MATCH PREVIEW

This Sunday, March 26, at 6:00 p.m., Angel City opens the 2023 regular season at home against NJ/NY Gotham FC.

Matchup

Angel City has played Gotham twice before, at home last year in May and on the road in late August. The two teams split those results, with LA suffering a disappointing home loss to the New Jersey-based club in their first meeting, then stealing three points back at Red Bull in the rematch.

In the 0-1 loss at home, Gotham forward Ifeoma Onumonu had the game-winner, assisted by forward Midge Purce. That was a contentious match, with the visitors earning four yellow cards, all before the 57th-minute goal.

In the 3-1 win in August, ACFC dominated the first half, scoring all three goals before the break. Midfielder Savannah McCaskill, midfielder Cari Roccaro, and forward Claire Emslie tallied goals for Angel City, with forward Paige Monaghan getting one back for the home team early in the second half.

Scouting Report

Gotham has made some big moves this offseason, bringing in proven talent in all areas of the pitch.

On the back line, they acquired NWSL and USWNT veteran Kelley O'Hara from the Washington Spirit; they also added Brazilian international Bruninha, a 20-year-old right back who previously played for Santos in Brazil.

In the midfield, Gotham picked up Yazmeen Ryan via the three-team trade in which Angel City acquired the No. 1 pick in the 2023 draft, which they used to draft Alyssa Thompson. Ryan is a dynamic attacking mid who won the 2022 NWSL Championship with the Thorns in her second season in Portland. En route to that championship, she tied Washington's Ashley Sanchez for second-most assists on the season, with five.

Returning to the field for New Jersey is veteran defensive midfielder Allie Long, who was on maternity leave in 2022.

"Their team is pretty deep, so their midfield is definitely a question mark, but they're all going to be good," said ACFC defender Madison Hammond. In terms of attacking mids, Gotham could play either or both of Ryan and Kristie Mewis. "Yazmeen Ryan and Kristie are both very offensive-minded in the sense of shooting the gap and making a lot of runs in behind," added Hammond.

Finally, the club added two big attacking names, forwards Jenna Nighswonger and Lynn Williams. Nighswonger was a much-touted prospect out of Florida State who went fourth overall in the 2023 draft. She finished her college career with 19 goals and 34 assists, including an eye-popping 16 her senior year, when she was a semifinalist for the MAC Hermann trophy.

Williams, who came to Gotham via the Kansas City Current, is the third-most prolific scorer all-time in the NWSL, with 57 goals in 117 games, and is a three-time winner of both the NWSL Championship and the Supporters' Shield. After sitting out all of 2022 due to injury, Williams looks to add yet another weapon to Gotham's formidable front line, which already included proven scorers in Purce and Onumonu.

"You're looking at a front line of most likely Lynn, Ify [Onumonu], Midge, and maybe Taylor Smith," said Hammond. "You see all those names and the first thing you think of is, really capable on the ball, really good dribblers, really speedy. So knowing that in how you prepare for the game, you just have to be smarter."

What's New with Angel City

Angel City has also made some changes since last season.

First, there are the new additions to the roster: goalkeeper Angelina Anderson, forward/midfielder Katie Johnson, defender Merritt Mathias, midfielder Mackenzie Pluck, and forward and No. 1 Overall Draft Pick Alyssa Thompson.

In addition to the new signings, defender Sarah Gorden, who was out all last season after tearing her ACL in preseason, has returned to the pitch. Gorden came to LA from Chicago, where she was a longtime staple for the Red Stars. In 2021, when Chicago were the runners up for the NWSL Championship, she played every minute at center back.

After ACFC's 3-0 preseason win against Club América, Head Coach Freya Coombe praised Gorden's form, saying, "She's been very consistent. She's been winning the ball. Her distribution has been good. She defends the space in behind the back line so well and just adds that air of experience and seniority to our back line, which has gone a long way for holding our shape and giving our back line confidence."

Personnel isn't the only thing that's changed since 2022. In the América friendly, fans got a glimpse at what the offense has in store style-wise for 2023.

That game saw three different goal scorers score in three different ways, highlighting the team's versatility. Thompson opened the scoring with an impressive individual effort, beating multiple defenders and the keeper on the dribble; defender Paige Nielsen put one away on a set piece; and forward Simone Charley notched hers on a transition play, assisted by Johnson.

Coombe highlighted the fluidity of the front line in that game and emphasized that the team aims to keep playing that way throughout the season. "I think the rotations were good," she said. "Being able to pick up off of each other's movement, [we're going] to look threatening and create so many more chances, I think, than we did last season."

All in all, ACFC's goal is to build on what they accomplished in their inaugural season.

"We're going to be exciting and fluid in the attack," said Coombe, summing up the way the team plans to play in 2023. "That's a goal of ours. Defensive solidity is something that's going to be key for us. Then just possessing well and being efficient going forward."

PRESEASON TRAINING QUOTES

ACFC Forward & No. 1 Draft Pick Alyssa Thompson Quotes

On preseason and expectations for the season:

"Preseason overall has helped me a lot to get into a professional mindset. Being able to be with the girls, them being able to teach me everything while helping me get acclimated to the environment. It's definitely an adjustment with school, and with the season starting."

"As a team, we definitely want to win the NWSL Championship. That's something that we are really working towards. I just want to keep developing and playing at the highest level that I can in hopes of making the World Cup roster."

On expectations for Sunday's Home Opener:

"I imagined it to be kind of chaotic, but super exciting. I've never played in a stadium like that, so I'm really excited. I know it's gonna be big and everyone has been hyping it up, so I'm really excited."

On entering the league and remaining in LA:

"Going pro has changed everything for me and my family. It's nice that my sister gets to train with the team as well. It's been very helpful. It's amazing that my friends and family get to go to the game. They still get to watch me play and are celebrating these moments with me. It's really awesome that I'm here in LA, and I get to be with them."

ACFC Head Coach Freya Coombe Quotes

On returning to BMO Stadium:

"There's no better place to play in this league. I absolutely love the gameday atmosphere at BMO. It's going to be incredible. I know that everyone here is very excited to be there again, we've missed it."

"When we had the loss against Louisville to end our season at home last year, there was a sense of sadness not only because of the loss and what it meant for our playoff chances, but also just knowing that that was the last home game we were going to play. It means so much to the players and fans, and I'm just so grateful to be there for another game."

On Alyssa Thompson's performance so far:

"It was a big occasion for her when she started the game against Club America and made a huge impact in the first five minutes of the game. I've been impressed with her ability to adjust to playing professionally."

She's got a lot on her plate with finishing out school, and her ability to take on information and be very coachable. She's doing a great job of coming in, training consistently at a high level while scoring goals, which is always what you want to see from a forward."

On any future signings:

"We're always looking to be the most competitive team that we can be. If opportunities arise to make us more competitive, we will always take them. We're really happy with how we're tracking right now coming into the start of the season."

COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT

ACFC and DoorDash Partner To Respond To Los Angeles Food Insecurity.

Following the 2021 announcement that DoorDash would be Angel City's front of kit sponsor, the food delivery service and the club have worked to address food insecurity across Los Angeles. Through campaigns such as the Goals that Give campaign, a mechanism that connected the triumphs on the field with community impact off the field. For every ACFC goal scored during the regular season, 1,000 meals were donated to All Peoples Community Center.

In addition to the campaign, DoorDash and Angel City FC furthered their support of All Peoples Community Center by supporting three separate food security programs aimed at serving multiple segments of their South LA community. Through this support, over 450,000 meals were delivered in 2022.

Angel City FC and DoorDash are excited to continue their partnership with All Peoples Community Center in 2023 with the goal of delivering 500,000 meals by the end of the season, both through the Goals That Give campaign and through All Peoples Community Center's food security programming.

ACFC Midfielder Lily Nabet and Defender Paige Nielsen cut slices of pie in preparation for the All People's Cennter Thanksgiving Meal.

RECENT ACFC ANNOUNCEMENTS

- On March 24, 2023, Angel City announced the Los Angeles Ram's Super Bowl-winning quarterback Matthew Stafford, his wife Kelly, and their four daughters as investors in the team.
- On March 16, 2023, Angel City released its 2023 away kit, the Represent jersey. Featuring a map of the Los Angeles area, pops of sol rosa, and a back-of-neck VOLEMOS hit designed by Viva La Bonita's Rachel Gomez, the team will wear this light-toned kit mostly on the road, allowing them to take a literal image of the city with them when they represent ACFC on hostile turf.
- On February 27, 2023, PNC Bank joined the Angel City Football Club (ACFC) family as a founding partner and The Official Women's Business Champion.
- On February 16, 2023 ACFC and Club América Femenil announced an international friendly match at BMO Stadium scheduled for Wednesday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m. PT. The friendly, which falls on International Women's Day, will showcase two clubs with their sights set on extending the global reach of women's football and bringing together their collective fan bases.
- On February 8, 2023, the National Women's Soccer League (NWSL) today released the league's 2023 regular-season schedule, which includes Angel City Football (ACFC)'s 22 regular-season matches along with the in-season Challenge Cup schedule that includes six total matches.
- On January 23, 2023 ACFC announced the hiring of Melissa Phillips from London City Lionesses (LCL) of the Barclay's Women's Championship, as the club's new First Assistant Coach.
- On January 19, 2023, Angel City Football Club announced that BMO joined the ACFC family as a Founding Partner. The announcement coincided with BMO announcing it secured the naming rights to Angel City's home stadium now called BMO Stadium.
- On January 17, 2023, Angel City announced the hiring of Sarah Smith as the club's new Director of Medical and Performance ahead of the 2023 National Women's Soccer League (NWSL) season.
- On January 12, 2023, Angel City FC drafted Alyssa Thompson with the No. 1 overall draft pick in the 2023 NWSL Draft. With the 27th overall pick, Angel City FC drafted Goal Keeper Angelina Anderson.

LA RAMS QUARTERBACK MATTHEW STAFFORD AND FAMILY JOIN ACFC INVESTOR GROUP

On March 24, Angel City announced the Los Angeles Rams' Super Bowl-winning quarterback Matthew Stafford, his wife Kelly, and their four daughters as investors in the team. The announcement comes as ACFC kicks off its second season this Sunday, March 26, at BMO Stadium versus NJ/NY Gotham FC.

"We fell in love with attending an Angel City game last season and wanted our daughters to experience something so important and powerful first-hand," said Matthew and Kelly Stafford. "We have such great respect for the athletes on the field who are playing at the highest level and feel lucky to be able to support such an amazing team in a city that we love so much."

"We are thrilled to have Matthew, Kelly, and their four daughters join the Angel City investor group," said ACFC Co-Founder and President Julie Uhrman. "It makes a huge statement that an LA sports icon and Super Bowl champion Rams quarterback and his family believe in what we are building at Angel City. Kelly is a huge champion of women and, from the moment they attended our Mother's Day match last year, they have been such great supporters of the club. I'm beyond excited to officially have them join our family."

The Staffords join several families that have invested in the team, including five-time Pro Bowl lineman Ryan Kalil and family, actress and activist Gabrielle Union and daughter Kaavia James Union Wade, WNBA legend Candace Parker and daughter Lailaa, and founding investors Alexis Ohanian, Serena Williams and daughter Olympia, who at the time of announcement was the youngest professional team owner in sports.

Other ACFC investors from the sports industry include Billie Jean King and Illana Kloss, Cobi Jones, Abby Wambach, Mia Hamm, Julie Foudy, Lindsey Vonn, Candace Parker, PK Subban, and Shawn Johnson East.

GIRLS PLAY LA KICK OFF SESSION PRESENTED BY ACFC AND BMO

On Sunday, March 26th, ACFC and BMO will be hosting 50 participants in Girls Play Los Angeles (GPLA) for a soccer clinic at Expo Center before shifting locations to BMO Stadium for a leadership panel and stadium tour. All participants will be provided tickets to the Angel City FC home opener later that evening.

GPLA program is focused on girls' sports throughout LA Recreation and Parks Department's under-served communities. It has been demonstrated that in many underserved communities barriers to participation exist based on a belief that there are specific family gender roles or that income should be prioritized on male family members first. The GPLA program is subsidized so that all girls can participate, regardless of economic inequalities or cultural barriers. GPLA currently provides free sports programming to girls and non-binary youth at over 1000 sites across the city. Our goal in the next few years is to expand our support for the program to multiple sites in LA.

ANGEL CITY FC ORIGIN

In July 2020, Angel City Football Club (ACFC) launched as a US-based National Women's Soccer League (NWSL) expansion team and announced that we would be taking the pitch in April 2022. Academy Award-winning actor and activist Natalie Portman, technology venture capitalist Kara Nortman, media and gaming entrepreneur Julie Uhrman, and tech entrepreneur and venture capitalist Alexis Ohanian founded ACFC, taking the women's soccer universe by storm. Our Soccer House is led by General Manager Angela Hucles Mangano. Hucles Mangano, a two-time Olympic gold medalist and World Cup Champion, manages all operations, recruiting, and player development staff, as well as oversees Head Coach Freya Coombe, First Assistant Coach Melissa Phillips, Assistant Coach Beck Tweed, Assistant Coach Eleri Earnshaw, and Head of Goalkeeping Daniel Ball.

On the business side, Angel City is thrilled to have the incredible support of some of the greatest brands in America that align with the team's commitment to making an impact on and off the field. Current partners include BMO, PNC, Crypto.com, DoorDash, Birdies, Sprouts Farmers Market, Klarna, Cedars Sinai, Yaamava Resort & Casino, Heineken® and Tecate, Jane Walker, Gatorade, Payscale, Therabody, Core Digital Media, Ritual, Melissa's, and Flying Embers.

To date nearly 120 active and passionate investors have joined ACFC including Serena Williams and daughter, Alexis Olympia Ohanian Jr., actors Uzo Aduba, Jessica Chastain, America Ferrera, Jennifer Garner, Eva Longoria, and Gabrielle Union and her daughter, NY Times Best Selling author and influencer Kaavia James Union Wade, singer-songwriter Christina Aguilera and her fiancé, Masterclass founder Matthew Rutler, sports icons Billie Jean King and Ilana Kloss, WNBA legend Candace Parker and her daughter Lailaa, Gold Medalist and Alpine Skiing Legend Lindsey Vonn, Gold Medalist and NHL-All Star PK Subban, Latin pop superstar Becky G, actress and activist Sophia Bush, late-night talk show hosts James Corden and Lilly Singh, bestselling author, coach, podcaster, and former monk Jay Shetty, and Olympic Gold Medalist and gymnast Shawn Johnson East, 13 former US Women's National Team players - 13 of which represent Southern California - including Julie Foudy, Mia Hamm, Rachel Buehler, Shannon Boxx, Lorrie Fair Allen, Ronnie Fair Sullins, Joy Fawcett, Angela Hucles, Shannon MacMillan, Tisha Venturini Hoch, and Saskia Webber, two-time Olympic Gold Medalist and FIFA World Cup Champions Lauren Cheney Holiday and Abby Wambach, and author and activist Glennon Doyle, MLS/US Soccer legend and sports broadcaster Cobi Jones, and NFL All-Pro Ryan Kalil among many notable others. According to investor, tennis legend Billie Jean King:

"We need everyone to invest in women's sports ... Angel City's mission to make an impact on and off-the-field, and to provide an opportunity to some of the best professional female athletes in the world to play on a stage as powerful as Los Angeles, sends a strong message to young girls in the community and beyond."

INAUGURAL SEASON OPENER

Angel City's inaugural season opener on April, 29, 2022 drew 22,000 fans to Banc of California Stadium. The sellout crowd was the second biggest for a season opener in NWSL history; the record holder is this week's opponent, the Orlando Pride, who drew 23,403 fans to their inaugural opener in 2016 at what is now Camping World Stadium.

The inaugural match attendance also:

- Outpaced attendance at 18 out of 28 MLS season openers in the 2022 season
- Was larger than the total capacity of all but four NWSL stadiums
- Was the fifth-largest crowd for a standalone NWSL game in regular-season history (last season OL Reign drew 27,278 to a doubleheader with the Seattle Sounders)
- Makes Angel City the second non-Portland team—after Orlando—to break into the top 10 best-attended NWSL games
- Was equal to roughly 1/9 the population of Cary, North Carolina, where the Courage are based.

ANGEL CITY FC TEAM EXECUTIVES

NATALIE PORTMAN
FOUNDER, ACTRESS AND ACTIVIST

Angel City Football Club is founded by Academy Award-winning actress and activist Natalie Portman, technology venture capitalist Kara Nortman, media and gaming entrepreneur Julie Uhrman, and Seven Seven Six founder and former Executive Chair of Reddit, Alexis Ohanian. Portman, who is on the board of Times Up, attended the Times Up Connect event and witnessed Abby Wambach speak about her playing career and the US Women's National Team's fight for equal pay. Natalie was riveted and engaged in conversations about the pay equity issue in women's sports. She approached Nortman, also on the Times Up board and a women's soccer fanatic. One day at lunch, Portman asked Nortman there wasn't a professional women's soccer team in LA, which led them down a path neither could have envisioned. In August 2019, Julie Uhrman was brought on by Portman and Kara Nortman to run the company and help them fulfill their mission and passion for bringing a professional women's sports team to Los Angeles as part of the National Women's Soccer League (NWSL).

JULIE UHRMAN
CO-FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT

Julie Uhrman is the Co-Founder and President of Angel City Football Club (ACFC). ACFC is one of the only majority female-founded and run professional sports teams in the world and, in 2021, was named one of the world's most innovative companies by Fast Company Magazine. In addition to leading ACFC day to day, Uhrman is active in the Los Angeles sports and technology communities. She is a board member of the LA Sports and Entertainment Council, The Rose Bowl Institute, the LA Sports Council, an active executive in the LA Chapter of WISE (Women in Sports and Events), and is part of two SPACs focused on sports and gaming/ entertainment. She is also part of the DraftKings' All-Star Network as an Advisor to Drive by DraftKings. Uhrman's accolades include being named a member of Adweek's 2021 and 2020 Most Powerful Women In Sports, one of the 100 Most Creative People in Business by Fast Company, and to the Creative 50 list by Advertising Age.

ALEXIS OHANIAN
LEADING FOUNDING INVESTOR

Alexis Ohanian, ACFC's leading founding investor, was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. and grew up in the suburbs of Baltimore, M.D. He wrote the national bestselling book, Without Their Permission, and has been a vocal advocate for the open internet, STEM education and paid family leave. Out of college, Ohanian co-founded Reddit, one of the largest websites in the U.S., which was funded by Y Combinator in 2005 and sold to Conde Nast in 2006. He returned as executive chairman in 2014 to help lead the turnaround of the now independent company that today is valued at over $10B. In 2016, he left Reddit to run the venture capital firm he co-founded, Initialized Capital, and built it to $100B in market value through early investments in companies like Coinbase, Opendoor, Instacart, Patreon, and Ro. In 2020, Ohanian resigned from the Reddit board in protest and left his role at Initialized Capital to found Seven Seven Six, a new firm built like a technology company that deploys venture capital.

KARA NORTMAN
FOUNDING INVESTOR

Kara is a Managing Partner at Upfront Ventures, the largest venture capital firm based in Los Angeles. Her notable investments include Parachute Home, Time by Ping, Endgame, Writer, Open Raven, Britive, and Fleetsmith (acquired by Apple in 2020). Over 50% of her portfolio is led by women CEOs. Kara is also a founding member of All Raise, a VC-led group dedicated to increased diversity in funders and founders, and is a founder of LA's women's soccer team, Angel City Football Club. Before Upfront, Kara co-founded the children's e-commerce company Moonfrye and also spent seven years at IAC where she co-headed the M&A group and acted as the Senior Vice President and General Manager of Urbanspoon and Citysearch. During her tenure at IAC, she led the initial investment in Tinder. Earlier in her career, she also spent time at Morgan Stanley, Microsoft, and Battery Ventures. She received her AB in Politics from Princeton University and her MBA from Stanford University. Nortman resides in Los Angeles with her husband and three daughters.
