THE HISTORY OF THE BEN HOGAN TOUR

In 1990, the Ben Hogan Tour made its debut and exceeded even the most optimistic of projections. The tour gave over 130 deserving players an opportunity to play each week while bringing professional tournament golf to 30 new markets in the United States. The new tour hoped to provide a proving ground for young players and it did just that with 27 competitors from the inaugural season earning 1991 PGA TOUR playing privileges. Additionally, and most remarkably, the Ben Hogan Tour generated $968,002 in charitable revenues during its first season.

No golf organization had launched a full-blown tour operation with 30 tournaments in a single year. And so skepticism surrounded the newest 1990 addition to the PGA TOUR family. Questions were raised about expected attendance, volunteers, media coverage, and sponsorship levels. However, the Ben Hogan Tour posted impressive numbers in all phases of tournament operations.

The rapid growth, success, interest and enthusiasm of the first two seasons vastly exceeded everyone's expectations. In fact, the 30 local communities embraced the tournaments in a way that fully justified the decision to create a new tour.

"We were elated to bring about these much needed playing opportunities," said PGA TOUR Commissioner Deane Beman, "and we are fortunate to have a partner with the stature of the Ben Hogan Company involved. Ben Hogan is known for his uncompromising pursuit of excellence and we applied his standards to our new tour."

The Ben Hogan Company's support of the new tour represented the first major addition to professional golf since the founding of the Senior PGA TOUR a decade earlier. According to Ben Hogan, Chairman of the Board of the Ben Hogan Company and winner of 69 professional golf tournaments, the tour has been a positive experience.

"We were delighted to be part of this exciting concept that so directly affects the future of golf," Hogan said. "If the Ben Hogan Tour or something like it had been around when I was starting out, it's where you would have found me."

A collective effort of the PGA TOUR, the Ben Hogan Company, local civic organizations, and the PGA of America and its Sections, the Ben Hogan Tour seeks to discover those players who may have gone unnoticed for lack of financial support or competitive opportunities. Players have an opportunity to hone their skills, compete on a variety of golf courses under different conditions and learn to adjust to life on a competitive tour.

The stars of the inaugural Ben Hogan Tour quickly made themselves known on the 1991 PGA TOUR. Jeff Maggert, Scott Gump, Mike Springer, Ed Humenik, and Bart Bryant were familiar names on leaderboards all season. However, the biggest impact was made by John Daly who won the 73rd PGA Championship and finished 17th on the Official PGA TOUR Money List with $575,783. With his long booming drives, an exact iron game, and a smooth putting stroke, the 25-year old rookie became the first Ben Hogan Tour product to win an event on the PGA TOUR.

"I expected to be successful, but I never thought that I would win a major championship my first season, Daly said. "From my perspective, the Ben Hogan Tour prepared me to step onto the PGA TOUR and be competitive right away," he explained. "Adjusting to life as a professional golfer on the Ben Hogan Tour made the transition to the PGA TOUR easier for me than it might otherwise have been."

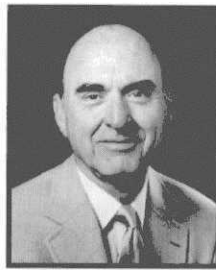

The most consistent player on the 1991 Ben Hogan Tour was Tom Lehman. In addition to posting three wins, he capped off a record-breaking season by being voted as the "Ben Hogan Tour Player of the Year."

With the success that Hogan Tour alumni have enjoyed, expectations are high that this year's graduating class will also have an impact on the Regular PGA TOUR.

Crossing the United States and staging events in all regions of the country, the Ben Hogan Tour promises to be even more entertaining and successful in its third year.

THE TOURNAMENT POLICY BOARD

The Tournament Policy Board establishes goals and policies for the operation of the PGA TOUR. The 10-member Board is composed of the following:

Four Player Directors elected by the PGA TOUR membership. A Player Director also serves as Vice President of the PGA of America.

Three Independent Directors, representing the public interest. One serves as Chairman of the Board.

Three PGA Directors, who are national officers of the PGA of America.

A Players Advisory Council consults with the Policy Board.

The Policy Board appoints the Commissioner as chief executive and administrative officer of the PGA TOUR. The Tournament Staff, serving under the Commissioner, conducts tournament play.

ABOUT THE COMMISSIONER

---

Deane R. Beman

Born: April 22, 1938

Birthplace: Washington, DC

Family: Wife, Judy; five children

Entering his 19th year as Commissioner of the PGA TOUR, since succeeding Joseph C. Dey, Jr., on March 1, 1974, Deane R. Beman has overseen the most explosive period of growth in the TOUR's history.

During the Beman administration, the "business side" of the PGA TOUR has shown dramatic growth and now includes many heretofore uncharted paths, each designed to help encourage continued prosperity and to ensure the future of the game.

PGA TOUR Investments, Inc., created 11 years ago, has already grown to include 15 Tournament Players Clubs nationally with more clubs in the planning stage across the United States. 1989 saw the unveiling of TPC International with a Players Club in Japan. December, 1986 saw the opening of the first "Family Golf Center" in Clearwater, Florida, a network that has grown to include another Family Golf Center at the Golf Club of Jacksonville, a municipal course operated by the PGA TOUR for the city of Jacksonville. In addition to providing tournament state-of-the-art facilities, Tournament Players Clubs have been instrumental in the growth of the PGA TOUR assets, which have climbed from $730,000 to more than $175 million during the Beman era.

The marketing arm of the PGA TOUR continues to make steady progress in its quest to open new opportunities in golf for commercial sponsors and the TOUR's members. Long-term programs with Coca-Cola and IBM, to be initiated in 1992, are the latest in a long line of marketing efforts designed to infuse for the combined benefit of players, sponsors and charities.

This past year also saw the birth of PGA TOUR Partners, whose mission is to enhance the golf experience for serious fans by giving them a unique, inside look at the PGA TOUR, and providing charitable support to worthy non-profit organizations. In less than a year the Partners program now includes over 37,000 members.

PGA TOUR Productions, created in 1985, is the TOUR's first-ever in-house TV/audio visual production entity. Created to produce tournament highlight video films, vignettes, commercials, specialty pieces and the acclaimed "Inside the PGA TOUR," a weekly half-hour show airing on ESPN, Productions added "Inside the SENIOR PGA TOUR" in 1991. "Inside the PGA TOUR" was nominated for an ACE Award honoring cable television's best for the second consecutive year.

Other important innovations introduced during the Beman administration include a professional Agronomy department, PGA TOUR Stats Program, Electronic scoreboards, "Official Golf Destinations" and establishment of mobile fitness training centers, sponsored by Centinela, on both TOUR's. Competitively, the Beman era has witnessed the birth of the Senior PGA TOUR which started with two events in 1980 and has grown to its present 43 events. The Ben Hogan Tour, born in 1990, has been a success by all measures and has provided aspiring professionals with TOUR-like competition as a stepping stone to the PGA TOUR. In all, over 120 tournaments are on the combined Tours, and total prize money has increased from $8.2 million in 1974 to over $84 million for the 1992 season.

The player Retirement Plan was instituted in 1983 to help provide PGA TOUR members with a stable source of income upon retirement from tournament competition by virtue of their performance on the TOUR. At the time, establishment of the Plan was viewed as a significant step towards bringing the TOUR closer to the ranks of other "major" sports with respect to player benefits. The Plan has already contributed over $13 million towards the future benefit of active player participants.

Charity has easily been the TOUR's leading money winner during the Beman era. Surpassing the $19 million mark for the third straight year in 1991, the American Golf Sponsors and the PGA TOUR have donated over $115 million during the past six TOUR seasons alone. Combined total of all three tours is expected to top the $25 million mark this year.

During his active years as a player, Beman established an enviable slate of accomplishments, compiling one of the great amateur records of all-time. He won the USGA Amateur title in 1960 and 1963, and the British Amateur Championship in 1959. Beman was a member of four Walker Cup teams, four World Amateur Cup teams and three U.S. America's Cup Squads.

In 1967, at the age of 29, he left a prosperous insurance brokerage firm in Bethesda, MD, to join the PGA TOUR as a full-time player. During his 6-year professional career, won the 1969 Texas Open, 1970 Greater Milwaukee Open, 1972 Quad Cities Open and the 1973 Shrine-Robinson Classic before hanging up his spikes to become the Commissioner in 1974.

William Ben Hogan

Born: 1912

Birthplace: Dublin, TX

Career: Winner of 69 professional tournaments, including 63 PGA TOUR events.

Superb shotmaker, excellent ball-striker, wonderful craftsman, all of these describe one of the best golfers of all time, Ben Hogan.

For Hogan, golf was more than just a game. He wanted to be the golfer's golfer, a feat that he accomplished many times over. Dominating the sport during the 1940's and 1950's, Ben Hogan was one of the best ever.

Starting as a caddie in 1924, with the likes of other soon to be famous professionals Ralph Guldahl and Byron Nelson, Hogan has never been more than a couple of club lengths away from the game that so captured him. For 65 cents a round, Hogan began his steps towards greatness.

His competitiveness was honed by driving contests held with other caddies on slow nights at the Glen Garden Country Club in Fort Worth, TX, where his family had moved to from Dublin. As one of the smallest caddies, Hogan initially lost more than his share of these contests, but soon, from sheer will and much extra practice, he developed into one of the longest hitters among his peers.

Hogan continued to work on his game and eventually turned professional at the early age of 19 in 1931. He soon returned to Fort Worth due to lack of funds and playing success. Taking odd jobs, he continued to work on his game for the next several years, and married school-mate Valerie Fox. In 1937, he decided to try professional golf once again. Although he continued to play somewhat erratically he managed to win his first tournament in 1938, the Hershey Four-Ball.

Over the next few seasons, Hogan continued to improve and in 1940 won the North and South Open. From there, he went on to win three more events that year.

From then on, Hogan's name was consistently atop the leaderboards across the country. Hogan won 50 events from 1940 through 1948. From 1946 through 1948, Hogan won 31 events, including 13 in 1946. He was the leading money winner five different times during this span: in 1940, 1941, 1942, 1946, and 1948. All this with a two-year leave to serve in the Army Air Corps during World War II.

While at the height of greatness in 1943, Hogan suffered a near-fatal head-on collision with a bus on his way back to Fort Worth. As the crash became eminent, Hogan threw himself over his wife to protect her. His effort to save his wife also helped him avoid the bus' fatal blow. After 11 months of intensive rehabilitation, Hogan returned to the playing arena at the 1950 Los Angeles Open. He tied for first but lost in a playoff. From there he went on to win the 1950 U.S. Open, a win he called, "one of my most cherished."

He continued to play and dominate the game of golf, including winning the Masters, the U.S. Open, and the British Open in 1953.

It was during this year that Hogan founded the Ben Hogan Company. The company continues to be one of the finest manufacturers of golf equipment in the world. Under Hogan's personal supervision, the Hogan Company has produced handcrafted forged irons; persimmon, metal and graphite woods; and patented Apex steel and graphite shafts that have become the standard for golf club manufacturing. The company also manufactures and markets golf, sportswear, and accessories.

Hogan continued to play and win golf tournaments throughout the rest of the 1950's, with his last tournament victory coming at the 1959 Colonial National Invitation. But his interest in the Hogan Company continued to grow as did the company itself. So much so, that by the end of the decade, the company had expanded to four times its original size.

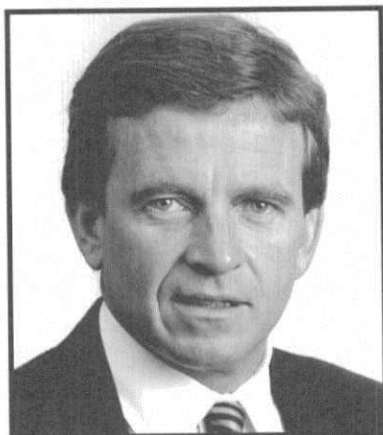

Through a couple of corporate changes, Ben Hogan has preserved his vital role in the company, instilling in his employees the high standards for which his company has become well known.

Still another legacy that Hogan will leave the game is the Ben Hogan Tour. The Ben Hogan Tour is a series of 30 events that is played in areas that do not already host professional golf. Each event features at least a $100,000 purse for the field of golfers. Perhaps most importantly, the Ben Hogan Tour gives young and even proven golfers from all over the world, the chance to play in a tournament type atmosphere. The Ben Hogan Tour gives them a chance to hone their skills that they have acquired and the chance to one day play on the PGA TOUR.

1992 BEN HOGAN TOUR ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

The standard tournament format for all Ben Hogan Tour events will consist of 54 or 72 holes of official competition (Thursday or Friday through Sunday), preceded by a pro-am and Open Qualifying competition. Thirty tournaments are scheduled and $2,500 pro-am prize money has been allotted for each event.

An entry fee of $250 per event will be charged to all participants, and a fee of $100 has been established for Open Qualifiers (to be credited against the entry fee for successful qualifiers).

Field size will vary between 132-138 players, with a cut to the low 50 professionals and ties following the first 36 holes. Makeup of the starting field will be as follows:

STARTING FIELDS

1. THE NEXT 70 FINISHERS FROM THE PGA TOUR QUALIFYING TOURNAMENT

The first 45 players and ties from the PGA TOUR Qualifying Tournament will receive their PGA TOUR cards. The next 70 available players, in order of finish, will occupy exempt positions in the applicable week's Ben Hogan Tour event.

2. PGA NATIONAL OFFICE SELECTIONS

Five members of the PGA selected on a competitive basis by the PGA National Office and approved by the PGA TOUR.

3. OPEN QUALIFYING

A minimum of 14 low scorers at Open Qualifying for each tournament held in accordance with applicable Ben Hogan Tour policies and procedures. Open Qualifying is normally held on Monday of tournament week and is open to all amateurs with USGA handicaps of 2 or less and to all professional golfers. If, at the completion of the field at the commitment deadline (5 p.m. Jacksonville, FL, time on Friday prior to the tournament), there are fewer than 14 qualifying spots available, the field shall be expanded in increments of threes in order to provide the minimum of 14 qualifying spots. Thus, field sizes may be 132, 135 or a maximum of 138 players.

4. HOST PGA SECTION SELECTIONS

Ten members of the PGA Section in which the event is held selected on a competitive basis by the host PGA Section, using criteria (such as its official money or point standings and/or a section qualifying competition) approved by the PGA TOUR provided that, at the option of such PGA Section, the host PGA Professional at the site of the applicable Ben Hogan Tour event shall be eligible for the event.

5. ADDITIONAL HOST PGA SECTION SELECTIONS

An aggregate of seven players to be added, in such proportion as shall be determined by the PGA Section in which the event is held, to the number of players eligible for the event in categories 2, 3 and/or 4 above.

6. SPONSOR EXEMPTIONS

On invitation by the sponsor, at his option, a maximum of two (2) eligible players (including amateurs with USGA handicaps of 2 or less). On invitation of the Ben Hogan Company, one additional player, provided that such invitation be confirmed prior to the commitment deadline.

7. TOURNAMENT WINNERS

If not otherwise exempt under the above categories, winners of Ben Hogan Tour co-sponsored events in the last calendar year or during the current calendar year (NOTE: tournament winners are exempt for one calendar year following the end of the calendar year in which they won the event).

8. TOP TEN, OFFICIAL MONEY LIST, PRIOR YEAR

THE BEN HOGAN CUP

The Ben Hogan Cup represents victory and the promise of success in professional golf.

"For the players who emerge, the Ben Hogan Cup symbolizes a starting point, a place in time when their careers got off the mark," said David B. Hueber, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Ben Hogan Company.

While the cup beckons a new breed of golfer, its appearance is reminiscent of many awards Ben Hogan captured early in his remarkable career. In creating the custom designed cup, Hogan Company and PGA TOUR officials consulted Mr. Hogan and visited the legendary golfer's trophy room at Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth, TX.

"We wanted a timeless design, and one that would communicate the prestige that the Ben Hogan Tour's name implies," said Deane R. Beman, PGA TOUR Commissioner.

Each tournament site will own a permanent trophy 26 inches in height with a two-tiered base. The upper tier displays the tournament name and site, and the lower tier presents each winner's name and year of victory. Tournament winners receive a 16-inch replica for their trophy case.

The cup itself has a sparkling silver-luster finish with the Ben Hogan Tour logo engraved on the side.

"It's a trademark," said Hueber. "We believe golf fans and historians in years to come will recognize the Ben Hogan Cup at first glance."

SHARING THE LEGEND: THE BEN HOGAN COMPANY

Since his youth, Ben Hogan studied golf with the insatiable curiosity of a scientist.

He meticulously developed and tested his theories about the game for nearly 50 years on the PGA TOUR. In the process, he recorded 69 victories, including 63 wins in PGA TOUR events, and placed himself among the legends of the sport. That honor, for most people, would have been fulfilling enough. But Hogan, compelled by an unrelenting passion to know the game he gave his life to, formed a company bearing his name that enabled him to continue his study.

The Ben Hogan Company, founded in Fort Worth, TX in 1953, stands today as a monument to Hogan's lifelong pursuit. Under Hogan's personal supervision, the company has produced hand-crafted forged irons; persimmon, metal and graphite woods; and patented Apex steel and graphite shafts that have become the standard for golf club manufacturing. The company also manufactures and markets golf balls, sportswear and accessories. And it sponsors the Ben Hogan Tour, giving seasoned professionals and aspiring young golfers another opportunity to compete. Golfers of all ages and skills worldwide can benefit from Hogan's discoveries on the golf course and in the manufacturing plant.

As a youth, Hogan spent many long hours as a caddie and many hours in the pro shop polishing and forging club heads and making new hickory shafts for broken clubs. He turned professional in 1931 at the age of 19 and rose to the top of his profession several years later.

Hogan demanded as much out of his equipment as he did his play and often requested special adjustments in his clubs. Years of persistent study on the practice tee not only taught him the "how to's" of golf, but also gave him definite ideas about the "why's." He discovered that answers to the latter questions sometimes lay in the equipment and not the player. So in 1953, when Hogan's golf club supplier became reluctant to meet his specifications, he founded The Ben Hogan Company.

One of his early backers as a professional had been Marvin Leonard, a prominent Fort Worth entrepreneur whose golf clubs Hogan often carried around the course. Leonard followed Hogan throughout his career. And when he learned of Hogan's desire to start a golf equipment manufacturing company, he and one of his contemporaries provided the financial support.

The first clubs Hogan's handpicked craftsmen produced in late 1953 would have satisfied anyone -- except Hogan. He destroyed the first $150,000 shipment and started over. Leonard's financial partner became nervous, but Leonard, having watched Hogan rise from a humble caddie to become the world's greatest golfer, was confident in Hogan's ability to make the business work. Hogan's first shipment of clubs entered the marketplace in late 1954.

"My vision was to establish a company to make the best golf clubs in the world. Anything less, in my estimation, would have disappointed the people who have supported me," Hogan said years later. "Over the years, my employees and I have struggled to accomplish that goal, and I'm very proud of what we together have achieved."

In 1955, the company's clubs were gaining prominence because of their outstanding quality. Hogan, who continued to play competitive golf until 1971, inspected every set that left the manufacturing plant. He saw one of his first sets later that year in the hands of Jack Fleck, who edged him in a play-off for what would have been Hogan's fifth U.S. Open title.

After expanding four times in the 1950's, Hogan sold his company to American Machine and Foundry Company in 1960. He kept his position of Chairman of the Board and Chief Operating Officer of AMF/Ben Hogan Golf Company, and continued to supervise the design, manufacturing and testing of the company's products.

By the mid-1970's, AMF/Ben Hogan Company had evolved under Hogan's direction into its present position as a manufacturer and marketer of golf balls, sportswear and accessories, in addition to golf clubs. The diversification attracted sports equipment conglomerate Minstar to make a successful bid for the company in 1984. And in 1988, the company became an independent business unit of Cosmo World Corporation, based in Los Angeles.

Through the corporate changes, Ben Hogan has preserved his vital role in the company, instilling in his employees the high standards for which his company has become well known. Today, as the Chairman of the Board, Hogan oversees a company that applies his design and manufacturing methods to what is widely recognized as the premier golf equipment in the world.

TRUCKS CREATE TOURNAMENT ATMOSPHERE

A major task of the 30 sites hosting 1992 Ben Hogan Tour events is to create an environment for players and fans that is remarkably similar to that found at a PGA TOUR event.

Leading the way in this effort is the Tournament Services Truck which is operated by the PGA TOUR Promotions Department.

The staff has a customized 18-wheel tractor-trailer truck provided by Ryder systems to carry equipment to each of the 30 tournament sites. PGA TOUR, Ben Hogan Tour and Ryder corporate logos are featured on the vehicle which was prepared by the Winston-Salem, NC based J.D. Bruhn Special Event Productions. In addition to an air-conditioned room for the innovative computerized scoring system, the truck houses a storage area for leaderboards, walking standards, quiet signs, caddie bibs, flagsticks, radios and other equipment.

The Promotions Department also supervises the training of volunteers at each tournament, as well as the operation of other equipment carried on the truck.

The primary staff members handling these chores on the Tour are Steve Horner as manager, Matt Delaney, Chris Murray, and Lee Kaplan.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE PGA TOUR

---

"The PGA TOUR is enjoying these days the healthiest period of its existence. The reasons are too numerous to mention here, but in the opinion of many, including myself, the PGA TOUR is one of the last true forms of capitalism left in the world of sports today. Everyone starts out at zero the first of the year, and in the most literal sense, everyone starts out the same each week...One is merely paid for performance on the professional golf tour, and that may be one of the reasons it is held in such high esteem by the public. We as players, along with administrators, must endeavor to protect this idea forever."

From the forward by Ben Crenshaw in the Doubleday book, The History of the PGA TOUR, by Al Barkow.

It is not always easy to discover the exact beginning of something. So it is with the PGA TOUR. Certainly, there were professionals who competed against each other from the earliest days of the game.

Then on New Year's Day, 1895, ten professional golfers played 36 holes of stroke play and competed for money. The total purse was $150 and the winner took home $75. Due to the fact that a large gallery had come to witness the event, the New York Times covered the tournament. Shortly thereafter, tournaments began to pop up across the country. There was the Western Open in 1899. But this was not "tour" golf. The events lacked continuity.

Interest in the game, however, continued to grow. American professionals were rapidly improving and when John McDermott became the first home-bred to win the U.S. Open, enthusiasm for the game blossomed.

Helping this growth was a commercially backed "tour" by Englishmen Harry Vardon and Ted Ray. The duo travelled across the country and attracted good crowds wherever they stopped during the warmer months of 1913. However, the biggest explosion for the game occurred that September. A 20-year old "local boy", Francis Ouimet, defeated the pair in a playoff for the United States Open Championship at Brookline, MA. Suddenly, golf became front page news and a game for everyone.

In the early Twenties, the PGA TOUR could have seen its first development. Tournaments were held on the West Coast, Texas and Florida. These events were held in the winter and the golfers played their way east and up to Pinehurst in the spring. By the middle of the decade, the Tour was doing relatively well--offering $77,000 in total. What's more, resorts, hotels and Chambers of Commerce began to realize the publicity value professional golf brought to their facilities. Names like Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Bobby Jones became folk heroes.

In the thirties, the TOUR continued to grow. The PGA of America was providing support and despite the nation's financial woes during the period, golf tournaments continued to attract good crowds. It is interesting to look back at some figures of the time. Paul Runyan was the leading money winner of 1934 with $6,767.

The names of the golfers continued to become household words. In the late 1930's and early 1940's Sam Snead's name started to appear in the headlines with regularity. Then came Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret and others who were beginning to gain nationwide fame.

The TOUR became more structured following World War II and then exploded in the late 1950's and early 60's. Flip through the Facts and Figures section of this TOUR Book and look at such areas as leading money winners and growth of tournament purses to witness the sudden and continuing growth.

Once television became a player in the game, the eyes of the world were on golf. This exposure inspired millions to try the game and at the same time, TV rights fees sent purses soaring. The bulk of these rights fees, which are distributed by the PGA TOUR to all co-sponsors, have gone back into the purses, accounting for the tripling of prize money in the last decade.

The touring professionals began to gain some control of the TOUR in late 1968. Joseph C. Dey was the first commissioner of what was then called the Tournament Players Division. He served from early 1969 through February 28, 1974 and was succeeded by Deane R. Beman, who took office March 1, 1974.

During the Beman administration, the value of tournament purses has escalated at an unprecedented rate; PGA TOUR assets have grown from $730,000 in 1974 to nearly $180 million today, and total revenues have increased from $3.9 million to over $210 million in 1992.

Since 1938, PGA TOUR events have donated over $185 million dollars to charity. Over $100 million of that total has been donated since 1984. The slogan, "The leading money winner on the PGA TOUR is Charity," is definitely not just a catch phrase.

The competitive scope of the PGA TOUR is also much broader today. The SENIOR PGA TOUR is considered by many as the sports success story of the 1980's. In 1990 the PGA TOUR, with the help of the Ben Hogan Company and PGA of America sections, added another addition to its family. Named for one of golf's greats, the Ben Hogan Tour was created to help golfers sharpen their skills with hopes of earning a place on either the PGA TOUR or the SENIOR PGA TOUR.

Also continuing to grow is the Tournament Players Club Network. When the PGA TOUR opened the Tournament Players Club at Sawgrass in 1980, it beckoned the era of Stadium Golf. Owned and operated by the TOUR, the concept means these courses are the only major league sports arenas owned by the players themselves.

The TPC Network has expanded to 15 clubs in cities across the world, with more clubs in either the construction or the planning stages.

Six years ago the PGA TOUR opened its first Family Golf Center in Clearwater, FL, and the TOUR has constructed municipal courses for Florida cities, Jacksonville and Miami. This, and other concepts, are expected to mature with the PGA TOUR.

CHARITY...LEADING MONEY WINNER ON BEN HOGAN TOUR

The Ben Hogan Tour has provided hundreds of talented golfers with an opportunity to hone their skills in a competitive environment as they waited for the chance to propel their careers to golf's highest level, the PGA TOUR.

However, they were not the only ones to benefit as the Ben Hogan Tour generated over $2 million for local charitable organizations and scholarships in its first two seasons. Beneficiaries of tournament proceeds ranged from the Boys and Girls Club in Cleveland to the Ronald McDonald House of the Ozarks in Springfield, MO.

"We are pleased that the success of the Ben Hogan Tour has benefited charities and enabled students to further their education," said Deane R. Beman, PGA TOUR Commissioner. "After only two seasons, Ben Hogan Tour events have already begun paying dividends in the communities where they are held. "It's a positive situation for everyone as charity becomes the leading money winner on the Ben Hogan Tour, just as it is on the Regular PGA TOUR and Senior PGA TOUR," Beman explained.

PGA of America Sections also shared in the success of the Ben Hogan Tour with additional funds for junior golf programs and Ben Hogan Scholarships.

The college scholarships are named in honor of Ben Hogan and his golf club manufacturing company which serves as title sponsor of the Ben Hogan Tour.

The Ben Hogan Company was founded in Fort Worth, TX in 1953 and stands today as a monument to Ben Hogan, the legendary golfer who recorded 69 professional victories during his career. Awarded on a need basis, the scholarships recognize outstanding high school or junior college students who display exceptional academic achievement and community leadership.

MERRILL LYNCH

Merrill Lynch sponsors the popular Merrill Lynch Shoot-Outs at eight Ben Hogan Tour events. The 10-man, nine-hole event will feature top money winners on the Ben Hogan Tour. While it is in the first year on the Ben Hogan Tour, it is already a fan-pleaser on both the PGA TOUR and SENIOR TOUR.

MEDIA REGULATIONS

THE GENERAL REGULATIONS

The following regulations are to be followed by all members of the Media:

1. An ARM BAND is necessary to walk inside the galley ropes. Remain not more than an arm's length from the ropes, so as to blend into the gallery and appear to be a part of the gallery at all times.
2. Players are not to be distracted during play. DO NOT interview players or ask them to pose for photographs during their round.
3. DO NOT interview players or ask them to pose for photographs during their practice sessions prior to their round except by prior arrangement with the player.
4. If an interview is to be conducted in the practice areas, either the range or the putting green, it must be done by PRIOR ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PLAYER and up against the ropes and NOT in the middle of the areas where it could be distracting to other players.
5. DO NOT disturb players at their 18th green and/or scoring tent until after they have checked, signed and returned their scorecards.

WORKING PRESS REGULATIONS

To avoid embarrassment to you and distraction to the contestants:

1. Do not walk or stand in playing areas.
2. Follow directions of marshals and other officials.
3. Do not interview during play. The leading players each day—and others requested—will be interviewed following their rounds in the Press Room interview area.

TAPE RECORDER REGULATIONS

1. All tape recorder work should be done in the proximity of the Press Room and/or Clubhouse.
2. Tape recorders are NOT permitted in the locker room.
3. Tape recorders are NOT permitted within the playing area of the golf course unless written permission has been granted from the PGA TOUR and/or the tournament sponsor.

RAIN DELAY GUIDELINES

1. During rain delay situations, NO ONE other than players and essential staff will be permitted in the locker room. This means the Media is not permitted in the locker room in such situations. However, whenever possible, arrangements will be made to provide players for interviews during such situations.
2. Fully accredited members of the news media WILL BE WELCOMED into the locker room at all other times to carry out their assigned duties. (Note: Cameras and tape recorders are NOT permitted.)

This Tournament is essentially for the players and spectators. Fair play requires that there be no noise or other distractions. The interests of all others must be subordinated to the players interests. The result of any one shot could decide the Tournament.

Only ACCREDITED PHOTOGRAPHERS for RECOGNIZED NEWS MEDIA will be permitted to take pictures during the Tournament. Photo assistants may be issued a credential, but not photo arm bands for access inside the ropes. Photography will be restricted to news use. Commercial and personal photography is prohibited (except that spectators may take pictures on practice days and during a ProAm). Free lance photographers shooting on speculation will NOT BE ACCREDITED.

The following regulations apply to accredited news and television photographers and videotape cameramen as a condition of the privilege of taking pictures:

PHOTOGRAPHY REGULATIONS

GENERAL—ALL PHOTOGRAPHERS

- Photography will be restricted to NEWS use only. COMMERCIAL and PERSONAL photography is prohibited (except that spectators may take pictures on practice days and during a pro-am). Freelance photographers shooting on speculation WILL NOT BE ACCREDITED.
- A photographer must not ask a player to pose or in any way verbally distract a player during a round.
- If a player or an official requests that no photographs be taken in a certain situation, the request must be honored immediately, without discussion.
- A camera must not be pointed at a player about to make a stroke in any manner which might tend to disturb him or distract his attention.
- At the 9th and the 18th greens, photographers must not approach, delay or distract a player until he has checked, signed and returned his scorecard to the proper official. Under the Rules of Golf, a player turning in an incorrect scorecard in stroke play may be disqualified.
- Cameras are not permitted in the locker room.
- Use of golf carts or other means of transportation on the course during tournament play is prohibited.

STILL PHOTOGRAPHERS

- Only still photographers to whom armbands have been issued will be permitted inside gallery ropes. They must station themselves immediately inside such ropes, and not more than an ARM'S LENGTH FROM THE ROPES, so as to blend into the gallery and appear to be part of the gallery. They must not take conspicuous positions in the open. Any photographer who violates this regulation will forfeit the right to working inside the ropes and possibly to work at the tournament.
- Close-up action shots are prohibited.
- All pictures must be taken at appreciable distances, as far from the players as possible and from angles which are not acute to the line of play.
- When working at a green, photographers must not position themselves directly in a player's putting line.
- Pictures, even from a distance, may not be made until the player has completed his stroke. The photographer must not release his camera shutter until the shot is made.

TELEVISION/VIDEOTAPE CAMERAMEN

- Television and videotape filming may be done from inside the gallery ropes, or from areas approved by the PGA TOUR. All camera personnel who have been issued PHOTO armbands will be permitted inside the gallery lines but this does not include other members of the crew. Camera personnel must station themselves immediately inside the gallery lines, not more than an arm's length from those lines, so as to blend into the gallery. They must not take conspicuous positions in the open.
- The only EXCEPTIONS to the above regulation concerns workers from the presenting network, or the TOUR's own Production company who have greater liberties in filming the event. Only these two groups will be allowed to move freely inside the ropes.
- Filming may be done from the locations described above during a player's stroke, provided modern equipment that produces a minimum of noise is used.
- Post-round interviews must be filmed far enough away from the arena of play to eliminate the possibility of distraction to those competing.

Difficulties will be avoided if photographers are fair and will treat players as they themselves would wish to be treated in similar circumstances.

The cooperation of all photographers will be appreciated.
