

W.A.S. MEN'S BASKETBALL

2011-12 MEN'S BASKETBALL

NEBRASKA

After 17 months of construction, the Hendricks Training Complex was officially dedicated on October 13, 2011.

The 84,000-square foot facility adjacent to the Bob Devaney Sports Center is the new home for the men's basketball program. The two-level facility includes separate practice courts for the men's and women's basketball programs, as well as expanded locker rooms, player lounges, team rooms and offices.

"The Hendricks Training Complex, along with the new Haymarket Arena (opens in 2013), will give us one of the best combinations of facilities in the country." - Tom Osborne, Nebraska Athletic Director

THIS IS NEBRASKA BASKETBALL

Nebraska basketball is about family and winning. In his tenure on the NU sideline, Coach Doc Sadler has provided both, bringing the Cornhusker family back together and winning 89 times, which is the best five-year start for any Husker basketball coach. From former players and coaches to fans across the country and even other Nebraska coaching staffs, Sadler has engaged them all and enlisted their support as he builds the Huskers into an annual contender on the conference and national levels.

Excitement around the Nebraska basketball program is still building. Sadler's energetic and engaging personality has carried over to his hard-working and increasingly talented squad, which has earned a reputation as one of the toughest defensive units in the country. With the fans back on board and a competitive team on the court, the Huskers know only one way to go under Sadler's direction – up.

*-Division I coach for two seasons

1 Former Husker and NBA veteran Stu Lantz returned as a special guest for the annual Doc Sadler Golf Classic, one of the many ways Sadler has reached out to former Nebraska players and coaches to bring them back into the NU family.

2 Former Huskers like Jerry Fort, the school's third-leading all-time scorer, have made Sadler's summer golf outing an annual event after being away from the program for years.

3 Numerous other former Huskers have returned to the program recently, including NBA veteran Erick Strickland and former Husker coach Danny Nee, both 2009 Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame inductees.

4 During his time in Lincoln, Sadler has embraced all the sporting teams and coaches at Nebraska. He and wrestling coach Mark Manning and football coach Bo Pelini frequently talk and attend each others' practices and contests.

5 Off the court, Sadler pushes his athletes to succeed in the classroom. In Sadler's first four years at NU, 13 Huskers have received academic honors and 11 have earned their degrees. Three more Huskers are scheduled to receive diplomas within the next year.

6 Over the past five years, Sadler has pushed the Huskers to the postseason, making three appearances in the last four years. Nebraska has averaged 18 wins per year under Sadler and defeated eight ranked teams.

WINNINGEST COACHES AT NU

(first five years only)

DOC SADLER 89

DANNY NEE 87

MOE IBA 87

"Doc Sadler is one of the great guys in this business... He has worked his butt off here trying to build this program."

- RICK BARNES

University of Texas Head Coach following NU's win over No. 3 Texas in 2011

"Watching Doc Sadler's team practice and play is a joy because I honestly don't think there are five teams in all of college basketball that play harder or get more out of their ability than Sadler's club. Every single drill was carried out at full speed because the players' energy level was equaled by their head coach and then some. And every piece of instruction to the players was met with total attention."

- FRAN FRASCHILLA

ESPN Color Analyst

"He's making Nebraska Basketball a family. We all feel welcome to go back there anytime. His door is always open to former players and we can come back and go to games. He just wants us to come back and be a part of the program again. That makes us want to get out there and recruit for him and help him however we can."

- JAKE MUHLEISEN

Former Husker team captain

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT COACH DOC SADLER AND NEBRASKA

"While we fixate on title contending teams and are valuing wins and losses, elevating and writing off teams, and deifying and dismissing players (all of which is fair game and fine), we can sometimes overlook just how important these games are to the players and coaches. Case in point is Nebraska's Doc Sadler. After a hard-fought win over Texas, Sadler broke down in tears talking about how much the win meant to his team.

The Cornhuskers are a hard-working bunch, laying the foundation for a program to compete with Big 12 powers. They go to work every day, and plow and sweat to get better and compete with the best teams. And nobody works any harder to win. Nebraska lays it on the line every game, and they are striving to make every game, and every possession, important.

And Nebraska is not alone. We can argue about which teams are "NCAA tournament worthy", but we also have to respect the effort put in to win, and how much it hurts to lose. These players and coaches are laying their hearts on the line every time they step onto the court."

- JAY BILAS

ESPN College Basketball Analyst following Nebraska's 58-55 win over No. 16 Texas in 2009

"I've seen Doc's teams play for many years. This guy can recruit, he can coach, he stresses academics and he has a great way with people. People gravitate toward him."

- GAR FORMAN

Chicago Bulls, General Manager

"I've had a lot of coaches over my NBA career, some well-respected in the NBA. After watching Doc go through a couple practices over the last few years, I saw that this guy can coach. He can coach and he's very, very good at coaching defense. Defense is what wins basketball games. That shows a lot about Doc Sadler and his ability to coach and get through to players."

- ERIC PIATKOWSKI

13-year NBA veteran and Nebraska Basketball Hall of Famer

"Doc is a very positive person and a person who has done a great job of coaching. His teams play hard and give good effort, and I have great confidence in him."

- TOM OSBORNE

Nebraska Athletic Director

"I think those two things together - a state-of-the-art practice facility and a state-of-the-art arena - will change everything for Nebraska basketball. Of course, we all know that you can have the nicest facility in the world and not have a quality team. That's where Doc comes in. He's one of the best coaches I've seen in a long time."

- DAVE HOPPEN

Six-year NBA veteran and Nebraska Basketball Hall of Famer

MAGICAL EXPERIENCE

Husker fans have created an intimidating environment for visiting teams since the Bob Devaney Sports Center opened 35 years ago. The Huskers own an all-time record of 427-133 (.763) in the building, including a 267-33 (.890) mark vs. non-conference opponents.

Nebraska, which owns a 48-1 home record against non-conference teams under Coach Doc Sadler, has seen its significant home-court advantage increase over the past few years behind the support of the "Red Zone" student section.

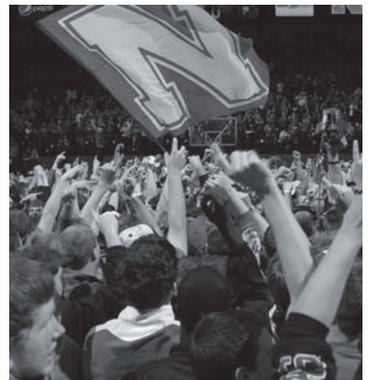

The past four years, the Huskers have averaged more than 10,000 fans per game in conference play, the most since the late 1990s. Last year, Nebraska averaged 11,266 for its eight Big 12 home games, its best average in league play since 1997-98.

“I think it’s one of the toughest places to play in this league. The people of Nebraska understand sports, they understand momentum and they know what a big part they can play in tough situations. They are always there when those times get tough.”

HUSKER POWER

The model strength and conditioning program in the nation, Husker Power plays a major role in the continuing success of Nebraska athletics. Nebraska's strength program was the first in the nation, and with 12 staff members is one of the most comprehensive strength and conditioning organizations in the country.

The Hendricks Training Complex features a new 5,000-square foot weightroom that is used by the men's basketball team on a daily basis. Along with the athletic training room and locker room, it is just steps away from the practice court.

THREE REASONS FOR SUCCESS

PROGRAM - The Husker Power Strength and Conditioning Program is geared for maximum improvement of performance on the basketball court. Each athlete receives his own individual computerized program each year.

SUPERVISION - The Husker Power staff has eight full-time strength and conditioning specialists and four interns. Basketball strength coach Tim Wilson is devoted to working directly with the basketball program to help Husker athletes prepare for a successful career on the court. Prior to working at Nebraska, he worked with the Milwaukee Bucks for 11 years and at the University of Oregon.

FACILITIES - The Charles and Romona Myers Performance Center in the Osborne Athletic Complex is the finest all-around athletic facility in the nation, providing athletes with all the tools necessary to achieve at the highest level. Nebraska basketball players now have the Hendricks Training Complex, which opened in October of 2011. The facility has a 5,000-square foot weight room featuring five transformer machines and a strength wall.

Tim Wilson
Basketball Strength Coach

“When you start talking about the training table, life skills, travel, equipment, all of that, we have everything you need to be successful.”

ATHLETIC MEDICINE

Providing expert care to nearly 600 Husker student-athletes, Nebraska features one of the most well-trained and highly skilled athletic medicine staffs in the country.

Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers, Head Athletic Trainer, Physical Therapist Jerry Weber and Men's Basketball Athletic Trainer R.J. Pietig, the 2011-12 Nebraska athletic medicine staff consists of five doctors, two therapist/athletic trainers, eight athletic trainers and six graduate assistant athletic trainers.

Nebraska's team of orthopaedists is led by Chief of Staff Dr. Pat Clare, a nationally respected orthopaedic surgeon with more than 30 years of service to Husker athletics.

R.J. Pietig

Men's Basketball

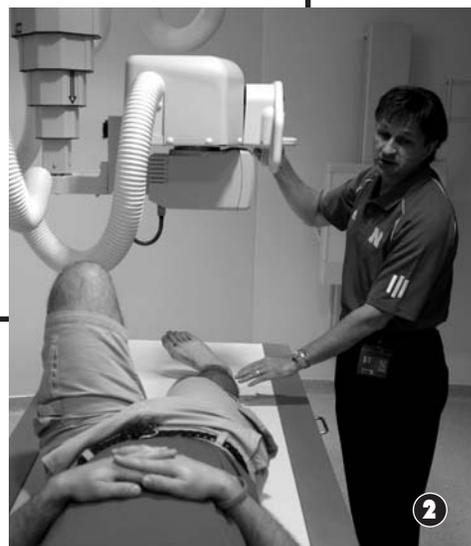

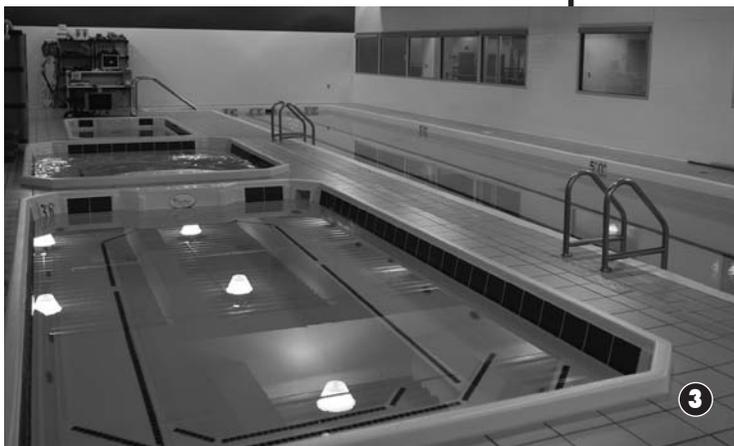

1-3 Husker student-athletes have the benefit of using state-of-the-art equipment for rehabilitation and injury prevention at both the Bob Devaney Sports Center and the Osborne Complex. The training room at the Devaney Center was renovated in 2011, tripling its previous size.

4-5 Nebraska basketball players are cared for on a daily basis by Assistant Athletic Trainer R.J. Pietig, who works to keep athletes physically prepared for practice and games, and provides expert care in rehabilitation services.

6 Assistant Athletic Trainer R.J. Pietig provides individual care for basketball players, helping them safely reach peak performance.

7 In addition to the athletic medicine center at the Devaney Center, student-athletes have access to the finest equipment and rehab area in the country at the Osborne Complex on campus.

8 A leader in preventive care, Nebraska also has cold plunge tanks in the newly-expanded Devaney Center athletic medicine center.

SPORTS NUTRITION

Making solid nutritional choices helps an athlete become stronger and improves game-day performance. NU Sports Nutritionists Josh Hingst and Lindsey Remmers work with all 23 of Nebraska's sports by educating athletes on topics such as gaining weight, losing body fat, staying hydrated, increasing energy and supplement use.

1 The Lewis Training Table was remodeled in the fall of 2010 and is a great location for athletes to utilize the training they receive from the sports nutrition staff.

2 At the Nutritional Oasis at the Hendricks Training Complex basketball players can grab a drink or light snack to help recharge between classes and workouts.

3 The sports nutrition staff keeps the area at the Landing stocked with quality nutritional products for athletes.

4 Student-athletes are given expert direction in how to make smart dietary choices to stay in peak shape during the season.

Media attention is at an all-time high in college basketball and the Huskers have been the beneficiary of a great wave of positive media since Coach Doc Sadler joined the program. The media-savvy Sadler has also endeared himself to the Nebraska public, as he is one of the most engaging speakers in the state.

Nebraska basketball will continue to be in the national spotlight this season as every game will be televised or streamed on BTN.com, including over 20 games broadcast nationally. Every game will be broadcast on a 30-station radio network and carried for free on Huskers.com, with select broadcasts on Sirius XM Satellite Radio.

DEFENSIVE PHILOSOPHY

The Huskers' defensive philosophy under Coach Doc Sadler is a key factor in their success. Sadler's tenacity in recruiting and in the gym should help push Nebraska in that direction.

“Doc Sadler has ensured the Huskers are a competitive group. The challenge now is to make them into a conference title contender. Sadler’s tenacity in recruiting and in the gym should help push Nebraska in that direction.”

HUSKER EQUIPMENT

Nebraska student-athletes are fitted with the finest adidas equipment and clothing as part of the apparel manufacturer's lucrative sponsorship deal with the Nebraska Athletic Department. From head to toe, Husker athletes receive the newest gear to not only look sharp, but to also have the latest technology at their disposal.

Devaney Center Equipment Manager Pat Norris works closely with an on-campus adidas representative to make sure Husker basketball players have everything they need to represent the University in a proper manner. From warmups to workout gear and shoes to winter coats, Norris orders the best fitting, most appropriate gear for the Huskers every season, so they can look their best on and off the court.

THE NATION'S FINEST FACILITIES

Nebraska's top facilities are not limited to the men's basketball program. Nearly every Husker sport enjoys a venue that ranks among the nation's best. Nebraska is dedicated to providing its athletes top-notch game-day and practice atmospheres in every sport.

Between 2009 and 2014, Nebraska is spending over $127 million in new facilities, including the Student Life Center, the Hendricks Training Complex, an expansion of Memorial Stadium and a renovation of the Bob Devaney Sports Center as well as an indoor facility for baseball and softball.

Top: The Osborne Athletic Complex provides Nebraska student-athletes with the nation's best training facilities.

Middle: Nebraska's teams compete in some of the nation's finest facilities in front of large crowds, including the NU Coliseum (left), home of the three-time national champion volleyball team; the Bob Devaney Sports Center (middle), home of NU men's and women's basketball; and Hawks Field (right), home of the perennial power Husker baseball team.

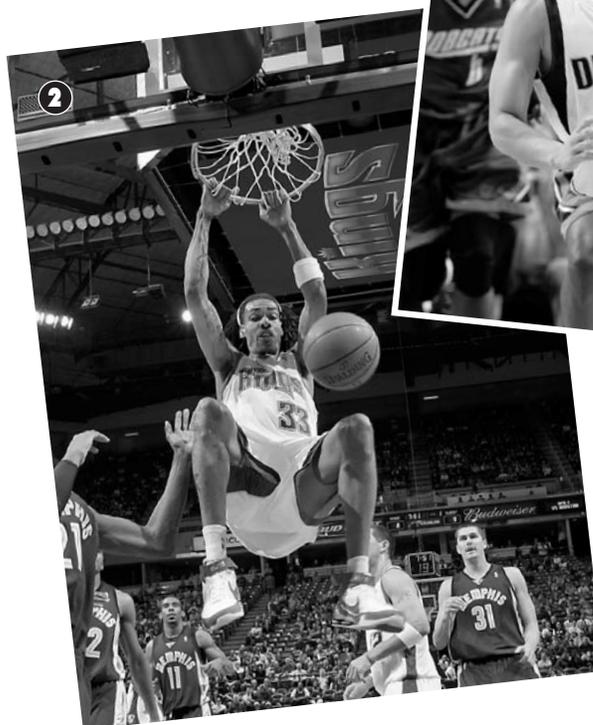

Left: Memorial Stadium has been packed for more than 300 consecutive home games - a continuing NCAA record. Approximately 85,000 fill Memorial Stadium each game, with an electric game-day atmosphere that includes giant HuskerVision replay boards and ribbon boards spanning the east and west balconies.

NBA CONNECTION

Nebraska players have enjoyed significant professional success following their careers as Huskers. Nebraska has had 26 players drafted by teams in the National Basketball Association, including three first-round picks during the 1990s.

Mikki Moore has made a name for himself, spending 12 years in the NBA after being an undrafted free agent out of Nebraska. Moore, who led the NBA in shooting percentage in 2006-07, has played in 557 career games and helped his teams to playoff appearances in two of the past four seasons.

With former NBA veterans Eric Piatkowski, Tyronn Lue and Erick Strickland playing in the league in the last few years, Nebraska has been well represented at the highest level of basketball.

HUSKER COACHES AND THE NBA

During his career, Coach Doc Sadler has recruited or coached 19 players who have gone on to play in the NBA. Sadler personally recruited eight of those players. The Nebraska staff has combined to coach 21 players who went on to play in the league.

1 Tyronn Lue played for seven teams during his 11-year NBA career. During that time, he won two World Championship rings with Kobe Bryant, Shaquille O'Neil and the L.A. Lakers and played beside one of the greatest players in NBA history, Michael Jordan, with the Washington Wizards. Lue is the only league player from the Big 12 era to win multiple NBA titles. In 2008-09, Lue was traded to Orlando before the Magic's run to the NBA championship series. He is currently in his third year on the Boston Celtics coaching staff.

2 During his 12 years in the league, Mikki Moore has played with nine teams. Moore was the first non-drafted player to lead the league in field-goal percentage, as he hit 60.9 percent from the floor for New Jersey in 2006-07.

3 Eric Piatkowski played 13 seasons in the NBA and set the L.A. Clippers' club record for 3-pointers made. After retiring following the 2007-08 campaign. He served as a color analyst for Nebraska television games on Fox Sports Midwest the last two seasons.

4 Erick Strickland played nine years in the NBA after entering the league as an undrafted free agent.

5 Rich King was a 1991 first-round draft pick after helping NU to a school-record 26 wins and an NCAA Tournament appearance as a senior.

6 Nebraska's all-time leading scorer, Dave Hoppen was the second pick of the 1988 expansion draft by the Charlotte Hornets.

7 Husker great Stu Lantz played eight years in the NBA, twice averaging more than 18 points per game for a season.

8 Fans at the Devaney Center can check out an exhibit with the memorabilia for all former Huskers who played in the NBA.

Through the years, Nebraska has had 26 players drafted by teams in the National Basketball Association.

In the 1990s, Nebraska had three first-round selections in the NBA Draft. Rich King was the 14th selection in 1991, Eric Piatkowski was picked 15th overall in 1994 and Tyronn Lue, who entered the draft following his junior season, was selected 23rd overall in 1998.

HUSKER CENTURY

Three numbers for Nebraska men's basketball and two on the women's side have been retired. Eric Piatkowski was the most recent honoree to have his number retired in 2006.

Entering the 116th year of Husker basketball, the Nebraska program has collected nearly 1,400 wins and 23 all-time postseason appearances.

The Huskers are looking to build on two of the strongest decades in school history. Nebraska has averaged more than 18 wins per season over the past quarter century, while making 15 postseason tournaments during that span. Thirteen of the school's 25 1,000-point scorers have also played for the Huskers since 1990.

HUSKER PROGRAM QUICK FACTS

- The Cornhuskers own 1,387 all-time victories, including 12 20-win seasons. Nebraska's last 20-win season came in 2007-08, as Coach Doc Sadler led NU to a 20-13 record and the second round of the National Invitation Tournament.
- Nebraska has made 23 appearances in the postseason, including six NCAA berths and 17 trips to the NIT. All but two of the postseason appearances have come since 1980.
- Overall, 25 Huskers have topped the 1,000-point mark in program history, most recently Ryan Anderson in 2010. Herschell Turner was the first to accomplish the feat in 1960.
- Dave Hoppen owns the school record with 2,167 points between 1983 and 1986. He is the only 2,000-point scorer in school history.

Danny Nee, Nebraska's all-time winningest coach

1897-1906

Nebraska posted a 59-26 (.694) record in its first decade of basketball, including three perfect seasons. In those 10 years, the Huskers were coached by Frank Lehmer, T.P. Hewitt, E. Berry, Fred Morrell, Walter Hiltner and R.G. Clapp.

1907-16

The last five teams of the Huskers' second decade all posted winning records. The 1911-12 team won the school's first Missouri Valley Conference title and then repeated as champs in 1912-13 and 1913-14.

1917-1926

Nebraska fashioned its first-ever 20-win season in 1919-20, finishing 22-2 and setting a school record for wins that stood until 1990-91. During the decade, Nebraska was 111-71 (.610) and had six winning campaigns.

1927-1936

NU opened the decade in the Nebraska Coliseum, but finished under .500 at home in 1925-26. In 1928-29, Nebraska joined Missouri, Kansas, Kansas State, Iowa State and Oklahoma to form the Big Six Conference.

1937-1946

Nebraska's record of 65-120 (.351) in the decade was its worst ever. Twice, in 1943-44 and 1944-45, the Huskers mustered only two wins. Sid Held and Don Fitz earned first-team All-Big Six honors in 1940-41.

1947-1956

The Huskers were 102-141 (.420) in the decade. However, the 1948-49 team tied for first in the Big Seven Conference and beat Oklahoma to advance to the NCAA District Tournament. Claude Retherford was a first-team All-Big Seven pick that season and led the team in scoring. In 1949-50, Bus Whitehead earned first-team all-conference honors as Nebraska tied Kansas and Kansas State for the Big Seven championship.

1957-66

The Huskers' 20-5 record in 1965-66 was their first 20-win season since 1919-20. Stuart Lantz, who finished second to KU's Jo Jo White in the Sophomore-of-the-Year balloting, would go on to become a third-round NBA draft pick. For the decade, NU was 102-142 (.418).

1967-1976

Nebraska finished above .500 for the decade with a 147-111 (.570) record. Marvin Stewart was first player to average 20 points in a season in 1970-71. The Huskers opened Bob Devaney Sports Center in 1976-77 season. Jerry Fort earned three straight first-team all-conference awards from 1974 to 1976.

1977-1986

The Cornhuskers posted a 175-119 (.595) record in the decade, including a 15-14 ledger in 1976-77, the first season at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. In 1977-78, the Huskers earned their second postseason tournament bid and first since 1966-67, advancing to the second round of the NIT. NU posted 20 wins twice during the decade (1977-78, 1982-83).

1987-1996

The Huskers enjoyed their most successful decade, winning 20-or-more games five times. Nebraska advanced to the NCAA Tournament four times, won its first-ever Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament trophy in 1994 and captured the NIT Championship in 1996. For the decade NU was 185-131 (.585).

1997-2006

Nebraska continued its success while starting its second century of play. The Huskers added a pair of 20-win seasons as NU was also one of just 15 schools to appear in nine consecutive postseason tournaments from 1991 to 1999.

2007-PRESENT

Nebraska posted back-to-back winning seasons to open the frame, including adding the program's 12th 20-win campaign. Under Doc Sadler, Nebraska has made postseason appearances in three of the last four seasons. Aleks Maric was an all-conference selection in 2007-08 and the first Husker ever with 1,600 points and 1,000 rebounds.

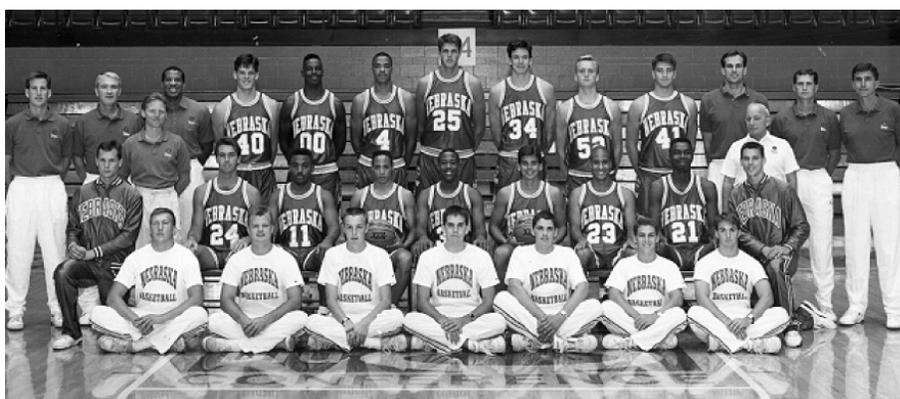

Sixth-year coach Doc Sadler has helped Nebraska reach the postseason NIT three times in the last four years

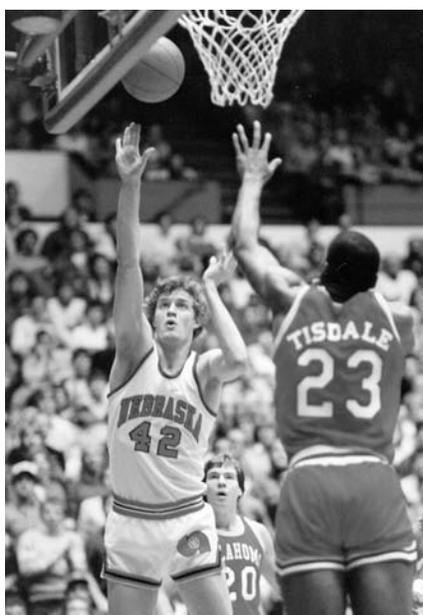

"I'm really psyched about the direction the program is going. I follow the Huskers as much as I can, but being in Connecticut, everyone is crazy about UConn. I saw that program turn around back when (UConn coach) Jim Calhoun took over in 1986. They had a rough first couple of years, but they got better and better, making it to the NIT, then the NCAA Tournament and before we knew it, they were winning national championships. It takes effort from coaches, players, alumni and fans. There's a certain kind of formula that worked there, and it's what I'm starting to see here with Doc."

- JERRY FORT

No. 3 on Nebraska's all-time scoring chart

Nebraska's winningest team in program history, the 1990-91 Cornhusker squad won 26 games and had a pair of eventual first-round NBA selections.

Dave Hoppen is Nebraska's all-time leading scorer and helped the Huskers to four straight postseason appearances.

Nebraska won the 1994 Big Eight Tournament title on its way to a fourth consecutive NCAA Tournament bid.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

The success of Nebraska student-athletes reaches far beyond athletic competition. More Husker student-athletes have been selected to CoSIDA Academic All-America teams (291) than any other school in the nation, and Nebraska has produced more NCAA Top Eight Award winners (16) than any other school. As it enters its first season of Big Ten Conference competition in 2011-12, Nebraska continues to set the standard for the approximately 1,400 NCAA member institutions.

ACADEMIC TRADITION GROWS IN 2010-11

Husker student-athletes produced another stellar year at the University of Nebraska, continuing NU's tradition of academic success. Nebraska increased its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans across all sports to 291 with a Big 12 and Big Ten Conference-leading 14 honorees in 2010-11. Nebraska also set Big 12 records with 192 academic all-conference selections and 688 picks to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll during the year.

Track and field All-Americans Nicholas Gordon and Natalie Willer led an impressive season for Coach Gary Pepin's program. Gordon, a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American and the 2009 NCAA indoor long jump champion, claimed Nebraska's Male Student-Athlete-of-the-Year award. A two-time Big 12 long jump champion and a five-time All-American, the senior from Kingston, Jamaica, was a three-time first-team academic all-conference selection as a political science major. Willer, a three-time All-American and four-time Big 12 pole vault champion, added Female Student-Athlete-of-the-Year honors. Willer also joined Gordon as a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American in 2011. The biological sciences major from Elkhorn, Neb., was one of three Huskers across all sports to earn prestigious $7,500 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, joining softball's Julie Brechtel and rifle's Ryann McGough. Willer also received a $7,500 Dr. Prentice Gault Big 12 Postgraduate Scholarship.

Gordon, Willer and fellow two-time track and field Academic All-American Bjorn Barrefors headlined an impressive class of 14 Husker Academic All-Americans in 2010-11. Barrefors, who earned first-team honors, joined Gordon, Adam Dailey, Tyler Hitchler and Nate Polacek on the men's track and field/cross country Academic All-America team. The Husker men's track and field program led all sports nationally in CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in 2010-11, while tying the NU record for most Academic All-Americans in one season by a Husker program (1997 football). The women's track and field team added Willer (first team) and Ashley Miller (second team) as CoSIDA Academic All-Americans.

Safety Austin Cassidy earned first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors to become the 99th Husker football Academic All-American. Softball players Ashley Hagemann and Nikki Haget, who were also high school teammates, added CoSIDA Academic All-America honors of their own, along with wrestler Tucker Lane, soccer player Morgan Marlborough, rifle team member Ryann McGough and baseball player Casey Hauptman. The pitcher from Omaha who was a 26th round pick of the New York Mets in the 2011 MLB Draft became the 10th Husker baseball player since 2001 to earn CoSIDA Academic All-America honors. He also earned a $7,500 Dr. Prentice Gault Big 12 Postgraduate Scholarship.

ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

NEBRASKA'S ATHLETIC/ACADEMIC COUNSELING – A NATIONAL LEADER

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers.

Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is comprised of 13 full-time staff members and a tutorial staff of approximately 70 tutors addressing all subject areas.

ACADEMIC COUNSELING

Eight academic counselors and three assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation. Essentially, academic counselors assist student-athletes in navigating the University of Nebraska system.

Tutorial Support

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support is available from day one up to college graduation. Subject and mentor tutors help provide academic support and study strategies to be successful. Supplemental Instruction, a sub-component of the tutorial program, provides targeted group review sessions to help ease the transition to college academics while improving study strategies and building academic self-esteem.

Study Hall

There are two facets to the study hall program at Nebraska. Student-athletes either attend a structured study hall, typically two hours in length held four days a week, or have flex time where they study a specific number of hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. Weekly study hall reports are provided to the coaching staff.

Mentoring

Many student-athletes meet with a mentor on a weekly basis to assist in making a smooth transition from high school to college. Mentors collect syllabi, gather and report academic progress information and teach academic success strategies.

Educational Assessments

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach to determine student strengths and areas for improvement. Results allow academic counselors to develop a personalized academic support program and to determine if more in-depth testing is warranted. When additional assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined that a student-athlete has a learning disability, appropriate accommodations are made through the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

Multi-Cultural Programs

Designed to enhance cultural awareness, staff members concentrate efforts on issues of transition, adjustment and retention for students of color, international students and women. These support programs include Ladies First, International Night and Your Degree First. Your Degree First is a program designed to assist, motivate and promote minority student-athletes in pursuing the degree of their choice.

Student-Athlete Orientation

The academic staff coordinates New Student-Athlete Orientation to help newcomers adjust to the multiple demands of being a college student-athlete. Presentations are made by academic counselors, compliance officials, NU faculty and administrators, business/community professionals and student-athletes.

Personal Counseling

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

Computer Resources

Student-athletes enjoy a new state-of-the-art computer lab and technology center with nearly 60 computers and professional supervision. Laptops are also available during team travel. Student-athletes have the benefit of ongoing education and assistance from a full-time computer technician.

LIFE SKILLS

To provide proactive education, resources and support throughout college and beyond, best preparing Husker student-athletes for life after sports. Services will foster transition, retention, responsible decision-making, leadership, volunteerism and career development.

Nebraska has long been considered a pioneer in life skills support and programming. In 1998, Nebraska was one of five Division I schools nationally to win the prestigious Program of Excellence Award recognizing a strong commitment to total person development. In 2005, Keith Zimmer, Associate A.D. for Life Skills, was the recipient of the Dr. Gene Hooks Award recognizing him as the top life skills administrator in the country.

LIFE SKILLS COMPONENTS

Proactive Education

Husker Life Seminar – All incoming student-athletes complete a 16-week fall semester seminar addressing a variety of life skills topics ranging from leadership to money to relationships and study skills. Team Workshops – Campus and community experts facilitate team-specific life skills education workshops. Student-Athlete Assemblies – Meetings featuring remarks from Athletic Director Tom Osborne and nationally recognized life skills trainers.

Personalized Support/Individual Sessions

Resume Development – Each student-athlete works individually with a life skills staff member to create a personalized resume with periodic follow-up meetings to make updates through graduation. Game Plan Creation – Life skills counselors will create a “Game Plan for Life” outlining specific goals and objectives to be completed to enhance marketability prior to college graduation. Sports Psychology/Performance Enhancement – Sports psychology resources are available to assist with performance enhancement.

Community Outreach

Nebraska student-athletes combine to impact over 100,000 people statewide on an annual basis. Team Service Requirement – Each team participates in a minimum of two service projects per year. School Outreach – Individuals participate in numerous school outreach campaigns in both classroom and assembly settings. Hospital Visits – Huskers are frequent hospital visitors providing cheer and encouragement to a variety of patients. Mondays Matter – Monday evening outreach to various local community agencies placing athletics in the proper perspective. Miscellaneous Outreach – Outreach requests are received daily from the entire state requesting involvement from Husker student-athletes. Mentoring Programs – Typically requires one hour of service per week serving as a youth mentor.

Leadership/Citizenship

Life Skills promotes leadership development and provides recognition opportunities for extraordinary citizenship. Student-Athlete Advisory Committee – Elected team representatives from each of the 23 sports serve as the “voice” of the entire student-athlete population discussing student-athlete welfare, legislation and service events. Your Degree First – Leadership group providing programming and specialized support to student-athletes of color, women and international student-athletes. HERO Leadership Award – Individual recognition to Huskers who have consistently gone above and beyond serving as exemplary role models. Brook Berringer Citizenship Team – Annual “Good Works” team honoring football players for dedicated service in memory of late Husker Brook Berringer. Life Skills Award of Excellence – Presented to the single men’s and women’s team who scores the highest point total in the year long life skills team competition.

Career Commitment

In addition to the creation of a personalized resume and game plan, the following career resources are available to every Husker. Student-Athlete Career Fair – Attended by approximately 25 companies. Networking/Nexpo Night – Former Huskers and every UNL college educate student-athletes about major and career options. Assessments – On-line assessments to help individuals discover talents and match with a major and career. Practical Experience – Programs in place to facilitate shadowing and internship placements. Job Preparation – Expert advice on cover letter writing, interviewing skills and evaluating the job offer.

Postgraduate Assistance

Commitment to helping student-athletes pursue postgraduate plans and scholarships. Career Nights – Learn from the experts to gain valuable insight on timelines, application procedures, entrance requirements, personal essays and more. Scholarships – Seniors in their final season of athletic eligibility can apply for numerous postgraduate awards.

- 1 Every athlete who letters in a varsity sport and graduates from Nebraska is recognized in the Hall of Distinction.
- 2 Dylan Talley works with one of the tutors in the Student Life Complex. Senior Associate A.D. Dennis Leblanc and his staff keep track of the Huskers’ classroom performance.
- 3 Jorge Brian Diaz and the Huskers participate in the JDRF Walk for a Cure in September.
- 4 Husker athletes, such as Cory Hilliard Jr., routinely participate in Life Skills events outside the classroom and campus, giving the athletes a chance to view the world from a different perspective.
- 5 Nebraska student-athletes, such as Brandon Richardson, continually prepare for life after basketball at functions like the business and career fairs presented by the Life Skills Department.
- 6 Andre Almeida signs an autograph at the JDRF Walk for a Cure.

LEADING THE WAY

As one of the nation's premier public institutions, the University of Nebraska is committed to undergraduate learning and world-class research. Quality instruction is emphasized in Nebraska's 157 undergraduate majors, which are spread through nine undergraduate colleges.

Nebraska, which officially joined the Big Ten Conference on July 1, 2011, is a member of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation, a consortium of Big Ten universities and the University of Chicago, which has generated unique opportunities for students and faculty by sharing expertise, leveraging resources and collaborating on programs.

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Nebraska Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. Founded in Lincoln, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a state educational system now comprising four campuses under the guidance of a Board of Regents and a central administration.

OMAHA

Nebraska's largest city, Omaha, is less than an hour's drive from Lincoln and has a population of nearly 800,000. Omaha is home to CenturyLink Center (top), TD Ameritrade Park (above), the NCAA College World Series, the world-renowned Henry Doorly Zoo (bottom) and the Joslyn Art Museum (bottom)

NATIONAL POWERS

One of the nation's premier athletic programs, Nebraska is dedicated to and successful in all 23 of its varsity sports. Nebraska has won a total of 24 team national championships since 1970, including five football titles, eight men's gymnastics championships, five bowling crowns, three volleyball titles and three women's track and field championships. In 2010-11, eight Husker teams finished among the top 20 in their respective sports.

NU had 15 teams advance to postseason action in 2010-11, including the Husker football team's appearance in the 2010 Holiday Bowl. The bowling team finished third at the 2011 NCAA Championships, while the women's gymnastics team matched the best finish in school history with a fourth-place showing at the 2011 NCAA Super Six. The Husker volleyball team finished seventh in the final AVCA national poll, while the men's gymnastics team added a 10th-place finish at the NCAA Championships. The Nebraska wrestling team added a second straight 12th-place finish at the NCAA Championships behind the dominance of two-time undefeated NCAA champion Jordan Burroughs. The Nebraska football team, men's and women's indoor track and field teams and the NU softball team all added top-25 national finishes in 2010-11.

While Nebraska's teams continued to perform at the highest levels, individual Husker athletes also earned national honors. Jordan Burroughs became Nebraska's first-ever two-time NCAA wrestling champion and claimed the Huskers' first-ever Hodge Trophy presented to the nation's most outstanding wrestler. Cornerback Prince Amukamara claimed first-team All-America honors after being named the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year. He went on to a first-round selection in the 2011 NFL Draft. Hannah Werth added Big 12 Defensive Player-of-the-Year honors of her own for the NU volleyball team, while soccer's Morgan Marlborough was named the Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year.

Several Nebraska newcomers also made major impacts at the conference and national levels in 2010-11. Junior linebacker Lavonte David was named the Big 12 Newcomer of the Year, while Lauren Cook added the same award for the Huskers in volleyball. Quarterback Taylor Martinez claimed the Big 12 Offensive Freshman-of-the-Year award, while women's track and field competitor Mara Griva was named the Big 12 Outstanding Freshman.

Overall in 2010-11, 40 Nebraska student-athletes combined to capture 51 All-America awards across all sports. Among NU's 40 All-Americans, 23 are expected to return for the Huskers during their inaugural Big Ten campaign in 2011-12.

Above: Jordan Burroughs became Nebraska's first two-time NCAA wrestling champion in 2011. The 165-pounder from Sicklerville, N.J., produced a pair of undefeated national championship seasons in 2009 (157 pounds) and 2011. Burroughs, a three-time All-American, was also Nebraska's first winner of the Hodge Trophy, presented to the nation's most outstanding wrestler.

Top: Point guard Lance Jeter led the Nebraska men's basketball team to postseason play, while helping the Huskers produce 17 home victories at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Jeter earned All-Big 12 honors while claiming a spot on the USBWA All-District Team.

Bottom: The Nebraska women's track and field team captured the 2011 Big 12 Indoor title. It was NU's 103rd track and field conference crown in history. In 2010-11, 18 Husker men's and women's track and field athletes combined for 26 first- and second-team All-America awards.

NEBRASKA'S TOP 25 NATIONAL FINISHES IN 2010-11

Bowling	3rd
Women's Gymnastics	4th
Volleyball	7th
Men's Gymnastics	10th
Wrestling	12th
Football	17th
Women's Indoor Track & Field	17th
Men's Indoor Track & Field	20th (Tie)
Softball	21st

Top left: The Nebraska women's gymnastics team matched its best finish in school history by taking fourth at the 2011 NCAA Championships. The Huskers rolled to their 10th NCAA Super Six appearance after capturing the 2011 Big 12 Conference title. Nine Huskers combined for 11 All-America awards at the NCAA Championships.

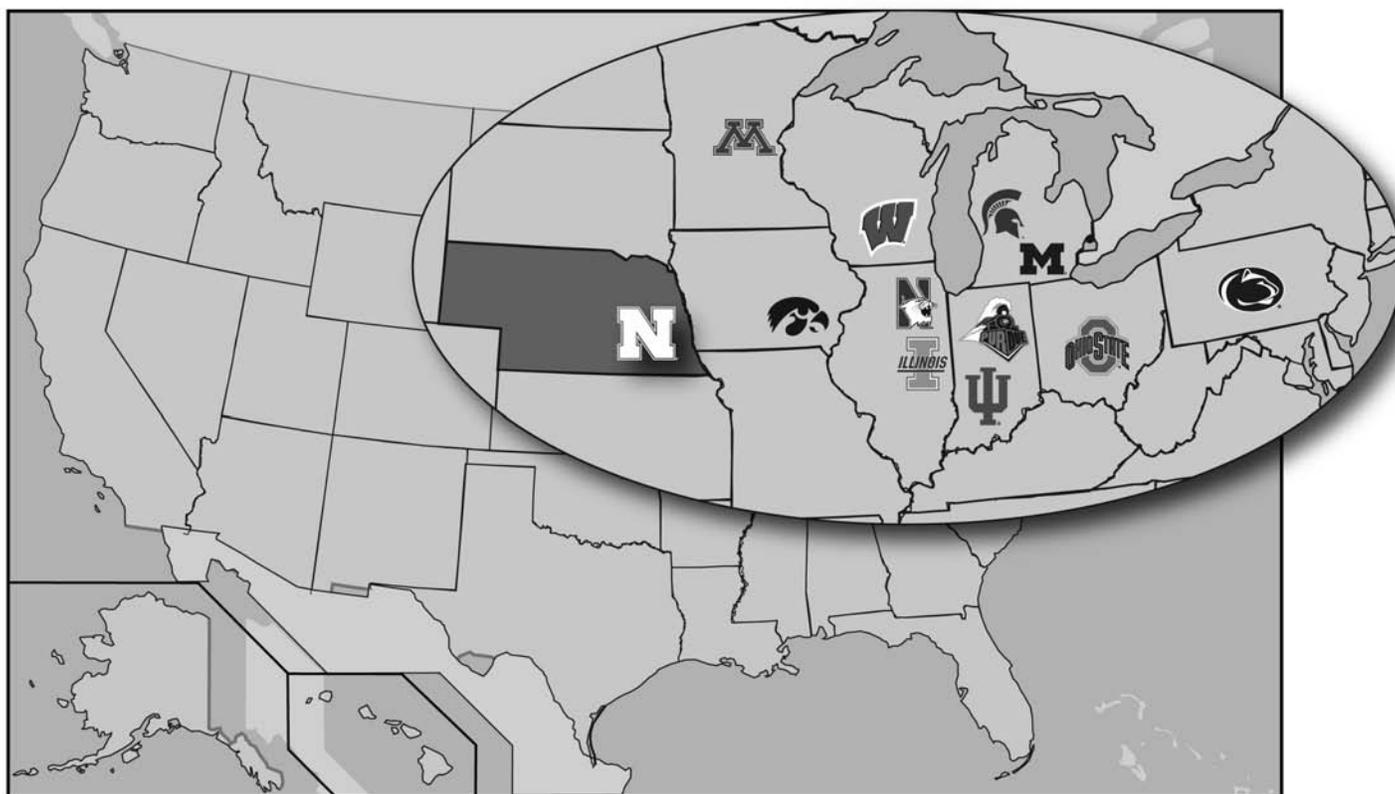

Top: Brooke Delano led a trio of All-Americans for the Nebraska volleyball team in 2010. The Huskers captured the Big 12 Conference crown while finishing with a 29-3 record. Nebraska advanced to the round of 16 in the NCAA Tournament while finishing with a No. 7 national ranking.

Bottom: Taylor Edwards made an immediate impact on the Nebraska softball program in 2011. The catcher from Murrieta, Calif., smashed Husker freshman home run and RBI records while claiming All-America honors. Taylor and her twin sister Tatum formed the nucleus of an explosive lineup that led the Huskers to a 40-win season and an NCAA Regional berth.

Top: Morgan Marlborough earned Big 12 Offensive Player-of-the-Year honors for the second straight season in 2010, before adding NSCAA All-America accolades. Nebraska soccer's 17th All-American, Marlborough heads into her junior season in 2011 ranked eighth in school history in career points (97), needing 70 to match Christine Latham's school record.

Bottom: Third baseman Cody Asche captured All-America honors before being chosen in the fourth round of the 2011 Major League Baseball First-Year Players Draft by the Philadelphia Phillies. The Huskers have had 70 players chosen in the MLB Draft since 2000, an average of six per season.

BIG RED IN THE BIG TEN

On July 1, 2010, the University of Nebraska became an official member of the Big Ten Conference, increasing the Big Ten's membership to 12 institutions for the first time in conference history. The addition of Nebraska marks the Big Ten's first expansion since Penn State University joined the conference in June of 1990. The Big Ten Conference is a union of 12 world-class academic institutions – who share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. The conference's 100-plus years of history, strong tradition of competitive intercollegiate athletic programs, vast and passionate alumni base, and consistent leadership in innovations position the Big Ten and its entire community firmly on the Big Stage.

The Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness in all aspects of its student-athletes' lives, with the ultimate goal of ensuring that each individual has the opportunity to live a Big Life.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

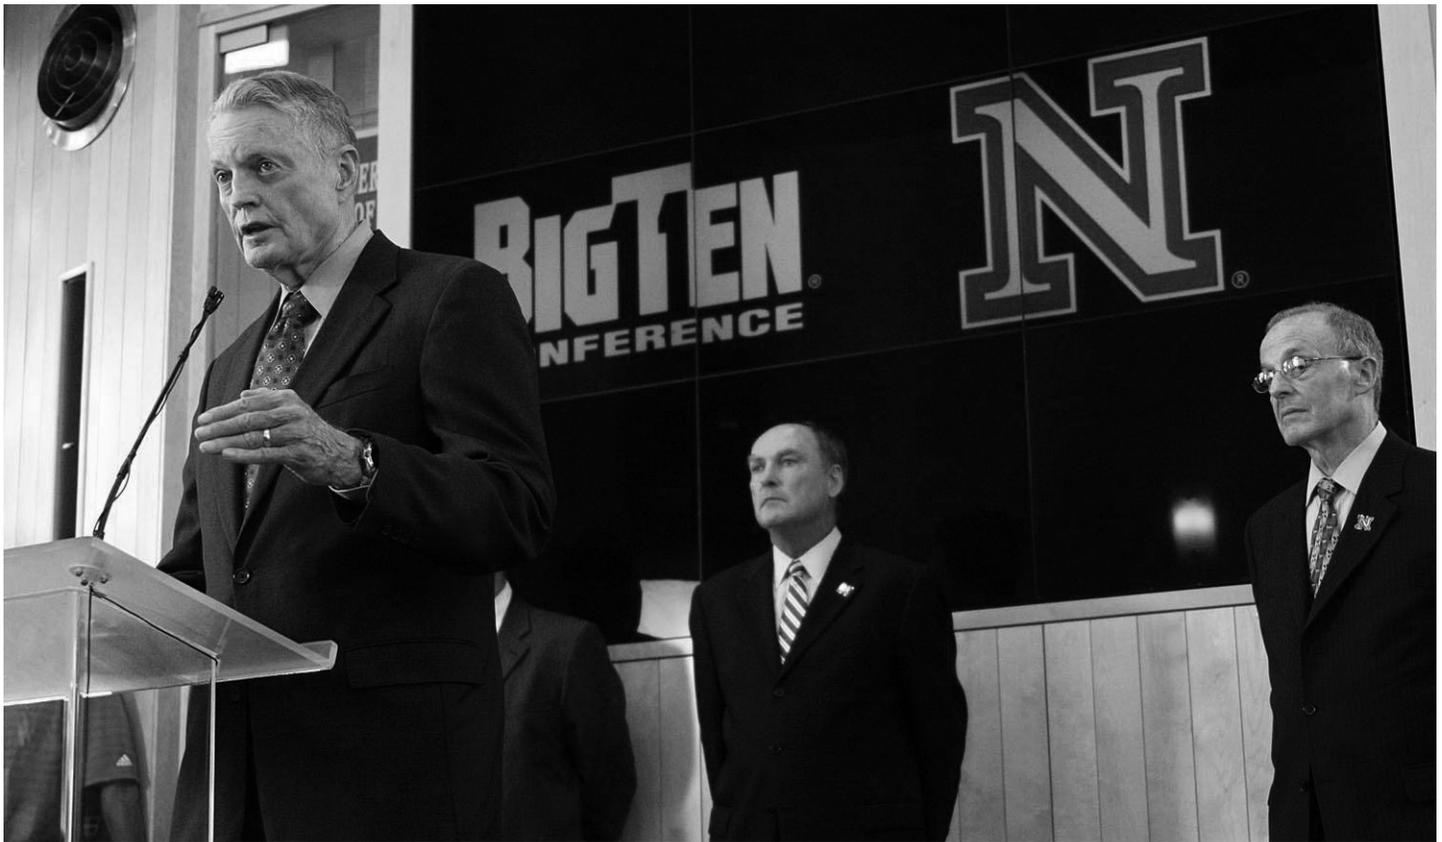

- Big Ten universities provide approximately $120 million in direct financial aid to more than 9,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships.
- Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with 298 teams. Other than the Ivy League, the Big Ten has the most broad-based athletic programs in the United States.
- Big Ten fans are some of the nation's most supportive, with nearly nine million patrons attending conference home contests for football, men's and women's basketball and volleyball during 2010-11. In 2010, the Big Ten set attendance records for overall and average attendance in conference football games. In men's basketball, the Big Ten led the nation in average home attendance for the 35th straight season, while Big Ten women's volleyball also led the nation in total home attendance.

BIG™

- Over the last 32 seasons, the conference has ranked either No. 1 or No. 2 nationally in football, men's basketball and wrestling attendance.
- Big Ten institutions have approximately five million living alumni and nearly 350,000 undergraduate students attending their universities.
- Based on the U.S. Census projected population for 2010, the nine-state Big Ten region accounts for approximately 70 million people, which ranks second only to the Big East and well ahead of the ACC, SEC, Pac-10 and Big 12.

“Nebraska is a great addition to our league as another strong state school with a passionate following like so many in our conference. Doc Sadler is a great, defensive-minded coach from the Eddie Sutton coaching tree just like coach (Gene) Keady, and his teams will always play hard and be a difficult opponent.”

- ILLINOIS COACH BRUCE WEBER

Nebraska Athletic Director Tom Osborne (left) joined Big Ten Commissioner James Delany (middle) and UNL Chancellor Harvey Perlman (right) as the Huskers were announced as the newest member of the league starting on July 1, 2011.

BIG TEN NETWORK

Headquartered in Chicago, the Big Ten Network is the first internationally distributed television network dedicated to covering one of America's premier collegiate conferences.

With more than 350 live sports events, and virtually all of them in high definition, the Big Ten Network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country. The network is on the air 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

The network is available to an estimated 75 million households, through agreements with more than 300 cable/satellite affiliates and appears in 19 of the nation's top 20 media markets.

BIG TEN NETWORK FACTS

- The Big Ten's media agreements with CBS Sports, ABC/ESPN, the Big Ten Network and CBS College Sports Network provide the conference with its greatest television exposure ever.
- In 2006, the Big Ten created the first national conference-owned television network devoted to the athletic and academic programs of a single conference. The Big Ten Network launched on Aug. 30, 2007, and became the first new network in cable or satellite television history to reach 30 million homes in its first 30 days.
- Since the current media agreements began in 2007-08, every home football and men's basketball game has been produced while women's basketball has received more coverage than any other conference.
- The Big Ten's new media agreements have resulted in the broadcast of more than 850 events nationally and regionally on an annual basis, compared to 300 events in the final year of the previous agreements.

Conoco Fieldhouse in Indianapolis is the home of the annual Big Ten Men's Basketball Tournament.

BIG TEN BASKETBALL

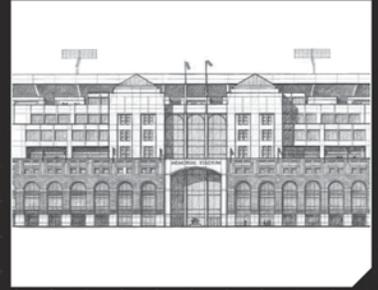

- Big Ten programs have combined for 10 men's NCAA basketball titles in their history and four programs have played in the national title game since 2002.
- Big Ten Conference teams have made 41 Final Four appearances, including five appearances in the last seven seasons. That is second only to the Big East among all conferences.
- Since 2000, the Big Ten Conference has sent nine teams to the Final Four, second only to the ACC in that span.
- Big Ten Conference teams have combined for 320 victories in the NCAA Tournament.
- The Big Ten has led the nation in men's basketball attendance every year since 1978, and had six teams ranked in the top-20 nationally in attendance in 2010-11.
- The Big Ten annually places an average of eight basketball teams in postseason tournaments and has totaled 50 NCAA Tournament berths since 2001. Last year, the Big Ten was second among all conferences with seven NCAA bids.

It's an unprecedented time for the University of Nebraska. Facilities have a big impact on recruiting, and we believe all four projects merit the investments. Let's join together and give our student-athletes the Ultimate Competitive Advantage.

2011-12 SEASON OUTLOOK

Junior center Jorge Brian Diaz produced double figures 17 times in 2010-11, including an 18-point, 11-rebound effort against Iowa State. Diaz ranks 10th on Nebraska's career blocked shot list with 79.

For Doc Sadler, there is truly no substitute for experience, and that is an encouraging sign for the hopes of the Husker men's basketball program this season. Nebraska returns its most experienced team in Sadler's tenure at Nebraska, welcoming back four starters and nine letterwinners from a team that went 19-13 and reached the NIT for the third time in the last four seasons.

Seven of the nine returnees have been at Nebraska at least three seasons, including fifth-year seniors Toney McCray and Brandon Richardson, and five of the nine players have started at least 25 games in the Husker program.

"Anytime you have a team coming back with experience, it is nothing but a benefit," said Sadler, who begins his sixth season on the Nebraska sideline. "Our guys understand that if we could have done one or two more things better, because we were so close, it could have made a difference (in making the NCAA Tournament in 2010-11). When we talk with them about the sense of urgency, they have a better sense of understanding what that means because of the position we were in a year ago."

Sadler believes that the lessons learned in the wins and losses over the past three years could play a vital role in helping Nebraska reach the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1998. Two years ago, many of the players suffered through a disappointing 15-18 campaign before helping the Huskers rebound in 2010-11, improving by five games in league play.

On the court, the Huskers return six of their top seven scorers and over 65 percent of their scoring and rebounding from a year ago, but Sadler believes the biggest benefit of that experience is the leadership provided from the five members of the senior class.

All that experience will be necessary, as the Huskers begin their first year in the Big Ten Conference, a league that sent seven teams to the NCAA Tournament in 2011 and returns two first-team All-Americans.

"The leadership of this team has been good and a lot of that is because of the seniors we have," Sadler said. "They have been there, and they understand it. They are able to relay the message that we are trying to send to the younger guys that 'what they are saying is right.' It has spilled over to the summer training and to the fall workouts."

While Sadler will rely on his veterans, he is also encouraged by the progress of his four scholarship newcomers, led by junior college transfer Dylan Talley.

"It is as talented a group of newcomers as we have had in the limited opportunities we have worked with them," Sadler said. "Dylan has had success at the Division I level and had a very good year in junior college, so we are hoping that will lead to a shorter transition to this level than a typical junior college transfer, while all three of our freshman bring something to the table. The thing that has impressed me most about them is their mental toughness. They all come from winning backgrounds, they understand the little things that make a difference between winning and losing and they are showing they can do that."

FRONTCOURT

The Huskers have ample experience in the post with the return of juniors Jorge Brian Diaz and Brandon Ubel, along with senior Andre Almeida and junior Christopher Niemann.

Diaz put together a solid sophomore campaign, averaging 10.5 points on 54 percent shooting, 4.4 rebounds and 1.2 blocks per game while starting 30 contests. The 6-foot-11 center ranked second on the team in scoring, rebounding and blocked shots, as he raised his numbers across the board from his freshman campaign and showed a soft touch around the basket. Diaz, who was eighth in the Big 12 in blocked shots, also recorded a pair of double-doubles, including a season-high 18 points and 11 rebounds at Iowa State. He produced double figures in 17 contests last year.

Diaz, who has played through foot ailments during his career, is up to 244 pounds, an increase of nearly 30 pounds from when he arrived at Nebraska. The increased strength should help him withstand the rigors of the Big Ten.

Ubel may have been one of the Huskers' best performers down the stretch and looks to continue that momentum into this year. The 6-foot-10 forward started 13 games and averaged 6.1 points on 52 percent shooting and 3.7 rebounds per game as a sophomore, but closed the year by averaging 10.0 points on 58 percent shooting and 6.3 rebounds per game in his final four contests – all against postseason squads. He had 11 points and matched his career high with nine rebounds in a win over No. 22 Missouri and grabbed six rebounds in losses to Oklahoma State and Wichita State. One of the team's best shooters, Ubel looks to extend his range while also continuing to show increased physicality inside.

Almeida made an impact in the paint for the Huskers in his first season, playing in 30 contests and averaging 5.2 points on 56 percent shooting, 3.3 rebounds and a team-high 1.3 blocked shots per game. He ranked sixth in the Big 12 in blocked shots despite averaging just 15 minutes per contest. Almeida, who had a career-high 20 points in his debut and 10 points in a win over No. 3 Texas, has worked hard in the offseason to get in better condition, but has been battling a knee injury that may limit his contributions. If healthy, Almeida could play a pivotal role in the Huskers' success this season.

Niemann saw action for the first time in his college career after recovering from a pair of ACL injuries and arthroscopic surgery in November of 2010. The 6-foot-10, 275-pounder appeared in seven games and had four points and seven rebounds in limited action. Sadler said that Niemann, who is entering his fourth year at Nebraska, is in his best shape since the initial ACL surgery and could contend for minutes in the post.

Redshirt freshman Kye Kurkowski is a walk-on who adds depth on the interior. Kurkowski has added 25 pounds since arriving on campus and has potential to help the Huskers down the road. As a senior at Grant High School, he averaged 12.9 points, 9.2 rebounds and 3.9 blocks per game.

BACKCOURT

The one void in the starting lineup that the Huskers will have to fill is at point guard where Lance Jeter was a two-year starter and a third-team All-Big 12 selection last season. With Jeter playing professionally in Europe, senior Bo Spencer enters the year as the front runner to replace him.

A transfer from LSU, Spencer sat out last year, but was a two-year starter at guard for the Tigers. As a junior, he averaged 14.5 points to rank 15th in the SEC in scoring and dished out 2.7 assists per game while leading the Tigers with 61 3-pointers. As a sophomore, he averaged 11.4 points and 2.6 assists per game as LSU won the SEC regular-season title and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

"He's the one player on this roster who has played in the NCAA Tournament and the guys can feed off of him and learn from him," Sadler said. "Bo understands the sense of urgency. He's gone from a team that made the NCAA Tournament to a team that was less successful, so he knows the difference in doing the little things to be successful."

Spencer will likely have a veteran backcourt mate with senior Brandon Richardson. A three-year letterwinner, Richardson has seen action in 89 career games, but looks to bounce back from an injury-plagued junior year in which he averaged 6.4 points, 2.1 rebounds and 1.8 assists per game. A steady force in the backcourt, Richardson showed his ability to score, recording a career-high 20 points at Texas Tech, one of four games with at least 15 points. He is also one of the Huskers' best free throw shooters, hitting on 83.3 percent for the year, including 88.2 percent in Big 12 play to rank second in the league. If Richardson can regain the shooting touch he displayed as a sophomore, the Huskers' inside game could flourish.

While Richardson, who saw extensive time at the point guard spot the last two years, could see time again at the spot, freshman Corey Hilliard Jr. is another newcomer who could find a spot in the rotation. Hilliard averaged 17.4 points, 3.0 assists, 3.0 rebounds and 1.8 steals per game as a senior at Raytown South to earn second-team all-state honors. An explosive scorer, he was the district MVP as a junior, averaging 15.0 points, 4.5 assists and 1.7 steals per game.

Redshirt freshman Trevor Menke also provides depth at the spot after redshirting last year. He was hampered by a broken foot suffered in practice in early January, which sidelined him for the rest of the season. He was a first-team all-stater performer at Beatrice High School, averaging 14.2 points, 5.1 assists and 2.3 rebounds as a senior in 2009-10.

WINGS

For most of the season, the Huskers went with a four-guard lineup, as Toney McCray and Caleb Walker started on the wings, giving the Huskers an athletic lineup that proved to be successful. Both players are back for their senior seasons, while juniors Ray Gallegos and Talley, along with newcomers Josiah Moore and David Rivers, make this the deepest spot on the 2011-12 roster.

McCray returned to action following elbow surgery and averaged 8.5 points, 4.0 rebounds and 1.0 steals per game despite battling plantar fasciitis at times during the year. He was the primary beneficiary when Nebraska went to a four-guard lineup, averaging 11.5 points per game in Big 12 play to finish second on the team in scoring. The 6-foot-6 guard also ranked among the conference leaders in 3-point shooting percentage (.433, fifth) and steals (1.4, eighth).

Senior Brandon Richardson was second on the team in assists with 57 last year while averaging 6.4 points per game.

Toney McCray enjoyed his best season as a Husker in 2010-11, averaging 8.5 points per game while shooting 40 percent from 3-point range. He raised his average in league play to 11.5 points per game to rank second on the team behind All-Big 12 performer Lance Jeter.

McCray enjoyed the best offensive performance of his career in a loss at Baylor with 23 points, including a trio of 3-pointers, and seven rebounds.

"For Toney, the biggest key is to stay healthy," Sadler said. "He hasn't had a whole year where he is truly healthy and for him to have the year that we need him to have, it is important that he remain healthy."

Another key to the Huskers' success will be the continued development of Walker. The Hutchinson, Kan., native enjoyed a solid first year at Nebraska, averaging 6.0 points and topping the Huskers with 4.5 rebounds per game from his wing position while often being assigned to the opponent's top perimeter scorer. The 6-foot-4 Walker raised his averages across the board in conference action, as he averaged 6.8 points on 51 percent shooting and 4.7 rebounds per game while also shooting 42 percent from 3-point range.

"Sometimes, it takes junior college players a year to make the adjustment to this level, and Caleb did a lot of good things for us last year," Sadler said. "I think you will see more from him because Caleb has worked hard mentally to prepare for this season. He understands what a grind it is, not only physically, but also mentally, and has worked hard in the offseason to put himself in a position for success."

Gallegos has been a valuable backup the past two seasons and could push for playing time at either the guard or wing positions. He averaged 2.8 points and 1.0 rebounds per game as a sophomore and showed glimpses of his scoring potential. He had a career-high 14 points on 7-of-10 shooting against Grambling and averaged 10.6 ppg during Nebraska's final three non-conference games before struggling to find his shooting touch in conference play. One of the team's hardest workers, Sadler believes Gallegos can be an effective scorer. He enters his junior season in the best shape of his career and could be poised for a bounce back season.

Talley brings impressive credentials to the Husker program after earning All-America honors at Blinn College last year. He ranked sixth nationally with 23.0 points per game while also chipping in 5.9 rebounds, 3.8 assists and 1.5 steals per game. Talley was the highest-rated Big Ten recruit by JucoRecruiting.com for the class of 2011, which ranked him 11th nationally. He spent his freshman year at Binghamton University, where he averaged 11.8 points and 3.7 rebounds per game en route to being the America East Conference Rookie of the Year.

Rivers has been a winner throughout his career, as he helped Hall (Ark.) High School to three state titles and a runner-up finish during his prep career. A two-time first-team all-state pick, Rivers was the MVP of the Class 7A (largest class) state tournament following a 19-point, six-rebound effort in the state title game. He averaged 19 points, seven rebounds and three assists per game as a senior and was also ranked among the top 150 prospects in the country by various scouting services.

Moore comes to Nebraska after playing for one of the nation's top high school basketball programs at Norcross (Ga.) High School. Moore averaged 11.1 points, 5.4 rebounds and 2.2 assists per game to earn second-team all-state honors from the state coaches association and third-team honors from the Atlanta Tip-Off Club. Considered one of the best defenders in the state, he also had three games of at least 20 points as a senior, highlighted by a 22-point effort in the state playoffs against Centennial and averaged 5.0 assists per game in the state tournament.

Junior walk-on Mike Fox is the other player who could see time at the spot, as he made seven appearances last year. Fox averaged 1.1 points and 0.9 rebounds per game, hitting all four of his shots and grabbing six rebounds in just 18 minutes of action. Redshirt freshman walk-on Jordan Tyrance will also provide depth at the position, as he averaged 11.1 points, 8.2 rebounds and 2.2 steals per game as a senior at Lincoln Southwest High School two years ago.

2011-12 SCHEDULE

The Huskers will be challenged by a schedule that includes 17 games against teams that played in the postseason a year ago, including non-conference matchups with USC, Oregon and traditional ACC power Wake Forest. Following Nebraska's season opener against South Dakota, the Huskers will play three consecutive games against postseason squads (USC, Rhode Island and Oregon) and will also make treks to Creighton and TCU before the start of Big Ten action.

"This is a schedule you would not want to attempt without an experienced team," Sadler said. "Hopefully, this schedule is going to help us, and we may lose some games early, but our goal is to be playing in March. We want to do everything we can to give ourselves the opportunity to play in the NCAA Tournament."

Nebraska's inaugural season in the Big Ten will pose its fare share of challenges, as seven teams made the NCAA Tournament a year ago and the conference trailed only the Big East in ratings in 2010-11. Nebraska hosts traditional powers Wisconsin and Michigan State to open its first season of Big Ten hoops, as Nebraska's first six conference games are against NCAA Tournament qualifiers.

Caleb Walker led Nebraska with 4.5 rebounds per game and had three games with at least 10 rebounds in 2010-11.

CORNHUSKER NOTEBOOK

Brandon Ubel closed 2010-11 by averaging 10.0 points and 6.3 rebounds in Nebraska's final four contests.

HUSKERS LOOK TO STAY AMONG NATION'S BEST DEFENSES

One hallmark of Nebraska basketball under Doc Sadler is a stout defense, and the Huskers were among the nation's best in 2010-11. Nebraska allowed an average of 60.5 points per game to lead the Big 12 for the third time in the last four seasons and rank 18th nationally. It is the fourth time in Sadler's seven years that his teams have led a league in scoring defense.

Team Scoring Defense Under Doc Sadler

Year	School	Ppg. Allowed	Conf.	NCAA
2004-05	UTEP	65.1	2nd	81st
2005-06	UTEP	59.5	1st	15th

2009-10	Nebraska	65.7	4th	103rd
2010-11	Nebraska	60.5	1st	16th

60 IS THE MAGIC NUMBER

Nebraska's success has been predicated on clamping down on the opposition. Last year, the Huskers held 17 of 32 opponents under 60 points, compiling a 15-2 mark in those games. Nebraska has held 70 opponents to 60 points or less in Doc Sadler's five years at Nebraska, compiling a 62-8 record in those games.

FINDING BALANCE

While defense has been the Huskers' calling card under Doc Sadler, the 2010-11 Huskers proved to be Sadler's most balanced team offensively. With a majority of the team back this season, that balance is likely to continue. Last year, 10 different players led the Huskers in scoring at least once while 11 players reached double figures in at least one contest. Nebraska looks to replace Lance Jeter, who topped NU with 11.7 points per game last year, but six of the seven top scorers are back in the fold this winter. Nebraska also enjoyed good shot selection last year, as its .461 shooting percentage was its best since the 2003-04 campaign.

RICHARDSON AMONG PROGRAM'S BEST FROM THE FOUL LINE

Senior Brandon Richardson has become one of Nebraska's best free throw shooters throughout his Husker career. The Los Angeles, Calif., native ranks third in school history with an .827 career percentage from the charity stripe and is one of only four players in program history to shoot over 80 percent for a career.

Last year, he was second in Big 12 action in league play, hitting .878 of his free throws, including a stretch of 25 consecutive from the line. Throughout his career, he has been his best in late-game situations, going 68-of-73 from the foul line in the final five minutes of games, a remarkable .932 percentage.

NEW CONFERENCE, OLD FOES

Nebraska's addition to the Big Ten Conference provides Husker fans a new set of rivals to get acquainted with this season. While Nebraska has squared off with every Big Ten member in its history, it has been a while since NU has played any of its new conference members. Nebraska's last contest with a Big Ten team was a 58-47 loss to Minnesota on Dec. 8, 2004.

In fact, current Big Ten members have only played at the Devaney Center 17 times since the facility opened in 1976 with the Gophers (seven times) and Michigan State (three times) accounting for more than half of the total.

This season, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois all make their HOME SWEET HOME

Nebraska has been strong on its home court over the years, and will try to continue an impressive run at home under Coach Doc Sadler. In the past five seasons under Sadler, Nebraska has dominated to the tune of a 71-19 record (.789 winning percentage). Last year, Nebraska tied a program record with 17 home wins, going 17-2 in the friendly confines of the Devaney Center.

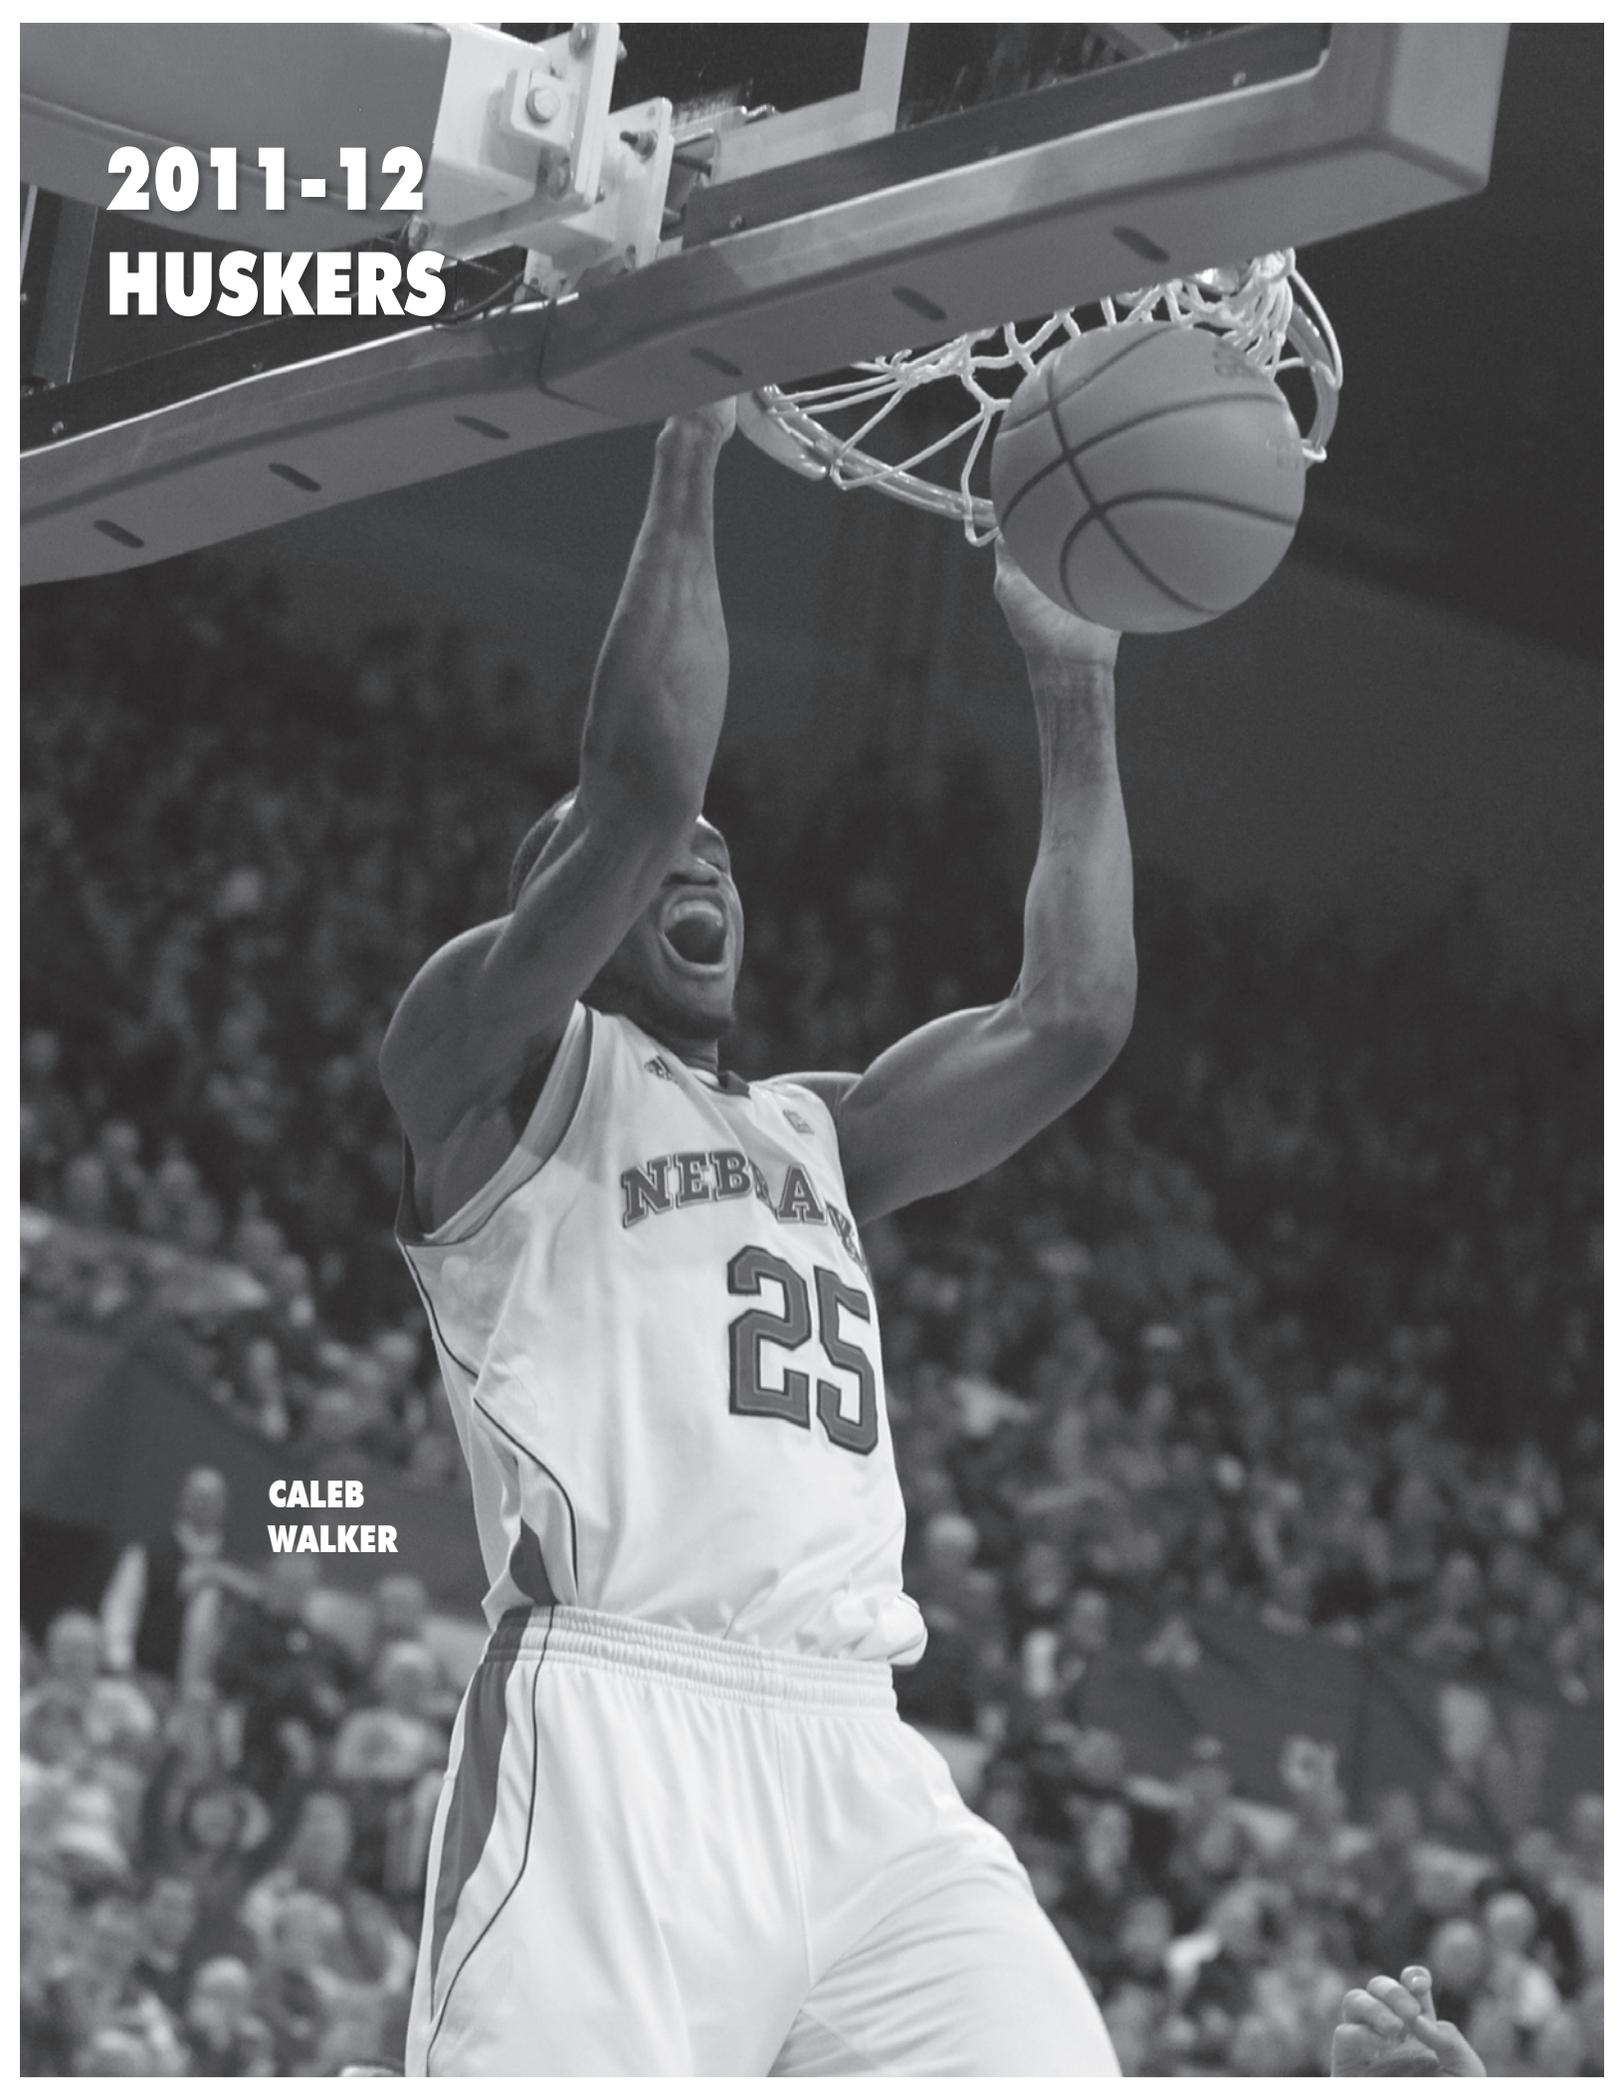

Facing non-conference opponents, the Huskers have been nearly unbeatable at home under Sadler. During his tenure, the team has earned a 48-1 record at the Devaney Center, with the lone loss coming in the 2008-09 season. The Huskers enter the 2011-12 campaign with a 24-game home winning streak against non-conference foes.

Andre Almeida's 1.3 blocked shots per game helped Nebraska rank in the top 20 nationally in scoring defense and field goal percentage defense.

2011-12 (Outlook)

One of the strengths of the Huskers is solid post play, led by junior Jorge Brian Diaz. The 6-foot-11 junior averaged 10.5 points, 4.4 rebounds and 1.2 blocks per game, ranking second on the team in all three categories. The Huskers were 14-3 when Diaz reached double figures in 2010-11, and he is NU's first returning double-figure scorer since the 2007-08 campaign.

Entering this season, he is 10th on Nebraska's career blocked shots list and could become the 15th Husker to reach the 1,000-point plateau in three seasons with a strong junior year. He also enters this season in the best shape of his Husker career, as he had been bothered by foot ailments over the last year, and was fitted for special orthotics in hopes of alleviating the discomfort. After beginning his Husker career at 215 pounds, he has added 30 pounds and increased his strength significantly.

2010-11 (Sophomore)

Diaz put together a solid sophomore year, averaging 10.5 points, 4.4 rebounds and 1.2 blocks per game. He started 30 games and ranked second on the team in scoring, rebounding and blocked shots while shooting 54 percent. Diaz finished eighth in the Big 12 in blocked shots, and had 14 games with at least two blocks.

Diaz reached double figures 17 times, including a stretch of six consecutive games to close out the non-conference schedule, when he averaged 13.2 points on 67 percent shooting. Included in that streak was his first career double-double, a 13-point, 12-rebound effort at TCU.

Diaz keyed NU's win over No. 13 Texas A&M on Jan. 29, scoring 16 points, grabbing five rebounds and blocking a pair of shots. The performance was more notable, as he played after the death of his aunt the day before the game and flew back to Puerto Rico following the game. Diaz overcame a slow start in Big 12 play to average 11.3 points, 4.4 rebounds and 1.6 blocks per game over the Huskers' final eight contests. He began the closing stretch with 17 points on 7-of-9 shooting and three blocked shots in NU's first win at Oklahoma since 1999. He posted his second double-double at Iowa State with a season-high 18 points and 11 rebounds, including nine offensive boards. Diaz closed the year with 12 points and eight rebounds against Wichita State in the NIT.

2009-10 (Redshirt Freshman)

Diaz posted one of the best freshman campaigns for a Husker post player in school history, averaging 8.8 points, 4.0 rebounds and 1.2 blocked shots per game. Diaz hit a team-high 52.2 percent from the floor and ranked fourth on the Nebraska freshman chart for field goals made, eighth in points (291) and 10th in points per game (8.82). Diaz also ranked seventh on the NU freshman chart in rebounds with 133, including a season-high 12 against Chicago State. He added 11 boards against USC Upstate in his first career game. His strong performance on the boards was not Diaz's only contribution on the defensive end, as he ranked ninth in the Big 12 in blocked shots and set a school freshman mark with 41 rejections.

Offensively, Diaz provided a consistent presence in the paint, as he posted between nine and 15 points in 16 games, and added a pair of 20-point contests. With a season-best 22 points against TCU (on 9-of-10 shooting) and 20 points and nine rebounds at No. 1 Kansas, Diaz became just the eighth Husker freshman in history to post multiple 20-point games. Two of his most proficient games came against Kansas, as he combined to hit 16-of-27 shots from the field while averaging 17.5 points and 6.5 rebounds. In seven games against ranked teams, Diaz averaged 10.9 points on 53 percent shooting and 3.3 rebounds per game. His strongest stretch came in three straight games against Oklahoma, No. 7 Kansas State and No. 1 Kansas when he averaged 14.3 points and 6.3 rebounds on 50 percent shooting.

2008-09 (Freshman)

After originally attempting to come to NU at the beginning of the fall semester, Diaz was finally admitted to the University and joined the Nebraska basketball team on Jan. 17, 2009, and redshirted.

Before Nebraska

Diaz came to Nebraska from Puerto Rico, where he grew up and played high school basketball in his hometown for Coach Leonel Arill at Colegio Bautista de Caguas. He averaged about 17 points, 10 rebounds and three blocked shots per game in 2007-08 under Arill, who helped Diaz and the Caguas team to a national title in 2006.

Diaz has also played on the Puerto Rican Under-19 National Team, traveling to many international tournaments, including playing in Serbia in 2007, where he was first seen by the Nebraska coaching staff.

Personal

Jorge Brian was born Nov. 13, 1989. He is the son of Nilda Hernandez and Jorge Diaz, and he has one sister, Natalie Diaz. Jorge Brian was born in Bronx, N.Y., and lived there until he was three years old before moving to his hometown of Caguas, Puerto Rico. He majors in Spanish at NU.

#15

JR. | GUARD | 6-2 | 176 | SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH | WEST JORDAN HS

2011-12 (Outlook)

Throughout his first two years at Nebraska, Ray Gallegos (pronounced GUY-eh-goes) has shown flashes of his potential while serving as a valuable reserve in the backcourt. The Salt Lake City native played in 25 games in 2010-11, averaging 2.8 points per game. One of the Huskers' fastest players, he has been a solid defender, but has struggled with consistency on offense. The 6-foot-2 guard has worked extensively on improving his offensive game in hopes of earning playing time. He enters practice in the best shape of anyone on the team and will make a push in a crowded Husker backcourt.

2010-11 (Sophomore)

Gallegos was a valuable member of the Huskers' rotation, appearing in 25 games as Nebraska advanced to the NIT. He averaged 2.8 points and 1.0 rebounds per game while serving as a backup shooting guard. Gallegos earned extensive playing time early in the season, playing at least 12 minutes in 10 of the Huskers' 14 non-conference games. Gallegos helped key the Huskers' 11-game win streak by averaging 5.0 points per game on 40 percent shooting. He enjoyed his best stretch at the close of non-conference play, averaging 10.6 points per game in a three-game stretch, highlighted by a career-high 15-point effort against Grambling. In that effort, he hit a career-best 7-of-10 shots from the floor and added two steals in 22 minutes. That came off the heels of a nine-point effort against Eastern Washington when he played a career-high 27 minutes. He added eight points in a win against North Dakota.

Gallegos struggled with his shooting in Big 12 play, hitting just 5-of-27 shots from the floor in 11 contests. His best offensive effort in Big 12 action came at Kansas State on Feb. 2, when he had five points in 10 minutes off the bench, but his biggest contribution came in the conference opener against Iowa State when he guarded Diante Garrett on the final possession and combined with Lance Jeter on a steal that led to Jeter's game-winning free throw with 0.7 seconds left.

2009-10 (Freshman)

Gallegos was one of the quickest players on the court as a freshman when he played in 30 contests. He averaged 3.0 points and 1.4 rebounds in 13.6 minutes per game while posting a solid 1.4 assist-to-turnover ratio from his shooting guard spot.

Gallegos scored in double figures twice on the year, posting a season-best 13 points against Texas-Pan American and 10 points against Creighton in back-to-back contests. He hit 4-of-7 shots from the field, including a season-high three 3-pointers against UTPA, and nailed 4-of-5 field-goal attempts while adding three rebounds against Creighton.

After missing the first two regular-season games with injury, Gallegos' solid work in games and practice early on helped him earn three starts. He drew starting assignments against Jackson State, Tulsa and BYU, helping NU to a 2-1 mark in those contests. Gallegos was one of a school-record five freshmen to start for NU during the season. He helped set the school single-game mark with three freshmen in the starting lineup against BYU.

During league play, two of his best games came on the road at Missouri and nationally ranked Kansas State. He scored eight points in each contest, including combining for four 3-pointers. Gallegos' performance against KSU was his second consecutive solid game after posting five points on 2-of-4 shooting in 20 minutes at nationally ranked Texas.

Before Nebraska

Gallegos came to Nebraska after leading his West Jordan High School squad to the Utah 5A (largest class) state championship in 2009. For his efforts, he was also named MVP of the 5A first-team all-state squad.

In the state title game, he played a primary role as the Jaguars forced the reigning state player of the year, Tyler Haws, into one of his worst shooting nights of his career. Gallegos also had four treys - including consecutive 3s in a 64-second span - to help his team earn the gold and earn all-tournament team honors.

On the season, Gallegos averaged 16.7 points per game to rank sixth in the state in scoring, as the Jaguars went 21-4. He had nine games with at least 20 points, including a season-best 31 points and added 22 points in the state championship game. Gallegos was second in the state in 3-point field-goals per game, hitting a school-record 66 3-pointers in 2008-09. He had a season-best six 3-pointers against Kearns, and five treys in four other games.

Gallegos really came on during the 2008 summer AAU circuit when he was playing for the Utah Pump-N-Run White. Gallegos averaged about 25 points per game, according to Coach Brad Blanchfield. Gallegos was rated the No. 53 shooting guard in the country by Scout.com and was tabbed the No. 7 shooting guard on the West Coast following the summer.

He also helped West Jordan High School to the state tournament as a junior, averaging 10.5 points per game over 21 contests. His scoring ability helped him top 20 points in three contests as a junior.

Personal

Ray, whose given name is Rayes, is the son of Maxine Gallegos and Anthony Nelson, and was born Nov. 15, 1990. Gallegos has one brother, Jonah, and three sisters, Jessica, Sherrie and Amber. Gallegos' legal guardian is basketball coach Brad Blanchfield. Gallegos, who is a sociology major, was the first Husker basketball signee from the state of Utah since Jaron Boone (Salt Lake City, Skyline High School), who went on to become one of the top 10 all-time scorers at Nebraska.

the floor in a 70-67 win over No. 3 Texas. McCray reached double figures in five of his final six Big 12 games and had 11 points in NU's one-point loss to Oklahoma State in the Big 12 Tournament.

2009-10 (Sophomore)

McCray played in just three games before having surgery to fix the ulnar collateral ligament in his left elbow. He averaged 6.3 points and 4.0 rebounds per contest while hitting 53.3 percent from the field. His best game came at Saint Louis when he had nine points and eight rebounds.

2008-09 (Redshirt Freshman)

McCray averaged 5.7 points and 2.8 rebounds per game in his first season of action. He shot 45.4 percent from the floor, including 34.5 percent from long range.

McCray opened with a flurry, scoring 17 points and grabbing nine rebounds in the season opener against San Jose State, helping him earn Big 12 Rookie-of-the-Week honors. From there, McCray scored in double figures three more times in the non-conference slate, all in a four-game span. He posted 12 points against NCAA Tournament participant Alabama State, 13 at Oregon State and 11 vs. IPFW, hitting 15-of-26 shots from the field in that stretch. McCray's solid play helped him earn three starts at the end of non-conference play, against South Carolina State, Maryland Eastern Shore and Florida A&M. He hit 7-of-15 shots from the floor in that stretch, including nine points, four rebounds and a career-best four steals against UMES.

Despite a dip in playing time early in league action, McCray averaged 17 minutes per game down the stretch while posting several key baskets that helped Nebraska to a .500 record in league play for the first time in a decade. McCray started his strong finishing stretch by hitting three of his field-goal attempts and adding a blocked shot in 13 minutes at Colorado. Two of his baskets came late in the game and stopped a pair of Husker scoring droughts, as NU snuck out a 55-53 road victory. In the Huskers' next contest, McCray played a big role in NU's 58-55 win over No. 16 Texas, hitting 4-of-7 shots while grabbing five rebounds and two steals in the upset. McCray ended the regular season on a high note, earning his second Big 12 Rookie-of-the-Week accolade in the final week of the season. After scoring just four points against Iowa State in the home finale, McCray set a season high with 18 points on 7-of-10 shooting in a road victory at Baylor. He added four boards, two blocks and two steals.

McCray redshirted in his first year at Nebraska.

Before Nebraska

McCray came on strong during his senior season and was a fast-rising prospect before becoming the Huskers' final signee in 2007. He averaged 16 points, six rebounds and 2.5 assists per game in 2006-07 for Fort Bend Elkins High School. McCray helped Elkins to a 31-5 record as a senior and a No. 5 ranking in the state. Elkins won the district title and reached the third round of the state tournament.

McCray was named the Most Valuable Player in the district and earned first-team all-district accolades in 2006-07. McCray also earned all-region honors from the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches and was ranked among the top 20 recruits in the state according to texashoops.com.

McCray did not play basketball during his junior season as he was held out while undergoing examinations for a medical condition. The testing was necessary as his older brother, Jason, died from an enlarged heart in 1998 at age 19. Jason was a defensive end on the Navy football team and was on a summer cadet cruise that stopped in Boston where he was playing pickup basketball when he collapsed and passed away.

Personal

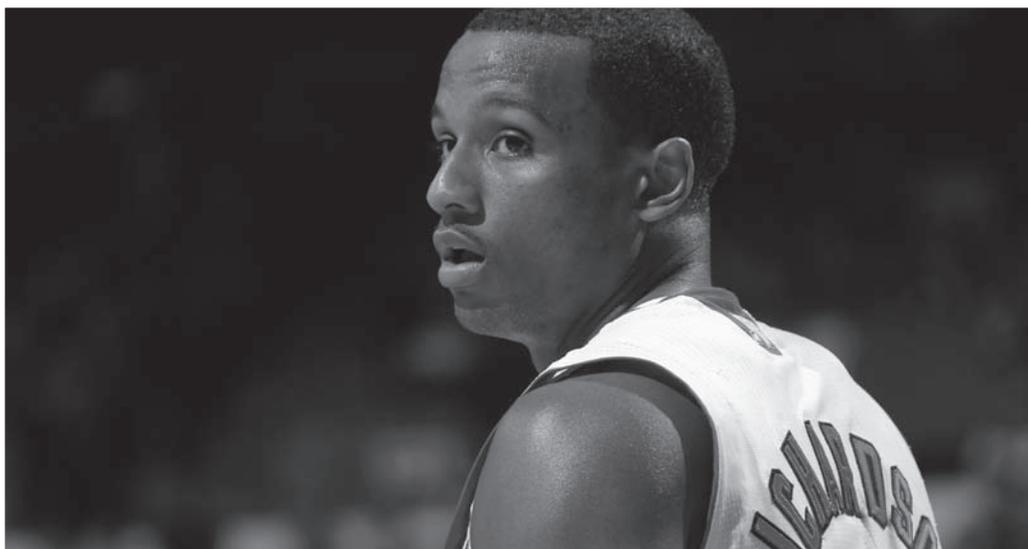

Toney is the son of Valda and Tony McCray, and was born on April 13, 1989. He has one sister, Danielle. His cousin is former Nebraska quarterback Steve Taylor. After missing his junior season, McCray was not heavily recruited, but saw considerable late interest from major programs like Georgia, UConn, Washington State and Baylor before choosing Nebraska. McCray majors in sociology and is on track to graduate in May.

2011-12 (Outlook)

One senior who looks to get this season off on the right foot is Brandon Richardson. The Huskers' top returning scorer entering 2010-11, the 6-foot guard turned his ankle on an officials' foot during the opening minutes of Nebraska's first exhibition contest, a misstep that significantly slowed his progress following a solid sophomore year. His scoring average dipped from 8.9 ppg to 6.4 ppg and he shot just 40 percent from the field.

Richardson, who joins fellow fifth-year senior Toney McCray as members of Doc Sadler's first Husker recruiting class, has shown the knack for rising to the occasion throughout his time at Nebraska. From a 19-point effort against Missouri in the 2010 Big 12 Tournament to scoring 15 points, including 9-of-11 shooting from the foul line, in the upset of No. 3 Texas, he has been in position to make plays when the Huskers need them.

Most importantly, Richardson has led by example while being a steady performer in the backcourt. He saw time at both guard spots and finished with a positive assist-to-turnover ratio for the third straight year. In addition, he has been among the team leaders in steals in each of the last two campaigns. Richardson, who has made a team-high 89 appearances, has been a clutch performer from the line in his career, hitting 82.7 percent of his free throws to rank third on Nebraska's career list. In late-game situations he has been even better, connecting on 68-of-73 from the foul line in the final five minutes.

2010-11 (Junior)

Richardson battled through nagging injuries to be a major contributor. He was considered one of the Huskers' best defenders and chipped in 6.4 points, 2.1 rebounds and 1.8 assists per game in 31 contests while seeing time at both guard spots. Richardson was solid at the foul line, converting 83.3 percent, including 88.2 percent (45-of-51) in Big 12 play to rank second in the league. He was at his best in late-game situations, hitting 21-of-23 from the line in the final five minutes of action.

Richardson got off to a slow start because of an ankle injury suffered in the opening minutes of NU's preseason opener and averaged just 3.3 points in Nebraska's first five games. He saw significant action at point guard in a win over Hofstra when Lance Jeter got in foul trouble. Richardson dished out a career-high seven assists and added three steals. He broke out of a shooting slump against Jackson State with 10 points on 4-of-6 shooting and four rebounds in 21 minutes. Four days later, he propelled the Huskers to a win over Creighton with a game-high 18 points, including four 3-pointers. That would be his best offensive performance in non-conference play. He was slowed by a knee sprain in the final non-conference game against Savannah State, which slowed his progress entering league action.

In Big 12 play, Richardson raised his scoring average to 7.4 points per game and was in double figures four times. His best effort came at Texas Tech, when he scored a career-high 20 points on 5-of-6 shooting from the floor and 8-of-8 from the foul line. His three foul shots with 11 seconds left gave NU a short-lived 71-70 lead. That effort began a four-game stretch where

While he has been a major contributor in each of his first two seasons, junior forward Brandon Ubel (pronounced YOU-bell) could be poised for a breakthrough season. The 6-foot-10 forward was thrown into the fire early in his career and the experiences battling against more experienced and physical players has made him into a tougher player. While Ubel showed improvement across the board last season, he closed the year with some of the best basketball of his career. He averaged 10.0 points and 6.3 rebounds in his final four games - all against postseason qualifiers - as he started to become a physical presence underneath. Ubel, who just turned 20 in late August, has added nearly 20 pounds to his frame since arriving on campus, giving him the size to battle in the paint along with a shooting touch that can open up space for teammates inside.

2010-11 (Sophomore)

Ubel was one of the Huskers' most improved players, averaging 6.1 points and 3.7 rebounds per game. He appeared in all 32 games, including 13 starts, and improved his field goal shooting to 52 percent after shooting 41 percent as a freshman. He also led the Husker post players by shooting 79 percent from the free throw line. Ubel reached double figures seven times after accomplishing the feat twice as a freshman.

He closed the season playing some of the best basketball of his career, averaging 10.0 points on 58 percent shooting and 6.3 rebounds over the Huskers' final four games. He started the stretch with a near double-double against Missouri, scoring 11 points and matching his career high with nine rebounds. In the Big 12 Tournament opener against Oklahoma State, he had 11 points, including seven straight to help NU erase a 14-point deficit, and six rebounds. That effort earned him a start in NU's NIT opener when he had nine points and six rebounds in a career-high 31 minutes against eventual NIT champ Wichita State.

Ubel started 10 of the Huskers' first 12 games in the post and enjoyed several solid efforts early. He had 10 points in 16 minutes against Vanderbilt in the Honda Puerto Rico Tipoff and had seven points and nine rebounds the following day against Davidson. Against Jackson State, Ubel chipped in 10 points on 4-of-6 shooting and five rebounds before coming back and matching his personal best with 14 points on 6-of-7 shooting against Alcorn State.

Ubel was a solid reserve in conference action, averaging 5.1 points and 3.4 rebounds per game while shooting 91.9 percent from the foul line (34-of-37). He had seven rebounds in a home loss to Kansas State, one of five games where he snared at least five rebounds. His effort on the offensive end keyed a one-point win at Oklahoma, as he scored nine points in 24 minutes off the bench, one of five league contests where he scored at least seven points.

2009-10 (Freshman)

Ubel started 16 contests while playing in 32 games as a true freshman. He was one of three freshman post players to see action, averaging 4.4 points and 2.0 rebounds in 15.8 minutes per contest. He was one of five freshmen to earn a starting assignment during the season and one of a school-record three freshmen to start in a game when he joined Jorge Brian Diaz and Ray Gallegos in the lineup against BYU.

On the season, the youngster hit 41.1 percent from the field, including an impressive 52.4 percent (11-of-21) from 3-point range. Ubel also hit a solid 79.6 percent (39-of-49) from the free throw line.

Ubel started his career on a strong note with 12 points and two blocked shots in the season opener against USC Upstate. He came back four games later to produce 10 points on 4-of-6 shooting in a road win over Pac-10 foe USC and then added 13 points against Southern Utah in late December.

After struggling through much of the first half of the Big 12 slate, Ubel sparked the Huskers in a narrow loss at No. 1 Kansas and again in a victory over Texas Tech. He posted six points on a pair of 3-pointers to help the Huskers take a four-point lead with less than 16 minutes remaining at Allen Fieldhouse against the Jayhawks. It was one of three games he had a pair of treys. Ubel added a pair of 3s and posted a career-high 14 points on 5-of-6 shooting over 20 minutes in a double-overtime win against the Red Raiders.

Before Nebraska

Ubel joined the Huskers after a great senior season on the court. He was rewarded by being named one of five players on the Class 6A (largest classification) all-state first team by the Kansas Basketball Coaches Association. Under Coach Donnie Campbell, Ubel earned the accolade after averaging 17.7 points and 7.6 rebounds per game, both team highs and among the conference leaders. As a senior, Ubel shot 51 percent inside the arc and an outstanding 80 percent (109-of-136) at the charity stripe. Ranked among the top 80 high school forwards in the country by Scout.com, Ubel showed range that extends out to the 3-point line, where he hit 21-of-64 (33 percent) as a senior. He also added 1.5 blocked shots, 1.5 steals and 1.3 assists per contest as a senior.

As a junior, he helped Blue Valley West to the first round of the state tournament and a 15-8 record while posting nearly 16 points and six rebounds per game. He hit 55 percent from the floor and 88 percent at the charity line. His team also won the Class 6A state title during his sophomore season, posting an 18-7 record.

During the 2008 summer AAU circuit, Ubel began to come into his own, averaging close to 20 points and eight rebounds per game for the Wedman Pumas.

Personal

Brandon is the son of Doug and Lynette Ubel and has one sister, Kayla. Brandon was born on Aug. 29, 1991. Ubel is a broadcasting major at Nebraska. His older sister was a middle distance runner for the Husker track and field program. Brandon drew interest from Marquette and Stanford and was offered scholarships from Drake, Illinois State and Utah State before choosing NU. At Blue Valley West, he was an honor roll student and a member of the National Honor Society.

2011-12 (Outlook)

With two-year starter Lance Jeter playing professionally overseas, the Huskers will be looking for a new point guard, and senior Bo Spencer enters the 2011-12 season as the front-runner for the position.

The 6-foot-2, 196-pounder sat out last season after transferring from LSU, where he was a two-year starter for the Tigers. He averaged 9.3 points per game in his three seasons, including 14.5 points per game in his final season at LSU. Spencer, who ranked among the SEC leaders in scoring, free throw percentage and minutes played two years ago, had 11 games of at least 20 points as a junior, including a 28-point effort against Western Kentucky and 25-point efforts in back-to-back games against Kentucky and Tennessee. Spencer reached double figures in 45 of 93 games at LSU, including 21 of 30 games in 2009-10.

While he has the potential to be an explosive scorer, he also brings valuable postseason experience to the Husker program. He started at point guard on LSU's Southeastern Conference championship team in 2009, a squad that lost to eventual national champion North Carolina in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

2010-11 (Redshirt)

Spencer sat out the 2010-11 season after transferring from LSU.

Before Nebraska

Spencer became more of an offensive threat during his junior season at LSU, ranking 15th in the SEC with 14.5 points per game while also dishing out 2.7 assists and hauling in 2.5 rebounds per contest. He was among the SEC leaders in minutes (36.2 per game, 2nd) and free throw percentage (83.9 percent, 3rd), hitting on 99-of-118 shots from the charity stripe.

Spencer was second on the team in scoring and assists, while pacing the team with 61 3-pointers. He had 11 games of at least 20 points in 2009-10, including a 28-point performance against Western Kentucky in a second-round win in the Preseason NIT. He also put up 25 points in consecutive games against Kentucky and Tennessee.

Spencer became the starter at point guard as a sophomore, starting 32 games for an LSU team that went 27-8 and lost to eventual national champion North Carolina in the second round of the 2009 NCAA Tournament. He averaged 11.4 points, 2.9 rebounds and 2.6 assists per game for the SEC regular-season champions while averaging 31.2 minutes per contest. Spencer totaled 20 double-figure performances, including a season-high 21 points against Jackson State and Arkansas, when he went 5-for-6 from 3-point range. He dished out 87 assists on the season, including a pair of six-assist games, and connected on 40.3 percent of his 3-point attempts on the year.

As a freshman, he played in 30 contests, averaging 3.4 points and 1.2 rebounds per game. He totaled double figures in four contests, including a 14-point performance against Arizona State when he hit 4-of-8 shots from 3-point range, in the Maui Invitational.

Spencer was one of the top high school players in Louisiana for Coach Harvey Adger at Glen Oaks High School. He led the school to a pair of Class 4A state titles. As a senior, he was an all-state performer who averaged 26 points, seven assists and four rebounds a game, while totaling over 2,000 career points.

Personal

Bo is the son of John and Vanessa Spencer and was born on March 21, 1989. He has one brother, John, and two sisters, Tonya and Tamara. Bo majors in sociology at Nebraska.

#44

R-FR. | FORWARD | 6-10 | 212 | GRANT, NEB. | PERKINS COUNTY HS

2010-11 (Redshirt)

Kurkowski redshirted and used the year to put on additional strength and weight.

Before Nebraska

Kurkowski was a standout player for Coach Shawn Cole at Perkins County High School, a Class C-2 school in Grant, Neb.

Kurkowski was a first-team all-conference and all-district performer as a senior, averaging 12.9 points, 9.2 rebounds and 3.9 blocks per game in 2009-10. He reached double figures in rebounding in 11 of 21 games as a senior and had five games with at least six blocked shots.

His best performance as a senior came in a 27-point performance against Dundy County, when he hit 11-of-14 shots from the floor and added 11 rebounds and a pair of steals. He also had a triple-double against Chase County with 18 points, 11 rebounds and 10 blocked shots.

He became a full-time starter during his junior campaign, when he averaged 8.6 points, 8.2 rebounds and 3.5 blocked shots per game.

In addition to his basketball exploits, he lettered four times in football and three years in track, giving him 10 varsity letters. Kurkowski was an accomplished student, finishing his career with a 4.0 GPA and ranking in the top five in his senior class. He was an academic all-state selection by the Lincoln Journal Star and was a member of the National Honor Society at Perkins County.

Personal

Kye is the son of Kelvin and Judy Kurkowski and was born on Dec. 25, 1991. He has three brothers, Max, Ross and Zak, and two sisters, Nikelle and Jaclyn. Kurkowski is an agricultural engineering major at Nebraska.

2011-12 (Outlook)

After a redshirt season, Kye Kurkowski will add depth to an experienced front court this season. The 6-foot-10 forward has impressed the staff with his work ethic, adding 15 pounds and improving his strength over the last year. He has made marked improvement working against Jorge Brian Diaz, Brandon Ubel and Andre Almeida every day in practice over the last year. Kurkowski's length makes him an intriguing prospect as he continues to develop and add strength to his wiry frame.

#10

R-FR. | GUARD | 5-11 | 172 | BEATRICE, NEB. | BEATRICE HS

Before Nebraska

Menke was one of the state's top point guards playing for Beatrice High School and legendary Coach Jim Weeks. Menke was a four-year starter, helping Beatrice to a Class B state title in 2008, two runner-up finishes (2007 and 2009) and a third-place showing as a senior.

In 2009-10, Menke earned first-team Class B and third-team All-Nebraska (all-class) honors, averaging 14.2 points, 5.1 assists and 2.3 rebounds a game. That followed on the heels of a junior campaign where he averaged 14.2 points and 5.0 assists per game while hitting 44 percent from 3-point range to earn first-team all-state accolades for the first time in his career.

Menke showed a knack for clutch performances throughout his high school career, hitting game-winning buzzer beaters in the state tournament in both his junior and senior years, including a 28-footer in the first round of the 2010 state tournament. As a freshman, he scored 18 points in a 59-52 loss to Omaha Skutt at the Devaney Center.

A four-year letterwinner in basketball,

Menke also lettered four years in track and three in cross country at Beatrice. He was a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the honor roll throughout his career and served as vice president of the student council.

Personal

Trevor is the son of Steven and Wendy Menke and was born on July 1, 1991. He has one older brother, Brent. Trevor is a social science education major at Nebraska.

2011-12 (Outlook)

Point guard Trevor Menke returns to action this fall after missing most of last season with a broken foot last December. Prior to his injury, Menke had been impressive in running the scout team and helping to prepare the Huskers for games. The 5-foot-11 guard from Beatrice is a very intelligent player who gets the most out of his talent with a strong work ethic.

2010-11 (Redshirt)

Menke redshirted as a freshman. He missed the second half of the season with a broken foot suffered in practice.

#11

R-FR. | GUARD | 6-3 | 195 | LINCOLN, NEB. | SOUTHWEST HS

Before Nebraska

Tyrance was a two-year starter at Lincoln Southwest High School for Coach Duane Baack. Tyrance averaged nearly a double-double as a senior, averaging 11.1 points and 8.2 rebounds per game, ranking among Class A (largest class) leaders in rebounding. He also averaged 2.2 steals per game to earn first-team All-Heartland Conference honors and honorable-mention all-state accolades from both major papers in the state. He had a 27-point performance against Norfolk and grabbed 13 rebounds against Lincoln East.

During his junior campaign, he was a part-time starter for Lincoln Southwest, which went 22-3 and lost in the state championship game. He averaged seven points and four rebounds per game and was an honorable-mention all-state performer for his efforts.

Tyrance was a three-sport performer in high school, starting at wide receiver and strong safety in football, while competing in track and field, where he placed third in the state as a senior in the triple jump after finishing fourth as a junior.

Tyrance, who spent his freshman and sophomore years at Parkview Christian

High School, was a strong performer in the classroom. He earned academic all-state honors on six occasions and was a member of the National Honor Society at Lincoln Southwest.

Personal

Jordan is the son of Renita Robinson and Patrick Tyrance Jr., and was born on Oct. 31, 1992. He has one brother, Patrick. Jordan's mother, Renita, was an NCAA champion in the triple jump in 1989 and won four conference titles during her career at Nebraska. His father, Patrick, was a three-year starter in football, earning All-Big Eight honors as a junior and senior. He was also a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American and was inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame in 2009. Jordan majors in business administration.

2011-12 (Outlook)

With a year of experience in the Husker program, walk-on Jordan Tyrance will look to find a role in a deep Husker backcourt this season. He has been a solid performer on the scout team and a hard worker who pushes his teammates to keep improving. Tyrance's work ethic is no surprise considering that his father (Patrick) was an All-Big Eight linebacker and academic All-American at Nebraska while his mother (Renita Robinson) won an NCAA triple jump title as a Husker.

2010-11 (Freshman)

Tyrance redshirted, as he adjusted to the rigors of playing at the Division I level.

COREY HILLIARD JR.

#12

FR. | GUARD | 6-1 | 183 | KANSAS CITY, MO. | RAYTOWN SOUTH HS

Brad Oestreich at Raytown South High School. A two-time all-state performer, Hilliard averaged 17.4 points, 3.0 assists, 3.0 rebounds and 1.8 steals per game in helping Raytown South to a 20-6 mark. A second-team all-state honoree by the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association despite missing a month of the season, Hilliard had six 20-point games as a senior, including a season-high 27-point night against Fort Osage. He was ranked as the No. 7 prospect in Missouri following his senior season.

Hilliard was a three-star selection by both Rivals.com and Scout.com and rated as the No. 52 point guard nationally by ESPN.com. A three-year starter, he was named district MVP as a junior, averaging 15.0 points, 4.5 assists, 2.8 rebounds and 1.7 steals per game in helping Raytown South to a 21-7 record. He reached double figures in 19 contests, including a season-high 23 points against Raytown High, and had single-game bests of seven assists, and six steals as a junior. He moved into the starting lineup as a sophomore, averaging 10.8 points, 3.0 assists and 3.4 rebounds per game to earn first-team all-conference honors.

Hilliard spent the summer prior to his senior year playing for the Kansas City Pump 'N Run team and Coach LJ Goolsby, winning four tournament titles on the AAU circuit. Prior to joining the Kansas City Pump 'N Run program, he played for Coach Nodie Newton in the Kansas City Truth AAU program.

Personal

Corey is the son of Corey Sr. and Vernetta Hilliard and was born on Oct. 5, 1992. He chose Nebraska over Missouri State, Wichita State, Creighton, Tulane and Southern Illinois while also drawing interest from Kansas State, Missouri and Baylor.

2011-12 (Outlook)

Corey Hilliard Jr. begins his college career in a position to make an immediate impact in the Nebraska program. The 6-foot-1 freshman guard from Kansas City was one of the top combo guards in the region last year, averaging 17.4 points, 3.0 assists and 1.8 steals per game at Raytown South High School near Kansas City. He has good size and athleticism at the position, and could potentially push for playing time behind seniors Bo Spencer and Brandon Richardson.

Before Nebraska

Hilliard was one of the top combo guards in the Midwest playing for Coach

DYLAN TALLEY

#24

JR. | GUARD | 6-5 | 214 | CAMDEN, N.J. | LIFE CENTER ACADEMY/BINGHAMTON UNIV./BLINN COLLEGE

Before Nebraska

Talley was one of the top junior college players in the country, earning honorable-mention All-America honors at Blinn (Texas) College. Talley ranked sixth nationally and led Region XIV in scoring at 23.0 points per game on 49 percent shooting while also chipping in 5.9 rebounds, 3.8 assists and 1.5 steals per game for Coach Tra Arnold. The 6-foot-5 guard was a first-team all-region pick. He ranked among the region leaders in free throw percentage (77.6 percent), 3-point shooting percentage (40.0) and assists per game. The Buccaneers went 19-13 in 2010-11 and reached the second round of the Region XIV Tournament. Talley was rated as the No. 11 recruit nationally by the website JucoRecruiting.com, the highest of any Big Ten recruit in the class of 2011.

Talley spent his freshman year at Binghamton University, where he was named the America East Conference Rookie of the Year. He averaged 11.8 points, 3.7 rebounds and 2.1 assists per game playing for former Temple great Mark Macon. A five-time America East Rookie of the Week, Talley led all conference freshmen by averaging 13.5 points per game in conference action. He finished the year 13th in the league in scoring and 14th in field goal percentage during the conference season. Talley reached double figures in 17 of 26 contests as a freshman, including a season-high 20-point effort at Vermont.

He played high school ball at Life Center Academy in Burlington, N.J., totaling over 2,000 points in his career. As a senior, he averaged 16.2 points, 4.0 assists and 2.0 steals per game, as he shot 46 percent from the field and 39 percent from 3-point range in helping LCA to a 17-9 record. As a junior, he led LCA to a 20-8 mark by averaging 16.6 points, 4.6 rebounds and 2.6 assists per contest.

Personal

Dylan is the son of Louis Guess and Yvette Talley and the grandson of Conrad Talley. He chose Nebraska over a host of schools including LSU, Gonzaga, Colorado, Tennessee, USC and Seton Hall. Dylan, who was born on Dec. 28, 1989, is a sociology major.

2011-12 (Outlook)

Dylan Talley has been a proven scorer throughout his college career. While the 6-foot-5 guard played junior college ball last season where he averaged 23 points and 5.9 rebounds per game, he has also enjoyed success at the Division I level, averaging 11.8 points per game at Binghamton University in 2009-10 en route to America East Rookie-of-the-Year honors.

Talley is a physical presence who knows how to get to the free throw line, as he ranked fourth nationally in free throws last year, averaging over eight attempts per game. The coaching staff hopes that Talley's previous Division I experience will ease his transition to the Big Ten and make him an important part of the Huskers' rotation.

HEAD COACH | SIXTH YEAR | ARKANSAS, 1982 | RECORD AT NEBRASKA: 89-71

For Nebraska Basketball Coach Doc Sadler, this fall's opening of the Hendricks Training Complex is the fruition of many years of goal setting, planning and hard work. The structure embodies a new era of the Husker program, as his program has embodied a similar building process over the last five years. As Nebraska begins a new era in the Big Ten this winter, Sadler has put the program's foundation in place and is looking to enjoy sustained success at both the conference and national level.

Sadler's drive and passion to build a successful program has placed Husker basketball on a winning course. Nebraska never had a coach that pushed the Huskers to at least 17 victories in each of his first three years on the sideline until Sadler arrived in Lincoln prior to the 2006-07 season. Since then, the energetic and engaging head coach has done his best 'everyman' impression to lift the Huskers into the national spotlight.

Sadler has prodded his Nebraska teams to 89 victories, the most wins by an NU coach in his first five years. In three of those seasons, he has gotten enough out of his team to reach the postseason. But it has been in the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) each of those years, and while he'll say it's an honor to be in the nation's oldest tourney, it's in the NCAA Tournament, year-in and year-out, that he wants his squad.

That determination Sadler has shown serves his program and his players well. In six seasons as a Division I head coach, his teams have averaged nearly 20 wins per year, leaving him with a .606 winning percentage (137-89 record). As a head coach, his teams have posted winning marks in 11 of his 12 years on the sideline, while seven squads have won at least 20 games. Overall, he owns a 257-128 (.668) career record as a college head coach.

The find-a-way-to-win attitude has been the cornerstone for Sadler's coaching career since he got into the profession in the early 1980s at Arkansas. It's a career that includes an outstanding resume over the past 25-plus years, highlighted by his being named as Nebraska's 26th head coach on Aug. 8, 2006.

During his coaching tenure, Sadler has been associated with 14 postseason teams in 19 seasons, including five times in seven years as head coach at this level. He has helped 19 players reach the pinnacle of their sport – the National Basketball Association – and he personally recruited eight of those players.

Sadler's success comes as much from his background as it does from his work ethic.

He has an all-star coaching heritage dating back to his home state school, Arkansas, with future Hall of Fame Coach Eddie Sutton. That puts Sadler in the same coaching family under Mr. Henry Iba, a legend and Hall of Famer in his own right. And while Sadler served one year as an assistant and two years as head coach at UTEP, he gleaned knowledge from yet another legend of the college game, Hall of Famer Don Haskins, who won the national title with the first all-black starting lineup at Texas Western (now UTEP) in 1966.

Alongside Sadler's tradition of success, his other impressive personal traits – the charismatic personality, energy, passion and workmanlike approach to winning – made it easy for Sadler to build excitement around the Husker program in a short time in Lincoln.

In five seasons, Sadler has rebuilt the Cornhuskers from the ground up. Not only is the roster filled with more athleticism and natural ability than in recent years, but Sadler and the Husker basketball program have created interest in the program not seen for quite a while.

◆ The Huskers have made three appearances in the National Invitation Tournament, as Sadler is just the third Nebraska coach in history to lead his team to three postseason berths in his first five seasons on the sideline.

◆ Sadler led Nebraska to just the 12th 20-win season in program history and first since 1999, as he guided the Huskers to an NIT appearance in 2007-08.

◆ The Cornhuskers finished the 2009 league slate with an 8-8 record, the first .500 conference record by Nebraska in a decade.

◆ Nebraska saw an average of more than 10,000 fans per game in conference home games over each of the last four seasons, the first time league attendance at the Devaney Center averaged five figures since 1998, which is the last year the Huskers reached the NCAA Tournament.

◆ Attendance has gone up 16 percent in his five years as head coach over the previous four-year span. The Huskers averaged 11,266 fans in their eight conference home games in 2010-11, the highest total in a decade.

◆ Nebraska ranked among the nation's elite defensive teams in three of the past four seasons, ranking 16th nationally in scoring defense in 2010-11. It was the third time in the last four years the Huskers led the conference in scoring defense.

Sadler was also the only coach in program history to post at least 17 wins in each of his three seasons on the Husker sideline. He reached that mark despite Nebraska being picked to finish ninth or lower in the preseason polls each year. That's a true Sadler trademark -- getting the most out of his players every time they step on the floor.

In 2010-11, the Huskers were led by an air-tight defense that ranked in the top 20 nationally in both scoring and field-goal percentage defense. The Huskers held opponents to a 38.9 field goal percentage, the lowest percentage in 50 years. That work on the defensive end helped the Huskers to 19 regular-season wins - NU's highest total in over a decade - playing a schedule that included 19 games against teams that reached postseason play. The season was highlighted by three wins over nationally ranked teams, including a 70-67 win over No. 3 Texas, the highest ranked foe the program has knocked off since 1994.

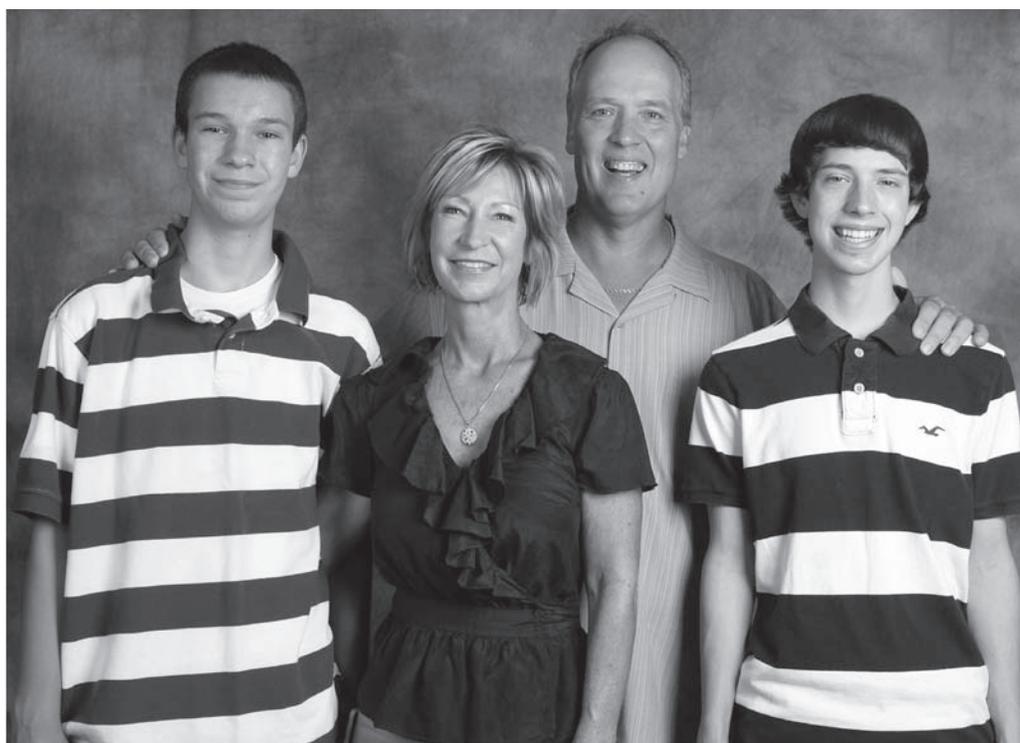

Overall, Sadler owns eight wins against ranked squads in five years at Nebraska.

Lance Jeter paced the Huskers in scoring and assists en route to third-team All-Big 12 honors, as he became only the third player in conference history to average 10 points, five rebounds and five assists in conference play. Jeter parlayed his senior year into a professional career overseas.

Seniors Drake Beranek and Matt Karn continued the Huskers' success in the classroom, as 11 of 14 seniors who have completed their eligibility at Nebraska have left with their degrees in Sadler's five years.

In 2009-10, the Huskers put the youngest team in the Big 12 on the floor, as seven of their 11 active scholarship players were freshmen and sophomores. Although the team struggled to a 15-18 record after losing two projected starters to season-ending injuries, the building blocks for future success were evident. Sadler's freshman class accounted for nearly 40 percent of the Huskers' scoring and 36 percent of NU's rebounding.

Nebraska opened the 2008-09 campaign with hopes of continuing the momentum gained the previous season and did well to meet those lofty goals. The Huskers posted 18 wins, including a solid 8-8 mark in league play that left them one game out of fourth place in the final conference standings. The Huskers faced 12 teams that reached the postseason (16 games), earning six wins including victories over Elite Eight performer Missouri and nationally ranked Texas at home.

Nebraska solidified its postseason spot by forging the best scoring defense in the league at 60.4 points per game, the second-best mark at NU in the last 50 years. The Huskers' second straight NIT appearance marked the first time in a decade that Nebraska had played in the postseason in consecutive years. The strong finish also helped several Huskers earn individual honors as Ade Dagunduro was a third-team All-Big 12 selection and an All-Defense Team pick by the coaches. Dagunduro (All-Underrated), Ryan Anderson (All-Defense) and Paul Velander (All-Bench) were picked to postseason squads by the league's sportswriters.

Sadler's second squad in Lincoln earned every one of its 20 victories in 2007-08. Overall, 18 of NU's 33 games were against teams that qualified for the postseason, including 13 against NCAA Tournament squads.

After starting 0-4 in league play including a pair of losses to top-five Kansas, Sadler showed a steady hand while keeping the program headed in the right direction.

Nebraska rebounded to finish 7-5 down the stretch, with only Big 12 co-champions Kansas and Texas holding better records over the final 12 games of league play.

Nebraska suffered a 10-point setback against KU in the Big 12 Tournament despite holding the largest halftime lead over the Jayhawks of any team all year (5 points) and limiting Kansas to its fewest points in any half (22). Kansas went on to win the Big 12 and national titles, while Nebraska finished the season 3-5 against ranked teams, including upsets of No. 16 Oregon, No. 24 Kansas State and No. 22 Texas A&M.

The wins over KSU and A&M came in back-to-back games, with the victory over the Aggies in College Station, Texas, marking Nebraska's first road league win over a ranked team since 1999. That was also the last time NU defeated ranked teams in back-to-back games. The Huskers' win over Oregon was the first ever against a ranked non-conference team outside of Lincoln, as the squads faced off in front of more than 12,000 fans in the Qwest Center in Omaha.

By buying into Sadler's plan, center Aleks Maric and guards Dagunduro and Steve Harley reaped the rewards with postseason accolades. Maric was a 2008 first-team All-Big 12 selection and a first-team all-district honoree, while Dagunduro and Harley -- both junior college products -- were tabbed to the 2008 Big 12 All-Newcomer Team.

Maric became just the third player in the Big 12 era to record at least 1,600

Honing his administrative and fundraising skills, Sadler oversaw a department that posted a 72.4 winning percentage across all sports under his guidance while he also spearheaded efforts to build a new basketball arena for the university.

Considered by many to be a tremendous tactician and strategist, Sadler is equally as impressive on the recruiting paths. Sadler has signed eight players who have gone on to play in the NBA, including Michael Batiste, Tony Battie, Cory Carr, Mark Davis, Darwin Ham, Eddie House, Maurice Jeffers and Jason Sasser.

Sadler has also coached 11 other players who reached the NBA -- Greg Anderson, Mario Bennett, Randy Brown, Isaac Burton, Byron Irvin, Joe Klein, Andrew Lang, Ron Riley, Alvin Robertson, Darrell Walker and Rickie Winslow. Overall, Sadler's total is an impressive 19 former pupils who reached the highest level of professional basketball.

Sadler, who pulled in a top-25 recruiting class in 2007 in his first full season recruiting for Nebraska, has a unique ability to build relationships and then develop players both on and off the court. Along with his NBA pupils and all-conference picks, Sadler has seen his players succeed in the classroom, including 10 Huskers on the 2007-08 team who earned at least a 3.0 grade-point average in the first semester.

As an assistant coach, Sadler served stints at seven current Division I schools, including Arkansas (1982-85, under Coach Eddie Sutton), Lamar (1985-86, under Coach Pat Foster), Houston (1986), Chicago State (1987-88, under Coach Tommy Suiitts), Texas Tech (1991-94, under Coach James Dickey), Arizona State (1994-97, under Coach Bill Freider) and UTEP (2003-04, under Coach Billy Gillispie).

Over 12 full seasons as a Division I assistant coach, nine of his teams reached the postseason, including ASU's 1996 team that reached the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. At Texas Tech, Sadler helped the Red Raiders to the 1993 Southwest Conference title and an NCAA appearance. He recruited talent that helped the Red Raiders to a 28-1 record and a Sweet 16 appearance in 1996.

The energetic Sadler also served one season as a high school coach, guiding County Line High School to a 38-7 record. Sadler's late father, Charles, coached football at the high school level for more than 30 years in Arkansas, and Sadler's brother, Pedro, is currently head golf coach and assistant basketball coach at Fort Smith Southside High School.

Sadler, who was a four-year student manager for the Arkansas Razorbacks under Coach Eddie Sutton, earned his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1982 before beginning his collegiate coaching career with Sutton at Arkansas. Sadler added a masters of science degree in education from Northeastern State in 1991. Sadler and his wife, Tonya, who is also a native of Greenwood, Ark., have two sons, Landon (18) and Matthew (15).

David Anwar begins his 10th season working alongside Coach Doc Sadler and is in his fifth season on the Husker coaching staff. He returns to the bench this year after serving as director of operations during the 2010-11 season.

Anwar has been a valuable member of the Husker staff since he arrived in August of 2006. He has helped the Huskers record 89 victories, including three postseason appearances in the last four years.

He worked with the Husker wings and post players for a majority of the time at Nebraska, and played a major role in NU ranking among the top 25 nationally in scoring defense in both 2007-08 and 2008-09. The Huskers also showed the ability to score from long distance in 2009-10, as Eshaunte Jones (40-of-92, 43.5 percent), Ryan Anderson (54-of-126, 42.9 percent) and Brandon Ubel (11-of-21, 53.4 percent) helped Nebraska set a school record and rank 15th nationally in 3-point percentage (39.7 percent).

Working primarily with the Nebraska guards in his first year, Anwar's guidance helped the Huskers power to the second-highest 3-point total in school history with 244 treys in 2006-07.

Off the court, Anwar was instrumental in recruiting, helping Nebraska reel in arguably its top-rated class in the Big 12 era. The Huskers' eight-man recruiting class for 2007 was ranked among the top 25 in the nation by at least three major scouting services, including ESPN.com's Bob Gibbons (21st), CSTV.com's Van Coleman (12th) and HoopScoopOnline.com's Clark Francis (5th). Anwar has also provided significant recruiting ties in the junior college ranks and has been a strong voice for the Huskers in international recruiting the past two seasons as well.

When he came to Nebraska, Anwar rejoined Sadler's staff after serving two seasons under him at Texas-El Paso. During that time, Anwar was the Miners' director of operations. He was responsible for the program's budget, scheduling and practice management. Anwar also oversaw the administrative staff and assisted with special projects, camps and on-campus recruiting while helping Sadler and the Miners reach the 2005 NCAA Tournament and 2006 NIT.

Before joining the UTEP program, Anwar served as an assistant coach at Arkansas-Fort Smith for four seasons, including the final three under Sadler. Anwar had on-court and practice responsibilities and also served as the recruiting coordinator. Arkansas-Fort Smith earned a 101-29 record with Anwar on the bench, including a pair of top-seven national finishes in 2001 (fifth) and 2002 (seventh). The team won the Bi-State Conference East league title each of his three seasons under Sadler and produced numerous all-conference players on the court and in the classroom.

Anwar has helped several programs earn a successful record of academic success, including helping more than 20 players move on to four-year schools from Arkansas-Fort Smith.

Earlier in his career, Anwar helped more than 40 high school and prep players earn a spot on Division I or II rosters while serving as a coach in his native Philadelphia and in Massachusetts.

A native of Philadelphia, Anwar earned a bachelor's degree in special education and sociology from Fitchburg State in 1998 and added a master's degree in sports management/sports leadership from Virginia Commonwealth in 2004.

JEREMY COX

ASSISTANT COACH | FIRST YEAR | MESA STATE COLLEGE, 1991

Jeremy Cox is in his first season as an assistant coach at Nebraska after joining the staff in May of 2011.

Cox, who has spent nearly two decades in the collegiate coaching ranks, has a track record of success as an assistant at the Division I level, including stints in the Big East, SEC and Big 12, as well as a head coach in the junior college ranks.

Cox, whose first game as a Division I assistant coach came against Nebraska in 1993 when he was at UTSA, said the opportunity to work with Sadler, who hired him as an assistant at Arkansas-Fort Smith was something he could not pass up.

Cox, who has coached 10 student-athletes who have reached the NBA, comes to Nebraska after spending the last two seasons at the University of South Florida. His two years at the school were highlighted by the program's first two wins in the Big East Tournament, including a 16-point comeback against Villanova in 2011.

In his first year at the school, Cox assisted the Bulls to USF's third 20-win season with a 20-13 record and the school's first postseason appearance since the 2002

NIT. The Bulls won a school-record nine Big East contests and were led by first-round draft pick Dominique Jones, who earned honorable-mention All-America honors.

Jones, who was picked by Dallas with the 25th pick after winning the Big East scoring title as a junior, was one of two players coached by Cox selected in the first round of the 2010 NBA Draft. He joined Kentucky forward Patrick Patterson, who was the No. 14 overall selection by the Houston Rockets.

Prior to coaching at USF, Cox spent two years at the University of Kentucky for coach Billy Gillispie, helping the Kentucky Wildcats to the NCAA tournament in 2008 and the NIT quarterfinals in 2009. In his two seasons as an assistant coach at Kentucky, the Wildcats posted 40 overall wins and a 12-4 conference record in 2007-08. That same season the Wildcats earned their 17th-straight berth into the NCAA tournament.

Cox was added to the Kentucky staff after serving under Gillispie as an assistant coach at Texas A&M in 2006-

07, where he helped lead the Aggies to a spot in the Sweet 16 and a school-best final ranking of ninth in both the Associated Press and Coaches' polls. That season, the Aggies finished second in the Big 12 with a 13-3 record and were led by Acie Law, who earned consensus first-team All-America honors and was a first-round pick in the 2007 NBA Draft.

Prior to his time in College Station, Cox was the head coach at UA-Fort Smith for three seasons, guiding the Lions to the 2006 National Junior College Championship while also being named the NJCAA National Coach of the Year. He led the Lions to an 85-15 record, three consecutive 20-win seasons and two Bi-State Conference East Division Championships.

In the 2006 season, UA-Fort Smith was the unanimous preseason No. 1-ranked team in the nation for the first time in recent history and won its first NJCAA Region II championship since 2002 and its first national championship since 1981.

Cox began his association with UA-Fort Smith in 2002 when he was hired by Sadler, then the head coach and athletic director of the school. Cox served as an assistant under Sadler for one year before Cox was promoted to head coach when Sadler went to UTEP.

Cox arrived in Fort Smith after serving four years (1998-99 through 2001-02) as head coach at Garden City College (Kan.), where his teams amassed a 93-36 slate (.721 winning percentage).

He got his first head coaching position at North Dakota State College of Science, where he led his team in 1997-98 to a 19-9 record and the NJCAA Region XIII Championship. He was tagged 1998 NJCAA Region XIII Coach of the Year for his efforts. In eight years as a head coach, Cox's teams have compiled a 197-63 record.

Before his years as a head coach, Cox spent time as an assistant at Paris College (Texas) in 1992-93, and later was as an assistant at the University of Texas-San Antonio for four seasons (1993-97).

He got his coaching start as a graduate assistant at the University of Wyoming during the 1991-92 season under head coach Benny Dees.

Cox also served as the court coach for the USA Basketball Under-21 World Championships team in 2005.

Cox graduated cum laude in 1991 from Mesa (Colo.) State College and received his master's degree in sports management from the United States Sports Academy (Ala.) in 1999.

He and his wife, Cindy, have a son, Austin, and a daughter, Kaii.

Wes Flanigan is in his second season on the Nebraska bench after joining the coaching staff in May of 2010.

A former All-Southeastern Conference performer as a player at Auburn in the mid-1990s, Flanigan has a decade of experience in the coaching ranks, which included stints at UAB, UALR and in the junior college ranks. At Nebraska, Flanigan works with the guards and has helped each of the last three squads he has coached reach postseason play.

Last season, Flanigan worked with the Husker post players, as sophomore Jorge Brian Diaz established career highs in points (10.5 ppg) and rebounds (4.4 rpg) while shooting 54 percent from the floor. All three of the Huskers' primary post players shot over 51 percent from the floor and combined for 86 blocked shots.

Flanigan came to Lincoln after spending the past two seasons in Birmingham, Ala., where he helped UAB to 47 wins and a pair of postseason appearances.

The Blazers went 25-9 in 2009-10, including an 11-5 Conference USA finish, before reaching the quarterfinals of the National Invitation Tournament. UAB defeated Coastal Carolina and NC State before falling to eventual runner-up North Carolina. Among the 25 victories was a December win over NCAA runner-up Butler, the Bulldogs' last loss of the regular season.

With the Blazers, Flanigan worked primarily with the perimeter players, helping UAB rank in the school record book. In 2008-09, UAB connected on 228 3-pointers, the third-highest total in school history.

Prior to his stint at UAB, Flanigan worked four seasons at UALR (2004-05 to 2007-08). In his final season with the Trojans, Flanigan served as associate head coach/recruiting coordinator, helping the UALR squad to a 20-11 record. It was the team's second campaign with at least 18 wins with Flanigan assisting from the bench.

Like Nebraska Coach Doc Sadler, Flanigan is a native of Arkansas (Little Rock) and has a strong background in the junior college ranks. Flanigan spent five seasons as an assistant coach at Northwest Mississippi Community College, working with both the men's and women's squads. They combined for a 199-90 record, including an impressive 119-39 mark by the men's team. The NMCC men won two MACJC North Division titles and three Region XXII championships to advance to the NJCAA Tournament in Hutchinson, Kan. The women's team recorded five postseason appearances with Flanigan on the bench.

The similarity to Sadler's career does not end there. Flanigan is also the son of a coach (Sadler's father was a high school football coach for more than 30 years), as Al Flanigan coaches at Little Rock Parkview High School.

After playing for his father at Parkview, where Wes was named the 1992-93 Gatorade High School Player of the Year for Arkansas, Flanigan earned four letters at Auburn (1993-94 to 1996-97). He was team co-captain for three seasons and finished his college career averaging 10.1 points, 4.8 assists and 2.4 rebounds per game. He graduated from Auburn with a degree in health promotion in 1997.

As a junior, Flanigan had a stellar season, averaging 13.4 points and 6.7 assists while earning All-SEC honors and being named the team's MVP. He was honored as Auburn University's top student-athlete in 1997 and was twice recognized by the university with awards for his leadership abilities. Flanigan still ranks in the top 20 all-time for scoring (1,228 points) and ranks second in Tiger history with 573 assists.

Flanigan and his wife, Katrina, have three sons: Michael Lewis, Allen and Collin.

TIM WILSON

MEN'S BASKETBALL STRENGTH COACH

Tim Wilson is in his first year as Nebraska's strength and conditioning coach for men's basketball. He comes to Nebraska after spending the last three seasons at the University of Oregon, serving as the strength and conditioning coach for the Ducks men's basketball program.

Wilson, a Falls City, Neb., native, spent the last three seasons at Oregon, helping the Ducks to 21 wins and the CBI Championship in 2011. The Ducks closed the season with wins in seven of their last nine games.

Prior to joining the Oregon staff, Wilson spent 11 seasons in the NBA working with the Milwaukee Bucks, where he developed and implemented the strength and conditioning programs on a year-round basis. The Bucks made the playoffs six times in his tenure in Milwaukee, including the Eastern Conference Finals in 2000-01. With the Bucks, he worked with NBA All-Stars Ray Allen, Michael Redd, Glenn Robinson and Sam Cassell, as well as former Husker Erick Strickland.

As strength and conditioning coach at the University of Pittsburgh from 1991 to 1996, Wilson dealt exclusively with the football program. Wilson served under legendary college football coach Johnny Majors and helped several student-athletes on their way to successful professional careers.

Wilson had two tours of duty as strength coach at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas, named the first-ever strength coach for UNLV Athletics in 1981. At UNLV, he served under Jerry Tarkanian and the UNLV men's basketball program.

Wilson, who trained student-athletes from all sports while with the Runnin' Rebels, was a part of the 1989-90 National Championship men's basketball program featuring the likes of Larry Johnson, Stacey Augmon and Greg Anthony. He also helped prepare Randall Cunningham and Ickey Woods for futures in the NFL.

Wilson also spent four years with the Chicago White Sox (1986-89). He trained MLB Hall of Famer Carlton Fisk and current White Sox manager Ozzie Guillen during his time in the Windy City.

Wilson began his career as a graduate assistant at Nebraska after graduating from the school in 1981 with a degree in exercise science.

Wilson has received certifications from both the NSCA (National Strength and Conditioning Association) and the NASM (National Academy of Sports Medicine). He has a PES and CES certification from the NASM.

Wilson and his wife Teri have one son, Tyler.

CHRIS CROFT

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

One of the longest-tenured members of Doc Sadler's staff, Chris Croft is in his sixth season at Nebraska, including fifth as director of operations. He served as an assistant coach during the 2010-11 campaign.

Croft has a wealth of coaching and administrative experience, serving as a head coach at the NAIA level while also serving as an assistant coach at the Division I level for nine seasons, including with schools in the Big 12 and Pacific-12 Conferences.

As director of basketball operations at Nebraska, Croft serves as the primary day-to-day administrator within the basketball office, where he handled the budget, clinics, camps and daily office operations. He is heavily involved with team scheduling and the Huskers' community involvement and Life Skills programs. Croft coordinates the Huskers' public speaking efforts, both for players and the coaching staff. Another integral part of Croft's position is handling team travel, including all postseason trips. Croft has helped Sadler reach postseason play in four of the six seasons he has worked with him, including three of the last four seasons for the Husker program.

Croft came to Nebraska from UTEP, where he served as a program specialist for one season with Sadler's staff. He oversaw several administrative areas for the Miners, as the squad reached the National Invitation Tournament in 2006.

Following eight years as a Division I assistant coach, Croft was named head coach at Martin Methodist (Tenn.) College at the age of 30. Croft's first squad in 2003-04 won 22 games and grabbed the TranSouth Conference title – the first in school history – while also advancing to the NAIA Tournament. He was the first coach in league history to win a championship in his initial season as a head coach, and also was the youngest coach in league history to win the championship. He led his team to 13 road wins to rank second nationally across all divisions of four-year colleges. Croft's team led the conference in scoring defense, as he coached four all-conference players and seven academic all-conference student-athletes.

Croft broke into the coaching profession as an undergraduate student assistant at East Central (Miss.) CC in 1991-93. While at ECCC, he was part of a state championship team and the squad made two regional tournament appearances. Croft then assisted M.K. Turk at Southern Mississippi as an undergraduate before being named an assistant coach at USM at age 22 in 1995.

Croft helped USM to two NIT appearances before moving to the Big 12 under Coach Eddie Sutton in an administrative position at Oklahoma State before the 1996-97 season. In two seasons with the Cowboys, Croft helped OSU to a pair of postseason appearances, including the second round of the 1998 NCAA Tournament. He moved on to Maryland Eastern Shore for one year in a recruiting capacity before spending four seasons (1999-2000 to 2002-2003) at Washington State. Croft also was the head coach for the Planet Basketball All-Star team that toured New Zealand in the summer of 2001.

Croft earned his bachelor's degree in coaching and sports administration from Southern Miss in 1995 and received a master's degree in human performance in 1996. Croft completed his doctoral degree in educational leadership and administration through UTEP in 2008.

Croft is a member of the NABC Committee on Academics and a member of the Winning Hoops Editorial Board and contributing writer for the publication.

TONY SCHAMBER

COORDINATOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

Tony Schamber is in his third year on the Nebraska basketball staff and his second as coordinator of basketball operations for the Husker program. In his role, he assists with administrative duties in the day-to-day operations of the program, including team travel and operations.

Schamber began his association with the Nebraska Athletic Department in August of 2008, serving for a year as an assistant academic counselor. He worked directly with the men's basketball team and assisted with football within the Academic Programs and Student Services unit.

Schamber joined the Nebraska staff after spending four years working with the basketball program at his alma mater, Wyoming. He most recently served as the director of basketball operations after spending three years as a graduate manager. Schamber was in charge of coordinating travel, scheduling, academics and summer camps in his final year at Wyoming.

Schamber's playing career started at Wyoming in the 2000-01 season. He then went on to play at Sheridan College in Sheridan, Wyo., in 2001-02. Sheridan College won the Region IX championship and advanced to the NJCAA Tournament in Hutchinson, Kan. He later played one year at Chadron State College before an injury ended his playing career.

Schamber was an outstanding high school athlete in Wyoming. In his senior season at Lander Valley High School in Lander, Wyo., he was named the 2000 Wyoming High School Player of the Year in basketball and was an all-state selection in football.

Schamber completed his bachelor's degree in physical education at the University of Wyoming in May of 2005, and received his master's degree in kinesiology and health at Wyoming in May 2007. Schamber is married to the former Holly Schoch of Evanston, Wyo., and the couple has one child, Jaxson.

JIM SHAW

VIDEO COORDINATOR

The first member of the staff hired by Coach Doc Sadler at Nebraska, Jim Shaw enters his sixth season as video coordinator in 2011-12. He oversees all aspects of the video operations, including video exchange, taping workouts and games, breaking down video and organizing the video library. Shaw also oversees student assistants who assist with the program's video needs.

Shaw helps coordinate Nebraska player appearances in the community and assists with the Huskers' team efforts in NU's Life Skills Team Award challenge. During the offseason, he plays an integral role with the Doc Sadler Basketball Camps by assisting with all phases of camp planning and supervision.

In his role, Shaw has helped five squads to postseason play in the past seven years under Sadler, including an appearance in the 2011 National Invitational Tournament (NIT), as the Huskers won 19 games. The Huskers also made consecutive NIT appearances in both 2008 and 2009, highlighted by a .500 finish in league play for the first time in a decade. Previously, Shaw helped Sadler guide Texas-El Paso to an NCAA berth in 2004 and an appearance in the 2005 NIT.

Shaw joined the Husker staff after serving as a program specialist at Texas-El Paso under Sadler and former Miners' coach Billy Gillispie. Shaw handled all duties surrounding the Miners' video system during his three years in El Paso, and was heavily involved with directing camps and clinics, including serving as director for the Doc Sadler Basketball Camps each of his last two years. He also has significant experience assisting with recruiting efforts and all areas of player development.

A native of San Antonio, Texas, Shaw is familiar with the Midwest after earning his undergraduate degree in economics at Grinnell (Iowa) College in 2003. He added a master's degree in business administration from Texas-El Paso in 2005 while working with the Miners' program.

Shaw was a four-year letterwinner at Grinnell, helping the Pioneers to four straight Division III national scoring titles, including an all-division scoring record of 124.9 points per game in 2002-03. He led Grinnell to a league title as a sophomore and senior, and in 2001, paced the conference in made 3-pointers while pushing the Pioneers to the NCAA Tournament.

Shaw was married to the former Leslie Hawley in June 2007.

KIM WHITMORE

MEN'S BASKETBALL SECRETARY

Kim Whitmore joined the Nebraska Athletic Department in December of 2006 as the men's basketball office administrative assistant. In her role, she provides administrative support to all the members of the Husker coaching staff while assisting with the coordination of Doc Sadler Basketball Camps and the annual Doc Sadler Golf Classic.

Whitmore returned to Lincoln in 2006 after spending the previous six years in Kansas City, Mo., where she served as an administrative assistant at FirstGuard Health Plan. She supported two company vice-presidents and a department of six employees. Before moving to Kansas City, she worked in the front office for Lincoln orthodontist Brett Cascini.

Kim was married to Erich Whitmore in July of 2010 and resides in Fremont. Originally from Seward, Neb., Whitmore graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan in 1997 with a bachelor's degree in psychology.

PAT NORRIS

DEVANEY CENTER EQUIPMENT MANAGER, E.M.C.

Pat Norris began working as the equipment manager for the Bob Devaney Sports Center in 2004. A member of the American Equipment Managers Association, Norris is responsible for overseeing the day-to-day operations for equipment checkout and upkeep for seven Husker athletic squads, including the men's basketball team. He worked in a similar position as a student from 1997 to 1999.

Before joining the Husker staff, Norris worked five years in Chicago. He was an installations billing coordinator at Hub Group Distribution Services and an account manager at SCR Companies.

Norris married the former Elizabeth Fonfara in September of 2007, and the couple has a three-year old daughter, Parker, and a son, Charlie, born in December of 2010.

R.J. PIETIG

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER, ATC, MS

R.J. Pietig returns for his fourth full year serving as the athletic trainer for the Nebraska men's basketball team. He originally joined the squad midway through the 2007-08 campaign, and joined the athletic medicine staff on a full-time basis in the summer of 2009.

Pietig provides preventive care at practices and games as well as rehabilitation for injured student-athletes. He attends all practices and games including traveling with the team to all away contests.

A native of Carroll, Iowa, Pietig graduated from Iowa State in 2007 with a degree in health and human performance, with a specialty in athletic training. He earned his master's degree in leadership education from Nebraska in May 2009.

SHAMUS MCKNIGHT

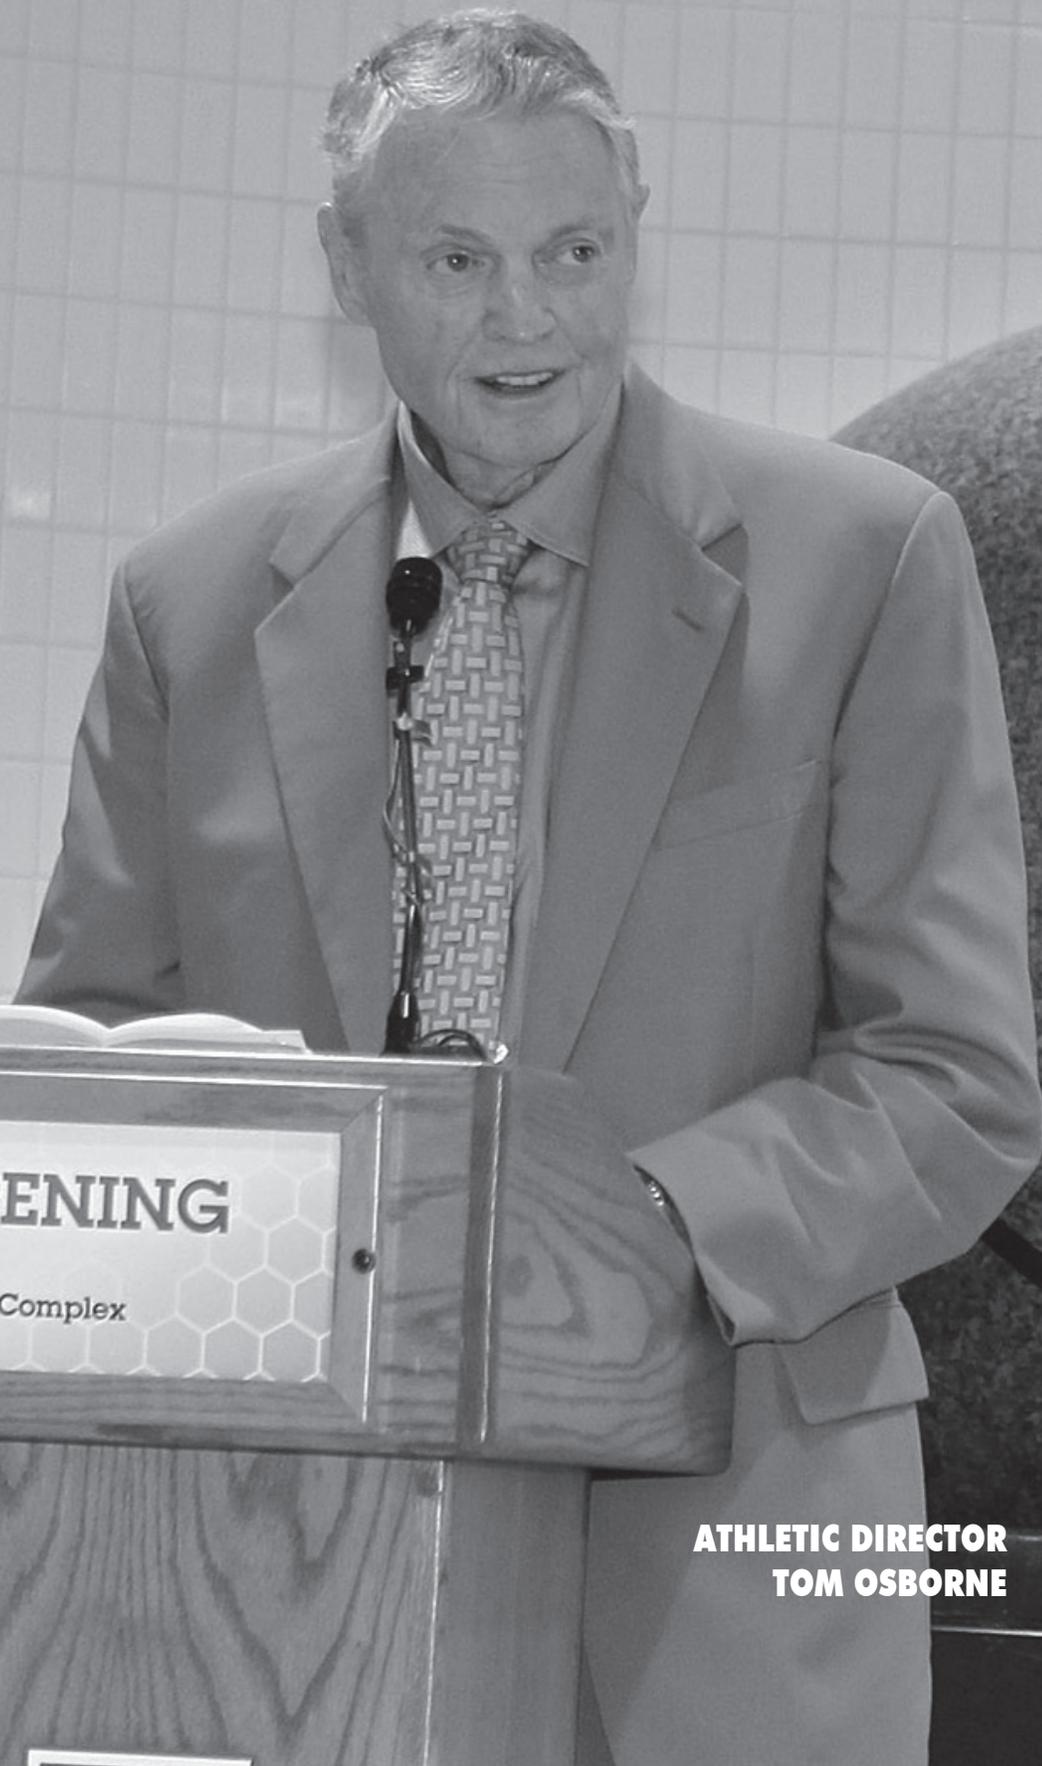

ASSOCIATE MEDIA RELATIONS DIRECTOR

Shamus McKnight joined the Nebraska Athletic Department in 1997 and currently serves as associate media relations director after being promoted to that position in August of 2009.

McKnight joined the full-time athletic department staff in 1999, and handles all publicity for the Husker men's basketball team while serving as the No. 2 contact for the football program. McKnight has served as the media relations director for three NCAA championship Nebraska has hosted and has worked two national championship bowl games in football. In addition, he has served on the College World Series Media Coordination team for the past five years.

A native of North Ridgeville, Ohio, he is a 1996 graduate of Baldwin-Wallace College.

INSTITUTIONAL REPRESENTATIVE | RUTGERS, 1971

Josephine (Jo) R. Potuto, the Richard H. Larson Professor of Constitutional Law, has been Nebraska's faculty representative (FAR) at the NCAA and conference level since May 15, 1997.

For the past three years, Potuto has been president of the 1A FAR (FARs from FBS institutions). In 2002, she was named Outstanding Faculty Athletics Representative by the All-American Football Foundation.

Potuto spent nine years (the maximum) on the NCAA Division I Committee on Infractions (chair her last two years) and currently substitutes on the Committee when a member cannot serve. She is a past Big 12 Conference representative on the NCAA Division I Management Council, served on the NCAA Men's Gymnastics Championship Committee, and currently serves on an NCAA-wide (all divisions) committee to advise NCAA staff on student-athlete issues.

Potuto is an expert on NCAA enforcement and infractions processes as well as on the general NCAA committee structure and has authored several articles on NCAA processes and operations. She has testified before the House Subcommittee on the Constitution regarding due process in NCAA infractions hearings and has made presentations to the Knight Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics. She also has lectured on NCAA processes and issues at, among others, the Universities of Istanbul, Washington, Maryland, and Baltimore. Potuto is a past adviser to the Uniform Law Commissioners Committee to draft a sports agent statute, has drafted rules governing search and seizure and hearings for the Nebraska Racing Commission, and also has written on issues of gender equity in college athletics.

At Nebraska, Potuto is a member of the academic senate as well as the senate's intercollegiate athletics committee. She also served on Nebraska's NCAA site certification steering committee.

Potuto teaches constitutional law, procedural and criminal law, federal jurisdiction, and sports law. She has been a visiting professor of law at the University of Arizona, Rutgers University, the Cardozo College of Law at New York's Yeshiva University, the University of Oregon, the University of North Carolina, and Seton Hall University. She has worked as an assistant prosecutor in the Essex and Morris County (N.J.) prosecutor's offices.

Potuto was project director and a drafter of the Uniform Law Commissioners Sentencing and Corrections Act, as well as the drafter for the Nebraska Supreme Court Committee to Draft Criminal Jury Instructions. She is the author of three books and numerous articles. She also is a member of the American Law Institute.

Potuto earned her bachelor's degree in journalism at Rutgers' Douglass College; her master's degree in English literature at Seton Hall; and her juris doctorate at the Rutgers Law College. She is a member of the bars of Nebraska and New Jersey and is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, and the U.S. District Courts for Nebraska and New Jersey.

Hall of Fame football coach Tom Osborne has continued to leave a lasting impression on the history of Nebraska Athletics since returning to lead the Husker program as the school's 13th athletic director on Oct. 16, 2007. Osborne, who led Nebraska to three national championships (1994, 1995, 1997) and 255 victories in his 25 years as the Huskers' head football coach, has continued to use his impressive leadership skills to guide the NU athletic department as a whole over the past four seasons.

With the core values of integrity, trust, respect, teamwork and loyalty serving as guiding principles for Nebraska's 23-sport program as a whole, Osborne has made historic decisions to help the University of Nebraska athletic programs for years to come.

In June of 2010, Osborne joined Nebraska Chancellor Harvey Perlman and Big Ten Conference Commissioner Jim Delany to announce the Huskers would join the Big Ten beginning on July 1, 2011. Nebraska's move to the Big Ten is expected to add University-wide academic opportunities, while providing financial stability for the athletic department for years to come.

Just a few months later, Osborne announced an aggressive expansion plan for the east side of Memorial Stadium that will increase attendance past 90,000 for the first time, while continuing Nebraska's NCAA record-setting sellout streak. The expansion, which is set for completion before the 2013 football season, will include athletic and academic research components.

In the spring of 2010, the city of Lincoln also received voter approval to begin construction on a 16,000-seat downtown arena, which will serve as the new competitive home for both Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs beginning in 2013-14.

The basketball programs, the wrestling program and many of NU's other sports will also benefit from the Hendricks Training Complex at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The facility, which opened in October of 2011, includes new practice and team areas, in addition to expanded athletic medicine and strength training areas. The Nebraska baseball and softball programs also benefited from a new indoor practice facility at Haymarket Park, which opened in September of 2011.

The first step in Osborne's aggressive building plan for Nebraska's facilities began with the opening of the Student Life Complex in the fall of 2010. The facility directly benefits every Husker student-athlete with expanded academic resources.

While Osborne has helped initiate landmark moves off the field, he has continued to help coaches and student-athletes focus on Nebraska's tradition of success in competition. In fact, the Huskers have enjoyed renewed success in Osborne's first four years as athletic director.

In 2010-11, eight Husker teams finished among the top 20 in the nation, while 15 NU squads advanced to postseason play in their respective sports, including the Husker football team's second straight Holiday Bowl appearance.

One of Osborne's first major decisions as athletic director was to hire Bo Pelini as the Huskers' football coach. Pelini has energized Nebraska's storied tradition with back-to-back 10-win seasons and a trio of Big 12 North Division titles in his first three years.

The tradition-rich NU volleyball program has claimed three Big 12 titles and advanced to three NCAA Sweet 16 appearances, while the women's basketball program has earned two NCAA Tournament trips, including a berth in the NCAA Sweet 16 in 2010. The NU wrestling program shared the 2009 Big 12 title and finished in the top 16 at four straight NCAA Championships. The NU men's and women's track and field teams combined for three conference crowns, while producing seven top-20 finishes indoors and outdoors over the past four years.

The men's and women's gymnastics teams have produced top-10 NCAA finishes the past two years, including a school-record-tying fourth-place showing by the women in 2011. The Husker bowling team won the 2009 NCAA title and has finished in the top eight at the NCAA Championships each of the past four years. The NU rifle team has produced a pair of top-six NCAA finishes in the last four years, while the men's and women's tennis teams both earned NCAA Tournament trips in 2010 and 2011.

The Husker softball team has made three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, while the Husker women's golf and baseball programs both earned NCAA Regional bids in 2008.

While the Huskers have continued to make advancements in competition and in recruiting under Osborne's guidance, they have continued to set the bar high academically. Nebraska led the Big 12 with 14 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in 2010-11, increasing its nation-leading total to 291 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans all-time, across all sports. The Huskers also led the Big 12 with a league-record 192 academic all-conference selections, along with a conference-record 688 Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll selections.

Before being asked by Chancellor Perlman to return to Nebraska as athletic director in 2007, Osborne served three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives (Nebraska's 3rd congressional district) from 2000 to 2006.

He returned to academia following a 2006 gubernatorial bid, serving as a senior lecturer at Nebraska in the College of Business Administration, teaching leadership and business ethics, in the fall of 2007. Osborne also worked as a consultant for local college athletic departments for two years.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, continue to pour their time and support into the TeamMates mentoring program, which they founded in 1991. TeamMates provides encouragement to school-aged youth to help them graduate from high school and pursue a post-secondary education.

Osborne's leadership of the TeamMates program began while he was putting the final touches on one of the best coaching careers in college football history. The Hastings, Neb., native, who earned master's and doctoral degrees in educational psychology from the University of Nebraska, was named NU's 25th head coach following the 1972 season.

In 25 seasons with Osborne at the helm, the Huskers mounted a 255-49-3 record - the sixth-most wins in major college history. Osborne's .836 winning percentage ranked fifth all-time. His career came to a close with a 42-17 win over No. 3 Tennessee in the 1998 Orange Bowl, when he became the first coach in college football history to retire as a reigning national champion. Following his career, he became one of just four coaches in history to have the mandatory three-year waiting period waived for induction into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in December of 1998.

Osborne's 1994 and 1995 teams allowed Nebraska to become just the second school in history to post back-to-back perfect national championship seasons (Oklahoma 1955-56). Nebraska put together the best five-year run in college football history from 1993 to 1997, going 60-3 with five straight 11-win seasons.

Osborne led NU to 13 conference crowns, including six of his last seven seasons on the sideline. All 25 of his Husker teams won at least nine games and went to a bowl, while 15 won 10-or-more games.

In the classroom, the NU football program totaled 65 CoSIDA Academic All-America awards in Osborne's 25 years. In fact, he accumulated more football Academic All-Americans in his 25 years as coach than any other football program in the nation has produced in its history.

Prior to becoming head coach, Osborne spent five seasons under Devaney, helping the Huskers win back-to-back national championships in 1970 and 1971. In 1973, Osborne succeeded Devaney, who also served as Nebraska's Athletic Director from 1967 to 1993.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, have three adult children, Mike, Ann and Suzanne and four grandchildren.

Tom and Nancy Osborne.

MARC BOEHM

EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR | KANSAS STATE, 1984

A member of the Nebraska Athletics senior administration since May 2003, Marc Boehm (pronounced BAME) serves as executive associate athletic director and is the top assistant to the athletic director. Boehm fulfills the director's responsibilities in his absence and also serves as the department's chief operating officer.

Boehm oversees the efforts of several areas within athletics, including marketing, media relations, HuskerVision, facilities and events. Boehm also oversees the Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs and the Husker soccer program. He also played a major role in the athletic department's negotiations for its contract extension with IMG College Sports. To date, it is the largest multi-media rights contract in college athletics.

As the primary administrator for the NU basketball programs, Boehm played an integral role in the hiring of Doc Sadler to be the Huskers' men's basketball coach on Aug. 8, 2006. Sadler has led the Huskers to three postseason appearances over the last four years. Under Boehm's supervision, Coach Connie Yori's women's basketball team enjoyed the best season in school history in 2009-10. The Huskers made their seventh straight postseason trip, advancing to the school's first NCAA Sweet 16.

Boehm has worked tirelessly with Nebraska's media partners to provide the men's basketball team with extensive television package in recent years. His efforts in providing a fan-friendly atmosphere at the Bob Devaney Sports Center have helped Nebraska to record-setting attendance for women's basketball at the Devaney Center.

Boehm has also played an integral role in the planning of Nebraska's new downtown arena for men's and women's basketball, which is scheduled to open for the 2013-14 season. He has also worked to help develop Nebraska's new practice facility - the Hendricks Training Complex - which opened to rave reviews on Oct. 13, 2011. Boehm has also played a part in helping the Nebraska athletic department make a functional transition to the Big Ten Conference in 2011-12.

Boehm was instrumental in conceptualizing and developing the Husker Nation Pavilion, which quickly became the premier pregame event around home football games.

Boehm also took the lead role in obtaining First National Bank and Ameritas as premier sponsors for the Nebraska Athletic Department for a combined deal worth more than $7 million over a three-year period. First National Bank and Ameritas joined ALLTEL, Pepsi and adidas as premier corporate sponsors for Husker athletics.

Boehm held the same position at Pittsburgh from 1997 to 2003. Boehm assisted in the rise of the Panthers' basketball program with the men's team posting back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances in the NCAA Tournament. During construction of the Panthers' new athletic facilities, Boehm played a central role in Pitt's athletic teams moving to the UPMC Sports Performance Complex, Heinz Field and the Petersen Events Center.

Boehm served as interim athletic director at Pittsburgh for nearly five months before coming to Nebraska. During that time, he hired new men's (Jamie Dixon) and women's basketball (Agnus Berenato) and soccer (Sue-Moy Chin) head coaches for the Panther program. Under Dixon's direction, the Panthers have advanced to eight straight NCAA Tournaments, while Berenato has rejuvenated the women's program with three straight NCAA Tournament appearances from 2007 to 2009.

Boehm also spent five years as associate executive director of the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. He directed and managed a 125-member fund-raising committee of Arizona business people responsible for generating more than $4.5 million in cash and in-kind partnerships. Previously he spent four years as associate executive director and public relations director of the Sun Bowl from 1987 to 1991.

Born in Grand Island, Boehm earned his bachelor's degree in communications from Kansas State in 1984 and added a master's degree in sports management from St. Thomas (Fla.) University in 1985. Boehm and his wife, the former Janelle Broderick of Minot, N.D., have three boys, Broderick, Christian and Lukas John.

NEBRASKA COMPLIANCE GUIDELINES

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big Ten Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NECAA PRINCIPLES

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

QUESTION AND ANSWERS FOR FANS, BOOSTERS, ALUMNI AND REPRESENTATIVES OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS

Definitions

Q: What is a booster?

A: Someone who belongs to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; promotes or makes financial donations to the athletic department or a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; employs, gives benefits to, or provides services to a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either.
REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS (I.E., BOOSTERS), NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What is a Prospective Student-Athlete?

A: A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a Nebraska booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Q: What is a Student-Athlete?

A: A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the Nebraska athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Q: What is a contact?

A: Contact is ANY face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and a Nebraska staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Q: What is recruiting?

A: Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in Nebraska's intercollegiate athletic program.

Guidelines

Q: What is a Booster?

A: Someone who belongs to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; promotes or makes financial donations to the athletic department or a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; employs, gives benefits to, or provides services to a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either.
REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS (I.E., BOOSTERS), NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What constitutes impermissible contact by a Booster?

A: Phone calls to prospects (9th to 12th grade) and their relatives placed for recruiting purposes (questions about the athletic program at UNL must be directed to the coach); writing, paging, text messages or instant messages to a prospect to encourage UNL attendance; contact with a prospect at a high school or club contest; contact with a prospect or his/her coach, principal, or counselor to evaluate the prospect; visiting the prospect's educational institution to pick up videotape or transcripts for evaluation purposes; contacting a prospect to congratulate him/her for signing a National Letter of Intent to attend UNL; giving anything of value to a prospect to induce him/her to attend UNL; contact of any kind while the prospect is on the UNL campus for an official or unofficial visit.
RECRUITING CONTACTS, NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What are the rules of employment for a student-athlete?

A: A student-athlete may be employed during the academic year or summer vacation period; receive compensation equal to the going rate for similar services in the locale; receive compensation only for work performed; receive benefits provided to all other employees; teach sport-related individual skill instruction or fee-for-lesson sessions. A student-athlete may not conduct personal sport camps or promote, market, advertise or endorse a commercial business or product.

Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan.
EMPLOYMENT, NCAA BYLAW 12

Q: What are non-permissible benefits?

A: Free or reduced-fee housing/rent including the use of vacation or seasonal homes; free or reduced-fee meals; loans or cash advances in pay or salary; tuition costs or school supply expenses; gifts or presents of any type regardless of the occasion or purpose; use of telephone for long distance or use of telephone cards and cell phones; free use of any motor vehicle, boat or recreational vehicle; free use of services (i.e., automobile repair, hair care, laundry, copying, faxing, etc.); free or reduced-fee memberships at golf courses, health clubs, etc. (This list is not exhaustive. Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan.)
BENEFITS AND PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT, NCAA BYLAW 16

Q: What type of promotional activities may the student-athlete be permitted to participate?

A: Charitable, educational or non-profit promotions and events with requested approval from the Athletic Compliance Office prior to the event.

Q: What types of promotional activities are not permissible?

A: Any fundraising activity that supports a high school organization or group that assists prospective-aged students; use of his/her name or picture; or appear to promote or market a commercial business or product.
PROMOTIONAL ACTIVITIES, NCAA BYLAW 12

POSTSEASON TOURNAMENT INFO

2012 BIG TEN TOURNAMENT

Conseco Fieldhouse in downtown Indianapolis will host the 2012 Big Ten Men's Basketball Tournament. The event, which began in 1998, is making its eighth appearance at Conseco Fieldhouse, which is home to the NBA's Indianapolis Pacers and Indiana Fever of the WNBA. The 18,165-seat facility is considered to be one of the best facilities in the NBA.

The 2012 season marks the fifth straight year that Conseco Fieldhouse has hosted the tournament. Beginning in 2013, the tournament will alternate between the United Center in Chicago and Indianapolis over the next four years.

The Big Ten Tournament receives national exposure, as every game is televised nationally on BTN, ESPN, ESPN2 or CBS.

Thursday, March 8

- Game 1 – Seed 9 vs. Seed 8, 10:30 a.m. (central) - BTN
- Game 2 – Seed 12 vs. Seed 5, 1 p.m. - BTN

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Formed more than 115 years ago, the Big Ten Conference is an association of world-class academic institutions with shared values and goals. Since its inception in 1896, the pursuit and attainment of academic excellence has been the priority for every member institution. However, maintaining the conference's status as one of the preeminent athletic conference's in the country also endures as an important component of the Big Ten student-athlete experience. Recognized as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten strives for success from its student-athletes not only on the field and in the classroom, but around the world as well.

ACADEMICS

All Big Ten Universities have been granted Tier One Status by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, a distinction awarded to just over 100 universities in the country.

The Big Ten leads all conferences with the highest number of ranked graduate school programs among the top 25 according to U.S. News and World Report in 2011. The Big Ten ranks first with 23 top-25 programs in the fields of law, medical (research and primary care), business and engineering.

SUCCESSFUL PROGRAMS

During the 2010-11 season, the Big Ten claimed six team national championships, including titles for Northwestern women's lacrosse, Ohio State synchronized swimming and men's volleyball, Penn State women's volleyball and wrestling and Wisconsin women's ice hockey.

The Big Ten led all conferences with national titles in 13 different NCAA-sponsored championships from 2001-02 to 2010-11. Over that time period, the Big Ten produced championships in cross country, fencing, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, lacrosse, soccer, softball, tennis, track and field, volleyball and wrestling.

STUDENT-ATHLETE OPPORTUNITIES

Big Ten universities provide over $120 million in direct financial aid to more than 9,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 Big Ten championships, 12 for men and 13 for women.

Conference institutions sponsor 298 teams. Other than the Ivy League, the Big Ten has the most broad-based athletic programs in the United States.

TELEVISION EXPOSURE

The Big Ten's media agreements with CBS Sports, ABC/ESPN, FOX Sports and the Big Ten Network (BTN) provide the conference with its greatest television exposure ever. Over 900 Big Ten events are produced and distributed nationally on an annual basis, more than any other conference.

In 2006, the Big Ten created the first national conference-owned television network, the BTN. It launched on Aug. 30, 2007, and now is in its fifth year of operation. It is available to approximately 75 million homes nationally, and appears in 19 of the top 20 national media markets.

ATTENDANCE

Big Ten fans are some of the nation's most supportive, with more than 8.9 million patrons attending conference home contests during the 2010-11 seasons for football, men's and women's basketball and volleyball alone.

HONORING LEGENDS. BUILDING LEADERS.

The mission of the Big Ten Conference has always been to excel athletically without compromising the priority our member institutions assign to their academic standards and to their commitment to student academic success. We seek to celebrate the many accomplishments of Big Ten student-athletes while continuously reinforcing each of our member institutions' high academic standards. Striking that important balance between academics and athletics is integral to the Big Ten's identity, and that philosophy led to the genesis of the new football division names. Both names link directly to the Big Ten mission.

2010-11 SEASON NOTES

STOUT DEFENSE CARRIES HUSKERS BACK TO POSTSEASON

For the Nebraska men's basketball program, the 2010-11 campaign marked a return to postseason play after a one-year absence. The Huskers relied on a stifling defense to finish the year with a 19-13 record and an appearance in the NIT, falling to eventual champion Wichita State in the first round.

Although the Huskers fell shy of their goal of reaching the NCAA Tournament, Nebraska enjoyed a strong season in making its third postseason appearance in the last four years.

The Huskers won 19 regular-season games - matching the program's highest regular-season win total in 15 years. The Huskers tied for seventh in the Big 12 - the third-toughest conference in the country in terms of RPI - and ended up one game out of fifth in the final standings.

Nebraska led the Big 12 in scoring defense for the third time in four years, averaging 60.5 points per game to rank 16th nationally. The Huskers also ranked seventh nationally in field goal percentage defense, holding opponents to 38.9 percent shooting. It was the lowest opponent field goal percentage in 50 years.

After a 2-2 start, the Huskers rolled off 11 straight wins - the longest win streak in 17 seasons, including victories over three postseason teams in the run. The streak was highlighted by a pair of double-digit comebacks, including a school-record 20-point comeback against NCAA Tournament qualifier USC on Nov. 27. It was only the 10th double-figure win streak in the program's 115-year history. Nebraska finished the non-conference portion of its season with a 12-2 record before starting its final season of Big 12 play with a one-point win over Iowa State.

The Iowa State game set the tone for Big 12 play, as Nebraska had eight of its 16 Big 12 games decided by five points or less. In that game, the Huskers trailed by four points with 3:40 left, but held the Cyclones scoreless down the stretch. The Huskers broke a 62-all tie as Lance Jeter stole a pass with four seconds left and was fouled with 0.7 seconds remaining. The senior split the free throws, helping the Huskers improve to 13-2 on the season.

The Huskers were in nearly every Big 12 contest, as five of their nine league losses were by five points or less, including a three-point loss at No. 3 Kansas and one-point setbacks at Texas Tech and at Iowa State.

Nebraska defended its home court, matching a school record with 17 home wins, including three wins over ranked teams. The Huskers defeated No. 3 Texas, 70-67, on Feb. 19. The win over the Longhorns, which snapped Texas' 11-game Big 12 winning streak and was UT's first conference setback, was the first time since 1994 that Nebraska had defeated a team ranked in the top three nationally. Nebraska also posted a 57-48 win over No. 13 Texas A&M on Jan. 29 and a 69-58 triumph over No. 22 Missouri on March 1, in the Huskers' final Big 12 home game.

The Huskers were in position to make an NCAA Tournament run with an 18-8 record after the win over Texas, but struggled down the stretch with losses in four of their final five regular-season games, including a four-point loss to Kansas State, a one-point overtime loss at Iowa State and a one-point setback against Oklahoma State in the Big 12 Championship.

Jeter was honored for his accomplishments, as a third-team All-Big 12 selection by the league's coaches. The senior from Beaver Falls, Pa., led Nebraska in scoring (11.7), assists (4.5) and steals (1.8) per game, while ranking among the Big 12 leaders in assists and steals.

Jeter, who received the Jack Moore Award as team MVP, became the first Husker to lead the team in points and assists in the same year since Cookie Belcher in 2001 and only the third Big 12 player to average 10.0 points, 5.0 assists and 5.0 rebounds in league play, joining Iowa State's Jamaal Tinsley (1999-2000) and Kansas' Kirk Hinrich (2001-02).

2010-11 QUICK NOTES

◆ Nebraska won 19 games, marking the third time in the last four seasons the Huskers have won at least 18 games in a season. The Huskers received votes in both the AP and ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll on Jan. 30, the first time NU have received votes in either national poll in Doc Sadler's five years at Nebraska. NU won 19 regular-season games, matching its highest total in the Big 12 era (1997-2011).

◆ Nebraska played 19 of its 32 games against teams that reached postseason play in 2010-11, including wins over NCAA Tournament qualifiers Texas, USC, Texas A&M and Missouri. Overall, the Huskers went 4-6 against teams that made the 2011 NCAA Tournament.

◆ Nebraska continued to be one of the nation's best defensive teams, leading the Big 12 in points per game allowed (60.5) for the third time in the last four seasons. The Huskers also ranked seventh nationally in field goal defense at 38.9 percent - the best performance by a Nebraska team since the 1960-61 season. It was made more impressive considering the Huskers played 11 games against teams that finished in the top-40 nationally in points per game.

Seniors Matt Karn, Drake Beranek and Lance Jeter were honored prior to the Huskers' final home game against Missouri on March 1, 2011. Nebraska defeated No. 22 Missouri, 69-58, in the Huskers' final Big 12 home game.

Caleb Walker had three games with at least 10 rebounds, and became the first Husker since 2007-08 with consecutive games of at least 10 boards.

◆ The Huskers held seven teams (Arkansas-Pine Bluff, Vanderbilt, Hofstra, Eastern Washington, Grambling State, Kansas and Texas A&M) to season lows in points during the 2010-11 season while only four teams scored above their season average against the Huskers.

◆ Nebraska showed its defensive prowess, holding 10 consecutive opponents to less than 60 points. It was the longest stretch since a 21-game span covering the 1948-49 and 1949-50 seasons.

◆ Nebraska played in five one-point games in 2010-11, all against conference foes, matching the second-highest total in school history. Only the 1961-62 squad, which had seven one-point contests, was involved in more one-point games than the 2010-11 Huskers.

◆ The Huskers strung together an 11-game win streak in 2010-11, only the 10th double-figure win streak in 115 years of basketball at Nebraska, and the longest since the 1993-94 campaign. The win streak featured six consecutive wins in double figures - the longest stretch since 1992. Prior to last season, the Huskers' longest win streak under Doc Sadler was six games.

◆ Nebraska continued an impressive run at home under Coach Doc Sadler in 2010-11. The Huskers matched a school record with 17 home wins (also 1982-83 and 2007-08). NU matched its best home mark in Big 12 play by going 6-2 at the Devaney Center. In Doc Sadler's five seasons at Nebraska, the Huskers are an impressive 71-19 (.789) at home.

Most Home Wins in School History
No.	Year	Home Wins
1.	2010-11	17
	1982-83	17
	2007-08	17

◆ Nebraska's three wins over ranked teams marked the third time in the last 15 years the Huskers knocked off three ranked foes in a season (also 1998-99 and 2007-08), while the win over No. 3 Texas was the first top-three opponent the Huskers downed since a 98-91 win over No. 3 Missouri in the 1994 Big Eight Tournament. Prior to the win over the Longhorns, the highest ranked team NU had defeated in the Big 12 era (1996-97 season to 2010-11) was No. 4 Oklahoma State on Feb. 22, 2005.

◆ Nebraska overcame a pair of double-digit deficits during the 2010-11 season, including a 20-point first-half deficit against USC on Nov. 27 (Nebraska trailed at 37-17 with 2:05 left in the first half) to win 60-58. The 20-point deficit against USC equaled the largest deficit the Huskers overcame in a game in the Big 12 era (1996-97 to 2010-11) and equaled the largest deficit NU overcame in a win. The Huskers also overcame a 20-point deficit in an 87-77 overtime win against Kansas State on Jan. 15, 1997. Nebraska owns five double-digit comebacks under Doc Sadler.

◆ Senior Lance Jeter finished his two-year career with 279 assists, the most by any Husker who played two or fewer seasons in the program. He earned third-team All-Big 12 honors, leading Nebraska in both points (11.7) and assists (4.5) while chipping in 4.4 rebounds per game. He was the first Husker in a decade to lead the Big Red in both scoring and assists and ranked in the top five in the Big 12 in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.2-to-1, second), assists per game (fifth) and steals per game (1.8, fourth). Jeter finished with a pair of double-doubles on the year, including a career-high 27 point, 10-rebound effort at Iowa State where he hit a career-high five 3-pointers.

◆ Jeter cracked Nebraska's single-season top-10 list in both assists and assists per game, as his 4.5 assists per game was the third-best effort by a Husker in the Big 12 era. Only Charles Richardson Jr. (5.8 in 2006-07) and Tyronn Lue (4.8 in 1997-98) averaged more assists per game over the past 15 seasons.

◆ Sophomore Jorge Brian Diaz became a consistent offensive force in 2010-11, reaching double figures in 17 contests while averaging 10.5 points on 54 percent shooting. He finished eighth in the Big 12 with 1.2 blocks per game and ranks 10th on Nebraska's career list with 79 blocked shots in two seasons at Nebraska. He is just 21 blocked shots away from being the eighth Husker to reach 100 career blocks. Diaz was playing some of his best basketball down the stretch, averaging 11.3 points, 4.4 rebounds and 1.6 blocks per game over Nebraska's final eight contests.

◆ Sophomores Brandon Ubel and Ray Gallegos continued Nebraska's tradition of success in the classroom, as both players were named to the Academic All-Big 12 team. Ubel was named to the first team, while Gallegos was a second-team honoree. Nebraska was one of four Big 12 programs with multiple selections in 2010-11.

◆ Ubel finished the season playing some of the best basketball of his career. The 6-foot-10 sophomore averaged 10.0 points on 58 percent shooting and 6.3 rebounds over the Huskers final four games. He started the stretch with a near double-double against No. 22 Missouri, scoring 11 points and matching his career high with nine rebounds. In the Big 12 Tournament opener against Oklahoma State, he had 11 points, including seven straight to help NU erase a 14-point deficit, and six rebounds before nine points and six rebounds in the NIT opener at Wichita State. On the season, he averaged 6.1 points on 52 percent shooting and 3.7 rebounds per game.

Jorge Brian Diaz ranked among the Big 12 leaders in blocked shots with 1.2 per game in 2010-11.

CAREER HONORS

- 2010-11 Third-Team All-Big 12 (coaches)
- 2010-11 USBWA All-District VII Team
- 2010-11 Jack Moore Award winner
- 2009-10 Big 12 All-Newcomer Team (media)

Lance Jeter put together one of the best seasons by a Husker point guard in recent memory in 2010-11. The Jack Moore Award winner for team MVP, Jeter was a third-team All-Big 12 performer, averaging 11.7 points, 4.5 assists and 4.4 rebounds per game. He became the first Husker since 2001 to lead NU in both scoring and assists in the same season and cracked Husker single-season top-10 lists in both assists (145, sixth) and assists per game (4.53, eighth). He finished among the Big 12 leaders in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.2-to-1, second), assists per game (fifth) and steals per game (1.8, fourth) and was the only player in the Big 12 to average at least 10 points, four assists and four rebounds per game. Jeter was at his best down the stretch, averaging 16.4 points, 6.4 rebounds and 5.2 assists over the last five games to help the Huskers to a postseason bid.

He raised his play during Big 12 action, leading Nebraska in scoring (12.7 ppg), assists (5.2 apg) and rebounds (5.0 rpg), while ranking among league leaders in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.3-to-1, second), assists (second), steals (1.6 apg, third) and scoring (18th). Jeter also became only the third player in Big 12 history to average more than five rebounds and five assists per game in league action, joining Iowa State's Jamaal Tinsley (1999-2000) and Kansas' Kirk Hinrich (2001-02).

Jeter produced a pair of double-doubles as a senior, highlighted by a career-high 27-point performance at Iowa State. In that game he hit a career-high five 3-pointers, including a game-tying shot with 3.4 seconds left, grabbed 10 rebounds and dished out five assists. His other double-double came against No. 2 Kansas when he had 10 points and a season-high 10 assists, the most assists by a Kansas opponent in four years. Jeter's effort against KU was no surprise, as he averaged 10.7 points and 6.0 assists in six games against ranked opponents, while posting an impressive 3-to-1 assist to turnover ratio.

CAREER HONORS

- 2010-11 Paul Velandier Hustle Award Winner

Drake Beranek played an important role in helping the Huskers win 19 games and reach the postseason for the third time in four years. He appeared in all 32 games, including five starts, and averaged 4.2 points and 2.4 rebounds per contest. Beranek was selected as the 2011 Paul Velandier Hustle Award winner by the coaching staff, as he ranked among the team leaders in floor burns and charges taken.

He reached double figures three times while coming off the bench, including a pair of times in conference action. He had 10 points, including a pair of 3-pointers, and a season-best three assists at Baylor on Feb. 9, while also totaling 10 points, four rebounds and two assists in a win over Colorado on Jan. 18. His other double figure effort came against Jackson State when he hit 4-of-5 shots from the field, including both of his 3-point attempts.

Beranek made four of his five starts in Big 12 action, including a start against Iowa State when he had nine points and seven rebounds while limiting Scott Christopherson, who was leading the Big 12 in 3-point percentage at the time, to just six points on 2-of-7 shooting. He keyed a Senior Night win over No. 22 Missouri with all seven of his points in the second half of a 69-58 win over the Tigers.

Beranek walked on at Nebraska for the 2009-10 season with the goal of trying his hand at Division I basketball. He had a tremendous opportunity after being one of the top players in Division II his first three years at Nebraska-Kearney when he led the Lopers to a 51-35 record.

Individually, Beranek was a three-time all-conference selection after averaging 17.9 points per game over his career. A two-time all-region selection, he ranked 15th on the UNK career scoring chart with 1,453 career points in 81 games.

As a junior, Beranek led the conference in scoring at 21.9 points per game, an average that ranked 11th in Division II. He hit 49.5 percent (211-of-426) from the floor - including an impressive 43.3 percent (52-of-120) from beyond the arc - while draining 82.1 percent (96-of-117) at the free throw line. He also averaged 6.9 rebounds per game and more than three assists per contest.

MATT KARN

Guard | 6-3 | 200
Philpot, Ky.
Ohio County HS
Shawnee (Ill.) CC

Walk-on Matt Karn spent three years in the Husker program and helped the Huskers make a pair of postseason appearances. After missing his first season because of knee surgery, Karn was a backup guard who worked extensively on the Husker scout team. A solid 3-point shooter, Karn also became the first member of the 2011 Husker senior class to earn his degree, as he received a degree in history in May of 2010, and is currently in graduate school.

As a senior, he appeared in nine contests, as Nebraska won 19 games and reached the NIT. He had three points against Arkansas-Pine Bluff on Nov. 15 and made seven appearances in non-conference action. Karn made his Big 12 debut on Senior Night, as he played the final minute of Nebraska's 69-58 win over No. 22 Missouri, and he also saw action against Wichita State in the NIT.

As a junior, Karn saw action in nine contests (33 minutes) during the non-conference slate, hitting 3-of-5 from the field on the season, with all five of his shots coming from 3-point range. The long-range specialist had 3-pointers against Chicago State, Southern Utah and Southeastern Louisiana. He also added single rebounds vs. Texas-Pan American and SELU while adding assists against Southern Utah and Southeastern Louisiana. Karn had one steal against Southern Utah.

Karn redshirted his first season in Lincoln, sitting out the 2008-09 campaign while rehabilitating a knee injury.

BOB DEVANEY SPORTS CENTER

Named after longtime athletic director and football coach Bob Devaney, the Bob Devaney Sports Center has been home to Nebraska basketball since it opened in time for the 1976-77 season. In the past 35 years, the Huskers have amassed over 400 victories in the building, providing NU a strong home court advantage.

The multi-purpose facility is the home of the Husker men's and women's basketball programs as well as the men's and women's gymnastics, men's and women's indoor track and women's swimming program.

Over the years, the Devaney Center has seen a number of dramatic improvements to stay among the forefront of college facilities. In 2000, fans saw the addition of two HuskerVision replay screens, hustle stat boards and digital message boards as well as new sound and lighting systems to help make an impressive gameday atmosphere even better. That same year, there were other upgrades such as the addition of a ring of honor and the Husker Hall of Fame. The displays in the concourse areas highlight more than 100 years of Nebraska athletics and more than three decades of women's athletics at the university.

The addition of the Hendricks Training Complex in 2011 opened up additional areas for renovation inside the Devaney Center over the next three years. The project includes a 10,000 sq. ft. grand entrance addition on the south side, interior renovation of the arena level, concourse level and arena interior. Premium seating will be added with the addition of suites and a new premium seating hospitality room.

While the facility continues to be updated to keep it among the elite college athletic facilities in the country, Nebraska has excelled on its home court. The Huskers have shown an ability to raise their game in the facility as they have defeated 32 ranked teams in front of their raucous home crowds over the years.

At the start of the 2000s, the student section was reorganized and reborn as the Red Zone, providing Nebraska with a lively student section.

The Nebraska basketball team is not the only tenant of the versatile facility. The Husker women's basketball team also calls the Devaney Center home, along with Nebraska teams for gymnastics, women's swimming and diving, track and field and wrestling.

With a capacity of 13,595, the Devaney Center has hosted numerous NCAA postseason events since opening its doors in 1976. The Husker men's basketball team has enjoyed playing on the Devaney Center court, as NU has an all-time record of 427-133 (.763) in the building. Nebraska has posted less than eight home victories just once (1976-77) in the 35-year history of the Devaney Center.

Mikki Moore led Nebraska to the 1996 NIT championship game, where the Huskers defeated St. Joseph's, 60-56, to earn their first-ever basketball title on the national level.

Cary Cochran holds Nebraska's postseason record for 3-pointers in a game, hitting 7-of-9 shots against TCU in the 1999 NIT Tournament.

HISTORY

TYRONN LUE

Claude Retherford was the leading scorer on NU's 1949 Big Seven Championship team.

under Coach W.H. Browne in 1935-36 and 1936-37. The 1937 team tied Kansas for the Big Six championship, after finishing second to the Jayhawks in 1936.

The 1930s produced four more Cornhusker All-Americans: center Don Maclay in 1931, guard Steve Hokuf in 1933, guard George Wahlquist in 1936 and guard Robert Parsons in 1937. Maclay was the Big Six scoring leader in 1930, scoring 112 points in 10 league games.

Harry Good was hired as head coach in 1946 and after two losing seasons, turned Nebraska's fortunes around. In 1948-49, Good's Huskers went 16-10, tied Oklahoma for the Big Seven regular-season championship and defeated the Sooners, 57-56, in a conference playoff to qualify for an NCAA playoff game. The NCAA Tournament was structured differently then, and the Cornhuskers needed to win that playoff to advance into the NCAA field. They lost to Oklahoma A&M, the Missouri Valley Conference champion, 52-35, at Kansas City, Mo. Coach Henry P. Iba's Aggies went on to finish second to Kentucky, coached by Adolph Rupp, in the NCAA Tournament.

In 1949-50, Nebraska again won 16 games and shared the Big Seven crown with Kansas and Kansas State. That marks the last time the conference had a three-way tie at the top. "We were King in our day," Claude Retherford once told a newspaper reporter. "They were firing football coaches left and right, but we packed 'em in. Oh, people were interested in football, but basketball was THE game on the Nebraska campus when we played." Retherford earned All-Big Seven recognition in 1949 after leading the conference in scoring with a 12.4 points-per-game average.

The Cornhuskers had another first-team All-Big Seven performer in 1949, Milton "Bus" Whitehead. The 6-10 center from Scottsbluff, Neb., also earned all-conference honors in 1950, when he averaged a then-school-record 15.7 points per game. Whitehead was named to the District V All-America team by Collier's Magazine. Whitehead also was the first Cornhusker selected to play in the East-West All-Star Game in New York City's Madison Square Garden. When he graduated, Whitehead held nine school scoring records.

Nebraska basketball experienced another drought beginning in 1950-51, with 15 consecutive losing seasons. Despite playing for a team that finished last in the Big Seven in 1952, Husker guard Jim Buchanan earned All-America and all-conference honors. And even though the late Jerry Bush, dubbed the "Big Bear of the Coliseum," never produced a winning team in his nine seasons as head coach at Nebraska, his colorful personality and uncanny ability to fashion upsets kept Cornhusker fans entertained.

The most dramatic upset during Bush's tenure as coach came on Feb. 22, 1958, against Kansas. The Jayhawks featured 7-foot center Wilt Chamberlain and were ranked fourth in the nation when they came to Lincoln. Earlier in the season, the Jayhawks had defeated the Huskers, 102-46, at Lawrence, Kan., with Chamberlain matching Nebraska by scoring 46 points. Nebraska scored a 43-41 victory in the rematch, when 5-9 guard Jim Kubacki hit a 15-foot jump shot with two seconds remaining.

But that's only part of the drama. Kubacki, a senior from Toledo, Ohio, spent all but the final 6:53 of the game sitting on the bench in street clothes, forced there by a knee injury and the kind of fate from which legends are built. When the Cornhuskers' captain, Gary Reimers, Cornhuskers played two seasons at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, which had a wider court than Grant Hall.

The first game there was played on Jan. 14, 1921. Nebraska defeated conference opponent Grinnell 31-10 before an audience of 1,500, according to newspaper estimates. After two seasons, the Cornhuskers returned to Grant Hall, which had been remodeled, and continued to play home games there until the NU Coliseum opened.

Nebraska ended the decade with an 11-5 season under Charles T. Black, a former Kansas All-American in 1928-29. In the next 19 seasons, the Huskers had just two winning records, back-to-back campaigns left the game with leg cramps, Kubacki convinced Bush to let him suit up. Four minutes and seven seconds later, Kubacki went into the game. Two minutes and 44 seconds after that, he hit the winning shot.

Bush also had the distinction of coaching the school's first 1,000-point scorer, guard Herschell Turner, who came from Indianapolis, Ind., where he was rated the second-best high school player in the state as a senior, behind only crosstown-rival Oscar Robertson. Turner earned All-America honors in 1959 and followed with All-Big Eight honors in 1960 and ended his Cornhusker career with 1,056 points.

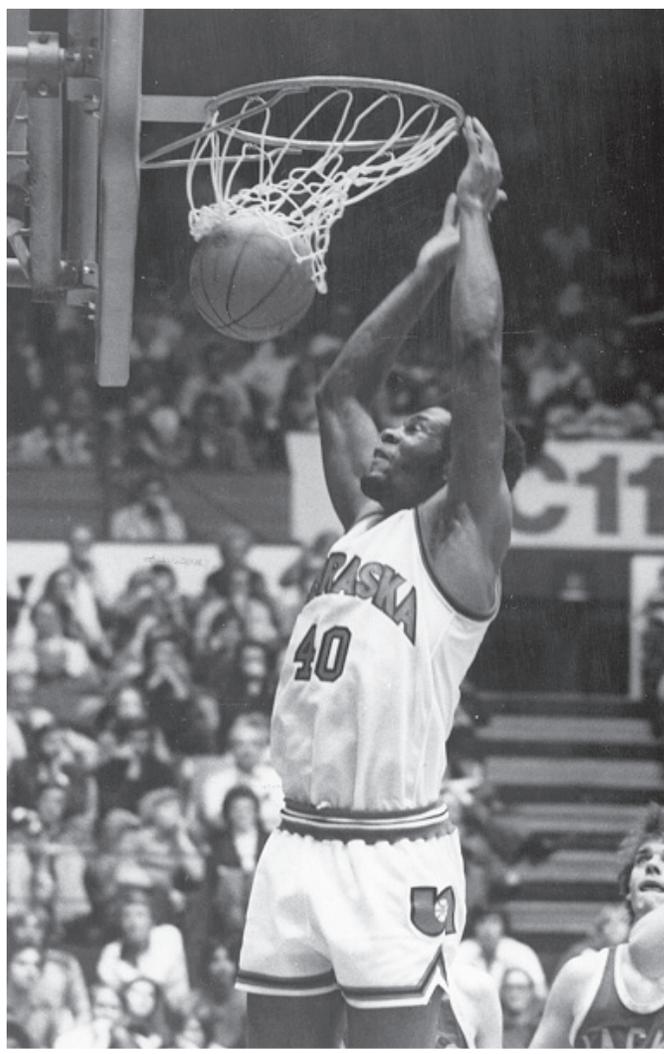

Following the 1962-63 season, Bush was replaced as head coach by Joe Cipriano, who brought the nickname "Slippery Joe" and up-tempo basketball to the Coliseum. His teams pressed full-court and ran a fast-break offense, which led the Big Eight in scoring average in 1966, 1967 and 1968.

Cipriano's first two teams had a combined record of 17-33. But his third team, in 1965-66, was one of the most successful in school history, finishing 20-5 and second to Kansas in the Big Eight. All-Big Eight guard Grant Simmons, the first Cornhusker to earn academic All-Big Eight honors, was the team's leader.

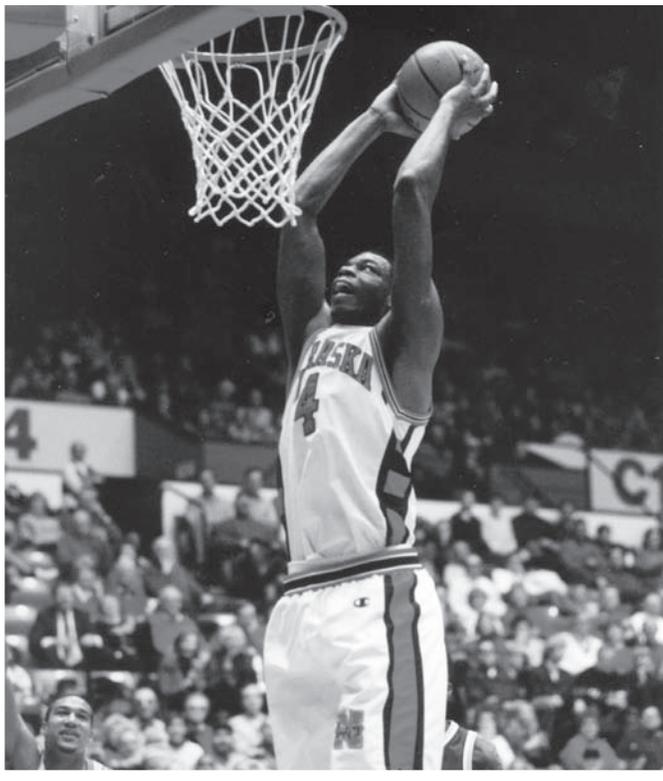

The 1966-67 team finished 16-9 and made the school's first appearance in the 16-team National Invitation Tournament, played at New York City's Madison Square Garden. Guard Stu Lantz was a two-time All-Big Eight pick and led the Cornhuskers in scoring and rebounding in both 1966-67 and 1967-68.

Guard Marvin Stewart and center Chuck Jura earned All-Big Eight honors for Cipriano in 1971 and 1972, respectively. Guard Jerry Fort, who finished his career with a then-school-record 1,882 points, was the first Nebraska player chosen first-team all-conference three times, from 1974 through 1976. With Fort's leadership, Nebraska began a string of 14 winning seasons.

In the fall of 1976, Cornhusker basketball moved out of the Coliseum and into the state-of-the-art Bob Devaney Sports Center. Located on the State Fairgrounds, the $13 million athletic complex was financed by a special cigarette tax.

Andre Smith was the Big Eight Player of the Year for Nebraska in 1981.

Venson Hamilton was the second Husker to be named conference player of the year when he earned the award in 1999.

what was to come. The lightning-quick, 6-0 point guard finished his career as the seventh-leading scorer in school history, and he ranked in the top 10 in 12 other career categories. His leadership carried the 1996-97 Cornhusker team, the first to play in the Big 12, to another NIT appearance.

Behind a late-season run, which included Nebraska's longest conference winning streak in 20 years, Nee's 12th team finished fourth in the Big 12 and returned to the NCAA Tournament. The bid was the Cornhuskers' fifth during the 1990s and extended the school-record postseason run to eight.

The streak reached nine in 1999, as the Cornhuskers just missed an NCAA Tournament bid and advanced to the second round of the NIT. In the process, NU reached the 20-victory mark for a second consecutive season, and Hamilton was named Big 12 Player of the Year.

The optimism that preceded the 1999-2000 season, Nee's last, quickly faded with the loss of guard Cookie Belcher, who was sidelined by a wrist injury and forced to take a medical redshirt. The Cornhuskers were off-balance almost from the beginning of the season and fell far short of expectations.

Even though Nee became the winningest coach in school history in 1999-2000, getting victory No. 254 to pass Joe Cipriano in the Cornhuskers' final home game against Colorado, his final team finished with an 11-19 record. The 19 losses tied for the most in school history.

With then-Director of Athletics Bill Byrne setting his sites on bringing NU basketball back to national prominence, he hired Barry Collier as the Cornhuskers' new coach on April 5, 2000. In Collier's first season with the Huskers, Nebraska finished with a 14-16 mark as Belcher returned to the lineup and earned second-team All-Big 12 Conference honors while finishing third in NCAA history for career steals with 353.

In Collier's fourth season, Nebraska ran to an 18-13 record and its first postseason bid in five years. Nebraska won its first two games in the 2004 NIT, including an exhilarating 71-70 road victory over in-state foe Creighton in the opening round. After a home-court victory over Niagara, the Huskers' season came to an end three days later in a valiant effort at Hawaii when NU came back from 17 points down at halftime to tie the game at the first media timeout of the second period before eventually falling by a point.

Nebraska struggled the following season but an influx of young talent helped the Huskers move forward. Freshman 6-11 center Aleks Maric made an immediate impact as he broke the NU freshman rebounds record and ranked in the rookie top 10 for blocked shots. Maric – the first Australian to ever play basketball for the Huskers – was a force in the paint as he tied the school freshman record for double-doubles. It was a sign of good things to come as he finished his four-year career ranked fifth all-time in scoring and was only the second Husker ever to record at least 1,000 career rebounds.

NU made its second postseason appearance in three years in 2006 before finishing with a 19-14 record. It was the most wins under Collier and the first time his Huskers won a game at the Big 12 Championship as NU reached the semifinals of the conference tourney for the first time since winning the Big Eight Tournament title in 1994.

Collier looked to have a solid base in place for 2006-07 before abruptly resigning in early August to take the position of athletic director at his alma mater, Butler University, ending his career at Nebraska with an 89-91 overall record.

The late opening posed little challenge for Nebraska as one week later, on Aug. 8, 2006, Kenneth 'Doc' Sadler was introduced as the 26th head coach in program history.

Sadler's selection as the leader of the men's basketball program has proven to be a successful venture through his first five seasons in Lincoln. During that time, he has embraced the Husker faithful and provided a breath of excitement across the state. The surge of goodwill was evidenced by fans coming out in droves over the past four seasons as NU has averaged more than 10,000 per game at the Devaney Center in league play each of those years for the first time since 1997-98.

The success on the court played the biggest part in the ground swell of fan support. Nebraska finished first in the Big 12 and 18th nationally in scoring defense in 2007-08, allowing just 60.7 points per game. Sadler's specialty was highlighted again in 2008-09 as the Huskers proved it was no fluke, claiming another first-place defense in the league while ranking 22nd nationally by giving up just 60.4 points per contest. It was the second-lowest total in the Husker record book since 1951, giving Sadler-coached squads three of the top four Husker scoring defenses in the past half century. In 2010-11, Nebraska led the Big 12 for the third time in four seasons, allowing just 60.5 points per game and ranking seventh nationally in field goal defense (.389).

The defensive strategy Sadler employs has paid dividends as Nebraska has earned 89 victories through five seasons. The total is the most by a Husker mentor in his first five years in Lincoln and he is already fourth on the school's all-time wins list.

Adding to Sadler's growing list of accomplishments is the fact that he was just the second NU coach ever to reach the postseason twice in his first three seasons and only the second since World War II to post at least three winning seasons in his first four years on the bench.

Among the 89 victories are eight against ranked teams, including three ranked teams during the 2010-11 season. That year, the Huskers reached the NIT, the school's third postseason appearance in the last four seasons.

The Huskers' 20-13 record in 2007-08 included a 7-9 record in league play, after starting the Big 12 campaign with an 0-4 mark. In 2008-09, Sadler helped Nebraska continue its upward trend with eight league victories, marking NU's first .500 record in conference play in a decade.

The 2011-12 season begins a new era for Nebraska basketball, as the Huskers are now members of the Big Ten Conference. The conference is annually one of the best leagues in the country, sending seven teams to the NCAA Tournament in 2010-11. This fall also marks the opening of the Hendricks Training Complex, the new home for the Husker basketball program. The facility features a practice facility, locker room, team lounge, offices and much more, giving Nebraska one of the best facilities in the nation.

Aleks Maric finished his career ranked fifth all-time in scoring and second in rebounding, becoming only the third player in Big 12 history to record at least 1,600 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career.

After earning all-league honors as a junior, Tyronn Lue was a first-round NBA selection in 1998. During his collegiate career, he helped Nebraska to three postseason appearances and finished eighth in school history in scoring.

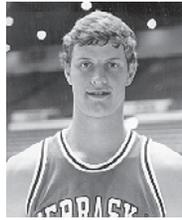

Danny Nee is the winningest coach in Nebraska history with 254 career victories over 14 seasons. A 2009 Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame inductee, Nee was the Big Eight Coach of the Year in 1991 after leading NU to a school-record 26 victories.

NEBRASKA'S 1,000-POINT SCORERS

1. DAVE HOPPEN - 2,167 POINTS

6-11, 235, C, 1983-86, Omaha, Neb. (Benson)

Three-time All-Big Eight center Dave Hoppen finished his career as Nebraska's all-time leading scorer with 2,167 points. Hoppen, whose four-year collegiate career was cut short by a knee injury in a game at Colorado, Feb. 1, 1986, broke or tied 19 Nebraska records and five Big Eight marks during his standout career. A native of Omaha, Neb., Hoppen was the first player in Husker basketball history to have his jersey number (42) retired. Originally drafted by the NBA's Atlanta Hawks in the third round of the 1986 draft, he played with both Charlotte and Philadelphia, and a stint in the CBA. Hoppen was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1996.

2. ERIC PIATKOWSKI - 1,934 POINTS

6-7, 215, F, 1991-94, Rapid City, S.D. (Stevens)

One of only two players in school history to play on four consecutive NCAA Tournament teams, Eric Piatkowski finished his career as the second-leading scorer in school history with 1,934 points. The Most Valuable Player in the 1994 Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament, Piatkowski had a school and tournament-record 42-point outburst in Nebraska's first-round victory over Oklahoma. A two-time, first-team All-Big Eight pick, Piatkowski averaged 21.5 points in his final season as a Husker, and became the first player in school history to score 1,900 points (1,934), grab 600 rebounds (669) and dish out 300 assists (322). A first-round draft pick of the NBA's Indianapolis Pacers, Piatkowski's draft rights were then traded to the Los Angeles Clippers, who he played with for eight seasons before joining the Houston Rockets during the summer of 2003. He was traded to the Chicago Bulls in the summer of 2004 and signed with the Phoenix Suns where he played his final three years in the league. Piatkowski's jersey No. 52 was retired by the Huskers in 2006, the same year he was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame.

3. JERRY FORT - 1,882 POINTS

6-3, 170, G, 1973-76, Chicago, Ill. (Franciscan)

The first Husker basketball player to earn All-Big Eight honors for three straight seasons, Jerry Fort finished his career with 1,882 points – a record that stood for nine seasons, until Dave Hoppen broke it, Dec. 15, 1985. Fort was a third-round draft pick of the Boston Celtics following his senior season. He scored a then-school-record 40 points against Missouri as a junior. Fort was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1991.

4. ANDRE SMITH - 1,717 POINTS

6-7, 215, C/F, 1978-81, Chicago, Ill. (Kennedy)

Andre Smith closed his brilliant four-year career in 1980-81 when he led the Big Eight Conference in scoring with a 19.5 average in league-only games. Smith was named the conference's player of the year for his efforts – the only Husker to earn that honor in the Big Eight era. Smith was also a two-time all-conference selection. He scored 1,717 points and grabbed 753 rebounds during his Husker career and was chosen in the seventh round of the 1981 NBA Draft by the Cleveland Cavaliers. He was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1994.

5. ALEKS MARIC - 1,630 POINTS

6-11, 275, C, 2005-08, Sydney, Australia

(Life Center (N.J.)/Australian Institute for Sport)

Aleks Maric was one of the most dominant big men in the first 12 years of the Big 12 era. The Aussie was a first-team All-Big 12 selection by the Associated Press as a senior and a two-time second-team pick by the coaches. During his senior year, he became only the third player in league history to record at least 1,500 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career. Maric tied the school single-season record with 335 boards as a senior in 2007-08. Maric led NU and ranked in the top seven in the league in scoring, rebounding, field-goal percentage and blocked shots as a senior. He finished his career tying or breaking 19 Nebraska and Big 12 Conference records. After declaring for the NBA Draft following his sophomore season, Maric withdrew and returned to Nebraska where he became just the ninth player in program history to reach 1,000 points before the start of his senior campaign (and 24th player overall). He has played overseas following his career and was an All-Euroleague first-team selection in 2010. In 2011, he helped Panathinaikos win a Euroleague title.

6. JARON BOONE - 1,609 POINTS

6-6, 195, G, 1993-96, Salt Lake City, Utah (Skyline)

Jaron Boone played in 127 games and started 102 to rank third and fourth, respectively, in school history. Boone became the 17th player in school history to reach 1,000 points, but just the fifth to do so before completing his junior season. Boone earned second-team All-Big Eight honors as a junior and helped Nebraska to the NIT championship his senior year. Boone's 559 points in his junior season is the seventh-highest single-season output in school history. Boone scored at least 20 points 18 times in his career and ranks among the school leaders in 3-point shots made (fourth, 181) and attempted (fourth, 501), assists (third, 446) and minutes (fourth, 3,624).

13. TOM BAACK - 1,299 POINTS

6-5, 192, F, 1966-68, Fort Wayne, Ind. (Concordia)

Tom Baack, a 1995 Nebraska Hall of Fame inductee, finished his career with 1,299 points, a figure that stood as the school record until guard Jerry Fort came along 10 years later. Baack played on three straight winning NU teams from 1965 through 1968, and helped the Huskers to an NIT appearance in 1966-67—NU's first-ever bid to the nation's oldest postseason tournament. Known for his satin-smooth jump shot, Baack had a 17.3 points-per-game average for his career, which still ranks third in school history. Baack served as an assistant at Nebraska for eight seasons after his playing days. He was selected in the 10th round of the 1968 NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons.

14. STUART LANTZ - 1,269 POINTS

6-3, 175, G, 1966-68, Uniontown, Pa.

Stuart Lantz teamed with Tom Baack to give Nebraska a potent one-two offensive punch. Lantz finished his career with 1,269 points and 571 rebounds. A two-time All-Big Eight pick, Lantz went on to play eight years in the NBA with four teams (San Diego/Houston Rockets, Detroit Pistons, New Orleans Jazz, Los Angeles Lakers). A charter member of the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame, Lantz had his jersey (No. 22) retired in the fall of 1989. He has been the Lakers' television color commentator since 1987.

15. CHUCK JURA - 1,255 POINTS

6-10, 220, C, 1970-72, Schuyler, Neb.

One of the top all-around centers in Nebraska history, Chuck Jura's 1,255 points rank 15th on the school's all-time list, and trail Stuart Lantz's career total by 14 points. Jura earned All-Big Eight honors as a senior and was an academic All-Big Eight choice. One of only six players in NU history to average more than 20 points in a season (21.2), Jura ranks sixth on the rebounding chart (740) and his 11.7 rebounds per game (305 total) in his final season are still an NU single-season record. Like Lantz, Jura was a charter member of the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame. A third-round NBA draft pick by the Chicago Bulls, Jura played professional basketball in Europe for several seasons.

6-5, 220, F, 1997-2000, Phenix City, Ala.

Forward Larry Florence surpassed the 1,000-point milestone midway through the 1999-2000 season. Florence ranks third at Nebraska in career starts (105) and is tied for ninth in games played (123). A four-year starter, Florence was Nebraska's captain as a senior and led the Huskers in scoring at 13.0 points per game. In his senior season, Florence earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors from the league's coaches. Florence also earned the reputation as a strong defender and a hard worker in the weight room. He was named the Husker Power Male Athlete of the Year for all sports in 1999 and was a three-time men's basketball lifter of the year.

17. JACK MOORE - 1,204 POINTS

5-9, 165, G, 1979-82, Muncie, Ind. (Central)

Jack Moore will long be remembered by Husker faithful for his gummy play on the basketball court. He was honored with the 1982 Francis Pomeroy-Naismith Award, which is presented annually to the nation's top player under 6-feet tall. During his four-year career, Moore scored 1,204 points, and shot .901 from the free-throw line — among the all-time best career marks in NCAA Division I history. Moore's .901 free-throw percentage broke the Big Eight record for career marksmanship, which had been held by his coach, Moe Iba. A consensus All-Big Eight selection as a senior, Moore was the first Husker cager to earn first-team academic All-Big Eight honors for three straight seasons, and his 382 career assists stand seventh on NU's all-time chart. Nebraska's MVP Award is named in honor of Moore, who was killed in a March 1984 plane crash. Moore was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1993.

6-0, 165, G, 1984-87, Muncie, Ind. (Burris)

Brian Carr is the only player in Nebraska history to score 1,000 points and collect more than 600 assists in a career. Carr, who finished his four-year career with 14 Nebraska school records, scored 1,182 points and collected 682 assists. The 682 assists ranked as the third-best total in Big Eight history, behind only former Kansas stars Cedric Hunter and Jacque Vaughn. Carr also ranks second in career minutes played at NU. A second-team All-Big Eight selection as a senior (UPI), Carr was a two-time, first-team academic All-Big Eight performer. Carr was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 2001.

6-3, 180, G, 1969-71, Chicago, Ill. (Dunbar)

Marvin Stewart finished his three-year career with 1,138 points, and is remembered by Husker fans as one of the finest fast-breaking guards in NU history. In his senior season, Stewart averaged 21.4 points, the fourth-best season average in school history, and earned first-team All-Big Eight honors. Stewart owns the distinction of being the only 1,000-point club member to top the mark in fewer than 70 games, as he appeared in just 66. Stewart was a second-round draft selection of the NBA's Chicago Bulls in 1971. He was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1994.

21. CLIFFORD SCALES - 1,136 POINTS

6-2, 170, G, 1988-91, Maywood, Ill. (Westchester St. Joseph)

A steady player throughout his four-year Nebraska career, Clifford Scales tallied 1,136 points from 1988 through 1991. An honorable-mention All-Big Eight pick as a senior and a member of UPI's All-Big Eight Defensive team, Scales' 177 career steals ranked as the most ever by a Cornhusker cager when he completed his career. One of five double-figure scorers on the 1990-91 Nebraska team at 10.2 points per game, Scales hit a then-school-record 45.6 percent from 3-point range as a senior. He co-captained the Huskers' record-setting 26-8 squad during the 1990-91 season. He was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 2002.

21. CARL HAYES - 1,136 POINTS

6-9, 200, F, 1990-92, Chicago, Ill. (Westchester St. Joseph)

An exciting player in the open court, Carl Hayes finished his three-year Nebraska career with 1,136 points, which is tied for 21st on NU's all-time chart along with former high school and college teammate Clifford Scales. A two-time honorable-mention All-Big Eight performer, Hayes was a starter on NU teams that earned back-to-back NCAA Tournament bids, including the Husker squad that won a school-record 26 games in 1991.

23. RYAN ANDERSON - 1,125 POINTS

6-4, 195, G, 2006-2010, Seattle, Wash. (Rainier Beach)

One of the most versatile players in Nebraska history, the 6-4 Anderson played out of position all four years, working in the '4' spot where he made a name for himself. Anderson created mismatches on the offensive end, where his ability from 3-point range was evident. He finished his career ranked third in 3-pointers at Nebraska with 185 and was in the top 10 in Nebraska history for 3-point percentage (.394), steals (166) and games started (101), while also ranking in the top 25 for points, rebounds, assists and games played. He was named to the Big 12 All-Defense Team as a junior and the All-Underrated team as a senior, when he became the first Husker -- and just the eighth player overall -- in the Big 12 era to record 1,000 points, 500 rebounds and 150 3-pointers. Anderson played in Europe during the 2010-11 season.

24. CARY COCHRAN - 1,082 POINTS

6-1, 190, G, 1999-2002, Minden, Iowa (Tri-Center)

One of the most dangerous long-distance threats in Nebraska and Big 12 history, Cary Cochran topped the 1,000-point mark during his senior campaign. Cochran set Nebraska records for career (268), single-season (89) and single-game (8) 3-pointers during his senior season. He led the team in scoring at 14.0 points per game as a senior, and led the conference and nation in free-throw percentage by hitting 92.2 percent at the charity stripe. For his career, Cochran was an 89.6 percent shooter from the foul line, and was second in Nebraska history by hitting 42.5 percent from behind the arc. Cochran was an honorable-mention All-Big 12 pick by the coaches as a senior, and earned academic all-district and all-conference honors.

25. HERSCHELL TURNER - 1,056 POINTS

G, 1958-60, Indianapolis, Ind. (Shortbridge)

The first Husker cager to top the 1,000-point mark, Herschell Turner finished his career with 1,056 points. Turner teamed with Al Maxey to provide a strong offensive punch for Coach Jerry Bush's teams in the late 1950s. A first-team All-Big Eight selection as a senior, Turner earned All-America honors as a junior. Turner was a strong rebounder and held NU's single-season rebounding record (244) for 10 seasons, until Leroy Chalk grabbed 257 rebounds in 1969. Turner finished his career with 626 rebounds, which ranks 13th on NU's all-time chart. He was a sixth-round draft choice of the NBA's Syracuse Nationals in 1960. He was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1990.

NEBRASKA BASKETBALL FROM A TO Z

Academic All-Conference– NU has had 55 academic all-league pick in program history, including 23 players since 2002.

Academic All-Americans– The Huskers have produced five.

All-Americans– Nebraska has had eight.

Armory– Home of Husker basketball until the NU Coliseum opened its doors in the mid-1920s.

Attendance– Nebraska has averaged more than 10,000 fans per game over a complete season 18 times in the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

B

Baack, Tom– Ranks 13th on Nebraska's all-time scoring list with 1,299 points and served as an assistant coach under Moe Iba.

Belcher, Cookie– Holds Nebraska single-game, season and career steals records, along with the Big 12 steals record at 353. He owns NU's career record for games played, games started and minutes played.

Big 12– Nebraska's conference from 1997 until 2011.

Big Eight– Nebraska's conference from 1960 until 1996.

Big Ten– Nebraska's new conference, as Nebraska became the league's 12th member on July 1, 2011 after being accepted as the league's 12th member on June 11, 2010.

Boone, Jaron– Husker swingman from 1993 to 1996 who ranks in the top five in nine career categories, including scoring (6th, 1,609) and assists (3rd, 446).

Branch, Nate– Former Husker who went on to fame with the Harlem Globetrotters.

Browne, William– Guided Huskers to 1937 Big Six title.

Bush, Jerry– Known as the "Big Bear of the Coliseum," this popular Husker coach guided NU from 1955 to 1963, and directed two of the greatest upsets ever – a 43-41 victory over top-ranked Kansas and Wilt Chamberlain, and a 55-48 victory over No. 4 Kansas State and Olympian Bob Boozer during the 1957-58 campaign.

C

Carr, Brian– Nebraska's all-time assist leader, with 682 from 1984 to 1987.

Carrier, Sam– First Husker cager to earn All-America honors (1913).

Chalk, Leroy– Third on Nebraska's all-time rebounding list with 782 boards.

Cipriano, Joe– Second-winningest coach in school history with an all-time mark of 253-197 from 1964 through 1980.

Coliseum– Home of Nebraska basketball from the 1926-27 season through the 1975-76 campaign.

D

Day, Bernard– Ranks as highest-scoring junior college transfer in school history with 802 points from 1985 to 1987.

Devaney, Bob– Longtime Nebraska football coach and athletic director who passed away in May of 1997. Nebraska's home court, the Bob Devaney Sports Center, which opened its doors for the 1976-77 season, bears his name. The Devaney Center underwent a major facelift for the 1999-2000 season and has had several updates in the past decade.

E

Ekwall, Rex– Standout for NU in mid-1950s whose 10.4 career rebound average still ranks as a school record.

ESPN– The national cable network that features a Big Ten game on its weekly "Super Tuesday" package and also has Big Ten games on Thursday and Saturday.

F

First-Round Draft Choices– Nebraska had three in the 1990s, Rich King (1991), Eric Piatkowski (1994) and Tyronn Lue (1998).

Fort, Jerry– First three-time first-team All-Big Eight selection in school history who finished his career with 1,882 points, which currently ranks third all-time at Nebraska.

G

Good, Harry– Served as NU head coach from 1947 through 1954 and guided the Huskers to shares of the 1949 and 1950 Big Seven titles. He was enshrined into the Citizens Savings College Basketball Hall of Fame in 1975.

H

Hamilton, Venson– The 1999 Big 12 Player of the Year and Nebraska's all-time leader in career rebounds and blocked shots.

Hammond Hustlers– Nickname given to Hammond, Ind., natives Brian Banks and Carl McPipe, who finished their careers with 1,150 and 1,300 points, respectively.

Hare, Fred– His follow-up basket at the buzzer with no time left gave Nebraska a 74-73 upset of No. 1 Michigan and Cazzie Russell in Lincoln during the 1964-65 season.

Hokuf, Steve– Standout all-around athlete who earned first-team all-conference honors in football, won the Big Six javelin title and earned All-America and all-conference honors in basketball.

Hoppen, Dave– NU's all-time leading scorer with 2,167 points who was the second three-time first-team All-Big Eight pick in school history and the first player in school history to have his jersey number (42) retired.

I

Iba, Moe– The son of legendary coach Henry P. Iba, Moe posted 106 wins on the Husker bench from 1981 to 1986 and guided the school to its first "official" NCAA Tournament berth in 1986.

International– The NCAA allows schools to take a foreign trip once every four years, allowing the Huskers to visit Australia (1988, 2004), Europe (1992) and the Bahamas (2010) in recent years.

J

Johnson, Bill– Grabbed a school single-game record 26 rebounds against Iowa State in 1954.

Jura, Chuck– Earned first-team All-Big Eight honors on the court and in the classroom as a senior in 1972. Averaged a school-record 11.7 rebounds per game in 1971-72.

K

King, Rich– Became the first first-round NBA draft pick in school history when the Seattle SuperSonics selected him with the 14th selection of the 1991 draft.

Kubacki, Jim– Hit the game-winning jumper to beat No. 1 Kansas and Wilt Chamberlain, 43-41, during the 1957-58 season.

L

Lantz, Stuart– Two-time first-team All-Big Eight pick (1967-68) who went on to an eight-year NBA career and had his Husker jersey number (22) retired in 1989. He has spent more than a decade as a broadcaster on the Los Angeles Lakers' television network.

Lehmer, Frank– First basketball coach in school history (1897-99), he finished his career with a 7-3 record.

Lue, Tyronn– 1998 All-Big 12 pick who ranks eighth in career scoring at Nebraska and is tied for the school record with seven 30-point games. A first-round NBA draft pick in 1998, Lue won two NBA titles and played for seven teams during an 11-year NBA career.

Cookie Belcher set the Nebraska and Big 12 record for steals and ranked third in NCAA history with 353 during his Husker career.

NEBRASKA BASKETBALL HALL OF FAME

Bruce Chubick became the most recent inductee to the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame, inducted as the 62nd member of the elite basketball fraternity on Feb. 19, 2011.

Chubick was an integral part in helping Nebraska to an 85-39 record and four NCAA Tournament bids during his playing career. As a senior, he was instrumental in helping Nebraska to a 20-10 record and the school's first Big Eight Tournament title, averaging 11.7 points on a team-best .563 shooting percentage and a team-high 7.3 rebounds per game, as the Huskers finished 22nd in the final AP poll.

He was at his best in the 1994 Big Eight Tournament, scoring a career-high 23 points and grabbing 13 rebounds in the opener against Oklahoma before pulling down 16 rebounds and scoring 17 points in a 98-91 win over third-ranked Missouri in the semifinals. Chubick earned a spot on the Big Eight All-Tournament team, while his 16 rebounds against the Tigers remains the school record for rebounds in a conference tournament.

In his career, Chubick played in 119 games as a Husker, totaling 878 points and ranking in the top 15 in school history in both shooting percentage (.561, sixth) and rebounds (618, 15th). He was fourth on the team in scoring and second in rebounding as a junior, following a sophomore season when he was named to the league's All-Improved Team despite suffering a broken foot in the preseason. Chubick served as a key reserve on NU's record-setting 26-8 team in 1990-91, seeing action in 29 of 34 games that season. Away from the court, he was a three-time first-team academic All-Big Eight pick.

Also in 2011, Albert Maxey Sr. was recognized with the Whitehead Distinguished Alumni Award, which honors a former player and Hall of Fame member who has been a positive force in the state and local community since his playing days ended. This year, the award was renamed after Bus Whitehead, who passed away in 2010, to recognize his contributions to the Nebraska basketball program. Maxey, who was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1995, has been active in the community since his playing career ended. He served as Director of Basketball for the Cornhusker State games and worked for the Lincoln Police Department for 35 years. He has also served as a visiting artist in the Lincoln Public Schools for the last 13 years and was the 2009 Tour de Nebraska Spirit Award winner.

Harley and Marcia Bergmeyer received the Bud Cuca Special Merit Award, becoming the second and third honorees since the award was renamed in 2003. The award is given to someone who helps shape the Husker basketball program from a supporting role and was renamed in 2003 in honor of Bud Cuca, a long-time Husker basketball supporter who passed away in 2002 following a battle with cancer.

Harley and Marcia have been long-time supporters of Nebraska sports, serving as members of the Rebounders Club and the Courtside Club, as well as the Devaney Society. Harley, who graduated from Peru State College, is a long-time Rebounders Club board member and is currently the Chairman of the Board for First State Bank and a current member of the Board of Directors of the Federal Home Loan Bank Topeka.

The Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame was the brainchild of longtime Husker athletic supporter Jerry Solomon, who first approached the University about the project in 1988. Solomon, along with Jack Bock, Dale Herman and Dale Jensen, provided financial support for the Hall of Fame at that time. The Hall is now co-sponsored by the Nebraska Athletic Department and the Rebounders Club.

PRESS SEATING

The press area for Nebraska basketball games is located in the lower portion of section C-12 (upper level) on the south side of the playing floor (opposite the team benches).

Television and radio crews originating an officially sanctioned broadcast of the game (see Broadcast Rights below) will be seated on the floor, with the visiting radio adjacent to the visiting team's bench when there is a TV telecast (east side of the scorer's table) and the home radio and television broadcasting teams positioned at midcourt opposite the team benches. When there is no television or internet broadcast, both radios will broadcast from floor level opposite the team benches.

The camera deck is located at the top of the arena, directly behind the press box. Live originating telecasts may be shot from either floor level (northeast or southwest baselines) or the camera deck in marked areas, but may not occupy space in the press box.

MEDIA WORK ROOM

The media work room is located on the south side of the lower level, across from the media will-call window. Media can use the room prior to, during and after the game to write and send stories. Phone and free wireless Internet will be available in the media work room, along with limited ethernet lines. Wireless Internet and limited ethernet lines will also be available in the photography area on the southwest concourse level.

WIRELESS INTERNET

The Bob Devaney Sports Center and Nebraska's other athletic facilities have a secured wireless network for media use. Media members are encouraged to register for the network in advance and should contact the Media Relations Office for registration information and instructions.

MEDIA SERVICES

Notes, flipcards and media guides will be provided before each game. Final statistics, play-by-play sheets and quotes from each locker room will be distributed following the game and will be available on Huskers.com. Refreshments will be available to the media in a designated area before the game.

Any media wishing to place a phone in the press box should contact University Information Services at (402) 472-2000 at least two weeks before the game.

RADIO/TELEVISION BROADCAST SPACE

Requests for live radio and television broadcast space should be made to Associate Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight at smcknight@huskers.com. If statisticians are needed, contact Shamus McKnight at least three days in advance.

RADIO BROADCAST RIGHTS

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln and IMG World own exclusive radio broadcast rights to all of the University's men's basketball games. Other than the Husker Sports Network and the University of Nebraska student radio station (KRNU), the only radio stations or networks allowed to broadcast Nebraska games from the Devaney Center are those that have rights to broadcast games played by the opposing team.

All radio stations and networks broadcasting from the Bob Devaney Sports Center must receive prior permission from the University. Any representative of a radio station or network that has not purchased such rights shall not air live game action or description of any game while it is in progress, nor shall such representatives air tape-recorded or live commentary of Nebraska coaches or players from the premises for one hour before or 20 minutes after a game.

Only stations that have purchased broadcast rights may install telephone lines on press row, or use telephone lines on press row for reporting on games. By accepting media credentials, representatives of stations and networks that have not purchased broadcast rights signify their agreement to all stipulations.

BROADCAST TELEPHONE LINES

The Husker Sports Network installs telephone lines for visiting official broadcasts and charges a fee for the use of those lines for non-conference games. Big Ten official stations receive the use of the lines free of charge as part of a cooperative. Those interested in using the lines should contact Mike Elliott of Husker Sports Network at (402) 332-4000.

Official visiting radio stations are welcome to have their own telephone lines installed at the visiting radio position and may do so by contacting University Information Service at (402) 472-2000. Visiting teams should contact Associate Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight before the game to find out where the broadcast position is located.

PRO SCOUTING PASSES

Per Big Ten Conference rules, the University of Nebraska provides press box access to scouts of professional basketball teams based on availability. If no space is available in the press box, scouts may arrange through the Media Relations Office (402-472-2263) to purchase tickets for Nebraska home games.

DEVANEY CENTER DIRECTIONS

The Bob Devaney Sports Center is located on the west edge of the Nebraska's Innovation Campus. To reach it from the Lincoln Municipal Airport, turn right on Northwest 12th Street as you drive out of the airport. Northwest 12th Street becomes Cornhusker Highway, which intersects with 14th Street. Exit south on 14th Street off Cornhusker Highway. Travel to Military Avenue and turn left. Continue a half mile and enter Innovation Campus. Take the first right turn before the Devaney Center and follow the access road to Lot 54 on the South Side of the arena.

From Omaha's Eppley Airfield, follow the signs to downtown Omaha and I-480. Take I-480 West to I-80, then take I-80 West approximately 60 miles to I-180. Exit South on I-180, then exit East to Cornhusker Highway and follow the instructions above.

TELEVISION, RADIO, INTERNET BROADCAST RIGHTS AND RESTRICTIONS

Nebraska, its opponent and the respective conference designate the broadcast rights for all games. No pregame coverage shall be permitted for two hours before the game without the express permission of the University of Nebraska, the Big Ten Conference and the broadcast rights holder. Live postgame interviews may not be aired while the television rights holder is still on the air.

Per the Big Ten Conference, a maximum of two minutes (2:00) of game video footage (without audio) may be utilized during the seven days following the conclusion of the game solely within regularly scheduled bona fide news programming distributed via television, and may not be distributed via the internet, wireless or other forms of media.

Any secondary use of any picture, photograph, audio description, video, film/tape, drawing or other description of a game taken or made by the accredited organization or individual to whom this credential has been issued (including, but not limited to use in delayed editorial or non-editorial advertising, sales promotion or merchandising) is prohibited without prior specific written approval of the Big Ten Conference. Nothing in these terms and conditions authorizes or allows bearer to violate any of the trademarks, copyright and other proprietary rights of the Big Ten Conference.

This restriction also includes highlights of games while in progress (live or recorded). Use of video highlights in any other manner or any media distribution platform without the advanced written permission of the Big Ten Conference is expressly prohibited. Any agency wishing to use film or video in any other manner must obtain written permission for such usage from the Big Ten Conference.

Local television stations may not originate a pre- or post-game show from inside the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

Any blogs, live chats, social media posts, etc. from the game site should not serve as a substitute for, or otherwise approximate, play-by-play accounts of a game in any medium.

Non-originating radio stations or internet sites may not provide play-by-play coverage, live or delayed, but may provide short news updates provided such news update is one minute or less occurring no more than once per hour. No pregame coverage from the Devaney Center shall be permitted for two hours before the game without the express permission of the University of Nebraska and the broadcast rights holder.

MEDIA RELATIONS OFFICE

The University of Nebraska Media Relations Office is located on the third floor of the Osborne Athletic Complex, which is at the north end of Memorial Stadium. The building address is One Memorial Stadium, Lincoln, NE 68588, and is located approximately one mile away from the Devaney Center.

HUSKERS ON RADIO AND TELEVISION

HUSKER SPORTS NETWORK

The IMG Husker Sports Network will continue the strong tradition of broadcasting excellence in 2011-12. All basketball games this season will be broadcast by the Husker Sports Network, which includes 29 radio markets that cover most of the Midwest. KFAB (1110 AM) serves as the Omaha affiliate and KLIN (1400 AM) serves as the Lincoln affiliate, while KRVN (880 AM) is a third affiliate that reaches around the state. The national coverage area is broad and all games will also be heard live on Huskers.com with many also carried live on Sirius Satellite Radio.

The Husker Sports Network, in its 17th year of producing and marketing the live broadcast of University of Nebraska Athletics, extended and expanded its agreement with the University on June 13, 2008. Under the agreement, IMG College's Husker Sports Marketing will manage and market all rights associated with the radio programming, Coaches' TV and radio shows, program sales, sponsorship inventory and publication printing rights.

IMG College, which purchased Host Communications and the Husker Sports Network on Nov. 16, 2007, also recently purchased ISP Sports. IMG College is the leader in developing integrated licensing, marketing and multi-media opportunities for the nation's top collegiate brands across local, regional and national platforms. In addition to Nebraska, IMG College represents athletic organizations from across the country including such Universities as Alabama, Arizona, Cincinnati, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Michigan State, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Oregon, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia Tech to name a few. IMG College represents multi-media rights to over 70 collegiate properties, leading conferences CLC licensing Company and the NCAA® and its 88 championships and NCAA® Football. IMG College is a division of IMG Worldwide a global sports, fashion and media business, with nearly 3,000 employees operating in 30 countries around the globe. For more information, visit www.imgworld.com.

Kent Pavelka returns behind the microphone to handle his 25th overall season calling Husker hoops. Pavelka previously called Nebraska basketball for two long stints between 1974 and 1996 before returning to the Husker basketball play-by-play chair before the 2006-07 season. A six-time winner of the Nebraska Sportscaster-of-the-Year Award, Pavelka also handled color analyst duties on NU football broadcasts from 1974 to 1983, and was the play-by-play announcer from 1983 to 1996. Pavelka was honored in January 2009 with the Bud Cuca Special Merit Award given by the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame for his contributions to the NU men's basketball program.

Alongside Pavelka as color analysts this year will be Matt Davison. He returns for his eighth season on the basketball broadcast and also handles duties on the Nebraska football radio broadcasts.

The Husker Sports Network will also carry a weekly radio show with Coach Doc Sadler and host Lane Grindle, which can be heard statewide on the network on Monday nights at 7 p.m. during the season. All Nebraska games and coaches shows can also be heard for free on the Internet at Huskers.com.
