FLORIDA PANTHERS vs. NEW YORK ISLANDERS

SERIES QUICK HITS

* The Panthers and Islanders are facing off in the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the first time. Florida posted a 2-1-0 record in their season series (NYI: 1-1-1), with New York scoring three unanswered goals in the final 12:50 of regulation to earn a 3-2 comeback victory in their final matchup on March 14 at Barclays Center.

* The Panthers have picked up points in seven of their last nine games against the Islanders dating to Jan. 14, 2014 (FLA: 6-2-1, NYI: 3-4-2).

* Both the Panthers and Islanders are looking to snap lengthy droughts in the playoffs. Florida has not won a postseason series since the 1996 Eastern Conference Final, when it defeated Pittsburgh (and current Panthers forward Jaromir Jagr) in seven games en route to its lone appearance in the Stanley Cup Final (4-0 L vs. COL). New York has not won a playoff series since the 1993 Patrick Division Final, when it beat Pittsburgh (and Jagr) in seven games before bowing out in the Eastern Conference Final (4-1 L vs. MTL).

* Panthers goaltender Roberto Luongo was selected fourth overall by the Islanders in 1997 NHL Draft. Luongo only played in 24 games with New York (7-14-1, 3.25 GAA, .904 SV%, 1 SO) before being traded to Florida – along with Olli Jokinen – in exchange for Mark Parrish and Oleg Kvasha on June 24, 2000.

* Panthers TV analyst Denis Potvin captained the Islanders to four consecutive Stanley Cup victories from 1980-83. Potvin, who was elected into the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1991, also won three James Norris Memorial Trophies as well as the Calder Memorial Trophy with New York. He remains the franchise's all-time leader in goals (310), assists (742), points (1,052) and games played (1,060) among defensemen.

* Captain John Tavares again led the Islanders with 33-37—70 in 78 games, his third career and second consecutive 70-point season. He posted 4-5—9 (in 4 GP), including a trio of three-point performances, in the final week of the season to earn the NHL's "First Star" honors.

* Four different goaltenders picked up at least one win for the Islanders in 2015-16, led by newcomer Thomas Greiss, who set a career high with 23 victories (after never posting more than 10 in one campaign). DID YOU KNOW?

* The Presidents' Trophy-winning Capitals set a franchise record with 56 victories, eclipsing the mark of 54 set in 2009-10. Their 120 points were one shy of the team record, also established in 2009-10 (when they won their only other Presidents' Trophy).

* The Capitals became the 10th team in NHL history to collect 56 or more wins in one season – and the first to do so since the 2005-06 Red Wings (58).

* A League-leading 29 victories at home guided the Capitals to their prolific season. Their 29 such wins were one shy of the franchise record (30), established in 1985-86 and equaled in 2009-10. Washington nearly matched that effort on the road, where it set a club record with 27 victories (three more than in 2009-10).

* Goaltender Braden Holtby equaled a single-season NHL record with 48 wins, tying the mark set by New Jersey's Martin Brodeur in 2006-07. Holtby (66 GP), however, achieved the feat in 12 fewer games than Brodeur (78 GP).

* Holtby, who tied a franchise record with 41 victories in 2014-15, became the seventh goaltender in NHL history to record consecutive 40-win seasons – and the first to do since San Jose's Evgeni Nabokov from 2007-09 (3x).

* Aided by a hat trick in his final game of the campaign, captain Alex Ovechkin became the third player in NHL history to total seven or more 50-goal seasons. The others, each with nine: Mike Bossy and Wayne Gretzky. In the process, Ovechkin earned his sixth career and fourth consecutive Maurice "Rocket" Richard Trophy.

PITTSBURGH PENGUINS vs. NEW YORK RANGERS

SERIES QUICK HITS

* The Penguins and Rangers are facing off in the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the seventh time and third consecutive season. Pittsburgh won the first four series between these clubs, but New York has won each of the past two – that includes a seven-game victory in the 2014 Second Round in which it overcame a 3-1 series deficit for the first time in franchise history (a feat duplicated in the 2015 SR vs. WSH).

* In 2015, the Presidents' Trophy-winning Rangers secured a five-game victory over the Penguins in the opening round of the playoffs. That was punctuated by current Pittsburgh forward Carl Hagelin, who scored the series-clinching goal for New York at 10:52 of overtime in Game 5. Hagelin was dealt to the Ducks during the offseason before landing with the Penguins midway through 2015-16 (10-17—27).

* Penguins head coach Mike Sullivan served as an assistant coach with the Rangers for four seasons (2009-10 through 2012-13). He also was selected by New York in the fourth round (69th overall) in the 1987 NHL Draft, but never played in a game with the club.

* Penguins forward Matt Cullen played one season in New York (2006-07), while Rangers forwards Tanner Glass (2012-14) and Dominic Moore (2006-07) both spent time in Pittsburgh. Glass was part of the 2014 Penguins team that lost to the Rangers in the Second Round, appearing in two games in the series.

* The Penguins went 14-2-0 in their final 16 games of the season to climb into second place in the Metropolitan Division. They did so without the services of forward Evgeni Malkin, who missed the last 15 contests of the season due to injury.

* Captain Sidney Crosby ranked third in the NHL with 36-49—85 in 80 games this season. That included a League-best 27-31—58 and +22 rating during the calendar year (44 GP). He also two point streaks of 11-plus games in that span: Jan. 12 – Feb. 8 (12-10—22 in 11 GP) and Feb. 29 – March 20 (6-14—20). He scored in a career-high seven straight games during the former (Jan. 21 – Feb. 8: 10 G), tied for the longest such run in the NHL in 2015-16.

* Kris Letang ranked third among NHL defensemen with 16-51—67 in 71 games this season to establish career highs in all three scoring categories. He and Crosby also shared the League lead with a +22 rating after the calendar turned to 2016.

* Mike Sullivan went 33-16-5 after taking over as head coach Dec. 12. When the Penguins last won the Stanley Cup, in 2008-09, Dan Bylsma took over behind the bench in mid-February and guided the team to an 18-3-4 regular-season record en route to its championship run.

* The Penguins went 39-0-0 when leading after two periods this season. They were the only team that did not suffer a loss of any kind in that scenario.

SERIES QUICK HITS

* Before relocating to Dallas in 1993-94, the Minnesota North Stars played their home games in the Twin Cities at Met Center in Bloomington from 1967-68 through 1992-93. This marks the first postseason encounter between the Wild, who joined the NHL in 2000-01, and the team that used to call the State of Hockey home.

* The Stars' Hockey Hall of Fame forward Mike Modano made 39 of his 176 career playoff appearances for the franchise when it was based in Minnesota, helping the North Stars reach the 1991 Stanley Cup Final as a 20-year-old by recording 8-12—20 in 23 postseason games that spring.

* Stars captain Jamie Benn enters the series riding an eight-game point streak (3-10—13) against the Wild. Benn notched a team-leading nine points (3-6—9) and +6 rating in five games vs. MIN during the regular season.

* Series connections: Wild assistant coach Darryl Sydor had three stints playing with Dallas (1995-03, 2006-07, 2008-09), helping the Stars win a Stanley Cup in 1999. Wild assistant coach Rick Wilson spent 16 seasons coaching with the Stars franchise, while Stars defenseman Alex Goligoski (Grand Rapids) is a Minnesota native.

Regular-Season Record: 50-23-9, 109 points (1st in Central Division)

All-Time Playoff Appearance: 31

Most Recent Playoff Appearance: 2014 (eliminated by Anaheim Ducks, 4-2, in FR)

DID YOU KNOW?

* The Stars won their first division title since 2005-06 (Pacific Division) and first conference crown since 2002-03. They also reached the 50-win milestone for the fourth time in franchise history and first time since 2006-07 (50-25-7, 107 points).

* Stars captain Jamie Benn scored a career-high 41 goals, becoming the first Stars player to eclipse the 40-goal mark since Mike Modano registered 50 goals during the 1993-94 season. The 2014-15 Art Ross Trophy winner finished the regular season second in the League scoring race with a career-high 89 points (41-48—89). Benn also shared second in the NHL with 17 power-play goals – another career high – and ranked third in goals.

* Forward Jason Spezza recorded his 30th goal of the season on March 29, becoming the third Stars player to reach the 30-goal plateau in 2015-16, joining Jamie Benn (41) and Tyler Seguin (33). The Stars (along with the Bruins) became the first team to feature at least three 30-goal scorers in the same season since 2011-12, when the Devils and Sharks each had three. This marks the first time since the Stars moved to Dallas in 1993-94 that the team had at least three players reach the 30-goal mark.

* The Stars hope to have forward Tyler Seguin back in the lineup during the postseason. Seguin suffered an Achilles laceration on March 17 and was expected to miss 3-4 weeks from the time of the injury. When he was sidelined, Seguin shared fifth place in the NHL scoring race with 73 points (33-40—73) and ranked eighth among goal-scorers.

ST. LOUIS BLUES vs. CHICAGO BLACKHAWKS

SERIES QUICK HITS

* The Blues and Blackhawks have competed in the same division every season since 1970-71, tied with the Bruins and Sabres for the longest active streak in the NHL. The longtime rivals also have met 11 previous times in the Stanley Cup Playoffs, squaring off at least once in each of the past five decades.

* This marks the second time in three seasons that the Blues and Blackhawks will meet in the Stanley Cup Playoffs. Chicago topped St. Louis in the First Round in 2014, rallying from 2-0 series deficit. Four of the first five games were decided in overtime, including a pivotal Game 5 in St. Louis with the series tied 2-2. Blackhawks captain Jonathan Toews tallied three game-winning goals in the series.

* This series is a matchup of the career wins leaders among active coaches, Chicago's Joel Quenneville (1st active, 2nd all-time: 801) and St. Louis' Ken Hitchcock (2nd active, 4th all-time: 757). Quenneville and Hitchcock are two of the elite group of five coaches with at least 700 career wins, a group that also includes yet another current Central Division head coach, Lindy Ruff of the Stars (702).

* These sides also will meet in the 2017 Bridgestone NHL Winter Classic at Busch Stadium in St. Louis, home of MLB's Cardinals, on Jan. 2, 2017.

Regular-Season Record: 47-26-9, 103 points (3rd in Central Division)

All-Time Playoff Appearance: 61

Playoff Streak: Making 8th consecutive appearance

Most Recent Playoff Appearance: 2015 (defeated Tampa Bay Lightning, 4-2, in F)

DID YOU KNOW?

* The Blackhawks, with Stanley Cup wins in 2010, 2013 and 2015, are the first NHL club to win three championships in a six-year span since the Red Wings did so from 1997-02 (in 1997, 1998 and 2002). Chicago is aiming to repeat as Stanley Cup champion for the first time since the Red Wings did so in 1998 and would become the first squad since the Oilers dynasty in the 1980s to win four Stanley Cups in a seven-year period. Edmonton won the title five times in seven seasons from 1984-90 (1984, 1985, 1987, 1988 and 1990).

* Six current Blackhawks players – Niklas Hjalmarsson, Marian Hossa, Patrick Kane, Duncan Keith, Brent Seabrook and Jonathan Toews – have been members of all three Stanley Cup wins since 2010. They join Stars forward Patrick Sharp and Capitals forward Justin Williams as the only active players with three Stanley Cup rings.

* Forward Patrick Kane finished the season with a career-high 46 goals, 60 assists and 106 points for his first career Art Ross Trophy. Kane registered at least one point in 64 of the 82 contests he played in (78.0%), highlighted by a 26-game point streak Oct. 17 – Dec. 13 (16-24—40) – a franchise record, the longest by a U.S.-born player in NHL history and the longest by any player since 1992-93 (Mats Sundin: 30). The Buffalo, N.Y., native became the first U.S.-born player in NHL history to capture the Art Ross Trophy. He also became the first U.S.-born player to reach the 100-point milestone since 1995-96 (Doug Weight: Detroit, Mich.) and the first Blackhawks player to hit the number since 1993-94 (Jeremy Roenick).

LOS ANGELES KINGS vs. SAN JOSE SHARKS

SERIES QUICK HITS

* The Kings and Sharks are meeting in the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the third time in the past four seasons and for the fourth time overall, all in past six campaigns. The Sharks have faced the Kings in each of San Jose's past 14 playoff games since 2013.

* Including regular-season and playoff games, the Kings and Sharks have met 51 times since the start of the 2010-11 season (31 regular-season, 20 playoff), one more than Rangers-Capitals for the most matchups between any two clubs in that span.

* Four current Sharks players have appeared in all of San Jose's 20 playoff games against the Kings: forwards Logan Couture, Patrick Marleau, Joe Pavelski and Joe Thornton. The Kings also have four players on their current roster who have never missed a playoff game against the Sharks: goaltender Jonathan Quick, defenseman Drew Doughty, and forwards Dustin Brown and Trevor Lewis.

* Both teams have celebrated miraculous comebacks against their rivals in playoff competition. In Game 3 of their 2011 series, the Sharks trailed Los Angeles 4-0 but rallied for a 6-5 overtime win, becoming just the fourth winning team in playoff history to overcome a deficit of four or more goals and the first since the North Stars (vs. CHI) on April 28, 1985. In 2014, the Kings trailed their series against San Jose but rebounded to win four straight and become the fourth team in NHL history to overcome a 3-0 series deficit. After being outscored 17-8 in the first three games of the series, Los Angeles posted an 18-5 goals advantage over the final four contests.

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFF FORMATS

2013-14 — The NHL's clubs were realigned into two conferences, each consisting of two divisions. The number of teams qualifying for the Stanley Cup Playoffs remains unchanged at 16. Twelve first-round playoff berths will be awarded to the top three finishers in each of the four divisions. These clubs will be the first three "seeds" in each division. Two additional "Wild Card" berths will be awarded to the next two highest-placed finishers in each conference, ranked on the basis of regular-season points and regardless of division. The first-place finisher with the highest number of regular-season points in the conference will be matched against the Wild Card team with the lowest number of regular-season points, and the first-place finisher with the second-highest number of regular-season points in the conference matched against the Wild Card team with the second-lowest number of regular-season points.

In each division, the team seeded #1 plays #4; #2 plays #3.

The two advancing teams in the West and two advancing teams in the East meet in the Conference Finals.

The Eastern and Western Conference champions will meet in the Stanley Cup Final.

Home-ice advantage in the Stanley Cup Final will be determined by points.

1998-99 – The NHL's clubs were realigned into two conferences, each consisting of three divisions. The number of teams qualifying for the Stanley Cup Playoffs remained at 16. First-round playoff berths were awarded to the first-place team in each division as well as to the next five best teams based on regular-season point totals in each conference. The three division winners in each conference were seeded first through third, in order of points, for the playoffs and the next five best teams, in order of points, were seeded fourth through eighth. In each conference, the team seeded #1 played #8; #2 vs. #7; #3 vs. #6; and #4 vs. #5 in the Quarterfinal Round. Home-ice in the Conference Quarterfinals was granted to those teams seeded first through fourth in each conference. In the Conference Semifinals and Conference Finals, teams were re-seeded according to the same criteria as the Conference Quarterfinals. Higher-seeded teams gained home-ice advantage. Home-ice advantage for the Stanley Cup Final to be determined by regular-season points. All series remain best-of-seven.

1994-95 – Same as 1993-94, except that in first-, second- or third-round playoff series involving Central and Pacific Division teams, the team with the better record had the choice of using either a 2-3-2 or a 2-2-1-1-1 format. When a 2-3-2 format was selected, the higher-ranked team also had the choice of playing games 1, 2, 6 and 7 at home or playing games 3, 4 and 5 at home. The format for the Stanley Cup Final remained 2-2-1-1-1.

1993-94 – The NHL's playoff draw was conference-based rather than division-based. At the conclusion of the regular season, the top eight teams in each of the Eastern and Western Conferences qualified for the playoffs. The teams that finished in first place in each of the League's divisions are seeded first and second in each conference's playoff draw and were assured of home-ice advantage in the first two playoff rounds. The remaining teams were seeded based on their regular-season point totals. In each conference, the team seeded #1 plays #8; #2 vs. #7; #3 vs. #6; and #4 vs. #5. All series were best-of-seven with home ice rotating on a 2-2-1-1-1 basis, with the exception of matchups between Central and Pacific Division teams. These matchups were played on a 2-3-2 basis to reduce travel. In a 2-3-2 series, the team with the most points could choose to start the series at home or on the road. The Eastern Conference champion faced the Western Conference champion in the Stanley Cup Final.

1986-87 – Division Semifinal series changed from best-of-five to best-of-seven.

1981-82 – The first four teams in each division earned playoff berths. In each division, the first-place team opposed the fourth-place team and the second-place team opposed the third-place team in a best-of-five Division Semifinal (DSF) series. In each division, the two winners of the DSF met in a best-of-seven Division Final (DF) series. The two DF winners in each conference met in a best-of-seven Conference Final (CF) series. In the Prince of Wales Conference, the Adams Division winner opposed the Patrick Division winner; in the Clarence Campbell Conference, the Smythe Division winner opposed the Norris Division winner. The two CF winners met in a best-of-seven Stanley Cup Final.

1979-80 – The League expanded its playoff structure to include 16 teams. The four first-place teams in the four divisions automatically earned playoff berths. Another 12, according to regular-season record, also earned berths. All 16 teams were then pooled together and ranked #1 to #16 based on regular-season record:

Series A: Team #1 vs. Team #16 (best-of-five)
Series B: Team #2 vs. Team #15 (best-of-five)
Series C: Team #3 vs. Team #14 (best-of-five)
Series D: Team #4 vs. Team #13 (best-of-five)
Series E: Team #5 vs. Team #12 (best-of-five)
Series F: Team #6 vs. Team #11 (best-of-five)
Series G: Team #7 vs. Team #10 (best-of-five)
Series H: Team #8 vs. Team #9 (best-of-five)

The eight Preliminary Round winners, ranked #1 to #8 based on regular-season record, moved on to the Quarterfinals:

Series I: Team #1 vs. Team #8 (best-of-seven)
Series J: Team #2 vs. Team #7 (best-of-seven)
Series K: Team #3 vs. Team #6 (best-of-seven)
Series L: Team #4 vs. Team #5 (best-of-seven)

The four Quarterfinals winners, ranked #1 to #4 based on regular-season record, moved on to the Semifinals:

Series M: Team #1 vs. Team #4 (best-of-seven)
Series N: Team #2 vs. Team #3 (best-of-seven)
Series O: Winner of Series M vs. winner of Series N (best-of-seven)

1977-78 – Same as 1974-75, except that the Preliminary Round consisted of the #2 teams in the four divisions and the next four teams based on regular-season record (not their standings within their divisions).

1974-75 – With the League now expanded to 18 teams in four divisions, a completely new playoff format was introduced. First, the #2 and #3 teams in each of the four divisions were pooled together in the Preliminary Round. These eight (#2 and #3) clubs were ranked #1 to #8 based on regular-season record:

Series A: Team #1 vs. Team #8 (best-of-three)
Series B: Team #2 vs. Team #7 (best-of-three)
Series C: Team #3 vs. Team #6 (best-of-three)
Series D: Team #4 vs. Team #5 (best-of-three)

The winners of this Preliminary Round then pooled together with the four division winners, which had received byes into this Quarterfinal Round. These eight teams were again ranked #1 to #8 based on regular-season record:

Series E: Team #1 vs. Team #8 (best-of-seven)
Series F: Team #2 vs. Team #7 (best-of-seven)
Series G: Team #3 vs. Team #6 (best-of-seven)
Series H: Team #4 vs. Team #5 (best-of-seven)

The four Quarterfinal winners, which moved on to the Semifinals, were then ranked #1 to #4 based on regular-season record:

Series I: Team #1 vs. Team #4 (best-of-seven)
Series J: Team #2 vs. Team #3 (best-of-seven)
Series K: Winner of Series I vs. Winner of Series J (best-of-seven)

1971-72 – Same as 1970-71, except that Series A and C matched the first- and fourth-place teams, and Series B and D matched the second- and third-place teams.

1970-71 – Same as 1967-68 except that Series E matched the winners of Series A and D, and Series F matched the winners of Series B and C.

1967-68 – When it doubled in size from six to 12 teams, the NHL once again was divided into two divisions – East and West – of six teams apiece. The top four clubs in each division qualified for the playoffs (all series were best-of-seven):

Series A: First (East) vs. Third (East)
Series B: Second (East) vs. Fourth (East)
Series C: First (West) vs. Third (West)
Series D: Second (West) vs. Fourth (West)
Series E: Winner of Series A vs. Winner of Series B
Series F: Winner of Series C vs. Winner of Series D
Series G: Winner of Series E vs. Winner of Series F

1942-43 – With the NHL reduced to six teams (the “Original Six”), only the top four finishers qualified for playoff action. The best-of-seven Semifinals pitted Team #1 vs. Team #3 and Team #2 vs. Team #4. The winners of each Semifinal series met in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup Final.

1938-39 – With the NHL reduced to seven teams, the two-division system was replaced by one seven-team League. Based on final regular-season standings, the following playoff format was adopted:

Series A: First vs. Second (best-of-seven)
Series B: Third vs. Fourth (best-of-three)
Series C: Fifth vs. Sixth (best-of-three)
Series D: Winner of Series B vs. Winner of Series C (best-of-three)
Series E: Winner of Series A vs. Winner of Series D (best-of-seven)

1936-37 – Same as 1931-32, except that Series B, C and D were each best-of-three.

1931-32 – Same as 1928-29, except that Series D was changed to a two-game, total-goals format and Series E was changed to best-of-five.

1928-29 – Both first-place teams in the two divisions played each other in a best-of-five series. Both second-place teams in the two divisions played each other in a two-game, total-goals series as did the two third-place teams. The winners of these latter two series then played each other in a best-of-three series for the right to meet the winner of the series between the two first-place clubs. This Stanley Cup Final was a best-of-three.

Series A: First in Canadian Division vs. First in American Division (best-of-five)
Series B: Second in Canadian Division vs. Second in American Division (two-game, total-goals)
Series C: Third in Canadian Division vs. Third in American Division (two-game, total-goals)
Series D: Winner of Series B vs. Winner of Series C (best-of-three)
Series E: Winner of Series A vs. Winner of Series D (best-of-three) for Stanley Cup

1926-27 – The 10-team league was divided into two divisions – Canadian and American – of five teams apiece. In each division, the winner of the two-game, total-goals series between the second- and third-place teams faced the first-place team in a two-game, total-goals series for the division title. The two division title winners then met in the best-of-five Stanley Cup Final.

1925-26 – The format that was intended for 1924-25 went into effect. The winner of the two-game, total-goals series between the second- and third-place teams squared off against the first-place team in the two-game, total-goals NHL championship series. The NHL champion then moved on to play the Western Hockey League champion in the best-of-five Stanley Cup Final. After the 1925-26 season, the NHL was the only major professional hockey league still in existence and consequently took over sole control of the Stanley Cup competition.

1924-25 – The first place team (Hamilton) at the conclusion of the regular season was scheduled to play the winner of a two-game, total-goals series between the second- (Toronto) and third- (Montreal) place clubs. However, Hamilton refused to abide by this new format, demanding greater compensation than offered by the League. Thus, Toronto and Montreal played their two-game, total-goals series, and the winner (Montreal) earned the NHL title and then played the WCHL champion (Victoria) in the best-of-five Stanley Cup Final.

1923-24 – The top two teams at the conclusion of the regular season faced each other in a two-game, total-goals series for the NHL championship. The NHL champion then moved on to play the loser of the PCHA-WCHL playoff (the winner of the PCHA-WCHL playoff earned a bye into the Stanley Cup Final) in the best-of-three Stanley Cup Semifinals. The winner of this series met the PCHA-WCHL playoff winner in the best-of-three Stanley Cup Final.

1922-23 – The top two teams at the conclusion of the regular season faced each other in a two-game, total-goals series for the NHL championship. The NHL champion then moved on to play the PCHA champion in the best-of-three Stanley Cup Semifinals, and the winner of the Semifinals played the WCHL champion, which had been given a bye, in the best-of-three Stanley Cup Final.

1921-22 – The top two teams at the conclusion of the regular season faced each other in a two-game, total-goals series for the NHL championship. The NHL champion then moved on to play the winner of the PCHA-Western Canada Hockey League playoff series in the best-of-five Stanley Cup Final.

1919-20 – Same as 1917-18, except that Ottawa won both halves of the split regular-season schedule to earn an automatic berth into the best-of-five Stanley Cup Final against the PCHA champions.

1918-19 – Same as 1917-18, except that the NHL Final was extended to a best-of-seven series.

1917-18 – The regular season was split into two halves. The winners of both halves faced each other in a two-game, total-goals series for the NHL championship and the right to meet the Pacific Coast Hockey Association champion in the best-of-five Stanley Cup Final.

STANLEY CUP FACTS

- Oldest trophy competed for by professional athletes in North America
- Was crafted in Sheffield, England, in the late 1800s
- Was first presented in 1893
- Logged more than 1 million miles in travel over the last 10 seasons, including trips to Afghanistan, Austria, the Bahamas, Belarus, Belgium, Canada, the Czech Republic, England, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Liechtenstein, Mexico, Russia, Scotland, Slovakia, Slovenia, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Ukraine, the United Arab Emirates and the United States
- Is made of silver and nickel alloy, and weighs 35 pounds and stands at three feet tall
- Was purchased for 10 guineas ($48.67 at the time) in 1892 on behalf of Lord Stanley of Preston, the Governor General of Canada, for whom the Stanley Cup was named
- The Stanley Cup was originally called the “Dominion Challenge Cup”
- The Montreal AAAs (Amateur Athletic Association) were the first winners of the Stanley Cup
- When it was originally bought, the Stanley Cup was a silver bowl measuring seven inches high and 11.5 inches in diameter
- 1926 was the first year that the Stanley Cup was competed for solely by NHL teams
- In 1927, to accommodate names of players being etched into the Cup, silver bands were added to the bottom of the bowl
- In 1970, the original bowl crafted in 1892 was retired because it became too brittle to travel; it is currently secured in a locked vault at the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto
- Is the only trophy in professional sports that is passed along from player to player the summer their team wins it
- Is so revered by NHL players that many who have not won it refuse to be in its presence
- Is the only trophy in professional sports that has 24-hour supervision and is accompanied by a full-time bodyguard, known as the Keeper of the Cup
- The Keeper of the Cup only handles the Cup while wearing white gloves
- Was the first professional team sports trophy to be presented to the winning team on the playing surface, immediately following the team’s victory; many other sports do this today
- Travels close to 300 days per year
- Is the only trophy in professional sports that has the names of winning players, coaches, management and club staff engraved on the silver chalice
- The tradition of engraving names on the Cup began in 1907 with the Montreal Wanderers
- It takes 13 years to fill the ring of the Stanley Cup with names of winners
- Two rings (spanning 26 years) have been retired at the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto
- Names misspelled on the Stanley Cup – Adam Deadmarsh of the Colorado Avalanche in 1996 was spelled “Deadmarch,” but was changed; the first misspelled name to be corrected
- Detroit Red Wings Manny Legace’s name also was misspelled and later corrected in 2002; Tomas Holmström was misspelled and corrected following the 2008 Red Wings engraving; Kris Versteeg was spelled as ‘Vertseeg’ in 2010 with Chicago but has been corrected
- Some other misspellings on the Cup that never have been corrected: Jacques Plante’s name has been misspelled, (including “Jac,” and “Jacq”); Bob Gainey was spelled “Gainy” when he was a player for Montreal in the 1970s; Ted Kennedy was spelled “Kennedyy” in the 1940s; New York Islanders was spelled “Ilanders” in 1980-81; the Toronto Maple Leafs was spelled “Leaes” in 1962-63; the Boston Bruins was spelled “Bqstqn” in 1972
- Name scratched out – “Basil Pocklington,” father of former Edmonton Oilers owner, Peter, put his dad’s name on the Stanley Cup in 1983-84; today, on the Cup, one can see a series of “Xs” over his name
- There is only one Stanley Cup – authenticated by the seal of the Hockey Hall of Fame in the bottom of the Cup; this seal can be seen when winning players lift the Cup over their heads
