ARTHUR B. MODELL

Owner/President

Born: June 23, 1925

Brooklyn, N.Y.

Purchased Browns: March 21, 1961

At the beginning of the NFL Owners' Spring meeting last May in Dallas, Commissioner Paul Tagliabue called a surprised Art Modell to the front of the room and presented the Browns' owner with an elaborate plaque signed by Art's fellow owners. In a letter written by Tagliabue that was mounted on the plaque, which also included a New York Times article on the NFL's new television agreement, the Commissioner wrote:

"The League has always had its share of special people. These have been the founders, owners, officials and coaches who have stayed the course over long periods of years, and who have made special contributions to the welfare of the League and its members . . . Your leadership and achievement in securing the latest round of television contracts again make clear that you are one of these special people."

Modell's 30 years of service as owner of one of the NFL's most successful franchises has been highlighted by dedication, loyalty, accomplishment and a human touch, often augmented by his sense of humor, that is so often missing in today's multi-million dollar professional sports' industry.

Actually, Modell showed signs that he was a "special person" at an earlier age. When he was 15 years old, Modell dropped out of high school and began work as an electrician's helper in a Brooklyn shipyard. He was cleaning out the hulls of ships to help his financially strapped family after the death of his father.

Not too many years later, Modell became an NFL owner. Risking every dollar he owned and borrowing as much money as his bankers would allow, Modell, then a highly respected New York advertising and television executive working as a partner for the L.H. Hartman Company, purchased the Cleveland Browns for the then unprecedented price of $4 million on March 21, 1961. With his entry into the NFL at the age of 35, Modell had written his "American success story."

Modell's vision that the NFL would soon explode at the box office and on television proved correct, while his prominence in the league grew rapidly. By 1967, he was president of the NFL, a position he held until 1970. "When I first came into the league, I was in awe of people like George Halas and Art Rooney. They were very kind and gracious to accept me into their fraternity so quickly," Modell says. Today, Modell is the dean of owners, having more years of NFL ownership than any other.

Modell and the Browns have been successful in the 30 years of Art's leadership. During his tenure, the Cleveland record is 239-176-7 for a winning percentage of .575. Only the Cowboys (.617), the Raiders (.616), the Dolphins (.611) and the Rams (.588) have fared better than Modell's Browns. The 1989 Cleveland team was his 14th playoff squad (19 playoff games). In five other years (1963, 1970, 1976, 1979 and 1983), the Browns had a chance to make the playoffs on the final day of the regular season, but did not qualify.

Modell's fourth Browns' team (1964) won the NFL Championship with a stunning 27-0 victory over the Baltimore Colts. The 1965, 1968 and 1969 teams each played in the league title contest, while Art's recent frustration saw his team lose heart-breaking, but memorable AFC Championship games in 1986, '87 and '89 to the Denver Broncos. Under Modell, the Browns also earned postseason play in 1967, 1971, 1972 (when the Dolphins preserved their historic undefeated season with a thrilling come-from-behind 20-14 victory), 1980, 1982, 1985 and 1988.

Through the years, Modell has received many local and national awards for contributions to his community, charities and civic affairs. His most recent was when the Washington Touchdown Club honored him with the first-ever Lifetime Achievement Award (1988). Modell's salute from the Browns' Chapter of the NFL Alumni on June 19, 1988, is one he cherishes. "I have great respect for the men who have played in this league, specifically those who have helped make this a consistent winning franchise. I'm a fan at heart and it made me feel very proud to have players like Jim Houston, Doug Dieken and Paul Warfield come back and say 'way to go.'" Modell says.

The Professional Football Writers bestowed the Jack Horrigan Award on Modell in 1988, as a tribute to his aiding and understanding their profession.

Here are other awards Modell has earned: the "National Volunteer Citation" from the Arthritis Foundation, "Champion of Brotherhood" distinction from the National Conference of Christians and Jews for "Modell's lifetime service in combating discrimination and prejudice," the "Citizen of the Year" award from the Cleveland Board of Realtors, the "United Way Commitment" honor for his and his team's involvement, the "Blanton Collier Award" from the Browns' Alumni, "1983 Executive of the Year" from the Cleveland Sales and Marketing Club, the "Pride of Cleveland" award from the Sports' Media Association of Cleveland and Ohio, and the "Super-Citizen" honor from the Variety Club.

Area hospitals, cultural organizations, Cleveland schools and youth activities have all received Modell's time and money to meet severe financial strains. Hiram College made Modell a member of its prestigious Garfield Society; John Carroll University awarded him an honorary LL.D degree (1979), and Wilberforce University has honored him for "Outstanding Citizenship." Modell has also served as the Foreman for the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury.

Modell's community leadership inspired a 1974 request to run Cleveland Stadium, which was in terrible repair and losing money for the city. Sixteen years later, Modell continues to run the Stadium that is leased to his company through 1998 and gives Cleveland over $1 million in revenues annually. Art also lent his money and influence to refurbish the financially troubled Cleveland Sheraton Hotel at Public Square, which became Stouffer's Inn On the Square under his direction. The Cleveland Plain Dealer said of his effort: "Not only did Modell take on the job of saving the hotel, he turned the venture into a team effort to save downtown and Public Square from a visual blight and the city from a loss of millions in convention business."

In NFL matters, his influence is league-wide and his devotion to the league Constitution and Commissioner's office is second to none. He serves as Chairman of both the league's Broadcast Committee and NFL Films. His daring transfer (1966) of the Browns to the American Conference, along with Pittsburgh and Baltimore, solved the AFL/NFL merger problem. He is also a member of the NFL's current Expansion Committee.

One of the many innovations he started with the Browns was the preseason doubleheader concept that proved extremely popular from 1962 to 1971. When a host team was sought for the first Monday Night Game in 1970, Modell volunteered the Browns and 85,703 fans came and watched the Browns beat the Jets, 31-21, quieting league moguls who were predicting box office disaster with a weeknight game. When other teams doubted a second Thanksgiving Day game in Dallas could succeed, Modell volunteered and the Detroit/Dallas doubleheader has become a holiday tradition.

Modell serves on the boards of directors of National City Corporation and National City Bank. He is Vice President of the the world renowned Cleveland Clinic Foundation and serves on its Executive Committee and is Chairman of the Compensation Committee. He is a board member at Churchill Downs and is one of two Churchill directors on the Triple Crown Productions Company.

Modell, who completed high school through night classes, joined the Air Force in 1943 (he was 18) and then enrolled in a New York City television school following World War II. Always an innovator, Modell produced one of the first regular daytime television shows in the nation before moving into the advertising business in 1954.

Pat Modell, Art's wife, has worked hard to improve the Cleveland community. Currently, she and Marty Knerly (mother of Olwen Modell, David's wife) are raising funds to build a hospice to serve the east side of Cleveland. Pat serves on the board at Ursuline College and is active with the Cleveland Musical Arts Association, the Cleveland Ballet, the Playhouse Square Foundation and Cerebral Palsy Association. A former actress, Pat appeared in over 400 motion pictures and television shows. The couple has two sons: John, 31, and David, 29. John is an engineer/music composer/producer working for A & M Records. He and his wife Tracy, an artist, live in Los Angeles. David, the Browns' Vice President of Marketing and Assistant to the President, lives in Kirtland with his wife Olwen, an attorney, and Art and Pat's granddaughter, Breslin Ebright.

"According to the individuals who run the clubs, the NFL's most respected owner is Art Modell of the Cleveland Browns. Modell, they say, makes it a point to get along with the representatives of the league's many cliques and factions. He can be tough, but he plays fair. In a sense, they say Modell is the NFL." Los Angeles Times, Jan. 25, 1987.

JIM BAILEY

Executive Vice President, Administration and Legal
Born: August 21, 1946
Wilmington, O.
13th Year Browns
Florida State

When the Browns are involved in a large undertaking, you can be sure to find Jim Bailey heading the project. A year ago, it was the team's visit to London for a week of training camp and a game against the Eagles. This year, Jim is directing the building of the team's new $12 million training and office complex, which is scheduled to be finished by May, 1991.

In a business "covered" by the media as thoroughly as an NFL team is, it is surprising that Bailey has maintained such a low profile in his 13 years with the Browns. Always working closely with Owner Art Modell since joining the franchise in 1978, Jim has opted to work quietly behind the scenes, while having impact on every aspect of the team's operations. "There is not a Browns' function that does not include Jim's input. From hiring a head coach, to our legal and government affairs, Jim is involved," Modell recently said of the Browns' Executive Vice President, Administration and Legal.

A former scholarship winner as a defensive back at Florida State, Bailey was promoted to his current position in early 1984. During his tenure with the Browns, Bailey has done everything from negotiate player, radio and TV contracts, to handle Browns' legal affairs, to coordinate Cleveland Stadium activities. In fact, most of Jim's initial work with the organization involved the development and maintenance of Cleveland Stadium Corporation.

Bailey earned a law degree from the University of Michigan after graduating from FSU. Prior to joining the Browns, Jim worked for the Cleveland-based law firm of Guren, Merritt, Sogg and Cohen, where he was quickly named a partner in 1976. Bailey's duties at the law offices included work with Art Modell in the development of the Cleveland Stadium Corporation lease arrangement with the city. That association was instrumental in bringing Bailey to the Browns.

A native of Wilmington, Ohio, Bailey stood out in three sports (football, basketball and track) at Wilmington High School. Recently, Jim was named to the Board of Directors of the NFL Alumni/Browns' Chapter.

Jim and his wife Ann, who is coordinating the day-to-day activities of the building of the Browns' new facility, live in Bratenahl. Daughter Sarah, a recent graduate from St. Louis' Washington University with a degree in psychology and business, is working for Chicago advertising firm Lee Hill, while daughter Jenny, a 1990 Northwestern University graduate (psychology and finance), is working in Denver.

ERNIE ACCORSI

Executive Vice President, Football Operations

Born: October 29, 1941
Hershey, Pa.

7th Year Browns

21st Year NFL

Wake Forest

Now in his third decade as an NFL executive, Ernie Accorsi is respected league-wide as an astute "football man" who has earned his position through hard work and intelligence. What is Ernie's impact on the Browns? In December, 1989 Pro Football Weekly stated it simply: "Look at the Browns' record since Accorsi arrived."

Certainly Ernie has helped make Cleveland an annual Super Bowl contender since he joined the Browns in 1984, but he downplays his role. "We're not a big company and we have an owner who works everyday at the football business, and he allows a number of us to express our opinions. We've been able to reach a consensus on most major decisions and it's worked out pretty well for us."

Accorsi is celebrating his 21st year in the NFL this season. He began his league career in 1970 as the public relations' director of the then Baltimore Colts. Since that job, Accorsi has worked in virtually every phase of the football business, save coaching. In his current capacity with the Browns as Executive Vice President-Football Operations, Accorsi shoulders most of the responsibilities for player acquisitions and other player-related movements. He works closely with Head Coach Bud Carson, directs all player contract negotiations and manages the Browns' personnel department.

Accorsi handled the delicate and important trade that gave the Browns the rights to then-sophomore Bernie Kosar in the spring of 1985. Kosar joined the Browns that summer and the team has progressed to win four of the last five AFC Central championships, plus make the playoffs a fifth time (1988) as a Wild Card team. While directing the 1989 draft, the aggressive Accorsi put together bold trades that brought the Browns the draft choices to acquire Texas running back Eric Metcalf and Auburn wide receiver Lawyer Tillman.

After serving five years with the Colts in the public relations capacity, Accorsi joined Commissioner Pete Rozelle's staff as Assistant to the President of the National Football Conference in 1975 and '76. He returned to the Colts in 1977 as assistant general manager and later became the club's general manager for two years (1982 and '83).

Just prior to coming to Cleveland, Accorsi's responsibilities in Baltimore included all of the Colts' functions. From negotiating local radio/TV contracts, to player movements, to the team's marketing and public relations efforts, Accorsi's imprint was seen. The Colts' climb from a winless 1982 (strike-shortened, 0-9) to seven victories in 1983, is attributed to Ernie's influence and direction.

Accorsi received the highest commendation from his alma mater, Wake Forest, in 1988 when he was presented the "Distinguished Service Citation for Athletics." Following his graduation from Wake in 1963, Accorsi served in the Army between jobs as a sportswriter for the Charlotte News and later with the Baltimore Evening Sun (1964). He then worked as the Sports' Publicity Director of Philadelphia's St. Joseph's College before joining the Philadelphia Inquirer in 1966. Three years later (1969), he returned to collegiate athletics as Penn State University's Assistant Sports Information Director.

Ernie, who is an avid reader of world and sports' histories, has three children: Michael, 21, and Sherlyn, 20, who are students at Pittsburgh and Penn State, respectively, and Patrick, 16, a high school junior.

DAVID MODELL

Vice President-Marketing,
Assistant to the President
Born: August 16, 1961
Los Angeles, California
16th Year with Browns

Many of the new efforts started by the Browns in recent years have been initiated by David Modell, who first worked for the team at the age of 14. Modell started a weekly half hour television show ("Browns' Insider") a year ago and this season is serving as Executive Producer of the team's preseason telecasts. Modell not only serves as the producer of the Browns' television ventures, he also is the main sales person.

Modell was recently (April, 1989) promoted to Vice President of Marketing/Assistant to the President. Previously, Modell, who is 29, had been the team's first-ever Director of Marketing. Modell's appointment was explained by Browns' Executive Vice President Jim Bailey. "The promotion reflects the added importance we've placed, as well as the other NFL teams, on local marketing. Player and operational costs are rising and we are aggressively seeking new sources of income through marketing to balance this inflation. Secondly, David's promotion is an indication of his growing role in our organization," Bailey said.

Modell started the club's marketing department in the Spring of 1985 after serving as a public relations' assistant for a year. Since that time, Modell has significantly increased the team's advertising revenues with such innovations as a 56-page training camp program, production of Browns' television shows and numerous game-day sponsorships. At the league level, Modell serves on the Executive Committee for marketing specialists.

Along with his marketing duties, Modell has continually increased his responsibilities with the Browns. For the past three years, he has negotiated player contracts under the direction of Ernie Accorsi. He has served as a coordinator for the Browns' promotional and advertising activities with radio station WWWE, which has the rights to the Browns' broadcasts.

Modell is deeply involved with the Diabetes Association of Greater Cleveland, where he serves on the Board and Executive Council, while heading their development fund raising. Modell also works with the Lake County Boy Scouts' Association.

As a 14-year old student, David worked Browns' games as a member of the grounds' crew. In the next years, he spent time as a front office aid and training camp intern. After graduating from the The Gunnery School (Washington, Ct.) and attending Wittenberg University, Modell joined the Browns in a fulltime capacity in the team's ticket office (1981-82). He then worked two years as the front office manager for the Fernwood Inn, a resort in the Pocono Mountains (1982-84) before returning to Cleveland in October of 1984. Modell and his wife Olwen, an attorney, are parents of daughter Breslin Ebright, who was born on 2/5/90. The Modells live in Kirtland.

18 former Browns' coaches and players became NFL head coaches: Weeb Ewbank, Blanton Collier, Nick Skorich, Forrest Gregg, Marty Schottenheimer, Lindy Infante, Paul Wiggin, Otto Graham, Walt Michaels, Raymond Berry, Bill Edwards, Dick Modzelewski, Don Shula, Chuck Noll, Monte Clark, Abe Gibron, Lou Saban and Lou Rymkus.

KEVIN BYRNE

Vice President,
Director of Public Relations

Born: August 20, 1949
Cleveland, Ohio

10th Year Browns

12th Year NFL

Marquette

Now in his tenth year with the Browns and his 12th NFL season, Kevin Byrne is a Browns' Vice President and the team's Director of Public Relations. Byrne, who was born in Cleveland 41 years ago, joined the franchise in 1981 as the Director of Publicity and earned his promotion to vice president three years later (1984).

While he directs the Browns' public relations' department, Byrne also works closely with the team's operations, ticketing and marketing departments. He has negotiated a number of the Browns' preseason television and radio contracts and helps manage the day-to-day activities during training camp. Along with David Modell, Byrne coordinates the Browns' preseason telecasts and a weekly half hour TV show ("Browns' Insider").

Byrne began his NFL career with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1977 when he was named as the then youngest public relations director in the league. He stayed with the Big Red for two years before becoming Director of Public Affairs for Trans World Airline (1979-80). In 1980, St. Louis Magazine selected Byrne as one of 80 St. Louisans "to watch in the 80's."

From 1974-77, Byrne was Sports Information Director at Marquette University, where he worked with Al McGuire and the Warriors' 1977 NCAA basketball champions. His first job after graduating from college was as the "SID" at the University of Missouri-St. Louis. His publications at both schools won numerous national and regional awards from the College Sports Information Directors' Association.

Byrne earned distinction as a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, the national Jesuit Honor Society, while gaining a degree in journalism from Marquette University (1971). He was a member of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" and was a four-year member of the Warrior wrestling team. (Byrne currently helps coach a grade school wrestling team in the Cleveland area). Kevin is a graduate of Lakewood (O.) St. Edwards High School, where he serves on the school's Board of Trustees and Executive Committee.

Kevin and his wife Sally live in Westlake with their four children: daughter Shannon, 14, and sons Sean, 13, Tim, 11, and Conor, 8.

BROWNS' TELEVISION

Along with producing a football team, the Browns also produce television shows, including a weekly half hour prime time feature called "Browns' Insider" and the team's preseason games. "Browns' Insider" airs weekly during the season at 8 p.m. on WOIO-TV. The show originated last season (1989) and won a local "Emmy" for the use of original sound in a segment reviewing a win over the Chicago Bears. David Modell serves as the show's Executive Producer, working closely with Kevin Byrne, who writes the segments. The Browns' Video Department, headed by John Wuehrmann, "shoots" and edits the segments. Jim Mueller is the host.

This is the first year the Browns are producing their preseason games, which will also be carried on WOIO-TV. Mueller and Bob Trumpy, a former Cincinnati Bengal and current NBC talent, provide the play-by-play and color. Ted Nathanson, who recently resigned as NBC's Coordinating Producer for NFL Football, will direct the three preseason broadcasts (Aug. 11 at Green Bay, Aug. 25 versus Washington and Sept. 1 at the Giants).

BUD CARSON

Head Coach
Born: April 28, 1931
Freeport, Pa.
2nd Year Browns
34th Year Coaching
North Carolina

When Bud Carson took over as the Browns' seventh full-time head coach in 1989, he refuted many preseason predictions of a decline in a "transition year" and led the Browns to the AFC Championship Game, becoming the first rookie head coach to accomplish that feat since Red Miller in 1977. Along the way, the Browns captured the AFC Central title for the fourth time in five years, and underwent a defensive transformation that is Carson's trademark.

In fact, that transformation came quicker than even Carson imagined. In his debut as the Browns' head coach, on September 10, 1989, Cleveland shut out the Steelers — Carson's former team — in Pittsburgh, 51-0, and set a team record by allowing only 53 net-yards, scoring three defensive touchdowns and causing eight turnovers.

"Sure, we did not take a slide last season, but I'm sure not satisfied with losing the AFC Championship. I've been in this business too long, and with a lot of teams, to know that you don't always get second and third chances. There's pressure to win, and it never ends. I'm here to give it my best shot."

Owner Art Modell named Carson to the position on Jan. 27, 1989. After 33 years in the coaching profession, a period in which Bud gained a reputation as a "defensive genius" in many quarters, Carson's long awaited opportunity to be an NFL head coach was realized.

"Being appointed head coach was the greatest thrill of my professional life," Carson said. "I've waited long, but it's worth it. To coach a team with the great history and tradition of the Browns, one that is so well respected for its commitment to winning - this is an opportunity I've worked hard to gain." The Browns own the AFC's best record over the past four seasons and have made five straight playoff appearances — also tops in the AFC. "There are very few people who become head football coaches in this league who are lucky enough to step into situations like this," said Bud. "After one heck of a year (1989), I really now feel like I know what we're doing, what the personality of the team is, and I have confidence we're going in the right direction."

Prior to his appointment with the Browns, Carson served as defensive coordinator for the New York Jets, and has served in a defensive coordinators' role for five NFL clubs (four in the AFC). "We are absolutely confident that Bud Carson is the right man to help us make the next step, which is to win the league championship, and, hopefully, more than one," Browns' owner Art Modell said. "I have never been involved in a more exhaustive talent search for a coach. We wanted to make sure we studied the whole field and, when we did, Carson became the clear-cut choice. He is an honorable and hard-working man, whose capabilities as a coach are readily evident in his defenses' accomplishments. He took us to the same point we have reached twice before. It didn't take him long to do that. He knows more than anyone else what we expect."

Carson reorganized his coaching staff after last season's roller coaster ride to the AFC Championship Game. Offensively, he hired Jim Shofner as Offensive Coordinator, Zeke Bratkowski as Quarterbacks' Coach, and switched Dan Rada-kovich to Offensive Line Coach/Assistant Head Coach from Defensive Coordinator. On the defensive side of the ball, Jim Vechiarella takes over as Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers' Coach, and Mike Faulkner will coach the secondary. Hal Hunter will work closely with the defense. Five members of Carson's staff have coached in a combined 12 Super Bowl games.

"We've made some changes on the staff to upgrade our football team," said Carson. "The AFC Central is a tough division — probably as tough as there is in football." Nobody realized that as much as the Browns' opponents. Much of Carson's first year was devoted to the transformation of a 3-4 defensive unit into an attacking, 4-3 unit. The Browns set club marks by allowing only 254 points (15.9/game) and recording 45 QB sacks, while leading the AFC with 27 interceptions.

Carson's success as a rookie head coach should come as no surprise: In 16 seasons as an NFL assistant, Carson's teams made the playoffs 11 times and played in three Super Bowls, winning twice. Carson first gained notoriety as the architect behind the famed "Steel Curtain" of the Pittsburgh Steelers in the 1970's. He served as defensive coordinator of the Steelers from 1972-77, a period when Pittsburgh gained the playoffs six straight seasons and won Super Bowls IX and X (1974-75). Three members of that unit - Joe Greene, Jack Ham and Mel Blount - have already been named to the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

"Sure we had good players," Carson said. "The double zone had never been played in the pros. We intercepted (a team-record) 37 passes with it in 1973. In football, if you're the first guy to use something, you've got an edge."

Carson was hired by Chuck Noll as secondary coach of the Steelers in 1972 and assumed the coordinator's position by midseason. "I got a call from Chuck Noll in 1972. He wanted me to coach his secondary. That was the start of a lifelong friendship from a guy who gave me a shot at the right time." The Steelers went 11-3 in Carson's first season and made the playoffs for the first time in 25 years.

After his run with Pittsburgh, Carson was hired by George Allen as the Los Angeles Rams' secondary coach in 1978. Allen was fired after the Rams played only two preseason games, and Ray Malavasi was named head coach. Bud was named defensive coordinator, where he served until 1981. The Rams' defense topped the league in fewest yards allowed in Carson's first season. The following year (1979), the Rams advanced to Super Bowl XIV, where they lost to the Steelers.

In a 24-0 Los Angeles victory on Nov. 4, 1979, Carson's Ram defense held the Seahawks to a negative-seven yards total offense, which is an NFL record. But perhaps an even greater feat occurred when Carson was in Pittsburgh, as the Steelers recorded five shutouts and allowed just two TDs in their final nine games of the 1976 season to qualify for the playoffs.

In 1982, Carson was the defensive coordinator of the Baltimore Colts (under Frank Kush). Although the young Colts suffered through an 0-8-1 campaign, Ernie Accorsi, then-general manager of Baltimore, was greatly impressed with Carson's coaching philosophy and his handling of the players. "Bud made an impression on me that I won't forget," said Accorsi, now the Browns' Executive Vice President of Football Operations. "His knowledge of the game vastly exceeded the talent we put on the field. His defensive schemes were always a few years ahead of time."

A year later, Carson joined the Chiefs' as defensive coordinator and secondary coach and, in 1984, he served as a volunteer coach at the University of Kansas.

When Bud joined the Jets in 1985, he immediately rebuilt the defense into the league's eighth-ranked unit after the New Yorkers finished with the 21st best defense in 1984. In 1986, despite losing the entire starting defensive line due to injuries for the final six games, the Jets finished second in the AFC in defense (and did not allow a rushing touchdown until week 11). Making the playoffs as a Wild Card, the Jets stopped the Chiefs, 35-15, and then lost to the Browns at Cleveland Stadium, 23-20 in double overtime, in one of the most memorable games in NFL history.

In 1987, the Jets slumped to 6-9, but rebounded in 1988 to an 8-7-1 mark, due in part to a young defense (three rookie starters) that held opponents to 17 points or less in seven of the 16 games, including a 23-3 victory over the Browns in week two at the Stadium. The Jets produced 45 quarterback sacks, second best in the AFC behind Buffalo's 46. New York was tied for fifth in the NFL with 40 takeaways (24 INTs and 16 FRs), behind Minnesota, Philadelphia, Houston and a tie with Green Bay and Seattle. FS-Erik McMillan, a third round pick, was named NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year by A.P. and Football News and earned a Pro Bowl trip. Carson initiated his coaching career at Scottsdale (PA) High School (near Pittsburgh) in 1955, where he coached for two years (record: 16-2-1). "We had 18 players on our team. I had one rule — nobody get hurt. And nobody did. Nobody ever laid down on the field. We were the toughest team in football. We ran in place during timeouts. It's funny how you remember things like that more than Super Bowls."

Bud entered the collegiate ranks at his alma mater, the University of North Carolina, where he served from 1957 to 1964, and then went to South Carolina (1965). In 1966, he joined the staff at Georgia Tech and succeeded the legendary Bobby Dodd as head coach the following year.

In five seasons, Carson guided the Ramblin' Wreck to a 27-27 record, including a 9-3 mark in 1970 that ended with a 17-9 victory over Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl. Carson's first three Tech teams each finished with a 4-6 record, while the 1971 squad (his final season) gained a 6-6 mark, which included a 41-18 loss to Mississippi in the Peach Bowl.

"I made all the mistakes I could make," recalls Carson. "I was no more ready to be a head coach (at Georgia Tech) than to fly. But I know what's ahead of me now. And I'm going to have some fun doing it."

Born April 28, 1931 in Freeport, Pa., Leon H. "Bud" Carson attended Freeport (PA) H.S. and was an All-Southern Conference defensive back for coach Carl Snavely at North Carolina for four years. He spent 30 months in the Marines following graduation. Bud's wife, Linda, is an experienced television news journalist who has worked in Atlanta, Los Angeles, Baltimore, Kansas City, Hartford (Ct.), Pittsburgh and Cleveland. Linda currently works on the staff of the local NBC affiliate, WKYC-TV (Ch. 3). She is a graduate of Mercer (Ga.) College with a degree in journalism and psychology. The Carsons have four children: Dana, 30; Cliff, 29; Gary, 28; and Cathy, 14.

DIVISION CHAMPIONS

The story of the 1989 Cleveland Browns, who won their fourth AFC Central division crown in the last five years, is now available for viewing by both groups and individuals. "Division Champions" captures Bud Carson's first season as head coach, from the stunning 51-0 defeat of the Steelers in the season opener, to the thrilling come-from-behind division-clinching win at Houston in week 16. Bud Carson hired much-respected Zeke Bratkowski last February 19, one of three new additions on the offensive staff. Bratkowski, 59, served the past five seasons in the same capacity for the New York Jets. Prior to his time in New York, Zeke spent three seasons as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks' coach for the Baltimore/Indianapolis Colts (1982-84), nine seasons as offensive backfield coach for the Green Bay Packers (1969-70 and 1975-81) and three years on the Bears' staff (1972-74). Bratkowski wasted no time getting started, meeting with quarterbacks Bernie Kosar, Mike Pagel, Jeff Graham and Clemente Gordon regularly last spring and early summer before camp opened.

"Zeke knows the quarterback position probably as well as anyone in the league," said Bud Carson. "He's done a great job with many quarterbacks in the league ... his work with Ken O'Brien in New York was outstanding. He brings so much experience with him, and he's got a lot of good ideas. He can still drop back and fire the ball ... his approach to coaching is hands on. When you look at our offensive staff, we've got a lot of years of experience and a wealth of knowledge."

Bratkowski began his NFL playing career as Chicago's second-round draft choice in 1953. He played 14 seasons in the NFL, totaling career stats of 762 completions in 1,484 attempts for 10,291 yards and 65 touchdowns. He played for the Bears in 1953 and again from 1957-60, serving three years (1954-56) in the Air Force. He played for the L.A. Rams from 1961-63 and then played for the Green Bay Packers from 1963-68 and 1971. Bratkowski backed up Bart Starr on three World Championship teams (1965-67), including the first two Super Bowls. In 12 games as a starter for the Packers during the championship years, they won 10 times. Perhaps his most memorable moment came when he led the Packers to a 13-10 sudden death win over the Colts in the 1965 Western Conference playoffs after Starr was injured early in the game, as the 'Pack rolled to the '65 NFL Championship. Zeke joined the Packers' coaching staff in 1969, but returned as an active player in 1971.

"I'm excited about coming to Cleveland, for several reasons," said Bratkowski. "First, the quarterbacks are tough, tough competitors. Bernie (Kosar) is probably the fiercest competitor in the league and he knows how to win. I've worked with Mike (Pagel) before with the Colts, and he's a hard worker and real athlete. Secondly, I've worked with Bud and some of the other assistants before, and I don't think there's a more experienced group in the league. And finally, I know the Browns' organization is committed to winning. They've consistently challenged for a championship, and the ingredients are there for everything to fall into place right away."

Bratkowski starred collegiately at Georgia and still owns many of the Bulldogs' passing records. He also led the nation in punting as a senior. Zeke and his wife, Mary Elizabeth, have three children: Robert, 33; Steve, 30 and daughter Kassie, 27.

West Virginia Tech

Mike Faulkner takes over the Browns' talented secondary this season. Bud Carson assigned Faulkner to his staff last February 23. Faulkner, 42, spent the last two seasons coaching the young New York Jets' secondary. In his first season (1988), the Jets' defensive backfield had four rookies and four new starters, including NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year Eric McMillan. New York led the AFC with 24 interceptions that season. Mike spent the previous five seasons on the Jets' staff in various capacities, including research, computer analysis and other administrative duties, as well as working with the linebackers from 1985-87 and the quarterbacks from 1983-84.

Faulkner joined the Jets after serving as personnel director of the Washington Redskins in 1982, and earlier that year, he served as the quarterback and receivers' coach of the Montreal franchise in the CFL. Mike was offensive coordinator at Eastern Illinois in 1981, after serving as Ray Perkins' special assistant with the New York Giants in 1980.

Mike, the second-youngest coach on Carson's staff, will concentrate on the secondary and will also handle some administrative duties for Carson.

"Mike has a lot of experience in many areas," said Carson. "His background includes work in football, administration and player evaluation. He's worked with some quality people. He's a coach who can help us on the field and in the office. He's already earned the respect of our players with his offseason work."

"I'm excited to be joining Bud's staff," said Faulkner. "They have a lot of talented people on defense, both veterans and promising young players. The opportunity to step into a situation like this is rare. I'm looking forward to it."

Faulkner worked with Forrest Gregg as passing game coordinator for the CFL Toronto franchise in 1979. From 1974 to 1978, Faulkner worked as a personnel scout and administrative assistant for the Washington Redskins, where he also helped coach receivers under Joe Walton. A two-way player (quarterback and defensive back) at West Virginia Tech (1965-69), Mike entered the coaching ranks right out of college at Marshall County Schools in Cameron, W.Va. Before joining the Redskins in 1974, he also coached at Riverside Military Academy (1972) and Walton High School (1973). Mike resides in Strongsville, Oh. Heather, Mike's wife, is a respected TV news' producer in New York City.

HAL HUNTER

Special Assistant to the Head Coach

Born: June 3, 1934

Canonsburg, Pa.

2nd Year Browns

33rd Year Coaching

Pittsburgh

Hal Hunter takes on new responsibilities in 1990, serving as special assistant to Head Coach Bud Carson. The role includes an active coaching role in quality control, defensive secondary and various administrative responsibilities. A 33-year veteran, Hunter coached the offensive line in 1989, his first year with the club. Only seven teams were sacked less than the Browns' 34 times in 1989. Prior to his appointment with the Browns, Hal served on the Steelers' coaching staff for four seasons (1985-88).

"Hal's worked under some quality coaches, and his experience is a boost to our staff. We had some injuries along the line last year, but once the season was over, I thought we needed to reassign some responsibilities. Hal compliments this staff extremely well, and his present position is an important one."

Hunter was hired by the Steelers in 1985 to coach guards and centers. He was part of an offensive line coaching duo along with Ron Blackledge, who coached tackles and tight ends. In 1985 and '86, the Steelers were second in the NFL in fewest sacks allowed, and in 1987 they were fifth. On the ground, the Steelers ranked 7th, 5th and 6th in the NFL (1986-88, respectively) in rushing yards.

"I've been in the AFC for the past eight years, and in the AFC Central the last five," said Hunter. "During that time, I've gained a lot of respect for the Cleveland Browns' organization and Art Modell. I was with Bud, (receivers' coach) Richard Mann and Ernie (Accorsi) in Baltimore, and with George Sefcik at Kentucky. That familiarity and the fact that my son is just down the road at Akron and my mother (Freda Wargo) lives in Cleveland, makes it a pleasure to be with the Browns."

Hunter, who is 55, is a veteran of 32 years of coaching at the professional and college level. He entered the professional ranks in 1981 as offensive coordinator under Frank Kush for the Hamilton Tiger Cats of the Canadian Football League. When Kush went to the Baltimore Colts in 1982, he took Hunter with him as offensive line coach. Hunter was named interim head coach for the Indianapolis Colts for the final game of the 1984 season.

In 1958, Hunter began his college career at Richmond as defensive line coach. He switched to the offensive line for a two-year stint at West Virginia (1962-63), another two years at Maryland (1964-65), followed by five years at Duke (1966-70). Hunter became offensive coordinator at Kentucky (1971-72) and accepted an offensive line assignment at Indiana (1973-76). In 1977, he was named head coach at California State University of Pa., and remained there until joining Kush in the CFL.

Hunter graduated from Pittsburgh with a bachelor's degree in secondary education and received his master's in science in 1962 from West Virginia. He was a starting Panther at linebacker and guard from 1953-55. In 1956, he played guard for the Pittsburgh Steelers, before a knee injury ended his playing career. From 1952-54, he was Pitt's heavyweight wrestler and placed fourth in the 1956 AAU national wrestling championships.

Hal and his wife Eileen have three children: Hal (offensive line coach at Akron), and two daughters, Heidi (a lawyer in Indianapolis) and Heather (director of public relations for a Philadelphia, Pa. naval base). The Hunters recently built a home in Hinckley, Oh.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1958-61 (Richmond); 1962-63 (West Virginia); 1964-65 (Maryland); 1966-70 (Duke); 1971-72 (Kentucky); 1973-76 (Indiana); 1977-1980 (Calif. St. University of Pa.); 1981 (Hamilton Tiger Cats); 1982-84 (Baltimore/ Indianapolis Colts); 1985-1988 (Pittsburgh Steelers); 1989-90 (Browns).

24th Year Coaching

The Browns begin their second season with Stan Jones as strength coach. Jones was hired on February 24, 1989 by Bud Carson. A former perennial Pro Bowl lineman, Jones served as defensive line coach for the Denver Broncos. Originally hired by Lou Saban in 1967, Jones spent 18 years with Denver in that capacity. He also worked under Saban in Buffalo from 1972-75, before returning to the Broncos in 1976. Jones was among the first strength coaches in the NFL, serving a dual role as defensive line coach before the advent of full-time strength coaches.

"When Dan Reeves became head coach at Denver, he told me, 'Stan, you are going to have to choose between being strength coach and defensive line coach,'" Jones recalled. "I told him I would rather be the strength coach, which had been my first love for 40 years. He said, 'OK, but that means you are going to have to make a lot less money.' I had a younger family then and changed my mind."

Bud Carson said, "Stan is one of the pioneers in strength and conditioning in this country. Our players have been in great shape since I've been here, and I have to give credit to Stan and Wrobo (Jones' assistant Gary Wroblewski)."

This season will mark Jones' 37th consecutive year in pro football. He played 13 years in the league (1954-1966), 12 with the Chicago Bears and one with the Washington Redskins. He played in seven Pro Bowls and earned All-Pro honors four times as an offensive guard. He played both offensive guard and defensive tackle until 1963, when he played defensive tackle exclusively.

Jones was an All-American tackle at the University of Maryland in 1953 and was named the nation's Lineman of the Year. In 1977, he was named to the Atlantic Coast Conference's 25-year all-star team. He has been honored by the Maryland Alumni Association as Man of the Year, and is a member of Pennsylvania's Sports Hall of Fame. He is currently under consideration for the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Stan and his wife, Darlis, have a daughter, Sherrie, and two sons, Kevin and Tony.

PAUL LANHAM

Special Teams' Coordinator

Born: July 31, 1930

Ripley, West Virginia

2nd Year Browns

31st Year Coaching

Glennville (W. Va.) State

When Paul Lanham was named special teams' coordinator for the 1989 season, Bud Carson insisted on quality coverage units, efficient substitutions, and, as a bonus, some big plays. Lanham did nothing to disappoint Carson.

The Browns boasted solid coverage units and equally adept return squads: They allowed only 8.5 yards-per-punt return (NFL avg.: 9.1) and 20.3 yards-per-kickoff return (NFL avg.: 19.4), without allowing a touchdown. Cleveland averaged 10.1 yards-per-punt return (and led the AFC in total punt return yardage) and 20.3 yards-per-kickoff return. Rookie KOR-Eric Metcalf returned a kickoff 90 yards for Cleveland's first-ever postseason TD on a kickoff return vs. Buffalo, and finished sixth in the AFC with a 23.2 KOR avg. (not counting 27.7 yards in the playoffs).

Punter Bryan Wagner led the league with 97 punts, including 32 inside-the-20. The Browns also blocked two field goals (one in postseason), a PAT in postseason and a punt (for a touchdown). Opponents were held to the lowest field goal percentage in the NFL (15 of 28 — 53.6%). In week 15 against Minnesota, Lanham called a fake field goal in overtime, and holder Mike Pagel threw a TD strike to Van Waiters, propelling the Browns to a 23-17 win and a shot at the AFC Central division crown (which they won the next week at Houston).

Considered a special teams' mastermind, Lanham previously coached with the Washington Redskins. Lanham was hired by Washington after the 10th game of the 1987 season, and the Redskins went on to win seven of their next eight games, including a victory over the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XXII.

A 17-year NFL veteran, Lanham started his pro career with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1972 as special teams and offensive backfield coach. He joined the Washington Redskins in 1973, serving under George Allen as special teams' coach from 1973-77. Lanham went to the Los Angeles Rams, where he coached a variety of positions — special teams, quarterbacks and running backs — for five seasons (1978-82). Bud Carson was on that same Rams' staff as defensive coordinator.

"Since the mid-'70s when he was with George Allen and the Redskins, Paul has been considered a kind of expert on special teams," said Bud Carson. "Everyone knows how the Redskins brought him in two years ago to fix their special teams, and they went on to win the Super Bowl. Once Paul told us he was interested in coordinating the special teams, we offered him the job. He did nothing to disappoint me. We had good special teams last year, and I expect the same this season."

In 1983, Lanham rejoined George Allen as offensive coordinator with the Chicago Blitz (the franchise relocated to Arizona the following season), and eventually succeeded Allen as head coach. Browns' defensive line coach John Teerlinck was on that staff. Lanham tutored the Detroit Lions' receivers in 1985-86. He began his coaching career with Delaware in 1960, and coached at Dayton (1961), Colorado State (1962-69) as offensive coordinator, and Arkansas as special teams and tight ends' coach (1970-71).

Lanham attended Glenville (W. Va.) State, where he lettered for three years as a linebacker. Paul received his master's degree in educational administration in 1960 from the University of Delaware. He and his wife, Helen, have four children: Tammy (31), Steve (28), Randy (26) and Gary (19).

"I've said it before and I'll say it again," states Bud Carson, "but we'll emphasize special teams. The quickest way to get fired in this league is to have bad special teams."

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1960 (Delaware); 1961 (Dayton); 1962-69 (Colorado State); 1970-71 (Arkansas); 1972 (St. Louis Cardinals); 1973-77 (Washington Redskins); 1978-82 (Los Angeles Rams); 1983-84 (Chicago/Arizona Blitz, USFL); 1985-86 (Detroit Lions); 1987-88 (Washington Redskins); 1989-90 (Browns).

Wide Receivers

6th Year Browns

Richard Mann, who is in his sixth season with the Browns as receivers' coach, has been with Cleveland longer than any other coach on Carson's staff. He's played a major role in developing the Browns' young receiving corps into a productive unit. Mann is no stranger to Bud Carson. They were on the same coaching staff (Baltimore) in 1982.

In 1989, Webster Slaughter broke a team record with 65 catches for 1,236 yards, earning Pro Bowl honors for the first time. Reggie Langhorne set a career high in receptions (60) for 749 yards. Veteran Brian Brennan and second-year receiver Lawyer Tillman (drafted in the second round in '89) are exceptional players, with Tillman's experience his only roadblock to a starting role. Mike Oliphant, the Browns' fastest player, has made the switch to wide receiver from running back. Mann heads this group that is among the team's strongest positions.

"Richard's hard work has certainly paid off in terms of production," said Bud Carson. "Our receivers can get open, they run the correct routes, and have improved every year. That marks the work of a quality coach. The wide receiver position has me most pleasantly surprised. We produced a Pro Bowl player in a year our offense struggled. Richard should be commended for the job he's done."

Mann describes his coaching mode as "demanding" and has been developing receivers for a dozen years on the college level and more recently in the NFL. Among the college players he helped advance are Miami standout WR-Mark Clayton at the University of Louisville. After that, Mann moved on to the pros with the Baltimore/Indianapolis Colts and maximized the Colts' receiving talent.

With the Colts, Mann worked under then-head coach Frank Kush, whom Mann played under, and later coached for, at Arizona State. At ASU, Mann was a three-year starter (first year at flanker) and caught 28 passes for 340 yards his final two seasons at tight end. After earning a B.S. degree in elementary education, Mann returned to his hometown high school as a teacher and coach from 1970-74.

He returned to ASU and spent six years developing future NFLers like John Jefferson, Bruce Hardy and Jerry Bell. He then moved on to Louisville for two years, before joining Baltimore in 1982. He spent three seasons on that staff before coming to Cleveland in 1985.

Mann and his wife, Karen, have three children: Deven (12), Richard (10), Mario (8) and Brittany (1), and reside in Strongsville.

Joe Popp begins his second year with the Browns as special assistant to Head Coach Bud Carson. Last season, Joe suffered a stroke during training camp that kept him sidelined only momentarily. Joe's well-wishers were many, and he'll assist Bud Carson again this season with a variety of administrative scheduling as well as on-field coaching. Popp began coaching in 1954, first on the high school level, before moving on to the collegiate and professional levels. Popp's association with Carson dates back to 1963 when both were on the University of North Carolina's coaching staff, and continued at Georgia Tech during Carson's tenure as head coach from 1967-71.

Popp started his career in 1954 as head coach at West Forsyth High School in Winston-Salem, N.C., where he served until 1957. From 1958-61, he moved on to Mooresville (N.C.) High School, where he served as head coach. In 1961, his Mooresville squad won the North Carolina AAA State Championship.

In 1962, Popp took over as freshman and scout team coach at the University of North Carolina, where he served for two seasons. Bud Carson was on the Tar Heels' coaching staff from 1957-64.

From 1964-67, Joe served as defensive coordinator at Wake Forest University. Brian Piccolo graduated from Wake Forest in Popp's first year, and John Mackovich was the Blue Demons' quarterback.

Popp rejoined Carson as a defensive coach at Georgia Tech in 1968, where he stayed until 1972. He served on Abe Gibron's Chicago Fire staff in the World Football League in 1974 and '75. He had been self-employed since 1976. Popp attended Franklin (N.C.) H.S. He earned a football scholarship to Catawba College in Salisbury, N.C., where he lettered for four years in football and three in basketball.

Joe and his wife, Peggy, have three children: Joey, 32, a television reporter in Charlotte, N.C.; Karen, 30, a lawyer in New York City for Sullivan and Cromwell; and Jimmy, 25, who played defensive back for Michigan State and is currently the backfield coach at The Citadel.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1963 (North Carolina); 1964-67 (Wake Forest); 1968-72 (Georgia Tech); 1974-75 (Chicago Fire, WFL); 1989-90 (Browns).

DAN RADAKOVICH

Assistant Head Coach and Offensive Line

Born: November 27, 1935

Duquesne, Pennsylvania

2nd Year Browns

34th Year Coaching

Penn State

Dan Radakovich has earned a reputation as one of the finest assistant coaches on both sides of the ball. Last season, "Rad" served as the Browns' defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. In 1990, "Rad" takes over the offensive line and will also serve as assistant head coach. With the Pittsburgh Steelers of the 1970s, "Rad" transformed a small, relatively under-sized group of offensive linemen into World Champions.

An innovator, "Rad" is credited with developing tight jerseys that were taped to the shoulder pads and the full extension of the arms in both pass protection and run blocking. He coined the concept of area blocking, as opposed to man-on-man, and introduced the pulling tackle that has become the solid foundation of Pittsburgh's trapping game. During workouts, he insisted on lateral movement drills to improve speed and quickness on trap blocks.

"Rad is a coach I respect as much as any in the league," said Bud Carson. "We've worked together at a couple of places and I can tell you he is an outstanding football coach. He will open the eyes of the players with his insights, understanding of the game, and his teaching. Even people who don't follow football closely know what he did with the linebackers at Penn State. He did so much with an under-sized group of linemen with the Steelers, and he'll bring out the best in our line, too. We certainly need a big effort from him as well as our players so we can protect the quarterback better and run the ball effectively."

Radakovich began his coaching career at his alma mater, Penn State in 1957, where he tutored linebackers for 13 years (through 1969). He helped develop Penn State into a traditionally linebacker-rich school. He was credited with the development of All-Americans Jack Ham, Dave Robinson and Dennis Onkotz, as the Nittany Lions gained the reputation as "Linebacker U." In 1970, he was named defensive coordinator at the University of Cincinnati under Ray Callahan. In 1971, he was defensive line coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers, and his impact was immediate, the line earning the nickname "The Steel Curtain."

"Rad" then was named assistant head coach/defensive coordinator and secondary coach for Colorado University from 1972-73, before returning to the Steelers in 1974 as offensive line coach. In Radakovich's four years with the Steelers, Pittsburgh won two Super Bowls (1974 and '75). Pro Bowlers' Mike Webster and Jon Kolb were members of the strong Pittsburgh line. In 1978, Dan was named defensive coordinator for the San Francisco 49ers.

Radakovich's career almost paralleled Bud Carson's, as he went to the L.A. Rams as offensive line coach in 1979, where he coached until 1981. In 1979, the Rams went to the Super Bowl (with Carson as defensive coordinator), behind the likes of Dennis Harrah, Kent Hill, Jackie Slater, Rich Saul, Doug France and Doug Smith, all Pro Bowlers. Dan was a football advisor for North Carolina State in 1982, offensive line coach for Denver in 1983, and offensive line coach for the Minnesota Vikings in 1984. He joined the Jets in 1985 as linebackers' coach, and then tutored the Jets offensive line from 1986-88.

Radakovich (pronounced rad-a-KO-vich) played linebacker and center for the Nittany Lions from 1954-56. He grew up in Kennywood, PA. Dan and his wife Nancy have a son, Dan (31) and daughters Lisa (27), Leslie (23) and Lori (21).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1957-69 (Penn State); 1970 (Cincinnati); 1971, 1974-77 (Pittsburgh Steelers); 1972-73 (Colorado University); 1978 (San Francisco 49ers); 1979-81 (L.A. Rams); 1982 (North Carolina State); 1983 (Denver Broncos); 1984 (Minnesota Vikings); 1985-88 (N.Y. Jets); 1989-90 (Browns).

GEORGE SEFCIK

Run Coordinator/Running Backs

Born: December 27, 1939

Cleveland, O.

2nd Year With Browns current staff

28th Year Coaching

Notre Dame

Running backs' coach George Sefcik returned to Cleveland, his hometown, last season after serving in the same capacity for the Browns on Forrest Gregg's staff from 1975-77. Sefcik, who has coached in the NFL for the past 17 years, helped develop rookie running back Eric Metcalf into a bona-fide NFL threat. Sefcik was without the services of running back Kevin Mack for most of the season, and worked with three new backs (Metcalf, Mike Oliphant and Barry Redden).

Prior to his appointment with the Browns, Sefcik served as offensive coordinator for the Kansas City Chiefs in 1988. Before that, he served on the Green Bay Packers' staff for four seasons (1984-87), tutoring the offensive backfield the first two seasons, and the quarterbacks the final two. In 1985, the Packers' running game averaged 4.7 yards per carry, second in the NFL. Sefcik coached the Cincinnati Bengals' running backs from 1978-83. During his tenure, the Bengals made their first Super Bowl appearance following the 1981 season. Before accepting his first position with the Browns in 1975, Sefcik served as offensive backfield coach for the Baltimore Colts from 1973-74.

"It's great to be back in Cleveland," said Sefcik. "I went to Benedictine High School, was raised in Cleveland and I enjoy the community. I feel honored and privileged to be back with a great organization like the Browns. We've got a lot of young talent in the backfield. (Leroy) Hoard, (Eric) Metcalf, (Kevin) Mack and all the rest are quality players. It's my job to teach them our new offensive system."

A two-way halfback for Notre Dame from 1959-61, Sefcik embarked immediately after college on his coaching career, taking over as head coach at Niles (Ill.) H.S. He returned to his alma mater as a freshman coach under Hugh DeVore in 1963, and when Ara Parseghian became head coach of the Irish, Sefcik tutored the wide receivers for five years (1964-68). The Fighting Irish won National Championships in 1964 and 1966. In 1969, he moved to the University of Kentucky, where he was the Wildcats' offensive coordinator under Johnny Ray for four years (1969-72).

Sefcik helped Benedictine High School bring the state high school title to Cleveland as a 5'-8", 158 lbs. halfback in 1958. An avid golfer and sportsman, George and his wife, Lorie, have three children.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1963-68 (Notre Dame); 1969-72 (Kentucky); 1973-74 (Baltimore Colts); 1978-83 (Cincinnati Bengals); 1984-87 (Green Bay Packers); 1988 (Kansas City Chiefs); 1975-77, 1989-90 (Browns).

DID YOU KNOW?

Entering 1990, a Browns' running back has rushed for 100 yards or more in a game 172 times in 163 games since 1950. Cleveland's record in those games is 130-30-3 (.798). The Browns have an eight-game winning streak when a running back runs for 100-yards or more, but did not enjoy a 100-yard day by a running back in 1989.

JIM SHOFNER

Offensive Coordinator

Born: December 18, 1935

Grapevine, Texas

1st Year Browns on new staff

27th Year Coaching

Texas Christian University

When Bud Carson was searching for an offensive coordinator last February, the clear-cut choice as the best coach available was Jim Shofner. And for Shofner, his hiring by the Browns represents a homecoming. Shofner returns to Cleveland, where he served as quarterbacks' coach from 1978-80. Shofner also played defensive back for the Browns from 1958-63.

Shofner brings 20 years of NFL coaching experience to Cleveland, including positions with the Cardinals (1986-89), Cowboys (1983-85), Oilers (1981-82), Browns (1978-80) and 49ers (1967-74 and 77).

Four quarterbacks had the best seasons of their careers under Shofner: Brian Sipe earned the NFL's Most Valuable Player Award by consensus in 1980 with Shofner as his coach. Sipe threw for 4,132 yards, 30 TDs and led the Browns to the 1980 AFC Central title. In Shofner's three seasons, Sipe's average gain per attempt was 7.3, 7.1 and 7.5 yards. Sipe's highest average gain per attempt outside of those years was 6.8 (his career average). The Cowboys' Danny White enjoyed his best season as a pro in 1983 with Shofner as QB coach, throwing for 3,980 yards, 29 TDs and leading the Cowboys to a 12-4 record. Neil Lomax, recently retired, earned Pro Bowl honors in 1987 with an 88.5 QB rating, threw for 24 TDs and only 12 INTs. Entering 1989, Lomax and White were ranked seventh and 11th, respectively, in all-time QB rating. San Francisco's John Brodie won the NFL's Most Valuable Player award in 1970, when Shofner coached the 49ers' quarterbacks.

"The first thing that impressed me about Jim is the success he's had with some other teams," said Bud Carson, "and it wasn't always in the best of circumstances. He comes with a proven successful track record and a lot of the quarterbacks he's worked with have had their best seasons with him . . . The second thing that impressed me was his interview. I think he'll fit in very well with the other coaches on our staff and his knowledge of the game is impressive. Finally, people in this league who I respect a great deal called me and gave me high, high recommendations about Jim's coaching abilities."

Shofner, 54, played football and baseball at Texas Christian University, earning All-Southwest Conference honors as a running back and defensive back. He played in the 1957 East-West Shrine and College All-Star games (against the Detroit Lions). Jim declined an offer to play professional baseball in the Detroit Tigers' organization. Instead, the Browns selected Jim as their first round draft pick in 1958 and Shofner played through the 1963 season.

"I'm elated to be coming back to Cleveland," said Shofner. "On the personal side, it's a chance to get back with friends and to an organization I enjoyed. On the business side, I'm happy for competitive reasons. I'm hungry to get into a situation where you have a chance to win. The Browns have been Super Bowl contenders in the last five seasons and have won consistently through the years. I'm certainly aware of the offensive talent already in place in Cleveland,

DID YOU KNOW?

Jim Shofner has coached two QBs who won NFL MVP honors. Each was in the first year of a new decade. John Brodie (49ers) won MVP honors in 1970, as did Brian Sipe (Browns) in 1980. Also, two other quarterbacks enjoyed their best seasons under Shofner: Danny White with the Cowboys in 1983, and Neil Lomax with the Cardinals in 1987.

like (Bernie) Kosar, (Webster) Slaughter, (Kevin) Mack and (Eric) Metcalf, and I'm one of those who thought Bud Carson did an impressive job last season."

After his playing career ended in 1963, Jim began coaching as an assistant at TCU. In 1967, he joined the San Francisco 49ers, spending seven years in a variety of positions, including defensive backs, quarterbacks and receivers' coach. In 1974, Jim returned to TCU as head coach. He returned for one season (1977) to the 49ers before taking on the Browns' quarterback coach position in 1978. He was named offensive coordinator of the Houston Oilers in 1981, and then joined the Dallas Cowboys as quarterbacks' coach in 1983. In 1986, the Cardinals offered him the offensive coordinators' job. Phoenix averaged 24.1 points per game in 1987 and 21.5 in '88.

Jim and his wife, Nancy, have two children: Mike (27) and Elizabeth (24).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1964-66 (Texas Christian); 1967-73; 77 (San Francisco 49ers); 1974-76 (Texas Christian, head coach); 1978-80 (Cleveland Browns); 1981-82 (Houston Oilers); 1983-85 (Dallas Cowboys); 1986-89 (St. Louis/Phoenix Cardinals); 1990 (Browns).

FORMER BROWNS' QUARTERBACK BRIAN SIPE ON JIM SHOFNER: "Jim was the best quarterback coach I ever had. He has a very good football mind. He's one of the most level-headed persons I've ever been around. He was at his best in the fourth quarter of tight games."

LIONEL TAYLOR

Passing Coordinator/Tight Ends

Born: August 15, 1936

Kansas City, Mo.

When Ozzie Newsome decided to return to the Browns for his 13th NFL season, Ozzie pointed to Lionel Taylor as one of the factors in his decision. "Lionel has instilled in me the continued desire to compete, the desire to keep the edge you need to be the best," said Newsome. "He's a players' coach in the true sense of the word. He keeps the game fun."

Taylor's association with Head Coach Bud Carson dates back to 1972, when Bud first joined Chuck Noll's Pittsburgh Steelers' coaching staff. Taylor coached the Steelers' wide receivers from 1970-76, and was the senior member on Noll's staff that won back-to-back Super Bowls in 1974-75. Both Carson and Taylor later served on the Los Angeles Rams' coaching staff; Carson as defensive coordinator from 1978-81, while Taylor tutored the Rams' wide receivers from 1977-79, and was promoted to offensive coordinator in 1980 and '81.

"Lionel Taylor is a guy with a great background in coaching, and we're very fortunate to have him," said Bud Carson. "He has been to three Super Bowls and coached a lot of playoff games. I'm sure our players will be impressed by him. His overall experience, both as a player and a coach, will allow him to make a big contribution to this offense. He's done a lot of things in this business: player, assistant coach, head coach and administrator."

"I think it's a great opportunity for me to work for the Browns," said Taylor. "I thought some time ago that Bud Carson would be a great choice as a head coach in the NFL. We've worked together for two different clubs in the past, so I know what he can do. We went to the playoffs as a first-year staff. We're all working hard to get to the next step."

Prior to joining the Browns, Taylor served as head coach and athletic director at Texas Southern University in Houston, Texas from 1984-88. Although Texas Southern managed a 13-41-1 record under Taylor, the Tigers' offense averaged over 28 points-per-game in 1986-87, and in 1986, two receivers, Darrell Colbert (currently with K.C. Chiefs) and Donald Narcisse (currently with CFL's Saskatchewan), had 1,000-yard seasons. Prior to going to TSU, Taylor served as receivers' coach at Oregon State from 1982-83.

Taylor distinguished himself as one of the game's receiving greats in his 10-year professional playing career (nine in the old AFL). He totaled 567 receptions playing for the Chicago Bears (1959), Denver Broncos (1960-66) and Houston Oilers (1967-68), which was the second-most ever in the history of pro football at the time of his retirement, and the most in AFL history. He is currently 12th among all-time receivers. Taylor caught 100 passes in 1961 for Denver, following a 96-catch year the previous season. Those totals are the second and third most grabs in AFL annals. He led the AFL in receptions in five of his nine years in the league. Taylor is the Denver Broncos' all-time leading receiver, and is a member of the "Ring of Fame" in Mile High Stadium.

On December 13, 1987, Ozzie Newsome caught three passes against Cincinnati to move past Taylor into ninth-place on the NFL's all-time reception list (Ozzie currently stands in fifth-place among all-time pass receivers).

Lionel grew up in Lorado, W. Va., then attended New Mexico Highlands, where he was an All-Frontier Conference flanker. He and his wife, Lorencita, have two daughters, Loretta and LaVern.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1970-76 (Pittsburgh Steelers); 1977-81 (Los Angeles Rams); 1982-83 (Oregon State); 1984-88 (Texas Southern, head coach/AD); 1989-90 (Browns).

JOHN TEERLINCK

Defensive Line

Born: April 9, 1951

Rochester, N.Y.

2nd Year Browns

10th Year Coaching

Western Illinois

A familiar sight to those who attended training camp in 1989, was a rallying cry from the defensive line at the end of each practice led by first-year coach John Teerlinck. As the team left the field, the line would clasp hands and yell "45," in reference to the team sack record, which the group was determined to break. In the fourth quarter of the Browns' 24-20 victory in Houston in week 16 that captured the division crown, the Browns recorded their 45th sack of the season, breaking a club record (44) set in 1985.

Noted for his unbridled enthusiasm, Teerlinck, 39, joined the Browns as defensive line coach after a career that has spanned the USFL and college levels. Teerlinck is the youngest member of the Browns' coaching staff.

"Our pass rush definitely improved last season, and a lot of the credit goes to John," said Bud Carson. "He motivates the older guys and teaches the rookies. George Allen gave John the highest recommendation before I hired him. George said John knew how to teach defensive linemen how to get to the quarterback. So far, he was right."

Teerlinck's last coaching job on the professional level was with the Chicago/Arizona Blitz as defensive line coach. He joined the Blitz in 1983, when the franchise was in Chicago. The Blitz transferred to Arizona in 1984 and was renamed the Wranglers. In each season, the Blitz led the USFL in defense and quarterback sacks. Of 12 possible All-Pro spots among defensive linemen in the league's three-year existence, the Blitz produced nine.

"I was waiting for an opportunity to get back into coaching, and I have the Browns and Bud (Carson) to thank for giving me the chance. Our group played hard all season last year, and that's what we practice for. Bud's system really allowed the line to get after the passer, and we'll continue to do that."

Teerlinck entered the coaching ranks at Iowa Lakes Junior College in 1977. He took over as defensive coordinator at Eastern Illinois University, where he served from 1978-79. In 1978, the Panthers captured the NCAA Division II national championship.

Teerlinck moved to Illinois under coach Mike White, serving as defensive line coach for three seasons (1980-82). During his tenure, John developed seven All-Big 10 linemen. He took over the Blitz' defensive line duties the following season.

An All-Catholic League standout for Fenwick (Oak Park, Ill.) H.S., John later earned first team Little All-America honors at Western Illinois, serving as co-captain. He earned defensive MVP honors in his senior year. John earned his degree in physical education. In 1979, he earned his master's degree in education from Eastern Illinois.

Teerlinck was picked in the fifth round of the 1974 draft by the San Diego Chargers, and earned a starting defensive tackle position on Tommy Prothro's squad as a rookie. John played for four seasons before a knee injury ended his career. An avid sportsman, John has among his trophies a 13 point bull elk and a world class black bear.

John and his wife Sue have five children, Ann (15), Bill (12), Mark (10), Molly (6) and Mary (5). The family lives in Strongsville.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1977 (Iowa Lakes J.C.); 1978-79 (Eastern Illinois); 1980-82 (Illinois); 1983-85 (Chicago/Arizona, USFL); 1989-90 (Browns).

JIM VECHIARELLA

Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers

Born: February 20, 1937
Youngstown, O.

1st Year Browns
27th Year Coaching
Youngstown State

When Dan Radakovich was switched from defensive coordinator/linebackers to offensive line coach last offseason, Bud Carson wasted little time hiring Jim Vechiarella to coach the Browns' linebackers. Vechiarella (hired Feb. 13) most recently served on the New York Jets' staff in the same capacity. "I know Jim will be a fine addition to our staff," said Carson. "I obviously had a working relationship with him when I was defensive coordinator with the Jets, and I know his strengths. Jim and I have coached together on three teams, this will be our fourth."

"I'm excited to be coming back home," said Vechiarella. "I've known Bud for a long time, and I've worked with a lot of the coaches on his staff. Plus, it's an opportunity to work for an organization that's a proven winner."

Vechiarella, pronounced vic-a-rel-ee, spent the last four seasons coaching the Jets' linebackers (1986-89). He takes over a unit that placed two of their three starting linebackers in the Pro Bowl (Mike Johnson and Clay Matthews). The Youngstown (O.) native coached the Kansas City Chiefs' outside linebackers and special teams from 1983-85. Vechiarella coached the L.A. Rams' special teams in 1981 and then took over L.A.'s secondary in 1982 (the year after Carson left the Rams).

Before entering the NFL, Jim spent three seasons at Tulane (1978-80) as defensive coordinator for the Green Wave (under Vince Gibson and Larry Smith). Prior to that, Jim spent two seasons as defensive coordinator at Southern Illinois (1976-77). His first professional football job was as defensive line coach for Charlotte of the WFL in 1975 (Lindy Infante was on that staff as secondary coach).

Vechiarella spent 11 years (1964-74) at Youngstown State, most of them as defensive coordinator. Jim played at Youngstown State for four seasons (linebacker and center), and started his coaching career at two Ohio prep schools — Poland and Rayen (Rayen is in Youngstown and is where Jim attended high school) — following his graduation in 1958. Jim is married (Lucille), and has two sons (Jim, 28 and Bill, 26), a daughter (Lisa, 24) and a grandson (Jim). Both Jim and Bill were recruited by Mike Gottfried: Jim at Murray State and Bill at Kansas University. Lisa is a school teacher in Youngstown.

BILL TESSENDORF

Head Trainer

Born: November 26, 1949
Chicago, Illinois

18th Year Browns
Northern Illinois

A more deserving award does not exist for Bill Tessendorf and his staff, as they were honored as the "NFL Athletic Training Staff of the Year" by the Professional Football Athletic Trainers' Society in 1989. With a tireless work ethic and a compassion for all, Bill Tessendorf personifies the type of person it takes to be successful in his ever-expanding field. It is no coincidence that the Browns are the only AFC team to advance to the playoffs each of the past five seasons, as Bill and his staff have helped Browns' players through a myriad of injuries, perhaps none as storied as the 1988 season, when Cleveland lost four quarterbacks to injuries.

Along with his other duties, Bill is dedicating enormous energy toward the design of the Browns' new state-of-the-art training facility, which is to be completed in full in time for the 1991 season (while the indoor practice facility is slated for an October, 1990 opening).

"Bill Tessendorf is a dedicated worker who is a very, very valuable member of our organization," says owner Art Modell of the man who is entering his 18th year in the Browns' organization, including seventh as head trainer. The Ohio Athletic Trainers Association felt that way as well, bestowing upon Bill the Clinical/Professional Trainer of the Year Award in May of 1989.

Tessendorf first joined the Browns as an assistant trainer in 1973 while working towards his master's degree in exercise physiology at Kent State. Bill did his undergraduate work at Northern Illinois University, graduating with a B.A. in 1971. He worked as a graduate assistant under Kent State coach Don James in 1971, then took a job as an elementary school teacher in the Dekalb (Ill.) Public School District in 1972.

He returned to Kent State a year later and began assisting Browns' trainer emeritus, Leo Murphy, while working towards his master's, which he received in 1976. "Bill's a fine young man and the team is lucky to have someone with his talents," Murphy said.

"I feel very fortunate to have had the opportunity to work with Leo Murphy, Dr. (Vic) Ippolito, Dr. (John) Bergfeld and the other doctors on our staff. They have enhanced my professional career," Tessendorf added. Bill has served for the past two and one-half years as treasurer of the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society.

Bill and his wife, Nan Jean, reside in Medina and are the parents of Amy Ann, who will turn seven in February.

LEO MURPHY Trainer Emeritus

Of all the kind, generous people who have blessed the Cleveland Browns' organization, perhaps one stands out the most. Leo Murphy will spend his 41st year with the Browns in the capacity of trainer emeritus, having earned well-deserved "semi-retirement" last season. Leo was honored in February of 1989 by the Cleveland Touchdown Club with the Pro Recognition Award for serving 39 years in the best interest of the organization and the community.

Starting in 1950, when the Browns joined the NFL, Leo's quick wit has made the pressures of the locker and training room a pleasant experience for the team.

In 1947, Murphy graduated from Notre Dame, then went on to work with the AAFC's Chicago Rockets and baseball's New York Yankees. Murphy has long been regarded as one of the top trainers in the world, evidenced by induction into the National Athletic Trainers' Association Hall of Fame in 1982.

Leo and his wife, Betty, have two children, Nancy and Martin, and three grandchildren. The Murphys, who live in Medina, traveled to Ireland last spring, a lifelong dream.

CHARLEY CUSICK

Facilities' Manager

Born: October 7, 1950

San Bernadino, Calif.

21st Year Browns

Charley Cusick was named facilities' manager last July. Cusick is a living example of what hard work and determination can do for an athlete who has resolved to make it to the pros, even after a severe injury has cut short his chance of playing the game.

Cusick, who has the talent and physique of a professional athlete, had his career cut short by a severe knee injury. However, the Lakewood High School product still found his way to professional football 21 years ago as an assistant to long-time Browns' equipment manager Morrie Kono.

In 1974, Cusick was named equipment manager, replacing Kono, a pioneer in the football equipment business.

As equipment manager, Cusick coordinated the purchasing and maintaining of equipment for the Browns, as well as the operations involved in transporting these from Baldwin Wallace to training camp at Lakeland Community College, Cleveland Stadium, road sites and on to the offseason training headquarters at Big Creek Racquet Club.

The transporting of equipment between NFL cities is a task in itself, but Charley and his staff coordinated the transport of the club's gear to London, England in 1989 after a trip to Canada in 1988. They also equipped the AFC Pro Bowl squad following the 1986, 1987 and 1989 seasons.

Cusick lives in Bay Village with his wife, Patty.

MICHAEL LOMBARDI

Pro Personnel Director

Born: June 19, 1959

Ocean City, N.J.

4th Year Browns

Hofstra University

Entering his second year as Pro Personnel Director, Michael Lombardi previously established himself as one of the league's youngest and brightest NFL scouts in only six years. Lombardi's evaluation techniques and knowledge of the game are impressive, despite his youthful 31 years. Michael spent three years scouting for the San Francisco 49ers personnel staff before joining the Browns in 1987.

Besides his scouting duties and coordinating the pro personnel department, Lombardi assists Executive Vice President of Football Operations Ernie Accorsi in contract negotiations. Lombardi is an advocate of the "black box" device which is a sophisticated method the Browns use to test a player's speed in the 40. He estimates more than 1,200 players have been tested in the last three years.

"Michael has obviously experienced a rapid rise in his NFL career," said Accorsi. "He handles the pro personnel department for the Browns along with scouting many of the top college prospects. He has terrific instincts for this business, along with an encyclopedic recall of players and events."

Just prior to the 1984 NFL Draft, Lombardi joined the 49ers' staff (1984-87). His responsibilities were coordinating all scouting reports and evaluating college talent in the northeast region (before switching to the southwest and western regions in 1985).

A native of Ocean City, N.J., Michael lettered in both football and baseball at Valley Forge Military Academy (Wayne, Pa.). He attended Hofstra University (1978-81), where he played nose tackle for the Flying Dutchman. Lombardi began his football career as a defensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas (1982-83).

An avid baseball and basketball fan, Lombardi and his wife, Millie, who is expecting their second child, reside in Strongsville with their son, Michael (1-1/2).

DOM ANILE

College Scout

Born: December 19, 1937

Brooklyn, N.Y.

8th Year Browns

C.W. Post

Dom Anile joined the Browns' scouting staff after an impressive 24-year college coaching career. First introduced to the club while employed as an offensive coordinator at Columbia, he worked three consecutive Browns' training camps assisting the offensive line coach. Dom's territory is the East.

Anile is a 1959 graduate of C.W. Post and a Brooklyn, N.Y. native. He was a three-year letter winner in both football and baseball at Post, where he captained the football team two years and was MVP as a senior. Immediately after attending graduate school at Brooklyn College, Anile began his coaching career and served in a number of capacities, including offensive coordinator at Post (from 1959 to 1967).

"Dom is the senior member of our staff," said Executive Vice President of Football Operations Ernie Accorsi. "He has been largely responsible for the East Coast area, but in our system of crosschecks, he's seen most of the top players the past three seasons. Dom brings to personnel the value of a great coaching career at Post and many years of scouting experience."

In 1968, he was named head coach at Post and became one of the most successful college division coaches during the next 12 years. His teams compiled an 84-33-1 (.716) record and twice won the Lambert Bowl as the East's top team — 1973 (10-1) and 1976 (8-2).

Selected as Eastern College Coach of the Year in 1973, Anile was also picked as New York's Metropolitan Coach of the Year four times. Dom joined the Columbia staff in 1980 and was the team's offensive coordinator prior to accepting the Browns' position.

Dom has three children, Dom, Jr. (29), Theresa (26), and Gary (24). Anile currently resides in Strongsville with his wife, Carolyn, and her daughter, Jennifer (13).

MILT DAVIS

College Scout

Born: May 31, 1929

Los Angeles, Calif.

1st Year Browns

UCLA

Milt Davis joins the Browns' scouting staff in 1990 with 24 years of scouting expertise, most recently completing a twelve-year stint as a western area college scout for the Miami Dolphins. Davis maintains a residence in Eugene, Ore., and will continue to scout colleges in the western region of the United States for the Browns.

"I have known Milt Davis for 21 years," said Executive Vice President and Director of Football Operations Ernie Accorsi. "We were part of the Baltimore Colts' organization that won Super Bowl V following the 1970 season and worked together until 1975. I think he has been one of the most astute judges of playing talent in the NFL for 24 years, and we are just thrilled that he has decided to join our scouting staff."

Davis, 61, was a defensive back (1957-60) and scout (1967-76) for the Colts. He was an All-Pro selection in 1957, his rookie season, nabbing 10 of his 27 career interceptions. In his four seasons as a defensive back, he tied for the NFL lead in interceptions two times (1957) and (1959). He was a starter on the 1958 and '59 Baltimore Colts' World Champion teams that defeated the New York Giants. From 1961 to 1966, Davis was a "part-time babysitter," teaching biology at L.A. City College and signing players (like TE-John Mackey) for the NFL Colts during the heyday of the NFL-AFL competition. Milt scouted for the Colts for ten years (1967-76), spent one year seeking talent for the Los Angeles Rams (1977), then signed on with the Miami Dolphins (1978-89). In addition to scouting the western region, Davis assisted the Miami coaching staff during minicamp and training camp.

After 28 years as a counselor and biology professor at Los Angeles City

Cleveland Browns

College, Davis retired in June of 1987. He has a B.S. and master's degree in zoology and a doctorate in administrative education from UCLA. He is an avid ornithologist.

Milt and his wife, Yvonne, have three children: Allison (31), and twins, Brian and Hilary (28). The Davises have two grandchildren, Chance (7), and Felicity (2).

The Cleveland Touchdown Club was founded in 1938 by Joe Fogg and twelve other Cleveland businessmen, whose love for football prompted them to organize a group dedicated to the sport. By the time the Rams departed for Los Angeles in 1946 and the Browns established themselves in Cleveland, that same year, club membership had multiplied twelve times.

Over the years, the TD Club evolved from a college and pro football booster club, to one that also included recognition for outstanding achievements of players and coaches on the high school level. Proceeds from special events are recycled back to the community through donations to various youth groups, high school wrestling tournaments, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and sponsorships to young women and men whose lofty goals include the Olympic trials.

A few of the club's more popular events are the Annual Kickoff Luncheon (Aug. 24), the postseason awards dinner (the second Monday) in February, and the TD Club Golf Outing in June.

For further information on the club or its events, call 888-8880.

TOM DIMITROFF

College Scout

Born: June 6, 1935
Barberton, O.

4th Year Browns
Miami University (Ohio)

Tom Dimitroff will take advantage of an opportunity—both on the racquetball court or in his career. His career opportunity came in 1987 as an invitation to join the Browns' organization and return to Ohio. After 32 years of football experience in the U.S. and Canada, the hard-working Dimitroff was ready to come home.

"Tom came to us four years ago with a unique background to scouting, having had a coaching career that spanned college and the Canadian Football League," said Executive Vice President of Football Operations Ernie Accorsi. "Tom handles the midwest, where so many great players have come from—especially lately. He's a sound evaluator of playing talent and has great insight and experience. His no-nonsense approach makes him very important to personnel."

A 1953 graduate of Barberton H.S. and Miami University (Ohio), Tom was a quarterback for the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League

(1957-58), and the American Football League's Boston Patriots (1960). After football, Dimitroff managed an Akron restaurant for four years, but was lured back to football and a coaching career as an assistant for Wadsworth H.S. (1965-68) and Barberton H.S. (1968-69). He began coaching on a collegiate level as an assistant at Miami (Ohio) from 1969-72, and then at Kansas State University in 1973. He moved into the professional ranks in 1974 as the offensive coordinator for the Ottawa Rough Riders (through 1977).

In 1978, Dimitroff was named head coach of the Hamilton Tiger Cats, and then returned to the collegiate level as head coach of the University of Guelph (1979-83), where his five-year record was 21-13-1. Rejoining the Rough Riders in 1984, he served as an assistant coach and offensive coordinator, later moving over to the scouting department as director of player personnel (1985-86).

Tom resides in Strongsville with his wife, Helen. The Dimitroffs have three children: Randy (28), who recently presented his parents with their first grandchild, Dillon; Sharon (27); and Thomas (24), who was just hired as a scout for the Saskatchewan Rough Riders.

GARY HORTON

College Scout

Born: May 6, 1947

Santa Monica, Calif.

4th Year Browns

L.A. Baptist College

Gary Horton begins his fourth year in Browns' personnel with a move to Phoenix, Arizona, placing him in geographic proximity to his scouting region. Horton will continue his responsibility of scouting colleges in the Rocky Mountains, the western edge of the Midwest including Oklahoma, and the Big Eight Conference regions of the United States.

"With the addition of Milt Davis, who will live in his area (west), we decided that it would be more productive for Gary to live where he works," said Ernie Accorsi, executive vice president and director of football operations. "He will be able to increase his coverage because of his proximity to the schools, and at the same time, live in an area that he loves. He spent a lot of time there during his stay at Arizona State."

Horton joined the Browns in 1987 after accumulating 16 years of substantial expertise evaluating college and pro talent, most recently, four years of scouting potential players for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Horton attended Chaffey Junior College and Cal State Northridge, where he played football and earned two letters. He received his bachelor of science degree from L.A. Baptist College in 1969. After college, Horton taught school and coached at Scottsdale (Ariz.) H.S. from 1970-71, and at Marcos DeNica (Tempe, Ariz.) H.S. in 1972. He joined Arizona State's coaching staff and served as Frank Kush's chief recruiter from 1973-79.

Serving as Director of Player Personnel at Illinois (1979-82), Horton concentrated on player evaluation and recruitment. While with the Fighting Illini, he was credited with recruiting a number of standout junior college players, including current NFL quarterbacks Tony Eason and Dave Wilson. Horton joined the Bucs as a college personnel scout (1983-86) and covered the eastern region of the United States. Gary is single and a resident of Phoenix.

HEAD COACH BUD CARSON ON CLAY MATTHEWS: "There aren't many people who can do what he does. I'm talking in terms of rushing the passer and covering. As great as some of the linebackers (with the Steelers in the '70s) were — Ham, Lambert, Andy Russell — none of them could do it all like he can."

CLAY MATTHEWS ON HIMSELF: "To me, the whole challenge of sport is competition. I just love to compete, and football is a means to compete. Ultimately, what drives people from the game — other than injuries, which you can't control — is your will to play. Yes, I consider myself a selfish player. And I think all the best players are selfish. The only thing I can do to help this team is be the best player I can be."

1979: Won starting job at present position — right outside linebacker, when he beat out veteran Gerald Irons in training camp ... Started all 16 games ... Made 103 tackles (79 solos), finishing third on team.

1978: Chipped bone in ankle caused him to miss much of rookie preseason; then bruised his shoulder in week five of regular season, but still played in 15 games, starting the last two ... "The first thing I do (when preparing for an opponent) is see if whoever we're playing has played Cleveland. And I check out what Minnifield's doing, the type of technique and philosophy he's used. And if it's successful, I go into a game and try to apply that technique to the receiver."

CB-FRANK MINNIFIELD ON THE AFC CENTRAL: "Anytime two teams from the AFC Central play, it will be physical. We know it. They know it. This is one tough division, and the teams in it are getting better every year."

PRO: When 70,777 fans cheered passionately on "Thanks Ozzie Day" last December 17, it warmed the chilled Cleveland Stadium air ... Ozzie enters the '90 season as the fifth-leading pass catcher in league annals (second among active players behind Washington's Art Monk) ... Ozzie's consecutive game reception streak came to end last October 29 vs. Houston at 150 games (second-longest in NFL history) ... OSZIE NEWSOME ON THE 1990 BROWNS: "I think we went a lot further last year than a lot of people anticipated we would, especially with the transition of a lot of new players and a whole new coaching staff. Instant Replay Approved for 1990

For the fifth consecutive season, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of Instant Replay on a one-year basis.

There is one significant change in the system from 1989. All replay reviews which involve contact to the field from the Replay Booth will be a maximum of two minutes in duration, timed from the moment when the Umpire signals timeout.

The Replay Official will be assigned to a regular officiating crew and will attend crew meetings the day before each game.

The following table outlines the number of reversals and plays closely reviewed by instant replay in each of the previous four seasons.

	Games	Reversals	Plays Closely Reviewed
1986	224	38	374
1987	210	57	490
1988	224	53	537
1989	224	65	492

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7. In 1988, replay was cleared by a 23-5 margin. In 1989, the vote was 24-4. In 1990, the vote was 21-7.

He can serve in a dual capacity, and we're hoping he does that. He can complement (Eric) Metcalf and be used as insurance for (Kevin) Mack. If we get that much out of this one guy, you're talking about a big plus."

LEROY HOARD ON ENTERING THE DRAFT EARLY: "The decision has nothing to do with money. I just think the situation is right for me now. My body is healthy and people need running backs. Besides, I'm not really a junior. This is my fourth year. I see a large difference there. I'm enrolled in school now and will only need three credits to graduate after this term."

ERNIE ACCORSI, BROWNS' EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS, ON HOARD: "The key to him, in my mind, was he rose to the occasion in big games. Bo Schembechler won two Rose Bowls at Michigan. Hoard won one of them and almost won another."

1989 REVIEW

(1) SUNDAY, SEPT. 10 — BROWNS 51, Steelers 0 (57,928) at Three Rivers Stadium. It didn't take Bud Carson long to rewrite the Browns' record book, as Cleveland traveled to Pittsburgh and routed the Steelers, 51-0, before 57,928 fans in Three Rivers Stadium. Cleveland limited the Steelers to 53 total net yards, the best performance in team history, recorded seven QB sacks and forced eight turnovers. The shutout was the largest in Browns' history, was their first opening-day shutout since 1971 and the Steelers' worst defeat ever. Cleveland converted six of the eight turnovers into scores, as LB-David Grayson scored two touchdowns, one when he stripped WR-Louis Lipps of the ball on a reverse and raced 28-yards for a score, and another when he went 14-yards on an interception return in the third period. Grayson won AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors.

The Browns' first score came when DE-Robert Banks stripped RB-Tim Worley and LB-Clay Matthews picked the ball up in the endzone for a touchdown with 9:18 elapsed in the first quarter. K-Matt Bahr hit the first of three field goals (27, 20 and 27 yards) following Grayson's first fumble recovery. Grayson stripped Lipps of the ball on the Steelers' next possession to put Cleveland ahead, 17-0, and CB-Mark Harper recorded the first of two interceptions at the end of the first quarter, allowing the Browns to march 79-yards in 14 plays, culminated by Bahr's 20-yard field goal. FB-Tim Manoa scored two TDs, the first a three-yard burst to cap a 70-yard drive on the Browns' next possession, before Bahr added his third three-pointer with 39 seconds left in the first half: 30-0, Browns.

The second half began with another Worley fumble, which led to Manoa's second TD, to put Cleveland ahead, 37-0, and then Grayson scored his second TD on the interception: 44-0, Cleveland. The Browns' final score came on a RB-Mike Oliphant 21-yard burst up the middle with 11:34 remaining in the game. It was Oliphant's first pro TD, and the longest touchdown run by any NFL back in week one. The win put the Browns into an early AFC Central lead, as both Houston and Cincinnati dropped their regular season openers.

(2) SUNDAY, SEPT. 17 — BROWNS 38, Jets 24 (73,516) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns improved to 2-0 by defeating the visiting New York Jets, 38-24, in Bud Carson's Cleveland Stadium debut. Cleveland intercepted Jets' QB-Ken O'Brien four times (the most in O'Brien's career) and recorded three QB sacks.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Jets drove 73 yards on eight plays, capped by a 39-yard Roger Vick TD jaunt to put New York ahead, 7-0. WR-Webster Slaughter caught a 35-yard TD pass from Bernie Kosar to tie the score at 7-7, and S-Thane Gash raced 36 yards with his first career interception on New York's next possession to put Cleveland ahead, 14-7, with 4:44 remaining in the half. WR-JoJo Townsell caught a 49-yard Ken O'Brien pass to tie the score 14-14 in the Jets' first second-half possession, but the Browns countered with an eight-play, 80-yard drive on their next series to go ahead, 21-14. Pat Leahy, who missed two first-half field goals (43 and 32, both wide left), booted a 36-yard three-pointer to make the score 21-17 with seven minutes left in the third quarter. S-Felix Wright recorded his second interception of the game to set-up a nine-yard Keith Jones TD run: 28-17, Browns.

Despite a gallant Cleveland goal-line stand to start the fourth quarter, RB-Freeman McNeil scored on a one-yard sweep to pull New York within four, 28-24. TE-Ozzie Newsome caught his 45th career TD pass, a four-yarder that put Cleveland ahead, 35-24, with 7:07 remaining in the game, and K-Matt Bahr connected on a 21-yard field goal to complete the scoring. QB-Bernie Kosar completed 15 of 30 passes for 196 yards, three TDs, no INTs, but had five passes blocked at the line of scrimmage by New York. RB-Keith Jones gained 129 total combined yards (49 rushing, 55 receiving, 25 in returns). LB-Mike Johnson recorded a 23-yard interception, Wright had two, and Gash one for Cleveland's four thefts, while linemen Al Baker, Michael Dean Perry and rookie Andrew Stewart recorded solo QB sacks.

(3) MONDAY, Sept. 25 — Bengals 21, BROWNS 14 (53,996) at Riverfront Stadium. The Browns traveled to Cincinnati and dropped their first game of the season, 21-14, before a sellout Riverfront Stadium crowd and a national television audience. The loss dropped the Browns into a first-place tie (2-1) with the Bengals. Cleveland was unable to convert two crucial fourth-down situations in the fourth quarter, both deep in Bengals' territory.

After a scoreless first quarter, both teams scored a pair of second-quarter TDs. Cincinnati drove 49 yards on five plays, capped when QB-Boomer Esiason (14 of 20, 184 yards, three TDs and an INT) hit TE-Rodney Holman on an eight-yard pass. Cleveland countered with an eight-play, 78-yard drive, as rookie RB-Eric Metcalf scored his first NFL TD on a five-yard pass from QB-Bernie Kosar (15 of 23, 203 yards, two TDs, no INTs). Holman caught his second TD pass from Esiason on the Bengals' next possession to cap a 76-yard drive. The Browns then tied the game, 14-14, as FB-Tim Manoa caught a six-yard Kosar pass with :59 remaining in the half.

Esiason threw his third scoring toss on the Bengals' first second-half possession, a 19-yarder to RB-James Brooks. All three of the Browns' possessions in the third quarter were three downs and out. On their first fourth quarter possession, the Browns drove to the Cincinnati nine-yard line, but FB-Tim Manoa was stuffed at the line of scrimmage on fourth down and one. Cincinnati was forced to punt after three downs, and Cleveland had another chance to tie the game, driving to the Bengals' four, before a fourth down Kosar pass was broken up in the endzone by CB-Eric Thomas, as the Bengals took over with 1:41 remaining in the game, and ran out the clock.

(4) SUNDAY, Oct. 1 — BROWNS 16, Broncos 13 (78,637) at Cleveland Stadium. The Fumble ... The Drive ... Denver vs. Cleveland. Sound familiar? No, it's not a recap of the 1988 and '87 AFC Championship Games. It's a quick summary of the final moments of the Browns' 16-13 win over the visiting Denver Broncos, much to the delight of 78,637 delirious Cleveland fans. The dramatics ended when Matt Bahr kicked a 48-yard field goal as time expired, following a doom-and-gloom situation that looked anything but promising seconds earlier. The win improved the Browns' record to 3-1, and snapped a 10-game losing streak to the previously unbeaten Broncos.

Denver knotted the score, 13-13, with 3:58 remaining, and intercepted QB-Bernie Kosar on Cleveland's ensuing possession with 3:40 remaining in the game. Denver drove to Cleveland's eight-yard line with 1:49 left, needing only a score to take the lead. But then ... The Fumble: LB-Mike Johnson stripped RB-Sammy Winder of the ball, which was recovered by CB-Frank Minnifield on the Browns' 16. The Drive: Kosar, with 1:42 on the clock, hit five of his next six passes and drove the Browns 54 yards, his final strike to WR-Webster Slaughter on Denver's 30-yard line with :05 left to play. Bahr split the uprights as time expired, sending the crowd into a 10-minute post-game frenzy.

The Cleveland defense forced three turnovers (extending their league-leading total to 16) and sacked QB-John Elway (six of 19 for 198 yards, one TD, one INT) four times for 37 yards. WR-Vance Johnson caught five of Elway's passes for 145 yards. On offense, the Browns staged a ball control attack, as Kosar (25 of 38 for 216 yards, one TD, one INT) hit eight different receivers, and Cleveland held the ball for 36:50, and ran 67 plays (compared to 48 plays for Denver). The hero, K-Matt Bahr, was 3-5 on FGAs, as his first attempt was blocked, his next two attempts (36, 48 yards) were good, his fourth attempt was wide left from 42 yards, before his game-winning 48-yarder.

(5) SUNDAY, OCT. 8 — Dolphins 13, BROWNS 10 (OT) (58,444) at Joe Robbie Stadium. The Browns dropped a 13-10 defensive struggle to the Miami Dolphins in overtime, as both clubs missed opportunities to win the game in the fourth quarter. With 6:28 elapsed into overtime, Pete Stoyanovich kicked a 35-yard field goal to secure the win for the 2-3 Dolphins. The Browns dropped to 3-2, good for second in the AFC Central.

Stoyanovich opened the scoring with a 43-yard field goal with 6:25 elapsed into the first quarter, and Miami extended its lead to 10-0 when Dan Marino (19 of 33 for 234 yards, one TD, one INT) hit WR-Mark Duper on a 35-yard TD pass in what proved to be Miami's only touchdown of the day. Matt Bahr kicked a 50-yard field goal with 2:32 remaining in the first half to put the Browns on the board. On the second half's opening drive, QB-Bernie Kosar

(22 of 35 for 210 yards, no TDs, two INTs) guided Cleveland 80 yards in 10 plays by completing six straight passes to four different receivers. Rookie RB-Eric Metcalf scored his first NFL rushing touchdown, an eight-yard burst, to cap the drive and tie the game, 10-10.

In the fourth quarter, both clubs missed chances to take the lead, as Marino was picked-off by Felix Wright with 1:08 left in regulation. Kosar countered by throwing an interception to S-Louis Oliver two plays later. The Dolphins drove to the Browns' 28, setting up a game-winning field goal attempt by Stoyanovich from 45 yards. The kick was wide left, sending the game into overtime. The Browns won the coin toss and drove 46 yards to Miami's 26-yard line. Matt Bahr's game-winning 44-yard attempt was wide left, and Miami drove 55 yards in nine plays, as Stoyanovich atoned for his previous two misses and booted the 35-yarder for Miami's win.

(6) SUNDAY, OCT. 15 — Steelers 17, BROWNS 7 (78,840) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns lost, 17-7, to the visiting Pittsburgh Steelers to fall to 3-3, snapping their seven-game winning streak over the Steelers, and ending a nine-game home winning streak against Pittsburgh. The Browns committed seven turnovers, converted just two of 10 third down plays and none of their three fourth-down tries. The last time the Browns committed seven turnovers was on 10/16/83, a 44-17 loss at Pittsburgh.

For the second time in as many weeks, the Browns had the opportunity to win the game in the fourth quarter after rookie RB-Eric Metcalf scored on a two-yard run for Cleveland's only points, cutting the Pittsburgh lead to 10-7. On the ensuing kickoff, Pittsburgh's KOR-Dwight Stone bolted 73 yards to set up the Steelers' second TD, a Warren Williams one-yard run with 1:56 left in the game. Woodson's kickoff return was the longest vs. the Browns since Dennis Gentry of the Bears raced 91 yards for a TD on 9/7/86. Pittsburgh's earlier scores came on a Gary Anderson 49-yard field goal on the game's first possession, and a Rodney Carter 14-yard TD reception from QB-Todd Blackledge. The Steelers avenged the opening day 51-0 loss to the Browns by intercepting QB-Bernie Kosar (15 of 41, 162 yards, no TDs) a career-high four times. WR-Webster Slaughter recorded his fifth-career 100-yard receiving game by catching seven passes for 106 yards. The Browns' defense allowed only 231 total yards (93 rushing, 138 passing), recorded two turnovers, and allowed Pittsburgh to convert only one of 14 third down attempts. DEs-Al Baker and Tom Gibson each recorded a sack, along with CB-Tony Blaylock.

(7) MONDAY, OCT. 23 — BROWNS 27, Bears 7 (78,722) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns extended their Monday Night home winning streak to six games by defeating the Chicago Bears, 27-7, before a frenzied Cleveland Stadium sellout crowd of 78,722. Cleveland's defense did not yield a score until 3:47 remained in the game against a Chicago team that averaged 32 points-per-game (tops in the NFL) coming into the contest. The Bears were forced to punt on six of their 12 possessions, including their first five, and managed only 169 passing yards on 13 receptions.

The Browns' offense, which scored only 33 points in the previous three games, was bolstered by the pinpoint passing of QB-Bernie Kosar, who connected on 22 of 29 attempts for 281 yards, two TDs and no INTs. Kosar hit WR-Webster Slaughter on eight of those passes for 186 yards, both career highs for Pro Bowl-bound Slaughter.

Following a goal-line stand on Chicago's first possession in the fourth quarter (the Bears were unable to score following a first-and-goal on the Browns' seven), the clinching blow was delivered in the form of a 97-yard scoring bomb from Kosar to Slaughter. The TD gave the Browns a 24-0 lead. It was the longest pass play in Browns' history and on Monday Night Football, and ranks among the longest in NFL history. Rookie RB-Eric Metcalf scored two touchdowns, one to open the scoring, when he caught a three-yard Kosar pass in the first quarter, and another on a seven-yard run in the third quarter. K-Matt Bahr was perfect on FGs from 31 and 35 yards. The victory snapped a two-game losing streak, and pushed Cleveland into a three-way tie with 4-3 Cincinnati and Houston for first place in the AFC Central.

(8) SUNDAY, OCT. 29 — BROWNS 28, Oilers 17 (78,765) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns rallied from a 10-0 halftime deficit with 28 second-half points to defeat the Houston Oilers, 28-17, before 78,765 Cleveland fans in beautiful 70 degree weather. QB-Bernie Kosar completed all eight of his second half passes, two for TDs, and ran for another to lead the Browns to their fifth win of the season, and their second straight. RB-Eric Metcalf threw for a 32-yard touchdown to Reggie Langhorne on a halfback-option play for the Browns' final score, giving them a perfect second half passing (nine for nine, 239 yards, three TDs). Kosar finished the day 14 for 19, 262 yards, two TDs and two INTs.

Houston opened the game with a 14-play, 68-yard drive that lasted 8:48, culminated by a Warren Moon 13-yard TD pass to Haywood Jeffires. Tony Zendejas hit a 23-yard field goal that bounced off the left upright, then through, to put Houston ahead, 10-0 with 4:17 left in the first half. Moon was 15 of 25 for 241 yards, one TD and 0 INTs.

The Browns opened the second half by driving 71 yards in 13 plays, as Kosar loped five yards for his longest TD run (and his fourth) of his career. On their next possession, Cleveland took a 14-10 lead when Kosar handed off to Metcalf, who lateraled back to Kosar, who hit Webster Slaughter on an 80-yard bomb. Slaughter totaled 184 yards on four receptions (for two TDs), and his 46-yard average-per-catch was the highest in Browns' annals. Houston bounced right back to take a 17-14 lead when Rozier scored on a one-yard run on their ensuing possession. But Kosar again hit Slaughter on a perfect 77-yard pass over the middle, giving Cleveland a 21-17 lead they wouldn't relinquish. Metcalf completed his first NFL pass to Langhorne for a 32-yard TD in the fourth quarter to complete the scoring. S-Thane Gash sacked Moon twice for 22 yards lost, and rookie DE-Andrew Stewart recorded a nine-yard sack. TE-Ozzie Newsome's 150 game reception streak was halted.

(9) SUNDAY, NOV. 5 — BROWNS 42, Buccaneers 31 (69,162) at Tampa Stadium. The Browns moved into sole possession of first place in the AFC Central behind the pinpoint passing of Bernie Kosar, the all-around exploits of rookie RB-Eric Metcalf, and four interceptions by the Cleveland defense, as they defeated the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 42-31. Kosar set a career mark by completing 81.8 % of his passes (18 of 22) for 164 yards and three touchdowns, with no interceptions. In fact, Kosar completed his first eight passes after ending his previous outing (vs. Houston) with the same number, to set a club mark with 16 consecutive completions. Metcalf, the talented rookie out of Texas, scored two TDs and gained 233 all purpose yards, the most in an NFL game this season. Metcalf scored TDs on a 24-yard pass reception and a 43-yard run on a fake reverse, the longest TD rush by a Brown since 11/3/80, when Mike Pruitt dashed 56 yards for a score vs. Chicago.

The Browns scored 35 first half points to set a team record for scoring in the first half, and tied the club mark for most points in a half, accomplished three times, last on 10/25/64 vs. the N.Y. Giants. Metcalf's TD reception was followed by Lawyer Tillman's first pro TD reception, from seven yards. The Browns then scored two TDs on successive plays, as SS-Felix Wright intercepted Vinny Testaverde and dashed 27 yards for a score in the second period to put Cleveland ahead, 21-7, and FS-Thane Gash rambled 15 yards on Testaverde's next pass to increase the lead to 28-7. CB-Frank Minnifield and rookie S-Robert Lyons also picked off passes. TE-Derek Tennell caught his first pass of the season, and it went for a four-yard score, as the Browns went into the lockerroom ahead, 35-17.

Testaverde (27 of 50 for 370 yards, 2 TDs, 4 INTs) rallied the Bucs to two second half TDs, but Metcalf's back breaking 43-yard TD run completed the Browns' scoring. Tampa scored a late TD on Lars Tate's second rushing touchdown to complete the scoring. Al Baker and Chris Pike recorded QB sacks for Cleveland, while Kosar was sacked once for seven yards. The win improved the Browns' record to 6-3, and extended their win streak to three.

(10) SUNDAY, NOV. 12 — BROWNS 17, Seahawks 7 (58,978) at Seattle Kingdome. The Browns traveled to Seattle and won their fourth straight game, 17-7, snapping a four-game losing streak to the Seahawks. The Browns, 2-5 in the Kingdome before the win, intercepted Seattle QB-Dave Krieg three times in the second half. Two of the three thefts led to scores (leading to 10 points), snapping a 7-7 halftime tie. Cleveland's defense allowed only 180 total net yards and shutout the Seahawks in the final three quarters. QB-Bernie Kosar led the Browns on touchdown drives of 75 and 87 yards, and K-Matt Bahr kicked his first field goal in three games. Kosar was 16 of 27 for 173 yards, and completed passes to 10 different receivers, one for a touchdown, with no interceptions.

Seattle opened the scoring in the first quarter when Krieg (17 of 30 for 141 yards, three INTs, one TD) hit WR-Brian Blades on an eight-yard TD pass. That play was possible after the Browns were flagged for three defensive penalties, setting up a first-and-goal at the Cleveland 10. The Browns countered with an 11-play, 75-yard drive, capped when FB-Tim Manoa slammed in from one yard out with 23 seconds remaining in the half.

S-Felix Wright intercepted Krieg on Seattle's first second-half possession, leading to a Kosar to Tillman 17-yard TD pass that put Cleveland ahead, 14-7. Matt Bahr connected on a 29-yard field goal, his 11th straight from inside-the-40, with 3:25 remaining in the game. That was cued when Clay Matthews picked off a Krieg pass and rambled 25 yards to the Browns' 30. Seattle's final drive ended when CB-Hanford Dixon recorded his 26th career interception at the two-minute warning. DT-Michael Dean Perry recorded the Browns only sack, a seven-yarder, but the Browns' defense kept Krieg under heavy pressure all game. The win improved the Browns' record to 7-3, and marked the first time since 1986 that Cleveland had won four in a row (when they won their last five games).

(11) SUNDAY, NOV. 19 — BROWNS 10, Chiefs 10 (77,922) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns suffered their first tie game in 15 years, as the Kansas City Chiefs visited Cleveland Stadium and battled Cleveland to a 10-10 defensive deadlock. The last tie game involving the Browns occurred Dec. 2, 1973, when they tied Kansas City, 20-20, at Arrowhead Stadium. K-Matt Bahr (40-yard FG) and RB-Eric Metcalf (one-yard run) accounted for Cleveland's points, and Kansas City's points came on a Neil Smith three-yard fumble return and a Nick Lowery 41-yard field goal. Lowery missed three game-winning field goal attempts: a 45-yarder that was wide right, but Cleveland was called offsides, setting up a 39-yarder that was wide left with :04 left in regulation, and a 47-yard attempt that fell short with :17 left in overtime.

Cleveland's defense held Kansas City to no offensive touchdowns, recorded three interceptions, held the Chiefs to 3.7 yards per play and recorded five QB sacks. Christian Okoye, the NFL's leading rusher, was held to 40 yards on 21 carries (1.9 avg.). But Cleveland lost four fumbles, both leading to scores (one TD return, one FG), and averaged only 3.2 yards per play. The Browns had 19 possessions, and P-Bryan Wagner tied a team record by punting 12 times. Chiefs' P-Kelly Goodburn punted 11 times after 17 Kansas City drives, tying an opponents' team record. A club record of 23 punts, both teams, was set. The tie dropped the Browns to 7-3-1, one-half game in front of 7-4 Houston and one-and-one-half games in front of third place Cincinnati, and two-and-one-half games ahead of Pittsburgh in the AFC Central.

(12) THURSDAY, NOV. 23 — Lions 13, BROWNS 10 (65,624) at Pontiac Silverdome. The Browns briefly fell out of first place in the AFC Central after dropping a 13-10 decision in their first-ever Detroit Thanksgiving Day game. Cleveland was hurt by 10 penalties for 90 yards, including two in their final fourth-quarter drive, a lost fumble at the end of the third quarter, and a missed second-half field goal. Detroit rookie RB-Barry Sanders became the first runner to gain over 100 yards vs. the Browns in 1989 by totaling 145 on 28 carries. Detroit's only touchdown came on a QB-Bob Gagliano 27-yard TD pass to WR-Richard Johnson in the second period. K-Eddie Murray nailed both of his field goal attempts (39 and 35 yards) for the Lions' 13 points.

After exchanging field goals (Cleveland K-Matt Bahr made a 35-yarder in the second period), each club scored on a long TD play. After Johnson's TD reception, FB-Barry Redden ran for a 38-yard TD on a delayed draw play with 1:07 left in the first half, knotting the score at 10. The Browns' three third-quarter possessions ended in two punts and a Webster Slaughter fumble, while the fourth quarter was tainted by Bahr's miss on a 44-yard field goal attempt and a failed fourth-and-13 chance on Detroit's 43-yard line with just over three minutes left in the game. Detroit was able to convert a first down on their ensuing possession, using up all of the Browns' remaining time outs. A desperation pass on the game's final play was intercepted by Detroit S-Jerry Holmes.

QB-Bernie Kosar (28 of 38 for 296 yards) threw no TDs for the second straight game. Gagliano completed only nine of 19 passes for 143 yards, and was sacked four times. Both Houston (7-5) and Cincinnati (6-6) lost, vaulting the Browns back into first place, while Pittsburgh (6-6) quietly sneaked back into the AFC Central race.

(13) SUNDAY, DEC. 3 — Bengals 21, BROWNS 0 (76,236) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns were shutout at home, 21-0, by AFC Central rival Cincinnati in front of 76,236 wind-chilled Cleveland fans, dropping their record to 7-5-1 and out of first place. Houston (8-5) took the lead in the Central division, while the Bengals upped their record to 7-6. The shutout was the first in Cleveland Stadium against the Browns since 1977 (L.A. Rams, 0-9), and the first time in the Bernie Kosar-era that Cleveland has been blanked. Their last whitewash was on the road at Seattle in the 1984 opener (0-33).

Cincinnati scored a touchdown in the second period on a James Brooks' one-yard run, and two in the third quarter behind two Boomer Esiason touchdown passes. WR-Tim McGee caught a 38-yard TD pass, and TE-Rodney Holman caught a nine-yard Esiason toss. Esiason completed 14 of 32 passes for 197 yards, threw two TDs and was intercepted twice.

The Browns were unable to penetrate the Bengals' 20 yard line, missed two field goals (51 and 48 yards) and turned the ball over three times. Kosar (15 of 30 for 130 yards, no TDs, one INT) was replaced by Mike Pagel early in the fourth quarter. Pagel completed four of 13 passes for 46 yards, with one interception. RB-Eric Metcalf led all rushers with 56 yards on 13 carries, while WR-Reggie Langhorne led all receivers with seven receptions for 78 yards.

(14) SUNDAY, DEC. 10 — Colts 23, BROWNS 17 (OT) (58,550) at the Hoosier Dome. The Browns missed several opportunities to win in the Hoosier Dome against the Indianapolis Colts and dropped a 23-17 overtime game, their third consecutive loss. QB-Bernie Kosar (26 of 40 for 353 yards, no TDs, two INTs) was intercepted by Colts' DB-Mike Prior with 10:54 elapsed in overtime, and Prior raced 58 yards for a TD, giving Indianapolis the victory. K-Matt Bahr missed two game-winning attempts from inside-the-40 (39 and 35 yards), breaking a streak of 12 straight from that range. The Browns outgained the Colts, 470 yards to 396, knocked starting QB-Jack Trudeau out of the game and squandered a 17-7 third-quarter lead.

Indianapolis scored early in the game when Trudeau hit WR-Andre Rison on a 51-yard TD pass after CB-Hanford Dixon tripped on the artificial surface. The Browns countered with an Eric Metcalf 12-yard TD run in the second period, and Bahr kicked a 48-yard field goal to give Cleveland a 10-7 halftime edge. On the Colts' first possession of the second half, Keith Jones blocked a Rohn Stark punt, which bounded into the endzone. Lawyer Tillman recovered the ball to give the Browns a 17-7 lead. K-Dean Blassucci kicked a 35-yard field goal to pull the Colts to within a TD, 17-10, with 7:28 left in the third quarter.

Cleveland drove from their own nine all the way to the Colts' 10 early in the fourth quarter, but Kosar was picked off by S-Keith Taylor in the endzone, and Taylor raced 77 yards before Kosar made the touchdown-saving tackle. The Colts tied the game at 17 when backup QB-Tom Ramsey threw a one-yard TD pass to TE-Pat Beach. Cleveland drove to the Colts' 21 with 28 seconds left in regulation, setting up Bahr's 39-yard FGA, which was wide left. In overtime, PR-Gerald McNeil returned a Stark punt 46 yards, "just an eyelash away from TD", to set-up Bahr's second chance from 35-yards away. The kick hit the left upright. After stuffing the Colts on their next possession, forcing a punt, Kosar threw a pass intended for WR-Webster Slaughter (six catches, 152 yards) which Prior picked off and raced to the endzone. The Browns fell to 7-6-1, one and one-half games behind Houston in the AFC Central.

(15) SUNDAY, DEC. 17 - BROWNS 23, Vikings 17 (OT) (70,777) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns set-up a week 16 showdown at Houston for the AFC Central crown with a dramatic overtime victory over the Minnesota Vikings, 23-17, before 70,777 faithful at Cleveland Stadium. Temperature at kickoff was 10 degrees, with the windchill factor as low as -22 degrees. Cleveland scored the winning touchdown on a fake field goal attempt with 5:30 remaining in overtime. Matt Bahr, who tied the game at 17 with 29 seconds remaining in regulation with a 32-yard field goal, lined up for an apparent 31-yard three-point attempt. Holder Mike Pagel rolled out with the snap and hit LB-Van Walters, who ran into the endzone for the game winning 14-yard score.

The last time an NFL game was decided in overtime by a fake field goal attempt was Oct. 16, 1977, when holder Paul Krause hit Stu Voigt with an 11-yard TD pass, as the Vikings beat the Bears, 22-16. Voigt was in the Vikings' radio booth for the game as a color analyst. QB-Bernie Kosar broke a string of 20 straight quarters without a TD pass by throwing two scoring strikes, a five-yarder to TE-Ron Middleton and a 62-yarder to WR-Reggie Langhorne. Kosar completed 17 of 38 passes for 254 yards, two TDs, no INTs, and was sacked three times for 12 yards. Kosar completed passes to eight different receivers. Langhorne caught six for a career-high 140 yards. FB-Kevij Mack saw his most extensive action, gaining 55 yards on 18 carries.

Defensively, Cleveland allowed Minnesota to convert only one of 18 third down attempts. QB-Wade Wilson (11 of 32, 141 yards, no TDs) was under heavy pressure and was sacked twice for 27 yards lost, including an 18-yard sack by LB-Clay Matthews that knocked Wilson out of the game. Tommy Kramer replaced Wilson and completed six of 16 for 80 yards. RB-Herschel Walker gained 57 yards on 16 carries, 26 on a third quarter touchdown run to give Minnesota a 10-7 lead. In all, the Browns rallied from behind twice (7-10 and 14-17). The win improved the Browns' record to 8-6-1, and afforded them the opportunity to win their fourth division title in five years.

(16) SATURDAY, DEC. 23 - BROWNS 24, Oilers 20 (58,852) at The Astrodome. Kevin Mack scored on a four-yard run with 39 seconds left, as the Browns captured the 1989 AFC Central crown in dramatic fashion, 24-20. Cleveland's fifth straight playoff appearance is the longest postseason run in the AFC, and trails only the 49ers' eight-year streak in the entire NFL. The Browns built a 17-3 halftime lead, but the Warren Moon-led Oilers fought back to take the lead, 20-17, with 4:46 remaining. Mack's winning TD run capped a nine-play, 58-yard drive that began with 2:30 left on the clock.

QB-Bernie Kosar (18 of 36, 228 yards, no INTs) threw first-half TD passes to Eric Metcalf (68 yards) and Webster Slaughter (40 yards). Mack, who bulled for 27 yards on the winning drive, ended with 62 on 12 carries. Moon completed 32 of 51 passes for 414 yards (third-most ever against a Browns' team), threw two TDs, and one interception (by Felix Wright — his ninth of the season). Moon was sacked five times, as the Browns broke the club's single season sack record with 45 (old record: 44 in 1985).

After Tony Zendejas kicked a 37-yard fourth-quarter field goal that pulled Houston to within four, 17-13, one of the more bizarre plays in Browns' history took place. After a snap sailed past the surprised Moon, who was audibilizing from the shotgun, LB-Clay Matthews recovered the loose ball and attempted a lateral, which Houston recovered on the Browns'

27. Moon hit Drew Hill on a 27-yard TD strike on the next play, giving the Oilers a 20-17 lead with under five minutes remaining. Following an exchange of possessions, Kosar led the Browns on the game-winning and title-clinching drive.

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME Saturday, Jan. 6, 1990 — BROWNS 34, Bills 30 (77,706) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns advanced to the AFC Championship Game with a victorious 34-30 shootout over the Bills. Each club scored in every quarter and the lead exchanged hands three times in the first half before LB-Clay Matthews intercepted a Jim Kelly pass at the one-yard line with nine seconds remaining in the game to thwart Buffalo's final drive. Buffalo closed the Browns' lead to 34-30 with four minutes left in the game after Kelly's fourth TD pass (to Thurman Thomas). Buffalo forced a Cleveland punt and took over at their own 26 with 2:41 remaining. RB-Ronnie Harmon dropped Kelly's pass in the endzone with 14 seconds remaining, setting up Matthews' interception on the Bills' 16th play of the potential game-winning drive.

QB-Bernie Kosar completed 20 of 29 passes for 251 yards, three TDs and no INTs, Kosar's third consecutive three touchdown playoff game. WR-Webster Slaughter caught two of Kosar's TD passes, one from 52 yards in the second quarter, and another from 44 yards in the third. Slaughter totaled 114 yards on three receptions. TE-Ron Middleton made a great catch from three-yards out to give the Browns a 17-14 halftime lead, and RB/KOR-Eric Metcalfe bolted 90 yards for a TD when Buffalo kicked off after closing the gap to 24-21. It was the first-ever kickoff returned for a TD in Browns' postseason play. K-Matt Bahr was two for three, hitting 45 and 47 yard three pointers, after missing wide right on a 45-yard try on Cleveland's first possession.

Defensively, the Browns allowed a team playoff-record 405 yards passing by Kelly, who completed 28 of 54 passes and was sacked only once. CB-Mark Harper corralled his third postseason interception and Matthews game-saver was Kelly's second. The two teams combined for 656 yards passing. 10 yards shy of a Browns' playoff record (666 vs. Jets in 1986) and seven passing TDs by both teams set a Cleveland playoff mark.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME SUNDAY, JAN. 14, 1990 — Broncos 37, Browns 21 (76,005) at Mile High Stadium. The Browns lost their third AFC Championship game to the Denver Broncos in the last four years, 37-21, in front of 76,005 fans. The Browns surrendered 497 total yards, as QB-John Elway threw for 385 yards and three TDs, while completing 20 of 36 passes. All of Cleveland's points came in the third period, cutting Denver's lead to 24-21. QB-Bernie Kosar (19 of 44 for 210 yards, two TDs, three INTs), completed nine of 14 passes in the third period, throwing TD passes of 27 and 10 yards to WR-Brian Brennan. Denver scored 13 fourth-quarter points to Cleveland's none, and outscored the Browns 10-0 in the first half.

Denver opened the game by driving 79 yards to Cleveland's one, but on their eighth play of the drive, RB-Bobby Humphrey fumbled a pitchout from Elway, which was recovered by DE-Andrew Stewart on Cleveland's six. In the second quarter, Elway hit WR-Michael Young on a 70-yard TD pass after CB-Frank Minnifield slipped, giving Denver a 10-0 lead. DT-Chris Pike blocked a David Treadwell 54-yard field goal attempt as time ran out in the first half.

Kosar led the Browns on a 70-yard drive to open the second half, hitting Brennan on a 27-yard touch pass in the corner of the endzone. Denver countered with an 80-yard drive in six plays, as Elway hit TE-Orson Mobley on a three-yard pass to give Denver a 17-7 lead. On Denver's next possession, Elway scrambled for 25 yards and was allowed an extra 15 when S-Kyle Kramer was called for a personal foul, setting up a seven-yard Sammy Winder touchdown run. Kosar led the Browns on a 72-yard drive on six plays on their next possession and Brennan made a spectacular TD catch to pull Cleveland within 10, 24-14.

On Denver's next possession, RB-Melvin Bratton was stripped by DE-Al Baker, and Felix Wright grabbed the ball and ran to Denver's two. FB-Tim Manoa rambled in for the score to make it 24-21, Denver, as the third period ended.

Denver, aided by a Cleveland offside penalty (DE-Robert Banks after an unsuccessful third down play), drove 80 yards in six plays, as Elway tossed a 39-yard TD pass to Winder. Kosar was intercepted for the second time, and Treadwell kicked a 34-yard field goal, 34-21 Denver. Denver ground out the clock after Kosar was picked off again, as Treadwell booted a 31-yarder to finish the scoring with two minutes left in the game.

- 1972: Browns once again gained postseason, losing to eventual champion Miami in playoffs.
- 1975-77: Forrest Gregg, Browns' offensive line coach, becomes head coach; Greg Pruitt has three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons; Dick Modzelewski coaches final game of 1977.
- 1978: Sam Rutigliano becomes the first non-Browns' assistant to gain head coaching position. Team won first three on way to 8-8 finish.
- 1979: Losses in final two games prevented team from entering playoffs, finishing 9-7; Mike Pruitt keeps the tradition of outstanding Browns' running backs and has the first of three straight 1,000-yard seasons.
- 1980: Browns win AFC Central title with 11-5 record; lost to eventual Super Bowl champion Oakland in playoff; Brian Sipe is consensus MVP of league.
- 1982: In strike-shortened season, Browns finish eighth in AFC (4-5) and gain playoffs second time in three years. Lost to Raiders in Super Bowl Tournament.
- 1983: Browns tied for wildcard playoff spot with 9-7 record, but did not advance, losing to Denver and Seattle through NFL tie-breaking procedure.
- 1984: Browns replaced head coach Sam Rutigliano with defensive coordinator Marty Schottenheimer after a 1-7 midseason record and finished season at 5-11. TE Ozzie Newsome caught 89 passes for second straight year.

- 1985: Browns captured their third central division championship, but lost to Dolphins, 24-21, in Miami. Rookie Kevin Mack (1,104) and Earnest Byner (1,002) each gained 1,000 yards rushing. It marked the third time in 66-year history of NFL that teammates both rushed for over 1,000 yards in the same season.
- 1986: Browns won more games than ever before during regular season, as they roll-up a 12-4 record en route to their second consecutive AFC Central crown. In a double-overtime playoff thriller before a packed Cleveland Stadium crowd, Bernie Kosar throws for an NFL-record 487 yards as the Browns beat the New York Jets, 23-20, to advance to the AFC championship game. The Browns lose to Denver, also in overtime, 23-20.
- 1987: Browns capture their third straight AFC Central, as they finished the season 10-5. The third week of the NFL season was cancelled due to the 24-day players' strike, while three "replacement" games were played (the Browns went 2-1). The Browns defeated the Colts, 38-21, at Cleveland Stadium in the AFC playoffs, then drop their second straight AFC Championship to Denver despite a spectacular come-from-behind bid that saw them score 30 second-half points, only to fall, 38-33 in Mile High Stadium. Bernie Kosar wins the AFC passing title with a 95.4 QB rating, and an NFL-high eight Browns make the Pro Bowl.
- 1988: Cleveland finishes 10-6 and earns a Wild Card berth by defeating Houston, 28-33, in the season finale by overcoming a 16-point third-quarter deficit. Houston defeats the Browns, 24-23, in the Wild Card game played on Christmas Eve. Four Cleveland quarterbacks suffered injuries during the course of the season. Marty Schottenheimer resigns on Dec. 27.
- 1989: Owner Art Modell announces Bud Carson as the Browns' seventh fulltime head coach on January 27. The Browns win their fourth division title in five years with a 9-6-1 record, and advance to the playoffs for an AFC-high fifth straight season. Browns win division crown with a stunning, come-from behind, 24-20 victory at Houston in the final week of regular season. Browns advance to third title game in four years by defeating Buffalo, 34-30, but lose to Denver, 37-21, at Mile High Stadium in AFC Championship. Bud Carson becomes first head coach to advance to the AFC Championship since Red Miller in 1977.

CLEVELAND STADIUM

Cleveland Stadium, a famous and proud landmark for this city, is the nation's largest facility housing both a Major League baseball team and an NFL franchise. The Stadium, with a current capacity of 80,098, was completed in July of 1931 at a cost of $3.5 million.

A $6,000,000 improvement program was completed during 1989 and 1990, which included a new scoreboard (including sideboards that continuously update out-of-town scores), a new sound system, 47 color TV monitors located within the concourse, renovation of concession stands and upgraded restroom facilities, new rooflights, and replacement of all original electrical transformers.

The Stadium, which sits on a landfill, has proved to be multi-purpose. Along with baseball and football, the range of activities at the Stadium has included everything from a heavyweight championship bout (Schmeling vs. Stribling) to religious convocations. The Metropolitan Opera and the Beatles have performed on the field, as have circuses, rodeos, big bands, tractor pulls, and a horde of professional and amateur athletes.

Over the years, the Stadium became a financial strain for the city of Cleveland. Art Modell responded to the need in 1974, when he formed Cleveland Stadium Corporation and signed a 25-year lease with the city. When the agreement between the city and Modell was first reached in 1974, the Browns' owner promised a $10 million improvement plan, which was concluded in 1984.

Those original improvements included the addition of 108 luxurious loges, a computerized scoreboard, more comfortable seats, new concession facilities, a new lighting system (both inside and around the perimeter of the Stadium), outfield fence pads, and the installation of a new playing field, which was lowered two feet to provide a better view from the stands (1976).

Former Cleveland Mayor George Voinovich gives Modell and the Stadium staff the credit for saving the Stadium. "If the city had held onto the Stadium, it probably would be closed today," Voinovich said. (Cleveland Press, 3/28/80).

BROWNS BACKERS ASSOCIATION

The BROWNS BACKERS Association, formed in March of 1984, has grown to international proportions with 110 clubs and an estimated 50,000-plus members worldwide. This total membership makes the BROWNS BACKERS Association the largest fan club organization in professional sports. The average number of members per club is 300.

Fans can join established chapters in their community or start a new chapter. For existing chapters, The Leffler Agency of Baltimore (Md.) fulfills requests for membership certificates and cards and answers questions concerning Backers' policies or Browns' game information. To start a new club, a list of at least 25 names of interested fans should be sent to The Leffler Agency, and an official starter kit will be sent to the organizer/president of the new chapter to get the new club functioning.

Fans who wish to join an existing club in their area (or start one) should contact Maureen Heneberry, Assistant Coordinator of the BROWNS' BACKERS Association, at The Leffler Agency at 301-889-2200. (Or write to her at 2607 North Charles St., Baltimore, Md. 21218).

Although the list of clubs is always growing, here is the most current available:

NFL ALUMNI

The Cleveland Chapter of the NFL Alumni would like to contact all former pro football players living in the Cleveland area.

The chapter was formed in 1980 and is one of 32 in the NFL Alumni. Members get involved in several activities throughout the year, including hosting an NFL Alumni Charity Golf Classic, taking part in the Youth of America Week activities each September, and others which foster camaraderie while working on behalf of today's youth.

Jim Houston is president of the Cleveland Chapter. Other officers are vice president Tom Brown, secretary Nick Catanese, and treasurer Jim Houston, Jr.
