Shell Energy Stadium

Shell Energy Stadium is a state-of-the-art, open-air stadium designed to host Houston Dynamo Football Club matches, Houston Dash matches and Texas Southern University football games as well as additional professional, collegiate and community sporting events, concerts, exhibitions, conventions and special events. Opened on May 12, 2012, the 340,000-square foot, 20,000-seat stadium is the first soccer-specific stadium in Major League Soccer located in a city's downtown district.

An architecturally stunning building, the stadium features 94,000 square feet of aluminum panels on its exterior, giving it a modern and stylish appearance. Each of the panels is 50 percent open to improve air flow throughout the concourses. Canopies extend 75 feet over the stands on the east and west sides of the stadium, and a stage canopy extends 125 feet over the south end, providing shade to soccer fans and a built-in speaker setup for concerts.

With its downtown location, the stadium is a part of a true 'Stadium District,' which includes Minute Maid Park and the Toyota Center, as well as the George R. Brown Convention Center, Discovery Green, Warehouse Live and House of Blues.

The venue was awarded the LEED® Silver certification from the U.S. Green Building Council in December 2012. The stadium has been identified as a pioneering example of new construction and sustainable design and is considered a leader in transforming the building industry.

The Houston Dash hired Sam Laity as the fourth head coach in team history on Dec. 21, 2022.

Laity brings extensive coaching experience through a decade-long career in the NWSL with OL Reign. The 46-year-old coached in more than 200 NWSL regular season and playoff games during his tenure as an assistant coach at OL Reign and spent most of his career as the primary assistant under OL Reign head coach Laura Harvey. Laity also served as an interim head coach during the 2021 season for six games and finished with a 4-2-0 (WLD) record.

Laity helped lead the Reign to a NWSL best 11-7-4 record last season, awarding the Seattle-based club the NWSL Shield and the No. 1 overall seed in the 2022 NWSL playoffs. That was the sixth trip to the postseason for OL Reign and third NWSL Shield.

Laity also served as an assistant coach under current United States Women's National Team head coach Vlatko Andonovski from 2017 to 2019 at Seattle Reign FC.
