MEDIA POLICIES

SEC CREDENTIAL POLICY

By accepting or using a media credential ("Credential") for access to any game or athletic contest sponsored or hosted by the Southeastern Conference (the "SEC") or by any one or more of its member institutions (herein an "Event" or the "Events") each person and entity issued such a Credential (herein referred to, along with the employer of each such person, collectively as a "Bearer") agrees to the following terms and conditions:

General

Each Bearer must be and hereby represents that he or she is acting on a specific assignment for an accredited media agency and has a legitimate working function in connection with the Event attended. The Credential is not transferable and may be revoked at any time.

The rights and privileges granted to Bearer may be terminated if any term or condition for use of the Credential is breached. The unauthorized use of the Credential subjects the Bearer to ejection from the Event.

While within the Event venue, Bearer shall, at all times, adhere to the policies in place for the Event, abide by and respect access limitations, and accept and follow directions provided by the SEC or the SEC member institution(s) hosting the Event.

Bearer assumes all risks incidental to the performance by the Bearer of Bearer's services in connection with the Event and assumes all risks incidental to each Event, whether occurring before, during or after the actual playing of the Event, and agrees that the SEC, its member institutions, and their respective agents, employees, directors, officers, student-athletes, coaches, and contractors shall not be liable for bodily injury, property damage or theft losses suffered or incurred by Bearer at the Event. Bearer understands that sports contests are physical, and that in the normal course of play it is possible for balls, players, or other objects to leave the court, track, course, or field of play and impact spectators. Bearer hereby waives and releases any and all Claims (as defined below) against the SEC and its member institutions arising directly or indirectly from any such injury, including those attributable to their negligence or that of their agents.

In the event that the name or likeness of Bearer is included in any broadcast, telecast, photograph, film, video or other media taken in connection with any Event, Bearer grants the SEC (or, if the media is controlled by a SEC member, grants such SEC member) the nonexclusive, transferable, perpetual right and license to use (and to sublicense the use of) such name and likeness in any media worldwide whether now known or thereafter devised.

Bearer agrees to indemnify and save harmless the SEC, its member institutions, and their respective agents, employees, directors, officers, student-athletes, coaches, and contractors, of and from any and all claims, liabilities, demands and causes of action asserted by persons and entities other than the SEC and its member institutions (jointly "Claims") arising out of any act or omission, or anything done or purported to have been done, by Bearer, including but not limited to Claims arising from Bearer's breach of any term or condition hereof. With respect to any Claim that might give rise to liability of the Bearer as an indemnitor, the indemnified party shall: (a) have the right to fully participate in the litigation of such claim with counsel selected by the indemnified party at the sole expense of the Bearer, and (b) not be obligated, without its consent, to participate in any settlement of such Claim.

SEC REAL-TIME INTERNET POLICY

By acceptance and use of an SEC media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions for any and all athletic events hosted by the SEC and its member institutions:

1. The SEC and its member institutions grant a media organization a limited license to use certain gathered information on the media organization's own Internet or online site beginning at the start of an athletic event and up to the conclusion of such event, all subject to the following limitations and conditions:

(a) No more than 10 still photographs may be used for news coverage of the game and other editorial purposes during the event.

(b) Video tape may only be shown as part of a single, non-archived, online "simulcast" of a television station's regularly-scheduled news program.

(c) While a game is in progress, the use of textual statistical information is time-delayed and limited in amount (e.g., updates pertaining to score, injuries and national, conference or institutional record-breaking performances, a condensed half-time story) so that an organization's Internet or online game coverage does not undercut the authorized and rights-paying fee organization's rights to play-by-play accounts of the game and/or exclusivity as to such rights.

2. Any proposed media use on an Internet or online sight of the game information that is more detailed and/or more than described above will require separate written authorization by the SEC and/or its member institutions. However, such written authorization will not permit the use of game information in entertainment contexts and will not authorize game coverage that, due to immediacy or detail, constitutes or approaches a play-by-play account of a game.

3. Should any of these conditions be breached, the SEC and/or its member institutions will issue a written warning for the first violation. If this violation occurs during the last game of the institutions' regularly-scheduled season, the media organization may not be credentialed for the SEC Tournament. A second violation of this policy will result in revocation of credentials to cover future basketball games hosted by the SEC and/or its member institutions.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Requests for single games credentials should be made as far in advance as possible and no later than five (5) days prior to game day online at www.sportssystem.com/Kentucky.

Jamie Holloway
Office Coordinator
859.257.3838
jamie.holloway@uky.edu

Interview Policies-General

All interviews with University of Kentucky basketball players or staff members must be arranged through the Media Relations office. Media should never contact a player or coach directly. The Wildcat Lodge, team locker rooms, and other team quarters are private team areas. Media members are not permitted in these areas unless accompanied by appropriate University personnel.

Practice/Press Conferences

UK basketball practices will be open to a select number of media members each session. No cell phones are allowed in the practice facility.

Player interviews are conducted prior to practices and will be available to all UK media on the Joe Craft Center practice court.

Coach John Calipari will meet with members of the media immediately following player interviews either on the practice court or in the Memorial Coliseum media room.

Media will be allowed to shoot video and still photography for five minutes at the start of practice each session. After the five-minute mark all media must clear the practice floor and approved media members will be escorted to the viewing deck for the conclusion of practice.

All player interview and practice access requests are due by 10:00 am ET on the day of each practice session.

Gameday shoot-arounds are closed to the media.

Telephone Player Interviews

Request telephone interviews at least 24 hours in advance through the Media Relations office. Telephone requests will be scheduled when players' schedules allow.

Radio Call-In Shows/Internet Chats

As specified by the Southeastern Conference, no players will be allowed to participate in live radio shows or on live chat sessions on the Internet other than school owned broadcasts.

Postgame Interviews

Following each game, there is a 20-minute cooling-off period, during which time the players shower and dress. Approximately 10 minutes after the game ends, Coach Calipari conducts his postgame press conference while a player is taken to the UK IMG Sports Network. Following Coach Calipari's press conference and the cooling-off period, selected UK players are brought to the media interview room. UK's locker room will be open for post-game interviews on a game-by-game basis.

UKathletics.com

The official Web site for University of Kentucky Athletics is updated 24 hours before each game with the latest game notes and quotes from Coach John Calipari and selected players.

Following each game, the site will post a game box score with summary, postgame quotes and notes from all home games and updated season statistics.

Cat Scratches

The official blog of UK Athletics provides Wildcat fans with an all-access view into the world of UK Athletics. For 24 hours a day, seven days a week, the blog provides the latest news surrounding the UK program and offers Wildcat fans the opportunity to take a behind-the-scenes look at what goes on inside the UK athletics program.

Cat Scratches features breaking news and announcements, in-depth features on players and coaches, live in-game updates of UK sports, e-mail questions from fans, practice reports from all the Wildcat teams and much, much more.

UK Interactive

Kentucky Athletics Interactive, which can be accessed at <http://kentucky-interactive.com>, was launched to inform the public, about the UK Athletics Department and its mission.

The primary goal of the Interactive website is to provide online visitors with a broad overview of the UK Athletics program and each of its 22 varsity sports in an innovative and entertaining way. The hope of the site is to provide an accurate glimpse of what it means to study and compete as a nationally prominent student-athlete at UK.

Accessing Publicity Photos/Logos

Media members wishing to obtain photos and logos of the University of Kentucky men's basketball team may do so by utilizing the XOS Vault System. Please contact a member of the UK Media Relations Office for the website and login information.

SEC SERVICES

John Calipari, along with the other 11 conference coaches, will participate in the Southeastern Conference's teleconference call. The calls are conducted Wed., January 4 and every Mon., Jan. 9 through March 5. For the phone number to participate, contact the SEC Media Relations office at 205.458.3010. Information also can be obtained on the web at www.secsports.com.

Radio/TV Rights

Broadcasting rights to UK games are assigned exclusively to the UK IMG Sports Network. One reciprocal rights fee waiver is guaranteed opponent schools visiting Lexington. Call Mike Dodson, network coordinator, at 859.226.4390. Two phone lines and an ISDN line are available for visiting radio.

Video Highlights

UK Video Services can provide highlight footage of most UK games. Contact Greg Gorham at 859.257.4087 to request assistance.

GAMEDAY MEDIA SERVICES*Media Parking

A limited number of spots are available at Rupp Arena. The city of Lexington assesses a charge for parking privileges. Requests should be made when submitting press and/or photo credential requests. The media parking area can be accessed from Main Street or Oliver Lewis Way. The lot opens three hours before tipoff.

Media Will Call

Media will call is located near the receiving entrance to Rupp Arena and adjacent to media parking. Credentials are not available at the public Will Call window on the High Street concourse level and will not be mailed.

MEDIA SERVICES

The University of Kentucky uses a computerized statistics system. Working media will receive:

- Game program and notes
- Halftime statistics
- Final statistics
- Complete play-by-play
- Shot charts
- Coach and player quotes

Media Room

The media room and photo compound is located beneath section 28 and can be accessed through the floor exit beneath section 26. Working facilities, with electrical outlets and a limited number of telephones, are available.

Wireless Internet

UK provides media members with complimentary wireless internet access at Rupp Arena. Contact a UK media relations staff member for details.

Telephones

A limited number of telephones are available in the Rupp Arena media room. Newspapers and radio stations desiring their own private lines, to be installed either on press row or in the media room, should contact Windstream at 800.843.9214.

Photo Compound

Photographers

The photo zones are appropriately marked on the Rupp Arena floor. Some photo spots are assigned. Because of safety concerns, no shooting is allowed on either sideline. Due to the amount of space, photo credentials will be limited. See Chet White at the site for technical assistance.

Gameday Live Stats

Live in-game stats will be provided at the web address <http://Kentucky.StatsBroadcast.com>

WILDCATS ON THE AIR

Tuning into Kentucky basketball games on radio has been a tradition of following the Wildcats since the dawn of the Fabulous Five.

Even today, as Kentucky basketball continues to dominate the state in popularity from Pikeville to Paducah, fans tune into the action all across the United States. Again this year, more than 75 stations will carry each game live. So whether the Big Blue fans are in Orlando, Fla., or Harlan, Ky., they can tune into the largest college basketball radio network in the country. The network reaches its outer limits thanks to such stations as Clear Channel's WHAS in Louisville, 840 on the AM dial, or WCKY-AM in Cincinnati, at frequency 1530. Each broadcast also can be heard around the world on UKathletics.com.

Outstanding broadcasters have called Wildcat games through the years. Claude Sullivan spent 19 years (1948-67) behind the microphone describing UK men's basketball and football games, while the legendary Cawood Ledford called the action for 39 years (1953-92). Ralph Hacker, Ledford's partner beginning in 1973, took over the play-by-play duties in 1993 before retiring following the 2001 season, an impressive 29-year career. Tom Leach took over for Hacker at the start of the 2001-02 season and begins his 11th season this fall.

The rights to the UK broadcasts are owned by UK IMG Sports Marketing (formerly Host) and Gray Television with WLAP/WBUL Radio Lexington serving as the flagship station. For information on the UK IMG Sports Network, contact Mike Dodson at (859) 226-4390.

Tom Leach

Play-by-Play Broadcaster

Tom Leach is in his 11th season as the "Voice of the Wildcats." Leach was a familiar voice on the UK Radio Network for 12 years before replacing long-time announcer Ralph Hacker at the start of the 2001-02 season.

Leach, who began calling the play-by-play for UK football in 1997, anchored the scoreboard segments during the network's halftime and postgame coverage from 1990-2001. He also filled in for an ailing Hacker on several games during the 2000 season.

Leach operates his own company, whose projects include a daily radio show on UK sports for WKJK-AM in Louisville ("The Leach Report") and a website, tomleachky.com. A native of Paris, Ky., he is a four-time winner of the Kentucky Sportscaster of the Year Award and a two-time winner of the Eclipse Award.

Leach and his wife Robyn Rabbeth Leach, a former local tv anchor, have one son, Connor, and a daughter, Caroline.

Mike Pratt

Broadcast Analyst

Former two-time All-SEC performer and UK Hall of Famer Mike Pratt is in his 11th year as analyst on the UK Radio Network. The former professional ABA player, college and pro coach replaced Sam Bowie, who retired from broadcasting prior to the start of the 2001-02 season.

Pratt joined the network after compiling extensive experience as a broadcaster. He began calling games in 1985 for Creative Sports in Charlotte and prior to returning to the Kentucky sidelines, served as an analyst for NCAA Productions, the Charlotte Hornets Television Network, ESPN and Fox Sports Net South.

Pratt lettered for the Wildcats for three years (1968-70) under Coach Adolph Rupp. In addition to his All-SEC honors, he was a second-team Converse All-American in 1970, Kentucky's third Academic All-American and a two-time Academic All-SEC selection. While playing alongside the Cats' all-time leading scorer, Dan Issel, the 6-4 forward averaged 19.3 points per game as UK finished the season as the nation's No. 1 team. Pratt finished with 1,359 career points, which still ranks 26th on UK's all-time list.

After Kentucky, Pratt played two seasons for the ABA's Kentucky Colonels. He spent three years as an assistant at UNC-Charlotte for Coach Lee Rose, helping guide the 49ers to the 1977 Final Four. He was named head coach at UNCC in 1978 and compiled a 56-52 record there in four seasons. He worked as an NBA scout for seven years and in '89, became an assistant to Hornets' coach Gene Littles.

Pratt currently works in private business in Louisville. He also is on the UK on Main staff, the university's first-ever full-time office in Louisville, as the director of major gifts for UK Athletics.

HEAD COACH
JOHN CALIPARI

CLARION, 1982
(THIRD YEAR)

Third-year Kentucky head coach John Calipari kept the momentum going in his second year at the helm of the Wildcats, guiding Kentucky to its 14th Final Four. In doing so, he became only the second coach to lead three different schools to a Final Four (UMass-1996; Memphis-2008; Kentucky-2011).

In a season that was labeled as a “rebuilding effort” where Calipari and the Cats were supposed to struggle after losing an unprecedented five first round picks in the 2010 NBA Draft, Kentucky instead reloaded as Calipari guided UK to its 27th SEC Tournament championship, kept his unbeaten record at Rupp Arena (33-0, tied for the longest such streak in Rupp Arena history) alive and collected his 500th career on-court win.

Upon being named head coach on April 1, 2009, Calipari continued to work his magic of resurrecting once proud programs, taking an NIT team in 2009 to the 2010 NCAA Elite Eight. Along the way he led the Wildcats to a No. 1 ranking (UK’s first since 2003), the program’s 44th SEC Championship and 26th SEC Tournament title.

The honors continued after the season as Calipari became the first coach in UK history to receive the Adolph Rupp National Coach of the Year award. He then watched as five of his players were selected in the first round of the 2010 NBA Draft, the first time a school has ever produced five first round picks. Among those picks was the first Wildcat ever taken as the No. 1 overall pick, John Wall.

In his inaugural season as head coach of the Wildcats, Calipari posted his fifth-straight 30-win season, the only coach in NCAA Division I history to do so. In addition to the Rupp National Coach of the Year, Calipari was also named the Associated Press SEC Coach of the Year.

When he led Kentucky back to the No. 1 spot in the country, Calipari became one of only two coaches (Frank McGuire) in NCAA history to lead three teams to a No. 1 ranking. He led UMass to a No. 1 ranking in 1995 and 1996 and he led Memphis to the No. 1 spot in the 2008 season.

Much like he did at UMass, when his players graduated at nearly 80 percent, Calipari has stressed academics. Fifteen of his last 18 seniors that came through the Memphis program have earned their bachelor’s degrees and the four seniors under Cal at Kentucky have all earned their degrees.

The Wildcats posted a 3.14 grade-point-average (GPA) in the 2011 spring semester, the highest semester GPA in recent years, and an overall 3.015 GPA for the 2010-11 season.

Since the 2005-06 season, Coach Cal ranks as the winningest coach over the last six years.

ketball program to national prominence in the '90s and resurrecting the Memphis basketball program in the 2000s, Calipari became the 22nd coach in UK history, and is the seventh in the last 80 years.

Following his second season at UK, Calipari's overall on-court record soared to 509-152 for an impressive 77.0 winning percentage. His 509 wins are the second-most in NCAA Division I history in the first 19 years, Roy Williams being the other.

Calipari's 77.0 winning percentage is the third-highest among active NCAA Division I coaches with 10 years experience at college basketball's Division I level, trailing only Mark Few and Roy Williams. On the NCAA Division I list for winning percentage for all coaches (minimum 10 years), Calipari is in 10th place and ahead of Krzyzewski, Jim Boeheim, Bob Huggins and Lute Olson.

With his five 30-win seasons, Calipari has seven for his career, which is fourth most for a head coach in NCAA Division I history. For his career (19 years), Calipari has 17 20-win seasons and 11 25-win campaigns.

In 1996, Calipari moved from UMass to the NBA after leading the Minutemen to the Final Four. For his efforts, Calipari was named Naismith National Coach of the Year.

Calipari led the Tigers to the 2008 NCAA title game, and Memphis' 38 wins in 2007-08 made him the winningest coach for a single season in NCAA history. As a result, Calipari was named Naismith National Coach of the Year for a second time in his career. He is only the second coach to receive the honor multiple times since the award's inception in 1987. Duke's Mike Krzyzewski is the other to do so.

Calipari, the 2009 Sports Illustrated National Coach of the Year, led the Tigers to nine-straight 20-win campaigns and nine-consecutive postseason appearances, the only Memphis coach to do that. He posted 252 wins — 28 wins per season — as the Tigers' head coach, making him the winningest coach in school history.

Calipari compiled a 193-71 record (.731) during his eight-year career at Massachusetts, including a 108-44 mark (.684) in Atlantic 10 play. In addition to five-straight NCAA Tournaments, UMass also made two appearances in the NIT, advancing to the NIT final four in 1991. The 1990-91 season was the first of six-straight seasons in which the Minutemen won at least 20 games.

Calipari's personal 20-win streak has reached the 17-season mark after 35 wins in his first year at UK and 29 in his second. All nine of his Memphis clubs won 20-plus games, along with his last six teams at UMass. In his final season at UMass, Calipari was named the 1996 Naismith National Coach of the Year and The Sporting News National Coach of the Year. He was also named the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year for the third time in four years, as well as Basketball Times East Region Coach of the Year.

During the Minutemen's 35-2 season in 1995-96, UMass posted wins over Kentucky, Maryland, Wake Forest, Georgia Tech, Syracuse, Virginia Tech and Louisville. UMass ended the regular season ranked No. 1 in the nation in the final regular season poll after being the top-ranked team for nine weeks earlier in the year. The Minutemen also won their first 26 games of the season, setting a school record for most consecutive wins.

In addition to his National Coach of the Year honors in 1996, Calipari was a Naismith Coach of the Year finalist in 1994 and 1995. He was the USBWA District I Coach of the Year in 1993.

At 29, when he was named head coach, Calipari began to build a program from the ground up, going 10-18 his first season before posting a 17-14 record his second year (receiving a bid to the NIT).

The Minutemen won their first A-10 championship in 1992 with a 30-5 record, including a 13-3 mark in league play. With a 77-71 overtime win over Syracuse in an East Regional second-round game, UMass made its first NCAA Sweet 16 appearance.

Calipari left UMass in June of 1996 to become Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations and Head Coach of the New Jersey Nets. He led the Nets to a second-place finish in the NBA's Atlantic Division and the playoffs in 1998, ending a five-year postseason drought for the franchise. The Nets' 17-game turnaround from the previous year was the best that season in the NBA.

He became a member of the Philadelphia 76ers coaching staff in 1999, rejoining Philadelphia coach Larry Brown, for whom Calipari was an assistant at Kansas.

Calipari began his coaching career at Kansas as a volunteer assistant under Ted Owens. In 1983, he was hired as the recruiting coordinator at the University of Vermont, but was swayed back to the nation's heartland when Brown was hired as head coach at KU. He spent three seasons at Kansas (1982-85) before another three-year stint as an assistant coach to Paul Evans at Pittsburgh (1985-88).

The 52-year-old lettered two years at North Carolina-Wilmington before transferring to Clarion State. He played point guard at Clarion during the 1981 and 1982 seasons, leading the team in assists and free throw percentage. The Eagles were ranked in the Division II Top 20 both years and participated in the 1981 NCAA Division II Tournament.

Calipari and his wife, Ellen, have two daughters, Erin and Megan and a son, Bradley. Erin graduated from UMass and is now in grad school at Wake Forest, while Megan is pursuing her undergraduate degree at UMass. Brad is a freshman at Lexington Christian Academy.

ASSISTANT COACH ORLANDO ANTIGUA

PITTSBURGH, 1995 (3RD SEASON)

Orlando Antigua is in his third season as an assistant coach with the Wildcats after spending one season with Calipari at Memphis.

Known for his eye for talent on the recruiting trail, Antigua has helped UK pull in three straight top-ranked recruiting classes. In his initial season with the Wildcats, Antigua saw three of his recruits drafted in the first round of the 2010 NBA Draft. As a result, he was named one of Yahoo! Sports top 10 college basketball recruiters.

When he joined the Memphis staff in 2008, the Tigers were the winningest program over a three-year span in NCAA Division I history, recording 104 victories from 2005-08. So what did Antigua do? He helped coach the Tigers to a 33-4 record and a spot in the 2009 NCAA Sweet 16. For the fourth straight season, the Tigers took the regular season and tournament titles, going undefeated in C-USA three of the four years.

Prior to his brief stay in Memphis, Antigua worked at his alma mater, Pittsburgh. During his five years at Pitt, he helped lead the Panthers to an overall record of 132-40 (.767 winning percentage) and a Big East Conference mark of 55-27 (.670 winning percentage). Pittsburgh recorded five straight 20-win campaigns and won 10 or more league games five consecutive years.

The Panthers had just as much success in the postseason during Antigua's years. The Panthers earned NCAA Tournament bids all five of Antigua's years and advanced to the Sweet Sixteen in 2004 and 2007.

Antigua's first stint with Pittsburgh was his collegiate playing days from 1991-95. A four-year letterwinner and two-time team captain, Antigua ranks in the top 15 on the Panthers' all-time 3-pointers made (14th with 117 treys), blocked shots (14th with 78 swats) and career 3-point percentage (seventh at 38.6 percent).

A 1992 Big East Conference All-Rookie Team pick, Antigua helped lead the Panthers to an 18-16 record and a National Invitation Tournament berth as a freshman. The following year, Antigua's Panthers went 17-11 and earned an NCAA Tournament bid. In 1994, he was named the United States Basketball Writers' Association Most Courageous Athlete, an honor presented annually to the college basketball player who displays courage on and off the court. Antigua graduated from Pittsburgh with a degree in social sciences in December 1995.

After graduation, Antigua was selected to play for the world-renowned Harlem Globetrotters, becoming the first player of Latin American descent to play for the squad. Nicknamed "Hurricane" for his dazzling moves, Antigua played with the Globetrotters for seven years until 2002.

Antigua also played in the Puerto Rico Superior Basketball League for eight years, and in both 1994-95 and 1997-98, he was a member of the Dominican Republic national team. Because of his dedication to the community, Antigua was named one of the nation's top 100 most influential Hispanic Americans by Hispanic Business magazine.

A Dominican Republic native who was raised in Bronx, N.Y., Antigua recovered from a 1988 Halloween incident where he was shot in the head near his left eye. Undeterred by the incident, Antigua quickly returned to the playing court two weeks later and went on to play three seasons at Pittsburgh with the slug in his head. Doctors initially ruled out removing the bullet as being too risky, but Antigua began suffering severe headaches.

Antigua's family also went through a period of homelessness. The oldest of three brothers, Antigua was credited with keeping the family together while housing was secured.

He overcame these difficulties and went on to serve as student council president at St. Raymond's High School. As a member of the school's basketball squad, Antigua played a major role in the team's New York Catholic League championship run. As a senior, he earned McDonald's All-America and Parade magazine All-America second-team honors and was also named All-New York City.

Fluent in Spanish, Antigua and his wife, Dana, have two children; a son, Orlando Anthony, and a daughter, Olivia.

ASSISTANT COACH KENNY PAYNE

LOUISVILLE, 2003 (2ND SEASON)

Kenny Payne begins his second year with John Calipari and Kentucky men's basketball as an assistant coach after spending six seasons as an assistant at Oregon.

Payne's work with forward Josh Harrellson last season was one of the biggest reasons behind Kentucky's historic run. In addition to Harrellson's conditioning program, Payne helped Harrellson develop an interior game that led to a significant increase in playing time. Harrellson's transformation was widely regarded as one of the national stories of the 2011 NCAA Tournament.

Nationally recognized as one of the game's top recruiters, Payne's ability to recruit has continued to flourish at Kentucky. He played a key part in John Calipari's 2011 recruiting class, the school's third consecutive top-ranked class. All four of UK's freshmen are ranked in the top 25 of most major recruiting services.

During his tenure at Oregon, Payne helped the Ducks burst onto the national scene with two NCAA Tournament Appearances in 2007 and 2008. Oregon also claimed one Pacific-10 Tournament title and three Ducks were selected in the first and second rounds of the NBA Draft under Payne.

During the 2006-07 season, the Ducks recorded an 11-7 Pac-10 record and posted an undefeated mark in non-conference regular-season games, finishing with a 29-8 overall record. That season, Oregon captured the Pac-10 Tournament, and followed the tournament run with an impressive performance at the NCAA Tournament. The Ducks earned a No. 3 seed in the tournament and advanced to the Elite Eight, where they lost to eventual champions Florida.

The Ducks followed their Elite Eight run with another appearance in the 2008 NCAA Tournament. Payne and the Oregon coaching staff then reigned in a top-20 recruiting class for the 2008 season with six highly-touted recruits.

Prior to coaching, Payne travelled the globe playing basketball for 10 different professional leagues. In 1989, Payne was chosen in the first round and 19th overall in the NBA Draft, playing four years for the Philadelphia 76ers.

Payne competed in the Continental Basketball Association (Tri-Cities, Wash.) and overseas in Italy, Japan, Brazil, the Philippines, Cypress, China and Argentina. He finished his professional career in 2000 following a season with Team Taipans of Cairns in Australia.

A four-year letterwinner at Louisville from 1985-89, Payne joined the Cardinals from Northeast Jones High School in Laurel, Miss., where he was a Parade All-American and the state's player of the year.

Payne helped lead Louisville to the 1986 NCAA national championship as a sophomore when he appeared in 34 games and averaged 3.6 points per game. As a senior, Payne averaged 14.5 points and 5.7 rebounds and was named Second-Team All-Metro Conference.

By the end of his Louisville career, Payne registered 1,083 points and shot 40 percent from 3-point range.

Payne earned a bachelor's of science in sport administration from Louisville in 2003.

He and his wife, Michelle, have two children, Alexis and Alexander.

ASSISTANT COACH JOHN ROBIC

DENISON, 1986 (3RD SEASON)

John Robic is in his third season with the Kentucky basketball program but is a long-time associate of UK head coach John Calipari.

Beginning with their first season together at UMass in 1988-89, where Robic was an assistant under Calipari, the two are entering their 15th season together. It seems as if the Calipari-Robic duo is a proven combination for thrilling basketball seasons.

Similar to those magical years he assisted in at UMass in the 1990s, Robic helped lead Memphis to the program's most storied era in school history in four seasons at Memphis (2006-09) as well as helping return Kentucky back among the nation's elite.

Robic helped the Wildcats post a 35-3 mark in his inaugural season at Kentucky. The Cats made an appearance in the 2010 Elite Eight while claiming SEC regular season and tournament championships along the way.

He helped UK make history with five Wildcats were drafted in the first round of the 2010 NBA Draft. In 2011, Kentucky returned to the Final Four for the first time since 1998. Four more players were taken in the 2011 NBA Draft under the watch of the Calipari-Robic combination.

His last four years at Memphis, the Tigers won an NCAA record 137 games (137-14 record), while advancing to the 2006 and 2007 NCAA Elite Eights, the 2008 NCAA title game and sweeping the 2006-09 Conference USA regular season and tournament crowns. Memphis spent each week of the last four years in the national polls.

In 2007-08, Robic was a part of the Tigers' "Dream Season," which lasted through the NCAA championship game. Memphis set an NCAA record for victories with 38 wins (38-2 mark) and held down the No. 1 spot in both national polls for a school-record five straight weeks during the season.

Before 2005-06, Robic directed the Youngstown State program from 1999-2005.

Prior to its move to the Horizon League, Youngstown State put together a tremendous year in the Mid-Con in 2000-01, Robic's second year at the helm. The Penguins posted a 19-11 overall mark and an 11-5 Mid-Con record. The 19 overall wins were the second most in 16 seasons, and the 11 league victories tied the school record for most conference wins.

Before taking over at Youngstown State, Robic served as an assistant for 11 years at UMass for both Calipari and Bruiser Flint.

After a 10-18 mark his first season on staff, Robic helped lead the Minutemen to nine consecutive winning campaigns.

From 1990-96, the Minutemen averaged 26 wins per year and had six straight 20-win seasons, including two 30-victory campaigns. UMass made the NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 in 1992, Elite Eight in 1995 and Final Four in 1996. It was UMass' first appearance on college basketball's largest stage.

After Calipari moved on to the NBA, Robic remained at UMass and was elevated to the associate head coach post under Flint from 1997-99. During his tenure at UMass, the Minutemen posted a 247-111 overall record (.690 winning percentage) and earned nine postseason tournament bids (seven NCAA, two NIT).

A graduate of North Hills High School in Pittsburgh, Robic attended Walsh College in Canton, Ohio, before transferring to Denison University in Granville, Ohio, where he earned his bachelor of arts in speech communication and physical education in 1986.

At Denison, Robic garnered Division III All-America accolades as a senior and was a two-time all-conference performer. He was one of 10 former players to be named to the 10th Anniversary All-Decade Team in the league in 1994. In the fall of 2006, he was inducted into the Denison Athletic Hall of Fame. Robic was inducted into the North Hills High School Hall of Fame in 2004.

Robic and his wife, Heidi, have three daughters, Hayley, Alli and Sophie.

TIM

BASKETBALL VIDEO COORDINATOR
(10TH SEASON)

Tim Asher is in his 10th year as the Wildcats' basketball video coordinator after serving the previous 12 seasons as the team's traveling videographer. In addition, he has worked on the UK football team video staff for the past 25 years. In his role, Asher oversees all of the basketball program's video needs, including maintaining the Wildcats' sophisticated editing system. He was heavily involved in the design and integration of video throughout the Joe Craft Center.

Asher, 51, started his own company, Idle Minds Productions, in 1987, which provides video services for various networks, documentaries and commercials. He's been employed as a freelance trainer and demo artist on non-linear video systems for Sony Corporation since 1995, served as a field production specialist for WLEX-TV and as a producer/director then production manager for WDKY-TV.

Asher earned his bachelor's degree in communications from Morehead State University. A native of Olive Hill, Ky., he and his wife Cindy have a 13-year-old daughter, Laura.

JOHN HAYDEN

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR
MEDIA RELATIONS
(6TH SEASON)

John Hayden is in his sixth season working with the men's basketball program after being promoted to associate director of media relations in July.

Hayden has served as the primary contact for women's soccer and the secondary contact for men's basketball the past five seasons and will continue to handle UK's media relations efforts with both sports. However, Hayden's work with the men's basketball team will expand as he will now be the primary media relations contact for all men's basketball student-athletes, assistant coaches and staff.

Hayden will also continue to hire and oversee Kentucky's two media relations assistants, but will now also be the liaison and supervisor over UK's assistant directors of media relations.

He spent six years as assistant director of media relations at the University of Alabama where he directed the media and public relations efforts for the football, softball, women's soccer, men's cross country, and track and field programs.

During his tenure with Alabama, the softball team made four appearances at the College World Series (2000, 2003, 2005, 2006).

After graduating from Alabama in December of 1998 with a degree in broadcasting, Hayden served as an intern in the media relations department with the Chicago White Sox's AA affiliate, the Birmingham Barons, during the 1999 season.

A Paducah, Ky., native, he and his wife, Maria, gave birth to a new baby daughter, Lillian Mary, on Sept. 14, 2011.

MIKE

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING
(2ND SEASON)

Mike Malone is in his second season with the Kentucky basketball program. He came to the University of Kentucky after serving as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Minnesota since 2006. Malone developed the strength and conditioning program for the Minnesota baseball team, which appeared in NCAA regionals in 2007, 2009 and 2010. He also assisted with men's and women's hockey, men's basketball, football men's and women's golf, and men's swimming.

Prior to the University of Minnesota, Malone worked for the Anaheim Angels organization at their AA team in Little Rock, Ark. Previous to that, Malone worked as the assistant director of performance enhancement for the University of Memphis basketball team, which went to the Elite Eight in 2006 and produced two first-round NBA draft picks.

Before Memphis, Malone was an assistant strength and conditioning coach at James Madison, assisting with more than 20 men's and women's sports. Prior to James Madison, he was also a strength and conditioning coach for the nine-time Division III football national champion Mount Union Purple Raiders.

Malone has worked at Iowa State University and the University of Pittsburgh as an intern. He has worked with various sports and numerous professional athletes in the NHL, NFL, NBA, MLB, PGA Tour and professional boxing.

Malone has also worked the Cincinnati Bengals training camp in the summers of 2007, 2008 and 2009.

The Wauwatosa, Wisc., native is a 2001 graduate of Mount Union College earning a degree in exercise science. While at Mount Union, Malone was part of two Division III national championship football teams in 1998 and 2000.

SHOMARI
MOORE

GRADUATE MANAGER
(1ST SEASON)

Former Kentucky football defensive back Shomari Moore enters his first season as a graduate manager for the University of Kentucky men's basketball team.

Moore, a native of Camden, N.J., joined the UK football strength staff in July of 2010 after serving one year as a personal trainer for LyonHeart Sports Academy in Lexington, Ky., which he co-owned with former UK wide receiver Dicky Lyons, Jr. He also worked on the strength and conditioning staff for the Cincinnati Bengals' training camp in 2010.

As a Wildcat from 2005-08, Moore saw action in 49 games with 11 starting assignments. He totaled 84 tackles at cornerback, including 3.5 for loss along with four interceptions and seven pass breakups.

Moore graduated with a degree in family and consumer sciences from UK in 2008 and is currently working on a master's degree in kinesiology and health promotion.

DEWAYNE PEEVY

SR. ASSOCIATE AD/
COMMUNICATIONS
(4TH SEASON)

DeWayne Peevy is in his fourth year as the senior associate athletic director for communications at the University of Kentucky.

Peevy, who joined UK in August 2008, oversees the public relations efforts for the entire athletics department in addition to his duties as the primary contact for UK's nationally recognized men's basketball program.

Upon his hiring, Peevy pioneered a 22-sport wide UK blog, an innovative and rare addition to a media relations department, and he oversees the award-winning Kentucky sports publication department. Additionally, Peevy coordinates interviews with local and national media for head coach John Calipari and the men's basketball team and he is the spokesman for the storied program.

The Birmingham, Ala., native also serves on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Final Four Media Coordination Committee and he previously served as the sports information director representative on the board of the United States Basketball Writers Association.

Peevy came to UK after spending eight years at the Southeastern Conference. He was responsible for the day-to-day publicity of the SEC men's basketball. A graduate of the University of Montevallo, Peevy served as the media director of the SEC Men's Basketball Tournament from 2004-08.

Prior to his time at the SEC, Peevy spent nearly three years at his alma mater where he oversaw and handled all media and promotional operations for all nine varsity sports. He received six national publication awards from the College Sports Information Directors of America at Montevallo.

Peevy also served as the assistant information director at the Gulf South Conference from September 1996 to October 2007.

Peevy received his bachelor of business administration degree in accounting from the University of Montevallo in 1996.

He and his wife, Allison, have two children, Kaitlyn, 11, and Braden, 4.

LUNETHA PRYOR

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH
(3RD SEASON)

Lunetha Pryor begins her third season with the University of Kentucky men's basketball team and her 12th season as UK head coach John Calipari's assistant.

She works closely with Chris Woolard, associate athletic director for basketball operations in coordinating Coach Calipari's calendar and assists Coach Calipari with all of his travel and recruiting responsibilities.

Pryor is also in charge of coordinating all of Coach Calipari's autograph requests in addition to the ticket requests that the basketball office receives and those of the coaching staff. She also worked for the University of Memphis in athletics.

A Memphis native, Pryor has one daughter, Kia Symone.

BO

EQUIPMENT MANAGER
(2ND SEASON)

Bo Rodriguez begins his first full season as the equipment manager for the University of Kentucky men's basketball team after joining the staff mid-season in 2010-11.

Prior to joining the UK men's basketball staff, Rodriguez spent the previous three years in the business office at the University of Kentucky as the associate business manager. Prior to UK, he was the business manager at Florida Atlantic for three years.

Rodriguez received his bachelor's degree in integrated supply management and Spanish from Western Michigan University in 1998 and earned his master's in marketing and strategies from Indiana in 2004.

He and his wife, Carly, have two children, Sophia, 5, and Halina, 1.

CHRIS SIMMONS

HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER
(3RD SEASON)

Chris Simmons begins his third season as head athletic trainer for men's basketball at the University of Kentucky after serving three seasons in a similar position at the University of Memphis.

Simmons was a member of the Tiger staff that helped direct Memphis to three consecutive record-setting seasons. While at Memphis, he was involved in all aspects of the Tigers' day-to-day medical and rehabilitative needs.

In his first year on staff in 2006-07, Memphis posted a 33-4 overall record, won the Conference USA regular season and tournament titles, and advanced to the NCAA Tournament Elite Eight. In fact, Simmons' around-the-clock aid on Chris Douglas-Roberts' sprained ankle in between the NCAA Tournament second round and the region semifinal got the Tiger guard ready for action with only a three-day turnaround.

En route to the NCAA title contest in the 2007-08 season, Simmons' quick work on Derrick Rose's cut above his eye suffered in the South Region semifinal game against Michigan State aided the Tigers' postseason run. Rose finished the Michigan State game and had a tremendous performance against Texas in the regional final to claim the NCAA South Region MVP honor.

In the summer of 2008, Simmons also served as athletic trainer for the Conference USA All-Star team that played a three-game exhibition tour against the Chinese National Team in China.

Prior to his time at Memphis, Simmons spent the 2005-06 basketball season as head athletic trainer/coordinator of basketball operations with the Arkansas RimRockers of the NBA Development League.

No stranger to the Southeastern Conference, Simmons earned his master's in 2004 from the University of Arkansas. During his tenure with the Razorbacks, he served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer for football.

Prior to his time at Arkansas, he served as an athletic training intern with the National Football League's Cleveland Browns. Simmons is a 2002 graduate of the University of Memphis with a bachelor's degree in exercise and sport science.

The native of McComb, Miss., is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association and a Performance Enhancement Specialist through the National Academy of Sports Medicine.

PRESTON SPRADLIN

COORDINATOR OF BASKETBALL SYSTEMS
(3RD SEASON)

Preston Spradlin enters his third year on the men's basketball staff at Kentucky.

During his first two seasons, Spradlin completed his master's degree in sports leadership, while assisting in many aspects of the men's basketball program.

His duties include film breakdown and analysis, creating and maintaining men's basketball playbooks, assisting coaching staff in opponent scouting, and day-to-day operations.

This summer he became the director of the John Calipari Satellite Camps across the state and assisted with all other camps and clinics.

Prior to the start of the 2011-12 season, Spradlin was a member of Coach Calipari's Dominican Republic National Team staff that reached its highest finish and won the bronze medal in the Tournament of The America's Olympic Qualifier in Argentina.

This season Preston will coordinate all film exchange and create all opponent and self-scouting edits for coaching staff and players.

A 2009 graduate of Alice Lloyd College, Preston was a four-year letterwinner for the men's basketball team.

The Pikeville, Ky. native is also a graduate of Betsy Layne High School and is married to the former Misty Tackett.

MICHAEL STONE

ACADEMIC COUNSELOR
(13TH SEASON)

Michael Stone is entering his 14th year working with student-athletes in the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services and his 13th year working with the men's basketball team.

Stone, a native of Clay City, Ky., has made a positive impact on the Kentucky men's basketball program during his tenure. A tireless worker, Stone has assisted current and former student-athletes in their academic responsibilities and post-graduation aspirations. He has been instrumental in the recent success of the Wildcats in the classroom.

Stone's duties include: overseeing the nightly functions of CATS, monitoring study hall for student-athletes from each of Kentucky's 22 sports and overseeing the CATS Academic Graduate/Academic Service Assistant program.

In addition to his responsibilities with the men's basketball program, Stone serves as the academic counselor for Kentucky's baseball team. Under his guidance, men's basketball posted a 3.14 grade-point average last spring and finished tied with Vanderbilt atop the Southeastern Conference for the highest Academic Progress Rate score.

Stone is an active member of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics. He currently serves as the Region II Representative for the Student-Athlete Recognition Committee which honors student-athletes who have overcome great obstacles to achieve academic success while participating in intercollegiate athletics.

Stone received both a B.S. in economics and a B.B.A. in marketing (1997), as well as his master's in sports management (2002) from UK.

ROD STRICKLAND

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE
HEAD COACH
(3RD SEASON)

Rod Strickland is in his third season on staff at Kentucky as the special assistant to the head coach. A two-time All-American at DePaul and a 17-year NBA veteran, Strickland brings a wealth of collegiate and professional experience to John Calipari's Kentucky staff.

Strickland began his tenure under Calipari as director of student-athlete development/manager at Memphis in fall 2006, and in the summer of 2008, he was named director of basketball operations for the Tigers. As director of basketball operations, Strickland monitored academics, coordinated recruiting visits and assisted with travel plans.

With Strickland on staff, Memphis posted a 104-10 record and continued to dominate Conference USA. In his three seasons with the Tigers, the team won three consecutive C-USA regular season and tournament titles. Memphis reached the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament in 2009 and advanced to the Elite Eight in 2007. In 2008, the Tigers competed in the NCAA Tournament championship game and set the NCAA Division I record for victories in a single season with a 38-2 record.

The New York City native went to Memphis after a lengthy and successful career in the NBA. The 6-foot-3 guard was an NBA first-round draft pick of the Knicks in 1988, and played for New York, San Antonio, Portland, Washington, Miami, Minnesota, Orlando, Toronto and Houston during his career. Strickland played in 1,094 games and scored more than 14,000 points (13.2 career average) and dished out nearly 8,000 assists (7.3 career average).

The 1997-98 NBA campaign with Washington was Strickland's best, as he averaged a double-double with 17.8 points and 10.5 assists. His 10.5 assist average led the NBA that year, and he was selected to the All-NBA second team. That year, Strickland also became only the 25th player in NBA history to record 10,000 points and 5,000 assists. He also ranked among the NBA's top 10 in assists in the 1991-92 (fifth), 1993-94 (sixth), 1994-95 (fifth) and 1995-96 (fourth) seasons.

Prior to his time in the NBA, Strickland enjoyed a stellar career at DePaul. A 1987 and 1988 All-America pick, Strickland helped lead the Blue Demons to four straight NCAA Tournament appearances from 1985-88, including Sweet Sixteen showings in 1986 and 1987. The four-time Blue Demon letterwinner ranks among the program's career leaders in scoring average (eighth; 16.6 ppg), assists (third; 557) and steals (second; 204).

In September of 2008, Strickland was inducted into the New York City Basketball Hall of Fame. Joining Strickland in the 19th induction class were Kenny Anderson, Louis Bender, Pete Gillen, Joe Goldstein, Bob McCullough, Sam Perkins and Eddie Younger.

Strickland and his wife, Cheryl, have four children; Torin, Tai, Terell and Tanner.

BRANDON WEEMS

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF
BASKETBALL OPERATIONS
(3RD SEASON)

Brandon Weems enters his third season with the Kentucky basketball program as the assistant director of basketball operations after earning his master's of science degree in sports leadership last spring while serving as a graduate assistant during his first two seasons.

With a degree in business management, Weems graduated from Walsh in 2008. At Walsh, Weems was a member of the 2005 NAIA Division II Men's Basketball National Championship team. In addition to the national championship, Weems and the program won four conference championships. Weems also received All-America honors, led the country in assists his junior season and stands second at Walsh for all-time assists. As a senior, Walsh named Weems as Male Athlete of the Year.

Weems is a native of Akron, Ohio, and a graduate of St. Vincent-St. Mary High School. While at St. Vincent-St. Mary, Weems won two state championships and a national championship.

CHRIS WOOLARD

ASSOCIATE AD FOR BASKETBALL OPERATIONS
(1ST SEASON)

Chris Woolard enters his first season as UK's associate athletics director for basketball operations. Woolard joins the University of Kentucky staff after spending the last seven years at the Conference USA office where he was the associate commissioner for sports services.

At C-USA, Woolard's responsibilities focused extensively on the men's basketball programs as administrator and tournament director for the annual men's basketball championship. Woolard also serves as the primary administrator for men's golf along with his duties to provide oversight to the C-USA Sports Services Department.

Prior to joining Conference USA, Woolard spent a year in private business after working eight years in the college basketball coaching ranks. He was an integral part of a highly successful Murray State men's basketball team from 1997-2003, serving as an assistant coach.

During Woolard's time at Murray State, the Racers won three conference championships and made three NCAA appearances. At MSU, he was the staff's lead recruiter and was also responsible for on-floor coaching, providing detailed opponent scouting reports, and administrative duties such as academics, compliance, budget, scheduling, summer camps and team travel.

Woolard began his collegiate coaching career as a student assistant coach at UCLA. During his two years in Westwood, Calif., he was involved in recruiting, summer camps and also assisted with practice drills and scrimmages.

Prior to finishing his college career at UCLA, he studied at Washington State for two years and played one season as a member of the varsity basketball team at Chapman University.

A native of Carbondale, Ill., Woolard earned a bachelor's degree in history from UCLA in August 1997.

PRESIDENT
DR. ELI CAPILOUTO

University President (First Year)
 Alabama, 1971

Dr. Eli Capilouto became the 12th president of the University of Kentucky on July 1, 2011.

A native of Montgomery, Alabama, Dr. Capilouto previously served as Provost of the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) and Dean of the UAB School of Public Health -- a period of remarkable growth and transformation at one of the leading academic and health sciences institutions in the South.

While at UAB, Dr. Capilouto helped lead the adoption of the University's Strategic Plan, an integrated and more transparent budgeting system and continued increases in research funding for an institution that is one of the nation's leading public medical and health sciences' campuses. An accomplished scholar, Dr. Capilouto has published more than 70 articles, abstracts and book chapters in a long academic career in health and higher education policy.

Passionate about public health and community engagement, Dr. Capilouto contributes his time to national boards and local philanthropy agencies. He recently served on the National Advisory Dental and Craniofacial Research Council of the National Institutes of Health and is a member of the Executive Committee of the Council on Academic Affairs of the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities. He was a member of the Pew Health Professions Advisory Panel for Dentistry and has served as a consultant to the National Academy of Sciences Institute of Medicine and the American Association of Academic Health Centers.

In Birmingham, Dr. Capilouto served in leadership roles on the boards of the YMCA, Red Cross, Ronald McDonald House and his temple. Additionally, he served eight years on the Mountain Brook City Schools

In 2008, he received the National Conference for Community and Justice (NCCJ) Brotherhood-Sisterhood Award for Outstanding Community Service.

Dr. Capilouto received his bachelor's, Master's in Epidemiology, and Doctor of Dental Medicine degree from schools within the University of Alabama system. In 1991, he earned his Doctorate in Health Policy and Management from the Harvard University School of Public Health. He and his wife, Dr. Mary Lynne Capilouto (D.D.S.), a former dean of UAB's dental school, have one daughter, Emily, a graduate student in the School of Public Health at UAB.

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR MITCHBARNHART

Director of Athletics (10th Year)
Ottawa University, 1981

Mitch Barnhart is in his 10th year at the University of Kentucky, with unparalleled accomplishments in his past and unprecedented goals for the future.

In the last year alone, UK Athletics' success featured the school's first national championship in rifle; the men's basketball team returned to the Final Four for the first time since 1998; softball advanced to the super regional for the first time ever; and the football team continued its school-record five-year bowl streak.

Combined with other achievements, these feats are fulfilling Barnhart's ambitious course for the future, which was revealed in November 2008 with the 15 by 15 Plan. The goals are to win at least 15 conference or national championships and rank among the NCAA's top 15 athletic programs by 2015 – all of which would be unprecedented achievements for UK Athletics – while continuing to expand the department's service to the commonwealth of Kentucky. Another goal is a cumulative 3.0 grade-point average for UK's 500-plus student-athletes on an annual basis.

Barnhart's commitment to the 15 x 15 Plan, and beyond, was reinforced this year when he signed a contract extension that reaches 2019.

UK's steady improvement in the Directors' Cup standings under Barnhart was highlighted with 29th-place finish in 2009-10. It was the school's best showing since Barnhart's arrival, its top finish since 1997-98 and only three slots away from the best mark in school history.

The primary academic target was met during the 2010 spring semester as UK's student-athletes notched a composite 3.04 GPA. But Barnhart wants to continue to see academic success and improvement in the future. In addition, UK has consistently posted strong numbers in the NCAA Academic Progress Rate as every one of UK's 22 varsity sports have avoided penalties in the APR's seven-year existence. Graduation rates, which date back to classes that entered six years ago, are beginning to show the improvement Barnhart emphasized upon his arrival in 2002.

Additional initiatives begun under Barnhart's leadership include fully funding all 22 varsity sports with maximum number of scholarships and coaches; creating the UK Athletics Hall of Fame; initiating the CAT-SPYs, an awards program that honors the best of UK Athletics; the construction of the Joe Craft Center, a $30 million facility that includes practice and administrative space for a variety of sports; more than $14 million of football facility improvements; and the construction of a new $12 million track.

Barnhart's influence reaches far beyond the fields of competition. Despite athletics' urgent financial needs, Barnhart directs a $1.7-million annual contribution to the University's scholarship program.

Social responsibility in the Commonwealth of Kentucky also is a priority for Barnhart, who is extremely active in community service and encourages UK athletics staff and student-athletes to do the same.

Barnhart has been involved on the national level as well and in 2010 became the chair of the NCAA Basketball Issues Committee.

Barnhart arrived at UK from Oregon State, where he served four successful years (1998-2002) as athletics director. Before OSU, he worked in athletics administration posts at Tennessee (1986-98), Southern Methodist University (1983-86), Oregon (1983) and San Diego State (1982-83).

Barnhart is a native of Kansas City, Kan. He earned his bachelor's degree from Ottawa University (Kansas) in 1981 and a master's in sports administration from Ohio University in 1982.

His family includes his wife, Connie, three children, Blaire, Scott, Kirby Willoughby and her husband, McKenzie.

2010-11 GAME REVIEWS

1 Rupp Arena (23,740)
Lexington, Ky. • Nov. 12, 2010

East Tennessee St. 65
Kentucky No. 11/10 88

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Terrence Jones had 25 points and 12 rebounds, Doron Lamb added 20 points and Brandon Knight had 17 points and five assists as Kentucky rolled by the Buccaneers in the second half.

Still, for a class that will forever be compared to the historic one that came before it, the new kids appear to be up to the task.

Kentucky made 13 of 26 3-pointers, turned it over just 10 times and responded when the defending Atlantic Sun champions pulled within 10 points early in the second half.

Isiah Brown led the Buccaneers with 25 points, but ETSU couldn't match Kentucky's firepower even without Enes Kanter.

The school is appealing an NCAA ruling Thursday declaring Kanter permanently ineligible because he received more than the necessary benefits while playing for a club in Turkey two years ago.

Calipari said he respected the NCAA's decision even if he didn't agree with it and is hopeful the decision will be overturned.

If Kanter can't play, Jones will likely be called on to be Kentucky's premier big man.

Against the Buccaneers, it was a little bit of everything. His energetic play helped Kentucky break things open after the Buccaneers pulled within 50-40 with 18:11 to go.

Jones ripped off Kentucky's next 12 points starting his own personal run with a dunk, then hitting two jumpers before adding a layup while getting fouled. He hit the free throw then knocked down a 3-pointer as Kentucky's lead ballooned to 62-42. ETSU would get no closer than 17 the rest of the way.

The game was a rematch of last season's opening NCAA tournament matchup, a 100-71 Kentucky win.

Eight short months later, the stars that led Kentucky's renaissance in Calipari's first season on the bench are long gone.

In their place step Knight, Jones and Lamb. While Calipari has cautioned it's not fair to compare this year's freshman crop to last year's record-breaking class, he knows comparisons are inevitable.

Knight, the latest in a string of top-rated high school point guards brought in by Calipari, was steady if not as spectacular as Wall.

Lamb came off the bench to drain three 3-pointers and make the Buccaneers pay for playing a 1-3-1 zone, the defense West Virginia used so successfully last March.

The Wildcats missed their first 20 3-pointers against the Mountaineers and never recovered.

There were no such problems on Friday night. Knight hit a 3-pointer barely two minutes into the game and the Wildcats were off and running.

Portland, Ore. • Nov. 19, 2010

Kentucky No. 4/5 79
Portland 48

PORTLAND, Ore. -- Brandon Knight scored 21 points to help No. 12 Kentucky rout Portland 79-48 on Friday night in the Wildcats' first trip to Oregon.

Darius Miller added 15 points for Kentucky (2-0). The Wildcats scored the first 15 points, with Portland native Terrence Jones hitting a 10-foot jump hook for the first basket and Miller scoring seven straight.

Eric Waterford led Portland (3-1) with 12 points.

Portland had a 13-8 run, including eight points by Waterford, to cut it to 23-13 with 7:20 left in the half. But Kentucky responded with eight straight to make it 31-13.

The Pilots did manage an 11-7 spurt to end the half at 38-24, but Kentucky opened the second half with a 12-2 run that pushed the Wildcats' advantage to 24 at 50-26.

Another big run - this one 10-0 - made it 64-32.

Jones was playing in just his second college game after scoring 25 points in the season opener last week. That was a school record for a Kentucky debut. Jones finished with 12 points, 10 in the second half. He was 5 of 14 from the field.

"Terrence played well, but I want him to be great," Kentucky coach John Calipari said. "He has to be more physical. He can't accept that a guy is going to body him... and he can't settle for jumpers."

Jones agreed with everything Calipari had to say.

"That's one reason I came here," Jones said. "Whatever he says I feel is right."

Kentucky's other star freshman, Doron Lamb, had 13 points.

It was a tough shooting night for the Pilots, who shot 53.5 percent from the field and 50.9 percent from the 3-point line in their first three games. But they missed their first 11 shots against the Wildcats and finished 18 of 59. The Wildcats shot 55 percent, while getting almost any shot they wanted.

It was the second meeting between the schools. Kentucky won 88-71 in Lexington during the 1989-90 season.

The game drew a crowd of 10,216 at the 19,980-seat Rose Garden, with a large number of fans wearing Wildcats blue.

LAHAINA, Hawaii -- Terrence Jones dominated inside on his way to 29 points and 13 rebounds, helping the eighth-ranked Wildcats hold off scrappy Oklahoma 76-64 in the first round of the Maui Invitational on Monday.

The 1993 Maui champions, Kentucky and its fabulous freshmen were dominant at times, racing out to what seemed to be rout-starting leads. They also let their inexperience show, nearly blowing all of an 18-point lead as Oklahoma (3-1) fought its way back.

Jones wouldn't let the Sooners get there, blocking a 3-point attempt by Cade Davis then sealing the win with a breakaway dunk that made it 70-62 with just over a minute left. He finished 12 of 17 from the field, blocked four shots, had three assists - one a nifty no-looker while leading the break - and had two steals.

"I thought last year when we recruited him that Terrence Jones was the best player in the country in his class," Oklahoma coach Jeff Capel said. "There were other players who had higher accolades, but I didn't see them having the impact that he could. He certainly did that this afternoon."

UK routed East Tennessee State in its opener and scored the first 15 points on the way to a 31-point win over Portland last week.

The Wildcats didn't do that to Oklahoma, though it looked it was headed that way early with Jones dominating.

The 6-foot-8 freshman had a school debut-record 25 points in his first collegiate game and was dominant from the opening tip against the Sooners, scoring right-handed, left-handed, whichever way he wanted. Jones overpowered Oklahoma inside, hitting his first three shots while Kentucky hit eight of nine to build an 18-6 lead in the first 4 1/2 minutes.

OU wouldn't let the UK run away with it just yet, keeping it under double digits for a while behind Andrew Fitzgerald's 10 points.

Wearing the Sooners down with their depth and quickness, Kentucky started to pull away late in the first half, building a 42-28 lead behind Jones' 12 points and eight rebounds.

Jones had a good start to the second half, too, scoring on a baseline dunk after Kentucky grabbed a missed free throw, then sashaying around Nick Thompson for a that-was-sure-easy scoop shot that put the Wildcats up 52-39. He later had a no-look, crosscourt pass on the break to Josh Harrellson for a dunk.

The Sooners took advantage of Kentucky's struggles at the free-throw line - 11 of 22 - and rattled the young Wildcats with a myriad of defenses, slowing the game to a crawl.

The Sooners frazzled UK and chipped away at the lead, making the UK-dominated crowd a bit restless when Davis dropped in a 3-pointer that cut the lead to 68-62 with just over 2 minutes left.

Oklahoma just didn't have enough to finish it off, its final chance ending with Jones' block on Davis' 3-pointer and subsequent dunk.

Davis finished with 23 points and Fitzgerald had 14 for the OU.

LAHAINA, Hawaii -- A 4.7-magnitude earthquake centering on one of the neighboring islands rattled tables and chairs, shook the stands, had the rims swaying back and forth.

Few people at the game between Kentucky and Washington seemed to notice. They were too busy watching two good teams face each other.

Terrence Jones had a double-double against the team he spurned, Brandon Knight keyed two important runs on his way to 24 points, and the eighth-ranked Wildcats shook off poor shooting - and an earthquake - to hold off the No. 13 Huskies 74-67 in the semifinals of the Maui Invitational.

Kentucky (4-0) and Washington (3-1) traded blows from the opening tip, swatting shots into the stands, knocking each other to the floor, diving for loose balls.

The real tremor came during a timeout with a little over 6 minutes left in the game.

The earthquake, centered on the Big Island, shook for about 5 seconds, wobbling courtside tables and chairs, swaying the baskets. No injuries or damage were reported and the game resumed once the timeout was over.

Kentucky shot just 39 percent, was an abysmal 3 for 17 from 3-point range and had just seven assists to go with 15 turnovers.

Washington wasn't any better, shooting 38 percent, including 3 of 13 from long range - 1 of 8 in the second half - after making 17 against Virginia the night before.

A raucous crowd filled tiny Lahaina Civic Center to the rafters for this Top-15 matchup, the loud-and-rowdy mass of Kentucky fans and small-but-vocal Washington contingent making it feel like a postseason, not holiday tournament.

Washington's fans pointed much of their ire at Jones.

He was one of the nation's top recruits coming out of Portland and was set to stay in the Pacific Northwest after holding a news conference to announce he was heading to Washington.

He had second thoughts a few hours later, though, and called Calipari to say he might have made a mistake. Jones also called Romar and, a month later, had changed his mind completely and was headed to Lexington.

Romar and Calipari shrugged it off as an 18-year-old kid being indecisive, saying it was nothing more than a minor subplot to a matchup of two Top 25 teams.

Jones has been superb this season and was dominant in the tournament opener against Oklahoma, getting 29 points, 13 rebounds, four blocked shots and three assists.

The 6-foot-8 phenom was a little extra amped at the start, missing one shot after another while seeming to try too hard to make something happen. He finished 4 for 13 from the floor, but made up for it with hard work and staying aggressive.

Kentucky No. 8/9

LAHAINA, Hawaii -- Finishing off a dominating tournament, Kemba Walker scored 29 points and Connecticut beat a Top 10 team for the second straight day, knocking off No. 8 Kentucky with an 84-67 rout to win the Maui Tournament on Wednesday night.

Connecticut (5-0) won its first Maui title on a buzzer beater, over Arizona in 2005. The Huskies simply beat up Kentucky for their second.

After wearing down second-ranked Michigan State in the semifinals, UConn steamrolled the Wildcats in the title game, dominating during a massive first-half run and squashing any hope of a comeback.

Alex Oriakhi had 18 points and 11 rebounds, and the Huskies shot 57 percent against one of the nation's best teams to leave Hawaii with a much clearer picture of who they are.

Kentucky (4-1), despite all those young stars-in-waiting, didn't have an answer when UConn started pouring it on during its big first half run. Instead of making a comeback in the second half, the Wildcats fell father behind, their inexperience overcoming their talent for once.

Freshman phenom Terrence Jones got off to a great start, spent a good chunk of the first half on the bench with two fouls and finished with 24 points. Darius Miller added 15 points.

Walker, the tournament MVP, almost toyed with the young Wildcats, flipping in runners, 3-pointers and layups to score 90 points in 3 games, 3 short of the record set by Chamaine's George Gilmore in 1991.

And when the Wildcats tried to roar back to start the second half, Walker gave them a shhh! scoring on an acrobatic left-hander in the lane, smiling at the crowd as he ran back after a 3-pointer.

After a so-so 2009 run, the prestigious island tournament regained its mojo this year with great teams and well-played games that had fans enjoying the inside of Lahaina Civic Center as much as those majestic views of crystal blue waters and majestic neighboring islands outside.

Except for a few of the loser's bracket games, the high school-sized gym was packed to the rafters with rowdy fans who made it feel like a March tournament, not pre-Tournament.

Jones delivered the first big blow, flying in for a slam over two UConn defenders. Oriakhi answered seconds later, soaring in for a two-handed alley-oop.

Jones, after scoring Kentucky's first 10 points, had to spend the final 9:01 of the half on the bench with two fouls, Calipari afraid to put him back in. Three other players had two fouls and had limited playing time.

Stubbornly challenging UConn's size inside, Kentucky played too much 1-on-1 instead of kicking out to shooters and kept coming away empty, hitting just nine of 30 shots in the first half.

Hitting 3s, scoring in transition, powering inside - the Huskies seemed to do what they wanted whenever they wanted, going on 21-2 run to close the first half against a supposedly-better team.

Walker had 10 of his 17 points during the big run, capping it by unselfishly giving up a 3-pointer for a wide-open layup by Jamal Coombs-McDaniel. The rest of the Huskies weren't bad, either, combining to hit 18 of 30 shots to lead 50-29.

6	Rupp Arena (21,684) Lexington, Ky. • Nov. 30, 2010	57
	Boston Kentucky No. 10/11

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- The Kentucky players wore black socks on Tuesday night against Boston University in honor of the mother of coach John Calipari. Donna Calipari passed away on Sunday following a lengthy battle with cancer.

The 10th-ranked Wildcats made an even bigger statement with their play, dominating the second half of a 91-57 win by playing the kind of selfless, aggressive basketball Calipari said was lacking in a loss to Connecticut last week in the Maui Invitational.

Talking on defense at one end of the court and sharing the ball at the other, Kentucky (5-1) swarmed the overwhelmed Terriers (4-4) with arguably their best 20 minutes of the season.

Kentucky led by just seven points at halftime and could hear the Terriers whooping it up in the locker room at the break, eager to send the Wildcats on their first losing streak of Calipari's tenure.

Boston U.'s optimism lasted only a few moments into the second half. Terrence Jones and Brandon Knight kick-started an 18-3 run that quieted the Terriers and brought a sleepy Rupp Arena to life.

It's been a difficult six months for Calipari. He went public with his mother's illness over the summer and has made frequent trips to visit her in North Carolina while somehow not missing any Kentucky practices.

He flew from Lexington to Charlotte on Sunday after hearing of her passing but was back at practice Monday afternoon and on the sidelines Tuesday night. While the players wore black socks, Calipari and his staff donned black suits while some fans - particularly in the student section - sported black T-shirts.

Calipari thanked everyone for their support before the game via his Twitter and Facebook accounts, saying he was sure his mother was watching from "the luxury boxes with a whole crew of UK luminaries cheering right along with her."

His players say they haven't noticed a change in Calipari's demeanor, but they knew he was hurting. The last thing they wanted him worrying about was their play.

The game-turning run started slowly with two free throws by Jones before the Wildcats really heated up. Doron Lamb hit a runner in the lane, DeAndre Liggins knocked down a 3-pointer and Knight followed with a pullup jumper following a steal by Lamb.

Knight drilled a 3-pointer on Kentucky's next trip before a layup by Jones and a 3-pointer by Darius Miller mushroomed the lead to 57-36. Chambers then received a technical foul and Jones hit a free throw, but the Wildcats were just getting started.

Josh Harrellson tipped in a miss by Jones then added a layup off a nifty no-look pass from Jones. Miller and Lamb added 3-pointers - Kentucky made 10 of 16 3-pointers on the night - and by the time Miller converted an alley-oop the Wildcats were up 70-40 and could start thinking about a showdown at North Carolina on Saturday.

	Kentucky No. 10/11
North Carolina		75

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. -- Tyler Zeller scored a career-high 27 points and hit the go-ahead free throws with 47 seconds left, helping North Carolina edge No. 10 Kentucky 75-73 on Saturday.

Zeller scored 12 of the final 16 points for the Tar Heels (5-3), who earned a needed victory against a big-name opponent after struggling the first month of the season.

John Henson added 13 points and 12 rebounds, giving UNC its sixth win in the past seven games against the Wildcats (5-2).

Freshman Doron Lamb had a season-high 24 points for Kentucky, though he missed a desperation running heave for the win a few steps within halfcourt as time expired.

Zeller ended up as the steady hand for the Tar Heels in a game that featured five lead changes in the final 3 minutes. Zeller hit all of his six free throws in the final 90 seconds, while Larry Drew II came up with a pair of critical free throws with 20.9 seconds left.

Zeller, a 7-foot junior, also had 11 rebounds and five blocks while finishing 11 for 12 at the line. He was a big part of the Tar Heels' dominance in the paint, where they outscored the Wildcats 34-14 and hounded Terrence Jones into a miserable game.

Jones came in leading Kentucky at nearly 21 points and 10 rebounds per game, but the 6-8 freshman struggled with the long-armed Henson shadowing him most of the afternoon. Jones finished with nine points and six rebounds on 3-for-17 shooting - including 0 for 7 after halftime - before fouling out with 3:04 left.

It came down to a frantic final sequence, with neither team having a timeout left and the Tar Heels protecting a 74-73 lead with 5.6 seconds remaining.

Tar Heels sophomore Dexter Strickland made the first free throw but missed the second, and Darius Miller grabbed the rebound in traffic. He fired an outlet pass to reserve Jarrod Polson, who quickly sent the ball to Lamb for the final heave that missed everything and set off a loud roar from a relieved home crowd.

Neither team shot the ball well after halftime, but the Tar Heels repeatedly got to the foul line to offset their shooting troubles. In fact, UNC shot 41 percent for the game and 1 for 11 from 3-point range, but went 26 for 37 at the line compared to 16 of 21 for Kentucky.

Kentucky shot just 9 for 30 (30 percent) in the second half.

The Wildcats led 57-51 midway through the second half, the biggest lead for either team after the break, but the Tar Heels climbed back to set up the back-and-forth final minutes.

Zeller hit two free throws for a 68-67 lead with 1:21 lead only to see Josh Harrelson answer with a stickback over Harrison Barnes with 52.8 seconds.

Harrelson fouled Zeller while reaching over his shoulder from behind to deny an entry pass moments later, and Zeller calmly knocked down the go-ahead free throws to make it 70-69. Drew added two more to make it a three-point margin and keep the Wildcats playing from behind.

Notre Dame No. 23/23 58

LOUISVILLE, Ky. -- Terrence Jones didn't sleep through this one.

A game after Kentucky coach John Calipari chastised his talented freshman forward for taking a midmorning nap before playing miserably in a loss at North Carolina, Jones erupted for 27 points as the 17th-ranked Wildcats pulled away from Notre Dame 72-58 on Wednesday night in the SEC/Big East Inevitational.

Jones added 17 rebounds and several clutch free throws in the closing minutes. Brandon Knight added 20 points for the Wildcats (6-2), who avoided Calipari's first losing streak on the bench since 2005 by shutting down the Fighting Irish (8-1) in the second half.

Notre Dame shot just 20 percent (6 of 30) in the second half and had no answer for Jones, who took the loss to the Tar Heels personally. He slugged through a miserable 3-of-17 performance, a showing Calipari blamed on poor preparation and an ill-timed snooze that Calipari said had Jones sleepwalking against the Tar Heels.

Jones was wide awake against the Irish, showcasing a variety of skills. He hit two 3-pointers, added three assists and two blocks in 38 minutes.

Ben Hansbrough led the Irish with 21 points but scored just two in the second half as Kentucky's defense clamped down. Notre Dame went without a field goal for over 12 minutes spanning the first and second half, allowing Kentucky to turn an 11-point deficit into a seven-point lead it would never give up.

The trio of Jones, Josh Harrelson and Eloy Vargas managed to stay on the court against the Irish, helping the Wildcats control the glass. Kentucky outrebounded Notre Dame 42-34 and showed some grit it lacked at times against the Tar Heels.

Notre Dame, which rode the hot hand of Hansbrough to the lead, struggled when the game grew more physical in the second half. Even when the whistle blew, the Irish couldn't find their stroke. Notre Dame missed 5 of 6 free throws over the final 3:48 and couldn't contain Jones.

The venue was technically a neutral site, but it hardly seemed like it, and it wasn't just the highly partisan Kentucky crowd that made the short hour drive from Lexington for the game.

The Kentucky State Fair Board purchased a University of Kentucky court in hopes of getting the Wildcats to play at Freedom Hall more than once a year. The baselines and sidelines were a familiar shade of blue, though the massive 'UK' logo at center court was covered up by a larger one promoting the event.

The raucous atmosphere didn't affect the senior-laden Irish, at least not early.

The Wildcats, however, responded behind the play of Jones. He gave Kentucky a much-needed jolt with a stepthrough two-handed dunk that sparked a late 13-2 run as Kentucky tied it at 40 at halftime.

Indiana 62

Kentucky No. 17/16 81

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- DeAndre Liggins scored a career-high 19 points, Brandon Knight added 18 points and six rebounds and No. 17 Kentucky bullied its way past Indiana, 81-62, on Saturday.

Josh Harrelson added 14 points and 12 rebounds for the Wildcats (7-2), who continued their dominance in the once-heated rivalry by shutting down the Hoosiers in the second half.

Indiana (7-2) managed just one field goal in the final 9 minutes as Kentucky closed with a 25-5 burst after the Hoosiers had taken a 57-56 lead.

Christian Watford led Indiana with 19 points and nine rebounds but the Hoosiers fell to their border rivals for the 14th time in the last 17 meetings.

Indiana made the Wildcats work for it in a rugged game that featured 47 fouls, a number of which sent bodies tumbling to the ground.

The Hoosiers game plan was simple: try to outmuscle the quicker, more inexperienced Wildcats. It worked for awhile. Kentucky freshman Terrence Jones couldn't stay out of foul trouble and neither could Knight.

Both players sat for long stretches in the first half, and Jones never got on track. He finished with 10 points and eight rebounds on 3-of-11 shooting and was hardly the dominant force he was in a win over No. 23 Notre Dame on Wednesday.

Yet Kentucky survived, however, behind the spirited play of Harrellson and Liggins. The holdovers from the Billy Gillispie era have developed into solid role players under John Calipari, and both made the "winning plays" the coach covets.

Indiana looked to have a chance to win in Lexington for the first time since 1989 when Watford drilled a 3-pointer to give the Hoosiers a 57-56 lead with 9:42 to go.

Liggins put Kentucky back in front with a 3-pointer two possessions later then, after two free throws by Knight, converted a difficult lay-up in traffic while drawing the foul. He hit the extra shot to put Kentucky up 64-57 and the Wildcats slowly began pulling away as the Hoosiers unraveled.

Jones hit two free throws, Harrellson put back a miss and by the time Knight drilled a 3-pointer from the corner the Wildcats led 71-60 with 2:52 remaining.

It was more than enough to hold off Indiana. The Hoosiers' only basket over the final minutes came on a layup by Jeremiah Rivers with 38 seconds remaining.

Kentucky's win was its third straight in the series. All of the wins have come by at least 17 points.

The Wildcats shot just 36 percent from the floor but overcame it by dominating the paint and making free throws. Kentucky outrebounded Indiana 45-33 and made 31-of-44 at the foul line.

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Terrence Jones scored 15 of his 19 points and Doron Lamb and DeAndre Liggins scored 16 points each as Kentucky shock off a sleepy opening 10 minutes to post its fifth win by at least 20 points this season.

The Wildcats held the Delta Devils (1-9) to 33 percent shooting, forced 23 turnovers and were hardly challenged over the final 30 minutes.

Kentucky used a 24-4 run to close the first half to take control, highlighted by Brandon Knight's halfcourt heave at the buzzer to give the Wildcats a 44-24 lead at the break.

D'Angelo Jackson led the Delta Devils with 17 points. Mississippi Valley coach Sean Woods, a member of "the Unforgettables" while playing at Kentucky under Rick Pitino in the early 1990s, received a warm welcome from the Rupp Arena faithful.

Woods wished he'd been able to schedule his homecoming earlier in the year. The youthful Wildcats are starting to play together following a difficult opening month that included games against Connecticut, North Carolina and Notre Dame.

The Wildcats spent the last week splitting time between final exams and practice. The rustiness showed early, as Mississippi Valley hung around for the first 10 minutes behind some fearless shooting and somewhat disinterested Kentucky defense.

The Delta Devils tied the game at 20 on a little hook shot by Jason Holmes and appeared to have momentum with Jones on the bench in foul trouble.

The Wildcats rode the hot hand of Lamb, who came off the bench to score on a variety of jumpers. He's embraced his role as sixth man, knowing it's his job to give the Wildcats a boost.

Kentucky honored former coach Joe B. Hall during halftime. Hall lead the Wildcats to the 1978 national title before retiring following the 1985 season.

Dozens of former players, including Kenny Walker, Sam Bowie and Jack Givens, gathered at midcourt to pay tribute to Hall, who remains a fixture at Rupp Arena and co-hosts a popular sports talk show with former Louisville coach Dennis Crum.

Hall is among the semifinalists for the 2011 class of the Basketball Hall of Fame, an honor Hall's players believe he deserves.

Calipari received his first technical for apparently stepping out of the coaching box while arguing a foul call on center Eloy Vargas with 6:44 to play. Moments later, he was walking off to a standing ovation after earning a second technical for continuing to plead his case.

The exchange gave the Wildcats a quick burst of energy and they quickly finished off the Delta Devils with assistant John Robic working in place of Calipari.

It was the second ejection of Calipari's career. The first came while he coached Massachusetts in 1996. The Minutemen were 26-0 at the time when they were upset by George Washington.

LEXINGTON, Ky. – The last time Doron Lamb couldn't crack the starting lineup, the Kentucky freshman guard was in eighth grade.

The next season, he led his team in scoring, a "take that" he still relishes to this day.

Five years later, Lamb again finds himself on the bench during the opening tip. This time, however, he's not complaining.

When he gets on the floor, his role is to provide some scoring punch to Kentucky's thin second unit. On Wednesday against Winthrop, he did it better than any freshman in school history, pouring in a record 32 points in an 89-52 victory.

Lamb went 11 of 12 from the field, making 7 of 8 3-pointers to break the freshman record of 31 points set by Jamal Mashburn on Feb. 3, 1991, against Georgia. Lamb set the record on a nifty layup that put the Wildcats up 28 with 6:38 remaining before walking off to a standing ovation moments later.

Brandon Knight shook off a left knee contusion to finish with 21 points and five rebounds. Kentucky shot 52 percent to remain undefeated at Rupp Arena under Calipari. Kentucky made 12 of 22 3-pointers, including 10 of 14 in the first half to take a 19-point lead.

The Wildcats turned it over 11 times, including three times in the second half as the lead continued to balloon.

Lamb has blossomed in the role of sixth-man because of the freedom it provides him. His job is to put it up. The way he's playing, however, it may be difficult to keep him out of the starting lineup.

He can score in a variety of ways, though he didn't have to against the Eagles. He spent much of the afternoon standing wide open behind the 3-point line and was only too happy to knock them down. He made his first five and, when Winthrop stepped out to guard him, blew by his defender for a layup.

The rest of the Wildcats were nearly as hot. It took Kentucky less than 5 minutes to build a double-digit lead and had little trouble the rest of the way.

Lamb knocked down four 3-pointers in less than 4 minutes as Kentucky took a 29-11 lead. Knight, who received an ovation when he returned to the sidelines with only a contusion, led the cheers after the last one before sprinting over to the scorer's table to check back in.

Back on the floor, Knight's knee appeared to be plenty sound. He drew a foul while slicing through the lane shortly after returning to the floor and made both free throws.

The Wildcats eventually cooled off and Winthrop briefly got back in it, thanks to a 9-0 burst that brought the Eagles within 41-32.

No biggie. Lamb replaced Jones after a timeout and Kentucky scored the last 10 points of the half, the final two on a lay-in by Lamb just before the buzzer that made it 51-32.

LEXINGTON, Ky. – Kentucky sure looks ready for Louisville. Terrence Jones scored 18 points, Brandon Knight added 17 points and eight assists and the 11th-ranked Wildcats rolled by Coppin State 91-61 Tuesday night in their final tuneup before a showdown with the rival Cardinals on New Year's Eve.

Kentucky (10-2) shot 57 percent from the field - including 74 percent in the second half - to overwhelm the Eagles.

Doron Lamb, fresh off a school freshman-record 32-point performance in a rout of Winthrop last week, scored 17 points and DeAndre Liggins added 10 points, eight rebounds and six assists for Kentucky.

Jordan Lee led Coppin State (4-6) with 11 points while Tony Gallo and Akeem Ellis added 10 points each but the Eagles couldn't keep up with the Wildcats, who played efficiently while gearing up for Friday's Battle of the Bluegrass.

UK dominated the undersized Eagles, outrebounding them 43-22 and outscoring them 46-26 in the paint. The Wildcats' outburst included 29 points by bench players, a welcome sign for a team looking for more depth before it starts Southeastern Conference play next week.

The Eagles played without scoring leader Michael Harper, who had the flu. Coppin State certainly could have used him, particularly early on as it tried to gain its footing against the Wildcats. The Eagles missed their first 11 shots before Lee hit a layup in traffic.

By then Coppin State trailed 15-4, though the Eagles did show enough signs of life to force Calipari to call a frustrated timeout following a brief spurt that brought the team within 20-11.

No biggie. DeAndre Liggins converted a difficult layup while drawing the foul before Lamb followed with a jumper from the corner. Jones dunked moments later, quickly followed by another basket by Lamb.

After Jones hit a nifty pullup just before the buzzer, the Wildcats led 40-19 at the break and could start turning their full attention toward Louisville.

Kentucky's lead grew to as much as 39 in the second half before Calipari went deep to his bench, looking for candidates to crack his typically tight six-man rotation.

He appeared to get a couple of volunteers. Jon Hood had seven points, including a rare one-handed dunk, during his extended playing time and reserve center Eloy Vargas had four points.

The Wildcats will likely need that depth against the Cardinals. The two rivals played one of the uglier games in the series' history last season, a foul-marred Kentucky win that featured plenty of venom on both sides.

UK's depth and talent eventually wore Louisville down. This year, the 22nd-ranked Cardinals are the deeper, if not more talented team.

Kentucky finished with 21 assists on 35 field goals and players continued to hustle on both ends of the floor even with the game's outcome decided.

Louisville No. 22/20

LOUISVILLE, Ky. – Josh Harrellson scored a career-high 23 points and grabbed 14 rebounds on Friday as the 11th-ranked Wildcats beat No. 22 Louisville 78-63, a performance so complete it left his normally verbose coach virtually speechless.

While the Cardinals focused most of their frontcourt defense on freshman Terrence Jones, Harrellson had the game of his life. He made 10 of 12 field goals - including his second 3-pointer of the season - as UK controlled their instate rivals over the final 30 minutes.

He walked off the court in the final moments and received a hug from Calipari, a moment unfathomable in October as Harrellson found himself buried deep in his coach's doghouse.

He has admirably filled the void left by the NCAA's decision to rule freshman center Enes Kanter permanently ineligible, but his offensive explosion on New Year's Eve was never supposed to be part of the deal. Yet there he was throwing down dunks and knocking down jumpers and earning Louisville's respect in the process.

The Cardinals didn't do a great job stopping Brandon Knight either. The freshman scored 25 points and took command in the second half whenever the Cardinals started chipping away at an 18-point deficit.

Louisville (11-2) hit nine straight shots at one point while slicing the lead to 59-49, but whenever Kentucky appeared to be in even a hint of trouble, the ball would end up in the hands of Knight. He lacks predecessor John Wall's athleticism, but is developing into a better decision-maker.

He ran UK's dribble-drive with precision, pulling up for a 3-pointer (finishing 4 of 6 from beyond the arc) when the defense sagged off him or dishing it to a teammate after slicing through the lane.

Knight's intelligence helped the Wildcats make good decisions as they quickly relaxed following some jittery opening minutes. UK shot 51 pct. from the field, turned it over just 13 times and never lost its poise during the series' first game inside UofL's new downtown arena.

Preston Knowles led Louisville with 22 points and Smith added 15 points and six rebounds, but the undersized Cardinals - who played without leading rebounder Raakeem Buckles, who is out with a hand injury - couldn't match up with the stronger Wildcats.

Kentucky outrebounded Louisville 36-25 and held distinct advantages in points in the paint (36-26) and second-chance points (18-9).

Both sides pledged a more genteel approach this time after last year's ugly 71-62 Kentucky win, a game featuring 51 fouls, five technicals and a couple of wrestling matches.

Kentucky forward DeAndre Liggins swarmed the point guard, making it difficult for the Cardinals to get into any kind of offensive flow. If Louisville couldn't get a 3-pointer or a pick-and-roll, it stalled.

The Cardinals led by six points early and Kentucky appeared to be in trouble when sixth man Doron Lamb went to the bench with two fouls in the first half. Instead, the Wildcats picked up the pace.

UK outscored UofL 29-12 over the final 14:10 of the half to take a 35-24 lead. The Wildcats were on their way to their sixth straight win.

Penn 62
Kentucky No. 10/11 86

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Penn kept making shots. Kentucky coach John Calipari kept screaming, looking for somebody - anybody - willing to play defense.

Calipari found volunteers in the usual places, and soon enough everything was right again for the 10th-ranked Wildcats.

Buoyed by some stellar defending by DeAndre Liggins and some hot shooting by just about everybody, Kentucky roared past Penn 86-62 on Monday for its seventh straight win.

Penn (5-6) opened a 12-point lead behind torrid 3-point shooting from Tyler Bernardini and some uncharacteristically relaxed defense by Kentucky (12-2).

UK blew assignments, totally forgot about others and appeared to bill be enjoying their easy romp over rival Louisville on Dec. 31.

Calipari did his best to shake his team out of its funk, yanking players for even the smallest infractions in hopes of getting their attention.

It wasn't until he sent out Liggins to shut down Bernardini that the Wildcats took off. Bernardini finished with 22 points, but 16 of them came in the opening 15 minutes as Penn steadily built a lead. With the 6-foot-6 Liggins swarming him, the open looks Bernardini saw early in the game quickly disappeared.

Kentucky finished the half with a 14-1 run to take a 33-32 lead at the break. The Wildcats were just getting started, hitting 12 of their first 13 shots of the second half to bust it open.

Doron Lamb knocked down a pair of 3-pointers during a game-clinching 15-2 burst that gave the Wildcats a 66-45 lead with just over 10 minutes remaining.

Miles Cartwright added 16 for Penn but the Quakers couldn't keep up when Kentucky hit the gas in the second half. The Wildcats went 18 of 22 (82 percent) in the second half, numbers that could have been even higher if not for a couple of misses in garbage time.

Yet it wasn't quite enough to please Calipari. Kentucky begins Southeastern Conference play on Saturday at Georgia and he knows his team can't afford to sleepwalk through an opening half the way it did against the Quakers.

While the Wildcats missed 3-pointers, turned the ball over and struggled to find any kind of rhythm offensively, the Quakers went off.

The Quakers built a 31-19 lead behind a steady stream of 3-pointers by Bernardini, who put together his highest scoring game in nearly two years.

Kentucky's athleticism eventually wore the Quakers down. During one sequence Lamb chased down a yardward pass in the corner then threw it to Harrellson at the top of the key. As Penn's defense scrambled to get back in position Harrellson flipped the ball to a wide-open Knight, who calmly splashed his fourth 3-pointer of the game and the Wildcats were well on their way to a seventh straight victory.

Kentucky No. 10/11 70
Georgia 77

ATHENS, Ga. -- Georgia finally has a signature win. Maybe now the rest of the country will take notice.

The up-and-coming Bulldogs claimed their biggest victory of Mark Fox's two-year coaching tenure, upsetting No. 10 Kentucky 77-70 on Saturday for their ninth straight win - the school's longest streak since its 1983 Final Four season.

"This is the type of game we needed to make a run for the NCAA tournament," said Trey Thompkins, who led Georgia with 25 points. "We feel we can play with anybody."

Young, talented Kentucky (12-3, 0-1) came in with a seven-game winning streak but struggled to make shots and had three players foul out in the closing minutes.

Thompkins hit a key one-handed shot from the baseline with 2:40 remaining. The ball appeared to come up short, but it crawled over the rim to give Georgia a 66-59 lead after it had squandered an 11-point halftime advantage.

From there, the Bulldogs clinched it at the line, hitting 11 of 12 free throws, and Kentucky kept missing from beyond the 3-point arc in a futile attempt to catch up.

These are the kind of games Georgia lost a year ago, when it didn't have quite enough depth to finish strong. The Bulldogs have got the hang of it now, winning for the 10th time by single digits.

Freshman Terrence Jones led Kentucky with 24 points, but the Wildcats shot only 38 percent from the field in putting up their second-lowest total of the season, nearly 10 points below their average.

The Wildcats couldn't cope with Georgia's physical style. There was plenty of banging and bumping, and the officials let 'em play.

Gerald Robinson added 17 points for the Bulldogs, Travis Leslie 15 and Dustin Ware 10.

Georgia started the game quickly, scoring the first seven points, and ended the opening half on a 13-4 run. The Bulldogs went to the locker room with a 41-30 lead that matched the biggest of the half.

Kentucky did have one promising stretch, wiping out Georgia's lead with an 11-0 spurt early in the second half. The Wildcats' only advantage, 56-55, came on Jones' three-point play with just over 10 minutes remaining.

But Ware responded with a 3-pointer that restored Georgia's lead. Doron Lamb scored 18 points for Kentucky before fouling out. DeAndre Liggins and Darius Miller also fouled out.

Georgia's strong start brought out the first sellout crowd of the season at Stegeman Coliseum, and unlike previous years the stands were not filled out with a hefty chunk of blue. Only a smattering of Kentucky fans were visible in the mostly red-clad crowd of 10,523. Many others roamed around outside the building in a futile search for tickets.

"It's a great win for our program," Fox said. "I'm proud of our team and really thank all the fans who came out. They were such an important part of this win."

Kentucky No. 13/15

78

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- When Doron Lamb set a Kentucky freshman scoring record with 32 points in a victory over Winthrop last month, coach John Calipari didn't get too excited, saying he wasn't sure how long the mark would hold up.

It didn't even last a month.

Terrence Jones, coming off the bench for the first time in his brief career, one-upped his classmate by scoring 35 points on Tuesday night as the 13th-ranked Wildcats rolled by Auburn 78-54.

Jones walked off the Rupp Arena court to a standing ovation and shared a quick laugh with Lamb. Asked what he told Lamb after erasing him from the record books, Jones laughed and said, "I told him I'm sorry." No need to apologize.

Pouring in a variety of jumpers, layups and 3-pointers, Jones showcased his considerable skills by dominating whoever the Tigers threw his way.

Jones broke the record by playing the same sixth-man role that Lamb has so eagerly embraced. He missed practice on Monday while battling a nasty cough that occasionally produced blood. He wasn't sure he was going to play at all until after the team shootaround early Tuesday and didn't flinch when Calipari told him Lamb was going to replace him in the starting lineup.

Jones made 11 of 17 shots, including four 3-pointers, and grabbed eight rebounds in 30 mostly energetic minutes as Kentucky (13-3, 1-1 Southeastern Conference) easily avoided its first losing streak under Calipari.

Something Jones has lacked at times this season, Calipari criticized the team as a whole for being too "content" with their roles, saying the Wildcats needed to be more committed.

They were at times against the Tigers (7-9, 0-2 SEC), needing less than 10 minutes to build a 19-point lead. Yet the massive blowout never came, as Auburn continued to scrap.

Allen Payne led the Tigers with 15 points and Kenny Gabriel added 13 but the basketball team couldn't muster the magic the football team used to win the national championship on Monday night.

Chastised by Calipari for too often settling for jumpers, Jones scored his first two baskets on layups to build some confidence and kept building on it.

The outburst helped Calipari improve to 4-0 against Barbee, who played for Calipari at Massachusetts and later served as an assistant under Calipari at both UMass and Memphis.

Jones exacted a bit of revenge just before the half, grabbing a rebound then dribbling up the court as time wound down. He pulled up and hit a 3-pointer as the horn sounded to give Kentucky a 41-21 lead and remind the Tigers that football season is officially over.

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Kentucky coach John Calipari didn't stick around to do postgame interviews after the 13th-ranked Wildcats crushed LSU 82-44 on Saturday, citing the need to get a head start on a recruiting visit.

The undermanned Tigers appeared to beat Calipari out of Rupp Arena by a good two hours.

Brandon Knight scored 19 points, Terrence Jones added 17 in his second game coming off the bench and the Wildcats (14-3, 2-1 Southeastern Conference) wasted little time putting away the Tigers. Kentucky led by 11 less than eight minutes into the game, was up 29 at the half and kept right on going.

Kentucky held the Tigers to a season-low 26 percent shooting, forced 15 turnovers and never let up while extending its home winning streak to 28 straight.

Garrett Green led the Tigers with 13 points but LSU (10-8, 2-1) struggled without leading scorer Ralston Turner. The freshman guard missed his third straight game with a foot injury, but his presence might not have helped. Kentucky swarmed LSU from the opening tip.

Calipari has been pushing the Wildcats to play with a higher sense of urgency and commitment after what he considered subpar performances in a loss to Georgia last Saturday and a win over Auburn on Tuesday. He saw plenty of both against the Tigers, particularly in the first half.

Running Calipari's dribble-drive offense almost flawlessly, the Wildcats quickly ended LSU's hopes of winning its second straight visit to Rupp.

Knight opened the game knocking down a pair of 3-pointers, all the spark Kentucky would need.

Jones wasn't nearly as dazzling as he was during his school freshman-record 35-point effort in a win over Auburn on Tuesday, but the Wildcats didn't need him to be. He shot a woeful 3 of 12 from the floor but did a good job of getting to the free-throw line, where he made 11 of 14 shots.

DeAndre Liggins, who Calipari had chastised for being too worried about his shot, scored 15 points. So did Darius Miller, who added four rebounds and two steals. Doron Lamb added 10 points and a team-high five assists while Josh Harrellson had 14 rebounds for Kentucky.

As crisp as the Wildcats were at times on offense, they were almost as good defensively, though the Tigers didn't help themselves with shoddy shot selection.

Using its defense to push the tempo, the Wildcats even broke out a fullcourt press for one of the few times this season.

The rout was on as Kentucky kept right on going. The Wildcats' advantage grew to 48-19 at the break, their largest halftime lead of the season.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. -- Ben Eblen matched his scoring average with one free throw in the final seconds for his lone point. How Alabama's reserve guard got to the line was much more important, though.

Eblen grabbed a steal and made one of two free throws with 2.8 seconds left to help the Crimson Tide preserve a 68-66 victory over No. 12 Kentucky on Tuesday night.

The Wildcats, who had nearly erased a 20-point deficit, rebounded the missed foul shot but couldn't get a good shot off at the buzzer after back-to-back timeouts. Terrence Jones dribbled across midcourt and heaved a wild 3-pointer in traffic that caromed high off the backboard.

The Crimson Tide (11-7, 3-1 Southeastern Conference) had lost the last five meetings with the league powerhouse and is now 3-7 against ranked teams under coach Anthony Grant.

This time, Alabama surged to a 52-32 lead with a 15-2 spurt over the first five minutes of the second half before the Wildcats (14-4, 2-2) forced turnovers on seven consecutive possessions to spark the comeback.

Then, Brandon Knight and Doron Lamb botched an exchange on the perimeter and Eblen grabbed the ball in the final seconds.

On the final play, Alabama opted to leave the inbounds man, Darius Miller, unguarded and try to keep the Wildcats from catching the ball across midcourt.

The play was designed for Lamb to catch the ball, take a couple of dribbles and shoot from the neighborhood of NBA 3-point range.

The Wildcats shot just 38 percent from the floor and were held 14 points below their league-leading scoring average, stymied by a Tide defense that gives up the fewest points in the SEC. Alabama improved to 10-0 at home.

Mitchell scored 15 and helped punctuate the fast start after halftime. Alabama also made half its 14 3-point attempts, including three by Charvez Davis.

Jones led Kentucky with 17 points and nine rebounds, but also committed four turnovers. Lamb added 16 points, Knight had 14 and Miller 12.

The Wildcats were just 7-of-14 from the free-throw line in the second half.

Alabama quickly extended a 37-30 halftime lead but then it was all Wildcats until the final minutes, with Jones scoring their final six points. Three times they cut Alabama's lead to one, but they couldn't overtake the Tide.

Alabama's Senario Hillman took a charge with Knight driving for the go-ahead basket with 40 seconds left. DeAndre Liggins then returned the favor with Hillman, drawing a charge to give Kentucky the ball back in the final 11 seconds.

Alabama outrebounded the Wildcats 41-34. "When we get muscled and manhandled, this is what you see," Calipari said.

COLUMBIA, S.C. -- Brandon Knight scored 23 points and No. 12 Kentucky held off a late South Carolina charge for a 67-58 victory Saturday night.

The Wildcats (15-4, 3-2 Southeastern Conference) spent much of the week dealing with the fallout from last Tuesday's loss at Alabama.

Kentucky's 16-point lead slipped to 61-56 with 1:16 left, but Doron Lamb hit four consecutive foul shots and the Wildcats escaped with their first victory at the Colonial Life Arena in three years.

Darius Miller added 18 points for Kentucky.

Sam Muldrow tied his career high with 23 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead the Gamecocks (12-6, 3-2).

Kentucky hadn't fared well at South Carolina the past few seasons and its 68-62 loss here a year ago was one of last season's most talked-up games.

Those Wildcats had just reached No. 1 for the first time in seven years and, a few hours before tip-off, took a congratulatory call from President Barack Obama for their fundraising efforts for Haitian earthquake victims.

It all seemed too much for that group, who featured the NBA's top draft pick, John Wall, and fellow first-rounder DeMarcus Cousins.

The newest Wildcats also entered this game with days of distractions after Calipari was caught on camera swearing at Jones during a timeout in the loss to Alabama.

But this time, Kentucky and especially Jones, thrived when they hit the court.

Jones, making his first start in four games, threw down an electrifying assortment of jams and dunks in the first half as Kentucky pulled away.

He had two straight power jams to give the Wildcats a 10-5 lead. Jones had another one-handed flush to make it 20-12 with 11:06 before halftime. He appeared to roll his ankle after his final dunk that put Kentucky up 30-20 and was briefly looked at on the bench. Jones returned to action moments later.

South Carolina struggled to keep up. Its own stellar freshman, point guard Bruce Ellington, played just 8 minutes with foul trouble.

The Gamecocks went more than 7 minutes without a field goal during one stretch.

Knight seemed to ice things with eight consecutive points that pushed the Wildcats' lead to 61-45 before South Carolina's final run.

The Gamecocks struggled to get good shots against Kentucky, finishing 16 of 51 (31 percent). They were just 2 of 15 on 3-pointers.

South Carolina's top scorer, Ellington, shot 2 of 7 and scored four points, almost 11 off his season average.

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Kentucky coach John Calipari knows his team can take a punch. Now he knows it can deliver one, too.

Doron Lamb scored 19 points, including a couple of crucial baskets to halt a late Georgia rally, and the 14th-ranked Wildcats averaged a loss to the Bulldogs three weeks ago with a 66-60 victory on Saturday.

Playing with the kind of aggressiveness they lacked when Georgia "mushed" - as Calipari put it - them on Jan. 8, the Wildcats (16-4, 4-2 Southeastern Conference) led the bullying when it mattered to stay hot on Florida's heels in the crowded SEC East.

Not that Calipari was complaining after watching his team harass Georgia star Trey Thompkins into a miserable day. Thompkins lit the Wildcats up for 25 points in the first meeting but finished with just nine points on 2 of 10 shooting in the rematch.

Kentucky led by 15 points and even a bout with lethargy late in the second half didn't stop the Wildcats from extending their winning streak at Rupp Arena to 29 straight - the second-longest active streak in the country.

Dustin Ware led Georgia (14-6, 3-4) with 18 points, but the Bulldogs shot a season-low 37 percent (21 of 57) to lose for the third time in four games. Coming off an emotional double-overtime loss to Florida on Tuesday, coach Mark Fox worried about his players suffering a letdown.

It came early. The Wildcats never trailed and needed just over 5 minutes to build a 10-point lead that ballooned to 15 at the half.

Calipari said he hoped the Wildcats had spent the three weeks since Georgia's dominating victory developing the kind of toughness needed to compete for a conference title.

Calipari brought in longtime friend and mentor Larry Brown this week to give him someone to bounce ideas off of and to lend his players advice. The Hall of Fame coach told the Wildcats to not wait for the Bulldogs to come to them.

They didn't. With Brown watching from the front row, Kentucky attacked relentlessly in the first half, particularly junior forward Darius Miller, who raised Calipari's ire for being too timid when he got in the lane in the earlier loss. Miller finished with 14 points and went to the free throw line seven times.

Though Georgia never got closer than six points in the second half, Kentucky had trouble putting the Bulldogs away. The Wildcats struggled to make free throws (16 of 25) and let Georgia's pressure force a couple of ill-timed turnovers late.

Still, the Wildcats had enough to remain undefeated at Rupp Arena under Calipari, thanks in part to the steady play of Lamb. He made 7 of 11 field goals, including consecutive buckets midway through the second half that gave Kentucky a 57-45 lead and blunted Georgia's momentum just enough.

Kentucky has won four out of five to pull within a half-game of SEC East-leading Florida. Not bad for a team Calipari says still has a ways to go.

OXFORD, Miss. -- Chris Warren rattled in a 25-footer over two defenders with 2.9 seconds remaining and Mississippi beat No. 10 Kentucky 71-69 on Tuesday night.

Warren, who scored 22 points, hit the high-arching shot to give the Rebels their first victory over a top 10 team during the five-year tenure of coach Andy Kennedy.

Warren finished 9 of 15 from the field, including 4 of 7 from 3-point range.

Terrence Jones scored 22 points and Doron Lamb added 20 for the Wildcats, who rallied from an 11-point second-half deficit to take the late lead. Lamb missed a running 3-pointer at the buzzer.

Ole Miss led 64-55 with 6:31 remaining, but Kentucky clawed its way back, taking a 69-68 lead on two free throws by Jones with 1:21 left.

The teams traded empty possessions before Ole Miss called a time-out with just over 10 seconds left. The play was for Warren, who came into the game as the second-leading scorer in the SEC, and he stutter-stepped a few times before taking the shot.

Ole Miss (14-8, 2-5 Southeastern Conference) got 16 points from Zach Graham and 12 each from Reggie Buckner and Terrance Henry. Buckner, a 6-foot-8 sophomore, had five rebounds, five blocks and three steals, and provided a poster-worthy moment when he blocked Brandon Knight's dunk attempt in the second half.

Kentucky (16-5, 4-3) had a huge advantage in the all-time series coming into Tuesday, winning 96 of 108 games, including 25 of 34 in Oxford.

And there seemed little reason the trend would change. As usual, Kentucky is among the nation's elite while Ole Miss languishes at the bottom of the SEC.

But the Rebels were feisty from the beginning, coming back from an early seven-point deficit to take a 34-30 lead late in the first half. Kentucky led 35-34 at halftime.

Kentucky shot 25 of 51 from the field (49 percent) and outrebounded Ole Miss 36-27, but was hurt by 18 turnovers. Knight added 15 points for the Wildcats, including 10 in the second half, but had six turnovers.

Ole Miss shot 8 of 17 (47.1 percent) from 3-point range.

GAINESVILLE, Fla. -- Chandler Parsons scored 17 points, Alex Tyus made two big defensive plays late and Florida beat No. 10 Kentucky 70-68 Saturday night.

The Gators, who have struggled from the free-throw line all season, went 18 of 22 from the stripe and hit some clutch ones late.

Erving Walker hit both ends of two one-and-ones in the closing minutes. His final free throw put Florida (18-5, 7-2 Southeastern Conference) ahead for good. Tyus followed with a baseline hook shot and Parsons added a free throw with 12.7 seconds remaining.

The Wildcats (16-6, 4-4) had a final chance, but Brandon Knight's 3-pointer came up short. Tyus had a hand in Knight's face. Tyus also guarded Terrence Jones tight down the stretch, forcing a miss with about a minute left.

Knight led Kentucky with 24 points. Jones added 18 points and seven rebounds.

The Wildcats lost consecutive games for the first time under coach John Calipari. In fact, it's the first Calipari-coached team to lose two straight since Memphis dropped four in a row in the 2004-05 season.

With the victory, along with Tennessee's loss to Alabama, the Gators opened up a 1 1/2-game lead in the East. Kentucky is two games back at the midway point.

Florida certainly will be ranked again after knocking off No. 23 Vanderbilt earlier this week.

The Gators got this one going with a strong second half. They opened the second half with an 11-4 run that gave coach Billy Donovan's team a little breathing room, 45-36.

Florida built a 13-point lead on Vernon Macklin's dunk, Parsons' 3-pointer and five free throws.

But the Wildcats clawed back from the double-digit deficit - most of it thanks to Knight.

The freshman point guard, playing against former AAU teammate Kenny Boynton, got the Wildcats rolling. He started the comeback with a pair of free throws, then hit back-to-back 3s. He dishied to Terrence Jones for a 3, hit two more from the stripe and then found Darius Miller all alone on the wing for another 3-pointer.

That put Kentucky up 64-63 with 3:36 left.

The Gators got an unexpected boost from Scottie Wilbekin early. The 17-year-old freshman made all three of his shots in the first half, including two from 3-point range. Wilbekin entered the game averaging 2.2 points and shooting just 25 percent from behind the arc.

His teammates were considerably colder from long range. The Gators made just 3 of 9 shots from 3-point range in the opening 20 minutes. They were slightly better from the free-throw line, but those two key areas have been the team's Achilles' heel this season.

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Tennessee coach Bruce Pearl was back in his usual spot, roaming the sideline for the Volunteers on Tuesday night against No. 18 Kentucky in his trademark creamcicle blazer following an eight-game suspension for lying to the NCAA about the program's recruiting practices.

DeAndre Liggins tied a career-high with 19 points and the Wildcats ruined Pearl's return to the bench with a 73-61 victory.

Josh Harrellson added 16 points as the Wildcats (17-6, 5-4 Southeastern Conference) broke a modest two-game losing streak by burying the Volunteers with a big run in each half.

Kentucky coach John Calipari said the Wildcats were in "crisis" after consecutive losses to Mississippi and No. 17 Florida last week, the first losing streak he's endured in six years. He stressed the need for his team, particularly the upperclassmen, to play with some urgency after slipping into a tie for last place in the competitive SEC East.

Hoping to instill some toughness he had the Wildcats don boxing gloves in practice, where they worked the heavy bag with regularity.

Kentucky dominated the glass, outrebounding Tennessee 38-28, often ripping balls out of the hands of a Tennessee player who seemed to have it secured.

Liggins came in averaging 5.0 points on 29 percent shooting over the last five games, but dominated play on both ends of the floor. He made 5 of 6 field goals and 7 of 8 free throws while adding five rebounds and five steals.

Harrellson, chided by Calipari for inconsistent play after appearing to be on the verge of a breakthrough a month ago, scored 12 points in the second half including two big putbacks on offensive rebounds.

Melvin Goins led Tennessee (15-9, 5-4) with 16 points and Scotty Hopson had 11 after missing two games with a left ankle injury but the Volunteers never got going.

Tennessee shot just 41 percent from the field, turned it over 14 times and never got closer than five points over the game's final 30 minutes.

Tennessee's play early in the first half did little to lift Pearl's mood. Kentucky overcame a slow start, making five of its first six 3-pointers behind a 19-point lead even with point guard Brandon Knight spending the last 9:28 on the bench saddled with two fouls.

Hopson soon followed after collecting his second foul, but Pearl sent him back out to keep Tennessee in it. His presence seemed to calm down the Volunteers and they ended the half on a 14-2 run to get within 35-28.

Kentucky used a 16-3 surge early in the second half to grab a 51-33 lead and put the first incommensurate turbulence of Calipari's short tenure firmly in the rearview mirror.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- John Jenkins scored a career-high 32 points, hitting six 3-pointers, to lift No. 23 Vanderbilt to an 81-77 victory over No. 18 Kentucky on Saturday.

With the win, the Commodores (18-6, 6-4) swept a three-game homeland that will keep them tied for second in the Southeastern Conference's Eastern Division. They came into Saturday tied with Kentucky, Georgia and Tennessee, two losses behind Florida.

Kentucky (17-7, 5-5) dropped to 1-5 on the road in the SEC this season and to the bottom of the East.

Jenkins had Vanderbilt's first 30-point game against the Wildcats since Mike Rhodes on Jan. 19, 1980, with the Commodores' first 30-point game since A.J. Ogilvy had 33 at LSU on March 4, 2009. Festus Ezeli added 14 points, Steve Tchiengang scored all 12 of his in the first half off and Brad Tinsley had 11.

Terrence Jones led Kentucky with 25 points, Brandon Knight had 20 and DeAndre Liggins 10.

Jones' 3-point attempt at the buzzer bounced off the rim. Kentucky coach John Calipari wanted a foul that didn't come as the Commodores celebrated beating the Wildcats for the fifth time in Memorial Gym in the past six seasons.

The Wildcats' youth caught up with them in the final minute. Vandy hit its final six free throws to help seal the victory. When Tinsley hit two free throws with 31.6 seconds left for a 79-75 lead, the Wildcats didn't put up a shot until Liggins' jumper hit air with 17 seconds remaining.

They brought the ball up too slowly after Tinsley added two more free throws with 7.9 seconds left, leaving Jones to launch his 3 almost near midcourt.

The Commodores needed every point as Jeff Taylor missed his first six shots and played only 21 minutes due to foul trouble. The junior came in averaging 15.1 points a game, and his only basket came with a spinning layup to cap a fast break with 2:41 left putting Vandy up 73-69.

Vanderbilt matched a season-high with 11 3s, and the SEC's best free throw shooters went 20 of 23 at the line. Kentucky was 14 of 18 in a game with 39 fouls.

They swapped the lead nine times with nine ties, and Kentucky never led by more than two points in the second half - the last at 66-64 on a 3-pointer by Knight with 5:38 left.

Ezeli tied it with a layup, then Jenkins put Vanderbilt ahead to stay with his sixth 3 with 4:28 left.

Kentucky looked ready to blow the Commodores out of Memorial Gym in the opening minutes, taking a 19-11 lead with eight straight points.

Vanderbilt answered with a 3-pointer by Tchiengang, which seemed to wake up the Commodores. Tchiengang scored nine of the final 11 points of the first half to turn a 34-33 deficit into a 44-40 lead.

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Brandon Knight scored 24 points and Doron Lamb added 20 in his first start in nearly a month as No. 22 Kentucky held on for an 85-79 victory.

The Wildcats took charge when they pressed the Bulldogs into a series of careless mistakes before narrowly avoiding a late-game collapse to improve to 30-0 under Calipari at Rupp Arena.

Kentucky shot 56 percent from the floor, including 67 percent in the second half.

Mississippi State nearly matched the Wildcats shot for shot. Ravern Johnson led the Bulldogs with 21 points and Jalen Steele added a career-high 17 but the Bulldogs let an 11-point lead get away late in the first half thanks to a bizarre meltdown.

The Bulldogs went up 40-35 on a pair of free throws by Johnson with 5 seconds left in the half. Kentucky inbounding and Mississippi State, with a couple of fouls to give, immediately fouled Knight. The Wildcats in-bounded near midcourt with 3 seconds remaining and got the ball to Knight, who was fouled by Brian Bryant.

Knight, on Calipari's orders, threw the ball meekly toward the rim after the contact. The referees awarded him three free throws, saying he was in the act of shooting.

Mississippi State coach Rick Stansbury momentarily lost it, earning a technical foul after storming after the officials.

Knight made four of the five free throws to pull Kentucky within 40-39 at the break and change the game.

Kentucky took its first lead of the game early in the second half on a layup by Josh Harrellson but Mississippi State momentarily righted itself, going in front 50-47 on a jumper by Steele.

Calipari then went to the press, and Kentucky responded with an 11-0 burst. Terrence Jones got the Wildcats going with a layup then using his long arms to grab a pair of steals on Mississippi State's next two possessions, leading to easy baskets at the other end of the floor.

The lead grew to 58-50 before the Bulldogs snapped out of it, getting within 65-63 before another surge by the Wildcats pushed the margin to 83-70 with 3:49 to play.

Kentucky, as it has done all season, struggled to put it away. A series of turnovers and missed shots helped Mississippi State get as close as 83-79 with 49 seconds remaining before Kentucky could finish the Bulldogs off.

The Wildcats held on despite allowing the Bulldogs to make 12 of 22 3-pointers. It's a statistic Calipari can live with if his team plays as effectively in the open floor. Kentucky outscored Mississippi State 12-0 on the fast break.

Lamb started in place of Darius Miller, who was questioned suffering a leg injury against the Commodores. Calipari has repeatedly asked Lamb to play with more energy, and he responded with his best performance since dropping 32 in a victory over Winthrop in December.

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Darius Miller scored a career-high 22 points and No. 22 Kentucky had little trouble in a 90-59 win over South Carolina on Saturday.

Terrence Jones added 19 points and 12 rebounds for the Wildcats (19-7, 7-5 SEC), who remained unbeaten at Rupp Arena under coach John Calipari. Kentucky scored the game's first 15 points and led by as much as 36 to push its home winning streak to 32, the second-longest in school history.

The Wildcats knocked down 11 of 20 3-pointers and had five players score at least 11 points, including junior guard DeAndre Liggins, who didn't start for the first time this season.

Malik Cooke led South Carolina (13-12, 4-8) with 12 points but the Gamecocks shot just 34 percent from the floor in losing their fifth straight.

Leading scorers Bruce Ellington and Sam Muldrow combined for 13 points on 3-of-17 shooting as South Carolina suffered its worst loss of the season.

Miller's previous high was 20 in the NCAA Tournament against Wake Forest last season, and he's remained a puzzle this season, mixing solid performances with games where he seems to disappear in plain sight.

That wasn't a problem on Saturday. He hit his first six 3-point attempts and was active on the glass, grabbing nine rebounds and taking it strong to the basket when he got into the lane.

Miller had plenty of help. Brandon Knight added 12 points and set a career-high with nine assists. Doron Lamb threw in 18 while making his second straight start and Liggins appeared to have no problem coming off the bench.

It was more than enough to overwhelm the Gamecocks and ruin coach Darrin Horn's homecoming.

Kentucky wasted little time taking control. The Wildcats scored the game's first 15 points as the new-look starting lineup had little trouble doing whatever it wanted against the lifeless Gamecocks. Miller hit a pair of 3-pointers during the run, which was capped by a 3-pointer from Lamb.

Malik Cooke finally got the Gamecocks on the board with a dunk, but it hardly mattered. Kentucky quickly pushed the lead to 20 points regardless of whatever defense Horn drew up.

Kentucky zipped through South Carolina's man-to-man, deftly passed out of trouble when the Gamecocks went to a halfcourt trap and shot over their 2-3 zone.

Horn called a couple of timeouts to help the Gamecocks regain their composure, but their leaders were nowhere to be found. Ellington and Smith went a combined 0-for-10 in the first half as Kentucky roared into the locker room up 50-21, tied for its biggest halftime lead this season.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. -- John Pelphrey stormed onto the court with a foot stomp and a hand clap.

The Arkansas coach then proceeded to dish out high fives to everyone he could find.

Pelphrey had plenty of reasons for his emotional outburst after the Razorbacks fought off No. 22 Kentucky for a 77-76 overtime win on Wednesday night. The win was Pelphrey's first in four chances against his alma mater, and it snapped Arkansas' 10-game losing streak to the Wildcats.

Kentucky (19-8, 7-6 Southeastern Conference) led 76-75 in the final minute of overtime and had possession. However, Arkansas' Jeff Peterson picked off an errant pass and passed ahead to Marcus Britt, whose layup put the Razorbacks up 77-76 with 17 seconds remaining.

The Wildcats had several shots in the final seconds, but Brandon Knight's desperation 3-point attempt at the buzzer went long. Kentucky fell to 1-6 on the road in conference play, with its last road win coming at South Carolina on Jan. 22.

Arkansas (17-9, 6-6) had lost four of five SEC games coming in. The Razorbacks started quickly, leading by as many as eight points in the first half, and got standout performances from Rolnei Clarke and Marshawn Powell.

Clarke led Arkansas with 26 points, hitting 11 of 12 free throws. Also, Powell had his best game of the season with 22 points and 10 rebounds.

Knight led Kentucky with 26 points, scoring 15 after halftime to help the Wildcats rally from a 34-32 deficit at the break.

Kentucky opened the second half on a 9-2 run to take a 43-37 lead after a DeAndre Liggins basket inside. The Razorbacks responded with a 10-0 run to go back up 47-37, with Clarke hitting seven straight free throws during the run.

The two teams settled into a back-and-forth affair after that, trading the lead seven more times. Knight put the Wildcats up 70-68 with a jumper in the final minute, but Arkansas' Julysse Nobles collected his own miss on the following possession and then drove in for a layup to tie it at 70.

Knight had a pair of open 3-point attempts on UK's final possession in regulation, but he missed both to send the game into overtime.

Knight connected on a jumper to give the Wildcats a 72-70 lead early in overtime. Powell answered at the other end for Arkansas, which had lost all three of its previous overtime games this season before Wednesday.

Nobles gave Arkansas its first lead of the extra period with an off-balance 3-pointer from the corner to go up 75-74, but Terrence Jones answered with a jumper.

Moments later, Britt deflected a pass by Knight that Peterson collected. He then looked ahead and found a streaking Britt for the game-winning layup as the Razorbacks improved to 15-2 in Fayetteville this season.

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Darius Miller let the 3-pointer fly from the top of the key. When it splashed through the net to clinch Kentucky's biggest victory of the season, the normally reserved forward turned and briefly stuck his tongue out in celebration.

Miller scored a career-high 24 points and the 22nd-ranked Wildcats surged past No. 13 Florida 76-68 on Saturday, the kind of confidence-boosting victory Kentucky desperately needed following another late-game road meltdown against Arkansas on Wednesday that left coach John Calipari questioning his team's toughness.

Against the Gators, he got some answers, particularly from Miller. Calipari openly challenged Miller after a loss at Florida three weeks ago, pointing out his mistakes in a tough 70-68 defeat.

Miller atoned with the best game of his career, adding five rebounds, three assists and three steals in 35 energetic minutes.

Brandon Knight added 16 points and six assists without turning it over as the Wildcats (20-8, 8-6 Southeastern Conference) won their 33rd straight home game and gave Calipari his 500th career victory.

Kenny Boynton led Florida (22-6, 11-3) with 21 points and Chandler Parsons added 15 points and eight rebounds. But the Gators, who clinched a share of the SEC East title with a win over Georgia on Thursday night, couldn't keep up with the Wildcats in the second half.

Fighting for loose balls, crashing the offensive boards and trying to keep Parsons in check, Miller kept Kentucky perfect at home under Calipari and gave the Wildcats a much-needed morale boost.

Kentucky took control of a tight game with a 10-2 burst midway through the second half to get some breathing room at 58-49.

The Gators answered with a 3-pointer in the corner by Parsons and drew within 61-56 on a layup by Parsons, who appeared to be just fine in his second game back from a painful thigh bruise.

Enter Miller, who has been a puzzle at times during his up-and-down career but finally seems to be figuring it out. He lit up South Carolina for 22 points in a blowout victory last week but there was more to his play this time than hot shooting.

Dared by Calipari to live up to his sizable potential, Miller chased down a 3-point miss by Lamb shortly after checking back in with 4:51 to go. Kentucky reset and Miller moved to the top of the key. The Wildcats went inside to Terrence Jones, who kicked it back out to Miller. He calmly drilled the 3-pointer to push the lead to 69-58 with 4:13 left and Kentucky was able to close it out.

Vanderbilt No. 21/20 66
Kentucky No. 20/23 68

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Kentucky hadn't lost a game at Rupp Arena in two years. There was no way the Wildcats were going to let Vanderbilt ruin senior center Josh Harrellson's going away party.

An exhausted Harrellson flustered Vanderbilt's Festus Ezeli into mishandling a lob pass in the final second, allowing the 20th-ranked Wildcats to beat the 21st-ranked Commodores 68-66 on Tuesday night and finally win a close game.

Harrellson, the only player honored on Senior Night, walked off the court one last time thumping his hands to his chest as Kentucky (21-8, 9-6) at last solved its late-game woes.

The Wildcats showed plenty of grit in the final 1:36 with freshmen Brandon Knight and Terrence Jones combining to make 7 of 8 free throws as Kentucky won its 34th straight home game, the third-longest streak in school history.

Knight finished with 17 points and Jones added 15 points and nine rebounds for Kentucky, which avenged a loss at Vanderbilt on Feb. 12 by slowing down star John Jenkins.

Ezeli led the Commodores (21-8, 9-6) with 22 points, 13 rebounds and three blocks but also turned it over three times.

Kentucky led by as many as 15 points before Lance Goulbourne gave the Commodores their first lead of the game on a driving layup with 4:25 remaining.

Things were just starting to get interesting. The teams traded the lead four times before Jones put Kentucky up for good with a free throw with 52 seconds left and Harrellson followed by blocking Vanderbilt's Jeffery Taylor then swiped a loose ball out of Ezeli's hands.

Jones hit two free throws to put Kentucky up 66-63 with 18 seconds to go. Goulbourne made a layup to get Vanderbilt back within one with 8.6 seconds left before Knight calmly drained two more free throws to push the lead back to three.

Kentucky intentionally fouled Vanderbilt's Brad Tinsley near midcourt to protect the lead. He hit the first free throw and intentionally missed the second but couldn't quite chase down the rebound in the corner.

The Wildcats inbounded to Jones, who stood on the sideline for a second waiting to be fouled. He stepped out of bounds instead and the Commodores had one last shot.

The pass came to Ezeli, who had bulled his way through the lane all night. He couldn't quite control the pass however, and the ball ended up in Harrellson's hands as time expired.

Jones, who has slumbered through slow starts recently, appeared energized. He wasn't the only one. Taking a cue from Harrellson, the Wildcats attacked the offensive glass relentlessly. Even freshman guard Doron Lamb and center Eloy Vargas got involved.

The Commodores rallied, but it wasn't enough to keep Harrellson from walking off the court pounding his chest after the final horn as the crowd - some of them wearing the jeans shorts that is Harrellson's off-the-court trademark - roared.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- Brandon Knight scored 17 of his 19 points in the second half, and No. 20 Kentucky beat Tennessee 64-58 on Sunday.

The Wildcats (22-8, 10-6 Southeastern Conference) finished second in the SEC East to clinch a first-round bye for the conference tournament and earned only their second SEC road win of the season.

The Volunteers (18-13, 8-8) could have finished second in the East by beating Kentucky but dropped to fifth. This is their first season with eight home losses since 1994-95. Tennessee faces Arkansas in the opening round of the SEC tournament.

Knight, who played all 40 minutes, had been held scoreless in the first half until he took a pass from DeAndre Liggins down the floor to hit a layup just before the halftime buzzer. The basket cut Tennessee's advantage to 29-22 after the Vols opened the game with a 7-0 run and led by as many as 10 points.

Kentucky and Knight came out of halftime hot. The Wildcats scored the first seven points and Knight hit three 3-pointers in the opening 5 minutes of the half, the second of which tied the score at 29-29 with 18:15 to play.

The Cats led by eight points with 11:23 to go after a fast-break layup by Knight, but Tennessee got six free throws in 45 seconds to come back. Kenny Hall hit a jumper to give Tennessee a 52-51 lead with 5:56 left.

Terrence Jones answered with a layup 36 seconds later to retake the lead for Kentucky, which used free throws and Darius Miller's 3 to hold off the Vols.

Jones had 15 points and 12 rebounds, and Miller also scored 15. Tobias Harris led Tennessee with 18 points. Scotty Hopson, who had averaged 24 points in his last five games against Kentucky, finished with 13.

ATLANTA, Ga. -- Doron Lamb scored 19 points and fellow freshman Brandon Knight had 17 to lead No. 15 Kentucky past Mississippi 75-66 in the Southeastern Conference tournament quarterfinals.

Knight made five free throws in the final 41 seconds as Kentucky (23-8), which never trailed, held off Ole Miss. The Rebels trailed 68-66 following Chris Warren's 3-pointer with 1:45 remaining, but didn't score again.

Warren had 20 points for Mississippi (20-13) but shot only 5 of 20 from the field.

Darius Miller led 15 points and Josh Harrellson 13 for Kentucky, which will play Alabama in Saturday's first semifinal.

Terrence Henry had 17 points and 12 rebounds and Dundreous Nelson added 14 points for Ole Miss, which likely awaits a spot in the NIT.

Lamb, one of three freshmen starters, helped Kentucky continue an old tradition of SEC tournament success in Atlanta and against Ole Miss. Kentucky is 15-0 in the tournament against the Rebels.

The Wildcats improved to 20-7 in tournament games in Atlanta. They've won five tournaments in "Cat-landa," most recently in 2004.

Kentucky appeared to be on the verge of pulling away when a basket by DeAndre Liggins gave the Wildcats a 51-39 lead about 5 minutes into the second half.

The Rebels answered with a 9-0 run, capped by a steal and basket by Nelson to cut it to 51-48. Nelson's 3-pointer a minute later brought the Rebels within 53-51.

Kentucky recovered to lead 64-56 on a jam by Terrence Jones, but the Rebels pulled back to within 66-63 with 3:10 remaining on Reginald Buckner's basket.

Ole Miss was trying to beat Kentucky for the second time this season. Warren's 3-pointer with 2.9 seconds remaining lifted the Rebels to a 71-69 victory over then-No. 10 Kentucky on Feb. 1.

The bearded Warren struggled in the first half. His only field goal on seven tries was a 3 with 1:30 remaining.

Henry made each of his two 3-pointers for the Rebels in the half. The rest of the team went 2 of 11.

Lamb matched his season average by scoring 13 points in the first half, including two early 3-pointers.

Jones, the freshman who averages 17.1 points and an SEC-leading 9.2 rebounds, left the game for only a couple of minutes after he was called for his fourth foul with 10:53 remaining. He had seven points and seven rebounds.

Alabama

58

ATLANTA, Ga. -- Brandon Knight finally got rolling in Atlanta, scoring 10 straight points to blow it open, and Kentucky romped to a 72-58 semifinal victory over Alabama on Saturday.

But the closing minutes, with Kentucky way out in front, must have been disconcerting to the Bluegrass faithful. Calipari only has six players in his rotation—including three freshmen—and as the clock ticked down, the Wildcats still had four starters and main backup DeAndre Liggins on the court.

First, Liggins tumbled to the court hard and limped to the locker room. Then, Doron Lamb went down going for a rebound, spraining his left ankle. He rolled around in obvious pain and couldn't put any pressure on it as he was helped to the bench by teammate Josh Harrellson and a member of the basketball staff.

Liggins called his injury just a "minor tweak" to the ankle. Lamb's appeared more serious, with Calipari saying he could be doubtful for Sunday's SEC title game against regular-season champion Florida, a 77-66 victor over Vanderbilt.

The coach said he kept his starters in the game because Alabama was pressing on every possession, fighting to the very end to cut into its big deficit.

That said, he's decided that this is the way it must be: Kentucky will only go with six players right on into the NCAA tournament, assuming he can keep them all healthy.

UK (24-8) raced to a 37-21 halftime lead, even with Knight missing all four of his shots. Alabama (21-11) scored two quick baskets to start the second half before the freshman guard put an end to any thought of another big comeback by the Crimson Tide.

He knocked down his first two 3-pointers of the tournament, bolted into the lane for a layin and came off a screen to swish another jumper with a hand in his face, stretching UK's lead to 51-30.

Lamb led the Wildcats with 15 points, while Harrellson and Liggins had 14 apiece, Knight 12 and Darius Miller 10.

Knight, the freshman who makes Kentucky go, got off to a slow start in Atlanta. He was only 5 of 15—including 0 of 6 from 3-point range—in a quarterfinal victory over Mississippi. He missed three more 3s in the opening half against Alabama, leaving him scoreless beyond the arc.

Alabama was coming off an improbable victory over Georgia in the quarterfinals, rallying from a 14-point deficit in the final 7 minutes and win-ring in overtime.

As usual, the Wildcats felt right at home in the SEC tournament, with virtually the entire crowd at the Georgia Dome dressed in blue. That's especially the case in Atlanta, which the Kentucky fans have renamed "Catalanta."

ATLANTA, Ga. -- Brandon Knight scored 17 points, Darius Miller hit two crucial 3-pointers and No. 15 Kentucky cruised to another Southeastern Conference tournament title, routing regular-season champion Florida 70-54 on Sunday.

The 12th-ranked Gators (26-7) had a miserable day shooting, especially guards Kenny Boynton and Erving Walker. They combined to go 7 of 26 from the field, their woes epitomizing in the closing minutes when they put up back-to-back airballs trying desperately to bring Florida back.

Kentucky (25-8) streaked into the NCAAs with its sixth straight win, second straight SEC tournament crown and 27th title overall--more than every other school combined.

Florida trailed at halftime for the third straight game. The Gators came back against Tennessee and Vanderbilt, but they were doomed when Kentucky pushed it out to a 14-point lead with just over 9 minutes remaining on consecutive 3s by Miller, who was named tournament MVP.

Even with one of those newcomers, Doron Lamb, plagued by a sprained ankle, the Wildcats appear to be a team that is all grown up at the most important time of year. They have won eight of nine--the only loss in that stretch an overtime setback at Arkansas--and surely improved their seeding for the tournament that really matters.

Miller hit 6 of 8 shots, grabbed six rebounds and finished with 15 points. Freshman Terrence Jones chipped in with 16 points. And Knight, the third youngster, ran the show with four assists and capped the big win with a thunderous dunk in the final minute.

Hardly looking like a team with so much youth, Kentucky turned it over just six times. Florida had 14 turnovers, and no one stepped up as the game got away. The ultra-quick Walker tried putting up jumpers and penetrating the lane, not having much success at either. He shot just 3 of 10 and had eight points.

Chandler Parsons added to the woes with a 4-of-12 performance to finish with nine points.

The shooting problems carried over the foul line, where the Gators made just 3 of 8.

Lamb sprained his left ankle in the closing minutes of a semifinale victory over Alabama. He went through pregame warmups, then started out on the bench, with DeAndre Liggins taking his place in the lineup.

The freshman checked in just ahead of the second TV timeout and seemed to move around without much problem, though he wasn't a major factor in the game. He played 23 minutes and scored six points.

TAMPA, Fla. -- Brandon Knight missed his first seven shots and even found himself on the bench in the final minute against Princeton.

His confidence could have been shaken. His ego could have been bruised. After all, he was a freshman playing in his first NCAA tournament game.

Then again, Knight's no ordinary newcomer. Held scoreless for more than 39 minutes, Knight made a driving layup with 2 seconds remaining to lift No. 4 seed Kentucky to a 59-57 win over 13th-seeded Princeton on Thursday.

The Tigers (25-7) shut Knight down much of the game, doubling him on drives, putting a hand in his face on the perimeter and contesting every shot.

A day earlier, Calipari proclaimed, "You can't count on freshmen." He pulled Knight down the stretch in favor of a taller defender. But with the game on the line, Calipari put the ball in Knight's hands.

The kid delivered, and Big Blue advanced to face West Virginia in the East regional Saturday.

Knight's winner was the biggest contribution Kentucky (26-8) got from its trio of talented freshmen. Terrence Jones finished with 10 points, Doron Lamb added seven and Knight failed to reach double figures for the first time in 29 games.

With those guys off, upperclassmen carried the Wildcats most of the way. Darius Miller scored 17 points, and lone senior Josh Harrellson added 15 points and 10 rebounds.

DeAndre Liggins chipped in eight points, including a 3-pointer with 5:38 remaining and a driving bank shot with a little more than a minute to play.

But Princeton, the school known for scaring - and even beating - some of college basketball's most storied programs in the NCAA tournament, never gave up.

Kareem Maddox hit a turnaround jumper with 57.8 seconds remaining, and Dan Mavraides sank a step-back jumper with 36.7 seconds left that tied the game.

Calipari called timeout and got Knight back into the game. Knight dribbled the ball near midcourt, keeping an eye on the dwindling clock, and started moving with about 10 seconds left. He broke down one defender, blew by Maddox - the Ivy League's defensive player of the year - and floated a perfect shot off the backboard.

Knight's teammates erupted, as did the boisterous Kentucky faithful who filled the St. Pete Times Forum. The Tigers had one final chance, but they failed to get off a shot before the buzzer.

The Wildcats were relieved. Princeton coach Sydney Johnson was heartbroken. He cried during his postgame news conference, which came minutes after he brought his players back on the court for a curtain call.

Still, there's little Johnson would have done differently down the stretch.

TAMPA, Fla. -- It's not taking Brandon Knight long to build an impressive resume in the NCAA tournament.

A game-winning shot in the closing seconds of his debut. A career-best 30 points in his next game, helping Kentucky back into the round of 16.

Less than 48 hours after his only basket helped the fourth-seeded Wildcats survive their tourney opener against Princeton, Knight led an 11-0 run coming out of halftime and made six free throws in the final minute to close out a 71-63 victory over fifth-seeded West Virginia.

Not bad for a freshman who's coping with the pressure that comes with playing in the NCAAs, while also carrying the hopes of one of college basketball's most storied programs on his shoulders.

And, Kentucky coach John Calipari isn't surprised, comparing the young star's work ethic to that of Derrick Rose, who played for Calipari while leading Memphis to the Final Four as a freshman.

Kentucky (27-8) advanced to the East regional semifinals in Newark, N.J. against either No. 1 seed Ohio State or eighth-seeded George Mason. It's the second trip to the round of 16 in as many seasons under Calipari.

West Virginia, which reached the Final Four a year ago by beating Kentucky in the regional final, led 41-33 after closing the opening half on a 22-7 run. But Kentucky scored the first 11 points coming out of the break and eventually wore down the Mountaineers (22-12).

Josh Harrellson delivered eight of his 15 points during the pivotal stretch of the second half that Kentucky used to gain control. Terrence Jones overcame a slow start offensively to finish with 12 points and 10 rebounds, and each one of Knight's four assists produced easy baskets for teammates.

Joe Mazzulla led West Virginia with 20 points, but the 6-foot-3 senior guard only had five after halftime. Darryl Bryant scored 15 before fouling out in the final minute, and Casey Mitchell came off the bench to add 11 and help the Mountaineers stay in the game.

For Calipari, it was just his second victory in 10 matchups with close friend Huggins. The two embraced after the final horn.

West Virginia relied almost exclusively on man-to-man defense Saturday. And even though Kentucky shot 56.5 percent in the opening half, the Wildcats turned the ball over seven times and didn't get a lot of open looks at the baskets after getting off to its quick start.

Knight scored 14 of his team's first 21 points, and Kentucky was in relatively good shape at the half despite not getting much production from its other two freshmen starters - Jones and Doron Lamb - or junior Darius Miller. Lamb sat most of the opening half with three fouls and remained on the bench to start the second half, when the Wildcats used the 6-foot-6 DeAndre Liggins to try to slow down Mazzulla.

NEWARK, N.J. -- Brandon Knight did it again. Knight knocked down a jumper with 5 seconds remaining as the fourth-seeded Wildcats stunned top-seeded Ohio State 62-60 on Friday in the East regional semifinals.

Senior center Josh Harrellson held his own against Ohio State super freshman Jared Sullinger, scoring 17 points and grabbing 10 rebounds as the Wildcats (28-8) advanced to play North Carolina on Sunday for a trip to the Final Four.

Knight, who knocked down a game-winner in Kentucky's second-round win over Princeton, shrugged off another sluggish performance to drill the biggest shot of his career.

Kentucky coach John Calipari opted not to call timeout after Ohio State's John Diebler hit a 3-pointer to tie the game at 60 with 21 seconds remaining, and Knight delivered a silky 15-foot jumper.

Ohio State rushed down the floor, but William Buford's 3-pointer clanked off the rim and the rebound was tapped out of harm's way.

The Wildcats, who struggled to win close games earlier in the season, rushed onto the floor as the buzzer sounded. DeAndre Liggins, like Harrellson a leftover from Billy Gillispie's days at Kentucky, hopped atop a table and pounded his chest as Knight stood at halfcourt and soaked in the moment.

The victory proved sweet vindication for the two holdovers, who were mostly spectators last season as Calipari revitalized the program behind a star-studded freshman class led by John Wall and DeMarcus Cousins.

Harrellson and Liggins took this year's group of youngsters under their wing and delivered the kind of savvy veteran presence the Wildcats could have used last season, which ended with a loss to an experienced West Virginia squad in the East regional final.

Liggins finished with 15 points for the Wildcats, who beat Ohio State for the first time in the NCAA tournament behind a suffocating defense that limited the Buckeyes to 32 percent shooting.

Sullinger led Ohio State (34-3) with 21 points and 16 rebounds, but the Buckeyes fell in the regional semifinals for a second straight season. Sullinger said in the aftermath he expects to return for his sophomore year, if only to wash out the taste of a bitter end to an otherwise spectacular season.

Ohio State rolled through the regular season but like the last two top overall seeds entering the NCAA tournament, the Buckeyes are going home early.

The win gives Kentucky a chance to avenge a loss to the Tar Heels earlier in the season. The Wildcats fell 75-73 in Chapel Hill in December, a game in which they gave away several chances to win.

Those days seem long gone. Kentucky has won nine straight and developed the kind of grit Calipari knew would come if he stayed patient with his freshmen-laden roster.

NEWARK, N.J. -- Kentucky spent 13 straight springs watching other schools play in the Final Four, a destination college basketball's winningest program considers its birthright.

At most places, that's hardly a drought.

In the Bluegrass, it's a lifetime.

Now coach John Calipari and the Wildcats are two wins away from a national title. Finally.

Brandon Knight scored 22 points and fourth-seeded Kentucky advanced to the Final Four for the first time since their 1998 national title with a 76-69 win over second-seeded North Carolina on Sunday in the East Regional final.

The Wildcats (29-8) will play Connecticut in Houston on Saturday night after turning back a late surge by the Tar Heels (29-8), who erased an 11-point deficit before running out of gas in the final 2 minutes.

DeAndre Liggins added 12 points for Kentucky, including a 3-pointer from the corner with 37 seconds remaining to help lift the Wildcats.

A season after falling a game short of the Final Four behind a roster filled with future NBA stars, the Wildcats are heading to the national semifinals for the 14th time behind Knight's heady play and Calipari's relentless energy.

Tyler Zeller led the Tar Heels with 21 points and nine rebounds and Harrison Barnes added 18 points, but North Carolina fell behind early and struggled to keep the hot-shooting Wildcats in check.

That lust for a championship banner is why Kentucky went after Calipari so aggressively, making him the highest paid coach in the country.

He came close a year ago, as the Wildcats missed their first 20 3-point attempts in a dismal 73-66 loss to West Virginia.

There were no such issues Sunday. Knight hit a 3-pointer barely 3 minutes in, and Kentucky kept right on shooting. Darius Miller, Terrence Jones and Doran Lamb also drilled 3s of their own to give the Wildcats an early confidence boost. Kentucky made 12-of-22 3-pointers on Sunday, very different from the miserable 4-for-32 effort they put together last season.

When they weren't knocking down jumpers from all over, they were getting their hands in passing lanes, pestering the bigger, longer Tar Heels into sloppy mistakes.

Kentucky roared into the halftime with a 38-30 lead then made it stand up as North Carolina failed to take advantage when the Wildcats grew skittish with the lead.

Kentucky wobbled, but it didn't falter and instead rocketed to Houston on the heels of a 10-game winning streak.

They don't need to be reminded of the program's rich history. It dan-gles from the rafters at Rupp Arena. Now they have a chance to add their own chapter to the legend.

HOUSTON -- When the options boil down to winning or heading home, nobody's better than Kemba and Connecticut.

Kemba Walker scored 18 points Saturday night to lift UConn to its 10th straight victory since finishing off a .500 Big East regular season, a 56-55 win over cold-shooting Kentucky that moved the Huskies a victory away from their third, and most improbable, NCAA title.

Walker, a quick-handed junior from the Bronx, added seven assists and six rebounds to help the young UConn team (31-9) extend a winning streak that started with a five-wins-in-five-nights leg-drainer at the conference tournament and now includes five more at the tournament that really counts.

The third-seeded Huskies - the lowest seed left in a tournament that has been as unpredictable as any in history - will face No. 8 Butler, a 70-62 winner over 11th-seeded VCU in the first semifinal, on Monday.

Fourth-seeded Kentucky (29-9) shot 33.9 percent for the game and went 5:39 without a point late in the second half. UConn wasn't much better, but Walker, Alex Oriakhi and Shabazz Napier all made baskets to turn a 48-48 tie into a 54-48 lead with 2:29 left.

DeAndre Liggins made a 3-pointer for the Wildcats to cut the deficit to three, and Kentucky had its chances. But Brandon Knight, one of John Calipari's three sensational freshmen, barely drew iron on a 3-pointer. After Kentucky got the rebound, Liggins drew a foul but only hit one of two free throws.

Kentucky forced one more turnover and went for the win, but this time, it was Liggins whose 3-pointer was short.

Napier made two free throws to make it 56-52, then Knight ended the game with a 3-pointer at the buzzer - a meaningless make and a cruel close to what has otherwise been a remarkable season for Calipari and Co. - Kentucky's first trip to the Final Four since winning it all in 1998. The Wildcats, the nation's all-time winningest program, stayed stuck on 105 NCAA-tournament wins in the program history, still tied for first with North Carolina, the team they beat to get here.

The Huskies have won by one, by two, by three, by five and more on this unexpected postseason run. Before that, Calhoun's roster full of freshmen lived down to expectations by going 9-9 in their conference. But the Huskies haven't lost since falling to Notre Dame to close the regular season on Feb. 5.

UConn wasn't nearly as dominating here in Houston as in its 84-67 victory over Kentucky in November at the Maui Invitational. But a win's a win, and nobody does it better than UConn when it's all-or-nothing. Counting that relatively low-key get-together on the island, the Huskies are 13-0 in tournament games this season.

Knight finished 6 for 23 with 17 points, Doron Lamb had 13 on 5-for-10 shooting. But the Wildcats made only 21 field goals, only nine from 3-point range and shot 4 for 12 from the free-throw line.

Season Recap

Behind the Fabulous Five of Ralph Beard, Wah Wah Jones, Alex Groza, Kenny Rollins, and Cliff Barker, the 1947-48 Kentucky men's basketball team went 36-3 en route to win the school's first national championship.

Kentucky got off to a quick start winning its first seven games before falling to Temple in a one-point buzzer-beater. The Wildcats, however, won 26 of their next 29 games including a 58-38 victory retribution matchup over the Temple Owls. All five of the Wildcat starters were recognized by the Southeastern Conference with Jones, Beard and Rollins being named to the first team. Beard was also named the True Magazine Player-of-the-Year for the second consecutive season.

Following the regular season, the Wildcats breezed through the SEC Tournament, winning the four games by a total of 111 points, including a narrow 54-53 victory over Georgia Tech in the championship game. The NCAA Tournament went much as the conference tourney did. Jones scored 19 points in the opener over Columbia and then UK won an eight-point decision over Holy Cross in the second round to advance to the championship game against Baylor. Groza poured in 23 points for the 58-42 victory over the Bears.

KENTUCKY 58, BAYLOR 42

MARCH 23, 1948 • NEW YORK

Alex Groza and Ralph Beard combined for 26 points and the Wildcats' defense held the Bears to 16 first-half points to capture UK's first NCAA title.

The title victory enabled the Wildcats to become only the second team ever to win both the NIT and NCAA titles. UK, which finished the season at 34-2, won the NIT title in 1946.

Paced by Groza and Beard, the Wildcats turned a 29-16 halftime lead into a 44-28 bulge midway through the second half. After Baylor rallied to cut the lead to 11, UK put the game out of reach as Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones scored four points to give the Wildcats a 15-point lead.

In addition to Groza and Beard, the Wildcats also got nine points apiece from Jones and Kenneth Rollins.

Front Row: Coach Adolph Rupp, Johnny Stough, Ralph Beard, Kenneth Rollins, Cliff Barker, Jr., Dale Barnstable, Asst. Coach Harry Lancaster.

Second Row: Manager Humzey Yessin, Garland Townes, Jim Jordan, Joe Holland, Alex Groza, Wallace Jones, Jim Line, Roger Day, Trainer Wilbert Bud Berger.

Season Recap

With a familiar four starters returning from the Fabulous Five, the 1948-49 Kentucky men's basketball team appeared poised to make a second consecutive title run. The Wildcats raced through the regular season with only one loss and only three teams throughout the year came within even 10 points of Kentucky. Alex Groza led the team in scoring in 13 of its last 15 games and he broke a UK and SEC record with 38 points in a 95-40 win over Georgia on Feb. 21.

The team concluded the regular season with a 70-37 win over Vanderbilt at Alumni Gym, including a last-second 65-foot shot by Cliff Barker. The Cats again swept through the SEC Tournament in nearby Louisville, winning their opening-round game over Florida, 73-36. Kentucky outscored its SEC Tournament opponents by a total of 123 points in a four-game span, including a 68-52 win over Tulane in the conference final.

After being surprisingly upset in the first round of the NIT Tournament, the Wildcats had no trouble in NCAA play. Kentucky defeated Villanova, 85-72, and Illinois, 76-47, to advance to the national title game. Groza, Ralph Beard and Wah Wah Jones were all named All-America and Groza was named the tournament's MVP.

It was no surprise that when the first-ever Associated Press poll was released the following year, the Cats were ranked preseason No. 1.

KENTUCKY 46, OKLAHOMA A&M 36

MARCH 26, 1949 • SEATTLE

Paced by Alex Groza's 25 points and a defense that limited the Aggies to a mere nine field goals, the Wildcats were crowned NCAA Champions for the second straight year.

Groza, a unanimous selection as the "Player of the Tournament," scored more than twice as many points as any other player. A&M's Jack Shelton was the game's only other player to score in double figures. He finished with 12 points.

The Aggies, coached by Hank Iba, led 5-2, but the Wildcats scored seven straight points, five by Groza, and never trailed again as they took a 25-20 first-half lead.

UK extended the lead to 31-21 early in the second half and coasted the rest of the way.

Season Recap

Kentucky opened the 1950-51 season on an 84-game home win streak and they began the year by moving from the antiquated Alumni Gym to the new 11,500 seat Memorial Coliseum that was designed to commemorate the Kentuckians who died in World War II and the Korean War.

Though illness plagued the team and its coach throughout the season, Kentucky compiled a 32-2 record and its third national title in four years. UK defeated arch-rival Louisville by 11 points, 79-68, in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament before breezing by St. John's in the next round. After posting a narrow 76-74 victory over Illinois in the East Regional championship, the Cats toppled Kansas State, 68-58, in the championship game.

Seven-foot center Bill Spivey led Kentucky, scoring 19.2 points per game during the season. He was followed by the junior duo of Shelby Linville and Bobby Watson, who each averaged 10.4 ppg. The Cats outscored their opponents by 757 points in UK's third championship season.

KENTUCKY 68, KANSAS STATE 58

MARCH 27, 1951 • MINNEAPOLIS

Bill Spivey scored 22 points and an ailing Cliff Hagan sparked the Wildcats to their third NCAA title.

With a squad consisting of only six healthy players — Walt Hirsch was ineligible and Hagan was plagued by an infected throat — the Wildcats hardly looked like championship material as Kansas State broke out to a 20-12 lead.

It was then that Rupp inserted the ailing Hagan. It was a move that may have proved the difference as the sophomore forward sparked a rally that saw UK cut the Kansas State lead to 29-27 at the half.

Led by Hagan and Spivey, who dominated the boards, UK outscored Kansas State 41-29 in the second half to complete the come-from-behind victory.

Standing: Frank Ramsey, Shelby Linville, Bill Spivey, Roger Layne, Lou Tsiropoulos, Read Morgan. Seated: Coach Adolph Rupp, Cliff Hagan, C.M. Newton, Walt Hirsch, Paul Lansaw, Dwight Price, Assistant Coach Harry Lancaster.

Season Recap

After finishing the previous year with a second-round NCAA tournament loss on their home court, the 1957-58 Kentucky Wildcats, behind the starting lineup of Vernon Hatton, Johnny Cox, John Crigler, Adrian Smith and Ed Beck, lost two of its final five games and appeared an unlikely contender for the national championship.

The Cats were led by Hatton's 17.1 points per game and Cox's 14.9 points per game. Hatton proved his effectiveness as a clutch player by sinking a 47-foot shot at the end of regulation to send UK into overtime against Temple, a game that the Wildcats would win 85-83 after three extra periods. Kentucky breezed past the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament, held in Lexington, with wins over Miami of Ohio and Notre Dame. UK then faced Temple in the next round and again won a close 61-60 decision.

The Wildcats defeated Seattle 84-72 in an anti-climactic national title, the fourth and final national championship for Adolph Rupp.

KENTUCKY 84, SEATTLE 72

MARCH 22, 1958 • LOUISVILLE

Senior Vernon Hatton scored 30 points and the Wildcats overcame a 25-point, 19-rebound performance by Elgin Baylor to capture their fourth NCAA championship.

Led by Hatton and Johnny Cox, who finished with 24 points, the Wildcats twice battled back from 11-point deficits to gain the victory.

Trailing for much of the game, UK grabbed its first lead with 6:08 left when Don Mills hit a hook shot to give the Wildcats a 61-60 lead. Moments later, Cox hit a jump shot to make it 63-60 and UK never trailed again.

John Crigler added 14 points and 14 rebounds for the victors. Mills and Adrian Smith finished with nine and seven points, respectively.

Aside from Baylor, Seattle received 17 points from Charley Brown and 16 from Jerry Frizzell.

Front Row: Coach Adolph Rupp, Adrian Smith, John Crigler, Ed Beck, Don Mills, Johnny Cox, Vernon Hatton, Assistant Coach Harry Lancaster.

Second Row: Student Manager Jay Atkerson, Earl Adkins, Billy Smith, Phil Johnson, Bill Cassidy, Lincoln Collinsworth and Harold Ross.

Season Recap

Regular-season losses to Alabama and LSU were the only blemishes on Kentucky's 1977-78 record, as UK and senior Jack Givens, who averaged 18.1 points per game, went 30-2 for its first NCAA title in 20 years. UK outscored its opponents by 459 points during the season and were aided by 14.4 points per game from 6-foot-10 center Rick Robey.

Originally hailed as an underachieving team, Kentucky overcame obstacles to win the SEC Championship and the first NCAA title under head coach Joe B. Hall. The Cats won their last eight regular-season games, including a 92-70 win over UNLV in the home finale, led by 26 points from Robey, and a 78-68 win over Vanderbilt in Nashville, Tenn.

Characteristically, the Cats had no trouble with their early-round competition in the NCAA Tournament, as Florida State, Miami of Ohio and Michigan State fell along the way. UK met up with Arkansas in the national semifinal game, which they won 64-59 before defeating Duke, 94-88, in the championship final.

KENTUCKY 94, DUKE 88

MARCH 27, 1978 • ST. LOUIS

Senior Jack Givens put on one of the finest individual performances in NCAA Championship history in leading the Wildcats past the Blue Devils.

With many Kentucky fans among the crowd of 18,271 chanting "Goose, Goose," Givens scored 41 points, three short of the record for a championship game, to help the Wildcats to their fifth NCAA title and first in 20 years.

Givens' dominance was clearly evident in the first half as he scored 23 points, including UK's last 16 of the half, to turn a 29-28 UK lead into a 45-38 cushion. It was a deficit from which the Blue Devils would not recover.

Overall, Givens made 18 of 27 field goal attempts, five of eight free throws and added eight rebounds and three assists.

Season Recap

Kentucky strung together 25 consecutive wins, including a 16-0 mark in Southeastern Conference play, midway through the 1995-96 season and rolled to its sixth national championship and the first under head coach Rick Pitino. The dynamic duo of Tony Delk (17.8 ppg) and Antoine Walker (15.2 ppg) led the Wildcats' team dubbed "The Untouchables" by Pitino.

A 10-point loss to UMass in the second game of the season would be the only smudge on the Wildcats' schedule as they entered SEC Tournament play. UK posted dominating wins over Florida (100-76) and Arkansas (95-75) in the first two rounds of the tournament, but an up-start Mississippi State team shot 60 percent from the three-point arc to hand UK a shocking 84-73 loss in the title game.

Kentucky still earned a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament's Dallas Regional and stomped San Jose State and Virginia Tech to easily advance to the Sweet Sixteen. The competition proved no tougher in the next two rounds as the Wildcats outscored Utah and Wake Forest by a combined 62 points. A rematch with UMass awaited in the national semifinal, but Kentucky had no trouble with John Calipari's Minutemen, surpassing them 81-74. The Wildcats, behind six first-half three-pointers by Delk, defeated Syracuse, 76-67, in the national title game.

KENTUCKY 76, SYRACUSE 67

APRIL 1, 1996 • EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J.

Tony Delk tied a championship game record with seven three-pointers and the Wildcats withstood a late Orangemen rally to win UK's sixth national title before a capacity crowd of 19,229 in the Continental Airlines Arena at the Meadowlands.

Delk, the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player, canned seven of 12 three-pointers to lead the Cats with 24 points. But after Syracuse had cut the lead to two, 64-62, with 4:46 remaining, a Delk misfire was tipped in by Walter McCarty to extend UK's lead to four. After holding the Orangemen on the next possession, Derek Anderson drained a three to push the lead to seven. SU would get no closer than five in the final minutes.

Delk was joined on the Final Four All-Tournament team by freshman Ron Mercer, who was sensational off the bench, scoring a career-high 20 points on 8-12 shooting from the field, including 3-4 from three-point range.

Halftime: Utah 41, UK 31

Season Recap

The team that became known as the "Comeback Cats," the 1997-98 Kentucky Wildcats captured their second NCAA title in three years after overcoming a 10-point halftime deficit against Utah in the national championship game. UK was 10-3 in games decided by 10 points or less and 7-1 in games decided by three points or less during the season.

Kentucky's players provided a balanced attack, as all five starters averaged over nine points per game with senior guard Jeff Sheppard averaging 13.7 points per game and junior center Nazr Mohammed averaging 12.0 points per game. The Wildcats rolled to an 86-56 victory over South Carolina in the SEC Tournament final and then sprinted past South Carolina State, St. Louis and UCLA in the first three rounds of the NCAA Tournament.

KENTUCKY 78, UTAH 69

MARCH 30, 1998 • SAN ANTONIO

Kentucky battled back from a 41-31 halftime deficit to Utah — the largest halftime margin ever overcome in an NCAA title game — to claim the school's seventh national championship before 40,509 fans in the Alamodome.

Utah was propelled to the early lead thanks to a 24-6 rebounding advantage in the first half. But Heshimu Evans sparked the "Comeback Cats" off the bench with seven straight points early in the second half. Later, Final Four Most Outstanding Player Jeff Sheppard canned a baseline jumper with 4:54 remaining to give UK a 65-64 lead. The exhausted Utes then missed 11 consecutive field goals as the Wildcats claimed their second NCAA Championship in three years.

Scott Padgett joined Sheppard on the All-Final Four team after scoring 17 points. UK outrebounded the Utes 18-15 in the second half.

HELMS NATIONAL TITLES

THE HELMS ATHLETIC FOUNDATION

Founded in Los Angeles in the mid-1930s by Bill Schroader and Paul Helms, the Helms Foundation researched records to rank the nation's top teams dating back to 1901. From 1939, when the NCAA Tournament started, the Helms and NCAA champions were the same, except for 1939-40-44-54. In addition to its NCAA Championship years of 1948, '49, '51, '58, '78, '96 and '98, Kentucky was named the Helms National Champion in 1933 (20-3) and 1954 (25-0).

Kentucky players Forest Sale (1933) and Leroy Edwards (1935) were named Helms National Players of the Year.

CHAMPION KENTUCKY COACHES

ADOLPH RUPP

UK Record: 876-190 (82.2%), 41 years • 1931-72

Alma Mater (Year): Kansas (1923)

Hometown: Halstead, Kan.

Born: Sept. 2, 1901 • Died: Dec. 10, 1977 (age 76)

A former UK Media Guide began, “In the storied land of Kentucky Colonels, there dwelled but one Baron, a man of consummate pride and a mold of powerful teams which for more than four decades made the name University of Kentucky synonymous with the game of basketball.”

Tutored by the great Phog Allen at Kansas and a student of the game under Dr. James Naismith, Rupp learned his craft at an early age. After leaving the high school ranks in Freeport, Ill., to take the UK job in 1930, the “man in the brown suit” became the winningest coach in all of college basketball. He was an innovator of the fast break, a trademark of the Wildcats even today.

To become the winningest coach in his sport, Rupp passed his mentor, Coach Allen, on March 12, 1966, with his 747th victory against Dayton in the Mideast Regional. He achieved the top ranking when he passed Western Kentucky’s E.A. Diddle with victory No. 760 on Feb. 18, 1967, at Mississippi State.

He finished with 876 wins when he retired in 1972, a mark that stood for 25 years until North Carolina’s Dean Smith moved ahead in 1997.

Among the many UK victories were four NCAA titles (1948, ’49, ’51 and ’58), one Olympic Gold Medal (1948), one NIT Championship (1946), 27 Southeastern Conference titles and his Wildcats were voted No. 1 in the final polls on six different occasions.

Rupp coached some of America’s best – Sale, Beard, Groza, Hagan, Ramsey, Cox, Hatton, Nash, Riley and Issel. Thirty-two of his Cats were voted All-Americans 50 times and 52 players were honored 91 times as All-SEC performers.

His teams were unmatched in league play, earning a 400-74 (84.4%) record against SEC competition. In the conference tournament, Rupp’s Wildcats were 57-6, winning 13 titles in 19 appearances.

Before the end of his 42-year career, the four-time National Coach of the Year was inducted into the Naismith Hall of Fame in 1969. Rupp also earned SEC Coach of the Year honors on seven occasions.

JOE B. HALL

UK Record: 297-100 (74.8%), 13 years • 1973-85

Overall Record: 373-156 (70.5%), 19 years

Alma Mater (Year): Kentucky (1955)

Born: Nov. 30, 1928 • Hometown: Cynthiana, Ky.

Joe B. Hall, who grew up just 20 minutes north of the University of Kentucky campus in Cynthiana, had the unenviable task of following the legendary Adolph Rupp, who was forced to retire at age 70. But Hall, the former Rupp assistant, met the challenge head on, coaching three teams to the Final Four (1975, ’78 and ’84) and winning the 1978 NCAA Championship, the school’s fifth title and first in 20 seasons.

Hall began his association with Kentucky as a student-athlete during the “Fabulous Five era.” He played one year of junior varsity and one year of varsity basketball before transferring to the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., where he finished his eligibility and set a single-game scoring record. Following his college career, Hall toured Europe with the Harlem Globetrotters in 1951, but later returned to UK and completed his degree requirements.

His coaching career began at Shepherdsville (Ky.) High School in 1956. It continued on to Regis College in Denver, where he spent five years (57-50 record), and Central Missouri State, where he recorded a 19-6 mark in one season before returning to UK as an assistant to Rupp on July 1, 1965.

As the UK head coach, Hall won National Coach of the Year honors in 1978 and four SEC Coach of the Year awards. He had seven players win All-America honors 11 times and nine Wildcats were voted All-SEC on 18 occasions.

Hall's squads recorded a 172-62 (73.5%) record versus SEC competition during the regular season, winning eight SEC titles in 13 seasons and one league tournament championship in six tries.

While Coach Rupp witnessed 37 of his players drafted by the NBA, Hall saw 23 players drafted during his 13-year tenure, five in the first round.

Retired, Hall still resides in Lexington.

RICK PITINO

UK Record: 219-50 (81.4%), 8 years • 1990-97

Alma Mater (Year): Massachusetts (1974)

Hometown: New York, N.Y.

Born: Sept. 18, 1952

Promising to win right away, the 36-year-old coach from the New York Knicks accepted the challenge of rebuilding the Kentucky basketball dynasty.

Pitino came to UK with impressive credentials, having rebuilt Boston U., Providence and the Knicks. His first UK team, "Pitino's Bombinos," shocked the college basketball world by defeating Shaquille O'Neal, Chris Jackson and the No. 9-ranked LSU Tigers in Lexington en route to a surprising 14-14 record in 1989-90.

It was a glimpse into the future. The following year, UK finished with the best record in the SEC. Then in 1992, fresh off NCAA probation, the "Unforgettables" took eventual national champion Duke into overtime of the East Regional final before falling 104-103 in what many have labeled "the greatest college basketball game ever played."

In 1993, with Jamal Mashburn leading the charge, UK advanced to the Final Four for the first time in nine years, losing to Michigan in overtime. After an Elite Eight finish in '95, Pitino's squad became the team to beat in '96. Highlights included the school's first league championship in 10 seasons, a 27-game win streak, a top-three ranking nearly the entire season, and the crowning jewel, the school's sixth NCAA title.

After UK lost four players to the NBA Draft, Pitino's task of defending the national championship became more difficult after star-guard Derek Anderson severely injured his knee during the '97 season. But the Cats wouldn't fold, rolling to the title game before losing to Arizona in overtime.

Along the way, Pitino won five of six SEC Tournament Championships, two ECAC Holiday Classics, the Maui Invitational and the Great Alaska Shootout. He had a 104-28 record versus SEC teams, winning two league crowns, and an amazing 17-1 record in the SEC tournament.

He coached three All-Americans and eight All-SEC performers. The NBA drafted eight of his Wildcats, six in the first round, including three lottery picks.

Following the national runner-up trophy in 1997, the former point guard at UMass left UK for the challenge of rebuilding the NBA's Boston Celtics.

ORLANDO "TUBBY" SMITH

UK Record: 263-83 (76.0%), 10 years • 1998-2007

Alma Mater (Year): High Point (N.C.) (1973)

Hometown: Scotland, Md.

Born: June 30, 1951

As Kentucky made its run to the NCAA's 2005 Elite Eight, national media members began to notice unusual traits about Tubby Smith's latest group of Wildcats. For instance, no player scored 15 or more points a game. No one averaged eight rebounds. As many as 13 players routinely saw action, often in the first half alone.

This team was selfless and versatile, yet extremely competitive, just like its coach, Orlando "Tubby" Smith. In his 10 seasons in the Bluegrass, Smith won with McDonald's All-Americans and with unheralded prep talent. He won with future NBA stars and with walk-ons from within the Commonwealth. He won with experience and with new players.

In a nutshell, he won.

He arrived in Lexington in 1997, and guided Kentucky to one national championship, five SEC crowns and five SEC Tournament titles, with six Sweet 16 finishes in his 10 seasons.

He totaled 100 wins quicker than any other Wildcat coach except Hall of Famer Adolph Rupp, reaching the plateau in 130 games. He won 76 percent of his games despite playing a schedule that annually ranked among the nation's best.

In NCAA Tournament play, Smith finished his career at UK with the sixth-best winning percentage (.690) among active coaches, trailing Duke's Mike Krzyzewski and Michigan State's Tom Izzo, among others, with a sterling 29-13 record.

Even more impressive, Smith averaged nearly 26 wins per season at Kentucky. In the SEC Tournament, he was 20-5 at UK, and he won a league championship seven times in his 10 years as head coach.

(Adolph Rupp Cup)

Joe B. Hall had the unenviable task of succeeding Coach Rupp. Yet, he won 297 games, an NIT title and an NCAA title.

Coach Adolph Rupp diagrammed plays for his team en route to his first NCAA Championship in 1948.

John Calipari became the first UK coach to win the Adolph Rupp Cup, given to the National Coach of the Year.

RETIRED JERSEYS

As the videotape rolls through the 108-year history of the Kentucky basketball program, the highlights are numerous.

Seven national championships... numerous Southeastern Conference titles... last second shots... the trophies... the netcutting... victory upon victory. The pictures and images continue to roll.

Year-after-year, the Wildcats have defended national championships and produced a host of All-Americans. The UK program also has stocked the NBA with top young talent.

But the ultimate honor for a Wildcat player or coach is to have his jersey retired. Through the years, 42 former players, coaches and contributors have received this recognition.

According to former UK sports information director Russell Rice, the first jersey retired was Layton "Mickey" Rouse, an All-SEC guard who captained the 1940 UK squad. At the annual banquet following the season, Coach Adolph Rupp surprised Rouse when he presented him his entire uniform.

Following the 1949 season, Rupp honored the four seniors from the back-to-back national championship teams — Cliff Barker, Ralph Beard, Alex Groza and Wallace "Wah, Wah" Jones, along with 1948 team captain Kenny Rollins — by retiring their jerseys and stating that their numbers would never be worn again by a Kentucky player. It was then that they were tagged "the Fabulous Five" after Rupp made mention there would never be another team that "fabulous."

However, with the streamlining of jersey numbers by the NCAA, the jerseys are retired but the numbers remain active.

Two contributors have been selected for the basketball program's highest honor, including the late Cawood Ledford, the radio "Voice of the Wildcats" for 39 years. In 1997, Bill Keightley, the lovable and dedicated equipment manager known as "Mr. Wildcat," also was selected. And the great coaches have been honored as well — Rupp, Hall and Pitino.

Each selection has been presented with a framed jersey and a banner proudly hung from the Rupp Arena rafters.

And as the film clip continues, there's sure to be a sequel in the works.

The late Bill Keightley is one of two non-player/coaches to receive the highest honor as having a jersey retired in Rupp's rafters.

IN RECOGNITION OF OUTSTANDING CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY BASKETBALL PROGRAM, THE UK ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT HAS RETIRED JERSEYS HONORING THE FOLLOWING:

ALL-AMERICANS

A total of 53 Wildcats have earned All-America honors. Of those players, 16 were named consensus first-team All-America 21 times, the most of any Division I program. The following is a chronological listing of all 53 UK basketball players who have been named to various All-America teams, beginning with forward Basil Hayden in 1921. The NCAA currently utilizes The Sporting News, The Associated Press, the NABC and the U.S. Basketball Writers Association.

NOTES: From 1933-1950 the SEC champion was determined by a tournament, except for 1935. • Only eight teams invited to participate
 Since 1951, when the round-robin schedule was introduced, the title has been decided by a winning percentage on the conference schedule. From 1951-1964 the round-robin schedule was 14 games.
 From 1965-1966 and since 1992 the round-robin schedule has been 16 games. From 1967-1990 the round-robin schedule was 18 games. In 1979 the SEC Tournament was renewed with the winner receiving an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. In 2008, the tournament was moved to Georgia Tech's Alexander Memorial Coliseum after a tornado hit the Georgia Dome during second round action on Friday, March 14.

UK IN THE SEC TOURNAMENT

The Wildcats have enjoyed unparalleled success in the league's postseason tournament. In the 50 years the event has been held, Kentucky has captured 26 titles and has won 84 percent of its games in the tourney. Next in line among the schools in tournament titles is Alabama with six. Since the tournament was renewed in 1979, 10 different schools have captured the trophy. Only Vanderbilt and South Carolina have failed to win the event. Kentucky is the only team to win the event 15 times since 1979, including titles in seven of the eight years in the 1990s. During that decade, the Wildcats lost only one SEC Tournament game in 24 tries. The Wildcats will be defending their 2010 title in Atlanta this year.

*As part of sanctions imposed upon the UK basketball program in 1989, the NCAA ordered Kentucky to erase from the record three NCAA tournament games from the 1987-88 season.

The presidents of the Southeastern Conference institutions voted to strip Kentucky of the 1987-88 SEC regular season and SEC Tournament championships. Kentucky was not forced to forfeit any of those regular season or tournament games.

RUPP ARENA

CAPACITY: 23,000
(1976-PRESENT: WON 460, LOST 60)

Adolph Rupp is synonymous with winning. As coach of Kentucky, he was a pioneer in the Wildcats' fast-break offense while becoming the winningest coach the game had ever seen.

The site that now serves as a tribute to his outstanding coaching accomplishments – Rupp Arena – has become one of the most recognizable gymnasiums in the world while serving as home to college basketball's most storied program.

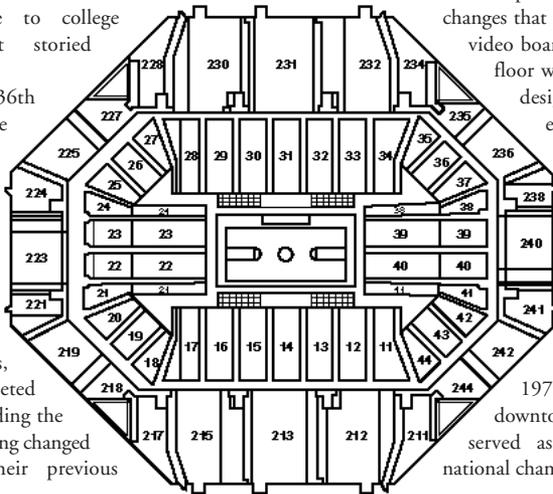

Now in its 36th season as the Kentucky Wildcats' home court, the facility has seen UK win 88 percent of its home games since it was opened in 1976.

In recent years, Rupp Arena completed renovations - including the lower arena seats being changed to blue from their previous rainbow colors. In addition, new end-zone seating moved the student section closer to the floor in an intimidating, standing-room only arrangement. While the endowment seats along courtside continue to entice fans to financially support their Wildcats, a large portion of the media have been moved to a "press box" location between the lower and upper seating areas. And finally, nearly 40 seats were added to each corner, the first additions in seating in nearly two decades.

The improvements followed changes that included four new video boards, a new playing floor with a striking new design and enhancements to the concourses as well. It was all part of a $15 million upgrade to what many consider the mecca of college basketball.

Since the fall of 1976, the arena in downtown Lexington has served as home to three national championship teams at Kentucky. Four others have advanced to the Final Four. Ten seasons have witnessed the Cats go unbeaten at home.

It has played host to over 500 UK games, countless KHSAA Sweet 16s, a number of NBA exhibitions, 11 NCAA Tournaments, three SEC Tournaments and two Ohio Valley Conference Tournaments. With so many unforgettable moments, the old floor still maintained a value to hoop fans across the Bluegrass and beyond. Therefore, officials made pieces of the relic available for public sale, with proceeds going to the UK Basketball Museum, the Kentucky High School Athletic Association and to help offset the costs of the new playing floor. Thanks to an auction of additional sections, like coaching boxes and lettered end zones, the old floor generated more than $250,000.

roads led to Lexington for the NCAA Final Four as Villanova shocked Georgetown in a memorable finale.

In 1986, Rupp played host to both the Southeastern Conference Tournament and the NCAA Women's Final Four. On numerous other occasions, the arena has served as one stop en route to the NCAA title game.

An awesome structure in sight and scope, the arena is divided into two seating areas. The lower level features 10,000 cushioned theater seats. The upper level has 13,000 seats on epoxy-coated metal bleachers. The latter can be visually isolated to provide more natural setting for small shows.

Built by the city of Lexington, the arena is the major portion of the $53 million Lexington Center complex, which includes an expanded convention-exhibition hall, a 50-store tri-level enclosed

NOW IN ITS 36TH SEASON AS THE HOME COURT OF KENTUCKY BASKETBALL, THE FACILITY HAS SEEN UK WIN 88 PERCENT OF ITS HOME GAMES SINCE IT WAS OPENED IN 1976.

The new portable basketball court, adorned with the official interlocking UK logo at midcourt, was designed by both UK officials and the Lexington Center Corporation. Robbins, Inc., in Cincinnati constructed it in 2001 at a cost of $125,000. When assembled, it lies 118 feet below the ceiling and is made of a high-grade northern maple. The floor can be removed and an ice rink can be constructed for ice shows or hockey games thanks to a $2.5 million renovation during the summer of '96.

But the playing surface is just one aspect of the impressive home of the Cats. Situated in downtown Lexington, Rupp Arena has played host to several premier basketball events. In March of 1985, all shopping mall and a Hyatt Regency Hotel.

The Wildcats command an exclusive locker room 365 days a year, while other amenities include six team-size dressing rooms and eight smaller units.

In January 2001, the arena unveiled four new video boards, each 12'6" by 20' in size and mounted in each corner. It allowed the Wildcats to utilize a new "lights out" introduction, featuring a video presentation and indoor fireworks.

ALUMNI GYM

ALUMNI GYM - Won 247, Lost 24

Alumni Gym is actually “the first house that Rupp built.” A house filled with tradition. A house where Kentucky basketball began.

Memorial Coliseum is often referred to as “the house that Rupp built.” The Wildcats’ current home, Rupp Arena, was dedicated to the legendary coach in 1976. But the rich Kentucky basketball tradition began 26 years before the ink was even dry on the Memorial Coliseum plans.

In 1923, the Athletics Council members argued to the Board of Trustees that the old gym in Barker Hall’s Buell Armory was unsafe for even the small number of people it could accommodate. Large crowds that had to be turned away and the probability that the popular state high school tournament would be moved away were two major factors that convinced the Board members that a new gym was in order.

Soon, the 2,800-seat structure was approved and the Alumni Association began efforts to raise the $100,000 needed for the Wildcats new home — a home critics labeled as a “white elephant.”

Alumni Gym, which was complete for the 1924-25 season, holds claim to the birth of Wildcat basketball mania. The building served as the home floor for Wildcat squads until 1950. During that time, Kentucky lost only 24 of its 271 games, while laying the groundwork to become the winningest college basketball team in the nation.

When Rupp took the reins of the program in 1930, his squads established a home record of 201 victories against just eight losses in 19 seasons. He led the Cats to 84 consecutive wins in the confines of Alumni including 64 consecutive victories in the Southeastern Conference.

During the last 17 seasons in the gym, the Wildcats won 12 conference tournament crowns and three Sugar Bowl championships. Through 26 seasons at the corner of the Avenue of Champions and South Limestone, Kentucky suffered only one losing season, while having 12 campaigns with three or fewer losses.

Kentucky basketball became a dynasty in 1948 after winning the SEC and NCAA championships and the coveted Olympic gold in London, England. Led by All-Americans Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Wallace “Wah Wah” Jones, with Rupp coaching from the sidelines, the United States squad soundly defeated France 65-21 in the gold medal game to become the 1948 World Champions.

In 1950, Kentucky’s reign in Alumni Gym came to an end following the completion of the new Memorial Coliseum.

MEMORIAL COLISEUM

For 26 years, the pulsating cries of “Rip ‘em Up, Tear ‘em Up, Give ‘em Hell Wildcats” rang through one of the grandest and most historic of all basketball palaces — UK’s Memorial Coliseum.

In 1941, when Dr. H.L. Donovan became president of the University, one of his first recommendations was for a building “that will properly take care of our athletics, our health service, physical education and recreation.” From this beginning came the plan that culminated in the construction of 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum, a then-unparalleled edifice costing $3,925,000 by the time it was completed in 1950.

The Wildcats got off to a fine start in the Coliseum, winning every game played in the building for the first three seasons. When Georgia Tech upset Kentucky 59-58 on Jan. 8, 1955, it marked the first time the Wildcats had lost on their home court since the days of Alumni Gym, dating back more than 12 years to Jan. 2, 1943.

The loss ended a streak of 129 consecutive wins at home for Kentucky, an NCAA record that still stands today. In 26 years, Kentucky came away a loser only 38 times in 344 games.

From the early 1960s on, the sale of UK basketball season tickets was closed to the public with season ticket holders taking all the allotment other than student seating.

The huge building, which serves as a memorial to the nearly 10,000 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II and the Korean War, covers an entire city block and contains as much space as a seven-story office building. Situated along the Avenue of Champions, the Coliseum still houses UK Athletics Association offices and is the home to Kentucky women’s basketball, gymnastics and volleyball. The arena’s current capacity is 8,500.

History was rewritten on March 17, 2009 when the Wildcats hosted UNLV in the first round of the NIT. Due to a scheduling conflict with Rupp Arena, Kentucky played its first game in Memorial Coliseum in over 30 years. In front of a capacity crowd, the Wildcats “rechristened” the venerable gym with a 70-60 win over the Running Rebels.

A HOME-AWAY-FROM-HOME

(Won 122, Lost 33, .787)

The University of Kentucky has built an impressive record playing in Louisville. Besides winning 26 of their last 31 there, the Wildcats have won an NCAA championship (1958), nine Southeastern Conference Tournament titles, and have defeated some of the best teams from around the country before Wildcats fans in Louisville.

Kentucky began playing in Louisville in 1908, when the Cats lost to Louisville, 30-18. UK defeated the University of Louisville, 26-13 in 1914, lost to the Cards 26-15 the following year, and then defeated them 32-24 in 1916. Two years later, UK lost to Centre, 22-12, in the state championship game played in Louisville. The Cats defeated the Cards there in 1922 and then did not play again in the Derby City until the 1936-37 season, when they dropped a 41-28 decision to Notre Dame.

Most of those early games were played in the Armory downtown before Freedom Hall was opened (1957). The Cats christened the new facility by capturing the 1958 NCAA title with victories over Temple and Seattle. The spacious arena has played host to Kentucky teams every year since. Kentucky's record at Freedom Hall now stands at 57-17.

The Wildcats' overall record in Louisville is 122-33: 74-26 in regular-season play, 43-3 in SEC Tournament play and 5-3 in postseason competition.

Kentucky's most impressive string of victories in Louisville came when the Cats won 32 straight games between 1946 and 1951. Only 12 of the 32 teams Kentucky has faced in Louisville have been able to knock off the Cats. The longest running series has been with Notre Dame, with the Wildcats holding a 24-9 advantage over the Fighting Irish.

Kentucky established a then-Freedom Hall attendance record in 1993 as 20,060 fans jammed the arena to watch the Cats down the Indiana Hoosiers, 81-78. Seven years earlier, 20,053 fans looked on as the Cats faced SEC-rival Georgia, Dec. 30, 1986. UK fans continued a Wildcat tradition as more than 19,000 arrived the night before for a brief Kentucky shooting practice and to catch a glimpse of super-frosh Rex Chapman in December 1986. Three days earlier, the Wildcats had handed Louisville its worst defeat ever at Freedom Hall, 85-51.

UK ATHLETICS HALL OF FAME

UK's Athletic Hall of Fame, organized in 2005, recognizes and honors persons whose participation and contributions enriched and strengthened the university athletic program. Athletes are required to wait five years after completing their Wildcat playing career before being eligible for the honor. The charter class was comprised of those individuals who had previously had their jersey retired at Rupp Arena, Commonwealth Stadium, Memorial Coliseum and Cliff Hagan Stadium.

#W.B. Wendt on J.9, 1969 verified that State College (UK) opened the 1906 season against Kentucky U. (Transylvania) in the YMCA. Athletic committees of the two schools had cancelled all games after a fight at a football game in November 1905. Wendt and the Kentucky U. manager agreed to play at the YMCA and list the State College foe as YMCA instead of Kentucky U. State College won but Mr. Wendt didn't remember the score, which he hadn't listed.

*As part of sanctions imposed upon the UK basketball program in 1989, the NCAA ordered Kentucky to erase from the record three NCAA tournament games from the 1987-88 season. Kentucky's 99-84 win over Southern, a 80-81 win over Maryland and an 80-74 loss to Villanova have been deleted from the records, thus changing the 1987-88 season record from 27-6 to 25-5.

The presidents of the Southeastern Conference institutions voted to strip Kentucky of the 1987-88 SEC regular season and SEC Tournament championships. Kentucky was not forced to forfeit any of those regular season or tournament games.
