GEORGE HALAS is in his 32nd season as head coach since 1920 when he organized the Decatur Staleys, who became the Bears. This is the second season of his fourth coaching tenure. He led the Bears from 1920 through 1929; from 1933 until November 1942, when he entered the Navy; from 1946 through 1955; and returned as head coach in 1958. He is a native Chicagoan.

Star in football, basketball and baseball at the University of Illinois, Halas also was a member of Great Lakes' championship eleven of 1918. Later, he played outfield briefly for the New York Yankees, before a leg injury terminated his baseball career. Helped to organize National Football League and retired as active football player in 1929. In World War 2, served as Welfare and Recreation Officer of Pacific Fleet and was decorated with Bronze Star by Admiral Nimitz. Holds amazing coaching record of 382 victories; 121 defeats, 27 ties, including both championship schedule and non-conference games.

JOHN L. "PADDY" DRISCOLL, who is an assistant coach, was head coach in 1956 and 1957, leading Bears to Western conference title in '56. A Northwestern graduate and one of greatest backs in Big Ten history, Paddy was a team mate of Halas at Great Lakes and later played briefly with Chicago Cubs. First joined Bears as player in 1925, after having starred for Cardinals. Became member of coaching staff in 1941.

CLARK SHAUGHNESSY, technical advisor since 1951, specializes on defense. This is his 44th season as a coach, a service record that includes head coaching posts at Tulane, Loyola of the South, University of Chicago, Stanford, Maryland, Pittsburgh and Los Angeles Rams as well as advisory position with Washington Redskins. He is a graduate of Minnesota and a native of St. Cloud, Minn. Shaughnessy is a noted exponent of the T-formation.

LUKE JOHNSOS is in his 31st season with the Bears, first as a player, and then, in 1937, as a member of the coaching staff. He is a Northwestern graduate who had a baseball tryout with the Cincinnati Reds before joining the Bears in 1929. When Halas entered the Navy in 1942, Johnsos and Hunk Anderson became co-coaches, leading the Bears to the title in 1943. They continued in that capacity through 1945. Luke has been with six Bear championship teams, as player or coach. Apart from football, he is partner in Johnsos-Coppock Printers, Skokie, Ill.

Handler

Allen

PHIL HANDLER, line coach, is in his 30th NFL season, as a player or coach. He joined the Bear staff in 1952 after having been head coach twice and co-coach once of the Cardinals. He is a Texas Christian graduate who played guard for the Cardinals six seasons, beginning in 1930, and then was assistant under Ernie Nevers, Milan Creighton and Jimmy Conzelman. His scouting was held largely responsible for the success of the 1947-'48 Cardinal teams. He was Cardinal head coach in 1943 and 1945 and co-coach with Ray Parker in 1949. Phil is a salesman for the Douglas Lumber Company.

CHARLES "CHUCK" MATHER, in his second season on the Bears staff, came from the University of Kansas where he had rebuilt the Jayhawks from a 0-10 record in 1954, his first year there, to second place in the Big Eight Conference in 1957. That earned him 1957 Big Eight Conference Coach of the Year honors. Previously, Mather made a spectacular record at Washington high school in Massillon, Ohio, where his teams won 57 games, lost only 3 for 1950 while winning six straight state championships. Holder of a Master of Arts degree from Kent State, he developed such coaching methods as use of IBM in evaluation of players and use of closed circuit television on sidelines during a game.

GEORGE ALLEN, newest member of the staff, came to the Bears in October 1958. He was end coach for the Los Angeles Rams in 1957, following a successful collegiate coaching career at Whittier, Cal., College and Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa. At Whittier, his teams had a 17-7 conference record for six seasons with a perfect league mark of 9-0 in 1952. A native of Detroit, he played varsity football at Marquette and Alma, Mich., College under the Navy program in World War 2. Then, he attended Michigan, graduating in 1947. He coached at Ann Arbor high school before entering the college field. He is a member of Sigma Delta Psi, national honorary scholastic and athletic fraternity.

SID LUCKMAN is in his fourth season as quarterback coach. One of Bears' and National Football League's all-time greats, he retired as a player in 1951 after leading team to championships in 1940, 1941, 1943 and 1946, and winning Most Valuable Player award in 1943. He played twelve seasons in all, following a brilliant collegiate career at Columbia University. Aside from football, he is vice president of Cellucraft in Chicago.

Luckman

Rozy

ED ROZY, trainer of the Bears since 1948, is a protege of the famed Matt Bullock and in his own right, has become known as one of the nation's foremost in his field. He came to the Bears from Marquette University where he coached boxing, wrestling and fencing in addition to serving as trainer.

EISENHOWER TROPHY

In 1953, President Dwight D. Eisenhower authorized presentation of a trophy to the outstanding player of the Armed Forces game, selected by sports writers attending. Player's name is inscribed on trophy and he receives a replica of the beautiful award. Here are players honored so far:

1958—Willie Galimore, HB, Bears
 1957—Fred Williams, T, Bears
 1956—Darrell Brewster, E, Browns
 1955—Ed Brown, QB, Bears
 1954—Frank Gifford, HB, Giants
 1953—Harry Jagade, FB, Browns

The fourteenth annual Armed Forces Benefit game is sponsored by the four Chicago metropolitan daily newspapers—the American, the Daily News, the Sun-Times and the Tribune, members of the Chicago Newspaper Publishers Association. This latest renewal in the series matches the Bears against the eastern conference champion New York Giants at Soldier Field Friday night, Sept. 11.

The Armed Forces game has been played annually since 1946 when the inaugural was planned, following a meeting in Washington attended by Dwight D. Eisenhower, then Army Chief of Staff; Admiral Chester K. Nimitz, representing the Navy; General Ira Eaker, acting for the head of the Air Force, General Carl Spaatz; Ralph Cannon, then sports editor of the Chicago Herald-American; and George Halas.

The Herald-American sponsored the game in 1946 and 1947 and the Sun-Times from 1949 through 1954, after which the four metropolitan daily newspapers joined together in making the worthy enterprise even more successful than it had been previously.

Thirteen Armed Forces games have netted $548,985.08. Sharing in the proceeds are Army Emergency Relief, the Navy Relief Society and the Air Force Aid Society.

Those official relief agencies provide financial assistance to widows and orphans of servicemen . . . care and assistance to service personnel, to wounded servicemen and their families . . . hospital and medical aid to needy families and dependents of servicemen . . . prenatal and obstetrical care to needy servicemen's families . . . and cash grants to service personnel and dependents in emergencies.

Bears Best Rushing, Passing Teams

Greatest rushing team in Bears' history was the 1934 squad that rolled up 2,835 yards, still second high of all time in the NFL. (Top rushing team: Detroit, 1936, with 2,885.)

Exactly twenty years later, the Bears established an all-time team passing mark of 3,104 net yards on 208 completions. (Yardage total is NFL's fourth best team passing mark of all time, back of 1950 Los Angeles, 3,709 yards; 1947 Washington, 3,336; 1941 Los Angeles, 3,296). Incidentally, individual passing yardage of the 1954 team adds up to 3,299 on completions alone, but the team, according to league rules, is charged with losses attempting to pass so the net is 3,104.

Here are the individual figures that add up to those two all-time Bear record totals:
