The Mercedes-Benz 450SL. Spoil yourself.

This is no conventional 2-seater. It's a Mercedes-Benz. So you can expect the extraordinary. You won't be disappointed.

Come in and look carefully at a 450SL. Standard equipment includes electric windows, air conditioning, power-assisted steering and brakes, automatic transmission—even a central locking system.

You have a choice between hard-top, soft top or no top. A 450SL comes in all three configurations—practically three automobiles in one.

The no-gimmick styling is an exercise in function. The crisp lines of the rear deck accommodate your golf bag and enough luggage and miscellaneous gear for a holiday for two with ease. Try that in any sports car.

Pure pleasure

It has been our experience that women who hate cramped sports cars appreciate the ease of entry and exit of a 450SL. Whether in evening dress or a brief skirt, ladies remain ladies.

When you come in to see us, allow enough time for a thorough test drive. Orient yourself in the cockpit. Tailor the height and back angle of a form-fitting seat to your body.

When you turn the key you'll know that there isn't another engine in the world like the 4.5-liter, fuel injected, overhead cam V-8 which powers the 450SL. And you'll feel the special 3-speed automatic transmission that was designed to complement it. Shift it through the gears manually or let it do the changing automatically. The choice is yours.

Challenge a stretch of country road. Feel how a separate suspension system for each wheel mates the standard radial tires to the road. Marvel at the road feel the variable ratio, servo-assisted steering transmits. And drive secure in the knowledge that a double-circuit, 4-wheel disc braking system is at your disposal.

The Mercedes-Benz 450SL. Spoil yourself with pure driving pleasure.

THE STING—IT'S JUST BEGUN

The Sting was born October 31, 1974, when the North American Soccer League officially granted a Chicago franchise to commodities broker Lee B. Stern, president of L. B. Stern & Co., Ltd. and former director of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago became the 18th franchise in the NASL, which later added Portland and Hartford to round out a four division, 20-team league.

The name "Chicago Sting" emerged from a Stern family discussion. While it was inspired by the movie of the same name starring Robert Redford and Paul Newman, the team logo is an angry bee guarding a soccer ball.

"The Sting is the Thing" became the new team's battle cry and Stern vowed that heavy emphasis would be placed on recruiting Chicago players.

The first appointment by Stern was George Fishwick to the post of assistant to the president and director of soccer administration. Fishwick has been a strong voice in soccer for more than 40 years and in 1974 was elected to the United States Soccer Hall of Fame.

Stern next tapped Mike Pyle, former Chicago Bears' captain and nine-year professional football veteran, as executive vice-president and general manager.

On December 16, 1974, it was announced that Bill Foulkes, an outstanding player with England's Manchester United for 18 years, would join the team as head coach.

In the college player draft January 15, the Sting acquired Mickey Rooney and Brad Steurer from Keene State (New Hampshire) and Tom Kazembe from Wooster of Ohio.

On February 13, the Sting signed Herbert Teichert, coach of the Chicago All-Stars, as assistant coach. Three days later, the playing roster was started with the signing of four players, Rudy Getzinger, Wally Obrebski, Ian Stone and Richard Green, all star performers in Chicago's National Soccer League.

Stern, a 47-year-old native Chicagoan, became interested in soccer because of the sports interest shown by his sons, one of whom plays high school soccer.

LEE B. STERN

Owner and President

Sting owner Lee Stern and son Ken admire team logo

The story of the Sting begins with a man and his three sons. The man—Lee Stern, a Chicago commodities broker and longtime sports fan.

The sons—Jeff, 23, a business-minded graduate of Cornell on his way now to a masters in business administration at the University of Michigan; Danny, 22, finishing up at the University of Arizona, and Ken, 18, a star soccer player at Highland Park High School headed for Southern Methodist University.

Kicked around during a family discussion, the soccer idea became reality when Dad decided to make the commitment to purchase a franchise in the North American Soccer League.

Lee Stern is 47 years old, a native Chicagoan who attended Senn High School, the University of Illinois and Roosevelt University. He is a member and past president of the Chicago Board of Trade.

As a young man, Lee became a sportswriter for the Urbana Evening Courier, then served as a staff writer for an Army Air Corps publication in Germany during military service.

Stern also worked in the Chicago Cubs' front office and was a press box assistant for the Chicago Rockets of the All-American Football Conference.

An energetic man who has managed to mesh his interest in sports with his busy business life and involvement in community charitable organizations, Stern feels soccer will grow within a few years to take its place alongside other major professional sports.

In addition to his three sons, Stern has a daughter, Jan, who is a student at Tulane University.

Lee and wife Norma reside in Highland Park.

MIKE PYLE

Executive Vice President and General Manager

Mike Pyle brings the same determination to his new soccer post that carried him through a star-studded football career.

After never missing a game throughout his years at Winnetka's New Trier High School and at Yale, where he was team captain and an Academic All-American, Mike was drafted on the seventh round by the Chicago Bears in 1961 and missed only five games in a nine-year stretch in pro football.

Pyle appeared in the 1961 College All-Star Game and was team captain for the Bears when they won the National Football League championship in 1963. He was also selected to the 1963 All-Pro team.

Mike also has been active in broadcasting. Starting in 1965, he did weekly, and later daily, show on WBBM Radio, then had a weekly half-hour show on WFLD-TV. He has broadcast football games for WGN, including the Chicago Fire last year, did stints as an analyst for WBBM-TV and WGN Radio and produced and hosted a sports quiz show "Bull Roar" on WSNS-TV.

"Soccer is the game of the future in America," says Pyle, explaining his switch in allegiance. "I feel I'm getting in on the ground floor of a sport that's bound to go straight up."

The 35-year-old Pyle lives in Lake Forest with wife Shary and two children, Samantha, 4, and Cameron, 2.

GEORGE FISHWICK
Vice-president, Director of Soccer Administration

The Sting front office's answer man on soccer matters is George Fishwick, whose background in the game spans more than 40 years.

Born in New Brighton, England, George played for Liverpool St. Francis Xavier High School's three-time city championship soccer team. Fishwick came to the United States in 1930 and settled in Chicago, where he played for Schwaben and Slovak A.C.

In 1943, he was named editor of the National Soccer News and later became publisher and owner of the publication. He was elected secretary of Chicago's National Soccer League in 1948 and served until 1955 when he was honored with a life membership in the league.

He served three years as president of the Illinois Soccer Association and two terms as president of the United States Soccer Federation. In 1974, he was elected to the United States Soccer Hall of Fame.

George and wife Delores have six children: George Jr., Geoffrey, Dennis, Marty, Carol Beth and Mary.

Jim Walker

Arlene Gill

Ed Barrett

The Sting's front office is not short on big league experience.

Publicity Director Jim Walker has held media posts with the Baltimore Colts and the Chicago Fire in professional football as well as stints as a sportswriter with the Baltimore Evening Sun and Chicago Tribune, covering pro football and major league baseball.

Arlene Gill, who keeps things running smoothly as office manager, came to the Sting after eight years in the Chicago Cubs' farm system.

Ticket Manager Ed Barrett was in baseball, too, spending the past four seasons as Director of Group Sales for the Chicago White Sox. Previously, he was manager of the Chicago Tribune Charities, which included the College All-Star football game, for 20 years.

Linda Pacer

Staci Kaufman

BILL FOULKES
Head Coach

For Bill Foulkes, being named head coach in the North American Soccer League is an honor and challenge unlike any other in a long career strewn with honor and challenges—and tragedy.

Foulkes, 43, believes the game of soccer is about to “explode” in the United States and he’s delighted, in his quiet, reserved manner, over the opportunity to help the sport boom.

After 18 years as an indestructible defender for the world famous Manchester United club in England, Foulkes retired in 1970 for a coaching role with United’s youth and reserve teams. He could have played longer, Foulkes insists, but when the opportunity to coach presented itself he didn’t want to pass it up.

He hasn’t been sorry. “Until you try coaching,” he says, “you cannot realize that it’s more satisfying than being a good player.”

As a player, Foulkes was better than good. He played in 568 First Division games, more than 70 English Cup contests and another 70 performances in European international competition, more than any other English player.

A member of the famed “Busby Babes” that won English League championships for United in 1956 and 1957, Foulkes was aboard the team plane in 1958 when it crashed in Munich, killing eight teammates, three team officials and eight sportswriters, and seriously injuring others. Foulkes escaped injury and led a pickup team of reserves into the final of the Football Association Cup series.

In 1968, he scored the winning goal against Real Madrid to put Manchester United into the European Cup final and his team went on to win the coveted title.

Foulkes and his wife, Teresa, have three children—Stephen 16, Jeffrey 12, and Amanda, 11. Bill’s family will join him in July and they will reside in Wilmette.

HERB TEICHERT
Assistant Coach

Bill Foulkes was given a free rein in selecting an assistant coach and after a careful appraisal of candidates he picked Teichert, who has been active in Chicago soccer since arriving from Germany in 1959.

At the age of 41, Teichert was an active player with Schwaben, one of the strongest teams in the National Soccer League, until he joined the Sting. Teichert, a strong advocate of physical fitness, coached the Schwaben club for seven years. He also coached the Chicago All-Stars.

Teichert was a star player for many years with German soccer teams before coming to Chicago. As a 19-year-old player in Essen, his birthplace, Teichert once scored 10 goals in a single game.

Teichert and his wife, Ursula, have one daughter, Heidi, 5.

DICK HOOVER
Trainer

Dick Hoover brings to his new post with the Sting a wide background in athletic training. Holder of a physical therapy degree from Ohio State and a Master's Degree in physical education from Ball State University, Dick has been head trainer at Northwestern University, trainer for the College All-Stars in their annual confrontation with the National Football League champions from 1968 through 1972, head trainer at Ball State and assistant trainer at Ohio State and Bowling Green. Last year he was head trainer for the Chicago Fire football team. Prior to joining the Fire, Dick was Director of Educational services, Cramer Products, Inc. He is a well-known lecturer in the training field and has written a physical training text book which went on the market in March.

He once led the National Soccer League's major division with 24 goals in 21 games. He has appeared with the U.S. national team in more than 50 games. "Despite his youth," says Sting coach Bill Foulkes, "Clive seldom makes mistakes. He's steady, reliable." He spent the full two weeks with the Sting on the team's recent training trip to England. Born in Pontypridd, South Wales, January 22, 1955. He's single.

Forced out of big-time soccer by a serious ankle injury when he was rated the best winger in England while playing with Manchester United, Ian Moore has made a remarkable comeback after six months' layoff and a stint with non-league Burton Albion. Manchester United collected a huge insurance payoff, preventing Moore from returning to the First Division team. Moore scored more than 100 league goals for Nottingham Forest and was that Second Division team's leading scorer for five seasons before his transfer to Manchester United for $480,000. When he joined United, he made a quick impression with his skills, even though his new team was already blessed with the likes of George Best, Denis Law and Bobby Charlton. The following year, he moved to Holland, where he played two years with First Division Maastricht. For the past two seasons, he has played for Diepenbeek, a strong Belgium amateur club. He first made his mark as a placekicker in American football with Michigan State and the Baltimore Colts, but has made the adjustment of kicking a round ball under the crossbar instead of an egg-shaped one over it. He attended Maine South High School where he played soccer and hockey. An honor roll student at Michigan State, Ian's ambition is to coach soccer at the university level. He has played for the Chicago Lions in the National Soccer League since 1970. He was high scorer for the Lions in 1972 and 1974 and captained the team in 1974. Single, Ian's hobbies are bicycling, speed skating and painting. Birthdate: May 18, 1950.

STEFAN SZEFER

Defender

6-0    175    32

Stefan Szefer (pronounced Sha-fer) knows only one way to play soccer—all-out. A seasoned pro who once had a $100,000 price tag put on his head by Holland's Maastricht club, Szefer is capable of playing anywhere on the field and is a dominating figure wherever he plays. His forte is defense, however, and during his two years (1970-71) with Maastricht was voted among the top defenders in Holland. Earlier, the Polish-born Szefer played for Wlokniaz, Slask and LKS clubs in his homeland, then came to Chicago and played with the Eagles. He split the 1969 season with the professional California Clippers and San Francisco amateur Son of Italy before going to Holland. When he returned to Chicago, Szefer became a key performer with the strong Lions club. He played 18 games with the Polish national team and three times with the U.S. national team. Married to Yolanda with one son, Arthur, 4. Birthdate: May 8, 1942.

THE GAME CALLED SOCCER

Soccer is the world's number one spectator sport and the national pastime of more than 130 countries. Its object: to advance the ball by kicking it (sometimes the head is used, too) into the opponent's goal. Here are some points to remember:

1. A match lasts 90 minutes, with 45-minute halves.
2. Only the goalkeeper can handle the ball, and then only within the penalty area (larger of the two areas facing the goal).
3. Offenses are committed by handling the ball, tripping, bumping, kicking, blocking, etc. The "punishment" is an award of a free kick to the opposing side. A DIRECT FREE KICK means that the kicker can try to score with his first kick; an INDIRECT FREE KICK means that a score can be made only after the kicker has moved the ball to someone else.
4. If an offense is committed in the penalty area by the defending team, it means for the more serious fouls—a penalty kick. A nominated player places the ball on a spot 12 yards from the goal and is allowed a clear shot with only the goalkeeper facing him.
5. Two opposing players should always be between the offensive player and the goal at the time the ball is played to him, or he is offside.
6. If the ball goes out of play, it is thrown in by the opponent. The correct throw-in is over the head with both hands on the ball and both feet on the ground.
7. If the ball goes out of play behind the goal line off a defender, a "corner kick" is awarded to the offensive side. The ball is placed in the small corner area marked by a flag and usually kicked into or near the goalmouth where attempts are made to "head" it into the goal.

The Sting's basic formation consists of three forwards, three midfielders, four defenders and a goalkeeper.

The forwards are the attackers. It is their job to control the ball in front of the opponent's goal and position it for one of them to kick or head it into the goal.

The goalkeeper and the backs are the main defenders of the team's own goal. The goalkeeper is responsible for staying in front of the net and blocking all opposing shots. The defenders harass the opponents' forwards in any legal way to prevent them from getting a clear shot at the goal. Midfielders are relay men between the forwards and the defense, and it is their primary duty to move the ball from the backs to the forwards as quickly as possible.

Soccer has undergone considerable refinement along the way before becoming a professional sport in the United States. There are many variations of the basic formation.

CONDENSED SOCCER RULES

- LAW I—The Field of Play. The overall dimensions of the soccer field are 100 to 130 yards in length and 50 to 110 yards in width. (At Soldier Field, the dimensions are 110 yards long and 65 yards wide.) The goal posts are eight yards wide and eight feet high.
- LAW II—The Ball (NASL approved ball—Mitre and Addidas) Circumference 27"-28", weight 14 oz.-16 oz.
- LAW III—Number of Players. Each team consists of eleven players, one of whom must be the goalkeeper. A maximum of three substitutes may be used.
- LAW IV—Player Equipment. Consists of a shirt, shorts, stockings and boots. Goalkeeper must wear colors which distinguish him from the other players.
- LAW V—Referees. One referee is appointed for each match. He is responsible for control of the game and his decisions are final.
- LAW VI—Linesmen. Two linesmen assist the referee by indicating offside when the ball is out of play, and which team is entitled to the corner kick or throw-in.

LAW VII—Duration of the Game. Shall be two equal periods of 45 minutes unless otherwise agreed upon.

LAW VIII—The Start of Play. A flip of coin decides which team will kick off. Each team must stay on its own half of the field and the defending players must be at least 10 yards from the ball until it is kicked.

After a goal the team scored upon will kick off. After halftime the teams change ends and the kickoff will be taken by the opposite team to that which started the game. A goal cannot be scored directly from a kickoff.

LAW IX—Ball In and Out of Play. The ball is out of play when (a) it has wholly crossed the goal-line or touch-line, whether on the ground or in the air, (b) when the game has been stopped by the referee.

LAW X—Method of Scoring. A goal is scored when the whole of the ball has passed over the goal-line, between the goal posts and under the crossbar.

1975 PLAYOFF FORMAT

The NASL Championship Playoffs will begin the week of August 10th. The eight qualifiers for the quarter final round will be the four divisional champions plus the two teams with the highest total points among the eight remaining Eastern and Northern teams, and the two teams with the highest total points among the eight other Central and Western Teams.

1975 LEAGUE POINT STANDINGS

Each winning team will be awarded six points toward its NASL season standings, whether victory occurs in regulation or overtime play. No points will be granted for a loss. Winners and losers will receive one bonus point for each goal scored in regulation or overtime play up to a maximum of three bonus points per team per game.

1975 TIE-BREAKER PROCEDURE

NASL games which are tied at the end of regulation play will be extended by 15-minutes of "sudden death" overtime (two 7½ minute periods). A flip of the coin will decide which team will kick off. The first team to score a goal, either from the field or by penalty kick, shall be the winner. If no score occurs in the first period, play shall be halted by the referee. The teams will change ends of the field. Play will be restarted with a kick-off by the team opposite that which started the overtime period.

If the game remains tied at the end of the second period, the outcome will be decided by the kicks from the penalty spot. The referee will first flip the coin with the winner choosing which team will kick first. Each team shall take five penalty kicks in alternating order. When these have been completed, the team which has scored on the most penalty kicks shall be declared the winner. (The kicks shall be ended when one team has achieved an insurmountable advantage, such as scoring on its first three kicks while their opponents miss their first three).

If the teams remain tied after the prescribed five penalty kicks, they shall continue to take alternate penalty kicks until one has scored more than the other after an equal number of attempts. Only players in the game at the end of the overtime period, or players injured during the regular game or overtime period and not replaced, shall be eligible to take such penalty kicks. No player may take a second penalty kick until all other eligible members of his team have done so at which time they shall continue in the original rotation.
