LOS ANGELES SOL NEWS & NOTES

On the Verge

Today's match against the Saint Louis Athletica wraps up the 2009 home schedule for the Sol. A win today ensures that the Sol will clinch the WPS Regular Season title. It will also earn club the right to host the WPS Championship Match at The Home Depot Center on August 22 at 1 pm (PT).

Marta, Abily 1&2 in Goals

Last week's WPS Player of the Week, Marta, and WPS June Player of the Month, Camille Abily, rank first and second in goals scored this season. Before Sunday's match against the Freedom, Marta and Abily were tied for the most goals in the league with eight, but Marta's game-winning goal in the 91st minute set them apart by one.

Longest Winning Streak

Last Sunday's win over the Washington Freedom not only extended the Sol's undefeated streak to 11, but it also gave the club the longest winning streak in WPS history at four games. Previously the Sol, along with the Saint Louis Athletica, had the longest winning streak with three consecutive victories. With an important match today against the second-place Athletica, the Sol have a chance to clinch home field advantage in the Championship Game and extend their winning streak to five.

Home Record

Today's match marks the 10th and final home game of the regular season for the Sol. They have won their last three home games and have a 7-0-2 record at The Home Depot Center. The Sol is the only team in the league to be undefeated at home.

Abily WPS June Player of the Month

Sol midfielder Camille Abily was selected as the WPS Player of the Month for June in a voting by fans, teams and media. The 24-year-old French international from Rennes had five goals in the month of June helping the Sol to an undefeated 4-0-2 record for the month and an impressive 16-point lead in the WPS Standings as the Sol close in on the WPS Regular Season crown. Highlights for Abily included a two-goal game in a 3-1 victory over the FC Gold Pride and a late, stoppage-time goal against the Chicago Red Stars to earn Los Angeles an exciting 1-1 draw and remain undefeated at home this season. Abily becomes the second Frenchwoman and third consecutive international in WPS to win the Player of the Month Award after Kelly Smith (England - Boston Breakers) and Sonia Bompastor (France - Washington Freedom) won it in April and May. Each group - fans, teams and media - account for one-third of the final tally.

Shaner Breaks Leg in Victory over Freedom

Sol defender Christie Shaner underwent surgery on Monday, July 6, in the Washington D.C. area to repair a mid-shaft tibia/fibula fracture (right leg) that she suffered in a collision with the Washington Freedom's Abby Wambach in the Sol's 1-0 victory on Sunday afternoon. Shaner and Wambach collided as both made an effort to control a loose ball in the penalty area nearly five minutes into the second half. The match was Shaner's first in a Sol uniform after being acquired early last week in a trade with Sky Blue FC (NJ/NY). The 24-year-old native of Ambler, Pennsylvania was scheduled for surgery at Shady Grove Adventist Hospital in Rockville, Maryland. Dr. Steven Tuck of Shady Grove Orthopaedic Associates performed the procedure. The timetable for recovery is unknown at this time. After the surgery, Shaner was driven home to Amber before recovering enough to rejoin her Sol teammates in Los Angeles.

Marta Nominated for ESPY

The current and three-time FIFA World Player of the Year, Marta has been nominated in the category of Best Female International Athlete. She will be competing against Russian pole vaulter Yelena Isinbayeva, Mexican golfer Lorena Ochoa, Australian swimmer Stephanie Rice and Russian tennis player Dinara Safina. The ESPYS, which take place July 15 and air July 19, are the one night each year where athletes from all sports join together to celebrate the best moments of the year. Sol fans will have the chance to select the winners by voting online at www.ESPYS.tv.
