LSU BASKETBALL PRACTICE FACILITY

COMPLETION DATE - JANUARY 2010

Construction is in its final stages for the new 58,960 square foot LSU men's and women's basketball practice facility. The facility is attached to the north side of the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

LOBBY

A central two story lobby and grand staircase ascends to the second level. The lobby will showcase team banners, trophy cases and memorabilia from seasons past.

PRACTICE GYMS

Each gym is 11,324 square feet in size and includes a regulation NCAA court in length with two regulation high school courts in the opposite direction. Each gym court is an exact replica of the Maravich Center competition court.

STATE-OF-THE-ART LOCKER ROOM

For the first time since the opening of the Maravich Center, the men's basketball dressing room will move to a new location as part of the new practice facility. Included in the building will be a team lounge, training room, equipment room and coaches' locker room.

TRENT JOHNSON LSU BASKETBALL

Character. Ability. Personal Integrity. Proactive. Mentor. Teacher. Demanding. Basketball Junkie. Loyal.

To LSU players, those associated with the program, and fans, LSU Basketball coach Trent Johnson is best described by these words. During his first year at LSU, the Southeastern Conference recognized those traits as LSU made its way through a 13-3 conference season that resulted in the school's 10th league championship. Nationally, people also respected the job Johnson did as he took his team to the NCAA Tournament and beat a ranked Butler team before grudgingly falling late to North Carolina. That national respect was shown with awards both from the league and from several national groups:

- ▶ Consensus choice as SEC Coach of the Year
- ▶ Finalist, Naismith Coach of the Year (Atlanta Tipoff Club)
- ▶ Finalist, Jim Phelan Coach of the Year (Collegeinsider.com)
- ▶ Finalist, Clair Bee Coach of the Year (NABC)
- ▶ Finalist, Skip Prosser Man of the Year
- ▶ Listed as one of "Five Best 2008-09 First-Year Coaches" (Athlon)

A Commitment to Work

Coach Trent Johnson enters his second season as the head coach at LSU and the commitment from the team to work hard everyday will be important during his second campaign in Baton Rouge.

Gone are five seniors, including the SEC Player of the Year, who helped LSU to a regular season Southeastern Conference championship with a 13-3 record and helped Coach Johnson earn consensus All-SEC Coach of the Year honors. The Tigers recorded a 27-8 record and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament before losing to North Carolina in Greensboro, N.C., 84-70, in the closest game of any that the eventual champions would face on their road to the title.

The lessons of the successful 2008-09 season remain as two starters are back. Along with the young talent who had moments to shine last year, and two freshman signees, the Tigers look forward to both the challenges and opportunities ahead of them.

Returning Starters

Tasmin Mitchell returns for his senior campaign, his fifth at LSU. The Denham Springs native made a triumphant return after ankle surgery that limited his 2008-09 campaign to just three games. Now he is expected to move back to the three position he played during his freshman and sophomore seasons for the 2009-10 season.

A year ago, Mitchell earned First Team All-SEC honors, averaging 16.3 points per game, eighth best in the SEC. He also averaged 7.2 rebounds while shooting 52.2 percent (224-of-429) from the field and 72.5 percent from the free throw line (111-of-153). Mitchell didn't need to shoot the three as much while playing down low for the Tigers, but stepped outside to make 10-of-19 attempts, including the game-winning three against Kentucky at Rupp Arena that clinched the outright SEC regular season title for LSU.

He enters the year on pace to be the all-time leader in minutes played with 3,535. The mark he will be trying to eclipse was set last year by former teammate Garrett Temple. He's also on pace to become just the third player in LSU history to score 2,000 career points.

Bo Spencer is back for his junior season and his second year as the starting point guard on the team. Johnson taught Spencer the role of the point guard in his system and Spencer responded with a strong campaign that saw him not only start the offense but score significant points.

Spencer averaged 11.4 points per game and 2.6 assists per game. The Baton Rouge native made 60 three-pointers and shot 40.3 percent from the three-point arc. He also canned 84.0 percent of his free throws (68-of-81). More importantly as the point guard, Spencer had a positive assist-to-turnover ratio with 87 assists and 63 turnovers.

Returnees

Also back for the Tigers are players who will be asked to step up when given the opportunity during the season as some of them did at crucial times during the 2008-09 season.

Alex Farrer will be the only other senior on the 2010 squad. After appearing in 14 games a year ago, he equaled his career high of 11 points in the second game of the season versus Alcorn State, and when he can get his outside shot going, he can be another long-range scoring threat for LSU from outside the arc.

Chris Bass is an offensive speedster when bringing the ball up the court as he showed in his time at the point a year ago in his freshman campaign and can put the offense in a different gear if needed. The younger brother of former SEC Player of the Year and now Orlando Magic star Brandon Bass, Chris Bass had 43 assists and just 14 turnovers during the season while appearing in 28 games.

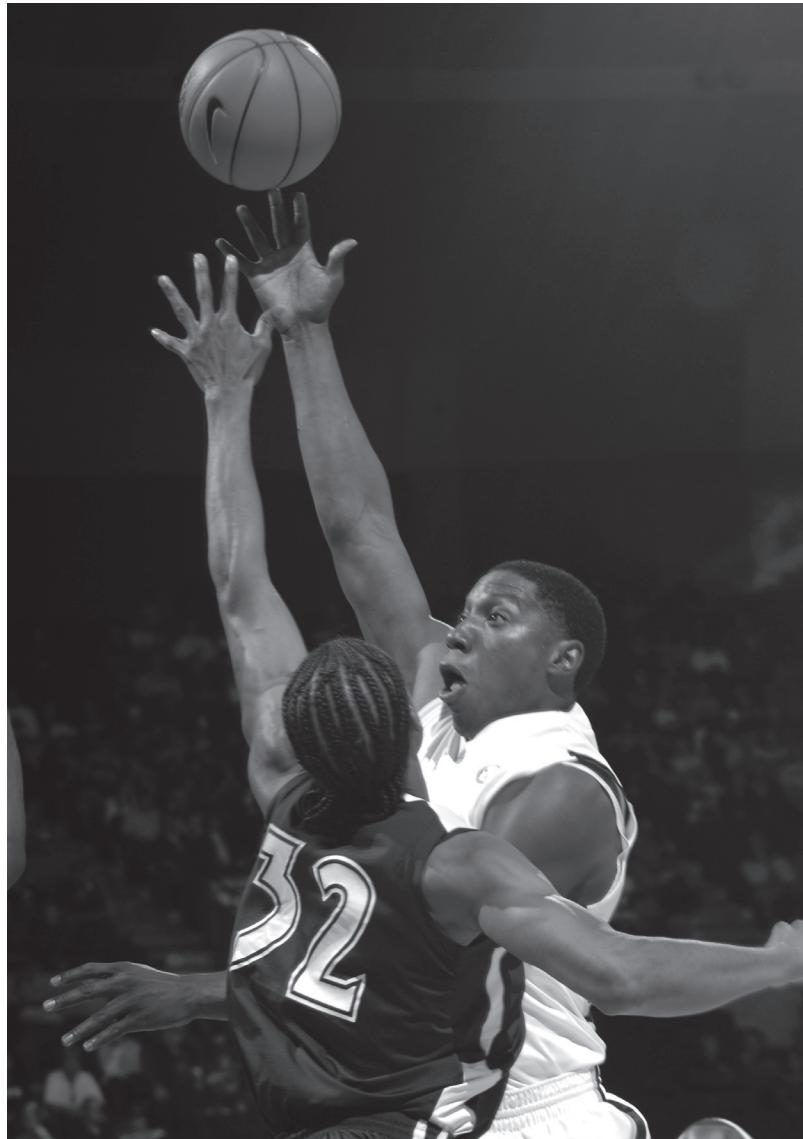

Storm Warren appeared in 30 games in his freshman year and in his playing time made 21-of-49 field goal attempts (42.9 percent). In league play against Mississippi State he had seven points in 13 minutes in the double-overtime win in Starkville and in the SEC

Storm Warren

Tasmin Mitchell

Tournament scored six points in 13 minutes.

Walk-on Zach Kinsley will be back for his second year with the team and the Baton Rouge native was a big help to the LSU coaching staff on the scout team prior to games to allow the team to put in to practice what the coaches have broken down on film.

Garrett Green played in 25 games averaging just under 10 minutes a game for the 2007-08 Tigers. A lower back problem and subsequent surgery sidelined him for the entire 2008-09 season, but he is expected to be back by the start of preseason practice. In his freshman season Green made 20-of-47 field goal attempts, scoring in 16 games.

Newcomers

Dennis Harris was redshirted by the coaching staff in 2009, but had the advantage of practicing with the team and helping with game preparation as a member of the scout team. Harris was a 2008 All-Metro Atlanta (Ga.) selection.

Joining the team as freshman this year will be two outstanding signees - Aaron Dotson of Seattle and Eddie Ludwig from the New Orleans suburb of Metairie.

Dotson, from Rainier Beach High School in Washington, was forced to play a limited amount of games as a high school senior because of a crack in the patella tendon of his left knee, but surgery has taken care of that and he is expected to be ready to go as well this fall. Dotson averaged 13.5 points as a junior in helping Rainier to the Class 3A State title in Washington in 2008.

Ludwig, from Metairie Park Country Day, a little over an hour from Baton Rouge, was part of the state championship team in 1A a year ago and was named the 1A Player of the Year in Louisiana as both a junior and a senior. Ludwig averaged 23.4 points and 14 boards as a junior and posted numbers of 19.8 points, 13 rebounds and 4.2 assists this past season.

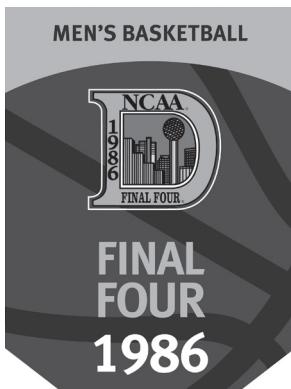

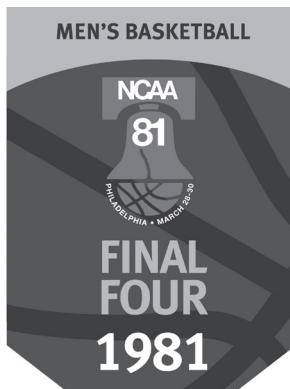

The team also has three new walk-ons joining the team -- junior Chris Beattie of Slidell, sophomore Taylor Jacobsen of Charlotte and freshman Daron Populist of Slidell. All three have good high school numbers and the trio will aid the team in game and practice preparation and will need to be ready when their number might be called.

Schedule

LSU will have some demanding contests in non-conference play to prepare them for the rigors of the SEC, starting with two games in the pre-season NIT. LSU is one of the four hosts for the first two rounds of the event with Arizona State, Duke and UConn. If LSU can win both of its first two games, it will travel to New York on Thanksgiving week for the semifinal and final round.

LSU will also have two road challenges in the preseason - going to the hometown of Coach Johnson and Dotson for a game at the Key Arena in Seattle against Washington State before Christmas and an after Christmas visit to Cincinnati to take on always tough Xavier.

Utah of the Mountain West Conference and Rice from the WAC will make appearances in the Maravich Center before SEC teams begin play begins in the second week of January.

LSU's Memorial Tower (top main photo) was one of the first structures completed on the present campus and sits east of the quadrangle (above, left). It represents the University as a memorial to those who gave their lives during World War I. Although it currently houses the LSU Anglo-American Art Museum, plans are in process to return Memorial Tower to a military museum as originally intended. The University lakes (above, right) on the LSU campus give various recreational options.

Louisiana State University and Agricultural & Mechanical College has, throughout its 145-year history, served the people of Louisiana, the region, the nation, and the world. LSU is creating a revolution, one of pervasive change and advancement. For the past five years, the focus of the LSU community has been an increased commitment to excellence. Our progress has been dramatic and shows no sign of stopping.

Having witnessed many of yesterday's possibilities become today's tangible realities, the LSU community set forth to capitalize on its success. The goal was to improve our standing as a nationally competitive flagship university. Following intense discussions among the LSU Board of Supervisors, campus administrators, faculty, and student leaders, the objectives required to reach this status crystallized, providing the impetus for LSU's National Flagship Agenda.

Newsweek

Newsweek magazine named Louisiana State University the "Most Diverse" school in the nation in the Sept. 3, 2003, issue. The enrollment consists of 24 percent minority students.

The Most Diverse SCHOOL IN THE NATION

African-American Cultural Center

The African-American Cultural Center provides a multifaceted approach to working with all students at LSU. It offers opportunities for people to learn about the contributions of African-American men and women in the areas of literature, science and the humanities. In addition, opportunities for the University community to have greater exposure to art exhibits, dance troupes, theatre, poetry readings and educational programs are provided.

Educational programs for the African-American Cultural Center are the heart of the center. The scope of these programs fall into the following four categories:

- Historical/Political
- Artistic
- Informal Student Advising
- Community Outreach

Community OUTREACH

LSU student-athletes participate in a variety of community service projects including reading in schools, nursing home visits, hospital pediatric ward visits and speaking engagements.

Halloween Boozar

LSU's annual Halloween Boozar is a huge success in the community. The Halloween Boozar is an annual event put on by the LSU CHAMPS program that allows local children to visit with student-athletes.

In the Community

Alex Farrer and the LSU basketball team (left) makes an annual trip to the children's wing at Our Lady of the Lake Hospital.

Media Training

LSU is one of the few schools where student-athletes go through media training to enhance their communications skills. In fact, this past summer, incoming freshman student-athletes went through a multiple week session that involved understanding of how important communication skills would be in their college life and beyond.

Dr. Tommy Karam and Dr. Shirley White are two experts in the field and both worked with the men's basketball team prior to the 2009-10 season. Dr. White met in two one-hour sessions with the entire team focusing on their verbal skills and Dr. Karam met with small groups of players giving them individual attention regarding communication tips in a media interview.

Through the use of video tape, Drs. Karam and White are able to provide instant feedback to the practice interviews, allowing student-athletes to become more comfortable and confident when doing actual interviews.

"Through workshops, service projects, and social events, CHAMPS, brings LSU student-athletes information that will prepare them for the biggest game of all - the game of life!"

CHAMPS/Life Skills Program

The CHAMPS (Challenging Athletes Minds for Personal Success)/Life Skills program was developed by the NCAA to help prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the playing field.

How Can CHAMPS Help?

By focusing on "real life" skills and personal development, the CHAMPS Program not only assists the student-athletes with meeting daily challenges, but also enhances student-athlete's growth in their college years and beyond.

CHAMPS at LSU

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program at LSU is operated out of the Academic Center for Student-Athletes, and the focus of the program is on five commitments viewed as critical to personal growth.

The state capitol building of Louisiana, located in the heart of downtown Baton Rouge, is the tallest capitol building in the nation at 34 stories and overlooks the Mississippi River.

Baton Rouge

Hospitality and comfort are a Southern tradition practiced to perfection around Baton Rouge. Minutes from the city, ancient moss-draped oaks, fragrant honeysuckle, formal gardens and the finest examples of Southern architecture await. Combine this with the excitement of the mighty Mississippi River, Cajun music and a gourmet meal that is topped with freshly brewed cafe-au-lait at one of Baton Rouge's fine restaurants. So what does the future hold? Baton Rouge is now one of the fastest growing cities in the South -- a bustling Metropolis of cutting edge technology companies, high-powered law firms and forward thinking city leaders who passionately support the arts and promote the local economy. Old Man River just got an upgrade. Yes, this is one city that's rolling on the river.

Proximity

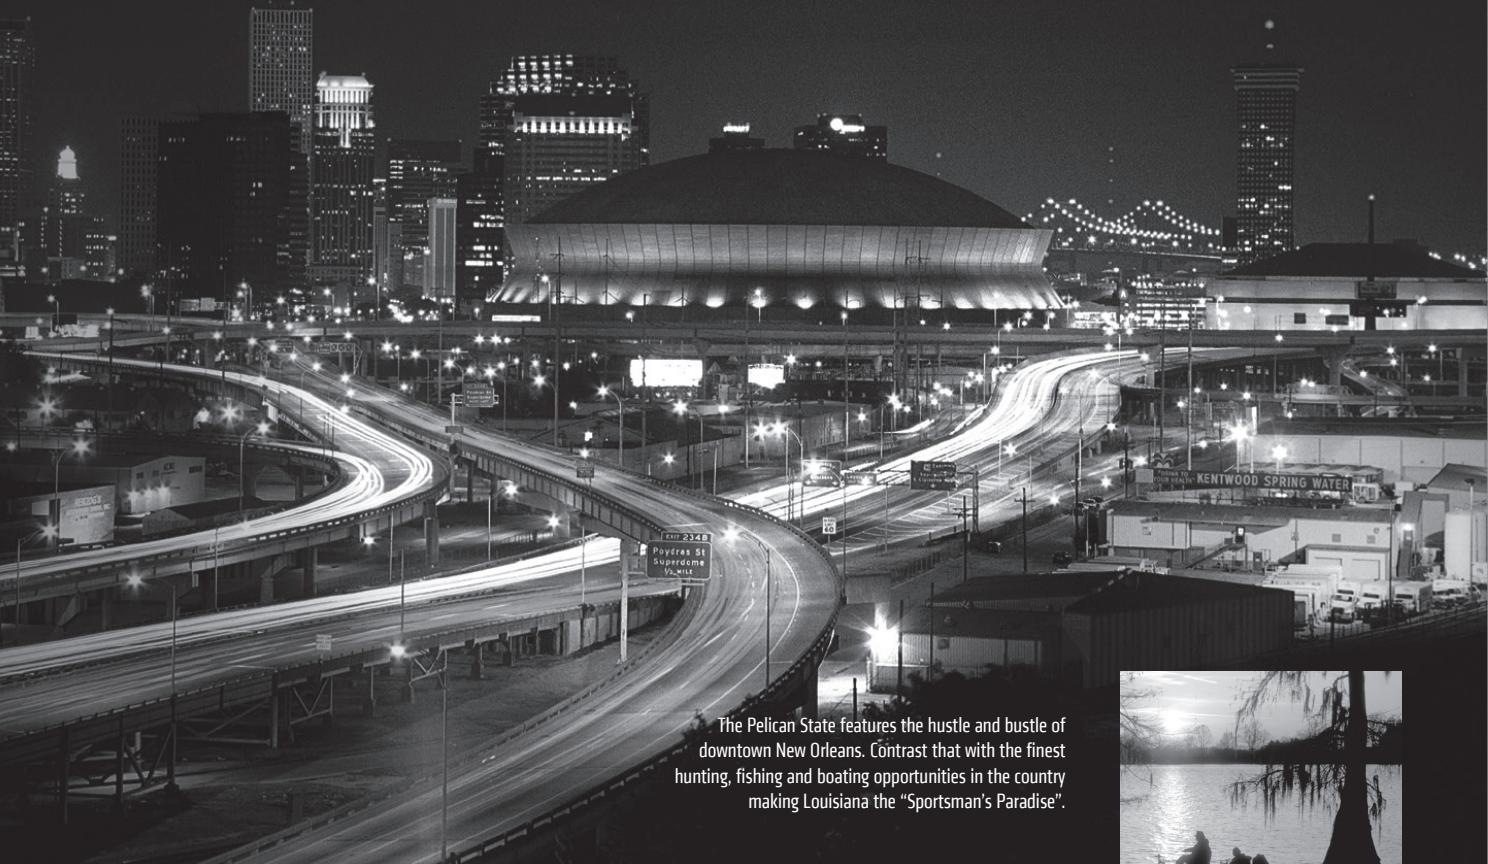

Baton Rouge is just an hour away from the French Quarter in New Orleans and even closer to the million-acre Atchafalaya Swamp, which is called one of the biggest fishing ponds in the country.

Distance Chart from Baton Rouge (BASED ON 70 MPH SPEED):

Atlanta, Ga.	7 hours	Jackson, Miss.	2 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours	New Orleans, La.	1 hour

The Pelican State features the hustle and bustle of downtown New Orleans. Contrast that with the finest hunting, fishing and boating opportunities in the country making Louisiana the "Sportsman's Paradise".

Louisiana

THE PELICAN STATE

Louisiana, one of America's most culturally and geographically diverse states, is located in the heart of the Deep South. Adjacent to the Gulf of Mexico and dotted with hundreds of lakes and bayous, Louisiana is home to all types of terrain from swamps and marshes to lush forests and gentle hills.

◀ Unique Culture

Louisiana is home to Mardi Gras, a two-week party that includes more than 60 parades and millions of visitors from around the world. All year long New Orleans Jazz, Creole culture, stately riverboats and some of the finest cuisine in the world is mixed into the diverse and renowned culture of Louisiana.

Cuisine ▶

Foods like boiled crawfish, jambalaya, shrimp etouffee and gumbo make the cajun and creole cuisine of Louisiana the envy of the nation.

Maravich CENTER

Just at a time when it appeared the Pete Maravich Assembly Center was past the point of being a first-class basketball building, the LSU Athletic Department stepped in and began a three-year campaign to spruce up the building that has been known since 1988 as the PMAC.

In a year when the building would also become famous worldwide as the site of the largest triage unit in history after Hurricane Katrina, the athletic department was able to finish its renovation in time for the 2005-06 season and turn the building back into a showcase for LSU men's basketball.

An interactive concourse area depicting the history of the great players who have starred for LSU in the building, additional restrooms, new seats throughout the arena along with increased court lighting has taken the building to a new level. Now, a new practice facility for men and women is near completion along with a new men's locker room complex helping the Assembly Center's appeal for players and fans for years to come.

The Maravich Assembly Center is, like the other venues LSU basketball has bounced around in through its long history, unique in its own way. Before moving across from Tiger Stadium, the Tigers set up shop in the Pavilion on the old LSU campus, the Huey Long Field House Gym Armory (now the Cox Communications Academic Center) and the John M. Parker Agricultural Center. LSU and SEC fans knew the latter as the "Cow Palace" as it served as the primary home for LSU basketball for three and one-half decades.

Seats 13,215 spectators after $5 million renovation to concourse and seating areas.

But when the LSU Tigers commenced play in the Assembly Center in the 1971-72 season, it marked the beginning of a new era in LSU Roundball. Now, with LSU entering its 39th season in the Assembly Center, the building is the longest running venue in LSU's basketball history.

The building opened as the LSU Assembly Center, but during the summer of 1988, then Louisiana Governor Buddy Roemer signed legislation changing the official name of the building to the Pete Maravich Assembly Center in honor of the LSU star who had died tragically earlier that same year.

The Maravich Center is also the home for the LSU volleyball, gymnastics and women's basketball teams.

Pete Maravich never got to play any of his college ball in the Assembly Center, but the plans for the building came while he and the Tigers were packing the "Cow Palace" from 1967-70. So like Yankee Stadium being the "House that (Babe) Ruth Built", the Assembly Center can certainly be classified as the "Palace that Pete Built."

Athletic and University officials along with building architects break ground on the new basketball practice facility on July 1, 2008.

The addition features two practice gyms, one for Men's Basketball and one for Women's Basketball.

Practice Facility

Construction is nearing completion on the latest vision of LSU basketball, a new $14 million practice facility for the men and women's teams at LSU.

The facility is being constructed by Guy Hopkins Construction of Baton Rouge based on designs by the firm of Tom Holden Architects of Baton Rouge in a unique joint venture with RDG Sports of Des Moines, Iowa.

"This basketball facility will offer our coaches and student-athletes the type of teaching and working environment that will be beneficial to both," said LSU Associate Athletic Director of Operations and Project Development Eddie Nunez. "This facility will compete with everything in our conference and around the country as one of the best practice facilities that our basketball teams have the opportunity to use for years to come."

"The facilities here are exceptional," said LSU men's basketball head coach Trent Johnson. "The thing I appreciate the most about it is the commitment of the people here and the appreciation that they have for LSU. One of the things that we're going to do is that we are going to make sure that the players we recruit understand this commitment and this passion. I was visiting with Ricky Blanton and Rudy Macklin, and they were sharing stories with me of how they used to play in the old 'dungeon' (current practice facility). They would play 1-on-1 or 2-on-2 and boy, would I have liked to witness some of those battles.

"We are going to get more Ricky Blantons.

We are going to get more Rudy Macklins in our basketball program. What I mean by that is they may not be as talented or as gifted, but they are going to be as committed, they are going to play as hard and they are going to have a passion for the LSU institution. I've never been in a situation where I've had the resources, the facilities and the commitment from people as a fan base that I have here at LSU. I think the guys here on my basketball staff have never been in that same situation, so we are extremely excited and extremely thankful for everything that everyone has done to make this happen."

The facility is scheduled to be completed and operational in January of 2010.

Entrance Atrium

Artist rendering of the new Men's Basketball practice court

"I'm a little jealous! I grew up playing in the bottom gym and in the field house. That's where your game improves - in practice. Having a practice facility like this is first class all the way. It's going to bring in the best athletes because the first thing a lot of athletes look at on a recruiting trip is the facilities to see who has the best. When I came along in 1976, LSU had the best facilities out of all of the schools I had been to. Now, we're going to another level. That means other players and All-Americans from around the country would love to come to LSU."

Strength

The LSU strength and conditioning facility in Tiger Stadium was built in 1997 and features the latest in both strength training and cardiovascular training equipment. Measuring 10,000-square feet, LSU has one of the finest strength and conditioning facilities in the nation.

LSU basketball's strength and conditioning program took a new direction in 2008 with the arrival of Juan Pablo Reggiardo from Stanford with Coach Trent Johnson.

He brought a training philosophy geared towards training that reflects the specific demands which basketball places on the athletes: to train explosively, using closed chain, multi-joint and multi-planar movements. Through the combination of weight training, conditioning, swimming, balance training, flexibility, yoga and even mental relaxation drills, the total program is designed to make explosive, dynamic and flexible athletes who are well prepared for any game-time situation.

Total Commitment

One of the many aspects of Coach Reggiardo's strength and conditioning program that differentiates it from other elite programs is the total commitment to improving each player's athleticism and his body's ability to handle the stresses of the sport.

It begins with a comprehensive physical evaluation and continues with pre-season, in-season, spring and off-season training. Each player receives individually designed exercise and nutritional plans created with his strengths and weaknesses in mind, to help each athlete reach the extent of his potential, both physical and mental.

Athletic TRAINING

LSU boasts the largest and most complete athletic training facilities in all of collegiate athletics highlighted by the Broussard Center for Athletic Training in Tiger Stadium. The Broussard Center includes an on-site x-ray room, an in-house pharmacy, as well as the largest hydrotherapy pool in both collegiate and professional sports and is one of the few collegiate training centers with a full-service pharmacy and a full-service vision center.

Athletic trainer Shawn Eddy (above) uses rehabilitation exercises in the LSU's Broussard Center for Athletic Training. The facility boasts some of the most technologically advanced equipment to aid the recuperation and rehabilitation of LSU's student-athletes.

Hydrotherapy Treatment

An integral part of rehabbing and developing LSU student-athletes is the operations center's hot/cold jacuzzis and an underwater treadmill in a fully equipped Hydrotherapy room. The Broussard training center (bottom) boasts the largest hydrotherapy pool in both collegiate and professional sports.

Broussard Athletic TRAINING CENTER

The two story, 22,000 square foot facility contains 20 treatment tables with the newest forms of modalities available, 14 taping stations, a 1,600 square foot rehabilitation area which contains the latest rehabilitation equipment including the Cybex Norm, Woodway treadmills and Body Master select rise equipment. LSU's multi-million dollar athletic training facility is named in honor of Dr. Martin J. Broussard (left), the legendary trainer whose career spanned over 40 years at LSU.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Winner American Legion Bowl - Atlantic City, N. J.
Southeastern Conference Champions
Coach Harry Rabenhorst • Record 14-1, 11-0

It was a different time and a different era. But in 1935, in the days before the NCAA Tournament and the National Invitation Tournament sprung to life and created true March Madness, there was a national championship being claimed on the hardwood at LSU.

Led by the school's first All-American, Sparky Wade, and Buddy Blair, the Tigers of 10th year head coach Harry Rabenhorst pulled off a feat that many people feel is the first magical moment of LSU basketball. The Tigers, after a 13-1 regular season and a co-championship in the Southeastern Conference, went to Atlantic City and played the best team in the East, the Pittsburgh Panthers, and won.

They called Wade the "Little Giant from Jena," and he could make a basketball do almost anything. He was 5-6 and a smaller preview of what would come in the late 1960s with Pete Maravich.

In 1935, the Tigers had a very favorable schedule that saw them play only three of 14 games away from the comfort of the Gym-Armory. The road games weren't bad trips at all, even in those days. One was to Houston to face Rice and the other two were to New Orleans to face Tulane.

The only loss of the season was that game against Rice, 56-47. Wade jokingly said in later years of that game, "The Rice Gym was an old auditorium with one chandelier with twenty-five watt bulbs. You could not see your feet or the color of uniforms. Even the floor was unwaxed."

But that was the only time the Tigers stumbled. Ironically, there was no SEC Tournament that particular year so LSU and Kentucky would not meet in basketball that season. Kentucky, undefeated in the conference, had not lost to LSU in a hoops contest and wouldn't until 26 years later.

So LSU and Pittsburgh were invited to the battle for the American Legion Bowl before some 5,000 at the Atlantic City Auditorium. LSU won by four, 41-37, but that tells so little of the story.

It was April 13, 1935. Doc Carlson's Panthers were 18-5 on the season. The Tigers started out very, very slow at a time when scoring points could be easily at a premium. The Tigers trailed 18-4 and still were down by nine, 26-17, at the half.

Gradually LSU rallied back. Buddy Blair made a long shot to give LSU a 35-33 lead. He then followed it with the next six points for the Tigers. Pittsburgh outscored LSU 17-16 in field goals, but LSU had a 9-3 advantage from the free throw line.

Blair led all scorers with 20 points, Shongaloo Lindsey added eight, Sparky Wade five, Jack Harris four and Arnold Bryan and Ben Journeay two apiece. While Wade's point total was down, his ball handling and court presence meant much to LSU's win.

The Advocate trumpeted the news the next day: "Louisiana State University, power in the Southeastern Conference, came from far behind tonight to defeat the University of Pittsburgh, Eastern Conference champion, 41-37, in their intersectional basketball game.

"The Bayou Tigers from Baton Rouge, trailing 26-17 at the half, smothered Pittsburgh in the second half with their flashy passing and scored goal after goal from the field."

"Pittsburgh used a figure-eight offense," Buddy Blair once said. "We had not seen this before and it hindered us in the first half. In the second half, we got our fast break going and just about ran them crazy."

In the days before Bob Pettit arrived on campus, Harry Rabenhorst said in 1951 that Wade was head and shoulders the best player on campus. "We've had some great boys here at LSU. We've had some great ones, but Sparky Wade was the most spectacular and most colorful. He was a showman and probably the greatest dribbler in basketball. Sparky came to delight the fans. He never came up short on that count."

"I'm not as great as they say I am," Sparky once said. "I'm just a little fellow - five-eighth if I stretch - but you know, basketball is the silliest game in the world. You have 10 guys and only one basketball, and if I have the ball, who can beat me?"

In 1935, only one team could beat the Tigers and powerful Pittsburgh couldn't stop a second half onslaught that led to a special moment in LSU basketball: a chance to claim a national championship.

In 1994, the remaining living members of the team were honored and a banner lowered from the Maravich Center to forever honor the accomplishments of this great team in Tiger basketball history.

In 2009, the widow of Sparky Wade and her family took part in LSU basketball's 100th anniversary celebration as Wade was named one of the 16 members of the LSU All-Century team.

NCAA Final Four Legacy

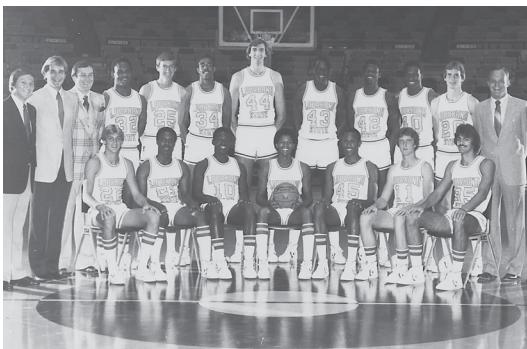

Four NCAA Final Fours for LSU: 1953, 1981, 1986, 2006. All with different heroes and much different circumstances. LSU's first Final Four appearance came at the time when it wasn't a media event in the days before television. The second came at a time when the LSU program was at a zenith, winning 17 straight conference games. LSU's 1986 Final Four trip came when LSU fans least expected it, or even imagined it. LSU returned to the Final Four again in 2006, taking a conference championship season and moving through the tournament, upsetting the No. 1 team in the tournament and the country in the process. Here's a brief look at LSU's four NCAA Final Four appearances:

Record: 22-3, 13-0 in the SEC • Coach: Harry Rabenhorst

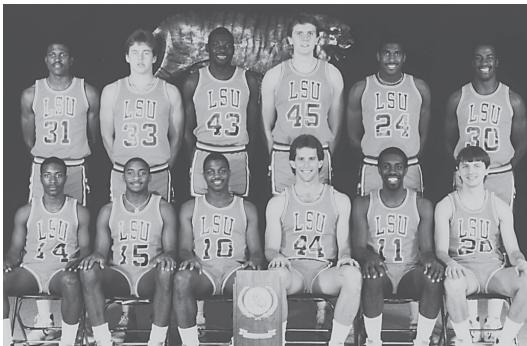

The NCAA Tournament was enlarged to a whopping 22 teams in 1953, adding four new conference winners and two more at-large entries. LSU, led by junior Bob Pettit, went through the conference undefeated in a year when Kentucky was barred from fielding a team, and advanced to the Final Four in Kansas City by downing Lebanon Valley (89-76) and Holy Cross (81-73). The Tigers were unable to sustain the momentum in the national semifinals, losing to Indiana, 80-67.

Record: 31-5, 17-1 in the SEC • Coach: Dale Brown

It was 27 years ago that LSU fans were "Silly in Philly" over LSU's trip to the Final Four. It was a year in which an LSU team, which featured Durand "Rudy" Macklin, Greg "Cookie" Cook, Ethan Martin, Howard Carter, Leonard Mitchell and Willie Sims among others, would win 26 straight games, including the first 17 in the league to advance as high as No. 2 in the nation. Coach Dale Brown got the draw he wanted in the tournament, a route that would take him to the Final Four through the Louisiana Superdome. With the majority of 30,000-plus fans on hand, the Tigers beat Arkansas (72-56) and Wichita State (96-85) in the regional rounds to advance to the Final Four. But Macklin was hurt in the Wichita game and was less than 100 percent. Again Indiana would be the team to beat LSU in the national semifinals, 69-47.

Record: 26-12, 9-9 in the SEC • Coach: Dale Brown

A season that started 14-0, had a chickenpox scare in the middle, and finished the regular season with eight losses in the last 13 games, still had much promise to it at the end. The Tigers, coming off an SEC Championship the year before, still showed enough to earn a spot in the NCAA Tournament field of 64. LSU was seeded 11th, but would get to play its first two games in the then LSU Assembly Center. The Tigers first beat Purdue in double-overtime, then used an Anthony Wilson buzzer beater to down Memphis. From there, it was a win over Georgia Tech and then Ricky Blanton, Don Redden, Wilson and Derrick Taylor pulled off the impossible, beating Kentucky in the regional finals after the Wildcats had won three previous meetings earlier in the year. LSU was at that time the lowest seed ever to make the NCAA Final Four, a mark that stood until 2006.

Record: 27-9, 14-2 in the SEC • Coach: John Brady

The Tigers won the Southeastern Conference with a 14-2 record, extending an unbeaten string of SEC wins in the Maravich Assembly Center to 17 games dating back to March of 2004. LSU was the fourth seed in the NCAA Tournament's Atlanta Regional and was sent to Jacksonville, Fla., to begin tournament play. After dispatching Iona in the first round, LSU's battle with Texas A&M would be the first of three straight epic battles that LSU would face on the road to the Final Four. It would take a Darrel Mitchell three-pointer with less than five seconds to play to get LSU the Round of 16, with a 58-57 win over the Aggies. The Tigers advanced to the Atlanta Regional semifinals where LSU downed the tournament top seed and the nation's No. 1-ranked team, Duke, and then went on to knock off No. 9 Texas in overtime, 70-60, to bring LSU back to the Final Four for the first time in 20 years.

All-Americans / SEC Players of the Year

The following LSU players were named to a first, second or third All-America team at some point in their college careers. Eight LSU players (Sparky Wade, Bobby Lowther, Bob Pettit, Pete Maravich, Durand "Rudy" Macklin, Chris Jackson, Shaquille O'Neal, Glen Davis) were designated first-team All-Americans at some point in their career. Gary K. Johnson of NCAA bases the following list on A-A research. Players are listed with the year and the organization that named them an All-American.

Bob Pettit Jr.

Bob Pettit once said of himself as a youngster who would grow up to be a collegiate All-American and a force in the National Basketball Association:

"The greatest thing that ever happened to me is that when I first picked up a basketball I was terrible. If things come naturally, you might not bother to work at improving them and you can fall short of your potential."

Being terrible meant being gangly and not very good. He was tall, but he wasn't able to yet make the moves that made him a future star. He was the last man on the junior varsity his freshman year at Baton Rouge High. As a sophomore he was cut from the varsity. But because of that, he took his interest in basketball to heart and began to work hour after hour in back of his house in Baton Rouge.

As a 6-4 junior, he began to be noticed. His skills were still raw and undeveloped, but his size made him worth a second glance. He grew to 6-7 as a junior and BRHS won the state championship.

Pettit once wrote: "Teammates . . . were miles ahead of me in all-around ability, but college scouts gave me the big rush act because I was six-seven by then. Fifteen schools offered me the standard scholarship.

LSU fans loved what they saw in Pettit and he didn't disappoint. Here was a three-time first-team All-SEC member who led his Tigers to a second place finish in 1952, conference titles in 1953 and 1954 and the NCAA Final Four in 1953.

He led the league in scoring all three years, with the highest averages seen to date in the league: 25.5 points in 1952, 24.9 in 1953 and 31.4 points per game in 1954. At the same time he was averaging 13.1 (1952), 13.9 (1953) and an LSU best 17.3 (1954) rebounds per game. Only Pete Maravich and Chris Jackson would also break the 30-point average barrier at LSU.

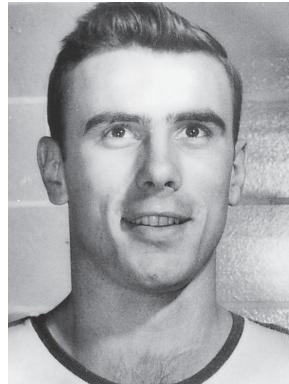

Coach Cliff Wells of Tulane summed up Bob Pettit's days at LSU, "He's the best big man in college basketball today and I've seen them all." LSU Coach Harry Rabenhorst called him, "the greatest LSU player since Sparky Wade."

He was a first round draft choice in 1954 of the then Milwaukee Hawks. Pettit played his entire 11-year career with the Hawks, moving with the club to St. Louis in 1955. He wrote nearly every record in the Hawks' record book and was a four-time MVP of the annual NBA All-Star game. He led the Hawks to the 1958 NBA Championship and five NBA Finals.

In 1954, his number 50 was retired at LSU, the first number in any sport retired in Tiger Town. In 1964, he became the first NBA player to exceed the 20,000-points scored barrier. In 1970, he was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame.

"Those were great years at LSU," Pettit once said. "They were such great years. I couldn't have asked for anything better than my four years at LSU. I received my degree in Business, played the sport I loved and made so many friends."

In 2009, he was honored again by the school he loved and continues to support as he was named one of the member's of LSU's "All-Century Team."

Pete Maravich was billed as the one who would put Louisiana basketball on the map from the first day he joined his father Press at LSU. People weren't disappointed. His freshman year they packed the old John M. Parker Agricultural Center (known as the "Cow Palace") to watch the freshman team and then left quickly as the varsity Tigers won just three games in 1967.

By Pete's senior year, the Tigers would improve to 20-8 and wind up in New York City at the National Invitation Tournament, a fitting place for the big-city Maravich Show to close its LSU run.

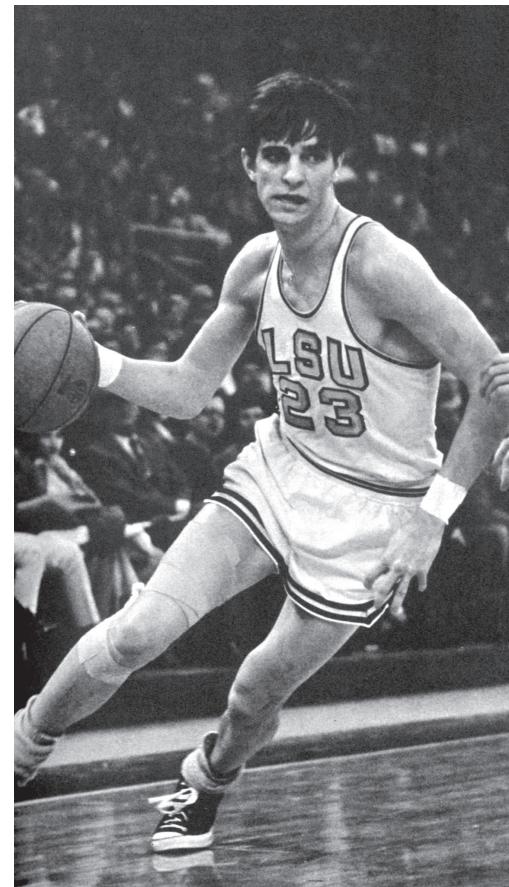

To those who never saw him play live, but only watched what few games were on television or listened on radio, the Maravich story at LSU may seem larger than life. But his skills were perfected through hours and hours of repetitious drills at all hours of the day and night and in all kinds of settings.

Maravich ended up receiving the richest contract ever offered a college player at the time to sign with the Atlanta Hawks ($1.9 million), but during his 10-year career with the Hawks, the New Orleans and Utah Jazz and the Boston Celtics, his dream of a championship wasn't fulfilled. Pete was finding that life wasn't very fulfilling either.

There were hard times when he went in search of something to make his life complete. He had money, he had fame. He didn't have real happiness. But in 1982, Pistol Pete accepted Jesus Christ.

He began enjoying life, enjoying times with his wife and children. Television executives were discovering his knowledge of the game again as a color commentator and best of all for LSU fans, a rift that grew between star and college had diminished and was forgotten.

But the Pistol's life suddenly ended on Jan. 5, 1988, just over a month after appearing at the Assembly Center for an emotional ceremony to formally present a portrait of Pete and his father to him.

Shaquille O'Neal

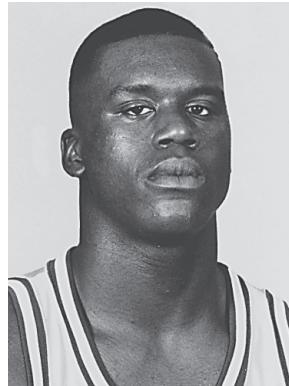

Shaquille O'Neal brought LSU to new heights during his three years with the Tigers and the 7-1 center became a national celebrity in the days of saturation coverage of basketball by the media. But he earned his celebrity status with great play and an intimidation factor that made him the envy of coaches throughout the country.

After leaving LSU in April 1992, he was the number one pick of the National Basketball Association by the Orlando Magic and signed a multi-year contract estimated at over $40 million. In 1996, as a free agent, he signed with the Los Angeles Lakers, and following the 2004 season was traded to the Miami Heat.

O'Neal's Records and Highlights

Durand "Rudy" Macklin, whose recruitment to LSU marked the beginning of the Tigers rise to the top of college basketball under Dale Brown, receives his long overdue recognition as his jersey will be retired to the rafters of the Pete Maravich during the 2009-10 season.

Macklin came to LSU from Louisville, Ky., surprising many by leaving his home state to play for Coach Brown and a program that was still looking for its true direction.

But ever since his first game at LSU, Macklin showed he would be the leader and leave a mark on the program that is still talked about to this day.

In that first game, he set a school rebounding record that no one has come close to, pulling down 32 boards in a win against Tulane.

After his magnificent LSU career, he became the school's all-time leading rebounder with 1,276 rebounds (a 10.4 rebounds per game average). That figure remains on top of the school chart. He also became the second leading scorer all-time at LSU behind Pete Maravich (2,080 points, 16.9 points per game average).

He is just the second player to score 2,000 points at LSU, and still to this day remains in the top 20 in league scoring totals.

Much of his success and his two All-American seasons in 1980 and 1981 were after returning from a serious knee injury that forced him to miss all but two games of the 1978-79 season.

In 1980, he average 17.6 points per game after a year ago from the game as the Tigers just missed winning the league title in a dramatic last-game overtime loss to Kentucky only to come back a week later and win the school's only SEC title. The Tigers that year advanced to the Elite 8 before losing to Louisville.

In 1981, he was also named Southeastern Conference Player of the Year and led the Tigers to their first NCAA Final Four since 1953. He beat out a star-studded cast of players including Georgia's Dominique Wilkins, Kentucky's Sam Bowie and other future NBA players such as Jeff Malone of Mississippi State, Dale Ellis of Tennessee, Eddie Phillips of Alabama and teammate Howard Carter.

In Macklin's four years, LSU had records of 18-9, 23-6, 26-6 and 31-5. The Tigers won one SEC title, one SEC Tournament championship, advanced to the Elite 8 and the Final Four during the Macklin days.

One writer wrote of Macklin, "Macklin's aggressiveness has never been quested in the Southeastern Conference. If they gave an award for the hardest worker, Macklin would have been the consensus choice of his peers, who marvel at how much effort he puts into the game."

Today, Macklin is still in Baton Rouge, heading the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports for over a decade and now serving as Director of the Office of Minority Health.

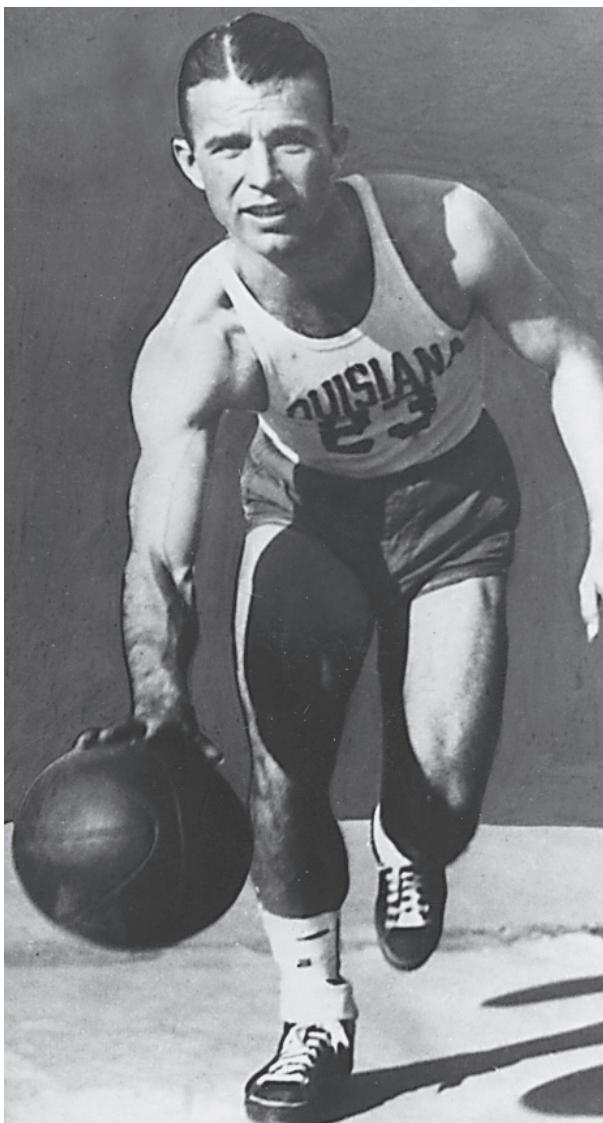

"Rudy is far more than a basketball player," Brown said. "He is a magnificent human being that contributes to society daily. He is a superb role model and an outstanding gentleman."

"We didn't win (the NCAA title) but LSU was pretty far down when I came here and pretty near the top when I left. I kind of feel like we accomplished our mission."

In 2000, he was honored as the school's Living Legend at the SEC basketball tournament. In 2005 he was elected to the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame and in 2009 he was named a member of LSU's All-Century team.

Malcolm "Sparky" Wade

Guard • 5-9 • Jena, La.

1935

LSU's first basketball All-American averaged 9.7 points per game in 1933 and 12.4 points per game in 1934 to lead the scoring category for the first two years of the Southeastern Conference.

He was named an All-American in 1935 while leading LSU to the mythical national championship, averaging 12.7 points per game.

A native of Jena, Wade is considered the greatest dribbler and backcourt star in LSU basketball history.

Before moving to LSU, he was named to the high school All-State team three times from 1928 to 1930. He was elected MVP of the national high school championship playoffs as a senior.

Former Baton Rouge Morning Advocate sports editor Bud Montet, remembers Wade in these words:

"He could do everything with a basketball but dunk it, and make it sing. If there was an extraordinary floor-leader in the South at that time, it had to be Wade."

The three-time All-SEC selection is also a member of the Louisiana Sports Writers and Louisiana Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame.

He was the "Little Giant from Jena." You can't talk LSU basketball without mention of the school's first All-American and first showman who could pass, score and dribble with the best of his and many others era.

Bobby Lowther

Forward • 6-5 • Alexandria, La.

Bobby Lowther officially was recognized as a first-team All-American in 1995 after a historian of the Helms Foundation confirmed that all members of the 1946 team had been upgraded to first-team status.

Lowther is the only two-sport All-American athlete in LSU's storied sports history. In 1946, he made the Helms Foundation basketball All-American squad and was a two-event All-American in track and field, finishing second at the NCAA Championships in the javelin and fourth in the pole vault.

The 6-5, 185-pound Alexandria native was also the triple jump champion at the 1946 National AAU Championships.

In basketball, he averaged 14.7 points per game as he also earned first-team All-SEC honors.

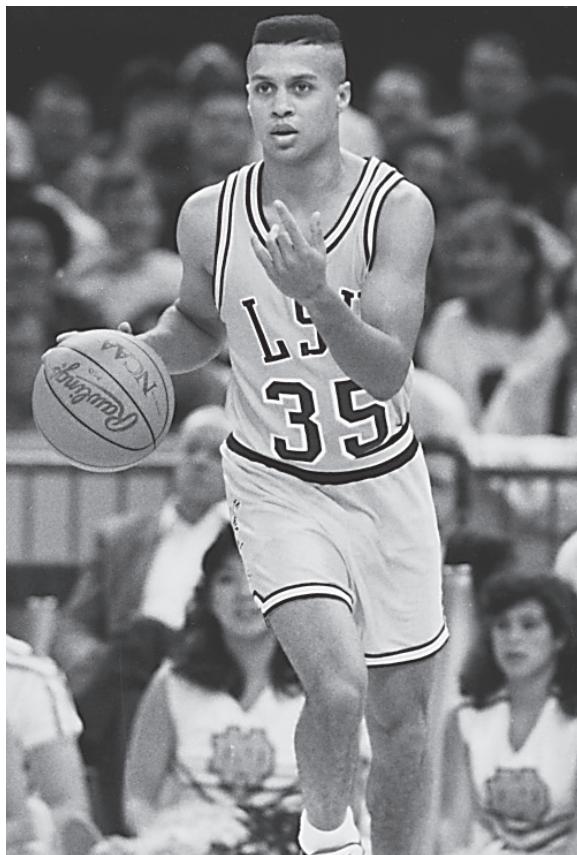

He was voted LSU's "Best All-Around Athlete" in 1947 in a field that also included such future professional stars as Y. A. Tittle, Alvin Dark and Joe Adcock.

Lowther is a member of the Louisiana Sports Writers Association Hall of Fame and was chosen to be the "Living Legend" honoree representing LSU at the 2005 Southeastern Conference basketball tournament in Atlanta.

Chris Jackson

Guard • 6-1 • Gulfport, Miss.
1989, 1990

In just his freshman and sophomore years, Jackson was a two-time consensus SEC Player of the Year lighting up scoreboards across America. After scoring 48 and 53 points in the first month of his college career, he went on to become the most celebrated freshman of all time, setting an NCAA freshman scoring record, averaging 30.2 points per game.

He became just the second freshman ever to make the Associated Press first-team All-America squad and the first ever to make the U.S. Basketball Writers Association's All-America team.

He finished his short career as the seventh leading scorer in school history with 1,854 points (29.0 ppg). His records for freshman include most points in a game (55), most points in a season (965) and season average (30.2).

He won accolades throughout the country as he starred on the court while fighting an ongoing battle with Tourette's Syndrome.

Jackson was chosen to the second team on the Louisiana Association of Basketball Coaches All-Louisiana Team of the Century.

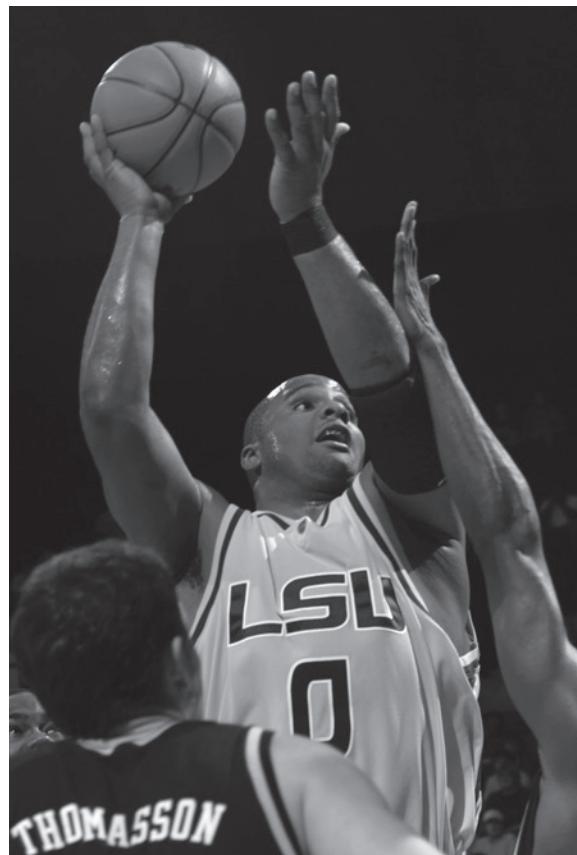

Of Chris Jackson, Baton Rouge State Times sports editor Sam King wrote:

"Athletes come and go.

"Many are so quickly forgotten.

"Only the great ones are remembered forever. To have seen Bob Pettit, Billy Cannon and Pete Maravich perform at their best was to commit them to memory.

"Chris Jackson now joins some very select company."

Glen Davis

Forward • 6-8 • Baton Rouge, La.
2006

Glen Davis was at his best during the Tigers' 2006 season when he was named Southeastern Conference Player of the Year and a first-team All-American for the Wooden Award.

Davis starred as the Tigers captured the SEC regular-season championship with a 14-2 record and then went on to defeat four teams en route to the NCAA Final Four. LSU beat Iona in the opening round, rallying from a halftime deficit, and then used a three-pointer in the final seconds to defeat Texas A&M to advance to the regional semifinals.

There the Tiger magic and Davis' personality was on display to the nation as he helped lead LSU to upsets over No. 1-ranked Duke and an overtime win over No. 9 Texas that got LSU to its first NCAA Final Four in 20 years. The Tigers jumped out on Texas early in overtime and when Davis came down on a break and shot a three-pointer that broke the Longhorns' back, CBS Sports announcer Dick Enberg said with a question in his voice, "Glen Davis for 3? Oh my!"

Davis would earn all-region honors for his play in the NCAA Tournament in a year in which he led the SEC in both scoring (18.6) and rebounding (9.7). He would return to LSU for his junior season and despite injuries and intense pressure to perform, he still again led the league in rebounding (10.2) and earned SEC First-Team honors. He was a second round pick of the NBA's Boston Celtics in the 2007 NBA Draft and became an NBA champion in

100th Anniversary Gala

On Jan. 30-31, 2009, LSU basketball celebrated its 100th anniversary of its first intercollegiate basketball game on Jan. 30, 1909. Close to 150 players, coaches and support staff came together for a weekend remembering the history of the program, starting with a special gathering in the Tiger Stadium Westside Club. The highlight of the evening was a closing champagne toast delivered by one of the Tiger legends, Bob Pettit:

"I have the great honor to propose a toast to 100 years of LSU basketball ... To the many hours of hard work, bumps and blisters endured because of our love of the sport ... To the many life lessons learned as we matured on the court and in the classroom To a University that gave us the chance to be student-athletes and the opportunity to be successful in the game we love and ultimately in the game of life."

"To all those who worked behind the scenes to contribute to our success ... To the coaches who molded us into the players we were and the men we have become ... To the moments we will never forget and those we shared them with ... To those who are not with us tonight and the teammates who have gone on their greater reward."

"To the future and 100 more glorious years ... Raise a glass and Celebrate! This is LSU basketball. Cheers!"

Alumni GAME

Some of the greatest players from the 1960s to the recent past put on purple and gold uniforms one more time during the 100th anniversary of LSU basketball weekend in a special alumni game on the floor of the Pete Maravich Assembly Center prior to the centennial game for the Tigers against Arkansas.

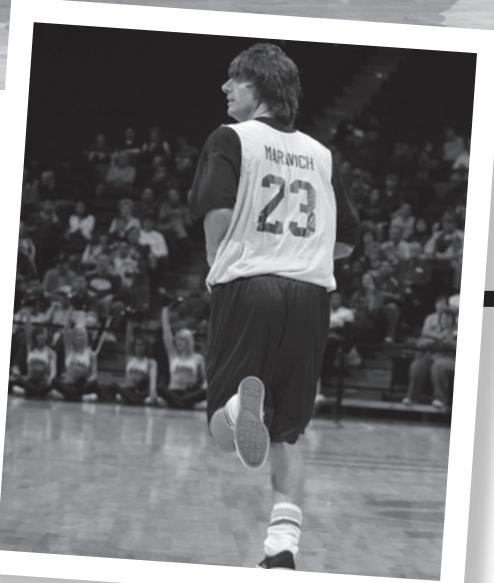

A large crowd enjoyed seeing their Tiger heroes back on the court and the players enjoyed the chance to shine again.

The White team won the game played at sometimes breakneck, sometimes crawling pace, 91-76. In all, some 130 shots were taken, including 56 three-pointers.

Former LSU basketball and baseball star Ben McDonald led the White team with 12 points, while Louis Earl scored 10 and Anthony Hudson had eight points. Clarence Ceasar led the Purple team with 12 points, while Duane Spencer. Big Stanley Roberts scored six points, including a monster dunk that nearly brought down the backboard in the final minute of play.

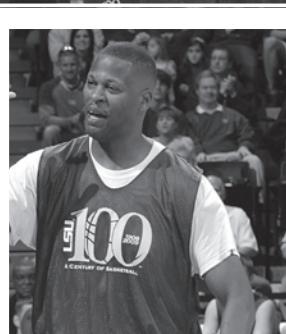

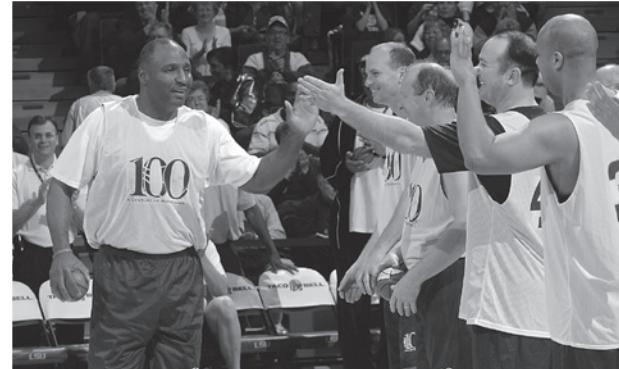

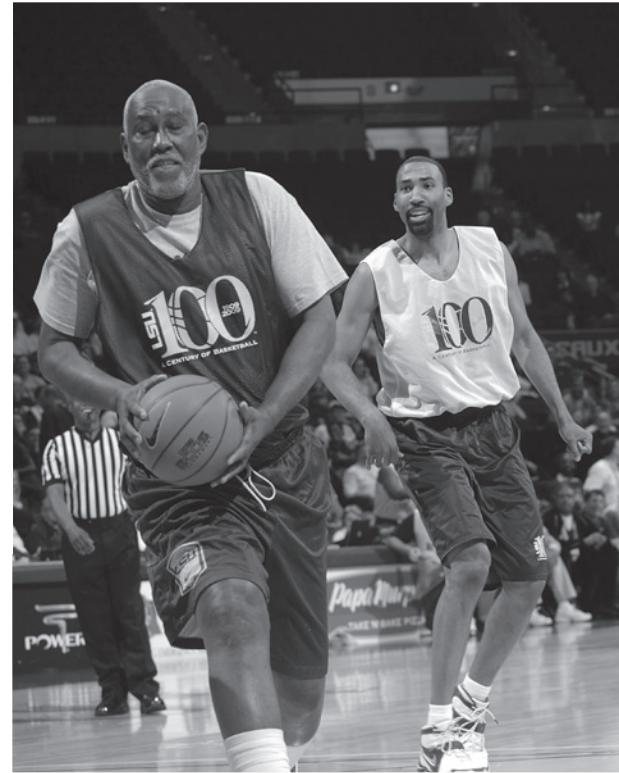

Following the game the players gathered outside the Assembly Center for lunch, a chance to sign autographs for the fans and take part in a special LSU Sports Radio Network broadcast from Tiger One Village.

Former LSU Basketball head coach Dale Brown addresses the crowd and former players at the 100th Anniversary alumni game.

LSU

At halftime of the Centennial basketball game on Jan. 31, 2009, a sellout crowd eagerly awaited the announcement of LSU's All-Century team. An original group of 15 had turned into a Sweet 16 of LSU basketball after the Centennial Committee decided a near dead heat among three players for two spots was almost impossible to break.

A vote of the fans and the Hall of Fame committee each made up 50 percent of the vote that led to the Centennial team. Many of the former players were on hand to receive the specially-designed award that was made for the ceremony while those who were unable to attend or deceased had family members accepted or were presented their awards at other venues.

Surrounding the court during the ceremony were players, coaches, support staff and family members representing eight decades of LSU basketball.

Tigers IN THE NBA

The LSU basketball program has a lasting legacy with the National Basketball Association that spans both the Tigers and the league's long history.

In the 1950s and early '60s, LSU's Bob Pettit fought long and hard to win an NBA championship. Most of those years standing in his way were the feared Boston Celtics. He finally accomplished his dream, winning the title in 1958. That title was celebrated in 2008 in Atlanta as the Hawks honored Pettit on the 50th anniversary of that title.

Also in 2008, another LSU player celebrated with the NBA championship trophy, ironically with those same Boston Celtics. Glen Davis, who was chosen in the second round of the 2007 NBA draft, made the most of his chance to shine and now has a Final Four and an NBA title on his resume', the second LSU player to achieve that double.

Seven times in the last 21 years, the Tigers have had a former player taken in the first round

Shaquille O'Neal

Cleveland Cavaliers

The Olympic medalist, one of the game's 50 greatest players, three-time MVP of the NBA Finals, 15-time all-star and member of four NBA championship teams now moves to the Cleveland Cavaliers for a shot at another title.

of the NBA draft. Four times in that period an LSU player has been one of the top four picks in the draft. When Anthony Randolph was taken with the 14th pick of the first round by the Golden State Warriors, he was the 13th player all-time taken from LSU in the first round of the draft.

Three of the LSU players who have their numbers hanging from the rafters of the Pete Maravich Assembly Center were top draft picks - Bob Pettit (2nd pick - Milwaukee, 1954); Pete Maravich (3rd pick - Atlanta, 1970) and Shaquille O'Neal (1st pick - Orlando, 1992). Chris Jackson (1990), Stromile Swift (2000) and Tyrus Thomas (2006) were all shaking the commissioner's hand in the first few picks of the draft when their time came to take the hallowed NBA stage.

Since 1952, teams in the NBA draft have chosen 48 players from LSU. Plus there are countless others who have and are presently playing for teams abroad. In all, a total of 33 players have logged regular season minutes in either the NBA or the old American Basketball Association.

Mike THE TIGER

History of Mike

Few mascots in the country are as admired as Mike the Tiger. LSU's live Bengal mascot serves as the graphic image of all LSU athletic teams. The school has had six mascots, with the most recent, Mike VI, taking over the reign prior to the 2007 national championship football season. LSU veterinarian Dr. David Baker began the search for the young tiger after his predecessor, Mike V, died in May 2007 of renal failure at the age of 17. The two-year-old Bengal/Siberian mix, formerly known as "Roscoe," was donated to LSU by Great Cats of Idaville, Ind., a nonprofit sanctuary and rescue facility for big cats and other large carnivores.

Mike's ride through Tiger Stadium before home games in a cage topped by the LSU cheerleaders is a school tradition. Before entering the stadium, his cage on wheels is parked next to the opponent's locker room in the southeast end of the stadium. Opposing players must make their way past Mike's cage to reach their locker room.

Tradition dictates that the Tigers will score a touchdown for every growl issued by Mike before a football game. For many years, Mike was prompted to roar by pounding on the cage. Objections of cruel punishment brought about the use of recorded growls to play to the crowd before the games. That practice was discontinued shortly afterward and today Mike participates in the pregame tradition without provocation.

In the mid-1980's, pranksters cut the locks on Mike IV's cage and freed him in the early-morning hours just days before the annual LSU-Tulane clash. Mike roamed free, playfully knocking down several small pine trees in the area, before being trapped in the Bernie Moore Track Stadium where police used tranquilizer guns to capture and return the Bengal Tiger to his home.

The incident was reminiscent of a kidnapping of Mike I many years ago by Tulane students before a Tiger-Green Wave battle.

Mike I

The original Mike was purchased from the Little Rock Zoo in 1936 for $750, with money contributed by the student body. Originally known as "Sheik" at the time of his purchase, his name was changed to Mike to honor Mike Chambers who served as LSU's athletic trainer when the first mascot was purchased. The first Mike was housed in the Baton Rouge Zoo for one year before a permanent home was constructed near Tiger Stadium. Mike I reigned for 20 years before dying of pneumonia.

1956-1958

Mike II

The second Mike served a brief reign, lasting only through the 1957 season before dying of pneumonia in the spring of 1958. He was born at the Audubon Zoo in New Orleans and came to LSU on Sept. 28, 1956. The young tiger was held overnight in Tiger Stadium and unveiled Sept. 29, the opening day of the football season.

1958-1976

Mike III

Just in time for the 1958 national championship season, Mike III was purchased from the Woodland Park Zoo in Seattle, Wash., following a "national search" by then-athletic director Jim Corbett. The student body contributed $1,500 for the purchase of the tiger. Mike III served as mascot for 18 seasons, dying after the only losing season of his reign, as LSU posted a 5-6 record in 1975.

1976-1990

Mike IV

Mike IV reigned over Tiger athletics for 14 years after being donated to the school by August A. Busch III from the Dark Continent Amusement Park in Tampa, Fla., on Aug. 29, 1976. Born on May 15, 1974, Mike's age and health were determining factors in his retirement to the Baton Rouge Zoo in 1990. Mike IV died of old age in March of 1995 at the age of 21.

1990-2007

Mike V

Mike V was donated by Dr. Thomas and Caroline Atchison of the Animal House Zoological Park in Moulton, Ala. Dr. Sheldon Bivin of the LSU School of Veterinary Medicine traveled to Alabama and brought the baby tiger back to Baton Rouge. Born Oct. 18, 1989, the new tiger was introduced to LSU fans at a basketball game against Alabama in February of 1990. He officially began his reign on April 30, 1990, when he was moved into the tiger habitat across from Tiger Stadium. Mike V died on May 18, 2007, at the age of 17.

Mike VI

Mike VI arrived in Baton Rouge on Aug. 25, 2007, thanks to the donation by Great Cats of Idaville, Ind. He was officially designated as the successor to Mike V on Sept. 8, when LSU played host to Virginia Tech. Six days later, on Sept. 14, 2007, a ceremony was held to honor Mike V and dedicate the habitat to Mike VI. The two-year-old Bengal/Siberian mix, formerly known as "Roscoe," reigned over a football national title in his first year.

Mike's Habitat

In 2005, a new environment (above) was created for Mike that is 15,000 square feet in size with lush planting, a large live oak tree, a beautiful waterfall and a stream evolving from a rocky backdrop overflowing with plants and trees. The habitat has, as a backdrop, an Italianate tower - a campanile - that creates a visual bridge to the Italianate architectural vernacular that is the underpinning of the image of the entire beautiful LSU campus. This spectacular new habitat features state-of-the-art technologies, research, conservation and husbandry programs, as well as educational, interpretive and recreational activities. It is, in essence, one of the largest and finest Tiger habitats in the United States.

Trent Johnson

Head Coach • Second Season at LSU • 11th Season as Head Coach

Trent Johnson, the 20th head men's basketball coach at LSU, continues to earn the respect of the college basketball world nationally. Tagged as one of the "Five Best 2008-09 First-Year Coaches" by Athlon Sports, Johnson and his staff look forward to the 2009-10 season as one of "opportunity" as he seeks to build on a decade of excellence at LSU, Stanford and Nevada.

The basketball junkie who eats, sleeps (occasionally) and drinks college basketball during the months of July to April, took an LSU squad and molded and shaped them into one of the better teams in the history of the LSU program.

The Tigers finished with 27 wins, tied for the third most wins in a season, and won the Southeastern Conference regular season championship with a week to go and a record of 13-3. LSU returned to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2006, advancing to the second round before falling 84-70 to North Carolina in the closest game the eventual national champions would have to play. In fact, LSU had a second half lead on the Tar Heels and the game was still in the balance entering the final eight minutes. In the opening round, LSU defeated nationally-ranked Butler in a classic first-round 8-9 seed game.

For their work this past season, the Tigers were obviously recognized nationally and justly rewarded, and so was their coach. Johnson was named the consensus 2009 SEC Coach of the Year and a finalist for four national coach of the year honors. Johnson completed a rare double in college basketball in being named Coach of the Year in two different leagues in consecutive seasons having been named the Pac-10 Coach of the Year in 2008 when his Stanford Cardinal advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16. He also became the first LSU men's basketball coach to win the league title and take the team to post-season play in his first year at the school.

What was the reason for LSU's success? First, a veteran group of players made a commitment and understood what Coach Johnson's plan was to continue their development on and off the floor. They learned he was tough and demanding. They accepted new rules in some cases and quickly grasped both the on the court vision offensively and defensively and the off the court vision for an LSU player.

RECORDS

HISTORY

LSU

Trent Johnson's record of success continues here at LSU and this year a much younger squad will have to blend with a couple of veterans from last year's championship team. The coach will still be the fierce competitor who exudes and demands toughness from his team.

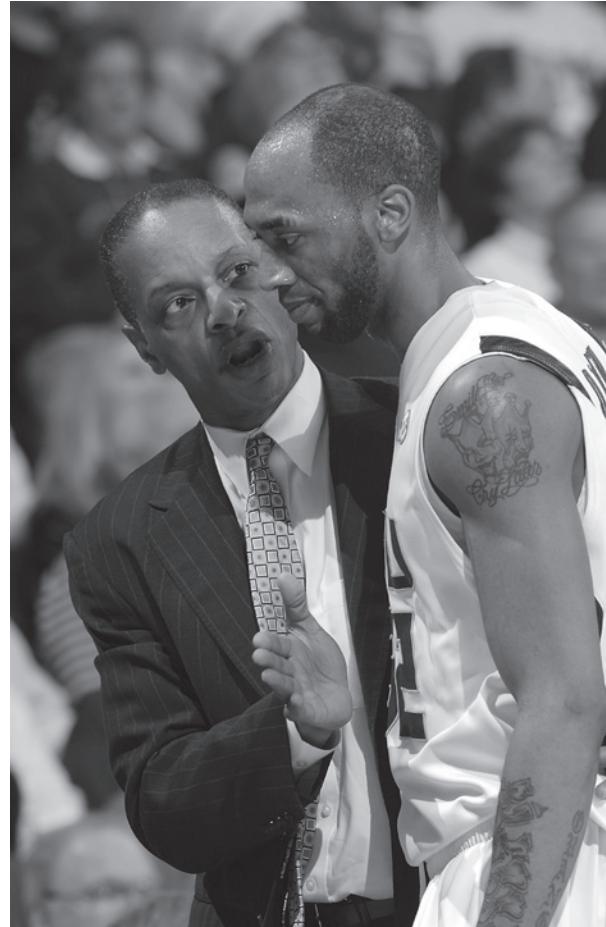

His devotion to the team, his protective beliefs toward his players and his loyalty to his former players is evident by the fact that four of his former players are now members of the LSU basketball staff. Johnson is a program builder and he has reestablished the base of the LSU program by spending much of the 2009 100th anniversary season visiting with former players and coaches to bring together the past, the present and the future of the program.

That's never been more evident than this past season when former members of the program turned out regularly to watch the Tigers play and Johnson's willingness to call alums and to invite them to be a part of the program. When words of praise were offered by many parties during the anniversary weekend, in true Johnson fashion, he deflected the praise on to the student-athletes whom he molded to perform as he hoped.

Johnson is charged also with the development of athletes both on and off the court. Off the court he is working hard to make sure student-athletes understand the "student" part of their days at LSU. At all three spots in his head coaching career, he has developed not just successful athletes and winning basketball teams, but young men who are having success in life.

In his 10 years combined

as a Division I head coach at Nevada, Stanford and LSU, he has won 186 games and taken teams the last seven years to post-season play, including five NCAA appearances. In addition, Johnson has seen five of his former assistant coaches lead successful programs as head coaches: Mark Fox (Georgia, Nevada), David Carter (Nevada), Eric Reveno (Portland), Josh Newman (Arkansas-Fort Smith) and Chris Tifft (New Mexico JC, Lamar CC).

Johnson's no-nonsense style immediately won believers among fans at LSU who posted an average paid attendance of 10,373, an increase of 1,808 from the year before and the best paid attendance average since the 2000 season. LSU's paid attendance average for the eight SEC games was over 12,000.

The coach's challenge to Marcus Thornton to become a complete player was answered. He continued to be one of the program's greatest three-point threats but also a player that developed his all-around game, including defensive skills. For his efforts, Thornton earned consensus SEC Player of the Year honors.

LSU had two players earn consensus Coaches and Associated Press All-SEC first team honors for the first time since 1990 in Thornton and Tasmin Mitchell. Thornton would be drafted in the second round by the Miami Heat of the NBA and later traded to the New Orleans Hornets where he starred for the team in the summer league. Mitchell returns for his senior season after a strong junior campaign playing for LSU.

as a Stanford assistant from 1996-99, made an immediate impact when he returned as the head coach at The Farm in 2004. He was the only head coach in Stanford history to guide the Cardinal to the postseason in each of his first four seasons, with three NCAA Tournament berths in those four years, including a trip to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 2008.

In 2008, Stanford earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. The team had wins over 22nd-ranked USC, 22nd-ranked Arizona State and an overtime victory at No. 9 Washington State during the course of the year.

In his first season at Stanford (2005), Johnson displayed his leadership in the face of adversity as Stanford dealt with a season-ending injury to its leading scorer while having only nine healthy players to complete the year. Despite that, it was a third place finish in the league and an NCAA Tournament trip for the Cardinal.

In 2007, the Cardinal squad again reached the NCAA Tournament in a year that included five wins over Top 25 clubs, including a 75-68 win over No. 2 UCLA when Stanford overcame a 17-point deficit.

Johnson at Stanford developed great players who again excelled both on and off the floor, headlined by the Lopez twins who were both first round selections in the 2008 NBA draft. Brook was the 10th selection of the New Jersey Nets and Robin was the 15th selection of the Phoenix Suns. Several student athletes in his Stanford tenure also earned academic honors, including Dan Grunfeld who made the CoSIDA/ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American team twice.

AT NEVADA

Johnson's first college head coaching position came at Nevada as he revitalized the Wolfpack program in his five years there (1999-04). It was there that Johnson displayed his coaching and recruiting expertise as he transformed the struggling Nevada program to a conference powerhouse.

Prior to his arrival Nevada had never won an NCAA Tournament game. In 2003, Johnson was named the Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year when his team won 18 games, advanced to the championship of the WAC Tournament and an NIT bid. In 2004 his team posted a school record tying mark of 25 wins, tied for the first time for the WAC regular season title and won the WAC Tournament Championship. Nevada posted upset victories in the 2004 NCAA Tournament over Michigan State and Gonzaga before being edged by national runner-up Georgia Tech in the Sweet 16.

His success at Nevada, including the recruitment and development of standouts Kirk Snyder and Nick Fazekas. Snyder, a WAC Player of the Year, was the 16th player chosen in the 2004 NBA draft by Utah. Fazekas was a three-time WAC POY who was drafted by the Dallas Mavericks.

COACHING ROOTS

Johnson's three years as a Stanford assistant before becoming a head coach coincided with the start of one of the most successful runs in school history. The Cardinal advanced to the NCAA Final Four in 1998 and twice (1997, 1998) reached the Sweet 16. The Coach contributed to the development and recruitment of some of Stanford's greatest players including future NBAers Brevin Knight, Mark Madsen, Casey Jacobsen and Jarron and Jason Collins.

Before his stint at Stanford, Johnson served as an assistant coach at Utah (1986-89), Washington (1989-92) and Rice (1982-96). At Washington, he recruited 1992 Pac-10 Freshman of the Year, Mark Pope, and at Utah, he signed Josh Grant, the 1990 WAC MVP and Naismith Award finalist.

Johnson got his coaching start at the prep level, serving as an assistant coach at Boise High School from 1980-85. While at Boise High School, Johnson coached the sophomore "B" team while also serving as an assistant to Greg Hordemann on the varsity squad.

During his successful playing career at Boise State (1974-78), Johnson finished in the top 10 in scoring and rebounding. In 1976 the Broncos won the Big Sky Tournament and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. In his junior year, Johnson was named Boise State's Most Valuable Player and in his final season was named All-Big Sky.

Johnson earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education in 1986 and in October 2009, was named a recipient of Boise State's Distinguished Alumni Award.

Johnson also played professionally for the Washington Lumberjacks of the Western Basketball League.

He was recently appointed to the Board of Directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches and has served on the NABC Special Committee on Recruiting and Access.

Johnson, who was born in Berkeley, Calif., and calls Seattle, Wash., his home, is married to Jackie and they have two children: a daughter, Tinishia, 26, and a son, Terry, 23.

Trent Johnson brought a wealth of experience to his new job at LSU and it showed in the way the team played and the way it was coached. His knowledge of the game excited longtime LSU fans and former players. He has seen the potential of the program and is busy putting his mark on it.

But most importantly, he can't wait to be on the floor coaching players in the game of basketball and the game of life - at LSU.

Donny Guerinoni

Assistant Coach • Second Season at LSU

If it seemed to LSU fans like there was a certain chemistry in the bench work they saw between Trent Johnson and Donny Guerinoni, it was just the continuation of a long relationship that started as a player and now as an assistant coach.

Entering his second year at LSU, Guerinoni's history with Johnson goes beyond coaching, as he was Johnson's first recruit when he became the head coach for the University of Nevada. In now his sixth year as a member of Johnson's staff, Guerinoni's primary responsibilities include recruiting, scouting, game preparation, and perimeter skill development.

With Johnson's tutelage, Guerinoni has had a well rounded experience, having had many different assignments across various positions and was recently recognized by his peers by being nominated and voted onto BasketballScoop.com's 2009 list of the nation's top 20 rising assistant coaches.

During his time under Johnson, Guerinoni has experienced the NCAA tournament four of the last five seasons highlighted by a trip to the Sweet 16 in 2008, and an SEC Championship in 2009. A native of Sebastopol, California, Guerinoni first attended West Valley Community College in Saratoga as a member of the men's basketball team. There, under well-respected head coach Bob Burton, Guerinoni helped guide the team to a pair of league championships while earning the conference MVP and first team All-State honors.

After being recruited by Johnson to play at Nevada, Guerinoni earned Western Athletic Conference All-Academic honors and was one of the team's top three-point shooters. His wolf-pack career was highlighted by making seven of nine three-pointers in an 86-85 thriller against Montana on November 25, 2000- an effort that ranked as one of the top shooting performances in the country from outside the arc during that season.

Upon graduating from the University of Nevada with a B.A. in Business Marketing in 2002, Guerinoni spent two years as an assistant at West Valley Community College under Danny Yoshikawa, while attending graduate school at San Jose State.

Then in 2004, Guerinoni rejoined his former coach Trent Johnson at Stanford University. Here he began his tenure as a member of Johnson's staff in the role of director of basketball operations and video coordinator for the 04-05 season. In this position, Guerinoni's main responsibilities were to assist with scouting, video editing, the collection of opponent film, footage breakdown, equipment setup, camp operations, and the management and maintenance of both the video software as well as the recruiting database.

In 05-06, Guerinoni was then promoted to assistant while still performing his duties as the video coordinator for one more year. He has been a full time assistant ever since. In total, Guerinoni has been a part of college basketball for thirteen years, five as a player, and eight as a coach.

Keith Richard

Assistant Coach • Second Season at LSU

Keith Richard is the only member of the LSU coaching staff that Trent Johnson didn't coach in college, but the respect that Johnson and Richard have for each other was apparent from the day Johnson was hired as LSU's head coach.

When Coach Johnson took to the podium on his first day as LSU basketball's head man and asked to talk about possible assistants, Johnson left very little doubt that he wanted to hire Richard as one of his assistants. The two had a strong relationship while competing in the Western Athletic Conference, Johnson as head coach at Nevada, Richard as head coach at Louisiana Tech.

Richard enters his second year on the LSU staff after making significant contributions to the Southeastern Conference championship team in 2009. Not only does Richard know talent, but he is also heavily involved in scheduling for the Tigers, scouting future opponents and preparing the game report for the team.

Richard joined the LSU staff after 13 years at Louisiana Tech that began in the 1994-95 season when he served the first of four years as an assistant coach. He was named the head coach of the Bulldogs in 1999 where he compiled a 150-117 record through the 2006-07 season. His first team captured a Sun Belt conference regular season title in 1999 with a 19-9 record and won 20 or more games in 2000 (21-8), 2002 (22-10) and 2006 (20-13). The 2002 and 2006 teams advanced to post-season play in the National Invitation Tournament.

Richard became known as a strong recruiter of state talent during his time at Tech, gathering such top recruits as Lonnie Cooper, Gerrod Henderson, Antonio Meekings and NCAA rebound champ, Paul Millsap, now playing in the NBA.

Prior to his time at Louisiana Tech, Richard spent five years as an assistant coach at Louisiana-Monroe, during which time the Warhawks won four Southland Conference titles.

Richard also spent three seasons at Marshall University, serving the first season as a volunteer coach followed by two seasons as an assistant coach. Before heading to Marshall, Richard spent two seasons as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Louisiana-Monroe.

Richard has two diplomas from ULM, receiving his bachelor's degree in general business in 1982 and his master's in guidance and counseling in 1986. Richard played basketball for ULM from 1978-82, starting as a junior and senior and helping lead the Indians to its first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance in 1982.

A native of Baton Rouge, La., Richard attended Redemptorist High School, where he was a three-year starter and earned first-team All-State honors as a junior and a senior. During his sophomore season, Redemptorist reached the semifinals of the state tournament before winning back-to-back state titles his junior and senior years. He was inducted into the Redemptorist High School Hall of Fame in 2004.

Richard and his wife Holly have three children: Luke (18), Lance (15) and Lexie (13).

Brent Scott

Assistant Coach • Second Season at LSU

Brent Scott enters his second year on the LSU staff with Coach Trent Johnson after one year as an assistant coach at Rice. After a star college career at Rice, he put together a stellar 14-year career as a professional basketball player that took Scott to many parts of the world. His experiences make him well-versed to teach the game to players at the Division I level.

Scott is involved in recruiting, scouting opponents and the day-to-day practice sessions for the Tigers.

The Lansing, Mich., native was originally recruited to Rice by then assistant coach Willis Wilson who would later give him his start in college coaching back at his alma mater when Wilson became the head coach. Scott was a perfect fit with the Rice program as he finished his collegiate career as the Owls' all-time leading scorer (1,906) and rebounder (1,049), totals that still rank second in both categories at the school.

He was a three-time second-team All-Southwest Conference (1991, 1992, 1993) and he led the team in scoring his sophomore (16.9) and junior (15.8) seasons. During his senior season, Scott averaged a career-high 17.3 points per game. He came to Rice after averaging 17 points and 10 boards for the Everett (H.S.) Vikings in 1989.

The relationship that LSU's coach Johnson has with all his staff began at Rice where he was an assistant during Scott's final year at the Houston school.

Also while at Rice, he was a member of the U.S. Junior National Team that won gold at the 1991 World Junior Championship in Edmonton, Canada and won the Tournament of the Americas in Montevideo, Uruguay.

Scott's professional career included 16 professional teams and eight professional leagues in five countries over 14 years. He was the 82nd pick in the 1993 CBA draft by Rapid City, but ended up playing for Larissa (Greece) in 1994 and 1995. In the summer of 1995, he played for the Miami Tropics in the USBL where he averaged 22.8 points per game and 12 rebounds.

For the 1996 season, he played in Italy with Libertas Forli (16.5 ppg) and during the 1996 USBL season, averaged a league-high 29.8 points per game with a 13.0 rebound average for the Portland Mountain Cats.

He played in the NBA in 1997 with the Indiana Pacers as well as the Atlantic City Seagulls in the USBL. He also played in Europe in 1997 with Taugres Saski Baskonia Vitoria in Spain (14 ppg) and the next season played for the Reggio Calabria team in Italy (19.8 ppg). He returned to Spain for the 1999-2000 season with the famed Real Madrid team and averaged over 10 points as Real Madrid captured the Spanish National Championship.

After another season with Reggio Calabria (19.9 ppg), he played in 2002 for Pallacanestro Amatori Udine in Italy where he averaged 12.2 points and in 2003 he played for PAOK Thessaloniki in Greece, averaged 15.3 points a contest. In 2004 and 2005, he returned to play in Spain and split time in 2006 between teams in Spain and Poland. In his final professional season, Scott played for AEK Athens (Greece) and averaged 10.4 points per game and 6.2 boards in 36 games.

In all he played 13 years with First Division level European teams. He played in the 1994 Greek, 1997 Spanish and the 1998 and 2001 Italian All-Star Games. He was a first team USBL member in 1997.

He earned his B.A. degree from Rice in kinesiology in 2003. Brent and his wife, Brooke, have two daughters, Brekayla (11) and Berklee (7).

The 38-year-old Eddy was born on Nov. 23, 1971.

Marcus Thornton
2009 Player of the Year

The 2008-09 season brought lots of smiles to LSU basketball fans as they watched the beginning of the second 100 years of their favorite program start in the best way possible with a new coach, a veteran group of players and a Southeastern Conference regular season championship.

Trent Johnson arrived from Stanford in April 2008 with a new attitude and new vision for the LSU basketball program and a team that included five seniors and a fourth year junior bought in to his goals and beliefs, taking control of the SEC by mid-January, going on a 13-game conference winning streak to capture the school's 10th regular season title.

Johnson was named the consensus SEC Coach of the Year and was a finalist for four national college coach of the year awards.

The season started on a special note as a scheduling quirk caused by Hurricane Gustav provided LSU fans with the first-ever basketball-football doubleheader in the PMAC and Tiger Stadium. The basketball Tigers beat Jackson State in the opener, 79-65, before 11,511 raucous fans that included another first, the entire 300-plus members of the Golden Band from Tigerland played for the game.

One of the highlights off the court was the return of former basketball players and staff for the 100th anniversary celebration of the first LSU basketball game in 1909. The All-Century team was named at halftime of the centennial game with Arkansas and many former players have begun to reconnect with their former program.

In the drive for the championship, LSU had to go on the road and withstand a battle not seen in the SEC in quite some time as the Tigers and Mississippi State battled through two overtimes before LSU scored a 97-94 victory behind Tasmin Mitchell's 41 points. It would be 17 days later that Mitchell made a three-pointer at the top of the key in Rupp Arena that gave LSU a 73-70 win over Kentucky and the outright SEC title.

Here are a few of the standouts and highlights of the 2008-09 season:

MARCUS THORNTON

For those who thought Marcus Thornton was a good basketball player as a junior, one just had to see him on the floor in his final year for LSU. By the end of the year, it was obvious he had become a complete basketball player - one who not only could still shoot the three-pointer, but one that could drive to the goal and score or get fouled and make free throw. Add some defensive prowess and Thornton was dangerous at any time for LSU.

He averaged an impressive 21 points per game and earned the consensus nod as SEC Player of the Year, finishing his career scoring over 1,000 points in just two seasons at LSU. He also averaged 5.5 rebounds and over two assists, while making 78 treys.

TASMIN MITCHELL

Mitchell entered the year with slight question marks as does any player who misses an entire season with an injury, but Mitchell showed he was ready to again work hard and showcase his natural ability that people had been watching since his grade school days at Denham Springs. Mitchell, playing down near the basket, hit over 50 percent for the season and made 10 important threes during the season, including the game and conference title winner against Kentucky with 10 seconds to play at Rupp Arena.

Mitchell earned All-SEC honors as a salute for his efforts that included an amazing 41-point effort in a double overtime win at Mississippi State.

THE SENIORS

Besides Marcus Thornton, the remainder of the Tiger seniors - Chris Johnson, Garrett Temple, Terry Martin and Quintin Thornton - all had moments that contributed to the SEC Championship. Johnson blocked 95 shots as the team's starting center, while Temple concluded his career with more starts and minutes played than any player in LSU history. Martin and Thornton contributed off the bench with pivotal moments in key games to help LSU.

TWO TITLES

Tasmin Mitchell and Garrett Temple joined a select group of LSU players who have now started on two SEC championship teams. There are now nine such players including a group from the 1953 and 54 title teams and the 1979 and 81 teams to go with Mitchell and Temple's as starters on the 2006 and 2009 teams.

BO SPENCER

The Tigers turned to a sophomore to run its point in 2008-09 and Bo Spencer responded, not only dishing the ball to get the offense started, but scoring at an average of 11.4 points per game, hitting 60 three pointers and 84 percent from the free throw line.

Spencer also continued a near decade long run of the LSU point guard having a positive assist-to-turnover ratio.

2009 DICK'S SPORTING GOODS NIT SEASON TIP-OFF

College Basketball's Beginning...
"FIRST FOUR™"

www.nit.org

The East Regional will take place at Duke University where the Blue Devils, three time champions of the NIT Season Tip-Off (1985, 2000, 2005), will play the Big South Conference's Coastal Carolina University, while the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, from the Atlantic 10 Conference, will face Southern Conference representative Elon University.

In the West Regional, Arizona State University, a 1997 fourth-place finisher in the NIT Season Tip-Off, is the host site for its game against Texas State University-San Marcos out of the Southland Conference, and for the Texas Christian University (TCU) vs. Cal State Northridge matchup.

The Southeastern Conference's Louisiana State University is the site for the South Regional, and the Tigers will tip against Indiana State University from the Missouri Valley Conference, while Western Kentucky University, who finished second in the 1986 NIT Season Tip-Off, will play the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, from the Horizon League. In the North Regional, the University of Connecticut, twice a third-place finisher in the NIT Season Tip-Off (1997, 2003), is the host against the Patriot League's, Colgate University, while Hofstra University, from the Colonial Athletic Association faces Yale University.

The regional games will be played on November 16 and 17, the consolation bracket will take place on November 23 and 24 (sites to be determined), and the Championship round comes to New York City's Madison Square Garden for the "First Four" semifinal and final doubleheaders, November 25 and 27. The NIT Season Tip-Off assures every participating team four games once again this year.

First- and second-round games will be played at the home campus of the four highest-seeded teams. The winners of those sites will move onto New York City. The remaining 12 teams will play third- and fourth-round games on the home campus sites of the three highest remaining seeds. Participating teams will not play any team twice, and the third and fourth rounds will be assigned to the most geographically compatible site possible.

The SEC office is located in Birmingham, Ala.

Throughout its 76-year history, the Southeastern Conference has been a leader in the integration of athletic competition and higher education.

Since its formation in 1933, the SEC has achieved both stature and stability by designating governing/voting power to the presidents of the member institutions. They have determined the policies of the conference and through the years this involvement has been the principal source of strength in the evolution of the SEC.

Intercollegiate athletics has encountered many challenges in the 1990s and again the SEC provided guidance. In 1993, the member institutions adopted The Principles of Gender Equity. Committed to increasing the quantity and quality of women's athletic opportunities, each school provides at least two more women's intercollegiate programs than the number of men's.

Faced with the task of conference realignment after competing with 10 members since 1966, the SEC welcomed the University of Arkansas and the University of South Carolina in 1991.

SEC schools began athletic competition with one another almost 100 years ago as members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Seven institutions (Alabama, Auburn, Georgia, Georgia Tech, North Carolina, Sewanee and Vanderbilt) attended the SIAA organizational meeting of faculty representatives in Atlanta in 1894.

Basketball moved quickly to the South as Vanderbilt was playing at the Nashville YMCA in 1893, just two years after Dr. James Naismith originated the game at Springfield (Mass.) College. Basketball became an intercollegiate sport in 1901 and in 1908 Vanderbilt was meeting Columbia and Yale intersectionally.

The seven-member SIAA expanded to 19 institutions in 1895 and by 1920 there were 30 members.

The larger schools reorganized as the Southern Conference in 1920. Despite an original limit of 16, the membership grew to 23 by 1928.

The 13 members west and south of the Appalachian Mountains reorganized as the Southeastern Conference at the annual SC meeting in 1932. The 10 coast members remained in the Southern Conference. Charter members of the new conference were: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt. (Sewanee withdrew in 1940, Georgia Tech in 1964 and Tulane in 1966).

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in four sports (baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track). The league's inaugural championship event was a basketball tournament in Atlanta in 1933. Records show the first men's team title for cross-country was awarded in 1935, while golf and swimming were added in 1937. The league later began hosting championships in tennis (1953) and indoor track (1957).

In the 1979-80 academic year SEC championships for women were recognized in basketball, tennis and volleyball. The following year golf, gymnastics, swimming and track and field were added. The administration of women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office in 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and 11 women's sports: Men—baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (cross country, indoor and outdoor). Women—basketball, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track (cross country, indoor and outdoor) and volleyball.

LSU on Television in 2009-2010

Thanks to the new contracts with CBS and ESPN, the Tigers will have every conference games televised for the first time in school history on either a regional or national basis. LSU will also be featured three times on LSU's regional sports home CST (Cox Sports TV) and will be on ESPN twice if the Tigers are successful and advance to New York in the pre-season NIT.

HISTORY
LSU

The 2010 Southeastern Conference Men's Basketball Tournament returns to the Sommet Center in Nashville. It will be the third time that the arena has served as the host of the SEC Tournament, having also hosted in 2001 and 2006. The Sommet Center, which also is the home of the NHL's Nashville Predators, opened in December 1996 and has hosted more than 12 million guests. It has become Nashville's No. 1 venue for large-scale musical productions, as well as one of the nation's most highly acclaimed entertainment and sports venues. Seating capacity is approximately 18,160 for basketball games.

The winner of the 11-game tournament receives the SEC's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds, conference championship and division titles are determined by the 16-game conference schedule during the regular season. Teams are seeded by their divisional finish and features Eastern Division-Western Division matchups in every game should the higher seed win each contest.

Atlanta served as host of the inaugural SEC Tournament played following the 1932-33 season and did so again after the 1933-34 season. The event was held every year through 1952, with the exception of 1935. After a 26-year layoff (1953-78), the tournament was renewed in 1979. The 2010 tournament will be the 51st in league history and the 32nd since the renewal.

The SEC has shown extraordinary balance in the tournament, evidenced by the fact that a different school won the first seven titles after the renewal. The event has helped set the stage for SEC teams in the NCAA Tournament, as 22 of the last 29 tournament champions have advanced to at least the Sweet 16 with five of the last 13 going on to win the national championship. Since the renewal in 1979, the SEC Tournament Champion has failed to win at least one NCAA Tournament game only four times.

Kentucky leads the league with 25 SEC Tournament titles. Alabama is second with six, while Tennessee ranks third with four. Florida and Mississippi State each have three championship trophies. Arkansas, Auburn, Georgia, LSU, Ole Miss, Vanderbilt and former league member Georgia Tech have each won one SEC Tournament championship.

Vacated by SEC

NOTE: In the early years of the SEC, members did not play a full conference schedule. Instead of determining a champion from regular season play, the SEC champion was determined by the conference tournament from 1933-50, except for 1935. Beginning with the 1950-51 season when the SEC adopted a 14-game round-robin schedule, the team completing the regular season conference schedule with the best winning percentage was recognized as champion. The conference schedule was increased to 16 games in 1964-65, and to 18-games for the 1966-67 season. With the addition of Arkansas and South Carolina for the 1991-92 season, the league split into two six-team divisions playing a schedule of 16 games. Both divisional and overall champions were crowned.

Harry Rabenhorst

Before there was Dale Brown, there was Harry Rabenhorst. In an era when college basketball wasn't big news and when cable didn't send hundreds of game all across the country, Rabenhorst laid the foundation for others like Jay McCreary, Press Maravich, Dale Brown and John Brady to follow.

Like Maravich with Pete, like Dale with Rudy, Chris and Shaq, Rabenhorst coached two of the legends of the game: Sparky Wade and Bob Pettit. Like Brown, he took his team to a Final Four in the days before anyone realized what a major event the NCAA Tournament was. But unlike any other LSU coach, Rabenhorst laid claim to a national championship, mythical though it may have been. It was a year to remember for Rabenhorst, but it was a long way from the end of his career.

The Baton Rouge native, however, came to LSU holding a record of a much different kind. He was a star athlete at Wake Forest in the years following World War I and holds the world record for the single longest punt of 110 yards.

After serving in the U.S. Army in World War I, Rabenhorst began his career in coaching in 1921 at Greensboro High School in Greensboro, N.C. After that, he moved to New Mexico Military Academy where he coached for three seasons before moving back to Baton Rouge and the start of a long and dedicated lifetime of service to LSU.

In any capacity he served, he showed the same gracious understanding of the individual and devotion to duty that have set him apart from the ordinary.

He was a walking encyclopedia of LSU athletics and could recall in a moment the big game, the big play and the individual star of almost every athletic success enjoyed by the Tigers during his tenure.

Few men alive in college athletics numbered among their close personal friends the great and near great personalities who dominated the athletic scene for much of the first 60 years of this century. His list of associates reads like a "Who's Who" of American Collegiate Athletics, names that capture the imagination of sports fans and historians everywhere -- Knute Rockne, Amos Alonzo Stagg, Pop Warner, Fielding Yost, Wallace Wade, Adolph Rupp -- and many more.

Rabenhorst's career at LSU meant more than victories and championships. A popular and respected coach and administrator, he brought LSU distinction with his long and brilliant service and developed athletes who became outstanding students, and later outstanding citizens.

Harry Rabenhorst was a competitor. He was also a gentleman. He proved that you can be both and be successful.

When Coach Rabenhorst passed away in March, 1972, at the age of 73, then athletic director Carl Maddox said, "Coach Raby was revered and respected nationally by the many who came to know him in the world of intercollegiate athletics -- but more significant is the esteem and the love he earned from the men who played for him."

"I always enjoyed competing with him," said Adolph Rupp. "He was a great credit to the game. He developed some of LSU's outstanding players and teams."

He is still revered today by many and joined just the second class of administrators and coaches inducted into the LSU Athletic Hall of Fame in 2009.

Coach Raby was a man for all seasons and still to this day remains one of the league's all-time winningest basketball coaches. Those who played for him, loved him. Those who knew him, respected him. There's not much better can be said.

Dale Brown

When he arrived from Washington State via Minot, N. D., there weren't that many basketball fans in the state of Louisiana who knew who Dale Brown was. When he retired after the 1996-97 season, you would have been hard pressed to find a college basketball fan in the country who didn't have some inkling about who Dale Brown was and what he stood for.

When Brown arrived in Baton Rouge in March, 1972, he arrived with a dream that was perceived by many who knew the LSU basketball program as impossible. The dream was to make basketball important in football-crazy Tiger country. When Brown was introduced as the Tiger coach, LSU fans were still remembering the Pete Maravich era. Final Fours? Rudy Macklin? Chris Jackson? Shaq? All a dream. In those years, fans had to be convinced to come to the new arena known as the LSU Assembly Center.

Brown traveled from one end of the state to the other telling all who would listen about the future of LSU basketball. Some thought him foolish. Others questioned his statements. But none who saw or heard him criticized his effort and his tireless energy.

His first LSU team shocked the basketball world by knocking off third-ranked Memphis State in Brown's home opener in December, 1972. The Hustlers, as they were dubbed, gave the competition fits all season long. They won 14 games, finished 9-9 in the SEC and drew praise from all around the country for their determination. For his achievements with a team picked last in the league, Brown was named SEC Coach of the Year, the first of four such honors he would receive.

Starting with the 1976-77 season, the Tigers increased their victory total ever year for the next six seasons. The streak was highlighted by a 31-5 record in 1980-81 (the most wins in a season in LSU history) and the first of Brown's two trips to the Final Four. For his success that season Brown was honored as the 1981 National Coach of the Year.

Even more impressive was his second trip to the Final Four in 1985-86 when his Tigers were the lowest seeded team ever to make it to the Final Four after knocking off teams seeded first, second and third in the region (the only team ever to accomplish that feat on the road to the Final Four).

The Tigers won four SEC titles under Brown and only Adolph Rupp and Joe B. Hall at Kentucky won more SEC titles. His 448-301 record with 238 wins in regular season SEC play, put him second behind only Rupp in wins in the league. He was only the third SEC coach to coach 25 years as a head coach in the league.

Brown was part of 38.5 percent of LSU's 1,164 total victories in the first 89 seasons of basketball. Also, no coach in LSU history coached more consecutive games -- 749.

In 1990, Brown was the winning coach, capturing the Gold Medal for the South in the Olympic Festival in Minneapolis.

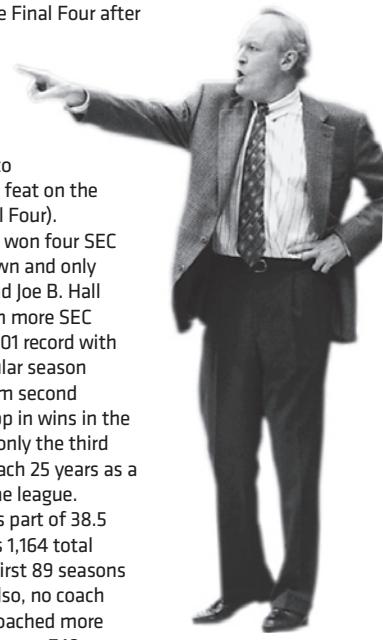

Brown was born in 1935 in Minot, a small railroad town in the northwest corner of North Dakota. In high school, he was the leading scorer in both football and basketball at St. Leo's of Minot. As a senior, he was the state scoring leader in basketball with a state record scoring average. He also set a school record in the 440-yard dash.

Brown earned 12 letters in basketball, football and track at Minot State University, making him the school's only athlete to achieve that goal.

John Chaney of Temple called Brown, "...one of the true statesmen of college basketball. His contributions to the game and society have impacted many. He is an outstanding coach and an outstanding person."

Legendary coach John Wooden of UCLA said: "I will always remember Dale for his enthusiasm. There are those who say he is a put-on -- they just can't believe that he can be what he professes. But I never questioned that. He amazed me because there is a lot more depth to the man. He was much more than a basketball coach."

At halftime of the Kentucky game in February 2004, athletics director Skip Bertman and the LSU basketball program honored Coach Brown with a banner in his honor to permanently hang from the rafters of the Maravich Assembly Center.

John Brady

John Brady's tenure of nearly 11 seasons as the LSU basketball coach can be looked at in many different ways. But his tenure is an important part of the 100-year history of the program as he was able to win division and league champions, develop players that captured top league honors on a regular basis and when right, take his team to post-season play and in 2006, joined Harry Rabenhorst and Dale Brown as LSU coaches to take teams to the NCAA Final Four.

Brady was able to take the LSU program and remake it a couple of times during his tenure to go to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 2000 and to the pinnacle of college basketball in 2006, the school's first NCAA Final Four in 20 years. Along the way he won the school's first ever division titles and won the first outright SEC title in 21 years.

Coach Brady arrived following in the unenviable position of taking over the program after Coach Dale Brown's 25 years but Brady came with a plan and while his early teams were undermanned, undersized and underdogs, the team played hard and gave the best of teams problems. But it was the little things that kept them from getting many wins.

Brady's teams would win two SEC titles, three division crowns and at one point had six consecutive winning seasons, the fourth longest streak of consecutive years with a positive overall record in the program's first 100 years.

In 2000, the Tigers advanced to the Sweet 16 as part of a 28-win season, the second most wins in school history. In 2005, LSU captured the Western Division title and came back the next year for a special season Tiger fans will always remember.

LSU won 14-of-16 conference games in 2006 to win the title. The Tigers would have success in the NCAA Tournament, defeating No. 1 Duke and No. 9 Texas to win the regional title mainly with a lineup homegrown in the city and the state of Louisiana.

The win over Duke marked the second time that Brady's Tigers defeated a standing No. 1 team as the Tigers also defeated No. 1 Arizona, 66-65, in December 2002 at the Maravich Center, only the second time No. 1 had gone down in the building.

A major part of the success of the LSU program at that time was player development. John Brady coached the SEC Player of the Year three times (Stromile Swift in 2000, Brandon Bass in 2005 and Glen Davis in 2006). He had the SEC Freshman of the Year four times (Torris Bright in 2000, Brandon Bass in 2004, Glen Davis in 2005, Tyrus Thomas in 2006).

Brady, who ended his career as the third winningest and the third longest tenured coach in Tiger history, came to LSU after five years at Samford as head coach. Prior to that he has served successful stints at Mississippi State and UNO as an assistant coach. He is presently the head coach at Arkansas State.

LSU Athletic Hall of Fame

The LSU Athletic Hall of Fame is one of the most prestigious athletic clubs that recognizes only the best and brightest of LSU athletes. All student-athletes in the LSU Athletic Hall of Fame must have received their degree at LSU to be eligible.

In 2007, a new category was added to allow coaches and administrators into the LSU Hall of Fame. That allowed both coach Harry Rabenhorst and trainer Dr. Marty Broussard to enter the prestigious hall in 2008.

Listing includes just the basketball members of the Hall of Fame.

Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame

To be a member of the Louisiana Sports Writers Hall of Fame is one of the greatest honors that could be bestowed on an athlete from this state or who has performed a portion of his career in this state. Each year's class continues to add to the prestige of the growing list of Hall of Fame inductees. The Hall of Fame ceremonies are conducted each June in Natchitoches and plans are underway for a Hall of Fame building to be constructed just off the historic district of downtown Natchitoches.

A total of 13 men and women who participated in the LSU basketball program either as players or coaches have been inducted in the Hall of Fame. In 2005, LSU's Durand "Rudy" Macklin, a member of the 1981 Final Four team and the No. 1 rebounder and No. 2 scorer in LSU men's history, along with late former LSU women's head coach Sue Gunter were inducted.

This past year the late Dr. Martin J. Broussard became the first athletic trainer ever inducted into the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame.

Dr. Michael V. Martin

Chancellor, LSU

Dr. Michael V. Martin assumed the chancellorship of Louisiana State University and A&M College on August 1, 2008. Prior to his appointment as LSU's eighth chancellor, Dr. Martin established a distinguished career in higher education, serving most recently as president of New Mexico State University.

Before arriving at NMSU in 2004, Dr. Martin served for six years as vice president for agriculture and natural resources at the University of Florida, leading the university's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences. He was elevated to senior vice president of the University of Florida shortly before being selected as NMSU's president. Previously, he was vice president for agricultural policy and the dean of the College of Agricultural, Food and Environmental Sciences at the University of Minnesota. He began his academic career at Oregon State University as a faculty member in the Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics.

An academic leader dedicated to the land-grant mission, Dr. Martin is recognized as a strong voice for higher education. In 2007, he received the Justin Smith Morrill Memorial Award, named after the author of the bill creating land-grant universities, which honors outstanding service on behalf of the land-grant mission. Only six individuals have been designated to receive this award since it was first given in 1980. For his leadership in improving the quality of life for New Mexico citizens and future generations, he was awarded the 2008 Distinguished Leadership Award by Leadership New Mexico.

Other recent awards include his recognition as a powerbroker by The New Mexico Business Weekly in 2006, being named Outstanding Alumnus of Minnesota State University Mankato in 2006, and receiving the NMSU Social Justice Award in 2005.

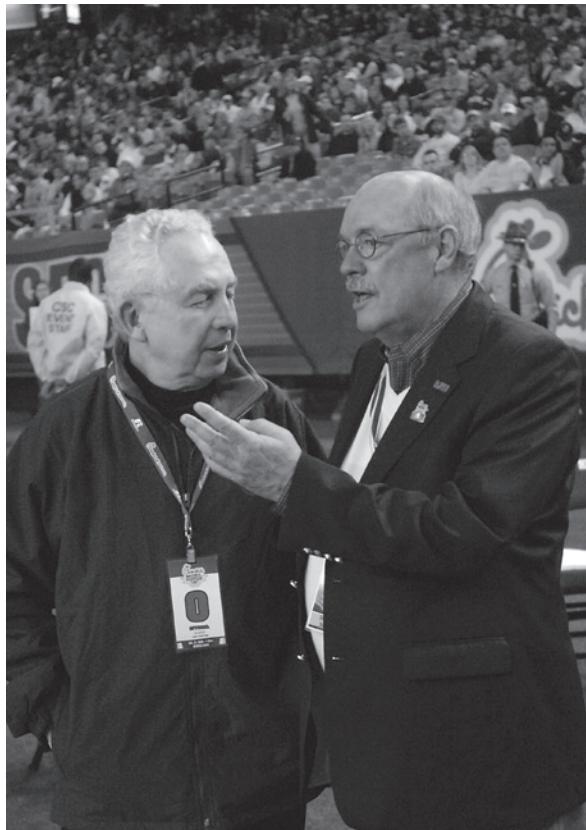

Dr. Martin is involved in a wide array of professional and community organizations and activities.

An active scholar, Dr. Martin has authored numerous book chapters and articles for academic journals, trade publications, and the popular press and recently published pieces for The Chronicle of Higher Education and University Business.

Some of his philosophy is summed up in the following quote: "It is the tradition of land-grant universities to be non-traditional," written as part of a 2001 article titled "The Land-Grant University in the 21st Century," published in the Journal of Agricultural and Applied Economics. He traced the history of the land-grant movement from the mid-1800s and concluded that "the fundamental land-grant principles of accessibility, practical as well as classical education, research and discovery in the public interest, and connectedness to all the people remain powerful and profound."

A native of Crosby, Minn., Dr. Martin earned a bachelor's degree in business and economics and a master's degree in economics at Mankato State College (Minnesota State University) in Minnesota. He received his Ph.D. in applied economics from the University of Minnesota in 1977.

Dr. Martin and his wife, Jan, have two children, both adopted from South Korea. Amanda, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, is a graphic artist in Saint Paul, Minn. Sam, who holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Minnesota and a master's from Sarah Lawrence College, is a genetics counselor at Beth Israel Hospital in New York City.

Dydia DeLyser

Faculty Athletics Representative

Dydia DeLyser, an associate professor in the Department of Geography and Anthropology, serves in her fourth year as LSU's Faculty Athletics Representative.

DeLyser, a native of Santa Monica, Calif., earned her bachelor's degree in 1992 from UCLA, and her master's and doctoral degrees from Syracuse University (in 1996 and 1998).

DeLyser arrived at LSU in August 1998 as an Instructor before becoming an assistant professor one year later. She was promoted to associate professor with tenure in August 2005.

DeLyser is a cultural-historical geographer. Her research has been both ethnographic and historical, and most of it questions how different built landscapes can help make the past meaningful in the present.

Much of her published research has focused on two different studies. One was a many-year ethnographic study of a ghost town in California (Bodie State Historic Park) where she examined how images and ideas about the American mythic West became meaningful to the tourists who visited the town. The second was an historical study that examined a 19th century novel (Ramona) and how it changed the way people understood (and still understand) southern California's past.

Her current research concerns early women aviators and how they used their practices of flying to advance feminism in the post-suffrage era.

DeLyser teaches graduate courses in cultural geography, qualitative research, and academic and professional writing. She has also taught undergraduate courses in cultural, and urban geography, and an introductory world-regional geography course.

DeLyser is a first-generation American -- her parents were Dutch immigrants and English is her second language. She also has language abilities in Russian and Spanish.

DeLyser's hobbies include driving/riding antique cars and motorcycles. She is also a licensed pilot and co-owns a Citabria, which is a two-place aerobatic airplane.

Joe Alleva

LSU Vice-Chancellor/Director of Athletics

Joe Alleva enters his second year as LSU's Director of Athletics after being hired to lead one of the nation's most powerful athletic programs on April 4, 2008. Alleva joined LSU after 10 years of outstanding leadership as the director of athletics at Duke University. He officially took over at LSU on July 1, 2008.

Under Alleva's guidance in 2008-09, LSU reached new heights in terms of athletic success while continuing to be recognized as one of the top enterprises in college athletics.

The LSU Board of Supervisors approved a promotion on August 28, 2009, expanding his role to the academic side of the university. Alleva accepted the position of LSU Vice-Chancellor while still continuing his role as Director of Athletics.

A veteran leader in college athletics, Alleva is dedicated to athletic and academic excellence. He is committed to providing the opportunities and the resources necessary for student-athletes to excel in competition, in the classroom and in the community.

Alleva, 56, is well-respected for sustaining high standards of excellence and integrity in athletic programs, hiring the finest coaches in the country and the high level of success achieved by student-athletes.

Under Alleva's direction, all 20 LSU sports competed in NCAA post-season play for the first time in school history, and it culminated with the baseball team winning the national championship. In addition, six teams finished in the top 10 nationally. The Tigers hold claim to being the only school in the Southeastern Conference to participate in a bowl game and the men's and women's NCAA basketball tournaments during 2008-09. Furthermore, LSU student-athletes volunteered a total of 2,360 hours for community service projects.

LSU earned a ninth place ranking in the 2009 Learfield Director's Cup, which measures the overall athletic success for institutions across the country. LSU was second only to Florida in the Director's Cup among SEC institutions as the Tigers accumulated points in 18 of a possible 20 categories in the standings, also a first for the school.

Upon being hired at LSU, Alleva immediately made an impact by hiring Trent Johnson to lead the men's basketball program. Johnson, the 2009 SEC Coach of the Year, wasted little time in turning the Tigers into a winner as LSU claimed the 2009 SEC regular season title and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

LSU also had top 10 national finishes in gymnastics, men's and women's indoor track and field and men's and women's outdoor track and field. Thirteen of LSU's 20 sports finished the year ranked among the top 25 in the nation.

The Tiger football team capped their season with a record ninth-straight bowl appearance as LSU closed out 2008 with a 38-3 win over 14th-ranked Georgia Tech in the Chick-fil-A Bowl. During the offseason, Alleva helped secure the funding necessary for the addition of a state-of-the-art artificial turf practice field, which complements the surface the Tigers have in their indoor practice facility. The addition of the outdoor artificial turf field gives the LSU football program one of the nation's finest all-around facilities.

Not only did LSU teams set records but so did the fans as over 1.5 million fans filled venues on the LSU campus. LSU set the school record for overall attendance in the sports of football, baseball, and softball.

Alleva oversaw the grand opening of two of the premier baseball and softball facilities in college athletics, Alex Box Stadium and Tiger Park.

LSU also broke ground on a basketball practice facility that will house both the men's country well into the 21st Century. One of his top priorities is the enhancement of Tiger Stadium and making Tiger Stadium and the North Stadium Drive corridor a showplace for the university. Alleva's innovative plan is to make a plaza area between the Maravich Assembly Center and Tiger Stadium that would recognize LSU's national championship teams and distinguished alumni. This special area, along with Mike's Habitat, and the LSU SportsShop, would become the focal point for visitors to campus.

Alleva is also pursuing a major renovation to the golf course at the University Club and is developing plans for a new gymnastics practice facility, indoor tennis center and improved soccer and track facilities.

"Joe Alleva brings a wealth of experience and accomplishment to LSU," LSU President John Lombardi said of hiring Alleva. "I'm confident we've found a new leader for LSU athletics who exemplifies the vision and integrity needed to lead our sports programs to new heights, a champion of student athletes who believes in the highest standards of competition both on the field and in the classroom."

Alleva's impressive tenure as director of athletics at Duke propelled the university into the ranks of America's top all-around collegiate programs. Among his outstanding list of accomplishments includes the greatest 10-year period in Duke athletics, winning more ACC and NCAA championships than in any other decade in school history.

Also, his fundraising reached extensive heights providing new facilities or renovations for all 26 sports at Duke, which enhanced the experience for every student-athlete. Alleva is active on the national collegiate athletics scene, having served on the Football Bowl Certification Committee. He sat on several Atlantic Coast Conference committees and served on the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet.

Alleva majored in Finance at Lehigh University and received his bachelor's degree in 1975. While at Lehigh, Alleva was the quarterback of the football team and team captain in 1974. Alleva also played on the Lehigh baseball team. He served as a graduate assistant football coach and earned an MBA in 1976.

Alleva began his 32-year career at Duke University in 1976. He spent 28 years in the athletic administration prior to becoming director of athletics in 1998.

Alleva played a key role in Durham's community sports scene. He started Little League Baseball in Durham over 20 years ago, and also began the American Legion baseball program.

Alleva is a member of the North Carolina American Legion Hall of Fame, Suffern High School Hall of Fame and the Rockland County Hall of Fame.

Alleva and his wife, Annie, have three children, J.D., Jeff, and Jenny.

and women's basketball teams starting in December of this year. The new basketball practice facility will feature two full length courts as well as locker rooms and other amenities for both squads.

In addition, LSU opened a new gift center for its fans - the LSU SportsShop. The LSU SportsShop, a spectacular, free-standing facility that features the latest in LSU apparel and merchandise, is located adjacent to Mike's Habitat.

Under Alleva's guidance, LSU has one of the most lucrative apparel and shoe contracts with Nike while also having one of the nation's most attractive multi-media rights contracts with CBS Collegiate Sports Properties. LSU athletic budget is now approaching $85 million, which allows the university to compete at the highest level in the nation.

Alleva has a long-term vision for continued improvements to LSU's athletic facilities in order to insure that the Tigers are among the best in the

for Media Covering LSU Athletics

LSU's goal is to disseminate information as widely, uniformly and fairly as possible using normally accepted media standards.

Media must meet the following guidelines in order to be granted credentials. Only media that meet the criteria will be considered for access to LSU athletic events.

The number of credentials issued is limited by available resources. Due to space and facility restrictions, access, seat assignments on press row as well as sideline photography will be made on a space available basis. In some situations, pool reporting may be necessary.

PRINT

- Daily newspapers are eligible to apply for credentials and access to media opportunities. The granting and number of credentials will be based on newspaper's circulation on a space available basis.
- Weekly newspapers must be members of the Louisiana Press Association and those sports writers must be members of the Louisiana Sports Writers Association to request credentials. Weekly newspapers based on requests will be limited to non-conference games if space exists.
- Specialty publications that cover college basketball or sports in the host site of the two participating schools are eligible to be granted on a space available basis.
- Student newspapers from the city of the two teams are able to apply for credentials on the basis of a maximum of two press box seats for dailies and one press box seat for weeklies.

TELEVISION

- Television stations that have nightly news broadcasts that originate in the locale of the station that includes sports coverage are eligible to apply for credentials. All other stations will be filled on a space available basis.
- Student television stations from the two participating schools are eligible to apply on a space available basis.

RADIO

- National and regional networks are eligible to apply for credentials.
- Radio stations that employ a full-time sports director or regularly air sports news or locally-produced talk shows are eligible to apply for credentials. No talk show may have more than one credential and the maximum credentials a station may receive for a game, based on space availability, is two.

INTERNET

- Internet sites of the home and visiting school (as determined by the Media Relations Director) are eligible to apply for credentials.
- LSU's policy is to issue credentials only to those organizations whose primary purpose is gather news and disseminating it and for which other commercial activities are ancillary.
- Other internet sites must meet each of the following guidelines in addition to meeting the above criteria to be eligible to apply for credentials and access as determined on a space available basis.
 - Web site must be a legal, corporate entity.
 - Web site must provide daily coverage of LSU or the visiting team with its own full-time staff of reporters, photographers and equipment.
 - Web site must travel to and cover a majority of away games and all major post-season events.
 - Web site must be accredited by the home university as working media.
 - Websites that sponsor message boards, message centers or chat rooms as their primary function where people are allowed to post anonymous information will not be issued credentials.
 - The maximum number of credentials that a web site may receive is two based on space available and the discretion of the media relations director.

INTERNET REAL-TIME POLICY

By acceptance and use of an LSU media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions as established by LSU and the Southeastern Conference:

- The SEC and its member institutions grant a media organization a limited license to use certain gathered information on the media organization's own Internet or online site beginning at the start of an athletic event and up to the conclusion of such event, all subject to the following limitations and conditions:
 - No more than 10 still photographs may be used for news coverage of the game and other editorial purposes. Such still photographs must be used on a time-delayed basis, that is at least (5) minutes after the happening of the event depicted by the still photograph.
 - It is agreed that video tape is NOT to be used on an Internet or online site (except that video tape may be shown as part of a single online "simulcast" of a television station's regularly scheduled news program).
- While a game is in progress, the use of textual statistical information is time-delayed and limited in amount (e.g. updates pertaining to score, injuries and national, conference or institutional record-breaking performances, a condensed half-time story) so that an organization's Internet or online game coverage does not undercut the authorized and rights-paying fee organization's rights to play-by-play accounts of the game and/or exclusivity as to such rights.
 - This policy is in effect for all LSU sports events. The limitations for basketball are four per half and one at halftime.
- Should any of these conditions be breached, LSU and/or the SEC will issue a written warning for the first violation. If this violation occurs during the last game of the institutions' regularly-scheduled season, the media organization may not be credentialed for the SEC Basketball Tournament. A second violation of this policy will result in revocation of credentials to cover future basketball games hosted by the SEC and/or its member institutions.

UNAUTHORIZED USE OF CREDENTIALS

Press credentials will be issued to working press only. Press credentials are not transferable and use by anyone other than members of the working media is unauthorized. Press credentials used in an unauthorized manner will be revoked immediately. New organizations allowing unauthorized individuals to use credentials will have their credentials revoked for the remainder of the year.

All press credentials remain the property of the LSU Athletics Department and must be returned on request.
