MATCH PREVIEW

Racing Louisville's chase for the first playoff appearance in club history continues with a long tripout west to Seattle, where the Louisville fans take on OL Reign at 3:30 p.m. ET Saturday at Lumen Field.

The important regular-season match will be broadcast in the Louisville area on Circle — available over the air on WAVE 3.3, Spectrum cable channel 193 and Dish Network's 370 — and streamed on Paramount+.

Racing (3-4-6, 15 points) left North Carolina last weekend frustrated by a 1-0 loss to the Courage, and coach Kim

PREVIEW CONTD.

Björkegren's squad needs a good road result this time around with Louisville five points out of the last playoff position in the NWSL standings. The Louisvillians are 6-2-2 over their past 10 matches across all competitions and haven't lost back-to-back games this year.

OL Reign (7-4-2, 23 points) is tied for second place in the NWSL table and playing at home for the first time since a June 10 win over Kansas City. Coach Laura Harvey's team is unbeaten in its last four games, including back-to-back wins over San Diego (regular season) and Portland (UKG NWSL Challenge Cup).

If Saturday's meeting is anything like the first matchup between Racing and OL Reign, prepare to be entertained. The April 29 affair ended in a 2-2 draw, with Racing scoring two first-half goals and OL Reign rallying to score two in the second half and steal a point from the hosts.

Both teams enter Saturday's match aiming to find some new chemistry amid roster departures as OL Reign loses eight players to the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup and Racing loses four. Louisville expects to lose two more – Uchenna Kanu (Nigeria) and Wang Shuang (China) – in the coming days, but they'll both be available in Seattle.

STORYLINES TO FOLLOW...

World Cup year: This is a big year for women's soccer, with the 2023 FIFA World Cup set for Australia and New Zealand from July 20-August 20. Racing will be well-represented at the planet's biggest competition, with as many as six players suiting up their national teams. Midfielders Savannah DeMelo (USA), Ary Borges (Brazil) and Alex Chidiac (Australia) and forwards Uchenna Kanu (Nigeria), Thembi Kgatlana (South Africa) and Wang Shuang (China) have either already received World Cup call-ups or anticipate them. Kanu will play this Saturday in Seattle before joining Nigeria camp, and Wang Shuang intends to depart for China's team camp after the July 7 match vs. Kansas City.

Department of Defense: Racing's defensive improvement is one of the top story lines of its third year of existence. Led by star goalkeeper Katie Lund and back-line anchor Abby Erceg, Racing recently set a new club record for minutes without conceding a goal, posting 384 consecutive scoreless minutes from the third minute of the Washington match on June 3 to the 72nd minute on June 24 at North Carolina. Erceg leads the NWSL in blocked shots per 90 minutes, while Lund has five clean sheets in league play and ranks in the top three in saves per 90 minutes and save percentage.

Opportunity arises: With the departures of three regular starters in Borges, DeMelo and Kgatlana, Racing's depth will be tested for the next two months. Fortunately the club moved this offseason to bolster its bench. Now, 2023 additions like Jordan Baggett, Kayla Fischer and Riley Parker will get the chance to play significant minutes during the World Cup, along with sometimes starters Paige Monaghan and Kirsten Davis and regular subs Parker Goins and Emina Ekic. Baggett and Fischer both scored their first goals in a Racing uniform over the past five weeks.

Global Racing: Racing Louisville is the first club in NWSL history to feature players from six different continents on its roster. The Louisvillians already had an international flavor last year, with four continents represented. But the additions of Brazilian midfielder Ary Borges as well as Nigerian forward Uchenna Kanu and South African forward Thembi Kgatlana nudged Racing to six continents. Abby Erceg, who made 146 appearances for New Zealand's national team, reinforced Australian midfielder Alex Chidiac as a second representative from Oceania.

ABOUT THE CLUB

Louisville is home to a top-tier professional sports franchise for the first time in almost 50 years, fielding Racing Louisville FC of the National Women's Soccer League, considered the best professional women's soccer league on the planet.

Racing Louisville FC's roster contains World Cup and NWSL winners and national team-caliber players in addition to regularly hosting them. Rose Lavelle, Alex Morgan and Megan Rapinoe have all played at Lynn Family Stadium through Racing's first two seasons, along with Carli Lloyd, Marta and Ali Krieger.

In 2021, Racing's 22 points in NWSL regular-season play set a new record for an expansion team, with the season highlighted by a victory in the inaugural The Women's Cup, an international tournament in Louisville that featured Bayern Munich and Paris Saint-Germain.

Last season, Racing improved on its performance from the year before, averaging 1.04 points per game vs. 0.91 in 2021. Young Louisville stars Savannah DeMelo and Katie Lund both earned NWSL team of the month honors, with DeMelo also claiming May's rookie of the month award.

Racing is run by Soccer Holdings, LLC, the same organization behind Louisville City FC, the two-time USL Championship titlists who have played in the Derby City since 2015. Both Racing and LouCity play home games at Lynn Family Stadium (capacity: 15,304) and operate out of the Lynn Family Sports Vision & Training Center along River Road.

Kim Björkegren HEAD COACH

A native of Sweden in his 16th year coaching, Björkegren is in his second year as Racing's head coach. The 41-year-old led Racing to a ninth-place finish in 2022, improving the team's points-per-game output over the club's first year of existence.

Prior to Louisville, Björkegren led Cyprus's Apollon Ladies FC to an undefeated season before being named Racing's coach on Dec. 9, 2021. Apollon Ladies took 64 of a possible 66 points and advanced to the UEFA Women's Champions League's second round, earning Björkegren Cyprus's coach of the year award.

Björkegren coached in China and Sweden before his time in Cyprus, winning the Swedish Damallsvenskan and reaching the Champions League quarterfinals in 2017 with Linköpings FC.

A goalkeeper as a player, Björkegren's playing career ended prematurely because of an injury at 23. He took a two-year coaching course to move on to his next calling, initially leading fourth division Karle IF's men's side in his hometown of Linköping, Sweden. His first women's coaching job was as the head coach for Swedish club Hovås Billdal IF.

Bev Yanez ASSISTANT COACH

Yanez, 34, joined Racing after two years as an assistant at NJ/NY Gotham FC, where she helped the team reach the 2021 NWSL Challenge Cup final and the 2021 playoffs. The former NWSL Best XI selection and two-time NWSL Shield winner as a player will work closely with Racing players on individual development and serve as the top lieutenant on head coach Kim Björkegren's staff.

Before her coaching career, Yanez was a standout midfielder and forward in Australia, Finland, Japan and the U.S., including six seasons with the club now known as OL Reign. Yanez helped OL Reign win back-to-back NWSL Shields and reach two NWSL finals, tallying 25 goals and nine assists in 123 appearances. She was a Best XI selection and MVP finalist in 2015.

In addition to her two years with Gotham as a coach, Yanez has worked as an assistant for the U-15 U.S. Soccer Youth National Team. Before moving to Gotham, she coached youth soccer at the club level, with stints at the OL Reign academy as well as the Juventus Academy and COPA Soccer Training Center in California.

SERGIO GONZALEZ GOALKEEPERS COACH

Sergio Gonzalez enters his third year as Racing's goalkeepers coach after a stint as Indiana University's women's associate head coach. He boasts more than two decades of coaching experience, including collegiate stops at Dayton, Slippery Rock, NJIT and Ohio State. Internationally, he has also coached goalkeepers for the U-16 and U-17 national teams.
