SEASON SUMMARY

There have been many days where I have thought about one day becoming a head coach in the National Football League. The many places I have had a chance to see, the different owners and different organizations I have talked to about their positions, for this to happen in Minnesota, this is a dream come true...To stand here today as the head football coach of the Minnesota Vikings, it's a very humbling moment for me. Great organization. Passionate fans. The best fans in the National Football League as far as I am concerned...You couldn't ask for a better situation, which makes me believe that it's only a matter of time before we deliver what our fans and this organization deserves, a World Championship. I believe that's going to happen. I believe it in my heart. - Minnesota Vikings Head Coach Leslie Frazier, January 3, 2011

In a bizarre, event-filled season in which the team faced a significant amount of adversity, the 2010 Minnesota Vikings finished 6-10 on the year, missing the playoffs for the first time since 2007. But while the year came to a disappointing end, 2011 began with a bright moment for the franchise's future when on January 3 the team hired Leslie Frazier to be the eighth head coach in Vikings history.

Frazier, who has a total of 18 years of NFL experience - 12 as a coach and six as a player - was named the team's interim head coach for the final six games of the 2010 season. Under his leadership, the Vikings finished 3-3, including 2-1 on the road after losing the previous nine consecutive away games.

Even more notable than the wins was Frazier's consistent composure and steady guidance during the tumultuous final four weeks of the season. In that time, the Vikings were forced to play home games at Detroit's Ford Field and the University of Minnesota's TCF Bank Stadium following the roof collapse at Mall of America Field in early December. Just a week later, Frazier led the team to an upset victory against the NFC East Champion Philadelphia Eagles after a snow storm forced the Vikings to spend three nights in a Philadelphia hotel. The Vikings played in five different stadiums over the final six weeks (FedEx Field, Mall of America Field, Ford Field (twice), TCF Bank Stadium and Lincoln Financial Field).

In 2011, Frazier will take over a team with significant talent on both sides of the ball. Offensively he will have perhaps the most explosive running back in the NFL with Adrian Peterson, who finished 2nd in the NFC with 1,282 yards and earned his fourth-consecutive Pro Bowl appearance. Peterson's 12 rushing touchdowns were tied for the most in the NFC and his 52 career rushing TDs are tied for the most in team history. He now has 5,782 career rushing yards, more than all but five players in NFL history after their first four seasons. Along with Peterson, the team has three former Pro Bowlers on that side of the Ball - WR Percy Harvin (special teams), G Steve Hutchinson and WR Sidney Rice.

On defense, Frazier will oversee a unit that he helped develop from 2007-10. Under Frazier, the Vikings defense ranked in the top 10 in each of the last three seasons (#6 in 2008, #6 in 2009, #8 in 2010) while notching 162 sacks from 2007-10 (40.5 avg. per season), the 5th-most of any NFL team during that time. The Vikings also allowed the 2nd-fewest rushing yards per game (85.1 avg.) and the 9th-fewest points per game (20.4 avg.) in the NFL over the last four years. Individually, the Vikings have four former Pro Bowlers, including DT Kevin Williams, who will be honored with his sixth appearance in 2011. DE Jared Allen, free agent DT Pat Williams and CB Antoine Winfield round out the remaining Vikings defensive Pro Bowlers currently on the roster.

Leslie Frazier was named the eighth Head Coach in Vikings history on January 3, 2011, after serving as the club's Interim Head Coach for the final six games of the 2010 season.

Frazier, who originally joined the Vikings in 2007 as Defensive Coordinator and added Assistant Head Coach to his title in 2008, notched a 3-3 record on an interim basis, including a 2-1 mark on the road after the team had lost nine consecutive away games. His steady and consistent personality and coaching style helped the Vikings prepare under unprecedented circumstances over the final four weeks of the season. In that time the Vikings were forced to play home games at Detroit's Ford Field and the University of Minnesota's TCF Bank Stadium following the roof collapse at Mall of America Field at the Metrodome in early December. Following the chaotic two weeks, the team experienced a two-day delay of a Sunday Night Football game at Philadelphia, playing a Tuesday night game instead and turning a routine road trip into a three-night extended stay.

The Vikings 2010 defense ended the season ranked #8 in the NFL, the third consecutive season the Vikings ranked in the top 10 in total defense for the first time since 1992-94. The unit scored touchdowns on turnovers in the final two games of the season on a fumble return and an interception return. Vikings DE Jared Allen led the team with 11.0 sacks and anchored a defensive line that allowed only 10 rushing TDs. Fellow defensive lineman DT Kevin Williams notched his sixth career Pro Bowl appearance, while LB Chad Greenway led the team for the second straight year with 149 tackles.

Offensively, the Vikings were stifled by injuries and started three quarterbacks during the season. RB Adrian Peterson continued to excel, gaining 1,298 yards on the ground and scoring 12 rushing TDs. His 1,298 yards rank as the 5th-highest total in team history, giving Peterson four of the top five yardage totals in Vikings annals. Peterson's 12 rushing TDs were tied as the 4th-most in the NFL, and his 52 career rushing TDs are now tied for the most in Vikings history. Peterson was honored with his fourth straight Pro Bowl appearance.

Prior to being named Interim Head Coach, Frazier served as the Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Coordinator for the team beginning in 2007. He played a key role in the team's consecutive NFC North titles and the most wins in the NFC over the 2008 and 2009 seasons (22). Frazier's defensive units have ranked in the top 10 in each of the last three seasons (#6 in 2008, #6 in 2009, #8 in 2010) while notching 162 sacks from 2007-10, the 5th-most of any NFL team during that time. Under Frazier, the Vikings defense allowed the 2nd-fewest rushing yards per game (85.1 avg.) and the 9th-fewest points per game (20.4 avg.) in the NFL over the last four years.

With the unique perspective of a Super Bowl winner as a player and a coach, Frazier has a proven track record of success. His first title came as a starting cornerback with the 1985 Chicago Bears in Super Bowl XX and he later won Super Bowl XLI as a defensive backs coach with the Indianapolis Colts. In his 12 seasons as an NFL coach, and with 11 years of collegiate experience prior to that, Frazier has suffered a losing season only twice - his first year with Philadelphia in 1999 and the Vikings 2010 season. He has coached on seven playoff teams in his 12 NFL seasons and has been a part of six division championships.

Frazier has also helped his players achieve at a high level and has now had four players earn NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors in the past four seasons. He has coached five players to 10 Pro Bowl appearances since joining the Vikings.

2009 Season

In 2009, the Vikings used a dynamic front line to continue their tradition of stopping the run and putting pressure on opposing quarterbacks. The unit ranked #2 in the NFL against the run after leading the league for the previous three seasons. The Vikings tied for the NFL lead by allowing only five rushing touchdowns, and the team's NFL-best 48 sacks were the 5th-most in team history. DE Jared Allen led the way with 14.5 sacks and was recognized - along with fellow defensive lineman DT Kevin Williams - as an Associated Press First Team All-Pro. Allen, Williams and CB Antoine Winfield were all named to the 2010 Pro Bowl.

2008 Season

The previous year, Frazier's unit ranked #6 in overall defense and #1 against the run, making the Vikings the first squad since the 1970 AFL/NFL merger to lead the league in rushing defense for three consecutive seasons (2006-08). The team's #6 rank in total defense was the highest since the 1994 seasons and was a 14-position swing from the #20 ranking in 2007. The dominant defensive line also showed prowess as pass rushers, with Allen tying for 5th in the NFL with 14.5 sacks and the team total of 45 sacks ranking 4th. The Vikings ranked 3rd in the NFL by allowing only a 33.5% conversion rate on third downs and were 5th in the NFL by allowing just 15.8 offensive points per game.

The 2008 squad featured four Pro Bowl players, including three defensive linemen with Jared Allen, Kevin Williams and DT Pat Williams. CB Antoine Winfield also earned his first trip to the all-star game.

2007 Season

In his debut season with the Vikings in '07, Frazier helped the Vikings maintain their dominance against the run as they posted the #1 rush defense in the NFL for the second straight year, allowing a mere 3.1 yards per carry. The unit gave up just 74.1 yards per game on the ground and allowed only one opposing running back to break the 100-yard mark.

Frazier's defense was opportunistic, scoring on six interception returns to tie a Vikings record and adding a pair of TDs on fumble recoveries. The Vikings six scores by interception returns ranked as the 5th-most in NFL history. The team scored on three INTs in a key road game against the N.Y. Giants to set a team record against the eventual Super Bowl XLII champions.

The Vikings defense responded to new faces and new positions with impressive performances in 2007. The team was led in tackles by E.J. Henderson's career-high 155 tackles in his first season playing middle linebacker since 2004. Henderson added career-bests in sacks (4.5) and tackles for a loss (14). The Vikings linebacking crew entered 2007 with only Ben Leber playing his same position from the previous year. One of the most impressive individual performances came from 2nd-year LB Chad Greenway, who missed his 2006 rookie season with a knee injury but came back in '07 to rank 2nd on the team with 130 tackles, lead the NFL with four fumble recoveries and have a pair of interceptions, including one that he returned for his first career TD.

Frazier Pre-Vikings

Frazier joined the Vikings after coaching defensive backs with the Indianapolis Colts and serving as Special Assistant to Head Coach Tony Dungy for two seasons (2005-06). The 2006 Colts defense clamped down on opponents throughout the playoff run that brought the franchise its first Super Bowl title since 1970. The team notched seven interceptions, eight sacks and recovered six fumbles in the postseason.

In his first season with Indianapolis in 2005, Frazier helped S Bob Sanders earn a Pro Bowl berth in his first season as a full-time starter. The Colts ranked 11th in the NFL in total defense after ranking 29th overall in 2004, going from 370.6 yards allowed per game to 307.1.

Prior to his tenure with Indianapolis, Frazier served as defensive coordinator with Cincinnati in 2003 and 2004, where he helped the Bengals go .500 in consecutive seasons for the first time in 12 years. Frazier's NFL coaching debut came in 1999, when he worked the Philadelphia Eagles defensive backs for three seasons. Under Frazier, CB Troy Vincent earned four Pro Bowl berths, S Brian Dawkins went to the game three times and Bobby Taylor appeared in the all-star game once. The trio all earned Pro Bowl recognition in 2002.

While with the Eagles, Frazier was a part of an impressive program-building project in Philadelphia that saw the team improve from a 5-11 record in 1999 to 11-5 in 2000, 11-5 in 2001 and 12-4 in 2002. The team advanced to the playoffs in each of the final three seasons Frazier was in Philadelphia, including winning the NFC East in 2001 and '02 and advancing to the NFC Championship game in both years.

Frazier spent 11 years coaching at the collegiate level before rejoining the NFL. In 1997 and '98, he worked with the defensive backs at Illinois on Ron Turner's staff, who Frazier would face 10 seasons later in the Super Bowl. The staff was part of an impressive rebuilding project, going 0-11 in 1997 before winning a bowl game in 1999.

Building programs was not unusual for Frazier. He started the Trinity College football program from the ground up, as the school fielded its first football team with Frazier as the head coach in 1988. Frazier turned the team into a winner, claiming Northern Illinois Intercollegiate Conference titles twice. Trinity named the football field in Frazier's honor in 1997 in tribute to his impact on the campus.

As a player, Frazier played for the Chicago Bears from 1981-86. He was a starting cornerback on the legendary Bears defense that keyed the Super Bowl XX win over New England, leading the Bears in interceptions in 1983, '84, and '85. During his career, which was cut short by a severe knee injury suffered in the Super Bowl, he had 20 INTs in 65 games, including two he returned for touchdowns.

As well as Frazier is known for his coaching abilities, he is also recognized for his community involvement off the field. Frazier works closely with All-Pro Dad, an organization that stresses the importance of fathers taking an active role in the lives of their children and putting family first, and he and his wife, Gale, continue to be involved in the Vikings community efforts.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING...

Indianapolis Colts Head Coach Jim Caldwell

Leslie Frazier is an outstanding person with wonderful character and the utmost integrity, and he is an excellent football coach. I have had a relationship with Leslie for years, and I really enjoyed the tenure we shared together on staff here in Indianapolis. Leslie is a very bright person who relates naturally with everyone in an organization, and with players and coaches in particular. He is rooted solidly in football in all technical aspects and principles of the game, and his nature is one that draws positive responses from everyone with whom he comes in contact. This is a very good choice for Minnesota, and I know all Vikings fans will respect and enjoy the team Leslie helps put on the field.

Former Indianapolis Colts Head Coach Tony Dungy

I see a guy who is very, very grounded, and his Christian faith is going to guide the way that he coaches. I think he's a very strong person in a lot of ways and especially when things are tough. He's a guy I believe the players are going to be able to count on and the assistant coaches (too). If people say they see some of me in him, I take that as a great compliment because I look at him and he's the type of person that I would want to be.

- Minneapolis Star Tribune, 11/23/10

Philadelphia Eagles Head Coach Andy Reid

Leslie is just a top-quality guy, man. A sharp, sharp football man. He's been interviewed for a lot of head coaching jobs because of the success he's had with the Vikings. I'm sure he'll do a nice job for them.

- CSNPhilly.com - 11/23/10

Former San Francisco 49ers Head Coach Mike Singletary

Les has been one of my best friends ever since we met as rookies in Chicago. I am so proud of him and know he will make the most of this opportunity. The Vikings have a quality human being of high character. Les is honest and hardworking, but I am sure the people in that organization already know that. The fans will get to see that in time, as well.

- Provided by the 49ers - 11/23/10

Minnesota Vikings DE Jared Allen

I'm very happy for Leslie to have this opportunity. He's a great coach and a great person. He provides an excellent work environment, he's determined to win, and as a former player, he relates to the guys in that locker room. That's all you can ask for.

Minnesota Vikings LB Chad Greenway

It's great news that Leslie got the job. Guys respond to him and he's got great respect in the locker room. Coach Frazier deserves this opportunity and I know he's going to make the most of it.

Minnesota Vikings WR Percy Harvin

Coach Frazier is the perfect fit for this team. This season and the last six weeks were tough on everyone but Coach Frazier did a great job in keeping us together. Now that we know he is leading this team it's on the players to get his back and go out and win him some ball games. I know the 2010 season just ended but I'm already looking forward to the 2011 Vikings.

Minnesota Vikings LG Steve Hutchinson

At the end of the season as interim coach he was well-respected by the team. Everyone in the locker room is confident in Leslie and you saw a renewed sense of urgency under him. Leslie has a track record as a player and at a championship level. He's won a Super Bowl as a coach as well. He knows what it takes to make those strides to get this team there.

Minnesota Vikings DT Kevin Williams

We're excited that Leslie is going to get the chance to be the head coach for the future. He's put in his time and worked his way up and showed what he could do already this year. He's a guy who can relate to how the players feel and what they're going through and that's important. He's been where we are and he's earned our trust.

MONDAY, JANUARY 3, 2011

Vikings Head Coach Leslie Frazier

Zygi Wilf: Thank you very much everyone for coming. This is a special day and a very good day for the Minnesota Vikings organization because today we are proud to announce that our new Head Coach is Leslie Frazier. He is a man who I have gotten to know over the last four years as defensive coordinator and even more important over the last six weeks and as you know how difficult the last six weeks have been for our team. Leslie led the way in getting our team motivated and working very hard to having our teammates on focus. He is a natural leader. He is respected by everybody. He has vast football experience, including championships both as a player and a coach. He has tremendous character and knowledge of our players. Most important, we were very fortunate to have him on our staff and that he is the best man for the job. I would like to introduce to you, our new Head Coach, Leslie Frazier.

Leslie Frazier: Thank you Zygi and Mark. In the four years that I have been here I have enjoyed the relationship that I have had with both Mark and Zygi and the entire Wilf family. They have been so supportive of me and my family. I just think back to this summer and my daughter who is a student in graduate school in New York. New city, new environment and I am wondering all along whether or not to let her go to graduate school in New York and while I'm there I get a chance to communicate with Mark and Zygi, and they told me, 'Leslie, don't worry. Anything she needs, we're just a phone call away. She's just like family.' That meant a lot to me. I don't know how many of you have kids, but that was special. That's the only daughter I have and for them to say that; they have followed through on that. They have been very, very supportive and I am so thankful for them not only as our owners but as friends as well. This is a great day for me and my family. There have been many days where I have thought about one day becoming a head coach in the National Football League. The many places I have had a chance to talk to, to different owners and different organizations about their positions, for it to happen in Minnesota, this is a dream come true. I could have never foreseen my being in this role in Minnesota. I wanted to bring a championship here in a different capacity and to stand here today as the head football coach of the Minnesota Vikings, it's a very humbling moment for me. Great organization. Passionate fans. The best fans in the National Football League as far as I am concerned. We won a lot of games in that Metrodome because of our fans. We have had some very good players, there's no question about it, but our fan base is as passionate as any in the National Football League. So to now stand before you as the head coach of the Minnesota Vikings, my desire, my hunger to bring a world championship here has increased exponentially. That's where my focus is and that's what I want to see happen for our organization and for our fans. I am so very, very grateful for this opportunity and for the confidence that the Wilf family has entrusted in me. I am very, very grateful for it. I am proud of our players, the way they battled over these last six weeks, trying to make things happen, never giving up and always fighting through adversity and being as resilient as any group I have ever been around. Just so proud of them. This is special day for a lot of reasons. I couldn't think of a situation I would rather be in than the one I am currently in. Sometimes in life you have dreams, you have aspirations and sometimes you achieve those and sometimes you fall short, but for me this is a dream come true. And to be doing it in a place where I am very familiar with the surroundings, very familiar with how we operate, you couldn't ask for a better situation, which makes me believe that it's only a matter of time before we deliver what our fans and this organization deserves, a World Championship. I believe that's going to happen. I believe it in my heart. I am looking forward to getting started with the process, although in some ways I feel like the last six weeks has kind of begun to prepare me for what's ahead. I have learned a lot in these last six weeks that I think is going to be a large part of the success that we will have in the future. I think we will be able to look back at these last six weeks and say, 'You know what, that was the beginning of something special.' Today is a special day, not only for me, but I really believe for our Vikings fans as well. Thank you Mark and Zygi, thank you.

Q: Was there a point when you began to question if this day would come, not just here but with a team at all?

A: There were moments where I never really doubted the day would come, I just wasn't certain of where it would be. I always believed that if a door was shut, that was going to be the right place for me at the right moment. I just wasn't certain when that would be. I always believed that it would happen. Whenever it would happen, it was going to be the perfect situation for me. This is the perfect situation for me. There is no doubt in my mind about it. The way our situation is set up here, I couldn't have drawn it up any better. Just my comfort level with how we do things, the players on our team, just knowing the inner-workings of how we do things, it gives me a head start on a lot of things as opposed to coming into a new organization right about now and having to learn that organization in the offseason, I get a jump-start because of my history here in Minnesota, so this is the perfect situation.

Q: When did you know that this was really going to happen here?

A: From the day that Zygi and Mark asked me to step into that role of interim head coach, some of the advice I got from different people was, 'Don't look at it as an interim, look at it as if you are the head coach of the Minnesota Vikings and approach it that way.' And that's the way I began to do it from day one. You are the head coach of the Minnesota Vikings, make decisions based on that fact. From that point on, that's the way I approached it, every single day never looking at it as an interim, but you are the head coach of the Minnesota Vikings, make decisions based on that. So, from that point on that's how I have done it and haven't looked back.

Q: Could you enlighten us on the list of things you want to change?

A: Well one of the things that we will do soon after this press conference is sit down as an organization and I will get with our personnel people as well as our coaches and we will begin to go through some of the things that need to happen in order for us to get back to NFC North Champs and becoming NFC Champs along with winning a Super Bowl. So, we are going to get together and talk about that internally, but there are definitely some things we will have to move forward on to get back to where we were.

Q: How do you plan to address your assistant coaching situation?

A: We are going to get together with our staff and discuss everybody's role. One of the things you want to be able to do in this role that I am in, is look at everything from top to bottom and try to figure out, what do we have to do to not be in the situation we ended up in this season? That's one of the things I mentioned to our team, in our team meeting this morning. Every single guy, go back, do a little personal inventory, what do you have to do to help us be a successful team next season? I have got to be able to do the same thing, go back and look at our staff and just ascertain, what's the best thing to do going forward? We will figure out what's best. We've got a great staff. We've got a lot of good guys on our staff and we are going to try and make this work.

Q: What's your early assessment on your quarterback situation going forward?

A: We are really pleased; I think we all are pleased with the way Joe Webb performed for us in the last couple games for sure. To play as well as he did and to have one turnover in two starts, that's big. It's a position like all of the positions that we will have to evaluate over the rest of this offseason and make sure we are putting together the best 53 that gives us a chance to be successful next fall. It will be a part of the evaluation process.

Q: In your mind, is Brett Favre definitely done?

A: In my mind in all of my conversations with him, with Brett sometimes you want to say, 'Never is never.'

Q: Are you going to ask him to return at any point?

A: I cannot think of any circumstance where I would pick up the phone and say, 'Brett, do you want to come back next season?' I cannot think of any circumstance where that would occur, at all.

Q: Do you know what kind of offense that you would like to run?

A: I have been a part of the West Coast system here and other places as well. It's a very good system, but the one thing I want to be able to do is, as mentioned before with our personnel, I want to do the same thing with our offense, with our defense, with our special teams, just to sit back and evaluate where we are right now and what's best for us going forward based on the personnel that we have. I don't want to be married to anything today. I want to open it up and just make sure we are doing the right thing that ensures we have a great chance of being successful next fall.

Q: How different will the locker room be next year?

A: It'll be dramatically different. We do have a number of free agents, but that's not any different than most teams in the National Football League. You go through an evolution almost every season it seems with roster changes. We're not going to be a whole lot different than some teams although we have a high number of free agents. We've just got to make sure that we do the right things with acquiring the right people and then re-signing the guys that we want to re-sign. We're not a whole lot different than some teams who have similar situations.

Q: How much input and control will you have over the roster?

A: One of the good things about our situation here, I get a chance to work with Rick Spielman, who I have a ton of respect for when it comes to personnel. In the last six weeks I've had a chance to work more closely with him. I just feel like with his knowledge of personnel around our league and also on the collegiate level, our personnel department is in great hands. My input will be more with our current roster, what he and I discuss what's best for us as we go forward. I don't foresee any hang-ups in that regard.

Q: Do you have final say on the 53-man roster?

A: One of the things that we talked about today and even last night was just making sure that we always communicate as a group regarding our 53-man roster. Just trusting that between myself and Rick that we'll be able to settle on the right 53 for our football team. I have complete confidence that we can get that done. My confidence is bolstered by the relationship over the last six weeks. It was one thing working with him as a defensive coordinator but now working with him in the role that I've been in, I've seen the fact that we can work together, we can come to conclusions without harming our organization.

Q: How much does the lockout affect your plans going forward?

A: One of the things about the CBA being in flux right now is it changes everything for everybody. We'll kind of have to wait and see what happens in that regard. We've got some plans and some ideas about what direction to go, but until we get some dates a lot of things are going to have to be on hold throughout our league.

Q: What is the identity that you want the Vikings to have?

A: I think you really began to see it take shape over these last six games. We really want to be able to run the football. We showed signs of being able to do that. Trying to be a dominant run team; I think our numbers were up dramatically in some of our games when we wanted to run the football. I think there were 30-plus runs two or three times in that six-game span. That's what we want to be. We want to be able to feature the No. 1 running back in the National Football League, Adrian Peterson, there's no question about that in my mind, and then be able to utilize the tremendous talent we have on the outside. We want to be a run-first team and be able to set up things off our run game. On defense, same deal; get back to being a top run defense. If we can do that, dominate the line of scrimmage on both sides, we're heading in the right direction from an offensive and defensive standpoint. Then just being aggressive on special teams, being able to take it to people and out-physical them. Our mantra's not a whole lot different than it was six weeks ago when I took over this role: stop the run, run the football, don't turn the football over, take the football away. That's what we want to be able to do and then minimize the penalties, in particular the procedure penalties.

Q: What have you learned from going through the past six weeks as the interim head coach?

A: As you know, these six weeks have been unprecedented in some ways, in particular the previous three weeks. So I've had to learn even more so about adversity than I thought. I thought I had a good handle on it, but there were some moments that you had to say, 'Wow, I don't think this has ever happened before.' I think I learned a little bit more about resiliency in people, just being able to see how our players responded to some things and just the fact that you can believe in people and not have to always be on guard to whether or not they're going to respond to adversity. Just seeing our players stay together in the midst of some trying situations and just continue to fight the way they fought, that was a learning lesson for me. As I was standing up in front of them and talking to them about how we have to approach every situation and I'm not always sure that they're buying in. And they you watch them go out and perform and you go, 'Yeah, they're buying in. They're listening.' So for me, that was just another example of sticking with your message, believing in what you say, and if you're honest and straightforward, people will follow.

Q: Is this team in a position that you can have a developing QB, or do you need a veteran QB to come in?

A: That's one of the things that we're going to have to determine in the weeks to come. Can we develop a young guy and get what we want? We don't want to be a team that's hovering around 4-12, 3-13. You don't want to be that. At the same time, you don't want to bring in a stop-gap guy and not develop a young guy for the future. We need to sit down and we've got to go through all that and make a determination whether or not to go with a veteran guy or do we need to bring in a young guy. I think we all want a young quarterback that we can develop and build our franchise around. That would be ideal, to find the next Matt Ryan or Joe Flacco. That would be ideal. We'll sit down and discuss that.

Q: What are your thoughts on your two coordinator positions?

A: I really like our coaches as I mentioned before. I'm going to sit down with all of our coaches, probably tomorrow or the next day, and just discuss roles, talk about going forward; what's the best way for us to approach things to give us the best chance to be successful. We'll get that defined in the next couple days.

Q: Do you see your roster as a rebuilding project or do you feel like you can be a contender right away?

A: One of the things that gets me excited about my job here in Minnesota is that I don't think we're that far away. I really believe that there's some things, that if we address them this offseason, we're right back in the hunt for the NFC North Championship and the NFC Championship as well. I really believe that in my heart just knowing our roster, knowing our division and what you have to do to win in our division. I don't think we're depleted. Obviously there are some people that we want to be able to retain. Our roster's going to turn over, there's no question about it. But we're not that far away.

Q: Did this team take some things for granted? Is there one or two things that you can point at that went wrong?

A: One of the things that we want to make sure depending on when the offseason begins is we want to approach the offseason the right way. But for us, there were a myriad of things that affected us this season. Not any one thing, but a number of things. I really believe that we need to attack the offseason the correct way, with our attendance, our involvement. That's going to be important. Then the way we approach training camp as well. Those factors are going to be key to what happens in the regular season. For this 2010 season, I don't think you can put your finger on one or two things and say that's why this team didn't achieve what most expected. There were just a lot of things that occurred.

Q: Does this team need to get younger?

A: We're going to lose some key veterans for a number of different reasons, just like every team will this time of year. We've got some young talent in key areas and we want to continue to develop them. You're never opposed to bringing in the right young guys at key positions. In our league, competition is everything and we want competition at every position. That's what we're going to aim for, and that may mean some young players competing with veterans for jobs.

Q: How important will it be for guys attending OTAs?

A: When I talked with our team this morning I talked about something similar to what you just mentioned. We really want to be all-inclusive. We want to be team-first. That means some guys are going to have to sacrifice some things this offseason to be a part of the team. I'm hoping that the things we talked about this morning, guys won't renege on those. I think it's important for our future success, but our offseason program, our offseason training is extremely important.

Q: How important were the things you did behind the scenes, opposed to what actually happened in some of the games?

A: I've got to think it factored in there some there with some of the things that we faced. Mark and Zygi could probably answer that better than I could, but you have to believe that some of the things that we dealt with and the way they were handled factored in to the decision. I credit our players, I credit some of the people that supported me during the things that we went through in our organization. For instance, trying to find out where we were going to play the week we played the Bears. We didn't know right up until Thursday or Friday where we were going to play the game, but the people in our organization were working diligently behind the scenes to get things in place to let us know where we were going to play, and if it was going to be played in Minnesota. The same thing when we were in Philadelphia. I had great support from different people giving me information so I could make good decisions. A combination of the people that were surrounding me probably as much as anything helped me to stand where I am today.

Q: How much credibility with players do you gain from playing in the NFL?

A: It's been huge. It gives me instant credibility with our players. They know I've sat in the same type of meetings that they have. I've played in the same conditions that they've played in. I've been through the ups and downs that they've faced. It gives me tremendous credibility. That being said, if you don't follow through on certain things, you can lose your credibility [at the snap of a finger]. It definitely makes a difference.

DOME FIELD ADVANTAGE

The Vikings finished 4-2 at Mall of America Field in 2010 (missed two games due to roof collapse) and are 18-4 at the stadium since the start of the 2008 season (finished 8-0 in 2009). The team now has a combined record of 156-81-0 (.657) all-time at Mall of America Field, which includes a 7-5 mark in post-season games. The 8-0 home record in '09 was just the 3rd in team history (1998, 1989) at Mall of America Field and it marked just the 8th time the team had finished with an undefeated home record.

The team has never been shut out at the current stadium and hasn't been shut out at a home stadium since 10/7/62, when they lost 13-0 to Chicago at Met Stadium.

VIKINGS 2010 CAPTAINS

The five Vikings team captains in 2010 were the same group of players that fulfilled the role a season ago when the squad went 12-4 and won a second consecutive NFC North title.

Offensive captains were QB Brett Favre and LG Steve Hutchinson. Defensive captains were LB E.J. Henderson and DT Kevin Williams and the special teams captain was K Ryan Longwell.

The five captains have a combined 60 years of NFL experience and 24 Pro Bowls. Favre leads the way in both categories, with 11 Pro Bowls to his name and with 2010 being his 20th NFL season. Hutchinson has 10 years of experience and seven Pro Bowls, Williams has eight years of experience and six Pro Bowls, Longwell has 14 years of experience while Henderson has eight years.

VIKINGS NAME GRIFFIN ED BLOCK WINNER

The Vikings named CB Cedric Griffin the 2010 Ed Block Courage Award recipient. After suffering a significant knee injury in last January's NFC Championship Game, Griffin spent the offseason tirelessly working to return to the field at the start of the 2010 regular season. During his grueling recovery, Griffin embodied the spirit of the Ed Block Courage Award. His positive approach, goal-setting mentality and strong work ethic were examples of how attitude can help during the healing process. Never discouraged throughout the months of rehab, Griffin served as a major support system to teammates who were also coming back from injury. His tireless effort was inspirational to the entire team and staff.

As a result of his effort, Griffin started against the Detroit Lions and at the New York Jets during the third and fourth weeks of the 2010 regular season. He notched nine tackles and four passes defended before suffering a season-ending injury in the Jets game. He was placed on Injured Reserve on October 13, 2010, and has been diligently rehabbing for a return in 2011.

Since joining the Vikings as a 2nd-round pick (48th overall) in the 2006 NFL Draft, Griffin has played in 64 career games (67 including playoffs), including 56 starts. He has seven interceptions and ranks 3rd in team history for forced fumbles by a defensive back with 10.

VIKINGS SEND TWO TO 2010 PRO BOWL

The Vikings will send one player from each side of the ball - RB Adrian Peterson and DT Kevin Williams - to the 2010 Pro Bowl.

For Peterson, it will be his fourth-consecutive appearance in the all-star game after finishing 2010 with 1,298 rushing yards and 12 touchdowns. In his four NFL seasons, he has rushed for 5,782 yards and 52 touchdowns. His 52 scores are tied for the most in Vikings history, and he ranks 3rd in team history for career rushing yards. Only five players in NFL history have rushed for more yards in their first four NFL seasons than Peterson's 5,782 and just four players had more rushing TDs.

Williams will appear in the Pro Bowl for the fifth-straight season and the sixth time in his eight-year career. He had only one sack in 2010 but finished with 65 tackles, nine tackles for loss, seven passes defended and one forced fumble while starting all 16 games. Williams has 49 1/2 sacks in his career, the most among defensive tackles in the NFL since he entered in 2003.

WILLIAMS FINALIST FOR NFL MAN OF THE YEAR

Vikings S Madieu Williams was recently named one of three finalists for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year award. The winner will be announced during Super Bowl week.

Madieu has stood out for the impact he has made locally, nationally and globally. Locally, Madieu has worked with the North Community YMCA, United Way and Harvest Prep/Seed Academy and provides season tickets for the kids in his "Dieu's Crew" program. Williams also hosted a free football camp in Maryland this past summer and continues to support the Cincinnati area. Globally, Madieu made a $2 million donation to create the Madieu Williams Center for Global Health at the University of Maryland. The center will address public health issues for Prince George's County and Serra Leone - where Madieu was born. Madieu has already built a primary school there and is now building a secondary school. His foundation sponsored a mission to Sierra Leone that brought teachers, surgeons and dentists to help educate the teachers at his school, give free dental cleaners to all students and provide free surgeries.

SELLOUT STREAK CONTINUES

The Vikings currently have a sellout streak of 134 preseason, regular season and post-season games at Mall of America Field. The team's sellout streak dates back to the beginning of the 1998 season. The Vikings now have a combined record of 156-81-0 (.657) all-time at Mall of America Field, including a 7-5 mark in playoff games.

TEAM NAMES 50 GREATEST VIKINGS

As part of the final celebration of the Minnesota Vikings 50th season, the team unveiled the 50 Greatest Vikings during the “Minnesota Vikings: Celebrating 50 Seasons” event on December 19. The live event at the Minneapolis Convention Center included appearances by more than 45 of the final 50, making it the largest collection of former Vikings players under one roof.

The 50 Greatest Vikings list included five current Vikings (Jared Allen, Steve Hutchinson, Adrian Peterson, Kevin Williams, and Antoine Winfield) and nine members of the team's last outdoor home game (Matt Blair, Bud Grant, Tim Irwin, Tommy Kramer, Ahmad Rashad, Jeff Siemon, Scott Studwell, Sammy White, and Ron Yary), which took place on December 20, 1981 – 29 years to the date of the Vikings outdoor home game at TCF Bank Stadium took place against the Chicago Bears (December 20, 2010).

Undrafted Doesn't Mean Undeserving

For many NFL players, not being selected in the seven rounds of the annual draft is extra motivation to prove their worth. The Vikings currently have several undrafted players on the roster, the most notable of which include 3-time Pro Bowl DT Pat Williams, who was a rookie free agent with Buffalo in 1997 before moving into a starting role with the Bills in 2000, and K Ryan Longwell, who was signed by San Francisco in 1997.

The Vikings have signed many undrafted rookies that have been molded into key players, including LS Cullen Loeffler and starting G Anthony Herrera in 2004, LB Heath Farwell, who was injured throughout 2008, in '05, S Husain Abdullah, LB Erin Henderson, and RB Albert Young in '08 and rookie C Jon Cooper in '09. Abdullah became a starter this year while Cooper has filled in on occasion when C John Sullivan has been injured.

Several other Vikings began their NFL careers as undrafted rookies before joining the Vikings. WR Greg Lewis (Eagles), P Chris Kluwe (Seahawks) and FB Naufahu Tahī (Bengals) all began as rookie free agents. Vikings LB Kenny Onatolu spent his first two years out of college in the CFL. The Vikings most notable all-time undrafted players include Ring of Honor inductees John Randle and Mick Tingelhoff.

International Vikings

- * WR Bernard Berrian, whose parents are retired from the U.S. Air Force, was born in Spain.
- * G Anthony Herrera was born in Trinidad before emigrating to the United States as a child, arriving in Florida on his 14th birthday. Herrera became a U.S. citizen in the spring of 2008.
- * S Madiou Williams is a native of Sierra Leone. He moved to Maryland with his family at age nine.
- * TE Visanthe Shiancoe was born in Birmingham, England.

Vikings Build Team for Long-Term Success

The Vikings built a deep and talented roster for the 2010 season through the draft, free agency and trades. The team had 12 former Pro Bowlers on the roster, five of which were original draft picks of the Vikings (Percy Harvin, Bryant McKinnie, Adrian Peterson, Sidney Rice and Kevin Williams). The team had signed six Pro Bowlers as free agents (Heath Farwell, Brett Favre, Steve Hutchinson, Lito Sheppard, Pat Williams and Antoine Winfield) and acquired one by trade (Jared Allen).

The team had four members of the 2010 draft class start a game at some point during the season (CB Chris Cook, G Chris DeGeare, RB Toby Gerhart, QB Joe Webb).

The team had 12 players who had earned 19 NFC Player of the Week honors, including three in 2010.

Dressed to Impress

Seven players on the current Vikings roster have started at least 90% of the regular season NFL games they have been active for (at least 50 career games), including two that have remarkably opened every game in which they've played.

MINNESOTA VIKINGS

CROSSING THE BORDER

In 2009, Vikings fans witnessed the unimaginable, as longtime Green Bay Packers QB Brett Favre signed a two-year deal with Minnesota, bringing one of the biggest sports border rivalries to even greater heights.

As if the signing itself wasn't exciting enough, Favre went on to turn in his best single-season performance in 2009, completing 363 of his 531 passes (68.4%) for 4,202 yards and 33 TDs. He threw just seven INTs, tied for the lowest total in the NFL and for his career, and his 107.2 passer rating was also a career high and the 2nd-highest in the NFL. Favre's 68.4 completion percentage, another career high, ranked as the 2nd-highest in a Vikings single-season (Culpepper-69.2%-2004), and his +26 TD/INT ratio was the best in the league.

After debating retirement during the offseason, Favre returned to the team on August 17, 2010 for his 20th NFL season. He threw for 2,509 yards and 11 TDs this season with a 60.6 % completion rate. Favre missed the N.Y. Giants game in Week 14 due to injury, breaking his streak of 297 consecutive starts.

In his 20 NFL seasons, Favre was voted to the Pro Bowl 11 times. He endured only two losing seasons, took the Packers to two Super Bowls (winning one) and made 11 playoff appearances.

Favre's numbers over the years speak for themselves:

- * Was named MVP of the NFL for three consecutive seasons (1995-97) and has been selected to 11 Pro Bowls.
- * Started 297 consecutive games (321 including playoffs) for Green Bay, N.Y. Jets and Minnesota, the longest stretch ever among all players, breaking Jim Marshall's (Vikings) previous record of 270.
- * Holds every significant NFL career passing record and is the league's all-time leader in TD passes (508), completions (6,300), attempts (10,169), yards (71,838), and victories as a starting QB (186).
- * Had 46 career game-winning comebacks (4th quarter deficit or tie, including playoffs; 43 in the regular season).
- * Had 62 career 300-yard passing games.
- * Holds NFL records for most consecutive seasons with 3,000+ yards passing (18) and overall seasons with 3,000+ yards passing (18) overall season.
- * Surpassed the 4,000-yard passing mark six times during his career.

FAVRE FUELS CLASSIC COMEBACK

Favre directed a pair of TD drives in the final 4:39 of the Vikings game vs. Arizona (11/7/10) to tie the game 24-24 and force overtime, then drove the team into field goal range in overtime to set up K Ryan Longwell's 35-yard game-winner. Favre was seven-of-seven passing for the final two drives of regulation and the OT drive, throwing for 141 yards and the game-tying TD to Visanthe Shiancoe with :27 left in the game.

Favre set a career-best with 446 passing yards in the Arizona game and brought the Vikings back from the biggest deficit so late in the 4th quarter in team history - 14 points in the final four minutes.

The Vikings win over Arizona snapped a four-game OT losing streak by the team, three regular season games and the 2009 NFC Championship game.
