TOM WHALEY
Executive Vice President

The St. Louis, MO native is a recovering attorney whose baseball career began accidentally in 1992 when he sold an outfield wall billboard, program ad, and four-season tickets to the general manager of a moving company as they stood on the courthouse steps following a hearing.

From 1993-98, he served as the Saints' Director of Operations and Assistant General Manager.

He spent two seasons as the Director of Corporate Sales for the Tampa Bay Devil Rays before joining the Goldklang Group in January, 2001. He was principally involved in the start-up of the Can-Am League's Brockton Rox and the construction of a new baseball stadium and conference center in the Boston suburb in 2002. A year later, he was on hand when the Rox won the league championship.

In August 2002, he returned to the Saints, assuming his current position as Executive Vice-President responsible for business development and was one of the instrumental people in making CHS Field a reality. He purchased an ownership interest in the Saints in 2005. He lives in Lino Lakes with his wife, Kathleen. Three grown children live in a galaxy far, far away. Whaley is the past Board Chair for the St. Paul Area Chamber of Commerce.

DEREK SHARRER
Executive Vice President / General Manager

Since moving to the Twin Cities in 2004, Sharrer continues to make the St. Paul Saints one of the more successful Minor League baseball teams in the country. His hard work and dedication have been rewarded, the receiving Executive of the Year honors in the American Association from 2015-19.

He oversaw the opening of CHS Field in what was an historic, record breaking year for the organization. The record breaking first year was topped in 2016 when the Saints finished seventh in all of minor league baseball in average attendance and number one in percent capacity, at 117%. They topped Minor League baseball in percent capacity from 2015-19, averaging 113% capacity over that time. In the first two seasons as the Twins Triple-A affiliate, the Saints have been Top 10 in attendance in all of Minor League baseball.

Upon beginning his career in Fort Myers, FL with the Goldklang Group's Florida State League franchise, the Whiteland, IN native rose quickly through the ranks of the Miracle, ascending to the GM's chair in 1997. As part of the job, he worked extensively with the Miracle's parent team – the Minnesota Twins – during spring training. The Miracle consistently bucked the trend of poor Florida State League attendance and led in that department under Sharrer.

In 2001, he moved to Charleston, SC. The RiverDogs, a Tampa Bay affiliate in the Class-A South Atlantic League, set attendance records every year Sharrer was there. With the help of such interesting promotions as Nobody Night (when fans weren't allowed into the ballpark until it was an official game), the RiverDogs drew a then team record 259,007 fans in 2003. Charleston mayor Joe Riley thought so much of Sharrer that he helped organize a special day in his honor before he left to join the Saints.

The days in St. Paul have been just as magical, leading a staff that has come up with promotional ideas that have gained national attention. Everything from Bud Selig ties, to the Michael Vick Chew Toy, to the incredible Bobblefoot, to the World Record Pillow Fight in 2015, to the ballpark-wide food fight in 2018.

"St. Paul is a special place to live and work – particularly if work is minor league baseball," Sharrer said. "The Saints' tradition – thanks primarily to our fans – was established long before I arrived. I'm just thrilled to be a continuing part of it."

Sharrer resides in Woodbury with his wife Kandice, sons Sullivan and Lawson. "My family and I have thoroughly enjoyed our time here," he said. "We are looking forward to many more years to come."

CHRIS SCHWAB
Executive Vice President, Sales and Operations

This season will mark Chris' 20th in baseball. This White Bear Lake native received his Bachelor of Science degree in Marketing from Minnesota State University.

In 2004, he started as a game day intern during the Saints championship season. Following that season, he moved to Sioux Falls and began working with the Canaries. Chris had many rolls with "The Birds" including Promotions Director, Box Office Manager, Director of Sales, and Assistant General Manager. The 2008 season was a banner year for Schwab and the Canaries, while breaking attendance records, the Canaries brought home their first, and only, championship.

Following the 2009 season, Schwab found his way back home to St. Paul. He works heavily in the ticket and sponsorship sales area and can be heard every game night telling fellow staff members, "smiles everyone." Chris knew that sales was in his blood when, in 1993, he set the Minnesota Cub Scout record in nut roll and Christmas wreath sales. "When you have the opportunity to work with people like Tom, Derek, Mike, Marv and Bill, it makes the 20-years go by quickly".

He continues in a leadership role in ticket sales and corporate partnerships with the Saints, a position in which he's helped shape the organization's sales philosophy and contributed significantly to its growth. In addition, as part of the Saints transition from independent to affiliated baseball, Schwab has served as one of the primary liaisons between the Saints front office and the Twins baseball operations staff.

SIERRA BAILEY
Vice President/Assistant General Manager, Brand Marketing & Experience

Since 2013, Sierra Bailey has helped lead the St. Paul Saints to some of the most creative promotions in Minor League Baseball. She helped shape the identity of the organization during their final season at Midway Stadium, made sure that identity was enhanced in the move to CHS Field, and was instrumental in maintaining that identity when the organization became the Minnesota Twins Triple-A affiliate in 2021.

The 34-year-old Bailey goes from Vice President, Brand Marketing and Experience to Vice President and Assistant General Manager. She will continue in her role overseeing the promotions department, an area she has run since beginning with the Saints in 2013. In addition, Bailey will continue to oversee the marketing efforts of the club, tying in the organization's brand messaging across various platforms including traditional, digital, and social media initiatives.

Bailey began with the Saints as an intern in 2009 and went on to work for the Minnesota Twins and Timberwolves in their promotions departments before rejoining the Saints in 2013 as Director of Promotions. During her time, the Saints have garnered national attention for several promotions including ballpark wide fan-engagements such as the World's Largest Pillow Fight, Twister, and the viral Food Fight. She was also at the helm for the 2020/2021 Astro the Grouch talking giveaway.

Bailey continues as the point person for the Saints successful internship program. The club has had remarkable success with interns landing jobs in the sports industry. During the 2021 season Bailey, along with Director of Entertainment Joshua Will, began a first of its kind podcast that took fans behind the scenes of the promotions department titled, "Funny In Theory."

In 2010, Bailey graduated from the University of Minnesota with a B.S. in Sport Management.

COACHES

TOBY GARDENHIRE

The very first manager for the St. Paul Saints as the Minnesota Twins Triple-A affiliate. Who is Toby Gardenhire? There were many firsts in 2021 with the affiliation between the Saints and Twins, but Gardenhire's name will forever be etched in the record books. He has eaten, breathed, and lived baseball ever since he was born in Manhasset, New York while his Dad, Ron, played for the New York Mets.

While his managerial career is just getting started, it has been extremely successful in the small sample size. During his first two seasons at the helm of the Saints in 2021-22 he guided the team to a 141-138 record including a league tying best 33-17 from June 26-August 21, 2021, an epic run that vaulted the Saints to first place. Despite missing out on a division title, the Saints were in it until the final weeks of the season. In 2022, he orchestrated the Saints a franchise record eight-game winning streak from June 5-14 and helped close the season by winning five straight, finishing tied for fourth.

In his first season as a manager, he guided the 2018 Single-A Cedar Rapids Kernels to a playoff berth after winning the second half Western Division title. Overall, the Kernels went 77-62, fourth best record in the 16-team league. The Kernels swept their quarterfinal series, 2-0, over the Beloit Snappers (Oakland Athletics) before losing 2-0 to the Peoria Chiefs (St. Louis Cardinals) in the semifinals.

COLLEGE: University of Illinois

DRAFT STATUS:

38th round / 2002 (Minnesota Twins)

41st round / 2005 (Minnesota Twins)

The following year, Gardenhire was promoted to High-A Fort Myers where he was named the Florida State League Manager of the Year and once again earned a playoff berth. The Miracle won the first half title and finished 74-59, third best record in the 12-team Florida State League. The league, however, cancelled their playoffs due to Hurricane Dorian.

Gardenhire has amassed a 292-259 record in his three seasons. He was scheduled to manage the Twins Triple-A team in Rochester during the 2020 season, but COVID-19 cancelled all of Minor League Baseball. Instead, Gardenhire was sent to St. Paul where he was one of the coaches at the alternate site for the Twins Taxi squad.

This is Gardenhire's eighth season as a coach or manager in the Twins organization. He assisted the GCL Twins in 2016, began the 2017 season as the third base coach for the Red Wings before finishing the year as the hitting coach for the GCL Twins. Gardenhire began his coaching career at the University of Wisconsin-Stout where he amassed an 81-117 record in five seasons (2012-16) and helped guide the Blue Devils to a 2014 WIAC tournament berth, their first in seven years.

Gardenhire has spent his entire professional career with the Twins organization. In addition to six seasons as a coach or manager, he played seven seasons in their Minor League system. He was originally drafted by the Twins in the 38th round in 2002 out of the University of Arkansas-Fort Smith, but did not sign. In 2005, he was selected in the 41st round by the Twins out of the University of Illinois. Gardenhire played at every level from the Rookie Appalachian League up through Triple-A. In 533 games he slashed .232/.292/.274 with 156 runs scored, 44 doubles, three triples, and six home runs.

COACHES

NATE SPEARS
HITTING COACH

The 37-year-old Spears spent last season with the Greenville Drive in the High-A South Atlantic League, his second consecutive season in that role. He helped guide his offense to the top of the league in home runs (165), third in slugging percentage (.415), fourth in walks (534), and fifth in OPS (.745).

Spears began his coaching career in 2016 as a coaching assistant with Greenville. Following that season, he was named the Hitting Coach for the Red Sox Low-A affiliate, the Lowell Spinners, a position he held until 2021.

Spears played 12 seasons as an infielder from 2003-14, including 2010-12 in the Red Sox organization. He also played in the Orioles, Cubs, Indians, and Phillies systems, but his lone MLB appearances came with the Sox from 2011-12. After a 2011 conversation with Terry Francona about becoming a utility player, Spears finished his career playing all infield positions.

CIBERNELO BELLO
PITCHING COACH

The 40-year-old Bello returns for his third season as the Pitching Coach for the Saints. His staff finished tied for eighth in the International League in strikeouts in 2022 with 1332, nearly nine a game. As the season went along, the pitching staff got stronger finishing the final month of the season with the fourth best opponents' batting average (.227) among the 30 Triple-A teams, eighth best WHIP (1.31), and ninth best ERA (4.20).

The 2023 season is Bello's eighth as a coach in the Twins system. He's been the pitching coach in the organization with the Rookie GCL Twins (2016-17), Single-A Cedar Rapids (2018), and Double-A Pensacola (2019). In 2019, Bello was moved up to the Major Leagues, spending the final month of the season with the Twins. His coaching career began in 2011 when he was a pitching coach intern for the Rookie AZL Mariners, working under former Major League pitcher Gary Wheelock. He impressed during his internship and became the pitching coach for the AZL Mariners from 2012-13 and then moved up to the Single-A Clinton LumberKings from 2014-15. The Mariners were familiar with Bello signing him as a non-drafted free agent in 2000 out of Venezuela.

He pitched eight years for the Mariners organization, pitching in Venezuela from 2000-02 before pitching with the AZL Mariners in 2003. He reached High-A in both 2006 and 2007, his final season with the Mariners. Bello pitched in the Independent Can-Am and Golden Baseball Leagues from 2008-10.

PETER LARSON
PITCHING COACH

The 36-year-old Larson helped guide the Twins Double-A franchise, the Wichita Wind Surge, to one of the top pitching staffs in Double-A last season. His staff finished with the fewest home runs allowed in Double-A (127), sixth in ERA (4.13), and ninth in strikeouts (1311).

The 2023 season is Larson's fifth year in the Twins organization and first at the Triple-A level. Prior to spending 2022 with Wichita, Larson spent 2021 as pitching coach for Low-A Fort Myers and 2019 as minor league rehab pitching coach. He was slated to be the pitching coach for Low-A Cedar Rapids in 2020, before the cancellation of the minor league season. Prior to joining the Twins, he spent four seasons with Fordham University (2018), University at Albany (2017), Siena College (2016) and King University in Bristol, TN (2015). Larson also spent 2015 as pitching coach for the Madison Mallards in the Northwoods League. His 2018 Fordham pitching staff set a school record with 536 strikeouts in 495.0 innings and posted a 3.36 team ERA.

Larson graduated from Ferrum (VA) College in 2009, where he helped the Panthers to USA South conference titles in 2005 and 2007. He played a year of professional ball, pitching in the independent Can-Am League in 2011.

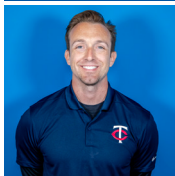

TYLER SMARSLOK
DEFENSIVE COACH

Smarslok, 30, was much more than a defensive coach in 2022, his second with the Saints. While he succeeded at that position, Smarslok also filled in as manager when Gardenhire stepped away from the team while he and his wife Sarah had their first child. He helped guide the Saints to a winning record, including a six-game sweep of the best team in the International League, at the time, the Rochester Red Wings.

Smarslok spent each year since he graduated from Kean University, in 2015, as a collegiate coach. He served as an assistant coach for Marist, Seton Hall University, Heidelberg University, and Claremont-Mudd Scripps. He operated as the volunteer assistant at Seton Hall in 2019 where he was the infield coach, responsible for the players' development and in-game alignment. Smarslok was a three-time DIII College World Series participant, an All-Conference, and National Rawlings Gold Glove recipient in his time at Kean University. He helped lead the Cougars to two NJAC Tournament Championships.

The 32-year-old Myers begins his fifth season in the Twins organization and second with the Saints. He began his time in 2018 as the Athletic Trainer at Low-A Cedar Rapids. WHAT'S IN A NAME?

It's a tradition fans have grown to love since the St. Paul Saints first season in 1993. Through a new ballpark, a pandemic, and the change over from Independent Baseball to Triple-A one thing has been constant, the pig. From the beginning of the season until the end, fans get a chance to watch the pig grow right before their eyes. For the first time in franchise history, the Saints utilized two different pigs at separate times in the season. In 2012, they had Kim Lardashian and Kris Hamphries, but they came as a package. Here is a look back at all the Saints pigs. The 2023 name was unveiled just before Opening Day.

2022 MINOR LEAGUE RECAP

TRIPLE-A ST. PAUL (74-75, International League West Division) — The Saints went 74-75 in 2022, the club's second season of affiliated baseball following 28 seasons in the independent ranks. Similar to 2021, St. Paul saw a significant number of players cross the river between CHS Field and Target Field, as 13 players made their major league debuts for the Twins. St. Paul's offense proved to once again be a strength, as the club ranked second in the International League in runs-per-game (5.45), third in home runs (194) and runs scored (812), fourth in RBI (758) and fifth in total bases (2143). However, St. Paul's pitching staff wasn't as sharp, posting a 4.96 ERA, fifth highest in the International League, and plunking 91 batters, tied for second most in the league. The Saints also finished 10th in all of Minor League Baseball in attendance, drawing 473,911 fans to CHS Field. Prior to joining the Twins for most of the second half of the season, Jake Cave hit .273 (88-for-322) with 20 doubles, seven triples, 14 home runs and 57 RBI in 85 games for the Saints and posted a 49-game on-base streak from May 3-July 7, the fourth-longest such streak in the minors in 2022. Several of the Twins' top prospects shined for the Saints prior to debuting for the Twins; No. 2 prospect Royce Lewis hit .313 (41-for-131) with 12 doubles, one triple, five home runs, 14 RBI and a .405 on-base percentage in 34 games prior to debuting on May 6, while No. 10 prospect and St. Paul native Louie Varland went 1-1 with a 1.69 ERA (21.1 IP, 4 ER) with three walks and 27 strikeouts for St. Paul before debuting for Minnesota on September 17.

DOUBLE-A WICHITA (78-59, Texas League North Division) — The Wind Surge and manager Ramon Borrego made their second-straight Championship Series appearance, defeating Tulsa 2-0 in the Texas League North Division Championship Series before falling to Frisco, 0-2, in the Texas League Championship Series. After placing third in the North Division in the first half, the Wind Surge went 43-26 in the second half and finished first in the division in the regular season with a 78-59 final record. In fact, Wichita lost each of its first five games of the season but countered that with a subsequent seven-game winning streak, never falling below .500 after achieving the mark on April 19. Wichita's offense ranked second in the Texas League in stolen bases (170) and on-base percentage (.356), fourth in OPS (.783) and fifth in batting average (.261) and slugging percentage (.427). The Wind Surge's pitching staff held its own in the historically offense-heavy Texas League, leading the league in ERA (4.16) and ranking third in WHIP (1.41) and fourth in opponent batting average (.247). No. 10 prospect Louie Varland began his minor league Player of the Year campaign in Wichita, going 7-4 with a 3.34 ERA (105.0 IP, 39 ER), 39 walks and 119 strikeouts in 20 games (19 starts) for the Wind Surge before being promoted to Triple-A on August 8. HIGH-A CEDAR RAPIDS (73-58, Midwest League West Division) — Theernels matched South Bend for the best overall regular-season record (73-58). Cedar Rapids also went 43-23 in the first half, clinching their ninth-consecutive Postseason berth and third under manager Brian Dinkelmann, before falling to division rival South Bend, 1-2, in the West Division Championship Series. The Kernels' potent offense led the MWL in runs-per-game (5.19), runs scored (680) and RBI (629), while also ranking second in triples (38), home runs (150), slugging percentage (.403) and OPS (.732). Cedar Rapids' pitching staff also led the league in ERA (3.66) while ranking second in WHIP (1.24) and third in holds (48). Southpaw Brent Headrick emerged as one of the Kernels' best hurlers, going 8-2 with a 2.34 ERA (65.1 IP, 17 ER), 13 walks, 77 strikeouts and a .188 opponent batting average in 15 starts for Cedar Rapids prior to being promoted to Double-A on July 23. After beginning the season in Fort Myers, No. 11 prospect David Festa was promoted to the Kernels on May 16 and went 7-3 with a 2.71 ERA (79.2 IP, 24 ER), 28 walks and 75 strikeouts in 16 games (13 starts) for Cedar Rapids, including pitching 6.0 scoreless innings (2 H, 10 K) in the Kernels' playoff opener on September 13 in South Bend.

However, the Mighty Mussels were defeated in the first round of the playoffs, dropping the FSL West Division Championship Series, 1-2, to Dunedin. During the regular season, Fort Myers led the FSL in walks (574), on-base percentage (.343) and OPS (.720), while ranking second in slugging percentage (.377), third in doubles (196), home runs (101), stolen bases (179), total bases (1481) and runs-per-game (4.52), tied for third in runs scored (579) and fourth in batting average (.236). CHS FIELD

CHS FIELD FACTS & INFORMATION

The St. Paul Saints moved into their new home, CHS Field, prior to the beginning of the 2015 season. The state of the art ballpark was built and designed by Ryan Companies, Snow Kreilich Architects and Aecom. The ballpark incorporates the Lowertown neighborhood in its design on the Broadway side and gradually changes over to greenspace as it moves towards the field and outfield, incorporating in the Bruce Vento Nature Preserve beyond the ballpark in left field.

PROJECT COST:

- $63,000,000 (this is the cost of the entire project, not of just the ballpark)

SCHEDULE:

- Ground (Building) Breaking – July 13, 2013
- Construction Completion – February 27, 2015

DESIGN FACT:

- Fully accessible and fan friendly (at grade entry from downtown to concourse seating, 4 spectator elevators, semi-ambulant back row at concourse level, distributed accessible seating in every seating type and area).
- Visually porous design offers views of the historic Lowertown neighborhood and the Mississippi River valley.
- Artist's Gallery hosts interchangeable local artwork and the Andy Nelson mural from Midway in prime territory behind home plate.
- Western red cedar wood soffit provides a strong visual design element across the Concourse.
- Outfield batters eye features planter
- Trees are located inside the ballpark and in the concourse.
- Ballpark is oriented to take advantage of the natural topography of the site, nesting the seating bowl into the hillside
- Public artists, Futures North, art installation named "Meander". Physical and electronic visualization of data collected about the Mississippi River between headwaters at Lake Itasca and the Minnesota state line.
- Landscape design inspired by "stitching the seam" between downtown Saint Paul and the Bruce Vento Nature Sanctuary. The plantings transition from more rigorous urban to more naturalized, inspired by the natural reclamation of former industrial uses.

- 101' from last row of Lower Deck to foul line
- Concourse 30' wide average around seating, and 14' at right field OMF wall connection.

SUSTAINABILITY:

- Reused 230 structural pile caps
- Reused 320 feet of existing foundation wall
- First Minnesota Sustainable Building Guidelines B3 compliant ballpark – the State's guideline for publicly funded buildings.
- 27,000 gallon cistern below the centerfield concourse captures 30,000 SF of rainwater hitting the roof of the next door neighbor MetCouncil Operations and Maintenance Facility. The water will be reused for fixture flushing and playing field irrigation. This will save 450,000 gallons of domestic water use each year, and will be one of the first ballparks to reuse rainwater for field irrigation and fixture flushing.
- Tree trenches at the Broadway entrance will capture and filter stormwater before releasing it off site.
- Rain garden at the 4th street entrance will capture and filter stormwater from the city street and adjacent sidewalks, before releasing it off site.
- Sub-grade filtration system below the playing field will capture and filter stormwater before releasing it off site.
- 102.5 kW solar array will supply 12% of the ballparks energy demand in addition to acting as a shade pavilion in The Lawn group sales area. This is one of the largest in stadium arrays in professional sports.
- Spaces operated year round are supplied with heating and cooling by Saint Paul District Energy's hot water and chilled water loops. This is one of only a few ballpark that operate on district energy.
- Contamination 82,000 yards (49,500 cubic yards) of contaminated soils were removed from the site and placed
- The remaining contaminated soil has been capped such that stormwater is not able to filter through the remaining contaminants.
- All together, a site that was virtually 100% impervious, now boasts 55.9% pervious greenspace or paving.
- A site with virtually no trees not contains 135 trees and 36,000 SF of planting.
- The combination of these facts makes CHS field one of the most sustainable ballparks in America, as no other ballpark combines this level of stormwater management and reuse, with solar and district energy, while replacing a site with this level of contamination with this much greenspace.
- Nearly half of the materials, by weight, in the ballpark are recycled or salvaged.

WAYNE "TWIG" TERWILLIGER

He served his country. He was a baseball lifer. And he brought a smile to the face of all he came in contact with during his 95-years. Wayne "Twig" Terwilliger spent eight seasons donning a St. Paul Saints uniform, helping the team win two Northern League Championships, and passing on countless amounts of baseball knowledge.

The iconic coach for the St. Paul Saints from 1995-2002 was loved by all those that met him. Twig joined the Marines at 18 and served as a radioman on an amphibious tank in the Pacific Theater of World War II. Corporal Terwilliger participated in the invasions of Tinian and Iwo Jima, and had his tank knocked out at Saipan. Upon being discharged from the Marines, Twig became a star shortstop at Western Michigan College. That began a six-decade career in the baseball world that included nine seasons of playing Major League Baseball, more than 1,200 wins as a Minor League manager, winning two World Series with the Twins as a first base coach, and then a Northern League Championship in 1995 and 1996 with the Saints. He finished his career as a champion, guiding the Fort Worth Cats to the 2005 Central League title as a manager and winning it again as a coach with the Cats against the Saints in 2006.

Terwilliger died in a Weatherford, TX hospice on February 3, 2021, at the age of 95. He had been getting treatment for bladder cancer, but the cause of death was not given.

GEORGE TSAMIS

He is the winningest manager in St. Paul Saints history. He served 18 seasons a the helm with the Saints from 2003-2020, reaching the playoffs 10 times including winning championships in 2004 and 2019.

During his time with the Saints he accumulated an impressive 954-764 regular season record. He became the all-time winningest manager in Saints history with an 8-3 victory over the Explorers on July 27, 2007 at Midway Stadium. The victory marked the 265th in his Saints tenure, surpassing Marty Scott's 264 wins from 1995-2000. Tsamis earned win number 500 in his illustrious Saints career against that same Explorers club on July 21 in a 7-6 victory at Sioux City. He joined the exclusive 1,000 win club (includes 76 wins with Waterbury and 107 victories with New Jersey), a fraternity that includes only five other Independent League Managers, with a 6-5, come from behind victory over the Fargo-Moorhead RedHawks at CHS Field on June 12, 2018.

Success and Tsamis were linked from an early age. In 1979, the then 12-year-old left-hander played for the Campbell, CA team that reached the Little League World Series Championship, a 2-1 extra inning loss to the team from Taiwan. He was the winning pitcher the day before when Campbell won the semifinals to claim the U.S. Championship.

The next year his family moved to Clearwater, FL where baseball continued for Tsamis and his brothers – Bill and Nick – at Countryside High School. After a standout prep career, Tsamis received a scholarship to attend Stetson University in DeLand, FL. He helped the Hatters win consecutive Atlantic Sun Conference championships and set the single-season school mark with 130 strikeouts in 1989. He was named the conference's Player of the Year, a rarity for a pitcher.

Tsamis was drafted in the 33rd round by the Toronto Blue Jays after his junior season at Stetson, but elected to stay for his senior year. He went 11-3 with a 2.48 ERA in 1989 and the Minnesota Twins were impressed enough to draft him in the 15th round. He spent the next two years playing for the Visalia Oaks, the Twins' Single-A club, before reaching the Triple-A level in 1991 with the Portland Beavers. After posting a 23-12 record over two seasons there, in 1993, Minnesota promoted Tsamis and he made his Major League debut April 26. Used as a reliever, Tsamis earned a win and a pair of saves with the Twins that season.

Following his nine-year professional playing career, where he registered a 57-31 Minor League record, Tsamis became the pitching coach of the Waterbury (Conn.) Spirit in the renamed Northeast League and was promoted to the managerial role in 1999.

He spent two years there before moving to New Jersey in 2001 where he went 107-72 in the regular season and defeated Winnipeg in the league championship series both years.

KEVIN MILLAR

After not being drafted, Millar signed with the Saints out of Lamar University in Beaumont, Texas as a 25-year-old. In his first season with the Saints, Millar hit .260 with five home runs and 30 RBI in 63 games and won a Northern League Championship. That team had several former and future Major Leaguers including Leon Durham, Mike Mimms, Eddie Oropesa, and Rey Ordóñez.

Millar was signed by the Florida Marlins towards the end of the 1993 season and reached the Major Leagues in 1998. He was with the Marlins until 2002 before joining the Boston Red Sox in 2003.

In 2004, Millar had the lead-off walk in the ninth inning of Game 4 of the American League Championship Series with his team down three-games-to-none to the New York Yankees. That walk led to the tying run, in a game the Red Sox would win in the 12th. The Red Sox went on to win the ALCS and ended their 86-year World Series drought by sweeping the St. Louis Cardinals.

Millar ended his tenure in Boston in 2005 and played for the Baltimore Orioles (2006-08) and the Toronto Blue Jays (2009). After being released by the Chicago Cubs out of Spring Training in 2010, Millar decided to end his career where it started, with the Saints. Millar played six games at the beginning of the 2010 season going 5-24 before calling it a career.

That was until June 24, 2017 when the Saints honored the 1993 team, highlighted by a Bill Murray/Millar bobblehead from based on a photo from that season, and Millar took one final at bat. In the second inning against the Winnipeg Goldeyes at CHS Field, Millar deposited a 1-0 pitch off of left-hander Zack Dodson, over the left field wall for a two-run home run, his sixth career homer in a Saints uniform and 270th of his career.
