The Stations:Channel 39

Channel 39 and Grand Canyon College basketball hook up for the first time ever in 1987-88. A growing station in the valley, Channel 39 is a non profit station operating out of North Phoenix Baptist Church. With a broadcast range covering Phoenix, Channel 39 has the capability to reach approximately 180,000 homes in the Valley. With their motto, "The Channel Arizona Families Can Trust," Channel 39 does not solicit funds in order to raise money for the network. With a transmitter relocation expected in the near future, Channel 39 will soon be more powerful than ever in the metro-Phoenix area.

ASPN

The Arizona Sports Programming Network reunites with Grand Canyon for this season. ASPN is no stranger to Canyon fans, having aired games for several years. Sports Director George Allen has slated four live telecasts for this season.

ASPN is a sports oriented station on the Dimension Cable system. With a loyal sports audience already developed, ASPN provides excellent exposure for 'Lopes basketball this season.

GSN

The Glendale Sports Network, like Channel 39, begins its first year of association with Grand Canyon. GSN is operated by the City of Glendale Cable Communications Office and airs on Glendale's Republic Cable System on Channel 104. GSN will air all 16 home games on a one day tape delay basis and also be in charge of production of all of the live telecasts for Channel 39 with the exception of the four games produced by ASPN.

ACTS Satellite Network

The American Christian Television System is a network owned by the Southern Baptist Convention. ACTS offers a uniqueness to Christian oriented television in that they do not solicit funds on the air. ACTS will carry five Saturday night games LIVE on national television. ACTS is also new to sports related telecasts, just starting this fall with NAIA level football.

KXEG (1010 AM)

KXEG and Grand Canyon College basketball hook up for their third consecutive year. A growing radio influence in the valley, KXEG is owned by the Mid America Gospel Radio Network. KXEG operates on a News/Talk format with a Christian emphasis and has carried Los Angeles Dodgers Major League Baseball, Phoenix Pride professional soccer, and University of Arizona athletic events in addition to Grand Canyon College basketball and baseball.

KXEG's format lends itself well to sports play-by-play broadcasts. In addition, KXEG's greatest listener appeal falls into the 25-49 age bracket. Studies have shown this group to be more interested in basketball than any other sport.

KXEG's 1010 signal can be heard throughout the valley and Maricopa county. Their signal is 1,000 watts daytime and 250 watts night. The non-directional signal adds to the advantage of advertising on Grand Canyon Basketball Broadcasts on KXEG.

The Announcers:Keith Baker, Channel 39, GSN, and KXEG

Keith will begin his seventh season "behind the mike" for the 'Lopes radio broadcasts, and his first season in television in 1987-88. Starting on the broadcast team for Canyon while still a sophomore in college, Keith has handled play by play for 'Lopes Basketball and also three NAIA College Baseball World Series Tournaments. His enthusiastic professional style will keep you up on all of the action this season.

George Allen, ASPN

George Allen and ASPN return to Canyon for the 1987-88 season. Allen is the former host of KTAR radio's "Sports Talk" show now run by Greg Schulte and Tim Roye. A true veteran of the broadcast business, Allen has logged such credits as Phoenix Suns Basketball, Arizona State football, basketball and baseball as well as a few World Title Boxing events.

Press table space is extremely limited, but every effort will be made to accommodate media requesting working space. A telephone and telecopier is available for use in the Canyon Sports Information office immediately following events.

Garrick Barr
Assistant Coach

College: U. C. Irvine, 1973
Age: 36
Year at Canyon: 2nd

Garrick Barr begins his second season at Grand Canyon College, coming with Paul Westphal from Southwestern College last year. Garrick's association with Westphal goes much further than that however. Barr and Westphal were teammates in high school at Aviation High in Redondo Beach, California. Barr ranks second on Aviation High's Career Scoring list to, you guessed it, Paul Westphal.

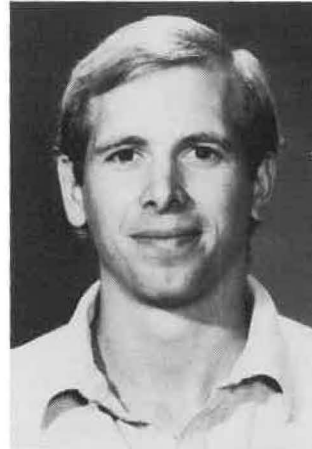

Bar is a graduate of the University of California, Irvine where he played varsity basketball for four seasons. He was a part-time starter in each of his last two seasons, and graduated in 1973 with a bachelor of arts degree in philosophy.

Garrick's coaching experience includes a year at Glendale Community College (1984-85) as an assistant and a year under Westphal at Southwestern College. He has also worked with the popular Adams/Westphal Basketball Camps during the summer.

Garrick is single and enjoys photography. He has worked with the Grand Canyon Sports Information Office and took the pictures displayed in this guide. Once a professional free-lance photographer, Garrick has also worked in the commercial airline industry prior to his coaching background.

Casa Grande High School during the 1985-86 season where he was teaching at that time. Scott now works in the Deer Valley School District as an instructor in the In-School-Suspension program.

Scott and his wife, Debbie, were married last summer.

Walt Rock
Assistant Coach

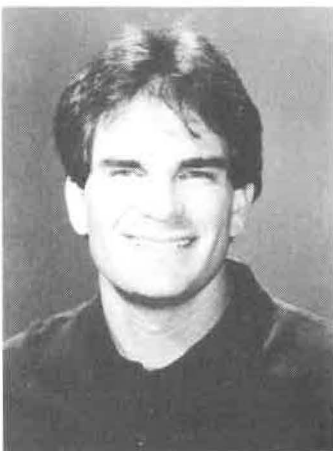

College: Southwestern
College, 1984
Age: 26
Year at Canyon: 1st

Walt begins his first season with the 'Lopes as a volunteer assistant coach. He returns to basketball coaching after a two year absence from the game. He last coached on the high school level as the head coach at Phoenix Country Day School here in the valley.

Walt has worked on the small college level, as an assistant coach at Southwestern College here in Phoenix during the 1983-84 season. Walt also played for Southwestern for four seasons during his college days.

Currently, Walt is employed by the A. L. Williams Insurance Company. He received his B. S. degree in Christian Education from Southwestern College in 1984.

Walt and his wife Michele have a two year old son, Byron.

Scott Mossman
Assistant Coach

College: Mid America
Nazarene, 1982
Age: 26
Year at Canyon: 2nd

Like Canyon's other two coaches, Scott Mossman begins his second season at Grand Canyon College. As he did last year, Scott will serve the 'Lopes on a part-time basis this season.

Much of Scott's work comes in behind-the-scenes groundwork with recruits and planning practice sessions. His efforts enabled the 'Lopes to land several of their top recruits last spring.

Mossman graduated from Phoenix's Sunnyslope High School in 1976 where he played varsity basketball. After two seasons at Scottsdale Community College, he moved on to Mid-America Nazarene College in Olathe, Kansas where he graduated with a bachelor of science degree in physical education in 1982.

Scott returned to the valley and was a volunteer assistant of Ralph Flores at Glendale Community College in 1984-85 (along with current Canyon assistant Garrick Barr). Scott also served as an assistant coach at Debbie is a native of Minot, North Dakota but calls Phoenix home.

Keith Baker
Sports Information Director

Keith begins his fifth year at Canyon as Director of the Sports Information department. He also fills other roles in the athletic department, including athletic office manager and facilities coordinator.

A graduate of Grand Canyon, class of 1982, Keith was a member of the 'Lopes first three NAIA National Championship baseball teams as a pitcher. He remains in the Canyon record book as the last Antelope to throw a no-hitter.

Keith also doubles as the play-by-play radio announcer for the 'Lopes in basketball and baseball, a job he picked up while still in his sophomore year at Grand Canyon.

Recently, he won his first publication award as the 1987 Grand Canyon Baseball Program placed third in the NAIA-SIDA Publications contest.

Keith is married to the former Amber Dedini who is a school teacher. They have two children, Brian and Brandon.

Marlene Bjornsrud
Assistant Athletics Director

Marlene begins her second year as Assistant Athletic Director, although she has been at Grand Canyon as Women's Tennis Coach. Marlene's primary duties are with women's athletics and men's soccer, tennis and golf.

Like most people in Canyon's athletic department, Marlene is a versatile person. Doubling as the Women's Tennis coach, she has built a strong program for the Lady 'Lopes. Last season, the Ladies finished 22-7 and were fifth at the NAIA National Tournament in Overland Park, KS.

Joe D. Harris
Director of Marketing and Promotion

Joe starts his second year of working full time in the Intercollegiate Athletic Department as Director of Promotions of Marketing. Joe has been at Grand Canyon for 18 years, first coming to the campus in 1969.

Joe was Chairman of the Department of Business for the college in 1969, but left that title to work in the Financial Aid Department in 1974. Joe split time between Financial Aid and Athletics two years ago before starting full time in his current position.

A graduate of Baylor University in 1950 where he received his bachelor's degree in business administration, Joe also worked for 14 years in the business world with various oil companies. In 1964 he returned to school and completed his masters degree in business administration from Texas Christian University.

During his stay at Grand Canyon, Joe has also been head golf coach and was instrumental in Canyon's hosting of the 1985 NAIA National Golf Tournament. Harris' golf teams won five NAIA District VII titles and made six total appearances at the NAIA National Golf Tournament. His highest finish was sixth in 1986 and 1987.

Joe is married to Sue Harris, a teacher in the Alhambra Elementary School District. They have two children, Dan and Julie.

John Howerton
Faculty Athletic Representative

John Howerton enters his 26th year at Grand Canyon College and had a long association with the athletic department. John first began at Grand Canyon as a student, earning his B. A. in history in 1957. He first became an instructor in the history department in 1959 temporarily, but returned in 1963 and has been here ever since.

John is the current Faculty Athletic Representative and chairs the Faculty Athletic Committee. In addition to these duties, John is also the NAIA District VII Eligibility Chairman and serves all of the member institutions of the district in matters pertaining to athletic eligibility filing and reporting.

He has also served on numerous committees while at Grand Canyon and has served as Grand Canyon's Official Scorekeeper at all home basketball games for as long as most Canyon employees can remember.

Howerton is a graduate of Grand Canyon (B.A. - 1957) and Arizona State University (M.A. - 1958). He was also graduated from Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1962 with a Master of Divinity degree. He is married to Peggy Farmer Howerton.

David Jungbluth
Athletic Department Assistant

David starts his fourth year of working in the Athletic Office in the 1987-88 year. A member of the 'Lopes baseball team in 1984, a back injury kept him from returning to the playing field. Presently, David assists in eligibility work, game management and sports information.

David graduated from Grand Canyon last May with a degree in Training and Development. He has also attended the University of Colorado and Chadron State College. David is a native of Colorado and is married to the former Maria Herzog.

Dr. Larry Olson
Administrative
Vice President

Dr. Larry Olson begins his sixth year as Grand Canyon College's Administrative Vice-President, responsible for all internal affairs of the college. He has also served as the school's Academic Dean since 1981.

Olson, a native of Phoenix, graduated from Camelback High School (1966), Baylor University (B. S. Chemistry - 1970), and the University of Pennsylvania (Ph.D. Physical Organic Chemistry - 1974).

Olson first came to Grand Canyon as a chemistry professor in 1975 and was chairman of the department of Natural Sciences and Mathematics by 1978. He has served three terms as Faculty Chairman and won Grand Canyon's Outstanding Professor Award in 1978 and 1982. Olson is married to Tina Olson (who is the Dean of Grand Canyon's Samaritan College of Nursing) and they have two children, Tiffany and Lisa.

Rudy Sanchez
Athletic Trainer

Rudy begins his second year at Grand Canyon as a full time Trainer and Equipment Room Manager. Previously, Rudy was a student trainer for the 'Lopes for two years during his undergraduate studies.

Rudy returned to Canyon last year after two years at North High School in Phoenix where he held a position similar to his current position. During his athletic related career, Rudy has seen his share of winners. He has been associated with three NAIA National Champion baseball teams at Canyon and a high school state basketball runner-up at North High.

Rudy, a native Phoenician, is single and enjoys hobbies like following the professional wrestling circuit and writing.

Gil Stafford
Director of Athletics
Head Baseball
Coach

Gil Stafford begins his eighth year at Grand Canyon College with the 1987-88 school year and his fifth year as Director of Athletics. He also serves as the Head Baseball Coach.

Stafford was named Head Baseball Coach in June of 1980. In seven years of coaching the 'Lopes, he has guided his teams to three NAIA National Championships and four overall NAIA College World Series appearances. Only the second baseball coach in school history, Stafford has a 360-141 won-loss record.

Stafford assumed the role of Athletics Director in 1983 in addition to his coaching duties. During his time as A.D., Grand Canyon has added soccer as a men's sport and re-initiated the women's volleyball program.

Gil earned his bachelors and masters degrees from Arizona State University while he was still playing professional baseball. He is married to the former Cathy Hearne. Cathy just recently completed her Ph.D. at Arizona State University and is a professor in Canyon's College of Education. Gil and Cathy have two children, Neil and Alicia.

Dr. Bill Williams
President

Dr. Bill Williams begins his 10th year as president of Grand Canyon College in the 1987-88 academic year. Elected by the college trustees on July 8, 1978, Williams is the 12th man to serve as president since the school was founded in 1949.

A native of Scottsdale, Arizona, Williams attended public schools there. He was graduated from Grand Canyon College in 1962. Later, he earned a Master's degree in education at Arizona State University and a Master's degree in mathematics at the University of Illinois. He was awarded the Doctor of Education degree by Arizona State University in 1970.

Dr. Williams joined the faculty at Grand Canyon in 1965 as an instructor in mathematics. He became Chairman of the Department of Natural Sciences and Mathematics in 1974.

In addition to department responsibilities, Williams also served as faculty chairman on several occasions and on numerous administrative committees.

Dr. Williams is an active member of North Phoenix Baptist where he is a deacon. Williams and his wife, Shirley, have two children, Janelle and Billy.

1987-88 PROSPECTUS AND OPPONENTS

Ron Singleton, 1987 Honorable Mention All American and seventh round draft selection of the NBA's Phoenix Suns

Grand Canyon College's second year Head Coach Paul Westphal seems to be having problems these days. The toughest problem for the upcoming 1987-88 basketball season may be deciding which of his recruits will see playing time. Well it may not be that easy, but with the talent that Westphal has lined up, the 'Lopes will be gunning once again for the NAIA District Championship.

Actually, Westphal didn't seem to have many problems at all adjusting to coaching at the NAIA level a year ago when he took over for former Phoenix Suns teammate John Shumate. The 'Lopes rebounded from a down year in 1986-87 when they finished 18-9 and failed to qualify for the playoffs for the first time in 13 years. Last year's team finished 26-12 and lost on the road in the finals of the NAIA District VII Tournament to Western State College of Colorado. The 'Lopes started the playoffs with a stunning 94-87 win at Fort Lewis College in the first round. The loss in the district finals left Canyon one game away from the NAIA National Tournament at Kemper Arena in Kansas City, Missouri, so it is no wonder that the 'Lopes have one thing on their minds this season.

"Our success this year will largely depend on how dedicated we are," said Westphal of this year's team. "We have the potential to be strong inside, strong outside and can pass the ball. Our personnel gives us a great chance to go to Kansas City."

That personnel will have to pick up the slack left with the departure of All District VII and Honorable Mention NAIA All American guard Ron Singleton. Singleton, who was selected in the seventh round of the NBA draft in June, led the team last year in scoring with a 19.1 points per game average. Also gone are All District center Cecil Scroggins and starter Mike Greene.

Canyon returns four lettermen from last year's team, all of whom started at one time or another during the season. Leading the group of returning players is point guard Rodney Johns. Johns averaged 11.2 points and 3.6 assists per game last year. The other three returning players are all inside players. Ron Akre, who led the team in 3-point FG percentages last year, returns as does Bob Gallagher and Bob Henige. All four will be pressed hard for playing time as the list of red-shirts and newcomers brings some impressive players.

Eleven players (five new recruits, five red-shirts and a walk-on) could provide the bulk of the potential for Canyon in 1987-88. Post men Robert Enge (6-9, 220, center) and Blair Oliphant (6-8, 215, center-forward) are top prospects inside. Both are JUCO transfers who were selected All Conference in their respective areas. Westphal says Enge is "a better inside player than anyone we had last year," and that Oliphant will battle with returning forward Bob Gallagher. Red-shirt Gary Ware could be the team's smartest, most versatile and most talented player. At 6-6, Ware can go inside as well as shoot the 3-pointer. He displayed these attributes in the Purple/White game last year, scoring 40 points and grabbing nine rebounds. Freshman forward Emilio Kovacic rounds out the inside players. A late addition to the team, he shows much promise of being a dominant NAIA player.

Seven guards round out the list of newcomers, four of which were red-shirted last year. Danl Williams could be the most talented of the bunch. Called a "phenomenal shooter," by Westphal, he transfers from Pan American University. Mike Ledbetter has been in the program for a full year, transfers from St. Edward's University in Texas and has a fine shooting touch with aggressiveness and jumping ability that makes him play much bigger than his 6-2 frame. Darren Dunlap is a 6-2 transfer from the University of Colorado where he played for two years and Ron Dalessio will still be a freshman after sitting out last year. The young newcomer among the guards is Spokane, Washington's 1986-87 High School Player of the Year, Mark Wheeler. An exciting athlete, Wheeler was the League MVP while averaging only nine points per game. He also averaged over eight assists and six rebounds per game. Also looking for playing time at the guard spot will be Craig Johnson. Even though only 5-9, he could be the most exciting player on the team with his exceptional jumping ability. The younger brother of the Boston Celtics' Dennis Johnson, he looks to be a real crowd pleaser. Mark Dyer rounds out the list of newcomers. A transfer from Iowa, he has his work cut out for him with so many talented players. But Dyer is a fighter, always hustling, so don't count him out.

For Westphal, who was encouraged by the team's 26-12 record of a year ago, this year's team offers more depth and speed than last year, a combination that encourages Westphal to full court press more next season. And Westphal seems to be an avid believer in the collegiate three-pointer as the 'Lopes put up 551 bombs last year, and could go beyond that in the coming season.

As for the 38 game schedule ahead of the 'Lopes this year, Westphal calls it "twice as tough, but I like it a lot better." Schedule highlights include trips to Oklahoma and Washington to play some of the finest NAIA teams in the country as well as perennial powerhouse Westmont College CA and District VII rising power Fort Lewis College. Returning to the schedule will be an old foe, Northern Arizona University and an exhibition vs. Athletes in Action.

The 'Lopes have also already set the table for two years to come with some player personnel that will redshirt this season. Chad Olson (6-10, Jr., C), Mario Lopez (6-7, Sr., F) and Mike Hoyle (6-2, Jr., G) will get used to basketball the Westphal way this season and be ready to go in 1988-89.

1975 NAIA National Champions Return Home

As a basketball fan, you probably judge things by their net worth. And, as a student, or the parent of one, you probably don't want to dribble away hard-earned money on a lackluster education . . . you want the best schooling available within your financial bounds.

Grand Canyon College can give you that. Since its founding in a Prescott armory in 1949, Grand Canyon has been giving its students a well-rounded education — one that develops:

The mind . . . because a player who can handle the ball, but doesn't know what to do with it, sure fouls up the teamwork;

The body . . . because a player who knows strategy, but can't hit the backboard, is not very useful on the court;

The spirit . . . because a thinking fellow who can shoot and rebound is one of limited value if he doesn't have stamina.

For nearly 40 years, Grand Canyon students have been finding out that a professor can be someone you know and talk to — someone you can work with — not just a face at the front of a crowded classroom.

Now they are gleaning facts, methods and wisdom in nearly 50 different major academic disciplines, as well as in six areas of pre-professional study and 16 additional minors. Our first master's program — in education — offers two alternative graduate degrees: one for those who have never taught, and another for those already in the classroom.

And, as the College moves toward university status in 1989, other master's programs will become a reality.

Becoming a university will also mean NCAA status for Grand Canyon's athletic squads. Along with championship teams in basketball, baseball, golf and tennis . . . the College now sponsors burgeoning soccer and volleyball programs, and may soon add wrestling, women's softball and basketball, cross-country and track teams as well.

The greatest opportunity available at Grand Canyon, however, is the chance to see how big — and how small — the world really is. Through student tours, service opportunities, mission trips and exchange programs, the College instills its graduates with an international perspective on knowledge and events, training students to be citizens of the world community, whether they become globetrotters or not.

Our campus community, meanwhile, offers a wide variety of social, service and academic clubs and organizations, as well as intramural sports, dorm activities, and campus festivals and banquets.

All set on a 70-acre campus touched with modern buildings, near-endless sunshine, and some of the greenest grass and trees you'll find anywhere.

A good education, of course, is never a free shot, but Grand Canyon remains one of the least expensive private schools in the country. And over 85 percent of our 1,640 students are finding the money they need for school through scholarships, grants, loans . . . and through the job opportunities Grand Canyon can provide.

And the money is worth finding — because all in all, the net worth of a Grand Canyon education is . . .

Priceless.

Grand Canyon College.
We've got a lot on the ball.

PING® BERYLLIUM COPPER EYE™ 2 IRONS

A new-look version of the PING® EYE™ 2 irons, cast from eye-catching beryllium copper, incorporates all of the standout qualities built into clubs made by Karsten Manufacturing Corporation.

The specialized irons, having an expensive appearance and a non-glare look, are for the golfer who desires a top-performance club on a level above the ordinary.

The PING® beryllium copper irons possess the same unique features of standard PING® EYE™ 2 irons including an expanded hitting area, soft feel on ball contact and advanced perimeter clubhead weighting.

While the eye-pleasing metal is heavier than stainless steel, the new irons are produced from the PING® E-Z-LITE™ molds in the standard PING® swingweights. Shape and size of the new irons are similar to that of the popular PING® EYE™ 2 irons of recent design.

NEW CAVITY SHAPE AND WEIGHT DISTRIBUTION.
