Paul Brown Stadium sets dynamic tone for Cincinnati's Rebirth of the Riverfront

"The place is gorgeous. If the Bengals were trying to butter me by giving me the tour, it worked. Every seat is good."

— Paul Daugherty, sports columnist,
The Cincinnati Enquirer, June 11, 2000

The turn of this century marks an era of unprecedented growth for new stadiums in professional sports. One need look no farther than the Bengals' own AFC Central Division, where — by 2001 — all six teams will be playing in new stadiums.

But despite such stiff competition, the Bengals respectfully believe that Paul Brown Stadium — the facility described above by Paul Daugherty — will stand out for much more than just its traditional football name.

The 65,600-seat facility, opening this season, will present a pace-setting sports experience through its striking architecture, unrivaled fan amenities and dramatic setting on the downtown Cincinnati riverfront.

"In the best of the new stadiums, the experience of just walking in wakes you up," says Bengals president Mike Brown. "It's exciting just to be there. From day one, we have made this a goal for our new stadium."

We want it to be the best setting for pro football in the country, and we think our fans will agree that it is."

Already the winner of a major architectural award, Paul Brown Stadium has been a catalyst for Cincinnati's "Rebirth of the Riverfront."

It is the first completed project, forming the western book-end of an area to be bordered on the east by a new Reds baseball stadium. In between will be dramatic park land, new housing, and other attractions headlined by the National Underground Freedom Center, a world-class museum celebrating Cincinnati's role as a transit point for runaway slaves during the mid-1800s. Highway reconstruction, including parks development directly above the central traffic artery, will link the riverfront more closely with downtown.

"We will have an incredibly changed skyline and 'front porch' to the city when this project is completed," said Bob Bedinghaus, Hamilton County Commissioner. "As Paul Brown Stadium has neared completion, it has become increasingly evident it will be a facility so spectacular, it will positively stun Bengals fans."

Bill Koch, sports columnist for The Cincinnati Post, has written that the facility's upper deck canopy produces "a futuristic design that sets Paul Brown Stadium apart from other new stadiums around the NFL."

The stadium is not only impressive to view, but offers impressive vistas from inside:

"(The views) come at you from every angle," Koch told his Post readers. "Unlike Cinergy Field, which cut you off from the city once you were inside, this stadium celebrates its setting.

"From the west side you gaze into Price Hill, with Union Terminal off in the distance. From the east, you walk through what will be the club lounge and see the river, the Roebling Suspension Bridge and the downtown skyline. You are not in Anytown, USA. You are unmistakably in Cincinnati."

For Bengals head coach Bruce Coslet, the beauty of Paul Brown Stadium is definitely more than skin deep.

"My first thought is what this stadium can do for our team," Coslet says. "The facilities for our players are the best you'll find anywhere. We're going to work and practice there every day (practice fields are located just west of the stadium), and the atmosphere during a game is going to be intimidating to the visiting team. As a coach, you can't help but be honored and excited to have this kind of an opportunity."

More than two years ago, a distinguished architectural panel recognized the stadium's potential from studies of its design. In May of 1998, Paul Brown Stadium was one of 15 projects selected for an American Architecture Award. There were more than 300 entries, from both the United States and abroad, and Paul Brown Stadium was the only stadium among the winners.

"The award gave us an early affirmation that the project was on the right path," said Troy Blackburn, Bengals director of business development, who has worked on the project with Hamilton County officials and designing architects NBBJ Sports & Entertainment. "We wanted to provide Cincinnati with a breakthrough design that showcases our city and riverfront, and we think we've done it. Our fans deserve that."

Though hailed for its futuristic design, the stadium's primary purpose is to serve as a premier venue for watching football. Almost 70 percent of the seats will be along the sidelines, positioned for superior sight lines to the field.

In the area of fan amenities, Paul Brown Stadium sets new industry standards. Stadium features include:

- Two super-sized video boards with state-of-the-art LED technology.
- More than 1200 restroom fixtures — one for every 50 fans, which is the best ratio in the NFL.
- More than 400 "points of sale" for food and beverages, again the best ratio in the NFL.
- Seats in most areas of 20 inches in width, larger than the industry standard of 19 inches.
- Extra-wide concourses — more than twice as wide as those at Cinergy Field — to help fans visit concession stands and restrooms without crowding.
- A distributed sound system to provide crystal-clear audio for fans seated in all areas.
- The NFL's only LED sideline boards, capable of showing video graphics and statistical information.
- Three complete kitchens to provide all fans with first-class food, ranging from traditional ballpark fare to a variety of fresh new options.

Dan Meis, NBBJ's principal designer for Paul

Brown Stadium, has said that comparing traditional, bowl-shaped football stadiums to the new Bengals facility is like comparing a dump truck to a Ferrari. "You have no doubt which one is the fast one," Meis said.

The new stadium, however, also carries a crucial link to the past. In an era when many new stadiums and arenas carry corporate names in payment for naming rights fees, the new Cincinnati stadium bears the name of the late Paul Brown, the Pro Football Hall of Famer who capped an already glorious career by bringing pro football to Cincinnati in 1968 as Bengals founder, general manager and head coach.

"With so many stadiums being named for enterprises that don't have anything to do with the game, we decided it was time to make a statement," said Bengals president Mike Brown. "This honors the tradition of our game, and I remember how my father never made a speech or endorsed a product for money. He did that for a principle, and we stood up for a principle by having the stadium reflect his name and the tradition he represents."

Additional facts and figures on Paul Brown Stadium:

LOCATION: The stadium site is approximately five blocks west of the current Cinergy Field. It is bordered by Pete Rose Way on the north, Mehring Way on the south, Elm Street on the east and Central Avenue on the west. ## PAUL BROWN

Paul Brown Stadium honors not only the founder and first coach of the Bengals, but a man who was also one of the great innovators in pro football history.

"Whether they know it or not, nearly everyone in football has been affected by Paul Brown," former NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said in 1991. "His wealth of ideas changed the game."

Elected in 1967 to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Brown also was founder and first coach of the Cleveland Browns, whom he guided to seven league championships in their first 12 seasons. He posted a .660 winning percentage over 25 years of pro coaching (222-112-9, including playoffs). Earlier in his career, he created an Ohio dynasty at Massillon High School and coached Ohio State to a national championship (1942).

Brown pioneered coaching as a year-round profession, invented the draw play, introduced the use of face masks on helmets, initiated film study and classroom instruction of players, and was the first coach to call plays from the sidelines. He also broke the color barrier in modern American pro sports, as his Cleveland team featured black stars Marion Motley and Bill Willis in 1946, a year before Jackie Robinson's debut in major league baseball.

Born in Norwalk, Ohio, and reared in Massillon, Brown was Bengals coach and general manager from 1968-75. He stepped down as coach following an 11-3 season in 1975, and continued in the GM's role until his death at age 82 on Aug. 5, 1991.

BRUCE COSLET — Head Coach

Bruce Coslet enters his ninth season as an NFL head coach in 2000, confident of fielding a team that will live up to expectations of a banner inaugural Bengals season in the new Paul Brown Stadium.

"This is a tough business, there's pressure on us to perform in the new stadium, and we like it that way," says the Cincinnati head coach. "No question, we've had two tough years, and the only way to quiet the critics is to win."

"But the process of shaping this team has been ongoing. I truly believe that last year we advanced more than the standings showed. I'm excited about building on some of the things we established, and I'm confident we've made some additions to become a more mature and much better team."

Coslet's reasons for optimism begin with last season's major improvements in two bedrock building areas — rushing offense and rushing defense. Compared to 1998, the Bengals improved from 19th to sixth place in rushing offense, and from 20th to 16th place in rushing defense.

Cincinnati ranked even better on a yards per carry basis last season, ranking third in rushing offense (4.6) and ninth in rushing defense (3.7).

"Any time you can run the football, you have a chance to win," Coslet says. "It eats up time of possession, keeps the opponent's great offensive players on the sideline, and sets up everything else you do offensively. The flip side, of course, is that if you can make the opposing offense dink and dunk because they can't run, they're going to have problems."

On the offensive side for 2000, Coslet welcomes the return of the entire starting line plus TE Tony McGee. This continuity was assured when McGee and LT Rod Jones elected to re-sign with Cincinnati, passing up the chance for unrestricted free agency.

"This will be the first time in my career as a head coach that I have my offensive line and tight end returning intact," Coslet said. "We were only 40 total yards off the NFL rushing lead last season (finishing sixth overall in a tight race), and believe me, the reason for that was not all (HB) Corey Dillon. Corey will be the first to tell you that the six guys busting their butts in front of him, along with (FB) Cliff Groce, made all the difference in the world."

Defensively against the run in 2000, Coslet's team will add two major unrestricted free agent signees to last year's line mix — end Vaughn Booker from Green Bay and tackle Tom Barndt from Kansas City.

"Barndt has a reputation for being a hard-nosed, never-say-die guy," Coslet said. "Booker has been a very productive starter. Added to the guys we already have, it gives us the depth to keep everybody fresh by rotating guys during the game. The good defenses do that now, and you need enough quality players that you can do it without a significant drop in the talent level."

Productive DE John Copeland is the leader among returning Bengals players on the line, and the defense has two young linebackers with immediate Pro Bowl potential in third-year players Brian Simmons and Takeo Spikes.

Coslet believes that if the Bengals can build and improve on last season's rushing numbers, the stage will be set for second-year QB Akili Smith to lead the team back to the playoffs.

"Akili's going to be the most important single player on our team, no question about that," Coslet says. "He's a difference-maker, and we think he'll be something special. He'll go into this season with a full off-season and training camp behind him, and that's going to be a huge difference compared to last year, when he missed almost all of camp (due to contract negotiations)."

In addition to Smith's development, the overall increased maturity level of the 2000 Bengals encourages Coslet. Besides defensive linemen Barndt and Booker, the Bengals used free agency to obtain two other NFL veterans in QB Scott Mitchell and S Darryl Williams.

"The experience factor in our free agency work was a big deal from my perspective," Coslet said. "Now we're going to have a solid group of guys with that little bit of extra maturity. I think it's going to make a big difference in our veteran leadership, and all these guys can play."

Smith also will have a marquee newcomer with whom to work, as the Bengals made explosive Florida State receiver Peter Warrick their top pick in the 2000 Draft.

Mike Brown, Bengals president, believes that Coslet and his coaching staff — which returns intact from 1999 — present the Bengals their best chance of quick success in the Paul Brown Stadium era.

"Bruce is demanding, as a head coach should be, and the players respect both his knowledge and the fact that he played in this league for eight years himself (1969-76)," Brown says. "Our guys (coaches) have a good scheme. They work hard. Their hearts are in it, and I think they can turn this around and make it work."

Coslet was named Bengals head coach on Oct. 21, 1996, promoted from the offensive coordinator's position to replace Dave Shula. The Bengals had struggled to a 1-6 start, but the club went 7-2 under Coslet's direction for an 8-8 overall finish.

Brown calls Coslet "a true member of the Bengals family." The coach has deep roots in the organization, and learned the pro game from Hall of Famers such as Bengals founder Paul Brown and former Bengals assistant coach Bill Walsh.

During his eight seasons as a Bengals tight end, Coslet earned a reputation for toughness and competitiveness while catching 61 passes for 878 yards and 9 touchdowns.

A native of Oakdale, Calif., he began his coaching career with the San Francisco 49ers in 1980, but moved the following year to the Bengals, where he would spend the next nine seasons.

He was special teams and tight ends coach from 1981-83, wide receivers coach in 1984-85, and was offensive coordinator from 1986-89. He was on the staffs of both AFC Champion Bengals teams (1981 and '88 seasons).

During Coslet's first term as offensive coordinator, the Bengals twice had the NFL's No. 1-ranked offense (1986, '88), twice had the league's top rushing attack ('88 and '89) and three times led the AFC in total offense ('86, '88 and '89).

Following the 1989 season, Coslet was named head coach of the New York Jets. With the Jets from 1990-93, he oversaw an offense that finished in the NFL's top 10 in two of his last three years. Posting a 26-39 record in New York, he led the 1991 club to the playoffs, the franchise's only postseason appearance in an 11-year period (1987-97).

Coslet returned to the Bengals in 1994 as offensive coordinator, assigned to recharge an attack which had fallen in 1993 to a franchise-low in overall punch. Two seasons later, the Bengals offense under Coslet stood as the NFL's most-improved unit.

The 1994 Bengals scored 89 more points than the '93 club, and the '95 team topped the '94 total by another 73 points. The 162-point difference between the 1993 total (187 points) and the '95 total (349 points) represented the biggest gain in the league during that time period.

When the Bengals went 7-2 in 1996 following Coslet's appointment as head coach, they were more than just the turnaround story of the NFL season. They were the comeback kids of the era.

The Coslet mark in '96 reflects the best job by a head coach appointed during a regular season since 1970, when the league took its present form with the NFL-AFL merger.

Coslet particularly enjoys the in-season weekly grind of preparing himself for a game.

"I love the strategy of football, sitting with your coaching staff the week before a game and brain-storming how you're going to attack the other team," he says. "It's challenging, and very rewarding when you accomplish the goal."

On Dec. 15, 1996, the Bengals announced an agreement to extend Coslet's contract for four years, through the 2000 season. The contract automatically extends through the 2001 season if the Bengals make the playoffs this year.

Coslet is an avid golfer. He's a member of the Oakdale (Calif.) Sportsman Hall of Fame, and also a member of the University of the Pacific Sports Hall of Fame.

Coslet's wife, Kathy, is a Cincinnati native. They have two children, son J.J., 25, and daughter Amy, 23. In 1996, J.J. was a member of Dartmouth College's undefeated Ivy League champion football team.

Coslet's birthdate is Aug. 5, 1946. He was a football standout at Joint High in his hometown of Oakdale, Calif., and he played in college from 1965-67 at the University of the Pacific. He entered the NFL as a player as a free agent signee by the Bengals prior to the 1969 season.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1965-67: Tight end at University of the Pacific. 1969-76: Pro tight end, Bengals. 1980: Assistant coach (AC), 49ers. 1981-85: AC, Bengals. 1986-89: Offensive coordinator, Bengals. 1990-93: New York Jets head coach. 1994-96: Offensive coordinator, Bengals. Oct. 21, 1996: Named Bengals head coach.

DICK LeBEAU — Asst. Head Coach/Defensive Coordinator

Dick LeBeau, architect of the zone-blitz scheme that made Pittsburgh one of the NFL's top defensive teams in the mid-1990s, is in the fourth season of his second stint as a member of the Bengals coaching staff.

The former All-Pro cornerback is in his 41st NFL season, including 14 as a player and 27 as a coach. He has brought the zone blitz to Cincinnati, and is mentor of a unit that holds great promise for the team's inaugural season at Paul Brown Stadium.

The defense's two most promising young stars, linebackers Brian Simmons and Takeo Spikes, each return for a third season after being selected in the first round of the 1998 NFL Draft. They have shown Pro Bowl potential that could be realized after two years of tutoring under LeBeau's system.

"Coach LeBeau is a great man to work for," says Spikes, who led the team in tackles in '98 and finished second behind Simmons last season. "Right from the start, he's told me, 'Don't worry about messing up. Just do what you do best, and if it doesn't work, we'll go back and try to correct it.' He's given me the confidence to be at my best. Plus, he was a great player himself, so you know he understands what a player sees out on the field."

Spikes and Simmons played behind an undermanned defensive line in '98, but LeBeau has worked to improve that unit's personnel and performance. Last season, the line got a boost from the acquisition of free agent Oliver Gibson and the return from injury of DE John Copeland. They helped Cincinnati improve from 30th in the NFL against the rush to 16th. The Bengals were even better last season in average rushing yards allowed per carry, ranking 9th at 3.7.

For the 2000 season, the Bengals lost part-time starter Kimo von Oelhoffen to free agency, but more than made up for it by signing DT Tom Barndt and DE Vaughn Booker as unrestricted free agents. They'll work in the four-man defensive line which LeBeau installed (replacing a 3-4 front) for the last five games of the '99 season.

"The four-man line fits us better," LeBeau says. "We can better use the quickness and versatility of John Copeland. It allows our linebackers to flow, and we're a quick, fast front."

The defense struggled last season with inexperience and injuries at cornerback. But the late-season signing of veteran Tom Carter added much-needed experience, and a primary defensive goal this season will be the continued development of young players such as Artrell Hawkins, Rodney Heath and Roosevelt Blackmon. The Bengals also drafted two promising corners in Mark Roman of LSU and Robert Bean of Mississippi State.

"We have a lot of players with a big upside, players who are going to get a lot better for several years to come," LeBeau says. "Their attitude is excellent. They're mature for their experience level, and they have talent with speed."

In 1997, the Bengals welcomed the return of LeBeau, an Ohio native who played on an Ohio State national championship team, was an All-Pro defensive back, coached the Bengals defense as coordinator in Super Bowl XXIII and later coached the Steelers defense in Super Bowl XXX.

LeBeau spent the 1992-96 seasons with the Steelers, including 1995-96 as defensive coordinator. Employing the zone blitz, he made the Steelers the NFL's third-ranked defense in their Super Bowl season of 1995. In 1996 under LeBeau, Pittsburgh ranked second to eventual world champion Green Bay with 272.6 yards allowed per game. The '96 Steelers also ranked second in the NFL in takeaways, with 40.

"It gives people fits," Bengals head coach Bruce Coslet says of LeBeau's scheme. "It limits what you can do on offense. It creates one-on-one matchups continuously, and if you can bring the right people, you can create havoc."

Born Sept. 9, 1937, in London, Ohio, LeBeau played at Ohio State from 1954-57, closing his career on a national championship team. He went on to play 14 seasons (1959-72) for the Detroit Lions and was voted to three Pro Bowls.

He set an all-time durability record for cornerbacks by playing in 171 consecutive games for the Lions, and at the time of his retirement, his 62 interceptions ranked third in NFL history.

He began his NFL coaching career as special teams coach for the Philadelphia Eagles from 1973-75, and coached defensive backs at Green Bay for four years before accepting the same position with the Bengals under Forrest Gregg in 1980. He was promoted to defensive coordinator in 1984, when Sam Wyche was hired as Bengals head coach, and his unit allowed an average of only 11 points per outing in three postseason games as the Bengals advanced to Super Bowl XXIII against San Francisco following the 1988 season. LeBeau left the Bengals after the 1991 season, in conjunction with the departure of Wyche, and was hired by the Steelers.

Dick and his wife, Nancy, have a son, Brandon Grant, age 21.

KEN ANDERSON — Offensive Coordinator

Ken Anderson brings a keen football mind and a stellar history as a player to the position of offensive coordinator on the Bengals coaching staff.

Anderson is in his eighth year as a pro coach in 2000, and this is his fourth full season in the offensive coordinator's role. The former Bengals Pro Bowl quarterback was promoted from the position of quarterbacks coach on Oct. 21, 1996, when Bruce Coslet took over as Bengals head coach.

"I feel very fortunate to have Kenny, because I consider him one of the top offensive minds in the NFL today," says Coslet. "He played for so many years (16), so he sees the game through a quarterback's eyes. He's worked under some great offensive coaches — Bill Walsh and Lindy Infante just to name a couple — and he's taken what they taught him to another level.

"Kenny and I are not only fellow coaches, we're good friends, and I believe you need that personal connection because in our jobs, we spend so much time together. We love to talk strategy and game plan. He's a great idea guy."

Anderson's hands-on coaching duties in 2000 started early. In mid-February, instead of hitting the road for college draft scouting, he stayed in Cincinnati to begin regular off-season meetings with second-year QB Akili Smith.

"In a very real sense, we'll go as far as Akili can take us this season, and we felt it was crucial to get him as ready as he could possibly be entering training camp," Anderson said. "He wasn't able to progress as much in his rookie year as we had hoped, missing most of camp (due to contract negotiations) and then getting hurt in mid-season.

"This year, he'll go into camp really knowing how our offense works, and with his natural ability, the rest should take care of itself."

Smith says he couldn't ask for a better role model than Anderson.

"Kenny's been there, he's done it," Smith says. "He's taken his team to the Super Bowl and taken himself to the Pro Bowl. Those are goals I want for myself. When he talks, you listen, because you know he's speaking from the actual experience of what you're trying to accomplish."

The Bengals' running game blossomed under Anderson's direction last season. With HB Corey Dillon rushing for 1200 yards, Cincinnati finished 6th in the NFL in total rushing offense (128.2 yards per game) and 3rd in rushing yards per carry (4.6).

Over the last two seasons, Anderson's offenses have produced two of the six instances in Bengals history in which the team has had both a 1000-yard rusher and a 1000-yard receiver. Dillon and Carl Pickens formed the duo in 1998, and Dillon teamed with WR Darnay Scott (1022 yards) last season.

Also last season, Anderson's unit scored 146 points over a four-game stretch (Games 11-14), tying the Bengals record for most points in four straight games. Cincinnati won three of the four, with back-to-back 44-point efforts vs. San Francisco and Cleveland.

As a player, Anderson had a career passing performance that dominates the Bengals record book. He leads the club in completions (2654), passing yards (32,838) and touchdown passes (197).

Twice in the last five years, he has been among the 15 finalists for election to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He holds the NFL record for highest completion percentage in a season — 70.55 in 1982.

He won four NFL passing titles, which is tied for second-most all-time behind Sammy Baugh, and was named five times to the Pro Bowl. He led the league three times in lowest interception percentage, which also is tied for second-most all-time behind Baugh.

Anderson joined the pro coaching ranks as Bengals quarterbacks coach in 1993, and in that role he helped Jeff Blake chip away at a few of his own Cincinnati marks. In 1995, Blake supplanted Anderson in the categories of most completions in a season (326) and most consecutive games with a TD pass (21).

Anderson has played and coached only for the Bengals since completing his college career at Augustana (Ill.) in 1970. He was a third-round pick from the small school, the 67th selection in the draft. His 16 years of service as a player (1971-86) are the most in Bengals history, and he has held no other coaching position. Prior to joining the Bengals as a coach, he worked six years in Cincinnati as a sportscaster.

"Kenny is very cool, very calm, almost emotionless in his approach to the game, and I don't mean that in a negative way," says Fox TV analyst Cris Collinsworth, for years a favorite passing target of Anderson. "I knew he was going to do very well with the Xs and Os of being a coordinator."

Anderson's birth date is Feb. 15, 1949. He was born in Batavia, Ill. Ken's wife's name is Cristy. Ken has a son, Matt, 25, and two daughters, Megan, 21, and Molly, 17.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1967-70: Played quarterback at Augustana (Ill.). 1971-86: Pro quarterback, Bengals. 1993-96: Assistant coach, Bengals. Oct. 21, 1996: Named Bengals offensive coordinator.

PAUL ALEXANDER — Offensive Line

Paul Alexander is in his seventh season on the Bengals coaching staff, and his sixth as offensive line coach. He directs an aggressive unit which last year reached the goal of producing a 1000-yard rusher in three consecutive seasons for the first time in franchise history.

HB Corey Dillon used the support of Alexander's troops to rush for 1200 yards and a Pro Bowl berth last season. Dillon had gained 1129 yards in 1997 and 1130 yards in '98.

"I'm not going anywhere without my guys up front," Dillon has said. "I give them a big share of the credit for everything I've been able to accomplish."

And in 2000, for the first time in his Bengals tenure, Alexander doesn't have to plan on inserting new personnel into his starting lineup. Last year's five starters all return — the group including LT Rod Jones, LG Matt O'Dwyer, C Rich Braham, RG Brian DeMarco and RT Willie Anderson.

"You need good people, but you also need continuity to have a great line," Alexander says. "We should be better as a group this season. And individually, we should get more out of O'Dwyer and DeMarco, since it will be their second year in our system. Rod Jones should be improved, too. He's physically gifted, but he's still learning the fine points of playing left tackle."

Dillon favors a bruising running style, and Alexander has made it clear that he favors big, aggressive linemen with a defensive sort of mindset.

"It's true that you have to play with poise and intelligence to be a good offensive lineman," Alexander says. "But it's a lot easier to teach a guy poise than aggressiveness. I'm looking at guys who are naturally aggressive."

Cincinnati finished just 40 yards off the NFL total rushing lead last season at 2051. That was good for sixth place in a tight league race, and the Bengals' average gain per carry of 4.6 yards was third-best overall.

Alexander began his NFL coaching career in 1992 as tight ends coach of the New York Jets. He was instrumental in the development of TE Johnny Mitchell, a 1992 rookie All-Pro. Alexander's first Bengals season was 1994, when he was named Cincinnati's tight ends coach.

But Alexander has always said his first love in football was coaching the offensive line, and he was afforded the chance to take over that job for the Bengals in 1995.

His 1995 unit produced the team's best-ever performance in sacks allowed — only 1.6 per game (25 total).

This is Alexander's ninth season in the offensive system of Bengals head coach Bruce Coslet, who was Jets head coach when Alexander was in New York.

Alexander is a product of distinguished teachers. He coached under Joe Paterno at Penn State and Bo Schembechler at Michigan. He also was offensive line coach at Central Michigan, a school whose coach, Herb Deromedi, ranks with Paterno and Schembechler among the winningest coaches in NCAA Division I history.

Alexander's birthdate is Feb. 12, 1960. He's a native of Rochester, N.Y., where he attended Cardinal Mooney High School. He was an Academic All-American at Cortland State (N.Y.) and holds a master's degree in physiology from Penn State. He and his wife, Kathy, have three daughters, Mary Beth, Carolyn and Emily.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1979-81: Played offensive tackle at Cortland State. 1982-84: Assistant coach (AC), Penn State. 1985-86: AC, Michigan. 1987-91: AC, Central Michigan. 1992-93: AC, New York Jets. 1994-2000: AC, Bengals.

JIM ANDERSON — Running Backs

Jim Anderson has coached a long line of Bengals running backs to outstanding performances, and last season stands as one of his top efforts. Led by HB Corey Dillon's 1200 yards — second-most in team history — the Bengals finished just 40 yards off the NFL rushing lead with a total of 2051.

That was good for sixth place in a tight league race, and in yards per carry, the Bengals' figure of 4.6 yards was third-best overall.

Dillon averaged 4.6 yards individually, easily the best among the Top 10 rushers in the AFC. He became the third Anderson-coached back to make the Pro Bowl, joining James Brooks (four times) and Harold Green (1992).

Anderson has helped Dillon to more than 1000 yards in each of Dillon's three NFL seasons.

For a time, the Bengals weren't sure they'd have Anderson on staff in 1999. The coach faced a tough career decision following the '98 season, as the Chicago Bears pursued him with an attractive offer that included the job of running backs coach plus a supervisor's designation. But Anderson elected to stay in Cincinnati.

"We didn't want to lose Jim, and we're glad it turned out this way," said Mike Brown, Bengals president. "He's an excellent coach, a good guy and a very integral part of what we do here. Jim is very important to us in a lot of areas. People listen to him, and we count on him very much at the personnel end — not just with the running backs."

The dean of Bengals position coaches in years of service, Anderson is in his 17th Cincinnati season. No position coach in Bengals history has served as many years on the staff.

A reason for Anderson's longevity is his reputation for effectively handling all types of running backs. Dillon is a bruiser, Brooks was a tough and quick smaller back, and Green was a long strider with a mix of speed and power. Anderson also oversaw the brief but spectacular career of Ickey Woods, which was derailed by a 1989 knee injury. And in 1996, Anderson effectively worked Garrison Hearst into the Bengals offense after the team's acquisition of Hearst in late August.

"Coach Anderson knows as much as anyone I've ever been around," Dillon told The Cincinnati Enquirer after Anderson's decision to bypass the Chicago offer. "To think he would want to come back and help us and teach us makes me pretty proud."

In six of the nine seasons from 1986-94, Anderson's backs led the Bengals to finishes among the NFL's Top 10 teams in rushing yardage. In 1997, the running backs scored 20 of Cincinnati's NFL-leading 23 rushing TDs.

Anderson's troops won NFL rushing titles in 1988 and '89, and copped an AFC rushing championship in

'86. From 1986 through 1990, the Bengals finished 2-4-1-1-5 in league rushing.

Brooks, Cincinnati's all-time leading rusher, blossomed under Anderson. Brooks and Anderson both came to the Bengals in 1984. Brooks set a Bengals record with 1239 yards in 1989.

Anderson's birthdate is March 27, 1948. He was born in Harrisburg, Pa. He graduated from Cal Western with a degree in physical education, and holds a lifetime teaching certificate in California. Jim and his wife, Marcia, have a son, Derek, 25.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1967-70: Linebacker-defensive end at Cal Western (U.S. International). 1970-71: Assistant coach (AC), Cal Western. 1973: AC, Scottsdale (Ariz.) Community College. 1974-75: AC, Nevada-Las Vegas. 1976-80: AC, Southern Methodist. 1980-83: AC, Stanford. 1984-2000: AC, Bengals.

SIGISMONDO CIOFFI — Defensive Staff Assistant

Sigismondo "Louie" Cioffi is in his fourth season in the role of Bengals defensive staff assistant. He was the youngest full-time assistant coach in the NFL in 1999, and this season he'll graduate to second-youngest at age 26 (Jacksonville's Lane Kilfin will be 25).

Cioffi (pronounced "CHOE-fee") is charged with supervising the weekly distribution of information on how to attack the upcoming opponent's offense.

"Anything we have that is distributed to the players during the week is a product of Louie's work and research," says defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau. "He breaks down film, studies opponents' statistics and puts it all in a very useful package. Whatever you need in a logistical sense to get ready for an opponent, he can handle it."

Cioffi also works daily on the practice field, concentrating his efforts on drills with the linebackers and defensive backs.

"Frankly, Louie's very capable of being a position coach right now," says Bengals head coach Bruce Coslet. "We're fortunate to have him."

Cioffi's association with Coslet dates back to 1993, when Coslet was head coach of the New York Jets and Cioffi was a 20-year-old coaching assistant. His responsibilities then included assembling play books and running video printers on game days. Cioffi also worked with the Jets in 1994, after Coslet had returned to the Bengals.

Cioffi was wide receivers coach at C.W. Post University in Brookville, N.Y. in 1995 and '96. The 1996 team posted a 7-3 record en route to the ECAC Division II championship. In addition to his on-field responsibilities at C.W. Post, Cioffi prepared computer game analyses and scouting reports. He did all the computer work at Post for the offense and defense.

Cioffi's birthdate is Sept. 21, 1973. He was married on June 24 of this year to the former Cindy Bath. His hometown is Queens, N.Y. He graduated from the University of Stony Brook in 1995 with a degree in political science and a minor in philosophy.

COACHING HISTORY — 1993-94: Coaching assistant, New York Jets. 1995-96: Assistant coach (AC), C.W. Post. 1997-2000: AC, Bengals.

MARK DUFFNER — Linebackers

Mark Duffner is in his fourth season as Bengals linebackers coach in 2000, having spent the previous 11 seasons as a head coach in the college ranks.

The former Holy Cross and Maryland head coach has played a central role in the drafting and subsequent development of two of the Bengals' most outstanding young players, linebackers Takeo Spikes of Auburn and Brian Simmons of North Carolina.

Both players were drafted in the first round in 1998. Spikes led the team in tackles in '98, with Simmons in second place, and last season that 1-2 order was reversed. Also last season, Spikes set a club record in the combined category of fumbles forced and/or recovered, totaling eight with four of each.

Talking about his coach, Spikes says:

"Let me tell you, 'Duff' is intense. He's focused, and he's determined. He never lets up on you, but he drives you hard in a positive way. I love to play for Duff. I could see myself being a lot like him if I went into coaching someday."

One of Duffner's key goals in 2000 is to get production like that of Simmons and Spikes from starting linebacker Steve Foley. A third-round draft pick in 1998, Foley has shown flashes of first-round ability while working on the transition from defensive end at Division I-AA Northeast Louisiana.

Duffner was head coach at Maryland from 1992-96. His 20-35 record included an 11-11 mark over his final two seasons, Maryland's best two-season record since 1984-85.

From 1986-91, he led the most successful era in Holy Cross football history, posting a dazzling 60-5-1 record that included two 11-0 marks.

Duffner has Ohio ties. He was a graduate assistant under Woody Hayes at Ohio State in 1975-76. In 1977, he was named defensive coordinator at the University of Cincinnati, becoming at age 23 the youngest defensive coordinator in the Division I ranks.

At Maryland in 1995, Duffner oversaw the Terps' first national ranking in nine years when his team climbed as high as No. 17. His teams set more than 100 offensive school records, and he improved Maryland's player graduation rate, with three classes in a row in the national Top 20 (1994-96).

His term at Holy Cross was nothing short of remarkable. He took over a team that had been 4-6-1 in 1985, and immediately posted a 10-1 mark in '86. Duffner was chosen for five national coach of the year honors at Holy Cross, won two Division I-AA national titles, and was chosen New England Coach of the Year five times.

A native of Annandale, Va., Duffner played college football as a defensive lineman at William & Mary, and was chosen All-Academic Southern Conference as a senior. He graduated with a degree in physical education, and was inducted into the William & Mary Hall of Fame in 1990. He was inducted into the Fairfax County (Va.) Football Hall of Fame on Feb. 28, 1999.

Duffner was born July 19, 1953. He and his wife, Kathy, have three children, Christina, 21, Carolyn, 19, and John, 16.

RAY HORTON — Defensive Backs

Ray Horton returns in 2000 for his fourth season as defensive backs coach of the Bengals, charged with the key task of rebuilding a unit that was hampered in 1999 by injuries and inexperience.

The "veteran" of Horton's front-line cornerback corps for most of last season was second-year player Artrell Hawkins. But the mid-December acquisition of seasoned pro Tom Carter from Chicago provided a late boost, and Horton will have other players who should be much improved from a full 1999 season under his supervision.

That group includes Rodney Heath, Ty Howard and Roosevelt Blackmon, and the Bengals also hope for the return this season of 1999 second-round draft pick Charles Fisher, who was lost to a season-ending knee injury on opening day. Horton also will have two new drafted cornerbacks, second-rounder Mark Roman of LSU and fifth-rounder Robert Bean of Mississippi State.

"Ray's experience as a former Bengal and Super Bowl player stood him in good stead last season in educating the young players," says Dick LeBeau, Bengals assistant head coach/defensive coordinator. "The best example was Rodney Heath, who virtually came out of nowhere to be our leading interceptor.

"This year we're expecting more of the same progress. Ray always exhibited great football intelligence as a player, and he has continued to show that acumen as a young coach."

Horton also will oversee a change in the safety position in 2000, as second-year pro Corey Hall is expected to take over at strong safety while veteran free agent acquisition Darryl Williams takes over at free safety.

Horton is entering his seventh season in NFL coaching, having served from 1994-96 as assistant defensive backs coach with the Washington Redskins.

Born April 12, 1960, in Tacoma, Wash., Horton played at the University of Washington, where he earned All Pac-10 honors. He was a second-round Bengals selection in the 1983 draft, the 53rd overall choice.

Ray and his wife, Leslie, have a daughter, Taylor, 12, and a son, Jarren, 8.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1979-82: Played DB at University of Washington. 1983-88: Defensive back, Bengals. 1989-92: Defensive back, Dallas Cowboys. 1994-96: Assistant coach (AC), Washington Redskins. 1997-2000: AC, Bengals.

WORST TO FIRST (FREQUENTLY)

Four times in their history, the Bengals have finished first in their division after finishing last the season before. The only other NFL franchise to make such a climb more than once (since 1967, when the league split into four divisions) is the Colts, who have done it three times.

The Bengals followed a cellar season with a division title in 1970, 1981, 1988 and 1990.

TIM KRUMRIE — Defensive Line

Tim Krumrie is in his sixth season as an NFL coach in 2000, following a 12-year Bengals playing career during which his relentless work at nose tackle made him one of the most admired players in club history.

Helped last season by the return from injury of DE

John Copeland and the acquisition of free agent DT Oliver Gibson, Krumrie directed the Bengals line to a major improvement in rushing defense. Cincinnati finished 9th in the NFL with an average of 3.7 yards allowed per attempt.

Krumrie (pronounced "KRUM-rye") worked with assistant head coach/defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau to convert the defense into a 4-3 front late last season. The Bengals are expecting further progress in 2000 from the four-man line, and its ranks were bolstered during the off-season with the acquisition of two unrestricted free agents, DT Tom Barndt from Kansas City and DE Vaughn Booker from Green Bay.

"Added to the guys we already have, this gives us the depth to keep everybody fresh by rotating guys during the game," said head coach Bruce Coslet. "One of Tim's real strengths as a coach is his ability to motivate guys to give 100 percent on every play, and this year we're providing him the depth he really needs. The good defenses rotate just about all their guys now, and you need enough quality players that you can do it without a significant drop in the talent level."

Barndt's all-out playing style in Kansas City has been likened to that of Krumrie, and the comparison helped lead Barndt to Cincinnati.

"Tim Krumrie is a big reason I chose the Bengals," Barndt says. "I really have a good feeling about the situation there, working under Tim."

LeBeau was Bengals defensive coordinator during eight of Krumrie's 12 seasons as a player. He recalls the experience of coaching Krumrie as "a privilege."

"His trademark was 100 percent involvement and participation in every endeavor we ever asked of him," LeBeau says, "and he coaches exactly the same way."

Krumrie never missed a game during his Bengals playing career (excluding the 1987 players strike). He started 166 of his 193 games (including playoffs), and at one point had a streak of 160 starts in 161 games. He led the team in tackles five times — a most unusual feat for any interior lineman — and was selected as an AFC starter for two Pro Bowls.

He suffered a severe leg fracture at the height of his career — during Super Bowl XXIII — but returned from the injury to start the opening game of the next season. He retired as a player after the 1994 season, and joined the coaching staff in '95 as a defensive staff assistant.

Summing up Krumrie's attitude as a player, Bengals general manager Mike Brown once said: "It wouldn't matter if you put Timmy out there with 10 nuns on his side. He'd still be playing just as hard, and be just as confident he was going to win."

It's an attitude Krumrie has taken into his coaching career.

Krumrie's birth date is May 20, 1960. He was born in Menomonie, Wis., and grew up in Mondovi, Wis., where he attended Mondovi HS. He and his wife, Cheryl, have a daughter, Kelly, 16, and a son, Dexter, 11.

Krumrie was inducted into the University of Wisconsin's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1999, and he was among the 71 initial nominees for the Pro Football Hall of Fame's Class of 2000. Tim's hobbies include riding his Harley-Davidson motorcycles and taking care of his quarter horses.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1979-82: Played defensive tackle at Wisconsin. 1983-94: Pro defensive tackle, Bengals. 1995-2000: Assistant coach, Bengals.

STEVE MOOSHAGIAN — Wide Receivers

Steve Mooshagian, formerly the offensive coordinator at the Univ. of Pittsburgh, returns for his second season as Bengals wide receivers coach.

Mooshagian (pronounced "moo-SHAYG-ee-un") moved smoothly into the pro ranks last season, helping guide sixth-year pro Darnay Scott to career highs in receptions (68), yards (1022) and touchdowns (7). Scott led the team in touchdowns, and his receiving mate, Carl Pickens, was tied for second with 6 scores.

The Bengals' confidence in Mooshagian was reflected on Draft Day 2000, when Cincinnati used its first and third selections on wide receivers. Mooshagian's coaching touch will be crucial as the team attempts to make immediate impact players of first-round pick Peter Warrick and third-rounder Ron Dugans.

"I'm excited," Mooshagian says. "With our new guys, plus a couple of second-year players in Craig Yeast and Damon Griffin, we're going to have a lot of young talent on the field. It's going to be competitive for them and challenging for me."

Mooshagian resigned the offensive coordinator's position at Pitt to sign with the Bengals on Feb. 20, 1999.

At Pitt, he concentrated on coaching the wide receivers in addition to his coordinator's duties, and his units produced the top receiver in the Big East in each of his last two seasons.

Mooshagian came to Pittsburgh from Nevada-Reno, where he was offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach in 1996. Under his direction, the Wolfpack led the nation that season with an average of 527 yards total offense per game.

Before joining Nevada-Reno, Mooshagian served one season as head coach at Fresno (Calif.) City College. He also spent 10 years as the wide receivers coach at Fresno State, his alma mater, and was recruiting coordinator for five of those seasons.

During his tenure at Fresno State, he had eight wide receivers drafted by the NFL, and three players he recruited and/or coached went on to start in a Super Bowl. The three are WR Stephen Baker (Super Bowl XXV with the N.Y. Giants), CB James Williams (Super Bowl XXVII with Buffalo) and LB Ron Cox (Super Bowl XXXI for Green Bay).

"I've known Steve for quite a few years," says Bengals head coach Bruce Coslet. "I was early in my (NFL) coaching career when he was at Fresno, and that school was always on my scouting list because he always had receivers with good pro potential. He's been a natural fit for us because he came here knowing our system. He worked at Pittsburgh with Walt Harris, who was my quarterbacks coach with the Jets, and they ran virtually the same offense we do."

As a player, Mooshagian was one of Fresno's top receivers, and he later signed a free-agent contract with the Los Angeles Express of the U.S. Football League.

Mooshagian's birth date is March 27, 1959. His hometown is Downey, Calif. Steve and his wife, Rene, have three children — daughters Janaye, 16, and Danielle 12, and son Robert, 14.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1978-79: Played wide receiver at Cerritos (Calif.) College. 1980-81: Played wide receiver at Fresno State. 1982: WR, Los Angeles Express (USFL). 1983: Assistant coach (AC), Washington Union HS (Calif.). 1984: Head coach, Washington Union HS. 1985-94: AC, Fresno State. 1995: Head coach, Fresno City College. 1996: Offensive coordinator, Nevada-Reno. 1997-98: Offensive coordinator, University of Pittsburgh. 1999-2000: AC, Bengals.

AL ROBERTS — Special Teams

A veteran of 13 years as an NFL special teams coach, Al Roberts is in his fourth season with the Bengals. Last season, Roberts directed Cincinnati's kick return teams to arguably the finest combined performance in club history, as both the kickoff and punt units finished third in the NFL.

The Bengals averaged 24.0 yards per kickoff return, the club's best mark since 1970, and primary returner Tremain Mack became the first Bengal to lead the AFC in kickoff returns (27.1 average). Mack also became the first Bengal named to the Pro Bowl as a kick return specialist.

The punt return unit averaged 11.7 yards, the club's best performance since 1992. Rookie Craig Yeast provided most of the spark, averaging a dazzling 20.9 yards on 10 returns. Yeast became the first Bengal to return two punts for TDs in a season since Lemar Parrish in 1974.

In addition to tutoring the return specialists, Roberts provided them with excellent support, forming effective blocking units led by Michael Basnight, Canute Curtis, Mike Goff and Brock Gutierrez.

Cincinnati's kickoff coverage was also a big plus last season, as tackling leaders Curtis and Lawrence Wright led a unit that finished sixth in the NFL at 18.7 yards allowed per return.

Roberts' prime goal in 2000 is to revitalize the kicking and snapping functions, which were badly disrupted by injuries in 1999. The Bengals have added a new snapper in seventh-round draft choice Brad St. Louis. Placekicker Doug Pelfrey will face training camp competition from sixth-round draft pick Neil Rackers.

One of Roberts' past NFL special teams assignments was from 1991-93 with the New York Jets, when Bengals head coach Bruce Coslet was Jets head coach. In 1997, when Coslet entered his first full season as Bengals head coach, he sought out Roberts to rejoin him.

"Al is a no-nonsense, take-no-prisoners kind of guy," Coslet said. "I know how he works, and I knew he'd fit in here. He's my kind of guy."

During Roberts' term in New York, the Jets special teams were known for their excellent kick coverage.

Roberts broke into the NFL in 1984-85 as running backs and special teams coach with the Houston Oilers. He was in the NFL again from 1988-90 as special teams coach at Philadelphia under Buddy Ryan. Coslet is the second NFL head coach to ask Roberts back for an encore stint after the head coach changed teams, as Ryan brought Roberts to the Arizona Cardinals for the 1994-95 seasons.

Roberts has 11 seasons of college coaching experience. In seven of those seasons, his teams advanced to bowl games, most recently the 1996 Washington Huskies.

Born in Fresno, Calif., on Jan. 6, 1944, Roberts played high school football in Merced, Calif., and played in college at Washington (1964-65) and Puget Sound (1967-68). He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Puget Sound. He and his wife, Arvella, have two sons, Kali, 29, and Kyle, 25, and a daughter, Genesis, 24.

They also have one granddaughter, Laryssa, 8.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1964-65: Played at University of Washington. 1967-68: Played at University of Puget Sound. 1969-72: Assistant coach (AC), Mercer Island (Wash.) High School. 1973-76: Head coach, Garfield High School (Wash.). 1977-82: AC, University of Washington. 1983-84: AC, L.A. ## FRANK VERDUCCI — Tight Ends

Frank Verducci, a veteran of 19 seasons in college coaching with 10 major bowl appearances, is in his second season as Bengals tight ends coach.

Last season, Cincinnati's tight ends improved on the reception and yardage totals they had posted in 1998, combining for 41 catches and 501 yards. Led by starter Tony McGee, the tight ends also made a significant blocking contribution as the Bengals got a 1200-yard, Pro Bowl season from HB Corey Dillon while finishing 6th in the NFL in total rushing yards and third in the league in yards per carry (4.6).

Prior to joining the Bengals, Verducci (pronounced "vur-DOO-chee") spent 12 seasons with Hayden Fry at Iowa, including the last seven as offensive line coach. He also coached tight ends under Jerry Claiborne and later under Bobby Ross at Maryland (1981-83), spent two years as receivers coach under Francis Peay at Northwestern (1987-88), and coached running backs for Lee Corso at Northern Illinois (1984).

"Frank is a good fit for what we were looking for as a tight ends coach," said Bengals head coach Bruce Coslet. "He's proven himself as an offensive line coach with a major program, and he also has experience coaching tight ends as well as wide receivers. We were looking for an all-around coach who can not only work with blocking, but who can help get our tight ends more involved in the passing game."

Verducci's credentials to work with tight ends on blocking are evident not only from last season's Bengals performance, but from his work at Iowa.

At Iowa, eleven offensive linemen Verducci coached went on to enter the NFL from 1993 through 1998. The list includes Bengals third-round draft pick Mike Goff in 1998 and Packers first-round pick Ross Verba in 1997. Goff has started six games for the Bengals over the last two seasons, and in '97, Verba became the first rookie ever to start at left tackle in a Super Bowl. Six of Verducci's Iowa linemen are currently on NFL rosters.

Verducci's lines paved the way for record-setting performances by Iowa skill position players. Running back Tavian Banks set school records for rushing yards in a game (314) and a season (1691) during Verducci's tenure, and current Bengal Sedrick Shaw set the career rushing record (4156).

The Hawkeyes established rushing records for the Sun Bowl in 1995 and the Alamo Bowl in 1996, the 1994 line established a school record for fewest sacks allowed (10), and the 1997 line led the Hawkeyes to the Big Ten rushing title.

At Maryland, Verducci helped coach the Terps to berths in the 1982 Aloha and 1983 Citrus bowls. His bowl experience at Iowa included two berths each in the Rose (1986, 1991), Holiday (1986, 1991), Alamo (1993, 1996) and Sun (1995, 1997).

Verducci's birth date is March 17, 1957. His hometown is Glen Ridge, N.J. He played tight end and fullback in 1975 at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy-Kings Point, and went on to receive his bachelor's degree from Seton Hall University. Frank and his wife, Noel, have a son, Jack, 8, and a daughter, Cameron, 3.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1975:

Played TE and FB at U.S. Merchant Marine Academy-Kings Point. 1980: Assistant coach (AC), Colorado State. 1981-83: AC, Maryland. 1984: AC, Northern Illinois. 1985-86: AC, Iowa. 1987-88: AC Northwestern. 1989-98: AC, Iowa. 1999-2000: AC, Bengals.

KIM WOOD — Strength and Conditioning

In his 26th season with the Bengals, Kim Wood is the dean of NFL strength and conditioning coaches. A hard-driving coach who still maintains an easy rapport with his players, Wood has set up strength and conditioning programs for a number of NFL teams.

He is known nationwide for his outspoken stance against the use of steroids in strength training. The Bengals' training program was aggressively steroid-free long before official sanctions against the drugs became a nationwide norm.

Wood has seen many of his athletes perform impressive feats in the weight room, but that's not his goal.

"We train very hard, but we're not training our people to be weight lifters or power lifters," Wood says. "We always keep the perspective that we're working with these guys to be the best football players they can be."

An outstanding running back at the University of Wisconsin during his college days, Wood has worked under all seven head coaches in Bengals history. He joined the club in 1975, Paul Brown's final season as head coach, and has since coordinated strength training for Bill Johnson, Homer Rice, Forrest Gregg, Sam Wyche, Dave Shula and Bruce Coslet.

Wood's birthdate is July 12, 1945. His hometown is Barrington, Ill. He has four children: John, 21; twins Becky and Alyssa, 19; and Jacqueline, 16. John Wood is a sophomore nose tackle at the University of Michigan.

PLAYING AND COACHING HISTORY — 1964-

66: Played running back at Wisconsin. 1975-2000: Strength and conditioning coach, Bengals.

Former Bengal Jim Breech never missed a field goal attempt in overtime. He provided the winning kick nine times in OT, more than any kicker in NFL history.

"In that type of situation (overtime), your adrenaline is pumping so much that you just want to make sure not to overkick the ball," Breech said. "The key is to be real deliberate on that first step to just gather everything together."

Powerful punting prospect seeks first full season of NFL action in 2000 after performing for Bengals in portions of 1998 and '99 campaigns ... Opened '99 training camp as team's No. 1 punter, but was sidelined with a hip flexor injury diagnosed following the preseason opener ... Returned to handle punts and some kickoffs during season's final five games, but the injury still limited his effectiveness ... Showed signs of a full recovery at team's May 2000 minicamp ... Last player from the discontinued Boston Univ. football program to enter the NFL.

season opener Aug. 14 at Indianapolis ... Did not play Aug. 20 at Detroit, and was limited to one punt on Aug. 28 vs. Buffalo because of hip flexor injury ... Was waived on Sept. 1 with injury settlement ... Re-signed with Bengals as free agent on Nov. 23 ... Played in Games 12-16, with 33.8-yard average on 27 punts ... Also saw action as holder on field goal team in final five games.

DAZZLING DEBUT: Costello launched a Bengals-record 73-yard punt in his first pro game, on 12-13-98 at Indianapolis. That record still stands, as Will Brice fell a yard short with a 72-yard effort in the 1999 season opener

1999: Punted five times for 42.8-yard average in pre-

(Brad Costello — cont'd)

at Tennessee. Costello averaged 51.5 yards on 4 punts in the game at Indy, and research indicates he was the first kicker in NFL history to average more than 50 yards per punt in his first game.

COLLEGE: At Boston University, was Atlantic 10

punting champion in 1996 and '97 ... Averaged 44.4 yards per kick in '97 (73-3239), ranking third overall in Division I-AA and setting school records for average and total yards ... Finished career as BU's all-time leader with 42.3-yard average (194-8206) ... Began college career at Michigan State, transferring to BU after freshman year.

PERSONAL: Hometown is Moorestown, N.J. ... Attended Holy Cross HS in Delran, N.J. ... Was enrolled in the Metropolitan College at BU.

* — Costello did not earn an accrued year of experience toward NFL free agency in 1998 or '99 because he was not on the 53-player roster, the Reserve/Injured list or the Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform list in either season for the required minimum of six games. He again is designated a first-year player in 2000.

Contract status as of 7-3-00: Unsigned
Acquired: D2 '97 (43rd overall)
Born: 10-24-75

2000 STATUS: Dillon became a restricted free agent at the conclusion of the 1999 season. He did not sign with another team, and on 4-10-00, under terms of the NFL's Collective Bargaining Agreement, his rights reverted exclusively to the Bengals. He remained unsigned as of 7-3-00, print date for this publication.

Rushed for 1200 yards last season, second-highest total in Bengals history, and was first Bengals RB voted to Pro Bowl since Harold Green (following 1992 season) ... Dillon's 4.6 yards per attempt was the highest among the Top 10 rushers in the AFC ... Missed season's final game due to left knee strain, and would have needed only 40 yards in that game to break James Brooks' team record of 1239 rushing yards, set in 1989 ... Became the 11th player to rush for 1000 or more yards in each of his first three NFL seasons, and the eighth player to top 1100 each of his first three years ... Began the '99 season in 10th place on Bengals' all-time rushing list, but climbed to fourth place as his total reached 3459 yards ... Dillon has averaged 1153 yards per season, and in three seasons has posted three of the top five rushing campaigns in team history ... Were Dillon to hold his season average for the next three seasons, he would pass all-time Bengals leader James Brooks (6447 rushing yards) during his sixth NFL season; Brooks played eight seasons to set his mark ... Dillon needs 269 rushing yards to pass Harold Green (3727) into third place all-time on Bengals.

1999 PARTICIPATION: Started Games 1-15 ... Missed portions of Sept. 12 season opener at Tennessee and Sept. 26 at Carolina, due in both cases to leg cramps ... Saw limited action Oct. 24 at Indianapolis after suffering forearm laceration late in first quarter ... Missed most of the second half on Dec. 26 game at Baltimore, after being sidelined with left knee strain ... Was inactive on Jan. 2 at Jacksonville, due to the left knee strain.

BROWNS-BUSTER: Dillon got his first taste of the renewed "Battle of Ohio" rivalry against Cleveland in 1999 and responded in storybook fashion. He rushed for 168 yards on 28 carries in Cincinnati's Oct. 10 victory at Cleveland, earning a coaches' offensive Game Ball, and topped that total only once the rest of the way, in a Dec. 12 win vs. Cleveland at Cinergy Field. In that rematch, Dillon rushed for 192 yards on 28 trips while scoring three TDs. He had his season-long run of 50 yards in the second quarter of the Dec. 12 game, setting up a Cliff Groce touchdown run, and he scored himself on runs of 2, 2 and 11 yards. Dillon's 192-yard game was the second biggest rushing output in the NFL in '99 (behind Eddie George's 199 for Tennessee Dec. 9 vs. Oakland), and because the game was lopsided in Cincinnati's favor, Dillon did not play beyond the late third quarter against the Browns. Dillon also had 20 receiving yards on Dec. 12 vs. Cleveland, and his 212 scrimmage yards from the game are second-most of his career. Dillon's two-game rushing totals against Cleveland are 360 yards on 56 carries for a 6.4-yard average.

ALSO IN 1999: Dillon's 263 carries ranked third on Bengals' all-time list, behind 274 by Pete Johnson in 1981 and 265 by Harold Green in 1992 ... Tied Bengals record with five 100-yard games on the season; shares record with Harold Green (1992), James Brooks (1989) and Ickey Woods (1988) ... Dillon's 4.6 yards-per-attempt was the best by nearly half a yard among the AFC's Top 10 rushers, the next-best average being 4.2 by Edgerrin James of Indianapolis and Olandis Gary of Denver ... Dillon's 1490 yards from scrimmage (1200 rushing, 290 receiving) was the Bengals' most since 1989 and the most by any Bengal except James Brooks, who three times topped the 1500 mark ... Dillon's 2330 rushing yards over 1998-99 are the most in a two-season span by any Bengal; Dillon's 2259 yards over 1997-98 are second-most in that category; James Brooks' 2243 yards over 1989-90 rank third ... Dillon reached the 3000-yard mark faster than any previous Bengal, passing the milestone in Game 12 of his third season, Nov. 28 at Pittsburgh; no previous Bengal had reached 3000 before his fifth season ... Rushed for 120 yards on 23 carries at Pittsburgh and earned one of two coaches' offensive Game Balls ... Scored Bengals' first TD of season on a 1-yard run in first quarter Sept. 12 at Tennessee ... Had 210 scrimmage yards on Dec. 5 vs. S.F., rushing 33 times for 125 yards and adding career-high 77 receiving yards on 5 catches ... In Pro Bowl on Feb. 6, had 1 reception for 9 yards, 1 rush for minus-3 and 2 kickoff returns for 57 yards.

DILLON DATA: Rushing yardage is important, but the number of carries may be a stronger indicator of when a back's performance is helping the team win. All four Bengals victories in '99 featured 22 or more rushing attempts by Dillon, and the Bengals are 10-2 over Dillon's career when he gets 22 or more carries. Cincinnati has a 7-6 record in his 13 games of 100 or more rushing yards.

1998: Rushed for 1130 yards, topping by one his rookie season total ... Had four 100-yard rushing games for second straight season, topped by 124 yards on 14 carries Oct. 18 at Tennessee ... Season-long run was 66 yards in third quarter Oct. 18 at Tennessee, and he scored on 12-yard run in third quarter of that game ... Season-long scoring run was 18 yards in third quarter Sept. 13 at Detroit; TD tied score at 21-21 in game Bengals went on to win by 34-28 in OT ... Also scored rushing TDs of 3 yards Sept. 6 vs. Tennessee and 3 yards Dec. 6 vs. Buffalo ... Had first career TD pass reception Oct. 25 at Oakland, scoring on 17-yard toss from QB Neil O'Donnell ... Rushed for 110 yards on 35 carries Nov. 1 vs. Denver, posting second-most carries of career ... Led team with career-high 6 pass receptions Nov. 8 at Jacksonville ... Had career-long 41-yard reception from QB Paul Justin on Dec. 27 vs. Tampa Bay ... Started Games 1-14 and 16 ... Missed a portion of playing time due to twisted right knee Sept. 13 at Detroit, but returned to finish the game ... Also returned to action after missing time with a left hip pointer Nov. 15 at Minnesota ... Left game in third quarter and did not return due to sprained left big toe suffered Nov. 22 vs. Baltimore ... Missed most of first half and most of fourth quarter on Dec. 13 at Indianapolis, due to lower back bruise ... On weekly inactive list for Game 15, Dec. 20 at Pittsburgh, due to lower back bruise.

MOVE OVER, JIM BROWN: Dillon's highlight among highlights in his rookie season of 1997 came Dec. 4 vs. Tennessee in a Thursday night Bengals victory seen by a national ESPN audience. He rushed for 246 yards on 39 carries, breaking the NFL rookie record of 237 yards set by Cleveland's Jim Brown against the L.A. Rams in 1957. It was the fifth-highest total by any player in league history, just 29 yards shy of Walter Payton's all-time mark of 275, and was the highest by any player in 19 years, since O.J. Simpson gained 273 in 1978. The performance easily set a new Bengals mark for rushing yards in a game, topping the standard of 201 set by James Brooks in 1990. Dillon broke Pete Johnson's previous team record of 38 carries in a game, and he became the first Bengal to score 4 rushing TDs in a game (runs of 2, 31, 1 and 2 yards). He also had 30 receiving yards, and his scrimmage total of 276 surpassed a 1986 record set by Brooks, who totaled 264 yards vs. New England (163 rush, 101 receiving).

ALSO IN 1997: Season rushing total of 1129 broke the Bengals' rookie record of 1066 set by Ickey Woods in 1988 ... Named AFC Rookie of the Year in peer voting conducted by NFL Players Association ... Only NFL rookie to top 1000-yard rushing mark for the season ... Led Bengals RBs in receiving yards (259), and his 1388 total yards from scrimmage was most since '89, when Brooks had 1545 ... Finished sixth in rushing in AFC, but his per-carry average of 4.85 yards was higher than the five players who had more total yards ... Rushed for 100 or more yards three weeks in a row (Games 13-15), becoming the first Bengal to record three straight since Pete Johnson in Games 13-15 of the '80 season ... Scored 10 of Cincinnati's NFL-leading 23 rushing TDs, the most rushing scores by one player since Ickey Woods' team-record 15 in '88 ... Fell one yard short of posting seven straight games of 100-plus yards from scrimmage (rushing plus receiving); the only time he was under 100 during Games 9-15 was Nov. 16 at Pittsburgh, when he totaled 99 (78 rushing, 21 receiving) ... Tied team record for total TDs in a game with his 4 rushing scores Dec. 4 vs. Tennessee, equaling Larry Kinnebrew's 3 rushing and 1 receiving from 10-28-84 at Houston ... Earned AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors for his performance vs. Tennessee ... Awarded offensive Game Ball by coaches twice, for record-breaking performance vs. Tennessee and for 123-yard rushing game Nov. 2 vs. San Diego, his first 100-yarder as a pro ... Five of Dillon's 10 TDs came on runs of 20 or more yards ... Longest TD run was 71 yards Nov. 2 vs. San Diego; also had TD runs of 46 at Indianapolis, 39 vs. Jacksonville, 31 vs. Tennessee and 21 at Tennessee ... Used as kickoff returner early in season, averaging 30.3 yards on 6 attempts.

MORE DILLON DATA: Dillon's 13 games of 100-plus rushing yards, compiled in just three seasons, rank third all-time on the Bengals. FB Pete Johnson had 19 games of 100-plus during his seven-year Cincinnati career (1977-83), and RB James Brooks had 17 during his eight Bengals seasons (1984-91).

COLLEGE: Played at Washington only in 1996, designated as a junior, and departed with a remarkable list of school season records — rushing yards (1555), attempts (271), TDs (23), rushing TDs (22), all-purpose yards (2185) and scoring (138) ... Posted multiple records despite starting only 8 of 11 games, as he was backup to Rashaan Shehee until Shehee was sidelined with ankle injury in Game 3 ... In Holiday Bowl vs. Colorado, rushed

INSTANT REPLAY RULES

COACHES' CHALLENGE:

Outside the final two minutes of each half, each team will be permitted two challenges per game that will initiate referee reviews. Each challenge will cost a team a time-out. If a challenge is upheld, the time-out will be restored, but the challenge will not. No challenges will be recognized from a team that has exhausted its time-outs.

FINAL TWO MINUTES OF EACH HALF:

After the two-minute warning of each half, and throughout any overtime period, any referee review will be initiated by the replay assistant in the replay booth in the press box. He can initiate as many review requests as he thinks necessary, no matter how many time-outs the teams may have. No time-out will be charged for a review initiated from the replay booth.

REFEREE REVIEW:

All replay reviews will be conducted by the referee on a field-level monitor after consultation with the other covering officials on the play. A decision will be reversed only when the referee has indisputable visual evidence that the call should be changed. The referee cannot initiate a replay in any instance.

TIME LIMIT:

Reviews will be a maximum of 90 seconds, timed from when the referee puts on the head phones to the replay booth.

REVIEWABLE PLAYS:

The instant replay system will cover a variety of plays in three main areas:

1. sideline, goal line, end zone, and end-line plays;
2. passing plays;
3. other detectable infractions, such as a runner ruled down not by defensive contact, and the number of players on the field.

Bengals scored a TD three plays later, with only 0:15 left in first half, giving Cincinnati a 30-15 halftime lead and negating the emotional effect of a Browns TD and two-point conversion that had closed the gap to 23-15 with just 0:45 left in the half. ... The TD to Pickens lifted the Bengals to an 18-17 victory, wiping out a 17-12 Cleveland lead. The other QBs of the last half-century to throw such a pass in their league debuts were John Stota of Miami in 1966 and Frank Reich of Buffalo in 1989. Stota's pass lifted Miami to a 29-28 win over Houston on Dec. 18. Reich's pass pushed Buffalo over the L.A. Rams, 23-20, on Oct. 16.

OUTSTANDING OFFENSE

The Bengals amassed a club-record 621 yards net offense in a 52-21 victory over the New York Jets on Dec. 21, 1986. No NFL team has since matched that total in a regulation-time game.

The only higher output since then came in an overtime game in 1990, as Washington produced 676 yards in a 41-38 victory over Detroit.

An intense leader, voted captain of Bengals 1999 defense, Spikes will bid in 2000 to become the first Cincinnati player with three consecutive 100-tackle seasons since LB Jim LeClair in 1979-81 ... Has led the team in total snaps played in each of his two seasons, and his 105 tackles last year made him the first Bengal with back-to-back 100-tackle seasons since Darryl Williams in 1993 and '94 ... Also set a team record in '99 with a total of 8 fumbles either forced or recovered ... Flagged for only one penalty (offside) all season ... Slated to play RLB this season in Bengals' 4-3 front ... Has started every game since the preseason opener of his 1998 rookie campaign.

1999 PARTICIPATION: Started every game for the second of his two NFL seasons, playing RILB in 3-4 defensive front for Games 1-10 and RLB in 4-3 front for Games 11-16 ... Led the team in '99 with 1040 scrimmage snaps, playing 98.2% of the defense's total (1059) ... Played every defensive snap in eight games, and missed no more than eight snaps in any of the other eight games.

RECORD-BREAKER: Spikes had four forced fumbles and four fumble recoveries in 1999, leading the team in each category, and his total of eight for the dual category set a club record. Records in these categories are available back to 1976, and entering the '99 season, a total of seven fumbles forced and recovered had been reached five times. Reggie Williams did it twice, in 1983 and '85.

RECORD MUST WAIT: As noted above, Spikes has a chance in 2000 to become the first Bengal with three consecutive 100-tackle seasons since LB Jim LeClair in 1979-81. But LeClair is safe for now with the team record for consecutive 100-tackle years. He did it six years in a row, from 1976-81.

OTHER 1999 HIGHLIGHTS: Spikes finished strongly, as he led the team or the front seven in tackles during each of the final eight games ... His 105 total tackles ranked second to ILB Brian Simmons' 111 ... His 82 solo tackles ranked second to Simmons' 90 ... Ranked third on team and first among front seven in passes defended (6) ... Ranked second among LBs in coaches' statistics on tackles for loss (12) and QB hurries (13) ... Spikes had his first of three sacks in Sept. 12 season opener at Tennessee, a 6-yarder on Steve McNair in the fourth quarter. Spikes ripped the ball from McNair as the players fell to the ground, notching a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. The Bengals took possession at the Titans 26, setting up a field goal which gave Cincinnati a 35-26 lead ... Tied for team lead in tackles with 7 (4 solo) on Sept. 26 at Carolina; set up Bengals field goal by forcing William Floyd fumble that Artrell Hawkins recovered at Panthers 26 in third quarter ... Born: 1-8-70

A Bengals' first-round draft pick in 1992, Williams left for Seattle as a free agent in 1996 and returned to Cincinnati via free agency on 3-6-00. A starter for all eight of his previous NFL seasons and a prolific tackler (93.6 per year), he's expected to move into starting FS role, bringing talent and experience to a young Cincinnati secondary. Started at SS for Seattle last season, but was starter at FS for the first seven years of his career, including 1997 season in which he earned Pro Bowl start. His NFL totals include 29 interceptions for 639 yards and 3 TDs, 9 forced fumbles and 12 fumble recoveries. Posted 401 tackles in his four Bengals seasons. Led Bengals in tackles in 1993, finished second in 1994 and '95, and finished third in '92. Tied an NFL record with 3 opponents' fumble recoveries in one game (10-4-98 at Kansas City), and intercepted 3 passes in a game for Seattle on 9-21-97 vs. San Diego.

1999 PARTICIPATION: Started 12 games for Seattle at SS, missing three with a hamstring injury that limited him to reserve duty in a fourth game. Missed Games 6-7 and 12, and played but did not start in Game 10, Nov. 21 at Kansas City. Had a streak of 113 consecutive NFL starts before a hamstring injury sidelined him for Game 6 of last season, Oct. 24 vs. Buffalo.

Had 8 tackles (6 solo) Nov. 28 vs. Tampa Bay, but nagging hamstring problem sidelined him for Dec. 5 Oakland game. Returned to action with a big game Dec. 12 vs. San Diego, contributing season-high 10 solo tackles and 2 passes defended, including his third INT of the season. Had a tackle and 3 passes defended Dec. 19 at Denver. Had his fourth INT of season, along with 6 tackles (3 solo) in victory vs. Kansas City on Dec. 26 that ultimately put Seahawks in the playoffs. Closed the regular season with 7 tackles (5 solo) in loss Jan. 2 at N.Y. Jets. Saw his first NFL playoff action in starting SS role Jan. 9 vs. Miami, logging 6 tackles (3 solo) and a pass defended.

CRAIG YEAST

Ht: 5-7 Wt: 165

College: Kentucky

2nd year in NFL

1999 Games-Starts: 9-0; Career Games-Starts: 9-0

Contract status as of 7-3-00: In second season of a three-year deal

Acquired: D4 '99 (98th overall)

Born: 11-20-76

Fourth-round draft pick showed outstanding return skills last season, becoming first Bengal since Lemar Parrish in 1974 to return two punts for TDs ... A record-setting receiver in the Southeastern Conference, he was hampered through midseason by a high ankle sprain, but rebounded for a promising second half ... Favorite receiver of record-setting Kentucky QB Tim Couch, he has been clocked at 4.39 seconds in 40-yard dash, and was known for turning short passes into long gains.

1999 PARTICIPATION: Selected by Cincinnati in the fourth round (98th overall) of the draft ... Signed July 28 ... Suffered a high left ankle sprain in Aug. 1 training camp practice and missed first two preseason games ... Played in final two preseason games ... In regular season, played in Games 1 and 8-15 ... Inactive for Games 2-7 and 16.

1999 HIGHLIGHTS: Averaged 20.9 yards on 10 punt returns, including touchdowns of 86 yards on Nov. 21 vs. Baltimore and 81 yards on Dec. 12 vs. Cleveland ... The 86-yarder, the third-longest in club history, came early in the fourth quarter against the Ravens and closed a 31-21 Baltimore lead to 31-28 ... The 81-yarder against Cleveland came late in the first quarter, lifted Cincinnati to a 10-0 lead and earned Yeast the coaches' special teams Game Ball ... Yeast's only statistics as a receiver came Oct. 31 vs. Jacksonville, when he had three receptions for 20 yards ... He had a minus-16 yards net on two rushing attempts ... Made his NFL debut in the Sept. 12 season opener at Tennessee and had 50 yards on 3 kickoff returns.

NOT A RECORD, BUT NOT BAD: With only 10 punt returns on the season, Yeast fell well short of the minimum 20 required to have his yardage average qualify for the NFL leader rankings or the Bengals' record book. But Yeast's average of 20.9 yards is the highest ever by a Bengals player with more than two punt returns in a season. The only higher season averages to appear in club records are 41.0 yards by Kenny Graham, who had just one return in 1970, and 25.5 yards by Phil Spiller, who had two returns in 1968. The official Bengals season record for punt return average is 18.8 yards by Lemar Parrish in 1974. Parrish had 18 returns that season, enough to qualify because the season was only 14 games long at that time.

COLLEGE: Left Kentucky as the SEC's all-time receptions leader (208) and ranked second in receiving yards (2899) ... Played every game in his final three seasons and missed only one as a freshman ... Returned 3 kickoffs and 1 punt for TDs ... Unanimous first-team All-SEC choice as a senior with 85 catches for 1311 yards and 14 TDs ... No previous Wildcat had topped the 1000 mark in receiving yards in a season ... Scored 32 career TDs, 28 receiving and 4 on returns.

PERSONAL: Born in Danville, Ky., but hometown is Harrodsburg, Ky. ... Played QB, RB and DB as a four-year football starter at Harrodsburg HS, where he also lettered four years in track, three years in basketball and two years in baseball ... Was 1994 state champion in 400-meter dash ... Off-season residence is Georgetown, Ky. ... Married (wife Tori), with a son, Craig, Jr. (birthdate

5-8-99) ... Hobbies include golf, basketball, reading and watching movies ... Sponsor of the Francis Leroy and Catherine Lee Scholarship ... Social work major at Kentucky ... Has five relatives who have played college football ... Full name is Craig Nelson Yeast.

RETURN GAME RULES

The Bengals ranked third in the NFL in 1999 in both kickoff returns (24.0 yards per attempt) and punt returns (11.7). Cincinnati's combined rating of six (adding the rank of each category) was the best in the NFL. New England and Seattle each scored a 10, the Patriots ranking eighth in PR and second in KOR and the Seahawks ranking first in PR and ninth in KOR.

Tremain Mack's individual work led Cincinnati on kickoff returns, while rookie Craig Yeast was the impact punt returner.

Mack averaged a team-record 27.1 yards on his 51 KOR and he became the first Bengal to lead the AFC in kickoff returns. His highlight of the year was a 99-yard return for a TD on the second-half kickoff Nov. 14 vs. Tennessee. It was the second-longest kickoff return in team history, the longest by the Bengals at Riverfront Stadium/Cinergy Field, and the longest in the AFC for the season.

Yeast had only 10 returns and did not qualify for the league leader rankings, but he had returns for touchdowns of 86 (Nov. 21 vs. Baltimore) and 81 yards (Dec. 12 vs. Cleveland). He averaged 20.9 yards per return.

Keaton was tabbed by draft analyst Joel Buchsbaum as "a mid-round pick with upside potential," and he showed that potential by making himself one of the stand-out newcomers at Bengals' minicamp in May ... Played his final two seasons outside the national spotlight, at Division I-AA James Madison University, but has proven himself as an athlete with exceptional physical gifts when measured against any level of competition ... Rushed for 108 yards on 14 carries last season against Division I title contender Virginia Tech ... Possesses rare ability to accelerate with a burst and explode through scrimmage traffic ... Has been clocked at 4.37 in the 40-yard dash, and was a good fit for Bengals because his college offensive scheme was similar to Cincinnati's ... Showed outstanding production and durability as a senior, rushing for 1719 yards on 314 carries (5.5 avg.) and 20 TDs ... Had 537 carries over his two seasons at JMU ... Capped his senior year by being named his team's outstanding player in Blue-Gray All-Star Classic (14 carries for 104 yards and 1 TD) and stood out at the Indianapolis Scouting Combine with his vertical leap and receiving skills ... Signed a three-year Bengals contract on 6-23-00.

ONE BIG COMEBACK: Keaton has endured off-field adversity of the most serious kind, having survived a life-threatening attack of meningitis as a West Virginia sophomore in 1996. He missed the entire '96 season and lost his status as WVU's feature runner, coming back in '97 as a backup to Mountaineer star Amos Zereoue. Wishing to relocate as a No. 1 runner, Keaton transferred to James Madison, whose Division I-AA status allowed him to play in '98. He would have had to sit out '98 had he transferred to another Division I-A school.

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS — 1999: His 1719 rushing yards, 314 carries and 20 rushing TDs all were James Madison school records ... Also set JMU annual marks with 126 points scored, 21 total TDs (one on a pass reception) and 2024 all-purpose yards ... An All-America selection by Sports Page.com, and a finalist for the Walter Payton Award, given annually to the top player in Division I-AA ... Averaged 143.3 yards rushing per game and ran for at least one TD in each of final 11 games ... Posted three consecutive 200-yard rushing games, gaining 207 on Oct. 16 at William & Mary, 237 on Oct. 23 vs. Connecticut and 210 on Oct. 30 vs. South Florida ... Scored 5 TDs in the Connecticut game, on runs of 23, 47, 12, 5 and 11 ... Also had rushing games of 196 at Maine and 181 at New Hampshire ... Closed his career with 2-yard TD run vs. Troy State in NCAA Division I-AA playoffs. 1998: Joined James Madison after transferring from West Virginia ... Moved into starting lineup for the final eight games and led the team with 1064 rushing yards and 10 TDs ... Averaged 4.8 yards on 223 carries ... Came off the bench against Maryland in his first JMU game and rushed 16-109 with a 3-yard TD ... Rushed for career-high 241 yards (on 35 carries) against Villanova in his first start ... Had four other games of 100-plus rushing yards. 1997: Played in 12 games for West Virginia with one start ... Starting assignment was vs. Temple, when he rushed 20 times for 104 yards with a 15-yard touchdown. 1996: Spent the season for West Virginia on medical redshirt status, due to meningitis. 1995: Played in seven games for West Virginia as a freshman tailback ... Averaged 4.9 yards (28-136), including 77 yards on 7 carries vs. Kent.

'99 BENGALS REGULAR SEASON

Game 1 Tennessee 36, Bengals 35 Sunday, Sept. 12, at Adelphia Coliseum

The Bengals stormed back from a 26-7 second-quarter deficit to take a 35-26 lead in the fourth quarter. But the Cincinnati offense stalled in the final nine minutes with QB Jeff Blake out due to dehydration and leg cramps, and Tennessee pushed across a TD and a field goal in the final 4:30 to escape with a win. The Bengals rushed for 201 yards, their most since the 1997 season finale, and finished with 398 total yards. Blake threw TD passes of three yards to TE Tony McGee and 17 yards to WR Willie Jackson, hit a pair of two-point conversion passes and rushed for a career-high 90 yards.

Game 2 San Diego 34, Bengals 7 Sunday, Sept. 19, at Cinergy Field

San Diego's offense managed only a modest 266 total net yards and 14 first downs, but giveaways were Cincinnati's undoing. The Bengals tied a team record by fumbling seven times — three of those on kickoff returns — and lost four of the seven. The Bengals also suffered an interception and had no defensive takeaways. Cincinnati took a 7-0 lead on the game's first possession as QB Jeff Blake led a 66-yard drive that was capped by a 12-yard TD pass to TE Tony McGee. But Blake was forced from the game with a shoulder separation late in the first half, and the Bengals gained only 21 net yards in the second half. The Bengals fell to 0-2, while the Chargers opened their season with a win for rookie head coach Mike Riley.

Game 3 Carolina 27, Bengals 3

Sunday, Sept. 26, at Ericsson Stadium

The Bengals were big losers on the scoreboard in the franchise's first meeting with Carolina, despite leading the Panthers in net yards (372-343) and first downs (20-13). Cincinnati dominated time of possession at 37:24, but the defense broke down on TD runs of 62 and 67 yards by RB Tim Blakabutuka, and the Bengals failed to get a point from three possessions in the offensive red zone. Panthers QB Steve Beuerlein had a long passing gain of just 33 yards while totaling 204, but the veteran completed 17 of his 23 throws with no interceptions. Cincinnati's Corey Dillon rushed for 113 yards on 20 carries, while Blakabutuka totaled 132 yards on just eight carries. The Bengals fell to 0-3 while Carolina improved to 1-2.

Game 5 Bengals 18, Cleveland 17

Sunday, Oct. 10, at Cleveland Browns Stadium

The Bengals amassed 400 yards on offense and allowed a season-low 224, but it took a dramatic final drive by rookie QB Akili Smith to give Cincinnati its first victory of the season. Smith, making his first NFL start, drove the Bengals 80 yards in 10 plays during the final two minutes, connecting with WR Carl Pickens for a 2-yard TD pass with five seconds remaining. Pickens also had a 5-yard TD reception from Smith in the second quarter. HB Corey Dillon rushed for 168 yards on 28 carries for Cincinnati, most ever by a Bengals back in a road game, and WR Darnay Scott had 8 catches for 110 yards. The Bengals overcame three serious special teams mistakes, as the Browns scored on a fake field goal, recovered a Bengals fumble on a kickoff and blocked a Cincinnati punt. The Bengals improved to 1-4 and Cleveland fell to 0-5.

Game 6 Pittsburgh 17, Bengals 3

Sunday, Oct. 17, at Cinergy Field

The Bengals outgained the Steelers in net offense (261-255), but lost the battle of field position. The Steelers drove only 49 yards for each of their touchdowns. The first Steeler score, a 1-yard run by RB Jerome Bettis in the first quarter, came after the Bengals had failed to make a first down after starting at their own 14. The second Pittsburgh TD, a 5-yard run by Bettis in the second quarter, came after Cincinnati began a drive at its 28 and wound up punting from the 23. Bettis rushed for 111 yards on 26 carries for the day. Bengals QB Akili Smith topped Pittsburgh's Kordell Stewart by 207-134 in passing yardage, but Smith suffered 2 interceptions. The Bengals did not intercept a Stewart pass, leaving their interception total at just two through six games. Cincinnati fell to 1-5 on the season while Pittsburgh improved to 3-3. The game, with an attendance of 59,669, was the Bengals' first 1999 home sellout.

Game 7 Indianapolis 31, Bengals 10

Sunday, Oct. 24, at RCA Dome

Big plays were the Bengals' undoing as they fell behind 21-0 by the 4:41 mark of the second quarter. The Colts scored on their first possession on a 56-yard pass from QB Peyton Manning to WR Marvin Harrison, and RB Edgerrin James scored on runs of 1 and 2 yards that were set up by a 41-yard pass interference penalty against Artrell Hawkins and a deflected Will Bruce punt. The Bengals finished the game with four offensive starters on the bench due to injuries — QB Akili Smith, HB Corey Dillon, G Brian DeMarco and T Willie Anderson. QB Jeff Blake relieved Smith in the fourth quarter and led the Bengals' only TD drive, which ended with a 10-yard pass from Blake to WR Darnay Scott. The Bengals fell to 1-6 on the season as the Colts improved to 4-2.

Sunday, Nov. 14, at Cinergy Field

Tennessee gained only 247 net yards to Cincinnati's 264, but the Titans scored a decisive 4-1 edge in turnovers (all fumble recoveries). Titans QB Steve McNair scored on a 1-yard sneak later in the period, and the Titans led 14-0 at halftime. Cincinnati's Tremaine Mack closed the gap to 14-7 with a 99-yard kickoff return to open the second half, but the Titans led 24-7 before the Bengals scored late on a 24-yard pass from QB Jeff Blake to WR Darnay Scott. The Bengals fell to 1-9 as Tennessee improved to 6-2.

Game 12 Bengals 27, Pittsburgh 20

Sunday, Nov. 28, at Three Rivers Stadium

Cincinnati racked up 415 yards against the Steelers and had both a 100-yard rusher and receiver for the second time in 1999 as HB Corey Dillon rushed for 120 and WR Darnay Scott had 123 receiving. The Bengals rolled to a 24-3 lead by early in the second quarter and saw that lead clipped to 24-20 early in the third quarter, but held on for the win. The defense scored one of Cincinnati's three TDs, on a 58-yard interception return by CB Rodney Heath, and the unit continually frustrated Pittsburgh after the Steelers pulled to within 4 points in the third quarter. The Steelers went 0-for-3 on fourth-down conversion attempts during the final 16 minutes, as DEs Michael Bankston and John Copeland led the defensive charge. Cincinnati's three takeaways were the defense's most since a total of four in the season opener at Tennessee. The Bengals improved to 2-10 as Pittsburgh fell to 5-6.

Game 16 Jacksonville 24, Bengals 7

Sunday, Jan. 2, at ALLTEL Stadium

Playing with HB Corey Dillon and starting OTs Willie Anderson and Rod Jones all sidelined by injuries, the Bengals were unable to mount a consistent attack against a Jacksonville defense that led the league in points allowed per game on the season. Cincinnati managed a 7-0 lead with an 80-yard, first-quarter drive capped by HB Sedrick Shaw's 8-yard TD run, but the Jaguars came back to lead 17-7 by halftime. The Bengals gained only 65 net yards in the second half. Jaguars QB Jay Fiedler, subbing for injured Mark Brunell, completed 28 of 39 passes for 317 yards, including a 25-yard TD strike to WR Keenan McCardell, and no interceptions. The Bengals finished the season at 4-12, while Jacksonville sewed up the AFC Central Division title at 14-2.

A RARE RUNNER

The only Bengals quarterback ever to rush for 100 yards in a game was Virgil Carter, who gained 110 on nine carries against Cleveland on Nov. 15, 1970.

The game was the first Bengals-Browns match in Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field), and marked Cincinnati's first victory (14-10) over its Ohio rival.

NO TDs; NO PROBLEM

Three times in their history, the Bengals have won without scoring a touchdown:

- On Sept. 24, 1972, Horst Muhlmann's five field goals (41, 32, 20, 32, 34) fueled a 15-10 victory over Pittsburgh at Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field).
- On Oct. 21, 1984, Jim Breech kicked four field goals (24, 23, 25, 33) for all the Bengals' points in a 12-9 victory over Cleveland at Riverfront.
- On Nov. 6, 1994, the Bengals won their only road game without a TD. Cincinnati used Doug Pelfrey's club-record six field goals (36, 44, 36, 47, 28, 26) plus a safety by Alfred Williams to post a 20-17 overtime victory at Seattle.

TEAM HISTORY

P.B. AND THE HALL OF FAME

Paul Brown, founder of the Cincinnati Bengals, was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1967, and numerous other Hall of Fame members played and/or coached under Brown.

The most recent addition to P.B.'s disciples in the Hall of Fame was Bengals tackle Anthony Munoz, considered by many to be the greatest offensive lineman in NFL history. Munoz, a 1998 inductee, played his entire 13-year pro career (1980-92) with the Bengals. Some analysts thought he was too risky a prospect for an early first-round draft selection because he had experienced knee injuries in college. But Brown, as Bengals general manager in 1980, selected Munoz with the No. 3 overall pick.

The 1997 Hall of Fame class included Don Shula, winningest coach in NFL history, who played defensive back in the NFL and was a rookie on Brown's defending NFL champion Cleveland Browns in 1951.

WR Charlie Joiner, who played for the Bengals under Brown from 1972-75, was elected to the Hall of Fame in the 1996 class of inductees. Also, 12 other players Brown coached for the Cleveland Browns are in the Hall of Fame. They are: Doug Atkins, DE, 1953-54; Jim Brown, FB, 1957-65; Willie Davis, DE, 1958-59; Len Dawson, QB, 1960-61; Len Ford, WR, 1948-58; Frank Gatski, C, 1946-56; Lou Groza, T/PK, 1946-59; Dante Lavelli, WR, 1946-56; Mike McCormack, T, 1954-62; Bobby Mitchell, RB/WR, 1958-61; Marion Motley, FB/LB, 1946-55; and Bill Willis, G, 1946-53.

Former assistant coaches under Paul Brown who are in the Hall of Fame are Weeb Ewbank and Bill Walsh. Also in the Hall of Fame is Forrest Gregg, hired by Brown as Bengals head coach in 1980.

THE LONGEST SHOTS

The latest-drafted player ever to make the Bengals roster for a regular-season game was placekicker/punter Dave Green of Ohio University. Green was the 418th selection in the 1972 draft, taken in the 17th round. He didn't make the roster in '72, and had a brief stint (no games played) with Houston in '73 before being re-acquired by Cincinnati. Green played for the Bengals in 1974-75, scoring 70 points and averaging 40.1 yards on 134 punts. He was acquired by Tampa Bay in 1976, and stayed in the NFL through 1979.

The latest-drafted player ever to make the Bengals roster in the same season of his selection was RB Ted Washington of San Diego State. Washington was the 354th selection in 1968, a 13th-round pick. He played in the NFL only in 1968.

Though not among the very latest draft picks in team history, tight end/wide receiver Bob Trumpy of Utah stands out most for the way he exceeded the potential accorded him by the pro football world on draft day. Trumpy was the 301st selection in the 1968 draft, a 12th-round pick. He went on to play 10 years with Cincinnati (1968-77) and played in two AFL All-Star Games and then two Pro Bowls.

Notably successful late draftees on recent Bengals teams include tackle Joe Walter of Texas Tech, kicker Doug Pelfrey of Kentucky, and tackle Rod Jones of Kansas. Walter, a Bengal from 1985-97, was a 7th-round pick in '85, the 181st player selected. Pelfrey, now an eighth-year pro, was an 8th-round pick in 1993 (202nd overall). Jones, slated to start at left tackle in 2000, was a 7th-round choice in 1996 (219th overall).

BUCKEYES PAD LEAD ON ALUMNI LIST

In 1999, CB Ty Howard became the 18th player from Ohio State to earn a spot on the Bengals' all-time roster, increasing the Buckeyes' lead as the top collegiate supplier of Cincinnati NFL talent.

Arizona State and Florida remain tied for second place with 11 Bengals alumni each. Four schools — Auburn, Miami (Fla.), Penn State and West Virginia — are tied for fourth place with 10. Miami (Fla.) added FB Nick Williams and QB Scott Covington to the list last season, while West Virginia added CB Charles Fisher. Miami (Ohio) and Michigan each claim nine alumni on the all-time roster. Miami added its ninth last season with S JoJuan Armour.

Schools with eight include the University of Cincinnati, Colorado, Houston and Notre Dame. Colorado added Jay Leeuwenburg last season, while Notre Dame added three players — CB Tom Carter, OT Mike Doughty and DT Oliver Gibson.

BENGALS ALL-TIME ROSTER

NOTE: To be eligible for the all-time roster, a player must have been in uniform for at least one regular season or postseason game, or spent a minimum of four games on the roster (including inactive status) or on other player lists (Injured Reserve, PUP, etc.).

1000-YARD DUOS

The 1999 season marked the sixth time in the Bengals' 32-year history that the team had both a 1000-yard rusher and a 1000-yard receiver. Corey Dillon (1200 rushing yards) and Darnay Scott (1022 receiving yards) formed the duo.

Dillon's season was the 10th 1000-yard rushing season in Bengals history and the second-highest. Scott produced the 11th 1000-yard receiving season in club annals, and his 1022 ranked 10th among them.

Here's a recap of the six seasons in which the Bengals have had a 1000-yard rusher and receiver:

STREAKS TO REMEMBER

The Bengals' record for consecutive made field goals is 13, first set by Jim Breech in 1990 and later tied by Doug Pelfrey in 1993 and 1995. But two other Bengals FG streaks are clearly worthy of note:

- While tying the record in '95, Pelfrey also put together a streak of 19 made FGs in 20 attempts. His only miss among the 20 came on a try of 63 yards just before halftime Oct. 29 vs. Cleveland. Take away that low-percentage attempt, and Pelfrey would have a record-smashing Bengals streak of 19 straight FGs.

- Over the 1973-74 seasons, Horst Muhlmann knocked home 14 straight field goals. But three of the kicks came during a 1973 season playoff game against Miami, and postseason games form a separate category in record-keeping.

A NO-WIN SITUATION

The Bengals' Nov. 9, 1969 game at the Astrodome in Houston is unique in club history. It's the only game nobody won.

Cincinnati played its only regular-season tie that afternoon, catching the Oilers at 31-31 on Horst Muhlmann's 18-yard field goal with 0:22 left in the fourth quarter. Regular-season overtime was not in the rule book at that time.

BENGALS TOUGH IN OVERTIME

The Bengals are among the NFL's elite teams in regular-season overtime games with a 13-7-0 record and .650 winning percentage.

Only Denver (15-9-2) and Minnesota (14-12-2) have more total overtime victories and the only teams with a better OT winning percentage are Pittsburgh (13-5-1; .711) and Buffalo (12-6-0; .667).

Former Bengals kicker Jim Breech kicked an NFL-record nine winning field goals in overtime, never missing one in an extra period.

Overtime for regular-season games was instituted in the NFL in 1974.

Listed below is the Bengals' overtime history. Times listed are elapsed time, and the home team is listed in CAPS.

Oct. 30, 1977 — CINCINNATI 13, Houston 10. Bengals win toss. Chris Bahr kicks 22-yard field goal at 5:51.

Sept. 10, 1978 — CLEVELAND 13, Cincinnati 10. Browns win toss. Larry Collins returns kickoff 41 yards to Browns' 47. Don Cockroft kicks 27-yard FG at 4:30.

Sept. 23, 1979 — Houston 30, CINCINNATI 27. Bengals' longest overtime game. Oilers win toss. Houston punts. Chris Bahr's 32-yard field goal attempt is wide right at 8:05. Cliff Parsley's punt downed on Bengals 5. Pat McNally punts and Rich Ellender returns to Bengals 42. Toni Fritsch's third-down, 29-yard field goal attempt hits left upright and bounces through at 14:28.

Dec. 14, 1980 — Cincinnati 17, CHICAGO 14. Bengals win toss. Jim Breech kicks 28-yard field goal at 4:23.

Sept. 27, 1981 — CINCINNATI 27, Buffalo 24. Bills win toss. Greg Carter punts into end zone for touchback. Bengals drive to Bills 10. Jim Breech kicks 28-yard field goal at 9:33.

Sept. 3, 1995 — Cincinnati 24, INDIANAPOLIS 21. Bengals win toss, and drive 54 yards in 6 plays to set up 47-yard Doug Pelfrey field goal at 2:36. Fourth overtime victory in a row for Cincinnati.

Oct. 29, 1995 — Cleveland 29, CINCINNATI 26. Browns punt, Bengals punt and Browns punt again, all with no first downs. Oct. 6, 1996 — Houston 30, CINCINNATI 27. Bengals were unable to make a first down after getting the overtime kickoff, and Houston responded by driving 51 yards in 8 plays to win on Al Del Greco's 49-yard field goal at 4:22.

Sept. 13, 1998 — Cincinnati 34, DETROIT 28. Lions win toss and make one first down to their 40, but Bengals' Corey Sawyer intercepts Scott Mitchell pass on subsequent third down and returns it 58 yards for a touchdown 2:06 into overtime.

ROAD IS SWEET IN OT

Recent Bengals results have shown the home field "advantage" to be no edge at all in overtime games. The visiting team has won the last six overtime games involving Cincinnati, as well as nine of the last 10. In those 10 games, the Bengals are 5-0 as the overtime visitor and 1-4 as the overtime home team.

BENGALS CHRONOLOGY

Paul Brown, who left the Cleveland Browns following the 1962 season with an NFL record of 115-49-6, seven conference titles, and three NFL championships, had the urge to get back into football. His son Mike did a study on pro football expansion and recommended Cincinnati as a potential site. In 1965, Brown met with Ohio Governor James Rhodes and the two agreed the state could accommodate a second pro football team.

1966 Fearful the Reds baseball team would leave town and feeling pressure from local businessmen pushing for a pro football franchise, Cincinnati's city council approved the construction of Riverfront Stadium.

1967 Brown's group was awarded an AFL expansion franchise. Brown called the team the Bengals, the name of Cincinnati's pro teams in the old AFL of the late 1930s. The Bengals acquired their first player late in the year when they traded two draft picks to Miami for quarterback John Stofa.

1968 The Bengals were awarded 40 veteran players in the allocation draft. In the college draft, they selected Tennessee center Bob Johnson as their first pick. Other draftees included running backs Jess Phillips and Essex Johnson, tight end Bob Trumpy, linebacker Al Beauchamp, and tackle Howard Fest. The Bengals lost their first preseason game 38-14 to Kansas City before 21,682 fans at Nippert Stadium. The Bengals upset Denver 24-10 and Buffalo 34-23 in their first two regular season home games. Paul Robinson led the AFL in rushing with 1,023 yards and was named Rookie of the Year.

1969 Brown drafted quarterback Greg Cook of the Univ. of Cincinnati in the first round. The same draft also produced linebacker Bill Bergey. The Bengals jumped out to a 3-0 record, but the club finished 4-9-1. Brown was named AFL Coach of the Year. Bergey was honored as the AFL Defensive Rookie of the Year, and Cook won the AFL passing title.

1970 The NFL-AFL merger took place before the season, and the Bengals made their first NFL campaign a memorable one. After losing 6 of their first 7 games, they rallied for an 8-6 finish and won the new AFC Central Division. In their first playoff game, they lost 17-0 to Baltimore, which would go on to beat Dallas in the Super Bowl. QB Greg Cook was forced to the Injured Reserve list in training camp with a shoulder injury that would end his career, and Virgil Carter took over as the starter.

1971 The Bengals picked up QB Ken Anderson and tackle Vernon Holland in the draft, then went 5-0-1 in preseason play. After starting the regular season with a 37-14 win over Philadelphia, the Bengals lost seven in a row on the way to a 4-10 record.

1972 Looking for defensive help, Brown drafted end Sherman White, safety Tommy Casanova, linebacker Jim LeClair, and cornerback Bernard Jackson. Anderson unseated Carter as starting quarterback and the Bengals won three of their last four to post an 8-6 record. Chip Myers set a club record with 57 pass receptions.

1973 Brown drafted wide receiver Isaac Curtis and runners Boobie Clark and Lenwil Elliott. The Bengals split their first eight games, then swept their last six and won their second AFC Central Division title. Cincinnati lost to Miami 34-16 in the AFC playoffs. Clark, who finished the year with 988 yards rushing and 45 pass receptions, was named AFC Rookie of the Year. Essex Johnson led Cincinnati with a career-high 997 yards rushing and Curtis caught 45 passes.

1974 Cincinnati traded Bill Bergey to Philadelphia for two first-round draft choices and a third-round pick in 1977. LeClair replaced Bergey at middle linebacker. The Bengals won four of their first five games but couldn't keep pace with Super Bowl-bound Pittsburgh. Anderson won the NFL passing championship and completed a club-record 64.9 percent of his attempts. Cornerback Lemar Parrish led the NFL in punt returns.

1975 The Bengals opened with six straight wins. LeClair preserved a 21-19 victory over Houston, making all four tackles in a goal-line stand. The Bengals won their eighth game in nine starts against Buffalo as Anderson completed 30 of 46 passes for 447 yards, the tenth-highest one-game total in NFL history. Cincinnati scored 27 points in the first quarter to crush San Diego 47-17 and finish 11-3, its best regular-season record. The Bengals qualified as the AFC wild card team for the playoffs, but their losing postseason record continued with a 31-28 setback to Oakland. Anderson won his second NFL passing championship. A serious blow was the loss of defensive tackle Mike Reid, who retired at age 26 to pursue a career in music.

1976 Brown announced his retirement after 41 seasons of coaching and named Bill Johnson, his longtime assistant, as the successor. Brown continued to serve as the club's general manager and vice president. The Bengals acquired defensive end Coy Bacon in a trade with San Diego and drafted halfback Archie Griffin, the two-time Heisman Trophy winner from Ohio State. The Bengals set a fast pace in the AFC Central Division, winning nine of their first 11 games. The season came down to games against Pittsburgh and Oakland and the Bengals lost both. Those defeats not only cost Cincinnati the division title, but the AFC wild card spot as well. Cornerback Ken Riley led the AFC with nine interceptions.

1977 A loss to Houston in the final game cost the Bengals a spot in the playoffs. The team finished with an 8-6 record. Curtis missed the final six games with a knee injury. Bob Trumpy retired.

1978 QB Ken Anderson missed the first four games with a broken bone in his right hand, and Homer Rice replaced Bill Johnson as head coach after the team started 0-5. The team dipped to marks of 0-8 and 1-12 before rebounding under Rice to win the last three games. In the season finale, the Bengals blasted Cleveland 48-16, setting series records for points and victory margin.

1979 After six straight losses to open the season, the Bengals stunned Pittsburgh 34-10, recovering seven Steeler fumbles. CB Ray Griffin ran back an intercepted pass a club-record 96 yards in a 26-24 loss to San Diego. Pete Johnson powered his way to 15 TDs, but the Bengals struggled to their second straight 4-12 record. Former Cleveland coach Forrest Gregg was named to replace Rice as head coach.

1980 Scoring touchdowns was the major problem as the Bengals went 6-10 in 1980. They managed only 244 points, lowest in the AFC. Anderson had a sub-par year with only six touchdown passes. The Bengals won only one of their first five games, but upset defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh twice. First-round draft choice Anthony Munoz impressed at offensive tackle.

1981 The Bengals unveiled new uniforms with tiger-striped helmets, jerseys and pants. They had at least a share of the AFC Central lead the entire season and, on December 13, Anderson threw two touchdowns as the Bengals clinched the division with a 17-10 victory over the Steelers. Cornerback Louis Breeden tied an NFL record when he returned an interception 102 yards for a touchdown in a 40-17 victory over the Chargers in San Diego. Anderson led the NFL in passing with a 98.5 rating. On January 3, the Bengals beat the Buffalo Bills 28-21 in an AFC divisional playoff game. A week later, playing in their first AFC Championship Game, the Bengals defeated San Diego 27-7 at Riverfront Stadium in a temperature of nine degrees below zero with a wind-chill factor of minus 59. In Super Bowl XVI on January 24 in Pontiac, MI, the Bengals trailed 20-0 at halftime and couldn't make up the deficit, losing to San Francisco 26-21.

1982 The Bengals followed up their Super Bowl season with another strong showing. They finished the strike-shortened season behind only the Raiders with a 7-2 mark. The Jets caught them sleeping in the first round of the playoffs, though, beating the Bengals 44-17. Anderson led the AFC in passing for the fourth time as the Bengals boasted the second-best offense in the NFL.

1983 The Bengals' season looked promising at the start of 1983, but a horrendous opening brought about a premature ending. Cincinnati started the season by losing six of its first seven games. The Bengals never recovered and finished 7-9. Despite the losing record, the Bengals claimed the top overall defense in the NFL. In the off-season, Gregg resigned as head coach and Sam Wyche was named as his replacement.

1984 Pete Johnson was traded to San Diego for running back James Brooks. The Bengals lost their first five games, then bounced back to win eight of the last 11 and force the AFC Central Division championship race into the final week of the season, only to fall a game short of Pittsburgh. Cincinnati finished 8-8.

1985 Wide receiver Eddie Brown from Miami (Fla.) was the Bengals' top draft choice. Wide receiver Isaac Curtis, a premier Bengal for 12 years, retired shortly before training camp opened. Cincinnati finished 7-9 and was in the thick of the AFC Central race, which Cleveland won with an 8-8 record. Second-year quarterback Boomer Esiason replaced Ken Anderson. Offensive tackle Anthony Munoz was named to the AFC Pro Bowl team for the fifth consecutive time. The Bengals set a club scoring record with 441 points.

1986 Cincinnati's No. 1 choice in the college draft was Washington linebacker Joe Kelly. Wide receiver Tim McGee of Tennessee was drafted later in the first round.

Punter Pat McNally retired. The Bengals unleashed a high-powered offense in their battle for the AFC Central Division title and finished 10-6, narrowly missing a playoff berth. Tackle Anthony Munoz was selected to the AFC Pro Bowl team for the sixth year in a row. He was joined by guard Max Montoya, running back James Brooks and quarterback Boomer Esiason. Linebacker Reggie Williams was selected "One of the Top 10 Young Men in America" by the United States Jaycees. Later, Williams was selected NFL Man of the Year for his efforts to charity and the community. Munoz was named Seagrams' top offensive lineman of 1986.

1987 The Bengals won their season opener in Indianapolis, but then the season turned sour. They lost the next week to San Francisco, suffered the turmoil of the NFL players' strike for the next three weeks, and were unable to regroup when the strike was over. Their 4-11 record was their worst since 1979. Individual bright spots included Jim Breech leading the AFC in scoring with 97 points, Anthony Munoz being voted to his seventh straight Pro Bowl, and nose tackle Tim Krumrie making his first Pro Bowl.

1988 The Bengals brought about the biggest turnaround in NFL history by rising from their 4-11 finish of 1987 to a 12-4 regular-season record. They won the AFC Central Division title, and defeated Buffalo 21-10 for the AFC Championship on January 8 (1989). On January 22 (1989), they appeared in their second Super Bowl and lost 20-16 to San Francisco when the 49ers scored a touchdown with 34 seconds remaining in the game. Coach Sam Wyche's team posted a 14-5 mark in regular and postseason play, best in the NFL. Wyche received numerous honors for his brilliant coaching and nine Bengals were selected for the Pro Bowl — quarterback Boomer Esiason, nose tackle Tim Krumrie, tackle Anthony Munoz, guard Max Montoya, tight end Rodney Holman, wide receiver Eddie Brown, running back James Brooks, safety David Fulcher and cornerback Eric Thomas. Esiason was voted the NFL's Most Valuable Player and Munoz the top offensive lineman. In January of '88, linebacker Reggie Williams received the "Sportsman of the Year" award from Sports Illustrated. Defensive back Rickey Dixon, an All-American from Oklahoma, was the Bengals' first selection in the 1988 draft. "Ickey" Woods, the top rusher in college football in 1987 while at Nevada-Las Vegas, was Cincinnati's second choice. Woods led the Bengals in rushing in 1988 with 1,066 yards.

1989 The Bengals traded their first round draft choice to Atlanta for three later selections. Eric Ball, a running back from UCLA, was Cincinnati's first selection, coming in the second round. The Bengals, hit hard by injuries throughout the season, went 8-8 and narrowly missed gaining a spot in the playoffs. Six Bengals were selected for the Pro Bowl — tackle Anthony Munoz, quarterback Boomer Esiason, strong safety David Fulcher, running back James Brooks, tight end Rodney Holman and guard Max Montoya.

1990 The Bengals drafted Baylor linebacker James Francis in the first round of the draft. Running back Harold Green of South Carolina was the second-round choice. Cincinnati posted a 9-7 regular-season record to win the AFC Central Division Championship and move into the playoffs, where the Bengals defeated the Houston Oilers 41-14 before losing to the Los Angeles Raiders 20-10 in the second round. Three Bengals were selected for the Pro Bowl game — tackle Anthony Munoz, tight end Rodney Holman and safety David Fulcher.

1991 Cincinnati selected outside linebacker Alfred Williams, an All-American from Colorado, in the first round of the 1991 draft. Paul Brown, founder of the Bengals and a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, died August 5. The Bengals had a 3-13 season record. Dave Shula replaced Sam Wyche as head coach following the season.

1992 The Bengals made quarterback David Klingler, who played in college for the University of Houston, their No. 1 draft choice. Klingler started four of the final five games of the season in which the Bengals finished 5-11. Harold Green rushed for 1,170 yards and was selected to play in the Pro Bowl. All-Pro Anthony Munoz played his final game for the Bengals. Michael Pope was named offensive coordinator after the season and Ken Anderson was signed as coach of the quarterbacks.

1993 Defensive lineman John Copeland, an All-American from Alabama, was the Bengals' first-round draft choice. The Bengals acquired cornerbacks Sheldon White and Mike Brim and quarterback Jay Schroeder, who were unrestricted free agents, and lost cornerback Eric Thomas, wide receiver Tim McGee, safety Barney Bussey and tight end Jim Riggs. Quarterback Boomer Esiason was traded to the New York Jets for a third-round draft choice. The young Bengals lost their first 10 games before defeating the Los Angeles Raiders 16-10. Cincinnati then had wins over the Los Angeles Rams 15-3 and the Atlanta Falcons 21-17 in the final weeks of the season to finish 3-13.

1994 The Cincinnati coaching staff underwent a change when Bruce Coslet, former head coach of the New York Jets, returned as the offensive coordinator and Larry Peccatiello became defensive coordinator after Ron Lynn resigned. The Bengals signed eight veteran free agents while losing only one and they used the top pick in the draft on Ohio State defensive tackle Dan Wilkinson. The team lost its first eight games of the season. With quarterbacks David Klingler and Erik Wilhelm sidelined with injuries in the eighth contest, third-string quarterback Jeff Blake started against two-time defending Super Bowl champion Dallas and nearly pulled off the upset victory before losing, 23-20. Blake went on to amaze the league with his performances and never relinquished his starting role. The Bengals finished 3-13.

1995 The Bengals traded up in the first round of the draft for the first time, and selected Penn State RB Ki-Jana Carter with the No. 1 overall pick, obtained from Carolina. Carter suffered a knee injury in the third preseason game and missed his entire rookie season. Nonetheless, the Bengals made a dramatic improvement over the previous four years, going 7-9 with five losses by just three points each. QB Jeff Blake, WR Carl Pickens and PK Doug Pelfrey posted record Bengal seasons, and Blake and Pickens went on to start in the Pro Bowl.

1996 On March 19, Hamilton County voters approved a half-cent sales tax increase to fund two new stadiums, taking a major step to ensure the Bengals' future in Cincinnati. The team lost six of its first seven games, but Cincinnati's fortunes took a U-turn after offensive coordinator Bruce Coslet was promoted to head coach Oct. 21, replacing Dave Shula. Coslet directed the team to a 7-2 finish, including a 5-0 mark at Cinergy Field, and the final 8-8 record was Cincinnati's first .500-or-better season since 1990. On Dec. 15, it was announced Coslet had agreed to a four-year contract extension through the 2000 season. The defense set a team record with 34 interceptions, and CB Ashley Ambrose was named a Pro Bowl starter along with WR Carl Pickens, who caught 100 passes to break his own team reception record.

1997 The Bengals and Hamilton County officials reached agreement on a western riverfront site for a new football stadium, and on May 29, team president Mike Brown signed a lease committing the team through 2026. The team and county declined to sell naming rights, christening the facility Paul Brown Stadium in honor of the Bengals' founder. The team held training camp in a new complex at Georgetown (Ky.) College, ending its 29-year arrangement at Wilmington (Ohio) College. On the field, the team suffered a 1-7 start but rallied to finish 7-9, by going 6-2 in the second half. Rookie HB Corey Dillon rushed for 1,129 yards, third-most in club history, and his 246-yard effort vs. Tennessee on Dec. 4 broke Jim Brown's 40-year-old NFL single-game rookie record. Boomer Esiason started the last five games at QB and posted a 106.9 passer rating for the season. Bruce Coslet finished his first full season as head coach, and his overall .560 winning percentage (14-11 record) stood as the best for a head coach in club history.

1998: Demolition work for Paul Brown Stadium began early in the year, and official groundbreaking for the new facility was held April 25. Stadium work continued on schedule through the year, and the visible structure of a stadium had emerged by year's end. The Bengals had two choices in the first round of the draft, and used them to select LBs Takeo Spikes of Auburn and Brian Simmons of North Carolina, both of whom were starters in their first NFL season. Just before training camp, the team signed free agent QB Neil O'Donnell, who won the starting job in training camp and started the first 10 games. But by the end of an injury-plagued 3-13 season, Jeff Blake had re-emerged as the No. 1 QB. WR Carl Pickens caught 82 passes, five for touchdowns, and set club career records for receptions (473) and receiving TDs (57). HB Corey Dillon rushed for 1,130 yards, third-most in team history, and became the first Bengal to top the 1,000-yard rushing mark in each of his first two seasons.

1999: The Bengals raised hopes for the future by selecting a new offensive leader, Oregon QB Akili Smith, with the No. 3 overall pick in the NFL draft. Throughout the year, work continued on Paul Brown Stadium, the team's new, state-of-the-art home on the Cincinnati riverfront. But the final season at Cinergy Field was not a success, as the team endured a 1-10 start before rallying to win three of its last five for a 4-12 finish. Smith took the starting QB job from veteran Jeff Blake after four games, but had to yield the job back when a severe toe injury in Game 8 sidelined him for the remainder of the season. The Bengals did, however, show promise with significant improvement in the bedrock building areas of rushing offense and rushing defense. Cincinnati improved from 30th to 16th place in the NFL in total rush defense, and finished ninth in yards allowed per carry (3.7). Offensively, Corey Dillon rushed his way to the Pro Bowl with 1200 yards, second-most in team history, and the team finished sixth in rushing yards, just 40 yards off the league lead. Kickoff returner Tremain Mack also made the Pro Bowl, leading the AFC with a club-record average of 27.1 yards per return.

EARLY 2000: As work neared completion on Paul Brown Stadium, the Bengals prepared for their new era by making several promising moves on the player personnel front. On May 23, standout RT Willie Anderson was signed to a contract extension through 2006, and on June 5 the team made a seven-year deal with WR Peter Warrick, the No. 4 overall selection in the draft. The Bengals also signed three projected starters on defense from the unrestricted free agent ranks — DE Vaughn Booker, DT Tom Barndt and FS Darryl Williams. On June 1, the Bengals released Ki-Jana Carter, ending the injury-plagued Cincinnati career of the Penn State running back taken first overall in the 1995 NFL Draft. The team moved into the player, coach and administrative areas of Paul Brown Stadium in late June. The first game scheduled at PBS was an Aug. 19 preseason contest against Chicago.

CINCINNATI PRO FOOTBALL HISTORY

Cincinnati was home to two other football teams in the National Football League prior to the present-day Bengals.

One of the teams, known as the Cincinnati Celts, was a member of the NFL — then known as the American Professional Football Association — in the league's second season in 1921. That team finished with a 1-3-0 record in their only season.

In 1933, the NFL granted the city another franchise, this time called the Cincinnati Reds. They competed in the league for two seasons before folding. The Reds finished with a 3-6-1 record and fourth place in the league's Western Division in 1933. In 1934, they lost their first eight games before suspending operations. The St. Louis Gunners, an independent team, joined the NFL by buying the Cincinnati franchise and went 1-2 the last three weeks of the season.

It was a third team, however — one which was not a member of the NFL — that eventually proved to be the closest link to today's modern-era team.

In 1937, a team known as the Cincinnati Bengals was formed as a member of the rival American Football League. It was that team's nickname which was later adopted by today's NFL franchise.

The 1937 Bengals finished with a 2-4-2 record in their first year, but the AFL folded after the season. The Bengals continued as an independent team in 1938, playing three NFL teams that year. They beat the Chicago Bears, 17-13, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, 38-0, and tied the Chicago Cardinals, 7-7.

In 1939, the Bengals joined a new AFL, finishing in second place with a 6-2 record. But again, the league folded after the season.

Once again in 1940, another new AFL emerged, and again the Bengals joined. They recorded 1-7-0 and 1-5-2 marks in 1940 and 1941, respectively. That AFL suffered the fate of the two AFLs before it, folding after the 1941 season as the United States entered World War II. Only this time, the Bengals folded along with it.

Pro football returned to Cincinnati 26 years later in 1967 when Paul Brown headed an ownership group which landed an expansion franchise in the modern-era American Football League. Brown, a Pro Football Hall of Famer who founded and coached the Cleveland Browns from 1946-62, picked the name Bengals for the new team "to give it a link with past professional football in Cincinnati."

Hundreds of names were suggested by fans in an effort to name the new Cincinnati team, the most popular being Buckeyes. It was rejected to avoid confusion with the Ohio State Buckeyes.

The Bengals began play in the AFL in 1968. The AFL merged with the NFL in 1970, and the Bengals have been members ever since.

DOUBLING UP

Twice in Bengals history, a Cincinnati player has managed 100-plus yards both rushing and receiving on the same day. Essex Johnson was the first, rushing for 121 yards on 21 carries and getting 116 yards on two receptions on Sept. 30, 1973 at San Diego. He stood alone in the category until Dec. 7, 1986, when James Brooks burned the Patriots at New England for 163 yards on 18 rushes and 101 yards on six receptions. Cincinnati won both games.

Bengals opponents also have managed double 100-yard performances twice, and Cincinnati lost both of those games. On Nov. 23, 1976, Cleveland's Greg Pruitt had 121 yards on 17 rushes and 106 yards on seven receptions vs. Cincinnati at Cleveland Stadium. On Sept. 22, 1985, San Diego's Lionel James became the only NFL player to record dual 100s at Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field). James had 127 yards on 12 rushes and 118 yards on 5 receptions.

San Francisco 26, Bengals 21

Jan. 24, 1982, at Pontiac Silverdome

Coach Forrest Gregg's Bengals outgained San Francisco by 81 yards (356-275), marking the first time in the game's history the losing team led in yardage. Cincinnati QB Ken Anderson set Super Bowl records (since surpassed) for completions (25) and completion percentage (73.5), and Anderson's 300 passing yards nearly doubled the 157 by Joe Montana of the 49ers. But Cincinnati suffered four turnovers to San Francisco's one, and three of those giveaways led to 17 first-half points for the 49ers, who led 20-0 at intermission.

Leading 20-7, the 49ers staged a memorable goal-line stand late in the third quarter, stopping the Bengals for no gain on three straight plays from the one-yard line. The Bengals still closed the gap to 20-14 with 10:06 left in the fourth quarter, but the 49ers moved to a 26-14 lead on two Ray Wersching field goals before the Bengals crept within 26-21 on the game's second Anderson-to-Dan Ross TD pass with 16 seconds to play. Dwight Clark's recovery of a Bengals onside kick sealed the victory for San Francisco.

BENGALS IN SUPER BOWL XXIII

San Francisco 20, Bengals 16

Jan. 22, 1989, at Joe Robbie Stadium

Commissioner Pete Rozelle termed it the most exciting of the first 23 games in Super Bowl history, and the result regained some respect for the AFC, which had lost the last four games by an average of more than 27 points. But the dominant emotion of the day still was heartbreak for coach Sam Wyche's underdog Bengals, who took a 16-13 lead with 3:20 to play on Jim Breech's 40-yard field goal before succumbing to a 92-yard, 11-play TD drive led by San Francisco QB Joe Montana. John Taylor's game-winning 10-yard TD pass from Montana came with just 34 seconds remaining. Never before had a Super Bowl been won on a TD so late in the game.

The teams were tied 3-3 at halftime, tied again at 6-6 late in the third quarter, and then swapped touchdowns in quick succession. A 93-yard kickoff return by Cincinnati's Stanford Jennings was countered by a four-play San Francisco TD drive. The third of Breech's three field goals gave Cincinnati its third lead of the day before Montana's final heroics saved the day for San Francisco. The victory made San Francisco the first NFC team to win three Super Bowls.

Anthony Munoz Puts Bengals Stamp On Pro Football's Hall of Fame

Anthony Munoz, an athletically gifted giant who defined the art of playing offensive tackle in the National Football League, is the first primary Bengals player to gain entry to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Munoz was inducted, along with four other players, on Aug. 1, 1998, at the Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

Munoz chose his son, Michael, as his presenter for the Hall of Fame induction ceremony. Munoz and his wife, DeDe, also have a daughter, Michelle.

1998 was the first year of Hall eligibility for Munoz, whose final NFL season was 1992 with the Bengals. Including the 2000 class, only 25 percent of Hall inductees have had the honor of first-ballot election (52 of 204).

"Anthony's induction was very gratifying to our organization and to all of our fans," said Mike Brown, Bengals president. "It was particularly so because the selectors recognized Anthony as a truly special player and person who deserved election on his first try. During his playing days, no one in the NFL was better. It's justifiable to consider him as the best offensive lineman ever, and he has conducted his personal and family life in a way that is a great credit to the Bengals and the NFL."

Munoz' off-field efforts earned him the NFL's prestigious Man of the Year Award in 1991.

Munoz was a consensus All-American at the University of Southern California, and the Bengals claimed him with the third overall pick in the 1980 draft, despite the fact some teams considered him damaged goods due to past knee surgery. The move turned out as the best draft gamble in franchise history, as Munoz went on to play 13 Bengals seasons (1980-92), including 11 seasons (1981-91) in which he was chosen for the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl game. Among all NFL players, only Reggie White (13) and Jerry Rice (12) have been selected to more Pro Bowls since the game took its current form in 1970.

Munoz played for the Bengals in each of their Super Bowl appearances, as a second-year player in Super Bowl XVI and as a ninth-year veteran in Super Bowl XXIII.

In 1994, he was one of three offensive tackles named to the NFL's official 75th Anniversary Team. He joined his fellow tackles from that 75th Anniversary Team — Forrest Gregg and Roosevelt Brown — in the Hall of Fame.

Munoz' exceptional agility and athleticism is reflected by his entry line in the Bengals' all-time pass receiving statistics. He caught seven passes, playing as a tackle-eligible, and four of those catches were for touchdowns.

In six of his 13 Bengals seasons, Munoz earned at least one major award as NFL Offensive Lineman of the Year. One award citation, issued by NFL Alumni, reads: "The NFL has three levels of offensive linemen. The bottom rung is for players aspiring to make the Pro Bowl. The next step is for those who have earned all-star status. Then there's Anthony Munoz. He's alone at the top, a sure Hall of Famer."

Though there are Hall of Fame members with some Hispanic ancestry, Munoz is generally considered the first player of primarily Hispanic background to gain entry to the Hall. Munoz was born in Ontario, Calif. His parents also are native Californians, and his grandparents were born in Chihuahua, Mexico.

One other Hall of Fame player, wide receiver Charlie Joiner, has a Bengals connection. But Joiner played the majority of his NFL career with the San Diego Chargers. Paul Brown, founder of the Bengals and the Cleveland Browns, also is in the Hall of Fame, but was inducted before the Bengals' first season.

The other 1998 Hall of Fame inductees were defensive back Paul Krause, wide receiver Tommy McDonald, center Dwight Stephenson and linebacker Mike Singletary.

WHAT THEY'VE SAID ABOUT ANTHONY MUNOZ

- Ritter Collett, Dayton Daily News columnist: "Anthony Munoz is one of those rare athletes you wish could go on playing forever. Not just because he may be as fine a tackle as ever played in the NFL. Tackles come and go. Quality human beings who put more back into society than they take out are something else."
- Former Bengals head coach Forrest Gregg, recalling a pre-draft workout in 1980: "I was pass-rushing him. I put a couple of moves on him and thought I had him set up. But he just jammed me with that big right paw, and I landed right on my rear. I didn't need any more. Right then, I knew we would take him in the draft if he was available. He apologized for knocking me down, but I said, 'Son, don't worry. It was a great move.'"
- Jim McNally, Bengals offensive line coach, 1980-94: "The key word is 'athlete.' In the offensive line, you see a lot of guys who are big and strong and fine players, but they're not great athletes. Anthony is a great athlete."
- Joe Walter, Bengals OT, 1985-97: "Anthony played great every Sunday for 13 years. Every Monday, I was in the film room, watching him. It was awesome."

TRAINING CAMP — GEORGETOWN COLLEGE

Bengals players report July 21 to training camp at Georgetown College in Georgetown, Ky. The training camp facility is one of the finest in use by an NFL team, and it has been recognized for a major award by a national sports management magazine.

Athletic Management, published in Ithaca, N.Y., selected the facility, officially known as the East Campus Athletic Complex, for its 1998 "Excellence in Outdoor Facilities" award.

The Bengals moved their training camp to Georgetown in 1997 after 29 seasons of training at Wilmington (Ohio) College. Georgetown's commitment to meet state-of-the-art standards has brought unprecedented media attention to training camp and has helped the Bengals develop their Central Kentucky fan base.

"There isn't a team in the league that wouldn't like to have its training camp in a facility like this one," said Bengals president and general manager Mike Brown. "The reaction of our players has been dramatic, particularly in regard to how much they appreciated the improved housing as compared to past camps. We feel very comfortable at Georgetown."

The centerpiece of the complex is Rawlings Stadium, which offers permanent stands for 5,000 and is built in a bowl shape that can accommodate seating for up to 20,000 fans. The stadium is designed to provide fans with a festival-like atmosphere, concessions, merchandise, interactive pavilion areas and promotional activities developed by corporate sponsors. For the team, it houses locker rooms and showers, weight and aerobic rooms, training facilities, a press box and guest booths.

Rawlings Stadium has an advanced playing surface: SportGrass, a combination of both natural grass and synthetic materials. SportGrass consists of three levels of materials — a natural sand base, a middle level of loosely woven artificial turf and a layer of natural grass on top. The natural grass is able to root itself into and become embedded in the loose synthetic turf, making a surface which is safer and softer than artificial turf and easier to maintain than natural grass.

The training camp complex, located about a one-hour drive south from downtown Cincinnati, also includes a conference center used for coaches' classroom instruction and meals, two additional full-size practice fields, apartment-style resident quads for player housing and executive guest townhouses.

The new complex joins the already existing tennis courts, soccer field and the Robert N. Wilson baseball field.

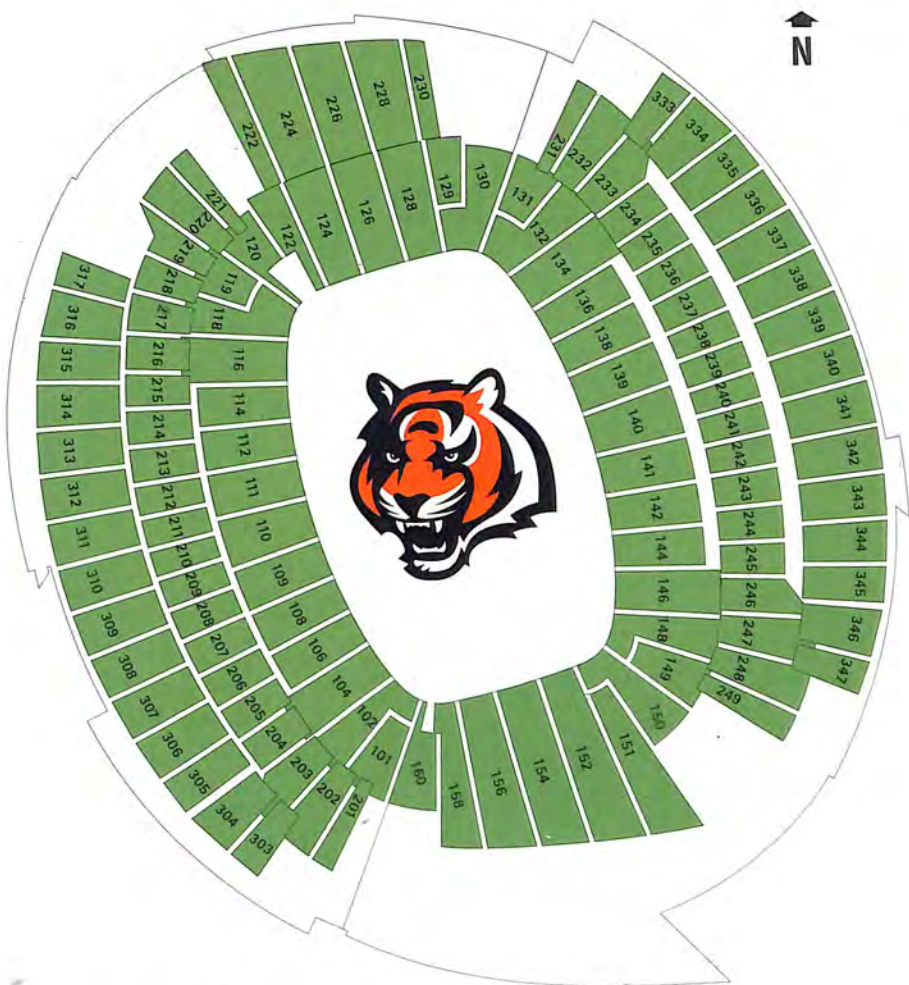

Major sponsors for 2000 training camp are: Bank One; BellSouth; BellSouth Mobility; Coca-Cola; Cumulus Broadcasting; Georgetown Community Hospital; Georgetown News-Graphic; John Deere; Kentucky American Water; Kentucky Utilities; Papa John's; Toyota; and WKYT-TV.

TRAINING CAMP DATES: July 21 – August 18.

DIRECTIONS: From downtown Cincinnati, take I-75 South approximately 70 miles to exit 126. Turn right off ramp onto U.S. 460 West. Go through four traffic lights; turn right at the fifth traffic light onto Lemons Mill Rd. (Route 1962 West). Go about one-half mile and look for the large Bengals sign and driveway to the complex on the right.

TRAINING CAMP TELEPHONE: (502) 868-6300.
