MCKINZE GAINES

On life under new Interim Head Coach Christian Lattanzio:

“Every training now is done with a different intensity. Guys are out there fighting, not only to play but fight for positions. Obviously, with new coaches, brings new opinions. But I think every training so far since Christian has been appointed has been led with a different intensity.

“He’s actually been probably one of the most influential assistant coaches that I’ve had so far as a professional. He’s always not only pulling me but other players aside in the team. He’s shown me areas of my game that I can work on.

“He’s been great. I think he’s not only helped myself to development but also other people on the team.”

On life under new Interim Head Coach Christian Lattanzio:

“We look at the table and I think we are sitting 6th in the East right now and that’s never having won a game away. I think that gives us extra motivation to say hey if we keep winning these games at home and we snatch a few on the road there is no reason why we can’t be sitting comfortably in a playoff spot whenever the season ends.

“I think this team has quickly established itself as a team that is very tough to beat. You saw that on the weekend against the Red Bulls. So yeah, we are fighting for the playoffs, we are pushing forward, and we think it’s very obtainable.”

CHRISTIAN LATTANZIO

On the intensity of training during the week:

“The intensity has been good from even first day that we came back to prepare for Red bulls. This group of guys continue to play and train with intensity, which is what I like. They keep being themselves.

“As I told you in the past, I love this group of guys, it’s really a pleasure to work with them. Obviously after a win, there is always a good mood. But as I’ve said, it’s important to put things into perspective. It’s a marathon not a sprint and we need to stay humble but at the same time focused and ambitious.”

On the intensity of training during the week:

“This is something that can happen on the pitch and it was preseason, it’s the past. We know that they are a team that is well organized, they have a good coach, and is a team that has a number of good player that have been successful in this league and internationally.

“So we know it will be a challenge in many different ways, because they play well, because they are organized, but can also be a physical team and we need to be able to respond to all these challenges. We need to be prepared for all the things that Columbus will throw at us.”

PLAYER BIOS

2022 FIRST TEAM

KRISTIЈAN KAHLINA

@KAHLINA_K

General: Charlotte FC acquired Kahlina from Bulgarian champions Ludogorets Razgrad. The 29-year-old goalkeeper made 36 appearances across all competitions keeping 13 clean sheets over his year-and-a-half spell with Ludogorets. He joined at the end of the 2020-2021 season, starting the club's final five league matches and helped wrap up Ludogorets' tenth consecutive Bulgarian title.

Prior to his move to Charlotte, the Croatian started 10 league matches this season and featured in Champions League qualifying rounds and the Europa League group stage.

JAN SOBOCINSKI

represented his country in the 2019 U-20 World Cup. Sobociński joined the youth ranks at Łódź in 2015, and was loaned to Polish third-division side Gryf Wejherowo for first-team experience in 2017-18. Upon returning to Łódź the following season, he became a first-team regular. Sobociński has recorded a total of 165 professional appearances with 12 goals. He has represented Poland at youth level 16 times, most recently in the U21 team.

ADAM ARMOUR

@AEARMOUR

General: Charlotte FC acquired Armour in June 2021. The Cary native played with the U.S. U-17 Men's National Team roster for the 2019 FIFA U-17

World Cup in Brazil and the 2019 Concacaf U-17 Championship. The 18-year-old played a total of 19 games with the team.
