The Bengals posted an 8-8 record in Lewis' first season, rising from 2-14 in 2002, and fans turned out in record numbers at Paul Brown Stadium. The four largest crowds in team history were included in a total of five sellouts, and total regular season attendance was an all-time high of 479,488.

The team's accomplishments included:

- ▶ The biggest improvement among all NFL clubs in 2003 (six more wins than in '02.)

- ▶ The second-largest one-season improvement in Bengals history (the 1988 team went 12-4 following a 4-11 record in '87).

- ▶ Only the third instance (among 17 possibilities) of an NFL team finishing at .500 or better the year after a 2-14 season.

Lewis finished second behind New England's Bill Belichick in Associated Press voting for NFL Coach of the Year. The Bengals finished second in the AFC North Division, and their playoff hopes were very much alive entering the season's final weekend.

"Our guys made Sundays fun again for the fans," Lewis said, "and the fans helped us restore a real home-field advantage."

Lewis still faces the challenge of ending a Cincinnati playoff drought that covers the last 13 seasons. His ground rule is that no one assume anything regarding the team's further improvement.

"We don't get the chance to start where we left off," he says. "We don't get to go back to being just short of the playoffs and move on from there. We start from scratch like everybody else, and we know we've got to work harder than ever before."

The '03 Bengals showed resilience in rebounding from an 0-3 start, winning eight of their next 11 games. Their 8-6 mark through 14 games tied them with Baltimore for the AFC North lead, with all possible tiebreakers in their favor. But the Bengals lost their last two, including a home setback against Cleveland in the season finale.

"I felt from the start that we could compete to win the division, and we did that," Lewis said. "But we learned a valuable lesson: That the things down the stretch — the little things, the minute details — make the difference."

Lewis set a general goal of "raising the level of professionalism" of Bengals players. He stressed punctuality, accountability and attention to detail.

While demanding more, Lewis gave more. With support from team ownership, he upgraded the weight room, brought more amenities to the locker room and improved team meal service.

"He treated guys like pros, and we acted more like pros," said offensive tackle Willie Anderson. "He helped us to believe in ourselves, and to believe we could be winners."

QB Jon Kitna was among a number of Bengals players who had career-best years under Lewis in 2003. Kitna posted personal highs in completions (324), passing yards (3591), TD passes (26), completion percentage (62.3) and passer rating (87.4).

"I've never worked with a head coach before who was so well attuned to my game and my personality," Kitna said. "Marvin is very aggressive in his game management, but he doesn't do stupid things. With him having been a defensive coordinator, you'd tend to think he'd be conservative on offense. But he's like, 'We're going to get after it and do whatever it takes to put the ball in the end zone.' He just fit me so well. He gave me a lot of leeway. I loved the feeling of being in control that I had with him."

In addition to bringing the football team more confidence and unity, Lewis reached out to strengthen the franchise's ties to the community.

In just his first six months, he made more than 40 appearances, participating in support of organizations such as the YWCA, Cincinnati Public Library, Free Store Food Bank, Over-the-Rhine Chamber of Commerce, Taft High School, Cystic Fibrosis, Calvary United Methodist Church, Procter & Gamble's "A.D.O.P.T." program, NAACP, Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Cincinnati, The Youth Foundation and Youth, Incorporated.

In October of 2003, Lewis launched the Marvin Lewis Community Fund to "empower, educate, and inspire children while enriching inner-city communities." The Fund donated more than $100,000 to its recipients in 2003.

Lewis was hired as the ninth head coach in Bengals history on Jan. 14, 2003. He brought credentials as a record-setting NFL defensive coordinator with a Super Bowl championship ring.

Before offering Lewis the head coaching job, Bengals management conducted a process that included formal interviews with five candidates.

"We knew Marvin had outstanding football credentials," Bengals president Mike Brown said, "but what impressed us most was the tremendous grasp he displayed of the overall operation of an NFL franchise. He showed an awareness that you would expect to see only in someone who had been a head coach before."

In 2002, the season before he joined the Bengals, Lewis led the Washington Redskins to a No. 5 NFL defensive ranking, serving as assistant head coach as well as defensive coordinator. He came to the Redskins after six seasons (1996-2001) as defensive coordinator with the Baltimore Ravens, a tenure that included a Super Bowl victory in the 2000 season.

In the 2000 regular season, Lewis' Baltimore defense set the NFL record for fewest points allowed in a 16-game campaign (165), clipping 22 points off the previous mark.

Lewis' 2000 defensive unit has been widely considered as a candidate for the best NFL defense of all time. It also finished first in the NFL in rushing yards allowed (970), rushing average allowed (2.7), total takeaways (49), fumble recoveries (26) and shutouts (4).

The 970 rushing yards allowed were the fewest in NFL history for a 16-game season. The Ravens' four shutouts were the most by an NFL team since Pittsburgh had five in 1976. The defense held opponents scoreless in 41 of 64 quarters (64%) and allowed one TD or fewer in 14 of the team's last 18 games (including postseason). In the last four games, all postseason contests, the Ravens defense allowed only one TD.

In total yardage allowed, Lewis' last three Baltimore defenses each ranked No. 2 in the NFL. His 2001 unit also led the Ravens to the league's second-fewest points allowed and finished in the top four in six other categories.

Lewis had his first NFL assignment from 1992-95, as linebackers coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. The opportunity came after 11 years in college coaching.

Lewis helped the Steelers defense rank among the top three in the NFL each season, and he guided the careers of some of the NFL's best linebackers, including Pro Bowl selections Kevin Greene, Chad Brown, Levon Kirkland and Greg Lloyd. Of Pittsburgh's 97 sacks over Lewis' last two seasons, the linebackers were credited with 63.5.

Lewis began his coaching career working with the linebackers at his alma mater, Idaho State, from 1981-84. Also nicknamed the Bengals, ISU finished 12-1 during Lewis' first season and won the NCAA Division 1-AA championship. In 1985-86, Lewis was on the staff at Long Beach State, before moving to New Mexico ('87-89), coaching linebackers at both schools. In 1990, he accepted a position coaching outside linebackers at the University of Pittsburgh.

Lewis earned All-Big Sky Conference honors as a linebacker at Idaho State for three consecutive years (1978-80), and he also saw action at quarterback and free safety during his college career. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Idaho State in 1981, and earned his master's in athletic administration in '82. He was inducted into Idaho State's Hall of Fame in 2001.

Born, Sept. 23, 1958, Lewis attended Fort Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), where he was an all-conference quarterback and safety. He also earned high school letters in wrestling and baseball. He and his wife, Peggy, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Marcus.

Lewis was the eighth African-American to be named to an NFL head coaching position. The first seven were Fritz Pollard (Akron 1921; Milwaukee 1925), Art Shell (L.A. Raiders 1989-94), Dennis Green (Minnesota 1992-2001), Ray Rhodes (Philadelphia 1995-98; Green Bay 1999), Tony Dungy (Tampa Bay 1996-2001; Indianapolis 2002-present), Terry Robiskie (Washington 2000), and Herman Edwards (N.Y. Jets 2001-present).

Since Lewis' hiring, two more teams have named African-Americans to head coaching jobs. Following the 2003 season, Dennis Green returned to the ranks as head coach at Arizona, and Lovie Smith was hired to lead the Chicago Bears.

PAUL ALEXANDER — Assistant Head Coach/Offensive Line

Paul Alexander returns for his 11th season on the Bengals coaching staff in 2004. It's his 10th straight season as offensive line coach, and for the second straight year, he has the added role of assistant head coach.

"It was important to me to have Paul with us for my first season," said Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis. "He had some options around the league (following the 2002 season), and we gave him the opportunity as assistant head coach to help me in a lot of areas off and on the field. He knew our team, and it helped give me some direction."

As offensive line coach last season, Alexander directed a unit that supported the Bengals' rise to 13th in NFL scoring (21.6 points per game) with an attack that featured excellent balance. Cincinnati ranked 13th in rushing, despite an injury-plagued season for three-time Pro Bowl HB Corey Dillon, and the passing game ranked 12th in yards among the 32 teams.

After a disappointing season opener against Denver, in which Cincinnati scored only 10 points and averaged just 2.3 yards per rush, Alexander provided the push for a lineup change that paid dividends the remainder of the season. Veteran Rich Braham was promoted from a reserve role to the starting center position he had held in previous seasons, and Mike Goff was moved from center back to the starting guard spot he had held the previous three years.

"I've gotten advice on a lot of things," Lewis said near the season's end, "and there have been few times I've been more glad about listening to someone else's opinion. It was one of the best moves we made all year."

The team's improvement to a playoff-contending position last season helped right tackle Willie Anderson get some overdue recognition with his first trip to the Pro Bowl. Anderson was the player Alexander recommended when the Bengals looked for an offensive tackle with their first choice in the 1996 NFL Draft.

Two more recent Alexander draftees, left tackle Levi Jones and left guard Eric Steinbach, also had fine years in 2003.

Jones, Cincinnati's first-round pick in the 2002 Draft, started every game and showed exceptional toughness and desire. Though he suffered torn knee cartilage Dec. 7 at Baltimore and underwent arthroscopic surgery the next day, he came back to play all the way in the Dec. 14 victory over San Francisco.

Steinbach, a rookie second-round pick in 2003, started 15 games and earned a spot on Pro Football Weekly's NFL All-Rookie team. Jones and Anderson also were all-rookie selections in their first Bengals seasons, and Alexander had another star pupil in 1993, when he was tight ends coach for the N.Y. Jets and Johnny Mitchell earned all-rookie honors.

On Oct. 22, 2000, Alexander's Bengals line shared the glory of a 278-yard rushing game by HB Corey Dillon vs. Denver. It was an NFL record at the time and still stands second in league annals entering the 2004 season. The Bengals' 407 total rushing yards in that game ranks as the fifth-highest single-game total in NFL history, and as the most yards in 53 years. The last team to top it was the New York Giants, who gained 423 against Baltimore in 1950.

Alexander began his NFL coaching career in 1992 as tight ends coach of the N.Y. Jets, under head coach Bruce Coslet. When Coslet moved to Cincinnati as offensive coordinator in 1994, Alexander joined him, in the role of Bengals tight ends coach.

But Alexander's first love in football has always been the offensive line. He was afforded the chance to take over that job for the Bengals in 1995, and has held it ever since.

His 1995 unit produced the team's best-ever performance in sacks allowed — only 1.6 per game (25 total).

Alexander is a product of distinguished teachers. He coached under Joe Paterno at Penn State and Bo Schembechler at Michigan. He also was offensive line coach at Central Michigan, a school whose coach, Herb Deromedi, ranks with Paterno and Schembechler among the winningest coaches in NCAA Division I history.

Alexander's birthdate is Feb. 12, 1960. He's a native of Rochester, N.Y., where he attended Cardinal Mooney High School. He was an Academic All-American at Cortland State (N.Y.) and holds a master's degree in exercise physiology from Penn State. He and his wife, Kathy, have three daughters, Mary Beth, Carolyn and Emily.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1979-81: Played offensive tackle at Cortland State. 1982-84: Graduate assistant, Penn State. 1985-86: Graduate assistant, Michigan. 1987-91: Assistant coach (AC), Central Michigan. 1992-93: AC, New York Jets. 1994-2002: AC, Bengals. 2003-present: Assistant head coach/offensive line coach, Bengals.

LIGHTING UP THE SCOREBOARD

In Games 12-15 of the 1997 season, the Bengals became the first Cincinnati team to score 30 or more points in four straight games.

Cincinnati scored 31 vs. Jacksonville on Nov. 23, posted 42 at Philadelphia on Nov. 30, scored 41 vs. Tennessee on Dec. 4, and notched 31 vs. Dallas on Dec. 14.

BOB BRATKOWSKI — Offensive Coordinator

Bob Bratkowski is in his fourth season as Bengals offensive coordinator, coming off a 2003 campaign in which the team ranked 13th in NFL scoring (21.6 avg.) while displaying a balance that bodes well for the future.

The Bengals ranked 13th among the 32 teams in rushing at 124.2 yards per game, despite having three-time Pro Bowl HB Corey Dillon limited by injuries for most of the season. Though Dillon managed only 541 yards, less than half the total of any of his six previous seasons, Bratkowski had groomed an excellent replacement in third-year pro Rudi Johnson, who became the first rusher in team history with three games of 150-plus yards in a season.

In passing yards, the Bengals ranked 12th (208.9), as seventh-year QB Jon Kitna had the finest season of his career, posting personal highs in completions, yards, TD passes, completion percentage, and passer rating. WR Chad Johnson set a team record with 1355 receiving yards and went to the Pro Bowl along with OT Willie Anderson.

The balance helped the Bengals finish fourth in the NFL in third-down conversions at 44.7%, the team's best mark since 1989.

"If you can stay balanced, then you are truly capable of taking advantage of situations," Bratkowski says. "If they want to stop the run, you're able to throw it. If they want to stop the pass, you're able to run it. You would hope you can do them well enough that you can call on either one to win a game for you."

Bratkowski (pronounced "brat-COW-skee") has been an NFL coach since 1992, and was coordinator of the University of Miami's NCAA champion offenses in '89 and '91. He left the Pittsburgh Steelers, where he spent the 1999 and 2000 seasons as wide receivers coach, to join the Bengals in '01. He closed a seven-year stint with the Seattle Seahawks in 1998 with the departure of head coach Dennis Erickson. Bratkowski was coordinator for the NFL's top passing offense at Seattle in 1997, and he had previously served as Erickson's offensive coordinator at three major college programs — Wyoming (1986), Washington State ('87-88) and Miami, Fla. ('89-91).

Bratkowski's first Bengals campaign, in 2001, had its share of season-long offensive accomplishments. The Bengals allowed only 28 sacks, the fourth-best performance in club history, despite attempting a team-record 602 passes. The offense showed significant improvement over its 2000 season performance in a number of categories, including points (226-185), first downs (294-254), total yards (4800-4260), passing yards (3088-1946), third-down conversion percentage (38.3-33.9) and possession time (29:16-27:13).

In 2002, the offense started slowly but was revived when Kitna took command of the starting QB job in Game 5. Had Cincinnati's averages for the last 12 games been the team averages for the full season, the Bengals would have ranked 8th in the NFL in net offense (357.3) and 7th in net passing (240.1).

In 1999, his first season with Pittsburgh, Bratkowski was instrumental in the development of rookie wide receiver and No. 1 draft pick Troy Edwards, who tied for the team lead with 61 receptions. He also helped in the emergence of second-year receiver Hines Ward, who tied Edwards with 61 catches.

In 1997, Bratkowski's Seattle offense posted an NFL-leading average of 247.4 passing yards per game and ranked third in the NFL in total offense. Seattle also established club season records in '97 for most yards passing (4187) and completions (359). The Seahawks were second in the NFL in first downs (331).

Prior to his Seattle appointment in 1992, Bratkowski spent 14 years as a college coach, including his three college stops with Erickson.

As a college player, Bratkowski was a three-year letterman as a wide receiver at Washington State. His father, Zeke, played quarterback for 14 seasons in the NFL (with the Bears, Rams and Packers).

Bratkowski was born Dec. 22, 1955, in San Angelo, Texas. Bob and his wife, Rebecca, have two children — son Shane and daughter Courtney.

LESLIE FRAZIER — Defensive Coordinator

Leslie Frazier is in Year Two of his plan to build the Bengals defense into a playoff-quality unit. His 2003 debut season as defensive coordinator showed the defense to have areas in need of further personnel help, but the defense still played its role as the Bengals were the NFL's most improved team. Cincinnati rose six games in the standings, finishing 8-8 following a 2-14 campaign in 2002.

"Our players played with the right attitude and with an aggressive tempo," Frazier says, "and we ended up making some big plays in key situations. Those are the things we want to build on. We saw flashes of a defense playing with a great deal of confidence and success. This year we'll have more familiarity with one another, and we'll put some things together a little differently to become more consistent."

The defense keyed the 2003 team's rise from an 0-3 start to playoff contention. When the Bengals broke into the win column by a 21-14 score in Game 4 at Cleveland, the Browns were held scoreless in the second half. In back-to-back October wins over division leaders Baltimore and Seattle, Bengals takeaways made the difference. The Bengals had 5 takeaways in the Seattle game alone, and OLB Brian Simmons was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week.

Frazier began the rebuilding of the defense by playing instrumental roles in the 2003 free agent signings of DE Duane Clemons, LB Kevin Hardy, CB Tory James and DT John Thornton. Clemons and Thornton tied for the team lead in sacks (6 each), James led in interceptions (4) and passes defended (18), and Hardy led in tackles (124).

Areas targeted for improvement in 2004 include middle linebacker, where needed speed was acquired with the signing of free agent Nate Webster of Tampa Bay, and the defensive secondary, where S Kim Herring was acquired in free agency, cornerback Deltha O'Neal was obtained in a trade with Denver, and the draft produced a pair of second-round prospects in CB Keiwan Ratliff and FS Madiou Williams.

Before being chosen to head Marvin Lewis' first Cincinnati defensive staff, Frazier coached some of the NFL's most successful defensive backs while serving as the Philadelphia Eagles' secondary coach from 1999-2002.

Three of Frazier's Philadelphia players — CB Troy

Vincent, CB Bobby Taylor and FS Brian Dawkins — played in the Pro Bowl following the 2002 season. Vincent was in the Pro Bowl for the fourth consecutive season.

Following a playing career during which he won a Super Bowl title with the Chicago Bears, Frazier began his coaching career with a nine-year stint (1988-96) at Trinity (IL) College, which is now known as Trinity International University.

He was the first head coach at the school, building the program and quickly developing the NAIA institution into two-time champions of the Northern Illinois Intercollegiate Conference. The small school developed a number of high-quality players, including WR Karl Hankton of the Carolina Panthers.

Frazier's impact on the program was duly recognized, as the school named its football field after him in 1997, when he departed to become defensive secondary coach at the University of Illinois.

After two years with the Illini, he entered the NFL in 1999, the first season for current Eagles head coach Andy Reid.

Frazier played in the NFL as a cornerback with the Bears from 1981-86. In 1985, he was a starter on a Super Bowl champion Bears defensive unit that some consider the best of all time. Frazier led the Bears in interceptions in each of his last three seasons and finished with 20 INTs in 65 career games. He had 2 INT returns for touchdowns.

His career was ended prematurely by a major knee injury (torn anterior cruciate ligament) that he suffered in the second quarter of the Super Bowl, while running with the ball on a fake punt play.

A native of Columbus, Miss., Frazier played college football in his home state at Alcorn State. He earned small-college All-America honors in both 1979 and '80 as a cornerback, and he also was a standout baseball player, serving as a team captain while playing first base and the outfield.

Born on April 3, 1959, Frazier attended S.D. Lee High School in Columbus and earned a degree from Alcorn State in business administration.

Frazier and his wife, Gale, have three children — sons Kieron (age 19) and Corey (13), and daughter Chantel (16).

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1977-80: Played cornerback at Alcorn State. 1981-86: Cornerback, Chicago Bears. 1988-96: Head coach, Trinity (IL) College. 1997-98: Assistant coach (AC), Illinois. 1999-2002: AC, Philadelphia Eagles. 2003-present: Defensive coordinator, Bengals.

A NO-WIN SITUATION

The Bengals' Nov. 9, 1969 game at the Astrodome in Houston is unique in club history. It's the only game nobody won.

Cincinnati played its only regular-season tie that afternoon, catching the Oilers at 31-31 on K Horst Muhlmann's 18-yard field goal with 0:22 left in the fourth quarter. Regular-season overtime was not in the rule book at that time.

JIM ANDERSON — Running Backs

Jim Anderson has coached a long line of Bengals running backs to outstanding performances. Two new names were added to his list last season, and another promising pupil has arrived for 2004.

Last year's additions were third-year HB Rudi Johnson and rookie FB Jeremi Johnson (not related). Rudi Johnson responded with an outstanding season when No. 1 HB Corey Dillon was slowed by injuries, and rookie Jeremi Johnson stepped impressively into the role of No. 1 FB.

The new kid for 2004 is Chris Perry, the outstanding Michigan runner who went to the Bengals in the first round of the NFL Draft.

Rudi Johnson had been groomed under Anderson since his third-round drafting by the Bengals in 2000. He had only 67 total rushing yards entering last season, but gained 957 last year and became the first rusher in team history with three games of 150-plus yards in a season.

Jeremi Johnson played every game with 13 starts. His lead blocking helped Rudi Johnson and Dillon become the first Bengals rushing tandem with 500 or more yards each since Harold Green and Derrick Fenner in 1992. Jeremi Johnson scored 2 TDs while totaling 123 yards from scrimmage himself.

In 2002, fullback Lorenzo Neal — in only his second Cincinnati season — became the fourth Bengal under Anderson to be voted to the Pro Bowl. It was the first Pro Bowl nod in Neal's 10-year NFL career.

Other Anderson pupils to reach the Pro Bowl have been James Brooks (four times), Dillon (three times) and Green (once).

Anderson began his Bengals work in the mid-1980s with Brooks, who went on to reign for 11 years as the leading rusher in Bengals history. In recent years, Anderson guided Dillon beyond Brooks' totals to a near-complete command of the team's rushing record book. Dillon last season became the first Bengal and the 28th NFL player to top 8000 career rushing yards (8061), and also last season, Dillon passed Brooks into the Bengals' No. 1 spot in all-time yards from scrimmage, finishing at 9543.

Dillon entered the NFL as something of a question mark after playing only one season of major college football. But under Anderson, Dillon became only the fourth player in NFL history to top the 1000-yard rushing mark in each of his first six seasons.

Anderson also is the position coach behind the second-greatest rushing game in NFL history, Dillon's 278-yard effort on Oct. 22, 2000 vs. Denver.

Anderson's coaching excellence was recognized following the 2001 season when he made the list of candidates interviewed for the Stanford University head coaching job. Anderson was on the Stanford coaching staff from 1980-83.

Anderson is the all-time dean of Bengals position coaches in years of service (21), and among current NFL position coaches, only Pittsburgh's Dick Hoak has more years of consecutive service (33) with his team.

Anderson has shown the ability to effectively handle all types of running backs. Johnson and Dillon are bruisers, Brooks was a tough and quick smaller back, and Green was a long strider with a combination of speed and power. Anderson also coached Ickey Woods, who was a league-wide sensation as a rookie in 1988, but had his career derailed by a 1989 knee injury. And in 1996, Anderson effectively worked Garrison Hearst into the Bengals offense after the team's acquisition of Hearst in late August.

In six of the nine seasons from 1986-94, Anderson's backs led the Bengals to finishes among the NFL's Top 10 teams in rushing yardage. In 1997, the running backs scored 20 of Cincinnati's NFL-leading 23 rushing TDs.

Anderson's troops won NFL rushing titles in 1988 and '89, and won the AFC rushing crown in '86. From 1986-90, the Bengals finished 2-4-1-1-5 in league rushing.

Anderson was born March 27, 1948, in Harrisburg, Pa. He graduated from Cal Western with a degree in physical education, and has a lifetime teaching certificate in California. Jim and his wife, Marcia, have a son, Derek, 29.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1967-69: Linebacker-def. end at Cal-Western (U.S. International). 1970-71: Assistant coach (AC), Cal Western. 1973: AC, Scottsdale (Ariz.) Community College. 1974-75: AC, Nevada-Las Vegas. 1976-79: AC, Southern Methodist. 1980-83: AC, Stanford. 1984-present: AC, Bengals.

A 100-YARD PAIR

With Rudi Johnson getting four 100-yard rushing games and Corey Dillon getting one in 2003, the Bengals boasted two 100-yard rushers in the same campaign for the first time since 1997. Ki-Jana Carter had one 100-yard game in '97 and Dillon had four. The last time it happened before 1997 was '91, when Harold Green broke the century mark three times and James Brooks did it twice.

The Bengals had three 100-yard rushers in a season once, in 1970. But one of the players was a QB, and each of the three players did it only once. RBs Paul Robinson and Jess Phillips joined QB Virgil Carter in posting one 100-yard game each.

The most total 100-yard rushing games in a Bengals season is seven, during the 12-4 season of 1988. Ickey Woods had five in '88, and James Brooks had two.

CHUCK BRESNAHAN — Assistant Coach

Chuck Bresnahan, defensive coordinator from 2000-03 for the Oakland Raiders, joined the Bengals on May 7 of this year as an assistant coach.

"Chuck is a great addition to our staff," said Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis. "We'll utilize his talents in a lot of different areas. He'll not only assist our defensive coaches, he'll also help the offensive coaches in the breakdown and analysis of the opponent's defense."

Bresnahan has been an NFL coach since 1994. He was with Cleveland and Indianapolis before spending 1998-2003 with Oakland. He was defensive backs coach for his first two Raiders seasons before taking over as defensive coordinator in 2000.

The Raiders won the AFC West Championship in each of Bresnahan's first three seasons at coordinator. His 2002 defense helped carry the Raiders to an AFC Championship and Super Bowl berth vs. Tampa Bay. The '02 Raiders ranked second in the AFC in fewest points allowed (304) and third in the NFL against the run (90.8 yards allowed per game).

In 2000, Bresnahan and Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis were opposing defensive coordinators in the AFC Championship Game, in which Lewis' Baltimore Ravens defeated Oakland.

Bresnahan got his NFL start coaching linebackers at Cleveland in 1994-95, and he also was linebackers coach during two seasons (1996-97) with the Indianapolis Colts.

He played linebacker at Navy from 1979-82, and from 1983-86, he was a commissioned officer in the Navy at the Adak (Alaska) Naval Air Station, where he was a supply and nuclear weapons safety officer.

Prior to his 1983 assignment to military duty, Bresnahan got his start in coaching as a graduate assistant at Navy. He completed his military duty in time to return to Navy for the 1986 football season as wide receivers and tight ends coach.

From 1987-91, he was an assistant at Georgia Tech, handling tight ends in his first season and then switching to inside linebackers. He was LBs coach for the 1990 Georgia Tech team that won national championship honors with an 11-0-1 record.

In his last two college seasons (1992-93), he was defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at the University of Maine.

Bresnahan was born Sept. 8, 1960. His hometown is Springfield, Mass. He and his wife, Erin, have four daughters — Megan, Caitlin, Caroline and Danielle.

SIGISMONDO CIOFFI — Assistant Defensive Backs

Sigismondo "Louie" Cioffi is in his eighth season on the Bengals coaching staff, and for the second straight year he fills the position of assistant defensive backs coach. He teams with defensive backs coach Kevin Coyle to handle the largest position group on the team — the cornerbacks and safeties. Cioffi was defensive staff assistant for his first six Bengals seasons.

In addition to handling much of the preparation work for the entire defense on the upcoming week's opponent, Cioffi works most often with the safeties on the practice field.

"When we break down into smaller groups for more individual attention, I'll usually take the corners and Louie takes the safeties," Coyle said. "He did an outstanding job with that group last season."

Coyle and Cioffi weathered an injury-plagued season to the cornerbacks in 2003, as starter Jeff Burris and No. 3 CB Artrell Hawkins both missed playing time. But free agent CB Tory James was worked smoothly into the lineup, leading the team in interceptions (4) and passes defended (18), and the coaches also got a fine year from SS Rogers Beckett, who played every game with nine starts after being picked up on waivers. Beckett ranked fourth on the team in tackles (87), led the DBs in sacks (3) and tied for second on the team in interceptions (2).

Cioffi will work with some new faces this season. Safety Kim Herring signed as a free agent, cornerback Deltha O'Neal was obtained in a trade with Denver, and the draft produced a pair of second-round prospects in CB Keiwan Ratliff and FS Madiue Williams.

Cioffi got an early start in NFL coaching. He took on the job of Bengals defensive staff assistant in 1997 at age 23, and during the first three seasons of his Cincinnati career, he was the youngest full-time assistant coach in the NFL.

Cioffi's association with the NFL dates back to 1993, when he was a 20-year-old coaching assistant to Bruce Coslet's staff on the N.Y. Jets. His responsibilities then included assembling play books and running video printers on game days. Cioffi also worked with the Jets in 1994 in a similar role.

Cioffi was wide receivers coach at C.W. Post University in Brookville, N.Y. in 1995 and '96. The 1996 team posted a 7-3 record en route to the ECAC Division II champonship. In addition to his on-field responsibilities at C.W. Post, Cioffi prepared computer game analyses and scouting reports. He did all the computer work at Post for the offense and defense.

Bruce Coslet's first full year as Bengals head coach was 1997, and he brought Cioffi to Cincinnati in a Bengals staff reorganization. Cioffi was charged with supervising the weekly distribution of information on how to attack the upcoming opponent's offense, and he also worked on the field, assisting in the coaching of defensive backs. Cioffi later worked under Bengals head coach Dick LeBeau, and was involved in coaching linebackers while continuing with his game preparation responsibilities.

Cioffi was born Sept. 21, 1973, in Queens, N.Y. His wife's name is Cindy. They have a daughter, Cecilia Elle.

COACHING HISTORY — 1993-94: Coaching assistant, New York Jets. 1995-96: Assistant coach (AC), C.W. Post. 1997-present: AC, Bengals.

KEVIN COYLE — Defensive Backs

Kevin Coyle returns for his fourth season on the Bengals coaching staff in 2004. He is in his second year as defensive backs coach, after serving as cornerbacks coach in 2001 and '02.

Bengals DBs snagged 12 of the team's 14 interceptions last season, the highest total by the secondary since the 1997 club had 12. That contribution helped the team finish plus-2 on the season in turnover differential, Cincinnati's first finish on the plus side of that key statistic since '97.

The coaching staff weathered an injury-plagued season to the cornerbacks in 2003, as starter Jeff Burris and No. 3 CB Artrell Hawkins both missed playing time. But free agent CB Tory James was worked smoothly into the lineup, leading the team in interceptions (4) and passes defended (18), and the coaches also got a fine year from SS Rogers Beckett, who played every game with nine starts after being picked up on waivers. Beckett ranked fourth on the team in tackles (87), led the DBs in sacks (3) and tied for second on the team in interceptions (2).

Coyle will work with some new faces this season. Safety Kim Herring signed as a free agent, cornerback Deltha O'Neal was obtained in a trade with Denver, and the draft produced a pair of second-round prospects in CB Keiwan Ratliff from Florida and FS Madieu Williams from Maryland.

As cornerbacks coach in 2002, Coyle led a group that contributed to Cincinnati allowing only 203.9 passing yards per game, ranked 13th among the 32 NFL teams. In 2001, Coyle's first Cincinnati season, the corners snagged 7 of Cincinnati's 13 interceptions, and the Bengals' passing yardage defense improved from a No. 23 ranking to No. 12.

This is Coyle's 28th year in coaching. In his last 10 seasons before joining the Bengals, he was defensive coordinator and secondary coach at three Division I college programs — Syracuse, Maryland and Fresno State.

At Fresno State (1997-2000), Coyle's defenses produced three first team All-Western Athletic Conference players in both 1999 and 2000, best in the league both years. In 1998, the FSU defense set a school-record low with only 23 touchdowns allowed. The Bulldogs were one of 16 teams in the country to give up 9 or fewer touchdown passes, and they allowed only 16.7 points per game, down from 24.0 in 1997. FSU gave up only 19 points in the first quarter all season.

At Maryland (1994-96), Coyle oversaw a dramatic improvement in the Terrapins' defense, steadily guiding a program that had struggled prior to his arrival to a final total defense ranking of No. 29 nationally in 1996.

At Syracuse (1991-93), Coyle's defense led the nation in interceptions (24) in '92 and set a school record for fewest rushing yards allowed (1007) in an 11-game season.

Coyle was at Holy Cross from 1982 through '90, first serving as outside linebackers coach before being promoted to defensive coordinator in '86. During his five years as coordinator, Holy Cross was the winningest (49-5-1) Division I-AA team in the nation, with the Crusader defense ranked in the top 10 nationally in scoring defense four times. Coyle coached five All-Americans at Holy Cross.

Coyle also has a prior Cincinnati connection, having served as a graduate assistant coach at the University of Cincinnati in 1978-79.

Entering the 2004 season, there are six players in the NFL from Coyle's Fresno State defenses, including three safeties — Cory Hall of Atlanta, Vernon Fox of San Diego and Cameron Worrell of Chicago.

At Maryland, Coyle coached future NFL cornerbacks Chad Scott (Pittsburgh) and Lewis Sanders (Jacksonville). At Syracuse, he coached Jacksonville safety Donovin Darius.

Coyle was born Jan. 14, 1956, in Staten Island, N.Y. He and his wife, Louise, have a daughter, Jenlain, 11.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1974-75: Played DB at Massachusetts. 1978-79: Graduate assistant, Univ. of Cincinnati. 1980: Coaching assistant, Arkansas. 1981: Defensive coordinator, U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. 1982-85: Assistant coach (AC), Holy Cross. 1986-90: Defensive coordinator, Holy Cross. 1991-93: Defensive coordinator, Syracuse. 1994-96: Defensive coordinator, Maryland. 1997-2000: Defensive coordinator, Fresno State. 2001-present: AC, Bengals.

JAY HAYES — Defensive Line

Jay Hayes, a 16-year veteran of major college and NFL coaching, is in his second season as Bengals defensive line coach.

In his Bengals debut last season, Hayes helped recruit DE Duane Clemons and DT John Thornton as veteran free agent signees, and those two players were immediately productive, tying for the team sacks lead with 6 each. Thornton's total was a career high. Overall, the Bengals defensive line had 20.5 of the team's 30 sacks.

Also last season, Hayes continued the development of DE Justin Smith, Cincinnati's No. 1 choice in the 2002 NFL Draft. Smith led the line with 91 tackles, ranking third on the team, and he also was third in sacks with 5.

Hayes came to the Bengals from the Minnesota Vikings, where he was special teams coach in 2002. The Vikings tied for fifth in the NFL in punt coverage, allowing only 6.2 yards per return with no returns of 25 yards or more.

Hayes was special teams coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1999-2001. Under his direction, Steelers kicker Kris Brown tied for second in the AFC with 124 points in 2001, while Troy Edwards ranked fifth in the conference in kickoff returns with a 23.1-yard average.

In 2000, Steelers rookie Hank Poteat ranked sixth in the NFL with a 13.0 average on punt returns and scored on a 53-yard punt return TD. In 1999, Steelers kicker Brown was a rookie, and he ranked second in the AFC in field goal accuracy (86.2%) and was twice named AFC Special Teams Player of the Week. Brown set an NFL record in 1999 for most consecutive field goals made to start a career (13).

Before starting his NFL coaching career with the Steelers, Hayes coached 11 years in the college ranks, splitting his time between Notre Dame, California and Wisconsin.

He began his coaching career in 1988 as a graduate assistant at Notre Dame, and for the next three seasons, he coached outside linebackers and special teams for the Irish. He moved to California as outside linebackers coach in 1992, and he also held that job in '93 before adding special teams responsibilities in '94.

Hayes' last college assignment before entering the NFL was from 1995-98 at Wisconsin, where he was outside linebackers and special teams coach. Hayes' Badgers were consistently among the top special teams units in the Big Ten. During his tenure, the Badgers recorded two of the longest plays in school history, an NCAA-record 60-yard field goal and a 100-yard kickoff return.

Hayes played defensive end at the University of Idaho and earned all-conference honors in 1980 and '81. He spent some time in NFL camps before moving on to play for the USFL Michigan Panthers in 1984 and for the Memphis Showboats in '85.

Hayes' younger brother, Jonathan, is Bengals tight ends coach.

Hayes was born March 3, 1960 in Pittsburgh, and attended South Fayette High School. He and his wife, Suzanne, have two sons, Jesse and Miles, and a daughter, Jazmin.

JONATHAN HAYES — Tight Ends

Jonathan Hayes, an NFL tight end for 12 seasons, returns for his second Bengals season in 2004. Last season, in his first year coaching in the pros, he directed a group that posted the Bengals' best tight end receiving numbers since 1995.

Second-year TE Matt Schobel ranked third on the Bengals in receiving yards (332) and was fourth in catches (24). TE Tony Stewart had 21 catches for 212 yards, and stout-blocking TE Reggie Kelly, the starter when healthy, had 13 catches for 81 yards despite missing four games due to injury.

Their combined total of 58 catches for 625 yards was the team's most from its tight ends since the 1995 group hit 62 catches and 809 yards.

Schobel had 2 TDs last season, including a dramatic game-winner with 0:13 to play at Pittsburgh, lifting Cincinnati from a 20-17 deficit to a 24-20 victory. Kelly had one score, and it broke a 14-14 tie to provide the winning points in a 21-14 win at Cleveland.

Schobel's 97 receiving yards vs. Denver were the most by a Bengals TE since 1995, and his 45-yard TD catch Oct. 19 vs. Baltimore was the longest reception by a Cincinnati TE since 1994.

Hayes made his NFL coaching debut last season after four years on the coaching staff at the University of Oklahoma.

Hayes was tight ends coach and special teams coordinator at Oklahoma, helping the Sooners to a four-year record of 44-9, including a 13-0 mark in 2000 which featured an Orange Bowl win over Florida State for the NCAA championship.

Oklahoma was 37-4 over Hayes' last three seasons. Under Hayes' tutelage, tight end Trent Smith finished his Oklahoma career in 2002 as the school's No. 2 all-time receiver, with 148 catches. Also in 2002, Sooners special teams blocked 7 kicks (3 FGs, 4 punts), and punt returner Antonio Perkins returned 3 punts for touchdowns. Hayes' kick coverage teams were also outstanding in '02, allowing only 6.6 yards per punt return and 17.8 yards per kickoff return.

In 2001, tight end Smith set an OU school season record with 61 receptions, and he also set school marks with 11 catches and 4 TD grabs at Kansas. OU special teams scored 3 touchdowns in '01 — on a kickoff return, a fake punt and a fake field goal.

During the Sooners' 2000 national championship season, J.T. Thatcher returned 2 punts for TDs and earned first-team All-America honors.

Hayes began his NFL playing career in 1985 as a second-round draft pick out of Iowa with the Kansas City Chiefs. He played for the Chiefs through 1993, serving as a team captain, and closed his NFL career with three seasons in Pittsburgh (1994-96). He had 153 career receptions for 1718 yards with 13 TDs. He had career highs in receptions (24) and yards (331) with Kansas City in 1993.

Hayes played in 184 NFL games with 122 starts, and he played all 16 games in each of his final six seasons.

He played in three AFC Championship games, in 1993 with Kansas City and in '94 and '95 with Pittsburgh. In the 1995 season, he played in Super Bowl XXX for Pittsburgh vs. Dallas.

At the University of Iowa, Hayes switched to tight end as a junior after spending his first two seasons at linebacker. He earned first-team All-America honors as a senior and was a team captain. He finished his college career with 50 receptions for 602 yards and 5 TDs. In 1986, he completed work at Iowa on a degree in general studies.

Hayes' older brother, Jay, is Bengals defensive line coach.

Hayes was born Aug. 11, 1962 in South Fayette, Pa. He attended South Fayette High School. He and his wife, Kristi, have a son, Jaxson, and a daughter, Jillian.

RICKY HUNLEY — Linebackers

Ricky Hunley is in his second season as Bengals linebackers coach. A former All-American college linebacker and a starting linebacker in two Super Bowls, Hunley is a trusted associate of Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis.

The Lewis-Hunley association dates from the early 1990s, when Hunley, a college coach at the time, did a stint with the Pittsburgh Steelers in the NFL's minority intern coaching program. Lewis was on the Steelers staff from 1992-95.

Hunley was defensive line coach for the Washington Redskins in 2002, with Lewis serving as his defensive coordinator. Lewis and Hunley helped lead the Redskins to a No. 5 NFL ranking in fewest yards allowed, and Hunley helped put together a pass rush that ranked tied for ninth in the league with 40 sacks.

"I felt during our Pittsburgh days that Ricky had an outstanding future in coaching," Lewis said. "We managed to get back together in Washington, and I was very glad to have him make the move to Cincinnati with me."

Hunley oversaw a revamping of the Bengals' linebacker corps last season, as veteran Brian Simmons moved from middle linebacker to an outside position while free agent signee Kevin Hardy took over in the middle. Both players were productive in their new roles, as Hardy led the team in total tackles (124) while Simmons led in solo tackles (78) and was the only player with an entry in every category on the defensive stat sheet.

This season, Hunley will supervise another shift, as speedy free agent signee Nate Webster takes over in the middle while Hardy moves back to the outside LB position at which he formerly earned Pro Bowl honors for the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Hunley's coaching talent was recognized last season when the University of Arizona, his alma mater, had him on the interview list for its head coach position.

With the Bengals, Hunley has "returned" to the team that drafted him as a player in 1984. A two-time consensus All-American linebacker at Arizona, Hunley was Cincinnati's first pick in the '84 draft. But he never signed with the Bengals, and when contract negotiations remained stalled into September, the team traded his rights to Denver.

Hunley's playing career at Arizona earned him induction into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1997. He led Arizona in tackles for three consecutive seasons and was named Pac-10 Co-Player of the Year in 1983.

Hunley played in the NFL for seven seasons. He was with Denver from 1984-87, and was a starter at right inside linebacker for the Broncos in Super Bowls XXI and XXII. He played for the Phoenix Cardinals in 1988, and closed his career with two seasons (1989-90) with the Los Angeles Raiders.

He got his start in coaching as a graduate assistant at Southern California (1992-93), after which he spent seven seasons at the University of Missouri. He was Missouri's defensive line coach from 1994-97, and he was promoted to assistant head coach/linebackers coach for the '98 through 2000 campaigns. In 2001, he joined head coach Steve Spurrier's staff at the University of Florida, overseeing the defensive line and coaching Lombardi Award Finalist Alex Brown. He made the move with Spurrier in 2002 when Spurrier became head coach of the Redskins.

Hunley was born Nov. 11, 1961 in Petersburg, Va. He earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Arizona in 1987. In 1990, he was voted Executive Vice-President of the NFL Players Association, a position he held for two years. He has also served on the Board of Directors for the Black Coaches Association and on the Minority Issues Committee of the American Football Coaches Association, and he has represented the Big 12 and the SEC on the AFCA's Assistant Coach Committee.

Ricky and his wife, Camille, have two daughters, Alexis and Kenady.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY —

HUE JACKSON — Wide Receivers

Hue Jackson, offensive coordinator for the Washington Redskins last season, joins the Bengals for 2004 as wide receivers coach.

"I'm excited to be able to add a coach of Hue's energy and talent to our staff," said Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis. "He has been a coordinator at both the college and pro levels, and I became well acquainted with the way he works when we were at Washington together (in 2002). He has a knowledge of all aspects of the offensive game."

Jackson (first name pronounced "Hugh") joined the Redskins in 2001 as running backs coach, under head coach Marty Schottenheimer. He continued in that role in 2002 under head coach Steve Spurrier, and was promoted under Spurrier to offensive coordinator for '03. Spurrier resigned after the 2003 season.

Lewis and Jackson were colleagues on Washington's staff in 2002, when Lewis was Redskins assistant head coach/defensive coordinator. Current Bengals LBs coach Ricky Hunley also was on that Washington staff.

Jackson helped guide Redskins RB Stephen Davis to a career-high 1432 yards in 2001, and Davis was on pace for another 1000-yard season in '02 before a shoulder injury prematurely ended his year.

After Davis' 2002 injury, Jackson had a ready replacement on hand in RB Kenny Watson, who has since become a Bengal. Originally signed by the Redskins in 2001 as a college free agent, Watson was ready as a second-year player in 2002 to post a pair of 100-yard rushing games en route to a 534-yard season, and he also had 32 pass receptions for 253 yards.

Jackson spent 14 years as a college coach before joining the Redskins. His last college post was as offensive coordinator for the University of Southern California from 1997-2000.

Jackson's duties in his last three years at USC included the recruiting and early development of Bengals QB Carson Palmer, No. 1 overall pick in the 2003 NFL Draft. Palmer came to USC in 1998 and was at the school for five seasons, including a '99 campaign in which he was granted a redshirt year after suffering a season-ending collarbone fracture in the third game.

Jackson began his coaching career in 1987 at his alma mater, the University of the Pacific. After three years there, he moved on to Cal State-Fullerton (1990-91), Arizona State ('92-95) and California ('96). At Cal, he was offensive coordinator and led the Golden Bears to an Aloha Bowl berth.

He picked up his first year's experience in the pro ranks in the spring of 1991, coaching running backs, wide receivers and special teams for the London Monarchs of the World League. He also had three NFL summer internships, working with the Los Angeles Rams in 1990, the Arizona Cardinals in '92 and the Redskins in '95.

Born Oct. 22, 1965, Jackson played quarterback at Pacific in 1985-86, throwing for 2544 yards and 19 TDs in his career. He also lettered in basketball in 1986.

Hue and his wife, Michelle, have two daughters, Jordyn and Baylee.

A SPECIAL EXPLOSION

The Bengals record for most points in a game by the special teams is 31, from a 43-14 victory at Buffalo on Nov. 8, 1970.

CB Lemar Parrish scored two special teams touchdowns, one on a 95-yard kickoff return and another on an 83-yard return of a blocked field goal attempt. K Horst Muhlmann added 15 points on five field goals, and four PATs by Muhlmann completed the special teams onslaught.

The offense scored only one TD, one a one-yard run by RB Jess Phillips. The defense scored a TD on an eight-yard fumble return by DE Royce Berry.

CHIP MORTON — Strength & Conditioning

Chip Morton is in his second season as Bengals strength and conditioning coach, following a 2003 campaign in which his program was considered a major factor in the team's marked improvement and rise to playoff contention.

Morton instituted a program that provided a noticeable upgrade in structure and technology, and he also oversaw an extensive redesign of the team's weight room. He started players on a detailed program in March and continued it throughout the season.

"The effect the strength and conditioning program had on our season should not be underestimated," said Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis. "It came from Chip's direction and from the effort and diligence of our players. It's continuing today, tomorrow and everyday.

"You got a sense of it at crucial points in games last year. From an endurance standpoint, you just knew we were going to be OK, and it's important for our guys to have that feeling. We know we can think with a clear head at the end of the game. We won't make a critical error because we are fatigued. We make the positive play because we are in the right spot and we know what we're doing, and we're playing faster than the other side."

Morton was a coaching colleague of Lewis with the Baltimore Ravens from 1999-2001, serving as Ravens assistant strength and conditioning coach, and he was with Lewis in '02 at Washington, serving as head strength and conditioning coach for the Redskins.

Morton is in his 13th NFL season, having served as strength and conditioning assistant at San Diego from 1992-94 and as head strength and conditioning coach at Carolina from '95-98.

Morton has worked with two Super Bowl teams, the 1994 Chargers and the 2000 Ravens. He started his career in the collegiate ranks, serving as assistant strength coach at Ohio State (1985-86) while completing his master's degree in physical education. He went on to Penn State in 1987 as the first-ever full-time strength and conditioning assistant for the Nittany Lions football team. He also worked with 14 other men's and women's sports during his five years (1987-91) at Penn State.

Morton's hometown is Hamden, Conn. He graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1985 with a degree in zoology, and he earned a varsity letter in swimming. Chip and his wife, Stacey, have five children.

RAY OLIVER — Assistant Strength & Conditioning

Cincinnati native Ray Oliver, a 20-year veteran in pro and college sports, joins the Bengals for 2004 as the team's assistant strength and conditioning coach.

Oliver comes to the Bengals after three years as Director of Performance Enhancement for the University of Memphis basketball program. His resume includes experience as a strength and conditioning coach in the NFL (Tampa Bay, 1992) and in the NBA (New Jersey Nets, 1996-97).

"Ray brings a wealth of knowledge to this position, and he's excited to be coming back home," said Chip Morton, Bengals head strength and conditioning coach. "He's going to be a great addition to our program as we continue to develop it."

"I grew up from age seven living and dying with the Bengals every Sunday," Oliver said. "To come back and be a part of this team is something I couldn't be happier about."

Oliver, 42, attended Withrow and Taft high schools in Cincinnati. He played football at Ohio State (defensive back in 1980-81). He transferred to the University of Cincinnati in 1982, and while sitting out the '82 season under transfer rules, he became interested in strength training under UC head football coach Mike Gottfried. When Gottfried moved to Kansas University in 1983, Oliver decided to end his football playing career and he followed Gottfried to KU as a transfer student and volunteer coach. Oliver earned his bachelor's degree from Kansas in 1986.

Oliver worked in strength and conditioning at the University of Pittsburgh in the mid-1980s, and during that time he also worked a Bengals training camp and several Bengals minicamps as a volunteer assistant to then-strength coach Kim Wood.

Oliver has a long association with University of Memphis basketball coach John Calipari, having worked with Calipari previously at the University of Kansas, the University of Pittsburgh and with the New Jersey Nets. Oliver also worked under coach Rick Pitino at the University of Kentucky from 1989-92.

Oliver spent his 1992 NFL season at Tampa Bay under head coach Sam Wyche, the former Bengals head coach.

Oliver's work with NFL athletes also includes the years 1997-99, when he was involved in programs for 35 NFL players while working for the Synergy company in Columbia, S.C.

DARRIN SIMMONS — Special Teams

Darrin Simmons returns for his second season as Bengals special teams coach in 2004, looking to build on a 2003 performance which showed the special teams to be among the club's most improved facets.

Simmons' return and coverage units provided a major boost in the punting game, as Cincinnati finished 12th in the NFL in punt return average (11.0 yards) and 11th in opponents' punt return average (8.6). In 2002, the Bengals had finished 31st in punt returns and 32nd in punt coverage.

In place-kicking, Simmons faced a challenge when late roster moves presented him with a brand-new kicker just a week before the regular-season opener. But Shayne Graham, a former Simmons pupil with the Carolina Panthers, went on to set a Bengals season record for field-goal accuracy after coming to Cincinnati on waivers from Carolina. Graham made 22-of-25 tries, an 88.0 accuracy percentage, and also was perfect (40-40) on PATs.

The special teams also had one of the season's biggest individual plays, as Peter Warrick's 68-yard TD on a punt return was a big factor in Cincinnati's 24-19 win over a 9-0 Kansas City team on Nov. 16.

The Bengals did not allow a punt return or kickoff return for a touchdown last season, and Cincinnati finished 10th under Simmons in kickoff coverage (20.7 yards per opponent return.)

Simmons began his NFL coaching career in 1998 on the same Baltimore Ravens staff as Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis. Simmons was assistant special teams coach and assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Ravens in 1998, and he held that same role for the Carolina Panthers from '99-2002.

A former college punter, Simmons played an integral role at Carolina in the continued development of Todd Sauerbrun as one of the NFL's top punters.

Carolina ranked fourth in the NFL in 2002 in net punting average (37.5), and the Panthers' special units led the league in kickoff coverage with only 18.5 yards allowed per return. Only one other NFL team, Jacksonville at 19.5, held opponents to under 20 yards per kickoff return.

Simmons began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Kansas University in 1996. He moved to the University of Minnesota in 1997 before joining the NFL with the Ravens in '98.

Simmons excelled as a college punter for the Kansas Jayhawks from 1993-95, earning All-Big Eight honors his final year. As a senior, he helped the Jayhawks to a Top 10 national ranking and to an Aloha Bowl victory over UCLA. Also as a Kansas senior, he won CoSIDA/GTE honors as an Academic All-American.

Prior to playing for Kansas, Simmons was a punter and QB for Dodge City (Kan.) Community College. In 1992 at Dodge City, he led the nation's junior colleges in punting and was a first-team JUCO All-American.

Simmons earned a degree in sports management from Kansas in 1996. Born April 9, 1973, in Elkhart, Kan., he graduated from Elkhart High School. He and his wife, Rhonda, have a daughter, Hannah (born 1-11-02).

BOB SURACE — Assistant Offensive Line

In his third season on the Bengals coaching staff, Bob Surace takes on the role of assistant offensive line coach. The new title reflects his many hours working on line play with Paul Alexander, the team's assistant head coach and offensive line coach.

Surace was offensive assistant in his first two Bengals seasons, and in addition to his work with the line, he continues to play a key role in the entire offensive staff's game preparation.

Surace's contributions in 2003 helped the Bengals show offensive balance that bodes well for the future. The '03 Bengals ranked 13th among the 32 teams in rushing at 124.2 yards per game, despite having three-time Pro Bowl HB Corey Dillon limited by injuries for most of the season. In passing yards, the Bengals ranked 12th (208.9), as seventh-year QB Jon Kitna had the finest season of his career, posting personal highs in completions, yards, TD passes, completion percentage, and passer rating. WR Chad Johnson set a team record with 1355 receiving yards and went to the Pro Bowl along with OT Willie Anderson.

The balance helped the Bengals finish fourth in the NFL in third-down conversions at 44.7%, the team's best mark since 1989.

In 2002, Surace's first season with the Bengals, the team had a 3000-yard passer (Jon Kitna), a 1000-yard rusher (Corey Dillon) and a 1000-yard receiver (Chad Johnson), boasting such a trio for the first time since 1989.

Prior to joining the Bengals, Surace was a championship-level head coach in the NCAA Division III ranks. At Western Connecticut State University in 2000-01, his teams posted an 18-3 overall record. In 2001, WCSU advanced to the second round of the NCAA Division III Championships and won the Freedom Football Conference title. In 2000, the Colonials won the Northeast Championship ECAC playoff game. In both of Surace's seasons, the team ranked in the Top 25 nationally in the American Football Coaches Association poll.

Surace (pronounced "suh-RACE") grew up in a coaching family. His father, Tony, was head coach for his high school football and baseball teams in Millville, N.J. Surace went on to earn All-Ivy League honors as a center at Princeton University.

Surace began his coaching career in 1990 as running backs coach at Springfield (Mass.) College, where he also earned a master's degree in sports management in 1992. In the '92 football season, he was Run Game Coordinator at Maine Maritime Academy. That season, the Mariners had the nation's top Division III running back. In 1993 at Maine Maritime, Surace was part of an ECAC championship team.

In 1994, when the Canadian Football League fielded teams in the U.S., Surace was with the Shreveport Pirates. He was the assistant to head coach and general manager Forrest Gregg, the former Bengals coach who guided Cincinnati to Super Bowl XVI.

After coaching at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (Troy, N.Y.) in 1995, Surace went to Western Connecticut State in '96 as offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator.

Surace was born April 25, 1968 in Harrisburg, Pa. His wife, Lisa, holds a Ph.D. in psychology and was girls varsity soccer coach at Staples High School in Westport, Conn., from 1999-2001.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1987-89: Played center at Princeton. 1990-91: Assistant coach (AC), Springfield (Mass.) College. 1992-93: AC, Maine Maritime Academy. 1994: AC, Shreveport Pirates (CFL). 1995: AC, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. 1996-99: AC, Western Connecticut State. 2000-01: Head coach, Western Connecticut State. 2002-present: AC, Bengals.

KEN ZAMPESE — Quarterbacks

Ken Zampese returns in 2004 for his second season as Bengals quarterbacks coach. Zampese's initial Bengals season saw QB Jon Kitna produce the best of his seven NFL campaigns, and in 2004, Zampese is mentor for Carson Palmer's assumption of the No. 1 QB spot.

Palmer, the No. 1 overall selection in the 2003 NFL Draft, spent all last season under Zampese's tutelage, but did not play as Kitna was the only NFL QB to take every snap for his team. Zampese's task for this season is to use Palmer's year of learning as the base for a smooth transition to the role of on-field leader.

Last season, Zampese worked with Kitna as Kitna posted career highs in completions (324), passing yards (3591), TD passes (26), completion percentage (62.3) and passer rating (87.4). Though Kitna's statistics in 2002 were solid, his '03 performance still won him NFL Comeback Player of the Year honors from the Associated Press and Pro Football Weekly.

Zampese (pronounced "zam-PEE-zee") came to the Bengals following three seasons (2000-02) in St. Louis, in which he had an expanding role with the NFL's most prolific passing offense.

Zampese joined the Rams in 2000 as an offensive assistant and helped St. Louis lead the NFL with an average of 327.0 yards per game. He was promoted to wide receivers coach in 2001, and again the Rams led the league, averaging 291.4 yards. In 2002, he added the title of passing game coach, and the Rams finished second in the league at 259.6 yards per game.

Zampese began his NFL coaching career in 1998 as an offensive assistant with the Philadelphia Eagles under head coach Ray Rhodes. Zampese moved with Rhodes to Green Bay in 1999, also as an offensive assistant, before beginning his three-year stint with the Rams in 2000.

Prior to entering the NFL, Zampese coached for nine years in the college ranks. He started as secondary coach at his alma mater, the University of San Diego, in 1989. He was graduate assistant secondary coach at the University of Southern California from 1990-91.

He then spent four years at Northern Arizona, as wide receivers coach from 1992-94 and as offensive coordinator in '95. In 1996 and '97, he was passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Miami (Ohio). In 1997, Miami averaged 37.4 points per game.

Zampese played wide receiver and was a kickoff and punt returner at the University of San Diego from 1985-88. He was Special Teams Player of the Year as a senior. He earned an undergraduate degree in business from San Diego, and later received a master's degree in adult education from Southern California.

Zampese was born July 19, 1967, in Santa Maria, Calif. He attended the University of San Diego High School. He and his wife, Christine, have a daughter, Marina, and a son, Anthony. Ken's father, Ernie Zampese, was a longtime NFL offensive coordinator. Ernie Zampese coached on a Super Bowl winner with the 1995 Dallas Cowboys, and also coached for the Chargers, Rams and Patriots.

IN THE NFL IN 2003...

- Thirteen teams won at least 10 games, the most ever to do so in a season in NFL history.
- Scoring averaged 40.0 points per game (41.7) for the 10th consecutive season.
- Almost a quarter of the games (22 percent) were decided in the last two minutes of regulation or in overtime.
- Overtime games were prevalent again. There were 23 in 2003, second-most all-time to the '02 total of 25. There was at least one overtime game in 11 consecutive weeks from Weeks 2-12, the longest such streak in history. The Carolina Panthers became the first team in history to win three OT games on the road in a season.
- The rushing game played a gigantic role in the season. There were 151 100-yard individual rushing games, the most in history. There were six 1500-yard rushers and four 1600-yard rushers – the most ever in a season. And for only the second time in history (also 1998), there were two 1800-yard rushers (Jamal Lewis and Ahman Green).
- Five players went over 2000 scrimmage yards, the most ever in a season.

BIGGEST IMPROVEMENT IN NFL

Admittedly, the 2003 Bengals had plenty of room to improve after a franchise-worst 2-14 record in 2002. But they made good use of it, as their six-game improvement to an 8-8 finish was the biggest in the NFL last season.

Three teams made five-game improvements. New England went from 9-7 to an NFL-best 14-2; Kansas City went from 8-8 to 13-3; and Dallas went from 5-11 to 10-6.

The six-game rise tied for second-largest in Bengals history. The 1988 Bengals went 12-4, 7.5 games better than the 4-11 edition of '87, and the '81 Bengals were six games better at 12-4 than the 6-10 team of '80. The 1981 and '88 Bengals both won AFC Championships.

The second-place photo in the Hall of Fame's 2003 contest — by Donald Miralle/Getty Images — shows Chad Johnson making a diving catch in the corner of the end zone at San Diego on Nov. 23 of last season. That photo is on page 114 of the Bengals Media Guide.

2003 Games-Starts: 16-16; Career Games-Starts: 85-76
Acquired: UFA (Sea.) '01
Born: 9-21-72

Kitna had his finest NFL season in 2003 ... He posted career highs in completions (324), passing yards (3591), TD passes (26), completion percentage (62.3) and passer rating (87.4) ... His plus-11 differential in TD passes (26) against INTs (15) was the best for a Bengals QB with 20 or more TD throws since Boomer Esiason hit plus-17 in 1989 ... Kitna was the only NFL QB in 2003 to play every offensive snap for his team ... Though his 2002 statistics were solid, his '03 performance won him Comeback Player of the Year honors from Associated Press and Pro Football Weekly ... The Comeback Player honors appeared tied to Kitna's leadership role in the team's NFL-best improvement from '02 to '03 ... No other team matched a six-game rise, as Bengals went from 2-14 record to 8-8

2003 PARTICIPATION: Started 16 games for first time in career ... Was only player to play all 1078 Bengals offensive snaps ... Became the first player in Bengals history to throw every one of the team's passes in a season ... No other NFL team went beyond Week 9 in 2003 having one QB take every snap.

STOCKPILING SUPERLATIVES: Kitna's total of 324 completions in '03 was a career-high and ranks second in Bengals history behind Jeff Blake's 326 in 1995 ... His career-high season yardage total of 3591 ranks fifth in team history and was the team's highest since Jeff Blake had 3624 in 1996 ... Kitna's previous high was 3346 yards while starting 15 games for Seattle's AFC West championship club in 1999 ... His career-best TD pass total of 26 ranked second in the AFC (behind Peyton Manning) and tied for third in the NFL ... His career-best completion percentage of 62.3 was the highest percentage for a Bengals QB with 200 or more attempts since 1984, when Ken Anderson completed 175 of 275 for a 63.6 reading ... His passer rating of 87.4 ranked fifth in the AFC and topped his previous career-best for a full season, which was 79.1 in 2002 ... Kitna ranked third in the AFC in third-down passing at 91.3.

MEASURE OF SUCCESS: Jon Kitna's career-best effectiveness in 2003 is reflected by the fact he had four games (all victories) in which he passed for as many as 3 TDs with no INTs. Previously, he had only two such games in his career. Kitna's four games in the category in '03:

- Sept. 28 at Cleveland: (3 TDs and no INTs in a 21-14 win)
- Oct. 19 vs. Baltimore (3-and-0 in a 34-26 win)
- Nov. 23 at San Diego (4-and-0, tying career TD high, in a 34-27 win)
- Nov. 30 at Pittsburgh (3-and-0 in a 24-20 win)

THE COMEBACK: Kitna led the Bengals' most tense two-minute situation last season in a 24-20 victory on Nov. 30 at Pittsburgh, guiding the offense 52 yards in four plays for a game-deciding TD with 0:13 to play. The Bengals had led for the entire game before the Steelers struck an apparently decisive blow with a TD for a 20-17 lead with just 1:05 remaining. Kitna got the winning TD on an 18-yard pass to TE Matt Schobel.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: For the season, Kitna completed 324-of-520 (62.3 percent) for 3591 yards, and had only 15 INTs as compared to his 26 TD passes ... Threw 137 straight passes with no INTs over span of more than 17 quarters from Nov. 9 through Dec. 7, including three consecutive full games for first time in his pro career ... Made his 10th start of season Nov. 25 at Cleveland, but was benched in second half, limited by Browns to 8 completions in 19 attempts for 85 yards, 0 TDs and 2 INTs ...

DIALING LONG DISTANCE

Jon Kitna's 82-yard TD pass to Chad Johnson on Oct. 19 last season vs. Baltimore was the longest Cincinnati pass completion since an 88-yarder from Jeff Blake to Darnay Scott on Sept. 17, 1995 at Seattle. It was the longest completion of Kitna's career and the longest catch of Johnson's.

Kitna had played every offensive snap of season until start of third quarter at Cleveland, when he was replaced by Scott Mitchell ... Kitna remained in starting role Dec. 2 vs. Tampa Bay, and directed 14-play, 64-yard drive in final minutes of fourth quarter, getting a game-tying TD on a 6-yard pass to Corey Dillon with 0:08 to play.

2002—Kitna revived a struggling Bengals offense, coming off the bench to start the final 12 games and directing production of 300 or more yards in 11 of those games ... Led six straight 350-yard outputs (Games 7-12), team's longest such streak since 1986 ... His 294 completions led Bengals to a team-record 350 for the year ... Was in a reserve role for Games 1-4, as Gus Frerotte took pre-season competition to open the year as starting QB ... Kitna's 4 TD passes Nov. 3 at Houston were a career high (since tied) ... Completion percentage of 62.2 was his career-best to that point ... Rushed for 4 TDs, first pro season with more than 1 rushing score ... Completion percentage in win Nov. 3 at Houston (81.5% on 22-of-27) was Kitna's career high (minimum 10 passes) ... On Dec. 22 vs. New Orleans, directed offense on fourth-quarter TD drives of 13 plays (69 yards) and 12 plays (64 yards), rallying Bengals from 13-7 deficit to 20-13 win ... Passed 20-for-40 for 190-1-2 in New Orleans game, with his TD pass a 30-yarder to WR Peter Warrick to finish opening drive of game.

COLLEGE: First-team NAIA All-America choice as a senior at Central Washington University (Ellensburg, Wash.) ... Started 14 games and led Wildcats to the NAIA championship game, completing 364-of-576 passes for 4616 yards with 42 TDs and 14 INTs ... Finished his career completing 911-of-1550 passes (58.8%) for 12,353 yards, 99 TDs and 59 INTs in 43 games ... Had 17 games over 300 yards ... Threw for nearly twice as many TDs (93) as INTs (47) over his last three seasons.

TOP RECEPTIONS DUO

Chad Johnson and Peter Warrick were the most prolific receptions duo in Bengals history in 2003, combining for 169 catches. Johnson had 90 receptions and Warrick had 79. It was the first time in Bengals history for two receivers to top the 70 mark in a season.

In the 35 previous seasons, only once did the team have two players with as many as 60 catches. That was in the Super Bowl season of 1981, when TE Dan Ross had 71 catches and WR Cris Collinsworth had 67.

Johnson's catch total ranks third-best in Bengals history for one season, and Warrick's ranks fifth.

FOND FAREWELL

The Bengals played their final game at Cinergy Field (previously known as Riverfront Stadium) on Dec. 12, 1999, and they made the finale a memorable one.

Before a sellout crowd of 59,972, the Bengals defeated Cleveland, 44-28, as the Cincinnati defense set a team record by allowing only 11 net rushing yards (on 11 carries). The Browns' long rushing gain of the day was three yards. The previous low by a Bengals opponent had been 18 yards on 17 carries by Seattle in an AFC Divisional playoff game on Dec. 31, 1988 at Riverfront Stadium. The previous low in a regular-season game was 26 yards on 17 carries by Pittsburgh on Sept. 19, 1982 at Three Rivers Stadium in Pittsburgh.

Offensively, the last game at Cinergy saw the Bengals roll for 279 rushing yards (on 53 carries) — at the time the second-most rushing yards in team history and the most ever in a home game (now the fourth-best in club history and the third-highest figure for a home game). The team record for rushing yards in a game is 407, set on Oct. 22, 2000 vs. Denver at Paul Brown Stadium.

The No. 1 overall pick in the 2003 NFL Draft, Palmer enters his second NFL season with coaches' nod as the starting QB ... A player with tremendous athletic ability for his size (6-5, 230), Palmer was consensus pick of analysts as the top player available in the '03 Draft ... His arm strength and special abilities will expand the scope of Bengals' offense ... Spent 2003 NFL season in backup role to Bengals starter Jon Kitna, who had the best season of his career and was the only NFL QB to play every offensive snap for his team ... Palmer won the 2002 Heisman Trophy at Southern California, leading the Trojans to 11-2 record, including 38-17 Orange Bowl win over Iowa.

2003 RECAP: Drafted by Bengals in first round (No. 1 overall) ... Signed April 24, two days prior to draft ... Was inactive as the designated third QB in Games 1-5 ... Was No. 2 QB in Games 6-12 ... Returned to third QB role for Games 13-16, as coaches wanted veteran Shane Matthews available in No. 2 spot for team's late-season playoff bid ... In preseason, Palmer led the Bengals in passes (54), completions (37) and yards (451), with 4 TDs and 4 INTs ... Compiled an 87.8 preseason passer rating.

COLLEGE: Played 53 games with 45 starts at USC, competing over five seasons (1998-2002) because of injury-shortened '99 campaign that counted as a redshirt year ... Left college as the Pac-10 Conference's all-time leader in passing yards (11,818), completions (927) and total offense (11,621) ... His 72 career TD passes set a USC record ... Led Trojans to wins in the last eight games of his senior season, with the team averaging 41.5 points per game during that stretch ... On Nov. 30 of his senior season vs. Notre Dame, his 425 passing yards and the team's 610 offensive yards were the most ever in each category by a Notre Dame opponent ... Threw at least 2 TD passes in nine straight games as a senior ... As a sophomore in '99, Palmer led USC to victories in its first two games, but suffered broken right collarbone just before halftime of Game 3, Sept. 25 at Oregon ... He was sidelined for remainder of the '99 season, which was allowed to count for him as a redshirt year ... His four starts in 1998 made him only the second true freshman to start a game at QB for the storied USC program (joined Rob Johnson, who started one game in '91).

CARSON AND ARCHIE: Palmer was the second Heisman Trophy winner drafted by the Bengals. The first was Ohio State RB Archie Griffin, a two-time Heisman winner. Griffin was the No. 24 overall pick in the 1976 NFL Draft, the second of two first-rounders by Cincinnati. He played eight seasons (1976-83) for the Bengals, rushing for 2808 yards and catching 192 passes for 1607 yards.

PERSONAL: Hometown is Laguna Hills, Calif. ... Simmons tied his season high with 10 tackles (7 solo) in the Baltimore game, including an 8-yard sack. The following week, Oct. 26 vs. Seattle, Simmons was the most active player in the defense's 5-takeaway effort, and he earned AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors. He started his stellar day with a forced fumble and recovery against WR Darrell Jackson at Bengals' 25-yard line in second quarter, stopping a Seattle threat with score tied 7-7. In the fourth quarter, with Bengals protecting their eventual 27-24 victory margin, Simmons intercepted a pass deflected by Oliver Gibson with just under six minutes to play and returned it 1 yard to Bengals' 34. With just under two minutes left in the final period vs. Seahawks, Simmons deflected a pass that Jeff Burris intercepted at the Bengals' 24, ending Seattle's last serious threat.

His sacks against Steelers' Tommy Maddox were for 6 yards in third quarter and 7 yards in fourth quarter, with second sack dropping Maddox on third-down play to force a punt ... In second quarter of Pittsburgh game, Thornton quelled Steelers threat by recovering fumble by QB Charlie Batch at Bengals' 12-yard line ... ## GRAHAM HITS NEW ACCURACY HIGH

Bengals K Shayne Graham, acquired on waivers from Carolina the week of the 2003 regular-season opener, finished '03 with a franchise-record 88.0 accuracy percentage on field goals.

Graham made good on 22 of 25 attempts. He broke the accuracy percentage mark of 84.8 that Doug Pelfrey had set in 1994. Pelfrey was 28-for-33.

One of Graham's misses was a 54-yarder at Buffalo that had the distance but was wide left, and another was a 52-yarder vs. Cleveland that hit the left upright. His third miss was from 48 yards. His longest made field goal also was a 48-yarder.

Though Graham made six fewer field goals than Pelfrey did in '94, he had more than enough attempts to meet the minimum for qualifying for a record. The standard for Bengals records and NFL records is 1.25 attempts per games in a season, which is 20 for a 16-game campaign.

Birthdate: 6-2-81

An All-American performer for Ole Miss in track and field, Andrews did not play high school football or play college football until last season ... But his exceptional size and athletic ability made him a draftable NFL prospect ... Holds Ole Miss track records for the indoor weight throw (68' 3.5"), outdoor hammer throw (201' 7") and discus (188' 5") ... Passed up a chance to qualify for the Olympics when he decided to join the UM football team as a senior.

COACH PAUL ALEXANDER SAYS: "Stacy is a rare, rare athlete. In draft terms, he has first-round athletic ability. He was just 'incomplete' as a college football player, due to limited experience. He was a very good football player on the plays he played, so he's not a project from that standpoint. He's a man who needs experience, and he certainly has the potential to be a very good NFL player."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS: 2003 FOOTBALL—Saw action in five games for Rebels club that finished 10-3 with Cotton Bowl victory over Oklahoma State ... Credited with 14 key blocks and 2 touchdown-producing blocks for offensive unit that averaged 433.2 yards per game ... Made football debut Sept. 13 vs. Louisiana-Monroe and had a clearing block on 1-yard TD run by Jamal Pittman ... Andrews' key block helped clear the way for Brandon Jacobs' game-winning TD run in fourth quarter against Auburn. 2002 FOOTBALL—Came out for football for the first time at Ole Miss, and was redshirted. 2002-03 TRACK—Earned All-America honors in both outdoor and indoor competition ... Placed sixth in discus at NCAA Outdoor Championships, and placed fifth in weight throw at Indoor Championships ... Broke his own school record with a discus throw of 188' 5" in the NCAA outdoor meet ... Placed fifth in hammer throw at SEC Outdoor Championships with school-record distance of 201' 7". 2001-02 TRACK—Competed at 2002 NCAA Outdoor Championships in the discus ... Placed second in weight throw at 2001 SEC Indoor Championships ... Won both the hammer and the discus at SEC Quad meet ... Won discus at the Alabama Relays.

REPLAY CHALLENGES

There were 19 plays reviewed by instant replay in Bengals games in 2003. Only three of the 19 on-field calls were reversed by the referee. In each of the three reversals, the team ruled against won the game anyway. Ten of the rulings were favorable to Cincinnati, and nine favored the opponent.

Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis challenged five calls, with one reversed. The reversal came Sept. 7 vs. Denver, with a 14-yard Broncos completion ruled incomplete after the review.

Opposing head coaches challenged seven calls, with one reversed. The reversal came in the Oct. 19 Baltimore game, when the Ravens challenged an incomplete ruling on a third-quarter pass from Kyle Boller to Todd Heap. After review, referee Johnny Grier ruled the play a 24-yard completion. The call aided a Baltimore field goal drive.

NFL replay officials make the call to order any reviews during the last two minutes of a half. There were seven reviews so ordered in Bengals games last season, with one call reversed. The reversal came Nov. 9 vs. Houston, when a 13-yard TD pass from Cincinnati's Jon Kitna to WR Chad Johnson was ruled no score on the basis that Johnson was down by contact at the Texans' one-yard line. The play did not affect the game's outcome, as it occurred in the final minute of the fourth quarter with Cincinnati already leading 34-27.

P.B. AND THE HALL OF FAME

Paul Brown, founder of the Cincinnati Bengals, was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1967, and numerous other Hall of Fame members played and/or coached under Brown.

The most recent addition to P.B.'s disciples in the Hall of Fame was Bengals tackle Anthony Munoz, considered by many to be the greatest offensive lineman in NFL history. Munoz, a 1998 inductee, played his entire 13-year pro career (1980-92) with the Bengals. Some analysts thought he was too risky a prospect for an early first-round draft selection because he had experienced knee injuries in college. But Brown, as Bengals general manager in 1980, selected Munoz with the No. 3 overall pick.

The 1997 Hall of Fame class included Don Shula, winningest coach in NFL history, who played defensive back in the NFL and was a rookie on Brown's defending NFL champion Cleveland Browns in 1951.

WR Charlie Joiner, who played for the Bengals under Brown from 1972-75, was elected to the Hall of Fame in the 1996 class of inductees. Also, 12 other players Brown coached for the Cleveland Browns are in the Hall of Fame. They are: Doug Atkins, DE, 1953-54; Jim Brown, FB, 1957-65; Willie Davis, DE, 1958-59; Len Dawson, QB, 1960-61; Len Ford, WR, 1948-58; Frank Gatski, C, 1946-56; Lou Groza, T/PPK, 1946-59; Dante Lavelli, WR, 1946-56; Mike McCormack, T, 1954-62; Bobby Mitchell, RB/WR, 1958-61; Marion Motley, FB/LB, 1946-55; and Bill Willis, G, 1946-53.

Former assistant coaches under Paul Brown who are in the Hall of Fame are Weeb Ewbank and Bill Walsh. Also in the Hall of Fame is Forrest Gregg, hired by Brown as Bengals head coach in 1980.

2003 BENGALS REGULAR SEASON

Game 1 Denver 30, Bengals 10

Sunday, Sept. 7, at Paul Brown Stadium

The rushing attacks were the prime determinant as Denver controlled the game from start to finish in a disappointing Bengals season opener. The Broncos' 184 rushing yards were the most in the NFL in Week 1, and Denver averaged 4.6 yards per carry. Clinton Portis led the Broncos with 120 yards on 24 carries and scored 2 TDs. The Bengals managed only 51 rushing yards, averaging 2.3 yards per trip. Cincinnati HB Corey Dillon, who set an NFL record with 278 yards in his previous appearance vs. Denver, was held to 34 yards on 14 carries. Red-zone production also affected the Bengals' chances to make a game of it early. Trailing 10-0 in the second quarter, the Bengals drove to a first down at the Denver 6, but had to settle for a field goal. The Broncos responded with a 66-yard, 5-play TD drive for a 17-3 lead, and Denver mounted a 30-3 advantage before the Bengals reached the end zone on a 41-yard fourth-quarter TD pass from Jon Kitna to Chad Johnson.

Game 2 Oakland 23, Bengals 20

Sunday, Sept. 14, at Network Associates Coliseum

The Bengals rallied to tie from deficits of 10-0 and 20-13 against the defending AFC Champions, but Oakland drove 55 yards in eight plays to break a 20-20 tie on Sebastian Janikowski's 39-yard field goal with 0:09 to play. The Raiders had gone ahead 20-13 on Phillip Buchanon's 83-yard INT return with 3:46 to play, but the Bengals responded with a 46-yard Brandon Bennett kickoff return and a 53-yard drive that ended with Jon Kitna's 8-yard TD pass to Peter Warrick. The Bengals lost despite outgaining the Raiders 416 yards to 237, making 27 first downs to Oakland's 12 and posting 39:24 minutes in possession time. Cincinnati got a tough break when an apparent fumble recovery by CB Tory James was ruled not subject to instant replay challenge because the runner was whistled down by contact. The ruling extended an Oakland possession at the Cincinnati 15-yard line and helped the Raiders score their first TD. The Bengals fell to 0-9 in games against the Raiders at Oakland, and dropped to 0-2 on the season. The Raiders improved to 1-1.

Game 3 Pittsburgh 17, Bengals 10
Sunday, Sept. 21, at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals failed to get any points from three penetrations of the Pittsburgh 40-yard line on their first three possessions, and after Pittsburgh moved out to a 17-3 lead early in the fourth quarter, Cincinnati couldn't mount a full comeback. There was still 5:54 to play when the Bengals closed to within 17-10 on a 5-yard TD pass from Jon Kitna to Peter Warrick, but Pittsburgh responded by grinding out four first downs to kill the remaining time. The Steelers outgained Cincinnati 376 yards to 182, and Pittsburgh had the edge in crucial plays most of the day, going 8-for-16 on third down conversions while the Bengals managed only a 3-for-10 reading. The Steelers used a successful fake field goal try to set up their first TD for a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. The Bengals fell to 0-3 on the season while Pittsburgh improved to 2-1.

Game 4 Bengals 21, Cleveland 14
Sunday, Sept. 28, at Cleveland Browns Stadium

In the 60th renewal of the "Battle of Ohio," the Bengals offense had its first turnover-free game since Game 8 of the 2002 season. QB Jon Kitna tossed a 125.1 passer rating — his highest in 48 career games with 30 or more passes — as Cincinnati won for the first time under head coach Marvin Lewis. Kitna went 23-for-31 passing for 215 yards and 3 TDs. His first TD pass, a 3-yarder to Chad Johnson, tied the score at 7-7 in the first quarter. After the Browns went ahead again at 14-7, Kitna and Johnson connected for a 55-yard score with just 20 seconds remaining in the first half. The Bengals got the final score of the game on the opening possession of the third quarter, as Kitna led a 10-play, 80-yard drive that was climaxed by a 1-yard TD pass to TE Reggie Kelly. Cleveland's deepest second-half penetration was to the Bengals' 28 early in the fourth quarter, but the drive ended on a fourth-down-and-four play when Bengals CB Jeff Burris broke up a pass intended for Kevin Johnson. Burris also snuffed out the Browns' final drive of the game with an interception at the Bengals' 28 with a minute remaining. The Bengals won with only a minimal contribution from HB Corey Dillon, who had 20 rushing yards on 4 carries while battling a groin pull. The Bengals improved to 1-3 and the Browns fell to 1-3.

Game 5 Buffalo 22, Bengals 16 (OT)

Sunday, Oct. 5, at Ralph Wilson Stadium

The Bengals held Buffalo's offense in check for most of the day, but the Bills drove 59 yards for a tying field goal late in the fourth quarter and marched 57 yards for the winning TD on their first possession in overtime. Buffalo QB Drew Bledsoe completed 8 of his last 10 pass attempts after connecting on only 11 of his first 25. The Bengals led 6-3 at halftime, fell behind 13-6 after three quarters, and came back to take a 16-13 lead with 5:33 remaining on Shayne Graham's third field goal of the day. Cincinnati's lone TD, which tied the score 13-13, came on a 16-yard run by HB Rudi Johnson to cap a 74-yard drive with 9:14 remaining in the fourth quarter. Buffalo tied the game at 16-16 on Rian Lindell's 29-yard field goal with 0:28 left in regulation. The Bengals won the overtime coin toss, but did not make a first down and had to punt from their 28. Nick Harris' punt went only 29 yards, and the Bills took over at their 43-yard line for what proved to be the winning drive. The Bengals fell to 1-4 on the season while Buffalo improved to 3-2.

Game 6 Bengals 34, Baltimore 26

Sunday, Oct. 19, at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals started the game slowly, falling behind 7-0 and allowing another Ravens drive to penetrate Bengals territory. But LB Brian Simmons wrestled a fumble away from Ravens rookie QB Kyle Boller on the second Baltimore drive, turning the momentum. The Bengals scored after that fumble recovery, scored after DE Carl Powell forced and recovered another Boller fumble on the next possession, and wound up leading 34-10 early in the fourth quarter before the Ravens tacked on two late TDs. Bengals QB Jon Kitna posted a 130.8 passer rating in the game, suffering no INTs while throwing TD passes of 45 yards to TE Matt Schobel, 82 yards to WR Chad Johnson and 21 yards to WR Peter Warrick. The 82-yarder was a career-long play for both Kitna and Johnson. HB Corey Dillon returned to full action for the Bengals after being hampered by injuries since Game 2. Dillon was limited to 39 rushing yards on 18 carries, but he scored his 300th career point on a 2-yard TD run in the first quarter. The Bengals improved to 2-4 on the season while Baltimore fell to 3-3.

Game 7 Bengals 27, Seattle 24

Sunday, Oct. 26, at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals overcame deficits of 7-0 and 24-17 in knocking off the NFC West-leading Seahawks. Cincinnati mounted a 5-0 edge in turnover differential, intercepting 3 Seattle passes and recovering 2 fumbles, and the Bengals also blocked a field goal. Trailing 24-20 with just over nine minutes left in the fourth quarter, the Bengals forced Seattle to settle for a 49-yard FG attempt, and Cincinnati's John Thornton blocked it. The Bengals took over at their 39-yard line and scored the deciding TD three plays later when QB Jon Kitna connected with WR Chad Johnson for a 53-yard catch-and-run score on a third-down-and-two play. Seattle twice drove inside the Bengals' 40 following the Chad Johnson score, but the Bengals made 2 INTs, the first deflected by DT Oliver Gibson and caught by LB Brian Simmons, and the second deflected by Simmons and caught by CB Jeff Burris. HB Rudi Johnson rushed for 101 yards on 27 carries, starting in place of the injured Corey Dillon. Kitna posted a 105.7 passer rating in the game and ran his total for the last four games to 8 TDs against 1 INT. The Bengals improved to 3-4 on the season, and Seattle fell to 5-2.

Game 8 Arizona 17, Bengals 14

Sunday, Nov. 2, at Sun Devil Stadium

Falling short in a bid to post their first three-game winning streak since 1999, the Bengals opened their first offensive series with two false start penalties and struggled on offense throughout the day. Their 263 yards net total offense was their second-lowest total through eight games. Cincinnati lost the turnover battle by 2-1, despite entering the game at plus-4 and facing a Cardinals team that had been minus-14. Arizona got 141 rushing yards from Marcel Shipp and totaled 161 as a team, while the Bengals could manage only 48 rushing yards on 18 carries. The Bengals rebounded from a 7-0 deficit to take a 14-7 lead early in the second quarter, getting scores on a 2-yard run by HB Rudi Johnson and on a 15-yard pass from Jon Kitna to Peter Warrick. But the Bengals could not advance the ball into Cardinals territory for the remainder of the game. Arizona trailed 14-10 at halftime and scored the winning TD on an 80-yard drive to open the second half, with former Bengal Jeff Blake passing 7 yards to Aquan Boldin on a third-down play for the score. The result left both teams with 3-5 records.

Game 11 Bengals 34, San Diego 27

Sunday, Nov. 23, at Qualcomm Stadium

The Bengals jumped to an early 14-0 lead and spent the rest of the day lending off Chargers comeback attempts, winning a game in California for the first time since 1990 and breaking a seven-game West Coast losing streak. The Chargers closed to 14-13 in the second quarter, but the Bengals went back ahead 28-13 at halftime. San Diego had the ball and trailed 31-20 early in the fourth quarter, but couldn't capitalize. With 3:04 to play, the Chargers pulled to within a TD at 34-27, but the Bengals were able to make 2 first downs on their next possession and kill the clock. The Bengals amassed a season-high 444 yards, with QB Jon Kitna throwing for 4 TDs (all in the first half) and no INTs. WR Chad Johnson caught a career-high 10 passes for 107 yards and a club record-tying 3 TDs. HB Corey Dillon, plagued by injuries most of the season, topped the 100-yard rushing mark for the first time in 2003, gaining 108 yards on 18 carries. The Bengals improved to 6-5 on the season and retained a share of the AFC North lead. The Chargers fell to 2-9.

Game 13 Baltimore 31, Bengals 13

Sunday, Dec. 7, at M&T Bank Stadium

The Bengals fell far short of their intended mark in a showdown for the AFC North Division lead. Baltimore got 180 rushing yards and a career-high 3 TDs from RB Jamal Lewis, and the Ravens' team total of 223 rushing yards was the second-most allowed by the Bengals all season. The Bengals had their chances, getting 2 interceptions and a fumble recovery, but they gave away more chances, suffering 2 interceptions and 3 lost fumbles. The 5 giveaways exceeded the team's total (4) over the previous five games. The Bengals pulled to within a 17-13 deficit on Shayne Graham's 38-yard field goal early in the second quarter, but a sack and lost fumble against QB Jon Kitna set up a three-play, 17-yard Ravens TD drive for a 24-13 lead with 5:31 left in the period. WR Peter Warrick had a career-high 11 catches (for 90 yards) and scored Cincinnati's only TD, but Warrick also had a costly muff on a first-period punt return that set up the first Baltimore score. The Bengals fell to 7-6 on the season while the Ravens improved to 8-5. Cincinnati's record at Baltimore's new stadium dipped to 0-6.

Game 14 Bengals 41, San Francisco 38

Sunday, Dec. 14, at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals regained a tie with Baltimore for first place in the AFC North Division with an 8-6 record, despite giving up the most points in franchise history in a victory. Cincinnati became the first NFL team in 2003 to give up 500 yards in a game (502) and win. The Bengals never trailed after taking a 21-14 second-quarter lead on a 31-yard TD pass from Jon Kitna to Peter Warrick, but the 49ers kept things interesting with a 21-point fourth quarter. Kitna threw for 2 TD passes with no INTs, and HB Rudi Johnson rushed for 174 yards and 2 TDs. Johnson became the first back in Bengals history to rush for 150 yards three times in a season. The Cincinnati offense got a key performance from LT Levi Jones, who played all the way despite having undergone arthroscopic surgery for torn knee cartilage the previous Monday. The 49ers fell to 6-8 on the season.

Game 15 St. Louis 27, Bengals 10

Sunday, Dec. 21, at Edward Jones Dome

The Bengals lost a chance to remain in control of their own destiny in the AFC North Division title race, losing to a St. Louis club that ran its record to 12-3 while winning its 14th straight home game. Cincinnati fell to an 8-7 mark on the season, one game behind 9-6 Baltimore in the AFC North. The Bengals trailed St. Louis only 17-10 at halftime, but they were shut out in the second half. For the game, Cincinnati converted only 31% of its third-down opportunities (4-of-13) while St. Louis converted at a 63% pace (10-of-16). Bengals QB Jon Kitna suffered 3 interceptions in a game for the first time on the season. RB Marshall Faulk led the Rams offensively with 121 rushing yards and a TD plus 33 receiving yards with another TD. Bengals HB Corey Dillon and WR Chad Johnson both achieved team records. Dillon's 37 scrimmage yards (all rushing) pushed him to a new Bengals career high of 9482, surpassing James Brooks (9459). Johnson's 115 receiving yards raised his season total to 1326, breaking the team mark of 1273 set by Eddie Brown in 1988.

Game 16 Cleveland 22, Bengals 14

Sunday, Dec. 28, at Paul Brown Stadium

Needing a victory to stay alive for a playoff berth, the Bengals absorbed a stunning loss to the last-place Browns before a record home crowd of 65,362. The loss snapped a five-game Bengals winning streak at Paul Brown Stadium and clinched the AFC North title for the Baltimore Ravens. Cincinnati took an early first-quarter lead on a 5-yard TD run by HB Rudi Johnson, fell behind 13-7 at halftime and regained a 14-13 lead early in the fourth quarter on a 2-yard Johnson TD run. But the Browns went ahead to stay at 19-14 with 7:54 to play when rookie Lee Suggs scored on a 25-yard run. The Browns went up 22-14 on an 18-yard field goal with 1:13 left, and the Bengals' last try for a tying TD ended when Robert Griffith intercepted a Jon Kitna pass at the Cleveland 39 with 0:41 to play. The Browns gashed the Bengals for 264 rushing yards, the most allowed by the Bengals in a span of 44 games. Suggs, who scored on a 78-yard run in the first half, had 186 rushing yards on 26 carries. The Bengals finished the season at 8-8 and the Browns closed at 5-11.

A RARE RUNNER

The only Bengals quarterback ever to rush for 100 yards in a game was Virgil Carter, who gained 110 on nine carries against Cleveland on Nov. 15, 1970.

The game was the first Bengals-Browns match in Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field), and marked Cincinnati's first victory (14-10) over its Ohio rival.

NO TDs; NO PROBLEM

Three times in their history, the Bengals have won without scoring a touchdown:

- On Sept. 24, 1972, K Horst Muhlmann's five field goals (41, 32, 20, 32, 34) fueled a 15-10 victory over Pittsburgh at Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field).
- On Oct. 21, 1984, K Jim Breech kicked four field goals (24, 23, 25, 33) for all the Bengals' points in a 12-9 victory over Cleveland at Riverfront.
- On Nov. 6, 1994, the Bengals won on the road without a TD for the only time in team history. Cincinnati used K Doug Pelfrey's club-record six field goals (36, 44, 36, 47, 28, 26) plus a safety by LB-DE Alfred Williams to post a 20-17 overtime victory at Seattle.

WORST TO FIRST

Four times in their history, the Bengals have finished first in their division after finishing in last place the season before.

The Bengals followed a cellar season with a division title in 1970, '81, '88 and '90.

ATTENDANCE RECORDS

The Bengals had their four largest crowds in franchise history in 2003 at Paul Brown Stadium. A new record of 65,362 was set in the '03 season finale vs. Cleveland, and that crowd pushed the season total to a new franchise record of 479,488. That's an average of 59,936 for the eight regular-season games.

The previous regular-season attendance record was 473,288 in 1990.

The five sellouts in 2003 were a record at Paul Brown Stadium, and the most sellouts in a season since the 1992 club sold out all eight at Riverfront Stadium.

Here are the five largest Bengals home crowds (all sellouts at Paul Brown Stadium):

| Date     | Opponent      | Attendance |
|----------|---------------|------------|
| 12-28-03 | Cleveland     | 65,362     |
| 11-16-03 | Kansas City   | 64,923     |
| 12-14-03 | San Francisco | 64,666     |
| 9-21-03  | Pittsburgh    | 64,596     |
| 10-14-01 | Cleveland     | 64,217     |

NOTE: Paul Brown Stadium's official capacity for Bengals games is 65,328, but that figure can be exceeded because it does not include areas such as handicapped seating and obstructed-view seats. Also, a sellout can be achieved below the official capacity figure because the 65,328 includes private suites and club seats, which are sold on a season-only basis and do not apply in the official NFL determination of a sellout.

CHANGE FOR THE BETTER

With a plus-2 turnover differential in 2003, the Bengals finished ahead in this crucial area for the first time since 1997. They were unbeaten (5-0) when they had a plus in turnover differential. They were 1-7 when they had a minus and they were 2-1 when the turnover differential was even.

Here's a look at the Bengals' turnover differential performance for the last 10 seasons:

| Year | Takeaways | Giveaways | Net Diff. | NFL Rank |

INSTANT REPLAY RULES

For the 2004-08 seasons, the NFL will continue to employ a system of Referee Replay Review to aid officiating. Prior to the two-minute warning of each half, a Coaches' Challenge System will be in effect. After the two-minute warning, and throughout any overtime period, a Referee Review will be initiated by a Replay Assistant from a Replay Booth.

The following procedures will be used:

REVIEWS BY REFEREE: All Replay Reviews will be conducted by the Referee on a field-level monitor after consultation with the other covering official(s), prior to review. A decision will be reversed only when the Referee has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

COACHES' CHALLENGE: In each game, a team will be permitted two challenges that will initiate Referee Replay reviews. Each challenge will require the use of a team time out. If a challenge is upheld, the time out will be restored to the challenging team. If both challenges are upheld, a third challenge will be awarded to the challenging team. No challenges will be recognized from a team that has exhausted its time outs.

REPLAY ASSISTANT'S REQUEST FOR REVIEW: After the two-minute warning of each half, and throughout any overtime period, any review will be initiated by a Replay Assistant. There is no limit to the number of reviews that may be initiated by the Replay Assistant. His ability to initiate a review will be unrelated to the number of time outs that either team has remaining, and no time out will be charged for any review initiated by the Replay Assistant.

TIME LIMIT: Each review will be a maximum of 90 seconds in length, timed from when the Referee begins his review of the replay at the field-level monitor.

REVIEWABLE PLAYS: The Replay System will cover the following play situations only:

A) PLAYS GOVERNED BY SIDELINE, GOAL LINE, END ZONE, AND END LINE:

1. Scoring plays, including a runner breaking the plane of the goal line.
2. Pass complete/incomplete/intercepted at sideline, goal line, end zone, and end line.
3. Runner/receiver in or out of bounds.
4. Recovery of loose ball in or out of bounds.

B) PASSING PLAYS:

1. Pass ruled complete/incomplete/intercepted in the field of play.
2. Touching of a forward pass by an ineligible receiver.
3. Touching of a forward pass by a defensive player.
4. Quarterback (Passer) forward pass or fumble.
5. Illegal forward pass beyond line of scrimmage.
6. Illegal forward pass after change of possession.
7. Forward or backward pass thrown from behind line of scrimmage.

C) OTHER DETECTABLE INFRACTIONS:

1. Runner ruled not down by defensive contact.
2. Forward progress with respect to first down.
3. Touching of a kick.
4. Number of players on the field.

RACKING UP THE POINTS

The highest scoring game (combined points) in Bengals history came Nov. 30, 1997 at Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia, as the Bengals and Eagles totaled 86 points in a 44-42 Philadelphia victory.

The second and third-highest scoring games both were against San Diego. On Sept. 22, 1985 at Riverfront Stadium in Cincinnati, the Bengals and Chargers combined for 85 points in a 44-41 Chargers win. Three years earlier — on Dec. 20, 1982 in San Diego — the teams totaled 84 points as the Chargers won, 50-34.

TEAM HISTORY

PARRISH HITS PAYDIRT

The only Bengals player ever to score two touchdowns in a game on returns and/or recoveries is Lemar Parrish — and he did it three times.

Parrish, a Bengals cornerback and kick returner from 1970-77, scored two TDs on Nov. 8, 1970 at Buffalo (95-yard kickoff return and 83-yard return of a blocked FG attempt); on Dec. 17, 1972 at Houston (25-yard interception return and 33-yard interception return); and on Oct. 6, 1974 vs. Washington (90-yard punt return and 47-yard fumble return).

STREAKS TO REMEMBER

The Bengals record for consecutive made field goals is 13, first set by Jim Breech in 1990 and later tied by Doug Pelfrey in '93 and '95. But two other Bengals FG streaks are clearly worthy of note:

- While tying the record in 1995, Pelfrey also put together a streak of 19 made FGs in 20 attempts. His only miss among the 20 came on a try of 63 yards just before halftime Oct. 29 vs. Cleveland. Take away that low-percentage attempt, and Pelfrey would have a record-smashing Bengals streak of 19 straight FGs.

- Over the 1973-74 seasons, Horst Muhlmann knocked home 14 straight field goals. But three of the kicks came during a 1973 season playoff game against Miami, and postseason games form a separate category in record-keeping.

10 WINS, NO PLAYOFFS

The best Bengals team to miss out on postseason play was coach Bill Johnson's 1976 club, which went 10-4 but lost a tiebreaker to Pittsburgh for the AFC Central title. Only one Wild Card team made the playoffs from each conference at that time, and the berth went to an 11-3 New England club that lost a tiebreaker in the AFC East. One other Bengals team — the 1986 club — won 10 games (10-6) and failed to make the playoffs.

MAJOR IMPROVEMENT

Since the NFL instituted the 16-game schedule in 1978, teams have posted 2-14 records 17 times. The 2002 Bengals were one of those, and the '03 Bengals were one of only three among those 17 who rose the next year to a .500 or better winning percentage.

The 1980 Detroit Lions finished 9-7, and the New England Patriots went 5-4 in the strike-shortened '82 campaign. The Patriots were the only club to reach the postseason after a 2-14 year, and they did it as qualifiers for the expanded "Super Bowl tournament" held after the 1982 strike season.

Here's a look how the 17 teams to finish 2-14 did the following season:

| Year | Team          | Record | Pct. |
|------|---------------|--------|------|
| 1979 | San Francisco | 2-14-0 | .125 |

BENGALS TOUGH IN OVERTIME

The Bengals are among the NFL's elite teams in regular-season overtime games, with a 14-9-0 record and .609 winning percentage.

The Bengals rank tied for 8th in the NFL in most total overtime victories.

Former Bengals kicker Jim Breech kicked an NFL-record nine winning field goals in overtime, never missing one in an extra period.

ROAD IS SWEET IN OT

Recent Bengals results have shown the home field "advantage" to be no edge at all in overtime games. The visiting team has won seven of the last nine overtime games involving Cincinnati, as well as 10 of the last 13. In those 13 games, the Bengals are 5-1 as the overtime visitor and 2-5 as the overtime home team.

BENGALS CHRONOLOGY

Paul Brown, who left the Cleveland Browns following the 1962 season with an NFL record of 115-49-6, seven conference titles, and three NFL championships, had the urge to get back into football. His son Mike did a study on pro football expansion and recommended Cincinnati as a potential site. In 1965, Brown met with Ohio Governor James Rhodes and the two agreed the state could accommodate a second pro football team.

1966 Fearful the Reds baseball team would leave town and feeling pressure from local businessmen pushing for a pro football franchise, Cincinnati's city council approved the construction of Riverfront Stadium.

1967 Brown's group was awarded an AFL expansion franchise. Brown called the team the Bengals, the name of Cincinnati's pro teams in the old AFL of the late 1930s. The Bengals acquired their first player late in the year when they traded two draft picks to Miami for QB John Stofa.

1968 The Bengals were awarded 40 veteran players in the allocation draft. In the college draft, they selected Tennessee center Bob Johnson as their first pick. The Bengals lost their first preseason game, 38-14, to Kansas City, before 21,682 fans at Nippert Stadium. The Bengals upset Denver, 24-10, and Buffalo, 34-23, in their first two regular-season home games. Paul Robinson led the AFL in rushing with 1,023 yards and he was named Rookie of the Year.

1969 Brown drafted quarterback Greg Cook of the Univ. of Cincinnati in the first round. The same draft also produced linebacker Bill Bergey. The Bengals jumped out to a 3-0 record, but finished 4-9-1. Brown was named AFL Coach of the Year. Bergey was honored as the AFL Defensive Rookie of the Year, and Cook won the AFL passing title.

1970 The NFL-AFL merger took place before the season, and the Bengals made their first NFL campaign a memorable one. After losing 6 of their first 7 games, they rallied to finish 8-6 and win the new AFC Central Division. In their first playoff game, they lost, 17-0, to eventual Super Bowl champion Baltimore. QB Greg Cook was forced to the Injured Reserve list in training camp with a shoulder injury that would end his career, and Virgil Carter took over as the starter.

1971 The Bengals drafted QB Ken Anderson in the third round. Anderson would go on to play 16 seasons for the club and set numerous team passing records.

1972 Anderson unseated Carter as the starting QB and the Bengals won three of the last four games to finish 8-6. DT Mike Reid and WR Chip Myers were selected for the Pro Bowl.

1973 The Bengals split their first eight games, then swept their last six and won their second AFC Central Division title. Cincinnati lost to Miami, 34-16, in the AFC playoffs. Rookie Boobie Clark, who finished the year with 988 yards rushing and 45 pass receptions, was named AFC Rookie of the Year. Essex Johnson led Cincinnati with a career-high 997 yards rushing and rookie Isaac Curtis caught 45 passes.

1974 Cincinnati traded Bill Bergey to Philadelphia for two first-round draft choices and a third-round pick in 1977. Jim LeClair replaced Bergey at middle linebacker. Anderson won the NFL passing championship and completed a club-record 64.9 percent of his attempts. Cornerback Lemar Parrish led the NFL in punt returns.

1975 The Bengals opened with six straight wins and went on to post an 11-3 record, their best regular-season mark. The Bengals qualified as the AFC wild card team for the playoffs, but they lost to Oakland, 31-28, in the playoffs. Anderson won his second NFL passing championship. A serious blow was the loss of defensive tackle Mike Reid, who retired at age 26 to pursue a career in music.

1976 Brown announced his retirement after 41 seasons of coaching and named Bill Johnson, his long-time assistant, as the successor. Brown continued to serve as the club's general manager and vice president. The Bengals acquired defensive end Coy Bacon in a trade with San Diego and drafted halfback Archie Griffin, the two-time Heisman Trophy winner from Ohio State. The Bengals won nine of their first 11 games and finished 10-4, but did not make the playoffs. Cornerback Ken Riley led the AFC with nine interceptions.

1977 A loss to Houston in the final game cost the Bengals a spot in the playoffs. The team finished with an 8-6 record.

1978 QB Ken Anderson missed the first four games with a broken bone in his right hand, and Homer Rice replaced Bill Johnson as head coach after the Bengals started 0-5. The team dipped to marks of 0-8 and 1-12 before rebounding under Rice to win the last three games. In the season finale, the Bengals blasted Cleveland, 48-16, setting series records for points and victory margin.

1979 Fullback Pete Johnson powered his way to 15 touchdowns, but the Bengals struggled to their second straight 4-12 record. After the season, former Cleveland coach Forrest Gregg was named to replace Rice as Bengals head coach.

1980 The Bengals went 6-10 and managed only 244 points, lowest in the AFC. They did upset defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh twice. First-round draft choice Anthony Munoz began his Hall of Fame career.

1981 The Bengals unveiled new uniforms with tiger-striped helmets, jerseys and pants. They had at least a share of the AFC Central lead the entire season and, on Dec. 13, Anderson threw two touchdown passes as the Bengals clinched the division with a 17-10 win over the Steelers. Anderson led the NFL in passing with a 98.5 rating. On Jan. 3, the Bengals beat Buffalo, 28-21, in an AFC Divisional Playoff game. A week later, playing in their first AFC Championship Game, the Bengals defeated San Diego, 27-7, at Riverfront Stadium in a temperature of nine degrees below zero with a wind-chill factor of minus-59. In Super Bowl XVI on Jan. 24 in Pontiac, Mich., the Bengals trailed 20-0 at halftime and lost to San Francisco, 26-21.

1982 The Bengals posted a 7-2 record in a strike-shortened season to earn a postseason berth, but lost to the Jets in the first round of the playoffs, 44-17. Anderson led the AFC in passing for the fourth time as the Bengals boasted the second-best offense in the NFL.

1983 The Bengals started the season by losing six of their first seven games and finished 7-9. Despite the losing record, the Bengals claimed the top overall defense in the NFL. In the offseason, Gregg resigned as head coach and Sam Wyche was named as his replacement.

1984 Pete Johnson was traded to San Diego for running back James Brooks. The Bengals lost their first five games, then bounced back to win eight of the last 11 and force the AFC Central Division championship race into the final week of the season, only to fall a game short of Pittsburgh. Cincinnati finished 8-8.

1985 Wide receiver Isaac Curtis, a premier Bengal for 12 years, retired shortly before training camp opened. Second-year QB Boomer Esiason replaced Ken Anderson. The Bengals set a club scoring record with 441 points.

1986 Boomer Esiason passed for a team-record 3959 yards and James Brooks rushed for 1087 yards as the Bengals went 10-6, narrowly missing a playoff berth. Linebacker Reggie Williams was selected NFL Man of the Year for his efforts to charity and the community.

1987 The Bengals posted a 4-11 record in a strike-interrupted season. Individual bright spots included Jim Breech leading the AFC in scoring with 97 points, Anthony Munoz being voted to his seventh straight Pro Bowl, and nose tackle Tim Krumrie making his first Pro Bowl.

1988 The Bengals brought about one of the biggest turnarounds in NFL history by rising from their 4-11 finish of 1987 to a 12-4 regular-season record. They won the AFC Central Division title, and defeated Buffalo, 21-10, for the AFC Championship on Jan. 8 (1989). On Jan. 22 (1989), they appeared in their second Super Bowl and lost, 20-16, to San Francisco when the 49ers scored a touchdown with 34 seconds remaining in the game. Coach Sam Wyche's team posted a 14-5 mark in regular and postseason play, best in the NFL. Wyche received numerous honors for his brilliant coaching and nine Bengals were selected for the Pro Bowl — QB Boomer Esiason, NT Tim Krumrie, OT Anthony Munoz, G Max Montoya, TE Rodney Holman, WR Eddie Brown, RB James Brooks, S David Fulcher and CB Eric Thomas. Esiason was voted the NFL's Most Valuable Player. In January of '88, LB Reggie Williams received the "Sportsman of the Year" award from Sports Illustrated. Rookie "Ickey" Woods led the Bengals in rushing with 1,066 yards.

1989 The Bengals traded their first round draft choice to Atlanta for three later selections. Hit hard by injuries throughout the season, the Bengals went 8-8 and narrowly missed a spot in the playoffs, despite outscoring the opposition 404-285.

1990 The Bengals posted a 9-7 regular-season record to win the AFC Central Division and move into the playoffs, where they defeated the Houston Oilers, 41-14, before losing to the Los Angeles Raiders, 20-10, in the second round.

1991 Paul Brown, founder of the Bengals and a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, died Aug. 5. The Bengals had a 3-13 season record. Dave Shula replaced Sam Wyche as head coach following the season.

1992 The Bengals had a 5-11 record, but Harold Green rushed for 1,170 yards and was selected to play in the Pro Bowl. All-Pro OT Anthony Munoz played his final game.

1993 Quarterback Boomer Esiason was traded to the

New Jets for a third-round draft choice. The young Bengals lost their first 10 games before defeating the Raiders. Cincinnati then had wins over the Rams and Falcons in the final weeks of the season to finish 3-13.

1994 The Bengals lost their first eight games of the season. With quarterbacks David Klingler and Erik Wilhelm sidelined with injuries, third-string QB Jeff Blake started in Game 8 against two-time defending Super Bowl champion Dallas and nearly pulled off an upset before losing, 23-20. Blake kept his starting role for the rest of the season, passing for 2154 yards and 14 TDs. The Bengals finished 3-13.

1995 The Bengals traded up in the draft's first round for the first time, and selected Penn State RB Ki-Jana Carter with the No. 1 overall pick, obtained from Carolina. Carter suffered a knee injury in the third preseason game and missed his entire rookie season. Nonetheless, the Bengals made a dramatic improvement over the previous four years, going 7-9 with five losses by just three points each. QB Jeff Blake, WR Carl Pickens and PK Doug Pelfrey posted record Bengal seasons, and Blake and Pickens went on to start in the Pro Bowl.

1996 On March 19, Hamilton County voters approved a half-cent sales tax increase to fund two new stadiums, taking a major step to ensure the Bengals' future in Cincinnati. The team lost six of its first seven games, but Cincinnati's fortunes took a U-turn after offensive coordinator Bruce Coslet was promoted to head coach Oct. 21, replacing Dave Shula. Coslet directed the team to a 7-2 finish, including a 5-0 mark at Cinergy Field, and the final 8-8 record was Cincinnati's first .500-or-better season since 1990. The defense set a team record with 34 interceptions, and CB Ashley Ambrose was named a Pro Bowl starter along with WR Carl Pickens, who caught 100 passes to break his own team reception record.

1997 The Bengals and Hamilton County officials reached agreement on a western riverfront site for a new football stadium, and on May 29, team president Mike Brown signed a lease committing the team through 2026. The team and the county declined to sell naming rights, christening the facility Paul Brown Stadium in honor of the Bengals' founder. The team held training camp in a new complex at Georgetown (Ky.) College, ending its 29-year arrangement at Wilmington (Ohio) College. On the field, the team suffered a 1-7 start but rallied to go 6-2 in the second half and finish 7-9. Rookie HB Corey Dillon rushed for 1129 yards, third-most in club history, and his 246-yard effort vs. Tennessee on Dec. 4 broke Jim Brown's 40-year-old NFL single-game rookie record. Boomer Esiason started the last five games at QB and posted a 106.9 passer rating for the season.

1998 Demolition work for Paul Brown Stadium began early in the year, and official groundbreaking for the new facility was held April 25. HB Corey Dillon rushed for 1130 yards, third-most in team history, and became the first Bengal to top the 1000-yard rushing mark in each of his first two seasons.

1999 Throughout the year, work continued on Paul Brown Stadium, the team's new, state-of-the-art home on the Cincinnati riverfront. But the final season at Cinergy Field was not a success, as the team endured a 1-10 start before rallying to win three of its last five for a 4-12 finish.

Corey Dillon rushed his way to the Pro Bowl with 1200 yards, second-most in team history. Kickoff returner Tremain Mack also made the Pro Bowl, leading the AFC with a club-record average of 27.1 yards per return.

2000 The Paul Brown Stadium era began on Aug. 19, as the Bengals christened Cincinnati's new football showplace with a 24-20 preseason win over the Chicago Bears. WR Peter Warrick scored the first Bengals points in PBS on a 14-yard end-around run in the first quarter. In the stadium's Grand Opening regular-season game Sept. 10 vs. Cleveland, a Cincinnati sports record crowd of 64,006 turned out, but the Browns won the game, 24-7. Rookie WR Ron Dugans scored the first Bengals regular-season points in PBS on a 4-yard TD pass from Akili Smith. The Bengals drew four other crowds which exceeded the pre-PBS record for a sports crowd in Cincinnati, but the Browns game stood as the new record. On Sept. 25, following an 0-3 start to the season, Bruce Coslet resigned as head coach and was replaced by assistant head coach/defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau. The team finished 4-9 under LeBeau, including 4-6 in the final 10 games and a 2-2 mark in the final four. On Dec. 20, LeBeau signed a multi-year contract to begin in 2001. LeBeau's first victory, on Oct. 22 vs. Denver, featured an NFL-record 278 rushing yards by Corey Dillon, who went on to set a Bengals record of 1435 yards for the season, earning his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl.

2001 In his first full season as Bengals head coach, Dick LeBeau fashioned a two-game improvement over the previous season with a 6-10 record. It was the Bengals' most wins since 1997. The team displayed a foundation for the future in a young defense that ranked No. 9 in the NFL, the club's highest rank since 1989. HB Corey Dillon led the offense with 1315 rushing yards, second-most in team history — behind his own 1435 total of the year before — and Dillon moved to within 238 yards of James Brooks for the all-time team rushing lead. Security procedures at Paul Brown Stadium were significantly increased in response to the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, but the full home schedule was played without incident. On Oct. 14, the Bengals re-set their own record for the largest crowd ever at a Cincinnati sports event, as 64,217 fans watched Cincinnati defeat Cleveland, 24-14. Due to the terrorist attacks, the Bengals' Sept. 16 game at Tennessee was postponed, and the season was extended a week to allow postponed games to be played the weekend of Jan. 6 (2002).

2002 The Bengals entered the season with high hopes after an encouraging 2001 finish. But despite some noteworthy individual performances, the team sunk to the worst record (2-14) in franchise history. The team was hit hard by injuries, losing the league's second-highest number of games by starters. The offense got off to a very slow start with free agent signee Gus Frerotte at QB, and Cincinnati was outscored 119-23 in the first four games. The offense perked up noticeably after 2001 starter, Jon Kitna, returned to the No. 1 QB role. For the first time since 1989, Cincinnati had a 3000-yard passer (Kitna), a 1000-yard rusher (Corey Dillon) and a 1000-yard receiver (Chad Johnson). The Bengals set a team record for pass completions (350). But the team was 0-7 before getting a win at Houston. The defense was inconsistent, and with 9 touchdowns allowed on special teams or by the offense, the Bengals as a team allowed the second-most points (456) in club history. On Dec. 30, it was announced that head coach Dick LeBeau would not be retained for 2003.

2003 The Bengals launched a new era on Jan. 14, when Marvin Lewis was hired as the ninth head coach in franchise history. The results wound up being nationally noted, as the club drew a record regular-season attendance of 479,488 to watch Lewis' first team finish 8-8, six games better than the 2-14 Bengals of 2002. Architect of the Baltimore Ravens' record-setting Super Bowl defense in 2000, Lewis received a broad mandate from ownership to implement his program. Though the Bengals missed the playoffs — eliminated on the final weekend of the season — their six-game improvement was the biggest of any NFL team from '02 to '03. It was also the second-biggest one-year improvement in Bengals history. Lewis finished second to Bill Belichick, coach of the World Champion New England Patriots, in Associated Press voting for NFL Coach of the Year. The season included the four largest pro sports crowds in Cincinnati history, topped by 65,362 on Dec. 28 vs. Cleveland, and the highlight game was a 24-19 win on Nov. 16 over an unbeaten (9-0) Kansas City team. WR Chad Johnson led the AFC with 1355 receiving yards, and LOT Willie Anderson joined Johnson in the Pro Bowl. Prior to the season, the Bengals had the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL Draft for the third time in team history, and chose Southern California QB Carson Palmer. Palmer did not play as a rookie, as veteran Jon Kitna was the only NFL QB to play every offensive snap for his team.

EARLY 2004: The team announced in February its intention to install a synthetic playing surface at Paul Brown Stadium, replacing the grass field that had been in use since 2000. In early July, the job was completed on a new FieldTurf surface. In March, head coach Marvin Lewis announced that Carson Palmer, top overall pick in the 2003 Draft, was promoted to the team's No. 1 QB job for 2004. The team also made its most significant uniform change since 1981. The signature striped helmet was not changed, but the jersey design was modernized, black pants were added as a regular option to white pants, and a special-occasion orange jersey was added.

GET THE POINT?

Only three times in the Bengals' 36 seasons has a non-kicker led the team in scoring. In 1979, FB Pete Johnson was the team's leading scorer with 90 points (15 TDs). FB Ickey Woods led the 1988 Bengals with 90 points (15 TDs), and in 2001, HB Corey Dillon scored a team-high 78 points (13 TDs).

The Bengals' single-season scoring record is held by K Doug Pelfrey, who scored 121 points in 1995 (29 FGs, 34 PATs).

CINCINNATI PRO FOOTBALL HISTORY

Cincinnati was home to two other football teams in the National Football League prior to the present-day Bengals.

One of the teams, known as the Cincinnati Celts, was a member of the NFL — then known as the American Professional Football Association — in the league's second season in 1921. That team finished with a 1-3-0 record in its only season.

In 1933, the NFL granted the city another franchise, this time called the Cincinnati Reds. They competed in the league for two seasons before folding. The Reds finished with a 3-6-1 record and fourth place in the league's Western Division in 1933. In 1934, they lost their first eight games before suspending operations. The St. Louis Gunners, an independent team, joined the NFL by buying the Cincinnati franchise and went 1-2 the last three weeks of the season.

It was a third team, however — one which was not a member of the NFL — that eventually proved to be the closest link to today's modern-era team.

In 1937, a team called the Cincinnati Bengals was formed as a member of the rival American Football League. It was that team's nickname which was later adopted by today's NFL franchise.

The 1937 Bengals finished with a 2-4-2 record in their first year, but the AFL folded after the season. The Bengals continued as an independent team in 1938, playing three NFL teams that year. They beat the Chicago Bears, 17-13, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, 38-0, and tied the Chicago Cardinals, 7-7.

In 1939, the Bengals joined a new AFL, finishing in second place with a 6-2 record. But again, the league folded after the season.

Once again in 1940, another new AFL emerged, and again the Bengals joined. They recorded 1-7-0 and 1-5-2 marks in 1940 and '41, respectively. That AFL suffered the fate of the two AFLs before it, folding after the 1941 season as the United States entered World War II. Only this time, the Bengals folded along with it.

Pro football returned to Cincinnati 26 years later, in 1967, when Paul Brown headed an ownership group which landed an expansion franchise in the modern-era American Football League. Brown, a Pro Football Hall of Famer who founded and coached the Cleveland Browns from 1946-62, picked the name Bengals for the new team "to give it a link with past professional football in Cincinnati."

Hundreds of names were suggested by fans in an effort to name the new Cincinnati team, the most popular being Buckeyes. It was rejected to avoid confusion with the Ohio State Buckeyes.

The Bengals began play in the AFL in 1968. The AFL merged with the NFL in 1970.

DOUBLING UP

Twice in Bengals history, a Cincinnati player has managed 100-plus yards both rushing and receiving on the same day. HB Essex Johnson was the first, rushing for 121 yards on 21 carries and getting 116 yards on 2 receptions on Sept. 30, 1973 at San Diego. He stood alone in the category until Dec. 7, 1986, when HB James Brooks burned the Patriots at New England for 163 yards on 18 rushes and 101 yards on 6 receptions. Cincinnati won both games.

Bengals opponents have managed double 100-yard performances twice, and Cincinnati lost both of those games. On Nov. 23, 1975, Cleveland HB Greg Pruitt had 121 yards on 17 rushes and 106 yards on 7 receptions vs. Cincinnati at Cleveland Stadium. On Sept. 22, 1985, San Diego RB Lionel James became the only NFL player to record dual 100s at Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field). James had 127 yards on 12 rushes and 118 yards on 5 receptions.

BENGALS IN SUPER BOWL XVI

San Francisco 26, Bengals 21

Jan. 24, 1982, at Pontiac Silverdome (Pontiac, Mich.)

Coach Forrest Gregg's Bengals outgained San Francisco by 81 yards (356-275), marking the first time in the game's history the losing team led in yardage. Cincinnati QB Ken Anderson set Super Bowl records (since surpassed) for completions (25) and completion percentage (73.5), and Anderson's 300 passing yards nearly doubled the 157 by Joe Montana of the 49ers. But Cincinnati suffered four turnovers to San Francisco's one, and three of those giveaways led to 17 first-half points for the 49ers, who led 20-0 at intermission.

Leading 20-7, the 49ers staged a memorable goal-line stand late in the third quarter, stopping the Bengals for no gain on three straight plays from the one-yard line. The Bengals still closed the gap to 20-14 with 10:06 left in the fourth quarter, but the 49ers increased their lead to 26-14 on two Ray Wersching field goals before the Bengals crept to within 26-21 on the game's second Anderson-to-Dan Ross TD pass with 16 seconds to play. Dwight Clark's recovery of a Bengals outside kick sealed the victory for San Francisco.

BENGALS IN SUPER BOWL XXIII

San Francisco 20, Bengals 16

Jan. 22, 1989, at Joe Robbie Stadium (Miami, Fla.)

Commissioner Pete Rozelle termed it the most exciting of the first 23 games in Super Bowl history, and the result regained some respect for the AFC, which had lost the last four games by an average of more than 27 points. But the dominant emotion of the day still was heartbreak for coach Sam Wyche's underdog Bengals, who took a 16-13 lead with 3:20 to play on Jim Breech's 40-yard field goal before succumbing to a 92-yard, 11-play TD drive led by San Francisco QB Joe Montana. John Taylor's game-winning 10-yard TD catch came with just 34 seconds remaining. Never before had a Super Bowl been won on a TD so late in the game.

The Bengals played almost the entire game without All-Pro NT Tim Krumrie, who suffered a severe leg fracture early in the first quarter.

The teams were tied 3-3 at halftime, tied again at 6-6 late in the third quarter, and then swapped touchdowns in quick succession. A 93-yard kickoff return by Cincinnati's Stanford Jennings was countered by a four-play San Francisco TD drive. The third of Breech's three field goals gave Cincinnati its third lead of the day before Montana's final heroics saved the day for San Francisco. The victory made San Francisco the first NFC team to win three Super Bowls.

Anthony Munoz puts Bengals stamp on Pro Football Hall of Fame

Anthony Munoz, an athletically gifted giant who defined the art of playing offensive tackle in the National Football League, is the first primary Bengals player to gain entry to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Munoz was inducted, along with four other players, on Aug. 1, 1998, at the Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

Munoz chose his son, Michael, as his presenter for the Hall of Fame induction ceremony. Munoz and his wife, DeDe, also have a daughter, Michelle.

1998 was the first year of Hall eligibility for Munoz, whose final NFL season was 1992 with the Bengals. Including the 2004 class, only 25 percent of Hall inductees have had the honor of first-ballot election (57 of 225).

"Anthony's induction was very gratifying to our organization and to all of our fans," said Mike Brown, Bengals president. "It was particularly so because the selectors recognized Anthony as a truly special player and person who deserved election on his first try. During his playing days, no one in the NFL was better. It's justifiable to consider him as the best offensive lineman ever, and he has conducted his personal and family life in a way that is a great credit to the Bengals and the NFL."

Munoz' off-field efforts earned him the NFL's prestigious Man of the Year Award in 1991.

Munoz was a consensus All-American at the University of Southern California, and the Bengals claimed him with the third overall pick in the 1980 draft, despite the fact some teams considered him damaged goods due to past knee surgery. The move turned out as the best draft gamble in franchise history, as Munoz went on to play 13 Bengals seasons (1980-92), including 11 seasons (1981-91) in which he was chosen for the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl game. At the time of his retirement (1992), that was the most selections of any player in NFL history. He earned All-Pro honors every season from 1981-91.

Munoz played for the Bengals in each of their Super Bowl appearances, as a second-year player in Super Bowl XVI and as a ninth-year veteran in Super Bowl XXIII.

In 1994, he was one of three offensive tackles named to the NFL's official 75th Anniversary Team. He joined his fellow tackles from that 75th Anniversary Team — Forrest Gregg and Roosevelt Brown — in the Hall of Fame.

Munoz' exceptional agility and athleticism is reflected by his entry line in the Bengals' all-time pass receiving statistics. He caught seven passes, playing as a tackle-eligible, and four of those catches were for touchdowns.

In six of his 13 Bengals seasons, Munoz earned at least one major award as NFL Offensive Lineman of the Year. One award citation, issued by NFL Alumni, reads: "The NFL has three levels of offensive linemen. The bottom rung is for players aspiring to make the Pro Bowl. The next step is for those who have earned all-star status. Then there's Anthony Munoz. He's alone at the top, a sure Hall of Famer."

Though there are Hall of Fame members with some Hispanic ancestry, Munoz is generally considered the first player of primarily Hispanic background to gain entry to the Hall. Munoz was born in Ontario, Calif. His parents also are native Californians, and his grandparents were born in Chihuahua, Mexico.

One other Hall of Fame player, wide receiver Charlie Joiner, has a Bengals connection. But Joiner played the majority of his NFL career with the San Diego Chargers. Paul Brown, founder of the Bengals and the Cleveland Browns, also is in the Hall of Fame, but was inducted before the Bengals' first season.

The other 1998 Hall of Fame inductees were defensive back Paul Krause, wide receiver Tommy McDonald, center Dwight Stephenson and linebacker Mike Singletary.

WHAT THEY'VE SAID ABOUT ANTHONY MUNOZ

- Ritter Collett, Dayton Daily News columnist: "Anthony Munoz is one of those rare athletes you wish could go on playing forever. Not just because he may be as fine a tackle as ever played in the NFL. Tackles come and go. Quality human beings who put more back into society than they take out are something else."
- Former Bengals head coach Forrest Gregg, recalling a pre-draft workout in 1980: "I was pass-rushing him. I put a couple of moves on him and thought I had him set up. But he just jammed me with that big right paw, and I landed right on my rear. I didn't need any more. Right then, I knew we would take him in the draft if he was available. He apologized for knocking me down, but I said, 'Son, don't worry. It was a great move.'"
- Jim McNally, Bengals offensive line coach, 1980-94: "The key word is 'athlete.' In the offensive line, you see a lot of guys who are big and strong and fine players, but they're not great athletes. Anthony is a great athlete."
- Joe Walter, Bengals OT, 1985-97: "Anthony played great every Sunday for 13 years. Every Monday, I was in the film room, watching him. It was awesome."

BENGALS UNIFORMS — THEN & NOW

1968-79 — THE ORIGINAL

The original Bengals uniform pictured here debuted when the team began play in the modern-era American Football League in 1968, and it defined the team's appearance well beyond the AFL's merger with the National Football League in 1970. Except for its socks and shoes, this uniform remained unchanged for 12 seasons through 1979.

The helmet was orange with a gray facemask. Simple in design, it had "Bengals" arched across both sides in black letters. The letters were black with a thin white outline.

This original uniform had both a black jersey and a white jersey. The black jersey had one orange stripe surrounded by two white stripes on each sleeve. Its uniform numbers were white block numerals, appearing on both the front and back. Likewise, its nameplate had white block letters. The white jersey had an orange stripe surrounded by black stripes on each sleeve, its uniform numbers were black block numerals on the front and back, and it had black block letters on the nameplate.

The team wore the same white pants with both the black and white jerseys of this uniform. The pants had one orange stripe surrounded by two black stripes on the side of each leg. The stripes ran the full length of the legs.

For its first seven seasons, the team wore two sock designs, based on whether it was wearing a black or a white jersey. With black jerseys, the team wore black-topped socks — white socks with a black top from the rim to the bottom of the calf. In the middle of the black top appeared one orange stripe surrounded by two white stripes, matching the striping pattern on the black jersey's sleeves. With white jerseys, the team wore white socks with mid-calf striping that matched the pants and the white jersey's sleeves — one orange stripe surrounded by two black stripes.

The team wore the socks pictured here through 1974. In 1975, the team began wearing only one sock design, regardless of whether it was wearing a black or a white jersey. That sock, pictured with the 1980 uniform illustration on the following page, was white, and at its mid-calf had one black stripe surrounded by two orange stripes.

The team primarily wore black shoes through 1973, and white shoes in 1974 and thereafter.

Interesting facts from this uniform era:

• Black shoes were in — then out of — style, and now they're back again: During this time period, neither the AFL nor the NFL had rules requiring players on the same teams to wear shoes of the same color. In the franchise's first six seasons through 1973, most Bengals players chose to wear black shoes. In 1974, the team's dominant shoe color shifted to white. Not until 1990 did the NFL begin to regulate shoe colors. To help standardize uniforms, the league required each team to select a primary shoe color. The Bengals chose white, since that was still the players' color of choice at the time. The white shoes continued to remain in place through 2003. At the players' request, the team switched back to black shoes with its 2004 uniform redesign.

• Incorrect stripes were placed on cold-weather jersey: For the entire run of this uniform, the stripes on the sleeves of the official Bengals jersey were slightly separated, while the stripes on the sides of the legs and around the calves of the socks were joined together. However, in wintry conditions throughout this time period, the team often wore special cold-weather versions of its jersey that had long sleeves extending to mid-forearm. Due to an oversight in the designing process at the manufacturer, the stripes on the cold-weather jersey were joined, just like the striping on the pants and the socks. The discrepancy was never corrected. The cold-weather jersey was worn as needed through the late-1970s. When the uniform was changed in 1980 — and again in '81 — the team chose not to create another cold-weather jersey. In wintry conditions from that point on, players instead wore jerseys with normal-length sleeves on top of long-sleeve undershirts.

1980 — THE CHANGE BEFORE THE CHANGE

While the overall original appearance remained intact, the Bengals' uniform underwent three alterations in 1980 to constitute a subtle — yet noticeable — uniform change.

On the helmet, the team switched facemask colors from gray to black and added black uniform numbers on the back.

On the jersey, the team added uniform numbers to the sides of the sleeves, just above the existing stripes. And on the pants, the orange stripe was widened to about twice its original thickness, though the width of the surrounding black stripes remained the same.

The socks pictured here — white, with one black stripe surrounded by two orange stripes at its mid-calf — had actually been the team's lone sock design since 1975.

Interesting facts from this uniform era:

• Television changed football, including the uniforms: The popularity of professional football grew immensely from the 1960s through the '80s, and much of the NFL's progress throughout that era was attributed to significant television exposure. Television changed the game in many ways, both substantially and minutely. When the Bengals added uniform numbers to the sides of their jersey sleeves in 1980, they were following a slow, evolving uniform design trend that started in the mid-1960s as a result of the league's desire to become more viewer-friendly on television. In fact, uniform numbers that were added to sleeves or shoulders were referred to as "TV numbers," since their placement was intended to aid broadcast announcers and viewers in quickly identifying players from various camera angles. The league did not have a rule requiring teams to place TV numbers on uniforms until 1991, though by that time nearly all uniforms already had them. Also in 1980, the Bengals added uniform numbers to the team's helmet. Those numbers, however, were affixed for the purpose of quickly identifying which player a helmet belonged to if it was taken off and set down during a game. There still is no league rule requiring teams to place uniform numbers on helmets.

• The new pants were official in 1980, but debuted in '79: While the Bengals did not officially add the pants with the widened orange stripe to their uniform until 1980, that design actually appeared on a limited trial basis in 1979. The 1979 trials were not team-wide, with only a few players wearing the new design during select games that season.

1981-96 — THE STRIPES

In 1981, the Bengals introduced a bold new uniform which was dramatically different than the relatively conservative designs the team had used since 1968.

Perhaps the most eye-catching distinction of the complete makeover was the team's new helmet. The helmet remained orange and retained its black facemask, but replacing the block-letter "Bengals" logotype were the team's new signature tiger stripes. Six black tiger stripes were placed on the helmet, extending from one side to the other.

Paul Brown, the team's founder who then held the title of Vice President and General Manager, said the team wanted a helmet that would be instantly identifiable with the Cincinnati franchise, something akin to the Baltimore Colts' horseshoe helmet and the San Diego Chargers' lightning bolt helmet.

"You couldn't read 'Bengals' on our helmet from a distance," Brown said at the time. "When you were far away, it looked like Cleveland's helmet."

The black jersey, the white jersey and the white pants of the new uniform featured a black tiger-stripe pattern on top of a wide orange stripe. On the jerseys, the pattern appeared on the shoulders. On the pants, it extended straight down the full length of each leg.

In addition, the uniform numbers on the front and back, as well as those on sides of the sleeves, were given orange outlines. The letters on the players' nameplates, however, remained solid color — white on the black jersey, and black on the white jersey — and were not given outlines.

The new uniform was assigned orange-topped socks — white socks with an orange top from the rim to the bottom of the calf. The team's primary shoe color remained white.

Interesting facts from this uniform era:

- Sleeves became shorter over time: From when the Bengals began play in 1968 through the mid-80s, the length of the sleeves on the team's official jerseys were somewhat long by today's standards, reaching to just above the elbow. In 1987, sleeves began to be shortened to the current-day length, reaching only to mid-biceps. By 1991, all of the team's jerseys were made with the shorter sleeves, and the original elbow-length sleeves were never produced again.

- NFL marks were added in 1991: Not pictured here, small NFL shield logos were added to the Bengals' helmets, jerseys and pants in 1991. All NFL teams added the logos as part of a minor league-wide alteration. On the helmets, the shields appeared in the rear left area. On the jerseys, it appeared on the front center of the collar. And on the pants, it was placed on the front left area just below the waist. In 2002, the NFL Equipment logo replaced the shield logos on the jerseys and the pants, though the shield remained on the helmet. Though they are not included on these 1981-96 uniform illustrations, the shield and equipment logos are incorporated into the 1997-2003 and '03-present illustrations on the following two pages, respectively.

1997-2003 — THE UPDATED STRIPES

In 1997, the Bengals introduced alterations to their uniform which were termed “evolutionary, not revolutionary.” While the helmet remained unchanged and the general look of the uniform remained intact, several modifications were made on the jerseys, pants and socks.

Perhaps the most notable of the changes was the addition of the team’s new leaping tiger logo on the sleeves of the jersey. Because the new logo was placed where uniform numbers previously had been, the numbers on the sleeves were moved to the tops of the shoulders.

Also on the jersey, the black tiger-stripe patterns on the shoulders were simplified with wider stripes. The white jersey was altered further to include black trim on the sleeves and collar. And the letters on the nameplates of both the black jersey and white jersey were given orange outlines to match the jersey numbers, which had been given orange outlines in the uniform’s 1981 redesign.

On the pants, the black tiger-stripe patterns on the sides of the legs were simplified with wider stripes to match the new jersey stripes. And, the orange-topped socks the team had been wearing since 1981 were replaced by black-topped socks.

Interesting facts from this uniform era:

- Another not so noticeable change was made in 1997:

There was another alteration made with this Bengals uniform change — not in design, but in makeup. All of the jersey numbers and the letters of the nameplates were converted from printed images to stitched fabric. The stitched fabric process — called “tackle twill” — produced more vivid colors, and the result was much more durable. With the nameplate letters and the jersey numerals altered to tackle twill, the black tiger-stripe pattern on the shoulders and pants were the only remaining printed items. The tiger stripes were not changed because the additional stitching required for tackle twill would have significantly reduced the elasticity of the ends of the shoulders and the sides of the pants. And, since those were considered high-stretch areas, the print process remained the better choice for the tiger stripes.

- Incorrect stripes were placed on 1999 pants: Two years after the Bengals made the 1997 alterations, a new manufacturer of the uniforms mistakenly produced pants with the previous tiger-stripe pattern that was used from 1981-96. The discrepancy was considered minor, since most of the 1997 alterations had occurred on the jersey. In fact, the mistake wasn’t even noticed until after the 1999 season had started. Thus, the team wore the incorrectly-striped pants for the rest of the season, and the error was corrected for the following year.

1997-2003

NOTE: These black pants were worn in two games in 2003 only (see 2004-present interesting fact on the following page).

2004/PRESENT — THE NEW STRIPES

For the first time in 23 years and just the second time in team history, the Bengals' uniform underwent a complete redesign in 2004.

The team's signature tiger-striped helmet, widely considered among the most distinctive in football since its introduction in 1981, was not altered. The changes to the rest of the new uniform, however, were numerous.

The most noticeable differences from the previous design were the additions of a third jersey, a second pant and a second sock. To supplement its regular black and white jerseys, the team added a special-occasion orange jersey which could be worn in up to two games per year. Black pants were added to the lineup, marking the first time in team history that pants of a color other than white were officially part of the team's uniform. And, the orange-topped sock — worn in the 1981-96 uniform era — returned to the lineup as a mix-and-match option, joining the black-topped sock introduced in '97.

All three jerseys displayed a new tiger-stripe pattern on the shoulders. The black jersey featured orange sleeves, and orange trim on the sleeves and collar. The white and orange jerseys had black sleeves, with black sleeve and collar trim. The sleeves of all three jerseys were given white undersides.

On the black and orange jerseys, the white undersides on the sleeves continued as wide stripes down the sides.

Modern, more rounded numerals replaced the block-letter uniform numbers that had adorned Bengals jerseys of the past, and the orange outline on the new numbers was given a shadow effect. In addition, the leaping tiger logo was removed from the sleeve, while the team's new striped "B" logo was placed in the center of the chest area, just below the neckline.

Both pants featured a new tiger-stripe pattern on the sides of the legs. However, unlike the old stripes, the new stripes did not extend straight down the full length of the legs. Instead, the new stripes curved slightly forward to a point just above the knees.

Lastly, the team chose to revert its shoe color from white to black, which had been the primary shoe color from 1968-73.

Interesting fact from this uniform era:

• 2004 black pants were the first to be official, but not the first to be worn: The Bengals' uniform officially included black pants for the first time in team history in 2004. However, 2004 did not mark the first time the team had worn black pants in a game. A year before, in 2003, the team was granted by the NFL the option to use black pants in two games as part of the redesign process that resulted in the new 2004 uniform. The team exercised that option, wearing black pants on a temporary trial basis for both their 2003 regular-season opener and finale. Those 2003 black pants, however, possessed the team's older tiger-stripe pattern of that era (see 1997-2003 illustrations on previous page), and were never worn again. The black pants that were permanently added to the lineup in 2004 were updated with the new tiger-stripe pattern.

BENGALS LOGOS — THEN & NOW

1967-69 — RUNNING TIGER

The Cincinnati Bengals franchise was founded in 1967, a year before it began play in the modern-era American Football League. For its first logo, the team chose a caricature of a tiger, running with a football under its right arm. Flying off the tiger's head was a white helmet with another tiger's head painted on its side.

The team used this logo while they were members of the AFL through the 1969 season, though the logo never appeared on the team's uniform.

1970-80 — BLOCK-LETTERED HELMET

When the AFL merged with the NFL in 1970 — the same year the Bengals began play in the new Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field) — the team's logo shifted from the running tiger to a representation of the helmet the players had been wearing since the team began play in 1968.

The helmet representation, which like the real helmet was orange with "Bengals" arched across both sides in block letters, remained the team's logo through the 1980 season. The helmet logo, however, used much larger letters for "Bengals" than what actually appeared on the real helmets.

1981-96 — STRIPED HELMET

Prior to the Bengals' 1981 season — the season of their first Super Bowl appearance — the team introduced a bold new uniform that featured a distinctive, eye-catching new helmet that was orange with six black tiger stripes extending from one side to the other. With the uniform redesign, the team's logo changed from a representation of the block-lettered helmet to a representation of the new striped helmet.

When it was first introduced, the striped helmet logo was a two-dimensional side view with a two-barred face mask. By the end of the 1980s, the logo evolved into the image pictured here — a three-dimensional angled view with a multi-barred face mask. As a result of the angled view, only five of the six stripes are visible in this striped helmet logo.

1997-2003 — LEAPING TIGER

In 1997, the Bengals made subtle alterations to their uniforms. With the alterations, the team unveiled a new logo of a leaping tiger which adorned the sleeves of the uniform's new jersey. That new leaping tiger replaced the striped helmet as the team's primary logo.

The leaping tiger logo, pictured here with the team's logotype of that era, was an illustration of an aggressive-looking orange tiger with black stripes that matched those on the team's helmet and white facial accents. The leaping tiger's head by itself was the team's secondary logo. In addition, the striped helmet logo also was still commonly used.

2004/PRESENT — STRIPED "B"

The Bengals' uniform underwent a complete redesign in 2004. As part of the change, the team introduced a new striped "B" logo and created a new team font. Simple in design, the logo was the new font's letter B, colored orange with three black tiger stripes.

The striped B was placed in the center of the team's new jersey, just below the neckline, while the Bengals font was used to create the team's new logotype. The striped B replaced the leaping tiger as the team's primary mark, though the leaping tiger and the leaping tiger's head were kept as secondary marks and are still used frequently.

STADIUM, NFL & MEDIA

Paul Brown Stadium hits year five with honors and a bright future

Paul Brown Stadium, home of the Bengals on Cincinnati's downtown riverfront, plays host to its fifth NFL season in 2004. PBS, as the stadium is known for short, has won numerous honors and stands ready in '04 for dual debuts on ABC's Monday Night Football and ESPN's Sunday Night Football.

Long acknowledged for its innovative design and fan amenities, PBS was home to a new kind of excitement in 2003 as the Bengals drew a record home attendance of 479,488 during the regular season. That total included a game-record 65,362 on Dec. 28 vs. Cleveland.

A total of five games sold out, most in PBS history and most for the Bengals since the 1992 team sold out all eight games at Riverfront Stadium.

In 2004, Paul Brown Stadium will bring Greater Cincinnati priceless national attention as the site for nationally televised games on Sunday night, Sept. 19 vs. Miami and Monday night, Oct. 25 vs. Denver. For the full season, another record attendance year could be in store.

Fans will see the action take place on a new FieldTurf playing surface. Installation was completed on July 2 of this year.

FieldTurf is the nation's most experienced and successful vendor of synthetic grass systems. Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis said he has gotten positive feedback from players about their past experiences competing on FieldTurf.

"They've been very pleased with the consistency of the surface," Lewis said. "This is a great example of our organization's commitment to provide our players with the best environment to win."

Though PBS opened in 2000, it remained very much in the news well past its inaugural Bengals game, a preseason clash with Chicago on Aug. 19 of that year.

In 2002, in an industry rarity, the stadium was singled out by both of the nation's premier architecture magazines. In the Architectural Record and in Architecture, PBS was able to push sports stadiums onto pages usually reserved for the design elite of office buildings, museums and universities.

PAUL BROWN STADIUM

The Record named PBS as one of the four best stadiums in the world, noting its role in helping prove that "traditional architecture needn't be the answer to the problem of how to design sports stadiums that can provide iconic imagery to help revitalize cities."

Both magazines emphasized the skill with which NBBJ, the stadium's Los Angeles-based architecture firm, was able to integrate the open-air stadium design with the city.

In its story on PBS, Architecture noted: "(The stadium) is sliced open at the corners to reveal dramatic views of the (downtown) skyline and the (Ohio) river. Opening the corners of the stadium was both good urban design and good business."

The two stories came on the heels of PBS receiving the 2001 Merit Award from the American Institute of Architects (California Council). It marked the first time for an NFL stadium to receive the award from the prestigious AIA. And in May of 1998, well before its completion, studies of the stadium's design led to its being among 15 winners from a field of more than 300 projects for an American Architecture Award.

"In the best of the new stadiums, the experience of just walking in wakes you up," says Bengals president Mike Brown. "It's exciting just to be there. From day one, we made this a goal for our new stadium. We want it to be the best setting for pro football in the country, and we think our fans agree that it is."

The Bengals have hosted the 16 largest crowds ever to see a professional sports event in Cincinnati during their first four seasons at PBS. The stadium's official seating capacity is 65,328, but a number of games with attendance figures below that number have been sellouts for local TV coverage because NFL sellout policy does not include the private suite and club areas.

Before PBS, the largest crowd for a professional sports event in Cincinnati was 60,284, for a Bengals-Browns game on Oct. 17, 1971 at Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field). The largest crowd in Cincinnati history for a pro sports event other than a Bengals game is 56,393, for Game 5 of the World Series between the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox at Riverfront Stadium on Oct. 16, 1975.

Named for the Pro Football Hall of Fame legend who founded both the Cleveland Browns and Bengals franchises, Paul Brown Stadium includes 114 private suites and 7600 club seats.

PBS has been a catalyst for Cincinnati's "Rebirth of the Riverfront." It was the first completed project of a major renewal, forming the western bookend of an area now bordered on the east by the Great American Ball Park, the Reds facility that opened in March 2003. In between will be dramatic park land, new housing, and other attractions headlined by the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center, a world-class museum celebrating Cincinnati's role as a transit point for runaway slaves during the mid-1800s.

Though hailed for its futuristic design, the stadium's primary purpose is to serve as a premier venue for watching football. Almost 70 percent of the seats are along the sidelines, positioned for superior sight lines to the field.

The stadium also carries a crucial link to the past. In an era when many sports facilities carry corporate names for rights fees, Cincinnati's stadium bears only the name of the late Paul Brown.

"We like the fact that our stadium name honors the tradition of the NFL," said Mike Brown. "Many names now don't have anything to do with the game."

Additional facts and figures on Paul Brown Stadium:

LOCATION: The stadium site is on the western side of Cincinnati's downtown riverfront. It is bordered by Elm Street on the east, Central Avenue on the west, Pete Rose Way on the north and Mehring Way on the south. The southern border of the stadium is one block from the Ohio River, and plans call for it to be connected to the riverfront with a city park.

SEATING CAPACITY: 65,328.

DIMENSIONS: The stadium site covers approximately 22 acres, and Paul Brown Stadium itself reaches a height of 157 feet.

PLAYING SURFACE: FieldTurf.

PRIVATE SUITES: Each of the 114 suites features retractable glass windows, allowing fans the option to watch in climate-controlled comfort or to bring in the outdoor experience. Suites include 12 spacious fixed stadium seats and four elevated seats at a drink rail with a view of the field.

CLUB SEATING: Club patrons enjoy extra-wide, padded seats at the prime football viewing level, with in-seat food and beverage service. Patrons also have access to the Club Level Lounges, featuring fine dining as well as prime views of the downtown skyline or riverfront.

PAUL BROWN

Paul Brown Stadium honors not only the founder and first coach of the Bengals, but a man who was also one of the great innovators in pro football history.

"Whether they know it or not, nearly everyone in football has been affected by Paul Brown," former NFL Commissioner Pete

Rozelle said in 1991. "His wealth of ideas changed the game."

Elected in 1967 to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Brown also was founder and first coach of the Cleveland Browns, whom he guided to seven league championships in their first 12 seasons. He posted a .665 winning percentage over 25 years of pro coaching (222-112-9, including playoffs). Earlier in his career, he created an Ohio dynasty at Massillon High School and coached Ohio State University to a national championship (1942).

Brown pioneered coaching as a year-round profession, invented the draw play, introduced the use of face masks on helmets, initiated film study and classroom instruction of players, and was the first coach to call plays from the sidelines. He also broke the color barrier in modern American pro sports, as his Cleveland team featured black stars Marion Motley and Bill Willis in 1946, a year before Jackie Robinson's debut in Major League Baseball.

Born in Norwalk, Ohio, and reared in Massillon, Brown was Bengals coach and general manager from 1968-75. He stepped down as coach following an 11-3 season in 1975, and continued in the GM's role until his death at age 82 on Aug. 5, 1991.

Bengals choose FieldTurf for Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals will play at Paul Brown Stadium in 2004 on a new FieldTurf playing surface. Installation was completed on July 2 of this year, replacing the natural grass surface that had been in place for the 2000-03 NFL seasons.

FieldTurf's surface looks, feels and plays like natural grass. It offers a consistent playing surface regardless of the weather conditions. The loose-fiber system is safer for players than previous synthetic surfaces. Shoes do not stick, and the softer surface minimizes compression injuries. FieldTurf's patented "infill system" replicates natural soil, and is comprised of a mixture of sand and recycled rubber.

FieldTurf is the nation's most experienced and successful vendor of synthetic grass systems. FieldTurf surfaces are currently used by NFL teams at Giants Stadium (New York Giants and New York Jets), Ford Field (Detroit Lions), the Georgia Dome (Atlanta Falcons), the Metrodome (Minnesota Vikings) and Seahawks Stadium (Seattle Seahawks). The University of Cincinnati and Miami (Ohio) University are among approximately 25 major colleges that use FieldTurf in their football stadiums.

"We are going with a proven winner," said Troy Blackburn, Bengals director of business development. "This is the most proven synthetic surface for the NFL and for major college football. There's a track record of success to rely upon."

Regarding synthetic grass playing surfaces, Blackburn said:

"They have evolved to the point where they are gaining quickly as a preferred surface to natural grass, particularly in northern climates. This decision not only will give us a superior playing surface for Bengals games, but will also reduce possible conflicts with other events."

Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis said he has gotten positive feedback from players about their past experiences competing on FieldTurf.

"They've been very pleased with the consistency of the surface," Lewis said. "This is a great example of our organization's commitment to provide our players with the best environment to win."

Fibre

Polyethylene fibre is treated with UV inhibitors and is abrasion resistant so that athletes can slide on the fibres without fear of turf burns.

Infill

Similarly sized particles of washed silica sand and rounded cryogenic rubber infill hold each other in suspension, compress and expand to provide stability, long life resiliency and proper energy restitution.

Backing

The backing is made of a combination of permeable woven and non-woven polypropylene fabrics to provide exceptional strength and unmatched vertical drainage.

TRAINING CAMP GEORGETOWN COLLEGE

Paul D. Atkinson

Bengals players report July 30 to training camp at Georgetown (Ky.) College, with the first practice scheduled for the following day.

The training camp facility, officially known as the East Campus Athletic Complex, is one of the finest in use by an NFL team. Athletic Management, a national sports management magazine, recognized the complex by awarding it with its 1998 "Excellence in Outdoor Facilities" award.

The Bengals moved their training camp to Georgetown in 1997 after 29 seasons of training at Wilmington (Ohio) College. Georgetown's commitment to meet state-of-the-art standards has brought unprecedented media attention to training camp and has helped the Bengals develop their Central Kentucky fan base.

"There isn't a team in the league that wouldn't like to have its training camp in a facility like this one," said Bengals president Mike Brown.

The centerpiece of the complex is Rawlings Stadium, which offers permanent stands for 5,000 and is built in a bowl shape that can accommodate seating for up to 20,000 fans. The stadium is designed to provide fans with a festival-like atmosphere, concessions, merchandise, interactive pavilion areas and promotional activities developed by corporate sponsors. For the team, it features locker rooms and showers, weight and aerobic rooms, training facilities, a press box and guest booths, as well as a field with an advanced playing surface — SportGrass, a combination of both natural grass and synthetic materials.

The facility, located about a one-hour drive south from downtown Cincinnati, also includes a conference center used for coaches' classroom instruction and meals, two additional full-size practice fields, apartment-style resident quads for player housing and executive guest townhouses. The complex joins the college's already existing tennis courts, soccer field and baseball field.

For the second straight year, the Bengals will have a two-day format for training camp's major fan events. The full-contact scrimmage will be on Friday night, Aug. 6, at 6:30 p.m. On Saturday, Aug. 7, at 1 p.m., the team will stage the Orange-Black Mock Game, which coach Marvin Lewis has described as "essentially a live game, but without tackling."

All training camp practices and events are open free to the public. There is a charge for on-campus parking.

Free autograph sessions for fans are scheduled after workouts on Aug. 4, 6, 7, 11 and 18.

TRAINING CAMP DATES: July 30 - August 25.

DIRECTIONS: From downtown Cincinnati, take I-75 South approximately 70 miles to exit 126. Turn right off ramp onto U.S. 460 West. Stay on this main thoroughfare for approximately two miles and turn right at the fifth traffic light, Lemons Mill Rd. (Route 1962 West). Go about one-half mile and look for the large Bengals sign and driveway to the complex on the right.

Bengals in the community

Reaching out to help others

The Cincinnati Bengals organization is committed to improving lives in Greater Cincinnati.

Bengals players, coaches and staff acknowledge their unique public role and are devoted to working with charities, schools and civic groups to make positive contributions throughout the area. The Bengals welcome the opportunity to give back to a community that has unconditionally supported the team for more than 30 years.

Non-profit organizations throughout Greater Cincinnati look to the Bengals for assistance. Beneficiaries receive everything from money, food, and clothing, to something as simple as a smile brought about by a visit from a player.

Community involvement takes many forms. The Bengals sponsor special fund-raising events, make donations of cash and memorabilia to many charitable organizations, make personal appearances, and serve on various community boards and commissions.

The Bengals continue their annual support of the United Way. In 2003, the Bengals increased their total campaign contributions by 88%. In addition, head coach Marvin Lewis served as spokesperson for the Leaders' Circle program and Executive Vice President Katie Blackburn served on the United Way 211 Advisory Committee. Another executive, Director of Sales & Public Affairs Jeff Berding, received United Way's Community Service Award for his volunteer work, while running backs coach Jim Anderson served on the African-American Leadership Initiative Committee.

Today's children face a seemingly endless array of challenges and decisions, which makes community role models and leaders more important than ever. With this in mind, Marvin and Peggy Lewis launched the Marvin Lewis Community Fund on October 9, 2003 with an initial $10,000 donation from the Bengals. The mission of the Marvin Lewis Community Fund (MLCF) is to empower, educate and inspire children, while enriching inner-city communities. In 2003, with the MLCF not even four months old, they donated more than $100,000 to Boys Hope Girls Hope, Greater Cincinnati Boys and Girls Clubs, Minorities in Mathematics, Science and Engineering (M2SE), the Multiple Sclerosis Society, SUCCESS by 6 and Youth, Incorporated. This year's inaugural Marvin Lewis Golf Classic raised over $250,000 for the MLCF.

Over the last year, Marvin has been a tireless community activist and youth advocate, making over 150 community appearances, spreading the message of community involvement and accountability. Organizations include the Northern Kentucky Ministerial Alliance, Cincinnati Business Strategic Alliance, St. Xavier High School, National Football Foundation, Taft School, Hughes High School Black History Assembly, National Multiple Scleroses Annual Dinner, Cystic Fibrosis, Juvenile Diabetes, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Great Cincinnati, Northern Kentucky Regional Youth Leadership Commencement, 16th Annual Boys Scouts Breakfast, Autism Society, Ohio Cancer Research Associates, 5,000 members of GE's

Elfyn Volunteer program, Special Olympics, DARE programs for several area schools, opening of the new teen Center for Boys and Girls Club in over the Rhine, Cincinnati Human Relations Committee, Career Day at L.T. Ball Junior High School, and Memorial Inc.

In October 2003, coach Lewis hosted "Bengals Football 101 for Women," an event aimed at teaching the basics of football. More than 300 women attended this sold-out program, with proceeds benefiting the MLCF by raising over $25,000. This year's Football 101 is scheduled for October 7 at Paul Brown Stadium.

Led by the example of Marvin Lewis, Bengals players have increased their level of involvement in the community. Last season, the Bengals made over 150 community appearances to schools, youth groups and teams and charity events.

Bengals tight end Tony Stewart is one of the most active players in community affairs. Stewart was the team's Walter Payton Man of the Year award nominee in 2003.

Many Bengals players have their own foundations or sponsor charitable fund-raising activities dedicated to improving the community. Those players include Willie Anderson, Shayne Graham, Kim Herring, Jon Kitna, Deltha O'Neal, Carson Palmer, Elton Patterson, John Thornton and Peter Warrick.

Other team programs include:

Community Quarterback Award: A league-wide volunteer recognition program that will donate nearly $1 million to charities in each NFL city. In 2003, the Bengals finalists received a total of $20,000 for their respective charities.

Coach of the Week: A league-wide program that is designed to give the recognition that high school football coaches deserve for molding the lives of young adults. Each winner's school receives a $1,000 donation to the school's football program.

Play It Smart: A program designed to use football as a tool for enhancing personal and academic development for youth at two economically disadvantaged high schools. Team representatives visit the chosen schools to coach, teach, and mentor student-athletes to help each individual reach their full potential.

Cincinnati Bengals Taste of the NFL: Bengals players, coaches and alumni join with benefactors of the FreeStore/FoodBank of Cincinnati while dining on samples from Cincinnati's finest restaurants. The Bengals' first-ever Taste of the NFL (held in June of 2003) raised $60,000, enabling the FreeStore/FoodBank to provide 240,000 meals for hungry people in the Tri-State area. The 2004 event (held on June 11) was even more successful, raising $65,000 to provide 260,000 meals. The Bengals also team up with the FreeStore/FoodBank to collect canned goods and other non-perishable foods for the Annual Holiday Canned Food Drive.

Hoxworth Blood Drive: Bengals players, alumni, cheerleaders and staff were present at Paul Brown Stadium to help the Hoxworth Blood Center collect donations before the busy holiday season.

Toys for Tots: The Bengals and the U.S. Marine Corps annually team up at Paul Brown Stadium to collect Christmas toys for disadvantaged local youth.

One for the Community: The Bengals support this annual fund-raising campaign that benefits schools and other non-profit organizations. Commercials on TV and in print, along with events held at Paul Brown Stadium, have helped organizations raise more than $1 million annually.

— BENGALS PRESEASON TELEVISION —

Paul Keels and Anthony Munoz will team up again in the broadcast booth for this season's games on the Bengals Preseason TV Network. Keels will do play-by-play, with Munoz as the analyst.

For the 16th time in the past 17 years, Cincinnati's WKRC-TV (Channel 12) will be the flagship station of the network. Also on the network are WKEF-TV (Channel 22) and WRGT-TV (Channel 45) in Dayton, Ohio; WWHO-TV (Channel 53) in Columbus, Ohio; WDRB-TV (Channel 41) and WFTE-TV (Channel 58) in Louisville, Ky.; and WTVQ-TV (Channel 36) in Lexington, Ky.

Keels, a Cincinnati native, is also currently the voice of the Ohio State Buckeyes for football and basketball. He was the University of Cincinnati's primary football and basketball broadcaster over a period from 1989-98, and was the Bengals' play-by-play voice on radio in '96. Munoz, Bengals' Hall of Fame offensive tackle, will be in his seventh season as preseason analyst.

— BENGALS WEEKLY TV SHOW —

The Bengals produce a weekly television show — Bengals Weekly with Marvin Lewis — that will air every Sunday morning during the 2004 NFL regular season at 11:30 A.M. on WKRC-TV (Channel 12) in Cincinnati and WRGT-TV (Channel 45) in Dayton. The show will also air (on an alternate schedule) in Dayton on WKEF-TV (Channel 22); in Louisville on WDRB-TV (Channel 41) and WFTE-TV (Channel 58); and in Lexington on WTVQ-TV (Channel 36).

— BENGALS RADIO NETWORK —

Bengals games will be aired this season on three Clear Channel flagship radio stations in the Cincinnati market. All games will be carried by All Sports 1360 Homer (WCKY-AM) and 92.5 The Fox (WOFX-FM). Also, once the Major League Baseball season is over, games will also be aired on 700 WLW-AM. The Bengals Radio Network includes stations across Ohio as well as in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia.

Brad Johansen, former play-by-play voice on Bengals preseason television, returns for his fifth season on radio play-by-play. Johansen is sports anchor for Cincinnati's WKRC-TV (CBS/Channel 12).

Dave Lapham, a Bengals offensive lineman from 1974-83, is in his 19th consecutive season as the analyst on Bengals radio broadcasts. He also works as an analyst for Big 12 college games on TV's Fox Sports Net, and has broadcast the NFL Europe League's World Bowl game on Sporting News Radio the last five seasons.

As of July 10, the Bengals Radio Network included 25 stations:

GAME DAYS

CREDENTIALS FOR HOME GAMES: To receive a media credential for a Bengals game, one must be a member of an accredited news organization with a legitimate working function that requires access to the stadium. No one under 18 years old may use a credential. Interns of news organizations are not permitted to use credentials (unless prior clearance from the Bengals' public relations department is sought and granted). Media are not permitted to have guests of any kind (executives, sponsors, advertisers, friends, family, etc.) in secured areas of the stadium (in the press box/booth area, on the field, in the locker rooms, etc.) at any time. Credential privileges can and will be revoked if any of these or the following policies are not honored. Credential use is monitored. All credential requests should be made in writing on company letterhead by the media organization's manager — the sports editor of a newspaper, for example, or the sports director of a TV or radio station. Place all requests to the attention of Bengals' public relations director Jack Brennan. All requests should be faxed (513-621-3570) by 5 p.m. on the Mondays preceding the games. Please specify the types of credentials required — reporter, photographer or otherwise — and note whether locker room access is necessary. Also note whether you wish to have the credentials mailed or left at will call. All credentials are nontransferable.

MEDIA WILL CALL/MEDIA ENTRANCE: Will call is located on the plaza on north side of the stadium (the downtown side) between Gates B and C. All media must enter the media entrance next to Gate B on the plaza on the northwest side (downtown side, close to practice fields) of the stadium. Media will not be admitted through any other entrance. The media entrance opens five hours prior to kickoff (at 8 a.m. for a 1 p.m. game). In order to enter the stadium, each reporter or photographer must meet the following three conditions (if any of the three conditions are not met, he/she will not be permitted to enter the stadium): (1) He/she must have the proper credential; (2) he/she must present a photo ID (i.e., driver's license); and (3) His/her name must be on the media list (names should be provided to the Bengals' public relations department by your sports editor/director prior to each home game). All equipment and baggage is subject to visual search.

PRESS BOX/BOOTH: Option No. 1: Enter media entrance on the plaza next to Gate B on the plaza on the northwest side (downtown side, close to practice fields) of the stadium and turn right. Take the escalator just inside the gate entrance. The escalator terminates one level above the press box. Take a right at the end of the escalator, and descend one flight of stairs and turn right. The press box will be straight ahead inside the glass doors. Option No. 2: Enter media entrance next to Gate B on the plaza on the northwest side (downtown side, close to practice fields) of the stadium and turn right. Follow the concourse and descend the concourse stairs on the west side of the stadium. The elevators are located on the right immediately after the glass wall and escalator. Take an elevator to CS (Club Suite) Level. The press box is adjacent to the elevators.

PHOTOGRAPHERS' WORK AREA: Enter media entrance next to Gate B on the plaza on the northwest side (downtown side, close to practice fields) of the stadium and turn right. Follow the concourse and descend the concourse stairs on the west side of the stadium. The elevators are located on the right immediately after the glass wall and escalator. Take an elevator to FL (Field Level). Turn right into the hallway. Turn left at the southwest truck dock. The arm-band check-in table (photographers must sign an injury waiver form to receive an arm band, which is necessary for field access) will be on the left. The photographers' work area is just inside the door behind the arm-band check-in table.

TELEPHONES IN THE PRESS BOX: In most cases, it is not necessary to order individual telephone lines for games. There are more than two dozen general-use telephones (analog only) located throughout the press box seating area. They provide free local calls, but require an 800 number for long distance service. In addition, four general-use telephones are located in the work room behind the third row of the press box. If a dedicated telephone line in the press box is necessary, please contact Bengals assistant public relations director PJ Combs at (513) 621-3550 no later than 5 p.m. on the Tuesday before the game.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS/LOCKER ROOM ACCESS: For media with locker room access, the locker rooms are opened for interviews with players and coaches within 12 minutes after the conclusion of a game. Both the Bengals' locker room and the visitors' locker room have news conference rooms for the head coaches' postgame news conferences and any star players' postgame news conferences. Both news conference rooms include built-in multi-box systems for television and radio reporters, as well as proper lighting and audio amplification. Television reporters should set up tripods in the rear of the news conference rooms to reduce congestion around the podium. Since both news conference rooms have direct-access entrances separate from the locker rooms, TV/radio media can access the rooms anytime before a game to set up equipment for use after the game.

WALKING DIRECTIONS FROM PRESS BOX TO STADIUM EXIT: To depart press box after game, take an elevator or the stairs to sideline level (SL). Turn right out of elevator lobby and exit through any "exit" gate, which are to the left of the entrance gates.

CREDENTIALS FOR AWAY GAMES: Place all requests to the attention of Bengals public relations director Jack Brennan. All requests should be faxed (513-621-3570) no later than 10 days before the game. Please specify the types of credentials required — reporter, photographer or otherwise — and note whether locker room access is necessary. Media from outside the Greater Cincinnati region should submit requests to the home team.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS FOR AWAY GAMES: Place all requests to Bengals business manager Bill Connelly (513-621-3550 phone; 513-621-3570 fax) no later than 5 p.m. on the Tuesdays before the games. Please note the types of accommodations required.
