2019 Houston Texans Season In Review

Regular Season Record: 10-6 (5-3 at home, 5-3 on the road)

Postseason Record: 1-1 (1-0 at home, 0-1 on the road)

TEXANS WIN AFC SOUTH & WILD CARD GAME

The Texans won the AFC South for a second-consecutive season with a 10-6 record in 2019. Houston defeated the Buffalo Bills in the AFC Wild Card Round and advanced to the Divisional Round for the fourth time in team history (2011-12, 2016 and 2019).

Houston earned its fourth double-digit win season in team history and second consecutive under Head Coach Bill O'Brien. The team has posted back-to-back double-digit win seasons for the second time in franchise history (2011-12) and owns the second-most wins (21) over a two-year span (22 wins from 2011-12).

The Texans have won the AFC South division title four times in the last five seasons, joining the Chiefs (AFC West) and Patriots (AFC East) as the only teams to win their division four-or-more times since 2015. They've also won two playoff games under O'Brien (2014-19), which ties Gary Kubiak (two) for the most postseason wins as a head coach in team history.

In his third season in the NFL, QB Deshaun Watson became the first player in NFL history to record consecutive seasons with at least 25 passing touchdowns and five rushing touchdowns (2018-19). He finished the year 333-for-495 passing (67.3 percent) for 3,852 yards, 26 touchdowns and 98.0 passer rating in 15 games. He also ran for 413 yards on 82 carries (5.0 avg.) and set a single-season Texans record for a quarterback with seven rushing touchdowns.

WR DeAndre Hopkins led the AFC with 104 receptions for 1,165 yards (11.2 avg.), seven touchdowns and 68 receiving first downs in 15 games played. He is just the third player in NFL history to post at least 600 receptions, 8,500 yards and 50 touchdowns in his first seven seasons. Additionally, in his first season with the team, TE Darren Fells set single-season career highs in receptions (34), receiving yards (341), touchdowns (seven) and first downs (22).

RB Carlos Hyde led the Texans and ranked 13th in the NFL with a career-high 1,070 rushing yards this season. He also scored six touchdowns on 245 carries and averaged 4.4 yards per attempt. Hyde registered his first 1,000-yard season and the first by a Texans player since Lamar Miller in 2016.

ILB Zach Cunningham (137) and ILB Benardrick McKinney (101) combined for 238 tackles on defense, which marked the sixth-most combined tackles by a pair of teammates in team history and most since 2009. DE J.J. Watt recorded 4.0 sacks, 21 quarterback hits, four tackles for loss, a forced fumble, two fumble recoveries and three passes defensed in eight games during the regular season before returning from the Reserve/Injured list for the postseason.

SPECIAL PLAYS

CROSSEN

In the Divisional Round at Kansas City, OLB Barkevious Mingo blocked a punt by Chiefs P Dustin Colquitt that was recovered by CB Lonnie Johnson Jr. and returned 10 yards for a touchdown. It marked Houston's first blocked punt and first blocked punt returned for a touchdown since Week 1 of 2014 vs. Washington (Alfred Blue). It also marked the first blocked punt in the postseason in franchise history.

Johnson scored Houston's first special teams touchdown in the postseason in franchise history. His return touchdown marked the first in the NFL playoffs since the 2018 AFC Divisional when the Colts blocked the Chiefs punt in the end zone for a touchdown. Johnson finished the game with three total tackles (three solo) and one special teams tackle.

CB Keion Crossen was also a major contributor on defense for Houston. He recovered a muffed punt by Chiefs WR Tyreek Hill at the Kansas City six-yard line and Houston scored a touchdown two plays later to take a 21-0 lead. Crossen led the team with three total special teams tackles and became the third player in franchise history to recover a fumble in the postseason, joining Jacob Martin (2019) and Eddie Pleasant (2016).

GOING LONG

On Houston's opening drive in the Divisional Round at Kansas City, QB Deshaun Watson completed a 54-yard pass to WR Kenny Stills for a touchdown to give Houston a 7-0 lead.

The completion marked the longest play from scrimmage in Texans postseason history and the second-longest touchdown reception in the NFL this postseason. It also was Houston's first completion of 50-or-more yards in the postseason in franchise history and longest reception of the 2019 season.

Stills finished with 80 receiving yards and one touchdown on three receptions (26.7 avg.). He posted the highest receiving average in a postseason game in Texans history (minimum three receptions) and tallied his first career postseason touchdown. He is one of nine players in franchise history to record a receiving touchdown in the playoffs for Houston.

The Texans tied for the most passing touchdowns (two) in a playoff game in franchise history (2012 Divisional at New England) and recorded the most receptions of 25-or-more yards in a postseason game in franchise history (four). In fact, Houston registered four of the eight longest postseason receptions in franchise history.

Houston is tied for the fourth-most postseason wins in the AFC since 2016 with two, trailing only the Patriots (eight), Chiefs (three) and Titans (three). They've reached the Divisional Round four times in franchise history, including twice under O'Brien.

TEAM NOTES

OVERTIME THRILLER

In the Wild Card Round vs. Buffalo, the Texans earned their first playoff win since the 2016 Wild Card game against the Oakland Raiders and won the first overtime playoff game in franchise history. K Ka’imi Fairbairn’s game-winning 28-yard field goal in overtime marked the first game-winning field goal in a postseason game in Texans history and gave Houston its fourth appearance in the AFC Divisional Round in franchise history (2011, 2012, 2016 and 2019).

The Texans are now 6-4 all-time and 4-2 at home against the Bills including 3-1 overall and 3-0 at home under O’Brien. They are currently on a two-game winning streak against Buffalo.

RUNNING WITH THE BILLS

In the Wild Card game vs. Buffalo, the Texans ran for the third-most yards in a postseason game in team history, trailing the 2011 and 2012 Wild Card games against Cincinnati. QB Deshaun Watson led the way with 55 yards on 14 carries (3.9 avg.), including a 20-yard touchdown in the third quarter. RBs THROUGH THE AIR

JONES

Texans running backs combined for five receptions, 69 receiving yards and a receiving touchdown in the Wild Card win vs. the Bills. RB Taiwan Jones, who played only 14 snaps on offense all season in Week 17 vs. Tennessee, caught a 34-yard pass from QB Deshaun Watson after avoiding a sack in overtime that set up K Ka’imi Fairbairn’s game-winning field goal.

Jones’s reception marked the third-longest post-season reception in overtime in the NFL since 2015, trailing Larry Fitzgerald’s 75-yard catch against the Packers in 2015 and Adam Thielen’s 43-yard grab against the Saints this year. Jones played two snaps on offense and tallied his first career playoff reception.

RB Carlos Hyde’s lone reception was a five-yard touchdown pass from Watson in the fourth quarter that gave Houston a 19-16 lead and marked his first career postseason touchdown. Hyde is one of nine players to catch a touchdown in a playoff game in Texans history. RB Duke Johnson caught three passes for 30 yards (10.0 avg.), including an 18-yard reception in overtime on 3rd-and-18 that kept Houston’s game-winning drive alive.

NEVER OUT OF IT

The Texans trailed 16-0 with two minutes left in the third quarter against the Bills before starting a 22-3 run to close the game and win in overtime. The win marked the 14th time a team has come back from down 16-or-more points in the postseason and the 11th time a team has come back from down 16-or-more points in the second half of a playoff game. Houston’s comeback is also the third latest a team has come back from down 16-or-more points in the postseason, trailing the 2002 49ers (Wild Card vs. Giants) and the 2016 Patriots (Super Bowl vs. Falcons) who came back in the fourth quarter.

Houston’s victory tied for the third-largest comeback win at home in the last 15 postseasons, tying the 2014 Seahawks in the NFC Championship (16 points). Only the 2006 Colts in the AFC Championship (18 points) and 2013 Colts in the Wild Card game (28 points) have larger comeback wins at home in the playoffs over that span.

The Texans win also marked the fourth-largest comeback in team history and largest in the postseason. The Texans lead the NFL with 15 comeback wins over the last two regular seasons (2018-19).

TEAM NOTES

SIX SEASONS UNDER OB

The Texans won the AFC South division title for the fourth time in the last five seasons, joining the Chiefs (AFC West) and Patriots (AFC East) as the only teams to win their division four-or-more times since 2015. Head Coach Bill O'Brien's four division titles in his first six seasons are tied with Andy Reid for the most by an active head coach in their first six years.

Houston earned its fourth double-digit win season in team history and second consecutive under O'Brien. It has posted back-to-back double-digit win seasons for the second time in franchise history (2011-12) and owns the second-most wins (21) over a two-year span in franchise history (22 wins from 2011-12).

The Texans secured their fifth winning season in six years under O'Brien. Prior to 2014, Houston had only put together three winning seasons in team history. 2019 ED BLOCK COURAGE AWARD WINNER

The Houston Texans selected S Justin Reid as the 2019 Ed Block Courage Award winner. Recipients are selected by a vote of their teammates to recognize extra efforts both on and off the field and their ability to overcome great adversity.

"I feel blessed and honored to be voted the winner of the Ed Block Courage Award, especially since it's voted on purely by my teammates," said Reid. "It means a lot to be able to represent them and the Houston Texans organization with this honor."

"Justin's toughness and team-first attitude make him a great selection for this year's Ed Block Courage Award," said Head Coach Bill O'Brien. "For a young player, he has a great understanding of what it means to be a professional in order to have success at this level. Everyone sees the plays he makes on Sundays, but it's his dedication to doing whatever it takes throughout the week to get his body ready to go in the training room that has earned the respect of his teammates."

SPECIAL TEAMS NOTES

CB Keion Crossen was also a major contributor on defense for Houston. He recovered a muffed punt by Chiefs WR Tyreek Hill at the Kansas City six-yard line and Houston scored a touchdown two plays later to take a 21-0 lead. ANGELO'S AWARD

BLACKSON

DE Angelo Blackson became the first NFL player to block a field goal in back-to-back weeks since Olivier Vernon (Weeks 8-9) in 2012. He tied Seahawks DE Rasheem Green for the league lead in blocked field goals in 2019 with the first two of his NFL career.

Blackson joined J.J. Watt (two in 2013) as the only players in Texans history to block multiple field goals in a single season and Watt (three) as the only players in franchise history to block multiple field goals in a career.

Blackson blocked a 54-yard field goal attempt by Bucs K Matt Gay in Week 16 and 45-yard attempt by Titans K Ryan Succop in Week 15. The NFL named Blackson the AFC Special Teams Player of the Week in Week 15, which marked Houston's single-season franchise-record fifth player of the week award in 2019. The blocks mark the first for Houston since Week 2 of the 2015 season at Carolina when DE Jared Crick blocked Panthers K Graham Gano's 53-yard attempt.

Blackson also recorded two tackles on defense against his former team after Tennessee drafted Blackson with the 100th overall pick in the 2015 NFL Draft. It marked the 48th time a Texan has been named Player of the Week in franchise history. Opening Statement

"We got in late last night, so we're just working through a lot of things here. Big player day here. Exit physicals, exit meetings, all of those different things. So, don't really have a whole lot to tell you. What I will say is probably, we'll – I haven't even met with the coaches that much. Haven't met with Cal (McNair), so don't have a lot to tell you, but I will say that maybe at a later date, we'll have another press availability and be able to answer maybe some of the questions that you may have that I won't be able to answer as well today. So, with that I'll open it up to questions."

Can you talk about the decision you made in the game yesterday to kick a field goal instead of going for it on fourth down?

"I think with any decision, you're always – in the moment, you're trying to make the best decision for the team. Sometimes those decisions are the right decisions and sometimes they're not. I think that's the nature of coaching. I think that throughout the year, there were times where we made really good decisions, there were times where maybe the decision could've been better. I don't really want to comment on one specific decision. It's just something that we've got to work hard to keep improving on. I feel like we did a lot of good this year relative to some of those decisions, but there's some things that we need to improve upon. But I think there's a bigger picture to it relative to what you're thinking in that moment."

How much does a loss like yesterday take away from what you accomplished this season?

"It's hard. I mean, there's no doubt about it. We feel like over the last couple of years here, we've done some good things. We've won four division titles. We've won 20-plus games in the last two years. We won a playoff game this year. We've got a great young quarterback. We got a lot of good, young, core players, but yesterday was not good, and we understand that, and we want to really work hard to try to improve that and get beyond that. That's what today is. It starts that process today, really just kind of seeing where the players are at, talking to them, reviewing the season a little bit as much as we can today. Exit physicals, things like that, see where they are health-wise, and then move forward."

How big of a priority is it to keep DE/NT D.J. Reader?

"D.J. is definitely in that category of smart, tough, and dependable. He's been a really good player for us ever since the day he walked in here. So, we're going to sit down with D.J., we're going to talk and we're going to try to do what's best for both sides. We'll see where that goes, but D.J. is just a – he's an awesome guy, a guy that has played a lot of great football for us and that's it."

What do you expect to do to get better this offseason?

"I think that's something that we're – again we start that process today a little bit, get going on that. What the coaches are doing right now, after today, after they meet with their players, now we'll start the postseason evaluations of everything. Player evaluation, scheme evaluations, all those different things, and that'll help us determine where we need to go relative to your question. I wouldn't be able to answer that right now, but like I said, maybe at a later time, I would be able to answer that more clearly."

Will you use both tags allowed under the CBA this offseason?

"It's hard to say. I wouldn't be able to put a percentage on that. I would just say that anything that's available to us relative to what we believe would be best for our team, then we'll talk about it and see if that's the right thing to do."

How do you think CB Vernon Hargreaves III played this year?

"Vernon came in here – we claimed him, he came in here, he works very hard. Very hard worker, guy that really showed up to practice every day, learned the system. I don't think that's easy to be able to come in, in the middle of a season, and really later than that, and play that nickel position is not easy. So, I give a lot of credit to Vernon. There's a lot of things that he's going to work hard to improve upon. We're going to help them with that, but I think Vernon stepped into a tough situation and really made the best of it."

What do you think about the overall season that QB Deshaun Watson had and the development he's made since he got here?

"Deshaun Watson has gotten better every day, every year, every minute that he's here. We're better because of Deshaun Watson. Deshaun Watson works very hard. He's a student of the game, he loves the game, he's the ultimate competitor. He just does a great job, and so because of his work ethic, because of the type of person that he is, he will continue to get better. There's no substitute for experience. With all the experiences that he's had early in his career here, plus his work ethic, plus his talent, all those different things, plus who he is as a man, he's going to just keep getting better."

How much would you like to keep T Laremy Tunsil here?

"Look, we want Laremy here. Laremy knows that. I think, relative to contracts and all those different things, it really wouldn't be fair for me to comment on any of those things just because I don't think that's fair to the player or the organization. I just think we got to keep those things in-house, but I can unequivocally state to you that we want Laremy here for a long time."

What do you think you need to improve on as a coach?

"I think that's something – there will be things, definitely. I think that – and again, and this is no excuse, and this is why I say maybe I'll have a better answer for you at a later date. That's what this process is all about. I think we're going to work here for a while, I'm going to take some time off, and those are things that I'm going to really think about – what we can do better, what I can do better, what we can do better as a coaching staff, what I can do better. We'll work hard to try to improve in a lot of areas, but I wouldn't be able to answer that specifically right now. I've got to really put more thought into that."

Do you get input from people about what you need to improve?

"Oh yeah. I think when you have a coaching staff or you have people around you that are not shy about telling you the truth, there's a lot of truth and honesty in our meetings. We're not ready for those yet because I think today is a big player day relative to wrapping up with the players here before they're out of here for a while. But we'll get to those meetings and we'll talk, and we'll think about things that we need to improve upon."

What does it mean to hear that QB Deshaun Watson has so much confidence in you as a coach?

"I think when you spend so much time with somebody and you have so much respect for who he is, for how he works. I know he respects the way we work and what we try to do to help the team win. He's just a great person. We're fortunate to have him here. I think he really understands what we're trying to do here, he understands the work that it's going to take, and we have so much confidence in him. So, relative to what he said or all that, I'm not really sure about all that. I just know that I have tremendous amount of confidence in him and I think he's a great, great person."

Do you think it will benefit you to have the entire offseason in charge of the personnel?

"I think that relative to being 'in charge,' again, I think there's a lot of people that help. I just really want to try to do the best I can to make that clear. There are a lot of people, whether it's the coordinators or Jack Easterby or Matt Bazirgan or whoever, that are involved with decision making. So, it's definitely, it's a consensus. We try to build a consensus. That's one thing that Bob talked about a lot, Bob McNair, that's one thing that Cal (McNair) talks a lot about, is we try to build a consensus. That's what we try to do, and I think that starts today with some of the information that we'll get today, and then we'll move forward with that."

Was there some hyperbole in your statement that you knew you needed to score 50 yesterday to beat the Chiefs?

"There probably was a little bit of hyperbole in that that I said, but I felt like we had to score more than 24. I really did. I really thought that they had an explosive offense. That's nothing against – I just think the way that their offense is constructed and the way that they could generate points, I just felt like we were going to have to score points. That's just the way I felt. I knew our defense was going play hard and going to do everything they could to keep them out of the end zone, but at that point in time I just felt like, for that game yesterday, that we were going to have to score more than 24. Fifty would be hyperbole, you're right about that."

What did you think about the development of G/T Tytus Howard this season?

"Tytus had a really good rookie year. The guy was really playing well for us. Very tough, very physical, very athletic, great guy, great teammate. He was injured in the Kansas City game in October, and it was a tough injury. He tried to come back, he played with it, and then we decided to shut him down because it wasn't going to be good for him. It was better for him to begin that rehab process and all those things. But he's got a really bright future."

Did you get the payoff you wanted from all of the trades that you made before the season, and do you think those moves were long-term or short-term moves for the franchise?

"I think that those moves did pay off. Those guys came in, without mentioning each guy specifically, but I do believe that those guys came in and really entered into our culture of what we're trying to do, learned the systems, tried to go out there and those guys played well. I'm sure there's always plays that each one of them wish they could have back, but I think that those guys helped our team win this year, when we won. I think any move we make, we try to think about the long term. Now, you could probably pick and choose some moves where maybe contractually it doesn't seem like it's long term, but within the building and within the meeting rooms, we think about it more for long-term purposes as we move forward here. But yeah, I think all those guys came in and contributed."

Is the plan for the front office to stay a committee approach, or do you anticipate Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Cal McNair to hire a GM?

"I haven't even met with Cal today, to be honest with you. I would be remiss by answering that question, but I feel like where we are right now, the way that I see it right now, it stays the way it is. We have, again, a great group of people that meet daily, that talk about the team, the roster, all the support staff, the subprograms that we have here and try to make the best decisions for the team."

Now that QB Deshaun Watson is eligible for a contract extension, is that something that you want to get done this offseason?

"Another great question, but relative to those things, I really don't want to talk about those things publicly. I can tell you publicly, though, that we obviously want the Deshaun Watson here for a long, long time. We want him to be a Houston Texan for his career. He is a great person, he's a great football player and he means a lot to this organization, to this city, to this league. I just don't want to get into the nuts and bolts of when you would do that and all those different things. Those things take time, but we want him here for a long time."

How many draft choices do you anticipate having this year?

"There's so much that can happen between now and the draft. To say how many I would anticipate having is hard. That wouldn't be fair to say we're going to have this many, because I just think between now and draft time, there's so many things that can happen. So, we'll see how it all plays out."

Are you referring to compensatory picks or trades before the draft?

"Anything. Anything is possible."

A couple of players said that they felt like the team let the fans down. How would you address that?

"I think any time you lose – you make it to the final eight and you lose the way we lost – look, we love our fans, but we want our fans to know that we are working very hard. We feel like we have a really good culture here, we've got a good group of core players here. We're working hard to make the next step to get to where everybody wants us to get to, and where we want to get to. It just didn't go that way yesterday. We want to tell our fans to stay with us, to understand that we have a great group of core players here that we really believe in, we've got an excellent young quarterback that's just completed his third season and we feel like we have a really bright future here. We think our fans are a huge part of that, so we want our fans to know that we're going to work very, very hard to get back to that game where we were yesterday and then obviously try to do better. That's what we want our fans to know."

How likely is it that you might relinquish some of your duties to focus more on certain areas?

"I think you've got to look at everything. Every year is different. I think you have to look at yourself first before you look at anything else, and I think that's what we're starting to do today with me, relative to me, myself, just looking at some of the things that went on whether it was yesterday or the whole year. We start that process right now, and I think you have to look at everything and you have to decide, is what you're doing the best for the football team, can you help the team in another way, and that's what we'll do. I think everybody needs to do that. I really do. I think every player needs to do that, I think every coach needs to do that. I think you have to look at yourself a little bit, and that's what we're going to start that process today."
