THE COMMONWEALTH'S OBSESSION

“People often ask me to try to explain why Kentuckians are so nutty about UK basketball. My guess is that it’s because the commonwealth is so diverse, from the mountains of the east, where my family hails; to the central bluegrass, where we have a proud tradition of raising the world’s best thoroughbreds; to the farmlands of the west.

Basketball is one thing that unites us, something for which we all can be proud. An airline pilot once told my Nana that when he flies over the state, he can tell when UK is playing because the roads are empty.”

— ASHLEY JUDD

“So fundamental is Kentucky basketball to Kentucky culture that the commonwealth virtually shuts down on game night. In Kentucky, the idea is not to let life interfere with basketball.”

— LONNIE WHEELER, CINCINNATI POST

Billy Gillispie and UK's NBA players (background) were introduced in front of a sellout crowd at Commonwealth Stadium during the 2007 football season. Gillispie signed autographs after throwing out the first pitch for the Lexington Legends minor league baseball team last summer at Applebee's Park. Other tangible signs of the Commonwealth's unsurpassed passion for UK Athletics can be found on custom painted barns, like the one above, that dot the Kentucky countryside.

WILL O'LEARY'S

"If you play hard, play smart, and play together, good things can happen to you."

— BILLY GILLISPIE

THE GREATEST TRADITION IN THE HISTORY OF COLLEGE BASKETBALL

KENTUCKY BASKETBALL

PLAY HARD

"I'm not really big on making statements. I think, if you work hard, other people will make statements for you."

— BILLY GILLISPIE

“Gillispie runs some of the most grueling and demanding practices in Division I. His teams execute their game plans and compete to the buzzer.”

— MIKE DECOURCY, THE SPORTING NEWS

PLAY SMART

“The whole key to being successful is being smart on the floor. You can have all the talent and conditioning in the world, but if you’re not smart about the way you play then the other things don’t really matter.”

— RAMEL BRADLEY

“Great teams play smart.
Great teams are intelligent.
We have great talent and a great coach, and we are going to do whatever it takes to be a great team.”

—JOE CRAWFORD

PLAY TOGETHER

“Our teams have always been very, very close teams that play extremely hard together.”

—BILLY GILLISPIE

A CLOSE-KNIT FAMILY

“No one cares more about our players than me and no one cares more about me than our players.”

—BILLY GILLISPIE

“Kentucky basketball is all about family. Our players and coaches care a great deal about one another. And our fans care a great deal about us all.”

— BILL KEIGHTLEY, “MR. WILDCAT”

Kentucky’s basketball family extends beyond the current team to include all the great UK players, coaches and staff from the past. The 1966 Wildcats (below) are among the many teams who have recently returned to Rupp Arena for a reunion.

TENACIOUS DEFENSE

—LUKE WINN, SPORTS ILLUSTRATED

“We like to play pressure man-to-man defense, picking up full court. We want to trap and play some full-court pressure.”

—BILLY GILLISPIE

FAST-PACED OFFENSE

“Offensively, we want to push it as hard as we can every single time. We want to attack the other team.”

— BILLY GILLISPIE

WILLIAM CATTAN S

"We want to see Kentucky Basketball continue to be the epitome of excellence and continue to represent our university and state in a very positive way. Billy Gillispie can do that. He can lead us."

— JOE B. HALL, UK COACH (1973-85)

THE GREATEST TRADITION IN THE HISTORY OF COLLEGE BASKETBALL

LEADERSHIP

BUILDING ON EXCELLENCE

Since 1931, only six men have served as head basketball coach at Kentucky, including (from left): Adolph Rupp, Joe B. Hall, Eddie Sutton, Rick Pitino, Tubby Smith and Billy Gillispie.

"It's a great honor for me to be here, standing at the place where they basically invented basketball. I'm so proud to be your head coach."

— BILLY GILLISPIE

Billy Gillispie addressed a crowd of more than 4,000 fans at a pep rally announcing his hiring as Kentucky's new men's basketball coach on April 6, 2007.

BILLY GILLISPIE

After some of the most dramatic single-season turnarounds in NCAA history at Texas-El Paso and Texas A&M, Billy Gillispie becomes the 21st coach of the Kentucky Wildcats.

In just three seasons at Texas A&M, the three-time Big 12 Coach of the Year engineered one of the most amazing turnarounds in college basketball history, leading ESPN's Steve Lavin, among others, to christen him a "miracle worker."

In the 2006-07 season, Gillispie, who was a finalist for the 2007 Naismith National Coach of the Year, and Jim Phelan National Coach of the Year led the Aggies to a school record 27-7 record which included a school best No. 3 seed in the NCAA's, in which they advanced to the Sweet 16 for the first time since 1980.

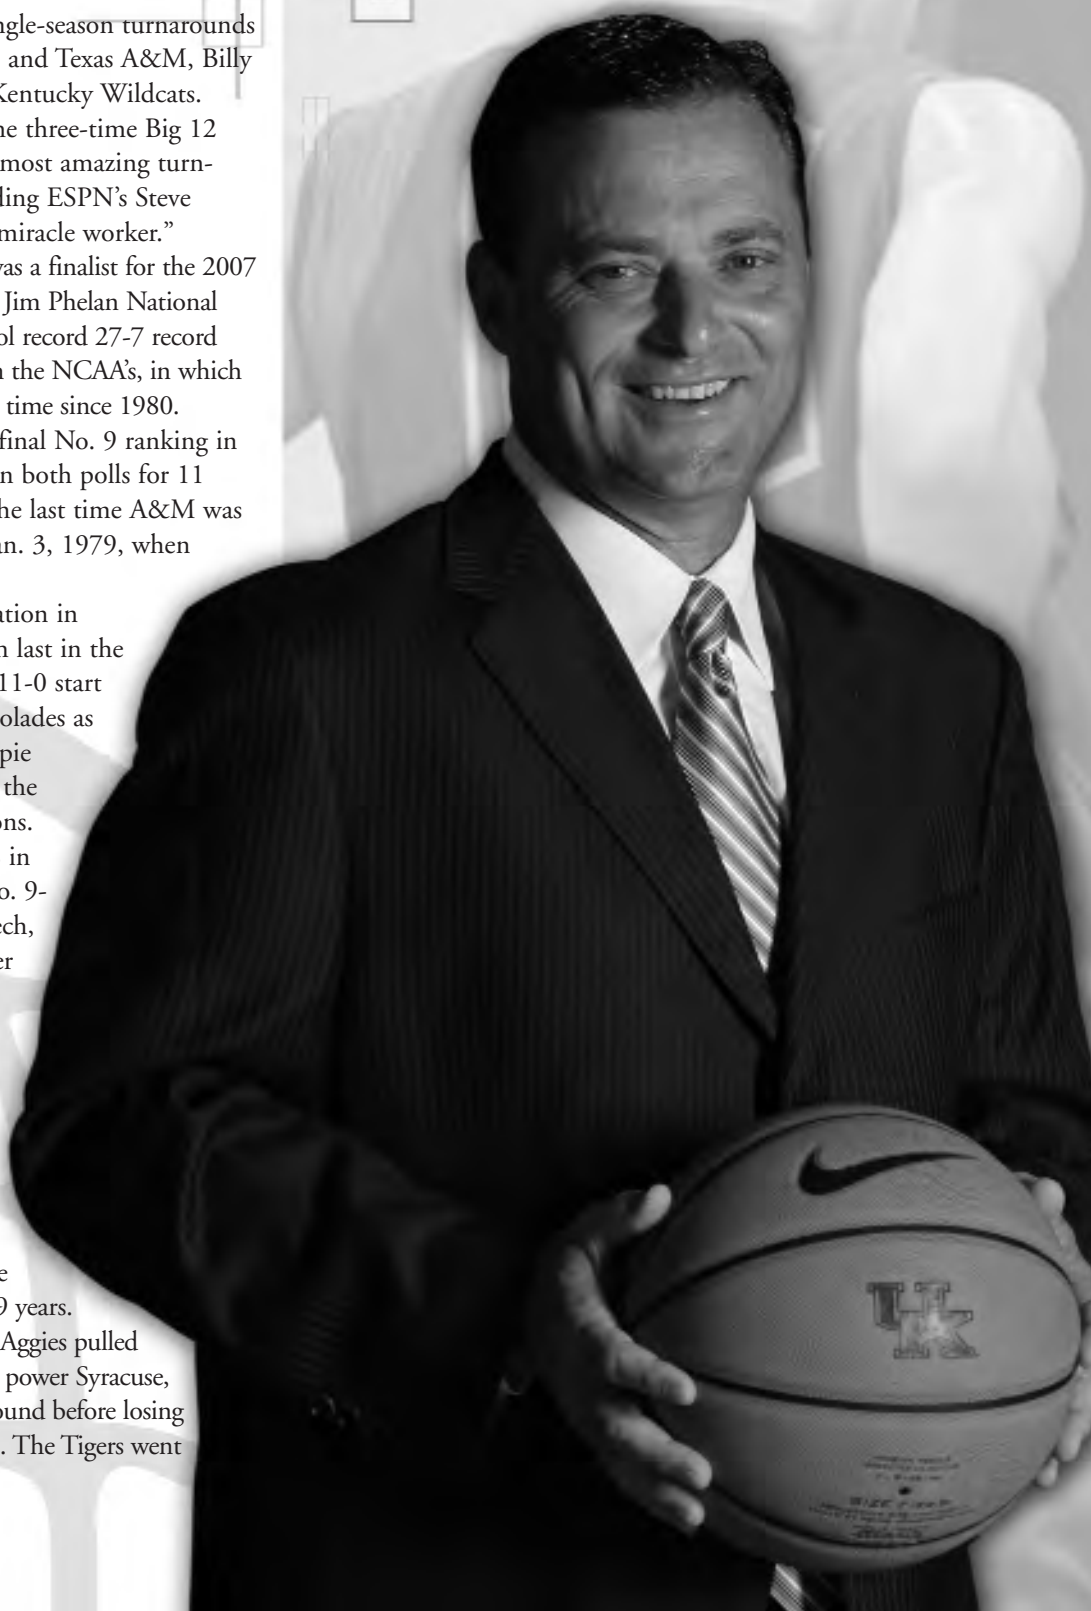

In addition to leading the Aggies to a final No. 9 ranking in 2007, he led A&M to a top 10 ranking in both polls for 11 straight weeks. Before the 2007 season, the last time A&M was ranked in the top 10 in either poll was Jan. 3, 1979, when the Aggies were ranked 10th by the AP.

In Gillispie's first season in College Station in 2004-05, the Aggies were picked to finish last in the rugged Big 12, but shot out to a perfect 11-0 start and went on to finish 21-10, earning accolades as the country's most improved team. Gillispie became the only coach in history to lead the most improved team in consecutive seasons.

Even more impressive, A&M went 8-8 in Big 12 play, including victories against No. 9-ranked Texas and No. 25-ranked Texas Tech, to become only the third college team ever to finish .500 in league play after going winless the previous season. The Aggies won two games in the National Invitation Tournament, A&M's first postseason appearance in 11 years.

In 2005-06, A&M finished 22-9 and placed fourth in the Big 12 with a 10-6 mark, its best finish in the league's 10-year history. In addition, A&M advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 19 years.

But Gillispie was not finished yet as the Aggies pulled off a stunning first-round upset of national power Syracuse, then took LSU to the wire in the second round before losing on a three-point basket in the final seconds. The Tigers went on to the Final Four.

“In just over 100 days on the job, new Kentucky coach Billy Gillispie has created a buzz that is deafening but sweet music in the Commonwealth.”

— WENDELL BARNHOUSE
FORT WORTH STAR TELEGRAM

Since his arrival as Kentucky’s new high-energy head coach, Billy Gillispie has taken the Bluegrass by storm—quickly signing a number of heralded recruits and boldly promising to hang another national championship banner in the rafters of Rupp Arena.

Gillispie was honored as Big 12 Coach of the Year by several major newspapers and was selected Texas College Coach of the Year by the TABC.

A native of the tiny west Texas town of Graford, Gillispie began his Division I career at Baylor in the mid-1990s. He went on to successful assistant coaching stints at Tulsa and Illinois before becoming UTEP's head coach in November 2002.

The Miners finished 6-24 in his first season, but went 24-8 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 2004, an incredible 18-win improvement that ranks among the best in history. As a result, Gillispie was named district coach of the year by the USBWA, Texas coach of the year by the TABC, and was a finalist for national coach of the year honors.

The Miners captured the 2004 Western Athletic Conference title, its first in 12 years, after being picked to finish ninth in the preseason poll. UTEP became only the third WAC team in history — and the first in 35 years — to win a league title after finishing last the previous year. In the exhibition season, the Miners ended the Harlem Globetrotters' 288-game winning streak with an 89-88 victory.

The Miners completed a 16-1 home ledger and built a huge following in El Paso, averaging 10,282 fans per game and ranking first in the NCAA in increased attendance. UTEP had eight sellout crowds of more than 12,000.

“(Mitch) Barnhart wanted someone who would sleep and eat recruiting, and Gillispie is the personification of that requirement.”

2007-Present

A tireless worker, the 47-year-old Gillispie has built a deserved reputation as one of the country's best recruiters. His prowess was reflected in his first recruiting class at UTEP, which featured a pair of first-team junior college All-Americans — Filiberto Rivera and Omar Thomas — and earned a top 25 ranking.

Rivera was the 2003 national junior college player of the year, while Thomas was the all-time leading scorer in junior college basketball and was the only JUCO player ever to score 2,000 points with 1,000 rebounds.

At A&M, Gillispie signed three straight top-25 recruiting classes.

Prior to being hired at UTEP in 2002, Gillispie served eight years as an assistant coach at Baylor, Tulsa and Illinois. He was a member of Bill Self's staffs at Tulsa from 1997-00 and at Illinois from 2000-02. Self is now the head coach at Kansas.

Gillispie was part of a coaching unit that recorded 85 wins over three years, the second-highest total in the nation in that period, and captured four consecutive conference championships — two in the Big Ten and two in the Western Athletic Conference.

When the WAC title at UTEP is included, Gillispie was a part of conference championship teams in five of six years, a record matched by few others.

In addition, Gillispie was a member of the only coaching staff in NCAA history to lead two different schools to the Elite Eight in successive seasons — Tulsa in 2000 and Illinois in 2001.

Tulsa registered a 32-5 mark in 1999-00 and Illinois fashioned a composite mark of 53-17 in 2000-01 and 2001-02,

“Few coaches have rocketed up the coaching ranks faster than Billy Clyde. A combination of confidence, brute work ethic and country charm have carried Gillispie a long way in a short time.”

winning back-to-back Big Ten titles for the first time in 50 years. The Illinois staff became the first since 1913 to win Big Ten titles in each of its first two seasons in the league. Illinois advanced to the Sweet 16 in the 2002 NCAA Tournament.

Tulsa earned a No. 9 national ranking in the final coaches' poll in 2000, while Illinois was rated No. 6 in 2001 and No. 11 in 2002.

His efforts on the recruiting trail helped Illinois land one of the nation's top 10 classes in 2002, featuring All-American Dee Brown, James Augustine, Aaron Spears, Deron Williams and Kyle Wilson.

Gillispie was the top assistant and recruiting coordinator at Baylor from 1994-97 under head coach Harry Miller. The Bears notched 18 victories in 1996-97 after consecutive nine-win seasons the previous two years. Baylor's 1996 recruiting class was ranked as high as No. 6 in the country.

“Obviously, he felt this was a chance of a lifetime to go to Kentucky. I think people in Kentucky are getting a great coach, a great person and a tireless worker. They will enjoy watching his style of play.”

— BILL SELF, CURRENT KANSAS HEAD COACH

“Hurricane Billy has been tearing through the recruiting world. The eye of the storm developed over Lexington, Ky., but has grown with such intensity that the outer bands now reach from coast to coast. Three months into his appointment as Kentucky coach, Gillispie’s acquisition of talent has become college basketball’s hottest story.”

— KEN DAVIS, MSNBC.COM

A 1983 graduate of Texas State with a bachelor’s degree in Education, Gillispie got his start in coaching as a graduate assistant at his alma mater from 1982-85.

From 1987-93, Gillispie served as head coach at three different high schools in Texas — Copperas Cove, New Braunfels Canyon and Killeen Ellison. His last prep team at Killeen Ellison recorded a 32-6 record in 1992-93 and set school records for winning percentage and points scored while finishing the year ranked No. 4 in the state.

Gillispie joined the JUCO ranks from 1993-94 as an assistant and recruiting coordinator at South Plains Junior College in Levelland, Texas.

Born in Abilene on Nov. 7, 1959, Gillispie was the middle of five children and the only boy. When he was in second grade, the family moved to Graford (pop. 578), located 65 miles northwest of Fort Worth.

He played point guard at Graford High School and was a two-sport athlete in basketball and baseball at Ranger (Texas) Junior College from 1978-80.

Gillispie attended Sam Houston State for one year, where he was a student assistant under coach Bob Derryberry, then transferred to Texas State, where he served three years as a graduate assistant for Derryberry. He received a degree in education from Texas State in 1983.

Gillispie is a member of the NABC, TABC, Texas High School Coaches Association and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

“He’s revitalized this program, stimulated the interest and demonstrated that he’s going to put Kentucky back in the limelight of college basketball.”

— JOE B. HALL, LEGENDARY UK BASKETBALL COACH

Jeremy Cox joins the staff after serving under Gillispie as an assistant coach at Texas A&M last season where he helped lead the Aggies to a spot in the Sweet 16, and a school best final ranking of ninth in both the Associated Press and Coaches' polls.

Prior to his time in College Station, he was the head coach at Arkansas-Fort Smith College for three seasons, guiding the Lions to the 2006 national championship while also being named the NJCAA Coach of the Year.

Cox began his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at the University of Wyoming (1991-92) and later was an assistant at the University of Texas-San Antonio for four seasons (1993-97).

As a part of former Lions coach Doc Sadler's staff at Arkansas-Fort Smith in 2002-03, Cox helped the Lions to a 20-8 finish and the Bi-State Conference East Division title. He was promoted to head coach the next season after Sadler become an assistant coach on Billy Gillispie's staff at University of Texas-El Paso. Sadler was later promoted to head coach at UTEP after Gillispie was hired at Texas A&M.

As head coach, Cox guided the Lions to an 84-17 record, three consecutive 20-win seasons and two Bi-State Conference East Division championships.

In the 2006 season, UAFS was the unanimous preseason No. 1-ranked team in the nation for the first time in recent history and won its first NJCAA Region II championship since 2002 and its first national championship since 1981.

Cox arrived in Fort Smith after serving four years (1998-99 through 2001-02) as head coach at Garden City (Kan.) College, where his teams amassed a 93-36 slate (.721 winning percentage). He got his first head coaching position at North Dakota State College of Science, where he led his team in 1997-98 to a 19-9 record, the NJCAA Region XIII championship, and was tagged 1998 NJCAA Region XIII Coach of the Year for his efforts.

In eight years as a head coach, Cox's teams compiled a 197-62 record.

Cox got his coaching start as an assistant at the University of Wyoming during the 1991-92 season and saw three Cowboys from that squad go on to play in the NBA, including Tim Breaux, Theo Ratliff and Reggie Slater. Following a stint as an assistant at Paris Junior College (Texas) in 1992-93, Cox spent four years (1993-94 through 1996-97) on the sidelines as an assistant at the University of Texas at San Antonio.

Cox graduated cum laude in 1991 from Mesa State College (Colo.) and received his master's degree in sports management from the United States Sports Academy (Ala.) in 1999.

Prior to coaching in the Big Ten Conference, Webster spent three seasons as an assistant at Ball State from 2001-03. While in Muncie, Ind., he helped Ball State to the school's first outright Mid-American Conference West Division Championships and the Elite Eight of the National Invitational Tournament in 2002.

ALVIN BROOKS

Former Texas A&M assistant coach and University of Houston head coach Alvin Brooks is in his first season with the Kentucky basketball program.

Brooks, a three-year assistant at Texas A&M under coach Billy Gillispie, was also on Gillispie's staff at UTEP in 2003-04. Brooks has helped Gillispie engineer two of the best single-season turnarounds in college basketball history.

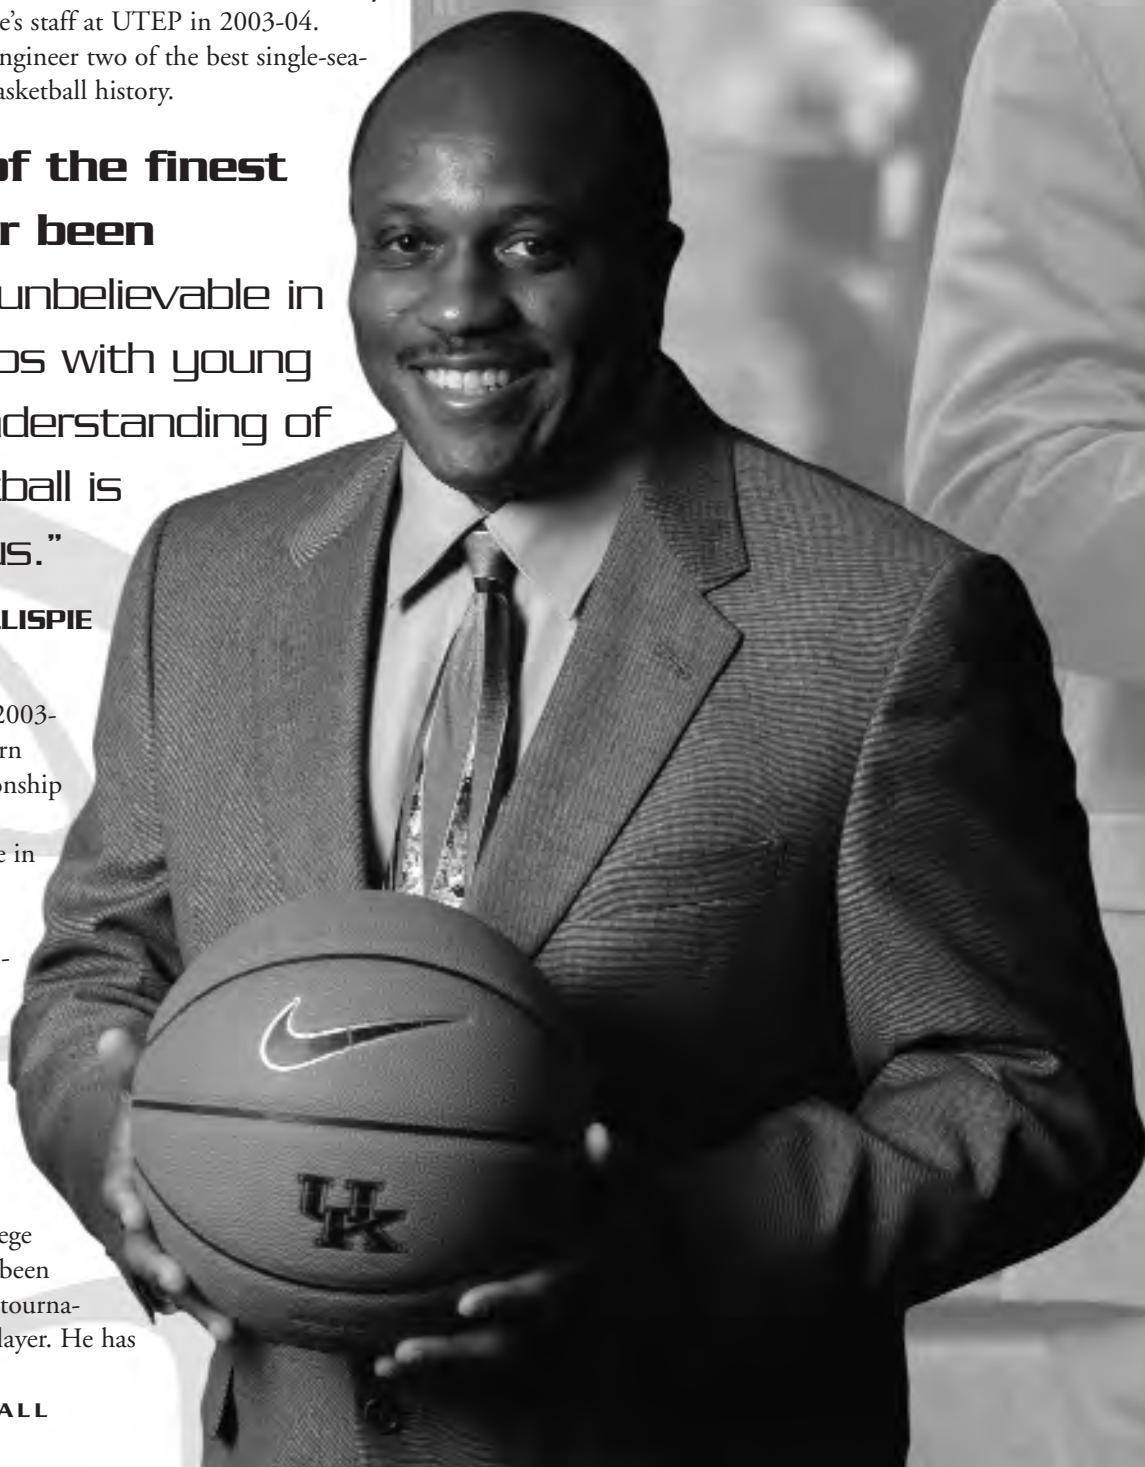

"Alvin is one of the finest men I've ever been around. He's unbelievable in his relationships with young people. His understanding of college basketball is invaluable to us."

- BILLY GILLISPIE

The Miners went 24-8 in 2003-04, won a share of the Western Athletic Conference championship and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 12 years.

Brooks, 48, served as head coach at Houston from 1993-1998. The Cougars went 17-10 and placed second in the Southwest Conference in 1996. Houston posted wins over No. 3-ranked Memphis and No. 19 Tulsa in his tenure.

Brooks has 26 years of college coaching experience and has been affiliated with 15 postseason tournament teams as a coach and player. He has tutored 12 players who went on to play in the NBA.

A 1992 graduate of Lamar, he was a two-year letterwinner for the Cardinals (1979-81), averaging 10.4 points and 6.9 assists per game in his career.

He earned second-team All-Southland Conference honors in 1981 and was the starting point guard on the 1980 team that reached the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament. He was drafted by the San Antonio Spurs in 1981.

In the late 1970s, Brooks was a standout player at powerful Wheatley High School in Houston, where he averaged 25.9 points and nine assists per game and earned all-city recognition.

Brooks and his wife, Richelle, have five children – Alvin III, Andree, Vincent, Julian and Casey. Alvin III is an assistant basketball coach at Bradley.

BILL KEIGHTLEY

Affectionately known as “Mr. Wildcat,” Bill Keightley has been associated with the Wildcats’ basketball program since 1962.

Keightley, who mans the “Bill Keightley Equipment Room” in Memorial Coliseum, is as much a fixture around UK basketball as the seven national championship trophies on display in the Joe Craft Center.

Now in his 47th season on the UK sidelines, the Wildcats’ record over the past four decades with Keightley as equipment manager is 1,095-338.

“Any national championship is a special moment. The national championship is the pinnacle. You can't improve on that much as far as the feeling of excitement.”

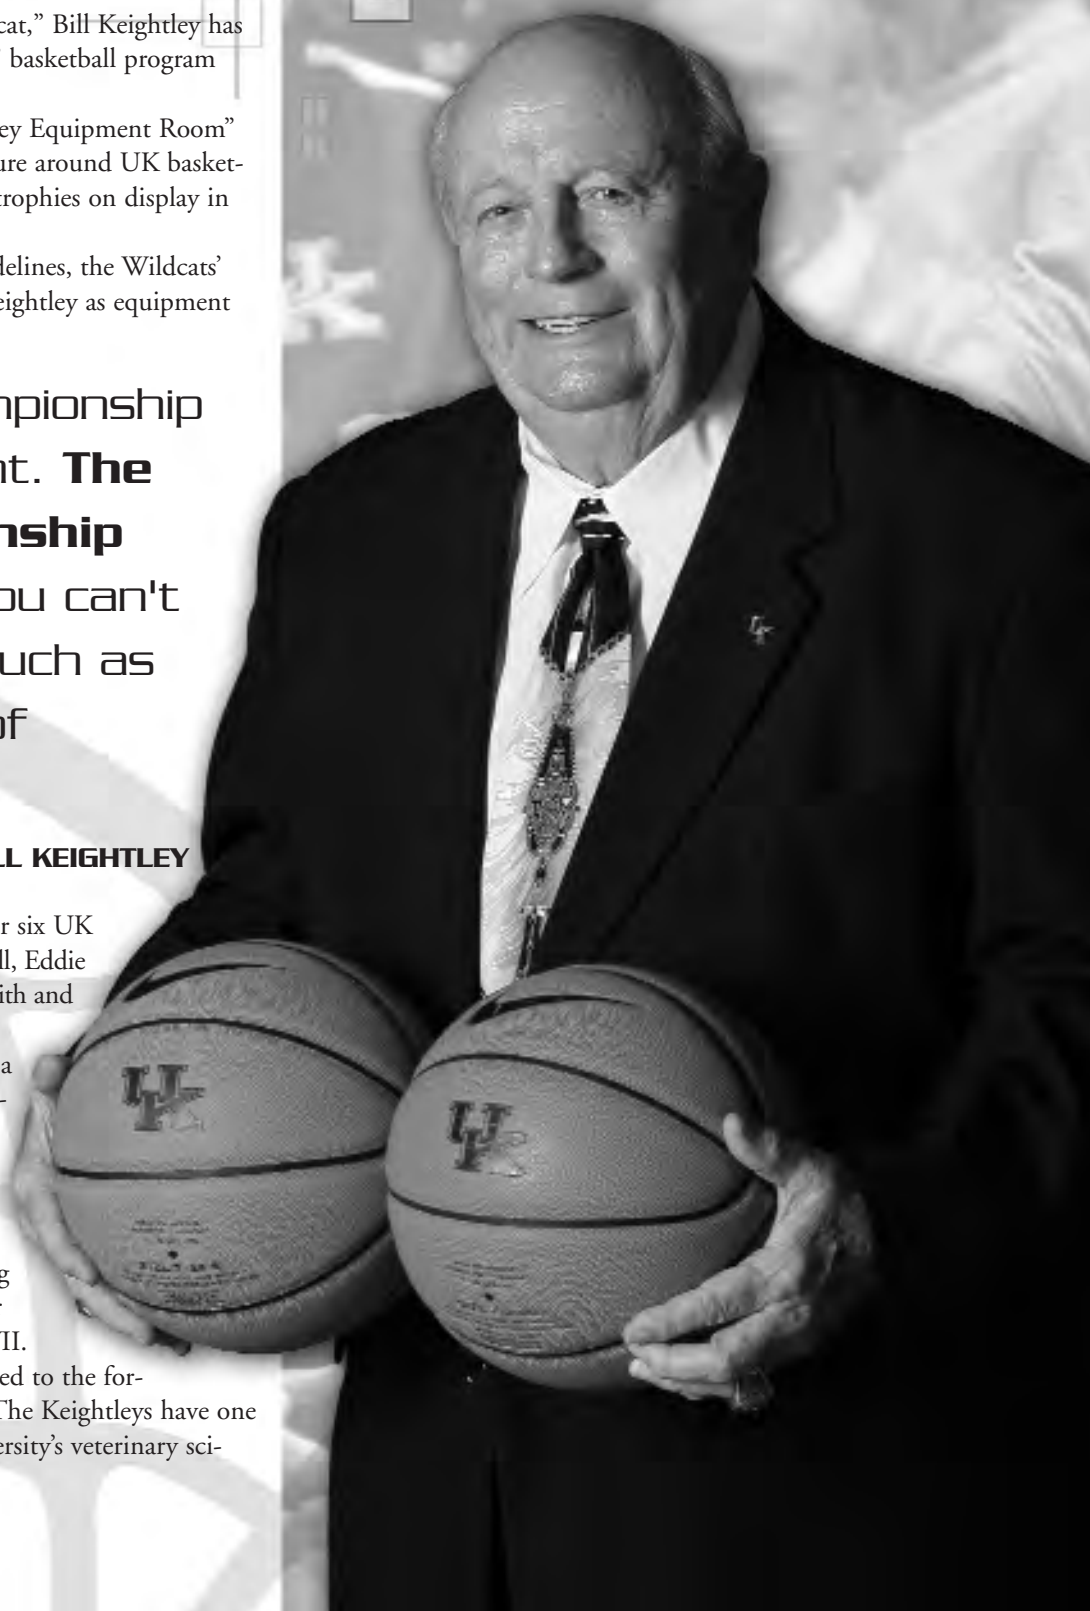

— BILL KEIGHTLEY

During his tenure, he has served under six UK head coaches — Adolph Rupp, Joe B. Hall, Eddie Sutton, Rick Pitino, Orlando “Tubby” Smith and Billy Gillispie.

In 1997, UK honored Keightley with a retired jersey in his honor. He joins veteran broadcaster Cawood Ledford as the only non-player or coach to have a jersey retired at UK.

Keightley, 80, graduated from Kavanaugh High School in Lawrenceburg and is a retired U.S. Postal Service carrier and veteran of the Marine Corps in WWII.

The avid Cincinnati Reds fan is married to the former Hazel Robinson of Lawrenceburg. The Keightleys have one daughter, Karen, who works in the University’s veterinary science department.

Bill Keightley received the Lifetime Achievement Award from UK President Dr. Lee and Mrs. Patsy Todd at the 2005 CATSPY Awards.

CHRIS WALKER

Chris Walker is in his inaugural season with the Kentucky basketball program.

In addition to day-to-day administrative responsibilities, Walker assists players with academic responsibilities, coordinates scouting and film preparation and acts as the liaison to the video department.

A two-year letterman at Texas A&M, Walker's association with coach Billy Gillispie is one for the ages. The night before Gillispie was hired as Texas A&M's basketball coach, prior to the 2004-05 season, Chris Walker's team won the school's intramural championship; a year later he was starting in the Big 12 Conference for the new coach. He walked-on to the team in the fall and quickly gained Gillispie's attention with his grit and determination.

Walker played in 31 games, starting in 26 — including 15 Big 12 games. He averaged 4.5 points and 3.1 rebounds, despite being a 6-5 forward in a league of talented giants.

Consequently, he was named to the Big 12 All-Bench and All-Walkon Teams by The Daily Oklahoman.

Along the way, he earned his degree in computer science, graduating Magna Cum Laude in December of 2005 with a 3.7 GPA.

Walker did not play organized basketball for two years after playing the 2001-02 season at UT-Dallas, a Division III school where he was named the conference's Freshman of the Year. He averaged 11.9 points and 5.3 rebounds and earned a spot on the Freshman All-America Team. He was a second-team all-region pick as a senior at Grapevine High School and was named the district's offensive player of the year.

PETER WARDEN

Peter Warden is in his first season with the Kentucky basketball program where he serves in an administrative support role on Billy Gillispie's staff.

Warden spent five seasons at Texas A&M as a student manager, including two years as head manager prior to serving the 2006-07 season on Gillispie's administrative staff at Texas A&M.

He has served as an administrator for three foreign summer tours with Athletes in Action. AIA toured Australia in 2007 and played in the William Jones Cup in Taiwan in 2006. AIA also toured East Asia in 2005. The American team captured the Jones Cup in 2006.

A native of Houston, Texas, Warden received his undergraduate and master's degree in accounting from A&M's prestigious Professional Program in Accounting (PPA) in 2006. He was named the 2006 Outstanding PPA Student. In 2005, Warden spent a 10-week internship with the accounting firm BDO Seidman.

In high school, Warden attended Second Baptist and helped the school win TAPPS Class 4A state basketball and football championships. He also was a cross country runner and earned all-district honors as a distance runner in track.

Warden was co-founder of TXPrivatesports.com a website devoted to coverage of private high school sports.

At A&M, he was active in Breakaway Ministries for five years and served the organization as an intern in 2005-06.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

TODD FORCIER

Todd Forcier makes his Kentucky debut this season in his first year as the strength coach for the Wildcats.

Forcier comes to UK after spending five seasons at Syracuse, where as assistant strength coach he worked with men's and women's basketball, men's soccer, women's rowing and women's volleyball.

"Kentucky is fortunate to be able to attract the very best, and Todd Forcier is one of the very best in the business," head coach Billy Gillispie said when Forcier was hired in the summer 2007. "Todd has helped his players achieve a great deal while also making sure they are physically prepared for any professional opportunities they may have when they leave school. We're excited to have him at UK."

Prior to Syracuse, Forcier served as the basketball strength coach at Dayton for four years. He also spent a year (1997-98) as assistant strength coach at UNLV and three years (1993-96) as assistant strength coach with the NBA's Seattle SuperSonics.

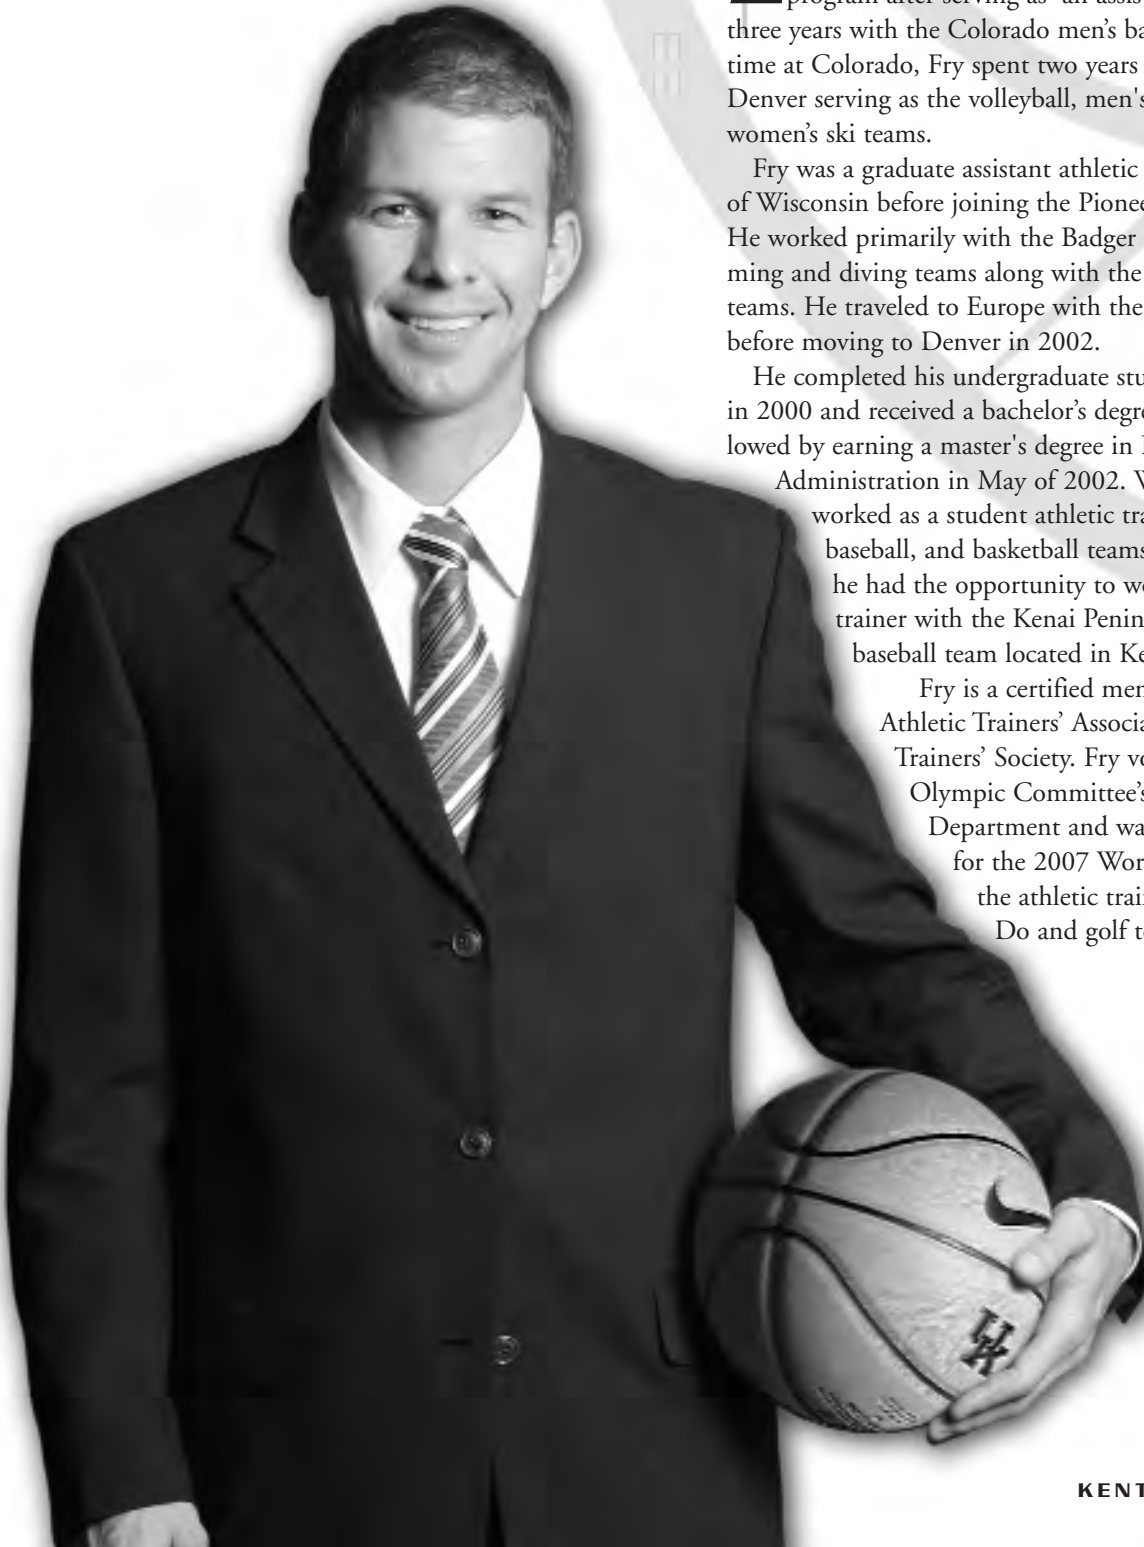

Forcier is a licensed (LMT), Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) and Performance Enhancement Specialist (PES).

A native of Rainier, Washington, Forcier graduated from Washington State in 1999 with a degree in kinesiology. He married the former Shannon Prime on August 18, 2007.

HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

ERIC FRY

Eric Fry enters his first season with the Kentucky basketball program after serving as an assistant athletic trainer for three years with the Colorado men's basketball team. Prior to his time at Colorado, Fry spent two years at the University of Denver serving as the volleyball, men's lacrosse, and men's and women's ski teams.

Fry was a graduate assistant athletic trainer for the University of Wisconsin before joining the Pioneer athletic training staff. He worked primarily with the Badger men's and women's swimming and diving teams along with the men's and women's soccer teams. He traveled to Europe with the women's soccer team just before moving to Denver in 2002.

He completed his undergraduate studies at Purdue University in 2000 and received a bachelor's degree in athletic training followed by earning a master's degree in Higher Education Administration in May of 2002. While at Purdue he worked as a student athletic trainer with the football, baseball, and basketball teams. During his time there he had the opportunity to work as an intern athletic trainer with the Kenai Peninsula Oilers, a summer baseball team located in Kenai, Alaska.

Fry is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association and College Athletic Trainers' Society. Fry volunteers for the U.S. Olympic Committee's Sports Medicine Department and was in Bangkok, Thailand for the 2007 World University Games as the athletic trainer for the U.S. Tae Kwon Do and golf team.

ASSISTANT ATHLETICS DIRECTOR LEON SMITH

Leon Smith is in his seventh season at his alma mater and his second as an Assistant Athletics Director. Smith serves primarily as the team administrator. His duties include managing and overseeing the annual budget, supervising all non-coaching staff and office supervisor, coordinating and negotiating all team travel, serving as staff liaison with all other departments and coordinating and directing any special projects assigned by the head coach and the athletics director. He also shares the responsibility with on-campus recruiting.

Prior to returning to Lexington, Smith spent two years as an Assistant Director of Championships for the National Collegiate Athletic Association, overseeing management of several NCAA Division I, II and III Championships and serving as the national office liaison to those championship committees. Before joining the NCAA, he worked one year for USA Basketball, serving as the assistant director for men's programs. His duties included organizing men's national team trials, coordinating squad travel, serving as liaison to several committees and handling all arrangements for various collegiate and high school teams that were selected to compete internationally by USA Basketball.

As a Wildcat, the Louisville native lettered three seasons as a wide receiver for the UK football team (1993-95). His best season was his junior year when he led the team in receiving with 27 catches for 375 yards. Smith received numerous awards, including the CFA and "SEC Good Works Team" honors. At Trinity High School, he was a three-year starter in football during the team's state-record 50 consecutive victories, which included three Class 4A State Championships during his career.

Smith, 35, graduated from UK in 1995, and graduated from the NCAA Leadership Institute for Ethnic Minority Males last year. He has a 10-year-old son, Tucker and recently married the former Margaret Ekins.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

DR. LEE T. TODD, JR.

Lee T. Todd, Jr. became the 11th president of the University of Kentucky on July 1, 2001, after serving as senior vice president of IBM's Lotus Development Corp. President Todd is the sixth UK alumnus to hold the presidency.

President Todd has concentrated his efforts and energies on helping his alma mater achieve a greater level of national prominence. He launched the University of Kentucky's Top 20 Business Plan in December 2005. The plan is a quantitative analysis highlighting what it will take for UK to achieve its state-mandated goal of building a Top 20 public research university. Widely hailed as the first business plan by a public university in the nation, UK's plan has garnered widespread national attention. It has been featured by national media outlets and recognized by peer institutions, as several higher education leaders have visited UK's campus to learn more about the Business Plan approach. The Top 20 Business Plan has also gained support throughout the Commonwealth, as the Kentucky General Assembly fully funded the plan beginning in 2007-08.

President Todd has spearheaded an effort to revitalize health care in Kentucky. In June 2006, UK unveiled the Commonwealth's Medical Campus of the Future, a multi-phased project aimed at providing Kentuckians with cutting-edge, 21st century health care. As part of a revamped academic medical campus, UK will construct a new, one million square foot University of Kentucky Albert B. Chandler Hospital, a new College of Pharmacy, and a new University Health Service facility.

All three of those projects are currently in progress.

President Todd is currently a member of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee for the American Council on Education (ACE) and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC). He also serves on NASULGC's Council of Presidents. He serves on the Equitable Resources Board of Directors and is chair of the National Science Foundation (NSF) Education and Human Resources Advisory Committee. He is chair of the Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education's STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) Task Force and is also a member of the Business Higher Education Forum and the Council on Competitiveness.

He is married to the former Patricia Brantley, a UK graduate who earned her master's degree from Simmons College in Boston. They have two adult children, UK graduates Troy and Kathryn.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

MITCH BARNHART

Mitch Barnhart is in his sixth year as Director of Athletics for the University of Kentucky, having set a clear course for making Kentucky one of the top athletics programs in the country.

Hired July 15, 2002, Barnhart has made the desire for overall excellence the cornerstone of Wildcat Athletics. His decision to fully fund all 22 varsity sports has produced a wave of firsts in a number of programs, while also allowing UK to achieve its highest NACDA Directors' Cup finish (33rd in 2005-06) in eight years.

Numerous sports have reached never-before seen levels of success. Baseball won the school's first ever Southeastern Conference title in 2006, following in the SEC championship footsteps of women's tennis, men's golf and men's basketball from 2005. Four Wildcat coaches earned SEC Coach of the Year honors in 2005-06, including women's basketball's Mickie DeMoss, volleyball's Craig Skinner, diving's Mike Lyden and baseball's John Cohen.

Hired July 15, 2002, Barnhart has made the desire for overall excellence the cornerstone of Wildcat Athletics.

The women's soccer and rifle teams added league titles in 2006-07, with conference Coach of the Year honors going to Warren Lipka and Harry Mullins, respectively.

Barnhart instructed his staff to seek out new revenue streams, and that resulted in a record $80 million multimedia rights agreement with Host Communications. The additional resources allow UK to continue its commitment to its student-athletes, a commitment Barnhart takes personally. Athletics spends $1.5 million annually on its nationally-renowned CATS Academic Center and each spring hosts the CATSPYs, an awards program designed to recognize the very best in UK Athletics.

Other initiatives begun under Barnhart's leadership include the Big Blue Caravan, which connects UK to its vast fan base each spring, the UK Athletics Hall of Fame, which honors past greats across all sports, a revamping of UK's donor program that has resulted in record K Fund dollars, and a 10-year, $10-million commitment to help fund the University's general scholarship program. UK also completed the Joe Craft Center, a $30 million expansion of Memorial Coliseum that includes new practice and office space for a variety of sports, basketball chief among them.

Barnhart's connection to UK's student-athlete is evident by his personal interaction and commitment to provide all support services necessary to meet the needs of these students. Barnhart arrived at Kentucky from Oregon State, where he served four successful years (1998-2002) as athletics director. Before his tenure at OSU, he worked at Tennessee for 12 years (1986-98); served as assistant executive director of the SMU Mustang Club (1983-86); regional director for the Duck Athletic Fund at Oregon (1983); and was an intern for the Aztec Athletic Foundation at San Diego State (1982-1983). Barnhart, 48, is a native of Kansas City, Kan. He received his bachelor degree from Ottawa University (Kansas) in 1981 and a masters in sports administration from Ohio University in 1982. He and his wife, the former Connie Brown, have three children, Kirby, 19, Blaire, 16, and Scott, 13.

THE GREATEST TRADITION IN THE HISTORY OF COLLEGE BASKETBALL

2006-07 IN REVIEW

BIG BLUE MADNESS

Rupp Arena has hosted Big Blue Madness the last two years, with over 23,000 fans packing the downtown Lexington facility for the beginning of another UK basketball season. Last year, every ticket was distributed within 45 minutes of becoming available to the public. Madness is also televised live throughout the region via FSN South.

Detroit Pistons announcer John Mason (left) entertained fans at Big Blue Madness in 2005 and 2006. Fans were delighted at the 2002 event, held in Memorial Coliseum, when longtime equipment manager Bill Keightley (center) emerged from the cake celebrating the program's 100th anniversary.

"The defending national champ Gators filled every seat in their 12,000-seat arena for one non-conference game: Ohio State. Kentucky, meanwhile, put more than 23,000 in the stands for its Midnight Madness practice."

2006 Maui INVITATIONAL

Kentucky participated in the 2006 EA Sports Maui Invitational, the fourth time the Wildcats have traveled to Lahaina for the prestigious event. UK spent five days on the tropical island, playing three games and enjoying a taste of life in Hawaii.

Parrish: The Thoughts

By Gary Parrish
CBS SportsLine.com Senior Writer
Full Gary's column!

Gary Parrish weighs in regularly on what's happening in college basketball. E-Mail To A Friend!

Kentucky fans are passionate. Everybody has understood that for a while, and so when I wrote a column about Billy Gillispie I knew the response would be heavy, if only because anything written about the Wildcats garners heavy attention. I'll include some of the notes in this week's mailbag, but one message caught my attention so much that I had to reply to the guy personally. It came from David.

It read. ...

Giddy? I just bought a summer home in Arizona so I could register my corvette there because it was the only state with the 4KYCATS license plate available. We are back! Nice read.

Naturally, I was intrigued. The idea of a man buying a summer home based solely on the idea that a particular license plate was available in that state seemed like the very definition of passionate. So I e-mailed David and asked for more details. His response was excellent.

A real estate agent told me how to go online and check the states' computers for personalized plate combinations. I was looking for a summer home and had tried other Rocky Mountain States for months to come up with a combination that would look cool on a red corvette, but everything is taken by all the wildcat fans. Found a home near Sedona, Arizona. Looked on the state's MVD computer, and lucky me there was 4KYCATS. Everywhere I drive that car I meet Kentucky bball fans. Bottom of Bryce Canyon national park: Ky fans. Top of the capitol dome in Denver: Ky fans. Ran out of gas on a charter boat in the mangrove swamp of the Florida Keys. Who comes to my rescue? Ky fans who saw my Ky jersey and towed me back, told me if I had been a Duke fan they would have left me there to die.

... there is no denying members of the so-called Big Blue Nation comprise the most passionate fan base in the country, and it's really not even close.

"They have the most passionate fans of anyone I have ever been around in basketball.

I have been to Duke, North Carolina.

No one is more passionate about basketball than Kentucky fans.

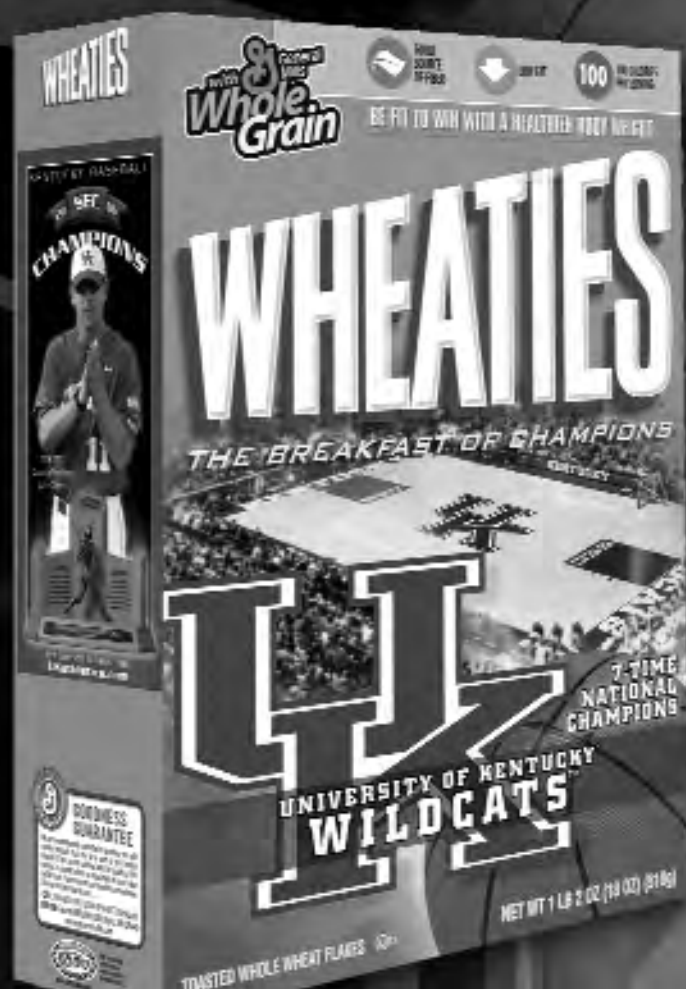

It is a phenomena you cannot duplicate anywhere else. When you go there for a big game, it is one of the few places I can feel the electricity because it is so important to the people in the stands."

— DICK WEISS, NEW YORK DAILY NEWS

ESPN GAMEDAY AT RUPP ARENA

Since hitting the road in 2005, ESPN's College Basketball GameDay has appeared twice at historic Rupp Arena. The GameDay crew, which includes Rece Davis, Jay Bilas, Hubert Davis and Digger Phelps, travels to the site of ESPN's featured Saturday night primetime game each week. GameDay visited Lexington for UK's home game with Mississippi State in 2005, and again in 2007 for a matchup with Florida.

"I love Rupp Arena.

It oozes history and tradition ... on the inside, it has the feel of a basketball cathedral. Rupp is big, it is loud, and it is intimidating. Kentucky wins at Rupp because the Wildcats are really good, but also because of Rupp."

— JAY BILAS, ESPN GAMEDAY

AT THE CENTER OF MEDIA ATTENTION

Kentucky basketball generates immense media attention from national, regional and local outlets. One of college basketball's largest media contingents follows the Wildcats throughout the year, home and away, to satisfy the insatiable appetite UK fans have for the Big Blue.

"When the word 'Kentucky' is spoken, it often evokes thoughts of a bounding basketball. The University of Kentucky epitomizes the best in the sport - seven national championships and the most victories on record. With that success comes national exposure, which includes nearly every game televised. The exposure each Wildcat receives is not just exposure as college basketball player. It is as a basketball player at The University of Kentucky, the best college basketball has to offer."

— JOE B. HALL, LEGENDARY UK BASKETBALL COACH

Adolph Rupp is synonymous with winning. As coach of Kentucky, he was a pioneer in the Wildcats' fast-break offense while becoming the winningest coach the game had ever seen.

The site that now serves as a tribute to his outstanding coaching accomplishments — Rupp Arena — has become one of the most recognizable gymnasiums in the world while serving as home to college basketball's most storied program.

Now in its 32nd season as the Kentucky Wildcats' home court, the facility has seen UK win 89 percent of its home games since it was opened in 1976.

The Cats have won 18 national attendance titles since moving to Rupp for the 1976-77 season, including 11 in the last 12 years. Last year, UK average 23,421 fans at home.

Kentucky has rewarded those fans by posting a 401-50 (.889) all-time record in Rupp Arena, including a 228-31 (.880) record in regular-season SEC games in downtown Lexington.

An awesome structure in size and scope, Rupp Arena has served as NCAA Tournament host site 11 times, including the 1985 Final Four.

Joe Craft CENTER

As the new headquarters of UK Athletics and Kentucky basketball, the Joe Craft Center provides the Wildcats with a multi-purpose practice and training center unlike any other in the nation. Located across the street from the Wildcat Lodge and just minutes from Rupp Arena, it brings together the various aspects of UK's practice, athletic training and treatment, strength training and conditioning, team meetings and film review all under one roof.

The building is named after Hazard (Ky.) native Joe Craft, who gave $6 million towards the $30 million state-of-the-art facility.

"It's important to give each of our programs the facilities that are necessary for them to compete. The construction of the Joe Craft Center is the most important thing we could have done for Kentucky Basketball and the athletics department in total."

Kentucky not only wears Nike, but is under an all-school contract with the athletic apparel company.

In 1997, UK signed the popular contract with the makers of the trademark swoosh. Thanks to Nike's extensive research and product development, UK student-athletes stay on the cutting edge of quality and style with all of their gear.

All 22 sports use Nike shoes and equipment and over the course of the contract, the Wildcats will receive millions of dollars worth of clothing, equipment and cash. The men's basketball team has been recognized by the apparel company as a "Nike

1950-51 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

KENTUCKY 68, KANSAS STATE 58

March 27, 1951 • Minneapolis, Minn.

Bill Spivey scored 22 points and an ailing Cliff Hagan sparked UK to its third NCAA title. It was then that Rupp inserted the ailing Hagan. It was a move that may have proved the difference as the sophomore forward sparked a rally that saw UK cut the Kansas State lead to 29-27 at the half.

Led by Hagan and Spivey, who dominated the boards, UK outscored Kansas State 41-29 in the second half to complete the come-from-behind victory.

KENTUCKY 76, SYRACUSE 67

April 1, 1996 • East Rutherford, N.J.

Tony Delk tied a championship game record with seven three-pointers and the Wildcats withstood a late Orangemen rally to win UK's sixth national title before a capacity crowd of 19,229 in the Continental Airlines Arena at the Meadowlands.

Delk, the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player, canned seven of 12 three-pointers to lead the Cats with 24 points. But after Syracuse had cut the lead to two, 64-62, with 4:46 remaining, a Delk misfire was tipped in by Walter McCarty to extend UK's lead to four. After holding the Orangemen on the next possession, Derek Anderson drained a three to push the lead to seven. SU would get no closer than five in the final minutes.

Delk was joined on the Final Four All-Tournament team by freshman Ron Mercer, who was sensational off the bench, scoring a career-high 20 points on 8-12 shooting from the field, including 3-4 from three-point range.

1997-98 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

KENTUCKY 78, UTAH 69

March 30, 1998 • San Antonio, Texas

Kentucky battled back from a 41-31 half-time deficit to Utah — the largest halftime margin ever overcome in an NCAA title game — to claim the school's seventh national championship before 40,509 fans in the Alamodome.

Utah was propelled to the early lead thanks to a 24-6 rebounding advantage in the first half. But Heshimu Evans sparked the "Comeback Cats" off the bench with seven straight points early in the second half. Later, Final Four Most Outstanding Player Jeff Sheppard canned a baseline jumper with 4:54 remaining to give UK a 65-64 lead. The exhausted Utes then missed 11 consecutive field goals as the Wildcats claimed their second NCAA Championship in three years.

Scott Padgett joined Sheppard on the All-Final Four team after scoring 17 points. UK outrebounded the Utes 18-15 in the second half.

BIG BLUE PAGEANTRY

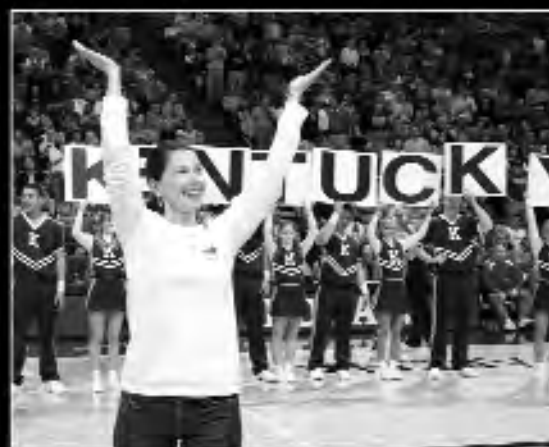

GO

On, On, U of K ...

On, on U of K, we are right
for the fight today,
Hold that ball and hit that line,
every Wildcat star will shine,
We'll fight, fight, fight,
for the blue and white,
As we roll to that goal, varsity,
And we'll kick, pass and run,
'til the battle is won,
And we'll bring home the victory.

From frequent celebrity sightings to pre-game fireworks and videoboard introductions to special senior day festivities to the main event itself, there is nothing else like Kentucky basketball in Rupp Arena.
