NC Roy Williams

Head Coach • 15th Year at Carolina

"This year the confetti is going to fall for North Carolina...they're not going to be denied this time."

Those were the words of CBS Sports' announcer Jim Nantz as the Tar Heels defeated Gonzaga, 71-65, to win the 2017 NCAA championship, UNC's third in the last 13 years under head coach Roy Williams.

The 2016-17 season was arguably the finest coaching performance in the Naismith Hall of Famer's 29 years as a college head coach, guiding a team that had to replace its top two players from the previous year when it lost in the national championship game on a heart-breaking, buzzer-beating three-pointer. The 2017 national champions were vintage Carolina and quintessentially Roy Williams: an up-tempo, but balanced offensive attack that featured strong inside scoring and outstanding three-point shooting; exceptional and vastly underrated defense; dominant rebounding on both ends of the floor; and experienced talent.

"Roy Williams is one of the greatest coaches of all-time and in a society that judges things by counting championships, he's right there on the top shelf with the greatest of all-time," ESPN analyst Jay Bilas said after UNC reigned supreme in Phoenix.

Williams' accomplishments unquestionably place him among the finest coaches in basketball history. Williams is:

- one of six coaches to win three or more national championships with John Wooden, Mike Krzyzewski, Jim Calhoun, Bob Knight and Adolph Rupp
- fourth in Final Fours (9) behind only Wooden, Krzyzewski and Dean Smith
- second in NCAA Tournament wins (76) and games (100)
- second in NCAA Tournament history in No. 1 seeds (12)
- third in NCAA Tournament winning percentage (.760) among coaches with at least 50 games
- first to win three national championships at his alma mater
- eighth all-time in Division I wins (816) and reached 800 wins in fewest seasons and the second-fewest games in NCAA history
- sixth all-time in career winning percentage (.791)

Over the last 16 years, Williams has led Carolina and Kansas to 51 NCAA Tournament victories, the most in the nation. John Calipari is second over that time with 40, ahead of Bill Self (36), Krzyzewski (35) and Tom Izzo (31).

Carolina's 42 NCAA Tournament wins in the Williams Era (2003-17) are more than any other school has won in that 14-year span (Kansas is second with 32).

In 14 seasons as Carolina's head coach, Williams has led UNC to a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament seven times. Since the NCAA began seeding the field in 1979, only four schools have ever been a No. 1 seed that often.

Even greater is the impact he makes on the lives of the young men he coaches, leading to Williams winning the Nell and John Wooden Leadership in Coaching Award in October 2017.

"He's made me become a man," says Kennedy Meeks, who finished fifth in UNC history in rebounds and had 25 points and 14 boards in the 2017 national semifinal win over Oregon. "That hug (after the Gonzaga game) was all for being grateful for the opportunities, putting me in the right positions, and also for being one of the greatest coaches that I'll ever be around, he's been a major figure in my life that I'll always remember."

"The biggest thing about Coach Williams is his loyalty," says Isaiah Hicks, whose basket with 26 seconds to play against Gonzaga was one of the season's most important plays. "Coach would never lie to you. He is someone who is going to be straight up with you and be honest with you. He cares for us. When Coach says he's going to do something, he does it. He really listens to us and really takes time for the people he cares about."

2017 ACC Player of the Year and consensus first-team All-America Justin Jackson. "There's no agenda with Coach. He is here to win basketball games. That's his No. 1 job. But, at the end of the day, he always considers us like his sons, and that's the way he tries to treat us. That's a big reason why I came here, and a big reason why I wouldn't change a single thing that I did."

Over the last two seasons, Carolina has won 66 games, gone 11-1 in NCAA Tournament play, 28-8 in the ACC regular season and twice been a No. 1 seed playing in the national championship game.

Marcus Paige, who concluded his brilliant career in 2016 as Carolina's all-time leader in three-pointers, its 11th-leading scorer and the first three-time Academic All-America in UNC Basketball history, said, "He cares about us as people, almost as much as he does about us as players, and that's one thing that separates him as a coach. He's a great coach. He develops our game and our skills, but at the end of the day he cares about us being ready for any aspect of life."

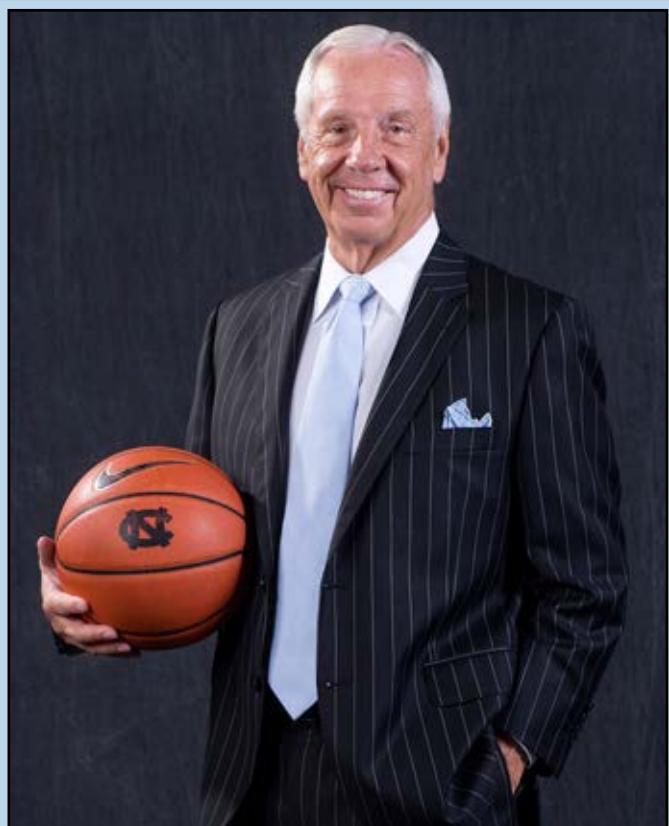

Brice Johnson earned consensus first-team All-America honors in 2016, set the UNC single-season rebound record and became the second Tar Heel in history with 1,700 career points, 1,000 rebounds, 150 blocks, 100 assists and 100 steals.

"Coach Williams has meant a lot to me; he's the closest thing I've had as a role model to my father," said Johnson. "My dad coached me in high school and Coach Williams tried to replicate how my dad pushed me as a coach for the past four years. He got on me more than anyone else on the team, but I thank him for that because he got me to be the player I am today because of his motivation and the little talks we would have here and there. But what I really appreciate even more is that he not only taught me to be the player that I am on the court, but the person I am off the court."

Tyler Zeller, the 2012 ACC Player of the Year, and Paige combined to win the Skip Prosser Award as the ACC's top scholar-athlete in four of the last seven seasons. Williams is the only NCAA coach to have two different players (Zeller and Kansas's Jacque Vaughn) earn Academic All-America-of-the-Year honors, and Paige became the seventh to play for Williams to become an Academic All-America. Williams is tied with Dean Smith for fourth all-time among coaches whose players have earned first-team Academic All-America honors behind Wooden (13), Bob Knight (10) and Ted Owens (9).

"A lot of people were doubting me as a freshman, but one thing is you always believed in me," Paige said in a memorable and emotional Senior Night speech in 2016 that was viewed more than 5 million times online. "You always told me: 'I believe in you, son. You're going to make shots; you're going to do fine. You're going to be a great player.' You just believed in me, and I can't thank you enough for that because that allowed me to be a confident person and helped me grow as a person...And I've tried to be every bit the player you wanted me to be, but you've made me a better man. And that's the most important thing. I'm 10 times a better man than when I got here. Thank you."

The 2017-18 season is Williams' 15th as Carolina's head coach and 30th as a college head coach. He's a member of the Naismith Basketball, College Basketball and North Carolina Sports Halls of Fame, leading Carolina to national championships in 2005, 2009 and 2017, five Final Fours, eight Elite Eights, seven NCAA Tournament No. 1 seeds in 13 appearances, nine Associated Press Top-10 final rankings, eight ACC regular-season titles, three ACC Tournament crowns and seven 30-win seasons. NBA teams have selected 18 of his UNC players in the first round of the NBA Draft.

The 2017 Tar Heels won 33 games and went 14-4 in ACC play for the second straight year. It was the fifth time in his career his teams won 30 or more games in consecutive seasons. UNC won its eighth ACC regular-season title under Williams – no other school or coach has won more than three since Williams returned to Chapel Hill in 2003. The Tar Heels led the nation in rebounds per game, offensive rebounds and rebound margin, were fourth in assists and seventh in assist-turnover ratio. Jackson set a school record with 105 three-pointers, and he and Berry made more threes (193) than any other duo in Tar Heel history.

But as in 2005 and 2009, it was defense that paved the path toward cutting down the national championship nets. The 2017 Tar Heels allowed only 70.5 points per game and the opponents shot a collective 39.6 percent from the floor in the six NCAA Tourney victories. UNC held Kentucky to 41.5 percent from the floor in the regional final, Oregon to 37.9 percent in the national semifinal, and Gonzaga, which entered the game shooting 47 percent for the season, to 33.9 percent in the final. It was just the third time the Zags shot under 40 percent in a game.

In Carolina's six Final Four wins in the 2005, 2009 and 2017 national championship seasons, the Tar Heels held their opponents to a combined 35.9 percent from the floor, and only Michigan State in the 2009 title game shot as high as 40 percent.

Jackson became the fourth ACC Player of the Year (with Tyler Hansbrough in 2008, Ty Lawson in 2009, Tyler Zeller in 2012) and the third consensus first-team All-America (with Hansbrough in 2007-08-09 and Johnson in 2016) to play for Williams at Carolina. Jackson (15th pick) and freshman Tony Bradley (28th pick) became the 17th and 18th first-round NBA Draft picks to play for the Tar Heels under Williams.

On Jan. 16, 2017, Carolina defeated Syracuse for Williams' 800th win as a college head coach. That came in his 1,012th game in his 29th year. The previous record was 33 seasons by Dean Smith and Krzyzewski; Rupp is the only coach to reach 800 wins in fewer games (972).

In 2016, Williams moved into fourth place in all-time wins by an ACC coach and became the first coach in NCAA history to win at least 350 games at two schools. The Tar Heels defeated Virginia in the ACC Tournament championship game, the seventh time Williams led UNC to the ACC finals (all seven championship games were against different opponents).

The Asheville, N.C., native and 1972 UNC graduate has compiled a 29-year record of 816-216. Williams has the highest winning percentage (.791) among active coaches with at least 20 years experience, the highest among the eight coaches with 800 or more wins, the second highest among all active Division I coaches and sixth highest for all coaches. His teams have won regular-season titles 17 times in 29 seasons. No other active Naismith Hall of Fame coach has won as many regular-season championships and no other coach has won at least 800 games at a higher rate per season than Williams. His teams at Carolina and Kansas have produced 28.1 victories per season. Krzyzewski is second at 25.5 wins per year.

ESPN, Sports Illustrated, Sporting News and Fox Sports named Williams the Coach of the Decade for 2000-09 after he led Kansas and Carolina to 33 NCAA Tournament wins in that span, eight more than any other coach.

Williams is one of the most successful coaches in NCAA Tournament history – only six schools (Kentucky, UNC, Duke, UCLA, Kansas and Louisville) have more "March Madness" wins than Williams does. His teams are 76-24 in 27 appearances. He is second in wins (76) and games (100) and has the third-highest winning percentage (.760) among coaches with at least 50 games. In addition to nine Final Fours, his teams have reached the Sweet 16 in 18 seasons and the Elite Eight 13 times.

His teams made 20 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances from 1990 to 2009, the third-longest streak in NCAA history, and he is the only coach to win an NCAA Tournament game in 20 consecutive seasons (1990-2009). He is the only coach to have won 27 straight first-round games.

Carolina is 42-10 in the NCAA Tournament under Williams, a winning percentage of .808 that is the highest in ACC history. The 42 wins under Williams are more than 13 other current or former ACC schools have won in their NCAA Tournament histories.

Williams is 398-115 (.776) in 14 seasons at Carolina, making him the second-winningest coach in school history. He is also second in Kansas history with 418 wins, placing him in the top two in victories at schools that are ranked second (KU) and third (UNC) all-time in wins in college basketball history.

The Tar Heels are 169-65 in ACC regular-season play under Williams, the third-highest percentage (.722) in ACC history behind Duke's Vic Bubas and Dean Smith. His teams improve as the year goes on, as evidenced by the fact that Carolina is 87-30 in the second half of ACC play (.744) under Williams.

Williams has a 75-42 record in ACC road games, a winning percentage of .641 that is the second-best in ACC history. The Tar Heels have posted winning ACC records on the road in 11 of his 14 seasons, including 8-0 in 2007-08, 7-1 in 2005-06 and 2011-12, 6-2 in three seasons and 6-3 in 2014-15 and 2015-16.

His teams have defeated the number one-ranked team in the Associated Press poll seven times. Only one other coach in history (Gary Williams) has knocked off the No. 1 team in the AP poll as often.

Williams has set UNC coaching records for most wins in one year (36 in 2007-08), two years (70 in 2008-09), three years (101 from 2007-09), four years (124 from 2006-09), five years (157 from 2005-09), six years (177 from 2005-10), seven years (206 from 2005-12), nine years (263 from 2005-13) and 10 years (292 from 2008-17); and tied the mark for any eight-year span (225, tied with 1991-98).

"What makes Coach Williams one of the great coaches isn't just his extraordinary record, but his dedication to his players," President Barack Obama said when the Tar Heels visited the White House after winning the 2009 championship. "He's just as serious about making these guys into men and into leaders as he is into making them champions."

At Carolina, Williams has coached two National Players of the Year (Sean May in 2005, Tyler Hansbrough in 2008), three Bob Cousy Award winners as the best point guard in the country (Raymond Felton in 2005, Ty Lawson in 2009, Kendall Marshall in 2012), four ACC Players of the Year (Hansbrough in 2008, Lawson in 2009, Zeller in 2012 and Jackson in 2017), two ACC Athletes of the Year (May in 2005, Hansbrough in 2008), four ACC Rookies of the Year (Marvin Williams in 2005, Hansbrough in 2006, Brandan Wright in 2007, Harrison Barnes in 2011), three Final Four MOPs (May in 2005, Wayne Ellington in 2009 and Berry in 2017) and 23 NBA Draft picks.

Hansbrough became the most decorated player in Carolina Basketball history and set the all-time ACC scoring mark with 2,872 points. He became the first player in ACC history to earn first-team All-America and first-team All-ACC honors in each of his four seasons. He also became Carolina's all-time leading rebounder, set the NCAA record for free throws made, won an NCAA title and National Player of the Year honors and earned his degree. On March 8, 2009, Senior Day at Carolina, an emotional Hansbrough thanked Williams for living up to a promise Williams made during his recruitment that the coach would always be honest with him.

"He always tells you the straight-up truth about what you need to hear, not just what you want to hear," says Hansbrough. "That helped me not only as a player but also as a person."

Danny Green started at shooting guard for the San Antonio Spurs when they won the 2014 NBA championship, joining Hall of Famers Michael Jordan and James Worthy as players who won NCAA titles at UNC and NBA rings. Green says the winning cultures of the Tar Heels and the Spurs are similar.

"It starts with the coaches – Coach Williams and Coach Pop (Gregg Popovich) are very professional in the way they carry themselves," said Green, who averaged 13.1 points for the 2009 national championship team and played in more wins (123) than any Tar Heel in history. "They recruit not just great players, but great people. They want people who have the mentality of wanting to win and compete and not just be about the individual. Coach Williams gets kids who will buy into the message of winning, being a team and doing things the right way without worrying about individual accolades."

"Coach Williams does a great

COACHING STAFF

job of getting everyone on the same page and molding them a certain way and doing things the right way," adds Green. "I learned that at Carolina. It's easy for me to adjust to the Spurs organization, because I was doing those same things here."

The Tar Heels have set new standards for exemplary point guard play under Williams, who has coached a number of the top floor leaders in ACC history, three of whom have won the Cousy Award (no other school has more than one Cousy Award recipient).

Felton led the Tar Heels to the 2005 NCAA title; Lawson won a national championship in 2009 and set the ACC single-season record for highest assist-error ratio; Marshall led UNC to back-to-back regular-season league titles, set ACC records for most assists, highest assist average and most double-figure assist games in a season and posted the highest career assist-error ratio in ACC history; Berry was the ACC Tournament's Most Valuable Player in 2016 and became the first Tar Heel to ever earn All-Final Four honors in back-to-back seasons in 2016-17. Berry scored 20 points against Villanova in the 2016 title game and a game-high 22 in 2017 against Gonzaga, making him the first player to score 20 points in consecutive finals since Bill Walton in 1972-73.

"Coach Williams helped me learn the game from every aspect," says Felton, a 13-year NBA veteran. "He taught me not to worry about scoring, to play better defense, to play together as a team and to lead my team. He taught me how to make everybody on the court better, and get mine in between all of that."

"The success of the Carolina point guard comes from the fact that he understands how to play with people and still be an individual," says Turner Sports analyst Kenny Smith, himself a former UNC point guard and two-time NBA champion. "You learn when to take shots and when to find people. You look at score, time and tempo of the game. Creating a pace your team can be part of and succeed in is the most valuable thing a point guard can bring to the game, and that's what point guards learn at Carolina. They learn to control the pace so they can be valuable to their team."

"He's the best coach I've ever had," said Marshall, whose 351 assists in 2012 are the fourth-highest single-season figure in NCAA history. "He runs a pro system and he does a great job of getting the most out of his players within a team concept."

His Hall-of-Fame ledger also includes:

- 1091-277 record in 39 seasons as a collegiate head coach and assistant coach
- 30-win seasons: 12, second most in NCAA history

The Williams family celebrates the 2017 NCAA title.

In 29 seasons, Williams has coached four National Players of the Year, 17 first-team All-Americans, nine conference player or athletes of the year, three Bob Cousy Award winners, 31 first-team all-conference players, 42 academic all-conference selections, two Academic All-Americans of the Year and 29 NBA first-round draft picks.

A 2003 recipient of the John Wooden Legends of Coaching Award, Williams wants his teams to run the floor, take care of and share the basketball, get high percentage, open shots, hold teams under 40 percent shooting from the floor and control the backboards.

The Tar Heels have scored 100 or more points 57 times in his tenure. His UNC and KU teams have averaged at least 80 points 21 times.

Overall his teams have finished in the top 10 nationally in scoring 12 times, in scoring margin 18 times, in field goal percentage 12 times, in win-loss percentage 13 times and in field goal defense four times. Also, his squads have finished in the top seven nationally in assists per game in 12 of the last 16 years and in the top 10 nationally in rebounding margin in 14 of the last 21 years.

Williams is one of nine Tar Heels enshrined in the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, joining a group that includes Dean Smith, Michael Jordan, Larry Brown, Billy Cunningham, James Worthy and Bob McAdoo. So respected is he, twenty-three of his former players from Carolina and Kansas attended the induction ceremony in

J.D. Lyon Jr.

COACHING STAFFHEAD COACH ROY WILLIAMS

Springfield, Mass., in 2007.

“Carolina is number one,” said Worthy, the 1988 NBA Finals MVP, at the ring ceremony for the 2017 national champions. “This is where it started for me. It all started with Coach Smith, with him treating every individual player and manager the same, and reminding us to give back to the community in addition to being a basketball player. All of us from my era, we came back for Coach Smith. And we also came back to honor Roy, because what he’s doing right now is an amazing feat.”

The 2017 national title was Carolina’s first in eight years, since the 2009 Tar Heels put on a stunning display, winning six NCAA Tournament games by an average of 20.2 points, the highest margin in 13 years. The 2009 squad is considered one of the most dominant championship teams in the last 25 years. UNC became the first national champion to win all six games by a dozen or more points. Carolina trailed in the second half just once in those six contests and led Michigan State, 51-30, at halftime in the national championship game.

In 2008, Williams led the Tar Heels to a school-record 36 wins, ACC regular-season and Tournament titles and a berth in the Final Four. Hansbrough won every major National Player of the Year award. He became the fourth to play for Williams – along with Jayhawks Drew Gooden and Nick Collison and UNC’s Sean May – to win National Player-of-the-Year honors since 2002.

In 2006, Carolina faced the loss of its top seven scorers, which was unprecedented in ACC history. Sports Illustrated predicted Carolina would miss the NCAA Tournament and the Tar Heels were picked by the media to finish sixth in the ACC. However, Williams earned National and the first of his two ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors (also in 2011) by leading the youngest team in Carolina history to a second-place ACC finish, a win at top-ranked Duke and a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

The 2005 national championship capped a season in which the Tar Heels went 33-4, including a 14-2 mark in the ACC. May scored 26 points and grabbed 10 rebounds in the title game, a month after grabbing 24 rebounds in a heart-stopping win over Duke and following his East Regional MVP performance.

“Coach Williams allowed me to be successful,” said May. “He put me in positions to be successful. He pulled out my strengths and hid my weaknesses. And Coach taught me how to run the floor. I never wanted to know until I came here, but now I love it.”

The 2005 Tar Heels led the nation in scoring average, scoring margin and assists and became the third team in history to lead the nation in scoring and win the NCAA championship.

Williams became the UNC head coach on April 14, 2003, 10 days after leading Kansas to the NCAA championship game against Syracuse.

Williams was an assistant coach at Carolina from 1978-88. Working for Dean Smith, he helped coach such standouts as Mike O’Koren, Al Wood, James Worthy, Sam Perkins, Matt Doherty, Michael Jordan, Brad Daugherty, Kenny Smith, Joe Wolf, Steve Hale, Jeff Lebo, J.R. Reid and Scott

Williams. Carolina won the NCAA title in 1982, finished second in 1981 and won or shared six ACC regular-season titles and three ACC Tournament championships.

Kansas hired Williams on July 8, 1988, replacing another UNC Hall of Famer, Larry Brown. Williams coached a number of the finest Kansas players in history, including Mark Randall, Adonis Jordan, Rex Walters, Scot Pollard, Jacque Vaughn, Raef LaFrentz, Paul Pierce, Drew Gooden, Nick Collison and Kirk Hinrich.

The Jayhawks averaged 27.9 wins per season with a high of 35 in 1997-98.

In seven years of Big 12 Conference play, his teams went 94-18, capturing the regular-season title in 1997, 1998, 2002 and 2003 and the postseason tournament crown in 1997, 1998 and 1999. In 2001-02, KU became the first Big 12 team to go 16-0 in league play. From 1995-98, Kansas was a combined 123-17 – an average of 30.8 wins per season.

His UNC and KU teams have dominated at home, posting a record of 401-44 (.901). He led the

Peyton Williams

Jayhawks to a 201-17 record (92.2) in Allen Fieldhouse, at one point winning 62 consecutive games. The Tar Heels are 198-27 at the Smith Center (and 1-0 in home games at both Carmichael Arena and the Greensboro Coliseum) under Williams and set the school record for consecutive home wins with 31.

Williams has coached players to 31 first-team all-conference honors, including 14 UNC selections. The 2012 season marked only the second time in ACC history that three players (Zeller, John Henson and Harrison Barnes) made the first team. Eight players – five Jayhawks and four Tar Heels – have won conference player-of-the-year honors.

Gooden (2002), Collison (2003), May (2005) and Hansbrough (2008) won National Player-of-the-Year honors and LaFrentz (1997, 1998), Pierce (1998), Gooden (2002), Collison (2003), Hansbrough (2007, 2008, 2009), Johnson (2016) and Jackson (2017) have earned consensus first-team All-America honors.

NBA teams have selected 29 of his players in the first round. His players have earned more than $900 million in salary alone from NBA teams. In 2005 and 2012, four Tar Heels were chosen in the first round. Pierce was the 2008 NBA Finals MVP after leading the Boston Celtics to the title, Green set the NBA Finals record with 27 three-pointers in 2013 and Barnes won a title with Golden State in 2015 and was a starter when the Warriors set the NBA single-season record with 73 wins in 2016.

Williams emphasizes academic and personal development. May, the 2005 Final Four MVP, entered the NBA Draft after his junior year but later earned his degree. Marvin Williams, who went to the NBA in 2005 after just one season, returned to Chapel Hill for classes in seven subsequent summers and earned his degree in 2014.

"I think about what Coach Williams means to me a lot and I hope he's proud of me," says Marvin Williams. "I can't really put into words what he means to me. He came to Bremerton (Wash.) and he gave a kid a chance to be something. I can't thank him enough for what he's meant to my family. I could never pay Coach Williams back for what he's done for me, and I mean that genuinely. He told my mother if I worked hard, I could get a degree from this university. When I called my mom to tell her (I was graduating), she started crying. I hope I made my parents and my coach proud."

Five of his players have earned first-team Academic All-America honors – the Jayhawks' Vaughn (twice), Jerod Haase and Ryan Robertson and Carolina's Zeller (twice) and Paige. Forty-two have earned academic all-conference honors, including four-time recipients Zeller and Paige. Zeller is the only Tar Heel to earn first-team Academic All-America honors twice and Paige is one of only three players in ACC history to earn first- or second-team Academic All-America honors three times.

"I respect and admire Coach Williams—as a champion for the students we serve through the Carolina Covenant; as a leader and teacher of young men; as a person of great integrity," says Stephen M. Farmer, UNC's Vice Provost for Enrollment and Undergraduate Admissions. "I also respect and admire his love for this great university and his deep appreciation of the difference it makes in North Carolina and far beyond."

Zeller majored in business administration and became the first Tar Heel to be named the National Academic All-America of the Year.

"Coach Williams always emphasizes that we have to go to class and get an education, because that's why we are here," Zeller said during his senior year. "There might be times we wish we didn't have to do it. But down the road, we'll appreciate it. He lets us know that if we take it seriously we will have a career outside of basketball."

Williams grew up in the Biltmore neighborhood of Asheville. He attended Roberson High, where he played for Coach Buddy Baldwin. He played on Carolina's freshman team in 1968-69 and earned a bachelor's degree in education in 1972 and a master's degree in teaching in 1973.

He began his coaching career in 1973 at Owen High School in Swannanoa, N.C., and was inducted into Owen's Hall of Fame in 2010. He coached for USA Basketball teams in the 1991 World University Games, the 1992 U.S. Olympic Development Team, a U-22 tournament in Argentina in 1993 and the 2004 Olympics in Greece.

Several of his staff and players have gone on to head coaching positions, including Matt Doherty, Neil Dougherty, Jerry Green, Steve Robinson, Kevin Stallings, Mark Turgeon, Rex Walters, Wes Miller, Haase and C.B. McGrath.

"Coach Williams has always been great with his assistant coaches," says Haase, who played for him at Kansas and is in his second year as the head coach at Stanford. "He doesn't micromanage. He expects everybody to do their job and to be competent and effective with it. Anytime there's an important decision to make, an important thing going on, I'm always calling him first to get his opinion and feedback on everything."

"My dream is to have relationships with my players and my former players similar to what Coach Williams has with his players," says Haase. "The way I look at him and respect him—the dream scenario is that someday my players look at me the same way."

Williams was born on August 1, 1950. He and his wife, Wanda, a 1972 Carolina graduate, have a son, Scott, and a daughter, Kimberly. Scott earned a business degree from UNC and played point guard for the Tar Heels in 1997-98 and 1998-99. Scott and his wife, Katie (Wolford), live in Charlotte, with their sons, Aiden and Court. Katie is a 2001 Carolina graduate and former cheerleader. She earned a doctorate in physical therapy from Boston University.

Kimberly is a 2002 Carolina graduate with a degree in English, was a member of the UNC dance team in 2000 and 2001 and owns The Dance Spot in Huntersville. In 2016, she married Kurt Newlin, a 2003 UNC graduate who earned his master's in health administration from UNC Charlotte. They live in Concord. Their son, Kayson, was born in September 2017.

The Williams family has contributed more than $400,000 to the Carolina Covenant, an initiative at UNC that allows low-income students to attend the University debt free. Roy and Wanda serve as honorary chairs of a multi-million dollar campaign to endow the program. He hosts the annual Fast Break vs. Cancer breakfast that has reached $2.5 million in donations and directs the autographed basketball program that has contributed nearly $1.3 million to local charities.

The American Cancer Society honored Williams in 2012 for his efforts in the fight against cancer. A year later, Williams spoke to the United States Congress to advocate for cancer research funding and President Obama invited Williams to participate in a public service initiative to encourage young men to sign up for health care.

THE FOUNDATION FOR SUCCESS

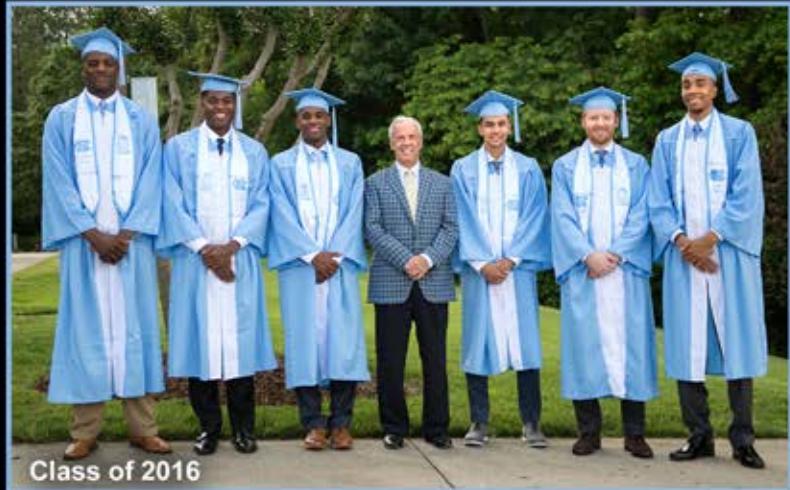

Class of 2009

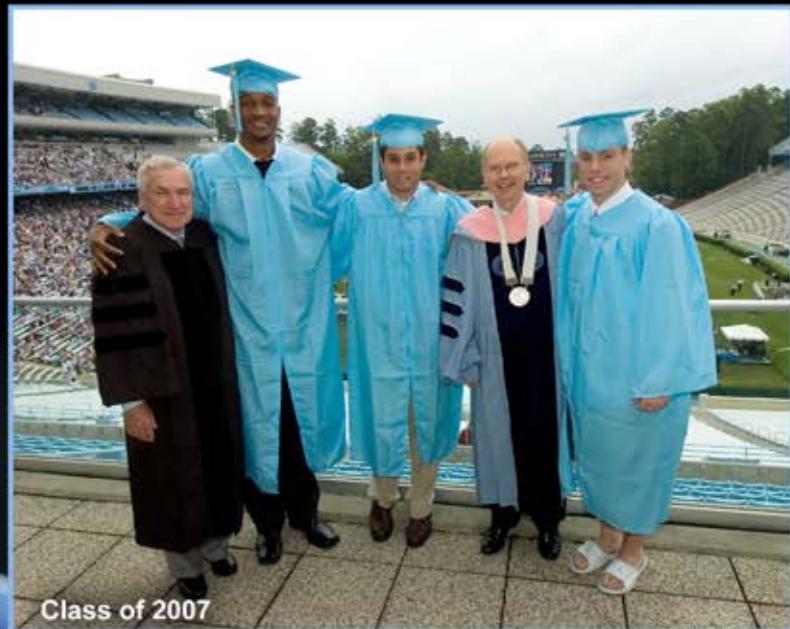

Class of 2017

"I absolutely believe that what I learned as a Carolina basketball player is transferable to the business world. When I became CEO, we did a lot of leadership training. In that training I talked a good deal about the values of the Carolina program, and about what I learned and how I apply it to business. The discipline, values, teamwork and a lot of the organization can easily be applied to the business world from the culture that Coach Smith created and is still in practice at Carolina today."

CAROLINA FAMILY

“What’s unique is the unity and the bond established in the short time you are at the University. It’s a family atmosphere. You find yourself taking care of family members. It’s hard for people outside of that to understand, but as long as people within understand it’s something we cherish, no matter what happens to us or where we go. You will always cherish that relationship from the University of North Carolina.”

— Michael Jordan

“Carolina gets in your blood. You see all the former guys coming back, and you want to be a part of that. It just seems like something you’re supposed to do as a Carolina guy, and no matter how long you stay in school, you always look forward to coming back. In the NBA, Carolina guys look after each other. We’re part of each others’ lives.”

— Vince Carter (UNC ‘01),
Eight-time NBA All-Star

2015 NBA champs James Michael McAdoo and Harrison Barnes returned to the Smith Center to cheer on the Tar Heels

Each 2017 player and coach received his ring from a previous national champion.

ONCE A TAR HEEL, ALWAYS A TAR HEEL

"Once you are here and put on that North Carolina uniform, we are all family. We take care of family. We're always there for family. When I left here, the coaches still called to check on my parents and my little brother. Those are examples you see in very important times in your lives."

THE CAROLINA WAY

TOGETHER

"When we were here, we were young and we had no idea what the world was about and how much you learn at Carolina. But it paved the way for me to accomplish what I've accomplished, both as a person and as a basketball player. It's all because of this university and that Carolina brotherhood."

— Antawn Jamison, National Player of the Year and NBA All-Star

WHY CAROLINA

“Simply put, North Carolina has everything you want in a basketball program: tradition, historical success, current success, an enormous and passionate fan base, quality facilities, complete national recruiting reach and a Hall of Fame coach who already has won a national title at the school.”

– ESPN.com

In 2012, ESPN ranked Carolina the most successful college basketball program in the nation over the last 50 years.

• In ranking Carolina the best coaching job in all of college hoops, ESPN.com wrote, “UNC has the obvious things recruits want: great facilities, a chance at the pros, big-time exposure, a chance to play in the best rivalry in the country, a gorgeous campus — you name it. ... More than anything, though, it's the ‘family’ — the scores of current and former pro stars who still come to Chapel Hill to play in alumni games and watch the young guns take on Duke. More specifically, perhaps, it's Michael Jordan. ... If UNC has an edge over the rest, it comes from the Tar Heels brand, a brand built by [Dean] Smith and sustained by [Roy] Williams and long since ensured in relevance by the greatest basketball player who ever lived.”

NOTHING COULD BE FINER

"I didn't know it at the time, but when I chose to attend Carolina as a high school kid it was the best decision I've ever made in my life. I loved playing basketball, yes. But it has opened doors for me every day of my life — from the day I graduated until today — that I never could have imagined would be opened."

— Dick Grubar (UNC '69)

"Playing at North Carolina was always my dream, but these past four years have been beyond anything I could have imagined. The Final Four run, beating Duke, winning the ACC title and tournament ... I mean, I'm blessed to have just played a game in the Dean Smith Center. The first time you run out of the tunnel, or right before the ball is tipped, 22,000 people standing, screaming, cheering for you — it's surreal. And that's just for your everyday game."

CAROL FOLT CHANCELLOR

When Carol L. Folt was installed as Carolina's 11th chancellor and first woman leader in October 2013, she said, "As America's first public university, Carolina became the gold standard. The founders passed the baton, and the future is up to us. How can we fulfill this honorable charge in a way that is ever fresh and relevant?"

As leader of North Carolina's flagship public university, Folt and her leadership team champion attracting, developing and retaining world-class faculty that are focused on excellence in teaching and research. Carolina's faculty lead by doing, and each day they share their knowledge and excitement with the next generation who will face a rapidly evolving future as they embark upon impactful careers, many in fields that don't exist today. Carolina is committed to benefiting its local and state communities and to cultivating the global outlook of its students, with more than a third of Carolina undergraduate students studying abroad – one of highest rates among public universities.

Folt believes a key mission of the chancellor is to share broadly stories about student and faculty excellence, demonstrating Carolina's value to the state and commitment to the future. An enthusiastic presence in classrooms and at campus events and athletic competitions, Folt brings students and faculty to every meeting of Carolina's Board of Trustees to discuss ground-breaking research and academic accomplishments and initiated significant investments in the communications team to tell stories to new audiences across the state, nation and world.

Folt came to Carolina from Dartmouth College, where she was interim president in 2012-2013 and served as a faculty member in the Department of Biological Sciences and academic leader. As a widely respected scientist, Folt and her students' pioneering work on the effects of dietary mercury and arsenic on human and ecosystem health led to numerous changes in national and global policy and consumption advisories around the world. Folt graduated from the University of California, Santa Barbara, earning both a bachelor's degree in aquatic biology and a master's degree in biology. She received her doctorate from the University of California, Davis and undertook a postdoctoral fellowship at Michigan State University before joining the faculty at Dartmouth.

She is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Folt is married to David Peart, a professor of biological sciences at Dartmouth. They have two adult children, Noah and Tessa.

BUBBA CUNNINGHAM ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Since Lawrence R. (Bubba) Cunningham began his duties as Carolina's director of athletics on November 14, 2011, UNC has graduated more than 750 student-athletes while consistently competing for championships in an array of different sports – exciting, motivating and influencing along the way. Among the department's accomplishments:

- The Tar Heels have won nine national titles and finished second 10 times.
- More than 300 student-athletes have made the ACC Academic Honor roll -- which requires a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better for the year – each of the past five years.
- Carolina's APR has steadily risen, and 16 teams scored a perfect 1000 in 2015-16.
- The Tar Heels have finished in the top eight of the Learfield Directors' Cup five times.
- And students-athletes have logged more than 25,000 hours of community service, helping at hospitals and local schools, and partnering with a variety of local and national groups.

Cunningham has led by supporting, challenging and innovating. Shortly after beginning his tenure as Carolina's athletics director, he led a strategic planning process that defined a new mission statement: "We educate and inspire through athletics."

Cunningham is in his 16th year as a Division I director of athletics. He came to Chapel Hill after spending the previous six years as the director of athletics at the University of Tulsa. He also served as Ball State University's AD from 2002-2005.

Cunningham, who earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in business administration from Notre Dame in 1984 and 1988, respectively, worked in his alma mater's athletics department from 1988-2002. The former member of the Irish golf team (1982-83) served as Notre Dame's associate athletics director for finance and facilities from 1995-2000 and was the associate director of athletics for external affairs from 2000-02.

Born in Flint, Mich., and raised in Naples, Fla., Cunningham and his wife, Tina, have four grown children: Matthew, Michael, John and Sarah.

UNC-Duke games routinely draw more viewers than any regular season games in the country.

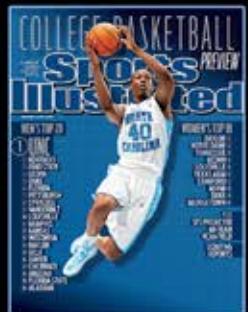

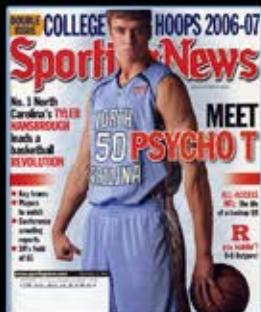

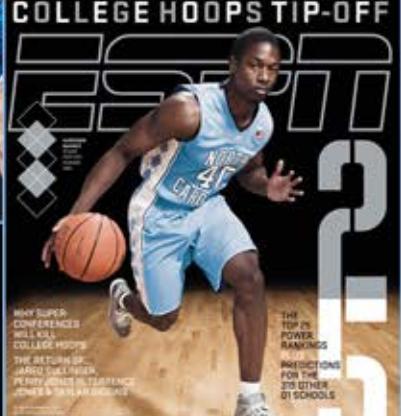

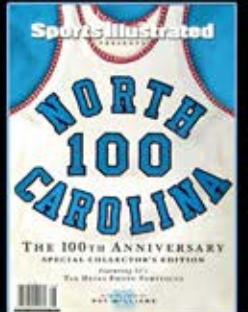

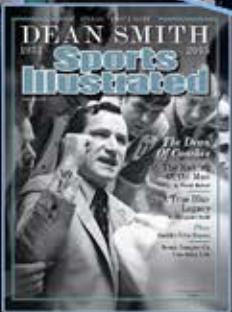

GAMEDAY MAINSTAYS

TAR HEELS IN THE SPOTLIGHT

The vast majority of Carolina games are nationally televised. Twenty-seven of Carolina's 32 scheduled games in 2017-18 will be broadcast on either an ESPN channel or CBS.

The 2017-18 season is the 33rd in which the Tar Heels will play in the Dean E. Smith Center. UNC has played nearly 500 games in the Smith Center in front of a combined audience of over nine million fans. Carolina enters the 2017-18 season 394-68 in the Smith Center, a winning mark of 85.3 percent.

The Tar Heels have been in the top five in the national attendance leaders in 30 of the last 31 seasons.

The first game in the Smith Center featured No. 1 Carolina defeating No. 3 Duke, 95-92, in a battle of unbeaten teams on Jan. 18, 1986. The first Tar Heel basket was scored by Carolina center Warren Martin off a pass from Kenny Smith.

The Tar Heels have a 199-27 record (.881) in the Smith Center in Roy Williams' 14 years as head coach. Dean Smith led the Tar Heels to a 133-17 record (.887) in the building that bears his name.

RENOVATIONS

The Smith Center has undergone a number of improvements to keep it on the cutting edge of basketball arenas, including full renovations of the locker rooms, training room and the addition of a team video room and dining room prior to the 2016-17 season.

The building added a new ribbon board surrounding the court for the 2012-13 season. The men's basketball offices were completely renovated and expanded in 2010.

The arena's lights and sound system were replaced and the training, weight and equipment rooms were expanded and renovated for 2009-10. A hydrotherapy room was added for the 2008-09 season.

In 2008, the Carolina Basketball Museum opened in the new Williamson Athletics Center, adjacent to the Koury Natatorium. The museum underwent a $1.5 million renovation in 2017.

In 2006-07, the seats in the lower level and upper level ring were replaced. The playing floor was completely refinished and refurbished for the 2007-08 campaign.

Four high-resolution video boards were installed for the 2005-06 season. The boards

In 2000-01, a standing-room-only section reserved for students opened on the baseline closest to the Carolina bench. The Rams Club funded a $150,000 renovation that allowed approximately 400 students to move courtside.

In May 1980, the Department of Athletics, in conjunction with the Educational Foundation, embarked on a mission to raise millions of dollars from private donations to construct an arena. The real inspiration for the fund-raising effort came from the campaign chairman, the late Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles.

Six years, 2,362 donors and over $34 million later, the premiere basketball arena in America became a reality. Dedicated in September 1986 as the Dean Edwards Smith Center, the 300,000-square-foot structure stands on seven and one-half acres of the University's south campus. Over 20,000 cubic yards of rock were removed to make room for the 340-foot-wide, 380-foot-long and 140-foot-high building.

"The success of the Carolina point guard comes from the fact that he understands how to play with people and still be an individual."

“Every time I come in the Smith Center, I sneak a look up there every couple of minutes. I just have to make sure it’s still up there, that the big number 33 is still hanging. When I see it up there, it takes me back to coming into Carolina with a bald head and a little mustache. Even at the time, you knew you were going to treasure those memories forever. When I was walking off the court the night of the alumni game (in 2009), I grabbed my son and took a second and pointed out that jersey with ‘Jamison’ on the banner. There are no words to describe what that felt like. I felt like I was showing him the past and the future all at the same time.”

—Antawn Jamison

George Glamack won National Player of the Year honors in 1940 and '41.

Jan. 27, 1911: Carolina defeats Virginia Christian, 42-21, in first game. Marvin "Philly" Ritch, considered the Father of UNC Basketball, is the team's first captain and leading scorer.

Feb. 22, 1913: Carolina plays the North Carolina College of Agricultural and Mechanic Arts (NC State) for the first time in any sport since 1906. The Tar Heels lost that first encounter, 26-18. The teams would not play again until the 1919 state championship.

✓ Smith retired with more wins (879) than any other coach in NCAA Division I history.

✓ In 36 years, Smith coached Carolina to 11 Final Fours, two national titles and 13 ACC Tournament Championships.

✓ More than 95 percent of Smith's lettermen graduated.

✓ From 1981 to 1989, Carolina was ranked in the final Top 10 of both the Associated Press and coaches' poll each year.

✓ Smith was named the second-best coach in college basketball history (behind John Wooden) by the NABC in 2000.

✓ Smith was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1983. He was also inducted into the North Carolina Hall of Fame in 1981. In 2006, he was named to the inaugural class of the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame (along with James Naismith, John Wooden, Oscar Robertson and Bill Russell). He was inducted into the FIBA Hall of Fame in 2007.

✓ Smith was voted ACC Coach of the Year eight times - in 1967, 1968, 1971, 1976, 1977, 1979, 1988 and 1993.

When ESPN's award-winning SportsCentury program selected the greatest coaches of the 20th Century, it came as no surprise that Carolina basketball coach Dean Smith was among the top seven of all-time. Smith joined other legends Red Auerbach, Bear Bryant, George Halas, Vince Lombardi, John McGraw and John Wooden as the preeminent coaches in sports history.

Smith's tenure as Carolina's basketball coach from 1960-97 is a record of remarkable achievement and consistency. In 36 seasons at UNC, Smith's teams had a record of 879-254. His teams won more games than those of any other Division I men's basketball college coach in history, a record broken in 2007 by Bob Knight and surpassed again in 2011 by Mike Krzyzewski.

- Smith coached Carolina to the 1982 and 1993 NCAA championships and the 1971 NIT title.

- Under Smith, the Tar Heels won at least 20 games for 27 straight years and 30 of his final 31. No coach in history has ever produced that many consecutive 20-win seasons.

- Carolina was ranked in the final Top 10 of both the Associated Press and coaches' polls each year from 1981-89. That nine-year run was the second-longest streak of Top 10 finishes in history, exceeded only by UCLA's 13-year string from 1967 to 1979.

- The Tar Heels were ranked among the nation's final Top 15 teams in 28 of his last 31 seasons, missing only in 1970, 1990 and 1996, and were among the Top 10 on 23 occasions during that period. Smith's teams finished the season ranked No. 1 in at least one of the two major polls four times (1982, 1984, 1993 and 1994).

- Smith's teams were also the dominant force in the ACC. The Tar Heels under Smith had a record of 364-136 in ACC regular-season play, a winning percentage of .728.

- The Tar Heels finished at least third in the ACC regular-season standings for 33 successive seasons. In that span, Carolina finished first 17 times, second 11 times and third five times.

- Smith's teams finished in the ACC upper division all but one time. That was in 1964, when Carolina was fifth and had its only losing record in ACC regular-season play under Smith at 6-8.

- Carolina won 13 ACC Tournaments under Smith.

- His teams played in 11 Final Fours.

- Smith's teams made 23 consecutive appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

- In his last 31 years, Smith led the Tar Heels into the NCAA Tournament 27 times.

- Carolina reached the Sweet 16 of NCAA play each season from 1981-93. That 13-year streak is the second-longest in Tournament history to a 14-year stretch by UCLA from 1967 to 1980.

The awards and accolades continued to be given to Smith, even after he stepped down as Carolina's head coach on October 9, 1997. Smith was named Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated and received the Arthur Ashe Award for Courage at the ESPY Awards. He was inducted into the FIBA Hall of Fame in 2007. In November 2013, he was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the highest civilian award in the U.S.

He received the Naismith Good Sportsmanship Award in 2011. Upon the announcement of that honor, Duke's Mike Krzyzewski said, "Dean set the standard for basketball – and not just college basketball – that everyone is still trying to reach. He demanded that his teams play as one. And what he got in return from all these guys who played for him was the intense loyalty that they feel toward him. And that's something I've admired since I started coaching. It's really one of the great things in all of sport: that intense loyalty the Tar Heel players have for Coach Smith."

In 2006, he was named to the inaugural class of the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame (along with James Naismith, John Wooden, Oscar Robertson and Bill Russell).

Smith also became the first recipient of the Mentor Award for Lifetime Achievement, given by the University of North Carolina Committee on Teaching Awards for "a broader range of teaching beyond the classroom."

He's recognized throughout the sports world for his character, his innovations to the game and his ability to have established Carolina's program as one of the greatest in college basketball. Smith's players consistently produce on the floor, in the classroom and in life.

When Smith broke Rupp's record in 1997, his coaching peers had this to say:

John Wooden: "What's more impressive to me about Dean than the record is how good he is as a teacher of basketball. I've always said he's a better teacher of basketball than anyone else. I couldn't begin to teach players the things Dean has taught them. I've admired him because there's more to him than just wins."

Bob Knight: "Let me say some things that he won't say. He's going to say an awful lot about teams and that's the way it should be. But let me put it in perspective. His being able to do that and do it at a single institution, do it through all the years without ever having a problem with any kind of recruiting violation or probation, is a very singular accomplishment in college basketball. I think it's a great achievement, indicative of a guy who really knows how to coach and has decided from day one that things are going to be done the absolute right way. He's not going to tell you, but just take my word for it. That's a great, great accomplishment for a coach."

Roy Williams: "He has a basketball program, he doesn't have a team. And when you have a program, you're concerned about the kids' entire lives, their entire existence ... and what they're going to do after they leave you and what kind of effect you can have on them as they mature."

Perhaps his greatest form of praise on a worldwide level came when a group of his peers, including Hall of Fame coaches Henry Iba, Pete Newell and Auerbach, chose Smith to coach the U.S. Olympic basketball team in the 1976 Montreal Games. The Americans finished a controversial second to the Soviet Union at Munich in 1972. Smith was given the challenge of trying to develop a team to regain the gold medal against a group of improving international teams.

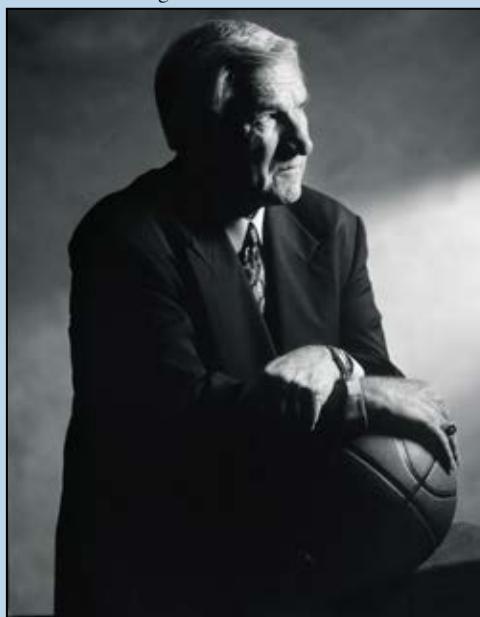

Smith molded a group of college all-stars into a cohesive unit during a few short weeks in that summer of 1976 and led them to the gold medal, sweeping through the Games undefeated and beating Yugoslavia in the championship game. Emphasizing a tough pressure defense and a fast-breaking, attacking style on offense, the Americans returned to the top of the international game.

Just as Smith used his talents to develop that 1976 all-star team into an Olympic champion, he has prepared a host of players for successful careers in the NBA.

"UNC is a plus-four school," Orlando Magic Vice President of Basketball Operations-Player Personnel John Gabriel said about Smith's teams, "meaning that if I rate a player as the 10th-best player in the NBA Draft, being a Tar Heel automatically jumps him to number six. The plus-four rating is based upon the success of former Tar Heels in the NBA."

During his last 31 seasons, since Smith's Tar Heels won their first ACC title in 1967, the Tar Heels had a record of 813-207, winning 79.7 percent of their games.

In 23 of those 31 seasons, Carolina won either the ACC regular-season, tournament or both. Most schools are happy just to win 20 games in a season. At Carolina, it became a habit. No school in the country won more total games in that 31-year period than Carolina. UCLA was second with 751. The Tar Heels also had the most wins over his last 20 seasons with 539, and over his last 10 years with 268.

For Smith and his players, the word "class" applied to the team's exemplary sportsmanship on the court, to its excellent academic performance and to Smith's belief that basketball involves many complexities that must be learned over the course of time — that coaching and playing the game is a classroom situation in its own right.

Smith's teams won championships at every level. There were NCAA titles in 1982 and 1993 and the NIT in 1971. His gold medal-winning team at the 1976 Summer Olympic Games makes Smith one of only three men in history to coach teams to an NCAA title, NIT championship and Olympic victory. The others are Pete Newell and Knight.

He was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., in 1983. He was also inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in 1981.

A key to Smith's success was his ability to change Carolina's style to fit his personnel. He favored an offense which used the fast break whenever possible and featured a quick passing attack, but he was also comfortable in a more disciplined style of play. He liked to play multiple defenses to confuse opponents. However, his preference was a man-to-man, pressure to speed up the action.

Among Smith's many innovations were the Four Corners offense, crediting the passer, the run-and-jump defense, the scramble defense out of man-to-man pressure, the point zone, team huddles at the foul line, double-teaming the screen-and-roll, the freelance passing game and multiple screens against zone defenses.

Born February 28, 1931, in Emporia, Kan., Dean Edwards Smith grew up as the son of public school teachers. He graduated from Topeka High School in 1949 and went to the University of Kansas on an academic scholarship. He played varsity basketball and baseball and freshman football for the Jayhawks. He was a member of Jayhawk basketball teams that won the NCAA title in 1952 and finished second in 1953.

Smith was an assistant coach at Kansas to Phog Allen and Dick Harp, then served in the U.S. Air Force as a lieutenant. While in the service, he played and coached basketball in Germany. Smith served for three years as an assistant basketball coach under Bob Spear, recognized by his peers as one of the outstanding coaches in the history of the game, and one year each as head baseball and head golf coach at the United States Air Force Academy. In 1958, the late Frank McGuire asked him to join his staff at Carolina as an assistant coach. Smith served as an assistant under McGuire for three years before McGuire resigned to become head coach of the NBA's Philadelphia Warriors in the summer of 1961. At that time, Carolina Chancellor William Aycock tapped the 30-year-old Smith to become UNC's head coach.

Smith shared his knowledge of the game with a talented group of assistants. Many of his assistants went on to head coaching jobs, including Larry Brown, Roy Williams, John Lotz, Kenny Rosemond, Eddie Fogler, Randy Wiel and Bill Guthridge.

Smith's talents did not lie solely in tutoring quality college coaches, as is evidenced by the number of outstanding players who went on to professional careers after their days in Chapel Hill. In Smith's 36-year tenure, more than 50 of his players went on to play pro basketball in the NBA or ABA and more played in other professional leagues both in the U.S. and overseas.

"Coach taught me the game, when to apply speed, how to use your quickness, when to use that first step, or how to apply certain skills in certain situations," says Jordan. "Dean Smith gave me the knowledge to score 37 points a game and that's something people don't understand."

Smith also coached players who went on to become doctors, lawyers and businessmen. Better than 95 percent of his lettermen earned their degrees.

Michael Jordan: "The camaraderie that he has with his players goes a long way. He's taught a lot of us similar traits and we've accepted that and we've moved on as players and people. That's something we treasure more so than maybe our basketball experience — the things that we learned away from the game."

"He's like a second father to me. When I first left school I was unsure, nervous, scared, going into a situation I wasn't really comfortable with and I didn't know if I was ready for it. He calmed me down with a fatherly attitude, taking me under his wing and teaching me a lot of things about being an adult."

Phil Ford: "My first impression of Coach Smith was honesty. He didn't promise me playing time. In fact, he told me I might have to play on the junior varsity my first year. That kind of set me back. But my mom really liked that because she said, 'Phil, if he's not out here promising you that you will start, that means you go there and work hard and do the best that you can do, then he won't be out promising your job to another high school player.' And if you think about it, that made a lot of sense."

When he retired, Smith was the winningest coach in the history of the NCAA Tournament with 65 victories. In 36 ACC Tournaments, he had a coaching record of 58-23, a winning percentage of .716.

Smith, who played for the legendary Phog Allen at Kansas in the early 1950s, and Knight are the only two men to both play on and coach an NCAA championship team. Smith was a member of the Jayhawk squad that won college basketball's top prize in 1952. He then coached the Tar Heels to national titles in 1982 and 1993.

After taking Carolina to the NCAA championship game in 1977, Smith was named National Coach of the Year by the NABC. He received similar honors from the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and Basketball Weekly in 1979 and from Medalist in 1982. He was named the Naismith National Coach of the Year in 1993 after leading the Tar Heels to the national crown.

In 1993, the Atlantic Coast Sportswriters Association named Smith the ACC Coach of the Year, an honor he received on seven previous occasions as well — 1967, 1968, 1971, 1976, 1977, 1979 and 1988.

Smith died on February 7, 2015, in Chapel Hill.

CAROLINA IN THE ACC TOURNAMENT

- Carolina has won 18 Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championships and played in the championship game a record 34 times.

- The Tar Heels have a 97-45 record in ACC Tournament history. UNC has the second-most wins and second-most titles (UNC and Duke have combined to win 38 of the 64 championships).

- Dean Smith won 13 Tournaments, and played in the championship game 21 times.

- Roy Williams is 22-11 with three titles and seven appearances in the championship game in 14 seasons. Williams has led UNC to the finals seven times against seven different opponents.

- The Tar Heels have earned the No. 1 seed 26 times. Duke is second with 17 No. 1 seeds; NC State is third with six.

- Roy Williams is one of eight coaches to win back-to-back ACC Tournament titles and one of seven coaches to win the Tournament at least three times.

- A Tar Heel has won the Most Valuable Player award 19 times. They include: Lennie Rosenbluth (1957), Larry Miller (1967, 1968), Charles Scott (1969), Lee Dedmon (1971), Robert McAdoo (1972), Phil Ford (1975), John Kuester (1977), Dudley Bradley (1979), Sam Perkins (1981), James Worthy (1982), J.R. 1957

Frank McGuire's eventual national champions ran the table in the regular season, winning all 14 games. That year marked the first time UNC reached the conference tournament final since the 1947 Southern Conference Tournament. The Tar Heels held off Wake Forest, 61-59, in the semifinal and defeated South Carolina by 20 to earn their first ACC championship. In the semifinal, Wake Forest took a one-point lead with less than a minute to play, but National Player of the Year Lennie Rosenbluth hit a hook shot from the circle and a free throw for a three-point play and the win.

Rosenbluth made 8 of 11 shots from the floor in the championship, scored 38 points and was MVP.

The Tournament moved to the Greensboro Coliseum for the first time and was the site of Dean Smith's first title. Fittingly, Carolina won the title by sweeping its in-state rivals, beating NC State by three points, Wake Forest by 10 and Duke by nine in the title match. Larry Miller was named MVP after scoring 25.7 points and grabbing 8.3 rebounds per game. Bob Lewis (18.0 points, 5.0 rebounds) joined Miller on the first-team all-tournament squad.

The 37-point margin of victory is the largest in championship game history.

Carolina entered as the No. 1 seed for the third year in a row. Carolina's Charles Scott battled Wake's Charlie Davis in the semifinals. Davis won the first half, as the Deacons led 37-29 at in-

Carolina won the 1982 ACC title over Ralph Sampson and Virginia.

The Tournament moved again in 1968 for the first year of a three-year stay in Charlotte. UNC's semifinal game against South Carolina was a fierce battle. The Gamecocks sent the game into overtime with an 18-4 run to tie the score at 74. The Tar Heels came from behind in overtime and won on baskets by Dick Grubar and Gerald Tuttle.

In the championship, Carolina led NC State by only five at the half, but the final tally termination. Scott took over in the second stanza, enabling UNC to win, 80-72. Scott and Grubar led the Tar Heels with 23 points apiece.

Carolina and Duke squared off in the championship game. The Blue Devils led by nine at halftime and the Tar Heels lost Grubar to a first-half knee injury. The second half featured one of the most memorable performances in ACC history as Scott scored 25 of his game-high 40 points on 12 of 13 shooting. Carolina won its third straight ACC title, 85-74, and Scott earned MVP honors.

South Carolina's departure from the ACC left only seven teams, and Carolina received a bye into the semifinal against Duke. Four Tar Heels scored in double figures, led by Bobby Jones, who carded a double-double (14 points, 11 rebounds) as the Tar Heels won, 63-48.

Carolina was in the championship game for the fifth time in six years. Maryland was in the finals for the first time since 1958. Robert McAdoo (15 points, 7.5 rebounds per game) became the fifth Tar Heel in six years to earn the MVP award as Carolina held on for a 73-64 win. Dennis Wuyck (17.5 points, 5 rebounds) and George Karl (13 points, 2.5 rebounds) joined McAdoo on the all-tournament first team.

HISTORYCAROLINA IN THE ACC TOURNAMENT

Robert McAdoo was the 1972 ACC Tournament MVP.

The Tar Heels trailed Wake Forest in the quarterfinal by eight points with 50 seconds left. Freshman point guard Phil Ford (44 seconds to play), Mitch Kupchak (36 seconds), Walter Davis (30 seconds) and Brad Hoffman (two seconds) hit jump shots and the Deacs missed a pair of free throws to force overtime. In the extra session with the game tied at 96 Carolina took possession with 58 seconds to play. UNC went Four Corners and drew a technical against Wake Forest with 29 seconds to play for not forcing UNC to take action. Ford hit the free throw and another free throw six seconds later as Carolina triumphed, 101-100. Davis (31 points, 12 rebounds), Kupchak (16 points, 14 rebounds) and Ford (25 points) led the Tar Heels.

Clemson came back from 11 down at the half to force overtime in the semifinals. A tip-in by Kupchak gave Carolina an overtime lead it would not relinquish. Ford led UNC with 29, making 15 of 18 from the free throw line.

Ford was outstanding in the championship game against defending NCAA champion NC State. Carolina took the lead, 56-55, on a jumper by Davis with nine minutes left and then went into its delay offense. Ford hit two baskets in the next two and one-half minutes, and NC State did not score during a 5:18 stretch, leading to a 70-66 Tar Heel victory. Ford (26 points per game) was the MVP and was joined on the first-team by Kupchak (13.7 points, 13.7 rebounds). Davis netted 19 points and grabbed 7.7 rebounds over the three games.

No. 1 seed Carolina met No. 7 Virginia in the finals in a rematch of the 1976 final won by the Cavaliers. Ford scored 19 points in the first half, but the Cavaliers led by one at the break. Virginia led 64-56 with 7:08 remaining, but over the next 5:03 the Tar Heels outscored the Wahoos, 15-1. Freshman Mike O'Koren and John Kuester led the final charge after Ford fouled out with 5:45 to play and Virginia still holding a 64-61 advantage. A layup by Bruce Buckley with 3:37 to play broke a 67-all tie and gave UNC the lead for good. Kuester's take-charge attitude and perfect free throw shooting earned him MVP honors after the Tar Heel title.

Duke defeated UNC in the final game of the regular season to share the regular-season title, but the Tar Heels won the draw for the tournament's top seed and first-round bye. Carolina defeated Maryland, 102-79, in the semifinals, as five Tar Heels scored in double figures. Al Wood led with 19 points on 8 of 10 shooting.

Carolina beat Duke in the finals, 71-63. Dudley Bradley scored 16 points with seven steals and four assists and earned MVP honors. O'Koren had 18 points and eight rebounds and was 10 for 11 from the free throw line. The Tar Heels turned the ball over just seven times and forced 14 Duke miscues. O'Koren and Dave Colescott also were first-team selections.

UNC beat Wake Forest, 58-57, in the semifinal as Mike Pepper nailed a 16-foot jumper with eight seconds to play. Sam Perkins scored 18 points and pulled down 15 rebounds and James Worthy added 12 points and 11 rebounds. The Deacons led 53-46 but Pepper and Perkins each hit two baskets. The second basket by Perkins gave UNC a 56-55 lead with 4:12 to play. Alvis Rogers hit an 11-foot jumper to give Wake the lead back with 1:30 to play, but Pepper hit the game-winner with eight seconds to go.

Carolina and Maryland met in the final in the Capital Centre in Landover, Md. The game was tied seven times in the second half, but the Tar Heels went ahead for good with 2:53 to play on a Jimmy Black steal and lay-up. Wood scored twice in the final two minutes to secure a 61-60 triumph.

Perkins (17.7 points, 8.3 rebounds) became just the second freshman ever, and first since Ford, to be named MVP. Worthy (13 points, 7.7 rebounds) joined Perkins as a first-team all-tournament selection.

Freshman and ACC Tournament MVP Phil Ford cuts the nets in Greensboro in 1975.

No. 1-ranked Carolina led No. 2 Virginia, 34-31, at halftime behind Worthy's 16 points. Michael Jordan scored four of the Tar Heels' first five field goals in the second half. His fourth straight field goal, with 8:44 to play, was Carolina's last of the game. Leading 44-43 with 7:34 remaining, Carolina spread the floor and held the ball. Virginia fouled six times over the next 7:06, finally putting Matt Doherty on the foul line for 1-and-1 with 28 seconds left. Doherty hit the first for a two-point edge. Virginia turned the ball over with three seconds to play. Doherty hit two free throws and Virginia's Ralph Sampson had an uncontested dunk with one second left as UNC prevailed, 47-45. The field goal by Sampson was the first by the Cavaliers since the 7:34 mark.

Worthy (13.3 points, 8 rebounds), Perkins (9.7 points, 7.3 rebounds) and Jordan (11.7 points, 3 rebounds) were named to the first-team all-tournament team, and Worthy was named MVP.

Carolina breezed to the championship game, recording a 15-point win over Georgia Tech and a 30-point rout of eighth-seeded Maryland, which had knocked off No. 1 seed NC State.

The 1989 ACC championship game was one of the most memorable and intense meetings ever between Carolina and Duke. Both teams had won regular-season games on the other's home floor.

Stifling defense by both teams led to 44 turnovers, 26 of which the Tar Heels committed. J.R. Reid had 14 points and nine rebounds and Steve Bucknall had 10 points and five assists to lead UNC. The game was tied five times in the second half and Duke led just once, with 5:28 to play. Bucknall hit a driving basket and free throw with 1:46 remaining to break a 66-all tie. Bucknall and King Rice both went 4 for 4 from the line to clinch the win. Reid (16.0 points, 8.0 rebounds per game) won MVP honors.

After hard-fought victories over Clemson and Virginia, the Tar Heels met a Duke team in the championship game that had swept the regular-season series from UNC. Carolina raced out to a 15-4 lead and thrashed Duke, 96-74. Rick Fox made 10 of 16 field goal attempts for 25 points and Hubert Davis netted 17. Rice had 12 points and seven assists and did not commit a turnover. Fox averaged 17.3 points and 9 rebounds over the three games and was named MVP. Davis averaged 13.7 points and hit nearly 64 percent from three-point range in the Tournament.

The win was the largest in the finals since Carolina beat NC State, 87-50, in 1968.

Carolina faced Wake Forest in the semifinal in what proved to be one of the most exciting games in ACC Tournament history. Wake Forest led, 76-70, with 2:15 to play, but Derrick Phelps helped cut the deficit to three with 11 seconds left. Phelps then made the first of two free throws and rebounded his own miss on the second. He fed Dante Calabria who drove the lane and hit a twisting bank shot with three seconds remaining for a tie at 81.

Carolina led 84-81 in overtime, but a three-pointer by Rusty LaRue tied the game with 39 seconds left. UNC freshman Jerry Stackhouse, the Tournament's MVP, hit the game-winner on a baseline drive with five seconds to play. Wake Forest guard Randolph Childress, who scored 31 points, just missed a long three-pointer as the clock expired.

Stackhouse had 14 points and seven rebounds and Eric Montross added 12 points and nine rebounds to lead Carolina past Virginia, 73-66, in the title game.

The Tar Heels lost their first three ACC regular-season games, but rallied to go 8-0 in the second half to finish tied for second place. Carolina then swept past Virginia, Wake Forest and NC State to claim its 14th Tournament title. Junior guard Shammond Williams earned MVP honors, averaging 20.0 points and 5.0 assists.

Antawn Jamison scored 24 points and grabbed 10 rebounds and point guard Ed Cota had 11 points and 10 assists in the 78-68 quarterfinal win over Virginia. Williams made eight of 11 shots, including four of seven three-pointers, in an 86-73 triumph over the Tim Duncan-led Demon Deacons in the semifinals.

In the championship game, Williams again led Carolina with 23 points, nine of which came on a trio of three-point baskets in a 2:02 span midway through the second half. Jamison added 17 points and a game-high 11 rebounds. Carolina shot 59.0 percent from the floor, the third-highest percentage ever by the winning team in an ACC final.

Carolina repeated as Tournament champions for the first time since 1981-82 with victories over NC State, Maryland and Duke. Those wins avenged regular-season losses against the same three opponents. Jamison injured a muscle in the overtime win over the Terrapins in the semifinal, and was questionable for Sunday's championship game. However, Jamison was relentless against the Blue Devils, sparking UNC to a 15-point win over the nation's top-ranked team with a 22-point, 18-rebound effort that ranks as one of the finest in championship game history.

Jamison had 25 points in the opening round win over the Wolfpack. The Tar Heels trailed throughout much of the second half against Maryland, but rallied behind Shammond Williams to force overtime. Williams added 10 points in the extra stanza to lead Carolina to an 83-73 triumph.

Carolina's win over Duke in the championship game was UNC's sixth in title game matchups against the Blue Devils. The game was tied at 57 with less than 11 minutes to play, but the Tar Heels reeled off the next 13 points. Williams and Vince Carter had 19 and 16 points, respectively.

Carolina won its 16th ACC Tournament in 2007 in Tampa, Fla., with wins over Florida State, Boston College and NC State.

As the Tournament's top seed, Carolina beat No. 9 seed Florida State in the quarterfinals. Wayne Ellington scored 18 points to lead four double-figure scorers in the win over the Seminoles. Brandan Wright scored 20 points to lead the top-seeded Tar Heels to a 71-56 win over No. 4 seed Boston College in the semifinals.

All five Tar Heel starters scored in double figures as Carolina beat NC State, 89-80, in the final. Reynshaw Terry scored eight consecutive points in a late-game stretch to capture the win.

Wright was named MVP, becoming the fifth freshman and fourth Tar Heel freshman to do so. Wright, Ellington and Ty Lawson made the All-ACC Tournament team, the first time three freshmen from the same team ever earned that honor.

Carolina beat Florida State, Virginia Tech and Clemson to win the 2008 ACC title, its second in a row and an ACC-record 17th overall. The Tar Heels have won back-to-back ACC Tournament titles five times — 1967-68, 1968-69, 1981-82, 1997-98 and 2007-08.

Tyler Hansbrough, Wayne Ellington and Marcus Ginyard were named to the ACC All-Tournament First Team.

Virginia Tech led most of the game in the semifinals. Ellington hit a pair of three-pointers late to tie the game before Hansbrough hit a baseline jump shot with 0.8 seconds left for a 68-66 win. Ellington made 10 of 13 shots from the floor and had 24 points in the championship game win over Clemson.

Hansbrough had 26 points and nine rebounds against the Hokies and 18 points and 11 rebounds in the finals to earn MVP honors.

Carolina opened the Tournament by surrendering the first eight points in its quarterfinal against No. 8 Pitt. The Panthers led by seven with 4:36 to play in the first half before the Tar Heels went on a 13-2 run to end the half. UNC shot 61.5 percent from the floor in the second and pulled away for an 88-71 win.

The Tar Heels dominated Notre Dame in the semifinals. The 78-47 win was UNC's largest ever in the semifinals and Carolina's biggest in any ACC Tournament game since 1993. The Tar Heels led 23-22, then went on an 18-0 run to end the half. Marcus Paige led with 16 points and seven assists and Isaiah Hicks had a career-high 15 rebounds.

The top-seeded Tar Heels beat No. 2 Virginia, 61-57 to win the title, avenging a loss in the only regular-season meeting two weeks prior in Charlottesville. Tournament MVP Joel Berry II led UNC with 19 points.

The championship game was tied at 28-28 at the half and at 44-all with 8:25 to play. The Tar Heels went on a 9-2 run over the next 6:40, sparked by a three-pointer by Berry and a steal and dunk by Justin Jackson.

Vince Carter and Carolina won their second consecutive ACC title in 1998.

Brice Johnson and MVP Joel Berry II celebrate the 2016 ACC title.

Berry averaged a team-high 17.0 points and was 17 for 24 from the floor, 7 for 10 from three-pointers and 10 from 10 from the free throw line over the three games en route to MVP honors.

1957 Season

The Tar Heels had to pull out numerous close games to preserve their perfect 32-0 record and NCAA title. Win No. 17 was a 65-61 triumph over Maryland in double overtime. Tommy Kearns' free throws provided the winning margin in the 18th consecutive win, 75-73, over Duke. The Tar Heels beat Wake Forest for the fourth time in that one year in the ACC Tournament semifinals. Carolina trailed with less than a minute left, but squeaked out a 61-59 win.

Those close games were nothing compared to the drama that unfolded in the Final Four in Kansas City. The Tar Heels won back-to-back triple overtime games against Michigan State and Kansas to capture UNC's first NCAA championship. Pete Brennan's jumper against Michigan State was a key play that extended the game into the second overtime. Joe Quigg's two free throws with six seconds remaining in the third overtime gave Carolina a 54-53 win over Kansas and Wilt Chamberlain in the final. In 1999, Sports Illustrated selected the 1957 NCAA title game as its second-favorite game of all-time.

UNC 87, Davidson 85March 15, 1969

Charles Scott almost single-handedly carried the Tar Heels to victory in the NCAA East Regional final in College Park, Md. Scott connected on 10 of 14 field goal attempts in the second half. Davidson had the ball with 1:05 remaining and the score tied, 85-85, but Gerald Tuttle drew a charge for the Tar Heels. Scott hit a 20-footer with three seconds left and Carolina advanced to its third consecutive Final Four.

UNC 73, Duke 71January 19, 1974

The Tar Heels defeated the Blue Devils on a last-second shot at Cameron Indoor Stadium. The Tar Heels rallied to tie the score and Duke had the ball at half-court with four seconds left. Bobby Jones stole the inbounds pass and hit an off-balance lay-up with one second left to give Carolina a 73-71 win.

UNC 96, Duke 92 (OT)March 2, 1974

In one of the most famous comebacks in college basketball, the Tar Heels rallied from eight points down with 17 seconds remaining against Duke to force overtime. Trailing 86-78, Bobby Jones made both ends of a one-and-one with just 17 seconds left. John Kuester cut the deficit to four with 13 seconds to play with a lay-up after Duke threw away the inbounds pass. The Blue Devils again lost the inbounds pass and Jones cut the deficit to two on a put-back off an Ed Stahl miss. Six seconds remained. The Tar Heels fouled Pete Kramer with four seconds left, and he missed the front end of the one-and-one. Stahl grabbed the rebound and called a timeout with three ticks left. Mitch Kupchak in-bounded the ball to Walter Davis, who launched a 25-foot shot as time expired. The shot banked off the glass to tie the score at 86-86. Carmichael Auditorium erupted and Carolina went on to win 96-92 in overtime.

UNC 101, Wake Forest 100 (OT)March 6, 1975

Carolina trailed Wake Forest, 90-82, with 50 seconds remaining in the ACC quarterfinals. Phil Ford hit a 20-footer with 43 ticks left and Mitch Kupchak followed a Deacon turnover with a driving layup with 34 seconds to play. Wake Forest's inbounds pass grazed the scoreboard, turning the ball back to Carolina. Walter Davis scored to make it 90-88 with 29 seconds left. The Deacons failed to convert two one-and-one opportunities before Brad Hoffman drove the baseline and nailed a 12-footer to tie the game with two seconds left. The Tar Heels pulled out the 101-100 win in overtime and went on to capture the ACC title two days later.

UNC 70, N.C. State 69January 17, 1979

Carolina charged out to a 40-19 halftime lead and led by 17 with 10:30 to play, but the Wolfpack got hot. Kenny Matthews hit a jumper with 32 seconds left that gave State a 69-68 lead. Dudley Bradley missed a jumper for the Tar Heels and State grabbed the rebound with 16 seconds left. Reynolds Coliseum celebrated. But Bradley stole the ball from Clyde Austin at mid-court and drove in for the game-winning dunk and a 70-69 triumph.

Dudley Bradley's steal and dunk in the final seconds gave the Tar Heels a 70-69 win at NC State on January 17, 1979.

HISTORY

FANTASTIC FINISHES

James Worthy had 28 points, but it was the freshman Jordan who took a pass from Jimmy Black and made the game-winning shot. Worthy stole an errant pass from Hoya forward Fred Brown in the final seconds to clinch the title.

UNC 70, Tulane 68 (3 OT)

November 30, 1982

John Williams made two free throws with eight seconds to play to give Tulane a 53-51 edge. Michael Jordan was whistled for an offensive foul with four seconds remaining, and it appeared the Tar Heels would start a season with three successive losses for the first time since 1928-29. However, Jordan stole the inbounds pass and hit a 24-foot prayer at the buzzer to tie the game. Carolina prevailed, 70-68, in triple overtime.

UNC 64, Virginia 63

February 10, 1983

Carolina trailed second-ranked Virginia by 16 points in the second half and was down 63-53 with 4:12 remaining. Jimmy Braddock hit a three-pointer and Matt Doherty and Sam Perkins each converted one-and-ones to close the gap to 63-60 with 2:54 remaining. Pat Sullivan tied the game at 78 with a pair of free throws with 38 seconds left. Reese set up the final possession with a steal with 16 seconds to go. Ellington scored a career-high 36 points in the game, connecting on five three-pointers. The final shot by Ellington marked UNC's first late game-winner since David Noel rattled in a three-pointer with 1.8 seconds left on Nov. 19, 2005, to beat Gardner-Webb in the Smith Center and marked Carolina's first overtime win under head coach Roy Williams.

In the return matchup in Chapel Hill on Feb. 10, Tyler Hansbrough scored 13 of his 39 points in the two overtime periods as Carolina rallied from 15 points down to beat the Tigers, 103-93, in double overtime. It was the largest comeback by UNC in ACC Tournament history. The Hurricanes led, 53-34, with 9:51 to play but Carolina scored 27 of the final 33 points.

The next day, fourth-seeded Clemson led the #1 seed Tar Heels, 38-28, at the half before UNC rallied again for a 92-87 win in overtime. The 10-point halftime deficit is the largest Carolina has ever overcome to win at the ACC Tournament. 100 defeat to the Wildcats earlier in the season. The teams came into the game with a combined 244 NCAA Tournament wins, most ever by two teams in an NCAA Tournament game. All-America forward Justin Jackson led all scorers with 19 points and Kennedy Meeks grabbed a career-best 17 rebounds. Kentucky's Malik Monk tied the game with seven seconds to play on a three-pointer, but Meeks quickly got the ball inbounds to Theo Pinson, who raced upcourt and fed Maye. His 19-footer from the left wing sent UNC to its record 20th Final Four.

Luke Maye's jumper beat Kentucky and sent Carolina to the 2017 NCAA Final Four.

NBA PIPELINE

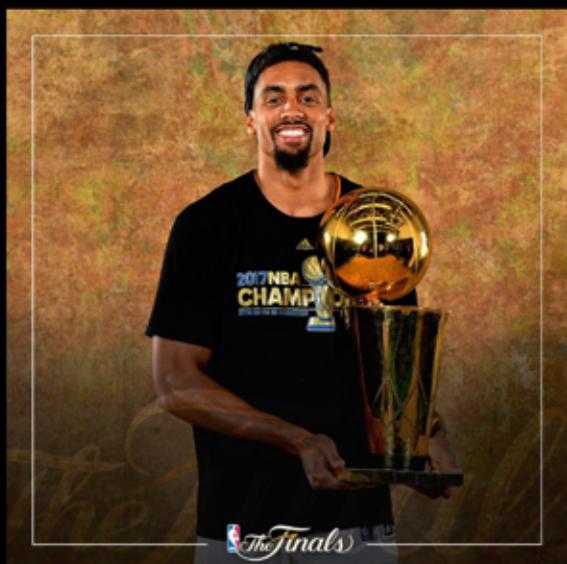

Carolina has produced 49 NBA first-round draft picks, most in the nation.

Tony Bradley was the 28th pick in the 2017 NBA Draft, giving the Tar Heels two first-round selections.

Justin Jackson, with NBA Commissioner Adam Silver, was the 15th overall pick in the 2017 Draft.

James Michael McAdoo won a second NBA Championship with Golden State in 2017.

Head coach Roy Williams has coached 23 former Tar Heels who have been selected in the NBA Draft, including 18 in the first round.

"When it comes to impact on the NBA, one program clearly stands apart from the rest. Two schools, North Carolina and UCLA, have developed the most quality NBA talent over the span of the last 60 years of league history, and over the last 25 years the Tar Heels have left the Bruins far behind. Carolina has had more first round draft picks than any other program. Those draft picks have gone on to consistently meet or beat expectations for their performance in the NBA. As icing on the cake, Carolina has also had more former players develop into winning NBA coaches than any other college program, and in this regard there is not even a close second."

NBA LEGACY

"UNC is a plus-four school, meaning that if I rate a player as the 10th-best player in the NBA Draft, being a Tar Heel automatically jumps him to number six. The plus-four rating is based upon the success of former Tar Heels in the NBA."

– John Gabriel, New York Knicks Scouting Director

COACHING RECORDS

FRANK McGUIRE

Frank McGuire came to Chapel Hill prior to the 1952-53 season after five seasons at St. John's. His 1952 team had reached the NCAA championship game before losing to Kansas.

His nine-year record was 164-58. Carolina finished first or tied for first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference standings five times in this period.

With his many contacts among New York high school coaches, he developed a pipeline of top talent for Carolina. This "underground railroad" brought players like Lennie Rosenbluth, Tommy Kearns, Pete Brennan, Joe Quigg and Bob Cunningham to Chapel Hill. They were the starters on McGuire's greatest team — the 1957 squad that went 32-0 and swept the NCAA title.

McGuire also brought New York-area stars like York Larese, Doug Moe, Donnie Walsh, Larry Brown and Billy Cunningham to Carolina.

The highlight of McGuire's Tar Heel career was the 1957 season. Rosenbluth was one of the national scoring leaders, averaging 28.0 points a game. Of Carolina's 32 victories, 13 were by 10 points or less.

The 1957 Final Four in Kansas City is regarded as one of the most exciting ever played. Carolina topped Michigan State, 74-40, in a triple-overtime semifinal game. The next game the Tar Heels had to go three overtimes again before outlasting Kansas, featuring Wilt Chamberlain, 54-53.

McGuire hired Dean Smith to be his top assistant prior to the 1958-59 season. Smith replaced McGuire when he moved to the NBA in 1961.

As coach of the Philadelphia Warriors, he led his team to a 49-31 record. The Warriors—with Hall of Famers Paul Arizin, Tom Gola and Chamberlain—lost to the Boston Celtics in the Eastern Conference finals.

McGuire returned to the college ranks for the 1964-65 season at South Carolina. He compiled a 283-142 record in 16 seasons with the Gamecocks. That gave him a career record of 549-236 in 30 years. He led South Carolina to its only ACC regular-season title in 1970 and only ACC Tournament championship in 1971.

McGuire, a member of the Naismith Hall of Fame, was the first coach in history to win 100 games at three schools and also to take two schools to the NCAA championship game. He remains the only man in history to win ACC titles at two schools.

He was named national coach of the year three times—in 1952 at St. John's, 1957 at Carolina and 1970 at South Carolina.

McGuire led the Tar Heels to the 1957 NCAA title.

BILL GUTHRIDGE

Bill Guthridge led the Tar Heels to two Final Fours in three years as head coach and was consensus National Coach of the Year in 1998. He won more games than any college head coach in history after two seasons and tied Everett Case for most coaching victories after three years. He played or coached in 14 Final Fours, more than any person in NCAA history. That includes two as a head coach at Carolina, 10 as a Tar Heel assistant coach, and one each as a player and assistant coach at his alma mater, Kansas State.

Guthridge was Dean Smith's assistant for 30 years. He joined the UNC staff in 1967 after five years as assistant to Tex Winter at Kansas State. In his 33 seasons at Carolina, the Tar Heels won two NCAA championships (1982 and 1993), played in 12 Final Fours, won the ACC Tournament championship 13 times and played in the ACC Tournament championship game a total of 22 times.

He was a part of 867 wins in 33 seasons at Carolina and 960 college coaching victories overall, including 93 wins while on the staff at Kansas State.

The Parsons, Kan., native posted an 80-28 record in three seasons as Carolina's head coach. Guthridge led the 1998 and 2000 UNC teams to the Final Four. He joined Ohio State's Fred Taylor as just the second man in history to lead teams to two Final Fours in his first three seasons as a head coach. He was named National Coach of the Year in 1997-98. That season, UNC went 34-4 and Guthridge set the NCAA record for wins by a first-year head coach with 34. He directed UNC to the 1998 Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championship and was named the ACC Coach of the Year.

Dan Sears

He coached 1998 National Player of the Year Antawn Jamison and 1999 NBA Rookie of the Year Vince Carter, both of whom entered the NBA Draft after their junior seasons. In his tenure at UNC, he coached five National Players of the Year, six ACC Players of the Year, five ACC Rookies of the Year and 28 first-team All-ACC players. He also coached 66 players who were selected in the NBA and/or ABA Drafts.

Guthridge was an assistant coach along with Hall of Famer John Thompson under Dean Smith in 1976 when the United States won the Olympic gold medal in Montreal.

In 2013, he was inducted into the N.C. Sports Hall of Fame. Guthridge died in May 2015.
