NOTE TO MEDIA AND FANS

The Grand Canyon College Basketball Magazine was specifically designed to aid the media and fans in becoming better acquainted with the 1983-84 Grand Canyon Antelopes basketball team. Any comments or questions regarding any material in this magazine should be directed to the Sports Information staff at Grand Canyon College.

Members of the media who wish to cover Grand Canyon College or their opponents are welcome. Due to lack of space, however, seating for media is extremely limited. If you need to request working credentials, please contact Athletic Media Director, Keith Baker. All requests for credentials will be handled through the athletic office. Every attempt will be made to provide working space.

Press passes will not be mailed to out of town media personnel. Passes must be arranged for in advance and picked up at either the Athletic Office or at the door prior to the game. All members of the media will enter through the main entrance on the south side of the gymnasium.

Table space at courtside will be reserved for members of the broadcast media. Television crews are assigned to the north end of the table, while radio crews will be assigned to the south end. Visiting radio crews will be limited to two seats at the table. If space is not used by members of the broadcast media, then members of the print media may feel free to use table space courtside.

A telephone will be available immediately following each game and a telecopier is also available in the athletic office in the gymnasium. Statistics will be provided to the media at half-time and immediately following each game.

For visiting radio stations, a courtesy line is available for broadcasts back to your home city, arrangements are handled on a first come, first served basis. Contact Keith Baker in the Athletic Office for use of this line.

Copy for this publication was written and edited by the Sports Information staff at Grand Canyon College. Photography was handled by J. William Roberts and Dan Kantola.

ABOUT THE COVER

Assistant Coaches

TOMMY NUNEZ

Tommy Nunez is in his first year as an assistant basketball coach at Canyon after graduating from GCC last spring. Tommy's youth and enthusiasm for the game will bring a new look to the 'Lopes this season.

Although seemingly young for a top assistant on the college level, Tommy had already begun his coaching career while still attending Grand Canyon and playing on the 'Lopes Championship baseball teams of 1982 and 1983. Nunez returned to his high school alma mater, St. Mary's High in Phoenix, to be an assistant coach for three seasons.

Tommy is a graduate of Grand Canyon College, class of '83, with a bachelor of science in Business Administration. Tommy is doing additional work at Arizona State University while coaching at Canyon to attain his teacher certification for Arizona.

Tommy is also the son of NBA referee Tommy Nunez, Sr.

JIM PYERS

Jim Pyers returns to Grand Canyon this season after playing out eligibility in 1982-83 to be an assistant coach for John Shumate. Pyers, eighth all-time scorer in Grand Canyon history will be finishing bachelor's degree this year while helps out with the basketball team.

Teaching and coaching will be nothing new to Pyers, as the former Antelope guard has spent collegiate summers working in various sports and basketball camps throughout the southwest, helping youngsters learn the fundamentals of basketball.

Pyers has his name in the Canyon record book also as the best free throw shooter of all time at GCC. Jim led the nation in FT % in his freshman season as he set a school record by hitting 89.5% of his attempts from the line. The high school All-American from Tucson was also a guard on the season's District 7, All-District squad.

There is a lot of newness surrounding the Grand Canyon College Basketball team as they enter the 1983-84 campaign. John Shumate begins his first season as Head Coach, Tommy Nunez is in his first year as the top assistant, and a host of new players fill out the roster.

Shumate takes over for Jay Arnote who led the 'Lopes to a 40-19 record in his two seasons at the helm. Arnote led Canyon to playoff appearances in both of his seasons as Head Coach, before accepting the head coaching job at Northern Arizona University this past summer. Shumate is beginning his career as a coach at a rather high level. After a seven year NBA career, he'll try to keep tradition going for the 'Lopes as Canyon basketball teams have not missed qualifying for the district playoffs since the 1970-71 season when they finished 10-17 under Ben Lindsey. Canyon has great tradition in their basketball.

Shumate faces a major rebuilding task in his first year, having only three returning lettermen to build around. Eight lettermen are gone along with four starters from last year's team which finished 23-8 and ranked #1 in the District 7 at the end of the regular season. Gone from the backcourt is the high powered scoring of Jim Pyers and Elliott "Dinky" Jones. The two accounted for 40% of the 'Lopes offensive output last season. Also gone are starters Bob Kulovitz and Bryan Gillis. Gillis led the club in rebounding in his senior year. Two excellent reserves, Carl Powell and Anthony McKinney, are also gone. With two others out because of academic problems, the Canyon Coaching staff finds only three left from last year's squad.

Leading the group of returnees are inside men Mike Boatright and Cornell Staples. Boatright (6'8", 210) finds himself playing a role of the leader for the team while Staples (6'5", 210) also can carry some of that load. Boatright finished the season last year as the second leading rebounder.

Billy Carter is the other returning 'Lope. "B.C." served primarily in a reserve role in his first year at Canyon but having shown some flashes of being an excellent off-guard in early pre-season drills, Billy should play a big role

It is plain to see that Canyon will have to rely upon newcomers to shoulder much of the load this season. With most of last year's scoring gone, Canyon needed to import some talented players who could put the ball in the basket. They were able to corral several players who have the ability to do just that.

Leading the list of newcomers has to be Junior guard, Bryan Williams. Bryan is a local high school product who left Phoenix to play at Fresno State his freshman year. An injury to his knee slowed his progress and after a brief stay at the University of Tulsa, Bryan came to GCC last spring. Williams truly does have major college ability if he is able to stay healthy.

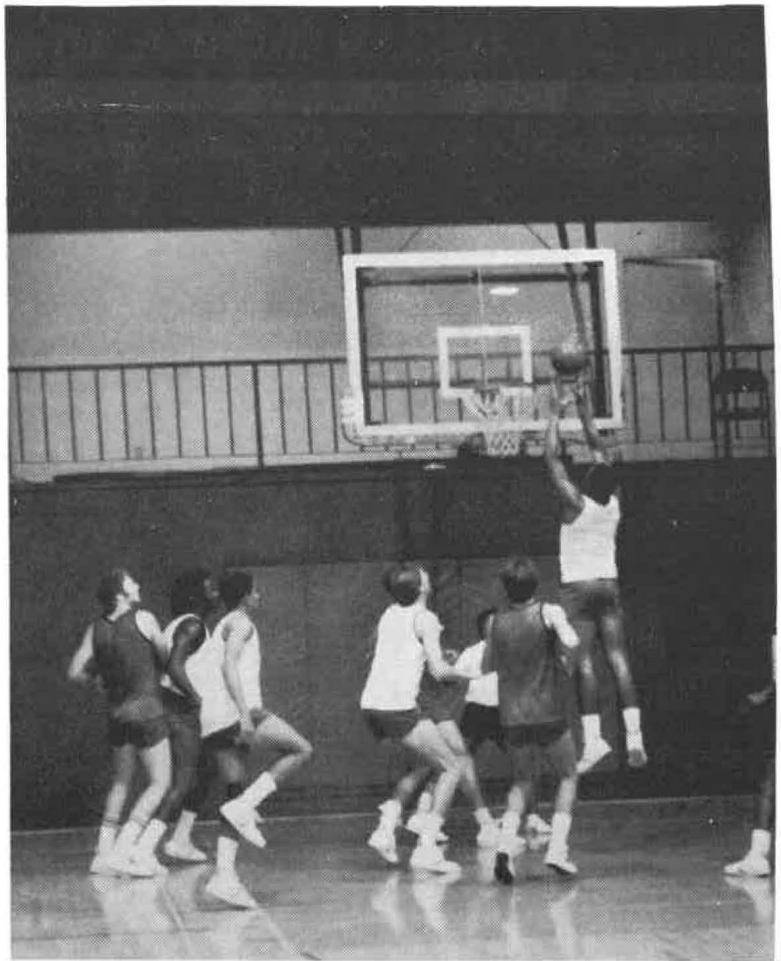

Another top transfer is John Graves, a 6'10" senior who comes to GCC from Baylor University. John has also spent time at Glendale Community College where he was an explosive scorer. An excellent shooter for a big man, Graves will be relied on to provide much needed offensive punch.

Canyon might be able to consider this season one of its best recruiting years in recent history. The 'Lopes have a host of freshmen who should see playing time in their first seasons. Dormin Jones and Michael Walto head the list of incoming frosh, both of them coming from John F. Kennedy high school in Granada Hills, California. Other freshman showing early ability to play on the collegiate level are Scott Wells (6'2", G), Jean-Marc Grindatto (6'6", F) and Kevin Tucker (6', G).

Rounding out the list of newcomers is Junior College transfer Brad Parrish, who should add a good deal of strength inside, and four year school transfer Ricky Davis (Oklahoma Baptist).

Many factors can make or break a season. What it really boils down to is how well the 'Lopes can come together and compete over the 29 game season. As for now, only time will tell how the 'Lopes fair in 1983-84.

# 32

Mike has to be considered the senior member of this year's team. Mike has three varsity letters under his belt and returns for his fourth and final season at Canyon which promises to be his finest. The coaching staff will depend on Mike for leadership as well as depend on him for solid play on the floor. Mike has the distinction of being the only basketball player in the history of Grand Canyon College to play under three coaches while at GCC. Mike was recruited by and played first for Ben Lindsey. Jay Arnote then became the 'Lopes head man for Mike's sophomore and junior seasons, and now John Shumate takes over as "Boat" begins his final year. Look for Mike to be a strong rebounder (he finished 2nd in rebounds on last year's club), and also to be one of the 'Lopes' best passers. Good size and some added strength make Mike a good candidate for All-District honors. Majoring in Accounting. The son of Jack and Connie Boatright. Full name is Michael Alan Boatright.

# 30

Grindatto is by far the 'Lope who is the farthest distance from home. Jean-Marc calls Geneva, Switzerland his hometown. Grindatto played for former Grand Canyon player Charlie McCormick, who is now in Switzerland playing professionally. Jean-Marc averaged 10 points, 5 rebounds and 6 assists per game for a team that won the Swiss National Championship in 1982-83. Grindatto will play small forward the majority of the time and may possibly see some time at the big guard slot later on. A very intelligent player who is still learning the American game, Grindatto is a hard worker who has shown improvement in the short time he has been here. Only a freshman, Jean-Marc has a fine future ahead of him in basketball.

A local high school product who has returned home. Bryan began what looked to be a very successful collegiate career after his graduation from East High School here in Phoenix. Injuries have plagued Bryan throughout his first few years of college as he has been to two schools, Fresno State and Tulsa University. Bryan will be the likely starter at point guard when the 'Lopes get their season underway on November 18. Bryan has outstanding athletic ability to go along with excellent basketball fundamentals. A good shooter and ball handler, Williams could have a chance for post-season honors if all goes well. Williams also had a very successful high school career while playing for Royce Youree at East Phoenix High School. Williams was a First Team All-State selection in the AAA ranks as well as being named to the BCI and Converse All-American teams. # The Suite Way To Score Points In Phoenix.

SPECIAL SPORTS PACKAGE

At the Grand Ave. Granada Royale Homotel, you stay in a suite, not a room. Because suites are all we have. With plenty of room for up to 4 adults.

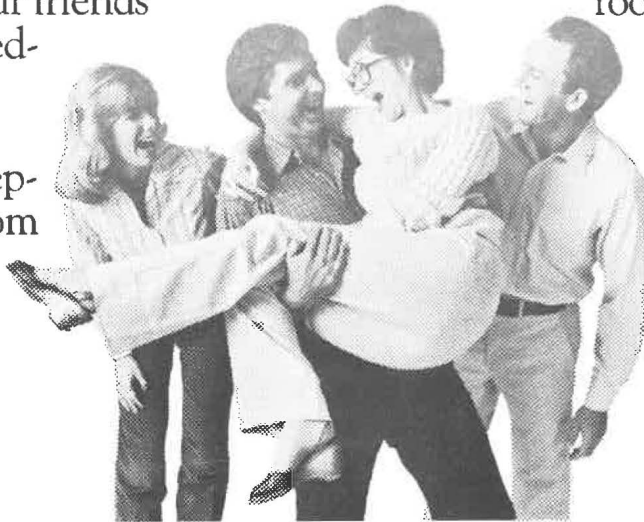

You and your friends get a private bedroom with its own tv and its own door. A separate living room with its own tv and queen-size sofa bed. A kitchen, and wet bar.

Every guest also gets a full American-style breakfast cooked to order every morning. Plus two hours of unlimited cocktails every evening—all at no extra charge whatsoever.

And all for the cost of a regular room somewhere else.

We call it The Suite Life®, and there's no suiter way to get your kicks.

'LOPES ON THE AIR

KRDS (1190 AM)

Grand Canyon College and KRDS begin their second season together in 1983-84. The 'Lopes were on the local Christian station throughout the 1982-83 campaign in basketball as well as having the 1983 District 7 Baseball Playoffs carried live from Grand Junction, Colorado last May.

Keith Baker will once again handle the play-by-play action for Canyon. Keith is a 1982 graduate of Grand Canyon College and played on all three NAIA National Baseball Championship teams. When he graduated in 1982 with a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration and Mass Communications, he had already begun his broadcasting career.

Keith joined the 'Lopes as a color commentator at the beginning of the 1981-82 season when Sam Norris handled play-by-play. Norris resigned in mid-season to accept a pastorate at Mission Drive Baptist Church here in Phoenix, and Keith was then left to take the play-by-play and has been there ever since.

Keith is currently employed by Grand Canyon College as an Assistant to the Athletic Director and also works a great deal in sports information and promotion. Keith is married to the former Amber Dedini and has a son, Brian, age 1½.

AMERICAN CABLE

American Cable will once again be airing a portion of the 'Lopes home schedule for basketball this season. Heading the telecasts for the local cable company will be George Allen. Allen, a graduate of Arizona State University with a degree in Mass Communications, will handle all the play-by-play duties while Greg Schulte will do the color commentary.

Allen is the Sports Coordinator and Producer for the Arizona Sports Programming Network (ASPN, American Cable channel 18). George also handles play-by-play for the Phoenix Suns, Phoenix Giants, Professional Team Tennis, and MISL soccer for ASPN. Prior to his present position, Allen was a sportscaster/Talk Show Host for KTAR radio here in Phoenix. Among his accomplishments there, Allen called the blow-by-blow description of the Thomas Hearns-Randy Shields World Welterweight Championship fight. He also hosted the popular 3-hour sports talk show called "620 Sportsline."

At Allen's side this season once again will be Greg Schulte. Schulte is currently at KTAR radio in Phoenix working on the sports staff there. Schulte has been a member of the broadcast team for American Cable in covering Grand Canyon sports for the past two years.

Trainers

Rick Baker

Rick returns to be a student trainer following an absence last season when Rick served as the Administrative Vice-President for the Associated Students of Grand Canyon College. Now, with his political experience behind him, Rick is once again working with the athletes.

Baker hails from Payson, Arizona, and first attended Mesa Community College before coming to Canyon. Rick is a Physical Education and Secondary Education major. Rick would like to teach at the high school level after graduation.

Rudy Sanchez

Rudy Sanchez begins his third full year as a trainer at Canyon. Rudy, a transfer from Phoenix College where he studied athletic training under Lowell Bailey, intends to pursue a career in sports medicine. Rudy returns to Canyon this year to complete his teacher certification for the state of Arizona. Sanchez graduated from GCC with the class of 1983. Rudy has the distinction of being the trainer for two NAIA World Series championship teams while working with the Canyon athletic program. Rudy will work mainly with the baseball program again this year.

Bob Oakeson Physical Therapist

Bob Oakeson begins his first season at Grand Canyon College in 1983-84 as the team's physical therapist and supervising Athletic Trainer. Bob has spent his last three years here in Phoenix and is a native of St. Paul, Nebraska. He received his degree in physical therapy from the University of Nebraska. Bob has also served in the armed forces of our nation, achieving the rank of Captain while in the Air Force. In addition to his current duties at Grand Canyon, Bob also serves as a consultant to two local Community Colleges, Glendale C.C. and Phoenix College. Past experience includes an association with the San Antonio Spurs of the National Basketball Association.

Oakeson is also the Co-Director of Sports Medicine Rehabilitation at the Arizona Sports Medicine Clinic, which provides care for Grand Canyon's athletes with medical care.

DR. BILL WILLIAMS
President

Grand Canyon College is proud of its strong tradition of athletic excellence and we are delighted to have John Shumate as our new head basketball coach. Athletics provide students and alumni a rallying point. It also reflects our strong commitment to excellence in every aspect of our program. I think we have an excellent season ahead and we welcome you to be a part of the program.

"We welcome our visiting competitors and fans alike to a year marked by tough competition and good sportsmanship. Congratulations to you. And to the 'Lopes, we say we are proud of you. Fight the good fight!"

GIL STAFFORD
Director of Athletics

Gil Stafford is no doubt one of the busiest men on Grand Canyon's campus. Stafford doubles as the Athletic Director and Head Baseball Coach, and has found sufficient time to be successful at both positions. Stafford has brought much publicity to Grand Canyon College as his baseball teams over his first three years at Canyon have done exceptionally well. Under the direction of Stafford, 'Lopes baseball teams have won two National titles, and compiled a 158-54 won-loss record. Thirteen of his players have signed professionally since Stafford took over the position in 1981. Stafford played professionally for the Milwaukee Brewer and Houston Astro Organizations and encourages his players to try and achieve as much as possible in baseball.
