ABOUT THE ATLANTIC 10

The Atlantic 10 Conference was founded in 1975 and consists of 14 diverse members across eight states and Washington, D.C. The mission of the Atlantic 10 is to provide an enhanced student-athlete experience through 21 nationally competitive championship sports. The basketball-centric conference is committed to integrity, educational excellence and providing quality equitable championship experiences for its student-athletes, coaches and support staff. The membership consists of Davidson College, the University of Dayton, Duquesne University, Fordham University, George Mason University, The George Washington University, La Salle University, the University of Massachusetts, the University of Rhode Island, the University of Richmond, St. Bonaventure University, Saint Joseph's University, Saint Louis University and Virginia Commonwealth University. For more information, visit www.atlantic10.com.

COMMISSIONER'S WELCOME

The 2017-18 year was one of great accomplishment for the Atlantic 10 Conference, both on the court and in the classroom. Our success spanned all of our member institutions and was highlighted on a national scale. This includes Massachusetts' standout cross country and track and field student-athlete Heather MacLean, who was named as a Top 30 finalist for the NCAA Woman of the Year Award. She is the first A-10 student-athlete in over a decade to be among the top 30 candidates for this prestigious award.

During this past year, we also said farewell to two legends. Davidson Athletic Director Jim Murphy stepped away from athletics after nearly a quarter century to serve the college as the Senior Adviser to the President for Finance and Operations. Additionally, Saint Joseph's Athletic Director Don DiJulia retired after 35 years leading the Hawks and 50 years total in college athletics. Don's impact on Saint Joseph's and the Atlantic 10 spanned five decades and the conference created the Don DiJulia Athletic Director Internship in his honor. The internship is part of the Atlantic 10's commitment to education and fostering the league's prowess as an academically-focused conference.

We again awarded 14 Postgraduate Scholarships, one to each institution, for a total of $70,000. The league had 67 teams honored by the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate (APR) public recognition last spring, second most in league history. The 67 teams ranked number one for basketball-centric conferences and fourth among the 32 Division I conferences. We had 3,168 student-athletes, which is over half of all A-10 student-athletes, earn Commissioner's Honor Roll distinction, the highest number of unique honorees in a single year.

Our academic successes were complimented by excellence in athletics. Fordham men's soccer made a magical run to the NCAA College Cup quarterfinals last fall. Our men's and women's tennis and golf championships in Orlando gave us the opportunity for the second straight year to host a spring championship festival, allowing student-athletes from all three championships to come together for fellowship. Most of our Olympic sports championship were broadcast digitally on the A-10 Network, which included television-quality productions.

The Men's Basketball Championship was played in the nation's capital for the first time in league history at Capital One Arena. The league set a ticket revenue record for the second straight year, with more than $1.3 million in revenue.

We had three men's basketball teams earn NCAA bids, marking the 11th straight year the A-10 has received at least three invitations. Davidson claimed its first-ever A-10 Championship title and both St. Bonaventure and Rhode Island recorded wins in their NCAA opening games. The Bonnies had the opportunity to play in a familiar building, participating in the First Four and receiving an Atlantic 10 family welcome from the local Dayton crowd!

In women's basketball, George Washington won its third A-10 crown in four years and seven Atlantic 10 teams reached the postseason. It marked the final year for the Atlantic 10 in the Richmond Coliseum, which served as home for the Women's Basketball Championship for five straight years. Dayton joined GW in the NCAA Tournament, and Duquesne, Fordham, George Mason, Saint Joseph's and Saint Louis all played in the WNIT. Duquesne and Fordham both earned postseason victories and advanced to the third round.

The Atlantic 10 continues to be well positioned within the NCAA as well, with people from around the league serving on key NCAA Councils and Committees. VCU President Michael Rao continues to serve on the Division I NCAA Board of Directors and Davidson President Dr. Carol Quillen is a member of the Presidential Forum. Atlantic 10 Executive Associate Commissioner Keith Gill completed his term on the NCAA Division I Council, and Saint Louis Athletic Director Chris May has been selected to represent the Atlantic 10. Additionally, several other administrators and coaches serve on NCAA Committees, where their work continues to positively impact our student-athletes and college athletics as a whole.

In 2018-19, we look to build on the league's strong foundation, with NCAA leadership, nationally competitive athletics and robust academic programs at each of our 14 member institutions.

Sincerely,

Bernadette V. McGlade
Commissioner

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

GRADUATION SUCCESS RATE (GSR)

Atlantic 10 Conference student-athletes graduate at a 91 percent rate, according to NCAA Graduation Success Rate statistics released by the NCAA in November. It is the seventh straight year the league has had a score at 89 percent or better. The 2017 statistics reflect the graduation rate of freshmen who enrolled at an A-10 institution in 2010

91%

The conference's 91 percent GSR was the third-highest rate of any Division I league.

6

A-10 men's basketball's GSR climbed six points over the 2016 report (86 to 92).

5

A-10 baseball rose five points in the 2017 GSR (88 to 93) over the 2016 score.

4

A-10 women's basketball's GSR is up four points over 2016 (93 to 97).

COMMISSIONER'S HONOR ROLL

The Atlantic 10 Conference had 3,168 student-athletes earn Commissioner's Honor Roll distinction in 2017-18. The 3,168 student-athletes is the highest number of unique honorees in a single year. This marks the first time the Commissioner's Honor Roll has been based on the entire academic year.

TOP FIVE ANNUAL TOTALS

2016-17: 3,582

2015-16: 3,377

2012-13: 3,255

2017-18: 3,168*

2014-15: 3,029

*Based on full academic year. Previously the award was granted following each semester and the annual totals included student-athletes who made the list in each semester.

To be selected for the Commissioner's Honor Roll, a student-athlete in an Atlantic 10-sponsored sport must have a 3.0 cumulative GPA, and freshmen are eligible to receive the award.

198

The Atlantic 10 honored 198 individuals on sport-specific All-Academic Teams. Designed to recognize student-athletes who excel on the field and in the classroom, the awards are modeled after the CoSIDA Academic All-American program, which recognizes student-athletes across the nation from all divisions of college athletics.

ACADEMIC PROGRESS RATE (APR)

The Atlantic 10 had a near-record 67 teams honored by the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate (APR) public recognition. The 67 teams ranked number one for basketball-centric conferences and ranks fourth among the 32 Division I leagues.

"We have a great track record of excellence in NCAA APR Public Recognition, and I couldn't be more proud of our schools, athletic programs, coaches and student-athletes and their strong commitment to long-term academic success."

BERNADETTE V. MCGLADE
A-10 Conference Commissioner

A-10 teams that have received NCAA public recognition every year since the inception of the 13-year-old APR program:

Men's Basketball

Men's Golf

Women's Tennis

The Atlantic 10 is one of the top five conferences in number of teams earning NCAA Public Recognition, along with the Ivy and Patriot Leagues, the Big East, and the ACC.

A-10 Number of teams earning NCAA Public Recognition:

DAVIDSON - 11

FORDHAM - 9

GEORGE WASHINGTON - 8

DAYTON - 6

RICHMOND - 6

SAINT JOSEPH'S - 6

SAINT LOUIS - 6

ST. BONAVENTURE - 6

Half of the A-10 (seven schools) either matched or increased last year's number of teams honored. Duquesne, Fordham, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Richmond all had more teams recognized this year over previous year.

POSTGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP

The A-10 honors student-athletes who excel in academics and athletics while being involved in their community with the Atlantic 10 Postgraduate Scholarship Award. For the fourth time in the 26-year history of the program, each institution has had an honoree receive the prestigious award. Designed to provide graduating student-athletes the opportunity to continue their college education, the program awards $70,000 in scholarship funding to former A-10 student-athletes.

3.74 GPA

The selection process, which involves the league's athletic directors, senior woman administrators and faculty athletic representatives, resulted in a class with an average GPA of 3.74. The class is comprised of 10 female student-athletes and four males, representing six different sports. In each of the last four years, the average GPA of the honorees for the Postgraduate Scholarship Program has been 3.70 or higher.

"This is one of the most prestigious and highly-coveted honors that the Atlantic 10 awards its student-athletes. Each of our postgraduate honorees are deserving of this award, super intelligent and multi-talented young people! Each will be exceptional leaders and successful in their postgraduate studies. I offer my congratulations to these 14 outstanding men and women."

MEDIA DAYS

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The 2017 Men's Basketball Media Day was held in Washington, D.C., at Capital One Arena for the first time. Similar to the past, the format was a split session with seven coaches in the morning and seven coaches in the afternoon. The Atlantic 10 also included student-athletes for the first time in six years. The Preseason First Team All-Conference selections were part of the interview portion.

The media sessions included breakouts for print media, electronic media and special sections for A-10 Live, CBS Sports Network and ESPN Radio.

The luncheon included a highlight "sizzle" video, a Preseason All-Conference video, and comments from Commissioner Bernadette V. McGlade, and Elliott L. Ferguson, Destination DC President. The five student-athletes also participated in a panel discussion during the luncheon program. College basketball analyst Andy Katz emceed the luncheon.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The 2017 Women's Basketball Media Day was held in Richmond, Va., at the Richmond Marriott for the fourth consecutive year. The format was similar to the previous year's successful media day, which provided additional one-on-one opportunities for coaches with media members, and increased engagement for coaches in each session.

The media sessions included breakouts for print and electronic media, an A-10 social segment and special sections for A-10 Live and A-10 Network features.

The luncheon included a highlight video, a preseason All-Conference video, and comments from Commissioner Bernadette V. McGlade, Senior Associate Commissioner Debbie Richardson, Richmond Mayor Levar Stoney and Richmond Region Tourism President and CEO Jack Berry. Dayton coach Shauna Green spoke on behalf of all 14 A-10 coaches, and Greg Burton from ESPN Radio 950 AM emceed the luncheon.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

MEN'S BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

4,000

Over 4,000 Washington-area students were provided tickets for the Thursday afternoon session as part of the annual A-10 Education Through Sports program.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

- The Atlantic 10 recognized DC-area first responders on Wednesday's Community Outreach Night and DC-area military members on Thursday's Salute to Military night.
- The merchants program, which in a partnership with local restaurants and other business, reached a record nine partners in 2018.

FAN AMENITIES

- The first game of each session had a National Anthem singer, and the Atlantic 10 brought in popular half-time acts, including Zooperstars, a BMX stunt team and Simon Says (Steve Max).
- Event 1 designed the championship merchandise that was for sale, both on-site at the championship and online. (middle right)
- An interactive fan zone area was again setup on the concourse in a high-traffic area. This included a photo booth that provided fans the opportunity for trophy photos, pop-a-shot machines, Atlantic 10 branded cornhole boards and more. (bottom right)
- The A-10 expanded its volunteer program, including more fan ambassadors inside and outside the arena.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Richmond-area groups were offered discounted tickets to the championship. Groups that took advantage of this program included:

- Adult Assisted Living/Senior Living Communities
- Big Brothers/Big Sisters
- Boys/Girls Club

SCHOLAR-ATHLETE AWARD

DAN SAVAGE
Saint Joseph's
Track & Field/Cross Country

HEATHER MACLEAN
Massachusetts
Track & Field/Cross Country

The Atlantic 10 Conference named cross country/track and field standouts Dan Savage of Saint Joseph's and Heather MacLean from Massachusetts as men's and women's Scholar-Athletes of the Year for 2017-18.

Savage, SJU's 2017 Most Valuable Cross Country Performer, finished as the Hawks' top runner in all six of his races. He turned in a seventh-place finish at the 2017 Atlantic 10 Championship to lead SJU to a second-place finish and earn All-Conference and All-East honors. He opened his final outdoor campaign with a trio of top-ten performances in both the 3000m steeplechase and 4x1500m relay. Savage graduated from Saint Joseph's in May 2017 with a dual degree in finance and risk management and insurance and is currently working toward his MBA in business administration at SJU.

MacLean, an education major, capped her collegiate career by collecting her third career All-America accolade after reaching the NCAA semifinals outdoors in the 800m run. An NCAA Woman of the Year Top 30 finalist, she won two gold medals and set a meet record, earning Most Outstanding Track Performer honors at the 2018 A-10 Outdoor Championships. She became the first UMass women's cross country All-American after finishing 26th at the NCAA Championships. She also won her second straight Atlantic 10 individual cross country title. She was one of 10 seniors honored as 21st Century Leaders at UMass' undergraduate commencement in 2017.

VETRONE MEDIA AWARD

Tom Archdeacon, long time reporter and columnist for the Dayton Daily News was selected as the winner of the 2018 Atlantic 10 Conference Bob Vetrone Media Award. A native of Ottoville, Ohio, and a University of Dayton graduate, Archdeacon joined the Dayton Daily News in 1989. He is known for telling the story behind the story throughout his 40-year career, writing columns and human-interest features about all of the UD athletics teams and their Atlantic 10 opponents. He was inducted in the United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) Hall of Fame Class of 2017 and honored at the Final Four in Glendale, Ariz., in April 2017. He's covered Dayton's runs in the NCAA Championship for men's and women's basketball since 1989. Archdeacon has won numerous writing awards from the USBWA and the Society of Professional Journalists, and is also the recipient of UD's Special Achievement Award, which is presented to an alumnus who has distinguished him or herself by earning special distinction in civic or professional activities, and has, by his or her actions, reflected honor on the Alumni Association and the University.

PAT SUMMITT MOST COURAGEOUS AWARD

Saint Joseph's senior Avery Marz was selected as the U.S. Basketball Writers Association's 2018 Pat Summitt Most Courageous Award recipient and was presented with her award at the NCAA Women's Final Four in Columbus, Ohio, as part of the organization's annual press conference March 30 in Nationwide Arena several hours in front of the national semifinals.

AVERY MARZ
Saint Joseph's

Marz, who had been sidelined the past two seasons after suffering a stroke at age 17 while moving into her dorm for the fall semester of 2014, returned to active playing duty last year and scored a three-pointer soon after coming off the bench in the Hawks' first game at Niagara. She worked her way into the starting lineup. Marz fought her way back despite some doctors, while telling her she was not in a life-threatening situation, did suggest her playing career was most likely over.

AWARDS & HONORS

DON DIJULIA ATHLETIC DIRECTOR INTERNSHIP

The Atlantic 10 Conference established Don DiJulia Athletic Director Internship in January to honor and recognize long-time Saint Joseph's University athletic director Don DiJulia, who retired after 35 years at the helm at his alma mater.

DiJulia celebrated his 50th year in college athletics in 2017-18 year, highlighted by his long tenure at SJU that includes serving as director of athletics from 1976-1984 and from 1988 to the present.

The internship will be awarded annually to a candidate aspiring to become an athletic director, who will serve a 10-month apprenticeship for the Atlantic 10 Conference. Included will be an opportunity for the intern to spend time on the campus of an A-10 member institution, shadowing the current athletic director and senior staff during both the fall and spring semesters.

Don DiJulia, alongside Commissioner Bernadette V. McGlade, NCAA President Mark Emmert and VCU Athletic Director Ed McLaughlin, was recognized by the Atlantic 10 last January.

"Don models and represents all that is good in college athletics. He leads a highly visible and immensely complex area with professionalism, passion and, above all, integrity, capturing the admiration of coaches, athletes, peers and fans. Don's legacy is etched on the University's playing fields and courts and in the hearts of the Hawks he's led. I am honored to have been able to work with him and look forward to his continuing relationship with SJU and wise counsel for years to come."

DR. MARK C. REED
Saint Joseph's University President

"Don is and has been one of the most outstanding administrators in intercollegiate athletics for over 40 years. His contributions to Saint Joseph's, the Atlantic 10, and nationally to the NCAA have been impactful and have made this profession better for all of us. Student-athletes, coaches and administrators will continue to lean on the lessons of integrity and leadership that Don exhibited throughout his career."

INAUGURAL WOMEN'S BASKETBALL CONTRIBUTOR AWARD

The Atlantic 10 Conference named veteran Richmond Times-Dispatch sportswriter Vic Dorr the recipient of the inaugural Atlantic 10 Women's Basketball Contribution Award. The award recognizes an individual who has made significant contributions to the Atlantic 10 in the sport of women's basketball and has helped elevate the league nationally.

A decorated sports reporter and longtime writer at the Richmond Times-Dispatch, Dorr recently retired from a career spanning over 40 years in the newspaper business. He moved to the Times-Dispatch in 1992 and became its first women's basketball beat writer. Dorr has long been an advocate for women's basketball, covering events including the first women's Final Four in 1982 and later covering 18 women's Final Fours.

Dorr was honored at halftime of the A-10 Women's Basketball Championship game on March 4 at the Richmond Coliseum.

VIC DORR

"It is an honor to recognize Vic Dorr with this inaugural A-10 Contribution Award. His national reputation, as one of the best writers in the country coupled with his support and advocacy of women's basketball makes this a brilliant choice. I have had the privilege to work with, and get to know Vic, since the late 1990s when I chaired the NCAA women's basketball selection committee, and I can think of no one more deserving of this honor."

BERNADETTE V. MCGLADE
Atlantic 10 Commissioner

"My vocabulary isn't large enough to permit me to adequately thank the Atlantic 10 in general and Commissioner McGlade in particular. This is more than an honor. It's a career highlight. It's something I'll cherish as long as I'm able to put words on paper. Writing about women's basketball was my job, yes, but I always regarded it as a privilege, and I always tried to treat it as such."

AWARDS & HONORS

NCAA WOMAN OF THE YEAR

Atlantic 10 Conference institutions nominated 14 extraordinary student-athletes for the prestigious NCAA Woman of the Year Award, representing seven sports and 11 different A-10 institutions. For the first time in over 10 years, an A-10 nominee, Heather MacLean, was one of the NCAA's Top 30 Finalists for the honor.

NCAA TOP 30 FINALIST & ATLANTIC 10 CONFERENCE NOMINEE

HEATHER MACLEAN

Massachusetts
Women's Cross Country/Track & Field
Major: Education (Masters)

Massachusetts women's cross country and track and field alumna Heather MacLean was named one of the Top 30 honorees for the 2018 NCAA Woman of the Year Award. The Peabody, Mass., native was selected from a pool of 154 conference nominees and is one of 10 finalists from Division I institutions. A three-time All-American (mile 2016, cross country 2017, outdoor 800m 2018), MacLean was also a four-time NCAA Outdoor East Preliminary qualifier in her career, which spanned five seasons with the Minutewomen. She was a 10-time Atlantic 10 champion (800m, 1,500m, two relays) on the track, to go along with two Atlantic 10 Cross Country individual titles (2016, 2017). A prolific award winner, she finished her UMass career holding seven individual school records and a share of four relay records, three New England records and two A-10 records. For her work in the classroom, MacLean was a six-time A-10 Academic All-Conference honoree and was among 10 graduating seniors honored for exemplary achievement, initiative and leadership as 21st Century Leaders during UMass' Undergraduate Commencement in 2017.

"We are so pleased that Heather is being recognized by the NCAA as a Woman of the Year Top 30 honoree. Her career at this renowned university — in the classroom, in competition, and in the community — has been absolutely remarkable. She is truly deserving of this special recognition that celebrates the best female student-athletes in the country across all divisions."

RYAN BAMFORD
University of Massachusetts Director of Athletics

"I am honored to represent Massachusetts on the NCAA level and I am incredibly thankful to all the constituents at the university that played a part in shaping the woman I am today."

Major: Environmental Science

A six-time A-10 champion, Dorsey won six A-10 gold medals (indoor and outdoor). That included helping the Patriots set the A-10 Outdoor Championship record in the 4x400 with a winning time of 3:38.58 in 2018.

The Baltimore native was named to the Google Cloud Academic All-District Women's Track/Cross Country Team by CoSIDA this past spring. Dorsey received the Atlantic 10's prestigious Postgraduate Scholarship, and was named to the A-10 All-Academic Team for indoor and outdoor track and field five times. In addition, she was named to the A-10 Commissioner's Honor Roll seven times. She received the Mason athletic department's prestigious Susan A. Collins Leadership Award for Women in Sport, and was an A-10 representative for the Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC). A member of the Phi Beta Kappa National Honor Society she was the treasurer for her Fellowship of Christian Athletes chapter. She received the Outstanding Performance Departmental Award from the College of Science, the 2017 MVP Award from the Black Excellence Gala. In the community, she volunteered in the Occoquan River Clean Up, the Victim's Rights Run/Walk 5K and the Langston Hughes Middle School Career Day.

FACEBOOK

In 2017-18, for the second straight year, the A-10 streamed a select number of men's basketball games on Facebook. This was done in conjunction with Stadium, which produced the 10 games. The year before, the A-10 was the first conference to utilize Facebook on a league level as a distribution platform. The league also again used the platform for basketball championship postgame press conferences.

NCAA BASKETBALL COMMITTEES

Atlantic 10 Commissioner Bernadette V. McGlade was named to the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee in March of 2018. The NCAA announced the five-year appointments of McGlade and Bradley Director of Athletics Chris Reynolds, which begin with the 2018-19 season. McGlade is the fifth female to serve on the committee. Under McGlade's leadership, the Atlantic 10 has expanded to include Men's Final Four participants George Mason and VCU, as well as Elite Eight participant Davidson. The league also secured media rights packages with ESPN, CBS Sports Network, NBC Sports Network and Stadium.

BERNADETTE V. MCGLADE
Atlantic 10 Commissioner

Additionally Atlantic 10 Senior Associate Commissioner Debbie Richardson is a member of the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Committee. Richardson just completed her second year of a five-year term on the committee.

"I am honored and humbled to have been selected to serve on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee. The committee has a tremendous responsibility as steward of the most iconic sporting event in the nation. I look forward to working with the committee members and the great NCAA support staff and serving the Division I membership at the highest level."

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

LEADERSHIP & GOVERNANCE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) continued to cultivate relationships with campus athletics administrators as well as conference officials. The group continued its monthly conference calls, and they attended the January Joint Meeting in Indianapolis with the athletic directors, faculty athletic representatives and senior woman administrators to enhance their leadership skills and network with NCAA staff. Additionally, SAAC developed the Respect Campaign, that launched with a video designed to bring attention to the issues most important to A-10 student-athletes. The video features a student-athlete from each of the A-10 members, speaking about a principle of respect on their campus, such as diversity, inclusion, mental health awareness, academic success and other priorities. SAAC representatives produced the entire video, narrowing down topics, writing scripts and finally providing guidelines for filming their respective videos.

IT'S ON US

The Atlantic 10 continues to partner with the It's On Us campaign providing outreach by the league, its members institutions and its student-athletes. The league supported the campaign through its various platforms and channels, including a pledge drive at the 2018 Men's Basketball Championship in Washington, D.C. A nationwide movement, It's On Us is designed to end sexual assault nationwide on college campuses.
