► 104th Season of Basketball

Duke is entering its 104th season of basketball in 2008-09. The Blue Devils have compiled a 1,846-808 record to rank fourth all-time in victories.

► Duke Names Tri-Captains for 2008-09

The Blue Devils selected three captains for the 2008-09 season. Senior Greg Paulus was named captain for the second time after serving as a team captain for the 2006-07 season. Juniors Gerald Henderson and Jon Scheyer will join Paulus as captains on the team this season.

► Blue Devils Return 11 Letterwinners

With the loss of only one starter and two letterwinners, Duke returns the bulk of its squad from a year ago. The 14-man roster features 11 returning letterwinners, including four starters. Seniors Greg Paulus, David McClure and Jordan Davidson along with juniors Gerald Henderson, Martynas Pocius, Jon Scheyer, Lance Thomas and Brian Zoubek give Duke eight upperclassmen. The roster also features six talented underclassmen as Kyle Singler, Nolan Smith and Steve Johnson return for their sophomore seasons and the Blue Devils welcome freshmen Olek Czyz, Miles Plumlee and Elliot Williams.

The group of 11 returning players helped Duke to a 28-6 record in 2007-08, including a 13-3 mark in ACC play. The Blue Devils were a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament, the 13th straight season they have made the NCAA Tournament.

The talent level remains abundant on the current squad, as it features eight players who earned prep All-America recognition, including seven who competed as McDonald's All-Americans.

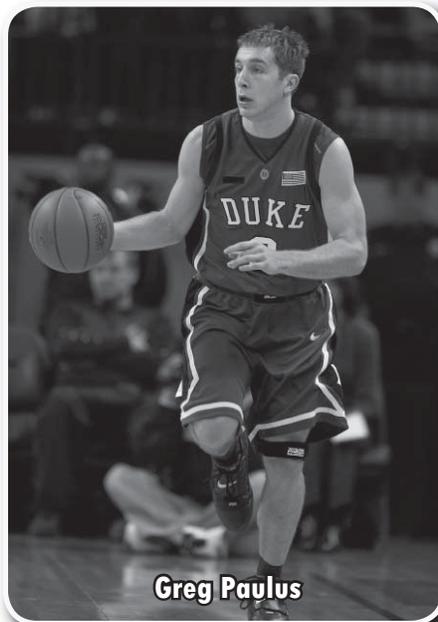

► Strong Guard Play for Duke

The Blue Devils' backcourt is among the top returning units in the country. Two starters return from a year ago as Greg Paulus and Gerald Henderson each started in 33 of the 34 games.

Paulus averaged 11.4 points, 2.1 rebounds, 3.2 assists and 1.5 steals per game in his third year as the starting point guard. He was named to the All-ACC third team and also received ESPN the Magazine Academic All-America honors last season. He was fourth in the ACC with 2.44 three-point field goals per game and third with a 1.98:1 assist-to-turnover ratio. Henderson became a full-time starter in his sophomore season and averaged 12.7 points, 4.7 rebounds, 1.6 assists, 1.1 steals and 0.9 blocks per game. He ranked 20th in the ACC in scoring average and was the team leader with 31 blocks on the season.

Duke's top player off the bench in 2007-08, Jon Scheyer, brings plenty of experience to the backcourt. Despite coming off the bench, Scheyer was third on the team with 28.3 minutes per game. He averaged 11.7 points, 3.9 rebounds, 2.4 assists and 1.4 steals per game. He was also one of the top free throw shooters in the conference, ranking second (.889) with 120 made free throws in 135 attempts. Sophomore point guard Nolan Smith is coming off a good freshman season in which he averaged 5.9 points, 1.5 rebounds and 1.3 assists per game. Junior Martynas Pocius also returns after his 2007-08 season was cut short by an ankle injury. Senior Jordan Davidson played in 13 games last season.

Freshman Elliot Williams, a Memphis, Tenn., native is expected to make an immediate impact for the Blue Devils. Williams was a McDonald's All-America selection out of St. George's High School.

► More Depth Inside for Duke

The two frontline starters from last season are back for another year at Duke in 2008-09. Junior Lance Thomas and sophomore Kyle Singler each return after gaining valuable starting experience a season ago. Thomas started 28 of the 32 games he played in. He averaged 4.3 points and 3.3 rebounds per game while shooting 50.5 percent from the field. Singler was named ACC Rookie of the Year and was a third team All-ACC selection. He was one of the Blue Devils' top players, leading the team with 5.8 rebounds per game and ranking second with 13.3 points per game. He also averaged 1.4 assists and 1.1 steals per game. Singler ranked among the ACC leaders in scoring (17th) and rebounding (16th).

Senior David McClure enters his final season with the Duke program. As a junior he played in 30 games with four starts. He averaged 1.0 points and 1.9 rebounds per game off the bench. The 7'1", 280-pound junior Brian Zoubek also returns as a presence in the low post. He averaged 3.8 points and 3.4 rebounds per game while leading the team with a .594 field goal percentage. His time was limited due to a foot injury last season but he played in 25 games. Sophomore Steve Johnson, who redshirted last season, is also a returner on the front line for the Blue Devils.

Two freshmen will look to contribute inside for Duke. Miles Plumlee, a Warsaw, Ind., native who played at the Christ School in North Carolina, is 6'10" and weighs 230 pounds. Olek Czyz comes from Reno High School in Reno, Nev. He is 6'7" and weighs 240 pounds.

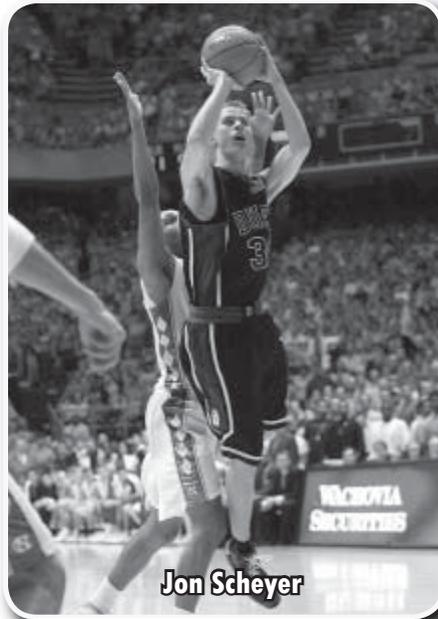

► 1,000 Point Scorers

Senior point guard Greg Paulus became Duke's 56th 1,000-point scorer last season in the NCAA Tournament. Paulus and DeMarcus Nelson each recorded their 1,000th career point last season. Paulus currently ranks 54th all-time at Duke with 1,017 career points.

Juniors Jon Scheyer and Gerald Henderson each have a chance to add their names to the prestigious list of 1,000-point scorers this season. Scheyer enters the year with 799 career points and needs 201 to reach the mark. Henderson is 348 points shy as he has 652 career points.

► ACC Active Assist Leader

Greg Paulus enters his senior season as the league's active leader with 420 career assists. He is on pace to finish his career in the Duke top-10 for career assists. He currently ranks 11th all-time and needs 13 assists to tie Jeff Capel for 10th on the career charts. Paulus also enters 2008-09 ranked seventh among active players in the ACC in scoring with 1,071 career points.

► High Scoring Offense

Last season, Duke averaged 83.2 points per game to rank second in the ACC and fourth nationally in scoring offense. The Blue Devils scored over 100 points twice, 90 or more points nine times and 80 or more points 20 times.

Duke was one of the top three-point shooting teams in the country, which contributed to the high points totals. The Blue Devils led the ACC with 9.1 treys per game and were second with a .377 three-point field goal percentage. Nationally, Duke was 18th in three-point field goals per game.

The bulk of the scoring load returns for the 2008-09 season. Five of the six top scorers return with four returners averaging in double figures last season. In all the returning players accounted for 76 percent of last year's scoring.

► Balanced Scoring

The scoring attack from the Blue Devils came from all different angles in 2007-08 with five different players averaging in double figures.

The Blue Devils had five or more players score in double figures in 12 games last season. It was tied for the seventh most by any Duke team.

It wasn't only the starters who accounted for the Blue Devils' scoring offense. The bench produced 916 points on the year, an average of 26.9 points per game. A bench player scored in double figures 37 times with a school record six 20-point efforts. Jon Scheyer led the team's bench production with an average of 11.7 points per game. He posted 22 games in double figures last season off the bench.

► Devilish Defense

The Blue Devils' pressure defense helped lead to a high-powered offense in 2007-08 and with a deep bench Duke will look to apply similar pressure this year.

Duke will have to replace DeMarcus Nelson, who was the ACC Defensive Player of the Year a year ago, but still returns four players who averaged over one steal per game in 2007-08. As a team last season, the Blue Devils were second in the ACC with 8.7 steals per game and tied for fourth in scoring defense, allowing only 69.4 points per game.

Overall, the Blue Devils recorded 10 or more steals in a game 17 times, tying for the fifth most in a single season by a Duke squad. Of those 17 games with 10 or more steals, 10 came in conference play, matching the school record from 2005-06.

The Blue Devils forced 20 or more turnovers in 14 games last season. Opponents had more turnovers than assists in 29 of the 34 games.

► Staff Changes

The Duke basketball staff went through some changes following last season. Steve Wojciechowski and Chris Collins were promoted to Associate Head Coaches after Johnny Dawkins left to become the head coach at Stanford. Replacing Dawkins on staff is former Blue Devil Nate James.

Also leaving for Stanford was Duke's Director of Basketball Operations, Mike Schrage. Chris Spatola was promoted to the position from graduate assistant coach, while Chris Carrawell was hired for that role. The Blue Devils also added a new video coordinator position, hiring former student manager Kevin Cullen.

► Sustained Success

Duke has won 20 or more games 43 times in its 103 years of basketball. Including its 28-6 mark a year ago, Duke has won at least 20 games for 12 consecutive seasons.

► Duke in Elite Victory Club

Duke is one of just four schools in NCAA history to have earned at least 1,800 all-time victories. Now with 1,846 wins, the Blue Devils join Kentucky (1,966), North Carolina (1,950) and Kansas (1,943) as members of the prestigious 1,800-win club.

► New Century, Similar Result

With 261 victories in the decade, Duke has the most wins by any program in the nation since the 1999-2000 season. Included in that record are two trips to the Final Four (2001 and 2004) and a national championship in 2001. This decade has been the best in terms of winning percentage for the Blue Devils (.826).

► Moving Up the Victory Ladder

Mike Krzyzewski is one of just six coaches in Division I history to reach 800 career wins. His 803 wins rank tied for fifth among college basketball's victory leaders and first among active coaches. With 730 victories as the Duke head coach, Krzyzewski is also one of just eight coaches to win at least 700 games at one school.

► First and Foremost

Duke has been ranked No. 1 in the nation (Associated Press poll) a total of 110 weeks, the second-highest figure in college basketball history behind only UCLA (134). Duke's total of 110 weeks ranked No. 1 is 14 more weeks than the next closest ACC school (North Carolina, 96). In fact, the remaining 11 ACC Schools have been ranked No. 1 a combined 124 times, just 14 more weeks at No. 1 than the Blue Devils.

► NCAA History

With its continued success during March Madness, Duke is piling up impressive NCAA Tournament numbers. Duke, which made its 32nd NCAA Tournament appearance last season, has been one of the best NCAA Tournament teams in the history of college basketball. The Blue Devils' .748 winning percentage (86-29) in NCAA Tournament play is the best all-time. Duke's 86 NCAA Tournament victories and 115 NCAA Tournament games rank fourth in NCAA history.

In 2008, the Blue Devils made their 13th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and 24th in the last 25 seasons under Mike Krzyzewski.

► ACC History

The Blue Devils have won seven of the past 10 ACC Tournament championships. Overall, Duke has posted an 81-39 record (.675) in the ACC Tournament. Duke has won 16 league championships, the second highest championship total in the league. Duke's league tournament titles came in 1960, 1963, 1964, 1966, 1978, 1980, 1986, 1988, 1992, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2005 and 2006.

Under head coach Mike Krzyzewski, Duke is 43-17 in the ACC Tournament. Coach K's Blue Devils have won 10 ACC Tournament titles (1986, 1988, 1992, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2005 and 2006). Coach K is one of only two of the 12 ACC head coaches to have earned two or more league championships.

► ACC Dominance

Duke has dominated the ACC regular season like no other program during the past 12 seasons. The Blue Devils have won 154 league games (29 games ahead of the next team) — an average of nearly 13 wins per year, seven regular season ACC championships and seven of the past 10 ACC Tournament titles (1999-2003, 2005-06). In 2003, Duke became the first team in league history to win five straight ACC Tournament championships.

Winning seasons, superb graduation rates for his players and a basketball team that is as close as family are all attributes that reflect on the man who is now in his 29th year as the head coach of the Blue Devils, Mike Krzyzewski.

Although some still stumble with pronouncing and spelling his name, when people speak of the highest level of success in the college basketball world, the name Krzyzewski (Shafef-skee) immediately comes to mind.

In 28 years at Duke, Krzyzewski, a Hall of Fame coach and 12-time National Coach of the Year, has built a dynasty that few programs in the history of the game can match.

The numbers under Coach K are staggering:

- Three national championships (1991, 1992, 2001)
- 12 National Coach of the Year honors (eight seasons)
- Seven National Players of the Year (nine honors)
- Six National Defensive Players of the Year (nine honors)
- 24 NCAA Tournament bids
- 20 All-America selections (34 honors)
- 10 Final Four appearances (third all-time)
- 11 ACC regular season championships
- 10 ACC Tournament championships
- 730 total victories (285 ACC wins)
- 410 weeks ranked among the nation's top 25 teams
- 348 weeks ranked among the nation's top 10 teams
- 92 weeks ranked No. 1 in the country
- 69 NCAA Tournament victories (first all-time)
- 39 NBA Draft selections, including 20 in the first round
- 14 NBA Lottery picks

Entering the 2008-09 season, Coach K owns an 803-267 career record in 33 years of coaching while attaining a 730-208 mark in 28 seasons in Durham.

Krzyzewski's record as Duke's all-time winningest coach offers evidence of his success, but even more impressive are the three national championships, including back-to-back titles in 1991 and 1992 that make him one of only two coaches since UCLA's John Wooden with such an accomplishment. In 2005-06, Krzyzewski passed Wooden to move into first on the chart of coaches who have led their respective schools to a No. 1 national ranking. Coach K has now led Duke to the top spot in the AP poll in 13 seasons, including eight of the last 11 years.

He and the Blue Devils have been a fixture on the national basketball scene with 13 consecutive NCAA Tournament berths from 1997-2008 and 24 in the past 25 years. Overall, he has taken his program to postseason play in 25 of his 28 years at Duke and is the winningest active coach in NCAA Tournament play with a stunning 69-21 record for a .767 winning percentage. On March 20, 2005, Krzyzewski surpassed Dean Smith's career tournament win total of 65 with a 63-55 triumph over Mississippi State in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

To top off an incredible year in 2001, after Duke won its third national championship, Krzyzewski was named to the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame class along with Temple's John Chaney and former NBA star Moses Malone. The induction ceremony was held in Springfield, Mass., on October 5, 2001. In typical Coach K fashion, he was adamant in sharing the honor with those around him.

"I hope that all of those youngsters who have played for me and the people who have worked with me will share in this honor," he said. "My mom always told me to associate myself with great people and great institutions. I've tried to do that at the United States Military Academy and at Duke University, two of the great institutions in the world. As a result, I've been around some amazing people.

"I never thought I'd be worthy enough to be in the Basketball Hall of Fame. It's not anything you set out trying to achieve. Basically, you go about your business and try to be as good as you can be all the time. Again, I get back to coaching great players and being with great assistants. They bring out the best in you."

Duke Highlights

Success stories do not just happen overnight. They take time, and the latest chapter in Duke basketball is no exception. Krzyzewski inherited a

Duke squad in 1980-81 with a thin talent base outside of All-America Gene Banks, Kenny Derrard and Vince Taylor. The squad hustled its way to a bid in the NIT, but it was obvious that the recruiting trail was Krzyzewski's only answer if the team was to succeed in the long run.

He landed a recruiting class in 1982 made up of Johnny Dawkins, Mark Alarie, David Henderson, Jay Bilas and Weldon Williams. It was rated one of the nation's best and put Duke on the map to stay.

Joining that powerful group was guard Tommy Amaker in 1983. Duke won 24 games with that nucleus in 1984 and earned the first NCAA bid under Coach K.

With the class of Dawkins, Alarie and company now seniors, the 1986 Duke team won an NCAA-record 37 games while claiming Big Apple NIT, ACC regular season, ACC Tournament and NCAA East Regional titles. They established a school record with a 21-game winning streak during the year (that has since been broken), were undefeated at home, advanced to the NCAA Championship game in Dallas and played more games (40) than any other team in college basketball history.

With the loss of the five seniors, many expected Duke to drop considerably in 1987, but not Krzyzewski. The team won 24 games and advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament before losing to eventual national champion Indiana. Amaker ended his career as the National Defensive Player of the Year, closing out a season that Coach K looks back on as the one that demonstrated the winning consistency of the program.

The 1987-88 campaign began Duke's amazing streak of five straight NCAA Final Four appearances as the Blue Devils won 28 games, again swept to the ACC title, won another East Regional championship and found themselves in Kansas City. Senior Billy King followed Amaker by winning the second straight National Defensive Player of the Year award by a Blue Devil.

The role of leadership again fell to the senior class in 1988-89. This time, it was the National Player of the Year Danny Ferry, Quin Snyder and John Smith taking the reins. They guided the team to another trip to the NCAA Final Four with a win over heavily favored Georgetown in the East Regional final.

In 1989-90, seniors Alaa Abdelnaby, Robert Brickey and Phil Henderson led the way to the Final Four with a 29-9 record, landing just one game shy of the title in Denver. The group won its third consecutive East Regional championship with an overtime triumph over top-seeded Connecticut.

Then came 1990-91, a season that forever changed the face of basketball at Duke. After the 30-point loss to UNLV in the 1990 final, Krzyzewski's team was determined to avenge the loss. The Blue Devils won the regular season ACC title and posted four consecutive lopsided victories in the Midwest Region for yet another trip to the Final Four.

In the semifinals, Duke got another shot at the Runnin' Rebels, who were undefeated, and this time Coach K masterfully led the Blue Devils to a 79-77 victory to earn a matchup with Kansas for the title. Duke's crowning glory came on April 1, 1991, with a 72-65 victory over the Jayhawks as Christian Laettner earned MVP honors in Duke's first national basketball championship.

In 1992, the stage was set for an unprecedented chapter in college basketball history and Coach K and his squad were up to the task. Behind National Player of the Year Christian Laettner and fellow All-Americans Bobby Hurley and Grant Hill, the Blue Devils rolled to a 34-2 record and held the No. 1 ranking from start to finish (18 polls). Duke won its second consecutive NCAA crown with a 71-51 victory over Michigan. Along the way, the Blue Devils captured their fifth consecutive regional championship, won the ACC regular season and tournament titles and equaled the school record to that point for ACC victories with 14.

In 1993-94, the Blue Devils and Coach K were back knocking at the door of another national championship. Duke piled up a 28-6 overall record, won the ACC regular season championship, was ranked from start to finish in the nation's top 10, captured the Southeast Regional title with an upset win over top-seeded Purdue and advanced to the national championship game before bowing to Arkansas, 76-72, in Charlotte.

The Blue Devils finished the 1998-99 campaign equaling the NCAA record for most wins with 37, winning the NCAA East Regional title, winning the ACC Tournament for the first time since 1992, recording the first 16-0 record in the ACC regular season, securing a school-record 32-game winning streak during the year and wrapping it all up as the NCAA runner-ups. Elton Brand was the consensus National Player of the Year, Shane Battier was the NABC National Defensive Player of the Year and Trajan Langdon was a first team All-America for Duke.

In 1999-2000, Duke finished with a 29-5 record, its fourth consecutive outright ACC regular season championship with a 15-1 record, its second consecutive ACC Tournament title and the final regular season No. 1 ranking in both major polls. Senior Chris Carrawell and junior Shane Battier were named consensus All-Americans and Battier earned his second consecutive National Defensive Player of the Year award. The Blue Devils accomplished this despite losing four starters from their 37-2 squad that advanced to the national championship game in 1999. Duke also had seven freshmen, the most on a Blue Devil team in school history, on its roster.

On November 17, 2000, Krzyzewski's numerous accomplishments at Duke were recognized as the fabled Cameron Indoor Stadium court was named Coach K Court in his honor in a postgame ceremony.

Continuing to build on his well-earned reputation as one of the top college basketball coaches of all time, Coach K led Duke to its third national championship in 2001, joining just three other coaches — Wooden (10), Adolph Rupp (4) and Bob Knight (3) — who have won three or more NCAA titles. The Blue Devils finished the season with a 35-4 record, including 10 consecutive victories to end the year, their third consecutive ACC Tournament championship, fifth straight ACC regular season championship and the TiVo Preseason NIT title. Duke also was ranked at the top of the final Associated Press poll for the third consecutive season, marking just the second time in NCAA history a program had accomplished that feat (Wooden's UCLA squads did it from 1971-73).

With its 82-72 victory over Arizona in the 2001 national championship game, Duke ended a four-year run with 133 victories. The Blue Devils lost just 15 games during that four-year span. The 133 wins broke the previous NCAA standard of 132 set twice by Kentucky from 1995-98 and 1996-99. In fact, 10 of the best 35 four-year runs in college history belong to Coach K-led Duke teams.

Individually, Coach K passed two major milestones in 2000-01: his 500th victory at Duke (98-85 over Villanova) and his 600th win overall (79-53 over sixth-ranked North Carolina in the ACC Tournament final). He reached 600 career wins faster than all but 10 coaches in college history.

Under Krzyzewski's guidance, not one, but two of his student-athletes earned National Player of the Year awards in 2001 (Shane Battier was the consensus selection, while Jason Williams earned the NABC award). It was the first time in college basketball history that two players from the same team received National Player of the Year recognition by the major outlets. Battier and Williams were both unanimous first team All-Americans, and Battier, the sixth overall pick in the 2001 NBA Draft, earned his third consecutive National Defensive Player of the Year award.

"I thoroughly loved coaching these kids," said Krzyzewski following the 2001 national title. "They've been so good. They've given me their hearts, their minds, and not only that, they've given it to each other ... I get real close to the guys on my team. That's the most rewarding thing about what I do."

Krzyzewski led Duke to another outstanding season in 2001-02. The Blue Devils finished 31-4 overall, won the ACC Tournament title for a record fourth consecutive year, were a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament for a record fifth straight season and finished No. 1 in the final AP poll for the fourth consecutive season, another NCAA first. Three Duke players — Jason Williams, Mike Dunleavy and Carlos Boozer — earned All-America honors and Williams became just the seventh repeat winner of National Player of the Year honors in college basketball history. That Duke threesome also departed for the NBA, where all three were drafted. Williams and Dunleavy were selected second and third, respectively, making them just the second set of teammates to be taken among the top three picks of the NBA Draft (UCLA's Lew Alcindor and Lucious Allen went one and three in 1969).

In perhaps one of his finest coaching jobs, Krzyzewski led his 2002-03 team, featuring six freshmen, to a 26-7 record, its record fifth consecutive ACC Tournament championship and the school's sixth consecutive appearance in the NCAA Sweet 16. Senior Dahntay Jones, the squad's leading scorer, was Duke's lone All-ACC representative and an honorable mention All-America selection. Jones became Coach K's 17th first round NBA pick on 2003 Draft night.

Guided by the leadership of senior point guard Chris Duhon, Duke returned to the Final Four for the 10th time in a 19-year period in 2003-04. Duke finished the season 31-6 and won its sixth ACC regular season crown in eight seasons with a 13-3 league mark. Duke reached the No. 1 national ranking for four weeks during the season, marking the seventh consecutive year that it had reached that height (only UCLA's streak of 12 straight years of achieving the No. 1 ranking from 1964-75 is longer). The Blue Devils ended the year by dropping a one-point decision to eventual national champion Connecticut in the Final Four in San Antonio. Duhon, J.J. Redick and Shelden Williams each earned All-America honors, bringing Coach K's total selections to 19 in 24 seasons. In the 2004 NBA Draft, Luol Deng, after playing just one season at Duke, was selected seventh overall and Duhon was taken in the second round.

The 2004-05 squad featured Daniel Ewing, who would become the 36th NBA Draft pick under Krzyzewski, Redick, a National Player of the Year choice, and Williams, the National Defensive Player of the Year honoree. The Blue Devils went 27-6 and captured the ACC Tournament championship.

In 2005-06, the Blue Devils posted a 32-4 record, including a 14-2 mark in regular season league play. Duke captured the NIT Season Tip-Off crown and went on to win both the ACC regular season and tournament titles. Krzyzewski's 10th ACC Tournament Championship came in the 1,000th game of his coaching career, a 78-76 win over Boston College at the Greensboro Coliseum on March 12. Redick, a consensus National Player of the Year, set the ACC career scoring and the NCAA three-point field goal records and Williams grabbed National Defensive Player of the Year honors for the second year in a row. Redick and Williams also became the ninth set of teammates selected as AP first team All-Americans and the first since Jason Williams and Shane Battier accomplished the feat in 2001.

Duke featured the school's youngest team in more than 60 years in the 2006-07 season with 10 of the 12 players on the roster either freshmen or sophomores. Despite the youth, the squad recorded a 22-11 record and reached the NCAA Tournament. Coach K recorded his 700th career victory at Duke against Georgia Tech, making him the second-fastest coach in NCAA history to record 700 wins at one school.

Coach K had the Blue Devils among the top teams in the nation during the 2007-08 campaign as the team won 22 of its first 23 games. Krzyzewski became only the sixth head coach to reach 800 career wins with a victory at N.C. State. Duke would go on to finish the year 28-6, reaching the NCAA Tournament for the 13th consecutive season. DeMarcus Nelson was named the ACC Defensive Player of the Year and a third team All-America, while Kyle Singler was the ACC Rookie of the Year and a Freshman All-America.

On the court, Coach K has averaged more than 25 wins a season during his career at Duke and posted nine 30-win seasons, including 30 or more victories in six of the last 11 years. Krzyzewski's nine 30-win seasons are the most by any coach in college basketball history.

He has directed his teams to 10 Final Fours, third-most by any coach in NCAA history. Since 1985, Krzyzewski has 69 NCAA Tournament victories, 20 more than the next-closest active coach (North Carolina's Roy Williams has 49 NCAA wins during this period). His 69 NCAA victories stand as the all-time record, four better than the total of 65 amassed by Dean Smith. By virtue of the 2004 Final Four berth, every Duke class from 1986 to 2008 except two (1998 and 2008) has played in at least one Final Four. Incredibly, 61 of 66 players who have completed four years of eligibility at Duke since 1986 have played in the Final Four, with 56 of those players having played in at least one NCAA Championship game.

Obviously, Coach K has put a recruiting plan in motion that attracts the nation's best players each year. Seven members of this year's Duke team earned McDonald's All-America accolades as prep stars, including freshman Elliot Williams. Joining the rookie are Gerald Henderson, Greg Paulus, Jon Scheyer, Kyle Singler, Nolan Smith and Lance Thomas.

"There was no magic wand," said Krzyzewski, a past president of the NABC. "It was a matter of hard work and organization and a little bit of luck. We had a plan and we stuck to it. In many ways it may have been better that there wasn't an abundance of talent when we arrived. If that had been the case, we may have taken certain things for granted instead of building a solid foundation.

"When things got tough, I always remembered something Vic Bubas told me just after I had come to Duke," recalled Krzyzewski. "He said, 'When you are building something that is going to be really strong, it takes time.' That gave me encouragement."

Numerous Honors

Although he has earned nearly every award imaginable, Krzyzewski was rewarded with the ultimate honor in basketball in 2001 when he was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. He entered the Hall of Fame with Temple coach John Chaney and former NBA star Moses Malone.

TIME magazine and CNN named Krzyzewski "America's Best Coach" in 2001 as part of a joint venture between the two media outlets. The criteria for the selection was not limited to any sport or any level of play.

"No college hoops coach has won more in the past two decades," wrote Josh Tyrangiel of TIME, "and Krzyzewski has accomplished all this with a program that turns out real-deal scholar athletes — kids who go to class, graduate and don't mind telling everyone about it."

In all, Coach K has been named the National Coach of the Year 12 times in eight different seasons by major organizations, including UPI and Chevrolet (1986), Naismith (1989), the NABC (1991), The Sporting News and Naismith (1992), Basketball Times (1997), the NABC and Naismith (1999), Chevrolet (2000) and the Victor Awards (2001). In 2004, he was named the Claire Bee Coach of the Year that honors the active Division I men's basketball coach who has made the most significant positive contribution to his sport during the preceding year.

As head coach of the U.S. Senior National Team from 2006-08, Krzyzewski led USA Basketball to a gold medal in the 2008 Beijing Summer Olympics. He was also named the USA Basketball Coach of the Year in 2006 and 2007.

In 1992, The Sporting News named him the Sportsman of the Year, becoming the first college coach to win the honor. The magazine said, "On the court and off, Krzyzewski is a family man first, a teacher second, a basketball coach third, and a winner at all three. He is what's right about sports..."

Coach K has been voted the ACC Coach of the Year five times, most recently in 2000. His five ACC Coach of the Year awards are second all-time among the coaching giants of the league. In celebration of the league's 50th anniversary in 2002-03, the Raleigh News and Observer named Krzyzewski the best coach in ACC history.

His players know how special their coach, mentor and friend is.

"I played for the greatest college coach of all-time," said Shane Battier, one of the most decorated players in the history of the game. "It was an amazing journey."

Two-time National Player of the Year Jason Williams echoed Battier's sentiments: "It's a dream to play for a guy like that — a guy who's just a rock, who believes in you every second you're on the court. I love Coach K. I'd run through a brick wall for him."

In 2005, Krzyzewski became the youngest recipient of the Distinguished Graduate Award at the United States Military Academy.

Success On and Off the Court

When Coach K came to Duke in the spring of 1980, he found a program that was searching for strong leadership and a rebirth of the success that Blue Devil fans had come to know and love. As he enters his 29th season at the helm, the numbers more than prove the faith that former athletic director Tom Butters put in the young, unproven coach to assemble a basketball program consistently ranking in the upper echelon of the country.

Krzyzewski runs a quality program from top to bottom, from the players he recruits to the performance of his teams on the floor, year in and year out.

"I want Duke basketball to be good on a continuing basis," said Krzyzewski. "All along it has been my goal to give Duke a program that will last, one that will be nationally ranked and worthy of postseason play every year."

No words can better describe the basketball program he has established at Duke University. Krzyzewski has led his Blue Devils to overwhelming success while building a program that will continue to flourish in the years to come.

The term "student-athlete" is used over and over in college athletics, but the Duke basketball team truly exemplifies the ideal. During Krzyzewski's time with the Blue Devils, all but two Duke players that played four seasons have graduated.

The Coaching Tree

Sustained success under Mike Krzyzewski has presented coaching opportunities for several of his former players and assistant coaches from both Army and Duke. In all, six of Coach K's former players and assistants are head coaches at the Division I level: Tommy Amaker (Harvard), Mike Brey (Notre Dame), Jeff Capel (Oklahoma), Johnny Dawkins (Stanford) and Mike Dement (UNC Greensboro). In addition, several others are assistant coaches at the Division I level, including three former players who are Duke's associate head coaches Steve Wojciechowski and Chris Collins and assistant coach Nate James. In addition, former Blue Devil standout Chris Carrawell joined the program for the 2008-09 season as a graduate assistant/head team manager.

Coach K and International Basketball

Krzyzewski has been a prominent figure on the International Basketball scene throughout his career. On October 26, 2005, he became an even more important figure when he was named the head coach of the USA Basketball Men's Senior National Team program for 2006-08.

This past summer, Krzyzewski guided the USA squad to a gold medal at the 2008 Olympic games in Beijing, China. Team USA reclaimed olympic gold with a 118-107 victory over Spain in the championship game, while also changing a negative perception of basketball in the United States along the way. Team USA averaged 106 points per game and posted an average margin of victory of 27.9 points per game.

"It has been tagged as the most selfish basketball nation on Earth, but the U.S. showed teamwork and intensity normally not seen at any place other than, say, Duke University," said Los Angeles Times columnist Bill Plaschke during Team USA's gold medal run in 2008.

Coach K also led the USA squad to a gold medal in the 2007 FIBA Americas Championship, posting a 10-0 record and winning by an average of 39.5 points per game. They defeated Argentina 118-81 in the gold medal game to automatically qualify for the 2008 Olympics.

In his first competition as head coach of the program, Krzyzewski led a team that included former Duke standouts Elton Brand and Shane Battier to an 8-1 record and a bronze medal finish at the 2006 FIBA World Championship in Japan.

Krzyzewski also supports his players' efforts to participate in international basketball with several former players competing in various international tournaments, including 2004 and 2008 USA Olympic Team member Carlos Boozer. Six of Krzyzewski's former players have competed for three different countries in the Olympics.

Shelden Williams, who led the U.S. team to an 8-0 record and a gold medal at the World University Games in Turkey in 2005, was named the USA Basketball Male Athlete of the Year. In 2001, Chris Duhon earned the same honor after leading the World Championship for Young Men Team to the gold medal in Japan. Current players Gerald Henderson, David McClure, Greg Paulus, Jon Scheyer, Lance Thomas and Brian Zoubek have USA Basketball experience. Junior Martynas Pocius also has international experience, most recently playing for Lithuania at the Ostchem Under-20 European Championship.

Krzyzewski has always been an active part of USA Basketball in various roles, serving as past chairman of the Player Selection Committee for all of the United States' teams, including the 1991 Pan Am and 1992 Olympic teams. Coach K was an assistant to Chuck Daly (a former Duke assistant coach) at the Olympics and won the gold medal in Barcelona with the "Dream Team." Christian Laettner was a member of that team, while 1994 graduate Grant Hill was a part of "Dream Team II" in Atlanta.

Coach K was the USA head coach in 1990 when he led the Americans to a bronze medal at the World Championships and a silver medal at the Goodwill Games in Seattle. He also paced the USA to a silver medal at the 1987 World University Games and was a special assistant to Bob Knight at the 1984 Olympics. In addition, he has had previous coaching duties at the National Sports Festival (gold medal in 1983) and Pan Am Games.

Prior to Duke

Krzyzewski's teams take nothing for granted on the court. The core of their success is pressure man-to-man defense, developed over the years with hard work in practice, commitment to excellence and attention to detail. Coach K's players believe in their system and know that when they win, it is largely because of excellent team defense.

His disciplined, mentally tough teams could be seen as an outgrowth of Coach K's own upbringing. He went to West Point, N.Y., to enroll in the U.S. Military Academy and receive a quality education, play basketball and become an officer in the Army.

From 1969-74, Krzyzewski served his country. He directed service teams for three years and then followed that up with two years as head coach of the U.S. Military Academy Prep School in Belvoir, Va.

In 1974, he resigned from the Army having attained the rank of Captain. When Krzyzewski was just 26, Bob Knight, his former coach at Army, called and offered him a graduate assistant slot at Indiana University. That 1975 squad posted an 18-0 Big Ten mark and a 31-1 record.

Prior to joining the Duke program, Krzyzewski spent five years building the program at his alma mater in West Point. He led the Cadets to one NIT berth, one ECAC playoff appearance and a five-year record of 73-59.

Community Service

Krzyzewski and his players are model representatives of Duke. Coach K involves himself in the community, including being a current chairman of the Duke Children's Miracle Network Telethon and assuming vital roles at the Duke Children's Classic, the Jimmy V Foundation for Cancer Research and the NABC Foundation (current president).

In 2000, he was named the first recipient of the GTE Reads with the NABC Literacy Champion Award. In honor of Krzyzewski's selection, GTE (now Verizon) donated $10,000 to support Duke Athletics' literacy program, Verizon Read with the Blue Devils.

He also serves as the chairman for the Emily Krzyzewski Family Center, a local community center near the Duke campus. Four summers ago, several of Duke's former basketball stars, including Grant Hill, Christian Laettner, Shane Battier, Mike Dunleavy and Danny Ferry, returned to campus for the second annual Duke All-Star Charity Hoopla, held in Cameron Indoor Stadium. The game and surrounding events helped raise significant funds for the Duke/Durham Neighborhood Partnership and the Emily K Center, which is named in honor of Coach K's mother. In 2003, Krzyzewski launched the K Academy, a summer fantasy camp to assist with several Duke basketball projects, including the scholarship endowment fund.

Krzyzewski and his entire family, wife Mickie and daughters Debbie (38), Lindy (31) and Jamie (27), have been involved in campaigns to stay in school and against alcohol, drug abuse and drunk driving.

Coach K and the Duke Community

The students at the university are also an important part of Coach K's life. He appreciates their support and often finds a way to include the students, especially those camped out in Krzyzewskiville, a tent community erected each season outside of Cameron Indoor Stadium for students wanting to get a head start on securing entrance to games. He has been known to treat the fans camping out for days, or even weeks, to a pregame strategy session in Cameron or to buy them pizzas while they wait in line. He knows that the unique relationship between his team and the student body is what makes Duke special. The "Cameron crazies" are regarded as some of the best fans in all of sports.

The university also recognized his vital role on campus, awarding him Duke's highest honor — the Medal of Honor — at the University Founders' Day Convocation in 1997.

In September 2001, Krzyzewski and his wife Mickie created the Krzyzewski Family Scholarship Endowment for Duke students from the Carolinas. The $100,000 scholarship, the result of the Krzyzewskis' gift and additional funds from The Duke Endowment of Charlotte, will provide assistance to undergraduates from North and South Carolina.

"Mickie and Mike Krzyzewski both do so much for our university," said former Duke President Nan Keohane following the gift. "Their many contributions to our athletic program are well known, and their support of undergraduate academic and residential life at Duke should be, as well."

During the fall of 2002, Coach K received an Honorary Alumnus Award from the Duke Medical Center for his contributions to the Duke Children's Health Center. Krzyzewski and his family have made the center a focal point in their efforts to raise the standard of clinical care for children.

Coach K: Author

Add another piece to Krzyzewski's already impressive resume — best-selling author. Coach K has co-authored two books with Texas writer Don Phillips published by Warner Books. "Leading with the Heart," emphasizing Krzyzewski's successful strategies for basketball, business and life, was released in 2000. It reached the New York Times best-seller list.

The story of Duke's 2001 national championship season, "Five-Point Play," was released in the fall of 2001. The book relives Duke's journey toward the 2001 NCAA title, the school's third in an 11-year span.

Krzyzewski also co-wrote a book with Duke Sports Hall of Famer Bill Brill entitled "A Season is a Lifetime" following the 1992 national championship.

Krzyzewski's most recent book, "Beyond Basketball: Coach K's Keywords For Success," was co-authored by his daughter Jamie K. Spatola and released on October 10, 2006.

STAFF

After a standout playing career at Duke that included National Defensive Player of the Year honors in 1998, Steve Wojciechowski returned as an assistant coach for Mike Krzyzewski in 1999-2000. He was promoted to Associate Head Coach in the summer of 2008.

Since Wojciechowski joined the Duke staff, the Blue Devils have posted an incredible 261-53 record and won six ACC Tournament championships.

Wojciechowski also served as a court coach and scout for Mike Krzyzewski, assisting the USA Basketball Senior National Team staff with on-court duties as well as game preparation from 2006 through the program's gold medal performance at the 2008 Beijing Olympics.

In his first season as a coach, he was instrumental in leading Duke, with seven freshmen on its roster, to a 29-5 record, the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season title (15-1), the 2000 ACC Tournament championship, an NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 appearance and the No. 1 ranking in both major polls following the regular season.

Working primarily with Duke's inside players, Wojciechowski's second year was even better as the Blue Devils won the national championship in 2001, while also capturing the ACC regular season and tournament crowns and posting a 35-4 record. His influence was evident throughout the year, from the emergence of Casey Sanders as a bona fide inside presence to Reggie Love's strong performances in the ACC Tournament to Carlos Boozer's inspired play at the Final Four after missing six games and playing a limited role in the East Regional semifinal and final. Wojciechowski saw one of his former teammates and pupils, Shane Battier, earn the consensus National Player of the Year award as well as National Defensive Player of the Year for the third consecutive season.

In 2001-02, Wojciechowski was instrumental in leading the Blue Devils to a 31-4 record, their fourth consecutive ACC Tournament championship and fourth straight No. 1 finish in the final Associated Press poll. His primary pupil, Boozer, earned All-America honors and became Duke's career field goal percentage leader. Forward Mike Dunleavy, who moved inside more during the 2001-02 season, also earned All-America honors.

The Blue Devils went 26-7 in 2002-03, won their league-record fifth consecutive ACC Tournament title and advanced to the Sweet 16 for the sixth straight season. Wojciechowski's instruction was again felt as senior Casey Sanders, junior Nick Horvath, and freshmen Shelden Williams and Shavlik Randolph all improved as the season progressed.

Duke earned its second trip to the Final Four during Wojciechowski's coaching tenure in 2003-04. Another one of his post pupils, Williams, earned All-America recognition and was the leading vote-getter for the ACC All-Defensive team. The Blue Devils went 31-6 overall, won the regular season ACC title and played in their sixth consecutive ACC Tournament Championship Game before advancing to San Antonio and the Final Four.

In 2004-05, Williams was named the NABC's National Defensive Player of the Year after registering 122 blocked shots and averaging 11.2 rebounds per contest. Duke posted a 27-6 ledger for the year and captured the ACC Tournament title with wins over Virginia, N.C. State and Georgia Tech on consecutive days.

STAFF

For the 2005-06 season, Williams was again named the NABC's National Defensive Player of the Year as well as a first team All-America. Wojciechowski also saw Williams set school records for career blocked shots and rebounds, while also becoming the first player in NCAA history to register over 1,750 points, 1,250 rebounds, 400 blocked shots and 150 steals in a career. Duke posted a 32-4 record, the program's fourth 30-win season in Wojciechowski's tenure, and captured the ACC regular season and tournament crowns.

"He was a point guard and fed the big men the ball a lot so he knows where the ball is supposed to be and where we are supposed to be posting up," said Williams. "He has done a good job giving us a guard's view of where we need to be posting our bodies in order to get the ball in good position. Also, his energy and passion for the game are unmatched."

In the 2006-07 season, Wojciechowski directed a young group of inside players to a successful season. He helped develop one of Duke's most versatile inside players ever as Josh McRoberts was one of only two players in the country to average over 10.0 points, 7.5 rebounds, 3.0 assists and 2.0 blocks per game. McRoberts went on to earn second team All-ACC recognition.

"He's like a fireball of energy," said Sanders, who was named Duke's Defensive MVP following his senior season. "It's really hard to describe. He expects us to be alert and alive at all times, and he pumps it into everything we do."

Last season Wojciechowski coached freshman Kyle Singler to a terrific season that culminated with him earning ACC Rookie of the Year and third team Freshman All-America honors. Singler was second on the team with 13.3 points per game while leading the squad in rebounding with 5.8 rebounds per game.

"When you come to Duke," said Wojciechowski following Duke's third NCAA title in 11 seasons in 2001, "every year your goal is the national championship. When you don't win one, there is a part of you that feels some emptiness. That was certainly erased with the 2001 championship."

Following his 1998 graduation, Wojciechowski spent time playing professional basketball in Poland before returning to Duke. He spent 1999 as an intern in the Duke Management Company and as a sideline analyst for the Duke Radio Network's coverage of the Blue Devil basketball program.

Wojciechowski played a major role in the resurgence of Duke basketball over his last three years as a collegian. Following a difficult freshman campaign in which the Blue Devils went 13-18, Wojciechowski helped pace the program to a 74-26 mark over the next three seasons.

During his sophomore year, Wojciechowski appeared in all 31 games as the Blue Devils went 18-13 and earned a trip back to the NCAA Tournament. He started all 33 contests as the team's point guard during the 1996-97 campaign as the squad collected a 24-9 record, won the ACC regular season title with a 12-4 record, and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

But it was the 1997-98 season that completed Duke's journey back to the top of college basketball. Wojciechowski was a tri-captain for a squad that advanced to the NCAA South Regional title game, finished with a 32-4 overall mark, collected 15 regular season ACC victories, and completed the regular season holding the nation's top ranking.

Along with being the top defensive player in the country his senior year, the two-time All-ACC choice also secured honorable mention All-America accolades from the AP.

Wojciechowski finished his career ranked in several of Duke's season and career top 10 lists. He collected the second-highest single season steal total in 1997 with 82 and followed that by tying the 13th-best figure in 1998 with 74. Wojciechowski ranks eighth in career steals with 203 and eighth in career assists with 505.

STAFF

Former Blue Devil player Chris Collins joined the Duke coaching staff as an assistant coach on July 22, 2000 and was promoted to Associate Head Coach in the summer of 2008.

Collins' eight-year resume at Duke includes an overall record of 232-48, five ACC Tournament championships, three ACC regular season titles, four in-season tournament titles and most importantly, the national championship in 2001.

Collins also served as a court coach and scout for Mike Krzyzewski, assisting the USA Basketball Senior National Team staff with on-court duties as well as game preparation from 2006 through the program's gold medal performance at the 2008 Beijing Olympics.

His first season as a coach in Durham could not have been better, as the Blue Devils won the 2001 national championship with an 82-72 victory over Arizona in Minneapolis. Collins, who works primarily with Duke's backcourt players, saw guard Jason Williams be named a unanimous first team All-America and the National Player of the Year by the NABC. Chris Duhon, a freshman under Collins' tutelage in 2001, was named the ACC Rookie of the Year.

Collins' influence was never felt more than prior to the NCAA Championship game against Arizona. Collins told Mike Dunleavy, who was coming off a poor shooting performance in Duke's victory over Maryland in the national semifinals, to be aggressive against the Wildcats in the title game.

"I just talked to him about going out and being aggressive. If you miss a shot, so what?"

Dunleavy responded, drilling a team-best 21 points, including a historical spurt of three three-point field goals in a 45-second span in the second half to put Duke ahead by 10 points.

"To see him go out the next day and play with that courage and take those shots, just take over the game, was such a gratifying moment for me."

And to the Blue Devil faithful as well.

In 2001-02, Collins' second season at Duke was also impressive as the Blue Devils posted a 31-4 record, won the ACC Tournament for the fourth consecutive season and were ranked No. 1 in the nation in the final Associated Press poll. Williams, one of Collins' understudies, earned National Player of the Year honors for the second consecutive year and became just one of seven repeat winners of that prestigious honor. Williams also became Duke's second two-time first team consensus All-America, joining Johnny Dawkins as the only Blue Devil to accomplish that feat.

The 2002-03 season was just as special as the staff led a team with six freshmen to a 26-7 record, a fifth consecutive ACC Tournament championship and the Sweet 16 for the sixth straight year. Guard play continued to be a strength for Duke as Chris Duhon (third team All-ACC), J.J. Redick (third team All-ACC and Freshman All-America) and Daniel Ewing (ACC Tournament MVP) all received individual recognition throughout the season.

In 2003-04, Duke returned to the Final Four for the second time in Collins' Blue Devil coaching career. Two of his backcourt players, Duhon and Redick, earned All-America and All-ACC recognition. The Blue Devils went 31-6 overall, won the regular season ACC title and played in their sixth consecutive ACC Tournament Championship Game before advancing to San Antonio and the Final Four.

Collins helped the Blue Devils to a 26-7 overall slate that included the ACC Tournament crown and yet another berth in the NCAA Tournament in 2004-05. Redick was named the National Player of the Year while Ewing was a second round choice of the Los Angeles Clippers in the 2005 NBA Draft.

In the 2005-06 season, Collins' watched his star pupil, Redick, register one of the most impressive scoring seasons in Duke history. Redick ranked second in the NCAA with a 26.8 points per game scoring average, while setting the Duke and ACC career scoring records and the NCAA career three-point field goal record. He was a consensus National Player of the Year and a unanimous first team All-America for the 32-4 Blue Devils. Duke also captured the NIT Season Tip-Off, ACC regular season and ACC Tournament championships in 2005-06.

"Coach Collins has really helped my development as a player," says Redick, a two-time National Player of the Year. "He is a former player so he knows a lot of the tricks of the trade and he has taught me a few things that have really helped me, whether it is being able to pick up fouls when we are in the bonus or coming off screens."

Two of the guards under the tutelage of Collins were recognized for their efforts by the ACC in 2006-07 as DeMarcus Nelson was named to the All-Defensive team and Jon Scheyer earned All-Freshman team honors. The three starting guards for the Blue Devils all averaged over 10.0 points per game.

Last year, Collins helped senior DeMarcus Nelson elevate his game and garner several honors along the way. Nelson was tabbed the ACC Defensive Player of the Year and also earned NABC third team All-America, first team All-ACC and ACC All-Defensive team honors. Point guard Greg Paulus was also coached by Collins and earned third team All-ACC recognition. Four of Duke's guards averaged in double figures in scoring on the year.

Before returning to his alma mater, Collins served as an assistant coach at Seton Hall for two years with Tommy Amaker, a Duke standout himself from 1984-87 and now the head coach at Harvard. In 1999-2000, Collins was part of a staff that guided the Pirates to a 22-10 record and the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Prior to Seton Hall, Collins spent the 1997-98 season as an assistant with the WNBA's Detroit Shock.

As a player, Collins played professional basketball in Finland during the 1996-97 season, leading the league in scoring.

While at Duke, Collins was a team captain as a senior and four-year letterman from 1993-96. He still ranks sixth among Duke's all-time leaders in three-point field goals made (209) and attempted (539). Collins averaged 9.1 points, 2.0 rebounds and 2.4 assists as a collegian. He earned second team All-ACC honors as a senior.

Collins and Stan Brunson formed a Duke senior class that had 83 total victories, three NCAA Tournament bids, one Final Four appearance, two ACC regular season championships, an ACC Tournament title, and two in-season tournament championships (the 1992 Maui Classic and the 1995 Carrs Great Alaska Shootout).

As a senior in 1996, Collins had his most productive season, leading the Blue Devils in three-point field goals (79), three-point percentage (.441), free throws made (83) and attempted (115), assists (132) and steals (37). Collins also ranked second on the team by averaging 16.3 points per game. He was among the ACC leaders in scoring (10th), assists (fourth), field goal percentage (.467, seventh) and free throw percentage (.722, 10th).

Collins is the son of former NBA head coach and all-star, Doug Collins, who is currently the lead television analyst for TNT's coverage of the NBA. The Northbrook, Ill., native joins former Duke standouts Steve Wojciechowski (associate head coach), Nate James (assistant coach) and Chris Carrawell (graduate assistant/head team manager) as previous Blue Devil captains on Mike Krzyzewski's staff. Collins is a 1996 graduate of Duke with a bachelor's degree in sociology.

Collins, 34, and his wife Kim reside in Durham with their two children — Ryan (5) and Kate (2).

NATE JAMES

Former Duke standout Nate James joined the Blue Devils' coaching staff as an assistant coach on May 6, 2008.

James, a Washington, D.C. native, breaks into the collegiate basketball coaching ranks after serving for one season as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Duke.

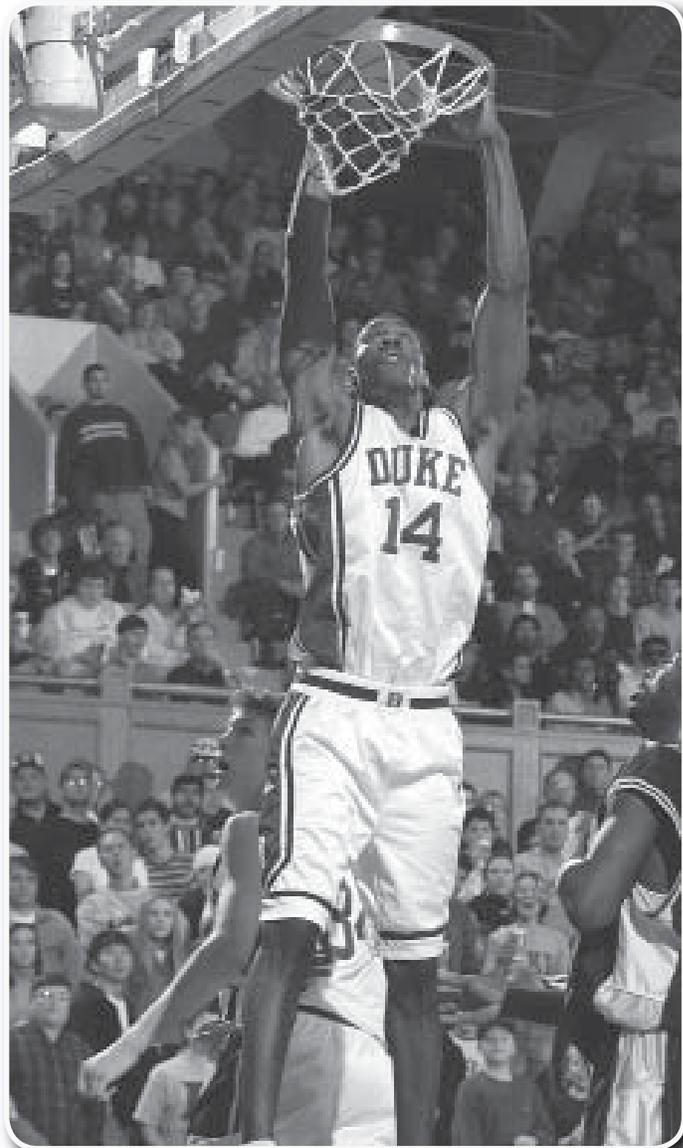

James joins former Duke standouts Steve Wojciechowski (associate head coach), Chris Collins (associate head coach) and Chris Carrawell (graduate assistant/head team manager) as previous Blue Devil captains on Mike Krzyzewski's staff.

"Nate is a great addition to our staff," said Krzyzewski. "He was a valuable member of our program as a player and will be an asset as an assistant coach. His maturity, toughness and dedication to Duke will blend well with the current staff we have in place. I look forward to watching Nate develop and prosper in this role."

James played in 135 games from 1997-2001 with 63 starts. He scored 1,116 points, had 500 rebounds and shot 47.3 percent from the floor. While known mostly for defense and rebounding, he also hit 11 career three-pointers. Duke won or shared the ACC regular-season championship in all five years that he was on the team, a feat achieved by no other player in league history.

James brought a warrior mentality to the court that set an example for his teammates and contributed to many victories. Sometimes that meant scoring, as in the 26 points he had against Texas to help Duke win the 2001 Preseason NIT or the career-high 27 that he scored at Clemson later that year on 10-of-14 shooting. James' warrior spirit usually showed in the way he went after loose balls and rebounds, the way he defended, the way he attacked weight training workouts – all activities that led one publication to name him the ACC's most underrated player in 2001. ACC coaches, meanwhile, named him to the league's all-defensive team, while the media voted him third team All-ACC as a senior.

Three of James' most noteworthy moments were against Maryland in 2001. In the final seconds at College Park, not far from his home, he hit a pair of free throws in the face of an antagonistic crowd to send the game into overtime. In the ACC semifinals, his penchant for finding offensive rebounds led to the winning tip-in just moments before the final buzzer. And in the second half of the NCAA semis in 2001, James stepped up to lock down Juan Dixon, who had torched the Blue Devils for 16 first half points. Dixon scored just three points in the second half as Duke rallied from a large deficit for the win.

One of his most significant contributions to the 2001 NCAA crown was the way he handled his move out of the starting lineup late in the year. James had started 29 straight games heading into the regular season finale against North Carolina. But Mike Krzyzewski wanted to rework his lineup after an injury to Carlos Boozer, so he decided he needed James to come off the bench. James accepted the move and played over 24 minutes per game in Duke's nine postseason victories. James' unselfishness prompted head coach Mike Krzyzewski to state that James may have been the biggest winner of all: "When he walked off the court in Minneapolis, he was not only a champion in basketball – Nate James was a champion in life."

STAFF

A 2001 Duke graduate, James scored over 1,000 career points as a member of the program from 1996-2001. He helped the Blue Devils to a 71-9 ACC regular season record and is the only player in ACC history with five straight regular season conference titles (he redshirted in 1998 after playing in six games).

James, a two-time team captain, played on a pair of Final Four teams, including Duke's 2001 National Championship squad. As a senior, James averaged 12.3 points, 5.2 rebounds and 1.6 steals per game while helping the Blue Devils to a 35-4 record. He earned All-ACC and ACC All-Defensive team honors in his 2001 senior season.

With 117 career victories he is among the winningest players in school history, ranking tied for fourth with Danny Ferry. Duke posted a winning percentage of .867 (117-18) with James on the court, placing him sixth on the career list. Along with his five regular season ACC championships, he was also a member of three ACC Tournament Championship squads at Duke.

James made his mark on the Duke record books as a player. He is one of 56 players in school history to score over 1,000 career points and now ranks 45th on the all-time list with 1,116 points in his career. In 135 career games he averaged 8.3 points and 3.7 rebounds per game while shooting .473 (387-of-818) from the field. He is one of 41 players in Duke history with 500 career rebounds and ranks 20th all-time at Duke with 147 career steals.

Following his career at Duke, James played professionally in the United States and overseas from 2002-2007. After being named the Carolinas Basketball League Most Valuable Player in 2003, James spent various parts of the next five seasons playing in Bosnia, Brazil, France, Germany, Greece, Holland, Hungary, Italy, Japan, Philippines, Poland and Russia. He was also with the Philadelphia 76ers during their training camp in 2004.

In the off-season, James has directed a summer basketball camp with former Blue Devil Chris Carrawell in Durham. The camp teaches the importance of fundamentals in the game of basketball and life.

James earned his degree in sociology with a minor in African American studies in 2001. He is married to Bobbi Baker-James and is currently residing in Durham.

STAFF

Duke Basketball and world-class success are synonymous. Building the financial infrastructure of the program through the Duke Basketball Legacy Fund and its other development initiatives are imperative to continue that success. Coach K's driving force behind the mission to build an everlasting basketball program speaks for his desire to see the program sustained well past his coaching days.

The Legacy Fund began in January 2000 with the aim to establish a comprehensive endowment fund for player scholarships, coaches' salaries and operational budget, build a capital fund to enhance historic Cameron Indoor Stadium, address year round training needs and meet the overall demands of the program well into the future. Each of the 34 partners to the Fund, as of October 2008, have contributed a minimum of $1 million each and contributed a total of over $58.2 million to date.

One of Duke's all-time greats and one of only 13 players in school history to have his jersey number retired, Grant Hill, has once again led the Blue Devils by serving as the Chairman of the Duke Basketball Legacy Fund. He accepted the position, as he has everything in his life, with a full commitment to excellence. The six-time NBA All-Star and three-time college All-America led off the fundraising initiative with a $1 million gift to endow a scholarship in his and his wife Tamia's names.

A total of nine player scholarships and a manager scholarship have now been fully endowed, including a player scholarship donated by Christian Laettner and Brian Davis, who both played major roles in Duke's capturing of back-to-back NCAA titles in 1991 and 1992. The pair also contributed a major gift to Duke's newest endeavor - the building of The Michael W. Kryzewski Center - Dedicated to Academic & Athletic Excellence, adjacent to Cameron, which houses a new state-of-the-art training facility for men's basketball.

In recent years, several other programs have grown from the initial and unique Legacy Fund development plan. In 2002, Duke became just the second school to initiate a Venture Capital Co-Investment Fund within an athletic department and that group now numbers 17 strong with each investor giving a $50,000 gift. Duke basketball's connection with the Fuqua School of Business has translated into the annual Coach K / Fuqua Conference on Leadership and five years ago established the unique Fuqua / Coach K Center on Leadership & Ethics.

Another anchor to the year-round Duke Basketball efforts has been the summer basketball fantasy camp, the K Academy. Each year campers from around the country join Duke's former players for a five-day one-of-a-kind Duke Basketball experience. This past summer, 80 campers and over 20 former Duke players came to Cameron for the experience.

As National Coach of the Decade for the 1990s and Duke's visionary leader, Coach K endeavors to secure the future of the program. With the creation of the Duke Basketball Legacy Fund, the program's heralded past as well as its future success will be forever linked.

Mike Cragg

Associate Director of Athletics/
Director of Legacy Fund

Mike Cragg joined the Duke Athletic Department in May of 1987 as an assistant SID. He was promoted to Sports Information Director in 1990 and spent 10 years in that role before moving into the director's position of the newly created Duke Basketball Legacy Fund during the fall of 1999. In 2004, Cragg was promoted to associate athletics director and this past summer was promoted to senior associate director of athletics. In his new role Cragg will oversee facilities, men's basketball, the Legacy Fund and special projects. He has numerous administrative responsibilities within the basketball operation, including the coordination of the annual K Academy, the Duke Venture Capital Co-Investment Fund and the establishment of the Fuqua / Coach K Center of Leadership & Ethics. In addition he coordinates the planning and implementation of projects for athletic facilities. He has planned upgrades in and around Cameron Indoor Stadium, including the new The Michael W. Kryzewski Center - Dedicated to Academic & Athletic Excellence, which houses a state-of-the-art basketball training facility.

The Basketball Legacy Fund is a unique and intimate donor program established to endow the basketball program as well as finance basketball-related projects. Partners in the Fund, which is now at 34 members, give a minimum gift of $1 million and have provided over $58.2 million in funds since its inception. Serving as Chairman of the Fund is former Duke All-America and multiple All-NBA performer Grant Hill.

Cragg, a native of Yakima, Wash., is a 1986 graduate of the University of Washington. He has helped coordinate media operations at numerous national events, including serving on the NCAA Men's Basketball Final Four Media Coordination Committee in 1993, 1995, 1997, 1998 and 2000. He and his wife, Paige, live in Durham with their daughters, Shelby and Michaela.

Kevin White

Vice President and Director of Athletics

Kevin White was named the seventh director of athletics in Duke University history on May 30, 2008, when he was also appointed as a vice president of the university by President Dr. Richard H. Brodhead.

White previously served as director of athletics at the University of Notre Dame since 2000. During White's eight years at Notre Dame, the Irish claimed four national championships — women's basketball (2001); fencing (2003 and 2005) and women's soccer (2004).

White led Notre Dame's athletics program to success both on the playing fields and in the classroom. He also has held a number of prominent national leadership roles within intercollegiate athletics, including his service in 2006-07 as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and in 2005-06 as president of the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association.

On the academic front, all of Notre Dame's 26 athletic programs achieved at least a 3.0 grade-point average in 2005-06, the first time this occurred in school history. The university received a 2002 USA Today/NCAA Academic Achievement Award for graduating 90 percent of its student-athletes within a certain time frame, and also received the 2003 award for highest overall student-athlete graduation rate (92 percent).

White added a number of varsity scholarships and commissioned a facilities master plan that guided Notre Dame's subsequent upgrading or opening of several athletics facilities. He also administered a comprehensive intramural, club sport and campus recreation program, with 95 percent of the student body participating. Sports Illustrated On Campus rated the Irish intramural program tops in the nation in 2004.

White, who holds a Ph.D. in education, has taught graduate-level classes since 1982 and taught a sports business course in the management department of the Mendoza College of Business as part of Notre Dame's MBA program.

In August 2003, SI.com (the Sports Illustrated web site) listed White third in its rankings of the most powerful people in college football. In January 2004, The Sporting News listed him in its Power 100 as third among five names in the "front office" category (and the lone college athletics director among the 100).

White currently is a representative with the football Bowl Championship Series. He previously served on numerous NCAA committees, including the NCAA Coalition on Intercollegiate Athletics (COIA) that deals with academics, fiscal reform and student-athlete well-being. He also was an ex-officio member of the NCAA Committee on Academic Performance and a member of its Penalty and Rewards subcommittee.

Prior to joining Notre Dame in 2000, White served as athletic director at Arizona State University, Tulane University, the University of Maine and Loras College in Iowa, where he originated the National Catholic Basketball Tournament.

Before becoming an administrator, White served as head track and field coach at Southeast Missouri State (1981-82) and assistant cross country and track and field coach at Central Michigan (1976-80). He began his coaching career at Gulf High School in New Port Richey, Fla., coaching cross country and track and assisting in football and wrestling.

White earned his Ph.D. from Southern Illinois University in 1983 with an emphasis on higher education administration. In 1985, he completed postdoctoral work at Harvard University's Institute for Educational Management. He earned his master's degree in athletics administration from Central Michigan University in 1976 and his bachelor's degree in business administration in 1972 from St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind., where he also competed as a sprinter. White and his wife, Jane, a former college track and field coach, have five children.

Dr. Richard H. Brodhead

President, Duke University

Duke University was created in 1924 by James Buchanan Duke as a memorial to his father, Washington Duke. The Dukes, a Durham family who built a worldwide financial empire in the manufacture of tobacco and developed the production of electricity in the two Carolinas, had long been interested in Trinity College. Trinity traced its roots to 1838 in nearby Randolph County when local Methodist and Quaker communities joined forces to support a permanent school, which they named Union Institute. After a brief period as Normal College (1851-59), the school changed its name to Trinity College in 1859 and affiliated with the Methodist Church.

The college moved to Durham in 1892 with financial assistance from Washington Duke and the donation of land by Julian S. Carr. In December 1924, the school's trustees gratefully accepted the provisions of James B. Duke's indenture creating the family philanthropic foundation, The Duke Endowment, which provided, in part, for the expansion of Trinity College into Duke University.

As a result of the Duke gift, Trinity underwent both physical and academic expansion. The original Durham Campus became known as East Campus when it was rebuilt in stately Georgian architecture. West Campus, Gothic in style and dominated by the soaring 210-foot tower of Duke Chapel, opened in 1930. Academic expansion of the university included the establishment of new graduate and professional schools.

Modern times have seen Duke realize its founder's aspirations to become a major center of learning. The Duke University Medical Center has achieved international prominence, and many Duke schools and departments are consistently ranked among the nation's best.

Some quick facts about Duke include:

- Duke has a student:faculty ratio of 11:1
- Seventy-five percent of classes at Duke have 16-35 students
 - Student-athletes make up more than 10 percent of the Duke student body
 - Duke has six professional schools — Fuqua School of Business, Divinity, Nicholas School of the Environment and Earth Sciences, Law, Medicine and Nursing —and two undergraduate schools — Trinity College (Arts & Sciences) and Pratt School of Engineering
- Ninety-four percent of Duke students graduate in four years

Durham, North Carolina

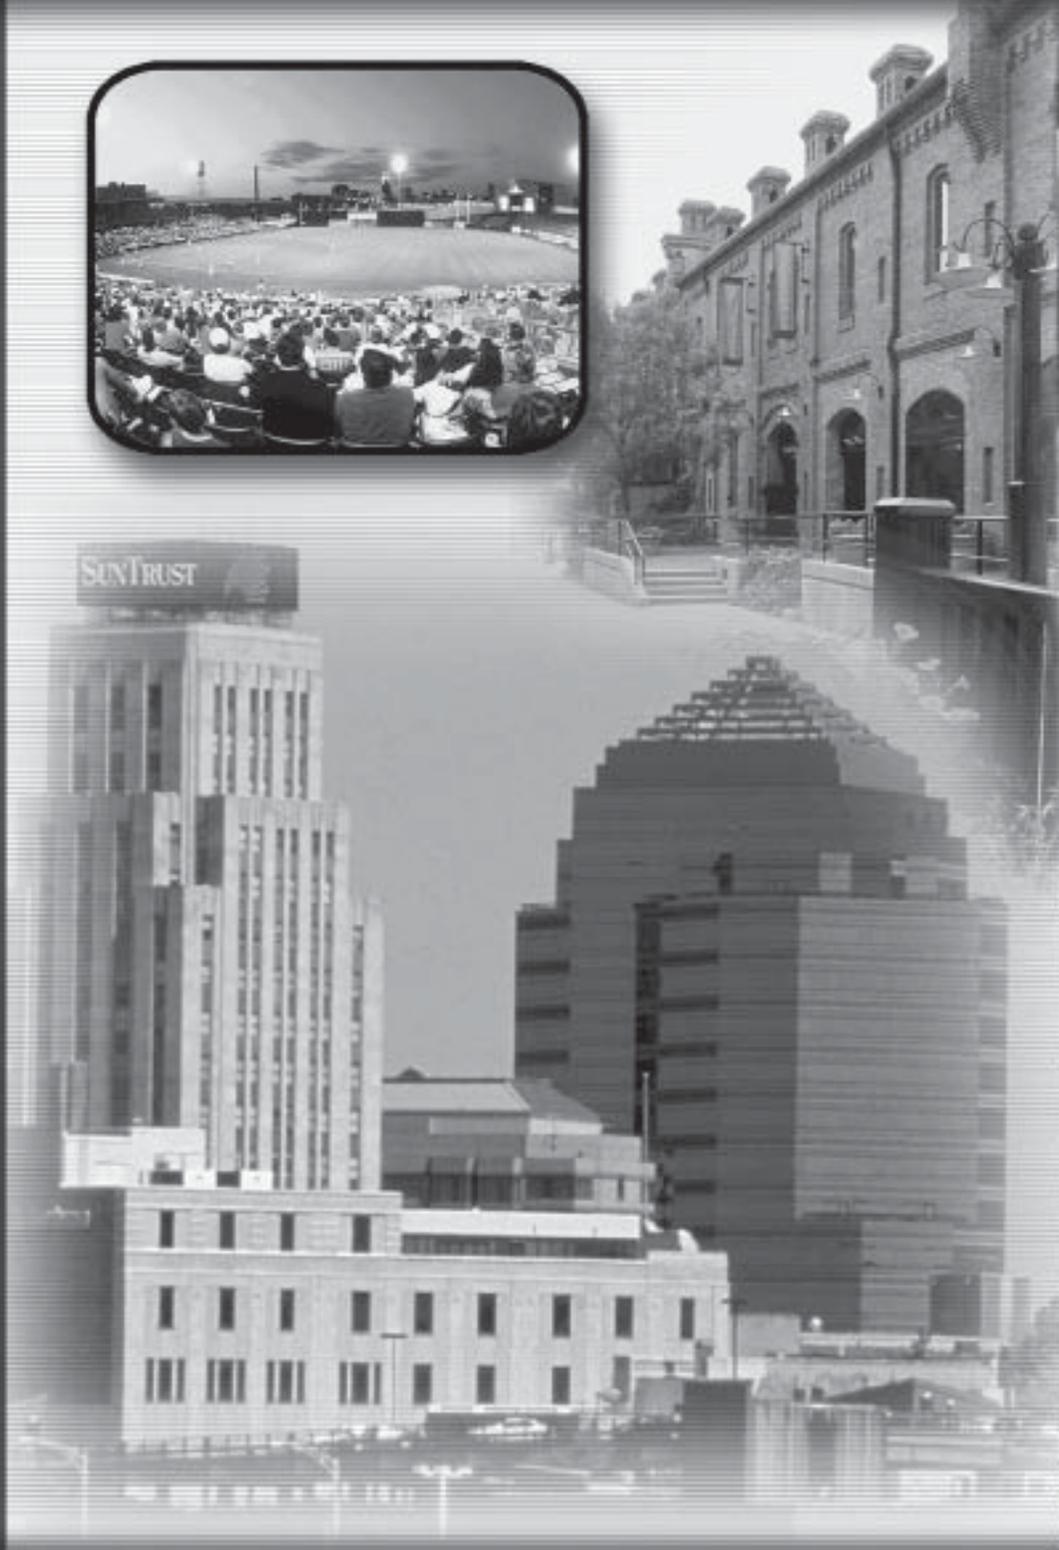

Located in the heart of North Carolina's rolling Piedmont region, Durham stands out as a gem among southern cities. Through the years, the city has evolved from a tobacco and textile town into an international center for medicine, scholarship, biotechnology and electronics.

Founded in 1853, Durham is widely recognized for its diversity. Originally a manufacturing center, the city now is known for excellence in medicine, education, research and industry. The wide range of activities available in the area lends the city a multifaceted appeal that strikes even first-time visitors.

Durham has a natural appeal as well, characterized by 98,000 acres of hardwood and evergreen forests including the only remaining old growth Piedmont bottomland forests and 7,800 acres of cropland. Hills and dales, meandering rivers and streams, several lakes, 26 rare plant species and several rare species of birds and animals can also be found here.

With 187,000 residents in the one-city county, Durham is the fourth-largest city in North Carolina. It is ideally located on the large and small scale. Within the immediate area it stands as the pinnacle of the "Triangle" region of North Carolina, a metropolitan population of 1,000,000 people that includes Chapel Hill to the south and west and Raleigh, the state capital, to the south and east. On a regional level, this area is the primary center of culture, sports, education and government between Washington, D.C., and Atlanta.

With excellent sports and cultural activities in the area, Durham is a fun place to be. People from all walks of life — academic, industrial, professional, agricultural — blend to provide a warm, rich sense of hospitality and diversity.

North Carolina

First In Flight

North Carolina is a state of diversity — diversity in its population, in its economic production and in its beautiful scenery. According to the 2000 census, North Carolina was the home to more than eight million people of many nationalities.

Known for its major production of tobacco, North Carolina is also a major producer of textiles and furniture, fueled by the thousands of acres of forests that cover the state. Among its other leading products are broilers, hogs, turkeys, greenhouse products, sweet potatoes, corn, soybeans, peanuts and eggs. In addition, there are hundreds of coastal fisheries that yield shrimp, menhaden and crabs as the primary catches.

The scenery throughout the state is diverse and beautiful. From the mountains to the west and the beaches adjoining the Atlantic Ocean to the east, North Carolina is one of the nation's most picturesque states. Some of the state's attractions include the Great Smoky Mountains, the Blue Ridge National Parkway, the Cape Hatteras and Cape Lookout National Seashores, the Wright Brothers National Memorial at Kitty Hawk, Guilford Courthouse and Moores Creek National Military Parks. This scenery, enhanced by a mild climate with enough rainfall to assist with the state's abundant greenery, attracts millions who visit annually to take advantage of its clean and uncluttered beaches, its string of forests and the mountain ranges.

In recent years, North Carolina has become a favorite place for the entertainment industry. Some of the TV shows and movies filmed in the state include Cast Away (2001), Dawson's Creek (1997-2003), One Tree Hill (2002-08), Forrest Gump (1994), Bull Durham (1988) and Dirty Dancing (1987).

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor. However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 56th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 109 national championships, including 57 in women's competition and 52 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 145 times in men's competition and 92 times in women's action.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC is unrivaled in NCAA annals. Including Duke's three National Championships, ACC teams have captured 10 NCAA basketball titles, including six over the last 18 years.

No conference has posted a better NCAA Tournament record than the ACC since the NCAA's inaugural tournament in 1939. With an impressive 85-43 mark over the past 10 years, ACC teams have posted an NCAA Tournament-best mark of 329-164 for a sterling .667 winning percentage.

Since the 1985 NCAA Tournament when the field was expanded to 64 teams, ACC teams have been even more impressive compiling a 233-115 (.670) NCAA record, including 63 "Sweet 16" appearances and 22 Final Four berths - all NCAA Tournament bests. Since 1985, 63 of the 120 ACC teams receiving NCAA berths have won at least two NCAA Tournament games.

The ACC has 10 or more NCAA Tournament wins in four of the last eight years and 13 times overall and the league has not posted a losing record in NCAA Tournament play since 1987. The conference's 19-year non-losing streak in NCAA Tournament play is tops among all conferences.

Since 1981, the ACC has produced 37 consensus All-Americans - 17 more than any other conference and has accounted for 25 percent of the nation's consensus All-Americans (37-of-146).

Seven of the last 12 and nine of the last 16 consensus National Players of the Year have come from the ACC. Since 1975, the ACC has had 16 consensus national players of the year - 13 more than any other conference. Nine of the ACC's 16 National Players of the Year were unanimous selections.

A year ago the ACC led all conferences with 53 players on NBA rosters. This past June the ACC had four players selected in the annual NBA draft. Since 1986, the ACC has had 89 first round selections (17 more than any other conference) and has had at least one first round selection in 20 consecutive NBA drafts.

In 2007, the ACC became the first conference in NCAA history to have 10 teams finish the season with 20 or more wins. In addition, 10 ACC teams took part in post-season play, including an ACC record seven NCAA Tournament teams.

For the third consecutive year, the ACC surpassed the 2.2 million mark in basketball attendance in 2008, with the 12 league teams totaling 2,355,822 over 203 regular-season games and six tournament sessions.

The stature of ACC basketball is no where more clearly defined than by the league's regional and national television exposure. A record-setting 285 television appearances involving ACC teams, highlight the 2007-08 basketball schedule, including 162 appearances on national television networks.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Mike Krzyzewski joined UCLA's John Wooden as the only coach to lead a school to four consecutive Final Fours. This time it proved to be the magical trip as Duke captured its first national championship. The Blue Devils recorded a stirring upset of undefeated and seemingly invincible UNLV in the semifinals and a hard-fought victory over Kansas in the title contest.

Christian Laettner took MVP honors with 28 points against the Runnin' Rebels and shot a perfect 12-for-12 from the free throw line against the Jayhawks. Point guard Bobby Hurley played nearly flawless basketball. He was on the floor the entire 80 minutes with 16 assists and just six turnovers in directing the offense. Reserve guard Billy McCaffrey joined Hurley and Laettner on the All-Final Four team with 16 points in the title game.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Duke's history-making season ended in Minneapolis with the Blue Devils remaining on top of the college basketball world for a second consecutive season. Duke went the entire year ranked No. 1 in the country and then defeated Big Ten rivals Indiana and Michigan at the Final Four. The title made Duke the first school to repeat as NCAA champions since UCLA's run from 1967-73.

Bobby Hurley earned MVP honors after scoring a team-high 26 points in the semifinal victory as he hit a career-high six three-pointers. He came back two nights later to record seven assists and nine points against the Wolverines. Duke delivered the 20-point win by outscoring Michigan, 23-6, in the game's final seven minutes. Duke scored on its final 12 possessions. Christian Laettner and Grant Hill also earned All-Final Four honors as the senior class of Laettner and Brian Davis closed their careers with a 21-2 NCAA Tournament record.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Top-ranked Duke earned its third national championship in an 11-season span by defeating ACC foe Maryland and preseason No. 1 Arizona in the Final Four in Minneapolis. Mike Krzyzewski became just the fourth coach in history to win three or more national championships, joining legends John Wooden (10), Adolph Rupp (four) and Bob Knight (three) as three-time NCAA title coaches.

Led by the Final Four Most Outstanding Player and National Player of the Year Shane Battier, the Blue Devils rolled through the NCAA Tournament, becoming only the second team since the field was expanded to 64 or 65 teams to win every tournament game by 10 or more points. Mike Dunleavy exploded for 21 points in the championship game and Jason Williams averaged more than 25 points in Duke's six NCAA games. Along the way, the team set the tournament records for three-point field goals made (60) and attempted (175).

Duke has made 14 appearances in the Final Four, the third-highest total in NCAA history. Beginning with its 1963 team that featured National Player of the Year Art Heyman through the 2004 team led by Chris Duhon, the Blue Devils have been amazingly consistent, having advanced to a Final Four at least once in each of the last five decades. Duke's 10 Final Fours since 1986 are the most by any school in the country (the next-closest school has seven). The Blue Devils' string of five consecutive Final Four appearances from 1988-92 ranks second all-time.

Since Mike Krzyzewski arrived in Durham in 1980, Duke has performed on basketball's largest stage 10 times in 28 seasons. Coach K's 10 Final Four appearances rank third all-time behind only John Wooden (12) and Dean Smith (11).

National Players of the Year

Nine Duke players have won the National Player of the Year award, starting with Dick Groat in 1952. Since Groat's initial honor, Art Heyman (1963), Johnny Dawkins (1986), Danny Ferry (1989), Christian Laettner (1992), Elton Brand (1999), Shane Battier (2001), Jason Williams (2001 and 2002) and J.J. Redick (2005 and 2006) have followed as National Players of the Year.

Since 1986, Duke is one of just three schools in the nation with multiple National Player of the Year winners by AP, NABC, Naismith, UPI, USBWA and Wooden (the Blue Devils have seven such honorees, Kansas has three and North Carolina has two). Mike Krzyzewski has mentored more National Player of the Year winners than any coach in college basketball history. Five Blue Devils have won the Wooden Award under Krzyzewski, a figure more than twice as high as any other coach (Dean Smith and Lou Carnessecca had two Wooden winners each). Coach K has seen seven of his players win the Naismith Award. John Wooden and Bob Knight rank second on the Naismith list with two winners apiece.

Four different Duke players in the past nine seasons have earned the country's top honor. In 2002, Williams became one of just seven players in history to repeat as National Player of the Year. J.J. Redick repeated as National Player of the Year in 2006. Williams and Redick joined an elite list that includes Ralph Sampson, David Thompson, Bill Walton, Lew Alcindor, Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson as repeat winners.

Duke has dominated the National Defensive Player of the Year award since its inception in 1987. Six different Blue Devils have won the prestigious award: Tommy Amaker (1987), Billy King (1988), Grant Hill (1993), Steve Wojciechowski (1998), Shane Battier (1999, 2000, 2001) and Shelden Williams (2005 and 2006).

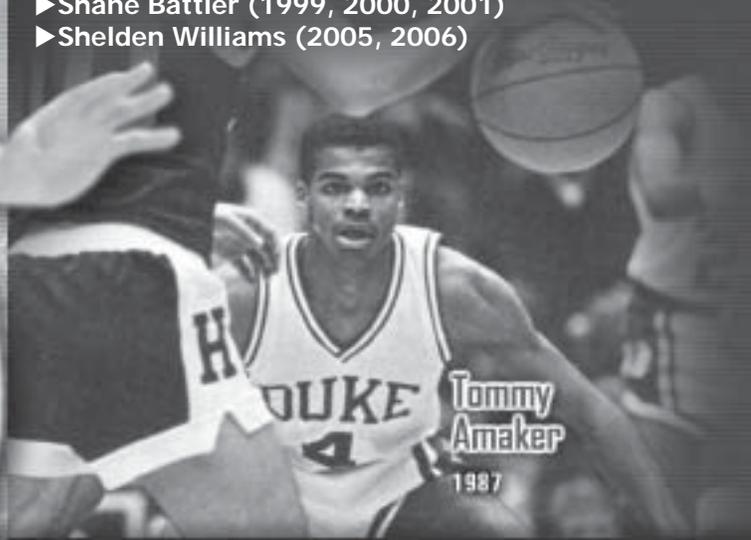

Of the 10 schools that have had a National Defensive Player of the Year recipient, Duke is the only institution with multiple winners. Duke's six individual winners of the National Defensive Player of the Year award are five higher than the other seven schools to have obtained this honor. Mike Krzyzewski has coached six National Defensive Players of the Year, five more players than any other coach in college basketball history.

In 2001, Shane Battier became just the third player in history to win a third National Defensive Player of the Year award, joining UNLV's Stacey Augmon and Wake Forest's Tim Duncan as the only players to be so honored.

Duke senior forward Shelden Williams, who established the school's all-time blocked shots record, won the National Defensive Player of the Year award for the second consecutive season in 2006. The Forest Park, Okla., native joined Battier to become just the second Duke player to repeat as National Defensive Player of the Year.

Bill Werber

Beginning with Bill Werber in 1930, 32 Duke players have earned All-America recognition. Duke's 18 consensus first team All-Americans, including a national-best eight in the past 10 seasons, are tied for fourth in college basketball history (immediately ahead are Kentucky and UCLA with 20 and Notre Dame with 19).

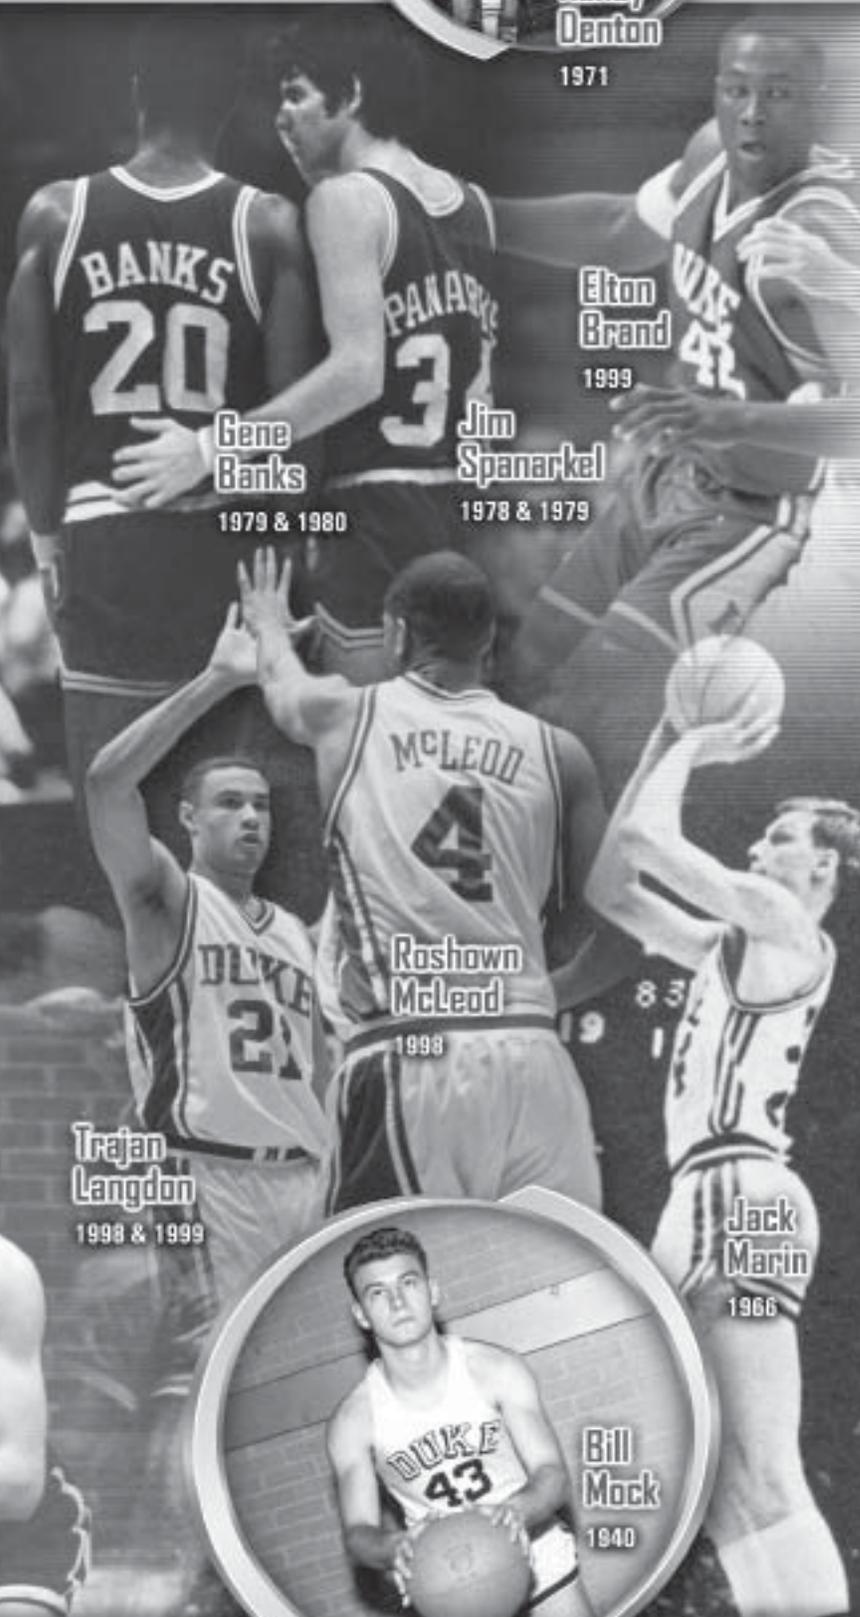

Under Mike Krzyzewski, 20 Blue Devils have earned All-America honors, including third team selection DeMarcus Nelson in 2008. In 2005-06, the duo of J.J. Redick and Shelden Williams were both consensus first team selections. In 2001-02, Jason Williams, Mike Dunleavy and Carlos Boozer each earned All-America honors. That season marked the first time since 1992 that three Blue Devils earned All-America recognition in the same season (Christian Laettner, Bobby Hurley and Grant Hill accomplished that previously). Redick became Duke's third two-time consensus first team All-America, joining current Blue Devil associate head coach Johnny Dawkins and Jason Williams.

Redick and Williams were both first team All-America selections in 2006. Shane Battier and Williams were both unanimous first team selections in 2001. With its Redick/Williams and Battier/Williams duos, Duke is the only school in the nation to have two pairs of first team All-Americans in the history of the Associated Press voting. This impressive feat has been accomplished just nine times in the history of college basketball (the most recent two times by Duke).

The words Duke and All-America have become synonymous in the past 23 years. Since 1986, Duke has produced 19 All-Americans (32 honors), more than any other school in the nation. Nine different Duke players (11 total honors) were named consensus first team All-America since 1990, six more than the next nearest schools (Arizona and Kentucky). Six different Blue Devils have been named consensus first team All-America in the past 10 seasons.

Coach K Legacy

The images will be seared into college basketball lore for years to come.

■ Head coach Mike Krzyzewski and Johnny Dawkins, former associate head coach and a former National Player of the Year at Duke, celebrating the school's third NCAA title at the site of its 1992 crown — the Metrodome in Minneapolis, Minn.

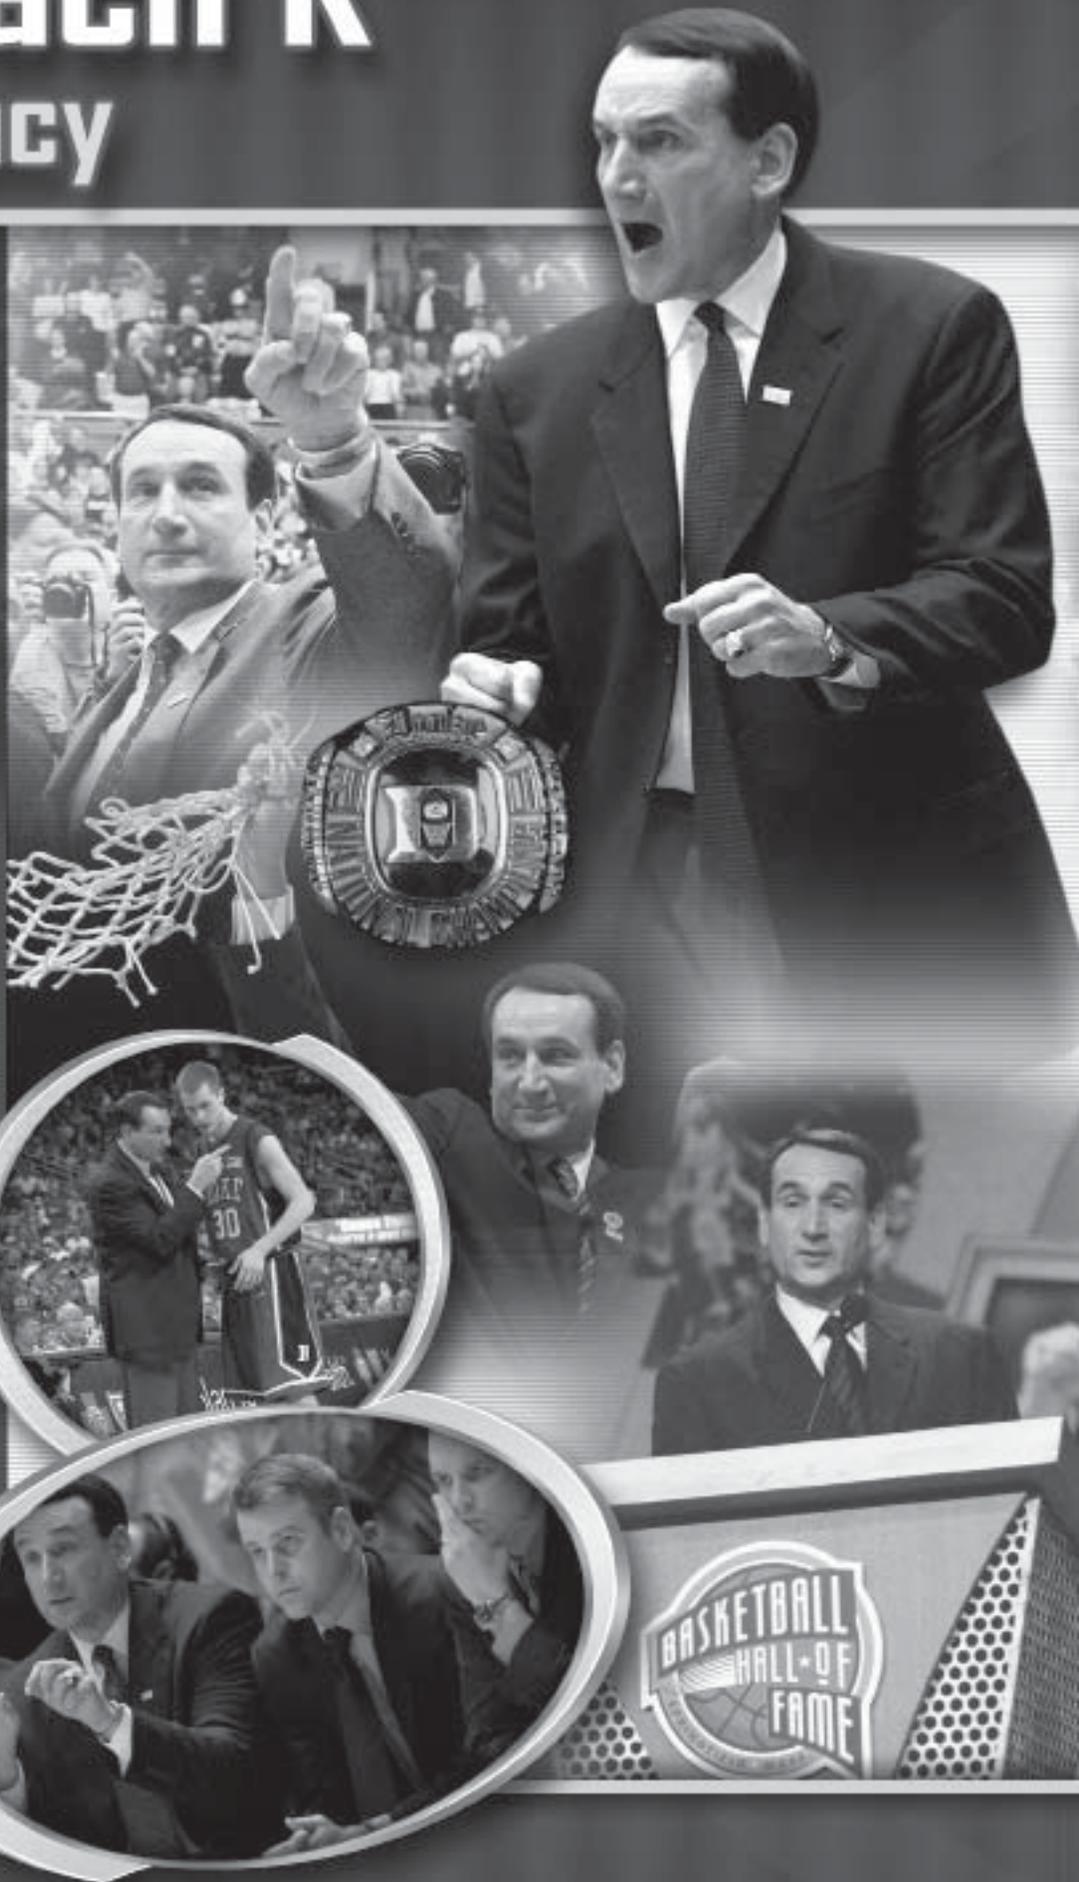

■ The triumph of victory seen in the determined eyes of Christian Laettner after catching a perfectly thrown pass from his teammate, Grant Hill, on March 28, 1992, in Philadelphia. The result ... he calmly sinks his 10th consecutive field goal (without a miss in the game) and sends Duke to an overtime win against Kentucky and a berth into the school's fifth straight Final Four.

■ A crushing, in-your-face dunk by Phil Henderson, a 6-3 guard, over the outstretched arms of 6-11 Alonzo Mourning of Georgetown in the NCAA East Regional title game on March 26, 1989.

■ The collective group hug of Duke's senior class on Cameron's center circle following the regular season finale on March 2, 1986. It was a day in which the Blue Devils finished with the nation's No. 1 national ranking, earned by a group that started their careers with an 11-17 record as freshmen.

■ A never-say-die Bobby Hurley sinking a three-pointer in the waning moments of Duke's triumph over undefeated UNLV in the NCAA semifinals on March 30, 1991. Of course, there was also Laettner calmly sinking the two free throws with seconds remaining to record the winning points. Duke would go on to win its first national title with a victory over Kansas.

■ The 1992 Duke team, captained by Brian Davis and Laettner, rejoicing in Minneapolis after becoming the first team since the John Wooden-coached UCLA squad in 1973 to earn back-to-back national championships.

■ Finally ... Steve Wojciechowski, rushing across the court after Duke's 1998 victory over North Carolina, looking for his coach. The coach catching his player's eyes and finding him through a rush of fans streaming on the court to celebrate. Ultimately, the two embrace with tears running down their cheeks, in celebration of the accomplishment and the relationship between coach and player.

Wojo's hug was the defining moment of joy people share for Duke basketball and for the leader of their program. Every former player, every former assistant coach, actually every person that has been touched by Coach K shared in that hug. It was on that day, Feb. 28, 1998, that Coach K earned his 500th victory as a college head coach. But on that day of triumph, it wasn't the individual accomplishment of one of the greatest coaches in basketball history that was recognized, it was the simple love between a player and a coach, a student and a mentor.

The scene in historic Cameron Indoor Stadium in 1998 was a far cry from the humble beginnings of Coach K's coaching career that began with, what else, a victory in his first game at the U.S. Military Academy in 1975. The Cadets knocked off Lehigh, 56-29, that November night behind the 15 points of Gary Winton and Tom Valerio. After leading Army to a 73-59 record in five years, Krzyzewski landed at Duke.

It was Krzyzewski's will to succeed and his intense determination to run the basketball program his way, the right way, that ultimately led Duke Athletics Director Tom Butters to hire the relatively unknown coach in the spring of 1980.

Following an NIT bid in his first season, the next two years were rough. Finally in 1984, the path of success, which is the hallmark of Duke basketball today, took shape with a recruiting class featuring Johnny Dawkins, Mark Alarie, Jay Bilas and David Henderson. That class ultimately became the nucleus of Duke's ride to the 1986 Final Four. Not only did that group help put Duke back in the national spotlight, it opened the door for a wave of prep All-Americans to sign with the Blue Devils that continues today.

Under Coach K, Duke has advanced to the Final Four 10 times and captured national championships in 1991, 1992 and 2001. Coach K is just one of four coaches in history to win three or more NCAA championships. On October 5, 2001, Krzyzewski, along with Temple head coach John Chaney and former NBA star Moses Malone, was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass.

Coach K remains at the top of college basketball's coaching circle — his 803 wins will continue to grow and, in the end, be only a small part of his legacy. The success of Coach K goes far beyond the basketball court. It is etched in stone by the relationships formed, the leadership given, a love for the sport and a devotion and love of the institution like few others.

A total of 50 former Duke players have appeared on an NBA roster, including 14 entering the 2008-09 season (as of Sept. 11, 2008). In 2007, Josh McRoberts became the 39th draft selection under Mike Krzyzewski. Duke has had nine NBA lottery selections the past 10 seasons, more than any other school. In 1999, Duke became the first program in the history of the NBA Draft to have four players from the same school selected in the first round. Three of the four — Elton Brand (Chicago), Trajan Langdon (Cleveland) and Corey Maggette (Seattle) — were lottery picks. In 2002, Jason Williams (2nd overall) and Mike Dunleavy (3rd) became the first college teammates in the history of the NBA Draft to be the first two collegians selected. Overall, 20 Duke players have been selected in the first round of the NBA Draft in the Coach K era, including 12 in the last 11 years. International Hoops

Duke University players and coaches have been major contributors on the international stage since Jeff Mullins became the first Blue Devil to play on the U.S. Olympic basketball team in 1964.

Since that time, Duke has had nine players compete for three different countries in Olympic competition. In addition, Mike Krzyzewski has been a part of two gold medal teams; first as an assistant coach in 1992 and then as the U.S. Senior National Team head coach in 2008.

Overall, Duke players have competed in international competitions 119 times.

On October 26, 2005, it was announced that Mike Krzyzewski would be the head coach of the United States Senior National Team Program. In short, Krzyzewski's mission was to re-establish the USA's position in international basketball by coaching a three-year program made up of a pool of 24 players — the first of its kind in the United States — leading up to the 2008 Olympic Games in China.

"For me, coaching Team USA was the ultimate honor," said Krzyzewski. "Representing the United States at this elite level of basketball on the international stage was special. I am honored to have had the opportunity to represent our great country in its own sport, both on and off the court."

By instilling the same team-first principles he utilizes as the foundation for success at Duke, Coach K helped build a program that achieved its ultimate goal by claiming the 2008 Olympic gold medal with a 118-107 win over Spain. Led by a host of stars, including Carmelo Anthony, Kobe Bryant, LeBron James and Dwayne Wade, Team USA posted an 8-0 record in Beijing.

In the process, Team USA also restored a tarnished image by winning over fans and fellow athletes with its presence off the court in Beijing. While earning praise for its unselfish play on the court, members of Team USA were equally admired for their patriotic support of fellow Americans in their quests for Olympic gold.

"Mike Krzyzewski brought class [to Team USA]," said Jerry Colangelo, who was appointed Managing Director of the USA Basketball Men's Senior National Team program on April 27, 2005. "He brought dignity. He brought organization. He's a Hall of Fame coach. He bled red, white and blue. He was the right guy at the right time."

"[Coach K] is everything I thought he would be and more. I have been excited and waiting for this opportunity for a long time. Playing for him now, you realize why he is such a great coach. He communicates extremely well with his players. He's very intense and has a passion for what he does and he has a great sense of humor."
— Kobe Bryant

"I smile just thinking about it. I don't know if he was the obvious choice, but he was the right choice. I'll tell you what, he's still passionate, still greatly dedicated to the profession. He might be as excited now as I've ever seen him as a coach. He's so excited — for us, for him, for the USA."
— Carlos Boozer

"The first thing is communication, which he does very well because he likes to teach. He makes things easy because he gives you what he wants to see out there, which makes it easy for a point guard. I think he would do great in the NBA, but we all know that he has a great gig at Duke."
— Jason Kidd

"[Coach K] allows you to talk to him – any day, at anytime of day. Anytime you've got a relationship with a coach, it makes it a lot easier on you as a player."
— LeBron James

"I want to thank Coach K for believing in me, and I've told him that. He was the one who believed in me coming back to this team."
— Dwyane Wade

"It has been tagged as the most selfish basketball nation on Earth, but the U.S. showed teamwork and intensity normally not seen at any place other than, say, Duke University."

Cameron Indoor Stadium has been a perfect home for the Duke University basketball program. Conceived on the back of a matchbook cover and renovated in the late 1980s at a cost of $2 million, Cameron has been the site of 704 Blue Devil victories.

It was on the cover of a book of matches that Eddie Cameron and Wallace Wade first sketched out the plan for Duke's Indoor Stadium in 1935. The story may be a myth (the matchbook has never been found), but then the Indoor Stadium that emerged from those first scribbles lends itself to the propagation of myths.

For 68 years, spectators, players and coaches have understood the unique magic of the Indoor Stadium. The building was dedicated to longtime Duke athletic director and basketball coach Eddie Cameron, a legend in his own right, on Jan. 22, 1972. An unranked Duke team upset then third-ranked North Carolina, 76-74, after Robby West drove the length of the court to hit a pull-up jumper to win the game.

It's the intimacy of the arena, the unique seating arrangement that puts the wildest fans right down on the floor with the players. It's the legends that were made there, the feeling of history being made with every game. And it's something more than either of these, something indescribable that comes from the building itself. No one who has experienced it will ever forget it.

The Stadium was ready to be opened by the first of the new year in 1940. The final cost: $400,000 (which Duke finished paying after the football team won the Sugar Bowl in 1945).

Duke's new Indoor Stadium was officially opened on Jan. 6, 1940. Touring the building before the evening ceremony and subsequent game, local city officials were "speechless." Said Chamber of Commerce President Col. Marion B. Fowler, "It is so colossal and so wonderful ... This building will not only be an asset to the university, but to the entire community as well." Chamber Secretary Frank Pierson concurred, "There are no superlatives for it."

The building was dedicated before a crowd of 8,000, the largest ever in the history of southern basketball. President William P. Few and Dean William H. Wannamaker presented the Stadium to the University. The Blue Devils beat the visiting Princeton Tigers that night, 36-27.

Renovations to the arena began in 1987. The lobbies and concourse were remodeled during the summer of 1987. Then, in 1988, work began on the interior of the arena. A new electronic scoreboard, new sound system and decorative wood paneling gave Cameron an updated look, while maintaining the original elegance.

The addition of 750 new student seats, increasing Cameron's capacity to 9,314, gave the Cameron crazies, the Duke students who have made a name for themselves as Duke's exceptional "Sixth Man," a little more room to practice the art of supporting their team creatively.

"Every game I played in Cameron holds a special memory. I feel blessed that I was able to create many amazing memories in the greatest arena in the country."

— J.J. Redick

"We have something very special here at Duke, and that's the intimacy that has developed between the students and their team. I'm glad Duke administration always looks at it that the Duke students get the best seats." — Mike Krzyzewski

"Cameron Indoor Stadium is the best place to play in the nation whether it is college or professional sports. I am blessed to have been a part of it."

— Trajan Langdon

"Cameron is the best place to play in America." — Dick Vitale

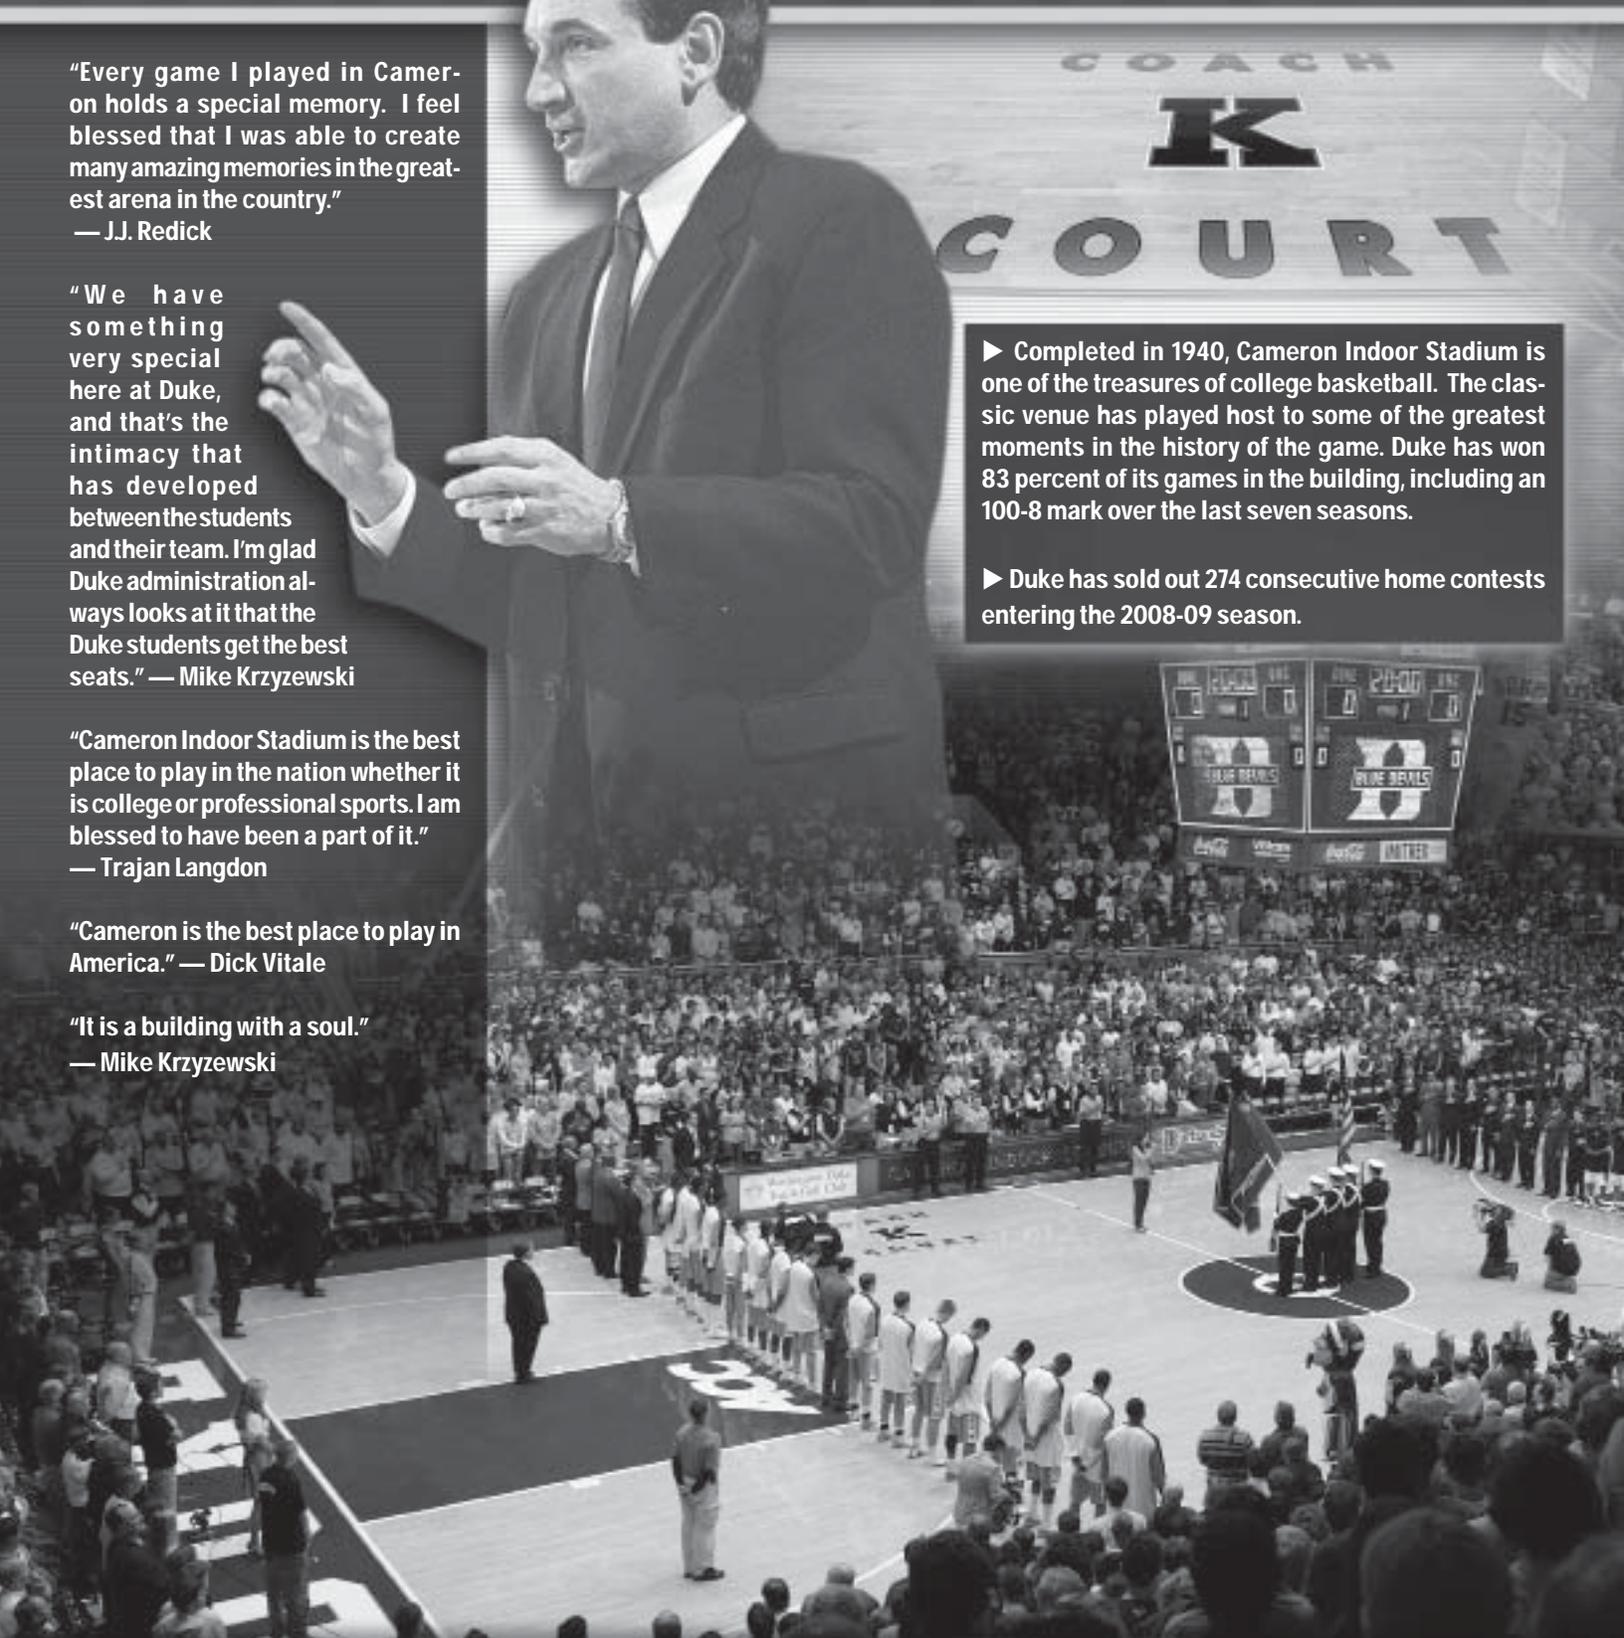

"It is a building with a soul."

— Mike Krzyzewski

COACH
COURT

► Completed in 1940, Cameron Indoor Stadium is one of the treasures of college basketball. The classic venue has played host to some of the greatest moments in the history of the game. Duke has won 83 percent of its games in the building, including an 100-8 mark over the last seven seasons.

► Duke has sold out 274 consecutive home contests entering the 2008-09 season.

In the early 1990s, the time was right to give Cameron an addition with new locker rooms, coaches' offices, an academic center and a new Sports Hall of Fame. Several years later, ground was broken for the new Schwartz-Butters Athletic Center after the end of the 1997-98 season. That complex now houses the men's and women's basketball programs, as well as Duke's administrative staff offices.

The first part of that expansion and improvement project was the installation of a new floor in Cameron Indoor Stadium after the 1996-97 season. The latest advancements in floor technology were utilized to give the Blue Devils one of the finest playing surfaces in the entire country. Prior to the 1999-2000 season, a new press row was added. Other recent renovations at Cameron were the addition of air conditioning, a new roof, new flooring on the concourse level and improvements to the locker rooms. In July of 2008, Duke installed a new four-sided video and scoring system. The centerhung display is complete with four Daktronics light emitting diode (LED) video displays measuring more than 6-feet-high and 10-feet-wide. These video displays overlooking Coach K Court will provide instant replays and statistical information to keep every Blue Devil fan and athlete in the game. The entire cube-shaped system will measure more than 14-feet-wide and almost 15-feet-tall.

Cameron Crazies

The gameday experience at Duke is the most unique of any in the country. Sellout crowds are the rule in Durham, not the exception. Fueled by the famous Cameron Crazies and the Duke Pep Band, the atmosphere in Cameron Indoor Stadium is filled with excitement and unmatched spirit.

The Cameron Crazies are among the most innovative, passionate and sometimes intimidating fans in all of sports. They are copied, but never matched. The Duke student section — both graduate and undergraduate — that surrounds the lower bowl of the arena is a spectacle itself.

Lines form early for entrance into a game, which is one of the toughest tickets in college athletics. For many years, the Crazies have taken it to another extreme. Nowhere else in college basketball will more than 1,200 brave the elements several times a year in a tent city erected outside of Cameron Indoor Stadium known as Krzyzewskiville — just to get a better seat at a Blue Devil game.

Basketball Facilities

The Duke basketball program has one of the top facilities in the country, featuring the $15.2 million Michael W. Krzyzewski Center - Dedicated to Academic & Athletic Excellence and the Schwartz/Butters Athletic Center.

The Krzyzewski Center, which opened in February of 2008, is a first-class athletics complex designed to inspire, enhance and celebrate Duke University's extraordinary student-athletes. The three-story, 56,000-square-foot complex contains three vital components — the department's academic support center, a premier campus banquet space and a basketball training facility.

"It's a great building. It's not a good one, it's a great building," says the namesake, Mike Krzyzewski. "It's uplifting. Everybody — the players, the coaching staff, the support staff — when you walk into it, it makes you feel better."

The academic support center features extensive computer resources, tutoring and counseling rooms and a team study space, while the banquet facility can host more than 300 people with additional room in the outdoor plaza, which is highlighted by quiet seating areas and beautifully landscaped terrain.

DEDICATED TO ACADEMIC AND ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

KRZYZEWSKI CENTER

The basketball training area features two full-court practice areas, a world class weight and conditioning room, an alumni locker room and a state of the art theatre-style video room. There are also four baskets positioned around the sides of each court, giving the facility 12 total baskets.

"The facility is awesome," said 2008 graduate DeMarcus Nelson. "It's going to be great for player development athletically and academically. It give the players another place to work out and train when there's something else in Cameron. It's going to be a great thing for the program."

The K Center is located next to Cameron Indoor Stadium and the Schwartz/Butters Athletic Center.

"I have been at Duke for 28 years and love everything this university stands for. It is a special place with special people," Krzyzewski said. "I am extremely thankful to all of the people who have stepped forward to make this facility a reality. It will be a tremendous benefit to our university and athletic department in facilitating a well-rounded and exceptional educational process for more than 600 student-athletes annually. The Center for Excellence will be a part of my coaching career while I am at Duke, and to have my name associated with it forever means even more."

Complementing the Krzyzewski Center is the Schwartz/Butters Athletic Center. The building, which is adjacent to Cameron Indoor Stadium, was dedicated on April 15, 2000. It is named after Alan D. Schwartz, a former Duke baseball player and the current executive vice president of Bear Stearns and Companies, Inc., and Tom Butters, Duke's long-time athletics director.

The six-story building overlooks Blue Devil Plaza, an open grassy area that connects several of Duke's athletic facilities, including Cameron Indoor Stadium, Card Gym, the Wilson Student Recreation Center, the Sheffield Indoor Tennis Center and Ambler Stadium. During basketball season, Blue Devil Plaza transforms into Krzyzewskiville, the tent village of hundreds of Duke students waiting to get into games at Cameron Indoor Stadium.

The Schwartz/Butters Athletic Center is the anchor of the vast athletics complex, housing the Duke Sports Hall of Fame in addition to new offices, locker rooms and player lounges for both the men's and women's basketball programs.

The men's basketball locker room was renovated in the summer of 2008 and comes equipped with a Jacuzzi, sauna, coaches locker room, office and meeting areas. There are also training facilities and an equipment room with state-of-the-art equipment for the basketball team.

Both facilities, part of a $75 million athletic facilities renovation project at Duke, are perfect complements to historic Cameron Indoor Stadium and provide the Blue Devils with one of the finest complexes in all of college basketball. It is tangible evidence of the university's commitment to providing its student-athletes with top-notch facilities.

Duke in the Community

Led by the generosity of its head coach, the Duke basketball team gives back to its community with frequent visits to the Duke Medical Center and Duke Children's Health Center. Mike Krzyzewski is involved in many community efforts, including the foundation of the Emily Krzyzewski Family Center, a youth center built in Durham named in honor of his mother. Coach K is also active in several charitable causes, including current roles with the Duke Children's Miracle Network Telethon, the Jimmy V Foundation for Cancer Research and the NABC Foundation.

As a whole, the Duke Athletic Department's outreach efforts continue with the reading program — Verizon Read with the Blue Devils — entering its 17th year in the Durham Public School System. Intended to aid area teachers by providing reading incentives for third and fourth graders in Durham, the program touches area youth.

Strength & Conditioning

The mission of the Duke Basketball Strength and Conditioning Program is to merge the team's principles of hard work and effort with the development of functional strength, agility, footwork, flexibility, core strength and conditioning. The program aims to facilitate growth of its players' basketball talent and fulfillment of their athletic potential via complete physical maximization.

Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach William Stephens is in his 10th season with the Duke Athletics program. He oversees the Strength and Conditioning programs for both men's and women's basketball.

The 43-year-old is a native of Elizabethtown, N.C., and a 1987 graduate of N.C. Central University with a degree in Criminal Justice. He is an accomplished weightlifter, as he was a three-time state powerlifting champion from 1991-93. He also held the state record in the deadlift (661 lbs.) and was a gold medal winner at the World Championships for Law Enforcement in 1994. A member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association, Stephens has been a certified strength and conditioning specialist since 1996.

He has one son, P.J. (10).

Sports Medicine

Led by nationally renowned physicians and certified athletic trainers, Duke's sports medicine program is widely considered the very best in the nation. In essence, the mission of the sports medicine program at Duke is to combine the latest innovations and technology in injury recognition, prevention, treatment and performance enhancement with an outstanding collection of doctors, certified athletic trainers and other support personnel to give the Blue Devil student-athlete a quality experience while at Duke.

Duke student-athletes have access to some of the top doctors with vast experience in athletics at the college and professional levels, all of whom are affiliated with the Duke Sports Medicine Center. Dr. Claude T. Moorman III, former head team physician for the NFL's Baltimore Ravens, serves as the center's director and head team physician. A 1987 graduate from the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, he returned to Duke after serving as the Director of Sports Medicine at the University of Maryland Medical Center from 1996-2001. Moorman, a Duke football letterman from 1980-82, heads the Sports Medicine Center staff, which also includes:

- Dean Taylor, MD - Professor of Surgery, Division of Orthopaedic Surgery, Director of Shoulder Fellowship. A 1981 graduate of West Point, Taylor joined the Duke staff in 2006 after serving as a Professor of Orthopaedic Surgery at the University of Minnesota. Taylor, who graduated from Duke Medical School in 1985, became a member of the staff at Minnesota and served as a team physician for the NFL's Minnesota Vikings, NHL's Minnesota Wild and University of Minnesota athletic program after retiring as a Colonel from the U.S. Army following 24 years of service. He spent 11 years as the head team physician for athletes at West Point.

- Jeff Bytomski, DO, CAQSM - Medical Team Physician. Bytomski completed a fellowship at the Duke University Sports Medicine Center in 2002. During the fellowship, he worked with the women's soccer and women's basketball team. He was also the medical team physician for North Carolina Central University and Carolina Cobras (Arena Football). Now in his third year at Duke, Bytomski is a 1993 graduate of San Diego State University. He completed his medical training at Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine in 1998 and family medicine residency at the Phoenix Baptist Hospital.

The Duke athletic training staff is headed by Dave Engelhardt, now in his 28th year at Duke, and Jose Fonseca, who is the head basketball trainer.

Fonseca begins his fifth year at Duke after spending two years at Nebraska as the men's basketball athletic trainer. While at Nebraska, he also assisted with the Cornhuskers' nationally ranked football program. Prior to Nebraska, he was the athletic trainer for men's basketball and baseball at East Tennessee State University from 1999-2002. Originally from San Salvador, El Salvador, Fonseca earned a B.S. degree in exercise and sports science with an emphasis in athletic training at The Pennsylvania State University in 1997. He returned to Penn State to earn his master's degree in kinesiology in 1999.

Kerry Mullenix serves as the director of athletic rehabilitation in the Duke training room. He has a bachelor's degree with an emphasis in athletic training from Nebraska in 1993 and a master's degree in physical therapy from the Nebraska Medical Center in 1997. Prior to arriving at Duke in 1998, the Woodbine, Iowa, native worked at Jennie Edmundson Sports Medicine in Iowa and at Healthworks Rehabilitation Center. Other certified athletic trainers on staff who assist in the care of Duke student-athletes include Jen McCollum, Joe Ferraro, Summer McKeehan, Kristi Hall, Nicole Gehrich, Jennie Serenelli, Andrew Norden and Hap Zazour.

Other facets of the sports medicine program include the very best training meals, monitored by sports nutritionist Franca Alphin, access to sports psychologists, and the ability to utilize the resources of the Duke Sports Medicine Center. Those resources include The Duke Sports Medicine Clinic, Michael Krzyzewski Human Performance Lab (K-Lab) and the Duke Sports Performance Program. Each program brings an important element to the care of Duke student-athletes.

2008-09 MEN'S BASKETBALL

DUKE

TRADITION

Duke University's love affair with the sport of basketball dates back to the very first collegiate game played in the state of North Carolina on March 2, 1906, when Duke was still Trinity College. Although Trinity lost that initial game to Wake Forest by a 24-10 score, it wasn't long before the sport caught on and won respect throughout campus.

The father of the sport was Wilbur Wade "Cap" Card. A 1900 Trinity graduate, Card went to Harvard for postgraduate work and then returned to his alma mater and introduced the sport in the spring of 1906.

It was greeted with enthusiasm by the school paper, The Chronicle. In a front page story on January 30, 1906, The Chronicle reported the anticipated arrival of a new sport.

"It is well-nigh a certainty that Trinity is to have another game added to her list of athletic sports in the near future. The game in question is basket ball, one of the most fascinating and most intensely interesting indoor sports known today.

"Anyone witnessing it will never forget it. The play is extremely fast and vigorous, yet open enough for an onlooker to follow the movement of the ball and the players."

The assessment still holds true 103 years later.

H.E. Spence, a reserve player in the first game, gave it the following critique. "It was easy to explain the small scores. First of all, the game was very much slower. The ball was tossed up at the center at the beginning of each quarter as well as the beginning of the game and the half. It was also thrown up after each point scored.

"Then, too, it was very difficult to throw goals when your guard was tattooing your ribs with his elbow, bumping you with his hip, stepping on your toe, or grabbing you by the belt."

Card's second season produced a winning record, and his fourth team went 8-1.

For the next decade and a half, basketball at Trinity/Duke witnessed a constant changing of the guard, with no less than 10 different coaches handling the team from 1913 until 1928.

While basketball in North Carolina may have started at Trinity College in 1906, the real birth of the game came 20 years later on the day Eddie Cameron accepted a position at Duke.

Cameron not only became the winningest basketball coach in school history, and an extremely successful football replacement as well, he became Duke athletics.

Cameron and his troops entered the Southern Conference and advanced all the way to the tournament finale in the school's first year in the league. That success has continued throughout the years with the likes of Gerry Gerard, Harold Bradley, Vic Bubas, Bill Foster, and finally Mike Krzyzewski guiding one of the most prestigious programs in all of college athletics.

Duke has never experienced more than three losing seasons in succession and currently owns a streak of 80 consecutive years of 10 wins or more. The Blue Devils have won 20 or more games 43 times and 30 or more contests nine times in school history. Now 103 seasons later, Duke has collected the fourth-highest win total in college basketball history with 1,849 victories to its credit.

Individually, nine Blue Devils have earned National Player of the Year honors (11 times), six have been chosen National Defensive Player of the Year (nine times), 32 have been named All-America and 11 have been selected ACC Player of the Year.

In 2006, Duke's J.J. Redick earned National Player of the Year recognition by the Associated Press, Wooden, Naimsmith, Rupp, NABC, USBWA, Basketball Times and The Sporting News. Redick became a repeat National Player of the Year — the eighth in college basketball history — after winning the Rupp Award as a junior in 2005. After becoming the ACC's all-time leading scorer and earning All-America recognition for the second consecutive year, Redick went on to win the Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athlete as a senior. First team All-America Sheldon Williams was named National Defensive Player of the Year for the second consecutive season in 2005-06. In 2001-02, Duke's Jason Williams was the seventh player in history to repeat as National Player of the Year. In 2001, Shane Battier and Williams became the first teammates to share National Player of the Year honors by the major outlets. Battier joined UNLV's Stacey Augmon and Wake Forest's Tim Duncan as the only three-time winners of the NABC National Defensive Player of the Year award.

The Duke basketball program has held a prominent spot in the national basketball scene since the beginning of the post-World War II era. The final national rankings are just one measuring stick in which the Blue Devils are among the elite in the history of the sport.

In the Coach K era, which began in 1980-81, Duke has finished in the Associated Press top 25 a total of 21 seasons, including seven times as the No. 1 team in the nation. With consecutive AP number one finishes from 1999-2002, Duke became the first school in college basketball history to be ranked at the top of the final AP poll for four straight years.

Here is a look at some of the notes from Duke and the rankings:

- ▶ Duke has been ranked No. 1 at some point in the season in 14 of the past 22 years
- ▶ Duke was ranked among the nation's top 25 teams in 200 consecutive AP polls from 1997 through 2007, the second longest streak all-time
- ▶ Mike Krzyzewski has spent more weeks ranked in the top 25 (410 weeks), top 10 (332) and No. 1 (92) than any other active coach (AP poll only)
- ▶ Duke has been ranked No. 1 79 weeks since 1990, the most by any school in the nation. The next closest school is North Carolina at 40 weeks during the same time period
- ▶ Duke has been No. 1 92 weeks (188 games, 165-23) in the AP poll since 1986
- ▶ Of the 938 games coached at Duke by Mike Krzyzewski, 794 of them have come as a ranked team (84.5 percent). Duke's record as a ranked team since 1981 is 650-144. Of those 794 contests, 188 have come as the No. 1 team in the country (165-23 record)
- ▶ Under Coach K, Duke has played more games as a No. 1 team (188) than it has as an unranked team (141)
- ▶ The Blue Devils were ranked in the top 25 of the AP poll in 380 consecutive games (Nov. 20, 1996-Feb. 11, 2007)
- ▶ Duke has been ranked No. 1 in the nation 110 weeks overall, the second-highest figure in NCAA history behind only UCLA (134)
- ▶ Duke finished in the top 10 for 10 consecutive seasons from 1997-2006 - second all-time behind UCLA (13 straight years - 1967-79)
- ▶ Duke's 1991-92 team is one of only 12 schools in college basketball history to be ranked No. 1 for the entire season
- ▶ Entering the 2008-09 season, Duke has been ranked in 223 of the last 225 AP polls. The Blue Devils have been in the top 10 in 147 of the last 161 polls.

Duke and the No. 1 National Ranking

Since the 1997-98 season, Duke has been ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll 55 weeks, 30 more than the next closest team (North Carolina). The Blue Devils reached the top ranking in seven consecutive seasons from 1998-2004, becoming just the second program in NCAA history to accomplish that feat. UCLA holds the record with 12 consecutive seasons being ranked No. 1 at some point (1964-75). Duke is the only school to gain the top ranking in the land in more than five of the past 10 seasons. Duke finished the season ranked No. 1 in the AP poll for four consecutive seasons (1999-2002), an unprecedented feat in college basketball history.

Here is a look at the top-ranked teams since 1997-98:

Note: Duke is the only team to finish the regular season at No. 1 in the rankings four straight seasons. Each year from 1998-99 through 2001-02, the Blue Devils topped both the AP and coaches' polls at the end of the regular season.

TRADITION

Duke has set aside a day to recognize one of its own on 13 occasions. Thirteen banners hang from the rafters of Cameron Indoor Stadium, honoring each of those events. It's officially known as Retirement Day.

There is no higher honor than having your basketball number and jersey retired, and 13 times Duke University has done just that. The names reverberate in prestige — Shane Battier, Johnny Dawkins, Danny Ferry, Mike Gminski, Dick Groat, Art Heyman, Grant Hill, Bobby Hurley, Christian Laettner, Jeff Mullins, J.J. Redick, Jason Williams and Shelden Williams.

Though there is no 'official' criteria to have a jersey retired at Duke, a player must achieve at a national level — earn National Player of the Year or National Defensive Player of the Year honors, set an NCAA record, win a gold medal representing his country in the Olympics or earn All-America recognition. What distinguishes Duke's retired jersey players from many other schools is the main criteria. No jersey will be retired at Duke unless the player has earned his degree.

Groat was the first Blue Devil to be so honored when his No. 10 was officially retired on May 1, 1952. It would not be until February 20, 1980, that the next jersey would be retired at Duke — Gminski's No. 43. In the early 1990s, Heyman's No. 25 and Mullins' No. 44 were retired nearly three decades after their Duke playing days.

After Mike Krzyzewski's arrival in 1980 and Duke's dominant run that began in the middle of that decade, nine players had their jerseys retired, starting with Dawkins in 1986 and ending with J.J. Redick and Shelden Williams in 2007.

Shane Battier began his career at Duke with a solid freshman season as an ACC All-Freshman Team selection averaging 7.6 points and 6.4 rebounds per game in 1997-98. By his sophomore year, Battier was proving to be an outstanding defensive player earning his first of an eventual three NABC National Defensive Player of the Year awards. Battier helped lead the 1999 Blue Devils to the NCAA Championship game and a 37-2 record, making them the number one team in the final AP poll. The honors kept mounting in Battier's junior year. In addition to the NABC Co-Defensive Player of the Year award, he earned second team All-America, first team All-ACC, first team All-ACC Tournament and first team Academic All-America honors. He led Duke in scoring (17.4 ppg), blocked shots (70) and three-point percentage (.444). Battier's outstanding career at Duke was capped with a National Championship in 2001 along with the ACC regular season title and the ACC Tournament title. As a senior in 2000-01, Battier averaged 19.9 points, 7.3 rebounds, 2.3 blocks, 2.1 steals and 1.8 assists. He was named the 2001 National Defensive Player of the Year, NABC National Defensive Player of the Year, first team All-America, Verizon Academic All-America, Final Four Most Outstanding Player, ACC Co-Player of the Year, ACC Tournament Most Valuable Player, first team All-ACC and ACC All-Defensive Team. Battier was the sixth pick in the 2001 NBA Draft and was named to the 2002 NBA All-Rookie Team.

Jason Williams entered Duke as a McDonald's All-America and the winner of the Morgan Wootten Award, given to the top prep player in the nation. Williams was a starter from his very first game and ended his first year as The Sporting News National Freshman of the Year in 2000. In his freshman year, Williams averaged 14.5 points, 4.2 rebounds, 6.5 assists and 2.4 steals per game. He also collected ACC Tournament Most Valuable Player, Basketball Times first team Freshman All-America and Associated Press ACC All-Freshman team honors. As a sophomore in 2000-01, Williams helped lead the Blue Devils to their third National Championship and had Duke's second highest season points total with 841. Williams was named the National Player of the Year by the NABC and Point Guard of the Year by ESPN. He was an All-Final Four team, unanimous first team All-ACC, first team ACC All-Tournament and first team All-America selection as well as a finalist for both the Wooden and Naismith Awards. The accolades continued to mount for Williams in his third and final season as a Blue Devil. Williams received the Naismith and Wooden Awards for National Player of the Year and was also named Player of the Year by AP, Basketball Times, NABC, The Sporting News, US-BWA, CBS Sportsline, ESPN the Magazine, ESPN.com and collegians.com. Williams was selected to the first team All-ACC and the first team All-ACC Tournament and ended his collegiate career with 2,079 points, 644 assists, 313 three-point field goals and 235 steals. Williams was a starter in all 108 games from 2000-2002 and was the second overall pick in the 2002 NBA Draft.

Sheldon Williams arrived at Duke with the nickname 'The Landlord' and lived up to the moniker by controlling the lane for four seasons as a Blue Devil. As a freshman, Williams averaged 8.2 points, 5.9 rebounds and 1.6 blocks per game, while earning ACC All-Freshman honorable mention honors. In 2003-04, Williams' number grew to 12.6 points, 8.5 rebounds and 3.0 blocks as he helped guide Duke to the Final Four. He also received several All-America and second team All-ACC accolades as a sophomore. As a junior, Williams became the first player on Mike Krzyzewski to average a double-double (15.5 points & 11.2 rebounds). He also registered a Duke record 122 blocks, while earning NABC National Defensive Player of the Year honors. Williams claimed NABC National DPOY honors for the second straight year and set Duke records for career blocked shots and rebounds as a senior. Williams, a consensus first team All-America in 2006, finished third in the league in scoring at 18.8 points per game and became the 11th player in ACC history (first Blue Devil) to lead the conference in rebounding (10.7) in back-to-back years. Williams blocked four shots on Jan. 18, 2006 against N.C. State to become Duke's all-time blocked shots leader (moving past Mike Gminski). The Forest Park, Okla., native grabbed 14 rebounds against George Washington on March 18, 2006 to pass Gminski as the leading rebounder in Duke history. Williams also became just the third Blue Devil to register a triple-double on Jan. 11, 2006 against Maryland when he finished with 19 points, 11 rebounds and 10 blocks against the Terrapins. Williams closed his career at Duke first in rebounding (1,262 - sixth in ACC history) and blocked shots (422 - fifth in ACC history), fifth in field goal percentage (.572) and 13th in points (1,928). He also became the first player in NCAA history to register 1,750 points, 1,250 rebounds, 400 blocks and 150 steals in a career.

Krzyzewskiville

Though tents popped up from time to time at Duke before the arrival of Mike Krzyzewski in 1980, Krzyzewskiville — named “Tent City” prior to that — came to form as we know it today in 1986 when the popularity of the team soared with its immense success. After its humble beginnings when only a handful of students erected tents in the courtyard area outside of Cameron Indoor Stadium, Krzyzewskiville has grown and is now an integral part of the Duke culture. Today, more than a thousand students camp out for their place in line in order to get the best seats at games, sometimes for as long as 10 weeks.

The increased growth of K-ville has brought on more rules. Currently, there are two games per season designated as “tenting” games, one of which is always the North Carolina contest. At least one person needs to man the tent at all times unless the head line monitor, who is essentially the mayor of K-ville, declares a grace period for weather. Generally, there are 12 people in each tent, which are often adorned with numbers and phrases to differentiate themselves.

Coach K addresses the students prior to each of the designated tenting games, and is known to send pizzas to them for their dedication to the Duke basketball team. Keeping true to its emphasis on schoolwork, Duke officials made sure that wireless internet access is available in K-ville during a recent courtyard renovation so students could handle their academic requirements during the spring semester.

Duke’s “Sixth Man”, better known as the Cameron Crazies, is among the best cheering sections in all of sports. Their creativity is emulated, but never matched, at other schools around the nation. Largely because of their fervent support, the game experience at Cameron Indoor Stadium has become an event itself and a destination for many die-hard sports fans in the United States.

DUKE DOMINANCE

Duke has dominated college basketball in recent seasons. Among Duke's incredible accomplishments from the 1997-98 through 2007-08 seasons were the 2001 NCAA Championship, three Final Four appearances, five consecutive ACC regular season championships from 1998-2001, seven ACC Tournament titles, including an unprecedented five consecutive ACC Tournament titles from 1999-2003, five years ranked number one in the final AP poll and a national-high 330 victories, an average of 30.0 per season. The following is a look at Duke compared with several prominent programs during that 11-year period.

¹ Duke's Elton Brand was the unanimous National Player of the Year in 1999. Shane Battier was the consensus National Player of the Year in 2001, but he shared the award with Blue Devil teammate Jason Williams (NABC). Duke was the first program in college history to have two National Player of the Year honorees from the same team in the same season. Williams was the consensus winner in 2002. J.J. Redick won or shared all of the major Player of the Year awards in 2006. Of a possible 59 National Player of the Year honors awarded by the Associated Press, U.S. Basketball Writers Association, Wooden Award, Naismith Award, Rupp Award and the National Association of Basketball Coaches, the past 11 seasons, Duke players have collected 28 of them. Duke has had four Player of the Year winners in the past seven seasons.

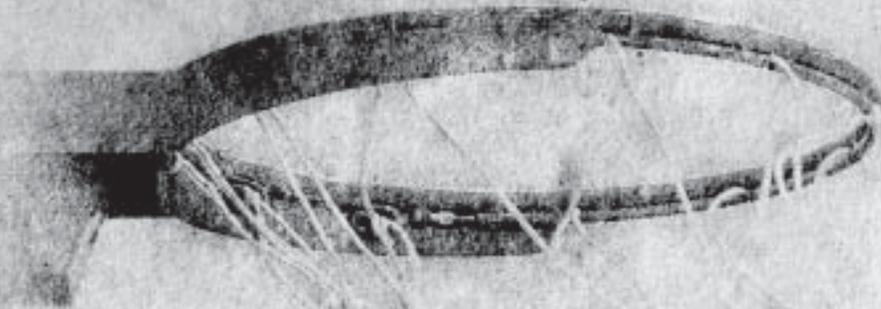

² Duke finished number one in the final AP poll in four consecutive seasons from 1999-2002, becoming the first college program in history to accomplish that feat. Since the 1997-98 season, Duke has been ranked No. 1 in the nation in 55 of 206 polls (26.7 percent). Duke has reached No. 1 in eight of the past 11 seasons.

MEDIA

This yearbook has been prepared to assist the media in its coverage of Duke basketball during the 2008-09 season. It is also intended for fans and prospective students of Duke University. Should you need additional information, contact the Duke Sports Information Office — Box 90557, Room 115, Cameron Indoor Stadium, Durham, N.C. 27708-0557; (919) 684-2633.

Press Credentials

All media attending Duke basketball home games must display proper media credentials. Requests for credentials should be made in advance by mail, FAX or email on company letterhead and directed to Associate Sports Information Director Matt Plizga. Due to the limited number of seats available on press row, priority is given to daily newspapers, major magazines and electronic media in the geographic areas of the competing teams. Internet sites, other than the official sites of the two participating teams, requesting credentials should contact the Duke Sports Information Department regarding its policy. Duke reserves the right to refuse any credential request deemed not to be in the best interest of Duke University.

Photo Credentials

All photographers attending Duke basketball home games must display proper credentials. Requests for credentials should be made in advance by mail, FAX or email on company letterhead and directed to Matt Plizga. Due to limited space on the baseline and the inability to create a double row for photographers, virtually no freelance photographers are allowed to shoot during the season. Duke does have permanent strobe lights in Cameron Indoor Stadium, thus installation by any other media agency is very limited.

Radio Credentials

Passes for non-broadcasting radio stations will be allotted on a first-come, first-serve basis and will be limited to stations with full-time sports directors. Requests for credentials should be made in advance by mail, FAX or email on company letterhead and directed to Matt Plizga. If a radio network is requesting a stringer to cover the game, the request needs to be made by the network, not the individual. Also, radio spotters and statisticians are available for a fee, but the Duke Sports Information Department must be notified at least 10 days in advance.

Radio stringers who are requesting live, cell phone interviews following a game need to contact a representative from the Duke Sports Information Department. These requests will be handled if a player has completed interviews in the open locker room with the media in attendance. If a radio stringer goes directly to a player or a coach, he or she may be asked to leave the locker room area.

NBA Scouts

NBA scouts may request tickets to Duke home basketball games. Requests for tickets should be made in advance by mail, FAX or email on team letterhead and directed to Matt Plizga. Scouts will be charged for the tickets. Since seating is very limited in Cameron Indoor Stadium, these requests are handled on a first-come, first-serve basis. Only one representative per team will be permitted because of space limitations. Parking will not be provided to NBA scouts, unless specifically requested by the team. Tickets will be left at the WILL CALL window at Cameron Indoor Stadium unless the team and the Duke Sports Information Office make other arrangements.

Media Releases

Notes packages will be available at least one day prior to each game and in many instances, much earlier. The game notes packages will be emailed to a distribution list and posted on Duke's official athletic web site, GoDuke.com. To join the distribution list, send an email to Associate Sports Information Director Matt Plizga at plizga@duaa.duke.edu or call (919) 812-7146.

Parking

Media parking at Cameron Indoor Stadium is available on a limited basis. Requests for parking should be made well in advance of game day. The media parking lot is located on the concourse of Wallace Wade Stadium at the east gate.

Radio Information

The radio broadcast booths are located on the east side of the stadium and are suspended from the ceiling. Access to the booths is through section six off the upper concourse. Three phone lines, an ISDN line, and a dry pair to the press interview area are accessible to the visiting radio network as designated by that school's sports information office. Verification of your network or the need for additional lines must be ordered directly from the Duke Office of Information Technology at (919) 684-3689.

Space is available for only one broadcast crew from the visiting school. Student stations will generally not be allowed to broadcast due to space limitations. Special requests need to be made through the visiting SID offices.

Telephones

Ten courtesy telephones will be installed only for media use in the Duke press room located in the northeast corner of Cameron Indoor Stadium during all Blue Devil home basketball games. There are also both ethernet and wireless connections available for writers and photographers at each home game.

Courtside phones are available on an extremely limited basis due to line restrictions and safety. Please contact Matt Plizga prior to ordering any phone lines from the Duke OIT. The main press row phone number at Cameron Indoor Stadium is (919) 684-6186.

Interview Procedures

Players - All interviews with Duke basketball players must be arranged through the sports information office. Please contact Duke Associate Sports Information Director Matt Plizga at (919) 668-1712 for Blue Devil player requests. The most desirable time to plan on conducting such interviews is before practices. Interview requests must be made at least one day in advance. There will be no interviews on the day of a game. There are no exceptions to this rule for any purpose, including national television broadcasts.

Coaches - All interviews with Duke Head Coach Mike Krzyzewski can be arranged through Associate AD/Communication Jon Jackson at (919) 684-2624 or Associate Sports Information Director Matt Plizga at (919) 668-1712. However, it is strongly recommended that media utilize the Atlantic Coast Conference's weekly teleconference. Coach K will be available for 10 minutes each Monday at 12 noon on that line. Requests for interviews with assistant coaches or basketball staff should also be arranged through Plizga.

Practice Coverage

For the most part, Duke practices are closed to all outside parties. Media members can contact Matt Plizga about attending a specific practice session. Television crews needing to get shots of practice should plan on coming early to shoot warm-ups before the actual practice begins.

ACC Teleconference

The 12 ACC head basketball coaches will be featured on nine Monday teleconferences during the 2008-09 season. Each coach will have 10 minutes to make an opening statement and answer questions. There will be an instant replay of each teleconference on the conference's internet site www.TheACC.com each Monday afternoon. Because this service is for the media only, the phone number can only be given out by the Duke Sports Information Department at (919) 684-2633 or the ACC office at (336) 851-6062.

Here is the schedule for the weekly teleconference, which will run every Monday from January 5, 2009 to March 9, 2009:

10:30	Dino Gaudio	Wake Forest
10:40	Seth Greenberg	Virginia Tech
10:50	Dave Leitao	Virginia
11:00	Sidney Lowe	North Carolina State
11:10	Roy Williams	North Carolina
11:20	Frank Hailth	Miami
11:30	Gary Williams	Maryland
11:40	Paul Hewitt	Georgia Tech
11:50	Leonard Hamilton	Florida State
12:00	► Mike Krzyzewski	Duke
12:10	Oliver Purnell	Clemson
12:20	Al Skinner	Boston College

Locker Room Policy

The Duke locker room operates under an equal access policy designed for easy coverage of the basketball program. The Duke locker room will be open to all working media after an approximate 10-minute "cooling off" period. At least one full-time staff member of the Duke Sports Information Department will be present at all times to help with any requests.

Mike Krzyzewski will address the media following each game at a specified location. At home, the postgame press conference will take place in the Duke Media Room located in the northeast corner of Cameron Indoor Stadium.

At all other times during the year, the Duke locker room is closed to all outside parties.

GoDuke.com

Duke fans and members of the media can gain access to unparalleled coverage of the Blue Devils men's basketball team, as well as Duke's other 25 varsity sports, on-line at GoDuke.com, the official website of Duke Athletics.

Powered by JumpTV, Duke fans will also get access to the latest media notes, player biographies and breaking news related to the men's basketball team. A subscription to Duke Inside Access includes daily audio updates from coach Mike Krzyzewski as well as video highlights of Duke games, access to the Duke Radio Network's live broadcast of games, live press conference coverage, post game lockerroom access, video features and much more.

A new GameWatcher will launch in 2008-09 for home games that features live stats and play-by-play in a new, cleaned up format. GoDuke.com also features an auction website where fans can bid on Duke basketball tickets and memorabilia and since the end of last season, Duke also launched a new DVD Store already outfitted with over 20 Duke games as well as the 100 Years of Duke Basketball DVD.

One of the first ".com" websites for college athletics in the country, GoDuke.com has consistently led the way and been ranked one of the top websites in the country over the past several years.

Duke Basketball Statistics Database

The most extensive collegiate statistical database in the country, the Duke Basketball Database includes biographical information on every player on a Duke roster for every season and the result of every game in Duke history, dating back to 1905-06. The database includes every boxscore since the late 1930s, season and career stats for every player, team results and in-depth stat analysis, plus much more. Powered by StatsGeek, the database will soon expand to include the complete on-line record book and the opponent database. The database is updated after every game for the most up to date stats and records available.

Duke Radio Network

A state-wide radio audience follows all the action of Duke men's basketball on The Duke Radio Network. The network provides in-depth pregame coverage, live play-by-play of all the action and the postgame press conferences straight from the locker room to 25 stations via satellite each game. The broadcast also features a one-hour pregame show.

North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame broadcaster Bob Harris, now in his 33rd season as the voice of the Blue Devils, calls all the action for Duke fans each game. John Roth handles color commentary duties and Matthew Laurance provides sideline analysis. John Rose makes it all sound great as network engineer.

The Duke Radio Network is operated by Moore Productions of Durham and run by Johnny Moore.
