Knights Fans,

As we get into the second half of our season, the Knights are grateful for the tremendous support you have shown so far in 2022! You've taken our phrase of "Experience the Game, the View, the Fun" of Knights Baseball to the next level with your turnout since April. The best part is that many of you have come back (sometimes repeatedly) and spread the word to friends, family, and others about the memories you've created here. For those of you that are here for the first time, we're so glad to have you and trust that you will enjoy your stay at Truist Field.

On the field, we've experienced the game with the continuation of players developing with catcher Carlos Perez, pitcher Davis Martin, and infielders Yolbert Sanchez, and Lenyn Sosa at the head of the prospect class in Charlotte. With that core of young talent now just one step away from the Major Leagues, the White Sox should continue to be strong up the middle – a key to contending for championships. We've also welcomed back White Sox stars like Yoan Moncada, Eloy Jimenez, and Tim Anderson on rehabilitation assignments before they rejoined Chicago in their push for a third straight postseason appearance.

As for the view, Truist Field is renowned for having the best in all of Minor League Baseball. We are so glad to have found this spot when preparing to move back into the city a decade ago. The Charlotte skyline was beautiful then and has gotten even better with all of the wonderful development Uptown has experienced since this ballpark opened. We're proud to have been part of the rebirth of the Center City and are blessed with the tremendous support of the region.

The fun of Knights Baseball is easy to find with our promotional events, delicious food and drinks, and seating options so close to the field you feel like part of the game. Whether you like Friday Night Fireworks, a great selection from Charlotte's breweries, or your favorite seat near the Knights' dugout, we have something for you, your family, and friends to enjoy. We appreciate you choosing to spend some time with us here at Truist Field and look forward to your next visit.

seeing STARS

A graphic featuring a large grey crescent moon on the left. Two white stars are shown with curved white lines trailing behind them, suggesting a comet or a fast-moving object. One star is positioned above the word 'STARS', and the other is below it. A white star with a black outline is located to the right of the word 'STARS'. Inside this star is a small black square with a white 'H' and the words 'TRUIST FIELD' in black capital letters.

Before watching Major League Baseball's All-Stars during the 2022 All-Star Game in Los Angeles this past July 19th, you may have seen them playing in Truist Field in Charlotte. If it was the Knights star player Tim Anderson or a visiting opponent player, such as Trea Turner, you had a chance to watch them playing in the friendly confines of Charlotte's Uptown ballpark.

Shortstop Tim Anderson was named an American League All-Star for the second time in his career in 2022. Drafted by the White Sox in the 1st round of the 2013 MLB Amateur Draft, Anderson played in 55 games for the Charlotte Knights in 2016 before being promoted to Chicago. He has since returned to Charlotte on several occasions during rehab assignments – with his most recent being this past June.

Also playing in his 2nd All-Star game in 2022 was Toronto Blue Jays slugging star Vladimir Guerrero Jr. During 2018, Vlad Jr. took some cuts at Truist Field for a few games when his Buffalo Bisons were visiting Charlotte. Vlad Jr. was also named MVP of the 2021 MLB All-Star game.

RODÓN

Cleveland Indians 4x All-Star, José Ramírez, played in Truist Field's inaugural season when the Indians' Triple-A affiliate Columbus Clippers visited Charlotte in 2014. In 3 games at Truist Field, Ramírez went 6-for-14 with a home run and 5 RBI as batters began to reveal that Truist Field was indeed a hitter-friendly ballpark during its first season.

Local collegiate star, Trea Turner, was drafted out of NC State in the 1st round of the 2014 MLB Amateur Draft. Turner appeared in the 2022 All-Star Game representing the Los Angeles Dodgers and was also chosen for the 2021 All-Star Game as a member of the Washington Nationals. While playing for Washington's affiliate Syracuse, Turner played a few games in Uptown Charlotte in 2016 versus the Knights.

Former Charlotte Knight Carlos Rodón was also a collegiate star at NC State. And like Turner, made his 2nd MLB All-Star game appearance in 2022. The former White Sox 1st round pick is playing his first season with the San Francisco Giants and is among National League leaders so far this season in ERA, Wins and Strikeouts. Rodón wore a Knights jersey for parts of 5 seasons from 2014-2018.

The Atlanta Braves slugging outfielder Ronald Acuña Jr. showed off his swing in Charlotte before doing so in MLB's All-Star Game and Home Run Derby. Acuña, a 4x MLB All-Star with the Braves, visited Uptown Charlotte in 2017, making his Triple-A debut in Truist Field – hitting his first Triple-A home run in the debut going 3-for-5 with 3 runs scored and 1 RBI.

Another outfielder, Dodgers' star Mookie Betts, made a visit to Truist Field in 2014. A veteran of 9 seasons and 4 All-Star games, Betts won the American League MVP award for the 2018 season in which he hit .346 with 32 home runs, 30 stolen bases and 129 runs scored. Betts also found the Uptown Charlotte ballpark to be hitter-friendly, getting 6 hits in 4 games in Truist Field.

Other 2022 MLB All-Stars who have played in Uptown Charlotte: Austin Riley, Dansby Swanson, Max Fried and William Contreras of the Atlanta Braves, Freddie Freeman of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Luis Arraez of the Minnesota Twins, Clay Holmes and Nestor Cortes of the New York Yankees, Jake Cronenworth of the San Diego Padres, Joe Mantiplay of the Arizona Diamondbacks, Liam Hendriks of the Chicago White Sox 🏆

FROM CUBA TO CHARLOTTE TO THE HALL OF FAME

TONY OLIVA

WRITTEN BY TOMMY VIOLA

Tony Oliva, an eight-time American League All-Star and two-time World Series Champion, was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame on Sunday, December 5 as part of the Golden Days Era Committee. Oliva joined three others also elected by that committee that day -- Gil Hodges, Jim Kaat and Minnie Miñoso. In addition, Bud Fowler and Buck O'Neil were elected by the Early Era Baseball Committee. A total of six new Hall of Famers were elected that day, joining David Ortiz as the Class of 2022.

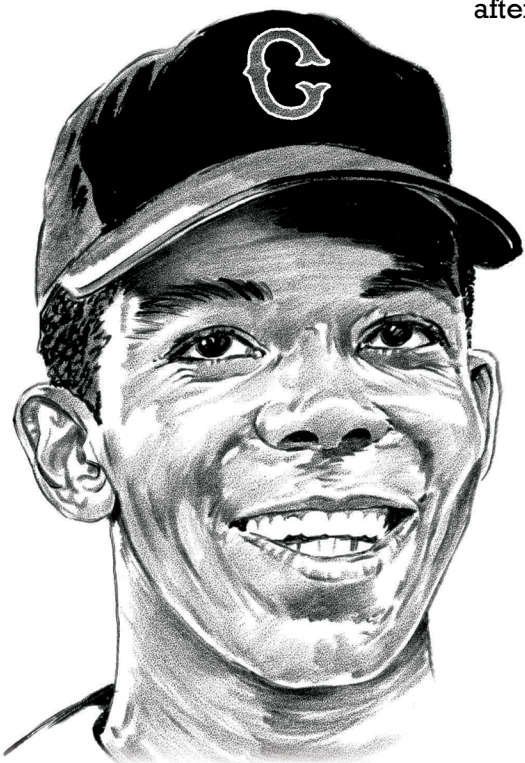

Already a member of the Charlotte Baseball Hall of Fame & Minnesota Twins Hall of Fame, Oliva finally took his rightful place in Cooperstown on Sunday, July 24 -- 45 years after retiring from the majors in 1976 -- and 60 years after playing baseball in Charlotte with the Hornets (1962). The 83-year-old, who visited Charlotte back in 2017, was thrilled to receive the much-deserved Hall of Fame call.

SIXTH HALL OF FAMER FROM CHARLOTTE

Oliva became the sixth player to come through Charlotte to be inducted to the Hall of Fame, joining Early Wynn (Hornets), Harmon Killebrew (Hornets), Eddie Murray (Orioles), Cal Ripken Jr. (O's) & Jim Thome (Knights).

EARLY YEARS

Born in Pinar de Rio, Cuba on July 20, 1938, Oliva was discovered by a Minnesota Twins scout and came to the United States in 1961. Later that year after traveling to Charlotte and impressing Hornets GM Phil Howser, Oliva eventually made his professional debut as a 22-year-old with Wytheville (Appalachian League). In 64 games that year, he hit .410 (102-for-249) with 10 home runs and 81 RBIs.

CHARLOTTE HORNETS SLUGGER

Oliva made his Charlotte baseball debut in 1962 with the Hornets. That season, the Cuban native hit an impressive .350 with 17 home runs and 93 RBIs in 127 games. It was truly a remarkable season for the 23-year-old, making headlines in the Queen City throughout the year.

Later that year, Oliva made his major league debut with the Twins and appeared in nine games that season in the majors. He hit .444 (4-for-9) with the Twins that year and spent the following season in Triple-A with Dallas-Fort Worth. Playing for Jack McKeon that year (1963), Oliva hit .304 with 23 home runs and 94 RBIs in his final year in the minors. He then went on to have a legendary major league career.

MAJOR LEAGUE CAREER

Oliva played 15 seasons in the majors from 1962-1976 -- all with the Twins. Over the course of his career, he won the 1964 American League Rookie of the Year Award, three American League batting titles (1964, 1965, and 1971) and a Rawlings Gold Glove Award (1966). Overall, he finished with a lifetime batting average of .304 with 1,907 hits, 220 home runs and 947 RBIs.

RETURN TO CHARLOTTE

Oliva and Minnie Mendoza, another legendary player for the Charlotte Hornets and a coach for the Charlotte O's, were welcomed back to Truist Field in Uptown Charlotte on May 16, 2017 to meet fans and sign autographs. The two legends spent the day meeting fans and sharing stories about their careers -- especially their time in Charlotte.

MORE ON TONY & MINNIE

Mendoza, like Oliva, was born in Cuba and spent time as a player with the Charlotte Hornets. Mendoza played a total of 10 seasons for the Hornets (1960-61, 63-68, & 71-72) and later coached the Charlotte O's. In 1972, Mendoza hit .316 over 131 games for the Hornets. He made his Major League Baseball debut on April 9, 1970 with the Minnesota Twins and appeared in 16 games with the Twins over the course of his career.

For their efforts with the Charlotte Hornets and their contributions to Charlotte baseball over the years, Oliva and Mendoza were among the inaugural class of inductees into the Charlotte Baseball Hall of Fame in 1982. Revived and renamed the "Charlotte Baseball Round Table of Honor" in 2016, Oliva and Mendoza returned to Charlotte in 2017 to be honored as part of a celebration of 125 years of Charlotte Baseball history (1892 to present) and the 35th Anniversary of that inaugural Hall of Fame class of 1982.

On behalf of the entire Charlotte Knights organization, congratulations on this great accomplishment, Tony. We hope to see you back in Charlotte again one day very soon. 🏆
