Owner

Earvin "Magic" Johnson is the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Magic Johnson Enterprises, an investment conglomerate valued at an estimated $1 billion dollars. Since retiring from the NBA over 20 years ago, the legendary basketball star has morphed into a business powerhouse who has dedicated his life to leaving a positive impact in underserved urban communities. Having left the basketball court for the boardroom, Johnson parlayed the skills and tenacity he acquired on the court into a winning formula for his successful business ventures.

For the last two decades Johnson has consistently turned heads with his unprecedented partnerships. In his early years as an entrepreneur, he forged an alliance with Sony Pictures to develop Magic Johnson Theatres. In 1998, he teamed with Starbucks to become the only franchisee in the history of the company, acquiring and eventually selling 125 stores in a lucrative move which further solidified his position in the business world. Both ventures served as catalysts for redevelopment in urban communities, and are widely recognized as the corporate blueprint for engagement and success with urban consumers across America.

Still a commanding presence in the sports world, he made history in 2012 when he became co-owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers. He also co-owns the Los Angeles Sparks of the WNBA and Major League Soccer's Los Angeles Football Club.

Johnson continues to expand his influence through a number of other investments. He currently has controlling interests in EquiTrust, a $17 billion financial services company, ASPiRE, an African-American television network, and SodexoMAGIC, a food service and facilities management company.

The Lansing native is constantly evolving and remaining relevant in a dynamic digital age by broadening his scope into infrastructure and technology. Through a newly formed fund, Johnson is investing millions of dollars on infrastructure improvement in the United States. Operating under the philosophy that true success is making others successful, he is one of the leading investors in a number of minority-owned tech companies that include Uncharted Power, a company that uses their renewable kinetic energy solutions to generate clean, consistent, and cost-efficient power for communities, facilities, and the Internet of Things; ShotTracker, a company that makes wearable technology for basketball players that helps track player and ball movement; Jopwell, a diversity and hiring recruiting platform; Walker & Co Brands, a company that develops health and beauty products for people of color; and MiTú, the Latino-fueled media brand and digital network that connects thousands of Latin content creators with viewers around the world. He is deliberate in his investment strategy to bring positive impact to the community.

Johnson proudly serves as Chairman and Founder of the Magic Johnson Foundation, who has awarded over $21 million in grants – cash and technology hardware/software – and made a positive impact in the lives of over 500K individuals through various program and social efforts. The Taylor Michaels Scholarship Program has graduated over 435 students, the HIV/AIDS initiatives have tested over 40K individuals, and 15 Community Empowerment Centers have provided technology access to over 260K individuals. Stan Kasten

President & CEO

For four decades, Stan Kasten has been a highly respected sports figure and developed a reputation for creating winning franchises, relying on three pillars – scouting and player development, enhancing the fan experience and community outreach – to establish franchises built for long-term success on and off the field.

That track record has continued during his tenure with the Dodgers, where the club has had an unprecedented run of success. On the field, Los Angeles has clinched eight consecutive NL West division titles, won three of the past four National League pennants and was crowned as 2020 World Series champions. Since Kasten became the Dodgers' President and CEO, the team has topped the Majors in attendance each full season under his leadership while continuously making improvements to Dodger Stadium to keep the league's third-oldest stadium among the best facilities in baseball. The Dodgers were also named ESPN's 2020 Sports Humanitarian Team of the Year for the work and community impact of the Los Angeles Dodgers Foundation. These achievements led Major League Baseball to award the Dodgers the 2022 All-Star Game (rescheduled from 2020), bringing the league's jewel event back to Los Angeles for the first time since 1980.

Kasten has been a member of numerous MLB, NBA and NHL ownership committees during his professional career and is also a former trustee of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame. In 1999, Kasten became the first sports figure to hold the title of president of three different teams in three different major sports simultaneously, doing so with MLB's Atlanta Braves, the NBA's Atlanta Hawks and the NHL's Atlanta Thrashers.

In 1979, at age 27, Kasten became the youngest general manager in NBA history with the Hawks, a position he held until 1990. Kasten became the Hawks' president in 1986. During his lengthy tenure in the Hawks' front office, Kasten built the Hawks into a perennial contender, including four consecutive 50-win seasons from 1986-89 and a stretch of seven consecutive playoff appearances in the 1990's, and became the first - and only – NBA executive to win back-to-back Executive of the Year awards in 1986-87.

Kasten also became president of the Braves in 1986. From 1987-2003, the Braves won more games than any other team in MLB and won 14 consecutive division titles (1991-2005), five National League pennants and the 1995 World Series.

In 1999, when the NHL awarded Atlanta an expansion team, Kasten added the title of president of the Thrashers, as well as chairman of the newly constructed Philips Arena (now State Farm Arena). Kasten held all three positions until 2003, when he stepped down.

Prior to joining the Dodgers, Kasten was president of the Washington Nationals from 2006-10, where he worked to re-energize a dormant baseball fan base and simultaneously established a crown jewel franchise in Washington, D.C.

Kasten, the Los Angeles Sports Council's 2013 Executive of the Year, is Emeritus Director of the Sports Lawyer Association and serves on the LA84 Foundation Board of Directors as well as the Rose Bowl Institute Advisory Board.

A native of Lakewood, N.J., Kasten is a graduate of New York University and Columbia University Law School. Kasten and his wife, Helen, have four children: Alana, Corey, Sherry and Jay.

Andrew Friedman

President, Baseball Operations

As the Dodgers' President of Baseball Operations, Andrew Friedman has instilled a winning culture that has resulted in a playoff berth in each of his seven seasons (including six straight NL West title from 2015-2020) three National League pennants and the 2020 World Championship. Under Friedman's leadership since 2015, the Dodgers lead MLB with a .614 winning percentage (634-399), including a franchise record 106 wins in both 2021 and 2019 as well as a club-best .717 winning percentage during the shortened 2020 season (43-17).

Entering his eighth season with the club after being named to the post on October 14, 2014, Friedman has overseen the development of one of baseball's top-ranked farm systems, positioning the organization for the long-term success, and also reorganized and built out the team's front office. Friedman was named Major League Baseball's 2020 Executive of the Year and the Dodgers have twice (2017, '20) been recognized by Baseball America as its Organization of the Year, honoring the team for its success from top to bottom.

Friedman previously served as Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations of the Tampa Bay Rays where, despite overseeing one of the league's lowest payrolls, he led the Rays to four postseason appearances, including two division titles (2008, 2010), in nine seasons from 2006-14. During Friedman's time in Tampa Bay, the Rays posted the franchise's first winning season and won the American League pennant in 2008, when he was named Sporting News' Executive of the Year. After finishing below .500 in each of their first 10 years of existence, the Rays finished above the .500 mark in six consecutive seasons under Friedman from 2008-13. Friedman joined the Rays in 2004 and spent two years serving as director of baseball development.

Managing and Coaching Career

• The 2016 NL Manager of the Year and 2020 World Series champion enters his seventh season at the helm of the Dodgers. He begins the season with the highest winning percentage by a manager in Major League Baseball history (minimum 850 games managed) at .622 (542-330).

• Became the first manager in baseball history to lead his team to the Postseason in each of his first six full seasons with the club. Roberts' 542 wins ranks fifth in franchise history, and he, Walter Alston (4) and Tommy Lasorda (2) are the only Dodger managers to win a World Series.

• Among current managers, his 44 Postseason victories ranks second...he ranks tied-for-fourth all time in MLB history in Postseason victories, trailing Joe Torre (84), Tony La Russa (70) and Bobby Cox (67).

• Became the first Major League manager to skipper three straight All-Star teams (2018, 2019, 2021) since Joe Torre guided four straight American League squads from 1999-2002.

• Has received Manager of the Year votes in all six seasons as Dodger manager in Baseball Writers' Association of America balloting, finishing first (2016), second (2017), fourth (2019), fifth (2020, 2021) and sixth (2018).

• Managed his club to the best 50-game stretch in franchise history, as the Dodgers won 43 of 50 games from June 7, 2017 until August 5, 2017...it was the best stretch in the Majors since the 1912 New York Giants, who went 43-7 from May 6 until July 3; and according to Elias Sports Bureau, only four teams have put up a stretch of winning 43 of 50 games or better in baseball history: the 2017 Dodgers, the 1912 Giants, the 1906 Cubs and the 1884 St. Louis Maroons.

• In his first season as Dodger manager in 2016, he was named NL Manager of the Year on Nov. 15, 2016, receiving 16 of 30 first-place votes, to join Hall of Famer Tommy Lasorda (1983, '88) as the only managers in Dodger history to win the award since its inception in 1983...it was just the sixth time the award went to someone who was in his first full season as a manager...also became the first manager of Asian descent to win the award.

• In his first season as the club's manager, he led the Dodgers to an NL West title, becoming just the second rookie manager ever to lead Los Angeles to a division title, joining Tommy Lasorda (1977).

• Honored as the Sporting News' 2016 NL Manager of the Year, becoming just the third Dodger manager to receive the award by the publication, joining Hall of Famers Leo Durocher (1939) and Walter Alston (1955, '59,'63)

DODGER STADIUM

The Dodgers remembered Hall of Fame Manager Tommy Lasorda with his retired number and his name on the electronic banner in the new Center Field Plaza after he passed away last season

Dodger Stadium celebrates its 60th anniversary in 2022, having opened on April 10, 1962. It is the third oldest ballpark in the Major Leagues behind Boston's Fenway Park (1912) and Chicago's Wrigley Field (1914).

The stadium has undergone numerous upgrades and renovations over the years, the latest being the Centerfield Plaza, which debuted to fans in 2021. For the first time, the stadium has a front door, with almost two acres of unique food offerings, entertainment and kids areas, retail locations, sponsor activations, more social- and standing-room areas and greater access for those with special needs. In addition, it is the home for the Jackie Robinson Statue, "Legends of Dodger Baseball" plaques and exhibits and displays that pay tribute to Dodger history.

This 2022 season marks the second time in Dodger Stadium history that the venerable venue has hosted a Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the last being 1980.

Dodger Stadium's rich history began with club president Walter O'Malley's foresight over six decades ago. During much of the 1950s, he lobbied for a new stadium to be built for his Brooklyn club, but when a deal could not be reached in 1957, the Dodgers made the unprecedented move to California. In September of that year, the city of Los Angeles agreed to give 300 acres of land to the Dodgers in exchange for the deed to Los Angeles' Wrigley Field and their commitment to construct a 50,000-seat stadium. While Dodger Stadium was being built, the Dodgers played at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum from 1958 through 1961, before Opening Day, April 10, 1962, when the Dodgers finally played in their new home before 52,564 fans.

The Dodgers enter their 61st season of play at Dodger Stadium (capacity: 56,000) in 2022 with a 2,757-1,989 (.581) record in 4,746 regular season games. The stadium has hosted 97 Dodger Postseason games with the Dodgers holding a 58-39 record (.598), including 27 games (17-10, .630) during 10 World Series (1963, '65, '66, '74, '77, '78, '81, '88, 2017, 2018). Since Dodger Stadium's opening in 1962, Los Angeles has the best home winning percentage in the National League and the second best regular season home record in the Majors, behind only the Yankees' .603 (2,850-1,880).

History

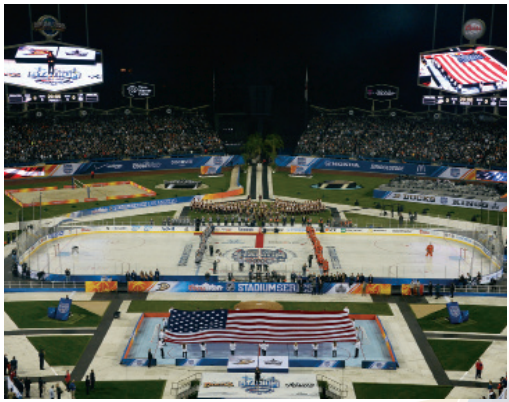

- The first game in Dodger Stadium history was held on April 10, 1962. Left-hander Johnny Podres made the start against the Cincinnati Reds. Kay O'Malley, wife of Dodger President Walter O'Malley, threw out the ceremonial first pitch to catcher John Roseboro.
- Hall of Famer Willie Stargell is the only player to twice hit a ball out of Dodger Stadium (Aug. 5, 1969 and May 8, 1973). Mike Piazza is the only Dodger to clear the roof (Sept. 21, 1997).
- Of the seven Dodger World Series championships, the only title clinched on their home field was 1963 when Los Angeles swept the Yankees, capped by a 2-1 victory in Game 4.
- The only All-Star Game in Dodger Stadium history was the 1980 Mid-Summer Classic, won by the NL, 4-2. It was announced last year, that Dodger Stadium will also host the 2020 All-Game Game.
- The only perfect game in Dodger history was pitched by Sandy Koufax at Dodger Stadium in a 1-0 victory against the Chicago Cubs on Sept. 9, 1965.

International

- Dodger Stadium played host to the 1984 Olympic Baseball tournament, the opening ceremonies of the 1991 United States Olympic Festival and the finals of both the 2009 and 2017 World Baseball Classics.
- In 1966, the Dodgers received a 10-foot-tall stone lantern gift from Japanese Hall of Famer Sotaro Suzuki as a token of friendship between the Dodgers and Japan. The Dodgers rededicated the stone lantern in 2003 and maintain it and the surrounding Japanese garden, located in the hills above parking lot 6.

Sandy Koufax celebrates recording the final out of the 1963 World Series.

Dodger Stadium played host to the NHL's Stadium Series on January 25, 2014, as the Anaheim Ducks faced the Los Angeles Kings in a regular season game.

Unique Events

- Dodger Stadium is part of the fabric of Los Angeles and during the COVID-19 pandemic the Dodgers opened the stadium and its parking lots in 2020 for communal benefit, including serving as a supersite where over a million tests were administered at one of the country's largest vaccination sites. Additionally, the stadium's Top Deck served as one of Los Angeles County's busiest Vote Centers for the 2020 Presidential Election.
- Pope John Paul II celebrated a Mass at Dodger Stadium on Sept. 16, 1987. The event drew a stadium-record crowd of 63,000.
- Entertainers to perform at Dodger Stadium include: AC/DC, Beyoncé, Billy Joel, Bruno Mars, Guns N' Roses, The Rolling Stones, The Beatles, KISS, Madonna, The Bee Gees, Elton John, Simon and Garfunkel, John Legend, Luke Bryan, Michael Jackson, David Bowie, Genesis, Eric Clapton, U2, the Dave Matthews Band, Bruce Springsteen, Paul McCartney and The Three Tenors.
- The Harlem Globetrotters played an exhibition game at Dodger Stadium on Feb. 4, 1964. The basketball court was placed on the infield.
- Dodger Stadium has played host to a rugby match (2015), a soccer game (2013) and the National Hockey League's first regular-season outdoor game in California on Jan. 25, 2014, between the Los Angeles Kings and Anaheim Ducks.

Original Construction

- Elevations at "Chavez Ravine" ranged from 400 feet to 700 feet above sea level. More than eight million cubic yards of earth was moved to reshape the area.
- Dodger Stadium was designed by Emil Praeger and was the first privately financed stadium since Yankee Stadium, built by a brewery in 1923.
- The Dodgers played at the Los Angeles Coliseum from 1958-61, and groundbreaking ceremonies for the original Dodger Stadium construction were held on Sept. 17, 1959.
- There were more than 25,000 separate pieces of precast concrete used to build the original Dodger Stadium.
- The original dugout level seats at Dodger Stadium were inspired by a similar layout of dugout seats at Korakuen Stadium, where the Dodgers played during their 1956 Japan goodwill tour. Club seats have since been replaced by the Dugout Club Seats.
- Dodger Stadium was designed so that each of the nine levels of the park has entries at grade as the hillside rises around the structure. The engineers used the terrain of the site to allow access directly from each level without requiring fans to use stairs or an elevator.
- The original color scheme of Dodger Stadium, which is evident in the seats today, is a result of the study of popular colors in the 1960s, reflective of the California spirit.
- The distinctive inverted precast panels of the Top Deck and the zig-zag roof of the pavilions are unique architectural features.

Los Angeles Attendance Highlights

Record At The Turnstile: In 2019, the Dodgers set a single-season franchise attendance record with 3,974,309 (49,066 average) in 81 home dates, which included 28 sellouts. The attendance mark led Major League Baseball, the seventh consecutive year the Dodgers have done so, and represented the 10th largest single-season mark in Major League history (third largest in NL history). It marked the second consecutive year that the Dodgers established a single-season attendance record after drawing 3,857,500 in 82 home dates in 2018 (47,042 average). Los Angeles also led MLB in combined home/road attendance, drawing 6,681,929.

MLB Leaders: Since moving to Los Angeles in 1958, the Dodgers have led the National League in attendance 35 times, including posting the highest attendance in the Majors in 31 of those 35 years (see previous page for individual seasons). Los Angeles has led the Majors in attendance for the last eight full seasons since 2013, including 2021.

Sellouts: The Dodgers established a club record with 37 sellouts in 1983.

Largest Single-Game Crowd: The Dodgers drew 57,097 fans on April 13, 2009 for an 11-1 Opening Day victory over the Giants, the largest regular season crowd in Dodger Stadium history and one of three times that the club has drawn more than 56,000 at Chavez Ravine (also: March 31, 2011 vs. SF, Aug. 21, 2012 vs. SF).

Largest Single-Game Postseason Crowd: During the postseason, the largest Dodger Stadium crowd is 56,800 - done three times during the 2008 NLCS vs. Philadelphia - Oct. 12, 13, 15.

Over Three Million: The Dodgers hold the Major League record for drawing more than three million fans on 32 occasions, while also topping the big leagues in number of times topping 2.5 million (46). Los Angeles surpassed 2 million fans for an MLB record 47 consecutive seasons (1973-2019).

Turnstiles: The Dodgers established a then-Major League record when they drew 3,608,881 fans in 1982. The NL implemented a new attendance counting system in 1993, and the Rockies recorded the largest single-season total in Major League history with 4,483,350 fans in their first Major League season. Through the 1992 season, attendance figures in the NL were counted by the number of fans in attendance and the AL counted total tickets sold. Both leagues - currently count total tickets sold.

For The Record Book: On May 7, 1959, the Dodgers and Yankees played before an exhibition crowd of 93,103 at the Los Angeles Coliseum in honor of Roy Campanella, the highest single-game attendance mark for a Major League game.

World's Greatest: The Dodgers in 2005 were honored by the Guinness Book of World Records as having the "Highest Cumulative Attendance for a Baseball Franchise" dating back to 1901.

Campo Las Palmas

The Dodgers were the first MLB club to establish a baseball academy in the Dominican Republic when they first opened the doors of Campo Las Palmas in 1987. Former Dodger President Peter O'Malley and former Dodger Scout and Vice President Ralph Avila arranged for the Dodgers to purchase land in San Antonio de Guerra on which Campo Las Palmas was constructed. The Dodgers, under ownership by Mark Walter and Guggenheim Baseball Management, expanded the campus with the purchase of a neighboring parcel and the total complex is now 70 acres.

Campo Las Palmas celebrated its 30th anniversary in 2017 with extensive improvements and an expansion of the state-of-the-art facility. In 1987, the original facility consisted of four structures, which has now grown to 10 buildings of nearly 100,000 total square feet following the 2017 expansion. The newly renovated Campo Las Palmas houses 96 players, 19 coaches and support staff, while training facilities include three and one-half fields, a covered batting cage large enough to accommodate infield practice, a mile running track, conditioning and weight room and training areas within the clubhouse.

Designed to expand the campus qualities of the original complex and encourage continuing education during time in camp, new buildings at Campo Las Palmas feature four classrooms, a quiet room and a social area for players. Additional updates include the Jackie Robinson Hall which functions as a movie house that uses English-language films as part of language learning and is a place where players can spend time with their families when they visit Campo Las Palmas. A community field for little league play is near the entrance, and fruit trees and a vegetable garden near the new kitchen mark the team's commitment to nutrition.

Camelback Ranch-Glendale

Camelback Ranch-Glendale (CR-G) is in its 14th season (opened in 2009) as the Spring Training home of the Dodgers and White Sox this year. CR-G is one of the largest stadiums in the Cactus League and features unique grounds that include picturesque walking trails, a five-acre lake and an orange grove – a nod to the Dodgers' previous spring home in Vero Beach, FL, where they trained for 61 years. The CR-G campus has become home for all Dodger minor league operations throughout the year, including the franchise's teams in the Rookie-level Arizona League, Fall Instructional League and Arizona Fall League.

The award-winning stadium offers more than 10,300 fixed seats and grass seating for 3,000-plus fans. An orange grove – a touch of Dodgertown, Southern California and Arizona – is located beyond the left-field wall of replica Dodger Stadium.

The Dodgers set a CR-G total attendance record in 2017, with 165,911 in 17 home dates. The club's record for average attendance was set in 2016, when the club hosted 155,841 fans in 15 home dates (average of 10,389).

Dodgertown In Vero Beach

Dodgertown in Vero Beach was the Spring Training home of the Dodgers for 61 years from 1948-2008 and home to some of the most memorable players and personalities of both Brooklyn and Los Angeles lore. The personalized street signs within the complex honored such Hall of Famers as Jackie Robinson, Sandy Koufax, Roy Campanella, Duke Snider, Pee Wee Reese, Don Drysdale, Tommy Lasorda, Walter Alston, Don Sutton, Vin Scully and Jaime Jarrín.

The Dodgers first set up camp at the invitation of a local businessman, Bud Holman, after the city needed a tenant to occupy a former World War II Naval Air Station. The club brought its minor league operations to Vero Beach in 1948, and in 1952 Dodger President Walter O'Malley and New York-based architect Emil Praeger decided to build an intimate-style stadium with unobstructed views. "Holman Stadium," named by O'Malley after Bud Holman, was officially dedicated on March 11, 1953. The camp became the most unique baseball training facility in the country, a destination for international baseball visitors. The complex also grew into six practice fields, four indoor batting and pitching tunnels, a pool, tennis court and more.

On March 17, 2008, the final Spring Training contest took place at Holman Stadium and at its conclusion, the Dodgers formed a "bat tunnel" for Hall of Famer Tommy Lasorda as he walked off the field for the final time in Vero Beach. In November 2014, Historic Dodgertown - Vero Beach was designated as a "Florida Heritage Landmark" and a Historical Marker was unveiled on the property.

Uniform Numbers In Dodger History

Since 1932, hundreds of players and coaches have put on a Dodger uniform, wearing every single number from 1 to 77 as well as 0, 00, 97 and 99. On April 15, from 2007-19 the Dodgers all wore No. 42 to celebrate the 60th-72nd anniversaries of Jackie Robinson breaking the color barrier. Pitcher Joe Beimel's No. 97 was the highest number ever worn by a player during a regular-season game until Manny Ramirez donned No. 99 in 2008. In 2014, Brian Wilson became the first Dodger to wear 00. Pee Wee Reese's No. 1 was officially retired on July 4, 1984, one of nine numbers that have been retired. Below is a list of the different numbers worn by Dodgers since 1932 and the years in which they were worn.

JACKIE ROBINSON — OF/IF — 42

Uniform Number Retired JUNE 4, 1972

Jack Roosevelt Robinson made a historic entrance into Major League Baseball in 1947 as the first African-American player in the history of the game. His outstanding debut season netted him the inaugural Rookie of the Year award, which now bares his name, and spring-boarded him to a stellar 10-season career in which he was part of six Brooklyn Dodger pennant-winners, among them the World Championship club of 1955. In 1949, the six-time all-star won the National League batting title (.342) en route to earning MVP honors. Robinson, a first baseman as a rookie, starred as a second baseman for the next five seasons, before moving on to play third base and the outfield. He was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1962.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Last season saw a return to somewhat normal operations at Dodger Stadium which meant a return to in-person community events to honor, support and uplift Angelenos after one of the most challenging years of our collective lives.
With schools back in session, organizations underfunded, and Angelenos still struggling to pay the bills, we went "back to basics" to provide the community with a steady and reliable community partner. We focused on programming that would create the most impact in our community. We gave children the opportunity to experience fun and joy again, we provided much needed support to families during the holidays with meals, supplies and toys, and we partnered with health and government agencies to raise awareness about the crisis at our border.

PLAY

- The ongoing pandemic required that we remain virtual for much of 2021, particularly where children who may not have been eligible for a vaccine were concerned. Rather than pause our community engagement, we continued to bring quality virtual experiences to youth in our community.
- There is nothing better than a good birthday party or lots of toys at Christmas. In 2021 we kicked off the year with a virtual birthday celebration for children experiencing homelessness. The uplifting and inspiring event included a dance off, art projects, a blue science experiment and CPK provided more than 400 meals to children and their families.
- By years end we were able to bring the joy of the holidays directly to students in our surrounding community of schools. We loaded up the Dodgers Holiday Express with toys, new shoes, meals, and good cheer and visited more than 300 students at four local elementary schools. Santa capped off the festivities with a surprise visit

On and off the field, the Dodgers remained committed to serving the community of Los Angeles in 2021. With various events occurring throughout the year and across the Southland, the Dodgers' community outreach focused on inspiring youth and adults throughout the region to PLAY, LIVE, LEARN and SERVE.

Through civic and corporate partnerships, events and community service, the Dodgers fulfilled a multitude of community needs and wishes, bringing joy and respite to people of all ages, abilities, backgrounds and genders.

LIVE

- During the 2021 season, Dodger players executed virtual hospital visits including a special visit for patients at UCLA Mattel Children's Hospital in honor of MLB's Childhood Cancer Awareness game. Each patient had the opportunity to ask questions and play games with Dodgers Chris Taylor, Trea Turner, Mookie Betts, and AJ Pollock virtually.

LEARN

- Community remains committed to education and lifelong learning. We support and promote this commitment annually through programs from our backpack giveaways to prepare students at Title 1 schools with much needed supplies to kick the school year off right, to LA Reads and our Jackie Robinson curriculum.
- Every once in a while, life presents an opportunity to be part of the solution and raise awareness about a critical issue. During the early months of the pandemic, we used our physical stadium to provide access to lifesaving vaccines and educate the public about the safety of the vaccines.
- In 2021 the crisis at the border created another educational opportunity. In June we partnered with the US Department of Health and Human Services and UCLA Health to raise awareness about the plight of unaccompanied minors fleeing violence and poverty in Mexico and Central America. Dodgers Albert Pujols, Julio Urias, Victor Gonzlez and Edwin Uceta joined legend Fernando Valenzuela and broadcasters Jaime Jarrin and Pepe Yniguez at a facility in Long Beach, CA to shine a spotlight on young people in our community fighting for their lives. The Los Angeles Dodgers are uniquely positioned to elevate these issues and we felt a collective responsibility to do our part.

SERVE

- The Dodgers partnered with the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health in 2021 to raise awareness about the mental health challenges facing many in our community, particularly as we continue to see the effects of the pandemic in our community. Through an ongoing effort to support the young women who attend New Village Academy, we embarked on a service project to reimagine their outdoor space, creating a more tranquil and meditative environment that can promote positive mental health and emotional wellbeing. on site.

IN THE COMMUNITY

Throughout the past 16 seasons, the team has distributed over 20,000 Thanksgiving turkeys and dinners to low-income families at the annual Turkey Giveaway. In 2021, the team distributed over 2,000 meals to individuals and families facing food insecurity.

- Over 959,000 square feet of Dodgers parking areas continued to provide COVID-19 testing and public safety needs to our Community.

- As home to one of the largest COVID-19 testing and vaccination sites in the world, it's no surprise that we continued our commitment to public health when the stadium reopened to fans in 2021. By partnering with LAFD and CORE, we provided public access to free vaccinations on non-game days administering more than 400,000 shots. During games, our vaccination clinic in centerfield plaza and the reserve level concourse was utilized by more than 4,000 ticketed guests.

- In August 2020, the Dodgers became the first team in Major League Baseball to make their stadium available for voting. In addition to hosting a five-day Vote Center, the Dodgers created an online voting resource guide at Dodgers.com/Vote. The team supported voter registration and get-out-the-vote efforts with drop-ins during game broadcasts and on Dodgers social media along with public service announcements to assist team partners, local and state agencies and non-profits with their voting initiatives.

Jaime Jarrín

Hall of Fame Broadcaster

Jaime Jarrín, "the Spanish voice of the Dodgers" and one of the most recognizable voices in all of sports broadcasting, has been calling Dodger games since 1959. Jarrín enters his 64th and final season with the club in 2022. Jarrín, the longest-tenured broadcaster in Major League Baseball, announced his retirement on Sept. 28, 2021.

In 1998, he was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, as the recipient of the Ford C. Frick Award, becoming the second Spanish-language announcer to achieve the honor after Buck Canel. In 2018, the Hall of Famer became just the 12th Dodger to be added to the club's Ring of Honor, joining other franchise icons in having his name permanently affixed to Dodger Stadium. Jarrín has called three perfect games (Sandy Koufax in 1965, Tom Browning in 1988 and Dennis Martinez in 1991) and 22 no-hitters, 30 World Series and 30 All-Star games during his decorated career.

The Quito, Ecuador native began working for HCJB in his home country when he was 16 years old and went on to become the announcer for the National Congress of Ecuador, while studying philosophy, letters, journalism and broadcasting at Central University of Ecuador in Quito. Following his graduation, Jarrín hoped to continue his broadcasting career in the United States, arriving on June 24, 1955. At the time, he had never seen a baseball game. His first experience with baseball was watching the Dodgers on a televised broadcast of the 1955 World Series against the Yankees, and he soon began attending minor league games in Los Angeles at Gilmore Field and Wrigley Field to learn the game. Jarrín was hired as an announcer at KWKW and soon after, the Dodgers moved to Los Angeles.

Jarrín was given one year to prepare to become a baseball broadcaster by William Beaton, the station manager at KWKW. During his first six years with the Dodgers, Jarrín and his partner would recreate games in the studio while listening to the English radio broadcast. Starting in 1965, Jarrín took the Dodgers' Spanish-language radio broadcast on the road, making every stop with the Dodgers. He rose to become the club's primary Spanish-language broadcaster in 1973. From 1962-84, Jarrín called nearly 4,000 games – spanning 22 seasons – without missing a contest, before the streak was broken in 1984 when he took charge of all the Spanish-language radio coverage and production for the Los Angeles Olympic Games.

On August 23, 2009, Jarrín once again made history and served as the play-by-play announcer in the first-ever regular-season-dedicated Spanish-language telecast of a Dodger game. From 2015-2020, Jarrín called games alongside his son, Jorge, with the duo forming the only father-son broadcasting team in MLB Spanish-language radio.

Jarrín also worked on international news broadcasts, including the funeral of President John F. Kennedy, Pope John Paul II's visit to the U.S. and several meetings between foreign leaders and Presidents Richard Nixon and Lyndon B. Johnson. He has called more than 30 world championship boxing title bouts for radio and TV stations in Latin America, including the legendary "Thrilla in Manila" between Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier in 1975.

In the 2005 book "Voices of Summer," Jarrín was named as baseball's all-time best Spanish-language broadcaster. Jarrín received a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame – dedicated in September 1998 – and is a member of both the California Broadcasters Association Hall of Fame and Southern California Sports Broadcasters Association (SCSBA) Hall of Fame. The SCSBA awarded him the organization's Vin Scully Lifetime Achievement Award in 2019. His other major honors include: La Gran Cruz al Merito en El Grado de Comendador received in Ecuador in January 1992, being honored by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA) Foundation with an AFTRA Media and Entertainment Excellence Award in 2011 and earning Hall of Fame recognition by the Associated Press Television-Radio Association (APTRA) in 2011. Jarrín was featured in the 2020 Rose Parade as an honored guest of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, embodying the theme of "The Power of Hope."

Jarrín resides in San Marino and has two sons, Mauricio and Jorge. In memory of his late wife, Blanca, who passed away in 2019, the Jarrín Family launched The Jaime and Blanca Jarrín Foundation, which serves and supports charitable, educational and athletic programs in the Los Angeles area as well as internationally.

In July 2012, Davis made the jump to national television at the age of 24, joining ESPN as an announcer for college baseball, basketball, football, hockey and softball and also appeared in spot duty for Major League Baseball on ESPN radio.

Garciaparra played three seasons with the Dodgers in 2006-08, earning an All-Star selection at first base and helping the team reach the postseason in 2006. After playing with Oakland in 2009, Garciaparra signed a one-day contract with Boston in 2010 to retire as a member of the Red Sox. In 2014, Garciaparra was inducted into both the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame and the Latino Baseball Hall of Fame in the Dominican Republic.

Following the end of his playing career, Garciaparra worked at ESPN, appearing on Baseball Tonight, MLB game telecasts as well as the network's coverage of the College World Series and the Little League World Series from 2011-13.

Garciaparra was a member of the 1992 U.S. Olympic baseball team and his wife, Olympian and World Cup soccer champion Mia Hamm, played on the 1996, 2000 and 2004 women's Olympic soccer teams. The couple married in 2003, and have twin girls, Grace and Ava, and a son, Garrett. Both Garciaparra and Hamm are among the investors in Major League Soccer's Los Angeles FC.

He previously was behind the microphone at ESPN from 2006-13 as a color analyst for their Baseball Tonight, Sunday Night Baseball, College World Series and Little League World Series programming.

The three-time All-Star right-hander played 18 seasons in the Majors, including 13 with the Dodgers, who he helped lead to a 1988 World Championship. That year, Hershiser led the National League in wins (23), innings pitched (267), shutouts (8) and complete games (15) en route to a Cy Young Award, and set the all-time Major League record of 59 consecutive scoreless innings (Aug. 30-Sept. 28). He established his place in Dodger lore with a dominant 1988 Postseason, when he earned both NLCS and World Series MVP honors, and became the only player in history to win those honors in addition to the Cy Young Award in the same season. He later received both The Sporting News Pitcher of the Year and Sports Illustrated Sportsman of the Year awards for his brilliant season.

Hershiser attended and played baseball at Bowling Green (OH) State University and was drafted in the 17th round by the Dodgers in the 1979 Major League First-Year Player Draft. It was during a game in his rookie year of 1984, that Hershiser was nicknamed "Bulldog," in an effort by Dodgers Hall of Fame manager Tommy Lasorda to get Hershiser to adopt a tougher attitude on the mound.

After finishing his playing career with the Dodgers in 2000 and briefly working for the team, he joined the Rangers as a special assistant to General Manager John Hart in the fall of 2001. He was named the Rangers' pitching coach in 2002 and after the 2005 season, he became Executive Director of the Rangers.

Additionally, Yñiguez contributes to the Dodgers' Latino marketing and radio sales efforts in recording promotional ads for Dodger sponsors that air on Univision America KTNQ 1020 AM. Yñiguez previously hosted the Dodgers' pre and post-game shows, "Hablando con los Dodgers," in 1993 and covered select Spanish-language broadcasting assignments for the club in 1997 before joining the team full-time in 1999.

Starting in 1992, Yñiguez broadcasted numerous events for Fox Sports International, including every World Series from 1997-2005. In 1997, he called the All-Star Game at Jacobs Field in Cleveland alongside Tito Fuentes and Dennis Martinez. He has also broadcasted the annual Caribbean Series. From 1993-95, Yñiguez served as the color commentator for Los Angeles Raiders broadcasts. During past offseasons, he also hosted "Central Deportiva," a weekly sports talk show airing Sunday afternoons, on KWKW in Los Angeles.

Yñiguez resides with his wife Rafaela in La Habra, and has four kids, Edgar, Alenrry, Karissa and Jaquely.

Fernando Valenzuela

Broadcaster

Fernando Valenzuela, legendary Dodger and 17-year Major League veteran, celebrates his 20th season as a Dodger broadcaster and will join Jaime Jarrín and Pepe Yñiguez on the Spanish radio and television simulcast.

In 17 big league seasons, Valenzuela compiled a 173-153 record and a 3.54 ERA with the Dodgers, Angels, Orioles, Phillies, Padres and Cardinals, earning six All-Star selections and tossing a no-hitter on June 29, 1990, against the Cardinals. The Sonora, Mexico native has been inducted to numerous Hall of Fames, including the Hispanic Heritage Baseball Museum and Caribbean Baseball Hall of Fame.

Valenzuela was a late-season call-up in 1980, but his legend grew as the Dodgers' emergency starter on Opening Day, 1981, when he hurled a 2-0 shutout over the Houston Astros. Valenzuela won his first eight starts that season, including five shutouts and a rookie-record string of 35.0 consecutive scoreless innings, with his improbable success sparking "Fernandomania," as fans flocked to see him pitch – both home and road – and baffle hitters with his signature screwball. Valenzuela, who started the 1981 All-Star Game, became the first player in MLB history to be named Rookie of the Year and win a Cy Young Award in the same season, while leading the Dodgers to a World Championship.

Valenzuela supports the club's community and Latino initiatives, and as a result of his continued community involvement, the Reviving Baseball in Innercities Program (RBI) honored him with a Lifetime Achievement in 2007. Valenzuela and his wife Linda reside in Los Angeles and have four children, Ricky, Fernando Jr., Linda and Maria Fernanda.
