Mrs. Anthony J. Morabito

Mrs. Victor P. Morabito

The San Francisco 49ers, oldest original major league professional football franchise west of the Mississippi begin their quest for a fourth-consecutive NFC Western Division title with the 1973 season.

Since its inception in 1970 the NFC's Western Division has known only one champion, the 49ers. And San Francisco is the only team in the NFL to have won three consecutive divisional titles under the current setup.

With success on the field has come success at the box office and, for the first time in their history, the 49ers were forced to cut off season ticket sales this year. They sold 57,000 season tickets for 1973.

The current aura of success did not come easily and is the result of a strong pioneering effort—and enduring faith.

When Anthony J. "Tony" Morabito, the club's founder, watched the first 49er team take the field in 1946, he had set in motion the first major league professional sports operation ever to originate in the State of California.

Tony, later joined by his younger brother, Victor, survived those early days, many of them tough, struggling days, to achieve a level of success with the 49ers which enabled sports fans in Northern California, in fact, the entire state, to enjoy what has become one of the national hotbeds of professional sport.

In the beginning, the 49ers were members of the All-America Football Conference. They joined the National Football League prior to the 1950 season.

Tony Morabito passed away during the 1957 season, to be succeeded by Vic Morabito and the club's chief executive officer. Upon Vic's death, in 1964, Louis G. Spadia, then general manager, became the club's top working executive. He was named president prior to the 1967 season.

The San Francisco 49ers are a limited partnership with the major interest being held by Mrs. Anthony J. Morabito and Mrs. Victor P. Morabito.

FORTY NINER PROSPECTUS — 1973

OFFENSE

Receivers: Gene Washington and Ted Kwalick were both All-Pro after the 1972 season and both were starters for the NFC in the Pro Bowl. Washington led the NFL in TD receptions (12) and Kwalick was not far behind with nine. Washington averaged 20 yards a catch, Kwalick 18.8. The foregoing, alone, establishes San Francisco's receiving corps as one of the best, but there is a chance that it could be better because the flanker job is unsettled and there are a number of quality candidates. Veteran John Isenberger and last year's No. 1 choice, Terry Beasley the

FORREST BLUE

Quarterback: Steve Spurrier's 1972 performance in replacing the injured John Brodie was the most encouraging thing to happen to the 49ers in some time. With a healthy Brodie and a now-proven Spurrier, 49er quarterbacking is an obvious strength. Joe Reed, a youngster considered to have good promise, still stands in the wings, and San Francisco drafted Kansas State's left-handed Dennis Morrison (14th) as a rookie candidate.

Line: "The Protectors" survived a rash of injuries and the necessity to adjust to a different quarterbacking tempo last year, and while not quite as spectacular in protecting the QB from opponent sackings as they had been the previous two seasons, nonetheless maintained their reputation as one of the best offensive lines in the game. They are back as a unit for the fourth year with the starting five pivoting around All-Pro Forrest Blue (6th year). The guards are Woody Peoples (6th year) and Randy Beisler (8th) and the tackles are Len Rohde (14th) and Cas Baraszek (6th). Blue and Peoples both played in the Pro Bowl at season's end last year.

DEFENSE

Line: San Francisco's pass rush topped the NFL in quarterback sackings last year with 46 for losses of 403 yards, an impressive figure, and this in the face of the fact that regular tackle Earl Edwards limped through most of the season with a chronic foot problem and young defensive end Cedrick Hardman was coming back from major off-season knee surgery. The man who really made a move toward due recognition as one of the league's most formidable defensive ends was Tommy Hart, who, in his fifth season, administered 17 sacks himself and was credited with 86 unassisted tackles. Hardman came on strong after midseason and tough Bob Hoskins backed up Edwards and 15-year veteran Charlie Krueger in fine style to preserve the overall excellence of the front four. Bill Belk, a better-than-average defense end himself, continues his backup role.

Linebackers: The menacing figure of All-Pro Dave Wilcox continues to loom as a powerful deterrent on the left side of San Francisco's defenses (he was All-Pro for the 4th year, started in the Pro Bowl for the 6th), and Skip Vanderbundt, moving into his fifth season, has put two outstanding years back-to-back patrolling the right side. Wilcox intercepted three passes, Vanderbundt two, with Skip running both of his back for TDs. In the middle, however, there is cause for concern. Frank Nunley was the starter at the beginning of 1972, but was bothered by injury and gave way to veteran Ed Beard at midseason. Beard played well enough, but hurt a knee in the final game and underwent surgery, his second knee operation, in the off-season. In addition, regular outside backup man Jim Sniadecki had ankle surgery after an early-season injury. San Francisco drafted three collegiate defensive ends—All-Americans Willie Harper (2nd), of Nebraska, and John Mitchell (7th), of Alabama, and Charley Hunt (10th), of Florida State—and will work them as linebackers. In addition, the 49ers went for Indiana's outstanding middle backer, Mike Pulk, in the fifth round.

Secondary: Since the 49ers' No. 1 draft choice went for a defensive back, Mike Holmes of Texas Southern, the assumption is that there will be some changes in this unit. Not necessarily so. All-Pro Jimmy Johnson, thought by many to be the best defensive back in pro football, will be back for his 13th season. Bruce Taylor begins his fourth year as the right-corner starter, Mel Phillips, in his eighth season, opens as a starter at strong safety for the fifth season, and Mike Simpson is slated as the starting free safety for the second year.

Special Teams: With Bruce Gossett handling the placekicking, slender Jim McCann the punt-fig, Bruce Taylor and Ralph McGill the punt returns and Vic Washington the kickoff returns, the key jobs with San Francisco's special teams are in good shape. Gossett, entering his 10th pro season, now ranks 10th among all-time NFL scorers with 869 points, ranked seventh in the NFC in 1972 with 95 points (18 FGs, 41 expts.) McCann, who handled all 49er punting last year, his second, posted a 39.7 per kick average, but the significant factor to his performance was that, of a total of 64 punts, only 20 were run back and those for a meager 70 yards as 49er punt coverage ranked 4th in the NFL. Taylor, in just his third year, set a 49er career record for total yards (896) in punt returns last year, and McGill's 22 returns for 219 yards ranked him third in the NFL, fourth in the NFL. Washington ranked fourth in the NFL as a kickoff returner with 27 for 771 yards, including the NFC's longest return, 98 yards with the opener against Atlanta.

QB	8/14/35 (38)	6-1	200	Stanford	17	Los Altos, Calif.

Joined 49ers: No. 1 draft choice prior to the 1957 season.

PRO: The 1972 season was not one of John Brodie's favorites. Sidelined by an ankle injury in the closing minutes of the year's 5th game (against New York Giants), Brodie didn't return to action until the final quarter of the final league game, his longest period of inactivity since 1963 when he missed 11 games with a broken arm. However, his 1972 return was auspicious in that all he did was throw two TD passes (the last with 25 seconds left) to give the 49ers a 20-17 win over Minnesota and their 3rd consecutive NFC Western Division title. During his abbreviated season in 1972, John completed 70 of 110 passes for 905 yards and 9 TDs, merely adding (of 22 listed) 49er passing records he already holds all or part of. JACK WHITE

Vice-President for Personnel

One of the best-known and most widely-respected administrators in professional sports, Jack White begins his ninth year as the key man in the San Francisco 49er player personnel picture.

White, who had been a part-time talent scout for the club for some 14 years, became a full-time 49er in 1965, when he became Director of Scouting. He was appointed general manager prior to the 1967 season when Lou Spadia became club president.

Last year, after the retirement of Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf, White assumed responsibility for operating the club's entire player personnel department, including scouting and player relations.

White's experience in professional sport has covered both football and baseball. He was a pro football player, and, later, an assistant coach with the old New York Yankee football team in the All-America Conference.

Still later, he joined the New York Yankee baseball organization and served in capacities which ranged from general manager of their Richmond, Va., farm club, to business and ticket manager for the parent club.

An Easterner by birth (New Britain, Conn.) and a graduate of New York's Manhattan College, Jack and his family now live in Palo Alto, Calif.

Headquarters for the organization, which is directed by long-time football coach and scout Hamp Pool, is in Palo Alto, California. "Quadra" employs nine fulltime scouts.

In addition to their cooperative effort with "Quadra," the 49ers have a fulltime six-man talent department comprised of three staff scouts and three administrative assistants under the direction of Jack White.

Staff scouts are John Michelson, former University of Pittsburgh and Pittsburgh Steeler coach; Clarence "Ace" Parker, all-time football great inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame last year; and Joe "The Jet" Perry, one of the game's best-ever ball carriers and also a member of the Hall of Fame.

But the defense had its share of glory by allowing the Saints only seven yards rushing for the entire afternoon. They sacked QB Archie Manning five times, intercepted four of his passes, one of which free safety Mike Simpson returned 32 yards for a TD. The 49er defense only allowed the Saints 84 yards total offense for entire day.

But two Archie Manning passes to ex-49er Dave Parks for TDs kept the 49ers in the hole. But Spurrier moved the 49ers from their own 35 to the Saints 29 yard line with just 42 seconds left on the clock. Bruce Gossett kicked a 36 yard FG with only 7 seconds remaining to give the 49ers a tie.

The 49ers exploded and scored in every conceivable manner against the Falcons, with one exception punt return (and they did that too but it was called back). Vic Washington led the game off by returning the opening kickoff 98 yards for the games first score and it set the tempo. Ted Kwalick, Gene Washington and Preston Riley all caught TD passes. Ken Willard and V. Washington scored on the ground. Skip Vanderhondt returned a pass interception for another score. Rookie Ralph McGill tied a NFL record for most punts returned in one game 9 for 109 yards (he also had a 83 yard TD return called back).

Steve Spurrier kept the 49ers in the game while passing 37 times, completing 19, two to G. Washington the only two Green Bay gave up until late in the season. He passed for 315 yards but without a running game to compliment it he was able to be held in check. The 49ers running game gained only 21 yards against the Pack. Meanwhile, Green Bay had little trouble running on the 49ers as John Brockington rushed for 133 yards and scored three touchdowns, one of them a 48 yard pass from Scott Hunter.

The 49ers managed to hold on to a slim three-point lead in the fourth quarter and over come the Baltimore Colts. The 49ers' offense was sparked by the clubs only 100 yard performance by a running back all season as Larry Schreiber carried for 104 yards. The passing of Steve Spurrier, 11-10, for 105 yards and a spectacular TD reception by Ted Kwalick, all kept the Colts in check.

The defense also caused four key turnovers, and Skip Vanderbundt was selected Associated Press' Defensive Player of the Week, he recovered a Walt Garrison fumble on the 49ers' five yard line to stop one sure score, moments later he picked up a Craig Morton fumble, caused by Dave Wilcox and returned it 73 yards for a touchdown and finally he put the game out of reach in the 4th quarter with a return of a 21 yard interception. Also the 49ers sacked the Cowboys' QB nine times.

The 49ers staged their first shutout of the season in a must win with Western Division contending Atlanta 20-0. The 49ers led through the entire third quarter with a slim 3-0 lead. The 49ers, leading the NFL with the most sacks, added four more to their total, they forced five fumbles, recovered three and intercepted one pass, all of which helped stop Falcon drives. The key defensive play was a 3rd and goal situation in which Ed Beard shot through and dropped Bob Berry on a roll-out, the play forced a fourth down situation for the Falcons, trailing 3-0 at that point, but it ended up in a incomplete pass. In the fourth quarter the 49ers scored twice with Ken Willard scoring both times on one yard plunges.

NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME

49ERS 28, COWBOYS 30

Candlestick Park (61,214)

The 49ers jumped out to a quick 21-3 lead by midway in the second quarter with Vic Washington returning the opening kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown. A Tommy Hart fumble recovery and a Skip Vanderbondt interception set up two more scores in the first half. By the end of the third quarter the 49ers enjoyed a 28-13 lead by virtue of 3 fumble recoveries and 2 pass interceptions which either set up 49er scores or stopped Dallas drives. Although Roger Staubach entered the game the 49ers managed to run up a total of five sacks. But the NFL's 1971 MVP hung in there and brought the Cowboys within five points of the 49ers who once held a 15-point lead. Within two minutes Staubach threw two TD passes to Billy Parks and Ron Sellers. Sellers' pass was set up on a on-side kick recovery by Dallas.

ESHMONT MEMORIAL AWARD—A secret ballot by 49er players the night before the last home game of the season determines the winner of the Len Eshmont Memorial Award—a $1,000 watch. Eshmont, a Fordham graduate, was a member of the first 49er squad in 1946. He coached at the Naval Academy and the University of Virginia before his untimely death in May, 1957. 49er founder Tony Morabito established the award in 1957. Y. A. Tittle was the first winner. Defensive end Tommy Hart won it in 1972.

THE FORTY NINER STORY — 1946-1972

From a modest beginning in 1946, the San Francisco 49ers have grown into one of the most flourishing franchises in professional sports.

A major league football franchise in the City by the Golden Gate had long been the cherished dream of Anthony J. (Tony) Morabito, a native son and 1931 graduate of the University of Santa Clara. Failing to win recognition from the National League, Tony turned to the All-America Conference, which began operations in 1946 with the late Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, as the guiding genius.

Although the AAC went under after four years of intense competition with the NFL, it proved Morabito's point that San Francisco was a major league city. Sports fans of the entire Bay Area took the 49ers to their hearts and attendance grew by the proverbial leaps and bounds.

The club's success was predicated on Tony's oft-repeated slogan of "Go first class or not at all," and his early organization was built around such honored names as Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw, head coach; and Frankie Albert, Norm Standlee, Alyn Beals, Johnny Strzykalski and Len Eshmont—all of whom were already top drawing cards in collegiate and pro football.

The 49ers were the perennial runners-up to the mighty Cleveland Browns throughout the history of the AAC and, masterminded by Shaw on the bench and Albert on the field, became noted nationally for daring, colorful football. The AAC ended its short but exciting life when the Browns defeated the 49ers, 21-7, in the championship game of 1949, San Francisco, Cleveland and Baltimore became members of the NFL.

In the past three seasons the 49ers have crowned the realization of Tony Morabito's dream by winning NFC Western Division titles (1970-71-72) and moving into the NFL's championship rounds.

In those three years of their greatest accomplishments, the 49ers remained what they had always been, an exciting, colorful football team manned by many of the game's greatest players.

49ER STORY (Con't)

Here are the highlights, beginning with the first year in the NFL:

1950—The 49ers fell flat on their faces in their NFL debut, winning only three games. A rival coach described them as "not big enough or tough enough."

1951—In an amazing reversal of form sparked by a great rookie group, the 49ers were in the race to the final day and finished only a half game off the top. Led by Hardy Brown and his famed "shoulder tackle," the club had one of the toughest defensive units in the league. Y. A. Tittle and Billy Wilson began their great careers.

1952—After a blazing start, the 49ers slumped in midseason. It can't be written off as unsuccessful for Hugh (The King) McElhenny came off the University of Washington campus to become "Player of the Year" and the most feared runner in football.

1953—The 49ers had their best NFL showing, 9-3, normally good enough for a championship. But Detroit was 10-2. Two of the San Francisco losses came with Tittle benched because of a severe facial injury. The three defeats were by a total of nine points. Joe (Jet) Perry became one of the few players in pro history to gain more than 1,000 yards in a single season. Gordy Soltau was the league's top scorer for the second straight year.

1954—Early momentum was broken by injuries to key players such as Tittle, McElhenny, and Joe Perry. Perry gained more than 1,000 yards again, the first man ever to achieve this distinction.

1955—With McElhenny hobbled by a foot injury, the 49ers had their second worst season in history under Norman P. Strader who succeeded Shaw as head coach.

1956—In Albert's first year at the helm, the 49ers were bogged in last place at midseason with a 1-6 record. They won four and tied one of their last five games for a brilliant stretch drive.

1957—This undoubtedly was the most emotional and dramatic season in 49er history. Every game was a "Cliffhanger" and the "Alley-Oop" pass from Tittle to rookie R. C. Owens became a household byword. Emotions reached a peak when the beloved Tony Morabito collapsed and died of a heart attack at the Chicago Bears game on Oct. 27. Trailing, 17-7, the 49ers fought back for their greatest victory of all time, 21-17. The magnificent Wilson caught a pass from Tittle for the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. Tied with Detroit at 8-4 when the season ended, the 49ers lost the playoff game, 31-27, although they held a 27-7 lead in the third quarter.

1958—An up-and-down season which finished on a high note when Green Bay and Baltimore were defeated in the last two games. The 6-6 record, however, was blackened by the 33-3 and 56-7 lacings at the hands of Los Angeles and Albert resigned at the end of the year.

1959—With Hickey in charge, the 49ers were in contention all the way and John Brodie came into his own at quarterback when he led the team to a 21-20 upset of Cleveland. J. D. Smith, converted from a defensive back, became the second 49er to accumulate more than 1,000 yards rushing.

1960—Hickey saved a seemingly hopeless season when he installed his Shotgun attack and the club captured four of the last five games to finish in a tie for second place. Third-string quarterback Bobby Waters threw the passes that upset Baltimore, 30-22, in the final two minutes.

1961—The success of Hickey's Shotgun amazed the football world, especially the 49-0 victory over Detroit. Quarterback Bill Kilmer, a passing-running rookie from UCLA, was made to order for the new offense. When the Shotgun was stopped, Brodie took over again in the T and had the finest season in 49er q.b. annals. Indicating the evenness of NFL competition, the 49ers were playing for a second-place tie, plus a trip to the Runner-up Bowl at Miami, or a fifth-place position on the last day of the season. The Colts again won by three points, but 1961 must remain as one of the most exciting and interesting years in 49er history.

1962—For the first time since 1956, the 49ers finished the frustrating season with more defeats than victories. In so doing, the honored adage of "it's easier to win at home than on the road," proved false—the 49ers won only one of seven at home, but captured five of seven road contests.

1963—Injuries in multitude to key personnel started the 49ers off to a disappointing 2-12 league season. One of the victories, however, was a smashing 20-14 upset of ultimate World Champion Chicago, the only league defeat suffered by the Bears all season.

1964—Club chief executive Victor P. Morabito died of a heart attack in May. Injury to key personnel prevented the 49ers from gaining enough offensive momentum to forge a winning season, although they proved to be one of the toughest defensive clubs in the league. Outstanding rookie performances by end Dave Parks, quarterback George Mira and linebacker Dave Wilcox also took some of the sting from the 4-10 overall record.

1965—Outstanding offensive performances enabled the 49ers to jump from the bottom to fourth place in the Western Division as the team led the NFL in both scoring and total offense. John Brodie was the most productive passer in the NFL. Dave Parks led the league in receiving and rookie Ken Willard and veteran John David Crow, acquired in an off-season trade, led a strong ground game. The over-all record was 7-6-1 and the season-opening 52-24 beating of the Chicago Bears marked the largest number of points ever scored by the 49ers in NFL play.

1966—After a somewhat slow start, the 49ers got in gear just before midway in the season and became one of only two teams to beat the eventual World Champion Green Bay Packers. After that, they rolled to a respectable 6-6-2 record and were in the battle for second place in the Western Division until the final league game. Guard John Thomas and end Dave Parks were All Pro, and they joined guard Howard Mudd, center Bruce Bosley, fullback Ken Willard and linebacker Dave Wilcox in the Pro Bowl.

1967—An auspicious start (they were 5-1) disintegrated into disappointment for the 49ers as injuries took a heavy toll and a six-game losing streak took them out of the running. Quarterback George Mira came off the bench to lead the squad to two season-ending victories and salvage a 7-7 record. There were bright spots, however, as, with John Brodie in fine form, the 49ers were the only team to beat the power-laden Rams in a league game, guard Howard Mudd and linebacker Dave Wilcox were named to All-Pro teams, and Mudd and center Bruce Bosley played in the Pro Bowl for the second straight time.

1968—Under new coach Dick Nolan the 49ers posted a 7-6-1 record as the season turned on key wins over New York, 26-10, and Green Bay, 27-20. Brilliant performances by QB John Brodie, receiver Clif McNeil and running back Ken Willard led a prolific offense, while tackle Charlie Krueger, linebacker Dave Wilcox and defensive back Kermit Alexander, sparked a revitalized defense. McNeil and guard Howard Mudd were chosen All-NFL, and joined by Wilcox, Willard and Alexander in the Pro Bowl.

1969—Beset by injuries that nearly decimated the defensive unit, the 49ers struggled through the early part of the season, went five games before beating Baltimore, the first time they had done that in 13 previous games. It got a little better after that (final record was 4-8-2) and five players—Jim Johnson, Dave Wilcox, Elmer Collett, Ken Willard and rookie Gene Washington—were selected for the Pro Bowl. Johnson was also All-Pro and winner of the Eshmont Award.

1970—This was the greatest year since the club became a member of the NFL in 1950. The 10-3-1 record was the best as an NFL club, the Western Division (NFC) championship was the first in the NFL. In a season of superlatives, John Brodie was the NFL's "Player of the Year," Bruce Taylor was NFC "Rookie of the Year," Coach Dick Nolan was a near-unanimous choice as NFC "Coach of the Year." Brodie, receiver Gene Washington, linebacker Dave Wilcox and cornerback Jimmy Johnson were All-Pro and joined by tackle Len Rohde in being selected for the Pro Bowl.

1971—The 49ers forged a 9-5-0 record and won their second consecutive NFC Western Division title, cinching the crown on the final day by beating Detroit, 31-27, the identical score by which the Lions had knocked the 49ers out of championship play in the bitterly-remembered 1957 game. The season was also the club's first in its plush new home, Candlestick Park. Center Forrest Blue, linebacker Dave Wilcox and cornerback Jimmy Johnson were All-Pro and joined in the Pro Bowl by Ted Kwalick, Gene Washington, Vic Washington, Cedrick Hardman and Bruce Taylor.

1972—Early-season inconsistency compounded by an injury to John Brodie in the fifth game of the season cast a pall on 49er prospects for a third-straight NFC West title, but Steve Spurrier stepped in for Brodie and turned things around with a brilliant, poised performance. In the final quarter of the final game the recovered Brodie relieved Steve, threw two TD passes for 20-17 win over Minnesota that clinched NFC West title No. 3, but Spurrier's nine-game contribution was the key. Center Forrest Blue, defensive back Jimmy Johnson, tight end Ted Kwalick, wide receiver Gene Washington and linebacker Dave Wilcox were All-Pro selections.

NINER NOTES

For the first time in the San Francisco 49ers' 28 year history, the club cut off season ticket sales. Total season ticket sales were 57,000 for 1973.

The San Francisco 49ers are one of the few organizations in professional sport to fund annual scholarship grants for high school and junior college students. The Morabito Fund, named in memory of the club's founder, provides $25,000 annually to San Francisco Bay Area students hopeful of attending Bay Area colleges and universities. Since its inception in 1968, the fund has averaged 90 grants per year.

The San Francisco 49ers and The City of San Francisco annually work together in funding many of The City's youth-oriented programs. Each year one of the 49ers' home pre-season games is designated "The Mayor's Youth Bowl," and one-third of the net proceeds from that game are directed toward operating young peoples' programs in The City. First year's proceeds, more than $100,000, to "The Mayor's Youth Fund."

The San Francisco 49ers have been known for their name backfields. From 1954 through 1956 it was "The Million Dollar Backfield" of Y. A. Tittle, Joe Perry, Hugh McElhenny and John Henry Johnson. Then, in 1960, came "The Alphabet Backfield" of Y. A. Tittle, J. D. Smith, R. C. Owens and C. R. Roberts.

Three members of San Francisco's "Million Dollar Backfield" of the mid-1950's are enshrined in Pro Football's Hall of Fame. They are Y. A. Tittle, Hugh McElhenny and Joe Perry. Another member of that same team, tackle Leo Nomellini, is also a member of the Hall of Fame.

Former San Francisco 49er tackle Leo "The Lion" Nomellini is a member of Pro Football's Hall of Fame, but he also has another distinction. He is the only player ever to make All-Pro both on offense and defense since two-platoon all-stars have been selected. Nomellini was an All-Pro choice on offense in 1951 and 1952, then switched to defense and was an All-Pro selection in 1953, 1954, 1957 and 1959 as a defender. Leo also played in 10 Pro Bowl games.

The San Francisco 49ers obviously believe in the pro draft as a way to go. Of the 47-man squad (40 active, seven taxi squad) which finished the 1972 NFL regular season for the 49ers, 42 were original 49er draft choices, including 12 first round selections.

MEDIA INFORMATION

The football press box at Candlestick Park will open three hours prior to game time, as will the Curley Grieve Room (press room) on the promenade level. Lunch and other refreshments will be available in the press room, and there will be a snack bar in operation in the press box.

Western Union and Sportscom services will both be available in the press box and each will provide runners for copy.

All credential requests should be made to George McFadden in the 49er office no later than Wednesday prior to the game to be covered, if possible. No individual game credentials will be mailed. There is a special press "will call" booth at Gate A at Candlestick Park.

There is a limited amount of photo deck space available, so all requests for camera positions should be made as early as possible. When the space is all allocated, additional requests must be refused. Photo positions are on the second level of the press box and on the balcony areas on either end of the first level outside.

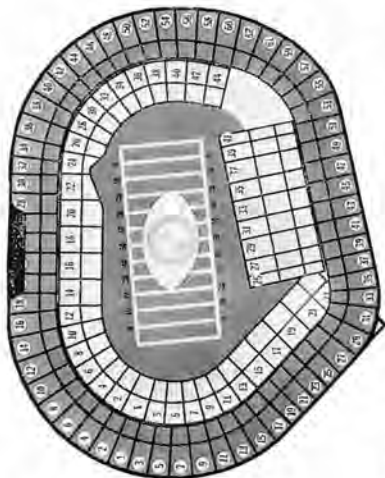

The press box is accessible only from the elevator from ground level. The elevator makes only one stop—at the press box.

With two minutes remaining in each game a member of the 49er public relations staff will guide writers to the team dressing rooms. From the elevator the group will walk the main concourse to the dressing room elevator. There will be no need to go onto the field.

Photographers working on the field are asked to check in at the dugout at the south end (first base line) of the stadium. They will be issued arm bands upon presentation of their credential. Food and drink will be available in the dugout at halftime.

STADIUM INFORMATION

The San Francisco 49ers begin their third year in Candlestick Park, now recognized as one of the finest combination stadiums in the United States.

Last season was the first that saw Candlestick in its completed form, completely encircled, carpeted with Astroturf, furnished throughout with comfortable chairs (no bleachers) and surrounded by adequate, and adjacent parking space. It was an immediate hit.

The completed stadium seats 61,214. There are three major ticket plazas and entry areas, each served by escalators which move spectators to and from the various seating levels. Every seat in the stadium is a chair-type plastic unit for comfort and durability.

Completely double-decked, the park features a 6,000-seat movable section. Astroturf facilitates rapid conversion from baseball to football configuration.

Other facts:

Original ground-breaking for Candlestick Park was in 1958. The expansion program began November 19, 1969.

The stadium covers 14½-acres on an 82-acre site.

Stadium diameter is 680 feet at its shortest, 840 feet at its longest.

The highest point from field to roof is 120 feet.

There are 29 concession stands, 54 rest rooms.

There are parking spaces for 14,400 automobiles in the stadium and auxiliary lots, as well as space for 175 buses.

Stadium construction required 1,034 tons of structural steel, 8,000 tons of reinforcing steel and 50,000 cubic yards of concrete.
