R-Phils™

2023 ROSTER

Matthew Kroon is enjoying an excellent season after missing pretty much all of 2022 after suffering an injury in the season's first week. As of June 8, Kroon is hitting .310 with 26 RBI. He also has 11 stolen bases. Kroon has established himself as a consistent bat in the R-Phils lineup.

Defensively, he has played all around the diamond too. Kroon has seen the majority of his games at third base, but has also played all three outfield positions for Manager Al Pedrique. Kroon spent 45 games with Reading in 2021 and hit .301 over that time. Kroon played in just two games in 2022 before an unfortunate season-ending injury.

The Phillies drafted Kroon in the 18th round of the 2018 Draft out of Oklahoma State. The former Cowboy is from Scottsdale, Arizona. He is enjoying a great season in Baseballtown and we are excited for what is ahead for Kroon.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT STAFF

The Reading Fightin Phils are excited to announce the addition of Al Pedrique to serve as the team's manager for the 2023 season. This is Pedrique first season in the Phillies organization.

Pedrique brings both Major League playing and coaching experience to Reading. Pedrique most recently served as the third-base coach for the Miami Marlins. He has also had coaching stints with the Athletics, Yankees and Royals, as well as being the Interim Manager of the Diamondbacks in 2004

Pitching coach Brad Bergesen remains in the Phillies organization. He was hired by the organization in 2018 to work with the Jersey Shore BlueClaws. Bergesen then worked for the Clearwater Threshers in 2019 and spent 2020 and 2021 with the R-Phils. His playing career included brief stints in the MLB, along with time professionally in Japan.

Tyler Henson will enter his fourth season as the hitting coach for Reading. He has had stints instructing in all the Phillies minor league ballparks. Henson played in the farm system as well, appearing in 80 games in Baseballtown in 2013. He was drafted by the Baltimore Orioles in the fifth round back in 2006. In total, Henson's playing career spanned ten years where he saw time at every position but pitcher and catcher.

ALUMNI REPORT

DREW ELLIS, 1B

Drew Ellis' time with the Fightin Phils in 2023 was brief, but very productive. In just ten games with Reading this season, Ellis hit three home runs and drove in eight runs; also with a .409 on base percentage.

Ellis was then called up to triple-A Lehigh Valley and continued his success, with five home runs and 19 RBI, while hitting .279 over 11 games. His success earned him a call up to the Phillies when Alex Bohm went to the injured list.

With the Phillies he has earned playing time and has made the most of it. Ellis has a three-hit performance, that featured two home runs, in the Phillies win over the Nationals on June 4. Ellis has also flashed excellent defense at both first and third base for the Phillies.

PLAYER PROFILE

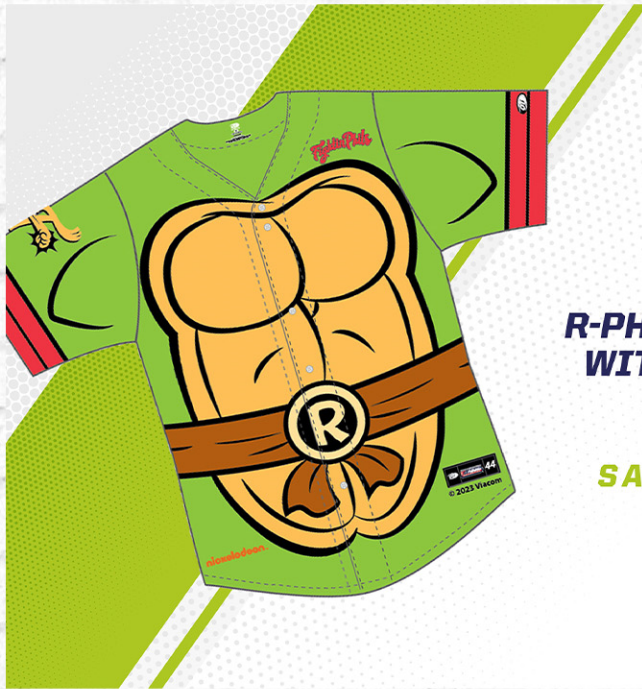

JOSH HENDRICKSON, LHP

Nick Podkul has silently become one of the most impactful players on this year's R-Phils team. He started the season on the Development List, but since being activated in April, Podkul has been on a tear. As of May 31, he reached base in 17-straight games and has hit over .300 for most of the season.

He has become a consistent in Manager Al Pedrique's lineup and can play multiple positions as well. Podkul can play first base, third base and some outfield. The Notre Dame native spent his whole career in the Blue Jays organization since being drafted in 2018. But, Podkul signed with the Phillies this past offseason.

In Reading's last home series against Harrisburg, Podkul hit .300 with three home runs and five RBI, including home runs in back-to-back games. He also worked a big ninth-inning walk to set up Max McDowell's walk-off home run on May 26.

Mickey Morandini

CLASS OF 2005

Mickey Morandini was inducted into the Reading Fightin Phils Penn State Children's Hospital Hall of Fame in 2005. He spent most of his big-league career with the Phillies, including the 1993 National League Champion team.

Morandini played for Reading for 48 games in 1989 and was excellent. He hit .351 with five home runs and 29 RBI. He made his debut with the Phillies in 1990 and was with Philadelphia until 1997.

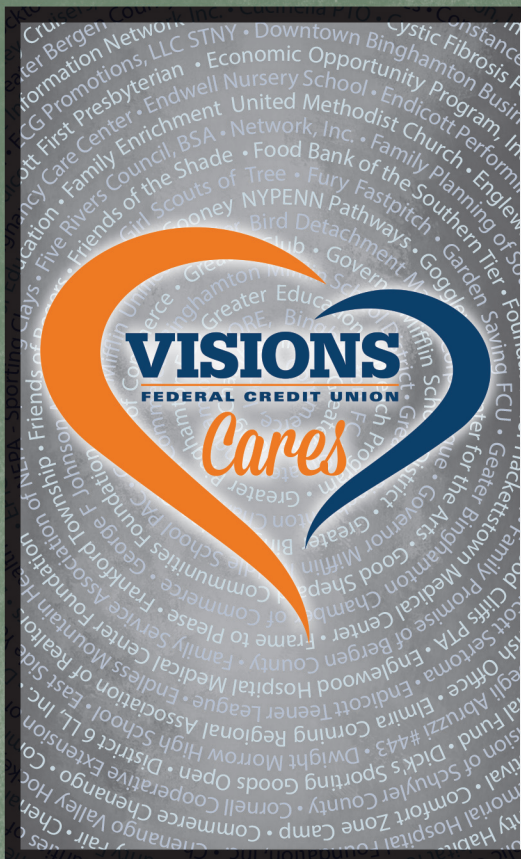

He spent 1998-99 with the Cubs and returned to the Phillies briefly in 2000 and finished his career in 2000 with the Blue Jays that season.

Baseballtown Charities

Baseballtown Charities mission is to keep baseball alive in Reading so youngsters can benefit from the many life lessons the game teaches. It was created by Chuck Domino, President of Baseballtown Charities and established in 2002 when its flagship project was started, Gordon Hoodak Stadium at Lauer's Park.

Baseballtown Charities raised more than $1 million to build Gordon Hoodak Stadium at Lauer's Park, a field of dreams in the heart of inner-city Reading, which has provided more than 1,000 boys and girls who otherwise might not have had the opportunity with a chance to participate in the game. It sits on the grounds of Lauer's Park Elementary School, named for the former stadium where Babe Ruth and Shoeless Joe Jackson both played.

Since then, the organization has evolved from focusing on one demographic in need to reaching throughout the community and touching many different types of people in order to reach anyone who could benefit from the game of baseball. Baseballtown Charities has made strides for both financially and physically/cognitive challenged individuals, not only who live within the city of Reading but throughout Berks County.
