THE PRESIDENT

K. S. (BUD) ADAMS JR.

The owner and president of the Houston Oilers is one K. S. (Bud) Adams, Jr., perhaps the foremost salesman of the City of Houston as the dream home for the young man who wants to conquer business mountains in a hurry.

While his belief in Houston as a business capital is widely known, he offers to the aspiring young giant only this one bit of philosophy: "There is no bad investment in Houston—except bad advice."

Adams swears that the term "diversified business interests" must have been coined somewhere along Buffalo Bayou, perhaps near his own beautiful and modern APC (Adams Petroleum Center) Building.

From his spacious executive office below ground there, Adams is the puppeteer who dangles the strings that make hundreds of pairs of feet dance to the music of enterprise. While Houston hums the tempo, Adams' troupe, like tiny players in a vast setting of brick and concrete, each contribute their bit until the daily finale draws the curtain on another day of enterprising drama on the Gulf Plains.

And when their vast stage that stretches around the entire Texas coastline has been closed, Adams' Players have searched for oil and gas and found it in countries far removed from their director's seat on Fannin Street; they have refined crude oil into its many finished products; they have sold dozens of petroleum products through more than 600 locations under Phillips 66 and Tidelands Oil Company Banners; They have raised choice prime beef at Kenada Ranch; some of them have been up and down the highways and the intercoastal canal in tank trucks and barges, carrying their precious cargo of black gold to refineries; they have loaned money to other prospective giants through the windows of Medical Center National Bank; and they have served up tens of thousands of items to the housewife through twenty-four Ben Franklin 5 and 10¢ stores.

And when the week has ended, Adams' show goes on. Because on Sunday his American Football League champion Houston Oilers take the field to do their bit for the sports-minded populace.

Adams, 38, who vaulted to prominence in Houston in a short period of time, first came to Houston in 1946. At that time he founded his Ada Oil Company, which directs most of the activity described above. His father, K. S. (Boots) Adams, Sr., is best known in the sports world for founding the Phillips 66ers basketball team which has dominated play in the NIBL for years. The elder Mr. Adams is Chairman of the Board of Phillips at Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Bud first came to the forefront on the Houston sports scene when he placed a basketball team in the NIBL as the Ada Oilers. But in recent years the name Bud Adams has been associated with nearly every sports promotion of any description in Houston, including the Bluebonnet Bowl, and more recently, as one of the four major owners of the Houston Sports Association. The HSA is the group that owns the Houston Colts franchise in the National League, and the same group that holds a forty-year lease on the new Harris County Stadium, a domed, air-conditioned structure that will house both professional football and major league baseball.

Because of his many business interests in completely unrelated fields, Bud Adams means a lot of different things to a lot of people. Probably the largest one group that views Adams in the same perspective is Houston's sports fandom. And to them, he is the enthusiastic, optimistic sportsman who moves swiftly, assuredly and most often, surprisingly, to achieve his next goal. Seldom do they question his move or his method, because they have learned from experience that what is good for Bud Adams and his Oilers is good for Houston.

OILER OFFICERS

The executive officers of the Houston Oilers, Inc. are: President K. S. (Bud) Adams, Executive Vice President Art Palmer, Treasurer L. Wayne Fisher and Secretary Clyde A. Giesenschlag.

OILER ADVISORY BOARD

The Houston Oiler Advisory Board includes J. A. Elkins, Jr., Michel T. Halbouty, George A. Butler, Gus Wortham, Leon Jaworski, Gen. Louis Pulaski, George W. Strake, J. W. McLean, L. F. McCollum, R. E. (Bob) Smith, John F. Maher, Douglas Marshall, Gen. Maurice Hirsch and Sidney A. Adger.

V.P. AND DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

JOHN W. BREEN

The People's Choice in the Houston Oiler front office is unquestionably John W. Breen, 53-year-old talent scout, humorist and "old salt" from World War II.

Elevated to a vice presidency during the recent off-season, Breen's rank in the Oiler chain-of-command still does not match his standing in Houston as a top-notch attraction at luncheons, dinners and banquets. At such affairs, no one in professional football—from players and coaches to AFL brass and owners—is safe from his barbs.

Before joining Bud Adams as chief head hunter of the Oilers, Breen was employed in that same capacity by the NFL Cardinals, who have since moved from Chicago to St. Louis. Cardinal drafts during his tenure showed a definite trend toward Southwest area players, and John now finds himself in the middle of that grid-rich territory.

Except for the war years of 1942-45, which he spent in Navy Communications, Breen's life since his high school years in Milwaukee has been crammed with athletics, particularly football. He reached the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the Navy, and modestly claims a major share of credit for the Allied victories in both the Pacific and Mediterranean theatres of war.

At Carroll College in Waukesha, Wisconsin, he played football and basketball while earning his Bachelor's degree (1935). Immediately after graduation there, he was named assistant football and basketball coach, and he became head football coach and athletic director at just thirty years of age.

Before leaving to secure our victory in World War II, Breen finished work on his Master's degree at Wisconsin. He returned from the war and resumed his posts as athletic director and head coach at Carroll (1945-49). From 1949 to '57 he held those same jobs at Lake Forest College in Illinois.

Breen actually joined the ranks of pro ball in '57 with the Cards, but he had been setting up and supervising pro training camps since 1942.

Publicly, Breen doesn't exactly lavish praise on pro coaching in general. He attributes 99.9 percent of all victories to the team with the "horses," which, again, he modestly takes credit for corraling. To substantiate his claim as a foremost roundup foreman, he can offer a string of All-Americans as long as the expensive cigar jammed against his sharp tongue, and with only slight urging, he will admit to signing Heisman Trophy winners John David Crow (Texas A&M) for the Cards, and Billy Cannon (LSU) for the Oilers.

In 1938 the very charming and lovely Elizabeth Gray of Milwaukee agreed to terms to become Mrs. John Breen, and that was truly John's greatest signing of all time. Their oldest son, John, Jr., has just completed a tour of duty with the Navy and has entered Sam Houston State College. Fifteen-year-old daughter Ann and young Andrew, born last May first, reside with their parents in Westbury addition of Southwest Houston. That's where John, Sr. retreats after a day of keeping tabs on muscular lads from 600 colleges who have good speed and size, hard noses, and who must be able to "move to their left".

V.P. AND GENERAL MANAGER

DON W. SUMAN

Don W. Suman, named Vice President and General Manager during the recent off-season, has been a name on Houston sports pages for most of the last twenty-three years.

For ten of those years, Suman was head basketball coach at Rice Institute (now University), during which time he produced some of the Southwest Conference's best cage teams and finest stars.

Suman first came to Houston in 1938 as a student-athlete at Rice. A football injury there in 1939 shortened his athletic career as a tailback under Coach Jimmy Kitts. That year he earned his lone football letter, but he returned to Rice to complete work on his B. S. Degree in Physical Education in 1944, and lettered on the Owl basketball team that lost only one conference game to Arkansas by one point.

Born and reared in San Antonio, Texas, Suman attended Harlandale High School there. He was that school's first athlete to make good in the Southwest Conference, after a brilliant prep career in both football and basketball. Between his high school years and his entry into Rice, Suman played at Schreiner Institute.

Following his football injury at Rice, Suman entered the Air Force for a year. After returning to Rice to finish college, he did graduate work at Columbia University.

In 1945 he was named to the Physical Education Department staff at his alma mater, and the following year moved into the Athletic Business Office.

Suman began to learn the over-all program picture in 1947 when he was named assistant basketball coach, concession manager and an assistant in the Business Office. After two years with those duties, he was made head basketball coach and continued to handle the other duties for the Rice Athletic Department.

After ten years of coaching, Suman moved into the business field exclusively as a special representative for Houston Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

That is where he was when Bud Adams hired him as Administrative Assistant to the President of the Houston Oilers, Inc. After fifteen months in that capacity, Adams announced that Suman was being elevated to a vice presidency and given the duties of General Manager in order to free Adams to devote more time to other business interests.

Suman and his attractive wife, Dorothy, now reside in the Southwest section of Houston. Their family includes two children, a 14-year-old daughter, Sharon, and an 11-year-old son, Donnie.

Suman is a devoted family man and therein lies the reason for his leaving the coaching field. The pressures of coaching plus the increasing demands in the field of recruiting athletes did not leave Suman the time he wishes to spend in family activities.

COACH

LOU RYMKUS

Strict disciplinarian Lou Rymkus earned a niche for himself in the annals of pro football coaching in 1960 by directing the Houston Oilers to the first American Football League championship in his freshman year as a head coach. For this singular accomplishment, the hard-nosed former Cleveland Brown All-Pro tackle was named Coach-of-the-Year in the new league.

Born in Royalton, Illinois on Nov. 6, 1919, Rymkus is the son of a coal miner. The Rymkus family moved to Chicago in 1934 and Lou enrolled at Tilden Tech H.S. where he was all-city and all-state in 1936-37-38. Lou also lettered three years in wrestling and one in track as a shot putter. He was Chicago H. S. wrestling champ.

Highly-sought by all schools in the Big 10, Rymkus chose Notre Dame and became a tackle on the 1939 freshman team. Hurt most of his sophomore season under coach Elmer Layden in 1940, Rymkus lettered on the '41 Irish team that went undefeated with Angelo Bertelli at the throttle of the Notre Dame box. Rymkus was named the Most Valuable Player on the 1942 Irish team that was the first to run from the T-formation. Lou graduated from Notre Dame in '43 with a B.S. degree in education.

Entering the pro ranks in 1943, Rymkus played with the Washington Redskins and the great Sammy Baugh on the Redskins' Eastern Division champions. Rymkus went into the service in '44 but stayed with football by playing on an undefeated Bainbridge Naval Air Station club. Stationed at Notre Dame in 1945, Rymkus coached the tackles for coach Hugh DeVore's team that lost only to Army and Navy in an 8-2 season.

Rymkus returned to pro ball in '46 with the Cleveland Browns of the All-American Conference where he was an All-Pro tackle on four straight championship teams. The Browns also had a 32-game winning streak from 1947 to 1949. Rymkus captained the Brown's offense team in 1950 when Cleveland entered the National Football League and won the world championship. Lou ended his pro career in 1951 when the Browns lost to Los Angeles in the championship game. However in seven years of pro football, Lou played in seven championship games.

Rymkus entered the coaching field as an assistant at Calgary in Canada. He has also served as assistant at Green Bay and Los Angeles before joining the Oilers in 1960. From his playing days, Rymkus has borrowed the pounding emphasis on fundamentals plus the technique of preparing a team psychologically for its greatest efforts in key games. And from his seven years under Paul Brown, Lou learned how to utilize an explosive aerial offense based on blinding speed in the receivers and prison-wall protection for the passer. The combination gave Houston a professional championship in its first season.

Rymkus is a rugged 6-4, 220-pounder who still believes in strict conditioning. He and his attractive wife, Bette, were married in 1943 and have twin boys, Pat and Mike, who are 17-year-old ends at St. Thomas High School in Houston.

OILER COACHES

OILER ASSISTANT COACHES

WALTER G. (WALT) SCHLINKMAN

OFFENSIVE BACKFIELD COACH

Born and raised in Dumas, Texas. Schlinkman, 36, attended Texas Tech and is still considered the all-time great fullback for Red Raiders. Was the fourth leading ground gainer in the nation in 1945. Closed college career by playing in the Chicago All-Star and East-West games. Number 1 draft choice of the Green Bay Packers and was in top eight ground gainers in the NFL four times in five years. 2nd team All-NFL in 1947. Played with Chicago Cardinals in 1951. Assistant coach under Lou Little at Columbia for 2 years and assistant under Jim Owens at Washington for 1 year. Assistant coach for Chicago Cardinals in 1959. Not married.

MAC SPEEDIE

END COACH

Born in Odell, Illinois and raised in Salt Lake City, Utah. Speedie, 41, graduated from the University of Utah and was three times an All-Skyline Conference end. Also great hurdler at Utah, holding both high and low hurdle records in the conference. Army officer in 1942. Played with Cleveland Browns 1946-53 and was an All-Pro end for six seasons. Led the All-America Conference in receiving 1946-1949. Led the NFL in receptions in 1952. Played with Regina, Canada in 1954-55 and led the league in receptions both years along with making the All-Canadian team. Played with Vancouver, British Columbia in 1956. Teammate of head Coach Lou Rymkus on 5 championship teams at Cleveland, 1946-51. Married and has two children.

JOE SPENCER

LINE COACH

Born and raised in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Spencer, 37, is a graduate of Oklahoma State and is still considered one of the Cowpokes' all-time great linemen. Joined the old Brooklyn Dodgers of the All-America Conference in 1948 but was traded to Cleveland in 1949. Was a teammate of Rymkus and Speedie in the Browns fourth straight championship year. Traded to Green Bay and played with Packers in '50 and '51. Injured early in 1952 season and retired to become assistant coach at Austin College in Sherman, Texas. Became head coach at Austin College in 1954. Married and has two children.

FRED W. WALLNER

DEFENSIVE COACH

Born and raised in Greenfield, Mass. Wallner, 33, is a graduate of Notre Dame and played for the Irish, 1948-51. Played on unbeaten teams in 1948 and '49 and went through 43-game winning streak with coach Frank Leahy's squad. Played rookie season in pro ball with Chicago Cardinals. Played on weekends for Cards in 1952 while in the Army. Served with Army in France in 1953. Returned to Cards in 1954 and '55 and was All-Eastern division linebacker in '55. Joined coach Johnny Druze at Marquette in 1956. Forced into playing duty for Oilers in 1960 when injuries riddled interior line depth. Served as player-coach. Married and has three children.

Oiler Thumbnail Sketches

ALLEN, Dalva—26—6-5—245—U of Houston

An All-Missouri Valley tackle at U. of Houston in 1956 and named Outstanding Lineman of Year by teammates. Played end and tackle in Canada before joining Oilers. One of 3 defensive ends kept last year, they all played about same amount of time. He's rangy and has good speed. Ran hurdles at UH. Born and raised in Gonzales, Texas.

BANFIELD, Tony—22—6-1—185—Oklahoma State

Bothered by leg muscle and ankle injuries during rookie year, Tony was considered best all-around back in state of Oklahoma while playing at Oklahoma State. Quiet and boyish appearance is deceiving, since he has power enough to play corner back. Had 3 interceptions last year.

BEAMS, Bryon—27—6-6—265—Notre Dame

A five-year pro veteran. Graduated from Notre Dame in 1956 and played seven games in Canada in '57. Went into the service, returned in time to play eight games in Canada in 1958. Joined the Los Angeles Rams in 1959 and played under Oiler Coach Lou Rymkus, who was line coach for the Rams. Went to Pittsburgh in '59 and then sent to Minneapolis in 1961 in the player pool. Picked up by the Oilers as a free agent. Operates as a swing-man at defensive tackle.

BLANDA, George—33—6-2—210—Kentucky

Coming up for 12th year in pro ball after guiding Oilers to AFL Championship in '60. Highest scoring Chicago Bear of all time, finished 2nd in AFL scoring race. A deadly offensive strategist. Best at the medium length pass. Twice named AFL offensive player of the week in '60. Threw for 2,694 yards and 27 TD's last year. Kicked 16 field goals and 49 of 50 PAT's. Holds AFL record for longest FG at 53 yards and still holds NFL record of 156 straight PAT's. His all-time pro record for placements now reads 296 hits in 300 attempts. Born and raised in Youngwood, Pa., he played at Kentucky in 1946-47-48. Resides in LaGrange Park, Ill. in off season with wife and two children. A great competitor and leader, he is given more credit for the Oilers' championship in '60 than any other player.

BOTCHAN, Ron—26—6-1—228—Occidental

A Little All-America center at Occidental in 1959. Signed by the Los Angeles Chargers for '60 season and was the 18th draft choice of the Baltimore Colts. Plays both offensive center and defensive linebacker for the Oilers. Acquired by the Oilers from San Diego for a future draft choice.

CANNON, Billy—24—6-1—212—Louisiana State

L.S.U.'s two-time All-American and '59 Heisman Trophy Winner led all Oiler ball carriers in '60 and named the Outstanding Player in the championship game. Made 2nd team All-AFL. Cannon is not too shifty, but he carries his weight of 212 at great speed and with real power. Considered by many to be the finest blocking halfback in the league, he is also a glue fingered receiver. Kept back to block most of the time, he caught 18 passes, 6 of them for touchdowns. On the receiving end of Blanda's pass that went 88 yards for a TD in the title game to kill off the Chargers. Very dangerous on kickoff returns and punt returns. Truly a great all-around football player he has size, speed and power and can run, catch, kick and block with any back in the game. He's married (Dorothy) and has three girls and a boy. Lives in Baton Rouge in off season.

CLINE, Doug 23 6-2 220 - Clemson

Considered one of finest prospects among Oiler rookies in 1960. Led ground gainers at Clemson in 1958-59. Won Jacobs Trophy as best blocker in Atlantic Coast Conference. May play fullback or linebacker in 1961. Played in Clemson's 1958, 7-0 loss to LSU in Sugar Bowl. Played in Clemson's 1959, 23-7 win over TCU in Bluebonnet Bowl. Was the 14th round draft choice of New York Giants in 1959. Played in 30 of 32 games during college career. Lost only nine yards in 3 years during college career.

DEWVEALL, Willard—24—6-4—220—Southern Methodist

Big end that played out his option with the Chicago Bears in '60 in order to join Oilers for '61 play. After outstanding career at SMU, he played one year in Canada and was with Chicago 2 seasons. Named 2nd team All-Pro at Chicago in 1959. Could play split end, tight end or flanker back, since his speed is tops. His presence cause some veteran pro observers to claim that Houston will have the best corps of pass catchers in football in 1961.

DUKES, Mike—25—6-3—230—Clemson

A rugged, hell-for-leather type linebacker, Dukes was twice named AFL Defensive Player of the Week in '60. Player with the San Francisco 49ers in 1959. Was a fine fullback for Clemson Bowl teams. In off-season served his six month Army hitch as a reserve. Has good speed and versatility. A top blocker on kickoff return team.

FLOYD, Don—23—6-3—225—Texas Christian

Twice All-America and a consensus A-A in '59 at TCU. Was Southwest Conference Lineman of the Year in '59. Converted from college tackle to a pro defensive end in '60. Did creditable job for Houston, but had trouble with weight, falling from 235 to 217 during season. Born and raised in Midlothian, Texas. Led TCU to two Bowl games. Played in East-West game and Senior Bowl. May be linebacker in '61.

GLICK, Fred—24—6-1—190—Colorado State

A member of family that has two boys in pro ball. Brother of Gary Glick, the bonus pick of the Pittsburgh Steelers in the 1958 college draft. Outstanding athlete at Colorado State where he played quarterback. Was second team All-Conference behind Utah's Lee Grosseup in 1958. Drafted by the Chicago Cardinals and played two years as a defensive halfback. A good pass defender and rugged tackler.

GROMAN, Bill—25—6-0—195—Heidelberg

All-American Football League end as a rookie. Bill was one of the biggest surprises in the new league. Finished 2nd in league in receiving with 72 caught compared to 92 for Denver's Lionel Taylor, and receivers in AFL are ranked strictly on number caught. But Groman got 238 yards more out of 20 less catches. His fantastic 20.5 average per catch is Houston's basis for claim that he is most valuable receiver in AFL. His full season figures, including title game, were 75 caught for 1,510 yards and 13 TD's. At Heidelberg College he was nation's leading scorer among small colleges, playing halfback. His exceptional speed is reason behind his great average-per-catch, and may result in his being pulled back into backfield on occasion in '61 to operate as a running back.

HENNIGAN, Charles—26—6-1—185—Northwest Louisiana

Noted more for his track feats than his college football at Northwest Louisiana, Hennigan gave up job as high school biology teacher to try pro ball. Was starting flanker back all year except for games missed in early season with knocked down shoulder. Second fastest man on squad (to Cannon). Number 2 receiver in '60 with 48 caught for 793 yards and 6 TD's despite carrying two injuries that would have sidelined most players.

HUSMANN, Ed—30—6-0—238—Nebraska

A seven-year veteran of pro wars and a rugged defensive performer at both end and tackle. Knows all the tricks of the trade and should be one of the top defensive linemen in the AFL. Was the ninth draft choice of the Chicago Cardinals in 1953 after being named the Most Valuable Lineman at Nebraska in 1952. Played five years with the Cardinals not counting a two-year hitch in the Army. Sent to the Dallas Cowboys in 1960. Started the '61 season with Dallas but picked up by Oilers as a free agent. Big, strong.

JAMISON, Al—22—6-5—245—Colgate

2nd team All-AFL offensive tackle. Fine pass protection blocker. Strong boy with great determination and effort on every play. Converted to tackle from end last year. Was All-East and twice East's top receiver while an end at Colgate. 2nd round pick of San Francisco 49ers in '59, but signed with and played at Montreal. Holds degree in geology. Stayed with Houston heavy equipment firm in off season as sales representative. Offensive Captain.

JOHNSTON, Mark—23—6-0—200—Northwestern

Named All-AFL first and second teams in various picks. Played corner back throughout season. Tied for pass interceptions lead at Houston with 4. Good, tough hitter. Was considered finest defensive back in Big 10 before joining Oilers.

KELLY, Bob—23—6-3—250—New Mexico State

All-Border Conference with undefeated New Mexico State last year. Has good size for pro ball. Given a good chance to make club at offensive or defensive end. Taken in 22nd round of the draft. Hails from Carlsbad, NM.

KING, Claude—22—5-11—185—U. of Houston

Outstanding performer at Houston but slowed by injuries during senior year. 7th round draft choice of Chicago Bears in 1959. Cut by Bears, from the Dallas Cowboys but played both offense and defense in Canada. Was All-America in high school as a 16-year old and was Mississippi sprint king. Could play either on offense or defense for Oilers.

LARAWAY, Jack—25—6-2—Purdue

Played with the Buffalo Bills in 1960. Picked up by the Oilers in '61. A hard hitter and could develop into a tough defensive player for the Oilers. Has good speed and protects well to the outside.

LEE, Jacky—23—6-1—185—Cincinnati

Regarded by the Oilers as the finest rookie QB in pro football last year. Started two games while Blanda was hurt, beating Denver 20-10 in the rain, and directing win over Boston, 24-10 in a clutch game that cinched a tie for the Eastern Division title. He completed 41 of 77 passes (52.2%) for 842 yards and 5 TD's. His yards gained per attempt was a fat 10.9, and his average completion went for a 20.5 gain. In his first starting assignment he completed 3 passes in first half for TD's of 78, 92, and 73 yards, the longest standing as an AFL record. Was nation's number 3 passer at Cincinnati U. in 1959 and directed upset wins for North teams in both the Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games. Holds most of Cincy's passing records. Is a bright young man who remained in Houston in the off-season to enter insurance business. Has a beautiful throwing motion, is extremely accurate on all types of pass. Should become one of the great QB's in pro football with more experience.

McLEOD, Robert—22—6-5—225—Abilene Christian

12th round choice of the Oilers, this offensive end is considered by many to be one of the very finest pro prospects from the current college crop. Holds most of Abilene Christian's records in football as a receiver and in basketball as a scorer and rebounder. His great athletic record in football, basketball and track dates back to early years of high school at Merkle, Texas. Oilers won a strong bidding war from Chicago Bears for McLeod's services and pro ball is expected to be just another chapter in his fabulous story of athletic achievement.

MICHAEL, Richard—23—6-3—230—Ohio State

All-American Football League tackle in 1960 despite shoulder injury that removed him from active duty for last four games. Was a real find for Oiler Talent scout John Breen, who signed Rich as a free agent. At end at Ohio State, he moved to pro tackle and never stopped improving. The original "quite man." An all-around athlete at Hamilton, Ohio before attending college.

MILSTEAD, Charles—23—6-2—190—Texas A&M

Holder of all sorts of passing and total offense records at Aggieland, former All-Southwest Conference star was Oilers' number three QB in '60. Also did 90 percent of the punting. A fine passer and mechanically sound QB, he could develop into a front line pro in time. Extremely competitive and coachable.

MORRIS, Dennit—25—6-1—225—Oklahoma

Second team All-AFL linebacker and most agile backer at Houston. Played at Oklahoma during Bud Wilkinson's 48-game winning streak. Originally from Tulsa, Oklahoma, he now lives in Houston and works for Phillips Petroleum Co. in off season. Played for San Francisco 49ers in '58. Had 4 pass interceptions last year. A smart pro, he makes tackles all over the field from middle LB spot. In spare time he hunts, captures, skins, cooks and eats rattlesnakes, thus earning nickname "Rattlesnake" Morris. A steady and reliable football player who had a major hand in Houston's march to the title.

NORTON, Jim—22—6-3—190—Idaho

Tall and lanky, players call him the "Blade," not only for his structure, but also for his slashing style of play. Though not built for strength, he still held down rugged corner back post and commanded respect for ruggedness. One of the most improved players on the squad over the season. Coaches say he was one of AFL's best defensive backs.

REED, Leo—25—6-3—260—Colorado State

Hails from Lāio, Hawaii. One of only three rookies to make the 1961 Oilers squad. Has exceptional speed and is an excellent prospect. Could be used at both offensive guard and defensive tackle. Picked up by the Oilers from the Chicago Cardinals.

SCHMIDT, Bob—25—6-4—245—Minnesota

A four-year veteran from the University of Minnesota. Started pro career with Chicago Cardinals in 1958 but was traded to the New York Giants following the exhibition season. Played three seasons with the Giants at offensive center and tackle. Sent to the Minnesota Vikings in player pool in 1961. Acquired by Oilers as a free agent. Plays offensive center and tackle.

SMITH, Dave—24—6-1—210—Ripon

All-AFL fullback although considered small in many circles. One of the biggest surprises in the entire league. Led league in rushing most of the year but finished 4th in AFL when Houston's guards became injury riddled. Was second to Cannon in Oiler rushing by only one yard. A totally unheralded candidate when he came to camp, he grabbed the starting job away from bigger names immediately and never gave it up. Has very good speed, is a dangerous pass receiver and deadly efficient blocker. At tiny Ripon College he fullbacked three years including the undefeated '57 team, and was named Little All-America. Reported to Green Bay in '59 and was their last cut. Has good college background in track as a sprinter. Comes from Greendale, Wisc. Worked in Houston in off season as a representative for a steel firm. Tied Cannon as No. 3 scorer with 8 TD's.

TALAMINI, Bob—22—6-1—230—Kentucky

Proven to be the Oilers best pulling guard in pre-season games, Bob had knee troubles all year long and was in and out of the lineup, but never at full strength. Players say his blocks have more sting than any other lineman on the squad. Was honorable mention All-America and third team All-Southeast Conference at Kentucky. His loss for most of the '60 season really cramped the Houston ground game. From Louisville, he played football, baseball and threw the shot at St. Xavier Hi. Also lettered in golf at Kentucky. Stayed in Houston in off season as public relations man for local bank.

TOLAR, Charles—24—5-7—195—Northwest Louisiana

Tolar was swing man behind both Cannon and Smith in '60. Fans love his style of running, wherein he butts potential tacklers. A great small college player at Northwest Louisiana where he gained 2,194 yards in three years. Was Little All-America and the Outstanding Player in the Gulf States Conference twice. His home is Natchitoches, La, but remained in Houston as a boat salesman in off season. Has dozens of nicknames from "Stump" to "Medium Tank." Players say that tackling him is like tackling a bowling ball.

TRASK, Orville—26—6-4—260—Rice

Defensive captain of the 1st Oilers and named to some first and second team All-AFL selections. One of the biggest surprises of the year. Lettered at Rice in '54 and '55 and made 2nd team All-SWC. Entered Marines and played service ball in '56-57. Refused pro contract and entered Law school but signed with Oilers when pro ball came to Houston. Showed tremendous strength and desire. Has good speed and is only native Houstonian on team.

WHARTON, Hogan—25—6-2—245—U. of Houston

Most colorful lineman in Oiler uniform because he's so often involved in "misunderstandings" on the field. A 1958 Coaches' All-America at Houston. Twice All-Missouri Valley Conference choice. Was on Baltimore Colts reserve team in 1959. Is a pro wrestler in off season.

WHITE, John—23—6-3—230—Texas Southern

An offensive end that spent most of the 1960 season on the "cab" team. Has been the real surprise of the '61 season with his fine pass receiving and blocking. Has good speed and huge hands. Quiet type but extremely coachable. Gained the starting spot at tight end on basis of exhibition play. Has excellent physical qualifications to become a great end. Was on active list for only five games in '60 including the championship game.

WISENER, Gary—23—6-1—206—Baylor

A great all-around performer for coach John Bridgers at Baylor. Named to several second team All-Southwest Conference elevens as a senior in 1959. Played end for high-g geared Baylor team. Joined pro ranks with Dallas Cowboys in 1960 and played season as defensive halfback and offensive end. Has good speed and fine hands. Picked up by Oilers as a free agent.

Capsule of the '60 Season

HOUSTON 37 at OAKLAND 22—Oilers broke open a close ball game with a 30-point second half outburst to gun down the Raiders in AFL debut. Veteran quarterback George Blanda had a great day, completing 19 of 37 passes for 279 yards and four touchdowns, the longest being a 43-yard strike to flankerback Charley Hennigan. Fullback Dave Smith led the ball carriers with 104 yards on 19 carries. End Bill Groman snared six aerials for 115 yards and one touchdown.

HOUSTON 38, LOS ANGELES 28—In a real offensive battle, Oilers jumped to a 14-7 first quarter lead and were never headed. Fine Oiler defensive effort stalled Charger rushing game with only 20 yards. Oilers used bruising ground game that netted 266 yards with Dave Smith and Billy Cannon leading the way. Smith gained 77 yards on 14 carries and Cannon added 68 on eight. Smith had the game's longest run, a 47-yard touchdown burst in the first quarter. George Blanda scored three touchdowns on short plunges.

HOUSTON 13, OAKLAND 14—Oilers suffered only loss of season at Jeppesen Stadium. Gene Prebola grabbed a 14-yard pass from quarterback Tom Flores in the final quarter to give Oakland a 13-13 tie and Larry Barnes kicked the game-winning extra point. Blanda missed 28-yard field goal with 10 seconds left in game that would have given Houston a win.

HOUSTON 27, NEW YORK 21—Oilers overcame a blistering Titan aerial attack to grab thrilling win in game that saw lead change five times before Houston went ahead to stay in third quarter 20-14. Blanda kicked field goals of 22 and 36 yards and Charley Tolar put the game on ice with a 40-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. Cannon with 64 yards on 12 carries and Tolar with 62 on 10 led the Oiler ball carriers.

HOUSTON 20, DALLAS 10—Capitalizing on five pass interceptions and three recovered fumbles, the Oilers jumped to a 14-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and rolled to their fourth win in five AFL starts. Dennit Morris, Mike Dukes, Mark Johnston and Julian Spence picked off Dallas aerials with Spence coming up with a pair. Blanda connected on 17 of 36 passes for 233 yards and one touchdown while Groman caught 10 of the passes for 140 yards.

HOUSTON 42 at NEW YORK 28—Exploding for their finest offensive effort of the season, the Oilers rode a 35-21 halftime bulge to victory. Highlight of the game was Ken Hall's 104-yard kickoff return that stood all season as an AFL record. Blanda had another great day, completing 18 of 34 passes for 287 yards and four touchdowns. Bill Groman caught five passes for 102 yards including touchdowns of 12, 11, and eight yards. Al Dorow and Dick Jamison completed 24 of 44 passes for New York but also had four picked off by the Oiler defenses.

HOUSTON 24, at BUFFALO 25—Four field goals, three by Bill Atkins, and a 70-yard screen pass from John Green to Wray Carlton handed the Oilers their second AFL loss of the season. Atkins' last field goal was from 15 yards out and clinched the win for Buffalo. Although George Blanda completed only nine of 32 passes, three went for touchdowns but four were also intercepted. Green completed 18 of 49 for 334 yards.

HOUSTON 45 at DENVER 25—Another fine day by quarterback George Blanda, who completed 17 of 33 passes for 256 yards and four touchdowns sparked the Oilers to their highest scoring output of the season. Blanda hit touchdown passes of 13, 7, 5, and 8 yards. Fullback Dave Smith scored on runs of three and 45 yards and Cannon added 105 yards rushing on 16 attempts. Groman snared seven aerials for 155 yards.

HOUSTON 21 at LOS ANGELES 24—Despite the fact that George Blanda completed 31 of 55 passes for 366 yards and three touchdowns, the Oilers suffered their third AFL set back against the Chargers. Two touchdown passes from Jack Kemp to Ralph Anderson in the first quarter got the Chargers off to a 14-0 lead and the Oilers never recovered. It was actually Ben Agajanian's 22-yard field goal in the final quarter that provided the Chargers with their margin of victory. Four pass interceptions also hampered the Oiler cause.

HOUSTON 20, DENVER 10—In a game played in a sea of mud and rain, rookie quarterback Jacky Lee put on a fantastic performance subbing for the injured George Blanda. The bomber from Cincinnati completed three of six passes in the first half for 243 yards and three touchdowns. Lee's TD aerials went for 78 and 92 yards to Bill Groman and for 73 yards to Charley Hennigan. It was more than enough to give the Oilers a victory. Lee finished the slopping afternoon with six for 13, good for 281 yards and three touchdowns. Groman caught three passes for 182 yards and two TD's.

HOUSTON 24 at BOSTON 10—Again it was Jacky Lee going the distance at quarterback for the Oilers for the injured George Blanda to give Houston at least a tie for the Eastern Division title. General Jacky completed 21 of 38 aerials for 331 yards and one touchdown. Groman grabbed nine of the aerials for 171 yards while Charley Hennigan added seven for 113. Boston finished game with minus 14 yards rushing.

HOUSTON 0, at DALLAS 24—The Oilers were never in the ball game against the Texans as rain and mud hampered both teams. Hunter Enis quarterbacked the Texans all the way and the rampaging runs of Jack Spikes, Abner Haynes and Johnny Robinson kept the Oilers in hot water all afternoon. Oilers finished game with minus 27 yards rushing. Houston got to Dallas 25 and eight yard lines but could not score.

HOUSTON 31, BUFFALO 23—Three touchdown passes by George Blanda and a record-setting 53-yard field goal highlighted Houston's win that clinched the Eastern Division championship. Blanda connected on TD passes of 39 yards to Groman, six yards to Hennigan and 21 yards to Smith. Blanda's tremendous field goal came in the fourth quarter and put the Oilers ahead, 24-10.

HOUSTON 37, BOSTON 21—Trailing 21-20 at the end of three quarters, the Oilers exploded for 17 points in the final quarter to capture the final league game of the season. Blanda's 10-yard field goal put the Oilers ahead, 23-21 and a 40-yard pass from Jacky Lee to Dave Smith sewed up the win. Charley Tolar's 10-yard run in the final minutes added icing to the victory cake. Lee completed four of eight passes for 136 yards and one touchdown while Groman caught seven passes for 150 yards. Cannon returned a Boston kickoff 88 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter.

AFL Championship Game

HOUSTON 24, LOS ANGELES 16—With 32,000 fans looking on at Jeppesen Stadium, the Houston Oilers captured the first American Football League championship. It took the play of the year in the AFL to give the Oilers the title. Quarterback George Blanda and halfback Billy Cannon, named the Outstanding Player in the game, teamed up on a tremendous 88-yard touchdown pass play that put the game out of reach for the Chargers in the final quarter.

Los Angeles had gone ahead 6-0 at the end of the first quarter on two field goals by Ben Agajanian for 38 and 22 yards. Houston scored on a 17-yard pass from Blanda to fullback Dave Smith in the second quarter to go ahead, 7-6. The half ended with Houston leading 10-9 after Blanda's 18-yard field goal and Agajanian's 27-yard three pointer.

A seven-yard pass from Blanda to Bill Groman sent Houston ahead, 17-9 early in the third quarter but LA bounced back on a two-yard burst at left tackle by All-AFL halfback Paul Lowe. The third quarter ended with Houston ahead, 17-16.

Facing third and nine from his own 12, Blanda uncorked his game-clinching aerial to Cannon early in the fourth quarter. Los Angeles got to the Oiler 35 and to the Houston 22 but a determined Oiler defense stalled both bids in the final quarter.
