A year ago, the 'Lopes advanced as far as the West Regional semifinals for the second consecutive season.

McCrary, 45, originally from Chicago, spent his playing and coaching career in Arkansas. He earned his bachelor's in Physical Education, while lettering for four seasons in basketball at Philander Smith College in Little Rock. In 1982, he added a master's in Adaptive Physical Education from the University of Arkansas-Little Rock.

by Deron Filip, Sports Information Director

In his seven seasons as head basketball coach at Grand Canyon University, Leighton McCrary has established himself as one who has a knack for instilling team chemistry into his respective clubs. Recruiting primarily junior college transfers, McCrary has become accustomed to introducing new players to his philosophy and style of play.

With only three players returning from last year's squad, Coach "Mac" will be working overtime this season, but is looking forward to the task at hand.

"I'm teaching most of these players new things,"

McCrary said, "and it's exciting for them and for us. I'm real excited about going to practice because (the new situation) is helping me coach more."

Practice Makes Perfect

To help the newcomers make the adjustment to Grand Canyon basketball, McCrary has put more of an emphasis on preseason scrimmages to create more of a comfort zone for his players on the court.

"They're all pretty smart and catch on real quick," McCrary said. "But the scrimmages put everyone in a lot of different situations."

One returner who will bring experience with his knowledge of various game situations is senior Jerry Allen, a transfer last season from Los Angeles Harbor College. Allen played in all 29 games a year ago, averaging 12.4 points per game (second on the team) and 3.9 rebounds.

Allen agrees that the additional scrimmages have helped the players "get to know each other's games."

McCrary Counting on Allen

The Antelopes finished the 1996-97 season with a 23-6 overall record and a 9-3 conference mark in the California Collegiate Athletic Association. In the postseason, they advanced to the West Regional semifinals, where they were defeated by the eventual NCAA Division II National Champions—Cal State Bakersfield.

McCrary said that Allen's experience in the national tournament, along with the additional basketball knowledge he gained during the off-season, make him a natural leader.

"You've always got to have a main man or two on your team," McCrary said. "Jerry's the person we're going to lean on this year and he'll have to take that upon himself."

Allen said he is ready to meet his coach's challenge.

"I'm not used to being a leader," he said, "but I've worked on being more vocal on the court and keeping the guys together off the court."

According to Allen, the team has already developed what Allen calls "more of a family this year."

Allen added that he is not putting an emphasis on his personal goals for his final season but more importantly wants to help lead the 'Lopes to a conference title, which would insure a more advantageous position in the postseason.

Two Other Returners

Seniors Nathan Hansen and Bill Barquin will also play an important role, McCrary said. Hansen is in his third year with the program and brings some additional experience, while Barquin will be looked upon again to provide a spark off the bench with his three-point shooting.

A Host of Newcomers

As far as the newcomers are concerned, juniors Prince Edmonds and Enrique Zuniga figure to be prominent members in the backcourt. Zuniga was a member of Mexico's junior team, the same team for which former Canyon player, and current Phoenix Sun, Horacio Llamas played.

Bolstering the power forward position will be juniors Kelvin Otis and Andre Hall. Rounding out newcomers are the multi-dimensional Justin Mora, Rudy Byron, Davin Johnson, Touré Knighton and Nate Scott.

"I've worked hard on being more vocal on the court and keeping the guys together off the court."

—Senior Jerry Allen on his role of team leader
