MATCH PREVIEW

This Friday, October 20, at 7:00 p.m. Pacific, Angel City travels to Seattle to face the fourth-seed OL Reign in the quarterfinals of the 2023 NWSL Playoffs. The match will be ACFC's first-ever postseason game, coming on the heels of the team's emphatic 5-1 win over the Portland Thorns on Decision Day.

The game will be broadcast in the US on Paramount+ and stream internationally at NWSLSoccer.com. Radio broadcasts in English and Spanish will be available on iHeart and KWKW 1330 AM, respectively.

Matchup

Angel City faced OL Reign four times in 2023 across both the regular season and the Challenge Cup. In the regular season, the two teams split the results, with Seattle beating LA 4-1 in May and recording their first-ever loss to ACFC in August, falling 2-1 at BMO.

Reign finished their season in fourth place with a 9-8-5 record (W-L-D), following a 3-0 win on the road in Chicago over the weekend. Forward Megan Rapinoe notched a brace in that game, with midfielder Jess Fishlock closing out the scoring.

ACFC finished in fifth place with an 8-7-7 record, narrowly edging out Orlando on goal differential and Gotham on total goals thanks to their 5-1 win on Sunday; given the other results from the weekend, LA would not have made the playoffs if they had won by less than four goals.

The scoreline in that match came courtesy of five different goalscorers: defender MA Vignola, forward Scarlett Camberos, midfielder Savannah McCaskill, forward Sydney Leroux, and forward Jun Endo. Thorns' forward Hina Sugita scored a consolation goal for her team. Sunday's match represented both the most goals Angel City had ever scored in a single game and the widest margin they had ever won by.

Scouting Report

The Reign have historically been a strong team, with six previous playoff appearances to their name, including two trips to the NWSL Championship, in 2014 and 2015. They contested both against then-FC Kansas City, and lost by one goal each time. In 2022, as the Shield winners, they got a bye in the first round and lost 2-0 in the semifinal to the Kansas City Current.

Head Coach Laura Harvey, who has had two separate tenures with the Reign—one from 2013-2017 and the second from midway through 2021 until the present—has built a formidable roster with world-class players on all three lines. USWNT legend Megan Rapinoe, currently in her final season as a professional, has been the team's star since their inception, and she's still making an impact: the Redding native had four goals and five assists in just 15 games this season.

Across the front line, however, forwards Veronica Latsko, Jordyn Huitema, and Bethany Balcer have also been workhorses, with four, five, and six goals, respectively. Much of the team's attacking strength comes from service in from the wings, with players like Rapinoe and right back Sofia Huerta—both in the top 10 for crosses attempted this season—whipping crosses into the box for Huitema and Balcer.

Defensively, Emily Sonnett—typically a center back or outside back who has transitioned to defensive midfield this season—and Canada international Quinn provide stability in the central midfield, in front of two experienced central defenders in Alana Cook and Lauren Barnes. Welsh international Jess Fishlock, who, like Cook and Rapinoe, is a Reign original, contributes in the midfield on both sides of the ball.

Rolling Deep

Angel City's performance against Portland was the team's strongest offensive showing ever, and it highlighted the range of attacking threats on the roster.

Not only was each goal scored by a different player, but all four of the goals for which an assist was recorded (Leroux's bicycle kick was unassisted) were assisted by a different player; Leroux, Vignola, forward Claire Emslie, and forward Alyssa Thompson all contributed assists.

One thing recent games have highlighted has been the team's attacking depth off the bench. Against Houston two weeks ago, Thompson entered the game in the 65th minute and notched her team's first goal three minutes later with her first touches on the ball. Thompson also had a second assist on the game winner, which another substitute—forward Katie Johnson—assisted, playing a well-weighted lateral ball to the center of the penalty box for McCaskill.

Thompson didn't get on the score sheet against Portland, but she had the assist on Endo's goal after subbing in for Emslie in the 64th minute.

The ACFC attack has also found success with a variety of types of goals. Transitional attacks, well-timed runs from deep, various types of crosses, and individual wizardry have all been showcased in recent matches. The team has had a strong group of attackers all season long, but in their last regular-season game, that group meshed in a new way that points to the team peaking at the right time.

MATCH FACTS VS. OL REIGN

- In the last meeting between Angel City and OL Reign, the California side notched its first win ever in the fixture (all competitions) with a 2–1 home win. OL Reign is unbeaten in its four all-time home games (W3 D1) against ACFC, the last of which was a 4–1 victory in league play back in May.
- In the history of the NWSL playoffs, the home team has lost 10 times (W14, 1 PK shootout elimination). OL Reign has three of those losses, the most of any team in league history.
- OL Reign enters the playoffs with consecutive shutouts as the team delivered 13 clean sheets in 2023 in all competitions. The 13 shutouts are the most in a single season for the Reign, surpassing the 12 they earned in 2018.
- With interim manager Becki Tweed at the helm, Angel City has lost just once in its 11 league matches (W6 D4). Angel City’s 22 points since June 17 (Tweed’s first match as manager) are four more than the team with the next most (Orlando – 18).
- After her two goals in the regular-season finale, Megan Rapinoe now has 80 goal contributions in her 129 games in all competitions for the Reign. The only other player with more than 71 goal contributions for a single NWSL team is Christine Sinclair for the Thorns (92 in 208 matches).
- Alyssa Thompson and Savannah McCaskill tied for the team lead in goals in the regular season with four apiece. Fourteen different players scored at least one goal for Angel City in league play this season, the most of any single club in 2023 and tied for the most in a single season in NWSL history (Portland & North Carolina in 2022).

ACFC X KLARNA SHOWCASE COMMITMENT TO CIRCULAR SHOPPING

ACFC team captain and defender Ali Riley accepting clothing donations from the club's jersey reveal event, the first clothing drive of 2023.

ACFC defender Jasmyne Spencer makes a donation for the October 15 clothing drive. Players, investors, staff and fans all contributed to the clothing drive, held at BMO Stadium.

Klarna and ACFC have partnered on a larger commitment to sustainability and circular shopping. In an ongoing effort to recycle clothing and contribute to sustainable efforts, Klarna and ACFC hosted a clothing drive at the final regular season home match on Sunday, October 15 against the Portland Thorns. Fans who attended the game were encouraged to donate one piece of gently used or new clothing ahead of kick off with a goal of donating a total of 5,000 pieces of clothing.

Starting in the pre-game festivities outside the stadium, fans could donate their used clothing in multiple locations around BMO Stadium. The first 500 people who donated their items at Klarna's Bar in the Fan Fest area received a Klarna x ACFC branded koozie, rally towel or practice top. When the 5,000-item donation goal was met, it triggered a first-of-its-kind in-stadium promotion on Klarna. To recognize ACFC's committed fans, those who could not attend the game also had the chance to receive a promotion on Klarna via an email and social media promotion.

The event was an enormous success, collecting 7,373 gently used and new clothing items. The items were donated to three local organizations in Los Angeles: Downtown Women's Center, End Homelessness CA and the YMCA of Metropolitan Los Angeles to further showcase Klarna and ACFC's support for the Angelenos and LA community. This event, in addition to a previous clothing drive held alongside the 2023 jersey launch, has accounted for a total of 8,783 clothing items donated to the Los Angeles community in 2023.

"WE'RE NOT DONE YET": ALI RILEY ON ANGEL CITY'S HISTORIC PLAYOFF BERTH

Heading into their June 17 game on the road against San Diego, little had gone right for Angel City. Having recorded only two wins on the season, the team sat in 11th place. They'd picked up just one point in their last five games, scoring three goals in that stretch. And the club had just parted ways with Head Coach Freya Coombe.

But Interim Head Coach Becki Tweed later said the team knew could beat their rivals, and that's exactly what happened.

The come-from-behind win—on the strength of goals by defenders Paige Nielsen and M.A. Vignola—was the start of what would become an eight-game regular-season unbeaten streak. The midseason resurgence culminated on Sunday with a 5-1 dismantling of the then-No.1 Portland Thorns that clinched the club's first-ever playoff berth.

"What looks on paper like a Cinderella story was anything but", said team captain Ali Riley at training this week. "We approached it one game at a time," she says. "Every game was a must-win. When we got to that final game, it's like, we've been here 12 times, where we knew if we wanted a chance at the playoffs we had to win. It didn't feel like we had to rise to the occasion in that game because we've been fighting for so long."

For Riley, that sums up who this club is. "This team just fights," she says. "I don't think that would be the first image people think of when we have this Hollywood atmosphere, but that's been the defining identity of this team."

WELCOME TO LA FORTALEZA!

During the 2023 home opener on March 26, Angel City FC's Supporters Groups announced the name of their supporters section: La Fortaleza, revealing their tifo, depicting Angel City FC's first captain, Ali Riley, in front of an art deco sol rosa-themed sunburst.

La Fortaleza is the safe-standing section located at the north end of BMO Stadium, where many of Angel City FC's most active and passionate fans gather to show their support for the team.

A group of 70+ members representing all six supporters groups traced and painted the tifo over the course of 29 hours in early March 2023.

After the club's inaugural match on April 29, 2022, Ali Riley called the stadium a 'fortress' during a press conference. Ultimately, inspiring the members of the six supporters groups to vote for the name La Fortaleza out of a list of suggestions.

The name La Fortaleza communicates that the supporters section is not simply a physical location in the stadium. La Fortaleza's power comes from the people in it.

ANGEL CITY FC TEAM EXECUTIVES

NATALIE PORTMAN
CO-FOUNDER

Angel City Football Club is founded by Academy Award-winning actress and activist Natalie Portman, technology venture capitalist Kara Nortman, media and gaming entrepreneur Julie Uhrman, and Seven Seven Six founder and former Executive Chair of Reddit, Alexis Ohanian. Portman, who is on the board of Times Up, attended the Times Up Connect event and witnessed Abby Wambach speak about her playing career and the US Women's National Team's fight for equal pay. Natalie was riveted and engaged in conversations about the pay equity issue in women's sports. She approached Nortman, also on the Times Up board and a women's soccer fanatic. One day at lunch, Portman asked Nortman there wasn't a professional women's soccer team in LA, which led them down a path neither could have envisioned. In August 2019, Julie Uhrman was brought on by Portman and Kara Nortman to run the company and help them fulfill their mission and passion for bringing a professional women's sports team to Los Angeles as part of the National Women's Soccer League (NWSL).

JULIE UHRMAN
CO-FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT

Julie Uhrman is the Co-Founder and President of Angel City Football Club (ACFC). ACFC is one of the only majority female-founded and run professional sports teams in the world and, in 2021, was named one of the world's most innovative companies by Fast Company Magazine. In addition to leading ACFC day to day, Uhrman is active in the Los Angeles sports and technology communities. She is a board member of the LA Sports and Entertainment Council, The Rose Bowl Institute, the LA Sports Council, an active executive in the LA Chapter of WISE (Women in Sports and Events), and is part of two SPACs focused on sports and gaming/ entertainment. She is also part of the DraftKings' All-Star Network as an Advisor to Drive by DraftKings. Uhrman's accolades include being named a member of Adweek's 2021 and 2020 Most Powerful Women In Sports, one of the 100 Most Creative People in Business by Fast Company, and to the Creative 50 list by Advertising Age.

KARA NORTMAN
CO-FOUNDER

Kara is a Managing Partner at Monarch Collective. Her notable investments include Parachute Home, Time by Ping, Endgame, Writer, Open Raven, Britive, and Fleetsmith (acquired by Apple in 2020). Over 50% of her portfolio is led by women CEOs. Kara is also a founding member of All Raise, a VC-led group dedicated to increased diversity in funders and founders, and is a founder of LA's women's soccer team, Angel City Football Club. Before Upfront, Kara co-founded the children's e-commerce company Moonfrye and also spent seven years at IAC where she co-headed the M&A group and acted as the Senior Vice President and General Manager of Urbanspoon and Citysearch. During her tenure at IAC, she led the initial investment in Tinder. Earlier in her career, she also spent time at Morgan Stanley, Microsoft, and Battery Ventures. She received her AB in Politics from Princeton University and her MBA from Stanford University. Nortman resides in Los Angeles with her husband and three daughters.

ALEXIS OHANIAN
LEADING FOUNDING INVESTOR

Alexis Ohanian, ACFC's leading founding investor, was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. and grew up in the suburbs of Baltimore, M.D. He wrote the national bestselling book, Without Their Permission, and has been a vocal advocate for the open internet, STEM education and paid family leave. Out of college, Ohanian co-founded Reddit, one of the largest websites in the U.S., which was funded by Y Combinator in 2005 and sold to Conde Nast in 2006. He returned as executive chairman in 2014 to help lead the turnaround of the now independent company that today is valued at over $10B. In 2016, he left Reddit to run the venture capital firm he co-founded, Initialized Capital, and built it to $100B in market value through early investments in companies like Coinbase, Opendoor, Instacart, Patreon, and Ro. In 2020, Ohanian resigned from the Reddit board in protest and left his role at Initialized Capital to found Seven Seven Six, a new firm built like a technology company that deploys venture capital.
