BMO STADIUM

MATCH PREVIEW

This Sunday, August 27, at 5:00 p.m., Angel City hosts OL Reign at BMO Stadium presented by Sprouts Farmers Market. The match will be broadcast locally on Bally SoCal and will stream in the US on Paramount+ and internationally at NWSLSoccer.com. An English-language radio broadcast will be available on iHeart.

Matchup

This will be Angel City's fourth meeting this season with OL Reign, following two UKG Challenge Cup matches and one regular-season matchup in Seattle in May. Angel City lost that match 1-4, with forward Claire Emslie scoring the team's lone goal. Angel City has a 0-3-0 (W-L-D) record all-time in the regular season against the Reign.

Seattle are currently in fifth place in the league with a 7-6-3 record; they are tied on points with sixth-place San Diego, with 24 each. Their most recent result was a 0-1 loss against Kansas City Current on August 18. KC forward CeCe Kizer scored the only goal in that game, in the 61st minute.

Angel City are in tenth place with a 4-6-6 record. Their last league game was a 1-1 draw at Racing Louisville, following a 67th-minute goal by forward Katie Johnson. The team is undefeated in the last eight games in all competitions.

Scouting Report

The Reign sent seven players to the World Cup, the most of any NWSL team. Three of those players—Canada's Jordyn Huitema and Quinn, and Brazil's Angelina—were available last week, with Quinn earning a start.

Seattle's top scorer, Bethany Balcer, did not compete at the World Cup, and scored the club's single goal over the two Challenge Cup games that took place during the break for the tournament, in a match against San Diego.

Their top creator, however, is USWNT veteran Megan Rapinoe, who has four assists and a goal on the season—with three of those assists coming in a single game against Angel City. Rapinoe did not dress against Kansas City, but has been training with the team this week, so she may be available this weekend.

Another player to watch is right back Sofia Huerta, one of the best and most prolific crossers in the league, with 52 on the season. Although she only has two assists, she leads the team in chances created, with 23. It's also worth noting that the Reign have nine headed goals, the most of any team in the league,

Huitema, who co-lead—alongside Washington's Paige Metayer—all players in that category.

In short, Angel City will have to defend the box tightly as well as limiting service from wide areas in order to keep Seattle off the board.

Fresh Legs

Just in time for a playoff push, Angel City is getting multiple players back both from injury and from the World Cup.

Last week, forward Alyssa Thompson, who represented the US in New Zealand, started against Louisville; defender M.A. Vignola, who was injured in early July, also got the start. Among the subs were forwards Claire Emslie and Sydney Leroux, who have both been sidelined due to injury.

Forward Jun Endo, who had an excellent run with Japan, was in training with the team this week and could be available for selection against Seattle.

In short, ACFC's attacking corps is getting refreshed right when the team needs it most—and that's not to mention the form other forwards, including Scarlett Camberos and Katie Johnson, have been in. Johnson came off the bench to score against Louisville, while Camberos had the second assist on that goal, feeding midfielder Savannah McCaskill, who assisted Johnson.

COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT

ACFC ADDRESSES NUTRITION EDUCATION & FOOD INSECURITY

Students at 24th Street Elementary learn about the science behind gardens through the Seed To Table program through their bimonthly class.

Angel City Football Club has partnered with Sprouts Farmers Markets and Garden School Foundation to address nutrition education and food insecurity:

Free Farmers Markets:

Twice a month, ACFC and Sprouts Farmers Market volunteer at Garden School Foundation's Farmers Markets held at 24th Street Elementary to help distribute fruits and vegetables to families from the community. Over 4,000 lbs of produce are donated on a monthly basis to 150 Families. This year through the Free Farmers Markets program we've rescued over 22,832 pounds of produce and engaged over 113 volunteers.

Garden Work Days:

Once a month, ACFC staff and supporters, in partnership with Sprouts Farmers Market, come together to volunteer at Garden Work Days to refresh the garden space at 24th Street Elementary. Volunteers clear weeds, harvest fruit and veggies, and perform overall garden maintenance. Each month, ACFC volunteers ensure this school garden is maintained to support on-site education classes called the Seed to Table Program. This year we've engaged 234 volunteers for a cumulative 936 hours of garden work.

Seed to Table:

The Seed to Table program teaches youth where their food comes from, how to grow it, and how to prepare it. Students alternate between science-based gardening and nutritional cooking classes. This Spring, we've hosted a total of 3,643 collective hours of education for 550 youth in Kindergarten through fourth grade.

This fall, we're excited to expand our work with Garden School Foundation to support both 24th Street Elementary School and 99th Street Elementary School in the Watts area.

Through the Seed To Table class, students learn how to prepare nutritious, simple meals using fresh produce from the garden with intention of building familiarity and comfort with a wide variety of vegetables fruits and herbs.

BUILDING TECHNIQUE REP BY REP WITH TECHNICAL ASSISTANT COACH MYKELL BATES

Soccer, like all team sports, can be analyzed at multiple levels.

Looking at the big picture, there's the tactical level: the team's formation, the way their press works, what areas of the field they try to capitalize on in the attack.

Getting those things right requires zooming in and giving instructions to individual players: when to press, who to mark, which teammates to look to connect with.

Zooming in even closer, each player has to be able to physically perform the actions necessary for carrying out those instructions: passing, dribbling, tackling, crossing, shooting, and so on.

That last area is what Technical Assistant Coach Mykell Bates, who was hired this month, specializes in. He helps players sharpen what they're already doing in games, as well as expanding their skill sets to give them more options on the field.

"So if you're a striker and your expectation is to score, we work rep by rep by rep on different ways of finishing—inside the foot, laces, volleys," he says. "If you're a wide player and the expectation is for crosses, we work on different types of crosses."

The goal of that technical work is to make players as effective as possible at whatever the team's tactical plan requires of their position.

"We might think about, how is the team dangerous?" he says. "Say we're dangerous off of one-v-ones in the wide channels. Then I look at, how is our winger facing up on the dribble? How is she beating defenders? Is it through setting the defender up? Is it the first touch? Getting in behind and going? And then I look at what skills are lagging behind, or what she can be better at."

FIVE QUESTIONS: SCARLETT CAMBEROS

Forward Scarlett Camberos joined Angel City following a transfer from Club América in March. A San Diego native, Camberos is a standout for the Mexican national team, having scored for Mexico against Angel City in last year's Copa Angelina game.

Camberos scored her first goal for ACFC two weeks ago in the team's final Challenge Cup game, against the Wave in her hometown, but her profile had been growing even before the goal: the UC Irvine grad has two assists and three chances created in the regular season, and two assists and eight chances created in the Challenge Cup. AngelCity.com sat down with the forward before training to talk about scoring, her adjustment to the NWSL, and her favorite movie—with a cameo by an Angel City defender!

AngelCity.com: You scored your first goal a couple weeks ago in San Diego—but even before that, you'd been contributing assists. How do those two aspects of the game compare for you?

Scarlett Camberos: Scoring felt great, and I felt a sense of relief, in a way. As a forward you want to score goals. Obviously with Angel City I had played a number of games and I was ready to score one. It was really cool to do it in San Diego, because they're a rival team but it's also my hometown, so my friends and family were there. I'm super, super, super happy about it, and hopefully I can start knocking in some more.

Obviously I think my job entails doing both scoring and assisting, but the feeling of scoring is always like, "whoa!" You're the one celebrating, and it just feels different. But obviously I'm happy to be the person assisting or scoring goals. It doesn't matter.

ACFC: It seems like you've gotten a lot more confident on the field since arriving here in March. What factors have helped you adjust?

SC: I think I have a better understanding with my teammates now. There's ten other players on the field besides me, and ultimately you need to use your teammates' abilities to understand how we can beat opponents. So it's really crucial for me to understand what run someone is going to make, or what they do when they have the ball. It helps me read what I should do off the ball.

Also, personality wise, I think I was a little shy at first. I didn't know what to expect coming in, and I think that translates a lot on the field. The coaching staff has also given me a lot of confidence. They know what I'm capable of, so that makes me feel more comfortable.

ACFC: Is there also an element of the style of play being different in the NWSL compared to Liga MX Femenil?

SC: Definitely. Here it's very, very transitional, which I wasn't used to in Mexico. You have to be a lot more aware of where you lose the ball and things like that, because it can be really dangerous to lose the ball in the wrong place. Whereas I think over there it wouldn't be as dangerous or. The physical part of the game here is also a lot different to Mexico.

Practicing the physical part of the game is super important. If we're doing it in training, we're going into tackles first, we're stronger and get the ball more, and that translates into more opportunities. It's hard to play teams when they're so strong and ready to go into tackles.

WELCOME TO LA FORTALEZA!

During the 2023 home opener on March 26, Angel City FC's Supporters Groups announced the name of their supporters section: La Fortaleza, revealing their tifo, depicting Angel City FC's first captain, Ali Riley, in front of an art deco sol rosa-themed sunburst.

La Fortaleza is the safe-standing section located at the north end of BMO Stadium, where many of Angel City FC's most active and passionate fans gather to show their support for the team.

A group of 70+ members representing all six supporters groups traced and painted the tifo over the course of 29 hours in early March 2023.

After the club's inaugural match on April 29, 2022, Ali Riley called the stadium a 'fortress' during a press conference. Ultimately, inspiring the members of the six supporters groups to vote for the name La Fortaleza out of a list of suggestions.

The name La Fortaleza communicates that the supporters section is not simply a physical location in the stadium. La Fortaleza's power comes from the people in it.

ANGEL CITY FC TEAM EXECUTIVES

NATALIE PORTMAN
CO-FOUNDER

Angel City Football Club is founded by Academy Award-winning actress and activist Natalie Portman, technology venture capitalist Kara Nortman, media and gaming entrepreneur Julie Uhrman, and Seven Seven Six founder and former Executive Chair of Reddit, Alexis Ohanian. Portman, who is on the board of Times Up, attended the Times Up Connect event and witnessed Abby Wambach speak about her playing career and the US Women's National Team's fight for equal pay. Natalie was riveted and engaged in conversations about the pay equity issue in women's sports. She approached Nortman, also on the Times Up board and a women's soccer fanatic. One day at lunch, Portman asked Nortman there wasn't a professional women's soccer team in LA, which led them down a path neither could have envisioned. In August 2019, Julie Uhrman was brought on by Portman and Kara Nortman to run the company and help them fulfill their mission and passion for bringing a professional women's sports team to Los Angeles as part of the National Women's Soccer League (NWSL).

JULIE UHRMAN
CO-FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT

Julie Uhrman is the Co-Founder and President of Angel City Football Club (ACFC). ACFC is one of the only majority female-founded and run professional sports teams in the world and, in 2021, was named one of the world's most innovative companies by Fast Company Magazine. In addition to leading ACFC day to day, Uhrman is active in the Los Angeles sports and technology communities. She is a board member of the LA Sports and Entertainment Council, The Rose Bowl Institute, the LA Sports Council, an active executive in the LA Chapter of WISE (Women in Sports and Events), and is part of two SPACs focused on sports and gaming/ entertainment. She is also part of the DraftKings' All-Star Network as an Advisor to Drive by DraftKings. Uhrman's accolades include being named a member of Adweek's 2021 and 2020 Most Powerful Women In Sports, one of the 100 Most Creative People in Business by Fast Company, and to the Creative 50 list by Advertising Age.

KARA NORTMAN
CO-FOUNDER

Kara is a Managing Partner at Monarch Collective. Her notable investments include Parachute Home, Time by Ping, Endgame, Writer, Open Raven, Britive, and Fleetsmith (acquired by Apple in 2020). Over 50% of her portfolio is led by women CEOs. Kara is also a founding member of All Raise, a VC-led group dedicated to increased diversity in funders and founders, and is a founder of LA's women's soccer team, Angel City Football Club. Before Upfront, Kara co-founded the children's e-commerce company Moonfrye and also spent seven years at IAC where she co-headed the M&A group and acted as the Senior Vice President and General Manager of Urbanspoon and Citysearch. During her tenure at IAC, she led the initial investment in Tinder. Earlier in her career, she also spent time at Morgan Stanley, Microsoft, and Battery Ventures. She received her AB in Politics from Princeton University and her MBA from Stanford University. Nortman resides in Los Angeles with her husband and three daughters.

ALEXIS OHANIAN
LEADING FOUNDING INVESTOR

Alexis Ohanian, ACFC's leading founding investor, was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. and grew up in the suburbs of Baltimore, M.D. He wrote the national bestselling book, Without Their Permission, and has been a vocal advocate for the open internet, STEM education and paid family leave. Out of college, Ohanian co-founded Reddit, one of the largest websites in the U.S., which was funded by Y Combinator in 2005 and sold to Conde Nast in 2006. He returned as executive chairman in 2014 to help lead the turnaround of the now independent company that today is valued at over $10B. In 2016, he left Reddit to run the venture capital firm he co-founded, Initialized Capital, and built it to $100B in market value through early investments in companies like Coinbase, Opendoor, Instacart, Patreon, and Ro. In 2020, Ohanian resigned from the Reddit board in protest and left his role at Initialized Capital to found Seven Seven Six, a new firm built like a technology company that deploys venture capital.
