Tampa Bay Rays, and Toronto Blue Jays).

It is our sincere hope that you will join us throughout the summer to celebrate America's favorite pastime with your family, friends, neighbors, and strangers alike.

Most sincerely,

NEW YORK–PENN LEAGUE

BRINGING CHEERS FOR 70 YEARS

This league was founded in 1939 with the name “Pennsylvania-Ontario-New York League.” This was generally shortened to “PONY League”. The original teams included the Batavia Clippers; the Bradford Bees; the Hamilton Red Wings; the Jamestown Jaguars; the Niagara Falls Rainbows; and the Olean Oilers. The Oilers, a Brooklyn Dodgers affiliate, won both the regular-season and playoff championships.

The Hamilton Red Wings folded early in the 1956 season, and with no more teams in Ontario, the league adopted its current name in 1957. The league crossed back into Canada with the formation of the St. Catharines Blue Jays in 1986. They were joined by the Hamilton Redbirds in 1987 and the Welland Pirates in 1989, but all three clubs had moved back stateside by 2000.
