MEDIA GUIDE

Debra “Debbie” Matson

1956 - 2022

Longtime Red Sox employee Debbie Matson passed away on November 14, 2022, at her home in Roslindale, MA, after a three-year battle with cancer. A constant presence in the Public Affairs office for over 30 years, she began working for the Red Sox in 1986 and would go on to serve as Editor-in-Chief of hundreds of publications, also overseeing the photography department for many years. Debbie was kind, thoughtful, honest, and loyal. Her love for the Red Sox was trumped only by her unwavering love and support for her parents, whom she cared for selflessly until their passing.

Fenway Sports Group

For over 20 years, Fenway Sports Group (FSG) has taken cherished and iconic clubs to historic heights. The company's stewardship philosophy focuses on preserving, protecting, and enhancing the organizations it acquires while making strategic investments in innovative sports and entertainment companies. FSG's success is rooted in the talent and skill of the individuals who run its various enterprises and excel at artfully combining modern innovation with history and tradition.

What began as a group of like-minded investors in 2001 with the acquisition of the Boston Red Sox, Fenway Park, and the New England Sports Network (NESN) has since grown into a global portfolio featuring some of the most iconic brands and venues in sports. Initially guided by a desire to break an age-old curse, renovate one of baseball's oldest operating ballparks, and reinvigorate a team renowned for its passionate fan base and unreach potential, FSG now stands as a global sports, marketing, media, entertainment, and real estate company.

Anchored by three iconic clubs in the Red Sox, Liverpool Football Club (LFC), and the Pittsburgh Penguins, the FSG portfolio also includes a 50 percent stake in NASCAR's Roush Fenway Keselowski (RFK) Racing, and 80 percent of NESN. Additionally, FSG has founded and built two companies: in 2004, it established global sports marketing and consulting firm Fenway Sports Management (FSM), and a year later, created Fenway Sports Group Real Estate (FSGRE) to oversee the acquisition, development, and management of FSG properties in the Fenway neighborhood of Boston and in Southwest Florida.

Winning championships is at the core of FSG's success and global expansion. An embrace of analytics along with a deep respect for the intangibles of sports that go beyond the realm of data and science has enabled the company to breathe new life into two teams and acquire a third poised for even greater success. The Red Sox have amassed four World Series Championships during FSG's tenure, one of which ended an 86-year drought. In less than a decade, FSG took LFC to the pinnacle of world football, winning every club trophy available, including the team's first League title in 30 years, its sixth European Cup, and first ever FIFA Club World Cup.

Equally important to FSG's championship success has been the care, art, and investment that have gone into transforming two of the world's most beloved and hallowed sports venues. Fenway Park and Anfield Stadium, dismissed as relics of a prior era, underwent ambitious redevelopment to become spectacular year-round entertainment destinations that preserve the charm and integrity with which they were built over a century ago. FSG also oversaw the design and construction of JetBlue Park, the Red Sox' Spring Training and player development complex in Fort Myers, Florida, as well as the construction of a new elite training complex for Liverpool and its Academy, the AXA Training Centre in Kirkby.

The leaders of FSG believe that they are not so much owners but stewards of a public trust with a direct responsibility to the fans who represent the soul of these franchises, as well as to the communities their teams call home. The company has helped transform a tradition of giving into an exemplary model of sports philanthropy with the most socially conscious clubs in sports. More than $104 million in charitable contributions have been made through the Red Sox Foundation to support the New England and Fort Myers communities, and the LFC Foundation has helped more than 83,000 people from the most deprived areas of the United Kingdom, while delivering £25 million in health benefits and putting £8 million directly into the local economy.

In March 2021, FSG signaled its desire for further expansion and brought on new investors RedBird Capital, LeBron James, and Maverick Carter. Six months later, FSG was one of four companies that made a significant minority investment in The SpringHill Company (TSHC), a thriving content company defined by the empowerment of creators and athletes led by James and Carter.

Ten years after entering the global stage with the purchase of Liverpool Football Club, FSG continued to realize its plans for growth when it gained a controlling interest in the Pittsburgh Penguins. As a premier National Hockey League franchise with a rich history, vibrant fan base, and an enduring commitment to the local community, the five-time Stanley Cup Championship team fit perfectly into FSG's investment thesis of acquiring blue chip sports properties.

FSG continued to grow in 2022 when its real estate division (FSGRE) opened the doors of a new, state-of-the-art, 5,000-person entertainment venue, the MGM Music Hall at Fenway. In addition to the brick-and-mortar venue, the company continued to align itself with top-flight athletes making investments in companies affiliated with LeBron James (LRMR), Naomi Osaka (Hana Kuma/The SpringHill Company) as well as Tiger Woods and Rory McIlroy (TMRW Sports).

While the next chapter of FSG's evolution continues to be written, the company's core aspirations remain unchanged: an insatiable desire to win championships, an ingrained commitment to be active participants in its communities, and a dedication to honor the spirit and intensity of a global fan base that has the power to change the course of any given game. With these fundamental commitments, FSG hopes to leave each of its organizations stronger for the next generation.

Red Sox in the Community

Red Sox Foundation: The Heart of Red Sox Nation

After taking ownership of the Red Sox in 2002, John Henry, Tom Werner, Larry Lucchino and their partners founded and funded the Red Sox Foundation as part of their philanthropic commitment and responsibility. From that day forward, the Foundation has been uniquely positioned to leverage the iconic brand of the Boston Red Sox and harness the passion of the greatest fans in baseball in order to make lasting impact in our communities.

Today, the Foundation is one of the largest team charities in Major League Baseball, strategically using its platform to be a leading source of hope and positivity off the field. It is the Foundation's mission to make a difference in the lives of youth, families, Veterans, and communities in need by improving health, educational and recreational opportunities. We are able to work towards this mission by coupling our year-round, direct-service programming with our grant-making initiatives and core partnerships. We utilize a unique model as a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization to effectively triple our impact in New England and Lee County, Florida. With the generosity of Red Sox Nation, our work has transformed and saved lives, resulting in a total investment of over $112 million since 2002.

Our unique model and incredible investment from Red Sox Nation has allowed us to support our communities in many key ways since our inception. First, the Red Sox Foundation has donated to over 2,200 mission-aligned organizations in New England and Southwest Florida since its creation in 2002. Second, through our partnerships with best-in-class organizations in health care, the Red Sox have helped raised over $162 million for cancer treatment and research for The Jimmy Fund, supported more than 30,000 veterans and their families suffering from the "invisible wounds of war" with the Home Base Program, and helped the Dimock Center serve 20,000 patients annually with health and human services. Third, the Foundation's self-run education and youth baseball and softball programs have supported 337 Boston Public School students with college scholarships and mentorships through its Red Sox Scholars program, awarded over 1,600 scholarships to graduating high school seniors in New England and Lee County, and provided access and opportunity for more than 2,000 urban youth to play baseball and softball through its RBI program in Boston and Lawrence.

Finally, the Red Sox became the first 2-time winner of the Allan H. Selig Award for Philanthropic Excellence. The club earned the inaugural award in 2010 for the Red Sox Scholars program, then won again in 2019 for the Home Base program.

The Red Sox and the Jimmy Fund: Teammates for Life

No cause is more deeply rooted in the fiber of the Red Sox than the fight against cancer. It was that way when Ted Williams would visit the young patients of legendary doctor Sidney Farber on his way to Fenway Park in the 1940s, it is that way today, and it will remain that way until cancer has been vanquished.

The enduring partnership between the Red Sox and the Jimmy Fund, which officially started in 1953, has raised more than $162 million for cancer treatment and research. As the partnership's primary fundraising initiative, the annual Red Sox Jimmy Fund Radio-Telethon on WEEI and NESN has raised more than $64 million since the telethon's inception in 2002.

Over the years, the partnership between the Red Sox and the Jimmy Fund has been strengthened by countless interactions between players and patients, whether in the clinic's playroom, beside hospital beds, or in front of the Red Sox' dugout at Fenway Park. In 2003, Jimmy Fund teens visited Fenway South in Fort Myers, FL, in what became an annual trip that provided the children with a VIP weekend experience during spring training. During the COVID-19 pandemic, the Red Sox and the Jimmy Fund adapted to the unprecedented times, temporarily replacing in-person visits with virtual programming, including "Bingo Nights" with Red Sox players.

Ted Williams' final visit to the Jimmy Fund Clinic was in July 1999, just before MLB's All-Star game at Fenway Park. Red Sox players have carried that torch in the 21st century, with Nate Eovaldi, Mitch Moreland, Brock Holt, Pablo Sandoval, Will Middlebrooks, David Ross, Jarrod Saltalamacchia, Daniel Bard, Tim Wakefield, and Clay Buchholz all serving as Jimmy Fund Captain during their time with the Red Sox.

Social Justice, Equity, and Inclusion

In early June of 2020, Red Sox President & CEO Sam Kennedy wrote a call to action to our front office and our fans outlining the organization's commitment to racial justice. The note stated that we stand with those who are working to achieve racial equity, recognized that we have work to do ourselves, and spoke of our obligation to amplify the voices of those who share our values, but may not share our platform.

Since that memo, we have collected and communicated resources, celebrated holidays that were admittedly new to many of us, disclosed the number of incidents at Fenway Park involving racial slurs, and supported the efforts of our players and coaches in the important work that they are doing in this space.

With this renewed focus on social justice, equity and inclusion on and off the field, the Red Sox and Red Sox Foundation determined the most effective way for our organization to effect change was by focusing our efforts internally, within our own organization. While we continue to use Red Sox and Red Sox Foundation public platforms to promote racial and social justice causes that align with our core values, the bulk of our work is focused on ways to promote diversity, equity and inclusion within our ballpark and front office and with our field staff. Examples include the creation of Employee Resource Groups (ERGs), a Mentorship Program, Race-Based Roundtables, and Education & Trainings for all staff and players.

Our work will be ongoing and will encompass the vision of the Red Sox and Red Sox Foundation to build a more just, equitable community for all.

The Home Base Program

When the Red Sox went to Washington, D.C., in the aftermath of their World Series victories in 2004, 2007, 2013, and 2018, they did so at the invitation of the White House, Presidents Bush, Obama and Trump paying tribute to their success. The Sox appreciated the honor, but the trips to the nation's capital would take on a deeper and more lasting meaning, one inspired by their visits after each ceremony to the military personnel recovering from their wounds in the Walter Reed Army Medical Center and associated hospitals. Red Sox Foundation Chairman, Tom Werner, was so moved that he knew he needed to find a way that the ball club could make a positive impact on the lives of those who had given so much in service to their country. His vision inspired the club to partner with Massachusetts General Hospital to create the Home Base Program.

Along with the team's decades-long commitment to the Jimmy Fund, the Home Base Program has become a focal point of the team's community outreach, one that has provided an extraordinary support system to wounded veterans and their families.

The Home Base Program is the first partnership of its kind in the nation between an academic medical center and a Major League Baseball team. As a National Center of Excellence, Home Base operates the largest private-sector clinic in the nation devoted to healing invisible wounds such as post-traumatic stress disorder and traumatic brain injury. Since its inception, Home Base has served more than 30,000 veterans and family members with care and support, provided over 85,000 on-line and in-person training sessions to clinicians, educators, first responders and community members nationally, and remains at the forefront of discovering new treatments. In September 2018, Home Base officially opened the doors to its new, state-of-the-art facility in the Charlestown Navy Yard. The center has doubled Home Base's capacity, providing the space and resources needed to significantly enhance the mental health care and support services provided to service members, Veterans, and their families.

The Red Sox Foundation to date has raised over $38 million for the program, with the majority raised through its annual Run to Home Base. The 13th Annual Run to Home Base presented by Raytheon Technologies returned back to Fenway Park on July 30, 2022. Over 1,800 participants came together, both in-person and virtually, to raise critical funds for our Veterans, Service Members and their families. Later that day, the Boston Red Sox honored and paid tribute to Black Veterans, Service Members and their contributions as part of a special, on-field pregame ceremony.

The Red Sox and Dimock: Simply Saving Lives

In the heart of the city, at the soul of its core, sits an institution that tackles the toughest issues. With a mission to heal and uplift individuals and families, Dimock endeavors to redefine the model of a healthy community by creating equitable access to comprehensive health care and education. The Red Sox Foundation, a supporter for 19 years, is one of the largest contributors to Dimock, which serves 20,000 patients annually with health and human services. John W. Henry—together with more than 200 Front Office employees, including our Baseball Operations Team, Aramark and other corporate sponsors—have personally volunteered at this Roxbury institution. We are proud to champion Dimock and the impact they're making in response to the pandemic to ensure individuals and families continue to have equitable access to critical services.

In 2022, the Red Sox Foundation made many generous contributions to meet the needs of people in our shared community. In addition to offering financial support, the Foundation participated in several volunteer projects on Dimock's campus, provided donated tickets to Dimock staff, and held a holiday lunch for their patients with the support of Takeda. The Foundation was also able to provide the Dimock Center with time on NESN Red Sox broadcasts to spread the word about the incredible work they are undertaking.

Red Sox Scholars: Education for Life

The mission of our Red Sox Scholars program is to empower Boston's youth to pursue their goals to, through and beyond college by providing mentorship and access to academic, professional and social opportunities. The Red Sox Scholars, presented by Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, is a college success program that awards a $10,000 college scholarship to 12 Boston Public School 7th graders each year. The Foundation then provides academic, professional, and social support to the students for the next nine years to ensure they graduate from college with as little debt as possible and are prepared to enter the workforce, as well as feeling part of a family of resources for years to come. Since the program's creation, the Foundation has engaged and empowered 337 students. The Foundation was proud to welcome its 20th cohort to our Red Sox Scholars family in 2022.

Youth Baseball and Softball Programs: Play Ball for Life

The Red Sox fully returned to several youth programs in 2022, after a brief hiatus caused by the coronavirus pandemic in 2020 and 2021:

RBI (Reviving Baseball and Softball in Inner Cities): Our vision is for every young person in New England to have access and opportunity to play baseball and softball. As such, the Red Sox Foundation runs the RBI and Jr. RBI Leagues, which annually serve 2,000 boys and girls, ages 5 to 18, in Boston and Lawrence. RBI provides team equipment, uniforms, field access and umpires at no cost to players and their families, and supports a cohort of dedicated coaches who use baseball and softball as a platform to teach core values of teamwork, respect and leadership.

YOUTH LEAGUES: The Red Sox Foundation has provided support to Little League and other youth programs across New England. In 2022, the Foundation supported 144 little leagues with $500 stipends!

BOSTON AREA CHURCH LEAGUE: Since 2002, the Red Sox have helped to nurture the Boston Area Church League, which the club created with former Boston Mayor Thomas M. Menino on August 8, 2002. Children played Saturday doubleheaders with pastors as coaches, police as umpires, and assistant district attorneys as volunteers. Several hundred children then enjoyed a Red Sox game at Fenway Park, and relationships created on the ball field carried over into the neighborhoods.

RED SOX CHILDREN'S RETREATS: From 2003-19, the Red Sox helped operate Red Sox Children's Retreats at the Ron Burton Training Village in Hubbardston, MA. In a partnership announced on December 13, 2002, shortly before the Boston Patriots' ailing football star passed away, his son and namesake, a longtime member of the Red Sox, brought children from neighborhoods long on asphalt and short on grass to weekends at the verdant camp created by this remarkable sports family. The children used the lure of sports to learn harmony, life skills, love, and fellowship.

LINDOS SUEÑOS: For 15 years from 2004-18, the Red Sox operated their Lindos Sueños Program, in which American teens traveled to the Dominican Republic to play baseball and engage in community service projects with their teenage counterparts from the island. More than 100 Boston-area teens have participated. It is a remarkable experience to see how quickly socioeconomic backgrounds and different languages give way to unity through the language and heart of baseball. The Lindos Sueños Program, which will make its return in 2023, is sponsored by jetBlue and the Red Sox Foundation.

PLAY BALL EVENTS: In collaboration with MLB, the Foundation's Play Ball Events introduce youth in underserved communities to the game in a fun, informal setting. In 2022, over 1,500 youth participated in 9 events across New England, including a Fantasy Day on-field clinic at Fenway Park with participants from Best Buddies, RBI Boston Softball and RBI Lawrence Baseball.

Red Sox Ownership

John W. Henry, Principal Owner

John W. Henry is in his 22nd season as Principal Owner of the Boston Red Sox. Since becoming a steward of the franchise in 2002, the club has won a Major League-best four World Series Championships, claimed five American League East titles, and made 11 postseason appearances. In the 21 years from 2002-22, the Red Sox recorded the fourth-highest winning percentage in baseball (.551), notably setting a franchise record with 108 regular-season wins in 2018.

In addition to the club's on-field success, Mr. Henry and his partners have overseen the preservation and protection of Fenway Park, the oldest operating ballpark in Major League Baseball. Since 2002, the ownership group has invested over $400 million in improvements, ensuring the ballpark's viability for future generations.

Fulfilling a pledge to be active and engaged members of the Boston and New England community, Mr. Henry and his partners founded and funded the Red Sox Foundation. Since its creation in 2002, the Foundation has grown to become the largest team charity in Major League Baseball and one of the fastest growing in professional sports, earning the "Best Sports Charity" award in 2009 and the "Commissioner's Award for Philanthropic Excellence" in 2010 and 2019.

Mr. Henry takes an active role in league matters and currently serves as Chairman of Major League Baseball's Business Board. He is also an Ex Officio member of its Executive Council and is a member of the Committee on Economic Reform and the Investment Committee.

Prior to the purchase of the Red Sox, Mr. Henry was chairman and sole owner of the Florida Marlins from 1999 through 2001 and a limited partner of the New York Yankees from 1991 through 2003.

Mr. Henry's 34 years of experience in baseball ownership began in 1989 as chairman and majority owner of the Tucson Toros of the Triple-A Pacific Coast League. He was also one of the founders of the Senior Professional Baseball Association, a Florida winter league composed of retired Major League players. He co-owned one of its teams, the West Palm Beach Tropics, for its sole season from 1989 to 1990. The team was managed by former Red Sox "Impossible Dream" manager, Dick Williams.

Mr. Henry is a founder and the principal owner of Fenway Sports Group (FSG), a global sports, marketing, media, entertainment, and real estate company anchored by three iconic clubs, the Boston Red Sox, Liverpool Football Club, and the Pittsburgh Penguins. In addition to his role as control person for all three teams, he is a member of the National Hockey League's Strategic Planning & Innovation Committee and also serves as Director of NASCAR's RFK Racing, of which FSG owns a significant stake.

Independent of Fenway Sports Group, Mr. Henry and partner Dave Kaemmer founded iRacing.com in 2004, a company that has grown to become the world's premier motorsport racing simulation portal, offering more racing disciplines than any other online platform.

Outside of his career in sports, Mr. Henry has extensive experience as a founder, manager, and investor. A pioneering trader of commodity futures, for more than 30 years Mr. Henry served as chairman of the John W. Henry & Company, Inc., a global investment management firm he founded in 1981.

In October of 2013, Mr. Henry purchased the Boston Globe, becoming the third owner of the largest newspaper in New England. A year later, he assumed the role of publisher, the newspaper's ninth in its history.

Mr. Henry has served on the Board of Directors of the Futures Industry Association (FIA), the National Association of Futures Trading Advisors, and the Managed Futures Trade Association. He was elected to the FIA's Futures Hall of Fame as a recognized leader in alternative asset financial product innovation.

Mr. Henry has served as a board member of the Benson-Henry Institute for Mind Body Medicine at Massachusetts General Hospital and is a former Trustee of Massachusetts General Hospital, Boca Raton Community Hospital, and a former board member of the Library of Congress Trust Fund.

Mr. Henry has received honorary doctorate degrees from Northeastern University and Boston University. He has also received the Charles Hamilton Houston Justice Award, the Master Entrepreneur of the Year Award in New England, and a lifetime achievement award from Alternative Investment News.

Born in Quincy, Illinois, Mr. Henry spent most of his childhood on the family farm in Forrest City, Arkansas, where his father raised soybeans, corn, and wheat. A Cardinals fan who grew up listening to Harry Caray, Jack Buck, and Joe Garagiola on the radio, Mr. Henry was nine when he saw his first Major League game at Sportsman's Park in St. Louis—the very city where he would see his own Boston Red Sox win the World Series in 2004.

Thomas C. Werner, Chairman

Tom Werner, who has been involved in Major League Baseball for more than 30 years and whose love for the Red Sox spans more than five decades, has played a vital role in the team's success on the field, the saving and restoration of Fenway Park, and its difference-making impact in the community.

Werner began his baseball career as leader of the ownership group that purchased the San Diego Padres in 1990, and served as the club's majority owner until December 22, 1994. He subsequently joined forces with John W. Henry and Larry Lucchino to acquire the Red Sox, the only bidders to make saving Fenway Park a cornerstone of their proposal. Together, they and their partners won the right to buy the team on December 20, 2001 and completed the purchase on February 27, 2002. Three years later, after substantial improvements to the ballpark, Werner, Henry, and Lucchino on March 23, 2005 pledged their long-term commitment to Fenway Park, inspiring major investment in the surrounding neighborhood and sparking a remarkable transformation. Because of their vision, Fenway Park in 2012 became the first ballpark to celebrate its 100th anniversary, and with over $400 million in renovations, its viability as "America's Most Beloved Ballpark" has been assured for years to come.

On the field, the Red Sox have enjoyed considerable success under Henry and Werner. Over their 21 years of ownership, the club has won a Major League-best four World Series Championships, claimed five American League East titles, and made 11 postseason appearances. During that span, from 2002-22, the Red Sox recorded the fourth-highest winning percentage in baseball (.551), notably setting a franchise record with 108 regular-season wins in 2018.

The team's on-field success has been accompanied by its determination to play a meaningful role in the community. Werner was instrumental in establishing and overseeing the Red Sox Foundation, which has become the largest and one of the fastest-growing team charities in Major League Baseball. Since its creation in 2002, the Red Sox Foundation has awarded over 5,900 grants to mission-aligned organizations, helped 337 Boston Public Schools students with college scholarships and mentoring through the Red Sox Scholars program, and supported thousands of youth baseball programs in Boston and throughout New England with its RBI and Little League programming. Additionally, the Foundation has helped support the critical services provided to 20,000 individuals each year at The Dimock Center in Roxbury, and through a longstanding and unique partnership that dates back to 1953, the Red Sox have helped the Jimmy Fund raise more than $162 million for cancer treatment and research at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. In 2010, the Red Sox were the first organization ever to be awarded Major League Baseball's Allan H. Selig Award for Philanthropic Excellence for the impact of the Red Sox Scholars program on underserved youth in Boston.

Werner spearheaded the creation of the Home Base Program, a partnership between the Red Sox Foundation and Massachusetts General Hospital, following the teams' visits to Walter Reed Medical Center as an adjunct to their World Series ceremonies in the White House. To date, this significant partnership has provided treatment and care to over 30,000 veterans and their families suffering from the "invisible wounds of war," and garnered Werner and the Red Sox a pair of prestigious awards. In recognition of his leadership, Werner was honored with the United States Army's Outstanding Civilian Service Award on October 30, 2014. In November 2019, the Red Sox were once again named recipient of the Allan H. Selig Award for Philanthropic Excellence for the achievements of the Home Base program, making the Red Sox the first organization to win the award twice since its inception in 2010. In May of 2021, Werner was presented with the Secretary of Defense Medal for Outstanding Public Service – the second highest award from the head of the Department of Defense – for his efforts in founding the Home Base program.

Like so many Red Sox fans of his generation, Werner's infatuation with the club began in 1967, when as a freshman at Harvard, the New York native was caught up in the team's "Impossible Dream" journey to the World Series. He fell hard, both for the Red Sox and Fenway Park. For his Visual Studies class at Harvard, he created a documentary about Fenway Park, a project that presaged a phenomenally successful career that has included his enshrinement in the Television Academy Hall of Fame.

Embodying the values of integrity and quality, Werner and his partner, Marcy Carsey, have helped create over 1,600 half-hours of quality primetime comedies. These include: "That '70s Show", "ROSEANNE", "3rd Rock from the Sun", "The Cosby Show", "A Different World", "Cybill" and "Grace Under Fire." The Carsey-Werner partnership is widely regarded as one of the most successful independent television production companies in the history of the medium. Before starting Carsey-Werner, the duo worked for ABC television when they discovered Robin Williams in a comedy club and launched his career in "Mork and Mindy." They also provided opportunities to such talents as Tom Hanks ("Bosom Buddies"), Billy Crystal ("Soap"), Danny DeVito, and Tony Danza (both in "Taxi").

Werner is still active producing numerous television series. He is currently executive producing the sixth season of THE CONNERS, ABC's number 1 comedy; NBC's WE THOUGHT WE WERE DONE; Netflix's second season of their hit series THAT '90s SHOW; and Freevee's THE PRADEEPS OF PITTSBURGH. He is also working on a Discovery+ series with Zoey Deschanel entitled WHAT AM I EATING.

Born April 12, 1950, Werner in 2001 received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Producers Guild of America. His company has earned 24 Emmy Awards, 11 People's Choice Awards, and numerous Golden Globes, Humanitas Prizes, and Peabody Awards. In 2000, Werner, Carsey, and their partner Caryn Mandabach joined forces with Geraldine Laybourne and Oprah Winfrey to start Oxygen, a 24-hour cable channel serving the modern woman. Since 2001, when Werner and his partners purchased the Red Sox, Fenway Park, and 80% of the New England Sports Network, NESN has become a highly acclaimed model for regional sports networks throughout the country, the first to broadcast Major League Baseball games in high definition and to launch a direct-to-consumer offering, NESN 360.

Werner has long immersed himself in the work of Major League Baseball and was a leader in the adoption of the wild-card playoff format, of which the 2004 club was an historic beneficiary. He presently serves on Major League Baseball's Media Committee, On Field Committee, and Competition Committee. In January of 2013, for his leadership and dedication to the game, Werner received the Dave Winfield Humanitarian Award from the Professional Baseball Scouts Foundation at the organization's annual "In the Spirit of the Game" Sports and Entertainment Spectacular.

Werner became Chairman of the Liverpool Football Club in 2010. In 2019, Liverpool defeated Premier League rival Tottenham, 2-0, in the UEFA Champions league final in Madrid. Liverpool further solidified its place atop the global elite by winning the FIFA Club World Cup in December 2019 and followed that up by capturing the 2019-20 Premier League title, the club's 19th top flight league championship.

In December 2021, Werner became Chairman of the Pittsburgh Penguins when the hockey team was acquired by Fenway Sports Group, a global sports, marketing, media, entertainment, and real estate company of which Werner is Chairman.

Werner spends much of the year in Boston, where he has a residence. He has served on many boards, including the White House Fellows Commission and the Ron Brown Scholar Program. He currently serves on the National Board for After School All Stars, a program helping more than 90,000 at-risk youth engage in after school activities.

David Ginsberg, Vice Chairman

Mr. Ginsberg became Vice Chairman of the Red Sox upon the club's acquisition on February 27, 2002. Since 2002, he has also been Vice Chairman of Fenway Sports Group (FSG), the holding company that owns the Red Sox; New England Sports Network (NESN); Fenway Sports Management (FSM); and the Liverpool Football Club (LFC). He also is a partner in Roush Fenway Keselowski Racing (RFK) and owns a controlling interest in the Pittsburgh Penguins.

In addition, Mr. Ginsberg is Vice Chairman of LFC and is a partner in FSG. Since the inception of FSG, he has provided advice and assistance to the holding company and its principals on business, financial and commercial issues, and investment banking issues, including actively working on capital events and mergers and acquisitions. Mr. Ginsberg is primarily responsible for arranging, structuring and negotiating FSG's and its subsidiaries' credit facilities. He played an integral role in the analysis, financing, negotiation, and execution of the acquisitions of the Red Sox, NESN, LFC, RFK and the Penguins. Additionally, he played an integral role in negotiating and executing John Henry's sale of the Florida Marlins in 2002 and the Redbird Capital Partners' investment into FSG in 2021. He had previously been Vice Chairman of the Marlins starting in 1999.

Mr. Ginsberg is also a member of the Overseers Board of the Red Sox Foundation/Massachusetts General Hospital Home Base Program, which is dedicated to improving the lives of veterans who suffer from deployment related stress (PTSD) and traumatic brain injury.

Following FSG's acquisition of LFC at the end of 2010, Mr. Ginsberg became Vice Chairman of LFC and joined FSG on a full-time basis through 2014. He was primarily responsible for the close oversight of LFC's business and financial activities. Ginsberg was also primarily responsible for arranging FSG's and its subsidiaries' credit facilities and overseeing interest rate strategy, interactions with lenders, and merger and acquisition activities, and was the point-person primarily responsible for coordinating FSG's real estate strategy and transactions. Ginsberg was also a member of the Board of Directors of Roush Fenway Racing.

In October 2015, Mr. Ginsberg had rejoined Raptor Group, heading up the proposed project to build a new football stadium in Rome for AS Roma until December 2018. He was a Managing Director and a Founding Partner of Raptor Group from 2009-10, an investment management company. From 2006-08 he was the Managing Director of the Special Opportunities Group at Tudor Investment Corp. Ginsberg served as the Special Advisor to the Chairman and as a Director at John W. Henry & Company, Inc., beginning in 1999 until June 2002. Prior to the Marlins and JWH, Mr. Ginsberg was a private investor and consultant. At Global Asset Management (GAM) in London, he started and served as the Managing Director of the Multi-Manager Group, from its inception in 1989 until 1995. This group was one of the largest hedge funds globally during that period. Prior to joining GAM, he was Vice President in charge of the Mergers and Acquisitions Advisory Group at the National Westminster Bank USA, where he began his career as a corporate lender in 1981.

A native of Winthrop, MA, Ginsberg graduated from the Northfield Mount Hermon School and received a BA from Kenyon College. He received an MBA, with a concentration in finance, from the Boston University Graduate School of Management.

Phillip H. Morse, Vice Chairman

Phillip Morse was named Vice Chairman in 2004 and has been a partner in the Boston Red Sox since 2002. He grew up in Danvers, MA as the youngest of three brothers; one brother still lives and works in the Boston area. Morse attended the University of Maine and played baseball for the Black Bears. After graduation in 1964, he joined the Army. Following his discharge in 1965, he was hired by Liberty Mutual Insurance Company in Boston. In late 1966, he took a sales position with a small medical devices manufacturer in Glens Falls, NY.

In 1969, Morse founded North American Instrument Corporation to develop, manufacture and sell the "Morse Manifold", the first transparent fluid delivery system for coronary angiography. By 1990, the firm had grown into NAMIC USA, an 800-employee designer and manufacturer of a wide array of medical devices for interventional radiology and cardiology. NAMIC USA made an initial public offering in the fall of 1991. Two additional manufacturing facilities were established in Puerto Rico in 1992 and the Republic of Ireland in 1993. Morse served as its Chairman until its sale to Pfizer, Inc. in 1995. Today, NAMIC currently is a member of the Medline family and after more than 40 years, The Morse Manifold continues to be used in more than 50 percent of all cardiac catheterization procedures.

After retiring in 1995, Morse founded Heritage Creations, Inc., a group of companies dedicated to providing premium quality products and services to premier private, public, and resort golf courses, clubs and pro shops worldwide. The Legends Suite at Fenway Park was the work of Heritage Creations.

After serving 22 years, Morse retired from the Board of Directors of Glens Falls Evergreen Bank, a division of Banknorth, N.A. He also served as a Director of the Business Council of New York State. He is a generous contributor to numerous medical, athletic, and educational charities, having made a gift of an artificial turf stadium field at the University of Maine, Orono. In a combined effort with his friend, the late Harold Alfond, a former Red Sox partner, his alma mater now has an outstanding athletic facility on which to play football, soccer, field hockey, and lacrosse.

In 2005, Morse turned 43 acres of woodlands in Glens Falls into an athletic complex with a field house, nine tennis courts, two baseball fields, three softball fields, and four fields for soccer and lacrosse, and donated it all to Glens Falls High School. In the fall of 2016, Morse donated two million dollars to support youth sports activities and Danvers High School for the creation of the Morse Athletic Complex in honor of his father, James Ellison Morse, Jr. During his 26-year tenure as Town Selectman, "Ellie" led a group of friends that saved The Danvers Twilight League, which at the time was the oldest after-dinner baseball league in America. Morse commissioned a bronze falcon, the school mascot, which is currently displayed at the entrance to the new Deering Stadium.

The Morses, who live in Jupiter, FL, have three daughters, all of whom live or work in the Boston area. With seven grandchildren, some of whom are active in hockey at St. Sebastian's, Noble Greenough and Dexter Southfield, the Morses remain busy dividing their time between Boston, Wells (ME), Lake George (NY), and Florida.

Chaim Bloom, Chief Baseball Officer

Chaim Bloom was named Chief Baseball Officer for the Boston Red Sox on October 28, 2019. In this role, he is responsible for all baseball operations matters.

Since the start of his tenure in Boston, Bloom has worked to position the Red Sox to be able to compete every year for a World Series title by broadening the organization's talent base through all available means of player acquisition and development. While adding skilled Major League players to strengthen the current core, Bloom and the Red Sox baseball operations department have prioritized a constant flow of championship-caliber talent throughout all levels of the organization, with the goal of bringing October baseball to Red Sox Nation on an annual basis.

Prior to joining the Red Sox, Bloom spent 15 years (2005-19) in the Tampa Bay Rays baseball operations department, including the final three as Senior Vice President, Baseball Operations. Over his tenure with the club, Bloom worked in nearly every area of the team's baseball operation and was an integral part of both the Rays' player development efforts and the team's on-field performance at the Major League level.

Originally hired by the Rays as a baseball operations intern in 2005, Bloom joined the club on a full-time basis shortly after and was appointed Assistant Director, Minor League Operations in 2008. In that role, he gained a wealth of experience in all aspects of player development, including player evaluation, skill development, the integration of new technology and information sources, staffing, and overall philosophy. Bloom later became Director, Baseball Operations in November of 2011, and following the 2014 season he was promoted to Vice President, Baseball Operations. In that role, his responsibilities included oversight of personnel, domestic and international player development, international scouting, contract negotiations, salary arbitration, budgets, and strategic planning.

Bloom began his baseball career as a baseball operations intern with the San Diego Padres and as a legal/corporate partnerships intern with Major League Baseball.

Born in Philadelphia, PA, Bloom attended Yale University, where he graduated in 2004 with a degree in Classics (Latin). He and his wife, Aliza, have three children.

Larry Lucchino, President/CEO Emeritus

Red Sox Hall of Famer Larry Lucchino served as the club's President/CEO during an historic 14-year period, 2002 through 2015, in which the club won three World Series, saved and enhanced Fenway Park, established the Major League Baseball record for consecutive sell-outs, and created the Red Sox Foundation, a philanthropic powerhouse.

Now also Chairman/Principal Owner of the Worcester Red Sox, Lucchino and the late Jim Skeffington assembled a group that in 2015 purchased the Pawtucket Red Sox, Boston's longtime Triple-A affiliate. After exhausting all options to keep the club in Rhode Island, Lucchino secured the franchise's New England future with a commitment on August 17, 2018, that keeps the team in the Blackstone Valley for more than 35 years. The agreement, made with the City of Worcester and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, led to his leading the creation of an innovative downtown ballpark in the city's resurgent Canal District. Opening to rave reviews on May 11, 2021, Polar Park is Lucchino's fifth ballpark project, following Oriole Park at Camden Yards in Baltimore, Petco Park in San Diego, Fenway Park in Boston, and JetBlue Park in Lee County, Florida. The Inaugural Season in Worcester was an unqualified success, with the WooSox leading all 120 teams in Minor League Baseball in many business categories and winning the highest awards for both community outreach and Latino outreach. In the second year, 2022, the WooSox led all 120 teams in tickets sold with more than a half million.

Lucchino is also Chairman of the Jimmy Fund, the philanthropic arm of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, which has helped to save his life three times: first from non-Hodgkin's lymphoma in 1985, second from prostate cancer in 2000, and third from cancer in the kidney area starting in 2019.

After serving as the President of the Baltimore Orioles (1988-93) and the President and CEO of the San Diego Padres (1995-2001), Lucchino was instrumental in bringing together Principal Owner John W. Henry, Chairman Tom Werner, and their partners, who purchased the Red Sox, Fenway Park, and 80 percent of NESN in December 2001.

Committing to "field a team worthy of the fans' support," the Red Sox in Lucchino's tenure played October Baseball seven times in 14 years. Vanquishing the proverbial "Curse of the Bambino," the 2004 club did what had never been done before—overcoming a 3-0 deficit, against no less than the archrival New York Yankees, whom Lucchino famously dubbed "the Evil Empire"—to win the pennant. The Red Sox then swept the St. Louis Cardinals to win the club's first World Series since 1918, ending an agonizing 86-year wait. The World Champions of 2007 and 2013 also etched in stone this historic era, with the latter club helping to heal a wounded city after the Boston Marathon bombings to embody the strength and resilience that supported the new phrase, "Boston Strong." The World Champions of 2018 continued this legacy of championships won in the last 19 years.

After revolutionizing ballpark ambiance and architecture by creating Oriole Park at Camden Yards, which fulfilled his pioneering vision of a traditional, intimate, old-fashioned downtown ballpark with modern amenities, Lucchino then spearheaded the political and design efforts that created Petco Park in San Diego. More than a ballpark, Petco fulfilled its promise as a catalyst for massive redevelopment in downtown San Diego. With the experience of Camden Yards and Petco Park, he was instrumental in conceiving and executing 10 years of major improvements to Fenway Park that preserved, protected, and enhanced "America's Most Beloved Ballpark." Once again, a ballpark revitalized a now-vibrant neighborhood.

In Boston, with aggressive marketing throughout New England and the global fan base called "Red Sox Nation," the club connected with its fans, who sold out every game (820 straight) from May 15, 2003 through April 8, 2013. The club set franchise attendance records in eight of Lucchino's 14 seasons.

Lucchino served on several MLB committees, including the Commissioner's historic Blue Ribbon Task Force on Baseball Economics, which successfully re-engineered the sport's economic structure, and the International Committee, of which he was its chairman. Saying his franchises "had a foreign policy," Lucchino arranged for his Padres to play baseball's first regular season games in Mexico (1996) and Hawaii (1997) and pioneered a ground-breaking relationship in Japan with the Chiba Lotte Marines (1997). Returning to Mexico in 1999, he helped establish baseball's first "International Opener" in Monterrey. In 2008, he led the Red Sox' first trip to Japan, where they opened the season. Lucchino was also an early and active supporter of the World Baseball Classic.

Born in Pittsburgh, Lucchino was an All-City League basketball player and second baseman on the Pittsburgh city championship baseball team. He graduated with honors from Princeton University and then graduated from Yale Law School. At Princeton, he was a member of two Ivy League championship basketball teams. Lucchino holds nine honorary degrees from Suffolk University, Boston University, Bryant University, New England School of Law, Anna Maria College, Palomar College, the University of Massachusetts (Boston), Bentley University, and Assumption University.

In 1974, Lucchino joined Williams and Connolly, the law firm founded by his mentor, friend, legendary sportsman, and trial attorney Edward Bennett Williams. He became a partner in 1978 and specialized in sports law and litigation. He was general counsel to the Washington Redskins (now Commanders), of which Williams was president and part owner, and was a member of their Board of Directors from 1979 to 1985. When EBW bought the Orioles on August 2, 1979, Lucchino entered baseball and became the club's vice president/general counsel. EBW named him president on May 31, 1988, to rebuild the club's baseball and business operations. Lucchino was President (and co-owner) of the Orioles from 1989 until the club was sold at the end of the 1993 season. In December 1994, he partnered with John Moores to purchase the San Diego Padres, for whom he served as President/CEO through 2001.

The avid sportsman has the unique distinction of earning five World Series rings (Orioles, 1983; Red Sox, 2004, '07, '13, '18), a Super Bowl ring (Redskins, '83), and a Final Four watch (Princeton, '65). Lucchino has been active in numerous civic and charitable efforts, particularly in the research and treatment of cancer. He is a board member and served as the co-chair of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute's $1 billion "Mission Possible" Capital Campaign, which reached its goal in 2009, and he also served as chairman of the Trustee Philanthropy Committee at DFCI for seven years.

With each of his Major League clubs, Lucchino was instrumental in creating a charitable foundation (the Orioles Foundation, the Padres Foundation, and the Red Sox Foundation). He also expanded the depth and reach of the PawSox Foundation, and on January 28, 2020, he established the WooSox Foundation in Worcester.

In recognition for "long and meritorious service to baseball" over three decades in the game, Lucchino received the Judge Emil Fuchs Award from the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America at their 72nd annual awards dinner in January 2011. Lucchino was inducted into the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame in May 2012, the National Italian-American Sports Hall of Fame and the Taylor Allderdice High School Hall of Fame in November 2013, the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame in May 2016, and the San Diego Padres Hall of Fame in July 2022.

In 2022, following the acquisition of the Pittsburgh Penguins, Beeston was entrusted with leading the integration process, an extensive, ongoing project to ensure the organization is operationally optimized and fully aligned with FSG's broader vision and future goals.

Beeston spent the seven years prior to joining the Red Sox as an associate at Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP, with a focus on securities transactions.

A Toronto, Ontario native, Beeston completed his undergraduate and law degrees at the University of Western Ontario, graduating from the latter "with distinction." He formerly served on the Board of "Youth Without Shelter"—a Toronto-based teen homeless shelter—and currently serves on the Boston Medical Center's Exceptional Care Without Exception Trust Board and as Co-Chair of the Winter Walk, a campaign raising awareness and funds to help end homelessness in Boston.

He was instrumental in executing the relocation of season ticket holders from old Memorial Stadium, designed many of the suite and premium package offerings that still exist today, and was a leader in sales performance in each of his four seasons with the Club.

Bumgarner started with the San Diego Padres in 1995 as Assistant Director of Sales. From 1995 to 1998, his sales teams had incredible success, recognized across the league for their aggressive and innovative approach that led to double-digit growth of both season tickets and group sales each year under his direction. In 1999, Ron was promoted to Director of New Ballpark Sales. He was a key member of the ballpark design team and the architect of the new ballpark's sales plan and state-of-the-art Preview Center, critical to securing financing for what is now Petco Park.

In 2003, Bumgarner came to Boston to lead the sales and services departments for the Red Sox. He has been instrumental in the club's record-breaking success from a business perspective, including a professional sports record of 820 consecutive sellouts and increased revenues in each of his first 16 seasons with the club. He has played a vital role in the club's approach to create new business initiatives and has been a key force in the integration of technology, analytics and innovative marketing campaigns for baseball, concerts and special events at Fenway Park.

CROSSROADS

From The Boston Globe's Alex Speier on 2/5/22:

Pete Fatse's mind stewed in the Phoenix Airport in the spring of 2011. As he waited for an unwanted flight home, the Western Massachusetts native, fresh off his release by the Brewers, ticked through a list of peers in minor league camp whom he considered less deserving of a roster spot.

But the 23-year-old's exercise in frustration quickly yielded to realism.

"I remember just sitting there in the airport thinking to myself, 'I'm the only guy here. This is all on me,'" said Fatse. "At that moment, I decided basically, you either go home and you get prepped for law school, or you try and figure out what makes you [as a baseball player]. It's one or the other."

Played 3 seasons for the University of Connecticut (2007-09)...Was teammates with Matt Barnes, George Springer, Nick Ahmed, Scott Oberg, and John Andreoli.

In 2008, was selected to the NEIBA New England College Baseball All-Star Game, played at Fenway Park.

SUPERWOMAN

Christian's mother, Kim, raised him alone from age 2-12 and could be considered his first hitting coach, reading Ted Williams' The Science of Hitting and attending local hitting clinics, as well as throwing him batting practice while pregnant in preparation for his U.S. National Team tryouts.

Kim played several sports when she was younger, including softball, basketball, field hockey, and track & field. "I always thought of her as Superwoman," Christian told NESN on My Story. His mom wasn't able to attend his MLB debut, but she made it to his second game on 4/25/17, when Christian recorded his first hit, a single off Clayton Kershaw.

Christian added to his versatility on the field by conducting a walk-off interview for NESN following the Red Sox' 2-1 win vs. KC on 9/16/22, filling in for sideline reporter Jahmai Webster. Christian interviewed teammate J.D. Martinez, who had driven in the eventual game-winning run in the 8th inning.

WILLING TO SACRIFICE

In Game 4 of the 2021 ALDS, Christian's sacrifice bunt in the 9th inning advanced the eventual winning run to 2nd base, as the Red Sox walked off the Rays at Fenway Park. Arroyo added a sacrifice bunt in Game 1 of the ALCS at HOU, becoming the first Red Sox player with more than 1 sac bunt in a single Postseason since Julio Lugo had 2 in 2007.

REMEMBERING REMDAWG

In Game 4 of the 2021 ALCS at Fenway Park on October 11, Christian paid tribute to former Red Sox second baseman and broadcaster Jerry Remy—who was undergoing treatment for cancer—by wearing a custom pair of cleats. The cleats, created by footwear artist and designer Mache, were green and red with "Jerry" on the left heel and "Remy" on the right heel.

"He always knew what to say," Arroyo said on WEEI's Live BP podcast on 1/21/22. "He really knew how to bridge the gap between the casual fan and the diehard fan and bridge the gap between the older crowd and younger generation. He would kind of bring everyone together. He's going to be sorely missed ... I'm very happy I got the chance to play in front of Jerry Remy."

HIGH PRAISE

Following the 2020 Tokyo Olympic Games, Team USA manager Mike Scioscia told Baseball America:

"Triston Casas at first base was the biggest bat on our team and has the most upside, I think, of any player we had. He's going to get his opportunity in the big leagues for sure. He's advanced beyond his age as far as a hitter. He understands what pitchers are trying to do to him. He's made some adjustments to his swing just from the qualifiers to now that were tremendous. And I think his ability to hit right and left-handed pitching is a skill set that you don't see in a lot of young hitters. Especially left-handed hitters. I think he's a student of the game. He's got tremendous power to all fields and he's going to play in the big leagues for a long time."

PIANO MAN

"I play a little bit of the piano," Casas told MassLive.com in 2019. "I took a beginners class in ninth grade at my school. I know a little bit of it. Whenever I feel a little bored, I'll go and read some lyrics and try to play it as best as I could."

FAMILY HERITAGE

Triston is fluent in Spanish. His grandparents immigrated to the United States from Cuba in the 1960s. His father, Jose, spoke Spanish as a first language.

"My family comes from a line of construction workers," Casas told MassLive.com in 2019. "So seeing my dad go to work every morning, leaving the house 4:30, 5:00 every morning and going to do his thing, it definitely took an impact on me. Lazy's one thing in our family that will not be tolerated. And he's always instilled that into me through actions."

NO SHOES, NO SHIRT, NO PROBLEM

In 2022, particularly on warmer days, Triston would often walk the Fenway Park outfield barefoot. "I don't necessarily like caffeine. I don't drink coffee or energy drinks. I feel better after I get some sunlight on my body and that's what I do. I don't think too much of it in terms of grounding or any science behind it, but I just feel better after I do it."

RED SOX FROM THE START

When Bobby lived in Bellevue, WA, as a child, his yard featured a large, green hedge that the family nicknamed the "Green Monster." When he moved to California, the first team he played for was called the Red Sox.

On June 10, 2016, Bobby was the University of Arizona's starting pitcher against Mississippi State University in a Super Regional game. He was selected by the Red Sox in the 4th round of the June Draft that day; when he returned to the mound for the 7th inning, "I'm Shipping up to Boston" by Dropkick Murphys was playing over the PA system. Bobby threw 8.2 scoreless innings in a 1-0 victory.

MUSIC MAN

Bobby plays guitar in his spare time and is an avid music fan. He has met famous musicians such as Bruno Mars and Rob Thomas, thanks to his dad, Tim, a music executive for Atlantic Records who has been credited on several popular albums.

When Bobby was playing baseball at Legend High School in Colorado, his dad helped orchestrate players' walk-up songs. "It was really a selfish move," Tim said on an episode of NESN's My Story, "because Colorado spring baseball is freezing, and there was a space heater in that room, and you're out of the wind, so it was kind of a win-win for me."

That's their thing: 'I'm going to win at everything I do.' ... The brotherhood they have is inseparable. HOCKEY TOWN

An avid Detroit Red Wings fan, Ryan grew up in Michigan and played hockey for 15 years. "That's why I still keep the long hair," he told MassLive.com in September 2019. "That's always a part of me. FITZY FAN CLUB

In August 2022, the Worcester Red Sox became the first team in Minor League Baseball to present a player merchandise line when they officially released their "WooSox X RYAN FITZGERALD" collection.

Ryan spoke with MassLive.com last September about why he is so accessible to fans. "I don't know where it comes from. Maybe my mom, like she's instilled that in me ever since I was a kid. She's kind of the same way, just open to everybody and just trying to make people's days. It's a little light that you can give them and it's fun."

KIKÉ, CORA, AND CAGUAS

Kiké's father, Enrique Sr., was a part-time scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates and used to coach with Caguas in Puerto Rico. Kiké served as a bat boy with Caguas, which is how he met Alex Cora. At 10 years old, Kiké would take ground balls and play catch with the players when he could. "Being around those guys is what allowed me to be a super-utility because whenever I wasn't allowed in the infield, I would go to center field or left field ... I would try to get reads off the bat, and some of those balls would take my glove off, but that's how you learn."

Alex Speier of the The Boston Globe described the procedure: "The hematoma had to be drained with a lengthy needle inserted through Hernández's back. He said he passed out at least twice during the procedure."

THAT'S BANANAS

On 5/22/15, after the Dodgers had been shut out in 3 consecutive games, they were tied with the Padres in the 5th inning, 0-0. Kiké looked for a way to rally the team. "I look around and I see bananas in the dugout. So I grab a banana and I start, like, pointing the banana." The Dodgers broke a 35-inning scoreless streak that inning and went on to win the game, 2-1. After the game, Kiké posted to Instagram a photo of him holding a banana in the dugout, with the caption, "Plain and simple; RALLY BANANA!!!"

Later in the year, on 8/31, Kiké was on the disabled list while the Dodgers were playing the Giants. With the game in extra innings, Kiké put on a banana-style hooded sweatshirt and returned to the dugout, watching the game with a serious look on his face as though nothing were out of the ordinary. The Dodgers walked off the Giants in 14 innings. "I just remember [Don Mattingly's] face. He was so disappointed, but at the same time it was like, 'I'm so disappointed, but I'm not surprised.'"

TANNER HOUCK'S PITCH FOR ADOPTION

Tanner's Pitch for Adoption (@Pitch4Adoption on Twitter) aims to raise money for Caritas Family Solutions, a non-profit organization created to strengthen individuals and families experiencing social and emotional challenges in order to build healthy homes and communities. A key program of Caritas Family Solutions is St. John Bosco Children's Center, where children between the ages of 6-18 who have experienced a life of abuse and/or neglect can live in a loving, caring, structured, and therapeutic home so that they can eventually obtain permanency in a forever home.

"My family and I have been strong supporters of adoption for as long as I can remember, as it's what made our family complete. I hope that our story and my campaign will inspire others to learn more about the life-changing benefits of adoption. My mom adopted my little sister Reanna when she was 4 years old. I remember meeting her for the first time when my mom brought her to my high school baseball game. I knew even then she was going to change our lives for the better, and we would help change hers."

IN A JAM

While with the Dodgers, Kenley used some of his off time taking music lessons at Torrance Arts Academy. He told Spectrum Sportsnet in Los Angeles that he recalled being in his uncle’s yard as a child for hours of jam sessions and that his cousin urged him to pick up music, but baseball was what he pursued.

👉 Instructors at Torrance Arts Academy noted that Jansen was improving at a quick pace. “He’s probably the hardest working student I’ve ever had,” said Jane Lee, an instructor at the academy. “He’s progressing at a very fast pace and it’s all due to his hard work.”

👉 “Whenever you jam, you can’t have other thoughts in your mind. You just gotta have a quiet mind,” said Jansen, indicating that his focus on the mound may have benefitted from his jam sessions away from the field.

HOMETOWN TEAM (SORT OF...)

Corey was born in Alabama and raised in Texas, but his wife is a native of Winchester, MA. "I was actually a pretty big Red Sox fan," Kluber told The Athletic. "Pedro (Martinez) was my favorite player. ... And I used to tap my toes in the batter's box like Nomar (Garciparra) did, and all that cool stuff. Kids try to emulate the players they see on TV, and I was one of those kids."

ROAD TO THE MAJORS

After pitching for two seasons at McLennan Community College in Waco, TX, Martin tore his labrum in 2006. He underwent surgery to repair the tear in 2007, then didn't pitch from 2007-09. He worked several jobs in that span, including loading trucks for UPS at the DFW Airport and making deliveries for Lowe's Home Improvement and Texas Appliance.

After pitching for Grand Prairie in the independent American Association in 2010, Martin signed with Boston as a non-drafted free agent following a try-out in Fort Myers in March 2011. He pitched for the Red Sox organization from 2011-13 before being traded to Colorado in December 2013. Martin made his MLB debut with the Rockies in 2014.

FULL CIRCLE

In March 2023, Martin told NBC Sports Boston that his dad paid for his flight to attend his 2011 tryout with the Red Sox. "He's a big part of the reason why I was here in 2011. And now I'm back here in 2023, the year after he passes away, so I don't think it's a coincidence. This is where he wants me to be ... Hopefully we're here because he thinks we can win a championship. And hopefully he'll be there for the ride."

FAMILY TIES

Reese's grandfather, Jack, was a catcher on Duke University's team that made the 1952 College World Series. His younger brother, Shane, is ranked by Baseball America as the best defensive catcher in the A's minor league system, and was teammates with current Red Sox LHP Chris Murphy at the University of San Diego. His older brother, Cash, played baseball for 4 seasons at Seattle University (2013-16).

Reese credits his older brother, Cash, for turning his focus to catching during his Little League days. Reese told MassLive.com in September 2022, "He became the dominant pitcher and so I would be the guy to catch him just because it made sense. We'd go into the backyard just working, playing catch." Reese recalled "doing blocking drills in the backyard with my grandpa and uncle," and that after receiving catching gear one Christmas as a child he "couldn't wait to get out back and throw balls in the dirt and block."

I PLAY FOR JESSICA

The following is an excerpt from a MassLive.com story in Nov. 2020:

Red Sox pitching prospect Chris Murphy always told MLB scouts he plays for Jessica Tovar when they interviewed him before the 2019 Draft. Tovar, who Murphy refers to as his sister, died of rhabdomyosarcoma, a rare form of cancer, at age 26 on July 14, 2012.

"And my story is her. Because I promised her tickets to my first major league game. And that is something I still hold close to my heart; something I still want to do."

He has the message — I play for Jessica — tattooed on his chest. He also has those four words written inside each of his hats.

Tovar was a family friend who lived in his neighborhood in Granada Hills, Calif. She baby-sat Murphy and his sister, Ashley. But she was so much more than their sitter.

"She was super close to my family. She was around every single day until she passed away," Murphy said. "So I would consider her a sister."

Murphy left Tovar a ticket to his first professional home game with Lowell at LeLacheur Park on July 14, 2019, which marked the seven-year anniversary of Tovar's passing.

"It is my drive," Murphy said. "I don't pitch for myself out there. I don't pitch to do well for myself. I could care less what happens at the end of the day as long as I give it what I have — and I know that's all she would want."

ON THE HILL

Appearing on the Fenway Rundown podcast in November 2022, Murphy mentioned the following about sharing his name with the United States Senator from Connecticut, who also happens to be a Red Sox fan:

"I've never had direct contact with him, but when I got drafted I believe MLB Pipeline or the draft thing tagged his Twitter page and it was pretty funny. I knew it was coming. It had been something I had seen on Twitter for years." ... "There was a gag gift my mom bought me in 2020, she bought me a 'Murphy 2020' shirt ... I haven't talked to him and we haven't crossed paths on Twitter, really. That's really something I should do."

 "[Fishing is] something I do to kind of clear my head, get away from everything, kind of just focus on just a relaxed mind, being in nature, putting your legs in the water, just kind of being spiritually in tuned with the earth ... It's something I did at a young age, it's something I still do today ... Hopefully I can get to a tournament one day—I think that would be a lot of fun." - Nick Pivetta on NESN's My Story

OFF THE SCALE

In both 2021 and 2022, Ceddanne was tabbed the Red Sox' Minor League Defensive Player of the Year by Boston and Baseball America. He told Alex Speier of The Boston Globe in September 2022, "I just want to keep improving more and more, and try to win a lot of Gold Gloves."

After playing with Rafaela during a rehab assignment in Portland, Red Sox infielder Trevor Story told Speier, "That's as good as I've seen, just kind of closing speed and then finish the catch. He took it right off the ground with a full Superman dive. That kid can play, man. He's super athletic. There's something about him. He's an exciting player. He kind of seems like the whole package."

Speier wrote, "A scout for a rival American League team said that his organization already pegged Rafaela as a near-elite outfielder whose skills rival that of all but a few big leaguers. A National League executive said that his organization, based on a combination of statistical data and in-person evaluations, graded Rafaela as 'literally off of our scale' in terms of defensive impact."

LOVE WHAT YOU DO

"Catching is one of those positions you have to love to play," said Scott, who caught regularly in high school but played mostly outfield and some first base at Vanderbilt. "It presents its own challenges. You have to be patient, and you have to want to do it. I love being involved, controlling the game. You have to think on your feet, and making those relationships with the pitchers. ... Mentally, you have to be able to turn the page when things aren't going right at the plate and make sure that that doesn't carry over to the defensive side. The demands are huge, which is one reason some people don't like it. It's not for everybody. But it's part of the reason I love it."

WHAT A WEEK

Trevor was introduced to Red Sox fans at a press conference in Fort Myers, FL, on Wednesday, 3/23/22. The next night, he received a call from his wife, who was going into labor back in Texas. "Yeah, it was in the middle of the night Thursday night, my wife called me and said this thing might be happening," Story told reporters. "I didn't sleep any that night. Got the earliest flight we could get out [Friday], jumped on it, and it was like a movie where I was speeding to the hospital and running through the lobby and straight to the delivery room. And he came very quick after that. I barely made it. Momma held on for me."

NUMBER TWO, THROUGH AND THROUGH

In February 2023, Justin explained to media why he has worn No. 2 for most of his life. "I think I was born at 2:22 in the morning. My dad was always No. 2. My cousin was always No. 2. I've worn No. 2 since I was four years old. My freshman year in college I wore No. 23 because an older player had No. 2 and then I switched back to No. 2. And I've literally worn No. 2 pretty much every day my whole life. My (Twitter) handle is @redturn2 because of No. 2, not because I'm a master double play turner."

Turner also spoke about honoring the legacy of the late Jerry Remy. "I'm excited to hopefully make Remy proud of what I do and what I accomplish. I know a lot of guys have worn No. 2 before me. It is a big deal. I don't take it lightly and I want to make them proud. I know how beloved (Remy) is to Red Sox Nation and would never want to do anything to disrespect the number. Actually, I'm happy I get to wear it and represent him."

DRESS LIKE DUGIE

On Sunday, 8/29/21, the Red Sox' dress code for their trip from Cleveland to St. Petersburg was "Dress Like Dugie." Alex Cora wore a jersey from Verdugo's high school alma mater, while the players wore outfits that matched Dugie's unique style.

FAMILY ROOTS

The walk-up song Alex has used most often is "Volver, Volver," by renowned Mexican artist Vicente Fernández. Verdugo's father is Mexican, and hearing Fernández's music when he steps to the plate allows Alex to stay connected to his family roots. He also uses a glove and cleats that are painted in the colors of Mexico's flag (red, white, and green).

Alex's mom is from International Falls, MN, a small town along Rainy River on the U.S./Canada border. When he visits his family in Minnesota, Alex enjoys ice fishing, a far cry from the city lifestyle he grew up with in Phoenix and Los Angeles. "I feel like I get the best of both worlds," he said on NESN's My Story.

When the Red Sox began their West Coast road trip on 6/3/22 at OAK, Verdugo was batting .235. At the time, he told MassLive.com, "I see the .230 (batting average) up there. It's very frustrating ... ON THE BIG STAGE

In the 2021 Postseason, Garrett made 3 consecutive scoreless and hitless appearances of more than 1.0 inning, matching MLB's longest such streak in a single Postseason (also NYY's Ron Davis in 1981). The only other Red Sox to make as many as 3 scoreless and hitless appearances of more than 1.0 inning at any point in a single Postseason are Koji Uehara (3 in 2013), Hideki Okajima (3 in 2007), and Keith Foulke (3 in 2004). The only Red Sox with more than 3 such appearances in an entire Postseason career are Okajima (5), Jonathan Papelbon (5), and Mike Timlin (4).

Garrett is the only Red Sox pitcher ever to throw 2.0+ hitless and scoreless innings in consecutive Postseason appearances. That ties the longest such streak in MLB history, as he became the 16th pitcher to accomplish the feat in a single Postseason for any team.

Boston is one of only four remaining charter members of the American League, which was formed in 1901. The Red Sox franchise won five of Major League Baseball's 15 World Series championships from 1903-1918 and has seen similar success of late, adding four titles in a 15-year span from 2004-18. Along the way, Boston has been at the center of some of the game's greatest moments and served as a home to some of its most accomplished players. Playing their home games at "America's Most Beloved Ballpark," the Red Sox have called Fenway Park home since 1912, making it baseball's oldest venue and one of the most famous landmarks in all of sports. Thirty-seven former Red Sox have been enshrined in the National Baseball Hall of Fame for their playing careers, from legends like Cy Young and Babe Ruth, to Ted Williams, the greatest hitter who ever lived. In one of the franchise's signature moments, the Red Sox rallied for the biggest comeback in baseball history in 2004, defeating the New York Yankees in the ALCS after trailing in the series, three games to none. In 2013, the Red Sox demonstrated how important a role they can play in their community, using yet another World Series championship to help a city heal after the tragic events of the Boston Marathon bombing. Boston has since showed no sign of slowing down, most recently claiming three consecutive AL East titles from 2016-18 and capping off the 2018 season—which featured a franchise-record 108 regular-season victories—with the ninth World Series championship in the club's history.

How They Became the "Red Sox"

The Boston American League Base Ball Club was officially known as the Americans, but also known by the media as the Somersets—after owner Charles Somers—as well as the Plymouth Rocks, Speed Boys, Puritans, and Pilgrims. These various names were applied until December 18, 1907, when the current name "Red Sox" was adopted. The origin of this name is traced to the Boston Red Stockings of the powerful National League in the 1870s and 1880s. In 1907, the Red Stockings (who later became the Braves) abandoned the red hosiery they customarily wore, as Manager Fred Tenney believed that the red dye in the socks could possibly cause infection in spike wounds. Red Sox Owner John I. Taylor stated, "From now on we'll wear red stockings, and I'm grabbing that name Red Sox!"

The Early Years (1901-1938)

The Boston Americans didn't need long to cement their status as a serious contender. In 1903, the team finished in first place with a 91-47 record and earned a berth in Major League Baseball's first ever World Series against the Pittsburg Pirates of the more established National League. Boston won the best-of-nine series, five games to three, in only its third year of existence, causing such an embarrassment that the National League refused to participate in the World Series the following year when the Americans repeated as AL champions. During that 1904 season, Boston went 95-59 and saw Cy Young pitch the first perfect game of the modern era on May 5. In the latter half of the decade, Young continued to dominate, throwing a no-hitter in New York in 1908 on the way to his 511 career wins, still the most in MLB history.

Cy Young pitched the first perfect game of the modern era in 1904.

When Fenway Park opened in 1912—replacing Huntington Avenue Grounds as the Red Sox' home ballpark—a decade of dynasty began. The new park, named after its location in the Fenway area of Boston, opened April 20, 1912, with the Red Sox taking a 7-6, 11-inning decision from the New York Highlanders (Yankees). With a 105-47 record that season, the Sox headed for the World Series and defeated the Giants, four games to three with one tie. The Red Sox picked up a young left-handed pitcher in 1914 by the name of George Herman "Babe" Ruth, who would figure prominently in the team's World Series dynasty of the next several years. The Sox went to the World Series three more times in the decade, winning in 1915, 1916, and 1918. Ruth was the hero in 1916, with a 23-12 regular-season record and a 1.75 ERA. In Game 2 of the World Series that year, Ruth pitched a 14-inning, complete-game, 2-1 win against Brooklyn. In 1918, Ruth extended his streak to 29.2 consecutive scoreless World Series innings, a record that stood until 1961, and also tied for the league lead with 11 home runs.

After Sox owner Harry Frazee sold Ruth and most of his best players to the Yankees, the “Roaring Twenties” were anything but for the Red Sox. To add to difficulties on the field, Fenway Park itself suffered a setback. On May 8, 1926, fire roared through the ballpark, destroying much of the left-field bleacher sections. Then-owner Bob Quinn could not afford to rebuild the sections, and the difficult decade for the Sox continued. When 30-year-old millionaire Tom Yawkey bought the club in 1933, his first order of business was to rebuild the fire-scarred stadium. Ironically, on January 5, 1934, during construction of the new Fenway Park, another fire raged through and destroyed much of the progress. The Red Sox fielded far better teams in the 1930s than they had in the decade prior, and also saw attendance figures increase, especially after Fenway was refurbished. On August 12, 1934, 46,766 fans attended Ruth’s farewell game at Fenway, spilling out onto the field.

The Ted Williams Era (1939-1960)

1939 brought forth a new era in Red Sox baseball, when Ted Williams began his legendary career at only 20 years old. That season, the Red Sox had five future Hall of Famers on the roster in Williams, Joe Cronin, Jimmie Foxx, Lefty Grove, and Bobby Doerr. The early 1940s featured several individual milestones, highlighted by Williams batting .406 in 1941 and winning the Triple Crown in 1942, as well as Grove earning his 300th victory. After winning only 71 games in 1945, the Sox claimed the 1946 pennant by a comfortable 12-game margin with 104 wins before falling to the St. Louis Cardinals in seven games in the World Series. Fenway also played host to the 1946 All-Star Game, in which Williams went 4-for-4 with two home runs. Coming off the AL pennant year, Williams won a second Triple Crown in 1947. Lights were also installed that season to start the era of night baseball at Fenway. Despite collecting 96 wins in 1948 and 1949, the Sox finished both seasons one game out of first place.

By the end of the 1940s, Williams had established himself as one of the greatest players in baseball. He had played eight Major League seasons through 1949—missing the 1943-45 seasons to serve in World War II—and in that time he earned two MVP awards, two Triple Crowns, four RBI titles, four home run titles, and four batting titles. Along with Williams and Doerr—one of the game’s greatest second basemen—the Red Sox’ impressive core featured standout center fielder Dom DiMaggio and shortstop Johnny Pesky, with the four players forming a special bond that would one day be the inspiration for a statue outside of Fenway Park titled, “Teammates.” Doerr and Williams would end up in the National Baseball Hall of Fame, while DiMaggio was a seven-time All-Star and Pesky spent 61 seasons in the Red Sox organization in various capacities.

Ted Williams began his Hall of Fame career with the Red Sox in 1939.

The 1950s brought more offensive prowess for the Sox, with the 1950 club featuring perhaps the best-hitting Red Sox team ever. Boston hit .302 as a team and scored 1,027 runs—both franchise records that still stand today—as Billy Goodman won the batting championship (.354) and helped the team post a 94-60 record, the club’s best mark of the decade. For the second time in his career, Williams put off baseball for military service, this time in the Korean War in 1952 and 1953. Upon his return, Williams continued his usual impressive hitting with a tremendous league-leading .388 batting average and 38 home runs in 1957, followed by a second straight batting title with a .328 average at the age of 40 in 1958. Meanwhile, Jackie Jensen won the RBI title in 1955 (tied), 1958, and 1959, and was named American League MVP in 1958. On July 21, 1959, infielder Pumpsie Green made his debut as the first Red Sox African-American Major Leaguer, a day that was recognized as a “Memorable Red Sox Moment” during the club’s 2018 Hall of Fame induction ceremonies.

The end of the 1950s also brought the end of the Williams era in Red Sox history. “Teddy Ballgame” hit his 521st and final home run into the Red Sox bullpen in his final Major League at-bat on September 28, 1960. The spot he vacated in left field was filled in 1961 by rookie Carl Yastrzemski, who would later match some of Williams’ feats as part of an illustrious 23-year career, all spent with the Red Sox en route to being enshrined in the National Baseball Hall of Fame.

The Birth of Red Sox Nation (1961-2001)

The early years of the post-Williams era featured several noteworthy accomplishments, including no-hitters by Earl Wilson and Bill Monbouquette in 1962, as well as Yastrzemski's first batting title in 1963. Dave Morehead added another no-hitter in 1965, but that season the Sox had their worst record of the decade, losing 100 games. After finishing in ninth place in 1966 with 90 losses, the Red Sox overcame 100-to-1 odds to win the "Impossible Dream" pennant in 1967 with a 92-70 record. Though they did not win the World Series, that season lives on as one of the greatest in Red Sox history, beginning a stretch of 16 consecutive winning seasons (1967-82), which is still a club record. During that magical 1967 season, Jim Lonborg won 22 games and the Cy Young Award, while Yastrzemski won the Triple Crown and was named MVP of the American League.

While Yastrzemski and Massachusetts native Tony Conigliaro helped carry the Red Sox into the 1970s, a young catcher and New England native by the name of Carlton Fisk made his mark by unanimously winning the 1972 Rookie of the Year Award. Pitcher Luis Tiant thrilled Sox fans and took home the ERA title that season. Two other famous rookies, Jim Rice and Fred Lynn, were added to the mix in 1975, contributing to another AL championship season. Lynn won both MVP and Rookie of the Year honors, the first player ever to do so in the same year, while Rice hit 22 home runs to Lynn's 21. In Game 6 of the 1975 World Series, Bernie Carbo's two-out, three-run home run against the Reds in the 8th inning tied the game at 6-6. Fisk then left his mark on baseball history when he hit a 12th-inning pitch off the left-field foul pole for a dramatic finish for the Red Sox, in what many consider to be the greatest World Series game ever. Once again, however, the Sox came up short, and were defeated by Cincinnati in seven games.

Yaz was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1989.

The Sox continued to be successful through the end of the 1970s, winning 97 games in 1977, 99 in 1978, and 91 in 1979. Rice won the home run title in 1977 and took home MVP honors in 1978, Lynn won the 1979 batting championship, and Yastrzemski recorded his 3,000th hit on September 12, 1979. Dwight Evans did his part, not only with his bat, but also in right field, picking up three Gold Glove Awards in the last four seasons of the decade.

The Red Sox' next great run came in 1986, a season that got off to an auspicious start when Evans homered in Detroit on the first pitch of the Major League season. Roger Clemens, who won the Cy Young and MVP Awards, dominated AL batters in 1986, winning 24 games—including his first 14 decisions—with a 2.48 ERA. He also broke a Major League record, striking out 20 batters in a 3-1 win over Seattle on April 29. Wade Boggs led the offense, winning his third of five batting titles in the decade. Under manager John McNamara's leadership, the team won 95 games and came back from a three-games-to-one deficit in the ALCS to earn a World Series matchup with the Mets, which the Sox lost in seven games. The Red Sox returned to their winning ways in 1988 with Joe Morgan's miracle team. After Morgan took over from McNamara in July, the Sox won 12 straight and 19 of 20 games, to come from nine games behind and move into first place in the AL East. "Morgan's Magic" became the team's slogan, but the Red Sox were overpowered by Oakland in the ALCS.

The Sox started the next decade off on the right foot by winning the AL East in 1990. They fared well after the new division setup was established in 1995, reaching postseason play three times in the final five years of the decade. In 1995, the Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians started a Division Series rivalry that would last throughout the decade. Behind the powerful hitting of Mo Vaughn—who led the AL in home runs and earned the MVP Award—and the stable pitching of Clemens and knuckleballer Tim Wakefield, the Sox won the East Division title and faced the Indians in the 1995 ALDS. In 1996, Clemens struck out 20 batters in a game for the second time in his career, tying his own Major League record. In 1997, shortstop Nomar Garciaparra made his way to Fenway and picked up the Rookie of the Year Award while leading the league with 209 hits.

The 1998 campaign began a string of 14 consecutive winning seasons for the Red Sox (1998-2011), as Boston earned back-to-back postseason appearances in 1998 and 1999. The Sox' winning ways of 1998 coincided with the arrival of Pedro Martinez, who won the 1997 Cy Young Award as a member of the Montreal Expos before being traded to the Red Sox that offseason. After winning 19 games and posting a 2.89 ERA in 1998, Martinez won another Cy Young Award in 1999 and finished second in MVP voting, going 23-4 with a 2.07 ERA. The Sox also hosted the final All-Star Game of the century in 1999, with Martinez retiring all six batters faced—five on strikeouts—en route to MVP honors. Martinez repeated as Cy Young Award winner in 2000, the same year Garciaparra won his second consecutive AL batting title (.372). On December 13, 2000, the Red Sox signed outfielder Manny Ramirez, a move that would help make Boston one of the best offensive teams of the 2000s. On April 4, 2001, Hideo Nomo won his Red Sox debut by throwing the club's first no-hitter since 1965, but the Sox would win only 82 games that season, the final year of Jean R. Yawkey Trust ownership era.

A New Era (2002-Present)

Prior to the 2002 season, a new ownership group led by John Henry, Tom Werner, and Larry Lucchino took control of the Red Sox and instilled unprecedented success and change to the organization. Following a 93-69 season that featured yet another no-hitter—thrown by Derek Lowe—Theo Epstein was named GM on November 25, 2002, making him the youngest in MLB history at 28 years and 10 months old. Epstein made offseason moves to help the team become an offensive powerhouse that set several records. The additions of David Ortiz, Kevin Millar, Bill Mueller, and Todd Walker solidified a batting order that produced 961 runs, 2nd-most in club history, and hit 238 home runs, then a single-season franchise record. The 2003 Red Sox had an exciting 95-67 regular season, their most wins since 1995, and came back from a 2-0 deficit in the ALDS to win three straight vs. Oakland and advance to the ALCS against the Yankees. A dramatic seven-game series wasn't resolved until Aaron Boone's 11th-inning home run stopped the Red Sox.

In his first year as manager, Terry Francona led the 2004 Red Sox to a 98-64 record and a Wild Card berth. The Sox swept the Anaheim Angels in the ALDS, as Ortiz's dramatic home run in the 10th inning of Game 3 ensured a rematch with the Yankees for the AL pennant. After dropping the first three games to New York, the Red Sox rallied behind the bat of Ortiz, the baserunning of Dave Roberts, timely hitting by Mueller, an airtight bullpen, and the gritty performance of Curt Schilling to win the final four games of the series, completing the greatest comeback in Major League history. The Red Sox then swept the Cardinals to win the World Series for the sixth time, the first since 1918. Martinez and Schilling became the first Red Sox teammates ever to strike out 200 batters in the same season, while Ramirez and Ortiz became the first AL teammates to bat .300, hit 30 HR, and drive in 100 runs since 1931. The Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the first time in franchise history.

The Red Sox stormed the field in 2004 to celebrate the club's 1st World Series title since 1918.

The Sox followed with a 95-67 record in 2005, while the 2006 season was highlighted by Ortiz setting a single-season club record with 54 home runs. In 2007, the Red Sox clinched their first AL East title since 1995, going 96-66. After sweeping the Angels 3-0 in the ALDS, Boston went down three games to one in the ALCS vs. Cleveland. The Sox completed another comeback to clinch their 12th AL pennant, then swept the Rockies to win their second World Series title in four years and seventh overall. The Sox joined the Yankees as the only teams in AL history to sweep in successive World Series appearances. Boston led the AL East for the final 166 days of 2007 beginning April 18, the longest consecutive stretch in club history.

The 2008 Red Sox began their World Series title defense on March 25, 2008 in Tokyo, Japan vs. the A's. The club finished with a 95-67 record to clinch their sixth AL Wild Card berth. After defeating the Los Angeles Angels three games to one in the ALDS, Boston lost the ALCS to the Rays in seven games. Dustin Pedroia, who earned Rookie of the Year honors in 2007, was named the AL's MVP in 2008. In 2009, for the 10th straight year, the Red Sox set a new club record for home attendance, an accomplishment unprecedented in MLB. Boston won 95 games that year, followed by 89 wins in 2010 and 90 in 2011.

After losing 93 games in 2012—a season that marked the 100th anniversary of Fenway Park—the 2013 Red Sox had a storied year, going from last place to first place in the East, winning the AL pennant, and capturing their third World Series title in 10 years (eighth overall). New manager John Farrell, the club's pitching coach from 2007-10, became the fourth manager to lead the Red Sox to a World Series title in his first year. At 97-65, the Sox were in first place an AL-high 158 days after failing to spend one day in first in 2012. The all-time home sellout streak in American sports history ended on April 10, the second game of the season. The streak began on May 15, 2003 and reached 794 games, plus 26 more in postseason play. Following the tragic events of the Boston Marathon bombing on April 15, Ortiz ignited a rallying cry for the city during a pre-game speech on April 20, the club's first home game since the marathon. Standing on the pitcher's mound, Ortiz declared, "This is our [expletive] city" and urged fans to "stay strong." Following a comeback win over the Royals that day, "Boston Strong" became the team's—and the city's—mantra. It all culminated in October with wins over Tampa Bay in the ALDS (3-1), Detroit in the ALCS (4-2), and St. Louis in the World Series (4-2). It was the first time the Red Sox clinched a World Series title at home since 1918. Ortiz went 11-for-16 (.688) with two home runs and eight walks in the Fall Classic en route to World Series MVP honors, with his game-tying grand slam in Game 2 of the ALCS saving the Sox' season as one of the most clutch hits in the franchise's history.

The 2014 and 2015 seasons were highlighted by the emergence of several young players, including Mookie Betts, Xander Bogaerts, and Jackie Bradley Jr. On August 18, 2015, Dave Dombrowski was hired as President of Baseball Operations, a newly created position in the organization. In his first full season, Dombrowski helped the Red Sox return to the top of the division, as they won 15 more games in 2016 (93) than they did in 2015 (78) en route to the AL East title. With Ortiz leading the way during his farewell tour season, Boston led the majors in runs scored with 878, while Rick Porcello won the AL Cy Young Award. The Ortiz era came to a close on October 10 when, after Boston's 4-3 loss to Cleveland in Game 3 of the ALDS, the largest postseason crowd in Fenway Park history (39,530) stayed long after the final out to give Big Papi a proper sendoff. Ortiz emerged from the clubhouse, walked to the pitcher's mound and saluted the crowd, unable to hold back tears as he showed his appreciation. The Red Sox won 93 games and were crowned champions of the AL East once again in 2017, but they were eliminated by the eventual AL champion for the second time in as many years, this time suffering a three-games-to-one loss to the Houston Astros. Chris Sale finished second in AL Cy Young Award voting in his Red Sox debut, as he led the majors with 308 strikeouts in a season that was constantly compared to Martinez's magical 1999 run. The Sox tied a franchise record with 15 extra-inning wins against only three losses thanks to an outstanding bullpen led by Craig Kimbrel, who earned the Mariano Rivera American League Reliever of the Year Award.

The Red Sox are the only franchise to win 4 World Series titles in the 21st century.

Alex Cora was hired on October 22, 2017, as the 47th manager in Red Sox history, becoming only the second Puerto Rico native to manage a Major League team. In 2018 he helped the Red Sox win 17 of its first 19 games en route to a 108-54 record, the club's third consecutive AL East title, and the franchise's fourth World Series championship in 15 years. The Sox' 108 wins bested the club's previous record of 105, which had been set in 1912. Among many individual accolades, Betts was named the AL's Most Valuable Player. In his first season with Boston, J.D. Martinez hit .330 with 43 home runs and 130 RBI, as he earned the AL's Hank Aaron Award as the league's top offensive performer. The Red Sox saw their run of AL East titles come to a halt in 2019, as they finished 84-78. On June 29-30, the Sox joined the Yankees in the two-game London Series, MLB's first games ever played in Europe. Boston set the franchise's single-season home run record (245), while Martinez, Bogaerts, and Rafael Devers became the first Sox trio ever to hit at least .300 with 30 or more home runs in the same season. In 2020, Sale and Eduardo Rodriguez missed the entire season on the injured list as the Sox finished 24-36 in a season that was shortened due to the coronavirus pandemic. The Club returned to the Postseason in 2021, finishing the regular season with a 92-70 record before defeating the Yankees in the AL Wild Card Game, 6-2, in front of an electric Fenway Park. The Red Sox went on to upset the division-winning Rays in the ALDS, 3 games to 1, treating their fans to walk-off victories in Games 3 and 4. The team's magical run ended at the hands of the Astros in the ALCS, as Boston fell just 2 wins shy of reaching the World Series. In 2022, the Red Sox finished below .500 (78-84) in a full season for the first time since 2015, as they went 52-34 (.605) outside of the AL East but struggled in divisional play (26-50, .342). On January 11, 2023, the Red Sox signed Devers to a 10-year contract extension spanning the 2024-33 seasons, marking the longest contract in franchise history.

Harry H. Frazee was a long-time flamboyant baseball fan who was born in Peoria, IL. He became successful in real estate management and stock brokerage and as a Broadway theatrical producer. He purchased the Red Sox in late 1916 from Lannin in a deal that included Fenway Park.

J.A. Robert Quinn was a career baseball executive who was business manager of the St. Louis Browns prior to putting together a syndicate that purchased the Red Sox from Frazee on August 1, 1923. He was appointed team president and presiding owner.

The Jean R. Yawkey Trust bought out Haywood C. Sullivan's 1 General Partnership unit, giving it all 3 General Partnership units of the Red Sox, along with the three Red Sox limited partnership units previously acquired (53.49%).

2002

The Jean R. Yawkey Trust sold the club to a group led by John W. Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino on December 20, 2001. The sale was approved by Major League Baseball on January 16 and closed on February 27.

NOTE: The W-L-T columns total 1 game less than the 18,977 game total reflected above as a result of a protested game and a Major League ruling. On 7/28/1924 the Red Sox played a 10-inning game vs. STL, a supposed 10-5 win. St. Louis protested the game and AL President Ban Johnson ordered the game replayed on 9/13 as the 2nd game of a doubleheader. The game of 7/28 was discounted and Red Sox Manager Lee Fohl and the STL manager were credited with a no decision. The Red Sox won the replay of the protested game, 13-11.

Beginning with the 1920 season, the MLB rule states: "If a protested game of at least 5 innings duration was ordered replayed in its entirety, then no win or loss is credited, but both managers are credited with a no-decision game."

All-Time Roster

1,886 players have appeared in at least 1 game for the Red Sox since the team joined the American League in 1901. (Bold-faced = living through 3/22/22)

Tony Conigliaro Award

In 1990, the Red Sox instituted a national award to honor the memory of their former star outfielder Tony Conigliaro. The award is presented to a Major Leaguer who has overcome adversity through the attributes of spirit, determination and courage, which were trademarks of Tony C. Voting is conducted by media members, MLB executives, Red Sox officials, and members of the Conigliaro family. The presentation takes place at the Boston Baseball Writers dinner in January.

Conigliaro died on 2/24/1990 after an 8-year struggle to return from a massive heart attack that left him severely handicapped. Tony signed with the Red Sox in 1963 after graduating from St. Mary's High School in Lynn, MA. In his only minor league season, he hit .363 with 24 HR and 74 RBI in 83 games for Wellsville, earning New York-Penn League MVP Rookie of the Year honors. He broke in with the Red Sox in 1964, hit a HR in his 1st at-bat at Fenway Park, and finished with a .290 AVG and 24 HR to earn an All-Rookie selection. Tony became the youngest player to lead a league in HR with 32 in 1965 and the youngest AL player to reach 100 career HR. Mel Ott was the youngest in history at 22 years, 4 months, 10 days. He was 2nd-youngest (22 years, 6 months, 16 days). His career was tragically shortened when he was hit in the face by a pitch at Fenway Park 8/18/1967. He made a dramatic comeback in 1969, hit 56 HR with 198 RBI in 2 years, but he was never the same player. Conigliaro spent 1971 with the Angels and was out of baseball until he tried another comeback with the Red Sox in 1975. After an excellent Spring Training, he made the regular-season roster and got the team's 1st hit of that season and later the club's 1st HR. He was outrighted to Triple-A Pawtucket in mid-June and retired shortly after.

Thomas A. Yawkey Red Sox Most Valuable Player Award

Each year, the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America presents the Thomas A. Yawkey Award to the Red Sox Most Valuable Player. From 1937 through 1952 the award went to either a Red Sox or a member of the Boston Braves. The Braves moved to Milwaukee prior to the 1953 season and the award became strictly a Red Sox MVP selection. After Mr. Yawkey's death in 1976, the Boston Writers renamed the award in his honor. Carl Yastrzemski (6), David Ortiz (5), Roger Clemens (4), Dwight Evans (4), Mo Vaughn (4), Ted Williams (4), and Pedro Martinez (3) each won the award three or more times.

Most Hits in an All-Star Game

Ted Williams and Carl Yastrzemski are tied with Joe Medwick for most hits in an All-Star Game with 4. Williams had his 4 (2 singles, 2 home runs) on 7/9/1946 at Fenway Park in a 12-0 American League win. Yastrzemski hit 3 singles and a double on 7/14/1970 in Cincinnati in a 12-inning, 5-4 National League win. He was named Outstanding Player of the game.

Chris Sale is the only pitcher to start multiple All-Star Games as a member of the Red Sox.

All-Star Games at Fenway Park

On 7/13/1999, the Red Sox hosted the 3rd All-Star Game ever to be played at Fenway Park. The American League defeated the National League, 4-1, as Pedro Martinez, the eventual MVP of the Mid-Summer Classic, started and struck out 5 of the 6 batters he faced for the win.

Fenway Park was the site of the 2nd All-Star Game played in 1961. That game featured solid pitching by both sides and ended in a 1-1 tie that was called after 9 innings and a 30-minute rain delay. The Tigers' Rocky Colavito hit a 1st-inning home run for the AL, which managed only 4 hits in the game. The NL's only run scored on an RBI single by the Cardinals' Bill White off Red Sox rookie Don Schwall, who allowed all 5 NL hits in 3.0 innings. The other Red Sox representative at the '61 game at Fenway was manager Mike Higgins, who served as a coach.

The 1st All-Star Game held at Fenway was on 7/9/1946 after a 1-year hiatus due to World War II-related travel restrictions. The American League defeated the National League, 12-0, in a game highlighted by the hitting heroics of Ted Williams. Williams delivered 2 home runs, 2 singles and a walk in his 5 plate appearances, scoring 4 runs and driving in 5 as the AL out-hit the NL, 14-3. In addition to Williams, 7 other Red Sox were AL All-Stars in '46: Johnny Pesky, Dom DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr, Rudy York, Hal Wagner, Dave Ferriss and Mickey Harris.

1945 All-Star Replacement Game

The 1945 All-Star Game was scheduled for Fenway Park. However, due to the on-going war in Europe and with Japan, the game was cancelled, the only year no game has been played since the series began in 1933.

On 7/9-10/1945, there were 9 exhibitions played with proceeds going to benefit war relief efforts. On 7/9, games were played at Chicago's Comiskey Park (Cubs vs. White Sox), New York's Polo Grounds (Yankees vs. Giants), in Great Lakes, IL (Athletics vs. Great Lakes Navy Team), in Cleveland (Reds vs. Indians), and in Indiantown Gap, PA (Pirates vs. Indiantown Gap Army Team). The biggest crowds were 47,144 (Chicago) and 41,267 (New York).

On 7/10, games were played at Washington's Griffith Stadium (Dodgers vs. Senators), St. Louis' Sportsmans Park (Cardinals vs. Browns), Boston's Fenway Park (Braves vs. Red Sox), and Philadelphia's Shibe Park (Phillies vs. Athletics). The highest attendance figures were in Washington (28,791) and St. Louis (24,113).

The only ML team that didn't play was Detroit, which was denied permission to travel to Pittsburgh by the U.S. Government. The Pirates therefore played a U.S. Army team. The A's played a game each day in 2 locations.

The game at Fenway Park drew 22,809 plus 846 servicemen and women and raised $70,000 for the United War Fund. New Commissioner Senator A.B. "Happy" Chandler made his 1st official visit to Boston and took part in the 1st-pitch ceremonies with Massachusetts Governor Maurice Tobin.

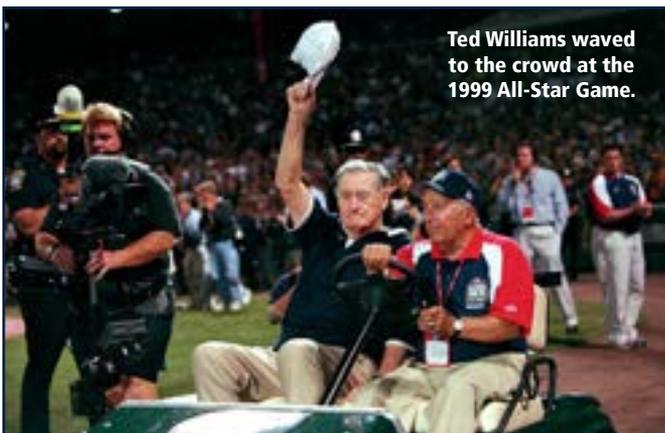

The Red Sox won the game, 8-1, behind rookie pitching star Dave Ferriss and 3 hits, including a home run, by right fielder George "Catfish" Metkovich.

Fenway Park

Major League Baseball's oldest and smallest ballpark, Fenway Park has been the home of the Boston Red Sox since April 20, 1912 when, after two days of rainouts, the park hosted its first regular season game, an 11-inning, 7-6 Boston win over the New York Highlanders in front of 27,000 fans.

In 111 seasons, venerable Fenway Park has been home to many of the greatest players in baseball history, including Hall of Famers Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker, Lefty Grove, Jimmie Foxx, Joe Cronin, Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Carl Yastrzemski, Carlton Fisk, Jim Rice, Pedro Martinez, and David Ortiz. The park has witnessed some of the most memorable moments in baseball history, highlighted, perhaps, by Fisk's 12th-inning home run to win Game 6 of the 1975 World Series, and the amazing comeback against the Yankees in Game 4 of the 2004 American League Championship Series.

Among the world's most famous sporting venues, Fenway Park is best known for the 37-foot high, 231-foot long "Green Monster" left-field wall, which looms only 310 feet from home plate. Equally enticing to hitters is "Pesky's Pole," the right-field foul pole named for Red Sox great Johnny Pesky, which stands only 302 feet from home plate.

Nestled into the Fenway neighborhood of Boston, the park was largely rebuilt for the 1934 season after a five-alarm fire destroyed construction underway by new owner Tom Yawkey. Fenway Park has undergone a series of improvements since the Henry-Werner Group purchased the team in 2002.

The astounding popularity of the ballpark and the team enabled the Red Sox to sell out 793 consecutive games from 2003-13, the longest recorded regular-season sellout streak in U.S. professional sports history. Hundreds of thousands of fans from all over the globe visit Fenway Park year-round. Tours of the ballpark, conducted in English, Spanish, and Japanese, are available daily.

The Seats

The Wooden Grandstands

Installed during the 1933-34 off-season, Fenway Park's wooden grandstand seats serve as living tributes to the ballpark's history. A fire in January 1934 interrupted renovations, but the park was ready for Opening Day, including these seats. Roughly 75 years later, as part of major improvements between 2008 and 2010, the seats were refurbished and reinstalled. Fans who attend games at Fenway Park today can sit in the same seats their grandparents (and great-grandparents) sat in decades prior.

The Red Seat

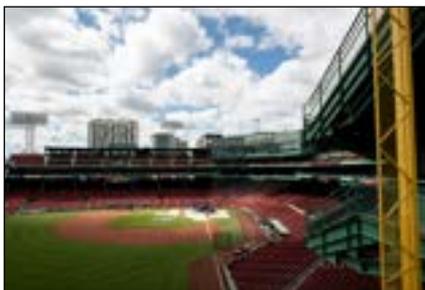

On June 9, 1946, Ted Williams hit a 502-foot home run to right field off Detroit RHP Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, 56, a construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time, the bleachers were benches and not individual seats. In 2016, David Ortiz said reaching the Red Seat is "unhuman." It is still the longest home run ever measured at Fenway Park.

The Foul Poles

Fisk Pole

In Game 6 of the 1975 World Series, Carlton Fisk led off the bottom of the 12th inning with a walk-off home run that clanged off the foul pole above Fenway Park's Green Monster, giving the Red Sox a 7-6 win over the Cincinnati Reds and tying the series at 3-3. Nearly 30 years later, on June 13, 2005, prior to an Interleague game against the Reds, the Red Sox honored their former catcher by officially renaming it "Fisk Pole" during a ceremony in the Monster Seats. "The video of Fisk trying to wave the ball fair remains one of the game's enduring images," Red Sox then-president Larry Lucchino said in 2005. "That home run, and that World Series, helped revitalize baseball."

Pesky's Pole

Johnny Pesky was one of the longest-serving ambassadors in Red Sox history, spending 61 years with the organization in nearly every role imaginable, beginning with his minor league playing career in 1940 and lasting until his death at the age of 93 in 2012. Believed to be coined by former Red Sox pitcher Mel Parnell, Fenway Park's right field foul pole was informally known as "Pesky's Pole" for decades beginning in the 1960s, a playful reference to Pesky taking advantage of Fenway's short distance to the right field corner (302 feet). It wasn't until September 27, 2006 (Pesky's 87th birthday) that the Red Sox made the name official. The pole has been dented by baseballs and signed by thousands of fans over the years, though it underwent significant repairs and received a fresh coat of paint in December 2016.

The Green Monster

Fenway Park's "Green Monster"—the 37-foot, 2-inch wall that extends 231 feet from the left-field foul line to the center-field bleachers—is arguably the most iconic feature of any ballpark in Major League Baseball, rivaled only by Wrigley Field's ivy-covered walls and the upper-deck façade of Yankee Stadium.

"Duffy's Cliff"

The wall did not exist in its current incarnation when Fenway Park opened on April 20, 1912. The original wall was a 25-foot wood-plank fence held fast by horizontal supports known as "whalers" on the backside, built to keep spectators from watching from the Boston Garage Company across Lansdowne Street. The fence was fronted by a 6-to-10 foot earthen embankment, which extended from the bleachers to the property line and was needed because the plot of land on which Fenway Park was built was on an uneven grade, higher on the street side. The embankment was soon dubbed "Duffy's Cliff" because of the skillful way Red Sox left fielder Duffy Lewis navigated the incline in pursuit of fly balls. During the 1912 World Series against the New York Giants, seven rows of bleachers were temporarily installed on the embankment.

In Fenway Park's early years, a 25-foot wood-plank fence was fronted by an embankment known as "Duffy's Cliff."

First baseman Hugh Bradley, a Holy Cross graduate and native of Worcester, Mass., hit the first home run in Fenway Park on April 26, 1912, in the seventh inning of a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. Bradley's three-run home run, which erased a 6-4 deficit, cleared the wall in left field, which previously had been thought to be out of reach of hitters in baseball's "deadball" era. Paul Shannon, writing in the Boston Post, called it a "feat that may never be duplicated."

The Manual Scoreboard

The original left-field scoreboard was nearly identical to the one built in Detroit's Navin Field, which opened on the same day as Fenway Park in 1912. It was called an electronic scoreboard, but that was only partially the case; a pressbox keyboard operator communicated information to the scoreboard operators electronically. Operators behind the scoreboard then scrambled up and down a network of ladders and steps and benches, and manually slid markers into slots.

A new scoreboard debuted after Fenway Park was renovated for the 1934 season, the first truly electronically operated scoreboard in baseball with its red, green and yellow lights to signal balls, strikes and outs. It remains one of two manually operated scoreboards in the Major Leagues, the other being in Wrigley Field.

Creating a Monster

When Fenway Park was renovated for the 1934 season, work crews leveled Duffy's Cliff and replaced the wooden fence with what we now know as the Green Monster. The lower 18 feet of the wall was concrete and topped by a 19-foot frame made of 2-by-4 railroad ties bolted together, the entire structure covered with a skin of tin. The wall's reinforced steel-and-concrete foundation extended 22 feet below field level.

Red Sox left fielder Julius "Moose" Solters hit the first home run over the new wall on April 19, 1934, a walk-off home run in the ninth inning of a 5-4 victory over the Washington Senators in the first game of a Patriots Day doubleheader. Newspaper reports said Solters' home run off General Crowder of the Senators went into the windows of the auto shop across Lansdowne Street.

After the 1933 season, the wooden fence in left field was replaced by what we know today as the Green Monster (photo courtesy of the Boston Public Library).

In 1936, a 23-foot, 7-inch net was placed on top of the wall, to protect the windows of business establishments across the street. It was a prudent decision: right-handed slugger Jimmie Foxx would hit 217 home runs over the next six seasons, including 50 in 1938.

In 1947, the year light towers were installed in Fenway Park, the Red Sox elected to scrape the ads that had adorned the wall and painted it "Dartmouth green" to match the rest of the ballpark.

The Modern Wall

It is unclear when the term “Green Monster” first was used. For many years—through the 1980s—it was usually referred to as “The Wall.” In a 1958 story, Boston Globe reporter Hy Hurwitz referred to the “easy to reach green monster in Ted Williams’ territory,” and a UPI story on August 24, 1960 referred to a double off Fenway Park’s “Green Monster.” Red Sox reliever John Wyatt in 1966 referred to the “jolly green monster” in left, and during the 1967 World Series frequent references were made to the Green Monster.

After the 1975 season, the original tin facing of the Green Monster was stripped off.

The left-field foul pole is known as the “Fisk Pole,” in honor of the game-winning, 12th-inning home run hit off the pole by Hall of Fame catcher Carlton Fisk in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series against Cincinnati on October 21, 1975. The home run came off Reds pitcher Pat Darcy and broke a 6-6 tie.

After the 1975 season, the original tin facing of the wall was stripped off and cut into thousands of 2 ½ inch-by-4 ½ inch rectangles that were mounted on wooden plaques and sold to raise money for the Jimmy Fund, which supports research and care for pediatric and adult cancer at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Installed in its place was a Formica-like material.

After the 2002 season, the team’s new ownership group, headed by John Henry and Tom Werner, decided to remove the screen atop the wall and replaced it with 269 barstool-type seats, which have quickly become among some of the most highly sought seats in the ballpark. Standing-room tickets are also available on the Monster.

Today, seats atop the Green Monster are some of the most coveted in all of baseball.

The Statues

Some of the greatest Red Sox players are immortalized outside Fenway Park's Gate B on Van Ness Street.

TED WILLIAMS

The Red Sox honored Hall of Famer Ted Williams with the first statue in the ballpark's history, unveiled on April 16, 2004. An idea originally proposed by Mayor Thomas M. Menino after Williams' passing in 2002, the statue depicts the slugger, standing 8-feet, 6-inches tall, holding a bat and placing his cap on a child with cancer. The statue was moved a few feet down Van Ness St. in 2010, when the Teammates statue was installed.

CARL YASTRZEMSKI

Hall of Famer Carl Yastrzemski was on hand when a statue in his honor was dedicated on September 22, 2013. The statue captures a moment that took place on Sunday, October 2, 1983, when the lifelong Red Sox star tipped his helmet to fans at Fenway Park before the final at-bat of his 23-year career. Yaz retired that day having played the most games that any player had ever played to that point in the history of MLB (3,308).

TEAMMATES

On June 9, 2010, the Red Sox unveiled a statue dedicated to Bobby Doerr, Dom DiMaggio, Johnny Pesky, and Ted Williams. The statue recognizes the remarkable bonds of camaraderie that these four Red Sox legends enjoyed for over half a century, first as teammates, and then as lifelong friends, the story of which was immortalized in David Halberstam's memorable book, The Teammates – Portrait of a Friendship.

Beyond Baseball

Football

Fenway Park's first non-baseball sporting event took place on November 28, 1912, when Boston Latin defeated Boston English, 7-6, in Fenway's first high school football game. Football at the high school, collegiate, and professional levels remained a constant at the venue through 1968, then returned in 2015 after a 47-year hiatus when Notre Dame defeated Boston College in the Shamrock Series, 19-16. High school football at Fenway has become an annual November tradition, while the Fenway Bowl—a collegiate Bowl Game featuring teams from the AAC and ACC—made its debut in 2022 (Louisville vs. Cincinnati) after being cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020 and 2021.

Hockey

The first hockey game at Fenway Park was played on January 1, 2010, when the Boston Bruins defeated the Philadelphia Flyers in overtime, 2-1, in the NHL's Winter Classic. That event paved the way for the inaugural "Frozen Fenway" event in 2010, featuring several men's and women's high school and collegiate games in January. The NHL's Winter Classic returned in January 2023 when the Bruins faced off against the Pittsburgh Penguins, making Fenway the first venue to host the event multiple times.

Music

Fenway Park hosted the Newport Jazz Festival in July 1973, an event that featured Ray Charles and Stevie Wonder. Thirty years later, when Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band entertained thousands of fans from the Fenway outfield, it began a new era of America's Most Beloved Ballpark hosting some of the biggest music acts in the world (see below).

Other Events

Fenway Park has hosted a number of other sporting events, including lacrosse, boxing, wrestling, and soccer. In recent years, Fenway Sports Group has found new and exciting ways to showcase the ballpark's multi-use possibilities, perhaps none more daring than the 2016 Polartec Big Air, a skiing and snowboarding competition that featured a 140-foot snow ramp that stood taller than the ballpark's light towers. Other events of the past 20 years have included the Irish sport of hurling, the Spartan Race, Red Bull Crashed Ice, and Topgolf. In recent years, Fenway Park has served as an early voting center and as a mass vaccination site to help administer COVID-19 vaccines and booster shots.

RED SOX BASEBALL AT FENWAY

Following an April 9 exhibition victory over Harvard and a pair of rainouts, the Red Sox won the first official game at Fenway, beating the New York Highlanders (who'd later become the Yankees) 7-6 in 11 innings. Tris Speaker drove home the game winner in front of 27,000 fans. The Red Sox go on to win 105 regular season games and capture the World Series during their first season at Fenway Park.

4.26.1912

1B Hugh Bradley hit the first home run at Fenway and the first over the left field wall vs. Philadelphia. It was the second and last home run of his Major League career.

TRIS SPEAKER

The Red Sox clinched the 1918 World Series with a 2-1, Game Six victory over the Chicago Cubs. This was the last championship-clinching victory won by the Red Sox at Fenway Park until Game 6 of the 2013 Series.

6.12.1916

RHP George Foster threw the first no-hitter by a Red Sox pitcher at Fenway Park, leading the Red Sox to a 2-0 win over the New York Yankees. Fenway Park's first no-hitter was thrown by the Boston Braves' George Davis in a 7-0 victory over Philadelphia on September 9, 1914.

OTHER FENWAY EVENTS

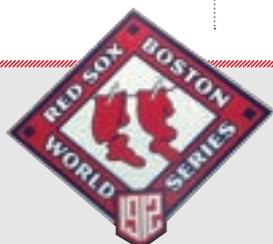

11.28. 1912

Boston Latin defeated Boston English 7-6 in Fenway Park's first high school football game. Two days later, Oak Park (IL) High School beat Everett (MA) High School 32-12 in the National High School Championship Game. Over the next few decades, several high school football games were played at the park.

10.31.1914

Boston College and Norwich University competed in Fenway Park's first college football game with BC winning 28-6. The Eagles used the park as a frequent home venue through the 1950s.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY AT FENWAY PARK

5.23.1915

In memory of American military members killed in the Spanish-American War, a memorial service was held at Fenway Park with 15,000 in attendance. A memorial service was regularly held at the park over the next few decades.

1914

FENWAY PARK CONSTRUCTION

6.24.1911

Representing his family, John Taylor announced their intention to build Fenway Park. Prior to the 1912 season, the Red Sox played their home games at the Huntington Avenue Grounds, now part of the campus of Northeastern University.

9.24.1911

The groundbreaking occurred for the new ballpark.

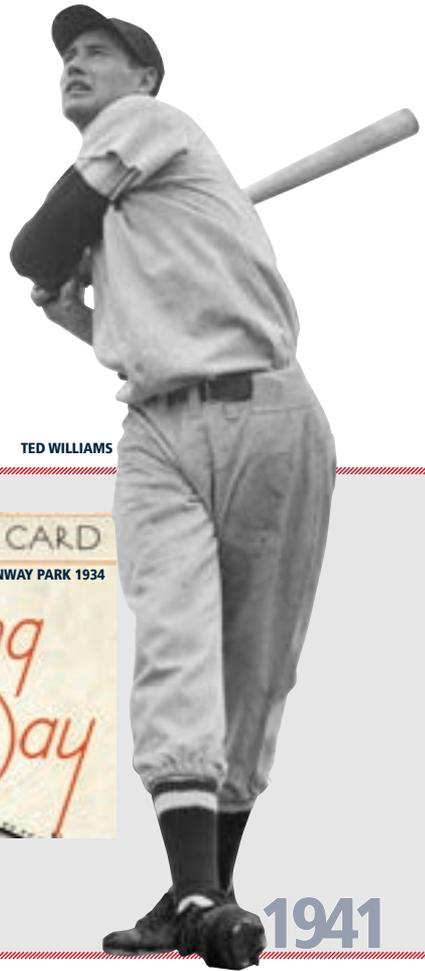

5.8.1926

In the first Fenway Park fire, the bleachers along the left-field foul line burned down and were not replaced, giving fielders the chance to snare foul flies behind the third base grandstand.

1918

7.3.1932

The Sox were hammered by the Yankees 13-2 in the first Sunday game at Fenway Park. Sunday baseball was approved in Boston three years earlier, but not at Fenway due to its proximity to a church. The Sox played their Sunday games at Braves Field on Commonwealth Avenue until the law was changed. They actually played the first Boston Sunday game, a 7-3 loss to Philadelphia, at Braves Field, April 28, 1929 in front of 22,000 fans.

11.14.1925

Boston University played its first football game at Fenway Park, a 14-6 victory over Providence College. BU played occasional home games at Fenway Park through the mid-20th century.

1941

1.5.1934

A five-alarm, four-hour blaze, the second Fenway Park fire, virtually destroyed the construction underway by new owner Thomas A. Yawkey to refurbish the park. Following the fire, construction began on a new left-field grandstand, the bleachers, and the new left field wall.

1936

A 23-foot tall screen was installed above the left field wall. The screen would remain until the Green Monster Seats were constructed in 2003.

9.22.1935

The largest crowd to ever see a game at Fenway Park – 47,627 – turned out for a double-header with the Yankees. Crowds of this size will never be equaled under Fenway Park's current dimensions. More stringent fire laws and league rules after World War II prohibited overcrowding that was permitted in the 1930's.

1940

Bullpens were constructed in front of the bleachers replacing the old bullpen areas in the outfield foul territory beyond the dugouts. Tom Yawkey replaced the right field pavilion section he built in 1934 with an extension of the grandstand, reducing the distance to the right field foul pole to 302 feet.

Fenway Park History: 1942-2001

RED SOX BASEBALL AT FENWAY

6.9.1946

Ted Williams hit a monumental 502-foot home run to right field off Detroit right-hander Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, a 56-year-old construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time the bleachers were actual bleachers and not individual seats.

7.9.1946

The Red Sox hosted their first All-Star Game at Fenway Park, a 12-0 American League win. Eight Red Sox were on the All-Star team, but Ted Williams stole the show, going 4-for-4 with two homers, a walk, five RBI and four runs scored.

7.31.1961

Fenway Park was the site of the second All-Star Game played in 1961. The game ended in a 1-1 tie, called after nine innings and a 30-minute rain delay.

10.4.1948

The first playoff game in AL history took place at Fenway, and Cleveland rookie left-hander Gene Bearden beat the Red Sox 8-3. Shortstop-Manager Lou Boudreau led the Indians with two homers and two singles. The defeat prevented the only cross-town World Series in Boston history. Cleveland went on to beat the Boston Braves 4-2 in the World Series.

7.13.1999

The Red Sox hosted their third All-Star Game, a 4-1 AL win. For the first time in history, the All-Star Game was a three-day event featuring a celebrity hitting contest, a Futures game, and a home run derby.

DAVE ROBERTS

4.11.2005

The defending champions received their World Series rings prior to the home opener against the Yankees. Led by Johnny Pesky and Carl Yastrzemski, former players who had longed for such a day helped the active players raise the World Championship flag. James Taylor sang "America the Beautiful," the Boston Symphony and Boston Pops played "The Star-Spangled Banner," and wounded soldiers back from war presented the rings. Boston icons Bobby Orr, Bill Russell, Tedy Bruschi and Richard Seymour threw the Ceremonial First Pitches. And, in fitting style, the Red Sox beat the Yankees.

9.1.2007

Clay Buchholz became the first Red Sox rookie to ever pitch a no-hitter, blanking the Baltimore Orioles 10-0.

Longest Known Home Runs at Fenway Park

On June 9, 1946, Ted Williams hit a 502-foot home run to right off Detroit RHP Fred Hutchinson, the longest home run ever measured at Fenway Park (see "The Red Seat" on page 293 for more information).

In the Statcast Era (2015-present), the two longest estimated home runs were hit by Minnesota's Miguel Sanó on August 25, 2021 (495 feet) and Boston's Hanley Ramirez on April 29, 2017 (469 feet).

On June 19, 1977, Carl Yastrzemski hit the longest known home run to the right of the bleachers, an 8th-inning bomb off Yankees RHP Dick Tidrow. It reached approximately 460 feet before striking the facing of the right-field roof about 20 feet to the right of where the retired No. 42 now appears. It is the only ball to reach the right-field roof façade.

On September 21, 1956, Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, batting left-handed, hit the longest known homer to straight-away center field off RHP Frank Sullivan. It carried approximately 480 feet before it struck one foot below the top of the brick barrier located behind Section 36.

Six home runs were hit over the old center field wall to the right of the flag pole. The elevation over the old brick wall was installed prior to the 1976 season and was removed prior to the 2003 season. Those six home runs were hit by Hank Greenberg (5/22/37 at BOS), Jimmie Foxx (8/12/37 vs. NYY-G1), Bill Skowron (4/20/57 at BOS), Carl Yastrzemski (5/16/70 vs. CLE), Bobby Mitchell (9/29/73 at BOS), and Jim Rice (7/18/75 vs. KC).

POSTSEASON

BOSTON

RED SOX

Red Sox in the Postseason

The Red Sox have won 4 of the last 19 World Series titles (2004, 2007, 2013, 2018), Major League Baseball's most since 2000. The Sox' 9 World Series titles are tied with the Athletics for 3rd all-time behind the Yankees (27) and Cardinals (11).

The Red Sox are 108-91-1 all-time in postseason play, having advanced to the postseason 25 times in 122 American League seasons (1901-2022), including 11 times in the last 20 years. Boston is 24-16 in 40 postseason series, having gone 8-6 in 14 trips to the AL Division Series (26-26 in Division Series play), 6-6 in 12 trips to the AL Championship Series (32-36 in Championship Series play), and 9-4 in 13 trips to the World Series (49-29-1 in World Series games). Each of the Red Sox' 4 series losses in the Fall Classic was a 7-game set (1946, '67, '75, '86).

The Boston Americans, who became the Red Sox in 1908, won the 1st World Series ever held (1903), 1 of only 4 best-of-9 Series to be played (again in 1919-21). By beating the Pittsburgh Pirates of the more established National League, they caused such an embarrassment that the NL refused to participate the following year when the Red Sox repeated as AL Champions.

Boston set a Major League record with an 8-game winning streak to close out its run to the World Championship in 2004 (matched in 2005 by the Chicago White Sox, who won their final 8 games en route to the Championship). The Red Sox also had a 7-game winning streak starting from Game 5 of the 2007 ALCS through their World Series win in 2007.

The Red Sox are 58-39-1 in postseason home games, including 51-37-1 at Fenway Park. They also hosted World Series games at the Huntington Avenue Grounds in 1903 and at Braves Field in 1915 and 1916. The Sox clinched World Series titles at home in 1903 at the Huntington Avenue Grounds, in 1912 during Fenway Park's inaugural season, in 1916 at Braves Field, and in 1918 and 2013 at Fenway Park.

Red Sox Radio Network

The Red Sox Radio Network carries every game, with WEEI 93.7 FM as its flagship station in Boston. A network of over 30 stations broadcasts Boston's games throughout the New England area.

Joe Castiglione and Will Flemming will be the WEEI Red Sox Radio Network's primary voices in 2023 and will be joined by Sean McDonough and Lou Merloni. The pre- and post-game show will be hosted by Rich Keefe and Christian Arcand.

Castiglione is in his 41st season on Red Sox radio (1983-2023), the longest tenure of any Red Sox radio broadcaster and of any Boston broadcaster. In 2022, the Fenway Park home radio booth was officially named the "Joe Castiglione Booth" to celebrate his tenure. Castiglione was inducted into the Red Sox Hall of Fame in 2014.

Flemming returns for his fifth season in the Red Sox radio booth (2019-23). In addition to his work with WEEI, he has also been a play-by-play broadcaster for MLB and college basketball games on ESPN, filled in on Red Sox TV coverage on NESN, called college basketball games for CBS Sports, and worked NCAA Championship events for Turner Sports.

Nationally renowned and Emmy Award-winning McDonough is entering his third season with WEEI. The Hingham, MA native served as the television play-by-play announcer for the Red Sox from 1988-2004.

Bold=Active. Corrections have been made in the above listing thanks to information provided to us from John K. Moynahan, author of 50 Years At The Game, A Sports Traveler's Journey, and other sources. We appreciate this input as we attempt to produce an accurate account of our broadcasters. We are aware that through the years there have been "guest" or temporary fill-in broadcasters for Red Sox games, however, they are too numerous to list here.

Spring Training

Sitting within the Fenway South Spring Training and player development complex, JetBlue Park features the same seating bowl geometry and playing field dimensions as Fenway Park in Boston. The ballpark, which opened in 2012, has a total capacity of roughly 11,000 (including standing room and reserved lawn seating), and takes many of its defining characteristics from "America's Most Beloved Ballpark."

One such characteristic is a near replica of the iconic Fenway Park Green Monster wall. The JetBlue Park wall features the similar dimensions and signature paint color of its counterpart up north, but is unique with its 2-level seating area both on top and inside the wall under cover. The wall also features a restored manual scoreboard that served Red Sox fans for almost 3 decades at Fenway Park in Boston starting in 1976. The ballpark also features:

- Close to 60,000 square feet of rolling canopy shading for the majority of seats, just about 1 ½ acres
- Approximately 9,900 fixed seats
- 8 private suites
- 378 Green Monster Wall seats on 2 separate levels
- A 50,000-square-foot Clubhouse
- A 2,400-square-foot Team Store
- A state-of-the-art 20'x24' HD video board
- 5 permanent concession stands and numerous portable carts located throughout the concourse

A street festival environment is recreated on Fenway South Drive. Much like at Fenway Park, the street features specialty concession stands and entertainment, including face painting, magicians, stilt walkers, and other games for children.

While the interior of JetBlue Park pays homage to Fenway Park in Boston, the exterior of the ballpark takes cues from its natural Southwest Florida surroundings. The undulating shade canopy with its canted columns was inspired by the Cypress tree domes that surround the site. In addition to providing shade to the majority of the seating bowl, the canopy serves as one of the LEED certified ballpark's most striking architectural features. Locally manufactured masonry blocks used on parts of the exterior wall feature crushed Florida sea shells from Sanibel beaches. The light colors of the exterior enhance and contrast the deep shadows cast by the bright Florida sun.
