THIS IS LSU

John Brady Basketball

Coaches are often judged strictly on how many games they win. Many times, that's all some people care about. While winning games is very important, the job of a head coach is so much more.

In John Brady's first four years at LSU, he has instilled in his players a philosophy that carries them both on and off the floor. It is a philosophy that the LSU basketball fans have also adopted as the winning has started to take place again at LSU. It is a philosophy that won't change over time even though the Tigers have tasted victory, won a conference championship and reached the NCAA Tournament.

Those are all good and wonderful things. But John Brady's philosophy doesn't stop there. It can't. The reason it is so much more is because the players aren't just athletes, they aren't just students, they are student-athletes with a big responsibility on their shoulders. This coaching staff agrees that the team members must not only meet the demands of the athletic program, but they must meet the demands of the classroom.

They must also meet the demands of life where every eye is on them constantly because they are an athlete. They must operate in a society where one little mistake in a game or away from the campus puts them on the front page of a newspaper. It's not an easy thing to handle. It's even tougher when your team is in the national spotlight as the Tigers have been.

John Brady has shown that he is very comfortable handling all those roles at LSU. In fact, he sincerely believes in the basketball player as a student-athlete who must be given the opportunity to succeed on the court, in the classroom and in life. His philosophy of coaching hasn't changed since the day he took the job at LSU and it comes down to three simple words:

Responsibility + Accountability

Success

Critical to the development of an athlete as a student is an adequate academic facility and capable staff to further the athlete's progress. The Academic Center for Athletes is responsible for overseeing the educational development and progress toward graduation for all student-athletes. The staff acts as a liaison between the athlete and the academic communities and insures that student-athletes comply with academic rules established by the University, NCAA and SEC. The staff also coordinates academic programs designed to assist student-athletes in acquiring a quality education.

"You set goals to do things, and it sounds good, but for it to happen, it's an unbelievable feeling. With hard work and assistance from the Academic Center for Athletes, I earned the chance to walk across that stage."

-- Collis Temple III, present LSU player who earned his degree in 3 years

Services Available at the Academic Center For Athletes

- A showpiece of the Academic Center is the Deumite Memorial Library, a 2,400-square foot resource and study facility offering reading materials and a relaxing quiet area conducive to learning.

“The Academic Center for Athletes is a tremendous asset to all athletes. It provides those tangibles that are necessary to achieve success in a collegiate environment. The Center provides tutors to help you understand your course material, academic coaches who teach you organizational skills, and time management seminars to enhance the skills needed in this society.

“In one word, the Center is GREAT!”

-- Shaquille O’Neal, LSU basketball player, 1989-92, the 2000 NBA MVP for the Los Angeles Lakers and a 2000 graduate of LSU

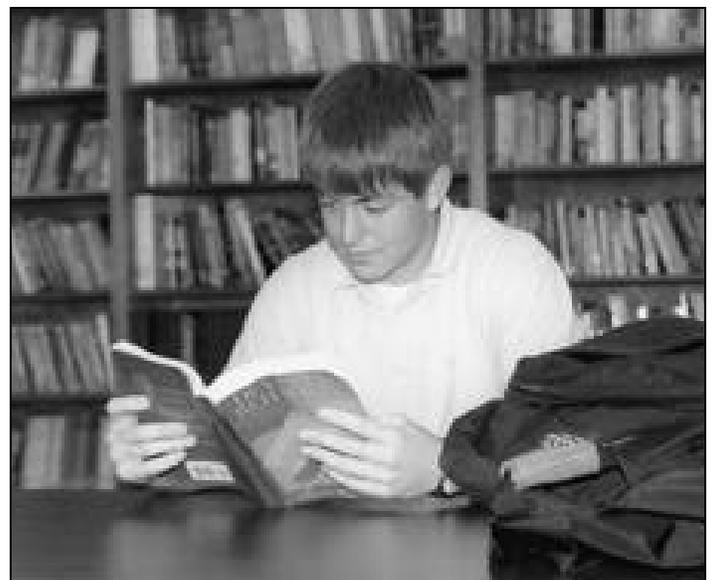

- The support services offered include tutoring, career counseling and development, time management, study skills, and other programs that help each student-athlete reach and receive their highest-quality education and degree.

- The Academic Center for Athletes, located in the Gym Armory, is responsible for overseeing the educational development and progress toward graduation for all student-athletes.

- The Center has private study rooms, made possible by generous donations from alumni, and the Tammany Tigers Computer Room, which has the latest in technology to meet all of the student-athletes’ needs. The Bengal Belle room is an additional study area.

- The Eric Hill Athletic Communications Studio is a state-of-the-art facility that allows student-athletes to polish their public speaking ability and improve their communication skills with the media. Dr. Tommy Karam has expertise in assisting athletes in working with the news media.

Academic Center Expansion

Paramount to the success of the “student” half of the term student-athlete is providing LSU athletes with the best possible resources to excel in the classroom. For more than 20 years, the LSU Academic Center for Athletes has helped to build well-rounded student-athletes. But as times change and technology advances, the need for further improvements still exists. As a result, the Academic Center for Athletes

“Our academic support program should be the standard by which all academic support programs are measured. A first-class academic support center plays a major role in developing a quality academic support program for all student-athletes.” – LSU Basketball Coach John Brady grant status.

History and tradition began with LSU's founding in 1853 by the General Assembly of Louisiana as the Louisiana State Seminary of Learning and Military Academy near Pineville, Louisiana. The institution opened January 2, 1860. When the Civil War began, the school's first superintendent, William Tecumseh Sherman, resigned to assume a command in the Union Army. Fire demolished the Seminary in 1869, and the school moved to Baton Rouge.

In 1870, the Seminary was renamed Louisiana State University. In 1874, under the United States Morrill Act, the Louisiana State Agricultural & Mechanical College was established in New Orleans. The two institutions were merged by the Legislature in 1877 to become Louisiana State University and Agricultural & Mechanical College.

Construction of the present campus began in 1922, and the first classes were held in 1926. LSU experienced major growth in the 1930s and 1940s, expanding its student body, curricula, and services. During the 1960s, the University began to place increasing emphasis on research.

Recognizing the importance and extent of statewide agricultural activities of units in the LSU System, the LSU Board of Supervisors in 1972 established the Center for Agricultural Sciences & Rural Development. This unit was renamed the LSU Agricultural Center in 1982. Components of the LSU

What is CHAMPS?

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program was developed by the NCAA to help prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the playing field. Through workshops, service projects, and social events, CHAMPS, an acronym for Challenging Athletes Minds for Personal Success, brings LSU student-athletes information that will prepare them for the biggest game of all - the game of life!

student-athletes with meeting daily challenges, but also enhances student-athlete's growth in their college years and beyond.

CHAMPS at LSU

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program at LSU is operated out of the Academic Center for Athletes, and the focus of the program is on five commitments viewed as critical to personal growth:

- I. Academic Excellence
- II. Athletic Excellence
- III. Career Development
- IV. Personal Development
- V. Community Service

How can CHAMPS help?

LSU basketball players and other athletes frequently visit hospitals as part of their commitment to community outreach.

Student-Athlete Advisory Board

The Student-Athlete Advisory Board (SAAB) is made up on athletes that have been chosen by the coaches and/or athletes to represent that particular team.

The student-athletes attend regular meetings on their team's behalf and put forward the opinions and ideas for discussion that are brought to them from coaches and student-athletes. If there is an issue that is important, coaches and student-athletes are urged not to hesitate to inform their representative.

This year's President is men's basketball player Collis Temple, III with Vice-President Claston Bernard from Track and Field.

- all five commitments of the CHAMPS program be in place and demonstrate both substance and longevity, i.e. the program exists as a total departmental commitment and is a part of the operating principles of the athletics program.

- goals and objectives are stated for all components which are designed to address the needs of the student-athletes and an evaluation process is defined.

- staff and budgets are available to support all five commitments of the CHAMPS program.

- the program shows evidence of marketing the CHAMPS program to the student-athletes, staff, university and community.

- comprehensive programming is available to all student-athletes in all five areas of the CHAMPS program.

LSU CHAMPS Program Gets National Honor

The LSU CHAMPS life skill program, under the direction of Miriam Segar, was recently announced as one of five schools receiving the Program of Excellence award from the National Association of Athletic Director.

A "Program of Excellence" award is designed to recognize Division IA athletics programs that have established student-athlete welfare as the cornerstone of their operating principles. In identifying LSU's CHAMPS program as a "Program of Excellence", the school had to show:

Pete Maravich Assembly Center

It was known as the place Pete built, so it was probably fitting that the LSU Assembly Center was renamed the Pete Maravich Assembly Center shortly after the superstar's tragic passing in 1988. Now into its fourth decade as the venue for the LSU men's basketball team, it is a building full of memories and magical moments. Some are distant, some seem just like yesterday. It still remains one of the premier venues in the South to watch college basketball.

“You don’t get the feel for college basketball at other places the way you do at the Deaf Dome at LSU.....”

–Dick Vitale, ESPN/ABC commentator

In 1999-2000, as the Tigers drove for the SEC championship, the Deaf Dome atmosphere was at its height. Tickets for SEC games were hard to get, the student body was joined by the rest of the crowd in creating an atmosphere that could only be described as “raucous.” This will mark the 31st season of play for the Tigers in the Assembly Center during the 2001-2002 season and total paid attendance this past year should top the 5 million mark.

Locker Room

LSU's dressing room area ranks among some of the finest in college basketball. The project started prior to the 1997-98 season and was completed in time for the 1998-99 basketball season. The spacious locker room features wide dressing areas with mirrors for each player, including a locker and storage bin. Fully carpeted and well-lit, the locker room is immediately adjacent to the shower room, training facility and the new squad room.

The locker room, located downstairs in the Maravich Assembly Center, includes a big screen television to review video tapes of practice and upcoming opponents as well as a wall-mounted marking board for messages and strategy sessions.

Deumite-McKay Squad Room

The Norman Deumite-Matt McKay Squad Room gives the LSU basketball program one of the finest basketball meeting rooms in the country. Located adjacent to the team dressing room in the Maravich Assembly Center, the Deumite-McKay Squad Room has seating for 20 student-athletes. The room features plush individual seating in a comfortable theater-like atmosphere. In addition, the room has all of the audio and visual accompaniments necessary for meetings, reviewing of game tapes and lectures.

The addition to the Maravich Assembly Center and the LSU athletic physical plant was made possible in large part by Norman Deumite and Matt McKay, who made a sizeable financial contribution for the purpose of building the facility.

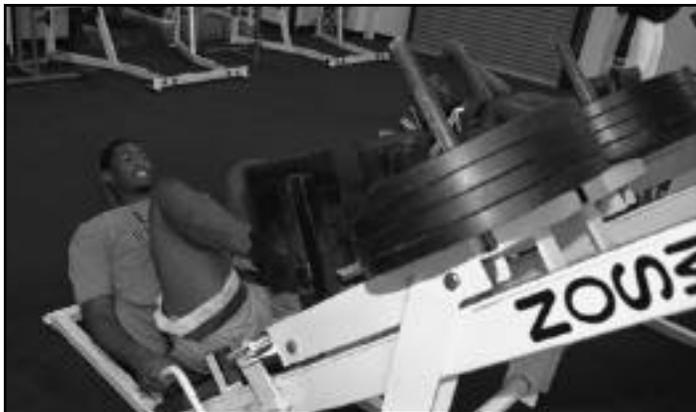

Strength & Conditioning

The LSU strength and conditioning facility was built in 1997 and features the latest in both strength training and cardiovascular training equipment. Measuring 10,000-square feet, LSU has one of the finest strength and conditioning facilities in the nation.

LSU strength and conditioning team took a new direction in 2000 under strength coach Tommy Moffitt. Moffitt, who was named the 1999 Collegiate Football Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by the Professional Football Strength and conditioning Coaches Society, is in charge of the LSU strength and conditioning facility, located in Tiger Stadium.

Strength and conditioning can be the heart and soul of an athletic program's success, and LSU has taken great strides to improve its strength program and facilities.

Tigers in the NBA

The LSU basketball program has a lasting legacy in the history of the National Basketball Association and that fact has been well documented by two separate occurrences in the last 10 years.

First in 1992, Shaquille O'Neal was taken as the first overall pick in the draft by the Orlando Magic. He was the first Southeastern Conference player taken as the top overall pick in the NBA draft.

Then in June 2000, Stromile Swift was taken as the second overall pick in the draft by the Vancouver (now Memphis)

Grizzlies. It marked the fifth time a Tiger player had been chosen in the top three picks in the draft, joining Bob Pettit (2nd pick, Milwaukee - 1954), Pete Maravich (3rd pick, Atlanta - 1970), Chris Denver; 1985 -- Jerry Reynolds, Milwaukee; 1986 -- John Williams, Washington; 1991 -- Stanley Roberts, Orlando; 1993 -- Geert Hammink, Orlando.

Since 1952, 44 LSU players have been chosen by teams in the NBA draft. Plus there are countless others who have and are presently playing for teams abroad. In all, a total of 26 players have logged regular season minutes in either the NBA or the ABA.

Jabari Smith

NBA's 50th ANNIVERSARY TEAM

As a former LSU star, Pete Maravich was the draw for New Orleans fans who prized their memories of him from his college days

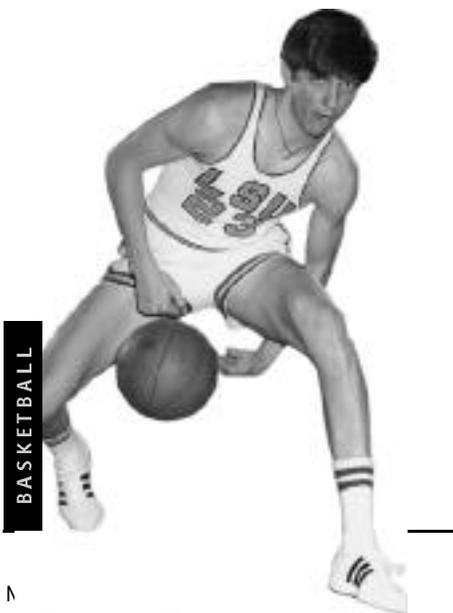

Bob Pettit Pete Maravich Shaquille O'Neal

LSU was one of just two colleges to have three players named to the NBA's 50th anniversary team. The three players have all had a profound influence on the pro game, much like their college careers which can be found on pages 195-197 of this book.

In the pro game, Pettit, also named to the league's 25th and 35th anniversary teams was the NBA Rookie of the Year and an 11-time All-Star. He was a four-time All-Star MVP and twice (1956, 1959) league MVP.

Maravich never won an NBA championship, but his magical play dazzled fans and opponents alike. He led the NBA in scoring in 1977 with 31.1 ppg. He averaged over 24 points in 10 NBA seasons.

O'Neal was the first LSU and SEC player to ever be drafted No. 1 by Orlando. He now plays for the L.A. Lakers where he has led the Lakers to the 2000 and 2001 NBA championships and was named the Finals Most Valuable Player both years.

still holds the NCAA record for career points with 3,667 and for career scoring average with 44.2 points a game. Maravich was selected the National Player of the Year in 1970 after leading the Tigers to the NIT Final Four. He scored 50+ points an amazing 28 times. After LSU he went on to a 10-year professional career and was selected as one of the NBA's 50 greatest players in 1997.

Billy Cannon

One of the true legends of college football in the South, Cannon was the 1959 Heisman Trophy winner that helped the Tigers to the 1958 national title. Cannon's most memorable performance came in 1959 against Ole Miss. The top-ranked Tigers trailed No. 3 Ole Miss 3-0 in the fourth quarter when Cannon fielded a punt, broke seven tackles and returned it 89 yards as the Tigers went on to win 7-3. He went on to a successful 11-year professional career.

BASKETBALL

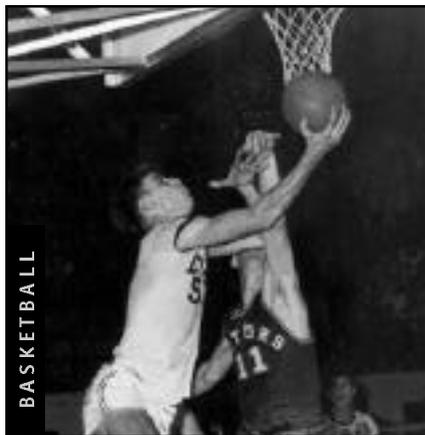

Shaquille O'Neal

Was the first pick in the 1992 NBA Draft. He was named MVP of the league in 2000 and the Finals MVP in 2000 and 2001 after leading the Los Angeles Lakers to two World Championships. At LSU, O'Neal averaged 21.6 points and 13.6 rebounds for his career, and in 1991, he was named the World's Amateur Athlete of the Year as well as SEC Athlete of the Year and National Player of the Year. In 1997, he was named as one of the top 50 players in NBA history.

Retired Numbers

The five athletes on this page are the only athletes to have their jerseys retired by LSU. Basketball has retired the No. 23 for Pete Maravich, No. 50 for Bob Pettit, Jr., and No. 33 for Shaquille O'Neal. Football's only retired jersey is the No. 20 worn by Billy Cannon, while baseball retired the No. 15 this spring in honor of longtime coach and current athletic director Skip Bertman.

Bob Pettit, Jr.

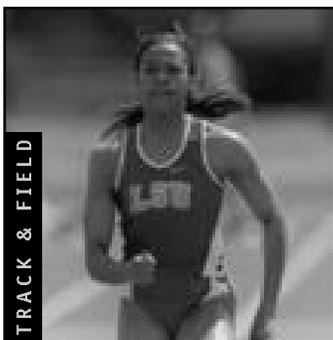

Led LSU to its first NCAA Final Four in 1953 and he later became the first player in NBA history to exceed the 20,000-plus point barrier. Pettit is a member of the NBA Hall of Fame and in 1997 he was named as one of the top 50 players in NBA history.

BASEBALL

Skip Bertman

A legend in the college baseball ranks, Bertman created a dynasty at LSU, guiding the Tigers to five national titles in a 10-year stretch from 1991-2000. He also skippered the United States to a bronze medal at the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta and was an assistant on the gold medal-winning U.S. squad in Seoul, Korea in 1988. Bertman retired from coaching following the 2001 season and is currently the LSU athletic director.

Peta-Gaye Dowdie

A 19-time All-American. Dowdie was a member of three NCAA Championship teams during her time at LSU and went on to compete for her native Jamaica at the 2000 Sydney Olympics.

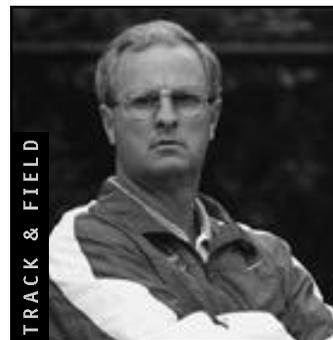

Marie Ferdinand

National Exposure

LSU is one of the most widely recognized programs on the national forefront. It is among the most frequently-covered programs in the nation, while also being the largest media draw in the state of Louisiana. With its constant national visibility, millions of college basketball fans throughout the country see, read and hear about LSU basketball on a daily basis.

Through the years LSU has graced the covers of Sports Illustrated. Pete Maravich, Chris Jackson and Shaquille O'Neal all graced the covers when they were the premier college plays of their era.

Shaquille O'Neal Returns...

Shaquille receives his General Studies degree.

Former LSU basketball star and now NBA Superstar Shaquille O'Neal kept his promise and LSU kept theirs.

O'Neal participated in two graduation ceremonies in December 2000, one to receive his degree from LSU and the other to have his jersey retired before an adoring throng of Shaq fans in the Assembly Center.

to Graduate and...

"I'm going to be the valedictorian of crayon biology," he joked before the ceremony. "This (graduation) is something that I always promised myself, promised my family I would do. It teaches that education is always important. You know, the money is always nice, but you need the education to know how to manage the money and where to put it and what to do with it."

Shaquille marches in the opening procession.

Former Athletic Director Joe Dean told O'Neal that once he graduated, the steps would be put in place to retire his number. Two promises kept, instant good feelings all-around the Assembly Center on a December weekend.

At the main graduation ceremony, O'Neal was brought on stage as part of the graduation procession wearing his size XXXL black gown and a handmade scarf reading: "Shaq Is to retire his LSU Basketball Jersey

Finished!!” Thanked by Chancellor Mark Emmert “for dramatically increasing the starting salary of this graduating class.” O’Neal was his usual self, mixing humor and serious conversation to get a message across about the work on his degree. At the end, he reminded everyone that LSU now also stands for “Love Shaq University” much to the delight of the crowd.

Writers and broadcasters from across the country were on hand for the ceremonies that morning, and later in the day when Shaquille walked across the stage to actually receive his diploma.

The next night, prior to the LSU-UNO game, Shaquille and his mother, Lucille, walked on the court for the formal Shaq’s mother, Lucille Harrison, and former LSU Coach Dale Brown ceremony to retire O’Neal’s jersey. Chancellor Mark Emmert, Athletics Director Joe Dean and O’Neal’s college coach Dale Brown took part in the ceremony which culminated with the unveiling of No. 33 between the jerseys of Pete Maravich and Bob Pettit.

“It’s great to have your name and number retired next to Pistol Pete and Bob Pettit,” O’Neal said. “I’ve seen some of their highlights and they were fabulous.”

It was a weekend to remember, not only for Shaquille and his family and friends, but for all the fans of LSU basketball as well.

1981 NCAA Final Four Players Reunion

It seems hard to believe that it has been 20 years since the 1981 NCAA Final Four LSU basketball team was all together on the floor of the Maravich Assembly Center.

But there they were all together for a Friday night banquet at the Faculty Club this past January and on the floor the next afternoon to be honored at LSU's game with Arkansas.

The 1981 team on the court of the Assembly Center.

The 1981 Tigers won 17 straight games in winning the SEC Championship with a 17-1 record and a 31-5 overall record, advancing to the Final Four in Philadelphia before losing in the national semifinals.

Center Greg "Cookieman" Cook

On hand for the reunion were the members of the coach staff: 1981 National Coach of the Year Dale Brown and assistant coaches Ron Abernathy, Rick Huckabay and Jordy Hultberg.

states and two foreign countries to share stories, memories and just enjoy each other's company once again. They also remembered team member Mark

Alcorn, the Tiger player diagnosed with cancer during the season who passed away shortly after the season's end.

But there they were: Ethan "E" Martin, the Cookieman, "Rudy", Hi-C and SWAT along with the best sixth man in college basketball, Willie Sims, who came all the way from Israel to rejoin his teammates.

It was quite obvious that Tiger fans still have fond memories of this Final Four team with the way they were welcomed back to the Assembly Center. It was quite obvious the players also have fond memories of their days at LSU and enjoyed the chance to come back to the campus as a group to remember good times.

LSU in New Orleans

The Tigers returned to New Orleans for the first time since 1994 in December 1999 and upset nationally-ranked Oklahoma State in the new Nokia Sugar Bowl Classic in the New Orleans Arena before a Sugar Bowl record crowd of 12,341. In last year's Sugar Bowl, the Tigers kept the SEC unbeaten with a 78-68 decision over Oregon State.

This year, LSU returns to the Crescent City Dec. 27 for the Nokia Sugar Bowl Classic to take part in another doubleheader at the Arena, this time facing Miami of the Big East. The doubleheader, with Alabama and Notre Dame in the first game at 7 p.m., will again be televised nationally by Fox Sports Net. The Tigers and Miami will begin at 9:30 p.m. The Tigers will make two trips to the Crescent City, meeting UNO at the Lakefront Arena at 6 p.m. Dec. 18, 2001.

When you say New Orleans and Tiger basketball, fans still talk about the big attendance promotions that LSU sponsored in the Louisiana Superdome in the 1980s and early 1990s. Now in this new venue, LSU is again part of the attendance record for the Sugar Bowl basketball.

Three times since Jan. 1988, LSU has defeated teams ranked in the top three in New Orleans, once at the Superdome and twice at Lakefront Arena:

- JAN. 11, 1998, Lakefront Arena – LSU 84, Oklahoma 77.

The Sooners were the No. 1 team in the country, but LSU shot 60.4 percent from the field as Jose Vargas had 30 points to lead LSU.

- JAN. 28, 1989, Louisiana Superdome – LSU 82, Georgetown 80. Probably one of the biggest days in LSU history. A record regular season actual crowd of 54,321 and a national television audience looked on in amazement as the under-manned Tigers knocked off the second-ranked Hoyas. It was Ricky Blanton's layup with one second to play that was the difference.

- DEC. 11, 1993, Lakefront Arena – LSU 71, Oklahoma 68. Again on national television, the third-ranked Cowboys fell at Lakefront. LSU had a five-point lead at the half and neither team led by more than four in the second half.

NEW ORLEANS NOTES

The 1989 game with Georgetown drew what still is the largest turnstile attendance in the history of the sport for a regular season event – 54,321.

The 1990 game with Notre Dame still ranks as the largest paid attendance for a regular season game – 68,112. The game was a "Hoops to Help" benefit for the homeless, co-sponsored by Comic Relief.

LSU has won 21 of its last 25 games in New Orleans and is 16-4 in the Superdome/New Orleans Arena venues. In all, the Tigers are 78-59 in games played in New Orleans since 1911.

Tiger Travels

The Tigers have traveled to almost every part of the country and in the summer of 2000, the Tigers took a journey to Italy where they won three of five games in an exhibition tour.

Now in 2001, the Tigers head back to one of their favorite states, Hawaii, but this time to another of the famous Island Tournaments, the Big Island Invitational on the big island of Hawaii in the city of Hilo.

Hosted annually by the University of Hawaii -Hilo, this event annually has attracted strong fields doing battle in the Afook-Chinen Civic Auditorium in Hilo.

LSU will play the second game of the first day at 6:30 p.m. CST (2:30 p.m. HST) against Weber State and will be in the bracket with Wisconsin and host Hawaii-Hilo which could set up a rematch of the 2000 Sweet 16 game in the second round.

Colorado State, South Carolina State, Mercer and the University of Hawaii make up the upper bracket. The dates for the event are Nov. 23-25 and all the games will be available back on the mainland on the LSU Sports Network and www.lsusports.net.

LSU Coach John Brady is hoping this tournament will be the big push for his 2001-2002 team as the win in the Hawaii Pacific Tournament in 1999-2000 propelled the LSU Tigers to a 14-0 start and an eventual Southeastern Conference Championship.

The Nation's Leader in Men's College Basketball

Throughout the history of men's college basketball, the Southeastern Conference has captured eight NCAA Championships and three NIT titles putting the SEC as one of the nation's top basketball conferences.

LSU's 2000 SEC Champions

the Southeastern Conference

The SEC had another solid season in 2000-2001, advancing at least half of the SEC's member institutions to the postseason for the 23rd consecutive year.

NCAA SUCCESS SINCE 1990

The decade of the 1990s began a successful ride for the SEC in the NCAA Tournament. Since 1990, the SEC has emerged as the nation's toughest basketball conference from the top to the bottom. The league has produced three national championships (Arkansas in 1994, Kentucky in 1996 and 1998) and nine Final Four appearances. Twice the SEC had two teams in the Final Four in the same year (Arkansas and Florida in 1994 and Kentucky and Mississippi State in 1996).

The SEC boasted six straight Final Four appearances (1993-98) with five straight appearances in the national championship game (1994-98).

SEC STILL THE FINAL FOUR LEADER

In the last nine NCAA Tournaments (1993-2001), the SEC's nine Final Four appearances is tied with the ACC for the most by any conference during that span. The SEC has had a total of four different teams to make the national semifinals, one behind the Big Ten's five. Florida's Final Four showing gave the SEC its 19th all-time appearance (24th including five appearances by Arkansas prior to joining the SEC).

EVERYBODY DANCE

Every team in the SEC has made at least one NCAA Tournament appearance in the last seven editions of the "Big Dance" which shows the balance in the league over the past few seasons.

SEC STILL LEADER IN THE NCAA TOURNAMENT

Compiling a 5-6 record in the 2001 NCAA Tournament, the SEC still maintains its spot as the winning percentage leader among all conferences in the "Big Dance" over the last eight seasons. The SEC has amassed 75 victories against 38 losses for a .664 winning percentage since the 1994 Tournament. The ACC is 69-37 (.651) and the Pac-10 (58-34, .630) during that same time.

SPREADING THE WEALTH

Since the 1980-81 season, each of the 12 SEC schools has captured either an SEC divisional, overall or tournament title and 10 difference schools have won or shared the SEC Championship since the league's inception in 1933.

SIX TEAMS DANCING AGAIN

The SEC tied its conference record for NCAA Tournament bids in 2001 with six bids for the third straight season, one behind the Big Ten and tied with the ACC in number of bids for the 2001 NCAA Tournament. The league tied the record set in 1987 which was which was again accomplished in 1999 and 2000.

FIRST ROUND SUCCESS

The SEC was 3-3 in 2001 in the first round of the NCAA Tournament to extend its three-year first-round record to 14-4. In 1999, the SEC dispelled the first-round jinx that had loomed over the league in the 1997 and 1998 NCAA Tournaments as all six league teams earned opening round wins. The perfect 6-0 record set the standard as the SEC became the first conference to have six team win their first-round games in the same season.

SETTING THE STAGE

History has shown that the SEC Tournament championship trophy has been good luck charm of sorts as past tournament champions have enjoyed great success in the NCAA Tournament. Of the past 23 SEC Tournament Champions (1979-2001), 18 have advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Kentucky reached the 1999 NCAA Tournament Midwest Regional Finals for its fifth straight trip to the Elite Eight. That marked the fifth consecutive year the SEC Tournament Champions has advanced to at least the regional semifinals. Only three times since the renewal has the SEC Tournament champion failed to win at least one NCAA Tournament game and twice the conference tournament champion was eliminated in the second round.

TIGERS

Senior Jermaine Williams had seven double figure scoring games in SEC play last season.

2001-2002 OUTLOOK

Four returning starters provide a solid nucleus, while another solid recruiting effort by the LSU coaching staff has set the Tigers on course for a strong 2001-2002 season ahead.

The four returning starters all have at least two years in Coach John Brady's system, know the intricacies that will pay off dividends for this Tiger club. More importantly, last year's injured riddled team finished 2-2, surprising nationally-ranked Ole Miss at home and beating Georgia in the SEC Tournament, while battling Tennessee on the road and Arkansas in the Tournament to the wire.

The final two weeks gave the LSU team and its fans some hope for this season ahead. A summer and fall of hard work have led many to believe that LSU will be back in the winning form that Tiger fans enjoyed in 1999-2000. To imagine the number of wins or a championship as in 2000 would be extremely premature, but this should be a year the Tigers return to being more than just the courageous, hard-fighting team, it has built its reputation on in the league.

RETURNING STARTERS

Three players started almost every game this past season – Torris Bright, Collis Temple III and Ronald Dupree. A fourth, Jermaine Williams, took over at a guard position for the majority of the season after Lamont Roland was injured.

Dupree, whom Mike DeCoursey of The Sporting News recently declared as "the best player no one knows about," had a breakout season after being forced to play both outside and inside after the pre-season injury to Brad Bridgewater.

Dupree led the Southeastern Conference in scoring, averaging 17.3 points per game and was second in rebounds with an 8.8 average. He was also sixth in the league in field goal percentage and was near the top of the league in double-doubles with 14. But again respect was a question as he was only a third-team choice of the coaches for All-SEC, while the media made him a second-team choice.

Temple, who enters his junior year at LSU already owning a degree from LSU, having finished his degree requirements, is proving to be just as good as his Dad was for LSU in the 1970s. Temple averaged 14.1 points per game this past season.

Bright had an excellent summer and spent much time in the weight room and on the court working on his game. He has dropped about 15 pounds and his quickness and ability to drive the basketball shows off more than ever. He averaged in double figures in both his first two seasons, including a freshman season when he was league Freshman of the Year, and will be counted on again to run the show with a little of his responsibilities eased thanks to some depth finally arriving on the LSU campus.

Williams has been a steady force for the Tigers throughout his career and last season again answered the call after Lamont Roland went down with a season-ending knee injury. Williams averaged 7.4 points a game last season and had seven double figure scoring games in league play.

RETURNING LETTER WINNERS

LSU had two players it hoped would contribute last year that ended up not playing at all in the 2000-2001 season. One would have opened the season at center, Brad Bridgewater, before tearing his ACL on Oct. 31 at the end of practice. The junior has worked hard following the surgery to regain the full use of the leg and will be right at full strength when October practices begin.

The other Tiger was a partial qualifier for the 2001 season, but JueMichael Young had an excellent academic year at LSU and had the benefit of the year of practice with the LSU team. If his academic progress continues, Young (a top 50 high school player in America in 2000) he could regain his freshman year, at the end of his career. .

With the lack of scholarship numbers a year ago, LSU received strong bench play from two walkons, guard Charlie Thompson, and forward Jason Wilson. Thompson had a big game in the win over nationally-ranked Ole Miss late in the season in overtime and Wilson, who will receive a scholarship for this season, has provided solid minutes down low. Both will be expected to do as much or more to help the success of the Tigers in 2002.

Ronald Dupree led the SEC in scoring with 17.3 points per game in 2000-2001 season.

NEWCOMERS

The Tigers list of newcomers is long and lengthy with both scholarship players and walkons who can help in many ways. The three scholarship athletes are all well thought of players who can possibly help fill several roles during the 2001-2002 season, while the walkons will prove valuable in the Brady system, as has been proven already in his tenure.

Thomas Davis, a 6-8 player, who is considered an excellent shooter both inside and outside, hails from Pineville. He earned second team All-Texas Eastern Conference honors at Kilgore Junior College this past season, averaging 17 points and six rebounds a contest. He averaged 29 points and 10 boards as a high school senior at Pineville High. He is part of an inside presence which Coach Brady hopes to bring back to his team this season. He also was a top 50 High School Players in America selection.

The Tigers helped itself at the guard positions with two signees, one a top prospect from Louisiana, and a standout guard from the state of Georgia.

Antonio Hudson from Grambling was the Class A Player of the Year in the state of Louisiana, capping three years as a first-team All-Stater. The McDonald's All-American nominee averaged 30.5 points per game his senior year, 10.5 rebounds, five assists and five steals.

Xavier Whipple

prepped at Wilkinson County High School in McIntyre, Ga., coming to LSU after a standout career in which his team won two state championships, he earned three all-state citations and was the 2001 Middle Georgia Player of the Year. He comes in with nice averages of 20.8 ppg, 7.0 apg, 6.0 rpg and 3 steals.

There will be several walkons, most notably Josh Maravich, the youngest son of Pete Maravich. A good high school player in Covington, Maravich will probably be red-shirted to allow him to get used to Division I basketball. Also expected to pay big dividends to the program are two Baton Rouge freshman -- Michael Clayton and Marcus Spears. Both will join the basketball team at the conclusion of football season and both will bring tremendous basketball credentials to the floor of the Assembly Center.

THE SCHEDULE

This year's schedule is similar in some respects to the 1999-2000 schedule in that the Tigers will face off against three good Division I schools early away from Baton Rouge when it travels to Hilo for its first appearance in the Big Island Invitational in Hawaii. In the second round, the Tigers could potentially face Wisconsin, the team which eliminated LSU in the 2000 NCAA Sweet 16.

LSU faces six teams from Louisiana, including Southern University which returns to the PMAC with Ben Jobe back at the helm and the first meeting between LSU and Louisiana-Lafayette in over 50 years. LSU also travels to New Orleans to play UNO in Lakefront Arena for the first time since the early 1980s. Also in December will be a rematch of the game with Houston as a much-improved Cougar team from Conference USA comes to the Assembly Center after last year's thrilling one-point win by the Tigers at Houston.

Charlie Thompson supplied quality minutes for the Tigers in conference play last season.

The Tigers in the SEC will face all five Western Division teams home and away and get three teams in Baton Rouge from the East, highlighted by a regional television game against Kentucky in the Maravich Assembly Center.

OVERVIEW

The Tigers will have the added depth this season that has been missing in past years because of the scholarship limitations.

Although still limited to 11 scholarships this season, the signees and walkons give the LSU coaches the chance to make quality substitutions and lineup adjustments during the course of games that should help LSU back to another strong season.

Pronounced this summer by The Sporting News, "The best player you don't know" Dupree is a tremendous leaper who showed his talent against players much taller in taking over the rebounding and scoring load from the departed Stromile Swift and Jabari Smith.

Houston (Nov. 28) 18 pts, 13 reb; McNeese (Dec. 13) 19 pts, 13 reb; Oregon St. (Dec. 28) 20 pts, 12 reb; Wyoming (Jan. 3) 15 pts, 10 reb.; Alabama (Jan. 6) 21 pts, 13 reb.; Vandy (Jan. 10) 17 pts, 13 reb; Centenary (Jan. 17) 21 pts, 15 reb.; Ole Miss (Feb. 7) 14 pts, 11 reb; Florida (Feb. 13) 18 pts, 11 reb; Arkansas (Feb. 17) 13 pts, 14 reb; Kentucky (Feb. 21) 10 pts, 12 reb.... *Fatherree left LSU to join U.S. Army with five games plus the tournament remaining in the 1944-45 season. Swanson replaced him for the balance of the year.

In some respects it was just another game day for John Brady. The Tigers were at the SEC Tournament last March at the end of an injury-riddled season which left him and his staff with just five scholarship players and a collection of walk-ons to play the last two months of the season.

In all honesty, anyone at LSU just wishing for the end of the season could be forgiven. But John Brady, his staff and his players were remarkably upbeat. Brady deserved recognition for keeping his team together. He deserved recognition for getting his team ready night after night to face the best teams in the league and battle them deep into games in which they were double-figure underdogs.

But was anyone really noticing?

Head Coach

Brady was happy about his team going into the tournament having upset nationally-ranked Ole Miss at home and taken Tennessee to the wire on CBS before losing by seven in Knoxville. Now came Georgia and on a beautiful Nashville evening, the Tiger coach decided to walk from the team hotel to the Gaylord Entertainment Center.

And the recognition finally came for Coach Brady from a most knowledgeable group, the fans who attended the SEC Tournament. In that seven or eight block walk from the hotel to the arena, Brady was stopped constantly by fans from all over the league congratulating him on the way his team played, how hard they tried and how well they fought through adversity.

Brady's never been one to care for moral victories, but this was different. This was recognition of his program and what he stood for. He established the strong foundation with his 2000 club that went to the Sweet 16, but he showed in 2001 that good coaching can still be done in the face of great adversity and fans realized that. Those same fans were cheering for the Tigers that very night when John Brady and LSU knocked off Georgia with a last-minute rally and fought Arkansas to the wire the next night.

As the season ended, there wasn't relief that the season was over, but anticipation for what the future held. John Brady was looking to the future and liked what he saw.

When he arrived on campus in March 1997 and was given the job of rebuilding the LSU program, make no mistake, he knew his program would be riddled with shortcomings because of NCAA-imposed sanctions, but he knew he would have the chance to mold the program from the ground up and build a rock-solid foundation based on responsibility and accountability.

He told all who would listen that he had a plan to rebuild the program. There were dreams of building a program where the players would take responsibility for their actions and make people proud of what they were trying to accomplish, both on and off the floor.

There were other things, like SEC Championships and trips to the NCAA Tournament, both of which occurred in 2000. The program is again one LSU fans can be proud of because they feel a part of the rebirth of LSU basketball.

But the plan isn't complete. Now the plan must show how the program will grow from here and thrive. And yes, John Brady has a plan for this part of the plan as well.

Part of that plan is recruiting for the future. Brady and his coaching staff have recruited well and worked around the scholarship limitations by getting good players to walk on to the team who could contribute significant minutes as necessary. Replenishing the team year-after-year is part of the plan and that part of the plan is in full swing for the long-term future.

Brady didn't come here with a plan that just looked good on paper. His plan was practical, sensible and one that gave the LSU program the chance to shine again. It wasn't IF, it was WHEN.

Maybe we should have realized that when Brady's first team in 1998 took the floor. They were always undermanned, but the team played hard that first year and gave a strong effort almost every time out on the floor, no matter how difficult the circumstances. That has continued to be the case through Brady's first four years and that's why the results continue to be positive for this team and its fans.

But Brady's plan isn't just taking place on the hardwood floor of the Pete Maravich Assembly Center. He has worked hard to show the public that the athletic and academic pursuits of the LSU players would be challenged to the fullest. All the while, he was also making sure his players understood that the methods and rules of the program would make them not only better athletes, but better students able to adapt to the outside world once school was completed.

That's part of the reason that LSU basketball is not only a success on the court, but in the classroom as well. Last year, four LSU players made the SEC Academic Honor Roll and the team GPA is the highest in years. Three players, Brian Beshara, Jack Warner and Collis Temple III, all walked the aisle in cap and gown to receive their degrees from the 2000-2001 team.

Brady was sure the plan would work. Despite the doubts and obstacles placed in front of him, he knew it would work. When LSU won the Hawaii Pacific Tournament in November of 1999, the players sensed something special might be about to happen. When LSU upset highly-ranked Oklahoma State in the Sugar Bowl Classic in New Orleans, the fans began to believe. When LSU beat Arizona, Auburn and Kentucky in a 15-day period, anything seemed possible.

Maybe it was. The Tigers won their first-ever SEC Western Division championship in 2000 and their first SEC Championship since 1991. LSU earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1993, won a game in the tournament for the first time since 1992 and advanced to the Sweet 16 for the first time since 1987.

The plan worked and the creator of the plan was rewarded. He was the consensus choice as the conference coach of the year. He was the NABC and USBWA All-District Coach of the Year. He was runnerup for national coach of the year.

Brady has shown that he is a man with a passion for basketball, an interest in building a quality program and a man wanting to make LSU the best. He also wants his players to be the best in basketball and life as well. He continues that this year as he brings a team with experience in the Brady system together with some quality depth in hopes of getting LSU back to the post-season in 2002.

BEFORE LSU

Brady came to LSU after six highly successful seasons at Samford University in Birmingham, one of several successful programs he has helped build in his career.

Head Coach

The McComb, Miss., native played his college ball at Belhaven College in Jackson, Miss., from 1972-76, earning two-time All-Southern States Conference selection at guard. Brady was a three-year starter at Belhaven and scored over 1,000 points for his career under Coach Charlie Rugg. In 1997, he was inducted into the school's athletic Hall of fame for his achievements.

After graduating from Belhaven, Brady received his first coaching assignment at Mississippi State, serving a one-year tenure as graduate assistant while earning his Master's in Education. The head coach was Kermit Davis, Sr., whose son, Kermit, Jr., now serves as LSU's associate coach.

With his Master's degree, Brady moved to the prep ranks, making the first stop of his career in Louisiana. This stop was as the head coach of Crowley High School from 1977-82.

Serving through the 1981-82 season, he compiled a record of 129-49 (.752). During the 1980-81 campaign, Brady made a visit to the Maravich Assembly Center as a head coach as Crowley advanced all the way to the Class AAA final game in the Top 28 Tournament. Brady was named Louisiana Sports Writers Association Coach of the Year for the classification that season. In all, three of his Crowley teams advanced to at least the quarterfinals in the playoffs.

His return to college coaching came at Mississippi State for the 1982-83 season, serving four years under Bob Boyd (an LSU assistant in 1997) and four years under coach

Richard Williams. For Williams, he served as chief recruiter, bringing in such MSU stars as Cameron Burns, Greg Carter and Tony Watts, who led the Bulldogs from last place in the SEC to the conference co-championship with LSU and an NCAA bid in 1991, one year after Brady's departure from MSU.

During his MSU tenure, he recruited eight players who received All-SEC honors. The Bulldogs were 7-21 in Williams' first season as head coach. The Bulldogs showed steady improvement and advanced to the second round of the NIT in 1990 before the 1991 SEC co championship.

One of the players Brady worked with at Mississippi State was Butch Pierre from St. Amant High. Now, Brady and Pierre are connected again, as members of the LSU basketball staff.

Following his tenure in Starkville, Brady returned to Louisiana for a second time, this time to serve on the staff of Tim Floyd at the University of New Orleans. Again, Brady was part of an NCAA Tournament team with the Privateers.

ON TO SAMFORD

It came time for Brady to take the next big step to a Division I college head coaching position. What he did at Samford was bring a new level of excitement to the fans and to the team that will be talked about for years.

In his six-year tenure (1992-97), he turned the Trans-America Athletic Conference team into a consistent winner, posting a record of 89-77. He posted double figure victory totals each of his six seasons, something the school did not enjoy in any of the five years prior to Brady's arrival.

In his final three seasons at Samford, he was 16-11 (1995, 1996) and 19-9 (1997), giving the school three straight winning years for the first time since 1982-84. He was the only Samford coach to have four winning seasons in his career and he left as the school's winningest coach.

The Bulldogs won two TAAC West Division Championships, sharing the crown in 1996 and winning it outright in 1997, the first TAAC basketball championships of any kind for Samford. The team was 11-5 each of his last three seasons in the conference.

In Brady's six years at Samford, the team had three first-team and five second-team All TAAC selections. In his last season at Samford, he had five members of his team make the All TAAC academic team, giving him 14 members of the team during his tenure.

That trend has continued at LSU as he has had 11 players earn Academic All-SEC honors.

He has had the SEC Player of the Year, the co-Freshman of the Year and two NBA draft choices, including the No. 2 pick in the draft. All part of the foundation of LSU basketball.

Brady is married to the former Sheryl Moffett of Jackson, Miss, and they have two daughters, Brittany, 11, and Brooke, 7.

As Brady enters his fifth season at LSU, he knows that people have accepted the methods he uses and they understand what he is trying to do as the coach of the LSU basketball program. He knows this year could be one in which more strides are taken for the future success of the program.

Tiger fans like what they see, and the rest of the league is a little concerned about what will happen when LSU gets back to full strength. Everybody recognizes that Brady has a plan and is strengthening the LSU basketball program for the future.

Associate Coach, LSU

Kermit Davis

Good friend, good recruiter, good coach. All those factors played into the choice of Kermit Davis, Jr., as the associate coach when John Brady was selected to guide the LSU basketball program.

Davis enters his fifth season on the LSU staff after years of experience in all levels of the sport. Davis has been a part of extremely successful programs on both the junior college and Division I levels. He leads a proven LSU staff that has quickly become recognized as one of the best in the Southeastern Conference.

Davis was a graduate assistant at Mississippi State when Brady was an assistant coach under Bob Boyd at the Starkville school in 1988 and the pair remained together the next two years.

Davis was in his second stint as the head coach at Idaho before coming to LSU to take his present position.

In his first four years at LSU, Davis has played an integral role with strategic development of the program as well as the recruiting efforts which have brought national recognition and the top players to the program.

In his first stint as the Vandals coach in 1988-89 and 1989-90, his squads posted two of the best overall single season records in school history, 25-6, both years.

Idaho, in the Big Sky Conference at the time, won back-to-back league titles for just the second time in school history and made consecutive NCAA appearances. For that, Davis was honored as the 1989 Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year. It was for that reason that Idaho lured him back for the 1996-97 season to try to rebuild the program to its previous status.

He came to LSU with a diverse and extensive basketball background. His father, Kermit Davis, Sr., was head coach at Mississippi State for seven seasons (1970-77). Junior played two seasons at MSU and then followed in his father's footsteps.

After his two-year stint as a graduate assistant at Mississippi State, he became the youngest junior college coach in the country when he took over the program at Southwest Mississippi at the age of 24. In two seasons (1985-86), he compiled a record of 39-20, compared to the school's total of just 12 wins in the four seasons prior to his arrival.

Just like when John Brady went to New Orleans to serve under Tim Floyd (now with the Chicago Bulls), the Floyd connection played a major role in Davis' career as well. In April 1986, Floyd, then the head coach at Idaho, named Davis an assistant coach on his staff. The pair was together two seasons, putting together a 35-25 record.

Floyd then moved on to New Orleans and Davis assumed the head coaching job for the first time at Idaho, making him the youngest head coach in Division I at the age of 28.

In 1988-89, Idaho opened by winning 10 of its first 11 games and won the conference tournament and an NCAA berth with a win over Boise State. In the first round of the NCAA Tournament, Idaho put up a struggle before losing, 68-56, to Nevada Las Vegas as the 13th seed.

In 1990, a 13-3 conference mark helped Davis' team to the regular season and league tournament titles along with an NCAA Tournament berth against Louisville in the NCAA West Regionals. The season included impressive road wins at Nebraska, Washington State and Montana.

After leaving Idaho in 1990, Davis served a one-year stint as head coach at Texas A&M (1990-91), two years as associate head coach at Chipola (Fla.) Junior College (1991-93), one year as head coach and athletic director at Chipola (1993-94, 27-5 record, No. 5 national ranking) and two seasons as associate head coach at Utah State (1994-96), before returning to Idaho as head coach for the 1996-97 season.

Davis' overall head coaching record at the Division I level is 71-49 and his total head coaching record stands at 137-74.

The Leaksville, Miss., native was born December 14, 1959, and he and his wife Betty, have two daughters, Ally (14) and Claire (9).

Butch Pierre

Louisiana native Joseph "Butch" Pierre knows the history and talent of basketball in this state. He is part of the history and talent of this state as one of the most talented players this state produced. Now he's making his mark as one of the top assistant coaches in the business as he had a proven track record which includes a history of winning, knowledge and leadership.

Pierre is now in his fifth year as a member of Coach John Brady's LSU staff. Pierre is known for his ability to find the talent a team needs and he has proven that at several stops in his coaching career.

Pierre, a native of Darrow and a state prep and SEC college standout, came to LSU prior to the 1997-98 season after serving for one year as an assistant coach at the University of North Carolina Charlotte.

At LSU, Pierre helped recruit the players that made up LSU's 1998-99 signing class which was ranked near the top of every major poll in the country. He has again helped get another group of solid recruits for 2001-2002, many of whom are hoped can make an immediate contribution to the future of the program.

Pierre is also highly involved in the total basketball program at LSU and is a vital fixture in practice preparation, on the floor coaching and other duties.

At St. Amant High School, he earned prep All-American honors and was named a member of the Louisiana Sports Writers Association all-state teams both his junior and senior seasons. His jersey was retired at St. Amant in 1980.

Pierre started four seasons as a point guard at Mississippi State University under legendary Coach Bob Boyd and graduated as the Bulldogs' leader in assists (342). He is still highly ranked in that category.

Pierre averaged 6.7 points and 6.1 assists per game for his career and was team captain in his senior season (1983-84). He graduated in 1984 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education and received his Master's degree in 1986, graduating with honors as a member of the Gamma Beta Phi Society. He then served as a graduate assistant coach (on a staff with John Brady) at Mississippi State while earning his Master's degree.

Pierre has made his mark in coaching by bringing in top athletes wherever he has coached. He also has built and established a reputation throughout the country of turning losing into winning at each institution he has worked at throughout his career.

After leaving Mississippi State, Pierre spent two years as an assistant at Kentucky State (1987-88), where the program made a 12-game turnaround in his first year from 5-23 to 17-12, the school's first winning season in seven years. But then Louisiana Lafayette called and the Pierre recruiting magic continued.

Joining the Cajuns for the 1988-89 season, Pierre had a spectacular eight-year career as an assistant, watching the team compile a 141-97 record during that time. Louisiana-Lafayette won two Sun Belt Conference championships and played in two NCAA Tournaments and a preseason NIT, winning fewer than 16 games only once in those eight years.

His recruiting success at Louisiana-Lafayette was shown when more than a dozen players went on to see professional action after their Cajun careers. He was elevated to the top aide position in only his second year on the Cajun staff. In addition to his recruiting efforts, he assisted in the organization of practice schedules and performed major functions in scouting and scheduling along with his on-floor duties and administrative responsibilities.

Pierre's 1993-94 Louisiana-Lafayette recruiting class was ranked eighth best in the country, while his 1992-93 signees were ranked in the top 20.

Pierre then left Louisiana Lafayette for North Carolina Charlotte for the 1996-97 season. He put together a Top 10 recruiting class at UNCC, which went 22-9, and won a first round game over Georgetown in the NCAA Tournament.

Pierre's win total as part of staffs at ULL, UNCC and LSU stands at 225 in 13 seasons.

Pierre, who enjoys speaking to various groups throughout the state, has shown he takes tremendous pride in his coaching career in the development of players as student-athletes both on and off the court.

Butch and his wife, Clemmie, are parents of daughter Langley (10) and eight-year-old twin sons, Joseph II and Josh.

Mike Giorlando

Relationships are spoken of often in the LSU men's basketball program and when the time came to fill an opening in the coaching staff, John Brady knew exactly where to turn.

New Orleans native Michael Giorlando joins the basketball staff as assistant coach after his second stint at the University of New Orleans. In his first stint with the Privateers he worked on the staff of coach Tim Floyd, whom Brady also coached under at UNO.

But Giorlando took a different road to the college coaching profession. His first interest in basketball came while playing in high school at Jesuit High in New Orleans for Kevin Trower. After graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology from Spring Hill College in 1980, the 43-year-old Giorlando received his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree from the LSU School of Dentistry in New Orleans in 1984 and a Master's in Education from UNO in 1987. He served as a dentist after getting his degree for eight years before going into coaching.

His first stint came during the 1991-92 season under Floyd, a year when the Privateers ranked among NCAA Division I leaders in field-goal percentage, blocked shots, rebound margin and scoring defense.

Giorlando has also spent time in the tough high school basketball ranks of New Orleans as boys head coach at St. Martin's, Archbishop Shaw and Archbishop Hannan high schools from 1992-97. His teams made three state play-off appearances, including the 1995-96 and 1996-97 seasons at Hannan. He also coached two seasons as the junior-varsity coach at St. Martin's from 1989-91.

He returned to UNO in 1997 as the third assistant on the staff, moving up to a full-time assistant coach position in 1999. The 1999-2000 UNO team was in the national rankings for scoring defense (61.7 points) and three-point field goal percentage (.381).

"In the hiring of Mike Giorlando, we have added an experienced, talented coach," said LSU head basketball coach John Brady. "My association with Mike goes back 10 years when I worked with Tim Floyd at UNO. Mike has also worked for coach Floyd and possesses the talent and expertise to fulfill the responsibilities of this position. Since I have been a head coach I have always pursued talented, loyal, hard working coaches who have the experience and the ability to become head coaches. With the addition of Mike, along with Kermit and Butch, our coaching staff continues to be built on that philosophy and in my opinion, is the best in the SEC," said Brady.

Giorlando was director of UNO's Hoops for Education summer high-school basketball camp in 1990 and 1991.

Giorlando and his wife, Judy, have two sons: Andrews 9, and Michael 5.

REVIEW

TOUGHWin

When one takes a quick glance at the LSU quick facts and sees the Tigers 13-16 overall record, one naturally assumes it was a bad season.

But in fact, it was an amazing story of a basketball team which thanks to two devastating injuries was forced to play the majority of the last two months of the season with just five scholarship players. When the question was asked about who would start, all LSU did was look for the guys with the scholarship.

They gave John Brady the award for Coach of the Year in 2000 for the work he did. They should have given Brady and his staff the award for 2001 for keeping a team together in the toughest times, causing several nationally-ranked opponents to sweat out games that were much closer than they probably should have been. The Tigers played .500 ball over the last four games, beating Ole Miss and Georgia, and narrowly losing at nationally-ranked Tennessee and to Arkansas in the SEC quarterfinals.

Along the way, Brady's Tigers earned the respect of a league as they battled with limited substitutions to the wire. Along the way, the game would get a little too long for LSU, but the Tigers did such things as take nationally-ranked Florida to overtime, lead Arizona at Arizona for some 29 minutes and trail Tennessee in Knoxville by one point with 3 minutes to play. It was David Vs. Goliath and David was putting up quite a fight.

Some of the notable moments of the season:

RONALD DUPREE

The sophomore from Biloxi, Miss., came into his own, taking advantage of the lack of inside depth to dominate down low for the Tigers. He led the conference in scoring at 17.3 points per game and was second in the SEC in rebounds at 8.8 a game. Dupree was in double figures in all but one game and over 20 points in nine of them in earning second team All-SEC honors by the league media voters.

Dupree had 14 double-doubles this season, second best in the league. His field goal percentage of 48.5 percent (183-of-377) was sixth best in the league. Dupree was called by The Sporting News "the best player no one has heard of."

HOME NON-CONFERENCE

The Tigers continued their good play in the Brady era in non-conference games at home, going 8-0 for the third straight year, making LSU 31-1 in the John Brady era in home non-conference contests. LSU has won 26 straight non-conference games in the PMAC since John Brady became the head coach.

vs. LOUISIANA

LSU was 5-0 against Louisiana schools this past season, giving the Tigers 36 straight games against Louisiana competition dating back to the 1988-89 season. The last loss for LSU to another in-state school was a 111-109 overtime loss to Louisiana Tech at the Assembly Center in Dec. 1988.

SCORING NOTES

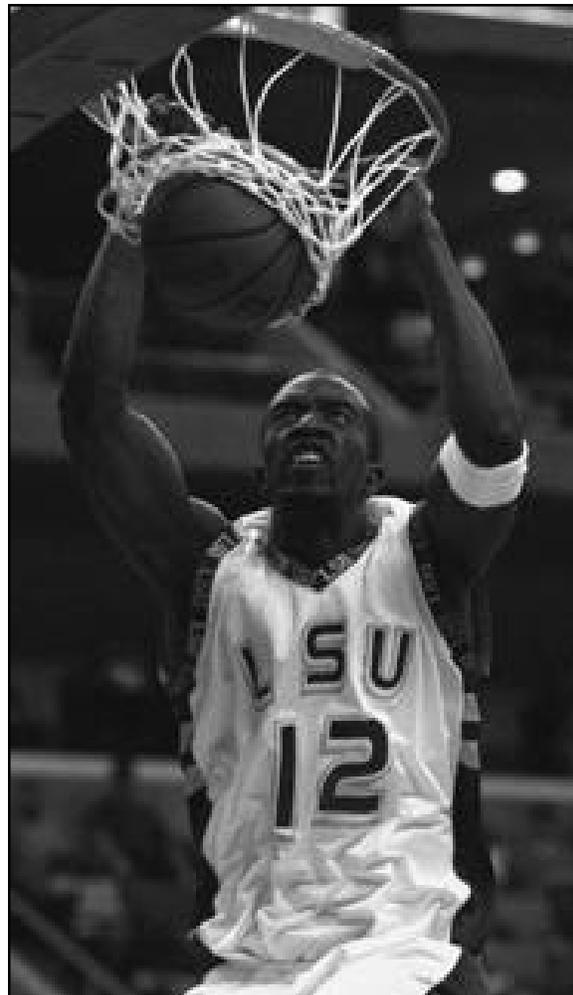

LSU ran its record to 25-0 in the Brady era when scoring more than 80 points, including 8-0 during the 2000-2001 season. The Tigers have also won 32 of the last 40 games when holding a team under 65 points. LSU was 9-1 when out shooting its opponent, 52-13 in the Brady era.

THE HOUSTON WIN

A buzzer-beater to say the least as Torris Bright, LSU's point guard made a driving layup with 0.7 seconds remaining that was the difference in LSU's 61-59 victory at Hofheinz Pavilion. The win gave LSU its first win on the road at an opponents' arena since 1989. LSU rallied to tie the game at 59-59 on a Brian Beshara bucket with 16 seconds left. Lamont Roland, just weeks before his senior season ending knee injury, had a career night of 24 points.

class room that has been noted with the John Brady era with four Tigers again making the SEC Academic Honor Roll. A total of 24 student-athletes from the 12 schools were named the team. To qualify, a student-athlete must 1) have a 3.0 GPA for either the past year or a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher for their career; 2) be a sophomore or higher in academic classification and 3) have 24 semester hours toward a degree.

On the team from LSU were Brian Beshara (Finance), Brian Green, Collis Temple III (General Business) and Jack Warner (Mass Communications).

In John Brady's four years at LSU, his players have earned 11 academic honor roll citations, four each over the last two years.

More importantly, three members of the 2000-2001 Tiger squad walked the aisle to receive their degrees from LSU – seniors Brian Beshara and Jack Warner, and Collis Temple III. Temple has just completed his sophomore season of eligibility at LSU and completed his degree in just over three years and will attend graduate school while playing his final two years at LSU.

The Southeastern Conference

Throughout its 67-year history, the Southeastern Conference has been a leader in the integration of athletic competition and higher education.

Since its formation in 1933, the SEC has achieved both stature and stability by designating governing/voting power to the presidents of the member institutions. They have determined the policies of the conference and through the years this involvement has been the principal source of strength in the evolution of the SEC.

Intercollegiate athletics has encountered many challenges in the 1990s and again the SEC provided guidance. In 1993, the member institutions adopted The Principles of Gender Equity. Committed to increasing the quantity and quality of women's athletic opportunities, each school provides at least two more women's intercollegiate programs than the number of men's.

Faced with the task of conference realignment after competing with 10 members since 1966, the SEC welcomed the University of Arkansas and the University of South Carolina in 1991.

SEC schools began athletic competition with one another almost 100 years ago as members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Seven institutions (Alabama, Auburn, Georgia, Georgia Tech, North Carolina, Sewanee and Vanderbilt) attended the SIAA organizational meeting of faculty representatives in Atlanta in 1894.

Basketball moved quickly to the South as Vanderbilt was playing at the Nashville YMCA in 1893, just two years after Dr. James Naismith originated the game at Springfield (Mass.) College. Basketball became an intercollegiate sport in 1901 and in 1908 Vanderbilt was meeting Columbia and Yale intersectionally.

The seven-member SIAA expanded to 19 institutions in 1895 and by 1920 there were 30 members.

The larger schools reorganized as the Southern Conference in 1920. Despite an original limit of 16, the membership grew to 23 by 1928.

The 13 members west and south of the Appalachian Mountains reorganized as the Southeastern Conference at the annual SC meeting in 1932. The 10 coast members remained in the Southern Conference. Charter members of the new conference were:

Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt. (Sewanee withdrew in 1940, Georgia Tech in 1964 and Tulane in 1966).

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in four sports (baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track). The league's inaugural championship event was a basketball tournament in Atlanta in 1933. Records show the first men's team title for cross-country was awarded in 1935, while golf and swimming were added in 1937. The league later began hosting championships in tennis (1953) and indoor track (1957).

In the 1979-80 academic year SEC championships for women were recognized in basketball, tennis and volleyball. The following year golf, gymnastics, swimming and track and field were added. The administration of women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office in 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and 11 women's sports: Men—baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (cross country, indoor and outdoor). Women—basketball, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track (cross country, indoor and outdoor) and volleyball.

SEC COMMISSIONERS

The Commissioners of the Southeastern Conference

The office of the commissioner was formed in 1940 in Jackson due to the great amount of detail work developing, especially in recruiting and eligibility.

Former Mississippi Governor Martin S. Conner took office as commissioner in

Roy Kramer
Commissioner

1940, as an extension of the authority of the presidents. Conner later became ill and the secretary of the conference, Dean N.W. Dougherty of Tennessee, served as acting commissioner during the fall of 1946.

The office moved to Birmingham with the appointment of Bernie H. Moore as the second full-time commissioner in 1948. Moore, a former LSU coach, guided the SEC to national respect in his 18-year tenure.

A.M. (Tonto) Coleman succeeded Moore upon his retirement in 1966. The Alabama native, who was reared in Texas and was experienced in athletic coaching and administration, served six and a half years.

Dr. H. Boyd McWhorter, then Dean of Arts and Sciences at Georgia and secretary of the league since 1967, accepted the position upon the retirement of Coleman in 1972. Under his leadership the SEC experienced unparalleled growth. In McWhorter's first year the SEC distributed $1.57 million and 14 years later (1986) the league distributed $15 million in revenue to the member institutions.

Dr. Harvey W. Schiller, an Air Force colonel, followed McWhorter upon retirement, taking office in 1986.

Roy F. Kramer succeeded Schiller in 1990. Kramer has served on numerous NCAA committees and joined the league office after spending 12 years as athletic director at Vanderbilt. Under his leadership, the Southeastern Conference has expanded by two teams, introduced the concept of a Division I-A football playoff game and has signed the most lucrative television contract in the league's history.

The SEC office located in Birmingham, Alabama.

2002 SEC Tournament

The 2002 Southeastern Conference men's basketball tournament returns to a familiar location for the 24th tournament since the league renewed the event in 1979. The four-day event goes back to the 26,000-seat Georgia Dome in Atlanta.

The winner of the 11-game tournament receives the SEC's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds, conference championship and division titles are determined by the 16-game conference schedule during the regular season. Teams are seeded by their division finish and features Eastern Division-Western Division matchups in every game should the higher season win each contest.

The Georgia Dome is an extremely important choice as host this year as that it allows all the teams a chance to play in the arena which will play host to the 2002 NCAA Final Four. The Dome, which will also play host to the Tournament in 2004 and 2005, is playing host to the event for the fifth time.

Atlanta served as host of the inaugural SEC Tournament played following the 1932-33 season and did so again after the 1933-34 season. The event was held every year through 1952 with the exception of 1935. After a 26-year layoff (1953-78), the tournament was renewed in 1979. The 2002 tournament will be the 41st in league history and the 24th since the renewal.

The SEC has shown extraordinary balance in the tournament, evidenced by the fact that different school won the first seven titles after the renewal. The event has helped set the stage for SEC teams in the NCAA Tournament, as 17 of the last 21 tournament champions have advanced to at least the Sweet 16 with two of the last six going on to win the national championship. Since the renewal in 1979, the SEC Tournament Champion has failed to win at least one NCAA Tournament game only three times.

Kentucky leads the league with 23 SEC Tournament titles, Alabama is second with six, while Tennessee ranks third with four championship trophies. Arkansas, Auburn, Georgia, LSU, Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Vanderbilt and former league member Georgia Tech have each won one SEC Tournament Championship.

NOTE: In the early years of the SEC, members did not play a full conference schedule. Instead of determining a champion from regular season play, the SEC champion was determined by the conference tournament from 1933-50, except for 1935. Beginning with the 1950-51 season when the SEC adopted a 14-game round-robin schedule, the team completing the regular season conference schedule with the best winning percentage was recognized as champion. The conference schedule was increased to 16 games in 1964-65, and to 18-games for the 1966-67 season. With the addition of Arkansas and South Carolina for the 1991-92 season, the league split into two six-team divisions playing a schedule of 16 games. Both divisional and overall champions were crowned.

Pete Maravich Assembly Center

LSU basketball has bounced in and out of several locations in its storied history. The Tigers have set up shop in the Pavilion on the old LSU campus, the stage at Baton Rouge High School, the Huey Long Field House Gym Armory, the Catholic High School Gym, and the John M. Parker Agricultural Center, home to the Tigers for three and one-half decades.

But when the LSU Tigers commenced play in the Assembly Center in the 1971-72 season, it marked the beginning of a new era in LSU roundball.

That year the Tigers opened play on a tartan-surfaced arena floor in a building that had every modern convenience.

Seating 14,164 spectators, the massive $11.5 million building competes with its neighbor across the street — Tiger Stadium — as the most visible structure on the LSU campus.

During the summer of 1988, Louisiana Governor Buddy Roemer signed legislation changing the official name of the building to the Pete Maravich Assembly Center in honor of the LSU star who had died tragically earlier that same year.

Spectators enter the building via four ramps winding their way to the upper concourse. From there, patrons need to move only a few steps up or down to their seats.

In addition to the normal basketball seating configuration, a proscenium stage can be lowered into place at the north end allowing some 4,500 seats for theatrical productions. An additional 1,000 seats can be placed on the floor for graduations, convocations, lectures, concerts or other special events.

In addition to the basketball court on the main arena, running east to west, three separate court areas can be arranged in a north-to-south pattern.

Also located within the building is an auxiliary practice gym used for basketball and volleyball practices and various P. E. classes; home and visitor dressing rooms; offices for The Tiger Athletic Foundation; coaches dressing rooms, building administration offices; theater dressing rooms, and the "L" Club meeting room with kitchen facilities.

The Assembly Center has been the site of two men's NCAA Regional basketball tournaments—1976 and 1986. In 1976, Indiana advanced from Baton Rouge and went on to capture the national championship. In 1986, the home-standing LSU Fighting Tigers became the Cinderella team of the tourney and advanced all the way to the Final Four.

The building also hosted the 1988 Southeastern Conference Tournament and the school regularly uses the building to host the Louisiana High School Coaches Association All-Star Volleyball and Basketball games. In 1997, 1999, and 2000 the LSU women's basketball team hosted first & second round NCAA play.

The Pete Maravich Assembly Center is also home for the LSU volleyball, gymnastics and women's basketball teams.

Several improvements have been made to keep the PMAC as one of the top venues in the SEC. A new sound system was installed and in 1995 the lower level seats were replaced. The print and electronic media areas were improved. A new multi-million dollar scoreboard/video replay system was installed for the 1999-2000 season.

This will mark the 31th season of play for the Tigers in the Assembly Center where they have drawn over 4.7 million fans and won 323 games and last year a new portable wood floor was installed.

Southeastern Conference Champions

Coach Harry Rabenhorst

It was a different time and a different era. But in 1935, in the days before the NCAA Tournament and the National Invitation Tournament sprung to life and created true March Madness, there was a national championship being claimed on the hardwood at LSU.

Led by the school's first All-American, Sparky Wade, and Buddy Blair, the Tigers of 10th year head coach Harry Rabenhorst pulled off a feat that many people feel is the first magic moment of LSU basketball. The Tigers, after a 13-1 regular season and a co-championship in the Southeastern Conference, went to Atlantic City and played the best team in the East, the Pittsburgh Panthers, and won.

They called Wade the "Little Giant from Jena," and he could make a basketball do almost anything. He was 5-6 and a smaller preview of what would come in the late 1960s with Pete Maravich.

In 1935, the Tigers had a very favorable schedule that saw them play only three of 14 games away from the comfort of the Gym-Armory. The road games weren't bad trips at all, even in those days. One was to Houston to face Rice and the other two were to New Orleans to face Tulane.

The only loss of the season was that game against Rice, 56-47. Wade jokingly said in later years of that game, "The Rice Gym was an old auditorium with one chandelier with twenty-five watt bulbs. You could not see your feet or the color of uniforms. Even the floor was unwaxed."

But that was the only time the Tigers stumbled. Ironically, there was no SEC Tournament that particular year so LSU and Kentucky would not meet in basketball that season. Kentucky, undefeated in the conference, had not lost to LSU in a hoops contest and wouldn't until 26 years later.

So LSU and Pittsburgh were invited to the battle for the American Legion Bowl before some 5,000 at the Atlantic City Auditorium. LSU won by four, 41-37, but that tells so little of the story.

It was April 13, 1935. Doc Carlson's Panthers were 18-5 on the season. The Tigers started out very, very slow at a time when scoring points could be easily at a premium. The Tigers trailed 18-4 and still were down by nine, 26-17, at the half.

Gradually LSU rallied back. Buddy Blair made a long shot to give LSU a 35-33 lead. He then followed it with the next six points for the Tigers. Pittsburgh outscored LSU 17-16 in field goals, but LSU had a 9-3 advantage from the free throw line.

Blair led all scorers with 20 points, Shongaloo Lindsey added eight, Sparky Wade five, Jack Harris four and Arnold Bryan and Ben Journeay two apiece. While Wade's point total was down, his ball handling and court presence meant much to LSU's win.

The Advocate trumpeted the news the next day: "Louisiana State University, power in the Southeastern Conference, came from far behind tonight to defeat the University of Pittsburgh, Eastern Conference champion, 41-37, in their intersectional basketball game.

"The Bayou Tigers from Baton Rouge, trailing 26-17 at the half, smothered Pittsburgh in the second half with their flashy passing and scored goal after goal from the field."

"Pittsburgh used a figure-eight offense," Buddy Blair once said. "We had not seen this before and it hindered us in the first half. In the second half, we got our fast break going and just about ran them crazy."

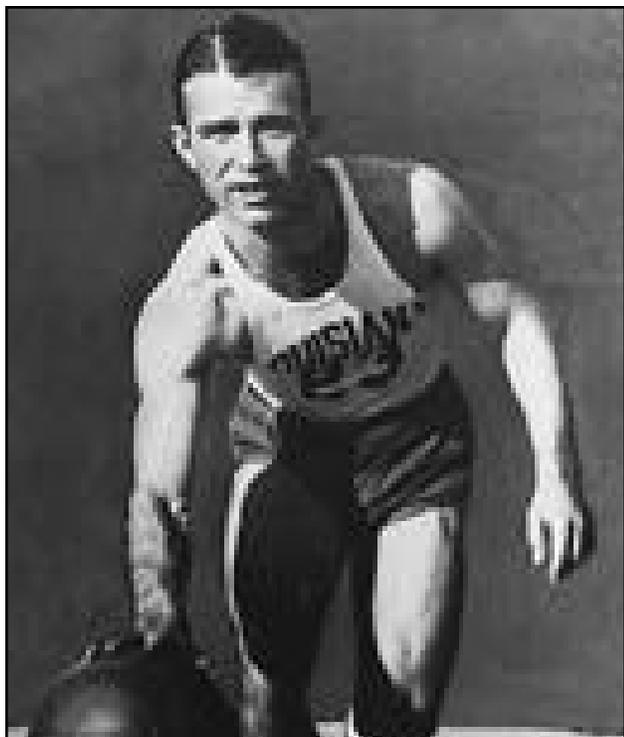

In the days before Bob Pettit arrived on campus, Harry Rabenhorst said in 1951 that Wade was head and shoulders the best player on campus. "We've had some great boys here at LSU. We've had some great ones, but Sparky Wade was the most spectacular and most colorful. He was a showman and probably the greatest dribbler in basketball. Sparky came to delight the fans. He never came up short on that count."

"I'm not as great as they say I am," Sparky once said. "I'm just a little fellow — five-eight if I stretch — but you know, basketball is the silliest game in the world. You have 10 guys and only one basketball, and if I have the ball, who can beat me?"

In 1935, only one team could beat the Tigers and powerful Pittsburgh couldn't stop a second half onslaught that led to a special moment in LSU basketball: a chance to claim a national championship.

In 1994, the remaining living members of the team were honored and a banner lowered from the Assembly Center to forever honor the accomplishments of this great team in Tiger basketball history.

First-Team All Americans

Malcolm "Sparky" Wade

GUARD • 5-9 • JENA, LA.
1935

LSU's first basketball All-American averaged 9.7 points per game in 1933 and 12.4 points per game in 1934 to lead the scoring category for the first two years of the Southeastern Conference.

He was named All-America in 1935 while leading LSU to the mythical national championship, averaging 12.7 points per game.

A native of Jena, Wade is considered the greatest dribbler and backcourt star in LSU basketball history.

Before moving to LSU, he was named to the high school All-State team three times from 1928 to 1930. He was elected MVP of the national high school championship playoffs as a senior.

Former Baton Rouge Morning Advocate sports editor Bud Montet, remembers Wade in these words:

"He could do everything with a basketball but dunk it, and make it sing. If there was an extraordinary floor-leader in the South at that time, it had to be Wade."

The three-time All-SEC selection is also a member of the Louisiana Sports Writers and Louisiana Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame.

He was the "Little Giant from Jena." You can't talk LSU basketball without mention of the school's first All-American and first showman who could pass, score and dribble with the best of his and many others era.

Bobby Lowther

FORWARD • 6-5 • ALEXANDRIA, LA.
1946

Bobby Lowther officially was recognized as a first-team All-American in 1995 after a historian of the Helms Foundation confirmed that all members of the 1946 team had been upgraded to first-team status.

Lowther is the only two-sport All-America athlete in LSU's storied sports history. In 1946, he made the Helms Foundation basketball All-America squad and was a two-event All-American in track and field, finishing second at the NCAA Championships in the javelin and fourth in the pole vault.

The 6-5, 185-pound Alexandria native was also the triple jump champion at the 1946 National AAU Championships.

In basketball, he averaged 14.7 points per game as he also earned first-team All-SEC honors.

He was voted LSU's "Best All-Around Athlete" in 1947 in a field that also included such future professional stars as Y. A. Tittle, Alvin Dark and Joe Adcock.

Lowther is a member of the Louisiana Sportswriters Association Hall of Fame.

First-Team All Americans

Durand "Rudy" Macklin

FORWARD • 6-7 • LOUISVILLE, KY.

1981

The recruitment of Durand "Rudy" Macklin marked the beginning of LSU's rise to the top of college basketball under Dale Brown.

In his first college game, he set a school rebounding record that no one has come close to, pulling down 32 boards in a win against Tulane.

After his magnificent LSU career he became the school's all-time leading rebounder with 1,276 rebounds (a 10.4 rebounds per game average). That figure remains on top of the school chart. He also became the second leading scorer all-time at LSU behind Pete Maravich (2,080 points, 16.9 points per game average).

Much of his success and his All-America season in 1981 was after returning from a serious knee injury that forced him to miss all but two games of the 1978-79 season.

In 1981, he was also named Southeastern Conference Player of the Year and led the Tigers to their first NCAA Final Four since 1953. He beat out a star-studded cast of players including Georgia's Dominique Wilkins, Kentucky's Sam Bowie, and other future NBA players such as Jeff Malone of Mississippi State, Dale Ellis of Tennessee, Eddie Phillips of Alabama and teammate Howard Carter.

In Macklin's four years, LSU had records of 18-9, 23-6, 26-6 and 31-5. The Tigers won one SEC title, one SEC Tournament championship, advanced to the Elite 8 and the Final Four during the Macklin days.

One writer wrote of Macklin, "Macklin's aggressiveness has never been questioned in the Southeastern Conference. If they gave an award for the hardest worker, Macklin would have been the consensus choice of his peers, who marvel at how much effort he puts into the game."

Chris Jackson

GUARD • 6-1 • GULFPORT, MISS.

1989, 1990

In just his freshman and sophomore years, Jackson was a two-time consensus SEC Player of the Year lighting up scoreboards across America. After scoring 48 and 53 points in the first month of his college career, he went on to become the most celebrated freshman of all time, setting an NCAA freshman scoring record, averaging 30.2 points per game.

He became just the second freshman ever to make the Associated Press first-team All-America squad and the first ever to make the U.S. Basketball Writers Association's All-America team.

He finished his short career as the seventh leading scorer in school history with 1,854 points (29.0 ppg). His records for freshman include most points in a game (55), most points in a season (965) and season average (30.2).

He won accolades throughout the country as he starred on the court while fighting an ongoing battle with Tourette's Syndrome.

Jackson was chosen to the Second Team on the Louisiana Association of Basketball Coaches All-Louisiana Team of the Century.

Of Chris Jackson, Baton Rouge State Times sports editor Sam King wrote:

"Athletes come and go.

"Many are so quickly forgotten.

"Only the great ones are remembered forever. To have seen Bob Pettit, Billy Cannon and Pete Maravich perform at their best was to commit them to memory.

"Chris Jackson now joins some very select company."

Bob Pettit once said of himself as a youngster who would grow up to be a collegiate All-American and a force in the National Basketball Association:

“The greatest thing that ever happened to me is that when I first picked up a basketball I was terrible. If things come naturally, you might not bother to work at improving them and you can fall short of your potential.”

Being terrible meant being gangly and not very good. He was tall, but he wasn’t able to yet make the moves that made him a future star. He was the last man on the junior varsity his freshman year at Baton Rouge High. As a sophomore he was cut from the varsity. But because of that, he took his interest in basketball to heart and began to work hour after hour in back of his house in Baton Rouge.

As a 6-4 junior, he began to be noticed. His skills were still raw and undeveloped, but his size made him worth a second glance. He grew to 6-7 as a junior and BRHS won the state championship.

Pettit once wrote: “Teammates. . . were miles ahead of me in all-around ability, but college scouts gave me the big rush act because I was six-seven by then. Fifteen schools offered me the standard scholarship. . . .”

“I chose LSU because I doubted I could measure up to expectations on a fancier scholarship. My fears were confirmed when I reported to John Chaney, LSU’s freshman team coach, who had been a pro in the NBA. My reflexes were slow. I was lost on defense. I didn’t know how to drive in for a shot, or fake and pass off the pivot. Much as I dislike the expression, I’ve got to admit I was a goon.”

LSU and NBA fans certainly don’t look at Bob Pettit’s career as that of a goon. Here was a three-time first-team All-SEC member who led his Tigers to a second place finish in 1952, conference titles in 1953 and 1954 and the NCAA Final Four in 1953.

He led the league in scoring all three years, with the highest averages seen to date in the league: 25.5 points in 1952, 24.9 in 1953 and 31.4 points per game in 1954. At the same time he was averaging 13.1 (1952), 13.9 (1953) and an LSU best 17.3 (1954) rebounds per game. Only Pete Maravich and Chris Jackson would break the 30-point average barrier at LSU.

Coach Cliff Wells of Tulane summed up Bob Pettit’s days at LSU, “He’s the best big man in college basketball today and I’ve seen them all.” LSU Coach Harry Rabenhorst called him, “the greatest LSU player since Sparky Wade.”

He was a first round draft choice in 1954 of the then Milwaukee Hawks. Pettit played his entire 11-year career with the Hawks, moving with the club to St. Louis in 1955. He wrote nearly every record in the Hawks’ record book and was a four-time MVP of the annual NBA All-Star game. He led the Hawks to the 1958 NBA Championship and five NBA Finals.

In 1954, his number 50 was retired at LSU, the first number in any sport retired in Tiger Town. In 1964, he became the first NBA player to exceed the 20,000-points scored barrier. In 1970, he was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame.

“Those were great years at LSU,” Pettit once said. “They were such great years. I couldn’t have asked for anything better than my four years at LSU. I received my degree in Business, played the sport I loved and made so many friends.”

Pete Maravich was billed as the one who would put Louisiana basketball on the map from the first day he joined his father Press at LSU. People weren't disappointed. His freshman year they packed the old John M. Parker Agricultural Center (known as the "Cow Palace") to watch the freshman team and then left quickly as the varsity Tigers won just three games in 1967.

By Pete's senior year, the Tigers would improve to 20-8 and wind up in New York City at the National Invitation Tournament, a fitting place for the big-city Maravich Show to close its LSU run.

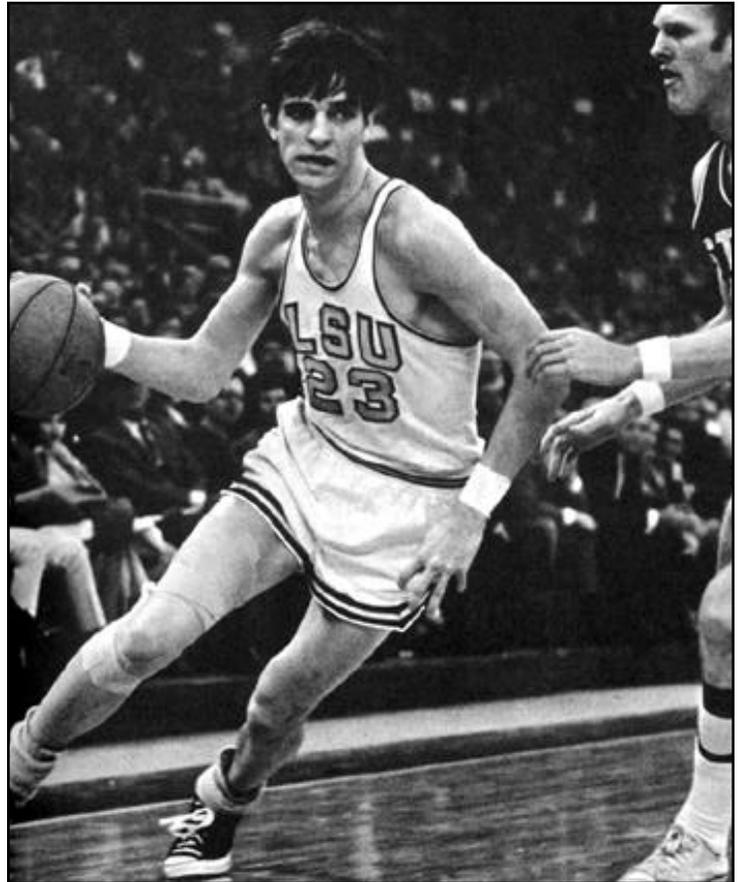

To those who never saw him play live, but only watched what few games were on television or listened on radio, the Maravich story at LSU may seem larger than life. But his skills were perfected through hours and hours of repetitious drills at all hours of the day and night and in all kinds of settings.

Maravich ended up receiving the richest contract ever offered a college player at the time to sign with the Atlanta Hawks ($1.9 million), but during his 10-year career with the Hawks, the New Orleans and Utah Jazz and the Boston Celtics, his dream of a championship wasn't fulfilled. Pete was finding that life wasn't very fulfilling either.

There were hard times when he went in search of something to make his life complete. He had money, he had fame. He didn't have real happiness. But in 1982, Pistol Pete accepted Jesus Christ.

He began enjoying life, enjoying times with his wife and children. Television executives were discovering his knowledge of the game again as a color commentator and best of all for LSU fans, a rift that grew between star and college had diminished and was forgotten.

But the Pistol's life suddenly ended on Jan. 5, 1988, just over a month after appearing at the Assembly Center for an emotional ceremony to formally present a portrait of Pete and his father to him.

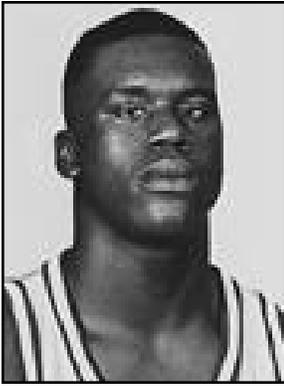

Maravich's records and highlights are endless. Here are just a few:

- All-Time NCAA Career Scoring Leader with 3,667 points, an average of 44.2 points for 83 games.
- Ranks 1st, 4th and 5th for most points in a single season in NCAA history. Averaged 44.5 points in 1970, 44.2 points in 1969 and 43.8 points in 1968.
- Scored 69 points vs. Alabama, Feb. 7, 1970.
- Led LSU to the NIT Final Four in 1970, its first post-season appearance in 16 years.
- Unanimous first team All-American in 1968, 1969, 1970.
- Naismith Award winner in 1970.
- Member of the National Basketball Association Hall of Fame after 10-year career with Atlanta Hawks, New Orleans and Utah Jazz and Boston Celtics.

Shaquille O'Neal brought LSU to new heights during his three years at LSU and the 7-1 center became a national celebrity in the days of saturation coverage of basketball by the media. But he earned his celebrity status with great play and an intimidation factor that made him the envy of coaches throughout the country. After leaving LSU in April 1992, he was the number one pick of the National Basketball Association by the Orlando Magic and signed a multi-year contract estimated at over $40 million. In 1996, as a free agent, he signed with the Los Angeles Lakers.

Here are some of the highlights of O'Neal's career at LSU:

- Two-time consensus Southeastern Conference Player of the Year and first team All-America, 1991-1992.
- Most Valuable Player on SEC Coaches Defensive Team, 1991-1992.
- National Player of the Year as chosen by the Associated Press (Rupp Award), United Press International, L. A. Gear and Sports Illustrated, 1991.
- Winner of the Tanqueray World Amateur Athlete of the Year Award, 1991.
- Southeastern Conference Athlete of the Year, 1991-1992.
- National Player of the Year as chosen by L. A. Gear, 1992 and runnerup for the Naismith Award and the John Wooden Award, 1992.
- Set SEC record for most blocks in a season three consecutive years (115-1990, 140-1991, 157-1992).
- Set SEC record for career blocks with 412.
- Blocked five or more shots in a game 45 times in 90 career games.
- Set SEC single game record with 12 blocks against Loyola Marymount in Feb., 1990.
- Blocked 11 shots against Brigham Young in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, setting a tournament standard for a single game, 1992.
- Averaged a national sophomore record 5.0 blocked shots a game, 1991.
- National leader in blocked shots (5.2 average), 1992.
- National leader in rebounding (14.7 average), 1991.
- Second nationally in rebounding (14.0 average), 1992.
- First player to lead the Southeastern Conference in scoring, rebounding, field goal percentage and blocked shots in the same season, 1991.
- Led SEC in rebounding, field goal percentage, blocked shots and second in scoring, 1992.

- First player to lead the SEC in rebounding three straight seasons since Charles Barkley of Auburn, 1982-84.
- Finished with 1,217 rebounds, seventh all-time in the Southeastern Conference, second all-time at LSU.
- Finished with 1,941 points, fourth all-time at LSU behind only Pete Maravich (3,667-1967-70), Durand Macklin (2,080-1976-78; 79-81) and Howard Carter (1,942-1979-83).
- Career field goal percentage of 61.0 percent is second all-time at LSU and in the SEC (minimum 1,000 attempts).
- Had six career triple-doubles (points, rebounds and blocks in same game).
- Had 73 double-point, double-rebound games in his career.
- Was the third LSU player (Pete Maravich and Chris Jackson the others) to have at least two 700-plus point seasons at LSU.
- Was the first LSU player to record back-to-back 400-plus rebound seasons.
- NBA All-Star and Rookie of the Year, 1993.

Before there was Dale Brown, there was Harry Rabenhorst. In an era when college basketball wasn't big news and when cable didn't send hundreds of game all across the country, Rabenhorst laid the foundation for others like Jay McCreary, Press Maravich, Dale Brown and John Brady to follow.

Like Maravich with Pete, like Dale with Rudy, Chris and Shaq, Rabenhorst coached two of the legends of the game: Sparky Wade and Bob Pettit. Like Brown, he took his team to a Final Four in the days before anyone realized what a major event the NCAA Tournament was. But unlike any other LSU coach, Rabenhorst laid claim to a national championship, mythical though it may have been. It was a year to remember for Rabenhorst, but it was a long way from the end of his career.

The Baton Rouge native, however, came to LSU holding a record of a much different kind. He was a star athlete at Wake Forest in the years following World War I and holds the world record for the single longest punt of 110 yards.

After serving in the U.S. Army in World War I, Rabenhorst began his career in coaching in 1921 at Greensboro High School in Greensboro, N.C. After that, he moved to New Mexico Military Academy where he coached for three seasons before moving back to Baton Rouge and the start of a long and dedicated lifetime of service to LSU.

In any capacity he served, he showed the same gracious understanding of the individual and devotion to duty that have set him apart from the ordinary.

He was a walking encyclopedia of LSU athletics and could recall in a moment the big game, the big play and the individual star of almost every athletic success enjoyed by the Tigers during his tenure.

Few men alive in college athletics numbered among their close personal friends the great and near great personalities who dominated the athletic scene for much of the first 60 years of this century. His list of associates reads like a "Who's Who" of American Collegiate Athletics, names that capture the imagination of sports fans and historians everywhere -- Knute Rockne, Amos Alonzo Stagg, Pop Warner, Fielding Yost, Wallace Wade, Adolph Rupp -- and many more.

Rabenhorst's career at LSU meant more than victories and championships. A popular and respected coach and administrator, he brought LSU distinction with his long and brilliant service and developed athletes who became outstanding students, and later outstanding citizens.

Harry Rabenhorst was a competitor. He was also a gentleman. He proved that you can be both and be successful.

When Coach Rabenhorst passed away in March, 1972, at the age of 73, then athletic director Carl Maddox said, "Coach Raby was revered and respected nationally by the many who came to know him in the world of intercollegiate athletics -- but more significant is the esteem and the love he earned from the men who played for him."

"I always enjoyed competing with him," said Adolph Rupp. "He was a great credit to the game. He developed some of LSU's outstanding players and teams."

Coach Raby was a man for all seasons and still to this day remains one of the league's all-time winningest basketball coaches. Those who played for him, loved him. Those who knew him, respected him. There's not much better can be said.

When he arrived from Washington State via Minot, N. D., there weren't that many basketball fans in the state of Louisiana who knew who Dale Brown was. When he retired after the 1996-97 season, you would have been hard pressed to find a college basketball fan in the country who didn't have some inkling about who Dale Brown was and what he stood for.

When Brown arrived in Baton Rouge in March, 1972, he arrived with a dream that was perceived by many who knew the LSU basketball program as impossible. The dream was to make basketball important in football-crazy Tiger country. When Brown was introduced as the Tiger coach, LSU fans were still remembering the Pete Maravich era. Final Fours? Rudy Macklin? Chris Jackson? Shaq? All a dream. In those years, fans had to be convinced to come to the new arena known as the LSU Assembly Center.

Brown traveled from one end of the state to the other telling all who would listen about the future of LSU basketball. Some thought him foolish. Others questioned his statements. But none who saw or heard him criticized his effort and his tireless energy.

His first LSU team shocked the basketball world by knocking off third-ranked Memphis State in Brown's home opener in December, 1972. The Hustlers, as they were dubbed, gave the competition fits all season long. They won 14 games, finished 9-9 in the SEC and drew praise from all around the country for their determination.

For his achievements with a team picked last in the league, Brown was named SEC Coach of the Year, the first of four such honors he would receive.

Starting with the 1976-77 season, the Tigers increased their victory total every year for the next six seasons. The streak was highlighted by a 31-5 record in 1980-81 (the most wins in a season in LSU history) and the first of Brown's two trips to the Final Four. For his success that season Brown was honored as the 1981 National Coach of the Year.

Even more impressive was his second trip to the Final Four in 1985-86 when his Tigers were the lowest seeded team ever to make it to the Final Four after knocking off teams seeded first, second and third in the region (the only team ever

"...one of the true statesmen of college basketball."

- Temple' coach John Chaney to accomplish that feat on the road to the Final Four).

The Tigers won four SEC titles under Brown and only Adolph Rupp and Joe B. Hall at Kentucky won more SEC titles. His 448-301 record with 238 wins in regular season SEC play, put him second behind only Rupp in wins in the league. He was only the third SEC coach to coach 25 years as a head coach in the league.

Brown was part of 38.5 percent of LSU's 1,164 total victories in the first 89 seasons of basketball. Also, no coach in LSU history coached more consecutive games -- 749.

In 1990, Brown was the winning coach, capturing the Gold Medal for the South in the Olympic Festival in Minneapolis.

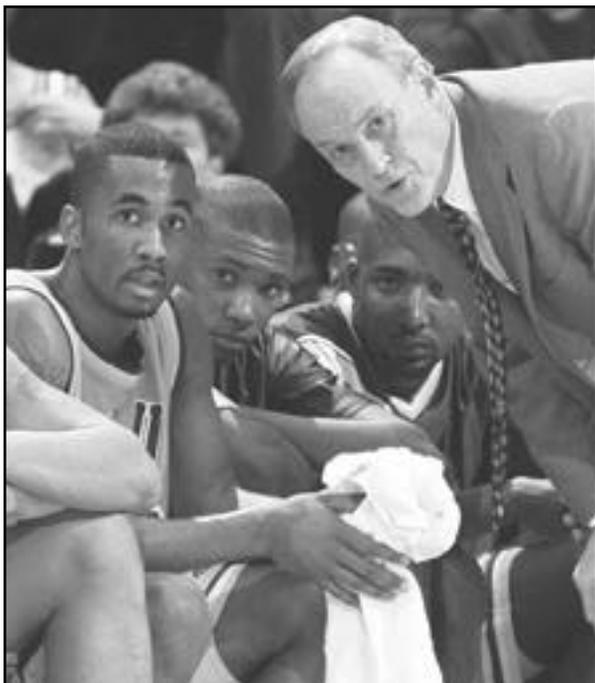

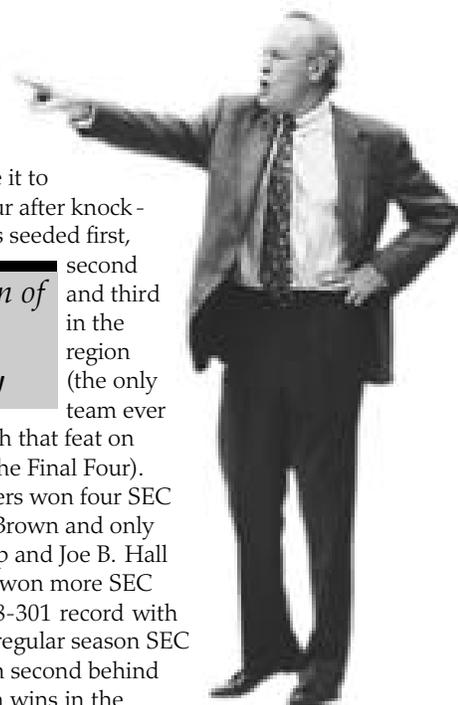

Brown was born in 1935 in Minot, a small railroad town in the northwest corner of North Dakota. In high school, he was the leading scorer in both football and basketball at St. Leo's of Minot. As a senior, he was the state scoring leader in basketball with a state record scoring average. He also set a school record in the 440-yard dash.

Brown earned 12 letters in basketball, football and track at Minot State University, making him the school's only athlete to achieve that goal.

John Chaney of Temple called Brown, "...one of the true statesmen of college basketball. His contributions to the game and society have impacted many. He is an outstanding coach and an outstanding person."

Legendary coach John Wooden of UCLA said: "I will always remember Dale for his enthusiasm. There are those who say he is a put-on -- they just can't believe that he can be what he professes. But I never questioned that. He amazed me because there is a lot more depth to the man. He was much more than a basketball coach."

No doubt about it.

1860's - 1920's

The institution opened January 2, 1860 and subsequently closed June 30, 1861, because of the Civil War. It reopened on April 1, but was again closed on April 23, 1863, due to the invasion of the Red River Valley by the federal army.

The seminary (as it was originally referred) reopened October 2, 1865, only to be burned October 15, 1869. Just over two weeks later, the institution resumed its exercises in Baton Rouge, where it has since remained. In 1870, the name of the institution was changed to Louisiana State University.

In 1875, the institution became racially integrated. Just two years following, LSU's official title was changed to Louisiana State University and A&M College and became a land-grant institution.

In 1886, the federal garrison grounds (now the site of the state capitol) were formally declared the domicile of the University. Land for the present campus was purchased in 1918.

It was 1893 when LSU played its first football game, and three years later LSU adopted the tiger as the official mascot.

1920's

With the support of Governor John M. Parker and the approval of a severance tax during the constitutional convention of 1921, the construction of the new campus, known today as Louisiana State University Agricultural and Mechanical College, began.

The Gym-Armory was built west of the academic quadrangle for the purpose of housing the LSU basketball team and other indoor sporting events. Tiger Stadium was completed in 1924 and on Thanksgiving Day of that year, Tulane and LSU played the first game on the new campus. In 1928, upward expansion added 10,000 seats to the already 12,000-seat stadium.

The formal dedication of the new campus took place on Friday, April 30, 1926. The date was chosen because on April 30, 1803 the United States Congress signed the Louisiana Purchase documents.

1930's

During this time many of LSU's live oaks and magnolias were planted by landscape artist Steele Burden for what has become a symbolic part of the great legacy at LSU. The live oak trees on LSU's campus have been valued at $36 million. Through the LSU Foundation's "Endow an Oak" program, individuals or groups are able to endow live oaks across campus.

In 1930, the student body adopted the alma mater that still is in use today.

LSU is the home of The Southern Review, one of the world's most prestigious literary journals, established in the 1930s by Robert Penn Warren, Cleanth Brooks, and Charles Pipkin.

The Huey P. Long Fieldhouse was constructed in 1932 and served as the campus' first student union. The Long Field House contained administrative offices and an outdoor pool that was the world's largest at the time.

In 1937, two new athletic venues were completed and was expanded. The John M. Parker Coliseum opened and served as a multipurpose arena mostly for livestock shows and rodeos. It was also used for commencements and convocations and served as home of the LSU basketball team. Alex Box Stadium also served as football practice fields. Tiger Stadium received its second expansion, adding a north endzone and bringing the capacity to 46,000.

Huey P. Long and Castro Carazo teamed up to co-author notable songs "Touchdown for LSU" and "Hey Fightin' Tigers!" During his tenure at LSU Carazo compiled one of the most complete university band libraries in America.

1940's

Until 1969 the ROTC program at Louisiana State University was mandatory for all entering male students. The military heritage began under General William T. Sherman and hence developed the name "Ole War Skule." Not many people know about LSU's rich military tradition. In WWII, only Texas A&M and the Military Academies of Annapolis and West Point were equal to the Ole War Skule in providing officers to the armed forces.

In 1943, the LSU Band invited its first coed member.

1950's

In 1950 LSU enrolled black students into its graduate program for the first time. Throughout the 1950s, air conditioning slowly began to be phased into administration and classroom buildings throughout the campus.

A.P. Tureaud, Jr., enrolled, but resigned before the end of the fall term in 1953, while Brown vs. The Board of Education of Topeka, Kansas, struck down racial segregation in public schools a year later.

Tiger Stadium was expanded in 1957 with the south endzone providing the final piece of the puzzle to completely enclose the stadium. The enclosure provided not only additional seating but also men's dormitories. Capacity now reached 67,720.

History of LSU

The LSU Tiger Football team won the 1958 National Championship, defeating Clemson, 7-0, in the Sugar Bowl and finishing with an 11-0 season.

1960's

In 1964, a $5.5 million student union was built with 200,000 square feet of entertainment. The three-story facility accommodated a 1,315 seat theatre, 333 seat movie cinema, bowling alley, game room and pool hall, post office, cafeteria and craft shop as well as ballrooms and conference rooms for hosting seminars and special events.

Also that year, six black students enrolled in undergraduate studies.

By the end of the decade, rising tensions due to U.S. involvement in the Vietnam War were mounting. The LSU ROTC program became a target for protestors as dissatisfaction with the war increased. The pressure increased for LSU to either cancel its program or make it voluntary. In October 1968, the LSU Faculty Council voted to make the ROTC program voluntary, and on May 26, 1969 the LSU Board of Supervisors made it official.

1970's

Former professor T. Harry Williams was honored with the Pulitzer Prize for his biography of Huey Long in 1970.

With the growing popularity of collegiate athletics, two new athletic facilities were built and another was being expanded. In 1971, LSU basketball not only welcomed new coach Dale Brown, but it also introduced a state-of-the-art 15,000-seat multipurpose arena. The Assembly Center would eventually be known as the Pete Maravich Assembly Center and nicknamed "The PMAC" after the death of LSU basketball and NBA legend "Pistol" Pete Maravich in the late 1980's.

In 1974, Athletics Director, Carl Maddox expanded the growing LSU athletic compound with the addition of a multi-purpose sports and recreational complex that now bears his name, the Carl Maddox Field House. Tiger Stadium again expanded in 1978 by adding 8,000-seats in a new West Upper Deck to lead the Tiger football program into the next decade with a capacity of nearly 80,000-seats.

In 1978, LSU was named a sea-grant college becoming one of only 25 universities in the country recognized as both a land and sea-grant institution.

1980's

Former professor John Kennedy Toole posthumously won the Pulitzer Prize for his fictional work, A Confederacy of Dunces.

In 1985, the Natatorium was built for the LSU Swimming & Diving program as the United States Sports Festival came to Baton Rouge.

James Wharton introduced a new admissions policy that would increase university admission standards. The standards would require high school students to complete a list of core requirements throughout their high school careers. In 1987, the board of supervisors approved the proposed admission standards.

In 1987, LSU was designated as a Research University I, putting it in the top 2% of the nation's colleges and universities. Only 70 universities, 45 public and 25 private, have this designation.

1990's

In 1992, The Student Recreational Sports Complex opened to rave reviews by LSU students and faculty.

On May 20, 1994, the LSU Alumni Association dedicated its new home. Special honorees attending were Lod Cook, President Gerald Ford, President Jimmy Carter, President George Bush, White House Chief of Staff Mac McLardy, and Governor Edwin Edwards.

Head Coach Skip Bertman built the LSU baseball program into one of the most dominating programs in the country. With National Championships coming in 1991, 93, 96, and 97, the Tigers would continue their dynasty into the next century by winning its fifth title in 2000. By the late 1990's the LSU Tiger baseball team became known as the "Program of the Decade" by all of college baseball.

Speaking of dynasties, LSU Head Track & Field Coach Pat Henry has managed to reach major milestones throughout his 14 years at LSU. He has led the Lady Tiger track & field team to 18 National Titles, 11 outdoor and seven indoor. His men's teams have won three NCAA titles, most recently the 2001 indoor crown. Henry is the only coach in NCAA history to guide both the men and women team to NCAA titles in the same year. Under Henry's direction, the LSU track & field program has attained unparalleled success: 21 NCAA titles and 19 SEC crowns.

As a university, LSU has accounted for 36 NCAA titles. Henry has served as head coach for better than half of LSU's national crowns.

On April 1, 1999, Dr. William L. Jenkins, formerly chancellor of Louisiana State University and Agricultural & Mechanical College, became president of the LSU System, which includes nine institutions on 10 campuses in five cities as well as 10 public hospitals in 10 cities.

A native of South Africa, Dr. Jenkins studied at the University of Pretoria, where he received his professional veterinary medicine degree in 1958. After practicing veterinary medicine for four years, he received his specialist credentials from the University of Pretoria in 1968. In 1970 he received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Missouri, Columbia. He joined the faculty at the University of Pretoria, advancing through the ranks to become professor and head of the Department of Veterinary Physiology, Pharmacology, and Toxicology in 1971.

He moved to the United States in 1978 and joined the faculty in the Department of Veterinary Physiology and Pharmacology at Texas A&M University. He was appointed dean of the LSU School of Veterinary Medicine in 1988 and was named LSU's provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs in September 1993.

When he was appointed LSU's fifth Chancellor in November 1996, Dr. Jenkins reorganized the campus administration to be more effective and more responsive, and oversaw the development of a strategic plan to guide the University in its preparation for the challenges of the next century.

President Jenkins has received numerous awards and recognitions, including being named the 1997 Communicator of the Year by the Public Relations

Jenkins and his wife, Peggy, have four children -- Sharon, Gwynn, Anthea, and Warren -- and eight grandchildren.

Dr. Mark A. Emmert
Chancellor, LSU

Dr. Mark A. Emmert was appointed chancellor of Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College on April 16, 1999, becoming the sixth chancellor to lead the state's flagship university. He assumed the position on July 1, 1999.

Dr. Emmert was hired after a national search was conducted to replace Dr. William L. Jenkins, who was named President of the LSU System.

Before arriving at LSU, Emmert served as chancellor of the University of Connecticut. While there, he was a critical player in the implementation of the university's strategic plan. The plan set forth eight academic goals for enhancing UConn's national standing with increased endowment funds to support research and educational objectives.

Emmert was a J.W. Fulbright Administrative Fellow in Germany in 1991. He has served as a visiting scholar in Melbourne, Australia, and he has lectured and conducted training programs in Hong Kong, Okinawa, Panama City, and Guam.

Emmert is an American Council on Education Fellow and chair-elect of the Council of Academic Affairs for the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges. He is the author of numerous journal articles, monographs, book chapters, and technical reports.

A native of Tacoma, Wash., Emmert holds doctoral and master's degrees in public administration from the Maxwell School of Syracuse University and a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science from the University of Washington.

Emmert taught political science at Northern Illinois University from 1983 to 1985. He joined the University of Colorado in Denver in 1985 and served as associate dean and associate professor in the Graduate School of Public Affairs and as associate vice chancellor for academic affairs. He served as special assistant to the president, University of Colorado System in Boulder in 1988-89. Subsequently, he served as provost and vice president for academic affairs and as professor of political science at Montana State University from 1992 to 1995.

Dr. William P. "Pat" Culbertson is in his eighth year as LSU's faculty representative in NCAA and Southeastern Conference matters.

Culbertson, a professor of economics, has taught at LSU since 1974. The Gulfport, Miss., native received his bachelor's degree from LSU in 1963, earned his master's from LSU in 1965, and went on to earn a Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Texas in 1972. Culbertson was an assistant professor of economics at the University of Virginia from 1968-74 before joining the LSU faculty where he served as an associate professor from 1975-79.

Formerly the president of the LSU Faculty Senate for two terms, Culbertson is a member of the American Economic Association, the Southern Economic Association and the Western Economic Association. Culbertson is also an elected member of the Baton Rouge Metro Council.

Skip Bertman

Director of Athletics

J. Stanley "Skip" Bertman was named LSU's athletics director on January 19, 2001, succeeding Joe Dean, who finished his 14-year term as A.D. on Dec. 31, 2000. Bertman, who completed a brilliant 18-year career this June as LSU's head baseball coach, served both as athletics director and head coach during the 2001 baseball season before assuming the full-time role as A.D. in August.

With Bertman, LSU gains an athletics director who can provide the leadership and experience necessary to manage the Tigers' nearly $35 million athletic budget. He is one of the most respected people in the Baton Rouge community and throughout the state of Louisiana. His talent as a fund-raiser and businessman, as well as a public relations mastermind, developed the LSU baseball program into the best in the nation.

One only has to look at what Bertman has accomplished with the Tiger baseball program over the last 18 years to see he brings all the tools necessary to direct LSU's 20-sport athletic department.

Bertman guided LSU to five NCAA titles, including back-to-back championships in 1996 and 1997. His teams drew huge crowds to venerable Alex Box Stadium, as LSU led the nation in attendance in each of his final six seasons (1996-2001). Bertman's unyielding desire to succeed drove him to the pinnacle of his profession, and his astute knowledge of the game -- obtained from over 40 years of coaching -- combined with his steadfast determination and irrepressible enthusiasm transformed LSU Baseball into the nation's premier program.

Those same characteristics will carry over to the athletics director's chair, where Bertman has inherited a program considered to be one of the best in the country.

Bertman, 63, guided the baseball Tigers to a 870-330-3 (.724) record in his 18-year tenure, including the 1991, 1993, 1996, 1997 and 2000 NCAA titles, 11 College World Series appearances and Southeastern Conference championships in 1986, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1996 and 1997. He was named National Coach of the Year on six occasions -- 2000, 1997, 1996, 1993, 1991 and 1986, and he served as head coach of the 1996 U.S. Olympic team which captured the bronze medal in Atlanta.

In a Baseball America poll released in January, 1999, Bertman was voted the second greatest college baseball coach of the 20th century, trailing only Rod Dedeaux of Southern California. LSU was voted No. 3 in a poll of the greatest college baseball programs of the century.

LSU is one of only three schools to win five NCAA championships, and the Tigers are one of only 10 teams to have made 11 College World Series appearances. Bertman and Dedeaux are the only coaches to win five CWS titles, and LSU (1990s) and Southern California (1970s) are the only schools to win four championships in one decade.

Bertman mastered the art of winning big games throughout his career, guiding the Tigers to a 21-4 record in championship games in NCAA post-season play. That mark includes all NCAA Regional, NCAA Super Regional and College World Series championship contests. Bertman also directed LSU to the highest all-time NCAA Tournament winning percentage with a 89-29 (.754) record.

Bertman led LSU to its fifth national title in 2000, as the Tigers recorded a 52-17 mark, including a perfect 13-0 post-season record. LSU won the SEC Tournament with four straight wins, and the Tigers raced to a 9-0 mark in the NCAA Tournament. The Tigers captured the national title with a thrilling 6-5 win over Stanford in the CWS championship game, as LSU scored four runs in the last two innings to overcome a 5-2 deficit. Catcher Brad Cresse's RBI single in the bottom of the ninth inning drove home shortstop Ryan Theriot with the winning run. LSU became only the third school in NCAA baseball history to win five national championships, joining Southern California and Arizona State.

The Tigers took their first crucial step toward college baseball prominence in 1983 when Bertman was hired to pump new blood into the program. He had previously earned stellar recognition as one of the nation's brightest assistant coaches while at the University of Miami (Fla.) for eight seasons (1976-83).

Bertman was known as the "best assistant coach in college baseball" while a member of Ron Fraser's staff at Miami, and he brought to LSU the same brand of exciting, winning baseball he helped install at UM.

Even before working at Miami, Bertman was renowned for his coaching excellence. In 11 seasons at Miami Beach High School, he directed the Hi-Tides to a state championship and two runners-up finishes. He was named Florida's Coach of the Year on three occasions.

Bertman left Miami Beach High School in 1974 to author the book, Coaching Youth League Baseball, funding the project out of his own resources. The book has become required reading for youth league coaches around the nation and in many foreign countries.

In 1975, Bertman went back to coaching at Miami-Dade Downtown, leaving after one season to join Fraser at Miami. The move was a homecoming of sorts, as Bertman spent his collegiate playing days with the Hurricanes as an outfielder and catcher from 1958-60. He earned his B.A. in health and physical education from Miami in 1961 and received his master's degree from UM in 1964.

Bertman and his wife Sandy are the parents of four daughters -- Jan, Jodi, Lisa and Lori. The Bertmans have two grandchildren -- Sophie Faith and Isaac Stanley, the children of Emile and Lori Bertman Guirard.

Athletic Administration

Dan Radakovich enters his first year as LSU's senior associate athletics director after joining the University in May. He came to LSU after serving as director of athletics at American University in Washington D.C.

"We feel very fortunate to have someone with Dan's experience join the LSU Athletic Department," said LSU Athletics Director Skip Bertman. "This is a new position within the athletic department and we're excited about what Dan brings to LSU. He's been an athletics director and he also spent six years as an associate athletics director at South Carolina so we are very lucky to hire Dan."

Radakovich will oversee the daily operations of the LSU Athletic Department and he will serve as Bertman's chief assistant.

Prior to his one-year stint at American University, Radakovich spent six years as the associate athletics director at South Carolina where he directed the financial operations for the Gamecocks' $30 million athletic department budget. Radakovich also worked closely with South Carolina Athletics Director Mike McGee in laying the ground work for a new $70 million arena being built in Columbia. He also served as the department liaison for marketing and promotional activities with Host Communications. Radakovich was also responsible for home event management as well as that of overseeing concessions, football travel and the video department.

During his tenure with South Carolina, Radakovich supervised the finances and logistics for $33 million in facility improvements.

Radakovich served as the senior associate athletics director at Long Beach State from 1989-94. In that capacity, he managed a $5 million budget and supervised the nationally recognized men's basketball and baseball programs. In addition, Radakovich reorganized the fund-raising operations and coordinated the production and sales of radio broadcasting packages.

Radakovich began his collegiate athletics career as the athletics business manager at the University of Miami in Coral Gables, Fla., from 1983-85. He worked in the private sector for five years before joining Long Beach State.

Radakovich, a native of Aliquippa, Pa., graduated from Indiana University of Pennsylvania in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in finance. Radakovich was also a football letterwinner as well as a student coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. He then went on to earn his master's degree in business administration from the University of Miami in 1982.

Radakovich is married to the former Marcie McDonald and the couple has two children, Christian (11) and Grant (7).

Judy Southard

*Associate Athletics Director/
Senior Women's Administrator*

Judy Southard, the director of athletics at Texas Woman's University for the past nine years, enters her first year as LSU's senior women's administrator after joining the athletic department staff in August of 2001.

As LSU's senior women's administrator, Southard will serve as the administrative liaison to the Tigers' nationally-recognized Olympic sports teams.

While at Texas Woman's University, Southard initiated a corporate partnership program for the athletic department that tripled the involvement of area businesses and corporations in Pioneer athletics. Southard also established the TWU Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame and she played a key role in the addition of softball and soccer to TWU's list of intercollegiate sports. In 2000, Southard served as chair of the NCAA Division II Women's Basketball Committee.

Prior to her nine-year stint at Texas Woman's University, Southard served as head women's basketball coach at Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va., for 11 years, where she led the Lady Herd to five Southern Conference regular-season titles. During her 11 years at Marshall, Southard was named Southern Conference Coach of the Year three times and her career record of 178-130 still stands as a school record for victories. Southard also served as assistant athletics director at Marshall from 1983-1988, including a four-month period when she was interim director.

Prior to her tenure at Marshall, Southard spent three years as head coach at Tennessee-Martin and she also served for one season as an assistant coach at Tennessee. As a high school teacher from 1970-77, Southard coached both basketball and tennis, leading her West Florence High School basketball team to the South Carolina 4A state title in 1976.

A native of Columbia, S.C., Southard earned a bachelor's degree in physical education and health from Coker College in 1970 followed by a master's degree in physical education from Tennessee in 1978.

Verge Ausberry

Associate Athletics Director/Internal Operations

Former LSU football player Verge Ausberry joined the LSU Athletic Department administrative staff in August 2001 to head up Athletic Department Operations.

In his position he will be in charge of such things as Game Management, the Athletic Department's courtesy car program, the weight room, the Dr. Martin Broussard training room and equipment rooms and video operations for the various sports on the campus.

Ausberry, from New Iberia, La., played inside linebacker for the Tigers, lettering in 1986-89. He was the leading tackler on the team in both 1988 and 1989. He was part of two Southeastern Conference championship teams (1986 under Bill Arnsparger and 1988 under Mike Archer) and played on teams that went to three bowl games: the 1987 Sugar Bowl, the 1987 Gator Bowl and the 1989 Hall of Fame Bowl. In those three years, the Tigers had a combined overall record of 27-8-1 and 16-3 in SEC games.

Although this is Ausberry's first tour of duty with the administration of the Athletic Department, he has remained very close to the LSU athletic scene in the 1990s, first serving for almost seven years as a member of LSU's highly regarded Academic Center for Athletes where he worked with many of the student-athletes, primarily dealing with LSU's football squad.

After leaving the Academic Center, he moved in July 1999 to the Tiger Athletic Foundation staff as part of LSU's fund-raising arm prior to accepting his present position.

The 34-year-old Ausberry received his Bachelor of Science degree in education in May of 1990 and his Master of Education in Administration, Supervision and certification in Child Welfare in May of 1992. He is presently a Doctoral Candidate in Higher Education Administration at LSU. He is married to the former Cheri Morial of New Orleans.

Jerry Blanchard, in his position as assistant athletics director for facilities, supervises LSU's impressive athletic physical plant consisting of the playing and practice facilities for all sports.

Jerry Blanchard was appointed to the position of assistant athletics director in charge of facilities at LSU on August 15, 1997.

One of Blanchard's primary projects has been the expansion of Tiger Stadium with the addition of skyboxes and seating on the east side of the structure that increased the capacity of the stadium to over 91,600. Also on his docket are the renovation of LSU's aging but historic baseball park, Alex Box Stadium, and the renovation of Tiger Stadium's press box.

Blanchard joined the athletic department after serving almost six years as the director of the Office of Facility Development on the LSU campus. He was responsible for administering a staff of architects, engineers, landscape architects, designers, construction managers, space utilization specialists, date specialists, CAD student workers and support personnel to plan, direct and coordinate all physical facilities, design and construction for the Baton Rouge campus.

Prior to his service at LSU, he was employed by Cajun Electric Power Cooperative where he managed accounting for the company's $2 billion plus construction division.

As associate athletics director for business, Ewing has assumed responsibility for the athletic business operations including budget, travel, personnel, and purchasing as well as responsibility for concession operations.

Interviews

Coach Brady will be available for phone and in-person interviews on most non-game weekdays during the season. Please coordinate all requests for personal interviews with Coach Brady at least one day in advance through Kent Lowe in the LSU Sports Information Office at 225-578-8226.

Coach Brady will, based on his schedule, be available for brief comments following the conclusion of the practice session each day.

It is strongly suggested that those needing pre-game comments from Coach Brady join in the twice-weekly SEC teleconference beginning in January each Monday and Thursday. Contact the SEC Office for the phone number.

On the road, Coach Brady will be available in the lobby on the day before the game upon arrival at the hotel. Coach Brady will not conduct any interviews, home or away, on game day prior to the game.

PLAYERS

LSU players will be available for interviews after most practices if interviews are requested 24 hours in advance through the LSU Sports Information Office. There will be no interviews once the players come on to the Maravich Assembly Center floor to begin practice warmup. This rule will be strictly enforced.

Phone interviews can also be requested for after practice as well. NO players will be available for interviews on the road prior to the game.

The team apartments, locker room and training room are off limits to media representatives at all times.

POSTGAME

LSU abides by Southeastern Conference policy regarding equal access to all members of the working media.

The LSU lockerroom is closed to all media after all games, home and road. Coach John Brady will conduct his postgame news conference at home games approximately 10 minutes after the game in the L-Club Room of the Maravich Assembly Center. On the road, media members can visit with Brady outside the lockerroom or in the home team's interview area if so requested.

Postgame player interviews are also conducted in the L-Club Room at home and outside the locker room or in an interview area where possible on the road.

Practices

Please contact Kent Lowe at (225) 578-8226 before planning to attend any practice session. Still and video cameras will be allowed during the first 20 minutes of practice only and all interviews will be conducted at the conclusion of practice.

Fax-On-Demand

LSU basketball stats and news releases as well as information on all LSU athletic programs are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week on the Info Connection's FAX-ON-DEMAND service. This service allows media outlets and media representatives to obtain the latest news on LSU's intercollegiate athletic program at an instant.

The Info Connection's FAX-ON-DEMAND service may be reached by calling 1-770-558-6000 from the handset of your machine and you must have a pass code. Use the standard SEC codes for information.

Satellite Feeds

Throughout the 2001-2002 season, the LSU Electronic Media Department will provide weekly satellite feeds with highlights and interviews. Also "Inside LSU Basketball with John Brady" will be available each week on satellite feed to stations. Please contact Kevin Wagner or John Schiebe for feed times and satellite coordinates.
