POSTSEASON

VOLMANAC

MEDIA INFO

In early October, we sat down with associate head coach Mike Schwartz for an in-depth, position-by-position breakdown of the 2019-20 Tennessee roster.

POINT GUARD

"I think the two main guys who will play at the point guard position will be Lamonté Turner and Josiah-Jordan James. Those will be the two primary ballhandlers. They both can play on the ball and off the ball. With Lamonté, some of his biggest strengths will be experience. He's done it over the course of four years, even though he's played on and off the ball. But his experience, his leadership, being a part of NCAA Tournament games at that position, is all very valuable on both sides of the ball. He knows what coach wants—that's as big as anything. He knows our offensive schemes, and he knows our defensive schemes. And his game has really evolved to the point where now he's not just a scorer, he's a playmaker, he's a passer, he's seeing the floor so well this preseason. He can obviously score the ball, and we all know what Lamonté has done taking big shots in big moments. So, he really just knows what coach wants, he knows how to run our offense, how to score out of our offense. He knows how to defend the other team's best player... a lot of times that's their point guard in terms of somebody who's a playmaker. So, he's going to play heavy minutes at that position.

"And then Josiah, the freshman... probably his biggest strength coming in at that position is his feel for that position as a 6-6 guard. He's a throwback point guard who really wants to run the offense, wants to get guys involved. He's a pass-first point guard, which you don't see much anymore. So, we like his ability to say, 'Hey, my No. 1 priority as a point guard is to get other guys shots, to put other guys in good positions, to make sure our offense is running smoothly how Coach Barnes wants.' I think that's why he'll see that position quite a bit. He's a dynamic ball handler at 6-6. He can play against guards who are smaller than him. Coach can do some unique things with him, like putting him in the post vs. a point guard, which is always a struggle. Defensively, he adds a lot of versatility at the point guard spot because he can guard the one through four positions, and there's been times in practice where he has had to guard the five. So, his versatility on the defensive side will really be big, because it will allow us to switch and do some other things that will cause problems for the other team. But Josiah and Lamonté will be the two primary point guards, and both of them just have a real feel for that position."

WINGS

"On the wing, you've got to start with Jordan Bowden. He's a senior, and he's been in it, experienced it for four years. He knows exactly what coach Barnes wants. His game has come so far from a standpoint of turning into the aggressive scorer that we need him to be. This year will hands down be his biggest opportunity to do that. Because before, he had to do it in spots. There were moments, there were stretches of games during the season where he did it. But we need it from him every night now. We need him to think like an elite scorer from that wing spot. He can do it all. He can shoot from behind the arc. He can put the ball on the deck and attack the basket. He's got as good of a mid-range game as there is in the country, in our opinion, when it comes to playing off a one-dribble pull-up or playing off screens in that mid-range elbow area. So, we really think that JB has done an excellent job of getting himself to this point. The next step for him is to have that mentality all the time and know that he can't sit back, he can't hide, he can't have a night off where he's not thinking like that. He's also going to have to handle the ball some. He would probably be our third point guard—we always refer to it as the third ball handler. He did it last year in spots, and he's practiced like that all summer. Over coach's time here, he's always thrown Bowden at that point guard spot from time to time, because we know that's the position where we put the most pressure, and coach Barnes coaches that position the hardest. Lamonté and Josiah have learned it—they can handle it—but we need one other guy that can understand it, and that helps his development off the ball when he can handle that scrutiny.

"Jalen Johnson came on at the end of last season. There were moments where he really started to show what we have been waiting for from him. He's long, athletic, he can really shoot the ball. But the reality is what this team needs from Jalen more than anything is to be a prolific shooter, and to think like that. Coach Barnes has stressed that to him, along with moving off screens. Obviously, our offense does a lot where we move guys off the ball. We're not just going to play isolation basketball the whole time, so Jalen is going to have to keep the floor spaced for us and be able to move off screens and really shoot the ball well. We also know that he's really an excellent finisher in transition with his length and athleticism. We want him to try to carry that over to the defensive end. We need him to start using that length and athleticism on the defensive end, and it's an area where coach has really coached him hard this summer and fall. Coach Barnes has said that's an area where Jalen has to go to another level. But in a best-case scenario, if we can get high level 3-point shooting and solid 6-7 wing defense from Jalen like we talked about with Josiah or some of the other guys where he can switch, and he can do things where he can guard up and he can guard down, he would make a great impact on the wing for us this year.

"Another freshman who has really been a pleasant surprise has been Davonte Gaines. He is another wing position player for us. Davonte's No. 1 quality that has been so impressive to the coaching staff and his teammates is just how tough of a kid he is and how he competes. He's relentless. His game isn't anywhere near where it's going to be, or where he wants it to be, and that's expected as an incoming freshman. His physicality—even with the slight frame he has—has improved. Every single day, we see something better from 'Ticket.' He's been banged up a little bit this preseason, so that maybe slowed his development in terms of where he may be come November. But his mental approach, how hard he plays, how hard he practices, his commitment to what coach Barnes needs him to do... he's going to get there once he gets healthy. For his size, he's a really good ball handler. He had to play some point this summer when we were balancing things when Lamonté was out during the summer. But, Davonte's just a versatile, all-around player who will have a chance to really help us this year.

"Yves Pons has made a really positive transition to the frontcourt playing that combo-forward spot most of the time since coming back from playing with his national team in France over the summer. Playing for his national team, he was playing in the frontcourt, and the biggest reason for that was for him to learn that position, to learn the offense, to learn what he needs to do defensively and to learn the nuances of that position. That being said, he will still play on the wing some this season, just because he does know that spot, and he's actually turned into a guy this fall who has been one of our most versatile players overall. If you know how to play the three spot, you can really play the two. And if you know the four, you can really play the five. He can guard the one through the five, and he's done that for us here. But now you're talking about a guy on offense who really knows almost every position other than the point guard spot, and coach Barnes can put him in there at multiple positions. He's spent most of his time in the frontcourt, at the four spot, this fall, and he's had a really strong preseason. He's shooting the ball really well. His physicality has gone to a different level. As physical as he is looking, he's playing that way now, in terms of in the paint, on the glass, defensively... so he will still play on the wing, but his primary position will be at that combo forward, and he will play in the frontcourt.

"Victor Bailey Jr. (VJ) has come in as a transfer, and the biggest thing we've seen with VJ is he is a very aggressive and athletic guard. One thing you know immediately is that he knows how to score the ball. He's coming from playing in a little bit of a different system, a zone defensive system where he was at Oregon, so he's learning our man-to-man defensive principles, so that's been a transition for him in terms of learning a whole new concept. But you could say that for anybody, any freshman, any transfer, learning what we want and what he's accustomed to playing his first two years in college. But what he does daily in practice is he puts elite pressure on our guards. As we are working on our schemes on defense, and working on our pressure defense, our top guards have to go up against a guard that is as fast, as quick, as athletic as them and can shoot the ball at an extremely high level. He has to learn how to do that consistently, and he will learn how to in this year off, under coach Barnes and our system. But from a standpoint of athleticism, competitiveness and strength, VJ has done it with the best in the country when he did it in the Pac-12, in terms of some of the games he's had, the way he's played and some of the performances he's had as a player over his first two years. We need that in our practices, and he's done a great job of going up against Lamonte, JB, Ticket and Josiah. He gives us great competition in practice, and we are just excited to have him eligible next year.

"Jacob Fleschman has been awesome this summer, just as he always has. In the past, his role was what a typical walk-on's role was—bring energy, team camaraderie, attention to detail with the scout team, competitiveness, doing exactly what is needed of him on a day-to-day basis, on or off the court, during practice, to make sure our team is moving in the right direction. He's shooting the ball as well as anyone this preseason. We have to respect a shooter like him, and he's that guy in practice. He makes the plays he supposed to. He keeps it very simple, and he's actually become an example that coach Barnes has used with our other wing players and guards to say, "Look at what Jacob is doing right now.' I'm just really impressed with what he's doing. He's getting better and better, and he definitely helps our team in practice. And he could definitely find a way to help our team in games, too."

FRONTCOURT

"John Fulkerson is a lot like Jordan Bowden... he needs to step out into that next level of his production, effort, wanting to be in that spotlight in the frontcourt. He's replacing obviously three guys in Grant Williams, Admiral Schofield and Kyle Alexander. And John has had great moments in games, but he was never forced to be that guy every night. He was never forced to be relied upon. If it wasn't happening for him, we didn't feel it as much because we had those other guys. What coach Barnes needs him to do, what this team needs him to do, what his teammates want him to do and what he's capable of doing is taking that next step to be that aggressive player every single day, every single game—and that isn't just scoring. It isn't in just one area. In the past John may have had a few games where he just shows his athleticism, and then there's been some games he's really good with his back to the basket. In the other games, he's blocking shots. John is going to be put in a role where we need him to be doing all those things. We need him to be a great post defender and guard the other team's post threat. We need him to be somebody that runs the floor as well as any big in the country. We need him to be somebody who's thinking about scoring with his back to the basket. We need someone to do what Grant Williams could do and play at those elbows and drive the basketball and put fouls on the other teams' big guys. We need John to overall be a real threat on both sides of the ball."

"Then we've got a freshman in Olivier Nkamhoua... man, he's been a huge surprise in a good way. We knew and were excited about what we thought he could become and where we thought he would be this year, but the surprise came from the day he stepped on campus—his physicality and relentlessness against other college players. That got coach Barnes and the staff very excited very quickly. It got his teammates excited very quickly, because he plays with a physicality in rebounding, a physicality in the post that you don't expect freshmen to play with. That being said, he's got a better perimeter game than we thought. We know he is just scratching the surface of what he could be as a true power forward. He's shown glimpses and he's grown since he's been here... skill, shooting the ball, handling the basketball. He's got a long way to go making decisions vs. the speed and the defense and the length and the strength of college defenses. But he's someone who, over his career, can play the three, four or the five. He'll primarily be in the frontcourt, but there are some things where coach Barnes sees he'll have the versatility to guard the perimeter at times. He'll have the versatility to play on offense on the perimeter some if we want to take advantage of a wing who's not quite as big or as strong as Olivier. He's got great instincts, and he's a highly competitive player. So, when you talk about instincts, competitiveness, the physicality that he has as a young player, he's really had a great summer and a very good preseason, and we're going to count on him. The thing about Olivier... he knows it starts with his rebounding. You don't ever have to call a play for him. You don't ever have to put him in a position where you say, 'Hey, you go do this.' He's going to do it on his own. And usually guys who do that, their roles expand naturally. He's willing to go get it if they never throw him the ball. He'll go get it on his own.

"Zach Kent has been someone who knows what coach Barnes wants. He's experienced, because he's been here. But he's young, because he hasn't played in a game yet. What we need him to do, and when he's at his best, is when he is a true frontcourt player who can stretch the floor. He's a very skilled player, and he's a very good shooter when he's taking the right shots. He's someone who can stretch the court and shoot behind the 3-point line. He knows the game. He's got a high basketball IQ. But any time you haven't played for two years since you've been in high school, that timing of putting those skills together with the physicality of the defense—putting those skills together with the pressures of the games and the pressures of day-in and day-out practices, your body feels different. All those things are coming together for Zach right now. We're really excited for him, and he's finally going to have an opportunity to play. So now he's just got to do it. It's going to be a process for him, but the one great thing about Zach is when he came in, he knew this was going to be a process for him. He knew there were certain things—speed of the game and athleticism—that were going to be adjustments for him. I think he's hungry, because he's two years in now and he'd like for it to happen quicker. But he's going to get his opportunity. The biggest thing he does for us in the frontcourt is he can really keep the floor spaced, and we need a post player who can do that.

"For Uroš Playšič, his combination of his skill and his size is what makes him really good. He's a true 7-footer, he's got legitimate size and length to play back-to-the-basket, and he's also a really good passer. He can stretch the floor and shoot the ball, but it's not something that will materialize early for him. I'm not saying he won't be able to shoot threes or make threes, but he's going to have to expand his game from the rim out. That was a little bit of an adjustment for him, as he always had it, and he knew he could score both in and out, but he really liked to space beyond that 3-point line. He's very capable of doing it, but what he didn't realize is how capable he is of scoring and being a physical factor around the basket. The one thing about Uroš, even when he plays on the perimeter, is he likes to play physical. He likes contact, and he likes to set hard screens. He has no problem with that. He's become a true player we can throw the ball to with his back to the basket. He's got a good array of post moves. He can score the ball in different ways. But what he can really do from the paint is pass the ball. You think about someone like Grant Williams who could really pass the ball out of the paint, and that was really big for our offense. The one area we really need from Uroš, and he's not there yet, is we need someone who can alter and block shots. Losing Kyle Alexander as a rim protector leaves a big question mark for this team. We need Uroš to be someone who can do that.

"The biggest thing with Drew Pember is probably adapting to the physicality, speed, and strength of this level of basketball. He's got as much skill as you could want from a 6-9 freshman. He's going to start inside, and he will have the ability over his career to expand and move out and play on the perimeter as a big wing. He can shoot the ball as good as anybody right now. He can shoot the ball like a guard, and that's his strength. He's more athletic than people would give him credit for. We just haven't been able to see it as much this preseason because he's been a little banged up with a lingering foot injury. But his skill level and shooting at his size is what's really going to allow him to separate himself as he gets stronger and more acclimated to the physicality of this game. That will be his biggest adjustment from high school.

"Brock Jancek has absolutely gotten better over his two years in our program. He's an unbelievable person in the locker room, on the court, and he brings great energy to practice. Our walk-ons, Brock and Jacob, get our team ready every day, and you can not put a value on that, it's so important. They are like coach/players out there, and they bring so much to helping the team get ready in the preseason, and then do so much for the scout team during the season. When you get to February, you don't want your 10 main-rotation guys who are always playing lots of minutes banging against each other in practice. We want those guys to be focused on what our team is running, so our scout team is so valuable in that regard."

ROSTER BREAKDOWN

- The Vols' 2019-20 roster features 14 players (12 scholarship student-athletes) representing seven states as well as Finland, France and Serbia.
- There are four Vols who hail from the state of Tennessee, two from Texas and one each from Alabama, Delaware, North Carolina, New York and South Carolina.
- UT has two seniors, five juniors, two sophomores and five freshmen.
- Four Vols stand 6-5 or shorter, and 10 players are 6-6 or taller.
- Tennessee's 12 scholarship players combine to boast 445 games played (34.2 per man) and 121 starts (9.3 per man).

TENNESSEE LOSES 70 PERCENT OF ITS SCORING, TOP THREE SCORERS

- After losing four of the five starters from last year's squad and eight total players, the Vols have gone from one of the most experienced rosters in college basketball to one of the greenest.
- Of its 3,035 total points scored last season, Tennessee returns just 922—or 30 percent—of its total scoring.
- UT's top three scorers from a year ago in Grant Williams (18.8 ppg), Admiral Schofield (16.5 ppg) and Jordan Bone (13.5 ppg) either graduated or elected to forgo their senior season to pursue a professional playing career.
- In addition to scoring, Tennessee also lost the majority of its production from last season in blocks (71.9%), assists (66.0%) and rebounding (65.1%).

UT HAS BEEN A MAINSTAY IN THE NATIONAL RANKINGS

- Tennessee is riding a streak of 35 consecutive appearances in the Associated Press Top 25 Poll. That ties a school record set March 1, 1999, through Feb. 19, 2001.
- Last season, for the first time in program history, the Volunteers spent the entire season—20 polls—in the AP top 10. Tennessee spent four straight weeks at No. 1 last season before finishing the year at No. 6.
- If UT appears in this year's AP preseason poll, that will run the current streak to 36 straight appearances, marking a new program record.

TENNESSEE RIDING NATION'S LONGEST HOME WIN STREAK

- Tennessee enters the 2019-20 season riding a 26-game home win streak that is tied with Buffalo as the longest active streak among Division I teams.
- The streak dates to the 2017-18 season. The Vols won their final eight games at Thompson-Boling Arena that year before going 18-0 at home last season.
- Tennessee's last loss in Knoxville was a 94-84 loss to Auburn on Jan. 2, 2018.
- The program record for consecutive home wins is 37 (2006-09). The current streak is tied as the fourth-longest in UT history. The Vols have also authored home win streaks of 33 games (1966-68) and 28 games (1935-37).

BOWDEN, TURNER APPROACHING 1,000-POINT MILESTONE

- The senior guard duo of Jordan Bowden and Lamonté Turner enters the season less than 100 points away from eclipsing the 1,000-point mark for their careers.
- A total of 50 Vols have accomplished that feat during their time on Rocky Top, with Admiral Schofield and Grant Williams being the most recent additions to the 1,000-Point Club last season.
- Turner (951 points) and Bowden (941 points) could both reach the milestone within the first month of the season. Last season, Schofield and Williams achieved the feat in the same game, surpassing the mark in UT's win over Louisville in the NIT Season Tip-Off.
- Tennessee has reached the Sweet Sixteen each of the last two seasons in which two players joined the 1,000-Point Club. In 2014, Jordan McRae and Jarnell Stokes joined the club.
- All-time, UT has had 11 duos reach 1,000 points in the same season, including Ernie Grunfeld and Bernard King in 1975-76.

UT ROSTER FEATURES SIX LEFTIES

- While most studies estimate that 10 percent of the population is left-handed, lefties make up nearly half of this Tennessee basketball team. Six current Vols are "southpaws."
- Tennessee's left-handers include: Victor Bailey Jr., John Fulkerson, Davonte Gaines, Josiah-Jordan James, Jalen Johnson and Yves Pons.
- Tennessee has more left-handed players than any other team in the SEC this season. No other SEC team has more than four.

FOURTH LAST SEASON, VOLTS LOOK TO REMAIN AMONG TOP 10 IN AVERAGE HOME ATTENDANCE

- Tennessee finished fourth nationally in average regular-season home attendance last year, drawing an average of 19,034 fans to 18 games at Thompson-Boling Arena.
- Last season's average of 19,034 ranks seventh in program history for single-season average and was Tennessee's highest attendance since 2009-10, during which it drew an average of 19,168 fans per game.
- The Vols have ranked among the top 20 in men's college basketball attendance for 15 consecutive years, including seven seasons ranked in the top five nationally.

2019 SWEET SIXTEEN RUN PUT BARNES IN RARE COMPANY

- Rick Barnes last season became one of only a dozen head coaches ever to lead at least three different schools to an NCAA Tournament Round of 16 appearance (Clemson, Texas, Tennessee).
- The 12 coaches who have led at least three different schools to the Round of 16 are: Lon Kruger (has done it with four schools), Barnes, Gene Bartow, John Calipari, Frank McGuire, Ralph Miller, Rick Pitino, Bruce Pearl, Bill Self, Eddie Sutton, Tubby Smith and Bruce Weber.

VOLTS WELL REPRESENTED IN THE NBA

- Multiple Tennessee alums will have a presence in the NBA in 2019-20—highlighted by a pair of veteran starters with the Philadelphia 76ers in forward Tobias Harris (2010-11) and guard Josh Richardson (2011-15).
- Three VFLs had their names called in June's NBA Draft. Grant Williams was drafted in the first round (22nd overall) by the Boston Celtics. Admiral Schofield was selected 42nd overall, and Jordan Bone was taken with the 57th pick. Draft-day trades sent Schofield to the Washington Wizards and Bone to the Detroit Pistons.
- Tennessee was one of five schools to have three players selected in the NBA Draft, and UT was the first school to have three upperclassmen selected in the same draft since Vanderbilt in 2012.
- A fourth VFL is embarking on his rookie NBA season as well, as forward Kyle Alexander went undrafted but signed a free-agent deal with the Miami Heat after a strong showing with the club during the NBA Summer League.
- Harris is embarking on his ninth NBA season. He started all 82 regular-season games last year (55 with the Los Angeles Clippers and 27 with the 76ers). He averaged a career-best 20.0 points per game, and his 18.2 ppg with the Sixers ranked second on the team. For his career, Harris averages 15.4 points, 6.0 rebounds and 1.9 assists per game while shooting .364 from 3-point range.
- Richardson enters his fifth NBA season—the previous four with Miami. The 26-year-old has started 154 games over the last two seasons and averages 12.1 points, 3.2 rebounds and 2.9 assists during his NBA career. He also shoots at a .368 clip from 3-point range. His averages for points, rebounds and assists have improved every year as a pro.
- New York Knicks Assistant GM Allan Houston (1989-93) continues to play a key insider's role with the franchise he once starred for. He also serves as GM of the NBA G-League's Westchester Knicks.

DIPLOMA CULTURE

- Lamonté Turner will play his entire senior season as a college graduate, as he earned his degree in Communication Studies last May.
- Redshirt junior Jalen Johnson will earn his degree in Communication Studies in December, while fellow redshirt juniors Jacob Fleschman (Business Finance) and John Fulkerson (Recreation and Sport Management) will graduate this May.

ANNIVERSARIES

- The 2019-20 season marks the 10th anniversary of Tennessee's Elite Eight run in 2009-10. That mark still stands as UT's deepest run in the postseason ever. The squad finished with a 28-9 record. During the NCAA Tournament, the Vols defeated NBA All-Star Kawhi Leonard and San Diego State in the first round, 62-59. After cruising past Ohio in the second round, Tennessee finally advanced past the Sweet Sixteen for the first time in program history with a 76-73 win over Big Ten champion Ohio State, who was led by Evan Turner, the No. 2 pick of the 2010 NBA Draft. The run came to an end in the Elite Eight, where the Vols fell to Michigan State, 70-69.
- This season also marks the 20th anniversary of UT's Sweet Sixteen run in 1999-2000. That was just the third time the Vols had reached the regional semifinals but was the first since the tournament had expanded to a 64-team format. That team also claimed an SEC Eastern Division title. The league abandoned divisional play following the 2010-11 season.
- Ten years ago (on Nov. 17, 2009), the Vols set single-game school records for points (124), assists (34) and 3-pointers (16) in a victory over UNC Asheville. Tennessee also recorded its second-most points in a half (66), its second-largest margin of victory ever (+75) and its fifth-most field goals in a single game (46).
- Thirty years ago, during the 1989-90 campaign, UT's all-time leading scorer, Allan Houston, posted the Tennessee single-game record for points scored by a freshman with 43 against LSU (on Feb. 10, 1990). That mark ranks as the fifth-most points ever scored by a Vol in a game. Also in that game, Greg Bell chipped in 31 points, which is one of only five times ever when two Tennessee players scored 30 points in the same game.
- Twenty years ago (on Dec. 21, 1999), the Vols set a single-game school record with 22 steals during a 102-58 win over American-Puerto Rico. Ten years later, the 2009-10 squad posted the second-highest mark with 21 steals in a game against North Carolina A&T.
- On Feb. 6, 1980, All-American Reggie Johnson matched the program record for field goals made with 19 against Florida. He finished with 43 points in the outing.
- During the 1999-2000 season, C.J. Black improved his program-record in career blocks to 212. No other Vol has yet to eclipse the 200-block mark for their career. Black finished his career with an incredible 1.80 blocks per game average.

VOLS' ROSTER BOASTS INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR

- Tennessee head coach Rick Barnes has vastly expanded the program's recruiting pipelines since arriving on Rocky Top, including internationally. Since his hiring in 2015, Barnes has now signed four international players, including two in the 2019 class.
- Junior wing Yves Pons, from Fuveau, France, returns to the team this year after seeing an increased role during his sophomore season. He appeared in 35 games with 13 starts and shot .516 from the field. In just his third career start, he recorded seven points, six rebounds and a block in UT's thrilling upset of No. 1 Gonzaga.
- Pons—who was born in Port-au-Prince, Haiti—attended the INSEP (National Institute of Sport and Physical Education) Academy in Paris. Other notable INSEP basketball alumni include Boris Diaw, Tony Parker and Ronny Turiaf.
- The Vols' other international team members this season are forwards Olivier Nkamhoua, from Helsinki, Finland, and Ivanjica, Serbia, native Uroš Plavšić.
- Nkamhoua competed for Finland (as a 6-4 point guard) in 2016 FIBA U16 European Championships divisional play. He is a true freshman this season.
- Plavšić, a redshirt freshman, has competed against fellow Serbian and NBA All-Star Nikola Jokic of the Denver Nuggets, as well as Croatian NBA center Ivica Zubac.
- All three players are the first from their respective countries to play for the Vols. Overall, Tennessee has signed 10 international players in its program history.

vs. WASHINGTON (NOV. 16)

- Tennessee makes its Canadian debut (in any sport) Nov. 16 as the Volunteers are set to face Washington as part of the James Naismith Classic in Toronto's Scotiabank Arena.
- The inaugural tripleheader event also features games between Buffalo-Harvard and Rutgers-St. Bonaventure.
- In their second season under the direction of head coach Mike Hopkins, the Huskies won the 2019 Pac-12 regular-season championship and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Washington finished with a 27-9 (15-3 Pac-12) record. Hopkins has led UW to back-to-back 20-win seasons and has claimed consecutive Pac-12 Coach of the Year honors.
- Tennessee is 18-11 all-time against current members of the Pac-12.
- Vols head coach Rick Barnes owns a 30-22 career record against current members of the Pac-12. Washington is the only Pac-12 school he has never faced.

vs. FLORIDA STATE (NOV. 29)

- Florida State is Tennessee's opening opponent at the Emerald Coast Classic in Niceville, Fla. The Vols and Seminoles clash on Friday, Nov. 29—the day after Thanksgiving.
- The other first-day matchup features Purdue against VCU. The winners and losers of Friday's games meet on Saturday.
- The Volunteers and Seminoles have met on the hardwood eight times previously, with Tennessee holding a 5-3 advantage. The series is tied, 1-1, when contested at a neutral site.
- Tennessee is 112-99 all-time against current members of the Atlantic Coast Conference. That includes a four-game win streak dating to December 2017.
- Under the direction of longtime head coach Leonard Hamilton, Florida State reached the Sweet Sixteen last season and finished 29-8 (13-3 ACC) to set a new school record for wins.
- Returning FSU starters Trent Forrest (9.3 ppg, 4.5 rpg) and M.J. Walker (7.5 ppg, .328 3FG) lead a talented backcourt. The Seminoles also welcome a top-25 signing class highlighted by five-star forward Patrick Williams.

MEMPHIS (DEC. 14)

- Tennessee hosts in-state foe Memphis Saturday, Dec. 14, in what will be the Tigers' first appearance in Knoxville since January 2011.
- The Volunteers posted a 102-92 victory over Memphis at the FedEx Forum last season, but only four UT players who appeared in that win are still on the roster. Those four players combined to account for 27 points in the victory.
- Tennessee leads the all-time series with Memphis 15-11, dating to 1969. The Vols own a 7-4 advantage when the series is played in Knoxville. When the teams meet in Memphis, UT leads, 7-6. The series is tied, 1-1, when contested at neutral sites.
- Memphis finished 22-14 (11-7 AAC) in its first season under head coach Anfernee Hardaway last season. However, the Tigers enter the 2019-20 campaign with one of the nation's most heralded crop of newcomers, highlighted by 7-footer James Wiseman, who was rated as the nation's No. 1 prospect in the Class of 2019.

at CINCINNATI (DEC. 18)

- Tennessee plays the first contest of a home-and-home series with Cincinnati Dec. 18 at UC's newly-renovated Fifth Third Arena.
- Tennessee trails its all-time series with Cincinnati 1-5, dating to 1952. The teams met in consecutive seasons in the early 1990s, with the Bearcats sweeping both games. The Vols' lone win in the series came at home on Dec. 10, 1956.
- After a 28-7 (14-4 AAC) finish and a loss to Iowa in the first round of the NCAA Tournament last season, Cincinnati lost longtime head coach Mick Cronin to UCLA. The Bearcats tabbed Northern Kentucky's John Brannen as Cronin's replacement in April.
- The Bearcats' roster was bolstered during the summer when 2019 AAC Player of the Year and AAC Tournament Most Outstanding Player Jarron Cumberland announced he would return for his senior season in 2019-20. The honorable mention All-American averaged 18.8 points, 4.4 rebounds and 3.6 assists as a junior.
- Tennessee owns a 44-39 all-time record against current members of the American Athletic Conference. Vols head coach Rick Barnes is 20-18 against AAC opposition. His Texas Longhorns fell in his only previous meeting with Cincy (2012 NCAA Tournament).

JALEN JOHNSON

WISCONSIN (DEC. 28)

- A two-year, home-and-home series with Big Ten stalwart Wisconsin begins in Knoxville on Dec. 28.
- Having just met four times since 1981, the all-time series between the programs is tied at 2-2. Tennessee swept the first two games, earning a win in 1981 and again in 2000 after downing a ranked Wisconsin team in Knoxville. The Badgers have since won two in a row, including a 65-62 victory over Tennessee in Madison on Dec. 29, 2001, and a more recent triumph at the 2016 Maui Invitational.
- Greg Gard enters his fifth season as head coach at Wisconsin after leading the Badgers to a 23-11 (14-6 Big Ten) record last year. UW fell to Oregon in the first round of the 2019 NCAA Tournament.
- Tennessee owns a 23-34 all-time record against current members of the Big Ten. Rick Barnes is 29-29 versus Big 10 opposition and has coached against the Badgers five times during his career.
- The last Big Ten team to visit Thompson-Boling Arena was Ohio State on Jan. 19, 2008, with Tennessee defeating the Buckeyes, 74-69.

at KANSAS (JAN. 25 | BIG 12/SEC CHALLENGE)

- Tennessee is slated to visit Kansas on Saturday, Jan. 25, as part of the annual Big 12/SEC Challenge.
- The high-profile showdown serves as a rematch of last season's top-five clash in the NIT Season Tip-Off championship game, which the second-ranked Jayhawks won in overtime.
- Tennessee owns a 1-3 all-time record vs. Kansas, dating to 2009. That first-ever meeting took place at Allen Fieldhouse, with KU claiming a 92-85 victory. The Vols avenged that loss the following season by upsetting the top-ranked Jayhawks in Knoxville on Jan. 10, 2010. The four previous meetings have been decided by an average of nine points.
- Tennessee's all-time record against current members of the Big 12 stands at 14-17. Fifth-year UT head coach Rick Barnes owns a 160-94 record against current Big 12 teams and has led his teams to seven wins over Kansas.
- At historic Allen Fieldhouse, the Jayhawks enjoy one of the nation's most daunting homecourt advantages. Kansas owns a 234-13 (.947) home record under head coach Bill Self, who boasts more conference titles (14) than home losses (13) at KU.

2018-19 - SOPHOMORE

- Appeared in 37 games with eight starts; wore jersey No. 10.
- Finished as Oregon's fifth-leading scorer (7.4 ppg) and most accurate 3-point (.398) and free-throw shooter (.911).
- Ranked ninth in the Pac-12 in 3-point field goal percentage.
- Sank 4-of-5 3-pointers as part of a 14-point performance at Washington State (3/6/19).
- Made four 3-pointers and scored 13 points at UCLA (2/23/19).
- Scored 11 points in a dominant home win over Stanford (2/10/19), including a team-high three 3-pointers.
- Recorded a season-high four assists in the home win over Cal (2/6/19).
- Totaled 13 points in UO's road win at Arizona (1/17/19).
- Registered 10 points in a blowout home win over USC (1/13/19).
- Netted a career-high 20 points with five rebounds in a three-point, overtime loss to UCLA (1/10/19).
- Scored 11 points vs. Oregon State (1/5/19).
- Made his first career start against Florida A&M (12/18/18) and scored 16 points.
- Totaled 13 points vs. Boise State (12/15/18).
- Posted 16 points and had a career-high six rebounds against Omaha (12/8/18).
- Had 13 points and two steals vs. Texas Southern (11/26/18).
- Scored 12 points against Iowa at the 2K Empire Classic in Madison Square Garden (11/15/18).

2017-18 - FRESHMAN

- Was one of two Duck freshmen to appear in every game.
- Would have ranked tied for second in the Pac-12 in free-throw percentage (.870) if he met the minimum requirement for attempts.
- Netted 11 points in the second-round NIT game at Marquette (3/18/18).

HEAD COACH

Fifth Season at Tennessee

Hickory, N.C.

Lenoir-Rhyne University, 1977

Tennessee's fortunes on the hardwood have never looked brighter, as Rick Barnes, the most decorated and accomplished head coach in school history, has led the Volunteers to new heights in his four seasons on Rocky Top. The 2019-20 campaign will be his fifth at Tennessee and his 33rd as a head coach.

Barnes is the reigning Naismith College Coach of the Year after guiding Tennessee to a school-record-tying 31 wins and a Sweet Sixteen appearance in 2018-19. The Vols also authored a program-record 19-game win streak, logged three wins over top-five opponents and spent a month ranked atop both major Top 25 polls.

Tennessee spent the entire 2018-19 season ranked in the top 10 and earned a year-end ranking of No. 5 in the coaches' poll. That team set single-season school records for assists and blocks and was the first UT team to score more than 3,000 points.

Over the past two seasons, Barnes—who is under contract through 2023-24—has directed the Big Orange to a 57-15 record.

"Rick Barnes is one of the game's elite coaches and a program-changer," Tennessee Director of Athletics Phillip Fulmer said. "His incredible work here at Tennessee over the past four years illustrates that. Additionally, the impact that he and his wife, Candy, have made throughout this community has been immensely inspiring as well."

The Vols enter the 2019-20 season riding a school-record streak of 35 straight appearances in the AP Top 25.

The marriage of Barnes' Hall of Fame-worthy résumé—highlighted by more than 690 career Division I head coaching wins, the seventh-most among active coaches—and Tennessee's world-class facilities, fervent fan base and outstanding athletic and academic resources, clearly has the Vols poised to consistently compete for championships.

Tennessee was picked to finish 13th in the 14-team SEC prior to the 2017-18 campaign, but Barnes and his staff not only guided the Big Orange to the 2018 regular-season SEC Championship, but also to the title game of the SEC Tournament, a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament and a 26-9 record.

Barnes was named the 2018 SEC Coach of the Year and was runner-up for Naismith National Coach of the Year after Tennessee became one of only eight "Power Five" teams to increase its overall wins total by 10 or more games from 2016-17. The Vols also were one of only eight "Power Five" programs to win at least 13 games away from home in 2017-18, leading to a year-end RPI of No. 10 while playing the 11th-toughest schedule in the country.

Several of Barnes' players have collected hardware over the last two years. First-round NBA Draft Pick Grant Williams earned unanimous consensus first-team All-America status in 2019 and became the first player since 1995 to be named SEC Player of the Year in back-to-back seasons.

Admiral Schofield claimed All-SEC honors each of his last two seasons, including first-team acclaim in 2019. Point guard Jordan Bone dished out 215 assists on his way to second-team All-SEC honors in 2019, and fellow guard Lamonte Turner was named the SEC Co-Sixth Man of the Year in 2018. Schofield and Bone joined Williams as 2019 NBA Draft picks.

The 2018 Volunteers spent 14 straight weeks in national top-25 polls and finished the season ranked 13th in the Associated Press poll and 16th in the coaches' poll. The team finished the season rated sixth nationally in defensive efficiency while leading the SEC in scoring defense (65.7 ppg) and assists per game (15.7).

In 2016-17, Barnes took an undersized roster that featured only three upperclassmen and exceeded preseason expectations, as well as the previous year's overall and SEC win totals. Williams' stellar play highlighted the collective contributions of the highest-scoring freshman class in program history (1,040 points). Freshmen led the 2016-17 team in nine different statistical categories and were responsible for 44 percent of the squad's scoring.

In 2015-16, Barnes' first Tennessee squad was undersized—with an average roster height of 6-4—but he guided those Volunteers to multiple wins over ranked teams and victories over traditional rivals Florida, Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

That season, Barnes personally worked with guard Kevin Punter Jr. on a complete mechanical overhaul of his jump shot, and that endeavor paid huge dividends for the senior, as Punter more than doubled his scoring average from his junior year and finished the season as the nation's 13th-leading scorer with 22.2 points per game. Punter's field-goal percentage also rose from .419 to .460 as he earned 2016 All-SEC honors.

In fitting with UT's mantra of "comprehensive excellence," Barnes' commitment to his players' academic achievement cannot be overstated. His teams have posted a perfect 1,000 score in five of the last six multi-year APR reports as well as perfect single-year APR scores every year from 2005-06 through 2014-15.

Immediately prior to Barnes' arrival on Rocky Top, he oversaw a prolific, 17-year run at Texas that included 16 trips to the NCAA Tournament.

In 32 overall seasons as a Division I head coach, Barnes has led his teams to 24 total NCAA Tournament berths, seven Sweet Sixteens, three Elite Eights and one Final Four in 2003.

In 2019, he became just the third head coach ever to lead three different Division I programs to the Sweet Sixteen (Clemson, Texas and Tennessee).

He boasts coaching experience in the Southeastern Conference (Alabama assistant, 1985-86), Big 10 (Ohio State assistant, 1986-87), Colonial Athletic Association (George Mason head coach, 1987-88), Big East (Providence head coach, 1988-1994), Atlantic Coast Conference (Clemson head coach, 1994-98) and Big 12 (Texas head coach, 1998-2015).

Through the 2017-18 season, Barnes' 27 NBA Draft picks boasted combined basketball earnings in excess of $ $715.3 million. (excluding endorsements).

His success on the sidelines is simply staggering. He coached Providence to three NCAA Tournament berths in six seasons. He then guided Clemson to the Big Dance three times in four years. And his 17-season stint at Texas featured 16 NCAA appearances.

Not only do his players find themselves perennially positioned to play for national championships, but they also carry themselves with a top-25 swagger. Barnes' teams have spent 251 total weeks in the Associated Press Top 25, including 118 weeks in the Top 10. Tennessee spent four weeks at No. 1 in 2019—the longest stint atop the polls in program history. His Texas squad earned the program's first-ever No. 1 national ranking on Jan. 11, 2010. And he had previously coached Clemson to a No. 2 national ranking—the highest in that school's history—during the 1996-97 campaign.

On the flipside, Barnes has collected 102 career wins over Top-25 opponents. And his squads have topped Top-10 teams a total of 37 times.

In his four years at Tennessee, the Vols are 6-4 against rival Kentucky and 4-0 vs. the Wildcats in Knoxville.

Nationally respected in player development, Barnes is one of only two coaches in the nation that can claim two different National Players of the Year in the last 17 seasons (T.J. Ford in 2003 and Kevin Durant in 2007). Barnes also has produced five consensus first-team All-Americans and three National Freshman of the Year honorees.

Barnes has coached 27 total NBA Draft picks, including 15 first-round selections. And he has coached eight players who have combined to win a dozen NBA Championships.

Durant—who refers to Barnes as “more than a coach,” but also a “father figure”—was the No. 2 overall pick in the 2007 NBA Draft. Durant has won an NBA Most Valuable Player Award, four NBA scoring titles, the NBA Rookie of the Year Award, and is a two-time Olympic gold medalist and NBA Finals MVP.

Barnes was handed the reins to the Tennessee program on March 31, 2015.

A native of Hickory, N.C., Barnes was born on July 17, 1954. He was a standout player at Hickory High, from which he graduated in 1973. Barnes moved on to Lenoir-Rhyne College (Hickory, N.C.), where he lettered for three seasons and won the Captain's Award for Leadership as both a junior and senior.

He earned a bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Lenoir-Rhyne in 1977 and was named the college's Distinguished Alumnus in 1997. Barnes was inducted into the Lenoir-Rhyne College Hall of Fame on Oct. 5, 2002, and received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from Lenoir-Rhyne on May 7, 2005.

He and his wife, Candy—who is also a Hickory native—have a son, Nick, and a daughter, Carley. Carley and her husband, Josh Lickteig, have four children: Avery, Caleb, Emma and Isla.

A former staff member under Rick Barnes at Texas, Michael Schwartz rejoined Barnes at Tennessee in April 2016. The 2019-20 campaign will be his fourth season on Rocky Top and his first as associate head coach.

Schwartz's close ties to Barnes—along with his 20 years of coast-to-coast coaching experience in the Division I ranks—made the Los Angeles native a perfect fit in Knoxville.

He has 19 games of NCAA Tournament experience under his belt as either a coach or administrative staff member.

"Mike was one of our first G.A.'s at Texas, and he's always been a guy I knew I wanted to bring back on my staff," Barnes said shortly after Schwartz's hiring. "This was a quick and easy choice. I love everything about him. He's the whole package. He fits in with our staff and he's got a great family."

Barnes entrusted Schwartz with the role of defensive coordinator for each of the last two seasons, a move that has yielded extraordinary results, as the Vols own a 57-15 record dating to the start of the 2017-18 campaign.

Tennessee's defensive statistics during its 2017-18 championship season stood among the top programs nationally. The Vols led the SEC and ranked sixth nationally in the Pomeroy defensive efficiency ratings (92.5 points allowed per 100 possessions). Tennessee also led the SEC in scoring defense (65.7 ppg) while ranking second in the league in 3-point field-goal defense (.318).

Schwartz's leadership was instrumental in guiding the Big Orange to the 2018 regular-season SEC Championship, an appearance in the 2018 SEC Tournament Championship Game and a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament, where the Vols advanced to the second round.

There was no drop-off in 2018-19. Tennessee led the SEC in field-goal percentage defense (.393) and blocks per game (5.4 bpg). The team's 199 total blocks stood as a school record. The Vols held 17 opponents to fewer than 70 points and eight opponents to fewer than 60. And three Vols who benefited from Schwartz's tutelage were selected in the 2019 NBA Draft.

For four consecutive weeks—in the midst of a school-record 19-game win streak—Tennessee stood atop the AP Top 25 rankings. And in the midst of it all, McDonald's All-American Josiah-Jordan James signed with UT, validating Schwartz's years of tireless effort as the elite guard's primary recruiter.

The Big Orange earned a No. 2 seed for the 2019 NCAA Tournament, advanced to the Sweet Sixteen and finished the season ranked fifth in the coaches' poll.

Schwartz has handled the scouting duties for 18 wins over the past two seasons, including triumphs over 18th-ranked Purdue, four wins over South Carolina, three wins over Florida, two victories vs. Georgia Tech and a win against Wright State in the NCAA Tournament.

An outstanding scout and floor coach, Schwartz played a key role in the development of Tennessee's 2016-17 freshman class, which was responsible for 44 percent of the team's scoring that season and finished the year as the highest-scoring crop of freshmen in program history (1,040 points). Forward Grant Williams anchored that class and developed into a two-time SEC Player of the Year, a consensus first-team All-American and a first-round NBA Draft pick.

Schwartz spent the 2015-16 season as an assistant coach, offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator at Tulsa, helping the Golden Hurricane advance to the NCAA Tournament. Prior to that, he spent four seasons as the lead assistant under Rodney Terry (another former Barnes assistant) at Fresno State, including one year as associate head coach.

Shouldering responsibility for Fresno's in-game coordination, recruiting, scouting and skill development, Schwartz helped guide the Bulldogs to their first 20-win season and postseason appearance in seven years—the finals of the College Basketball Invitational—in 2013-14. That same year, Paul Watson was named Mountain West Freshman of the Year and selected to the Kyle Macy Freshman All-American Team.

Fresno State produced an NBA guard during Schwartz's time on staff there, as Tyler Johnson (2011-14) has spent the past two seasons with the Miami Heat. During Johnson's three seasons with Schwartz on staff at FSU, his scoring average, field-goal percentage, 3-point percentage and free-throw percentage all improved each year.

Schwartz also helped spearhead the assembly of some of Fresno State's highest-rated recruiting classes. The Bulldogs beat out several Pac 12 schools to sign shooting guard Marvella Harris, who in 2016 became Fresno's all-time leading scorer, the Mountain West Player of the Year and also earned Associated Press All-American acclaim.

No stranger to the Southeast and East Coast, Schwartz spent six years on staff at Miami (Fla.) in the Atlantic Coast Conference—the first two as Coordinator of Basketball Operations and the final four as a full-time assistant coach.

As an assistant in Coral Gables, Schwartz helped lead the Hurricanes to an 83-52 record, appearances in the top-25 rankings and three postseason appearances in four years.

His impact was immense during Miami's historic 2007-08 campaign, which included the second-most wins in school history (23), a school-record 14 home wins and a program-best fifth-place finish in the ACC.

Miami earned a No. 7 seed in the 2008 NCAA Tournament and defeated St. Mary's before falling to Barnes' No. 2-seeded Texas squad in the second round.

In Schwartz's operations role at Miami, he handled video responsibilities, film breakdown, opponent scouting, oversight of recruiting mailings and served as a liaison with the program's managerial staff.

Schwartz's tenure in South Florida was preceded by a one-year stint as an assistant coach at the University of Texas at San Antonio, a position he attained after working as Barnes' video coordinator at Texas for two seasons.

While working in a full-time capacity alongside Barnes at Texas, Schwartz was a part of a Longhorns program that posted a two-year record of 51-15, produced a pair NBA Draft picks (guards T.J. Ford and Royal Ivey) and advanced to the 2003 Final Four and the 2004 Sweet Sixteen.

Following his prep career at Beverly Hills High School, Schwartz played two seasons of college basketball at Sonoma State University in Rohnert Park, California. He then transferred to Texas where he concluded his playing career and was a member of Barnes' 1999 Big 12 championship team. After Schwartz earned his degree in Speech Communication Studies from Texas in 1999, Barnes appointed Schwartz to a graduate assistant position, which he held from 1999-2001.

Schwartz also boasts valuable experience with USA Basketball, having served in a support capacity for the 2000 USA Youth Development Festival, the 2000 USA National Select Team—coached by Mike Jarvis and Bob Huggins and featuring future NBA stars Shane Battier and Jason Richardson—and the 2001 Young Men's World Championship Trials.

Schwartz and his wife, Stephanie, have two daughters: Sydney and Samantha.

The 2019-20 season will be Desmond Oliver's fifth year as an assistant coach at Tennessee.

He has played a key role in Tennessee winning 57 games over the last two seasons while making consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and advancing to the Sweet Sixteen in 2019.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., Oliver has spent 24 years in the Division I coaching ranks and has experience in the Atlantic 10 (St. Bonaventure, 2000-01; Rhode Island, 2001-04; Charlotte assistant, 2010-15), Big 12 (Texas A&M, 1997-98), Ivy League (Cornell, 1998-00), Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (Canisius, 2009-10) and SEC (Georgia, 2004-09).

A gifted relationship builder, Oliver played a key role in the recruitment of Tennessee's 2016-17 freshman class, which finished that year as the highest-scoring crop of freshmen in program history (1,040 points). Oliver was the lead recruiter for a key member of that crop, forward Grant Williams, who developed from an unheralded, three-star prospect into a consensus first-team All-American, the first back-to-back SEC Player of the Year since Corliss Williamson in the mid-1990s and a first-round NBA Draft Pick.

Williams was a finalist for every National Player of the Year award in 2019. And the Volunteers—ranked in the top 10 all season—spent four weeks atop both major top-25 polls. Tennessee finished the season ranked fifth in the coaches' poll.

In total, Oliver has coached three Vols who developed three-star prospects to NBA Draft picks.

Oliver is comprehensive and thorough in his approach to opponent scouting, evidenced by the fact that the Vols were 11-0 in games for which he handled the scout during the 2018-19 season.

Oliver's leadership was key to Tennessee's 2018 SEC Championship, after which the Vols earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. The Vols spent 14 straight weeks in national top-25 and finished that season ranked 13th in the Associated Press poll and 16th in the coaches' poll. The team finished the season rated sixth nationally in defensive efficiency while leading the SEC in scoring defense (65.7 ppg) and assists per game (15.7).

Before joining the Vols, Oliver spent five seasons as an assistant coach at Charlotte, where he played a major role in all aspects of head coach Alan Majors' program, including recruiting, player development, game preparation, life skills, academics and community relations.

During his five seasons working to rebuild the 49ers program, Charlotte won a pair of holiday tournament titles (2013 Great Alaska Shootout and 2014 Puerto Rico Tip-Off), knocked off three top-15 opponents, posted back-to-back winning seasons for the first time since 2007 and received votes in both the AP and coaches' poll. In 2012-13, Charlotte recorded its first 20-win campaign since 2007-08 and earned a berth in the NIT.

He spent the 2009-10 season as an assistant coach at Canisius, helping guide the Golden Griffins to the program's highest single-season wins total in nine years.

Oliver brought with him to Tennessee five years of SEC coaching experience logged at Georgia from 2004-09. The Bulldogs made consecutive postseason appearances in 2007 (NIT) and 2008 (NCAA Tournament). And Oliver was on staff during one of the most memorable conference tournament runs in recent history when Georgia won two games on the same day to capture the 2008 SEC Tournament championship.

Prior to his tenure at UGA, Oliver spent three seasons as an assistant coach at Rhode Island, arriving at URI in 2001 with head coach Jim Baron after one season together at St. Bonaventure. In those three years of rebuilding at Rhode Island, the Rams improved from an 8-20 campaign in 2002 to consecutive 20-win seasons and postseason berths.

Oliver broke into the collegiate coaching ranks in his hometown under head coach Jack Armstrong at Niagara University in 1994. While serving the Purple Eagles, he helped recruit Alvin Young, who went on to lead all NCAA Division I players in scoring in 1999 and earn MAAC Player of the Year honors.

Oliver stayed at Niagara for three seasons before accepting an assistant coaching position at Texas A&M (then a member of the Big 12) prior to the 1997-98 season. After one year in College Station, he then spent two years at Cornell (1998-2000) and then joined Jim Baron's staff as an assistant coach at St. Bonaventure for the 2000-01 campaign.

Oliver is a 1992 graduate of Dominican College in Orangeburg, New York, where he was a three-year starter on the basketball team (1989-92) and a two-year team captain. He also earned a Master's degree in student personnel administration from Buffalo State in 1994.

While attending Buffalo State, he began his coaching career as a varsity assistant and head junior varsity coach at Turner-Carroll High School in Buffalo.

Following an outstanding prep career at DeSales High School in Lockport, New York, Oliver played one year at Genesee Community College in Batavia, New York, under coach Bill Van Gundy (father of NBA head coaches Jeff and Stan).

Oliver is married to the former Annette Applewithe and they have two sons: Dante and Dallas.

PLAYING EXPERIENCE

2008-12 Missouri
 2012-13 Detroit Pistons (NBA)

COACHING EXPERIENCE

2015-16	Tulsa	Director of Player Development
2016-17	Tulsa	Assistant Coach
2017-19	Colorado	Assistant Coach
2019-	Tennessee	Assistant Coach

Kim English joined the Tennessee staff as an assistant coach in April 2019, and the 2019-20 season will be his first alongside Rick Barnes.

Prior to his hiring at Tennessee, English spent two seasons as an assistant coach on Tad Boyle's staff at Colorado. During that time, the Buffaloes posted back-to-back winning seasons, going 40-28. Colorado reached the quarterfinals of the 2019 NIT and finished with the third-most wins in program history (23).

In May 2018, the NABC included English on its 2017-18 Under Armour 30-under-30 listing, which honored up-and-coming young collegiate coaches. He was one of only five selections from "Power Five" programs.

Recognized as a rising star in the profession, English was drafted and played for the Detroit Pistons before venturing into the coaching ranks.

"Kim is outstanding," Barnes said. "When I coached against him, I loved his competitive fire. And when he got into coaching and I spent time with him on the road recruiting, I knew there was something special about him. He's got tremendous energy and drive and is a great communicator. Our players will love working with him."

"He's going to make a huge impact on our program, and I'm excited to welcome him and his wonderful wife and family to Knoxville."

In 2018-19, English helped Tyler Bey and McKinley Wright IV earn first-team All-Pac-12 honors. Bey also was named Pac-12 Most Improved Player after leading the Buffaloes with 13.6 points and 9.9 rebounds and logging 17 double-doubles. In English's first season at Colorado, he coached All-Pac-12 honoree George King, who was selected by the Phoenix Suns in the 2018 NBA Draft.

From 2015-17, English worked for two years under Frank Haith at Tulsa—earning a promotion to assistant coach after one season as director of player development. During that time, he helped mentor a pair of All-American Athletic Conference selections, and the Golden Hurricane earned a bid to the 2016 NCAA Tournament.

A four-year letterman under coaches Mike Anderson and Haith at Missouri from 2008-12, English scored more than 1,500 points and averaged 11.0 points, 3.0 rebounds, 1.4 assists and 1.1 steals per game for the Tigers. He earned third-team All-Big 12 honors in 2010 and 2012, and Missouri won 107 games during his four-year career, making him and two teammates the winningest players in program history.

The Tigers won a school-record 31 games while making a run to the 2009 Elite Eight in English's freshman campaign.

He averaged a career-best 14.5 points as a senior in 2011-12 and ranked fifth in the Big 12 with 78 3-point makes, while leading Missouri to 30 wins, one of two Big 12 Tournament titles during his career and a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament. He was named Most Outstanding Player of the 2012 Big 12 Tournament after averaging 23.0 points and shooting 78 percent during the Tigers' championship run.

The Pistons selected English with the 44th overall pick in the 2012 NBA Draft, and he appeared in 41 games during the 2012-13 season.

He then spent two years playing professionally overseas and had a brief stint with the Chicago Bulls in 2014.

A native of Baltimore, Maryland, English received his degree in general studies from Missouri in 2012. He and his wife, Jessica, have two daughters, Celine and Ari.

GARRETT MEDENWALD

DIRECTOR OF SPORTS PERFORMANCE

COACHING EXPERIENCE

2012-14	Texas	Graduate Manager
2014-15	Texas	Strength & Conditioning Intern
2015-	Tennessee	Director of Sports Performance

Garrett Medenwald (pronounced: MAY-dihn-wald) is in his fifth year as Tennessee's Director of Men's Basketball Sports Performance in 2019-20.

His basketball-specific training methods and emphasis on injury prevention began to bear fruit for the Vols upon his arrival on Rocky Top. Three players who trained under Medenwald's supervision for their entire collegiate careers heard their names called during the 2019 NBA Draft, including first-rounder Grant Williams and Admiral Schofield and Jordan Bone.

"G is a very direct and consistent coach," said former Vols wing Admiral Schofield, who worked closely with Medenwald to dramatically reshape his physique before getting drafted 42nd overall in 2019. "I loved getting a new challenge from him every day. His energy and passion are what motivated me when it was time to 'get jacked.'"

In 2017-18, Tennessee navigated a 35-game campaign without any serious injuries, won 26 games (fourth-most in program history), captured the 2018 SEC Championship and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

Last season, the Big Orange spent a month ranked No. 1 in the country en route to a school-record-tying 31 wins and a berth in the Sweet Sixteen.

"Garrett's methods and approach to elite performance training are on another level," UT head coach Rick Barnes said. "He's a star in his profession, and our students enjoy not just how he trains them, but also the personal relationship he develops with each of them."

In the summer and fall of 2016, Medenwald played an instrumental role in the design and planning of a $98,000 renovation to the expanded, 4,350 square-foot Tennessee basketball performance training area in Pratt Pavilion. Additions included a full-court-length stretch of synthetic turf, a custom rubber floor, a 40-foot, steel-reinforced throwing wall, six Keiser Functional Trainers, four TRUEStretch Cages, three custom, 10-foot Power Lift pulley units (ideal for taller student-athletes), seven sets of 90-pound PowerBlocks and a zoned, high-powered stereo system.

In May of 2019, Medenwald was a featured speaker at the 12th annual High Performance Basketball Symposium in Las Vegas, Nev. His presentation was entitled The Strength in Culture: The Process of Building Your Environment.

The Green Bay, Wisconsin, native arrived in Knoxville with three years of experience working alongside Barnes, as Medenwald served the Texas basketball program as both a graduate manager and a graduate strength and conditioning intern from 2012-15.

Medenwald worked with both the men's and women's basketball programs at Texas, focusing in on-court development and sports performance.

During his tenure with the Longhorns, Medenwald honed his philosophy as an elite performance coach while working closely with nationally known industry innovator Todd Wright—assistant coach/head of strength and conditioning with the NBA's Philadelphia 76ers—and learning the philosophies of Shaun McPherson.

Medenwald simultaneously spent two years as the Director of Athletic 3D Performance Training Systems at the "Train 4 the Game" facility in Austin, Texas, where he programmed for numerous NFL and NBA athletes.

Medenwald, 29, graduated from Wisconsin-Whitewater in 2013, earning a bachelor's degree in Health, Human Performance and Recreation while minoring in Athletic Coaching Education. He then received his master's degree in Kinesiology from Texas in 2016.

He married the former Brittany Henderson of Burlington, Wisconsin, in May 2016.

CHAD NEWMAN

ATHLETIC TRAINER

24th Season at Tennessee

Chattanooga, Tenn.

Tennessee, 1994

@trainerchad

Chattanooga native Chad Newman is a senior associate director with UT's sports medicine department. The longest-tenured member of Tennessee's athletic training staff, Newman provides around-the-clock, world-class care exclusively for men's basketball student-athletes.

Newman was selected by his SEC peers as the 2019 recipient of the Chris Patrick Award, presented at the annual SEC Sports Medicine Committee meetings. And in January 2010, the Tennessee Athletic Trainer's Society (TATS) named Newman the Collegiate Athletic Trainer of the Year.

"Chad's the best," former Vol and NBA guard Jordan McRae said. "He genuinely cares about all of us and always looks out for what's best for us. He spends a lot of time making sure minor bumps and bruises don't turn into bigger injuries. Whenever we need him, Chad is always there."

The 2019-20 academic year will be Newman's 25th with the UT sports medicine staff and his 24th with the men's basketball program. During his tenure with the basketball team, the Vols have advanced to postseason play 17 times—including 13 NCAA Tournaments and four NIT berths. Newman has been a part of six NCAA Sweet Sixteen teams, one Elite Eight team and three SEC Championship squads.

He also serves as secretary/treasurer of the SEC Sports Medicine Committee after previously serving as vice president for two years.

Newman has helped numerous Vols overcome adversity and challenges in recent years. He oversaw the management of Chris Lofton's successful battle with testicular cancer following Lofton's junior season. Lofton went on to become the SEC's all-time 3-point king.

And in September 2009, Newman was instrumental in reviving Tennessee sophomore Emmanuel Ngedu after Ngedu collapsed following a sudden cardiac arrest. Newman successfully administered the use of an AED and CPR until emergency medical services arrived on-site. For his efforts, he received a "Certificate of Heroism" from the Sudden Cardiac Arrest Association and also was named the 2010 Most Distinguished Award recipient by the "Hoops for Heart Health" organization, which was founded by NBA player Ryan Gomes.

When Newman first joined the Tennessee training staff in a full-time role in 1997, he was no stranger to the UT training room, having served as a volunteer student trainer and a graduate assistant before his full-time appointment. During that time, he worked with UT's football, men's and women's tennis, men's golf and men's track & field teams, as well as both spirit squads.

He earned his B.S. in Exercise Science from UT in 1994 and completed his master's in Kinesiology in May 1997. Newman is a member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA).

Newman currently holds Performance Exercise Specialist (PES) and Corrective Exercise Specialist (CES) certifications through the NASM.

In the fall of 2009, Newman authored an article about Lofton's successful return from cancer entitled "The Toughest Opponent," that was published in Training & Conditioning Magazine. And in 2010, he gave sudden cardiac arrest case study presentations at the Southeastern Conference Sports Medicine Seminar and the Collegiate Athletic Trainers' Society Spring Symposium.

Newman is married to the former Stacey Perry. The couple has two daughters, Katherine and Natalie.

COACHING & ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY

2008-09	Howard College	Student Assistant
2001-08	Lenoir-Rhyne	Assistant Coach
2008-10	Lenoir-Rhyne	Associate Head Coach
2010-14	Texas	Special Assistant/Video Coordinator
2014-18	Appalachian State	Assistant Coach
2018-	Tennessee	Video Coord./Player Development

Bryan Lentz joined Rick Barnes' Tennessee basketball staff as the program's Video Coordinator/Director of Player Development in May of 2018, and the 2019-20 season marks his second year on Rocky Top.

Lentz had prior history working alongside Barnes for four years in Austin, Texas.

"I've known Bryan for a long time," Barnes said. "He was with us at Texas, and he did an outstanding job. Then he took an opportunity at Appalachian State and was great there as well. When this position opened up, I immediately knew Bryan would be an ideal fit."

Lentz came to Tennessee following four seasons as an assistant coach at Appalachian State. Prior to that, the Hickory, North Carolina, native spent four years as a special assistant on Barnes' staff at Texas, where he was involved in all aspects of internal operations within the Longhorns program. During his time at Texas, the Longhorns compiled an 87-48 record and made three NCAA Tournament appearances (2011, 2012, 2014).

Lentz began his coaching career working for nine years alongside his father, legendary Lenoir-Rhyne head coach John Lentz. During that stretch, the Bears won five South Atlantic Conference regular-season titles, one SAC Tournament title and made to five NCAA Division II Tournament appearances. In his final two seasons at L-R, Bryan served as the Bears' associate head coach.

A four-year letterwinner at Lenoir-Rhyne—which is also Barnes' alma mater—Lentz finished his collegiate playing career with 1,374 points and ranked fifth in school history in assists (388), steals (159) and free-throw percentage (.824). He was named South Atlantic Conference Freshman of the Year in 1996-97 and earned second-team All-SAC honors as a sophomore in 1997-98.

Lentz earned his bachelor's degree in sports management from Lenoir-Rhyne in 2000. He and his wife, Christy, have two sons, Luke and Owen.

MARY-CARTER EGGERT

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

Fifth Season at Tennessee

Richmond, Va.

Tennessee, 2011

@MC_Eggert

Mary-Carter Eggert is in her fifth year as Tennessee's director of basketball operations in 2019-20. She is a native of Richmond, Virginia, and is a two-time Tennessee graduate.

Eggert oversees all logistical aspects of the program's day-to-day operations, including budget, travel and meals. She also manages head coach Rick Barnes' calendar.

With Eggert on staff, the Vols have won an SEC Championship in 2018 and have made two NCAA Tournament appearances, including a run to the Sweet Sixteen in 2019.

Eggert is one of only two women holding the role of director of basketball operations with a men's program at a "major conference" school (Cal employs the other).

Prior to accepting her current position, she spent three years as an assistant director on UT's media relations staff.

In that role, she handled all administrative duties for the athletic communications staff, served as the media relations contact for the Tennessee rowing program and planned and executed the annual Big Orange Caravan summer outreach tour.

Eggert worked closely with the Tennessee football program for three seasons from 2012 to 2014, managing Tom Elam Press Box on game days and overseeing the credential application, approval and distribution process for all home games.

She also handled credentialing for the Tennessee women's basketball program from 2012-15.

During the 2014 and 2015 NCAA Women's Basketball Championships, Eggert was appointed as the media coordinator for the Knoxville Regionals held at Thompson-Boling Arena.

Eggert, 30, was a graduate assistant in UT's athletic communications office in 2011-12 prior to her hiring as a full-time staff member in July 2012.

She received her bachelor's degree in Sport Management from Tennessee in 2011, and also earned a master's degree in Sport Management in 2013.

Her tenure in the UT athletic department dates to her undergraduate career, during which she worked in both the men's and women's media relations offices.

She also served as president of Tennessee's Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

The former Mary-Carter Kniffen married Chris Eggert of Knoxville, Tennessee, in May of 2017. They reside in Knoxville with their dog, Maggie.

ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

2016-17	UL-Lafayette	Director of Student-Athlete Development
2017-	Tennessee	Director of Student-Athlete Development

Following a highly successful coaching career in the high school ranks, Aubin Goporo (pronounced: AW-bin guh-POR-oh) joined Rick Barnes' full-time Tennessee basketball staff in June of 2017 as Director of Player Development.

His duties with the Vols include serving as a program liaison to the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center, coordinating community outreach and service efforts and serving as a student-athlete mentor for personal and professional development. He also assists with on-campus recruiting efforts.

"Aubin is a great man—one of the finest individuals I know," Barnes said. "His influence on the character and development of our young men is going to be significant. He brings global experience and a unique perspective to our staff. This is a great addition to the culture of our program."

Goporo, who served as the Director of Student-Athlete Development at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette in 2016-17, spent 15 years at the helm of the boys basketball program at Florida Air Academy in Melbourne, Florida. During his 15 seasons at FAA, Goporo amassed a 355-52 (.872) record while winning four 3A state titles (2001, 2003, 2005, 2007).

His teams claimed the district title in each season during his tenure and made 10 regional final appearances as well as seven trips to the FHSAA Final Four. Goporo was a two-time Space Coast Coach of the Year.

A 1996 graduate from the Florida Institute of Technology, Goporo also served as FAA's athletic director from 2012-15. In that role, he oversaw 12 varsity and junior-varsity sports programs while managing the fundraising efforts and budgeting for the athletic department.

More than 40 of the players Goporo coached at FAA would go on to sign with Division I schools, including Sasha Kaun (Kansas), Walter Hodge and Will Yeguete (Florida), Rihards Kukšik (Arizona State) and Alvin Cruz and Juan Mendez (Niagara).

Another of Goporo's former players, Greek forward Ioannis Papapetrou, went on to play the 2012-13 season under Barnes at Texas.

A native of the Central African Republic, Goporo represented his home nation as a member of the national team at the 1988 Olympics in Seoul, South Korea. He recently served as the head coach of the Central African Republic national basketball team, leading the team through group play at the 2015 AfroBasket—the continental championship of Africa—in Tunisia.

During the 2016-17 collegiate season, Goporo helped the Ragin' Cajuns to a 21-12 overall record and a berth in the quarterfinals of the Sun Belt Conference Tournament.

Goporo—who is fluent in three languages (English, French and Sango)—resides in Knoxville with his wife, Muriel.

I.J. POOLE

ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH

First Season at Tennessee

Austin, Texas

Texas, 2015

In April 2019, I.J. Poole returned for his second stint on Rick Barnes' Tennessee staff. The 2019-20 season will be his first as assistant to the head coach. He previously was a graduate manager at UT from 2015-17.

This is Poole's fifth overall year working with Barnes, as he also spent two seasons as a student manager at Texas.

Prior to returning to Tennessee, Poole worked for two seasons on the full-time staff at Appalachian State. In 2017-18, he handled budget management, daily scheduling and team travel as director of basketball operations. He then was promoted to assistant coach for the 2018-19 campaign.

During his tenure with the Longhorns program, Poole worked with a pair of NCAA Tournament teams, and Texas averaged 22 wins per season.

Poole has extensive experience as a basketball trainer, having provided skill and fitness instruction with Hoop Zone, Anderson Elite Camp and the Aaron Page Shooting Academy.

The former point guard earned All-District honors as a senior at L.C. Anderson High School in Austin and also was selected to participate in the 2011 Cen-Tex All-Star Game.

The Austin, Texas, native was the leading scorer on Tennessee's 2015-16 manager team that ascended as high as No. 6 in the national KPI rankings and advanced to the Final Four in Houston.

Poole graduated from Texas in 2015 with a degree in Exercise Science and a minor in Biology.

PHILLIP FULMER

VICE CHANCELLOR/DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Second Year Tennessee, 1972

Phillip Fulmer was appointed as the University of Tennessee's Director of Athletics on Dec. 1, 2017. He accepted the position after serving as the UT system president's special advisor for community, athletics and university relations since June 20, 2017.

Fulmer—a former Tennessee football co-captain who went on to lead the Volunteers to a football national championship and earn first-ballot induction into the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame—has faithfully served the University of Tennessee for more than 40 years.

He wasted no time getting to work in the AD chair. Six days after taking the reins of the athletic department at his alma mater, he finalized a deal to make Jeremy Pruitt the 26th head coach in the storied history of the Tennessee football program.

Fulmer had experience in such endeavors, as in 2013 he was tabbed by the administration at ETSU to serve as “special assistant to the athletic director and advisor to football,” providing guidance and expertise as the school sought to restart its football program, which had been dormant for 10 years.

Since taking over as AD, Fulmer also has hired head coaches for volleyball (Eve Rackham), men's golf (Brennan Webb) and Tennessee's storied Lady Vols basketball program (Kellie Harper). He also came to terms on new or extended contracts for several other coaches—including 2019 Naismith National Coach of the Year Rick Barnes.

Under Fulmer's leadership, Tennessee has laid claim to one team SEC championship (men's basketball in 2018), 24 individual SEC championships and three individual/relay NCAA titles.

Fulmer assumed his current duties midway through a year in which Tennessee finished 46th in the Learfield IMG College Directors' Cup. The Big Orange then improved to 35th in the 2017-18 Directors' Cup standings before ascending higher to a 25th-place finish in 2018-19.

The cornerstones of Tennessee Athletics under Fulmer's leadership are communication, trust, warmth and intensity.

»Communication – Open and honest communication—no surprises—as we pursue our goals.

»Trust – Trust is earned, not given. Every day... be trustworthy.

»Warmth – You know that I care about you, and I know you care about me; together, we care about our student-athletes, our university, our state, our fans and our community.

»Intensity – We attack each day with great intensity to achieve our goals and be the very best at our chosen calling.

Fulmer leaned on those same four pillars while leading his alma mater's storied football program to the most dominant era in its modern history.

Fulmer's 17 years at the helm of the Volunteers program produced a record of 152 wins and 52 losses. At the conclusion of Fulmer's final season, he was the dean of SEC football coaches and no active coach with at least a decade in Division I-A had a better winning percentage (.744).

Under his tutelage, the Volunteers were the first to win the Bowl Championship Series National Championship in 1998 and made five appearances in the SEC Championship game, winning it in 1997 and 1998 and also capturing SEC East titles in 1997, 1998, 2001, 2004 and 2007.

Fulmer was named SEC Coach of the Year and National Coach of the Year in 1998.

A 1972 Tennessee graduate, he starred on the offensive line during his playing career, serving as team co-captain as a senior. The Vols were 30-5 and won an SEC Championship and a Sugar Bowl during his playing career from 1969-71.

He returned to Rocky Top as an assistant coach in 1980 before being named head coach in 1992.

Fulmer built his programs by challenging and motivating his teams to victories when the pressure was highest. Among his many accolades:

»Nine Fulmer-coached squads eclipsed the 10-win mark and two others just missed with nine victories.

»Eighteen of Fulmer's Vols earned first-team All-America honors, 70 Vols garnered first-team All-SEC acclaim and he produced 19 first-round NFL Draft selections and had a total of 101 players selected overall.

»Under Fulmer, the Vols were ranked in the national polls at game time for 169 of his 204 games as head coach.

»Tennessee posted a 44-37 record against teams ranked in the Associated Press Top-25 Poll during his tenure.

»Fulmer is one of only three coaches to produce multiple winners of the Draddy Award (now known as the William V. Campbell Trophy), which recognizes the nation's top academic and athletic student-athlete by The National Football Foundation & College Football Hall of Fame. Offensive lineman Michael Munoz and quarterback Peyton Manning both received the award under Fulmer's tutelage.

Fulmer's family approach in developing and guiding his young men on and off the field gave him the opportunity to mentor some of the top names in college and NFL history—including Manning, Eric Berry, Chad Clifton, Al Wilson and Jason Witten. Fulmer's motivation was rooted in his role as a principled mentor who pushed his student-athletes to grow socially, spiritually, academically and personally, as well as athletically.

Fulmer's reputation as an ace recruiter led many analysts to praise him as one of the top head coach recruiters. His holistic approach earned recognition from his peers as he was named the second coach in history to earn the Eddie Robinson Coach of Distinction Trophy, the presidency of the American Football Coaches Association, and national, regional and conference coach of the year honors.

His induction into the 2012 National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame on the first ballot was a rare accomplishment, signifying immense respect from his peers. He previously was inducted to the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame in 2001 and the Greater Knoxville Sports Hall of Fame in 2008. He was welcomed into the Tennessee Athletics Hall of Fame in 2017.

In 2019, Fulmer served as chair of the board of directors for the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame.

Fulmer's three daughters—Courtney, Brittany and Allison—each graduated from the University of Tennessee's College of Communication & Information. Brittany and Allison also lettered as Lady Vols, competing as a diver and a softball player, respectively. His son, Phillip Jr., lives and works in White House, Tennessee.

- Grant Williams recorded his fourth career 30-point game, leading No. 6 Tennessee to a 87-65 victory over Louisiana at Thompson-Boling Arena on Nov. 9, 2018, in front of a crowd of 16,864.
- Williams finished with 31 points on 11-for-15 shooting, while also collecting 10 rebounds to give him his sixth career double-double.
- Tennessee (2-0) took a 17-point lead into halftime and was never seriously threatened the rest of the night. To open the second half, Louisiana (1-1) hit five of its first seven shots to gradually cut the Vols' lead to 13 points, but the Cajuns never got closer than that margin for the remainder of the game.
- For the second straight game, all five of Tennessee's starters scored in double figures. In addition to Williams' 31, Admiral Schofield had 15 while Jordan Bone, Jordan Bowden and Kyle Alexander had 10 apiece.
- Bone tied a career-high with eight assists. Williams' 10 rebounds led the Vols on the boards, while Schofield and Yves Pons added seven rebounds each.
- Louisiana came out hot, hitting five of its first six shots to take an early 13-10 lead. On the next possession, a 3-pointer from Bone jumpstarted a 20-2 Tennessee run.
- Tennessee finished the game with 27 assists, the most since also dishing out 27 against Ole Miss last season on Feb. 3, 2018.

- No. 5 Tennessee capped off its season-opening, three-game homestand with a hard-fought 66-53 win over Georgia Tech at Thompson-Boling Arena on Nov. 13, 2018, in front of a crowd of 16,219.
- Grant Williams led the way for the Vols offensively, scoring 22 points on 6-for-10 shooting. The junior also grabbed eight rebounds.
- Tennessee's defense was stout the entire night, as Georgia Tech (1-1) finished just 28 percent from the field on 16-for-58 shooting. The Yellow Jackets were limited to 3-of-19 (16 percent) from beyond the 3-point line.
- Tennessee (3-0) had three players score in double-digits on the night. In addition to Williams' 22, Jordan Bone finished with 15 points, while Kyle Alexander posted 12 points and nine rebounds. Jordan Bowden finished with a career-high 11 rebounds to go along with five points.
- Tennessee held the Yellow Jackets without a field goal for nearly eight minutes to begin the second half, allowing the first basket at the 12:12 mark. During that stretch, Georgia Tech was 0-for-11 from the field while the Vols built their lead to 12.
- Guard Brandon Alston led the Yellow Jackets offensively with 16 points.

- A 24-13 run during the final nine minutes of play lifted No. 5 Tennessee to a hard-fought 92-81 victory over Louisville in the NIT Season Tip-Off at the Barclays Center on Nov. 21, 2018.
- Grant Williams finished with 24 points, nine rebounds, four assists and three blocks. It marked the first time in the junior's career that he's scored 20 or more points in three consecutive games.
- Five Vols reached double-digit scoring in the game. Admiral Schofield recorded 20 points and six rebounds, including 11 points in the second half to fuel the Vols' offense. Lamonté Turner made his season debut and chipped in 13 points.
- Williams and Schofield both reached a significant milestone in the first half, eclipsing the 1,000-point mark for their collegiate careers. They became the 49th and 50th players, respectively, to achieve the feat at Tennessee.
- Jordan Bone and John Fulkerson both added 11 points each. Bone tallied six assists, a block and a steal in the outing, while Fulkerson was a perfect 4-for-4 from the field off the bench for UT.
- UT shot 54 percent (34-of-63) from the floor during the game and dropped 44 points in paint compared to 28 by Louisville. The Big Orange stepped up on defense during crunch time and was able to convert 14 turnovers into 23 points. The Vols also recorded eight blocks and five steals.
- With his 665th career head coaching victory, Tennessee's Rick Barnes moved past the legendary John Wooden on the all-time Division I wins list.

- In a battle of top-five teams, No. 5 Tennessee dropped a heartbreaker to second-ranked Kansas in overtime, 87-81, in the NIT Season Tip-Off championship game at the Barclays Center on Nov. 23, 2018.
- The Big Orange fought the whole game, but an 18-12 advantage in overtime pushed the Jayhawks to the win. Admiral Schofield, who scored nine in overtime, finished with a team-high 21 points to go along with six rebounds.
- Grant Williams, who fouled out with 1:24 left in regulation, added 18 points, eight rebounds, a career-high-tying six assists and two steals. Kansas' Dedic Lawson won Most Outstanding Player of the tournament after leading the Jayhawks 24 points, 13 rebounds and five assists in the championship.
- Tennessee point guard Jordan Bone chipped in 16 points on 6-of-10 shooting along with six rebounds and five assists. Lamonte Turner and Kyle Alexander were the other Vols to score in double-digits, with 10 points each.
- Williams and Bone both were named to the All-Tournament Team.
- With the game tied at 69-69 with 1:24 left, both teams' defense stepped up and held the other without a basket, forcing overtime. Kansas had two looks at the basket during the final 30 seconds but missed both attempts, including one as time expired.
- KU opened overtime on a 5-0 run. An offensive rebound by Schofield got the Vols on the board to end the run, but it wasn't enough to halt Kansas' offense. The Jayhawks hit four of their final six shots to put the game away.

- No. 6 Tennessee's starting five combined for 72 points, fueling the Volunteers to a 95-67 victory over the Eastern Kentucky Colonels on Nov. 28, 2018, at Thompson-Boling Arena.
- Four Vols scored in double figures, headlined by a double-double from junior forward Grant Williams. The Charlotte, North Carolina, native posted 21 points, 11 rebounds and five assists and was a perfect 9-for-9 from the free-throw line. The performance marked Williams' seventh career double-double.
- Senior guard Admiral Schofield poured in 20 points on 8-of-9 shooting from the field, while junior point guard Jordan Bone added 14 points and seven assists for the Big Orange. Sophomore wing Yves Pons posted a career-high 10 points in his first collegiate start to round out UT's double-digit scorers.
- EKU's Nick Mayo came off scorers with 23 points on the night while also leading the Colonels with nine boards. The senior forward went 10-for-10 from the charity stripe.
- Tennessee pulled down a season-high 50 rebounds, including a season-best 18 boards on the offensive end. The Vols outscored the Colonels 48-20 in the paint, and UT had 25 points off of 20 EKU turnovers.
- The contest marked the 500th game the Tennessee's men's basketball team has played inside Thompson-Boling Arena. The win brought the Vols' all-time record in TBA to 371-129 (.742).

- No. 6 Tennessee cruised to a 79-51 win over Texas A&M-Corpus Christi behind a balanced offensive attack Dec. 2, 2018, at Thompson-Boling Arena.
- Admiral Schofield led the way with 16 points to go along with a career-high-tying four steals. Grant Williams chipped in 14 points, nine rebounds, four assists and two blocks. Fellow junior Jordan Bowden also scored 14 points off the bench to go with four rebounds and a pair of steals.
- Kyle Alexander rounded out the double-digit scoring for the Vols, recording 12 points, 10 rebounds and two blocks for the third double-double of his career. Point guard Jordan Bone finished with a career-high 10 assists, seven points and two steals.
- The Vols had the hot hand in the second half, connecting on 60 percent (15-of-25) of their field-goal attempts. UT shot 53 percent for the game, marking the fifth game this season the Big Orange has eclipsed 50-percent shooting.
- Tennessee's defense also had another strong performance, tallying a season-high 10 steals to go along with six blocks while forcing 14 turnovers.
- The Islanders got an early jump in the game, taking a 15-8 lead behind a trio of 3-pointers. Tennessee heated up on both ends of the floor, however, closing the half on a 26-4 run over the final 12:36 in the frame to take a 34-19 lead into break.
- Guard Myles Smith was the only Islander to score in double figures, as he totaled 16 points on 5-of-9 shooting.

- A finish for the ages ended in Tennessee's favor, as the seventh-ranked Vols rallied to beat top-ranked and previously unbeaten Gonzaga, 76-73, in the Jerry Colangelo Classic at Talking Stick Resort Arena on Dec. 9, 2018.
- Tennessee's Admiral Schofield, who finished with a career-high 30 points, buried a pair of 3-pointers from NBA range as part of an 11-5 run over the final 3:17 of play. The senior wing scored all 11 points during the run, knocking down three of his career-high six treys.
- Tennessee handed the Bulldogs their first loss of the season in the nail-biter, marking UT's fifth all-time win against the nation's No. 1 team. Tennessee' defense stepped up to hold one of the nation's best offenses to no field goals during the final 4:16 of the game.
- The Volunteers took a one-point lead into halftime, but the Zags jumped ahead within the first minute of the second half and held on to the their lead until 1:20 left on the clock. Gonzaga pulled ahead by as many as nine points before UT started chipping away at the lead.
- After scoring just five points in the first half, Schofield erupted after halftime to score 25 points on 10-of-17 shooting with five threes. None were bigger than a deep ball that banked off the glass with 1:20 remaining to give the Vols a two-point lead. His swish from beyond the arc on the following possession broke a 73-73 deadlock and ultimately stood as the difference in the game.
- The Zags had two looks during the final 24 seconds to tie the game but both were off line, including an attempt by Rui Hachimura, who finished with 21 points and eight rebounds for Gonzaga.
- Grant Williams posted another double-double with 16 points and 12 rebounds to go along with seven assists. Jordan Bowden was the other Vol to finish with double-digit scoring, tallying 11 points behind three treys in the second half.

- A double-double by Admiral Schofield fueled No. 3 Tennessee to a tough, 102-92 win over in-state rival Memphis on the road in FedExForum on Dec. 15, 2018.
- Schofield finished with 29 points on 8-of-12 shooting to go along with 11 rebounds, while helping the Vols' eclipse the 100-point margin for the first time since putting up 103 against Appalachian State on Nov. 15, 2016.
- Four other players chipped in double-digit scoring performances. Grant Williams had 19 points, five assists and four rebounds, while Jordan Bone dropped 17 points behind 11-of-12 shooting from the charity stripe. Jordan Bowden finished with 12 points, and Kyle Alexander just missed a double-double with 10 points, nine rebounds and four blocks.
- It was a physical game from start to finish, with a total of 57 fouls called on both teams. The Vols were able to capitalize at the stripe, knocking down 39 of their 46 attempts. The last time UT made 30 free throws in a game was last season vs. Auburn (1/2/18), when the Big Orange made exactly 30. In the second half alone, Tennessee was 25-of-29 from the line.
- The second half was a high-scoring affair for both teams. The Vols scored 52 points, which is the most they've put up in a half this season. The Tigers, meanwhile, went off for 57 points.
- Despite Memphis refusing to go quietly, the game was never closer than seven points during the entire period. The Tigers' Kyvon Davenport posted an impressive performance with 31 points and 11 rebounds. At one point in the second half, he scored 18 consecutive points for the Tigers to keep Memphis in the game.

- Jordan Bone recorded the first double-double of his career to lead No. 3 Tennessee to an 83-70 win over Samford in Thompson-Boling Arena on Dec. 19, 2018.
- The junior finished the game with a career-high 24 points and 11 assists. It marked the first time since Nov. 16, 2011, that a Tennessee player has had 11 or more assists in a game.
- Tennessee attacked the post all night long, as a season-high 52 points in the paint paced the Vols to a 13-point victory over Samford. UT outscored the Bulldogs by 30 points in the paint as the Vols shot a season-high 57.9 percent from the field.
- Yves Pons led the way on the boards for Tennessee, grabbing a career-high nine rebounds to go along with four points and four assists.
- Admiral Schofield totaled 18 points, seven rebounds and two assists while Grant Williams added 16 points, five boards and two assists.
- A runner at the first-half buzzer gave Bone 16 points in the first 20 minutes, one point shy of his career-high for points in a half. It helped Tennessee take a 41-32 edge into the locker room.
- With a blocked shot late in the second half, Kyle Alexander moved into the top five on Tennessee's all-time blocks list with 140 career assists.
- Tennessee registered 22 assists on 33 made baskets as a team against Samford—a 66 percent assist rate.

- In front of a sold out Thompson-Boling Arena crowd, No. 3 Tennessee dominated its Southeastern Conference opener from the opening whistle, blitzing Georgia in a 96-50 win on Jan. 5, 2019.
- Led by a combined 56 points from Jordan Bowden (20), Grant Williams (18) and Admiral Schofield (18), Tennessee led Georgia by as many as 49 points en route to a 46-point victory Saturday afternoon. The 46-point scoring margin tied the second largest margin of victory over an SEC opponent in Tennessee program history.
- Kyle Alexander finished with a career-high 14 rebounds as he notched his second double-double of the season, finishing with 12 points in the game. Alexander grabbed eight rebounds in the first half to pace him to his new career high.
- After taking a 29-point lead into halftime, Tennessee continued to build on its lead, as a Williams 3-pointer from the left wing pushed the lead over the 30-point barrier.
- The Vols continued to clamp down defensively as they limited the Bulldogs to just 30.8 percent shooting in the second half and allowing just one 3-pointer on 12 attempts. Georgia finished 1-of-20 in the game from beyond the arc.
- Williams was fouled eight times in the first half, attempting 11 free throws in total. The Charlotte, North Carolina, native converted nine of his attempts, leading the team with 15 points in the first half.
- Tennessee registered 25 assists in the win; its 10th game of the season with 20 or more assists.

- No. 3 Tennessee rebounded from a slow start to cruise to an 87-63 win at Missouri on Jan. 8, 2019.
- The Vols extended their winning streak to nine games with the victory. UT's 87 points were the most the Tigers had allowed this season.
- After going down by nine early on, Tennessee rallied to the 24-point win on the road. Kyle Alexander posted another strong performance in the paint, recording 14 points, a career-high 17 rebounds and three blocks for his third double-double of the season--and second in a row.
- Jordan Bowden dropped a game-high 20 points on 7-of-12 shooting in 26 minutes of play. Jordan Bone added 17 points, five rebounds and five assists. Admiral Schofield posted an all-around performance with 16 points, nine rebounds, four assists and two steals.
- For the sixth consecutive game, Tennessee scored 80 points and shot better than 50 percent (31-of-58) from the floor to find the win column.
- Mizzou had all the momentum to begin the game, taking a 27-18 lead behind five 3-pointers. However, the rowdy crowd wouldn't rattle Tennessee, who answered with a 13-0 run of its own to retake the lead.
- After a 10-of-19 shooting start for MU, the Big Orange settled in on defense and didn't allow a basket during the final 7:04 of the half. UT knocked down eight of its final 12 shots and ended the period on a 24-4 run to lead 42-31 going into halftime.

- A drive by Grant Williams followed by a dish to Admiral Schofield for a 3-pointer in the corner was the final blow that gave No. 3 Tennessee a hard-fought road win at Florida on Jan. 12, 2019. The Vols defeated the Gators, 78-67, in Exactech Arena.
- After being a close game throughout, the Vols ended the last 44 seconds of the game on a 9-0 run to clinch the 11-point victory. Late in the game, Tennessee was able to thwart the Gators' offense. Florida was held without a field goal over the last 3:35 of the game and scored just four points in the final six minutes of play.
- Williams finished with a game-high 20 points while also leading Tennessee with nine rebounds.
- After a 3-pointer by Florida's KeVaughn Allen made it a 41-35 Gators lead at the 19:08 mark, Tennessee responded with a 15-4 run, which was capped by a one-handed slam from Williams that forced Florida to call a timeout with 14:04 left.
- The Allen three was one of just seven made baskets for Florida in the second half, as Tennessee held them to 28 percent shooting. For the game, the Florida offense shot just 35.2 percent from the field.
- After having just three points at the midway point, Jordan Bowden helped put Tennessee in front in the second half, scoring 12 consecutive points for the Vols over a 1:49 stretch in the second half. His effort put the team back in front for good with 5:36 to play in the game, as he broke loose on a fast break and threw it down with a right-hand jam.
- Bowden finished the game with 17 points, going 6-of-7 from the free-throw line, and led Tennessee with two steals. Jordan Bone tallied a team-high five assists and added eight points and five rebounds.

- Behind a 31-point contribution from the bench in the first half, No. 3 Tennessee jumped on the Arkansas Razorbacks early, guiding the Vols to a 106-87 win in Thompson-Boling Arena on Jan. 15, 2019.
- The Vols' 106 points scored against the Razorbacks marked the most against a conference opponent since Feb. 9, 2000, when they defeated Georgia, 110-83. It was also the first time since Feb. 5, 2008 (104-82 over Florida), that Tennessee scored than 100 points against an SEC foe.
- UT had a double-digit lead for 34 minutes in the game as it took advantage of its opportunities at the free-throw line to help extend the lead to as much as 30 points. Tennessee knocked down 35-of-39 shots at the charity stripe on the night.
- Jordan Bowden and Lamonte Turner teamed up for 40 points off the bench, leading the team to a season-high 50 points from non-starters. Bowden was perfect from the field until his final shot of the game, finishing the night 6-of-7 from the field and 5-of-6 from behind the 3-point arc.
- Turner had a season and team-high 21 in the game, finishing the night 6-of-8 from the field, including a trio of 3-pointers.
- After being held without a point in the first half, Admiral Schofield exploded to open the second half. The senior netted the Vols' first 14 points in the half to help extend the lead to 27 points with 14:06 to play in the game. That stretch tied Schofield for fifth all-time in consecutive points scored by a Vol.
- Arkansas entered the game as the SEC's No. 2 team in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.32). The Vols were able to hold Arkansas to only 16 assists while forcing 19 turnovers.

- In front of an above-capacity crowd of 21,957, No. 3 Tennessee edged the Alabama Crimson Tide, 71-68, on Jan. 19, 2019, to remain undefeated in SEC play.
- With the Vols up 69-68 with 3.2 seconds left, Alabama's John Petty was called for a travel at the elbow to give the ball back to Tennessee. Lamonté Turner--fouled on the ensuing inbounds play--drilled both of his attempts at the line to give UT a three-point edge with 2.5 seconds left in the game.
- A half-court heave from Alabama's Kira Lewis Jr. was long on the buzzer, giving Tennessee its 11th win inside of Thompson-Boling Arena this season. National Player of the Year candidate Grant Williams led the way with 21 points, including nine in the second half. The junior, who fouled out with 12 seconds left in the game, has now scored 20 or more points in eight games this season.
- Admiral Schofield ended the game with a double-double of 12 points and 11 rebounds. With just under three minutes on the clock, Tennessee turned to the senior wing as he got his defender in the air before knocking down a running jumper from just inside the elbow. His jumper tied the game at 65-65 with 2:51 left to play.
- On the next possession, the Vols went to Schofield again. He laid it up with 2:12 on the clock to put Tennessee ahead for good at 67-65.
- With Tennessee up one and Alabama with the ball with 1:31 on the clock, the Tide got the ball to Petty in the right corner. Williams sprinted to the corner, leapt as high as he could and blocked Petty's shot to keep Tennessee in front.
- Tennessee senior Kyle Alexander moved into second place on UT's all-time block list, as his five blocks gave him 153 for his career.
- Petty finished with a game-high 30 points to lead the Crimson Tide.

- National Player of the Year candidate Grant Williams posted one of the most dominant performances in program history to lift No. 1 Tennessee to an 88-83 victory in overtime against Vanderbilt in Memorial Gym on Jan. 23, 2019.
- Tennessee trailed by five, 76-71, with 1:22 remaining in regulation.
- Williams finished with a career-high 43 points and also tallied eight rebounds, four blocks, two assists and a key steal to carry the Vols to their 13th-consecutive win. It was the most points scored in a game by a Vol since all-time leading scorer Allan Houston also dropped 43 against LSU on Feb. 10, 1990. Williams' effort also tied for the fifth-most points in a single game in school history.
- The junior forward was 10-of-15 from the field and a program-record 23-of-23 from the free-throw line. That mark broke the Tennessee records for most free throws in a game and consecutive free throws in a single game, surpassing Bill Justus' 22 total makes and 18 consecutive free throw makes vs. Ohio on March 17, 1969.
- Tennessee rallied late in the second half, going on a 6-0 run during the final 1:22 of play. A jumper in the lane by Admiral Schofield with 38 seconds left tied things up at 76-76. UT got the final shot off with just under 3.3 seconds left in regulation, but it was blocked to send the game to overtime.
- Williams was 8-of-10 from the field and 19-of-19 from the free-throw line for 38 points in the second half and overtime. He had 10 of UT's 12 points in overtime to outscore the Commodores.
- The other two overtime points came from a pair of free throws by Jordan Bone with five seconds remaining to put the game away. The Nashville native finished with 14 points and seven assists in the victory.

- In front of a season-high crowd of 22,149, No. 1 Tennessee pulled away from the West Virginia Mountaineers, 83-66, on Jan. 26, 2019, to extend its winning streak to 14 games, tying the second-longest mark in program history.
- In his first start since the final game of the 2016-17 season, Lamonté Turner led the Vols with a season-high 23 points on 8-of-10 shooting. Admiral Schofield recorded his third double-double of the season, finishing with a team-high 10 rebounds to go along with 14 points.
- In total, Tennessee had four players score in double figures, with Grant Williams posting 19 points and Jordan Bowden tallying 15 off the bench. Those four players combined for 71 of the team's 83 points Saturday afternoon in Thompson-Boling Arena.
- After taking an 11-point lead into halftime, Tennessee played nearly the entire second half with a double-digit lead.
- The Vols continued to pressure the Mountaineers in the second half, forcing them to turn the ball over 14 times in the final 20 minutes of play. In all, West Virginia turned the ball over 24 times, the most turnovers by any Tennessee opponent this season.
- During the first half, Tennessee held West Virginia scoreless from 11:05 remaining in the half all the way until the 1:34 mark. Over the course of that span, the Vols forced the Mountaineers to miss 13 consecutive field goals.
- Tennessee improved to 4-1 all-time in the SEC/Big 12 Challenge following its win over West Virginia, and has now won three consecutive games in the event.

- Despite a push from the Gamecocks in the second half to make it a one-possession game, No. 1 Tennessee pulled away in the second half for a 92-70 victory on Jan. 29, 2019, at South Carolina's Colonial Life Arena.
- The victory marked the 15th consecutive win for the Vols, matching a program record that has stood for more than a century (Feb. 20, 1915, until Jan. 20, 1917).
- Tennessee's defense stepped up big in the final nine minutes of the game, holding the Gamecocks to just seven points and 1-of-10 shooting from the field down the stretch. During that span, UT was able to use a 19-6 run to secure the 22-point victory.
- The offense was firing on all cylinders Tuesday, connecting on 56 percent (36-of-64) of its shots from the field. Tennessee's 92 points were the most allowed by the Gamecocks in a game this season.
- The duo of Admiral Schofield and Grant Williams posted a dominant performance, finishing with 24 and 23 points, respectively. Schofield added nine rebounds, four assists, two blocks and a steal, while Williams finished with nine rebounds and four steals. The pair helped UT hold a scoring advantage in the paint (42 to 22) and an edge on the boards (39 to 31).
- Jordan Bone had an impressive game at the point, dropping 19 points and dishing out nine assists to fuel the offense. Lamonté Turner chipped in 13 points behind three 3-pointers, three assists and two steals.

- With a 93-76 victory at Texas A&M on Feb. 2, 2019, No. 1 Tennessee set the program record for consecutive wins at 16 games.
- The Vols had one of their best offensive performances of the season, shooting a blazing-hot 65 percent from the field, including a 74 percent (31-of-42) mark on two-point field-goal attempts. Tennessee also assisted on a season-high 28 baskets in the game.
- Jordan Bone had another impressive outing at the point, dropping 18 points on 7-of-7 shooting from the floor with 10 assists. He became just the third Vol ever to have three points/assists double-doubles in a season, joining Tyrone Beaman (1982-83) and Rodney Woods (1974-75).
- Grant Williams also finished with a double-double, posting a game-high 22 points, 10 rebounds, four assists and two blocks. It was his fifth of the season and marked the first game since March 21, 2014, that two Vols had a double-double in the same game.
- Lamonté Turner had 19 points and seven assists in the win, while Jordan Bowden dropped 16 points. Admiral Schofield ended with 14 points and shot better than 50 percent from the field for the 12th time this year.
- During the final 7:24 in the game, the Vols pulled away from the Aggies with a 15-4 run en route to the most points allowed by Texas A&M at home on the year.
- Tennessee jumped out to an early 28-9 lead after hitting 12 of its first 14 shots.
- Tennessee shot a 76-percent clip (20-of-30) from the floor to help it take a 46-39 lead into halftime.
- The win gave Tennessee 20 wins by Feb. 2, marking the earliest the Vols have ever hit that milestone in a season.

MIZ led for 04:40, UT led for 32:27. Game was tied for 00:44.

- Holding Missouri to just 35 percent shooting from the field, No. 1 Tennessee topped the Tigers for the second time this season, 72-60, on Feb. 5, 2019, to extend its winning streak to a program-best 17 games.
- The Vols remained the only undefeated team in SEC play (9-0) and pushed their conference regular-season winning streak to 13, which ties a program record set in 1979-80. The win also was the 21st consecutive victory inside of Thompson-Boling Arena, making it the fifth-longest home win streak in school history.
- Four Tennessee players finished in double figures with Grant Williams and Admiral Schofield leading the way with a game-high 13 points apiece. Jordan Bowden had 12 points, while Jordan Bone (11 points) and Lamonté Turner (nine points) helped close out the game in the second half.
- Nine of Bone's 11 points came in the second half as the SEC assists leader added a game-high seven assists and four boards.
- Kyle Alexander led the Vols with eight rebounds and four blocks to go along with six points.
- Trailing by six at halftime, the Tigers came out in the second half and cut the Tennessee lead to two possessions. It wouldn't last for long, as the Vols went on an 11-0 burst to push their lead to 50-35 with 14:58 left in the game.
- Tennessee continued its staunch defensive effort in the second half, holding Missouri to just 32 percent shooting from the field and 27 percent from behind the arc. Despite their shooting woes, the Tigers trailed by only eight with less than seven minutes remaining.
- It was the first game back on Rocky Top for former UT coach Cuozzo Martin.

- In front of a season-high crowd of 22,261, No. 1 Tennessee's high-flying second half helped the Vols top the Florida Gators, 73-61, on Feb. 9, 2019.
- Tennessee pushed its win streak to 18 games, the longest streak in Rick Barnes' 32-year head coaching career.
- Tennessee had four players score in double figures, with Grant Williams' team-high 16 points leading the way to go along with a team-high six rebounds. Admiral Schofield, who also grabbed six boards, finished with 14 points.
- The Vols pushed the lead to as many as 19 points when Jordan Bowden knocked down a left wing 3-pointer. The junior, who was fouled in the act of shooting, converted the and-one opportunity to make it 69-50 with 5:14 left on the clock.
- The Vols took that 36-30 edge into the locker room with Schofield and Williams leading the way with eight points each.
- Coming out of the halftime break, the game remained within two scores before a pair of 3-pointers from Lamonté Turner pushed the Tennessee lead back to double digits.
- With the victory, the Vols improved to 10-0 in SEC play, their best start since the 1976-77 season.
- And the Big Orange's streak in regular-season SEC games extended to a program-record of 14 games.

- After the best run in program history, Tennessee's 19-game win streak came to an end on Feb. 16, 2019, with an 86-69 loss against No. 5 Kentucky in Rupp Arena.
- The Wildcats opened the second half with a 14-0 run and never looked back, handing the Vols their first loss in conference play.
- Jordan Bone was the leading scorer for UT, finishing with 19 points and six assists. Admiral Schofield added 17 points and six rebounds. Grant Williams was Tennessee's other double-digit scorer with 16 points, eight rebounds, two assists and two steals.
- Kentucky was on fire in the first 3:24 of the second half, building a 20-point lead. Tennessee used a 13-0 run to cut the deficit to 11 points, but the swing in momentum was too much for UT to overcome.
- Kentucky sophomore P.J. Washington led all scorers with 23 points on 9-of-12 shooting, while freshman Keldon Johnson chipped in 19 points for the Wildcats.
- Tennessee struggled out of the gate, shooting 3-of-10 from the floor compared to Kentucky's 7-of-12. Overall for the period, the Wildcats outshot the Vols 59 percent to 47 percent. Despite the slow start, UT was able to keep the game within striking distance with several timely shots.
- Kentucky found plenty of success on the glass in the opening half, out-rebounding the Big Orange, 17-11. Washington was a force in the paint for UK, posting 13 points of 6-of-7 shooting to go along with three boards and two blocks. Johnson also had 13 points in the half behind a trio of 3-pointers.
- Williams hit a pair of clutch threes earlier in the half to counter the Wildcats' momentum. He, along with Bone and Schofield, led the Vols in scoring with eight points each, as Kentucky hit seven of its final eight shots to take a 37-31 lead into halftime.

Last FG - VU 2nd-03-15, UT 2nd-00-03.
 Largest lead - VU by 3 1st-14-28, UT by 14 1st-01-26.
 UT led for 02:24, VU led for 38:14, game was tied for 02:25.

- No. 5 Tennessee extended its winning streak in Thompson-Boling Arena to 24 games by defeating the Vanderbilt Commodores, 58-46, on Feb. 19, 2019.
- The Vols held the Commodores to their lowest scoring output of the season, limiting them to just 32 percent shooting from the field. Clevon Brown was the only Vanderbilt player to shoot better than 50 percent from the field, and he finished with just two points on 1-of-2 shooting.
- After holding a nine-point edge at half, Tennessee continued to harass Vanderbilt defensively. UT limited the Commodores to just 23.5 percent shooting (8-of-34) in the second half. The Vols' defensive effort helped them to their 14th double-digit home victory of the season and their 10th double-digit win in conference play.
- Offensively, National Player of the Year candidate Grant Williams led the way with his sixth double-double of the season, posting a game-high 14 points and 11 rebounds.
- Eight of his 11 boards came in the second half, including a key offensive rebound with 1:51 on the clock, helping Tennessee salt away the victory.
- The win helped Tennessee secure the season sweep over Vanderbilt. The Big Orange had previously completed home-and-home sweeps over Missouri, Florida and South Carolina.
- National Player of the Year candidate Admiral Schofield helped close out the victory, as 10 of his 12 shots came in the second half, including a pair of 3-pointers.
- Reigning Co-SEC Player of the Year Lamonte Turner finished with 12 points, five rebounds and four assists, while Bob Cousy Award candidate Jordan Bone posted a team-high six assists to go along with nine points.

Last FG - UT 07:00:18, LSU 07:00:04
Largest lead - UT by 9 16:17:47, LSU by 2 16:10:57
UT led for 31:52, LSU led for 04:13, Game was tied for 05:55.

Score lead - 11 times, Lead changed - 13 times.

- No. 5 Tennessee suffered an 82-80 overtime loss on the road against No. 13 LSU at Pete Maravich Assembly Center on Feb. 23, 2019.
- The Tigers were fueled by a raucous, sold-out crowd and the absence of SEC Player of the Year candidate Tremont Waters, who was out due to illness.
- Javonte Smart stepped up big for LSU, dropping a career-high 29 points to go along with five rebounds, five assists and three steals. Skylar Mays chipped in 23 points as well.
- Admiral Schofield was the leading scorer for UT with 27 points and nine rebounds. Grant Williams added 18 points, nine rebounds and three assists. Jordan Bone, also battling illness, had 13 points to round out the Vols' double-digit scorers.
- After going down by nine, LSU rattled off a 7-0 run to make it a one-possession game with 4:03 remaining.
- A 3-pointer by Mays tied things up at 69-69 with 1:20 left. Mays then drew a blocking foul with 45 seconds remaining and converted both free throws to give LSU its first lead in the period. The Vols responded with a Williams layup with 33 seconds left.
- The Tigers then drove to the basket with nine seconds left, but Kyle Alexander blocked the shot out of bounds. The Tigers had four seconds on the shot clock and were forced to take a quick three that missed the mark. The Vols had a chance to get a shot up before the end of regulation but turned the ball over.
- Williams converted an and-one to give UT a two-point lead. However, the Tigers got two offensive rebounds before finally tipping a shot back in to tie things up. Tennessee took a quick shot that was off the mark and then inadvertently fouled the Tigers. Smart went to the free-throw line and converted both free throws with 0.6 seconds left to seal the game.

- A runner with three seconds left by National Player of the Year candidate Grant Williams lifted No. 7 Tennessee to a 73-71 victory over Ole Miss at The Pavilion on Feb. 27, 2019.
- Ole Miss had an opportunity to respond, but fellow honors candidate Admiral Schofield stepped up and took a charge to give Tennessee possession with one second left. The Vols inbounded the ball to run the clock out and clinch a double-bye for the SEC Tournament.
- Williams led all scorers with 21 points on 7-of-13 shooting to go along with six rebounds, four assists, three steals and two blocks. Lamonte Turner helped spark Tennessee's offense in the second half, scoring 13 of his 17 points in the period on 6-of-7 shooting.
- It was UT's defense that ended up being the difference in the game, holding the Rebels without a field goal during the final 2:40 in the game. Ole Miss was just 2-of-9 shooting from the field in the last nine minutes.
- UM's high scoring duo of Terence Davis and Breein Tyree both dropped 16 points to lead the Rebels on offense.
- After Ole Miss hit the first shot of the second half, Tennessee responded with a 14-0 run to regain the lead at 48-41. Turner led the charge by scoring nine straight points.
- During the final 11 minutes, neither team pulled ahead by more than one possession. With 2:40 left, Tyree drilled a 3-pointer to give the Rebels a 69-67 lead. With less than a minute remaining, Tennessee played tight defense and forced a last-second shot that bounced off the rim, but Ole Miss got the offensive rebound and made the Vols foul.
- Hinson knocked down both free throws to make it a 3-point game with 33 seconds left. UT responded with a jumper by Jordan Bowden to cut it to one. After a foul and a missed free throw, Williams drove to the lane and knocked down a jumper with three seconds left on the clock.

- In front of the sellout Thompson-Boling Arena crowd, No. 7 Tennessee powered past No. 4 Kentucky, 71-52, on March 2, 2019, to move into a two-way tie for first place in the SEC.
- It was the largest loss for the Wildcats in conference play since Feb. 4, 2017, when they lost by 22 points to Florida.
- Backed by a career-high performance from Bob Cousy Award candidate Jordan Bone, the Vols maintained a perfect home record against the Wildcats in the Rick Barnes era while extending their home winning streak to 25 games.
- Bone scored a career-high 27 points on 11-of-15 shooting while knocking down all five of his attempts from behind the arc. He eclipsed his previous high on the final Tennessee shot of the game, hitting a 3-pointer falling away into the student section with 12 seconds left on the clock.
- National Player of the Year candidate Grant Williams added 24 points to go along with a game-high seven rebounds. Combined, Williams and Bone tallied 51 points, shooting 18-of-28 (64.3 percent) from the field.
- Tennessee held the Wildcats to a season-low 52 points and 31.8 percent shooting from the field while limiting them to just 10 points in the paint, outscoring Kentucky by 18 points on the block.
- Within the first four minutes of the second half, Tennessee stretched its 13-point halftime lead to 20 points, getting to the rim on four of its first five field goals. The 10-4 run was capped by a fastbreak up-and-under finish from Lamonté Turner to push it to a 47-27 edge with 16:17 left in the game.
- Turner finished with a team-high six assists, with five coming in the final 20 minutes of the game.

- No. 5 Tennessee used a fast second-half start to power past Mississippi State on Senior Night at Thompson-Boling Arena, 71-54, on March 5, 2019.
- Leading by six points at halftime, Tennessee used a 17-4 run to open the second half and create a comfortable, 19-point lead, capped by a Jalen Johnson 3-pointer from the left wing. The Bulldogs never drew closer than 14 points after the Vols' initial second-half burst, and Tennessee's lead expanded to as many as 24 points.
- Mississippi State's 54-point total was its lowest scoring output of the season, and the Bulldogs' 33 percent shooting performance was their second-lowest of the season.
- For the Vols, the win capped off a perfect 18-0 home campaign for during 2018-19 season.
- Playing in his final home game, senior Admiral Schofield led all scorers with 18 points. Grant Williams had 14 points and 10 rebounds, while Jordan Bowden had 12 to round out Tennessee's double-figure scorers. Senior Kyle Alexander grabbed 10 rebounds, scored six points and blocked four shots in his final performance on Rocky Top.
- Tennessee's defensive effort of holding Mississippi State to just 54 points--coupled with limiting Kentucky to 52 three days prior--marked the first time that the Vols have won back-to-back SEC games while holding the opponent to less than 60 points since the 2013-14 season.
- Tennessee also recorded a season-high in steals, registering 12 takeaways in the win.
- At halftime, the Vols led, 31-25, thanks to a Lamonté Turner layup at the buzzer. Schofield led all scorers with 11 points at the break, while Alexander grabbed seven rebounds in the opening frame.

- Fifth-ranked Tennessee dropped its regular-season finale on March 9, 2019, at Auburn, 84-80.
- The Vols fought hard and tried to claw back into the game, but the Tigers had an answer every time. The key stat to the game was Tennessee's 13 turnovers that led to 19 points for Auburn.
- National Player of the Year candidate Grant Williams led all players with 25 points on 8-of-12 shooting to go along with nine rebounds, three assists and two blocks. Point guard Jordan Bone added 17 points and seven assists, while Jordan Bowden had a solid day off the bench with 16 points and six rebounds. Admiral Schofield rounded out the double-digit scorers for UT with 13 points.
- Chuma Okeke paced the Tigers in scoring with 22 points, while Jared Harper and Bryce Brown finished with 16 points apiece. The trio combined to knock down nine of AU's 13 3-pointers in the game.
- Auburn opened the second half on a 7-0 run to pull ahead of UT, 42-41. Tennessee regained the lead, but a 13-3 swing midway through the half by the Tigers shifted the momentum in their favor.
- UT never trailed by more than two possessions in the second period, but Auburn had the hot hand in the frame, shooting 54 percent from the field to stifle a comeback. The final blow was a 3-pointer by Samir Doughty with 1:13 left after Williams had blocked a shot in the paint to send the ball out beyond the arc. It capped off four straight threes by the Tigers.
- The Vols led by as many as 11 in the first half, but Auburn cut it to six at the break.

- A second-half run vaulted No. 8 Tennessee to an 83-76 victory over Mississippi State in the quarterfinals of the SEC Tournament on March 15, 2019, at Bridgestone Arena.
- All-SEC wing Admiral Schofield finished with a game-high 20 points Friday on 9-of-12 shooting from the floor. Senior Kyle Alexander also posted a dominant performance, dropping 16 points on 8-of-11 shooting, with nine rebounds, three steals and two blocks.
- SEC Player of the Year Grant Williams chipped in 16 points, and All-SEC point guard Jordan Bone narrowly missed a double-double with 14 points and nine assists. Junior guard Lamonte Turner was also effective at getting open shots for his teammates, dishing out eight assists to go with four steals. Fellow junior Jordan Bowden rounded out UT's double-digit scorers with 10 points.
- Mississippi State had four players score in double figures, with Aric Holman's 20 points on five 3-pointers leading the way.
- Similar to the first half, both teams traded buckets to begin the second half. However, a 10-0 run by Tennessee made it a 13-point game with 9:33 to play. The run was highlighted by a one-handed slam by Schofield over a Mississippi State player that brought the crowd to its feet and gave the Vols all the momentum.
- The game was never closer than seven points after the swing in UT's favor. Tennessee sealed the victory by knocking down seven of its final nine shots. For the game, UT shot 52 percent (34-of-66) from the floor.
- The first half went back and forth as both teams traded baskets. The Bulldogs held an early lead, but the Vols responded with a 9-0 run to pull ahead with 10 minutes left.
- Tennessee maintained at least a two-possession game for the remainder of the period to head into the break up, 34-28.

- Facing an eight-point deficit with three minutes left, No. 8 Tennessee rallied in the final moments to down No. 4 Kentucky, 82-78, in the semifinals of the SEC Tournament on March 16, 2019, at Bridgestone Arena.
- For the second straight year, the Vols have advanced to the tournament championship game.
- Tennessee's 29 wins stand as the second-most in program history. Only the 2007-08 Volunteers logged more victories (31).
- UT struggled to get any offense going for the majority of the second half, missing 15 out of 20 shots during a 13-minute stretch. However, Tennessee rallied in the face of adversity.
- After UK's Keldon Johnson drove to the basket and converted an "and-1" play, the Wildcats had all the momentum, and Big Blue Nation was roaring with 2:58 left to play. SEC Player of the Year Grant Williams responded 13 seconds later by drawing a foul and knocking down both free throws.
- Lamonte Turner stepped up with 30 seconds left and drained a 3-pointer to give the Vols an insurmountable lead.
- Jordan Bone iced the game in the final seconds, knocking down all four of his free throws to keep the Big Orange up by two possessions the remainder of the way.
- Tennessee's All-SEC trio paved the way for the come-from-behind victory, standing as the top three scorers in the game. Admiral Schofield finished with a game-high 21 points, while Williams recorded 20 points, 17 of which came in the second half, seven rebounds and was 9-of-11 from the charity stripe. Bone added 18 points and five assists.

- No. 8 Tennessee couldn't match No. 22 Auburn's hot shooting, falling, 84-64, in the SEC Tournament Championship Game on March 17, 2019, at Bridgestone Arena.
- The Vols played one of their least efficient games of the season on the offensive end, turning the ball over 17 times. That led to 21 points for Auburn. The Tigers rallied 3-pointers to keep the momentum in their favor, connecting on 15 long balls.
- Tennessee's offense went cold in the first half, going on a seven-minute scoring drought and missing 10 consecutive shots. UT was up early on the Tigers with a 17-13 lead.
- Auburn capitalized on its opportunities and swung the momentum in its favor. While the Vols struggled on offense, the Tigers rattled off a 16-0 run to take a commanding 13-point lead. On the defensive end, AU forced the Vols into 12 turnovers and held the Big Orange to 32 percent shooting from the floor. At the break, Auburn held a 32-23 advantage over the Vols.
- Vols junior Lamonte Turner was hot early on, scoring eight points behind a pair of 3-pointers in the first four minutes. He finished with a season-high 24 points on 7-of-12 shooting and four 3-pointers.
- The only success UT found in the opening period was on the glass, where it held a 26-19 advantage and limited Auburn to just four offensive rebounds.
- SEC Player of the Year Grant Williams finished with 13 points, eight rebounds, two assists and two blocks.
- Despite the loss, Tennessee players were recognized for their play throughout the tournament, as Williams and All-SEC wing Admiral Schofield were named to the 2019 SEC All-Tournament Team.

- No. 2 seeded Tennessee outlasted a second-half rally by 15th-seeded Colgate at Nationwide Arena to advance past the first round in the South Region of the NCAA Tournament on March 22, 2019.
- After the Raiders stormed back from a 12-point deficit at halftime, the Vols stepped up in the final minutes to put the game away. Tennessee hit four of its final five shots, all of which came from beyond the arc. The last three makes came off the right hand of All-SEC wing Admiral Schofield. The final dagger dropped through the nets with 45 seconds left to make it 73-64.
- Schofield finished with a team-high 19 points, including 11 points in the second half to fuel Tennessee's offense. Point guard Jordan Bone added 16 points, five rebounds and three assists. Jordan Bowden chipped in 14 points and two steals off the bench, while Lamonté Turner added 13 points, six assists and three steals.
- The Vols found success in the paint, outscoring the Raiders, 38-20, and recording five blocks. UT also had seven steals and forced 13 turnovers that led to 16 points.
- Jordan Burns went off for Colgate, dropping 32 points, including eight of the Raiders' 15 total 3-pointers. He scored 20 points in the second half to keep CU in the game.
- Colgate rallied back after halftime, using a 19-6 run to take its first lead of the game at the 12:09 mark. During that stretch, the Raiders caught fire from beyond the arc, knocking down five 3-pointers. On the other end of the floor, Tennessee began the half by shooting just 2-of-12 from the field.
- The Big Orange responded with a 6-0 run of its own to regain the lead and never looked back, preventing any chance of the Raiders rallying to pull the upset.

- For the sixth time since 2000, the Tennessee Volunteers are heading to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament, following an 83-77 victory in overtime against Iowa at Nationwide Arena on March 24, 2019.
- It's the first time since 2014 that Tennessee has reached the Sweet Sixteen, and head coach Rick Barnes is just the 12th head coach to lead a third Division I program to the Sweet Sixteen. The Vols will take on No. 3 seed Purdue in Louisville, Ky., on March 28.
- With 31 victories this season, Tennessee has tied the program record for wins in a single season (2007-08). During the game, the Big Orange also broke the program record for assists in a single season (645), surpassing the previous mark of 637 in 2007-08.
- The All-SEC duo of Admiral Schofield and Grant Williams led all scorers with 19 points each to help lead Tennessee to the victory. Williams, the two-time SEC Player of the Year, finished with seven rebounds, five assists, four steals and three blocks to fuel UT on both ends of the floor. His four steals matched the Tennessee record for steals in an NCAA Tournament game.
- Lamonté Turner had an impressive game, tallying 15 points, six rebounds and three assists. However, the junior guard's presence was felt the most on the defensive end, where he helped the Vols shut down Iowa's 3-point shooting (7-of-21) and kept the Hawkeyes from getting into their offense.
- With the momentum all the way in Iowa's favor, Tennessee found its rhythm again in overtime, scoring the first seven points to take a 78-71 lead. A deep 3-pointer from Jordan Bone with two seconds left on the shot clock highlighted the run. The All-SEC point guard finished with 14 points. After that, the Hawkeyes were unable to rally back.

- Tennessee's impressive season came to an end on March 28, 2019, as the Vols fell in the Sweet Sixteen to Purdue in overtime, 99-94, at Louisville's KFC Yum! Center.
- After facing an 18-point deficit at the 16:19 mark and with all the momentum in Purdue's favor, the Vols stormed back with a 19-2 run to take their first lead since opening minutes of the game. A deep 3-pointer from All-SEC wing Admiral Schofield made it a 70-67 game and capped the run.
- With five minutes left in regulation, both teams were knotted at 70-70. With the game swinging in Tennessee's favor, Ryan Cline went off for the Boilermakers, knocking down four 3-pointers to keep Purdue in the game.
- On the other end of the court, National Player of the Year candidate Grant Williams had two dunks in the final minute to keep the Vols ahead, including a putback with eight seconds left to give UT an 82-80 lead. Purdue's Carsen Edwards then drove to the basket to try and tie the game, but Williams blocked the shot out of bounds.
- On the ensuing in-bounds play, Edwards caught the ball in the corner and got fouled by Lamonté Turner, who was contesting a potential game-winning three. The All-Big Ten performer missed the first attempt but sank the final two free throws to tie the game at 82-82 and send it to overtime.
- Tennessee's momentum ran out in overtime, as the Boilermakers pulled ahead early to make it a two-possession game. The Vols couldn't convert on the offensive end, forcing UT to foul. Purdue iced the game by going 11-of-18 from the charity stripe in the final five minutes
- Williams and Schofield led the Vols in scoring, dropping 21 points each. Jordan Bowden finished with 16 points behind four 3-pointers, while Turner scored 15 on 6-of-10 shooting.

2-SEC/Big East Invitational

-SEC Commissioner Mike Slive suspended head coach Bruce Pearl for the first eight SEC games of the 2010-11 season, so associate head coach Tony Jones served as "acting head coach" for those contests. The Vols went 5-3 during that span. However, those wins and losses were officially credited to Pearl's career record in the NCAA, and SEC/UT records books (institutional decision made in advance of the affected games).*

ALL-TIME LISTING IN THE AP POLL

The Associated Press began its basketball rankings on January 20, 1949, with a Top-20 poll. Starting in the 1961-62 season, the AP provided a preseason poll. From 1960-61 to 1967-68, the AP used a Top-10 poll. The AP rankings became a Top-20 poll again in 1968-69, before changing to its current Top-25 format in 1989-90. The AP also ran post-NCAA Tournament polls in 1953, 1954, 1974 and 1975.

OFFENSIVE REBOUNDING

OFFENSIVE REBOUNDS

Tennessee first started tracking "offensive" rebounds as an official stat beginning with the 1996-97 season. Thus, all records listed here only reflect offensive rebounding totals since the stat has been recorded.

Some former Vols who played before 1996-97 and would likely have been among the leaders listed on this spread include, but are not limited to: Tom Boerwinkle, Willie Burton, A.W. Davis, Steve Hamer, Reggie Johnson, Rob Jones, Bernard King, Len Kosmowski, Ian Lockhart, Dyrone Nix, Austin "Red" Robbins and Gene Tormohlen.

3-POINT FIELD GOALS

3-POINT FIELD GOALS MADE

The NCAA adopted the 19-foot, 9-inch line nationally starting with the 1986-87 season. In 2007, the NCAA extended the distance to 20 feet 9 inches, with the rule going into effect at the beginning of the 2008-09 season. In June of 2019, the NCAA again extended the 3-point line to match the international distance of 22 feet 1³/₄ inches, effective for the 2019-20 campaign.

ASSIST/TURNOVER RATIO

Tennessee first started tracking turnovers as an official stat beginning with the 1977-78 season. Thus, all records listed here only reflect assist/turnover ratio since the stat has been recorded.

Some former Vols who played before 1977-78 and would likely have been among the leaders listed on this spread include, but are not limited to: Bert Bertelkamp (career data incomplete) Bill Hann, Jimmy England, Steve Hirschorn, Rodney Woods and Johnny Darden (career data incomplete).

ALTERNATE UNIFORM HISTORY

Dating to 1979-80, Tennessee has traditionally worn white jerseys at home and orange jerseys on the road. In the late 1970s, the SEC played a Saturday-Monday conference schedule during which half the league's teams hosted two games and the other half traveled. Tennessee during that period commonly wore white for one of those games and orange for the other, meaning that each jersey color was worn both at home and on the road.

For portions of the program's first 40 seasons, black and grey were staples of the Tennessee basketball program's uniform color palette.

Below is a listing of the program's alternate uniform history.

GRANT WILLIAMS

Charlotte, N.C.

In just three seasons, Williams established himself as one of Tennessee's all-time greats, statistically ... As a junior in 2018-19, he earned unanimous consensus first-team All-America acclaim—becoming just the third Vol to do so, joining Bernard King and Dale Ellis ... Williams also became the first player since 1995 to earn consecutive SEC Player of the Year awards, garnering that distinction from both the AP and the league's head coaches ... Also in 2019, he was a finalist for the Naismith Trophy, the Wooden Award, the Oscar Robertson Trophy and the Karl Malone Award ... Also was named to the 2019 SEC All-Tournament Team and the 2019 SEC Community Service Team ... Led the Volunteers to a 31-5 record (program record for wins), and four weeks atop both major national top-25 polls ... Led Tennessee in scoring (18.8 ppg) and rebounding (7.5 rpg) and recorded seven double-doubles ... Led the SEC in scoring while ranking second in field-goal percentage (.565) and seventh in rebounding ... Scored a career-high 43 points in Tennessee's overtime win at Vanderbilt (1/23/19), during which he set an SEC record by going 23-for-23 at the free-throw line ... Selected by the Boston Celtics with the 22nd overall pick in the 2019 NBA Draft.

LEGENDS IN THE RAFTERS

■ TENNESSEE'S RETIRED JERSEYS

Name	No.	Honored on
Dale Ellis	14	March 1, 2014

The following are the criteria by which former student-athletes will be eligible for the honor of jersey retirement at the University of Tennessee:

- The student-athlete must have demonstrated outstanding character, integrity, and commitment to UT during his/her athletic career.
- Any student-athlete under consideration must have graduated or have left UT in good academic standing, which would have made them eligible to return and compete.
- Former student-athletes are eligible for this honor five years after exhausting their eligibility. If they left school early without exhausting their eligibility, they are eligible eight years after leaving UT.
- Extenuating circumstances may be considered by the committee, and modifications of the policy may be considered under such circumstances by mutual agreement of the Faculty Athletics Representative and the Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics.

A student-athlete will be eligible for consideration if they achieve three of the five criteria listed below:

- SEC Player of the Year
- National Award (Player of the Year, Wooden Award, or similar honor)
- First-Team All-American
- Career record holder in a significant category (as determined by the committee) at the UT, SEC, or national level upon completion of career
- National championship during tenure

There is a nominating committee that will determine when an individual will be honored with a retired jersey, and any member of the committee can bring a nomination. The composition of that committee includes the Faculty Athletics Representative, Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics, the sport administrator of the selected sport, the media relations contact for selected sport or the associate athletics director/communications (or designee), and the senior woman administrator.

SEC DIVISIONAL CHAMPIONS

■ EASTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONSHIPS

Year	Head Coach	Record
1998-99	Jerry Green	21-9 (12-4 SEC)
1999-00	Jerry Green	26-7 (12-4 SEC)
2005-06	Bruce Pearl	22-8 (12-4 SEC)
2007-08	Bruce Pearl	31-5 (14-2 SEC)
2008-09	Bruce Pearl	21-13 (10-6 SEC)

The Southeastern Conference went to divisional play starting with the 1991-92 season. Prior to that season, the league only recognized the regular-season (overall) champion and the tournament champion.

Then, starting with the 2011-12 season, the league abandoned divisional play, and the standings went to 1-12 (later 1-14 when Missouri and Texas A&M joined the conference in 2012-13).

The SEC Tournament champion earns the league's annual automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

LOWELL BLANCHARD MOST IMPROVED

The Lowell Blanchard Award is given to the Tennessee player who has demonstrated the most improvement during the season. The award is named after Lowell Blanchard, who joined with John Ward to broadcast UT basketball games in the 1960s. An early pioneer of country music, Blanchard gained fame when he hosted the Mid-Day Merry-Go-Round and the Tennessee Barn Dance on WNOX in Knoxville.

*Championship Game

From 1933-50 the winner of the tournament was declared the league champion, except for 1935. The tournament did not take place from 1953-78 but was restarted in 1979 to determine the league's representative in the NCAA Tournament.

1967 NCAA Midwest Region — Regional Semifinal

Tennessee (21-6) 52
Dayton (23-5) 53

March 17, 1967 • McGaw Hall • Evanston, Ill.

A cold-shooting first half was too much for Tennessee to overcome as the Volunteers fell 53-52 to Dayton in their first NCAA Tournament appearance.

Tennessee trailed 36-25 at the break as Dayton hit 58 percent from the field compared to the Vols' 23 percent. Tennessee hit only seven buckets in 31 attempts. Tennessee fought back, though, and whittled the lead down to 50-48 with 8:01 left on the clock when both teams started holding the ball.

The Vols had possession of the ball and were looking for the perfect shot to tie the game, but Tom Boerwinkle was called for walking, and Dayton took over possession.

Tennessee regained possession when Billy Hann came up with a steal with 3:10 remaining. Bill Justus then knotted the score at 50 when he hit a jumper with just over two minutes left in the game.

Dayton then held the ball looking for a game winning shot. The Vols forced the issue with 24 seconds remaining and fouled Bobby Joe Hooper. Hooper was good on one of his free throw attempts giving the Vols a chance for the final shot and the win.

The man picked to take the shot was Ron Widby, who had hit the game-winning shot against Mississippi State in the Vols' regular season finale to clinch the SEC championship.

But Widby's jumper from 20-feet was off the mark, and Dayton eventually regained possession. Two free throws later, the Flyers led 53-50. Widby hit an uncontested lay-up at the buzzer to finish the scoring.

"Somebody has to take the last shot," Widby said. "I never mind the pressure. I thought the ball was going in."

The Vols held All-America Don May, who came into the game averaging 22 points, to nine points on 2-of-10 shooting, but the guard duo of Hooper and Gene Klaus led the Flyers with 14 and 12, respectively. They shot a combined 11-of-14 from the field.

"We did a fine defensive job on May, but got beat by the outside shooting of their guards," UT head coach Ray Mears said. "They surprised us. We just didn't think they could shoot so well from long range."

Widby finished with a game-high 20 points to pace four Vols in double figures.

NOTES: Dayton advanced to the national championship game before falling 79-64 to UCLA ... The Vols won the SEC championship with a 15-3 record.

1967 NCAA Midwest Region — Regional Consolation

Indiana (18-8) 51

March 18, 1967 • McGaw Hall • Evanston, Ill.

Tennessee struggled from the field in a 51-44 defeat at the hands of Indiana in an NCAA Tournament regional consolation game.

The Vols stayed close throughout the game and had as much as a three-point lead in the second half, but eventually faltered down the stretch. Tennessee connected on 14-of-46 shots from the field for 30.7 percent. Indiana did not fair much better at 37.2 percent, but dominated the boards 43 to 27.

A short jumper from Ron Widby gave the Vols an 18-16 lead with just over five minutes left in the first half. Indiana then went into a stall in attempt to take the last shot of the half. They eventually got a bucket from Bill Joyner to tie the score. Tennessee failed to score on its next possession, and Vernon Payne gave the Hoosiers a 20-18 lead. Bill Justus hit a jumper at the halftime buzzer to pull the Vols even.

Justus hit two free throws in the opening minutes of the second half to give the Vols a 27-24 advantage, but Indiana outscored the Vols 21-11 to open up a 45-38 lead.

Justus and Widby hit back-to-back buckets for the Vols to cut the lead to three, but Russell and Jack Johnson hit two free throws each to put the game out of reach.

The game was physical from the start which did not suit the playing style of Tennessee.

"We played as hard as we could under the conditions," Tennessee coach Ray Mears said. "They are taking the finesse out of the game when they depend on brute strength. We were not real sharp, but there were a lot of bumps and bruises out there."

NOTES: Indiana coach Lou Watson signed a scholarship with Tennessee coach John Mauer in 1946, but eventually played at Indiana ... Widby was named to the All-Tournament Team ... Widby scored 619 points during the 1966-67 season which was the most ever by a Vol ... Widby surpassed the mark of 522 points set by Carl Widseth during the 1955-56 season ... Widby averaged 22.1 points per game, which was tops in the SEC ... Indiana was the Big Ten champion.

ALL-TIME NCAA GAME RECAPS

1976 NCAA East Region — First Round

Tennessee (21-6) 75
VMI (21-9) 81

March 13, 1976 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

VMI placed five players in double figures and shot a sizzling 66 percent from the field to upset the Volunteers 81-75 in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament.

The "Bernie" was missing from "The Ernie and Bernie Show" in this game, as Bernard King was out of action with an injured left thumb. Ernie Grunfeld held up his end of the show as he poured in 36 points and grabbed eight rebounds.

"I'm not embarrassed that we lost to VMI," Grunfeld said. "I'm never embarrassed if we try, and we tried hard. We just didn't get enough done. We can't let them shoot like that and expect to win."

Grunfeld scored 12 straight points for Tennessee to close the first half, and the Vols had as much as a six-point lead during that stretch.

The scored stood tied at 60 with 5:42 left in the game when the Keydets reeled off eight unanswered points. Tennessee had three shots blocked during that stretch, and Dave Montgomery scored six of the eight points for VMI. Two free throws from Austin Clarke pulled the Vols to within 70-67 with 2:08 remaining, but the Vols could get no closer.

Tennessee coach Ray Mears made a move at halftime in hopes to give the Vols an emotional lift as King dressed out.

"We let him dress out to see if it would give us a mental lift," Mears said. "I wasn't about to play him. We were not going to risk his future. Most of you don't realize how much he means to us. We were just hoping to get through this first game."

Will Bynum led the Keydets with 20 points, followed by 19 from Ron Carter. John Krovic added 17, Curt Reppart tossed in 11, and Montgomery finished with 10.

Mike Jackson was the only other Vol in double figures with 14 points.

NOTES: VMI lost 91-75 to Rutgers in the Regional Semifinals.

1977 NCAA Midwest Region — First Round

Tennessee (22-6) 88
Syracuse (26-3) OT 93

March 13, 1977 • Assembly Center • Baton Rouge, La.

Syracuse posted a 93-88 overtime victory to put an end to the famous "Ernie and Bernie Show" at Tennessee.

Things looked good early for Tennessee as the Vols raced out to a 20-10 lead against a pressing Syracuse defense. But the Orangemen regained their composure and eventually tied the score at 32 with just under five minutes left in the first half.

Tennessee held strong, though, and an Ernie Grunfeld jumper put the Vols up eight at 47-39 with 17:51 left in the second half. Syracuse then staged a 14-2 run over the next five minutes to take a 53-49 advantage.

Syracuse held a 78-74 lead with 1:31 left in the second half, but Reggie Johnson hit a short jumper and converted two free throws to tie the game. Larry Kelley's shot at the end of regulation could have won the game for the Orangemen, but it was off the mark.

A Ross Kindel steal and layup gave Syracuse an 86-80 lead with 2:03 left in overtime. Syracuse then hit 7-of-9 free throws in the final minute of overtime to seal the victory.

"We didn't score when we needed to score," Tennessee coach Ray Mears said. "The break worked well early then went dry. Our game is based on King, Grunfeld and Jackson playing 40 minutes each. Maybe that is a fallacy. If you live by that idea, you die by it."

It certainly hurt the Vols as Grunfeld, Bernard King and Mike Jackson all watched the end of the game from the bench. Not helping matters were the 26 turnovers the Vols committed.

Grunfeld led the Vols with 26 points and 12 rebounds, King tossed in 23 and also grabbed 12 rebounds. Reggie Johnson added 17 points and 10 boards.

"I hope what happened against Syracuse won't wash out the things we've done all year," King said. "It was a great year for me and the team."

NOTES: The 22 wins by the Vols set a school record at that time ... Tennessee won a share of the SEC championship along with Kentucky ... Syracuse was led by first-year head coach Jim Boeheim ... Syracuse lost 81-59 to UNC Charlotte in the Regional Semifinals to finish its season 26-4.

1979 NCAA Mideast Region — First Round

#9	Eastern Kentucky (21-8)	81
#8	Tennessee (21-11)	97
March 9, 1979 • Murphy Athletic Center • Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Tennessee turned an early 10-point deficit into a 44-38 halftime lead and eventually logged a 97-81 victory over the Colonels. This was Tennessee's first-ever win in the NCAA Tournament.

The Vols fell behind 15-5 in the first five minutes of the game before finally getting things on track. Gary Carter made three consecutive field goals to spark a Tennessee rally and pull the Vols within 16-13. Johnny Darden then hit a long jumper, and the Vols had the Colonel lead to one.

Eastern Kentucky regained its composure and had the lead back out to 30-26 with 4:44 left in the first half.

Terry Crosby then reeled off three consecutive buckets for the Vols, and Tennessee held a 32-30 advantage with just under four minutes left in the half.

"This game was won in the final eight minutes of the first half," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "By getting the ball to Terry Crosby, we were able to turn it around. We played poorly in the first 10 minutes but our kids snapped out of it."

The game was still close five minutes into the second half, but Tennessee went on an 18-6 run to turn a 54-50 lead into a 72-56 advantage with 8:21 left in the game.

"We were too psyched up at the beginning," Reggie Johnson said. "That was a terrible start. We had to come down from our high before we could play."

Johnson led the Vols with 20 points and nine rebounds. Carter added 18 points with a game-high 11 rebounds. Crosby finished the game with 19 points.

James Tillman led Eastern Kentucky with 21 points. He was one of five Colonels in double figures as Dave Tierney netted 13, Bruce Jones had 12, and Vic Merchant and Kenney added 11 each.

NOTES: Eastern Kentucky was the Ohio Valley Conference champion.

1979 NCAA Mideast Region — Second Round

#1	Notre Dame (23-5)	73
#8	Tennessee (21-12)	67
March 11, 1979 • Murphy Athletic Center • Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Notre Dame outscored the Vols 14-4 to open the second half to turn a 32-32 halftime tie into a 46-36 lead. Tennessee got no closer than five points the rest of the game and fell 73-67 to the Irish.

"It was one of our poorest games in terms of poise and concentration," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "We hustled and worked the boards hard in the first half, but Notre Dame made us play as if we were scared in the first two minutes of the second half."

Notre Dame opened the second half with a full-court press, forcing four Tennessee turnovers in the first 2:05 of the half.

"We noted that Tennessee made 21 turnovers against Eastern Kentucky, so our staff decided to go right after them with the press," Notre Dame coach Digger Phelps said. "We played it loosely at the start then went to a closer press with a quick-trap. That forced some turnovers and gave us some breathing room."

Both Terry Crosby and Reggie Johnson had poor games shooting the ball for the Vols. They combined to hit 7-of-21 field goal attempts. Johnson also missed five of his 10 free-throw attempts.

"Neither Terry Crosby and Reggie Johnson had a good offensive game," DeVoe said. "When that happens, we have problems."

Johnson finished with 13 points, eight below his season average. Gary Carter led the Vols with 16 points. Chuck Threeths added 10 points and eight rebounds.

"I was taking normal shots, but there was a lid on the basket," Crosby said. "Almost any night we play, Reggie and I have to have good games offensively for us to win. Neither of us scored as we must to win."

NOTES: Tennessee had won nine consecutive games before losing to the Irish, including two games in the SEC Tournament on its way to the tournament title ... Notre Dame lost 80-68 to Michigan State in the Regional Finals ... 1979 was the first year tournament seeding was used.

ALL-TIME NCAA GAME RECAPS

1980 NCAA East Region — First Round

#10	Furman (23-7)	69
#7	Tennessee (18-10)	80

March 6, 1980 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

A change in the starting lineup proved fruitful for the Vols as they posted an 80-69 victory over the Palladians.

The Vols inserted Steve Ray and Chuck Threeths in the starting lineup for Dale Ellis and Kevin Nash, respectively. The change was made so the Vols could use their quickness against Furman's man-to-man defense. The strategy worked.

Tennessee was able to get the fastbreak going early with the lineup change and jumped out to a quick 8-2 lead. Furman rallied, though, with a 13-4 scoring spree to hold a 15-12 advantage with 13:08 remaining in the first half.

But two baskets by Howard Wood, a layup from Nash and two free throws from Reggie Johnson gave the Vols a 20-15 lead with just under 10 minutes left in the half. It was all Tennessee from there on out.

"The way we came out and clicked and got our open shots to drop made all the difference in the world," Nash said. "It gave us the feeling we weren't going to lose."

Adding to Furman's woes was a poor performance from the free-throw line. Furman's starters entered the game shooting better than 70 percent from the line. Furman hit only 17-of-32 free throws for 53 percent.

"We missed a potential 13 points at the line in the first half, and that was the difference in the game," Furman coach Eddie Holbrook said. "Almost everything that went wrong in this game goes back to the free throws. Once we got behind, we got out of what we wanted to do."

Tennessee held a 40-29 lead at the halftime break, and Furman trimmed it down to 49-41. But three straight baskets by Wood capped a 9-2 run that broke the game open. Tennessee led by as many as 21 points in the second half.

Wood was one of three Vols in double figures with 19 points. Reggie Johnson had a game-high 28 points along with 14 rebounds. Jonathan Moore led Furman with 22 points and 17 rebounds.

NOTES: Future Vol assistant coach Michael Hunt (1994-97) was on the Furman team ... Furman's berth in the NCAA Tournament came via its Southern Conference championship.

1980 NCAA East Region — Second Round

#7	Tennessee (18-11)	75
#2	Maryland (24-6)	86

March 8, 1980 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

Foul trouble for Reggie Johnson spelled doom for Tennessee, as Maryland posted an 86-75 victory over Tennessee.

"When you have a team that relies on one man to score and he gets in foul trouble, your team is in serious trouble," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "When Reggie doesn't play, you don't win."

Tennessee was rolling in the first half, and Johnson was nearly unstoppable. He scored 17 points in the game's first 14 minutes to help Tennessee to a 29-18 lead. Johnson picked up his second foul of the game with just under three minutes left in the first half, but Tennessee still held a 40-32 advantage at the break.

Johnson scored two buckets in the opening minutes of the second half, and the Vols led 46-39 with 16:23 left in the game. Then, in a matter of 10 seconds, Johnson got whistled for his third and fourth fouls and went to the bench with 15:06 left in the game. He didn't score again.

"I guarantee we got the short end of the officiating in the second half," DeVoe said. "You don't win in the tournament play when you get the short end. The two fouls on Johnson were the turning point."

Greg Manning pulled the Terrapins even at 50 with a rebound basket at the 13:26 mark in the second half. Maryland eventually pulled out to a 70-62 lead, but the Vols rallied back and pulled within 78-75 on a short jumper from Howard Wood with 45 seconds remaining. Manning then had back-to-back three-point plays for Maryland to squelch any Vol hopes for a victory.

Gary Carter also had 21 points for the Vols along with eight rebounds. Bert Bertelkamp dished out a career-high 16 assists against only two turnovers in 39 minutes of action.

Manning led Maryland with 28 points to pace four Terrapins in double figures. Albert King added 20, Buck Williams 19 and Ernest Graham 14. Maryland also shot a hot 63.2 percent from the field compared to 47 percent for Tennessee.

NOTES: Maryland's Albert King is the brother of former Vol All-America Bernard King ... Maryland lost in the Regional Semifinals 74-68 to Georgetown.

ALL-TIME NCAA GAME RECAPS

1981 NCAA East Region — Second Round

#5	VCU (24-5)	56
#4	Tennessee (21-7)	OT 58

March 15, 1981 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

Dale Ellis drilled a 15-foot jumper at the buzzer to lift Tennessee to a 58-56 overtime victory over Virginia Commonwealth.

"I just stood there after I shot that ball," Ellis said. "That was the greatest feeling to make that shot."

Ellis' shot was the only shot taken in the five-minute extra period. Virginia Commonwealth got the opening tip in overtime and stalled away the first half of the period. The Rams lost their chance at attempting a shot when Steve Ray forced Danny Kottak out-of-bounds.

Tennessee then held the ball the second half of overtime and called a timeout with 19 seconds remaining. Michael Brooks passed the ball over to Ellis with five seconds left, and the sophomore from Marietta, Ga., hit the game-winner. Ellis was not the Vols' first option to take the shot, though.

"The ball was supposed to come to me, and I was supposed to pass it to Howard (Wood) in the corner," Ellis said. "It was Howard that kept us in the game, and it's usually (him) who takes the final shot."

The play was the same play the Vols ran at the end of regulation in attempt to make the game-winner. But Ellis threw an ill-advised pass to Steve Ray, and the Vols lost their opportunity to win at the end of regulation.

Tennessee coach Don DeVoe told Ellis to go with the shot if the opportunity arose again. It did, and Ellis made good.

"I don't think there's been a bigger shot in Tennessee basketball in a long time than the one Dale Ellis made," DeVoe said. "We were able to make the play at the end because they gave us the opportunity by making a turnover."

Overtime initially looked unlikely, as Tennessee built a 14-point first-half lead and led 38-25 at the start of the second half on a dunk by Ellis. The Rams erased the last two points of the deficit with a bucket from Kottak with 2:24 left in regulation to put the score at 56-56, which eventually forced the overtime.

Ellis finished with 22 points, and Wood scored 18. Greg McRay led the Rams with 23 points on 10-of-14 shooting.

NOTES: Tennessee received a first-round bye ... Tennessee's victory ended Virginia Commonwealth's 16-game winning streak, which was the longest in the nation.

1981 NCAA East Region — Regional Semifinal

#4	Tennessee (21-8)	48
#1	Virginia (27-3)	62

March 19, 1981 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

Virginia outscored Tennessee 27-4 over a 12-minute span in the second half en route to a 62-48 regional semifinal victory.

Tennessee stayed close in the first half but could never take the lead against the Ralph Sampson-led Cavaliers. The Cavaliers shot 61.5 percent from the field during the first 20 minutes, but could only manage a 27-26 lead at the break.

The Vols got things rolling early in the second half. Virginia made the first bucket of the half with a putback by Jeff Lamp. The Vols then outscored Virginia 10-2 over the next six minutes to take a 36-31 lead.

Lamp then scored six of the game's next eight points, with the other two coming from a jumper by Virginia's Othell Wilson. The Cavaliers led 39-36 with 11:14 left in the game and never looked back.

"We knew Lamp was their money player, but we didn't realize it on the floor today," Tennessee guard Michael Brooks said. "They had a great player who took control, made the great plays and got back and played defense. If he hadn't taken control at that point, they wouldn't have won."

Lamp scored a game-high 18 points. Jeff Jones and Lee Raker added 10 apiece for Virginia. Tennessee did slow down the All-America Sampson by holding him to a season-low nine points and five rebounds. He had only one point and one rebound in the second half.

The sagging defense to stop Sampson may have proved costly for the Vols. Sampson hit on only 4-of-13 shots, but the rest of the Cavaliers combined to hit 20-of-30 for 66.6 percent.

"You may take Ralph out of the offense, but you leave yourself vulnerable somewhere else," Virginia forward Terry Gates said. "Raker and Lamp have thrived off that."

NOTES: Virginia advanced to the Final Four before losing to North Carolina 78-65.

1982 NCAA East Region — First Round

#9	Tennessee (20-9)	61
#8	Southwestern Louisiana (24-8)	57
March 12, 1982 • Market Square Arena • Indianapolis, Ind.

Michael Brooks hit six free throws for Tennessee in the game's final minute to secure a 61-57 victory over Southwestern Louisiana.

"We did some things right that assured the win," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "The key was having the lead going into the final five minutes. We had our best foul shooters in the game, and we kept the ball in the best man's hands."

The Vols trailed 35-33 with 16:58 to play. Back-to-back buckets by Tyrone Beaman gave the Vols a 37-35 advantage, but a lay-up from Dion Brown for the Ragin' Cajuns tied the game at 37.

The Vols then outscored Southwestern Louisiana 14-6 over the game's next nine minutes to hold a 51-43 lead with 6:39 left to play. Two free throws from Dan Gay and a lay-up each from Alford Turner and Johnny Collins off of Vol turnovers cut the margin to 51-49.

Two free throws and a jumper from Dale Ellis opened the margin back up to 55-49 with just under four minutes to go.

"We got the ball to Dale Ellis in the second half," DeVoe said. "Those two turnovers were the turning point that allowed Southwestern Louisiana to come back. They got themselves back in the game because of their ability to persevere."

Ellis finished with a game-high 23 points, and Brooks finished with 16. Turner had 14 points to lead Southwestern Louisiana.

"We expected Ellis to be outstanding, and he certainly was," Southwestern Louisiana coach Bobby Paschal said. "We knew if they had the lead as the clock ran down, it would be difficult. They are an excellent free-throw shooting team. Near the end, we knew it was a calculated risk to foul, but there was no other way."

NOTES: Dale Ellis was named the SEC's Player of the Year, and Don DeVoe was named the league's Coach of the Year following the 1982 season.

1982 NCAA East Region — Second Round

#9	Tennessee (20-10)	51
#1	Virginia (30-3)	54
March 14, 1982 • Market Square Arena • Indianapolis, Ind.

Tennessee missed 4-of-5 free throws in the final 3:12, and Virginia's Ricky Stokes hit two with 15 seconds remaining to lift Virginia to a 54-51 victory in a rematch of a 1981 NCAA Tournament game.

Tennessee had made 10 consecutive free throws during the second half, but those shots didn't fall during crunch time. Tyrone Beaman missed the front end of a one-and-one and then missed the back end of a one-and-one. Michael Brooks, who hit six straight in the final minute of the first-round Vol victory two days prior, then missed the front end of a one-and-one. Dan Federmann followed that with a miss.

"When it got down to it, we choked at the foul line," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "We just did not do what it takes internally to win. Stokes just did what we could not do."

The one free throw the Vols did make in the game's closing minutes gave them a 51-47 lead, but Ralph Sampson hit back-to-back buckets to pull the Cavaliers even at 51. Tennessee had a chance to regain the lead, but Federmann missed the front end of his one-and-one. Stokes then made his two to give Virginia a 53-51 lead.

"We had the game under control," Tennessee forward Dale Ellis said. "All we had to do was hit the free throws. That has been a problem."

Tennessee had a chance to tie the game at 53, but the play never developed, and a long jumper by Brooks was off the mark. Jones then hit a free throw for the final margin of victory.

"We had the right person taking the shot," DeVoe said. "Michael was a little anxious. I didn't think the shot was that poor, but we never got into our play."

The Vols got off to a fast start and opened up a 10-point lead at 24-14 in the first half behind 14 points from Brooks. Jones finished the first half by scoring five points in the final 21 seconds to pull Virginia to within 32-25 at the break.

Virginia continued to rally in the second half, as Jones and Sampson sparked a 15-2 rally to give the Cavaliers a 43-40 lead with 10:41 to go.

Brooks then scored eight straight points for Tennessee to give the Vols a 48-45 lead with 6:11 left in the game.

NOTES: Virginia was upset by UAB 68-66 in the regional semifinals.

#9	Marquette (19-11)	56
#8	Tennessee (20-11)	57

March 18, 1982 • Roberts Municipal Stadium • Evansville, Ind.

Michael Brooks hit two free throws with five seconds left in the game to secure a 57-56 NCAA Tournament victory over Marquette.

Brooks only had 11 points in the game, but four came via the charity stripe in the game's final 61 seconds. Brooks' two free throws with 1:01 remaining gave the Vols a 55-53 lead. Dale Ellis and Jerald Hyatt had just missed opportunities at the foul line before Brooks gave the Vols their two-point lead.

Kevin Woods then came up with a steal on Marquette's ensuing possession and was fouled. He came up empty on the front end of a one-and-one. Doc Rivers countered by making one of his two free attempts on the next possession to cut the UT lead to 55-54 with 20 seconds left.

Brooks then brought the ball up court and was tied up in front of the Tennessee bench. It looked as though Brooks was going to be called for a five-second violation, but instead was fouled by Rivers. Brooks then sank the two free throws. Marquette's Kerry Trotter hit a lay-up at the buzzer to provide the final score.

"I wanted the ball," Brooks said. "I knew they would have to foul me because time was running out. I felt I could ice the game."

Brooks' free throws were his most obvious contribution to the Vol victory, but he also turned in a stellar performance on the defensive end. He held Rivers to 10 points and ran the Volunteer offense for 40 minutes. Rivers only hit 4-of-13 shots as Brooks guarded him most of the game.

"Michael sank those two free throws, but defense won this game," Tennessee guard Tyrone Beaman said. "He played probably his best defensive game. He came through for us in the clutch."

Tennessee trailed 43-38 with 11:38 remaining in the game, but a three-point play by Willie Burton, a bucket from Dale Ellis and two more free throws by Burton gave the Vols a 45-43 lead with 9:15 left. Tennessee then hit 10-of-15 free-throw attempts the rest of way including the two from Brooks. The only field goal the Vols scored in the last 10 minutes was a long jumper from Brooks.

NOTES: The victory over Marquette was the 100th for Don DeVoe at Tennessee ... Tennessee was only one of six teams to appear in the past five NCAA Tournaments, with the other teams being Arkansas, Georgetown, Iowa, Louisville and North Carolina.

1983 NCAA Midwest Region — Second Round

#8	Tennessee (20-12)	57
#1	Louisville (30-3)	70

March 20, 1982 • Roberts Municipal Stadium • Evansville, Ind.

Louisville used an 11-2 run midway through the second half to halt a Tennessee rally and post a 70-57 victory over the Vols.

The Cardinals used their pressure defense in the first half to force 10 Tennessee turnovers, which enabled Louisville to open up a 34-27 halftime lead. A 15-foot jumper from Lancaster Gordon and a layup from Charles Jones pushed the lead to 42-30 with 15:26 left in the game.

The Vols then mounted a rally. Two buckets apiece from Dale Ellis and Willie Burton keyed a 13-3 scoring run for the Vols as they pulled to within 45-43 with 10:26 on the clock.

Louisville then called timeout to regroup. The Cardinals responded with an 11-2 rally to open the lead back out to 56-45 with just under six minutes left in the game. Tennessee could get no closer than eight points the rest of the way.

"We had worked so hard to get that close," Tennessee point guard Tyrone Beaman said. "They get a couple of quick, easy baskets and it took a little bit out of everybody."

Ellis was held to 13 points, nine below his season average, on 6-of-13 shooting. Louisville's man-to-man defense made him work hard to get the ball, and the Cardinals' fast-break offense continually put pressure on the Vols to get back on defense.

"This is as tired as I've ever been on the court all year," Ellis said. "This is one of the worst shooting games ever. I missed a lot of easy shots."

Michael Brooks led the Vols with 18 points, and Beaman added 10. Louisville was led by Milt Wagner's 15 points and Scooter McCray's 10.

NOTES: The Midwest Regional Semifinals were held at Stokely Athletic Center ... Louisville advanced to the Final Four before losing 94-81 to Houston ... Ellis finished his career as the third all-time leading scorer at Tennessee behind Ernie Grunfeld and Reggie Johnson.

ALL-TIME NCAA GAME RECAPS

1989 NCAA East Region — First Round

#10 Tennessee (19-11) 68
 #7 West Virginia (26-4) 84

March 16, 1989 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

Tennessee fell behind by 10 points less than five minutes into the game and never recovered as West Virginia cruised to an 84-68 victory.

It was the Vols' first NCAA Tournament appearance in six years, but the Mountaineers made UT's visit a short one. West Virginia scored on its first nine possessions, and its defense frustrated the Vols throughout the game.

"West Virginia got the upper hand about as quickly as you can in an NCAA Tournament game," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "It was obviously a game where we didn't do many things right. West Virginia did a lot of things right, and the scoreboard bore that out."

Tennessee shot 29 percent from the floor in the first half and fell behind as many as 15 points. The Vols battled back to go into the break trailing 35-23, but the opening minutes of the second half once again put the Vols in a deep hole.

The Mountaineers scored the first six points of the second half, which keyed a 12-4 run that opened the lead to 47-27 with 16:51 left in the game. Tennessee got back to within 57-45 on a 3-pointer from Doug Roth, but West Virginia answered with two buckets. Tennessee never got closer than 12 points the rest of the game.

West Virginia shot a blistering 77 percent from the field in the second half on 17-of-22 shooting and finished the game at 62 percent. Tennessee finished the game shooting 38 percent from the field.

"It looked like to me the guys were playing a little tight at both ends of the floor," DeVoe said. "I know it's the NCAA (Tournament), but that's when you should bring your game up to another level."

Dyron Nix led the Vols with 22 points, and West Virginia native Greg Bell added 14. Starting guard Clarence Swearingen, who was averaging 12 points a game, played only 14 minutes and did not score.

NOTES: Tennessee had won five consecutive first round NCAA Tournament games before losing to West Virginia ... West Virginia lost to Duke 70-63 in the second round.

1998 NCAA West Region — First Round

#9 Illinois State (25-5) OT 82
 #8 Tennessee (20-9) 81

March 12, 1998 • Arco Arena • Sacramento, Calif.

The Vols had taken an 81-80 lead on C.J. Black's layup off a pass from Tony Harris with 15.4 seconds left before the game-winning bucket by Muller.

The Vols struggled in the second half with foul trouble and poor shooting. They finished the game shooting 36.7 percent from the field and had nearly a five-minute stretch in the second half without scoring. A free throw by Harris at the 7:13 mark finally broke the scoring drought, but the Vols found themselves down 66-58.

The Vols battled back to tie the score at 70 on Black's rebound and basket with 2:53 left. Tennessee took a 72-70 lead on Black's slam dunk off a pass from Brandon Wharton, but Illinois State tied the score on Steve Hansell's layup with 53 seconds left.

That gave the Vols the ball back with a chance to win. They worked the shot clock down to 17 seconds and the game clock down to 34.6 before calling a timeout.

Wharton took a 3-pointer from the top of the key with 22 seconds left, but missed and Illinois State rebounded.

The Redbirds had their own chance at a game-winning shot, but Hill missed a 14-foot jumper. The Vols rebounded and threw a desperation pass, but it was on to overtime.

Tennessee had opened up a nine-point lead in the first half but could not put the Redbirds away. Back-to-back 3-pointers from Rico Hill and Steve Hansell at the end of the half enabled the Redbirds to pull within 41-38 at the break.

NOTES: Illinois State's starting backcourt during the season did not play due to injury ... Skipp Schaeffbauer broke his leg in the MVC tournament; Jamar Smiley didn't start because of back problems ... Smiley got into the game, but immediately came out with a pain and was taken for treatment ... This was Tennessee's first appearance in the NCAA Tournament in nine years ... The Redbirds lost 82-49 to Arizona in the second round.

ALL-TIME NCAA GAME RECAPS

1999 NCAA East Region — First Round

#13	Delaware (24-6)	52
#4	Tennessee (21-8)	62

March 12, 1999 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

Tennessee's offense was sputtering, but the Vols turned up their defensive pressure to post a 62-52 victory over Delaware. It was the Vols' first NCAA Tournament win in 16 years.

The Vols shot only 33 percent from the field but held Delaware to 30 percent shooting. Forward Mike Pegues did score 23 points for Delaware, but it came on 7-of-23 shooting. Tennessee's perimeter defense held the Blue Hens starting perimeter players to 2-of-13 shooting from 3-point range.

"As long as we play defense like we did today, we have a chance to win, no matter how bad we shoot the ball," Tennessee guard Brandon Wharton said.

Wharton scored all 16 of his points in the second half after missing seven shots in the first half, including an uncontested layup after a steal.

"I just kept telling the players 'Continue to play good defense, and the shots are going to fall. Believe me. Trust me. They're going to fall,'" Tennessee coach Jerry Green said.

Two free throws from Pegues gave Delaware a 20-14 lead with 3:45 left in the first half. Tennessee then reeled off 11 unanswered points to open a 25-20 lead with 35 seconds left in the half. Pegues hit a jumper at the first half buzzer to pull the Blue Hens to within three at the break and then opened the second half with a 3-pointer to tie the game at 25.

Tennessee then got the offense rolling with a layup from Wharton, a 3-pointer from Tony Harris and a C.J. Black dunk. The Vols led 32-25 and never trailed again.

"We were almost too ready to play," Green said. "Survive and advance. That's what it's all about."

NOTES: Tennessee's win snapped Delaware's 13-game winning streak ... Delaware's point total and field-goal percentage were its lowest of the season ... Delaware won the America East Conference Tournament to earn its bid to the NCAA Tournament.

1999 NCAA East Region — Second Round

#9	SW Missouri State (22-10)	81
#4	Tennessee (21-9)	51

March 14, 1999 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

Poor shooting proved costly for the Vols as Southwest Missouri State gave Tennessee its worst loss ever in NCAA Tournament action with an 81-51 final.

Tennessee shot 29.5 percent from field and hit only 6-of-29 3-point attempts for 20.7 percent.

"Their defense didn't give us many open looks," forward Isiah Victor said. "And when they did, we weren't making those shots either, so it really didn't matter."

Southwest Missouri State, on the other hand, shot 51.9 percent from the field and hit 9-of-22 3-pointers. It was a 3-pointer at the end of the first half that seemed to douse all hopes of a Vol victory. Ken Stringer banked in a 25-footer at the buzzer to give the Bears a 36-26 halftime lead.

Southwest Missouri then opened the second half by scoring on nine of its first 10 possessions. The lead expanded to 58-33 with 12:38 to play.

"I'd say they played a perfect ball game," Tennessee coach Jerry Green said. "The more shots they hit, the more confident they got and the less we got. It seemed all the basketball gods were on their side and not on ours."

Tennessee never led in the game, as the Bears jumped out to a 9-2 lead 3:10 into the game. The Bears got two easy buckets off of Tennessee turnovers caused by a full-court press. It was all uphill from there.

NOTES: Southwest Missouri State lost to Duke in the Regional Semifinals ... Southwest Missouri State won the Missouri Valley Conference to earn its trip to the NCAA Tournament ... A Missouri Valley Conference team (Illinois State) also eliminated the Vols from the 1998 NCAA Tournament.

ALL-TIME NCAA GAME RECAPS

2000 NCAA South Region — First Round

#13 Louisiana-Lafayette (25-9) 58
 #4 Tennessee (25-6) 63

March 17, 2000 • Birmingham-Jefferson Civic Center • Birmingham, Ala.

Tony Harris made two free throws with 10.8 seconds to play to help Tennessee seal a 63-58 victory over Louisiana-Lafayette.

Louisiana-Lafayette cut UT's lead to two at 60-58 on Brett Smith's jumper with 45 seconds to play. With the shot clock running down, Harris made a move to the basket and appeared to turn the ball over to Smith. But Smith was called for a reach-in foul that sent Harris to the line with 15 seconds to play. He missed the front end of the one-and-one, Ron Slay got the rebound and was flagrantly fouled by Smith with 13 seconds to go, allowing Tennessee to keep the ball after the free throws.

Slay missed both free throws, and UT in-bounded the ball to Harris, who was quickly fouled. Harris hit both shots to seal the victory.

Tennessee trailed most of the game. The Vols were down 48-42 with just under 10 minutes left to play. Slay, a freshman from Nashville, then got the Vols' offense rolling. Slay scored 11 of his 15 points in the final 8:15, including a coast-to-coast drive that he converted into a three-point play. Slay's drive cut what had been a six-point Louisiana-Lafayette lead to 48-45 with 8:15 remaining.

"When Ron took it all the way, I felt we had 'Mo' (momentum) back on our side and had it going the right direction," UT coach Jerry Green said.

Slay's 8-footer inside the Cajuns' variation of a 2-3 zone defense broke a 54-54 tie at the 4:07 mark. He hit a similar shot to make it 60-56, Vols, with 1:48 to play.

"We struggled offensively, but our defense kept us in the game," Green said. "We did just exactly what we had to do down the stretch to win the game."

Harris and Slay led Tennessee with 15 points each. C.J. Black added 14 while shooting 10-of-10 from the foul line, and Vincent Yarbrough scored 11. Lonnie Thomas led the Cajuns with 19 points.

NOTES: Louisiana-Lafayette earned its bid to the NCAA Tournament by winning the Sun Belt Conference.

2000 NCAA South Region — Second Round

#5 Connecticut (25-10) 51
 #4 Tennessee (26-6) 65

March 19, 2000 • Birmingham-Jefferson Civic Center • Birmingham, Ala.

Tennessee capitalized on an ankle injury that limited Connecticut point guard Khalid El-Amin to one basket in 13 minutes and posted a 65-51 victory. The Vols made school history by winning two games in the NCAA Tournament for the first time.

The Vols trailed only once, at 4-2, and had the upper hand, 32-22 by halftime. The Huskies cut a 12-point deficit to 38-34 when El-Amin hit his only basket, a 3-pointer, with 13:36 to play.

Vol freshman Jon Higgins answered with his own 3-pointer 14 seconds later, igniting a 16-4 run that put the game away.

Connecticut went 6:15 without scoring during the major portion of that stretch, missing six consecutive shots and turning the ball over twice.

One was a Higgins steal and break-away that ended up being juggled and dishd to Vincent Yarbrough for a dunk and subsequent free throw. The three-point play restored the margin to 44-34.

Tony Harris led the Vols with 18 points and shot 9-of-12 from the foul stripe. Yarbrough got 11 of his 14 in the first half, helping shoot the Huskies out of a zone defense with three 3-pointers. C.J. Black added 13 points, 10 in the second half, as UT penetrated UConn's defense for dunks and free throws.

The Vol defense also stood tall by converting seven steals into 14 points and holding the Huskies to 38.6 percent shooting. UT shot 44.7 percent from field which was up from 33.3 percent in the first round victory.

"We played awfully good," Tennessee coach Jerry Green said. "That could have been as good as we played all year. Time and again, making the extra pass—or passes—produced good looks against the UConn defense."

Albert Mouring scored 17 points to lead the Huskies, and El-Amin was limited to three points, 13 below his season average.

NOTES: The 51 points was a season-low for the Huskies ... Connecticut was the defending NCAA champion, having won the 1999 NCAA Tournament with a 77-74 title-game victory over Duke.

2000 NCAA South Region — Regional Semifinal

#8	North Carolina (21-13)	74
#4	Tennessee (26-7)	69

March 24, 2000 • Frank Erwin Center • Austin, Texas

Ed Cota spurred a late second-half comeback, then he and freshmen Joseph Forte and Julius Peppers hit six straight free throws in the final 34.9 seconds, giving North Carolina a 74-69 victory over Tennessee in the South Regional semifinals.

The Tar Heels' winning rally kicked into top gear when Forte drilled a 3-pointer and Jason Capel hit a layup to get the Tar Heels within 64-63. Cota made a running jumper in the lane and then hit another floater to make it 66-64 with 2:00 left. Tennessee's scoring drought, which left the Vols without a field goal since 7:15, ended with 13.6 seconds left when Tony Harris made his first basket of the night, a 3-pointer.

"I thought for about 35 minutes, we played awfully well," Tennessee coach Jerry Green said. "Then we started trying to make hard plays, and it wasn't just one person, it was about four or five different people. And while we were making hard plays, they were making baskets."

Tennessee got off to a slow start as North Carolina led by seven early. Then, the Vols' speed and athleticism carried them to a 22-7 run and a nine-point lead. Capel kept the Tar Heels close by scoring the last five points of the first half, pulling North Carolina to within 39-36.

"I can't really put it into words," Vincent Yarbrough said of the loss. "I thought we had the game won, but they just out-played us in the last four minutes. We came out of the last timeout and still thought we had the game, but they made some shots and that was the game."

C.J. Black led the Volunteers with 17 points, Yarbrough had 13 and Ron Slay added 12. Isiah Victor had 11. Forte scored a game-high 22 for the Tar Heels, while Brendan Haywood and Cota each scored 11, followed by Kris Lang with 10.

NOTES: North Carolina defeated Tulsa 74-69 in the Regional Finals to advance to the Final Four ... The Tar Heels then lost to Florida, 59-71, in the national semifinals in Indianapolis.

2001 NCAA Midwest Region — First Round

#9	Charlotte (22-10)	70
#8	Tennessee (22-11)	63

March 16, 2001 • University of Dayton Arena • Dayton, Ohio

Poor shooting in the second half was too much for Tennessee to overcome, as the Vols fell 70-63 to Charlotte in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

The Vols finished the game shooting 42 percent from the field but shot only 31 percent in the second half. The Vols also hit only 1-of-7 free-throw attempts and 1-of-11 3-point attempts in the second half. Free-throw shooting plagued the Vols the entire game as they made only 7-of-18. The Vols missed four free throws late in the second half, including the front-end of two one-and-ones.

"We just couldn't make a shot," UT head coach Jerry Green said. "From a coach's perspective, it's frustrating and you feel like you missed an opportunity. But again, those same guys are the ones over the last several years who have made those free throws."

Tennessee opened the game by hitting 10 of its first 17 shots to take a 26-18 lead. Foul trouble proved costly though, and Charlotte was able to come back and tie the game at 43 at the half.

The opening of the second half was the mirror opposite of the first half. The Vols scored only four points in the first 10:30 of the second half and were down 52-50 after a 3-point shot by Jon Higgins with 9:20 to play.

By that point, Tennessee had hit only two of 12 shots in the half while committing nine turnovers.

Charlotte eventually opened up a 59-50 lead with 6:59 to play. The Vols battled back and had the ball down 66-63 with just under 40 seconds left in the game. Tony Harris' 3-point attempt was off the mark, and the 49ers got the rebound. Jobey Thomas made four free throws in the final 24 seconds to seal the victory for Charlotte.

NOTES: Tennessee was seeded eighth and Charlotte was the No. 9 seed ... Charlotte lost to No. 1 seeded Illinois in the second round ... UT fell to 8-14 all-time in the NCAA Tournament ... The Vols made their first appearance in the Midwest Region ... UT's 191 blocked shots on the season ranked second all-time in school history.

ALL-TIME NCAA GAME RECAPS

2006 Washington D.C. Region — First Round

#15 Winthrop (23-8) 61
#2 Tennessee (22-7) 63

March 16, 2006 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

Dane Bradshaw found a streaking Chris Lofton with an inbound pass with 2.9 seconds left, and Lofton buried a jumper over Winthrop's Torrell Martin to give Tennessee a 63-61 victory to advance to the second round of the Washington D.C. Regional.

"It was a good look, but he was all up on me," Lofton said. "It still felt good."

The frantic finish capped a heart-pounding game that featured nine ties and eight lead changes, the final one coming on Lofton's shot. His were the only points in the final 2:42, as both teams squandered chances to advance to the second round.

"It was a real gut check for both teams," UT head coach Bruce Pearl said. "Both teams were physically exhausted at the end of that game."

The Vols had a couple of opportunities in the final seconds. Point guard C.J. Watson missed a 3-pointer, but Tennessee retained possession when Bradshaw chased down a long rebound on the other end of the court. Pearl called a timeout to set up the play, with Bradshaw throwing it in.

The first option was for a lob pass to 6-foot-7 Andre Patterson, but when he was covered, Bradshaw looked for Lofton.

"I thought they were going to come to me the whole time, unless we got an easy shot, of course," Lofton said.

His was anything but, and after it went in with four-tenths of a second on the clock, the Tennessee players mobbed Watson. Winthrop coach Gregg Marshall used his final timeout, and James Shuler's long pass bounced off the backboard to Craig Bradshaw. Bradshaw's shot clanged off the rim, allowing the Volunteers to hang on.

The Volunteers survived despite its All-SEC backcourt of Watson and Lofton shooting a combined 8-of-24 from the field and 3-of-15 from 3-point range. It was Tennessee's frontcourt of Major Wingate and Patterson that carried the Vols. Wingate had a team-high 15 points, and Patterson had a double-double with 12 points and 11 rebounds.

"You can definitely make the case that this was good for us, the way it turned out," Dane Bradshaw said. "Coach says the teams we play obviously will continue to get better, but the situation we were in won't get any tougher."

2006 Washington D.C. Region — Second Round

#7 Wichita State (26-8) 80
#2 Tennessee (22-8) 73

March 18, 2006 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

Wichita State went on a 7-0 run to break a 65-all tie and the Shockers never looked back, defeating Tennessee 80-73 to advance to the Sweet Sixteen in Washington D.C.

Karon Bradley hit a short jumper to break the tie, and on the next possession, with the shot clock winding down, P.J. Cousnard stepped back and launched a straightaway 3-pointer that swished through the net giving the Shockers a lead they wouldn't relinquish. Wichita State advanced to the NCAA Tournament's round of 16 for the first time in 25 years.

Chris Lofton - who hit a last-second shot to beat Winthrop 63-61 in the first round - and eventual NBA point guard C.J. Watson each scored 20 points to lead the Volunteers. Major Wingate finished with 15 points, seven rebounds and five blocks.

"We'll be back," Pearl said. "I'm very, very proud of these young men. I can't tell you how many people have written or called and said how much they enjoyed this basketball team. This Tennessee basketball team will go down as one of the all-time best, and this was the group that got it started."

Tennessee led 63-58 on a pair of free throws from Watson with 5:42 left, but the Shockers rallied to tie it at 63 on a 3-pointer from Sean Ogirri.

After the teams traded baskets, Bradley drained a jumper from just outside the lane for a 67-65 lead with 2:12 left. Cousnard followed with the stepback 3-pointer over Dane Bradshaw for a 70-65 lead with 1:05 left.

Ogirri closed the spurt with two free throws for a 72-65 lead with 50.5 seconds left. Tennessee twice cut the deficit to three points in the final seconds. But the Vols got no closer, as Wichita State went 8-for-10 at the foul line in the final minute to seal it.

"I think we were in a position where we had them where we wanted them," said Bradshaw, who had two points and three steals. "I guess we just didn't execute. I'm not sure really what happened."

NOTES: Wichita State lost to eventual Final Four participant George Mason 63-55 in the Sweet Sixteen.

2007 South Region — First Round

#12	Long Beach State (24-8)	86
#5	Tennessee (23-10)	121

March 16, 2007 • Nationwide Arena • Columbus, Ohio

Tennessee scored early, often and then scored some more as the Vols matched the most points ever scored by a team in a first-round NCAA Tournament game in its 121-86 dismantling of Long Beach State.

Chris Lofton led the way with 25 points. JaJuan Smith added 24 points, Ramar Smith 22, Duke Crews 12 and Wayne Chism 10 points, while Dane Bradshaw dished out a career-best 11 assists.

"It really was (fun)," Lofton said. "We're used to playing like that. When a team plays (uptempo) like that, we get excited. It was just a fast-paced game, and we put the 'fast' back in 'fast break.'"

Both teams came in averaging 80 points—putting them among the top 11 in the nation—so it wasn't a shocker that baskets came in bunches.

"I like an identity for a program. This is our identity," UT coach Bruce Pearl said. "We've never finished second in (any league in) scoring in 14 or 15 years I've been a head coach. I enjoy being uptempo and being aggressive in transition. We'll put four or five guys on the floor that can score, and they've got a lot of freedom."

Lofton led the way, as the Volunteers shot 59 percent from the field and made 14 of 27 3-pointers. He hit half of his eight shots behind the arc and JaJuan Smith hit 4-of-6.

Each team hit seven 3-pointers in a wild opening half that featured the Volunteers racing to a 29-12 lead in the opening seven and a half minutes. They did it with precision shooting, their full-court press and trapping pressure.

Lofton keyed the defense, with two steals leading to a pair of layups in a 5-second span.

Ahead 57-45 at the break, the Volunteers ran off 12 of the first 14 points in the second half—seven by Lofton—to build the lead to 69-47.

From then on, the points mounted. The Volunteers reached 90 with 10 minutes left.

"We knew we had to score," Ramar Smith said. "We knew it was going to be a high-scoring game, and we came out and scored."

2007 South Region — Second Round

#4	Virginia (21-11)	74

March 18, 2007 • Nationwide Arena • Columbus, Ohio

JaJuan Smith scored 13 of his 16 points in the second half, Ryan Childress scored all 10 of his points in the second half and Chris Lofton made six consecutive free throws in the final seconds as the Volunteers held off Virginia 77-74 in the second round of the NCAA Tournament to propel fifth-seeded Tennessee (24-10) to the round of 16 for the first time since 2000.

"When you reach the Sweet Sixteen at the University of Tennessee with the way we've had to rebuild, you've made a special place in history for yourself," Vols veteran Dane Bradshaw said.

The Vols had to hold on for dear life to advance past the second round. After taking a 10-point lead midway through the second half, Virginia came roaring back, cutting the lead to two after an Adrian Joseph basket.

But in the end, the Volunteers advanced by having their best player make the easiest shot of all. Lofton, the Southeastern Conference's Player of the Year, hit all six of his free throws in the last 27.7 seconds, keeping Tennessee ahead. He finished with 20 points.

"I started forcing shots," said Lofton, who was an uncharacteristic 4-of-16 from the field but 9-of-10 on free throws. "Coach (Pearl) kept telling me to be patient. Luckily, I got to the foul line and came through."

Virginia still had a chance as they got the ball back after Lofton's last made free throw, but point guard Sean Singletary missed an open 3-pointer with one second left.

In the opening minute, Reynolds and Lofton turned it into a game of H-O-R-S-E. Reynolds hit a 3-pointer from the top of the key on Virginia's first possession, and Lofton responded with a longer trey a minute later.

The challenge was on, and Reynolds was on his game. He was at his best during an 18-3 spurt that gave Virginia a 36-25 lead.

Then, it was Tennessee's turn.

JaJuan Smith had a three-point play and a steal-and-layup during a 15-2 spurt early in the second half that put Tennessee ahead for good 54-44. At that point, Singletary brought Virginia back, cutting the lead to 61-59.

Smith ended the comeback by hitting a 3-pointer, then taking a charge from Singletary.

2007 South Region — Regional Semifinal

#5	Tennessee (24-11)	84
#1	Ohio State (33-3)	85

March 22, 2007 • Alamodome • San Antonio, Texas

With talented freshman center Greg Oden mired in foul trouble, the top-seeded Buckeyes fell behind by 20 points before halftime. But senior Ron Lewis and fellow freshman Mike Conley bailed out Oden and lifted Ohio State past Tennessee, 85-84, in the semifinals of the NCAA South Regional.

"We played about as well in the first half, I think, as we can play," Tennessee coach Bruce Pearl said. "We're terribly disappointed. We've proven we can beat some of the best teams in the country. We've also proven we can come close to beating some of the best teams in the country."

Conley had nine of his 17 from the foul line - including the winner with 6.5 seconds left.

But Conley missed a second shot, giving Tennessee one last chance. Ramar Smith grabbed the rebound and went all the way to the rim with Conley defending him. Smith's shot went up just before time expired.

Then it was Oden to the rescue, swatting the ball into the Volunteers' cheerleaders, while Smith landed hard in front of the Tennessee bench.

After trailing 49-29 in the final minute of the first half, the Buckeyes got a little back with a three-point play in the final second before intermission. Then came a 16-5 spurt, keyed by six Conley free throws. Fittingly, his pair of foul shots tied it at 64.

Things went back and forth from there, with 6-9 Ryan Childress hitting two 3-pointers for Tennessee and Conley making a three-point play but also missing a pair of free throws.

Ohio State tied it at 79 with 2:44 left on David Lighty's eighth 3-pointer of the season. It was a biggie because the Buckeyes never trailed again.

SEC Player of the Year Chris Lofton scored 24 points to lead Tennessee. He was 6-of-13 on 3-pointers, including one that tied it at 82 only seconds after Lewis had put Ohio State ahead with a trey of his own.

Smith scored 15 points and JaJuan Smith added 14 points and eight rebounds. Childress had 12, hitting 4-of-5 behind the arc.

Tennessee avoided Oden from the start by shooting 3-pointers over him, taking a slim lead. Then, he got his second foul with 10:48 to go in the half, and the Vols began attacking inside and out.

NOTES: Ohio State advanced all the way to the national championship game, where it fell to No. 1-seeded Florida 84-75.

2008 East Region — First Round

#15	American (21-12)	57
#2	Tennessee (30-4)	72

March 21, 2008 • BJCC Arena • Birmingham, Ala.

Tennessee avoided a massive first-round upset in the NCAA Tournament, breaking away from American 72-57 in the first round of the East Regional.

Believing the Volunteers deserved better than the No. 2 seed given them, guard JaJuan Smith wrote "No. 1 seed" on his orange-and-white sneakers. Facing a team making its NCAA Tournament debut, it was hardly a walkover.

Sluggish at the start and outlasted nearly the whole way, the second-seeded Vols turned it on late to avoid the upset.

Ahead 53-51 with 5:45 left, Tennessee held the 15th-seeded Eagles to only one basket the rest of the way.

"We just weren't playing our game," Smith said. "We were a little sloppy, but we turned it on at the end."

Smith finished with 19 points. Wayne Chism added 16 and helped Tennessee wear down the Eagles.

Tied at 40 with 11 minutes left, Tennessee finally put together a 10-0 run with Smith hitting a big 3-pointer. A pair of treys by Brian Gilmore gave American its late chance.

"I thought they came in confident. I thought they came in knowing that they could play with us," UT coach Bruce Pearl said.

Garrison Carr, the MVP of the Patriot League Tournament, poured in 24 points. The sharpshooter tried to keep American close all by himself, taking on the whole Tennessee team in a game of H-O-R-S-E. The Vols threw five different defenders at him, hoping to weave through a staggered series of hard picks.

"One person can't guard him. He comes off eight or nine screens," All-American Tennessee guard Chris Lofton said. "I had to take a break in the first half. I was dead."

Tennessee relies on a controlled brand of chaos, but they struggled at the start, and Lofton was a non-factor. Starting UT point guard Ramar Smith sat out the first half.

The Eagles threw their bodies around more than the Vols and held a 39-27 rebound edge, including 18-6 on the offensive end.

2008 East Region — Second Round

#7 Butler (30-4) 71
 #2 Tennessee (31-4) OT 76

March 23, 2008 • BJCC Arena • Birmingham, Ala.

Tennessee scrapped, pounded, grabbed and survived. The second-seeded Vols mostly ditched the glamorous 3-pointer and got physical in the second-round, moving on with a 76-71 overtime victory over Butler.

Vols senior JaJuan Smith hit four straight free throws in the final 13.6 seconds of overtime, and the Vols advanced to their second consecutive Sweet Sixteen.

Tennessee scored 38 points in the paint, had five players with multiple fouls by halftime and made only two 3-pointers in the final 40 minutes against the Bulldogs.

"Fatigue was a factor for them at some point, because of the way we guarded them," UT coach Bruce Pearl said. "We really played great defense tonight and did what we needed to do on the boards."

The Vols scored six straight points inside after the Bulldogs took their first lead in the final two minutes of overtime, including point guard Ramar Smith's basket with 27 seconds left to make it 72-68.

Butler's Pete Campbell followed a missed shot to make it 72-70 with 16 seconds left. JaJuan Smith then made both free throws.

Wayne Chism led foul-plagued Tennessee with 16 points, while Tyler Smith added 15 and eight rebounds and JaJuan Smith had 11. J.P. Prince had nine points, seven rebounds, five assists—and six of the Vols' 20 turnovers.

The Bulldogs, who couldn't catch up to UT for the first 37-plus minutes, took their first lead on A.J. Graves' short jumper in the paint to make it 68-66 with 1:46 left in overtime. Ramar Smith and Chism both scored inside as UT reclaimed the lead inside the final minute.

Tyler Smith then blocked Graves from behind, and Chism won the scramble for the loose ball and called timeout with 33 seconds left.

Ramar Smith then scored, coming up with a big play after losing his starting job to J.P. Prince, an Arizona transfer who made his first start for Tennessee.

Graves led Butler with 21 points. Campbell, who made eight 3-pointers in the first round, added 12 points and Willie Veasley had 11.

The Vols tried to set the tone early, sinking three 3-pointers and forcing five turnovers in the first five minutes en route to a 21-8 lead.

2008 East Region — Regional Semifinal

#3 Louisville (26-8) 79
 #2 Tennessee (31-5) 60

March 27, 2008 • Charlotte Bobcats Arena • Charlotte, N.C.

One of the most successful seasons in Tennessee basketball history came to a close as third-seeded Louisville downed the second-seeded Volunteers 79-60 in the East Regional final.

Earl Clark scored 17 points and had 12 rebounds, and UL head coach Rick Pitino's mix of defenses made life miserable for SEC Champion Tennessee.

After Louisville's two blowout wins earlier in the tournament, Pitino's signature zone and pressure limited the high-scoring Volunteers to 34-percent shooting.

"I've been coaching a long time and never has the tempo of the game been dictated so much by an opponent," UT coach Bruce Pearl said. "We usually dictate tempo. We attacked the pressure and we had an opportunity to hurt the press, but we just didn't finish."

Louisville nearly blew all of a 16-point first-half lead, only to take control midway through the second half.

All-American guard Chris Lofton scored 15 points for Tennessee, but was 3-for-15 in his final game as a Vol.

"They wouldn't leave me," Lofton said. "It was tough to get my shot off. They're a great defensive team."

After a slow start, Tennessee got within 37-36 early in the second half thanks to its own defensive pressure, which forced 20 turnovers.

But then the springy Clark, who had come on in the NCAA Tournament, had a driving layup, hit a baseline jumper and converted a three-point play during a 13-5 run.

Louisville's defense didn't allow Tennessee to get back in it again, and the Cardinals hit all nine free throws over the final five minutes to keep Tennessee at bay.

JaJuan Smith added 12 points for UT, and Tyler Smith had 11.

"This doesn't take much away from the finest season in the history of Tennessee basketball," Pearl said. "No team has accomplished the things these guys accomplished this year, and I'm awfully proud of them."

NOTES: Louisville lost to No. 1-seeded North Carolina 83-73 in the Elite Eight.

2009 East Region — First Round

#9 Tennessee (21-13) 75
 #8 Oklahoma State (23-11) 77

March 20, 2009 • University of Dayton Arena • Dayton, Ohio

After 40 hard-fought minutes of basketball, Oklahoma State outlasted Tennessee to earn a 77-75 decision in the first round of the NCAA Tournament at University of Dayton Arena in Dayton, Ohio.

"We played a lot of good basketball out there today, and we played against a really good team, one of the better teams we played in a few weeks, and we're right there," UT head coach Bruce Pearl said.

Cowboys point guard Byron Eaton put his team ahead for good after a three-point play with 7.2 seconds showing on the clock. Eaton drove to the basket for a layup and made the ensuing free throw after being fouled by Vols forward Tyler Smith.

With one final shot for the Vols, Smith came off a ball screen and launched a 3-pointer, only to see it rim out at the buzzer.

"It's a shot that he takes and makes a lot at the end of practice," Pearl said. "I didn't want anybody else taking that last shot."

Smith led the Big Orange with 21 points, including a perfect 10-for-10 performance at the foul line. Redshirt freshman guard Cameron Tatum followed with 12 points, and junior Wayne Chism added 11 points.

Paced by Eaton's 20 points, Oklahoma State also received a lift from Marshall Moses' double-double performance of 16 points and 11 rebounds.

The game concluded Tennessee's fourth consecutive NCAA Tournament bid under Pearl.

NOTES: Oklahoma State lost to No. 1-seeded Pittsburgh 84-76 in the second round.

2010 Midwest Region — First Round

#11 San Diego State (25-9) 59
 #6 Tennessee (26-8) 62

March 18, 2010 • Dunkin' Donuts Center • Providence, R.I.

Melvin Goins made his fourth 3-pointer with 19 seconds left after San Diego State cut the deficit to one point, and Tennessee held off the Aztecs 62-59 at the Dunkin' Donuts Center in Providence, R.I., to advance to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

Goins and J.P. Prince scored 15 points apiece for the sixth-seeded Volunteers on coach Bruce Pearl's 50th birthday.

"That was a very defensive-minded game," Pearl said. "Both teams can really defend. The way we won the game was the way the kids have been winning all year long—really resilient. We didn't play very well. San Diego State had a lot to do with that."

D.J. Gay had 16 points for No. 11 seed San Diego State, which won the Mountain West Conference. Future NBA standout Kawhi Leonard scored 12 with 10 rebounds for SDSU, but he missed a well-guarded 3-pointer at the buzzer that would have tied it.

Making their fifth straight tournament appearance, the Vols did their best to erase the memory of last year's first-round loss to Oklahoma State—the only time they've failed to win a game in the tournament under Pearl (a native of nearby Sharon, Mass.).

Up six before Gay's 3-pointer made it 53-50 with 4:15 left, the Vols made it a five-point lead on Bobby Maze's free throws. Kelvin Davis hit a pair of free throws and Billy White made a jumper for San Diego State to make it 55-54 with just under two minutes left.

Brian Williams and Gay exchanged free throws, then J.P. Prince missed a pair of foul shots with 47 seconds left and the Vols still nursing a one-point lead. But Wayne Chism grabbed the rebound, and Tennessee ran another 28 seconds off the clock before Goins hit a 3-pointer to make it 60-56.

"I think the shot clock was at about seven seconds," said Goins, who was right in front of the Tennessee bench when he got the ball. "Even before I got the ball, I heard coach yelling, 'Stick, stick, stick.' That gave me confidence to shoot."

Goins then fouled Gay during a 3-point attempt, and the San Diego State guard made all three foul shots. But Chism made two free throws at the other end with 7.4 seconds left and then hustled to contest Leonard on the final shot.

Goins was 4 for 5 from 3-point range, and the Vols went 8 for 17 from beyond the arc.

2010 Midwest Region — Second Round

#14	Ohio (22-15)	68
#6	Tennessee (27-8)	83

March 20, 2010 • Dunkin' Donuts Center • Providence, R.I.

J.P. Prince scored 18 points and Scotty Hopson had 17 to lead sixth-seeded Tennessee to an 83-68 victory over Ohio at the Dunkin' Donuts Center in Providence, R.I., helping the Volunteers reach their third Sweet Sixteen in four years.

"J.P. Prince was the best player in this regional," UT head coach Bruce Pearl said. "He played as well as any player in the tournament this weekend."

Tennessee earned a matchup with No. 2-seed Ohio State in St. Louis. The Volunteers have never gotten past the third round, including losses to Ohio State and Louisville under Pearl in 2007 and 2008.

"I've been there twice already and came up short twice," said Wayne Chism, who had nine points and 12 rebounds. "I'm happy to be back on that stage again, I can't wait to get there."

Chism joined former Tennessee All-Americans Chris Lofton and Dale Ellis as the only Vols ever to score 100 career points in the NCAA Tournament, as his nine-game total stands at 101.

Tommy Freeman scored 23 points for Ohio, which was the lowest-seeded team to get out of the first round. But he didn't get enough help from Armon Bassett and D.J. Cooper, the guards who starred in a first-round victory over third-seeded Georgetown before combining for 23 points on seven-for-23 shooting against Tennessee.

"The plan from the jump was to stop those guards," UT junior center Brian Williams said, "and then dominate underneath and on the boards."

The Vols did just that, outscoring the Mid-American Conference champions, 58-12, in the paint and winning the battle of the boards 41-33.

The Bobcats trailed by six points midway through the second half before the Volunteers went on a 10-1 run to put it away.

The Volunteers took the lead with an 18-2 run that started with 12 minutes left in the first half, turning a two-point deficit into a 14-point lead. Ohio kept firing 3-point shots—they attempted 26 in the game, making 10—but never got any closer than 50-45.

"Our top five guys aren't necessarily going to win in this tournament, but our 10 can," said Pearl, whose bench held a 28-0 advantage over the Bobcats. "This is a team with many dimensions, and when we defend and rebound we've got a chance to win."

2010 Midwest Region — Regional Semifinal

#2	Ohio State (29-8)	73
#6	Tennessee (28-8)	76

March 26, 2010 • Edward Jones Dome • St. Louis, Mo.

Brian Williams scored the go-ahead basket on a tip-in with 32 seconds left, Bobby Maze converted a pair of late free throws and J.P. Prince blocked a desperation 3-pointer at the buzzer, leading Tennessee past Ohio State 76-73 in the Midwest Region semifinal and into the NCAA Tournament's round of eight for the first time in UT's 101-year hardwood history.

Wayne Chism finished with 22 points—all but four in the second half—and 11 rebounds for the sixth-seeded Vols, who pulled out a back-and-forth tussle after going 0-5 in its previous regional semifinal chances.

As the final buzzer sounded, Tennessee players let out screams of joy and sprinted onto the court.

Ohio State's Evan Turner—the National Player of the Year—finished with 31 points, 21 in the second half, but the rest of the Buckeyes were just 3-of-16 from the field in the second half. Jon Diebler, so big for Ohio State in the first two rounds, shot 1-of-7 from 3-point range.

William Buford scored 15 points, and David Lighty added nine for OSU, which had won four of its previous five meetings against UT, including a matchup in the 2007 regional semifinals.

After making only three baskets in the first half, Turner surpassed that output in the first 5:12 of the second half. Lighty finally gave him some help, scoring on a layup to put Ohio State in front 59-56 with 7:37 to play.

But Tennessee responded with a 12-4 run, getting contributions from four different players.

Chism gave the Vols a 12-70 lead with 1:39 to play. Turner came up with yet another big play, swishing a 3-pointer from just beyond the arc with less than 42 seconds to go. But Williams, a big, bruising center, tipped in Prince's miss on a layup.

Turner missed at the other end and Kyle Madsen lost the ball under the basket. With less than 13 seconds left, Turner fouled Maze, who after a timeout, coolly blew a kiss to someone in the Tennessee fan section. He made both free throws, giving Tennessee a 76-73 lead.

Turner had two more opportunities—and he had knocked down last-second shots before. But this time, he missed from deep in the left corner, then got the ball back. His last shot from near the top of the key didn't even get to the rim, as Prince managed to elevate, extend his arm and make an athletic block.

"Turner got a little bit of a look, but it wasn't very good," Pearl said. "Now we're going to go see if we can live every kid's dream."

2010 Midwest Region — Regional Final

#5 Michigan State (28-8) 70
 #6 Tennessee (28-9) 69

March 28, 2010 • Edward Jones Dome • St. Louis, Mo.

Tennessee outshot Michigan State, equaled the Spartans—statistically, the nation's best rebounders—on the boards and had one fewer turnover.

"The numbers look pretty good," Volunteers coach Bruce Pearl conceded, glancing at the box score.

But defensive lapses at the end of both halves during the Midwest Regional Final at the Edward Jones Dome doomed the Vols, as MSU advanced by a score of 70-69.

"This one won't go away... forever," Pearl said.

Tennessee led 41-37 as the last seconds ticked off before intermission. After a couple of missed shots, MSU retained possession with one second left when the ball went out of bounds under its basket.

Forward Draymond Green cut through the lane, took a pass from guard Durrell Summers and laid in a shot at the buzzer, halving the Vols' halftime edge.

After surviving a 14-1 Spartans run and charging back from an eight-point deficit in the second half, UT forged a 69-69 tie when Scotty Hopson made the first of two free throws with 11 seconds left. Hopson missed the second, setting up the final, decisive sequence.

Spartans guard Korie Lucious corralled the rebound, hustled into the frontcourt then dished to Green near the top of the circle. Green wheeled to his right and spied forward Raymar Morgan under the basket, waving his arms frantically.

Green whipped a pass to Morgan, who was fouled by UT senior guard J.P. Prince with 1.8 seconds remaining.

Morgan made the first free throw, then purposely clanked the next. The Vols called a timeout with 1.6 seconds left, but Prince's half-court heave at the buzzer fell short.

"We didn't get back defensively," Pearl said. "They got the ball way too close to the basket, got way too good a look."

Despite the wrenching defeat, Pearl declared that Tennessee took a "major step" by reaching its first-ever Elite Eight and posting the second-highest win total in school history (28).

"We came to this regional to win it and get to the Final Four," Pearl said. "But I'm proud of my seniors and proud of our basketball program."

NOTES: Michigan State lost to Butler 52-50 in the Final Four.

2011 West Region — Second Round

#8 Michigan (21-13) 75
 #9 Tennessee (19-15) 45

March 18, 2011 • Time Warner Cable Arena • Charlotte, N.C.

Tennessee's NCAA Tournament run ended early as the Volunteers were dealt a 75-45 loss to eighth-seeded Michigan at Time-Warner Cable Arena in the second round of West Region action.

It was a tale of two halves for the Volunteers. During the first 20 minutes of play, UT shot 45 percent from the floor on 9-of-20 shooting and went 10-of-12 from the free-throw line. Trailing 33-29 at halftime, the game remained close until a stretch of Tennessee turnovers fueled a 16-0 Michigan run.

The Vols shot a humble 26 percent from the floor in the second half and only managed to get to the stripe four times. Michigan pulled away, outscoring UT 42-16 after shooting 18-of-28 in the second half.

To Michigan's credit, the undersized Wolverines out-rebounded Tennessee 36-26 and outscored UT in the paint 46-22. Both marks were nails the Vols had hung their hat on all year.

After a perfect 6-of-6 shooting performance in the first half, Tennessee Freshman All-American Tobias Harris went a scoreless 0-of-5 shooting in the second half. Still, the Dix Hills, N.Y., native led the Vols with 19 points.

"We just didn't play with heart out there," Harris said. "Michigan came out and made shots and we just did a terrible job of trying to cover them. On the offensive end, we rushed too many shots."

The loss marked the first time UT finished with fewer than 20 wins during head coach Bruce Pearl's tenure.

NOTES: The game marked the end of Bruce Pearl's six-year tenure as head coach, as he was relieved of his duties March 21, 2010 ... The game also was the first in NCAA Tournament history in which a team won a game despite failing to make a free throw; UM attempted just one ... Michigan lost to No. 1-seeded Duke 73-71 in the third round.

2014 Midwest Region — First Round (First Four)

#11 Iowa (20-13) 65
 #11 Tennessee (22-12) OT 78

March 19, 2014 • UD Arena • Dayton, Ohio

Tennessee advanced to the NCAA Tournament Second Round with a thrilling 78-65 comeback overtime victory over Iowa in the First Four at UD Arena.

Josh Richardson was tremendous after a slow start as he was 0-of-5 in the first half. The junior finished with 17 points -- all after halftime. Jordan McRae led the team with a team-high 20 points.

Jarnell Stokes posted his 20th double-double of the season with 18 points and 13 rebounds.

The Hawkeyes were led by a pair of reserves that entered the game averaging a combined 9.6 points. Iowa's leading scorer Roy Devyn Marble (17.3 ppg) was limited to just seven points on 3-of-15 shooting from the floor.

After Marble sent the game to overtime, the Vols took over.

Stokes opened the scoring with a 3-point play to put Tennessee up 67-64. McRae's bucket put the Vols up by five with 3:55 left.

Tennessee took its first lead of the game on a 3-pointer by Antonio Barton with 3:07 left in the game. That put the Vols up 59-57. Iowa quickly answered as Marble converted a 3-point play nine seconds later. That put Iowa up 60-59.

Stokes gave the Vols back the lead at 61-60 on two free throws with 2:40 left in the game. Iowa came right back as Adam Woodbury laid one home with 2:24 on the clock.

Maymon powered up and scored with 54 seconds left to put Tennessee up 63-62. He was fouled and missed the free throw, but the rebound went off Iowa and the Vols retained possession.

Stokes was fouled with 25.5 left in the game and proceeded to make the first of two free throws.

Marble sent the game to overtime with a jumper in the paint with 17.5 on the clock. That tied the game at 64 all.

Down by as many as 12 in the first half and three at the half, the Vols saw Richardson tie the game at 37 on a 3-pointer with 14:37 left.

Iowa broke out of the gates scoring the game's first eight points as Tennessee missed its first seven shots from the floor. The Vols finally got on the scoreboard with 6:02 elapsed in the game on an Armani Moore runner.

2014 Midwest Region — Second Round

#11 Tennessee (23-12) 86
 #6 Massachusetts (24-9) 67

March 21, 2014 • PNC Arena • Raleigh, N.C.

Tennessee won its second NCAA Tournament game in less than 48 hours as the Vols dominated UMass, 86-67, in the NCAA Tournament Second Round.

UMass was making its first NCAA appearance in 16 years.

Jarnell Stokes (career-high 26 points and 14 rebounds) and Jeronne Maymon (11 points and 11 rebounds) each posted double-doubles in the game. For Stokes, it was his 21st double-double of the year, one shy of Bernard King's school record of 22 in 1976-77.

With two double-doubles, the Vols had multiple double-doubles in an NCAA Tournament game for the second time in history. The only other came in 1977 when Ernie Grunfeld (26 points, 12 rebounds), Bernard King (23 points, 12 rebounds) and Reggie Johnson (17 points, 10 rebounds) achieved the feat in an overtime loss to Syracuse.

Stokes' 14 rebounds tied the Tennessee NCAA Tournament record for rebounds in a game. The record of 14 was previously reached by Isiah Victor (1999) and set by Reggie Johnson (1980).

Senior Jordan McRae finished with 21 points. Josh Richardson tallied 15 points.

UMass was led by senior Chaz Williams, who scored 12 and handed out five assists. Maxie Esho had 12 points and Derrick Gordon scored 10.

Tennessee shot 53.6 percent in the game, including 58.3 in the first half while the Vols' defense forced UMass into 42.4 percent shooting for the game.

After UMass scored the game's opening basket, Tennessee scored the next eight and the Vols led for the entire afternoon.

The Vols went up by as many as 23 points on a pair of Stokes' free throws with 8:36 left, making it 67-44.

The Vols dominated throughout the first half, taking a 41-22 lead at halftime behind 14 points from McRae. Tennessee held UMass to a season low in points for any half (22), as the Minutemen had 10 turnovers and shot just 33.3 percent from the floor.

2014 Midwest Region — Third Round

#11	Tennessee (24-12)	83
#14	Mercer (27-9)	63

March 23, 2014 • PNC Arena • Raleigh, N.C.

The Tennessee Volunteers advanced to the Sweet Sixteen for the fourth time in eight years. The 11th-seeded Vols topped 14-seed Mercer, 83-63, Sunday night at PNC Arena to reach to the Sweet Sixteen for the seventh time in school history.

Tennessee previously played in the Sweet Sixteen in 1967, 1981, 2000, 2007, 2008 and 2010.

Junior Jarnell Stokes posted his Tennessee-record-tying 22nd double-double this season with 17 points and 18 rebounds. Stokes' equalled the mark set by Basketball Hall of Famer Bernard King in 1976-77. Stokes also set the Vols' NCAA Tournament for rebounds in a game with 18. He had tied the record in the second-round win over UMass with 14.

Stokes almost had as many rebounds (18) as the entire Mercer team (19), as the Bears were out-rebounded as a team, 41-19. The Vols dominated the offensive glass, 18-7.

Vols junior Josh Richardson tallied a career-high 26 points, 16 of which came in the first half.

UT senior Antonio Barton netted 18 points as he made 4-of-9 from 3-point range. Senior Jordan McRae added 14 points.

Mercer was led by Langston Hall, who scored 15 points.

Mercer scored its first points 3:09 into the game on an Ike Nwamu 3-pointer. The Bears tied the game at 8 and 10, but Tennessee regained the lead seconds later on a pair of Barton free throws and a baseline jam from McRae.

Stokes' tip-in with 5:06 left in the half gave the Vols their first double-figure lead at 31-20.

Tennessee took firm control of the game as the Vols made seven of eight shot attempts to grab a 13-point lead on Stokes' layup with three minutes left in the half, 38-25.

The Vols finished the half with a defensive stance that forced the Bears into their second shot-clock violation.

The Vols led 42-27 at intermission thanks to 16 first-half points from Richardson and a dominating performance on the glass, 24-4.

In the second half Tennessee continued to maintain a lead of at least 11 points. Barton nailed three 3-pointers in the half as Mercer was unable to close the gap.

2014 Midwest Region — Semifinal

#11	Tennessee (24-13)	71
#2	Michigan (28-8)	73

March 28, 2014 • Lucas Oil Stadium • Indianapolis, Ind.

After a magical run of three consecutive NCAA Tournament victories, Tennessee saw its season end in the Sweet Sixteen at Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis, Ind. The 11th-seeded Vols suffered a 73-71 defeat at the hands of No. 2-seeded Michigan before the largest crowd to ever watch a Tennessee basketball game (41,072).

The Vols won three NCAA Tournament games for just the second time in history and reached the Sweet Sixteen for the seventh time.

Michigan advanced by virtue of red-hot shooting. The Wolverines shot .550 from the floor in the game, including .615 in the first half as they built an 11-point halftime lead.

Tennessee senior Jordan McRae scored a game-high 24 points in his final college game. Junior Josh Richardson, who had been torrid throughout the postseason, added 19 points. Junior forward Jarnell Stokes finished with 11 points and six rebounds.

The Wolverines were led by senior forward Jordan Morgan, who scored 15. He was joined by three other Michigan players in double-figures: Nik Stauskas (14), Glenn Robinson III (13) and Caris LeVert (10).

Down by as many as 13 in the first half, the Vols fell behind by 15 midway through the second half before battling to within one point with 10.8 seconds left in regulation.

Tennessee used an 8-0 run to get within seven at 60-53 on a Jeronne Maymon layup with 7:53 left in the game.

A Stauskas 3-pointer with 3:37 left in the game regained a double-figure lead for the Wolverines. After Stokes and McRae scored to cut the margin to six again, Morgan dunked one home for an eight-point Michigan lead, 72-64 with 2:22 left.

McRae's 3-point play brought the Vols within five, 72-67—the closest the Vols were since trailing 27-22 with 6:43 left in the first half.

The Vols forced a shot-clock violation after McRae blocked Robinson with 42 seconds left in the game.

Tennessee cut the game to a one possession contest in the final seconds. Richardson's runner made it 72-69 with 24.6 left.

McRae's layup with 10.8 seconds left off a Michigan turnover, made it one point, 72-71.

A controversial offensive foul call was whistled on Stokes with six seconds left as the Vols had a chance to take the lead. Stauskas then made one of two free throws in the final seconds for the final of 73-71.

NOTES: Michigan lost to No. 8-seeded Kentucky 75-72 in the Elite Eight.

2018 South Region — First Round

#14	Wright State (25-9)	47
#3	Tennessee (25-8)	73

March 15, 2018 • American Airlines Center • Dallas, Texas

A trio of double-digit scorers fueled No. 3-seeded Tennessee to a dominant 73-47 win over #13 seed Wright State Thursday at American Airlines Center in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

All-SEC wing Admiral Schofield posted his second double-double in as many games Thursday, with 15 points and 12 rebounds to go along with a pair of blocks in 32 minutes of action. Vols sophomore Lamonté Turner led all players with 19 points and a career-high nine assists off the bench.

SEC Player of the Year Grant Williams just missed out on a double-double, recording 14 points on 6-of-10 shooting and hauling down nine boards. The Vols (26-8) held a 44-32 edge on the glass over WSU. Tennessee was also very active on the defensive end of the court, finishing with six blocks and six steals to hold the Raiders (25-10) to a season-low for scoring.

"I was really impressed with our team," Tennessee head coach Rick Barnes said. "Overall we've got a group of guys that have embraced that talent of working hard, and they've—we've tried to create our own standard, our own identity in terms of how hard we think we can play on defense and on offense when we stay together and execute."

Tennessee opened the second half on a 14-4 run to extend its lead to 21 points with less than 15 minutes to go in the game. After the Raiders pulled to within 15, UT went on a 9-0 run and never looked back, coasting to a 26-point victory.

After missing their first six attempts to open the game, the shots finally started falling for the Vols after being held scoreless for the first three minutes. Tennessee then knocked down five consecutive baskets to jump out to an 11-6 lead early on.

The Big Orange got hot after its slow start, using a 14-2 run to take a 21-8 lead at the 8:23 mark. UT ended the half shooting 42 percent from the field compared to Wright State's 32 percent shooting.

Schofield led the charge in the opening frame for the Vols, posting 10 points and six rebounds to lead all players. Tennessee took a 34-23 advantage into halftime.

"The biggest thing is we came out and did what we said we were going to do, try to run them out of their offense," Schofield said.

2018 South Region — Second Round

#11	Loyola-Chicago (29-5)	63
#3	Tennessee (26-8)	62

March 17, 2018 • American Airlines Center • Dallas, Texas

No. 3 seed Tennessee's season came to an end on Saturday night, as the Vols suffered a heartbreaking loss to 11th-seeded Loyola-Chicago, 63-62, in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

The Vols (26-9) made one last push at the end of the game, using an 8-0 run to take a 62-61 lead with 20 seconds remaining in the game, capped off by a three-point play from SEC Player of the Year Grant Williams.

But Loyola's Clayton Custer knocked down a 10-foot jumper with 3.6 seconds left on the clock to regain the lead. With no timeouts remaining, UT point guard Jordan Bone caught the ball near midcourt, sprinted to the 3-point arc and launched a contested three in heavy traffic that bounced off the rim as time expired.

The Big Orange had four players score in double-digits, as All-SEC wing Admiral Schofield led the way with 14 points on 5-of-10 shooting. Williams finished with 14 points, while Bone chipped in 13 and SEC Co-Sixth Man of the Year Lamonté Turner finished with 10.

"Congratulations to Loyola," Tennessee head coach Rick Barnes said. "They've got a really nice basketball team. But I am proud of our guys. They kept fighting through a way to stay in it, and put themselves in a position to have a chance to win it. That was obviously a tough way to lose it, but again, congratulations to Loyola. And we've got a lot to build on going forward."

Tennessee was hot out of the gates, opening the game on a 15-6 run that was capped off by a steal from Schofield, who took it the length of the court for a dunk. He had 11 of the points during the early run that concluded at the 15:37 mark as the Ramblers were forced to call a timeout.

Loyola-Chicago responded with a 23-10 swing after that timeout to take a 29-25 lead into halftime. UT struggled to connect on the offensive end of the floor during the opening 20 minutes, hitting only four of its final 18 shots in the half.

Schofield was forced to sit out a significant portion of the first half after picking up two fouls early in the frame and was unable to be a factor during Loyola's run.

Tennessee was unable to consistently stop the Ramblers (30-5) on the offensive end of the floor, as LUC shot 50 percent (22-of-44) from the field in the game.

NOTES: Loyola-Chicago lost to No. 3-seeded Michigan 69-57 in the Final Four.

2019 South Region — First Round

#15 Colgate (24-10) 70
 #2 Tennessee (29-5) 77

March 22, 2019 • Nationwide Arena • Columbus, Ohio

No. 2 seed Tennessee outlasted a second-half rally by 15th-seeded Colgate at Nationwide Arena to advance past the first round in the South Region of the NCAA Tournament.

After the Raiders (24-11) stormed back from a 12-point deficit at halftime, the Vols (30-5) stepped up in the final minutes to put the game away. Tennessee hit four of its final five shots, all of which came from beyond the arc. The last three makes came off the right hand of All-SEC wing Admiral Schofield. The final dagger dropped through the nets with 45 seconds left to make it 73-64.

Schofield finished with a team-high 19 points, including 11 points in the second half to fuel Tennessee's offense. Point guard Jordan Bone added 16 points, five rebounds and three assists. Jordan Bowden chipped in 14 points and two steals off the bench, while Lamonté Turner added 13 points, six assists and three steals.

The Vols found success in the paint, outscoring the Raiders, 38-20, and recording five blocks. UT also had seven steals and forced 13 turnovers that led to 16 points.

Jordan Burns went off for Colgate, dropping 32 points, including eight of the Raiders' 15 total 3-pointers. He scored 20 points in the second half to keep CU in the game.

Colgate rallied back after halftime, using a 19-6 run to take its first lead of the game at the 12:09 mark. During that stretch, the Raiders caught fire from beyond the arc, knocking down five 3-pointers. On the other end of the floor, Tennessee began the half by shooting just 2-of-12 from the field.

The Big Orange responded with a 6-0 run of its own to regain the lead and never looked back, preventing any chance of the Raiders rallying to pull the upset.

Tennessee opened the game on a 9-0 run to take the early lead. The Raiders, who knocked down six 3-pointers in the frame, fought back to make it a one-possession game, but the Vols rattled off a 16-2 run to take a double-digit lead into halftime, 42-30.

Turner was active on both ends of the floor in the first half, dropping 10 points behind two 3-pointers and recording three steals on the defensive end of the floor. Bowden also chipped in 10 points on a pair of threes.

2019 South Region — Second Round

#10 Iowa (23-11) 70
 #2 Tennessee (30-5) OT 77

March 24, 2019 • Nationwide Arena • Columbus, Ohio

For the sixth time since 2000, the Tennessee Volunteers are headed to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament, following an 83-77 victory in overtime against Iowa at Nationwide Arena.

It's the first time since 2014 that Tennessee has reached the Sweet Sixteen, and head coach Rick Barnes is just the 12th head coach to lead a third Division I program to the Sweet Sixteen.

With 31 victories, Tennessee tied the program record for wins in a single season (2007-08). During the game, the Big Orange also broke the program record for assists in a single season (645), surpassing the previous mark of 637 during the 2007-08 campaign.

Admiral Schofield and Grant Williams led all scorers with 19 points each. Williams finished with seven rebounds, five assists, four steals and three blocks to fuel UT on both ends of the floor. His four steals matched the UT record for steals in an NCAA Tournament game.

Lamonté Turner totaled 15 points, six rebounds and three assists. However, the junior's presence was felt the most on the defensive end, where he helped the Vols slow down Iowa's 3-point shooting.

With the momentum in Iowa's favor, Tennessee found its rhythm again in overtime, scoring the first seven points to take a 78-71 lead. All-SEC point guard Jordan Bone finished with 14 points and beat the shot-clock buzzer with a key 3-pointer in overtime.

The Vols jumped out to an early 20-9 lead in the first six minutes, forcing Iowa to call a timeout. Schofield sparked the run by knocking down back-to-back threes to start the game.

Tennessee kept the pressure on the Hawkeyes the entire half, using an 18-3 run to make it a 40-17 game with six minutes left in the period. The Big Orange shot 51 percent from the floor and held a 24-8 advantage in the paint to take a commanding 49-28 lead into halftime. The 21-point lead was the largest halftime lead ever for the Vols in an NCAA Tournament game.

Iowa stormed back after halftime, outscoring Tennessee 30-12 during the first 13 minutes of the second half to make it a one-possession game. The Vols shot just 33 percent from the field in the second half and turned the ball over 10 times, which directly led to 17 points for the Hawkeyes.

Down two with 20 seconds left in regulation, Iowa's Joe Wieskamp drew a foul and knocked down both free throws to tie the game. Bone got an open look from three but just missed it, sending the game to overtime tied 71-71.

2019 South Region – Semifinal

#3 Purdue (25-9) 99
 #2 Tennessee (31-5) OT 94
 March 28, 2019 • KFC Yum! Center • Louisville, Ky.

Tennessee's impressive season came to an end as the Vols fell in the Sweet Sixteen to Purdue in overtime, 99-94, at the KFC Yum! Center.

After facing an 18-point deficit at the 16:19 mark and with all the momentum in Purdue's favor, the Vols stormed back with a 19-2 run to take their first lead since opening minutes of the game. A deep 3-pointer from All-SEC wing Admiral Schofield made it a 70-67 game and capped the run.

With five minutes left in regulation, both teams were knotted at 70-70. With the game swinging in Tennessee's favor, Ryan Cline erupted for the Boilermakers, knocking down four 3-pointers to keep Purdue in the game.

On the other end of the court, Grant Williams had two dunks in the final minute to keep the Vols ahead, including a putback with eight seconds left to give UT an 82-80 lead. Purdue's Carsen Edwards then drove to the basket to try and tie the game, but Williams blocked the shot out of bounds.

On the ensuing in-bounds play, Edwards caught the ball in the corner and got fouled on a 3-point attempt. He missed the first attempt but sank the final two to send the game to overtime, 82-82.

In the extra frame, the Boilermakers pulled ahead early to make it a two-possession game. The Vols couldn't convert on the offensive end and were forced to foul. Purdue iced the game by going 11-of-18 from the charity stripe in the final five minutes.

The All-SEC duo of Williams and Schofield led the Vols (31-6) in scoring, dropping 21 points each. Jordan Bowden finished with 16 points behind four 3-pointers, while Turner posted 15 points on 6-of-10 shooting. All-SEC point guard Jordan Bone rounded out UT's double-digit scorers, as he finished with 10 points.

Edwards led all scorers with 29 points, and Cline had 27 points on 10-of-13 shooting, including seven 3-pointers.

The Boilermakers shot a blazing 55 percent in the first half and knocked down seven 3-pointers. Edwards led all scorers in the period with 15 points while hitting four threes. Purdue also doubled UT's efforts in the paint, 16-8, to help take a 40-28 lead into halftime.

NOTES: Purdue lost to No. 1-seeded Virginia, 80-75, in the Elite Eight.

VOLMANAC

By Ben Byrd

"Intercollegiate basketball will make its initial appearance in Knoxville tonight when in the YMCA gymnasium at the University of Tennessee, the Volunteers will meet the five hailing from the Central University of Kentucky at Danville."

— The Knoxville Journal and Tribune
Thursday, Dec. 16, 1909

It had taken the new game invented by Dr. James Naismith 18 years to arrive on campus, but UT students were ready for it. A capacity crowd of 200 crammed into the box-like YMCA gym atop "The Hill" that night to watch the beginning of a new chapter in the school's athletics history. They came away excited and pleased, for the Vols won that historic game, 33-31, with an assist from a slow train from Kentucky. The Central Kentucky team was more than one hour late arriving at the gym. During the wait the fans were entertained, if one can call it that, by a skirmish between the UT women's team and the Central High girls, which was won by the Lady Bobcats 21-1.

The starting lineup for that first Tennessee team was composed of Howard Sandberg and DeWitt Welcker at forwards, Jasper Ring at center, and Captain Solon Kipp and Earl Ketchen at guards. Sandberg, who stood all of 5-9 at his forward position, led the scoring with 13 points. The Vols were off and running.

That first Tennessee team did not have a coach, but in the following season, 1910-11, football coach Alex Stone donned a second hat and served in that capacity. After that season the Vols moved their home court to the Downtown YMCA gym at the corner of Commerce and Vine, where both playing and practice conditions were better than those afforded by the little gym on The Hill. The early Vol teams were neither especially good nor particularly bad, generally hovering around the .500 mark against a mixed schedule of college and YMCA foes. But the 1913-14 team broke that pattern by recording a 15-2 won-lost record and the reason was the appearance on the scene of Tennessee's first genuine superstar cager.

Lum Reeder, the son of a Knox County sheriff, had honed his skills shooting at a basket that had been hung up for him at the county jail. Two-hand shots were the standard in those days, but young Lum broke with tradition and learned to unload deadly one-hand shots while on the move. He made his UT debut by scoring 27 points in his first game as a freshman forward, this in an era when entire teams averaged little more than 20 points per game. A few games later in that campaign he rang up 41 points in a 49-16 victory over Maryville College, a UT scoring record that stayed on the books until Carl Widseth scored 47 in a game against Auburn in 1956. Unfortunately for UT, his career was interrupted twice, once when he transferred to the University of Delaware where he made the All-Eastern team in 1916, and later by World War I.

Early Tennessee basketball teams played a game that would scarcely be recognizable to today's fans. The ball was returned to center court after each score for a center jump, thus interrupting the flow of play. The small gyms of the time often featured overhanging balconies which forced a lower trajectory on shots from the corner, and the home floor advantage was a tangible reality and not just a psychological factor. Home teams furnished the referees in most instances, often from the ranks of their own former players. Reeder once protested a call in a game at Virginia and woke up a few minutes later stretched out on the floor. The referee also was the host school's heavyweight boxing champion!

There were no basketball scholarships then, and local youths made up a large percentage of the Vol squads. Reeder, Vic Klein, Lloyd Wolfe and Frank Callaway, all later Knoxville business or civic leaders, were among the outstanding cagers of the teens. Basketball was the only UT sport to stay at it through the WWI years, although many of the better players, including Reeder, were away in service. The 1917-18 team played a nine-game schedule, winning two, losing six, and tying one. The deadlock came about when the Maryville College team, enraged by a call that had enabled the Vols to tie the game at the end, walked off the floor and refused to return for an overtime period.

The basketball team finally had an on-campus home of its own when Jefferson Hall was built at the site of the old Waite Field at the corner of Cumberland Avenue and Fifteenth Street in time for the opening of the 1922-23 season. The cage program appeared to have gotten an immediate lift from the new arena as the '23 team went 15-2, led by such stalwarts as David Beane, Roe Campbell and Earl Keister. That team was perhaps the best-equipped to make a run at the Southern Conference championship of any of the 1920s Volunteer teams, but its best player, Beane, was declared academically ineligible shortly before the conference tournament, and the Vols lost in the first round to the University of Georgia Bulldogs.

Head football coaches had continued to serve as head basketball coaches through the teens and early 1920s, but Robert R. Neyland put a stop to that practice when he succeeded M.B. Banks as the head grid coach in 1926. Neyland put the basketball job off on his end coach and good friend, Bill Britton. The Britton era of UT basketball was largely a win-some, lose-some operation except for the memorable season of 1927-28, which produced the only winless varsity team in UT history. The Vols of that infamous campaign finished 0-12, despite boasting one of the South's finest players in center Elvin Butcher. With Butcher playing brilliantly, the Vols had a narrow escape in their season-finale with Vanderbilt at Jefferson Hall, leading most of the game before Vandy pulled out a 28-26 decision at the end.

Stars from the great football teams of the late 1920s and early 1930s, Bobby Dodd, Buddy Hackman, Beattie Feathers and Hugh Faust were among the grid standouts who doubled as cagers in the winter. But the teams remained rather ordinary, for the most part, and when the Southeastern Conference was formed in 1933, the UT program was no better than middle-of-the-pack in this new league.

Clevenger Leads Vols to First Winning Season and an Undefeated Campaign

World War I didn't give college students much to cheer about, as all collegiate sports on the University of Tennessee campus came to a halt - all of them except basketball. Many college athletes left the athletic scene to turn their focus on fighting for the United States. During that same time, Tennessee basketball produced some of its finest years as a young program in search of success.

After struggling through the pioneer years of Tennessee basketball, the Vols finally broke through during the 1913-14 season, finishing with a 15-2 record under coach Zora G. Clevenger. The Vols crushed past several area colleges, including Maryville, Carson-Newman and Chattanooga, as well as future conference foe Alabama. Two YMCA teams were on the schedule, and even a Feb. 3 contest with Knoxville High School created interest. The game, however, was less than a showdown as the Vols crushed KHS 52-18.

The only losses of the 1913-14 season were consecutive setbacks to Kentucky on back-to-back days. In the middle of a road trip in which Tennessee played six games in six days, Kentucky defeated the Vols by scores of 20-14 and 20-18. Still, the Volunteer basketball program was enjoying its first taste of success.

The following season was another respectable campaign for Tennessee, as Clevenger's troops went 9-2 on the season. Over one-third of the schedule was spent playing the Vols' new rival, Kentucky. The Vols split a four-game series with Kentucky, winning both games in Knoxville while losing both in Lexington.

Perhaps the pinnacle of the early years of Tennessee basketball came during the 1915-16 season, Clevenger's final season as the Vols' coach. But it was one to remember, as the nine players on the squad put Tennessee basketball on the map. UT finished the season with a perfect 12-0 record and was recognized as the best team in the South. It still stands as Tennessee's only basketball season without a loss.

During the perfect season, the Vols won by an average of more than 15 points per game. They capped off the year with a five-day, five-game road trip through Kentucky. The trip was started with a 63-33 victory over Cumberland College, the Vols' largest margin of victory, and finished with a two-point win over Transylvania, UT's smallest margin of victory. The road trip included a 28-17 win over Kentucky, the only meeting between the schools that season.

In a three-season span, Tennessee produced a 36-4 record. All four losses came at the hands of basketball powerhouse Kentucky. Other than the men in blue, the Vols swept through the rest of the South. Those three seasons were just what the Vols needed to jump-start memorable years to come for Tennessee basketball.

1930s: First All-American Brings First SEC Crown

A number of events took place in the mid-1930s that combined to move Tennessee into the front ranks of college basketball. First, Neyland took a year's leave from UT to rejoin the Army for duty in Panama. That moved Britton into the head football coaching position for the season of 1935 and prompted the school, for the first time, to hire a full-time basketball coach in Blair Gullion (pronounced: GULL-yin), a former Purdue player. When Gullion reported for preseason practice in the fall of 1935, he was greeted by perhaps the three best players ever to adorn a Volunteers roster at the same time: senior center Harry Anderson, junior forward Floyd "Biggy" Marshall and junior guard Gene Johnson.

Responding positively to the new coach's strict discipline and emphasis on the basics, the 1935-36 Vols posted a 12-6 regular-season record that included the Vols' first-ever win over an Adolph Rupp-coached Kentucky team. Here another happenstance entered into the picture. UT was now playing its home games at the Alumni Memorial Gymnasium just north of the football stadium. Jefferson Hall having burned down a couple of years earlier. By good fortune the SEC postseason championship tournament was held at Alumni Gym in March of 1936, giving Gullion's troops the home floor advantage to go along with their considerable playing skills. The time had arrived for the basketball Vols to step forward.

They did. After blowing past Auburn in the first test, the Vols ousted pre-tourney favorite Kentucky in the semi-finals, 39-28, the same score by which they had beaten the Wildcats in regular-season play. In the championship game with Alabama, they fell behind badly with just two minutes left in the first half, trailing by the rather embarrassing score of 13-4. This was the last season that college basketball was played under the old center-jump rule, and it was the agile Anderson's ability at winning the tip that enabled the Vols to rally. With the captain controlling the tip on every possession, the Vols reeled off seven straight points to cut the halftime lead to 13-11. Tennessee then took command in the second half to win 29-25 and bring the school its first SEC championship; in no other season and in no other sport had Tennessee won an SEC title until March 2, 1936.

The triumph established basketball as a major sport on campus. Anderson became UT's first All-American and he, Marshall and Johnson were elevated to hero status formerly reserved for football stars. All over Knoxville backyard baskets sprang up, and for the first time Dr. Naismith's crazy game had become a local craze.

But the man who had put UT on the college cage map didn't stay around to build on his success. After three seasons at the Vol helm, Gullion abruptly resigned a few weeks before the 1938-39 season to take a similar position at Cornell. He was succeeded by a proven veteran who had previously enjoyed successful tenures at Kentucky and Miami of Ohio, John Mauer.

Anderson is UT's First All-American

When Harry Anderson walked out of Alumni Gym on March 2, 1936, he left the building a winner. Wearing an orange jersey with "Vols" scripted across his chest for the last time, Anderson had just led Tennessee to its first SEC championship.

While Anderson played before Tennessee's modern records, he remains one of the greatest players ever to suit up for Tennessee. And he was Tennessee's first All-American honoree.

Anderson, who was a 6-foot-3 center, was joined by teammates Floyd "Biggy" Marshall and Gene Johnson as perhaps the best trio of UT basketball players to ever hit the hardwood in one season. Although Anderson's size was short compared to today's standards for big men, Anderson could dominate a game due to his outstanding leaping ability. His bread and butter, though, was his uncanny pursuit of jump balls at mid-court.

"No one who played in the SEC in our time had as much leaping ability as Harry," Marshall once said of his former teammate.

During Anderson's playing days, each time a team scored a basket, the ball was reset at half court and a jump ball was conducted. Anderson's control of jump balls was the key to UT's run through the 1936 SEC Tournament.

The Vols had beaten Auburn and Kentucky to get to the finals against Alabama. Tennessee trailed 13-4 with two minutes remaining in the first half before Anderson brought the Vols back into the game. He controlled every tip for the remainder of the half, allowing UT to cut the deficit to 13-11. The Vols went on to win the game 29-25 and claim their first SEC championship in any sport.

Anderson's dominating performance in the SEC Championship and his regular-season success opened eyes and earned him a spot on the Converse All-American team. It was the first time a UT basketball player had earned such an honor.

Also a track star, Anderson was inducted into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame in 1999.

1940s: Mauer Leads Vols to Two SEC Titles

The momentum that Gullion had established didn't miss a beat under Mauer. The new coach found the nucleus of a future championship team already on hand in sophomore guard Gilbert Huffman, sophomore center Frank Thomas and freshman forward Bernie Mehen. Two seasons later that trio led the Vols to the 1941 SEC championship with a 36-33 win over top-seeded Kentucky in the finals of the conference tourney at Louisville, Ky. Mehen, called "Houdini" because of his ball-handling wizardry, became the school's second All-American and Huffman the third.

Mauer then chalked up a second SEC title two years later, when his 1942-43 team, led by center Dick Mehen, Bernie's younger brother, handed Kentucky another stunning upset loss in the tourney finals at Louisville, 33-30, with Dick Mehen scoring 18 points.

The Mauer years were a time of plenty for UT basketball. In addition to the two conference titles, the big, jovial coach authored one of the great Vol cage victories of all time when his '41-'42 team put an end to then-No. 1-ranked Long Island University's 23-game win streak, 36-33, in the Sugar Bowl Tournament. When he left to take the Army coaching job after the 1946-47 season, Mauer departed with an eight-season record of 127 wins and only 41 losses for a .756 winning percentage, highest ever by a Vol coach.

Emmett Lowery, another former Purdue star, succeeded Mauer in 1947 and brought a new dimension to Tennessee basketball. An acknowledged master of the fast-break offense, Lowery soon had the Vols racing up and down the floor at full steam. Led by a holdover standout from the Mauer regime, forward Paul (Lefty) Walther, the new coach's first two Vol teams posted records of 20-5 and 19-7 and drew capacity crowds at Alumni Gym with their entertaining style of play. Walther, who had joined the growing list of All-Americans, was part clown at heart, and his pre-game passing and dribbling antics often brought down the house.

Alumni Gymnasium Gives Vols The Best Homecourt In The Region

It was Dec. 17, 1932, and the season-opener was minutes away. Fans walked through the five arched doorways decorated with streetlights and tiny windows above. Inside, protected from the cold, nearly 400 spectators occupied the 3,200 wooden seats, most of which were lofted in the balcony more than 10 feet above the floor.

Although the crowd was somewhat small for Tennessee's first basketball game at the new Alumni Memorial Gymnasium, the Vols didn't hesitate to put on a show, pounding Lincoln Memorial University 41-18. The victory was the first of many at the new gym on The Hill, rated the best facility in the South in 1932.

Located on the south side of The Hill adjacent to the football field, Alumni Gym was built in 1931 to be the new basketball home of the Vols. UT alumni had wanted to build a memorial to those graduates who had lost their lives in World War I and the Spanish-American War. Thus, Alumni Memorial Auditorium-Gymnasium was built to take the place of Jefferson Hall as the campus' primary multi-purpose facility. Along with basketball, the gym was used for indoor physical education and auditorium events since the three-story facility was one of the largest buildings on campus at the time.

The interior of the facility fit the mold of a 1930s basketball gym. The basketball court was the centerpiece surrounded by three walls of seats and a stage serving as the fourth wall. A handful of rows were tucked below the balcony to provide courtside seating, while the majority of the seats were located on the steep overhang above the floor. The stage, however, provided the opportunity to use the facility as an auditorium with a seating capacity of 3,800. Surrounding the gym were wings used for physical education. Each wing contained an auxiliary gymnasium suitable for handball and other intramural sports. But it's the basketball memories that keep the gym alive today.

1950s: Stars Widseth and Tormohlen Set Scoring and Rebounding Records

The Emmett Lowery era reached an early peak in January 1950 when his third Vol team put an end to Kentucky's five-year, 67-game winning streak within the Southeastern Conference, 66-53. Captain Art Burris outdueled his opposite center, the Wildcats' seven-foot Bill Spivey, with a 28-point performance as the Vols led from buzzer to buzzer. After the game, the overflow crowd stormed onto the court to lift Burris and the other Vol players for a victory ride to the dressing room in one of the wildest scenes UT basketball has ever produced.

The gentlemanly Lowery stayed on for 12 seasons, fashioning a solid winning record of 169-110 and developing such headline players as scoring champion Carl Widseth and his mid-1950s sidekick Ed Wiener, Herman Thompson, big Gene Tormohlen, the Vols' all-time rebound leader, and Dalen Showalter. His successor, longtime assistant John Sines, fared less well, and after his third season, 1961-62, ended in a 4-19 disaster, UT basketball underwent a historic coaching change.

Tormohlen: Chairman of the Boards

One thing about Tennessee basketball in the 1950s was that if a shot went up and didn't go in, Gene Tormohlen was almost a sure bet to bring down the rock. Grabbing a school-record 1,113 career rebounds will make you "Chairman of the Boards."

"Bumper," as he was referred to due to his physical play, was a master at rebounding. He helped turn rebounding into an art form during his college playing days. And although the post play was as physical as it gets, Tormohlen says it was his finesse that helped him own the boards.

"Rebounding is hard work," said Tormohlen, who is considered Tennessee's first accomplished big man. "There are certain ingredients you look for in rebounding, but the key is to go after every rebound as if it were yours."

From 1956-59, the 6-foot-8 Tormohlen owned the middle of the paint for the Vols. His art of rebounding became a trademark of sorts, making him a regular vacuum cleaner around the rim, as well as a two-time All-SEC performer. But what may be most impressive about his longstanding rebounding records at Tennessee is that Tormohlen accomplished all his feats in a three-year career with the Vols. In his playing days, freshmen were limited to the freshman squad and only upperclassmen were welcome on the varsity.

Still, only three years of playing time didn't limit Tormohlen's potential or achievements. During the 1957-58 season, Tormohlen's junior year, he pulled down 384 boards for the season, a Tennessee record. His 372 rebounds his senior season ranks second on the school list. His name is on the list one more time for his sophomore campaign, when he grabbed 357, good enough for fourth. Sixteen times during his career he had at least 22 rebounds in a game. One time, while playing with a cut that required eight stitches on a shooting-hand finger, he scored 15 points and gathered 17 rebounds.

"I'm proud of the fact that I hold some of those rebounding records," Tormohlen said. "But I'll be honest, we didn't make many shots."

No matter how many shots Tennessee missed, "Bumper" was reliable enough to clean up the garbage under the rim. Tormohlen, who is a member of the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame for having led tiny Holland High School to its first sectional championship as a sophomore in 1953.

He amazingly averaged 16.9 rebounds in his career with the Vols, another rebounding record. On the season average list, Tormohlen's senior year saw him grab an average of 17.7 boards per game for a UT record. He also earned Converse All-America honors that year for his accomplishments on the hardwood. His junior year he averaged 16.7, and his sophomore year he averaged 16.2 to sweep the top three spots on the season rebounding average list.

One rebounding record that Tormohlen does not hold at Tennessee is most rebounds in a single game. Herb Neff holds that honor for having grabbed 36 against Georgia Tech in 1952. However, Tormohlen ranks second with 31, third with 28 and fourth with 27. His name appears 16 times among the top-23 performances on the list.

"Rebounding is one thing in basketball that you can go after and it's not a selfish thing," he said. "It's hard work that benefits the team. We all played rough, but I always felt I could play against anybody."

Former Knoxville Journal writer Ben Byrd perhaps paid best tribute to Tormohlen in 1959 when he penned: "There will be others just as big, maybe bigger. Some will shoot better, some will play defense better, some run more gracefully. But when there is elbow-flying, rib-thumping, eyeball-scratching action under the boards, you can lay long odds that there won't be another like Gene Tormohlen. Not for a long, long time."

Following his successful career at Tennessee, the Holland, Ind., native was a second-round selection of the Syracuse Nationals in the 1959 NBA Draft. He went on to a nine-year professional career that included a six-year stint with the NBA's St. Louis and Atlanta Hawks.

After his playing career was over, he moved to the bench where he was an NBA assistant coach for 12 years. Twice he served as an interim head coach in the NBA. After his time coaching, Tormohlen also served as a collegiate scout for several years.

Gene Tormohlen (pronounced: tohr-MO-in) still ranks as the greatest rebounder in Tennessee basketball history.

Enter Ray Mears;

Vols Become SEC Champions

The new man's name was Ray Mears. A Miami (Ohio) graduate, he was fresh off winning the NCAA small college championship at Wittenberg University. His style featured a deliberate offense, a zone defense, a heavy dose of discipline for his players and a bagful of sideshow tricks for the paying customers. He introduced the practice of a pep band blaring out at the court level, and his players executed fancy pregame drills and, later on, even had one of his athletes riding around the court on a unicycle to help get the home crowd excited.

Behind that carnival-show exterior was a shrewd tactician and strategist. Mears' teams played basketball in much the way Gen. Robert R. Neyland's teams had played football. They didn't beat themselves.

The new coach was fortunate in inheriting a rich stockpile of good young talent from the Sines era, most notably sophomore forward A.W. Davis and junior point guard Danny Schultz. Although both would have flourished as high scorers in a higher-powered system of offense, Davis and Schultz gladly accepted the deliberate pace of the new coach's game and led the way to a quick resurgence in Tennessee basketball fortunes. The 1962-63 team posted a 13-11 worksheet, which included a pair of upset wins over mighty Kentucky, and the 1963-64 team climbed to 16-8. In Mears' third season, when Davis was the captain and heartbeat of the team, the Vols reached the 20-win level for the first time in 17 years and finished second in the Southeastern Conference race. The 1966 Vols provided a harbinger of things to come by closing out the season with a 69-62 victory over Kentucky, which came to Knoxville with a 23-0 mark.

UT basketball had been moved into a new home, the Armory-Fieldhouse, in 1959, but the interest stirred by Mears's success soon rendered the 7,500-seat facility obsolete. Thanks to a generous gift by industrialist William B. Stokely, Jr., the old fieldhouse was remodeled and enlarged into a 12,700-seat arena, Stokely Center. The timing was perfect. The Vols were about to unveil their first SEC championship team in 24 years.

The 1966-67 team was short on experience and depth as it set out on what promised to be an uphill journey. But somehow the chemistry turned out just right for a lineup composed of senior Ron Widby and junior Tom Hendrix at forwards, junior Tom Boerwinkle at center and sophomores Billy Justus and Billy Hann in the backcourt. The two guards had never played a minute of varsity action, and Boerwinkle, UT's first seven-footer, had played very sparingly. But the Fearless Five, as they came to be known, overturned the odds with three magnificent road wins against the other contenders.

First they knocked off Florida, the eventual runner-up, with an almost perfectly played game at Gainesville, 66-53. Then they outlasted Kentucky, 52-50, in a tense overtime duel at Lexington. But those two were just warmups for the stormy season-finale at Mississippi State.

The Vols had to win that game to take the SEC title, and they couldn't have picked a tougher foe. With Tennessee's Widby and State's David Williams swapping dead-eye jumpers from the perimeter, the two teams wound up all even at 64-64 after regulation time. A cautious first overtime ended 66-66. After Justus missed a pair of free throws with four seconds left, the second overtime also wound up in a tie. But in the third extra period, with players and fans alike near exhaustion, Justus got one last chance. With the court tied at 76, he once again went to the stripe with four seconds remaining. This time he made them both, and the Vols held on to win what many longtime observers believe was the greatest game in UT basketball history.

That not only earned the Vols the SEC crown; it also won them the school's first-ever berth in the NCAA Tournament. This time, the cat jumped the other way. In another tense battle at Evanston, Ill., the Fearless Five was ousted in its first test by Dayton, 53-52, as Widby's last-second shot caromed off the rim.

Vols Celebrate First Season in Stokely with SEC Championship

The first Tennessee basketball game in the Armory-Fieldhouse was nothing but a glimpse of the future. The 72-71 victory over Wyoming gave the idea that basketball in the new arena would be a successful era. And the temporary wall that stood on the east side of the arena was a hint that expansion was on the way.

To kick off the 1958-59 season, the University of Tennessee had erected a new facility for basketball. Replacing Alumni Gym was a difficult thing to do, but the state-of-the-art arena would quickly remind the team and fans that the new facility was worth the $1.5 million.

Equipped with huge steel trusses that lined the walls and roof, the gigantic new arena could seat 7,000 people in its opening years. The west end of the arena had two levels of permanent seats while temporary bleachers lined the baselines. On the east end, more temporary bleachers rose from the floor to the temporary wall. Along each baseline was a row of folding chairs, primarily for the teams to sit. Other than basketball, the Armory-Fieldhouse was home to supply rooms for Army and Air Force ROTC, offices and classrooms.

The temporary wall was the key to the Armory-Fieldhouse. In 1965, a $500,000 gift from William B. Stokely Jr. jump-started a $3 million expansion on the facility - an expansion that had been designed in the original blueprints of the facility. By the 1966-67 season, the Armory-Fieldhouse was doubled in size and seating capacity rose to 12,700 just in time for the SEC championship season. Stokely had died before the completion of the expansion project, and the Armory-Fieldhouse became William B. Stokely Athletics Center.

Stokely Athletics Center was a special home to Tennessee basketball. It housed more fans than ever before. It featured a newly designed Tartan rubber playing surface after the expansion to the arena. But more importantly, it featured great teams. Tennessee teams were extremely successful in the arena, compiling a 321-69 record at Stokely and winning four SEC championships.

Stokely was vacated during the winter of 2012-13, as the university has plans to raze the facility and repurpose the land it occupies.

Ray Mears Brings Showmanship And Championships

Ray Mears was hired as head basketball coach in 1962 after he had just won the NCAA small college championship the previous year as coach at Wittenberg University. But this was Division I, and Mears was brought in to revitalize a struggling Tennessee basketball program. The Vols were coming off back-to-back losing seasons and were caught in a decade and a half of finishing no higher than fourth in the SEC.

All that changed when Mears took over. His first year saw the Vols finish with a 13-11 record, including a season sweep over archrival Kentucky. In fact, Adolph Rupp's Kentucky teams grew to be Mears' top foe, despite the fact that Mears and Rupp were friends away from the court.

"Beating Adolph Rupp was my favorite," Mears admitted. "We ended up tying Kentucky, but seven of them were against Joe Hall so I can't claim I beat Rupp every time. We had the best record against Kentucky and the best record against Rupp."

In Mears' second season at Tennessee, the Vols were 16-8 and finished second in the conference. Then there was a 20-5 year, an 18-8 year, a 21-7 SEC title year and so on. Mears had sent a breath of fresh air through the Tennessee basketball program.

Not only did the legendary coach bring success to the hardwood, he brought entertainment to the fans. Mears instructed the pep band to play in the stands of Stokely Athletics Center during games - a first for its time. With the pep band blasting traditional fight songs, Mears' squad would perform dazzling tricks during pre-game warm-ups. From fancy passes to mind-boggling dribbling skills, the Vols looked more like the Harlem Globetrotters as they prepared for their opponent. It's said Mears even went to the extent of having one of his players ride around the court on a unicycle to fire up a sleepy crowd at Stokely.

"We brought the pep band and marched the band around the floor and all that kind of stuff," Mears said. "We had a guy that juggled basketballs and we had warm-up drills. We did a lot of things like that. We were trying to get people interested in basketball. I tried to get the crowd excited. We got people coming at 7:00 for a 7:30 game."

People flocked to campus to see the newest attraction - the Tennessee basketball team. But they also enjoyed the side antics as well. Record numbers came to Stokely Athletics Center, eventually forcing the expansion of the facility in 1966 to twice its original size.

On the sidelines, Mears was a basketball mastermind. His slow, deliberate offense gelled with his zone defense. His strict and disciplined basketball style carried the Vols to an SEC championship in the 1966-67 season and the school's first NCAA Tournament appearance.

Success was common during the Mears era. During his 15 years (1963-77) as head coach of the Vols, Mears collected 278 wins against 112 losses for a .713 winning percentage. Tennessee won three conference titles under Mears - 1966-67, 1971-72 and 1976-77. And during his tenure, only twice did UT finish lower than third in the SEC. He was hired to turn the program around. He did his job and then some.

Ray Mears took Tennessee basketball to a level it had never been before. His actions on the court made him a legendary coach. His knack for entertainment made him legendary with the fans. Both make Mears a legendary man.

On March 1, 2006, a banner with Mears' name on it was unveiled in the rafters over the student section of Thompson-Boling Arena.

Ray Mears passed away on June 11, 2007.

Texas Western Wasn't the First to Challenge Rupp's Runts

On the evening of March 5, 1966, the Tennessee Volunteers had nothing to do but finish a decent basketball season. The Vols were 17-8 and 9-6 in the SEC heading into their final game of the season, and the NCAA Tournament only took conference champions at the time. On the other side of the court, the No. 1-ranked Kentucky Wildcats were planning their run at a national championship. They had played 23 games and won every one of them.

Labeled Rupp's Runts, coach Adolph Rupp's squad was loaded with talent but short on size. The tallest players on the team, center Thad Jaracz and guard Tommy Kron stood at 6-foot-5. Forwards Larry Conley and Pat Riley stood 6-4, and the other guard, Louie Dampier, was 6-0.

Probabilities said the Vols were going to get whipped by the 'Cats. A week earlier, Tennessee had gotten beat in Lexington by top-ranked Kentucky, 78-64. But this time, probabilities were wrong. UT captains Larry McIntosh and Howard Bayne helped push the overmatched Vols past Kentucky 69-62 to give the Wildcats their first loss of the season.

Tennessee closed the season at 18-8 and finished tied for third in the SEC. Kentucky, however, went all the way to the NCAA finals where they faced Texas Western (now UTEP). In one of the most memorable and influential finals in NCAA history, Texas Western shocked the Wildcats with a 72-65 upset to give the Wildcats their first loss of the season. Tennessee became the first school to win the title with five black starters when they beat an all-white Kentucky team, which paved the way for cultural diversity in college basketball.

An unbeatable Kentucky team rolled into Knoxville in 1966 but left with a loss. The win for UT paved the way for a successful 1966-67 campaign in which the Vols won the SEC.

1970s:

Success Continues Under Mears; Grunfeld/King Combo Propels Vols

Consistent excellence was the trademark of the program under Mears. Twenty-win seasons became the rule rather than the exception, and the Vols became contenders in the SEC title race on a yearly basis. It took Mears five seasons to win his second conference title, and that one had a rather sour taste to it.

The 1971-72 team, built around the sharp shooting of guard Mike Edwards and 6-11 center Len Kosmalski, came into the season-ending game with Kentucky at Stokely Center one game ahead of Rupp's Wildcats. With five seconds left in a hard-fought battle, UK held a 67-66 lead. But Tennessee got one last chance when Edwards was fouled as he started into his shooting mode. Referee Bobby Hartsfield called it a non-shooting foul, and the usually unflappable guard missed the free throw. Kentucky rebounded to gain a tie for the title, and because they had swept the season's series with Tennessee, the Wildcats also won the SEC's berth in the NCAA Tournament. The Vols were so downcast by the loss that they voted not to accept a bid to the NIT, where they had reached the semifinals in 1969 and 1971.

The 1971-72 season also marked a new chapter in Volunteer cage history when Larry Robinson, a 6-5 high-post player out of Ferrum (Va.) Junior College became the school's first black player. A tireless worker and the ultimate team player, Robinson made a big hit with the fans and teammates alike, and as evidence of the respect they felt for him, his mates elected him captain of the 1972-73 team despite the fact that he had played only one season of varsity basketball with them.

Mears had stuck with his deliberate offense through his first decade at UT, but the appearance of two remarkable offensive performers in the mid-1970s prompted him to speed up his attack. Assistant coach Stu Aberdeen, who had strong recruiting contacts in the New York City area, hit the jackpot two years in succession when he signed Ernie Grunfeld of Forest Hills in 1973 and Bernard King of Brooklyn in 1974. Never before or since has UT basketball boasted two such enormous talents on the same team.

Grunfeld, a 6-6 wing who could move into the post when needed, broke Wisdeth's all-time Volunteers scoring record during his four-year career with 2,249 points, for an average of 22.3 per game. King, a brilliant post player, who played only three seasons before turning to the professional ranks, posted a new career average record of 25.8 points per game. Known as the "Ernie and Bernie Show," the two great players led the Vols to a record of 61-20 during their three seasons together, 1974-75, 1975-76 and 1976-77. During that run, the Volunteers made two NCAA Tournament appearances and won one SEC championship in 1977. Wherever they played they drew standing-room-only crowds; Sports Illustrated even featured them on its cover ("Double Trouble from Tennessee"), and for the first time in its cage history, Tennessee had become a household word in the world of college basketball.

The one thing that even King and Grunfeld couldn't do was to bring their coach an NCAA Tournament victory. In 1976 the Vols fell out in first-round play at Charlotte, losing to darkhorse VMI in a game that King had to sit out because of a hand injury suffered in practice a few days earlier. And then, in the biggest disappointment of all, the 1977 team went down in overtime to the Orangemen from Syracuse University (93-88) in a game played in Baton Rouge, La., as both King and Grunfeld fouled out during second-half action.

Mears soon followed his two great stars in farewell. A longtime sufferer from depression, the Vols coach could not answer the bell for the 1977-78 season, and assistant coach Cliff Wittig led the team through a tough rebuilding phase that produced the school's first losing campaign in 16 years. When it became clear that Mears could not return to his post, UT hired a new head coach, Don DeVoe, in the spring of 1978.

Mears left an enviable record behind him. In 15 seasons, his teams had won 278 games against only 112 losses for a .713 winning percentage, had captured three SEC championships and had played old rival Kentucky to a dead heat with 15 wins in 30 meetings. His acts of psychological warfare, such as the long walks at Nashville that brought the Vanderbilt crowds to a boil, had won him more than his share of detractors, but underneath all the boos, there was a grudging respect for one of the best coaches of his time.

John Ward and The Vol Network

John Ward sat atop Mississippi State Gymnasium on March 8, 1967, peering down on the Vols as time expired on the clock. Mississippi State had just taken Tennessee into overtime in the season-finales for both teams. The Vols were in a battle in Starkville, Miss., but they were in a three-way war for the SEC championship, along with Florida and Vanderbilt.

Ward, thanks to the Vols playing in the Central Time Zone, already knew both Florida and Vanderbilt had finished at 14-4. Should the Vols win, they would finish at 15-3 and win their first SEC title in more than 20 years. And it all came down to overtime. Then a second overtime. Then a third.

By then, Ward's voice was getting rougher and rougher. He, along with color analyst Lowell Blanchard, were located high atop the gym to get a bird's eye view of the game.

"When I do broadcasts, I prefer to be working upstairs because I can see the game unfold better," Ward said. "We were upstairs near the top of the gym and against the wall. Well, with a window behind us, a draft kept blowing onto my neck and it was cold. By the second overtime, I just looked at Lowell - just a wonderful man - and said, 'I can't finish the game.'"

Ward's throat was getting tight due to the cold air on his neck and he was losing his voice. Quick to aid Ward, Blanchard retrieved a towel from the Tennessee bench at court-side and Ward wrapped it around his neck. The treatment warmed and opened Ward's throat, and he was able to finish broadcasting the Vols' 78-76 triple-overtime win over the Bulldogs. A 1967 SEC Championship and Tennessee's first trip to the NCAA Tournament came courtesy of the win.

Of course, the towel became a trademark of Ward's during his 35-year run as "Voice of the Vols." But according to Ward, it was always used for medical purposes.

"I always wore it to protect my voice and throat," he insisted after he recalled his most memorable UT basketball game. "Never was it intended to be a trademark."

There are other games that stick out in Ward's mind - especially the Kentucky games. Games like the one in 1976 when Tennessee rallied from 14 points down to beat the Wildcats in overtime in Memorial Coliseum. Or the game that very next year when Tennessee beat Kentucky in its first trip to the new Rupp Arena. Then there's Tennessee's 1979 SEC Championship.

"Tennessee won the SEC championship in '79 and they beat who? Kentucky," Ward said. "You've got to understand, Kentucky didn't lose back then. They just didn't."

For those fans not able to attend the games in person, they depended on Ward to paint the picture over radio broadcasts. He never failed.

"Prior to around 1980, there were no TV games," Ward said. "So obviously, radio broadcasts became the dominant medium to follow those games."

Through the late 1950s and early 1960s, UT basketball games were not heard over the radio on a regular basis. Only big games, like Kentucky and Vanderbilt, made the airwaves. But in 1966, athletics director Bob Woodruff, with the assistance of Bill Petty, Ward and basketball coach Ray Mears, began the groundwork for a Vol Basketball Network. The Vol Network already covered football games, and now it was time for basketball coverage.

The 1966-67 season was the first full season of basketball broadcasts for Ward and the Vol Network, and it could be heard on one station. But thanks to the marketing mindset of Mears and the successful teams he put on the floor, Tennessee basketball was exploding in popularity.

"Nothing defined the ascendancy of basketball on the UT scene more clearly than the game's identity with John Ward's broadcasting style," said Hayward Harris, UT's long-time sports information director. "The presence of Ward at UT games was as much a part of the basketball presentation as Mears' pre-game warm-ups and Roger Peltz' unicycle act."

In the following years, Ward began to work more closely with the network, and the program increased the number of stations that carried the broadcasts to around 15 throughout the state.

The unique aspect of the Vol Network was that small, community-based radio stations carried the broadcasts. Instead of relying on larger radio stations in Nashville to broadcast the games to larger areas, the Vol Network targeted the small stations in Tennessee and created a down-home atmosphere for listeners.

"My primary goal was to involve the local stations throughout the state," Ward said. "Our philosophy was that it's not the number of stations but amount of coverage in the state. We wanted to touch every county in Tennessee."

The Vol Network came pretty close to doing that. By choosing to reach the small-town audiences through smaller stations, the network expanded and eventually had more than 50 stations carrying the sports broadcasts. Now, the Vol Network is one of the largest radio networks in the nation with affiliates in four surrounding states. The Vol Network also can be heard in 28 states after dark and worldwide on the Internet. Bob Kesling inherited the title "Voice of the Vols" in 1999 and currently pairs with former Vol basketball player Bert Bertelkamp to bring Tennessee basketball to life on the radio.

"To grow from one station to more than 50 stations was a great accomplishment," said Ward, who retired after the 1998-99 basketball season. "But the key to that was the sponsors, not me. I was only a broadcaster."

John Ward was never only a broadcaster. He was music to Vol fans' ears.

Dec. 15, 1973: UT, Temple Combine for 17 Points

It was Dec. 15, and it was the championship game of the 1973 Volunteer Classic at Stokely Athletics Center.

Tennessee's high-powered offense was looking to dispose quickly of Temple to win yet another Classic title on its own floor.

Tennessee put points on the board at will. They scored 80 points in a season-opening victory in 1973 over North Texas State and 65 in a loss to Marquette. But in the two games leading up to the clash with Temple, the Vols had scored 117 and 96 points, respectively. Needless to say, fans were expecting a show.

If anything, a show was not what the fans got. Temple coach Don Casey had instructed his squad to merely pass the ball back and forth to keep the rock away from the Vols. That's exactly what they did. And with Mears' strict discipline, Tennessee wasn't about to stray from their traditional zone defense. Neither team would budge. But the fans did. They booed and complained throughout the chess match between the Vols and Owls.

When the buzzer sounded, the crowd had something to cheer about. Tennessee came away victorious 11-6. That's right, 11-6. Temple had effectively taken the ball out of Tennessee's hands, yet the Vols also had proven a point that they were sticking to their game plan.

Throughout the rest of the season, Tennessee was content at scoring in the 60s, 70s and 80s, even topping the 100-point mark against LSU to finish 17-9. But the UT-Temple fiasco will live in the record books forever. The game holds the NCAA record for fewest points scored by both teams - something that may never be broken with today's fast-paced game. The NCAA record for fewest points allowed since 1938 also goes to Tennessee (tie) for holding the Owls to a mere six points.

1980s:

Vols Enjoy NCAA Success; Thompson-Boling Arena Opens

Just as Mears had done a decade and a half earlier, Don DeVoe put his stamp on Tennessee basketball in quick order. Inheriting a team built around All-America Reggie Johnson in the post and Terry Crosby and freshman Gary Carter at the wings, the 37-year-old former Ohio State player soon put whatever doubts there may have been about his appointment to rest. In that first season of 1978-79, DeVoe achieved a number of "firsts" for a Tennessee cage coach.

That first DeVoe team posted an overall record of 21-12 and a regular-season SEC mark of 12-6, good for the runner-up spot. That happened to be the season when the postseason conference tournament was revived after a 27-year hiatus, and when the Vols beat Kentucky 75-69 in the finals, it was the first conference tourney title for Tennessee since 1943. And since his team had swept the Wildcats in regular-season play, DeVoe became the first Vol skipper ever to beat the Wildcats three times in one campaign. The tourney championship also put the team in the NCAA playoffs, and when the Vols dusted off Eastern Kentucky 97-81 in the first round of play in Murfreesboro, Tenn., he became the first UT coach ever to record an NCAA Tournament victory. The Vols then lost in the second round to Notre Dame, but it had been a storybook maiden season for the tall man from the Buckeye state.

A three-time selection as the Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year, Don DeVoe led the Vols to nine postseason appearances in his 11 seasons in Knoxville.

The good times rolled on. With such standout performers as Carter, Howard Wood and All-American forward Dale Ellis leading the attack, DeVoe's first five teams all participated in NCAA tournament play, all of them winning first-round games before being later eliminated. The 1981 team advanced to the NCAA Tournament's Sweet Sixteen before being eliminated 62-48 by Virginia and college player of the year Ralph Sampson. The best of the lot, 1981-82, won the school's seventh SEC title and posted a 20-10 record. That team fell just shy of upsetting powerful Virginia, led by Sampson, in an NCAA second-round game at Indianapolis, Ind., losing 54-51.

The 1983-84 team went 21-14 overall and went three rounds deep into NIT tournament play, and the 1984-85 team went 22-15 and reached the NIT's semifinals before losing to Indiana at Madison Square Garden. But after seven postseason tourney appearances in as many seasons, the DeVoe program suddenly made a sharp downward turn with two consecutive losing seasons in 1985-86 and 1986-87. But there were still bright spots. Guard Tony White scored 51 points in a game against Auburn in 1987, bettering by one point an old school single-game scoring record set by Ron Widby against LSU 20 years earlier.

The 1987-88 team turned things around with a 16-13 record and an NIT appearance, and when the 1988-89 team went 19-11 to get the Volunteers back into the NCAA playoffs, the program seemed to be moving in the right direction. But an 84-68 loss to West Virginia at Greensboro, N.C., in the first round of play sealed DeVoe's doom. After an 11-year tenure that had produced a 204-137 record, one SEC championship, one SEC tourney title, six NCAA playoff appearances and three trips to the NIT, DeVoe resigned.

In a way, DeVoe was a victim of his own accomplishments. The rousing successes of his early years, combined with Mears' long run, had raised expectations among Tennessee basketball fans. Overflow crowds at Stokely Center had sparked a drive for a new facility, and in the 1987-88 season the Vols moved into one of the most palatial college basketball homes in the country. The $30 million, 24,535-seat Thompson-Boling Arena and Assembly Center. It was named after philanthropist B. Ray Thompson and then-UT president Ed Boling, and it signaled the school's commitment to competitive excellence.

Vols Open New Arena on River

No one ever thought the Tennessee Volunteers would outgrow Stokely Athletics Center. The 12,700-seat arena was gigantic compared to the previous basketball arenas that the Vols called home. But with a winning basketball team and loads of excitement surrounding the program, a new basketball arena was inevitable.

Work began to raise money for a new and larger basketball facility. There was one goal for the new arena - make it larger than any arena in the SEC. In the early 1980s, Kentucky's Rupp Arena was tops in the SEC with its 23,000 seats. The big question was if an arena of that size would be large enough for the Vols. The demand for Tennessee basketball tickets was outrageous, and school officials were concerned.

The spark for the fire was an anonymous gift of $5 million. That was followed by $5 million in private UT donations, a $7 million pledge from the state of Tennessee, $10 million from Knox County and $3 million in ticket and parking revenue. The ball was officially rolling.

Everything, however, came to a screeching halt after work on the arena had already begun. The Kansas contractor, who had obtained the contract with a bid of $23 million, pulled out after multiple delays had pushed the completion date back several times. A Nashville contractor took over the responsibilities, and the new 24,535-seat arena was completed for the 1987-88 season.

It was discovered that B. Ray Thompson was the man responsible for the original donation for construction, and he was convinced to have his name attached to the new arena. However, the only way he would comply was if then-UT President Edward J. Boling's name was attached also. So, on Sept. 25, 1987, the new basketball facility was officially named the Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena.

The largest on-campus basketball-only facility in the nation, Thompson-Boling Arena opened its doors to the Vols in good fashion when Tennessee beat Marquette 82-56 before 25,272 people. An arena-record crowd of 25,610 showed up Jan. 21, 1989, when UT hosted Kentucky.

1990s: Houston Sets UT Scoring Mark; Vols Return to NCAA Tournament

Ironically, UT's hoops fortunes slumped badly in these luxurious new surroundings. DeVoe's successor, Wade Houston, was never able to get the program rolling. Houston, an Alcoa, Tenn., native who had played at Louisville and served as an assistant coach there, was warmly welcomed in his pioneer role as UT's first black head coach. He was enormously popular on the personal level, but he was able to post only two winning records in five seasons, and after a 5-22 campaign in 1993-94, he was replaced by Kevin O'Neill.

Even so, the name Houston still stands tall in UT history. The coach's son, Allan Houston, rewrote the Volunteer scoring record book during his four years under his father's tutelage, 1989-93. A velvet-match guard, he zoomed past Grunfeld to set the school career mark with 2,801 points and also set records in single-season scoring, field goals and 3-point goals. The younger Houston led his dad's teams to NIT appearances in 1990 and 1992, both ventures ending in second-round losses.

Houston's successor, O'Neill, was a much fiercer sideline coach than his laid-back predecessor. O'Neill had enjoyed great success at Marquette, where he had won a reputation as a standout recruiter and defensive specialist. He took over the Vols program when its stock was at a very low ebb, and was not able to turn the program around in regard to wins and losses. Of his three Volunteer teams, only one, 1995-96, managed to break even during the regular season, 14-14, before suffering an NIT opening-round loss to the College of Charleston at Thompson-Boling Arena on a bitterly-cold March evening. But he did make headway in recruiting, and when he departed to take the head coaching job at Northwestern after the 1996-97 season, he left behind a healthy crop of young players.

Jerry Green's initial season of 20-9 in 1997-98 was the best for a first-year Volunteer cage coach since Emmett Lowery's 20-5 record in 1947-48. And it ended on a high note when the Vols won their way into the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1989. Even an overtime loss to Illinois State at the Arco Arena in Sacramento, Calif., in the opening round could not rub the shine off Tennessee's best season in a decade. A South Carolina native who had a successful tenure as the head coach at Oregon and as Roy Williams' top assistant at Kansas, Green seemed to strike the right chord among players and fans alike with his down-home style. And his first-year success didn't end with the season. His signing of Cleveland, Tenn., high school superstar Vincent Yarbrough was perhaps Tennessee's greatest recruiting coup since Grunfeld and King.

Under Green's direction, Tennessee continued to achieve milestones for the program during the 1998-99 season in which the Vols went 21-9. The Vols returned to the NCAA Tournament, giving UT its first back-to-back bids since 1982-83, and won their first NCAA tourney game since 1983. The Vols won their last six SEC games, including a season-ending showdown with Kentucky to win their first SEC Eastern Division crown since divisional play started in 1992. UT's 21 wins were the most for the Vols since 1985 and just one short of the school's single-season record. Tennessee's season sweep of arch-rivals Kentucky and Vanderbilt also were cause for celebration. The Vols' win at Lexington was the first at Rupp Arena in 20 years.

Vols Run for 1991 SEC Tournament Title

After enjoying peaks of success in the 1970s and '80s, the Tennessee Volunteers hit a treacherous valley in the early 1990s. Despite a tremendous scoring threat in Allan Houston (23.7 points) and a sharpshooter in Lang Wiseman (13.2 points), the Vols fell on hard times during the 1990-91 season.

Tennessee began the season red-hot, winning five of its first six games. However, the Vols would only win four more games the rest of the season. Losing streaks highlighted the schedule, as the Vols saw consecutive streaks hit three, four and five games, as well as a seven-game losing streak to end the regular season. Tennessee won four straight during the first six games but never could win back-to-back games again. Wins over Florida, No. 19 LSU and Vanderbilt gave the Vols a 3-15 record in the SEC and placed them in a tie for eighth heading into the SEC Tournament in Nashville.

In the first round, Tennessee avenged two close losses to Mississippi with a 94-85 win over the Rebels. It was an upset, but no one was searching for a Cinderella slipper until the Vols upset No. 18 Mississippi State 87-70 in the second round. An underrated Tennessee team was having its way with the conference's best teams, and the magic ride continued with an 85-65 thrashing of Georgia in the semifinals.

The same Tennessee team that had won only three conference games in the regular season had just won three consecutive conference games in three straight days. They were the talk of the tournament, and they were looking to write a happy ending to the fairy tale. The underdog Volunteers met No. 24 Alabama in the finals of the SEC Tournament, and the Crimson Tide washed away Tennessee's hopes of completing the dream with an 88-69 victory.

Tennessee ended the season with a 12-22 record in 1991. There wasn't much to cheer about other than an appearance in the conference tournament finals. But for three consecutive nights, the Vols were the Cinderella of the SEC Tournament, dreaming of an invitation to "The Big Dance."

2000s:

Vols Start New Millennium with Regular Postseason Appearances

UT continued its return to the national spotlight with the dawn of the new century. The Vols began the new millennium as a consistent name in national polls and with a pair of trips to the NCAA Tournament.

The 2000 season was one of the most successful in school history, with the Vols winning a school-record 26 games and advancing to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. UT won a share of its eighth SEC title and its second straight SEC Eastern Division crown. Not only did the Vols win 20 games for the third consecutive season, but they did so faster (23 games) than any other team in school history. They spent the entire season ranked in the top 25, reaching as high as No. 5, and finished the season ranked 11th in the final Associated Press poll.

The 2001 season saw the Vols ranked No. 9 in the Associated Press preseason poll, and they climbed as high as No. 4 during the year. The No. 4 ranking tied for the highest in school history. For the fourth straight year, the Vols won 20 games, finishing the season with a 22-11 record. At the end of the regular season, UT made its fourth trip to the NCAA Tournament in as many years, bowing to Charlotte in the first round.

Buzz Peterson was named the 16th head coach in school history on April 4, 2001, following the resignation of Jerry Green after the season. Peterson, who attended UT football games while growing up in Asheville, N.C., came to Knoxville after leading Tulsa to a 26-11 record and the NIT championship.

In his four seasons in Knoxville, Peterson led the Vols to a 61-59 overall record and appearances in the National Invitation Tournament in 2003 and 2004.

Ron Slay, who missed the second half of his junior season with a knee injury, returned to the Vol lineup in 2003 to lead the Southeastern Conference in scoring with 21.2 points per game and was named the league's Player of the Year.

In 2005, freshman guard Chris Lofton took the league by storm by making 93 3-pointers, the most-ever by a freshman in the Southeastern Conference. His 46.5 shooting from behind the 3-point arc led the SEC and ranked fourth nationally.

On March 28, 2005, Bruce Pearl took over the reins of the Tennessee program just days after leading UW-Milwaukee to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament.

Pearl made his presence felt in his first season in Knoxville, leading the Vols to the 2006 SEC Eastern Division championship with a 12-4 league record and a 22-8 overall mark. The Vols received a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament, the highest seeding in school history.

After the season, the honors came rolling in. Pearl was named the Associated Press SEC Coach of the Year and also was a finalist for the Naismith Trophy Men's College Coach of the Year in addition to earning national coach of the year honors from The Sporting News and CBS Sportsline.com.

Lofton rewrote Tennessee's single-season record books in 2005-06 with his 3-point shooting on his way to earning consensus first-team All-SEC honors and several All-American awards. The sophomore broke school records for 3-pointers made (114), 3-pointers attempted (261) and 3-pointers per game (3.80 3pg). His 114 3-pointers in 2005-06 were the second-most in Southeastern Conference history.

Tennessee's second season under Pearl's guidance produced the second-most wins in school history and one of the most memorable NCAA Tournament runs in school history. The Vols completed the 2006-07 campaign with a 24-11 overall record, and their 10-6 SEC mark was tied for the second-best in the league. In the first round of the NCAA Tournament, the Vols tied a school scoring record in defeating Long Beach State 121-86. UT held on for a 77-74 win over Virginia in the second round before falling to eventual national runner-up Ohio State in the Sweet Sixteen.

Lofton was named the 2007 Associated Press SEC Player of the Year and was a consensus second-team All-America selection after leading the conference with 20.8 points and 3.42 3-pointers per game.

Pearl's third season in Knoxville produced a school-record for wins with a 31-5 overall mark, and the Vols won their first outright SEC title since 1967 with a 14-2 league record. Tennessee spent most of the season ranked in the top 10 and achieved the program's first No. 1 ranking after a 66-62 win at then-No. 1 Memphis in late February.

Tennessee advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive year with wins over American and Butler before falling to Louisville in the Regional Semifinals.

Lofton earned second-team All-American honors for the third time in his career. He finished his career with 2,131 points, and his 431 3-pointers were the most in SEC history and ranked third all-time in the NCAA. Tyler Smith joined Lofton in garnering first-team All-SEC honors, and JaJuan Smith was a second-team pick. Bruce Pearl was named SEC Coach of the Year and was honored as national coach of the year by the Adolph Rupp Cup.

In 2008-09, Pearl again led the Vols to an SEC Eastern Division title, a 20-win season and a berth in the NCAA Tournament. The Big Orange finished the year 21-13 (10-6 SEC) and became the first program in SEC history to finish ahead of Kentucky in the league standings for four straight seasons.

Chris Lofton Wins His Biggest Battle

Chris Lofton beat everything thrown his way during his four-year career at Tennessee, and he often did it with people lining up to tell him he couldn't.

But the toughest battle he faced at Tennessee was not resurrecting the basketball program or quieting the doubters who thought he couldn't be a producer on a major Division I basketball team.

It was something much worse, much more vicious and much more devastating than any challenge the simple game of basketball can provide.

It was cancer.

And in true Lofton fashion, he beat it.

It was already a bad night when Lofton and his parents were taken into a San Antonio hotel room mere hours after the Vols had fallen to Ohio State in the Sweet 16 in 2007. In the room, Lofton was told that one of the randomly-administered NCAA drug tests had come back positive.

The test had come back showing high levels of beta hCG. It could mean Lofton was using steroids, or it could be an early warning sign of cancer.

It was the latter, and six days after the Ohio State game, Lofton had surgery to remove a cancerous tumor.

He began radiation treatments on April 25, 2007, that left him cancer-free, but they also drained 15 pounds of muscle off his body and put him far behind the curve in getting ready for his senior season.

Lofton was not going to let cancer stand in the way of his senior year, a season that was predicted to be one of the best in school history as he turned down an opportunity to redshirt.

The season turned out to be everything hoped for. UT achieved its first No. 1 ranking in history, had a school-record 31 wins and won the SEC title.

But the face of the team was not producing on the levels people had expected. Lofton's face had adorned the cover of Sports Illustrated, but he was not putting up numbers to match his junior campaign, during which he was named SEC Player of the Year after averaging 20.8 ppg.

Lofton started the season shooting just 34 percent from the field and had everyone questioning if something was wrong with him.

It turns out the only thing that matched Lofton's work ethic was his ability to keep a secret. The select group of people who knew about his cancer didn't include any teammates.

"I wanted to deal with it on my terms," Lofton said. "I didn't want it to be a distraction for our team. I knew if it came out, everything would change. I didn't want it that way."

So Lofton quietly led his team, with a 15.9-point average, to another Sweet Sixteen appearance. In doing so, he shot 49 percent from 3-point range the rest of the regular season, returning to the Lofton every SEC opponent had feared from previous encounters.

He finished his career with an SEC-record 431 3-pointers made and was fourth on UT's all-time scoring list with 2,131 career points. But he will forever mean more to UT than simply numbers.

"You look at what he has gone through ..." head coach Bruce Pearl said. "He's still going to be remembered as one of the best players to wear orange.

"I was privileged to coach him."

2010s: Transition on Rocky Top; Pearl, Martin, Tyndall Precede Barnes

In terms of NCAA Tournament success, the 2009-10 season was the best in Tennessee's storied history, as the Volunteers fell just one-point shy of the Final Four.

After coach Bruce Pearl led the Vols to an 11-5 conference record and a third-place finish in the SEC Eastern Division, Tennessee began its NCAA Tournament journey in Providence, R.I. Led by seniors Wayne Chism, Bobby Maze, J.P. Prince and Brian Williams, the sixth-seeded Vols defeated San Diego State and then Ohio University to advance to the Sweet Sixteen for the third time in the Pearl era.

The Edward Jones Dome in Kansas City, Mo., was UT's next tournament stop. And a 76-73 come-from-behind victory over No. 2-seeded Ohio State and National Player of the Year Evan Turner lifted Tennessee into the Elite Eight for the first time in school history.

Two days later, the Midwest Regional Final saw UT tip off against fifth-seeded Michigan State. After surviving a 14-1 Spartans run and charging back from an eight-point deficit in the second half, Tennessee forged a 69-69 tie with 11 seconds left. But MSU's Raymar Morgan made the game-winning free throw to end the Vols' season at 28-9.

Pearl Era Ends After Six Seasons

The 2010-11 season saw Tennessee make its sixth consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance, but the entire year was clouded by an ongoing NCAA investigation.

Head coach Bruce Pearl had provided the NCAA with "false and misleading information" in the course of its official inquiry prior to the season, and Southeastern Conference commissioner Mike Slive had suspended Pearl for Tennessee's first eight regular-season SEC games (associate head coach Tony Jones led the Vols to a 5-3 mark during that span).

After a disappointing and lopsided loss to Michigan in the NCAA Tournament's round of 64, UT athletics director Mike Hamilton relieved Pearl and his staff of their duties on March 21, 2011.

Pearl was later given a three-year "show cause" penalty by the NCAA, while each of his full-time assistant coaches received a one-year penalty.

Tennessee under Pearl averaged more than 24 wins per season, earned the nation's No. 1 ranking for the first time in program history, boasted an average year-end RPI of 17.2 and never failed to make the NCAA Tournament — tying a school-record with six consecutive berths in the Big Dance.

Martin Maintains UT's Winning Ways

On March 28, 2011, Tennessee named Cuonzo Martin the 18th head coach in program history.

The East St. Louis, Ill., native starred at Purdue under legendary coach Gene Keady before being selected in the 1995 NBA Draft.

Martin's arrival at UT was preceded by three successful seasons as head coach at Missouri State (2009-11).

In his first year with the Vols, the Big Orange were picked in the preseason to finish 11th in the then-12-team SEC. But Martin led Tennessee to a 10-6 conference record and a second-place SEC finish.

The 2012-13 season saw Martin lead Tennessee to 20 wins, as well as victories in each of the team's final nine regular-season games (for the second straight year).

Martin also joined Jerry Green and Bruce Pearl as the only UT head coaches to lead the Vols to victories over at least three AP Top-25 teams in each of their first two seasons on Rocky Top. Those triumphs included wins over Wichita State, eighth-ranked Florida and a 30-point victory over Kentucky that marked UT's largest-ever margin of victory against the Wildcats.

In Martin's third and final season at Tennessee, the Vols totaled 24 wins, earned the program's first NCAA Tournament berth since 2011 and advanced all the way from the "First Four" in Dayton to the Sweet Sixteen.

That team was led by seniors Jeronne Maymon, Jordan McRae and Antonio Barton as well as junior Jarnell Stokes. McRae and Stokes both were selected in the 2014 NBA Draft after the season, while Maymon and Barton each signed professional basketball contracts overseas.

Martin accepted the head coaching position at Cal in April 2014 and was replaced at Tennessee by Southern Miss head coach Donnie Tyndall later that month.

Tyndall's Short Stay Sets Stage for Barnes Era

Tyndall's 2014-15 Tennessee squad was among the youngest and least experienced in the nation — boasting only four returning scholarship players and just one player who had ever scored in double figures in an SEC game. Due to injuries, the Vols entered SEC play with just nine healthy scholarship players.

Despite its challenges, that team finished 16-16 overall, and its 10th place SEC finish was three spots better than where the team was picked to finish in the preseason. Senior guard Josh Richardson earned first-team All-SEC honors from both the Associated Press and the league's head coaches before being drafted 40th overall by the Miami Heat.

After just one season, Tennessee terminated Tyndall's contract due to indiscretions he committed at his previous institution, Southern Miss.

Following Tyndall's departure, Tennessee Director of Athletics Dave Hart and his top aide, Jon Gilbert, wasted no time in reaching out to Final Four head coach Rick Barnes, whose job security at Texas was surprisingly tenuous after 17 highly successful seasons leading the Longhorns to never-before-seen heights.

The Tennessee job was vacant for only three full days before Hart introduced Barnes as the Volunteers' 20th head coach on March 31, 2015. Barnes and his staff led the Big Orange to a 31-35 record over his first two seasons, but the culture they sought to establish was developing steadily. Tennessee's 2016-17 freshmen became highest-scoring freshman class in school history (1,140 points) and accounted for close to half of the team's statistical production.

The following season, which was preceded by a summer exhibition tour of Spain and France—boosting both chemistry and culture—Barnes guided Tennessee to the fourth-most wins in program history, as the team finished 26-9. Picked in the preseason to finish 13th in the SEC, the Vols shocked all outsiders by winning the regular-season SEC Championship, advancing to the SEC Tournament Championship Game and earning a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. Tennessee spent 14 consecutive weeks ranked in the AP top 25, climbing as high as No. 13. Barnes was named SEC Coach of the Year, sophomore forward Grant Williams was the SEC Player of the Year, junior wing Admiral Schofield was a second-team All-SEC selection and also made the SEC All-Tournament Team, and sophomore guard Lamonté Turner earned SEC Co-Sixth Man of the Year honors.

The 2018-19 Volunteers went down as one of the most beloved teams in program history, authoring one of UT's greatest seasons as the Big Orange tied the school record for wins, finishing 31-6 (15-3 SEC). National Coach of the Year Rick Barnes guided Tennessee to a school-record 19-game win streak, a perfect 18-0 record at Thompson-Boling Arena and a program-record-tying three wins over teams with a top-five ranking. The Vols also spent the entire season—wire-to-wire—ranked in the top 10, including four weeks atop both major polls. Williams earned consensus first-team All-America acclaim and was the first SEC player since 1996 to be named SEC Player of the Year in back-to-back seasons. Schofield was a first-team All-SEC performer, and junior point guard Jordan Bone was a second-team honoree. The Vols earned a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament and reached the Sweet Sixteen, where they suffered an overtime loss to Purdue.

Williams, Schofield and Bone all were selected in the 2019 NBA Draft after leading Tennessee to 57 wins over their final two seasons on Rocky Top. The trio said goodbye to Knoxville with Tennessee in possession of a 26-game home winning streak and laid a foundation that set the program on an exciting upward trajectory.

HEAD COACHING HISTORY

Zora Clevenger
1911-16

A football coach by trade, Zora Clevenger was one of the first coaches in school history to simultaneously hold the head coaching jobs for the basketball and football teams. In five seasons as the basketball coach, he led the Vols to a 50-14 record. The 1904 Indiana University graduate's winning percentage of .781 still rates as the best in Tennessee history. On the gridiron, he recorded a 26-15 record in five seasons and led the Vols to the 1914 SIAA championship.

The Muncie, Ind., native got his coaching start at his alma mater in 1905 with a 5-12 record. A year later he led the Hoosier cagers to a 7-9 mark. Later, Clevenger coached four seasons (1917-20) at Kansas State Agricultural College, where he posted a 54-16 record on the hardwood. Following administrative positions at the University of Missouri and Nebraska Wesleyan, Clevenger returned to Indiana where he was named the director of athletics. In 1968 he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame as a hallback.

Blair Gullion

Considered one of the nation's top basketball tacticians, Blair Gullion (pronounced: GULL-yin) took over the Vols before the 1935-36 season and promptly won the school's first SEC championship in any sport. The first full-time basketball coach in school history, Gullion posted a 47-19 (.712) record in his three seasons in Knoxville.

A precise tactician who had written numerous textbooks on the game, Gullion ran a tightly patterned, multiple-screening offense that caused defenses to get lost. Described by one of his star players, Floyd "Biggy" Marshall, as a person who "lived, dreamed, ate and slept basketball," Gullion gave the Vols their first glimpse of national basketball prominence. Two times he led the Vols to the SEC championship game, winning it in 1936. Under his tutelage, Harry Anderson became the school's first All-American in 1936.

Just weeks prior to the 1938-39 season, Gullion abruptly left for Cornell where he stayed for several years. He also coached at Washington University at St. Louis and the University of Connecticut before retiring.

John Mauer
1938-47

After Blair Gullion departed with such short notice before the 1938-39 season, John Mauer was tabbed by Major Robert Neyland as the man to take over for the popular Gullion.

Prior to coming to Tennessee, the Aurora, Ill., native proved himself as an athlete when he was named the Outstanding Athlete and Scholar in the Big Ten Conference while competing for Illinois. A college roommate of Harold "Red" Grange, Mauer was one of the first college basketball players to use the "one-hand" shot.

After college, he began his coaching career at Kentucky, where he preceded Adolph Rupp, and posted a 40-14 record in three years. In the early 1930s, he moved to Miami of Ohio, where he coached with Paul Brown and Weeb Ewbank on the gridiron and directed the Miami cagers for eight seasons.

After a shaky start in his first season, Mauer cemented his place in the hearts of Tennessee fans with a 30-29 win over Kentucky in Lexington. The Vols went on to a 14-7 overall record and a 6-5 mark in the SEC in 1939. Two years later, Mauer led UT to the first of two SEC championships over a three-year period with a 36-33 win over Kentucky in the SEC championship game.

In his eight seasons at Tennessee, Mauer recorded a 127-41 record. In addition to his duties with the Vol cagers, Mauer also served as an assistant football coach to Neyland and was the head baseball coach. On the gridiron, he helped lead the Vols to three SEC titles and the 1940 national championship.

Emmett Lowery
1947-59

An All-American guard as a player for coach Ward Lambert at Purdue in the early 1930s, Emmett Lowery brought that same success to Tennessee. A college teammate of John Wooden, Lowery brought a tightly-patterned, fast-break offense and man-to-man defense to Knoxville. In fact, he could often be heard yelling "Pass and cut, pass and cut," from the sidelines.

Other coaches in the Southeastern Conference took notice of Lowery's mastery of the fast-breaking offense. "The Tennessee fast break under Lowery was the best I've ever seen," famed Auburn mentor Joel Eaves said. "It was beautifully patterned, beautifully executed."

In his first season at Tennessee, the gentlemanly Lowery brought the Vols their first 20-win season in school history when UT posted a 20-5 overall mark. Over a 12-year career at Tennessee, Lowery was 169-110 before leaving to pursue business opportunities in Florida. On Jan. 14, 1950, he directed the Vols to a stunning 66-53 win over Kentucky, ending the Wildcats' 44-game conference winning streak that stretched more than five years.

In a time when many SEC schools were building newer and bigger arenas, Lowery saw Tennessee take the first steps towards building a new facility. In Lowery's final season, Tennessee moved out of the smaller Alumni Memorial Gymnasium and into the 7,500-seat Armory-Fieldhouse. Opening night in the new facility went down to the wire, with Vols guard Kenny Coulter hitting a last-second shot to defeat a strong Wyoming team 72-71.

John Sines
1959-62

After eight years on the bench as an assistant coach to Emmett Lowery, John Sines became the first, and still the only, assistant to be promoted to head coach at Tennessee.

Like his predecessor on the UT bench, Sines was a product of Ward Lambert's Purdue teams from the 1930s. A captain of the Boilermakers' 1938 Big Ten championship team, Sines went on to play in the National Basketball League. A forward for the Indianapolis franchise, Sines was named to the 1940 NBL All-Star Team.

His first Tennessee squad returned only Dalen Showalter from the previous year's starting lineup but finished the season 12-11. That first season was capped off with a 65-63 win at Kentucky, the Vols' first win in Lexington since 1939.

His second season was marred by eight losses by five points or less as the Vols dropped to a 10-15 record. Sines, whose Vols were rocked by scandal following the 1961 season, resigned one year later after posting a 4-19 record in 1961-62.

Although the finish of Sines' career at UT may have been disappointing, he left the school with one of best recruiting classes in its history. A.W. Davis and Bobby Hogsett spent the 1961-62 season on a freshman team that regularly defeated the varsity in practice.

Ray Mears
1962-77

A showman comparable to the legendary P.T. Barnum, Ray Mears was also one of the top college basketball coaches in his era.

Mears came to Tennessee in the spring of 1962 following a successful stint at Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio, where he had a 114-22 record and won the 1961 NCAA college division championship.

Mears took just one season to reverse Tennessee's fortunes. Inheriting a team that won just four games the previous year, the Vols won 13 Mears' first year and were recording 20-win seasons within three years.

His 21-year career record of 399-135 (.747) ranked second in the nation among active coaches at the time of his retirement. In his 15 seasons at Tennessee, Mears recorded a 278-112 (.713) record. During his time in Knoxville, the Vols won 20 or more games seven times, finished third or better in the SEC in 13 of his 15 seasons and won three SEC championships (1967, 1972 and 1977).

Under Mears' direction, Tennessee made seven postseason appearances. The Vols made three NCAA Tournament appearances, two National Invitation Tournament showings and participated in the now-discontinued Collegiate Commissioners Association meet.

Nine of his players went on to earn All-American honors, including three-time first-team All-American Bernard King and two-time first-team pick Ernie Grunfeld, perhaps the most famous duo in Tennessee history. The two-time Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year (1967 and 1977) saw one of his pupils named the SEC Player of the Year four times.

Mears was the ultimate showman. Not only did his teams provide plenty of excitement on the court, but there also was plenty of excitement around the game. Just before tipoff of games, he would have his team run through a giant wooden "T" onto the court. When the starting lineups were introduced, Tennessee was one of the first schools to have the lights in the arena dimmed and a spotlight placed on the Vol player. The pregame warmups featured Harlem Globetrotter hi-jinks, including an orange and white ball during passing drills. Additionally, Mears had a student dressed in a bear costume ride a unicycle and perform a pregame act to help create a festive atmosphere at the games.

A disciplinarian and stern taskmaster who also was the consummate entertainer, Mears was a study in contrasts. While he studied statistics, poring over diagrams while plotting strategy like a military general planning an attack, Mears also created an exciting environment at games that left Tennessee fans thirsting for more.

Mears was sidelined for the 1977-78 season and decided to retire from active coaching. During his absence, assistant coach Cliff Wettig stepped up as acting head coach for that season.

Mears passed away on June 11, 2007.

Wade Houston

1989-94

Denny Crum's top assistant coach at Louisville for 13 seasons, Wade Houston was named the 13th coach in Tennessee history prior to the 1989-90 campaign.

Houston, who grew up in Alcoa, Tenn., just 14 miles south of the Tennessee campus, helped Crum direct Louisville to 11 NCAA Tournaments, four Final Fours and two (1980 and 1986) national championships.

Houston's first season at Tennessee presented the challenge of replacing all five starters from a team that had gone 19-11 and received an invitation to the NCAA Tournament. In that rookie campaign, the Vols fashioned an impressive 16-14 record and appeared in the National Invitation Tournament.

In 1991, the Vols struggled to a 12-22 record but made an improbable run through the Southeastern Conference Tournament in Nashville. Drawing the ninth seed in the tournament, the Vols defeated Mississippi in the first round before upsetting top-seeded Mississippi State in the second round. After beating Georgia in the semifinals, an exhausted UT squad fell to Alabama in the championship game.

The 1992 season saw the Vols rebound to go 19-15, finish third in the Southeastern Conference and advance to the National Invitation Tournament. The next season, Houston's son, Allan, became the school's all-time leading scorer with 2,801 career points and was the 11th overall pick in the NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons.

In his five seasons at Tennessee, Houston recorded a 65-90 record while leading the Vols to two appearances in postseason tournaments. He resigned his position late in the 1994 season.

On March 1, 2019, Tennessee head coach Rick Barnes announced the creation of the Wade Houston Leadership Award, presented annually after the season to the team member who best exemplified leadership, a team-first approach and exemplary work ethic.

Kevin O'Neill

Tennessee basketball fans got a preview of the 14th coach in school history when Kevin O'Neill brought his Marquette squad to Knoxville to battle Duke in the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament. After leading at halftime, Marquette fell to the eventual national runner-up, but made a lasting impression on Vol fans.

The high-energy O'Neill, whose wit, candor and basketball insight captivated fans around the Southeast, was charged with restoring the Vols to national prominence. With a legendary work ethic, O'Neill hit the recruiting trail to fill the Vols' roster with top players. One of his first recruiting scores came when Nashville's Brandon Wharton turned down several football scholarship offers to ink with the Vols prior to the 1995-96 season. Then, during the summer of 1995, McDonald's All-American Charles Hathaway committed to play for O'Neill's Vols. That commitment laid the groundwork for another prep All-American, C.J. Black, and eventually Isaiah Victor.

On the court, O'Neill's Vols used a stifling defense to frustrate opponents. In his three seasons at Tennessee, O'Neill recorded a 36-47 record and directed the Vols to an appearance in the 1996 National Invitation Tournament. Although he didn't get to enjoy the full fruits of his recruiting success before bolting to take a job at Northwestern following the 1996-97 season, O'Neill laid the groundwork to return Tennessee to the national power it was two decades earlier under Ray Mears.

After three seasons at Northwestern, O'Neill spent time as an NBA assistant coach. His post-Northwestern head-coaching stints included tenures with the NBA's Toronto Raptors (2003-04), the University of Arizona (interim coach in 2007-08) and University of Southern California (2009-13).

Don DeVoe

When Tennessee began its search for a replacement for Ray Mears, Don DeVoe's name was one of the first to be mentioned.

A successful mentor at Virginia Tech, where he won an NIT championship, and at Wyoming where he quickly turned the Cowboys into one of the top Western Athletic Conference teams, DeVoe was given the task of keeping Tennessee as one of the top teams in the Southeastern Conference.

A 1964 graduate of Ohio State, DeVoe was a member of OSU's 1962 squad that featured Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek and finished runner-up in the NCAA Tournament. He later served as an assistant coach to Bobby Knight at Army. It was there that DeVoe learned the nuances of the sticky man-to-man defense that he became known for throughout his career.

DeVoe's first season at Tennessee was met with instant success. Taking a team that had struggled to an 11-16 record in 1977-78, he directed the Vols to a 21-12 record, an SEC Tournament championship and an appearance in the Sweet Sixteen in the NCAA Tournament.

Behind SEC Player of the Year Dale Ellis, DeVoe's 1981-82 squad was one of his best in Knoxville. The Vols tied with Kentucky for the SEC championship on their way to a 20-10 record and yet another NCAA Tournament appearance.

A three-time selection as the Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year, DeVoe led the Vols to nine postseason appearances in his 11 seasons in Knoxville. UT's streak of five consecutive NCAA Tournaments (1979-83) was tied for the best in school history at that time. The second-winningest coach in UT history, DeVoe's 204-137 record trails only Ray Mears' 278 wins.

DeVoe left Tennessee following the 1988-89 season and spent the next campaign as an interim coach at Florida. There, he led the Gators to a 7-21 record. After taking over the helm of Navy's basketball program in 1992, DeVoe won his 500th career game during the 2002-03 season.

He retired from coaching following the 2003-04 campaign.

Jerry Green
1997-2001

Jerry Green came to Tennessee prior to the 1997-98 season fresh from resurrecting a floundering Oregon program and taking the Ducks to NCAA and NIT tournament berths. In his four seasons in Knoxville, he achieved the same level of success, and then some, with the Vols.

Green's first Tennessee squad in 1997-98 achieved the 20-victory plateau, his second won the Eastern Division championship of the Southeastern Conference and his third earned a share of the regular-season SEC crown.

His fourth year at Tennessee saw the Vols win 20 games for the fourth consecutive season and advance to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in as many years.

In four seasons at the helm of the Tennessee program, the former University of Kansas assistant coach directed the Vols to an 89-36 (.712) overall record and a 41-23 (.641) mark in SEC games. While Tennessee's school record for most wins in a season when he came to Knoxville was 22 (1985 and 1977), Green averaged 22.3 wins per year at UT.

For his efforts in guiding Tennessee to the most wins (26) in school history in 2000 and gaining a share of the SEC title for the first time since 1982, Green was named National Coach of the Year by CBS.Sportsline.com. He also was named the District VII Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

Green's memorable achievements during his reign at UT include leading the Vols to their third-ever Sweet Sixteen appearance, guiding his teams to two straight SEC Eastern Division titles, back-to-back 12-win SEC campaigns, a school-record six-game SEC road winning streak, four consecutive 20-win seasons and four straight NCAA Tournament bids.

Buzz Peterson
2001-05

A native of Asheville, N.C., whose father was a graduate of the University of Tennessee, Buzz Peterson grew up attending Vols athletic events.

Selected the North Carolina high school player of the year over Michael Jordan, he later teamed with Jordan to help lead North Carolina to the 1982 NCAA championship.

After learning the game under coaching legends such as Dean Smith, Bill Guthridge, Eddie Fogler and Roy Williams, Peterson embarked on a successful coaching career that included stops at Appalachian State, East Tennessee State, NC State and Vanderbilt before landing his first head-coaching gig at Appalachian State. After leading the Mountaineers to three Southern Conference division championships in four seasons, he moved to Tulsa where he directed the Golden Hurricane to the 2001 National Invitation Tournament title.

In four seasons at Tennessee, Peterson led the Vols to postseason appearances in 2003 and 2004 while posting a 61-59 record. In 2003 he directed the Vols to their first win over an opponent ranked in the top five in more than a decade when UT defeated fourth-ranked Florida 66-59. Several of his players earned regional and national honors under his tutelage. Ron Slay was named the SEC Player of the Year in 2003 after leading the league with 21.2 points per game. Two Vols were selected in the 2002 NBA Draft, including lottery pick Marcus Haislip.

Peterson went on to serve as head coach at Coastal Carolina (2005-07), Appalachian State (2009-10) and UNC Wilmington (2010-14).

Bruce Pearl
2005-11

Having arrived on Rocky Top following successful head coaching stints at Division II Southern Indiana (1992-2001) and Wisconsin-Milwaukee (2001-05), Bruce Pearl presided over the most successful six-year period in the storied history of Tennessee basketball.

With the longtime Dr. Tom Davis pupil patrolling the bench, the Volunteers pushed aside perennial powerhouses Kentucky and Florida while asserting themselves as the SEC's winningest program during his tenure.

Tennessee under Pearl averaged more than 24 wins per season, earned the nation's No. 1 ranking for the first time in program history, boasted an average year-end RPI of 17.2 and never failed to make the NCAA Tournament—tying a school-record with six consecutive berths in the Big Dance.

In SEC annals, Pearl's 145 victories rank 31st all-time, while his .704 win percentage stands as the ninth-best in league history. Such dominant success within one of the nation's premier college basketball conference also yielded three SEC Eastern Division titles and the 2008 regular-season SEC championship.

With Pearl at the helm, Tennessee had a record of .500 or better against 10 of its 11 SEC rivals, and UT's 65 regular-season SEC wins from 2006-11 led the league.

Tennessee ranked in the top five nationally in average home attendance in each of Pearl's six seasons, and he also lured a pair of top-10 recruiting classes to UT.

The Vols under Pearl sought out non-conference matchups with the most prominent teams and players on the collegiate landscape. During his time in Knoxville, the Vols defeated Kevin Durant and Texas, Derrick Rose and Memphis, Greg Monroe and Georgetown, Matt Bouldin and Gonzaga, Sherron Collins and Luke Aldrich of Kansas and Ohio State with National Player of the Year Evan Turner. That's in addition to logging SEC wins against future NBA standouts such as John Wall, Ronnie Brewer, Glen Davis, Al Horford and Rajon Rondo.

Twice in the Sharon, Mass., native's last four years as coach, UT landed in the top 10 in the final national rankings, with a high of No. 5 after logging a school-record 31 wins in 2007-08.

Pearl now is in his sixth season as head coach at Auburn.

Cuonzo Martin
2011-14

Cuonzo Martin led the Volunteers to a 63-41 record during his three years guiding the UT program.

The East St. Louis, Ill., native starred at Purdue under legendary coach Gene Keedy before being selected in the 1995 NBA Draft.

Martin's arrival at UT was preceded by three successful seasons as head coach at Missouri State (2009-11).

In his first year with the Vols, the Big Orange were picked in the preseason to finish 11th in the then-12-team SEC. But Martin led Tennessee to a 10-6 conference record and a second-place SEC finish.

The 2012-13 season saw Martin lead Tennessee to 20 wins, as well as victories in each of the team's final nine regular-season games (for the second straight year).

Martin also joined Jerry Green and Bruce Pearl as the only UT head coaches to lead the Vols to victories over at least three AP Top-25 teams in each of their first two seasons on Rocky Top. Those triumphs included wins over Wichita State, eighth-ranked Florida and a 30-point victory over Kentucky that marked UT's largest-ever margin of victory against the Wildcats.

In Martin's third and final season at Tennessee, the Volunteers totaled 24 wins, earned the program's first NCAA Tournament berth since 2011 and advanced all the way from the "First Four" in Dayton to the Sweet Sixteen.

He accepted the head coaching position at Cal in April 2014. After three seasons with the Golden Bears, he was named head coach at Missouri in March 2017.

Donnie Tyndall
2014-15

After averaging more than 21 wins during his eight-year head coaching career—including an unprecedented 56-17, championship-winning two-year run at Southern Miss—Donnie Tyndall was tabbed to lead the Tennessee program on April 22, 2014.

Tyndall's lone Tennessee squad was among the youngest and least experienced in the nation—boasting only four returning scholarship players and just one player who had ever scored in double figures in an SEC game. Due to injuries, the Vols entered SEC play with just nine healthy scholarship players.

Despite its challenges, that 2014-15 Tennessee team finished 16-16 overall, and its 10th place SEC finish was three spots better than where the team was picked to finish in the preseason. The Vols defeated a pair of top-20 opponents in No. 15 Butler and No. 19 Arkansas, and senior point guard Josh Richardson earned first-team All-SEC honors from both the Associated Press and the league's head coaches and was selected 40th overall by the Miami Heat in the 2015 NBA Draft.

Tyndall was later an assistant coach with Raptors 905 and the Grand Rapids Drive of the NBA G League before being named head coach of the Drive in July of 2019.

Rick Barnes
2015-Present

Rick Barnes, the most decorated and accomplished head coach in school history, was handed the reins to the men's basketball program on March 31, 2015.

Barnes' first Tennessee squad featured a roster with an average height of 6-4, and the Vols lost their leading scorer, senior point guard Kevin Punter Jr., to injury in mid February. Despite those challenges, Barnes guided the 2015-16 Volunteers to 15 wins and impressive victories over rivals Florida, Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

In 2016-17, Barnes took another undersized roster that featured only three upperclassmen and exceeded preseason expectations, as well as the previous year's overall and SEC win totals.

He led the Vols to an SEC Championship in just his third year at the helm. Tennessee was picked to finish 13th in the 14-team SEC prior to the 2017-18 campaign, but Barnes and his staff not only guided the Big Orange to the conference crown, but also to the title game of the SEC Tournament, a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament and a 26-9 record (third-most wins in program history). Barnes was named the 2018 SEC Coach of the Year and was runner-up for Naismith College Coach of the Year.

Barnes finally captured that Naismith College Coach of the Year Award after guiding Tennessee to a school-record-tying 31 wins and a Sweet Sixteen appearance in 2018-19. The Vols also authored a program-record 19-game win streak, logged three wins over top-five opponents and spent a month ranked atop both major Top 25 polls.

Tennessee spent the entire 2018-19 season ranked in the top 10 and earned a year-end ranking of No. 5 in the coaches' poll. That team set single-season school records for assists and blocks and was the first UT team to score more than 3,000 points.

Barnes coached power forward Grant Williams to unanimous consensus first-team All-America honors in 2019 and became the first player since 1995 to be named SEC Player of the Year in back-to-back seasons.

Bill Gibbs
Assistant Coach, 1962-64

When Ray Mears was named the head coach at Tennessee in the spring of 1962, he quickly tabbed Bill Gibbs, who was then coaching at Fairborn (Ohio) High School, as his assistant coach.

Early in their first season at UT, when Mears fell ill with physical and emotional exhaustion, it was Gibbs whom acting athletic director Bowden Wyatt asked to fill in.

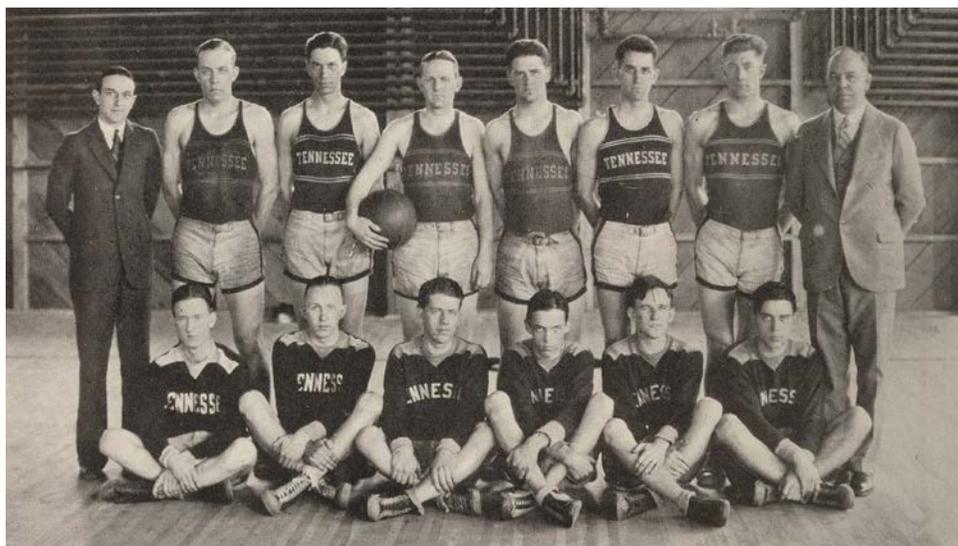

After starting league play with two losses in their first three SEC games, things were not looking good for the Vols, as they had to travel to league-power Kentucky. Behind All-American Cotton Nash, the Wildcats raced to a 15-point lead, but the Vols rallied behind Tommy Wilson's 28 points for a 78-69 upset.

The Vols struggled for consistency during the 1962-63 season but managed some big wins under Gibbs. UT also knocked off league-leader and ninth-ranked Auburn, and then completed the season sweep of Kentucky with a 63-55 win in Knoxville.

Mears returned for the 1963-64 season, and Gibbs went back to his role as assistant after building a reputation as one of the bright young coaches in the field.

Gibbs, in his second season at Tennessee, had just finished giving the scouting report for the Vols' game at Florida on the morning of Feb. 3, 1964, when he boarded a plane for another scouting assignment against Auburn. The small commuter plane bound for Jacksonville, Fla., crashed shortly after takeoff, killing Gibbs and the eight others aboard.

His name lived on for several decades at the University of Tennessee, where one of the dormitories that was used by several student-athletes, Gibbs Hall, bore his name. The building was finally razed in 2014 to make room for a new, more modern facility (Stokely Hall opened in Jan. 2017).

The 1924-25 Tennessee Volunteers

1903

Basketball first appeared on campus when students organized the first class teams and battled for the school championship.

1907-08

Nathan Dougherty captained a squad composed of Howard Sandberg, L.W. McCowan, M.G. Smith, Solon Kipp, Benton White and manager Clarence Daniels in its first varsity basketball game, a 10-20 loss at the Asheville YMCA on Jan. 22, 1908. Five days later, UT earned its first victory, a 55-16 win over TSD.

1909-10

The first varsity basketball game was played at Knoxville when the Vols hosted Central University of Kentucky at Danville at the University YMCA on Dec. 16, 1909.

1913-14

Lum Reeder, considered to be the first star player at Tennessee, scored 41 points in a 49-16 win over Maryville College on Jan. 17, 1914. Reeder, who was one of the first players to use a one-handed jump shot, scored 27 points in his first game at UT as a freshman in 1913-14.

1920-21

In February of 1921, Tennessee joined the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference as a charter member.

1922-23

Tennessee got its first on-campus facility when Jefferson Hall was built at the corner of Cumberland and 15th.

1929-30

Maurice Corbitt and Bobby Dodd became Tennessee's first all-conference selections when they were named to the first and second team All-Southern Conference Tournament squads, respectively.

1932-33

In December 1932, 13 members of the Southern Conference joined to form the Southeastern Conference. The Vols also got new digs when Alumni Memorial Gym opened on the southern slopes of The Hill, just north of the football stadium.

1935-36

With wins over Auburn and Kentucky in the first two rounds, Harry Anderson led the Vols to a 29-25 win over Alabama in the championship game of the SEC Tournament to give the Vols their first conference championship. Anderson became UT's first All-America selection when Converse made him a first-team pick.

1939-40

Bernie Mehen became Tennessee's second first-team All-American.

1940-41

Gilbert Huffman earned first team All-America honors while leading the Vols to their second SEC championship. Along the way, UT defeated top-ranked Long Island University 36-33 at the Sugar Bowl Classic in New Orleans. The win ended LIU's 23-game winning streak.

1942-43

John Mauer's Vols won their second SEC championship in three seasons with a 33-30 win over Kentucky in the conference tournament's championship game.

1942-43

Due to World War II, Tennessee did not sponsor a team in 1942-43.

1944-45

Seventeen-year-old freshman Paul Walther earned first team All-America honors thanks, in part, to a 21-point performance against New York University at Madison Square Garden. The Vols appeared in the NIT, bowing to Rhode Island 44-51.

1947-48

In his first season at the helm of the program, Emmett Lowery led the Vols to a 20-5 record, the first 20-win season in school history.

1949-50

Tennessee upset second-ranked Kentucky and ended the Wildcats' 67-game conference winning streak with a 66-53 win at Alumni Memorial Gym.

1951-52

Herb Neff pulled down a school-record 36 rebounds against Georgia Tech, a mark that still stands as the most in UT and SEC history.

1954-55

Ed Weiner became just the third player to score 1,000 or more career points and earned first team All-America honors.

1955-56

Carl Widseth set a then-school record with 47 points in a late-season game against Auburn.

1956-57

The Vols opened the season with a 114-106 win at Furman, setting a then-school record for points in a game.

1958-59

Tennessee opened Armory-Fieldhouse with a 72-71 win over Wyoming on a late jumper by Kenny Coulter. Gene Tormohlen was named first team All-America after finishing his three-year career with 1,113 rebounds.

1959-60

John Sines, who spent eight years as an assistant to Emmett Lowery, became the first assistant in UT history to be promoted to head coach. Sines led the Vols to their first win over Kentucky in Lexington since 1939 with a 65-63 victory to end the season.

1962-63

Ray Mears was named head coach, ushering in one of the most successful eras in school history.

1963-64

Danny Schultz earned first-team All-America honors.

1964-65

A.W. Davis, whose nickname was "The Man With The Golden Arm," earned first-team All-America honors.

1965-66

Austin "Red" Robbins earned first-team All-America honors.

1966-67

The Vols moved into Stokely Athletics Center, their sixth home floor since 1909. The Fearless Five (Ron Widby, Tom Hendrix, Tom Boerwinkle, Bill Justus and Billy Hann) led the Vols to a 21-7 record and the SEC championship. Multi-sport star Widby earned first team All-America honors and was named SEC Player of the Year. Widby set a then-school record that stood for 20 years with 50 points against LSU. Ray Mears became the first UT coach to earn SEC Coach of the Year. The Vols won the inaugural Volunteer Classic with victories over Auburn and Clemson and also received their first invitation to the NCAA Tournament.

1967-68

Tom Boerwinkle earned first-team All-America honors while leading UT to a second-place finish in the SEC with a 20-6 overall mark and a 13-5 record in league play.

1968-69

Bill Justus led the nation with his 90.5 free-throw percentage and earned first-team All-America honors. The Vols became the first SEC team to qualify for the National Invitation Tournament since the early 1950s.

1969-70

The Vols opened the season with a 55-54 win over No. 1-ranked South Carolina in Columbia.

1970-71

Jimmy England earned first-team All-America honors while leading the Vols to their second NIT appearance in three seasons.

1971-72

The Vols won their second SEC championship under the direction of Ray Mears with a 19-6 overall and 14-4 SEC record. Mike Edwards was named SEC Player of the Year after averaging 19.4 points per game. Larry Robinson became the first African-American player to play for Tennessee.

1972-73

Tennessee finished in a three-way tie for second place in the SEC after falling 81-86 at Kentucky in the season finale. The Vols, who finished just one game behind the Wildcats, voted not to accept an invitation to the NIT soon after the loss in Lexington.

1973-74

Freshman forward Ernie Grunfeld burst onto the scene to lead the Vols with 17.4 points per game, earning first-team all-conference honors. UT received an invitation to the new Conference Commissioners Association Tournament, where it fell to 10th-ranked Indiana, 71-73. In early April, David Moss, a promising freshman on the junior varsity and occasionally on the varsity, underwent surgery to amputate his left leg after cancer had been discovered. After a quick recovery, Moss returned as a student assistant coach.

1974-75

Freshman Bernard King joined with Ernie Grunfeld to form the "Ernie & Bernie Show." King, who earned first-team All-America honors and was the SEC Player of the Year, scored 42 points in his first career game at Tennessee and went on to average 26.4 points, a school record that still stands. An 18-8 record secured a bid to the National Commissioners Invitational Tournament.

1975-76

The "Ernie & Bernie Show" brought Ray Mears his second NCAA Tournament appearance, while both players netted first-team All-America honors. For the second year in a row, King was named SEC Player of the Year, while Grunfeld's 25.3 points led the league.

1976-77

The Vols won their third Southeastern Conference championship under Ray Mears as the Ernie & Bernie era came to an end. Both players earned first-team All-America acclaim while sharing SEC Player of the Year honors. Mears was named the SEC Coach of the Year for the second time in his career. The Vols made their third NCAA Tournament appearance but lost to 10th-ranked Syracuse in the first round.

1977-78

Cliff Wettig served as acting coach for Ray Mears, who was unable to coach because of nervous exhaustion. The losses of Bernard King, Ernie Grunfeld and Mike Jackson helped contribute to Tennessee's first losing season since 1961-62.

1978-79

In Don DeVoe's first season at the helm of the Tennessee program, the surprising Vols rebounded from their first losing season since the early 1960s to post a 21-12 record and win the SEC Tournament championship with a 75-69 overtime win over Kentucky. First-team All-American Reggie Johnson led the Vols to the NCAA Tournament, where they fell to top-seeded Notre Dame in the second round.

1979-80

Reggie Johnson became the third Vol to win first-team All-America honors more than once in his career. The Vols made another appearance in the NCAA Tournament following an 18-11 year.

1980-81

Don DeVoe earned SEC Coach of the Year honors after directing the Vols to a 21-8 record and the Regional Semifinals of the NCAA Tournament. During the season, the Vols won the Sugar Bowl Classic with wins over Arizona State and Duke.

1981-82

The Vols set a school record with their 54.2 field goal percentage en route to making their fourth consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance. Tennessee's 20-10 overall record and 13-5 SEC mark brought the school its seventh SEC championship. Junior Dale Ellis earned first-team All-America honors and was the SEC Player of the Year after ranking second in the nation in field-goal percentage with a 65.4 accuracy rate.

1982-83

Tennessee made its school-record fifth NCAA Tournament appearance in a row, advancing to the second round before being eliminated by the No. 1 seed for the third consecutive year. Dale Ellis earned first-team All-America honors and was the SEC Player of the Year for the second year in a row. Ellis became just the third Vol to reach the 2,000-point plateau.

1983-84

The Vols won the 1,000th game in school history with an 83-59 win over Ole Miss. Tennessee appeared in the NIT, advancing to the quarterfinals.

1984-85

The Vols posted a 22-15 record that was highlighted by a 12-game home winning streak. Tennessee appeared in the NIT, its seventh straight postseason tournament appearance.

1985-86

Tony White led the SEC in scoring with 22.2 points per game while earning first-team all-conference honors. Rob Jones set a school record for games played at 130.

1986-87

Tony White was named SEC Player of the Year while leading the SEC in scoring with 24.5 points per game. He set Tennessee's single-game scoring record when he dropped 51 points in a win over Auburn on Feb. 14, 1987.

1987-88

Tennessee opened Thompson-Boling Arena with an impressive 82-56 win over Marquette. UT ranked third nationally in attendance, averaging more than 20,000 fans per game. The Vols returned to postseason action with an appearance in the NIT. For the third year in a row, a Vol led the SEC in scoring when Dyron Nix averaged 22.2 points per game.

1988-89

Honorable mention All-America selection Dyron Nix averaged 21.6 points in leading the Vols back to the NCAA Tournament.

1989-90

Wade Houston was named the 13th head coach in Tennessee history—also becoming the first black head coach in SEC basketball history—and promptly led a team that featured seven freshmen and no returning starters to the NIT.

1990-91

Entering the SEC Tournament with just nine regular-season wins, the Vols won three games in as many days at the league tournament before falling to Alabama in the championship game. Allan Houston, the SEC Tournament MVP, earned honorable mention All-America honors.

1991-92

The Vols received their 15th postseason invite in 19 years when the NIT extended an invitation.

1992-93

Allan Houston became Tennessee's all-time leading scorer with 2,801 career points. Lang Wiseman was named the SEC's male student-athlete of the year.

1994-95

In his first season as UT's head coach, Kevin O'Neill more than doubled the wins from the previous season.

1995-96

Playing one of the nation's toughest schedules, UT returned to postseason play with an appearance in the NIT. Steve Hamer set an SEC Tournament record with a 31-point, 21-rebound performance against Alabama.

1997-98

The Vols returned to the NCAA Tournament in Jerry Green's first season as head coach.

1998-99

Tennessee won its first SEC Eastern Division title since divisional play began in 1992. UT went 14-1 at Thompson-Boling Arena, the best home record in arena history at that time.

1999-2000

One of the most successful seasons in school history, the Vols won a school-record 26 games and advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament after winning a share of the overall SEC title. UT finished the season ranked 11th by the Associated Press.

2000-01

The Vols tied the highest ranking in school history when the Associated Press listed them fourth. Tennessee won the Rainbow Classic and advanced to its fourth NCAA Tournament in a row.

2001-02

Buzz Peterson was named the 16th head coach in Tennessee history on April 4, 2001. Vincent Yarbrough finished a close second in the SEC scoring race with 18.1 points per game. Choosing to turn professional after his junior season, Marcus Haislip was the 13th overall pick in the NBA Draft.

2002-03

Tennessee returned to the postseason with an appearance in the National Invitation Tournament. Ron Slay led the SEC in scoring with 21.2 points and was named the SEC Player of the Year while earning third-team All-America honors.

2003-04

2005-06

Wisconsin-Milwaukee head coach Bruce Pearl was introduced as Tennessee's 17th head coach on March 28, 2005. Pearl guided the Volunteers to the 2006 SEC Eastern Division Championship with a 12-4 league record and a 22-8 overall mark. The Vols' No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament was the best in program history. Pearl earned SEC Coach of the Year acclaim and was tabbed as National Coach of the Year by The Sporting News and CBSsportsline.com. Sophomore shooting guard Chris Lofton broke school records that season for 3-pointers made (114), 3-pointers attempted (261) and 3-pointers made per game (3.80). Lofton was a consensus All-SEC first-teamer and Sporting News second-team All-American.

2006-07

Chris Lofton captured SEC Player of the Year and consensus second-team All-America recognition after leading the conference with 20.8 points and 3.42 3-pointers made per game. He helped propel the Volunteers to the Sweet Sixteen round of the NCAA Tournament and a final record of 24-11.

2007-08

Tennessee went 31-5, setting a program record for wins and capturing its first outright SEC Championship since 1967 with a 14-2 league mark. A monumental win at top-ranked Memphis in late-February propelled UT to its first-ever No. 1 national ranking, and the Vols went on to reach the Sweet Sixteen round of the NCAA Tournament, where they fell to Louisville. Chris Lofton was a second-team All-American and finished his illustrious career as the SEC's all-time 3-point king with 431 makes. Bruce Pearl was named SEC Coach of the Year and was the Adolph Rupp Cup National Coach of the Year as well.

2008-09

Tennessee won the SEC Eastern Division title with a 10-6 conference record, becoming the first program in SEC history to finish ahead of Kentucky in the league standings for four straight seasons. The Vols also returned to the NCAA Tournament and finished the year 21-13. In a home victory over UNC Asheville on Dec. 3, 2008, forward Tyler Smith posted the first triple-double in Tennessee history, finishing with 12 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists.

2009-10

The Volunteers made their deepest-ever run in the NCAA Tournament, charging all the way to the Elite Eight and coming up one-point shy of the Final Four. Michigan State's 70-69 victory at the Edward Jones Dome in St. Louis ended UT's season at 28-9 (11-5 SEC). Senior forward Wayne Chism ended his Big Orange career having appeared in a school-record 142 games.

2010-11

Tennessee earned its sixth consecutive NCAA Tournament berth, tying a school record. But an NCAA investigation clouded the season, and head coach Bruce Pearl was suspended by SEC Commissioner Mike Slive for UT's first eight conference games (associate head coach Tony Jones led the Vols to a 5-3 record as "acting head coach"). Pearl was dismissed after Tennessee's opening round NCAA Tournament loss to Michigan. Forward Tobias Harris became the program's first-ever Freshman All-American selection, and he became the program's first "one-and-done" player when he was selected 19th overall in the 2011 NBA Draft.

2011-12

Cuonzo Martin was named the 18th head coach in program history on March 28, 2011, after three successful seasons as the head coach at Missouri State. His first Tennessee team was picked 11th in the conference but finished in a tie for second with a 19-15 (10-6 SEC) record and advanced to the second round of the NIT.

2013-14

For the first time since 2011, Tennessee returned to the NCAA Tournament. The Vols advanced all the way from the "First Four" in Dayton to the Sweet Sixteen, defeating Iowa, Mercer and UMass along the way. Tennessee came up one possession short of the Elite Eight, falling to Michigan by a score of 73-71 in Indianapolis. Senior guard Jordan McRae and junior forward Jarnell Stokes each were selected in the second round of the 2014 NBA Draft.

2014-15

Cuonzo Martin accepted the head coaching job at Cal following the 2013-14 campaign, and Tennessee tabbed Donnie Tyndall—previously at Southern Miss—as its 19th head coach on April 22, 2014. He lasted just one season, as his contract was terminated on March 27, 2015, due to alleged NCAA improprieties during his tenure at Southern Miss. The Vols went 16-16 (7-11 SEC) in his lone season. All-SEC wing Josh Richardson was selected by the Miami Heat in the second round of the 2015 NBA Draft, giving the Vols three draft picks in a two-year span.

2015-16

Following an impressive 17-year tenure at Texas, Rick Barnes was introduced as Tennessee's 20th all-time head coach on March 31, 2015. His first Tennessee team, which was inexperienced and undersized, finished 15-19 (6-12 SEC).

2017-18

In his third season with the Volunteers, Rick Barnes guided Tennessee to the fourth-most wins in program history, as the team finished 26-9. The Vols won the regular-season SEC Championship, advanced to the SEC Tournament Championship Game and earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. Tennessee spent 14 consecutive weeks ranked in the AP top 25, climbing as high as No. 13. Sophomore forward Grant Williams was named the SEC Player of the Year, and sophomore guard Lamonté Turner earned SEC co-Sixth Man of the Year honors. Barnes collected several Coach of the Year accolades, including SEC Coach of the Year from both the Associated Press and the league's head coaches.

2018-19

One of the most beloved teams in program history authored one of the greatest seasons in program history as the Volunteers tied the school record for wins, finishing 31-6 (15-3 SEC). National Coach of the Year Rick Barnes guided Tennessee to a school-record 19-game win streak, a perfect 18-0 record at Thompson-Boling Arena and a program-record-tying three wins over teams with a top-five ranking. The Vols also spent the entire season—wire-to-wire—ranked in the top 10, including four weeks atop both major polls. Leading scorer Grant Williams earned consensus first-team All-America acclaim and was the first SEC player since 1996 to be named SEC Player of the Year in back-to-back seasons. Senior wing Admiral Schofield was a first-team All-SEC performer, and junior point guard Jordan Bone was a second-team honoree. The Vols earned a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament and reached the Sweet Sixteen, where they suffered an overtime loss to Purdue.

HISTORICAL HOME VENUES

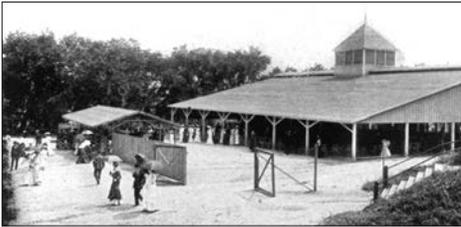

The game of basketball was a dozen years old before UT students organized their first class teams in 1903; and Naismith's brainchild was almost 20 years old when the first UT varsity five went into action.

The first UT players soon discovered that the YMCA gym was woefully lacking as a place for the fast-paced game of basketball. The court in the tiny arena was wall-to-wall. Spectators hung from an encircling balcony, built to accommodate a track. So, after two seasons of cramped activities, the Vols made their first of several moves to larger and better arenas.

In 1988, the Vols opened the 24,535-seat Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena. Oddly enough, the new arena could hold all of the seats in the previous gyms; and, in inflated dollars, it cost five times as much as all the others combined.

Through nearly 100 years of Volunteer basketball, these previous local arenas provided a decisive home-court advantage. The home-game record from 1909 to 1987 stood at 677-172, a winning edge of .800.

JEFFERSON HALL

UT YMCA Gymnasium 1909-12 12-6 (.666)

The UT YMCA Gymnasium served as the Vols' home from 1909-12. The building, which was built at a cost of $18,000, gave the school its first adequate central heating system and bathtub while also providing a gym, bowling alley, ball cage, reading room, assembly hall and a few dormitory rooms. The Vols won their first home game, a 55-16 decision over TSD on Jan. 29, 1909. Probably the most exciting game in the facility was its final game, when "Skeet" Klein hit a shot at the buzzer to give the Vols a 36-35 win over the Knoxville YMCA Tigers in front of a packed house of 200 fans.

Knoxville YMCA Gymnasium 1913-22 53-9-1 (.856)

As the need for more seating grew, officials made arrangements to practice and play games at the downtown YMCA. Because the Vols shared the facility with their rivals, the Knoxville YMCA Tigers, Tennessee was only able to practice on the court three days a week. When not able to practice downtown, the Vols were forced back to the UT YMCA Gym. However, the downtown facility allowed more than double the seating capacity than the campus building. The Vols were 53-9-1 in 10 years downtown.

Jefferson Hall 1923-32 72-27 (.727)

Built in early 1922 at a cost of $19,095.01, Jefferson Hall was a multi-purpose facility that allowed the Vols to move back on campus in time for the 1922-23 season. Collapsible bleachers from Shields-Watkins Field were brought into the building after football season to allow seating for 1,500 fans. An improvement over past arenas, Jefferson Hall created problems with a stage and a court in the facility and heating being a difficult matter. Tennessee capped off a decade of play in the building, which looked like a wooden barn, with a 27-22 win over Vanderbilt on Feb. 19, 1932. After being converted to a National Guard Armory, the wooden building caught fire on Dec. 20, 1934, providing a spectacular fireworks display from the National Guard's ammunition supply.

Alumni Memorial Auditorium-Gymnasium 1933-58 231-61 (.823)

Alumni Memorial Auditorium-Gymnasium was built in 1932 to recognize alumni who lost their lives in World War I and the Spanish-American War. Almost the size of a football field, it was one of the largest buildings on campus. Upon its completion, UT's games were moved to the arena, and the athletic department offices were moved from Carrick Hall. A multi-purpose facility that served the needs of the academic, athletic and entertainment departments of the University, the building held 3,200 fans for basketball games and 3,800 for stage performances. The grand opening of the arena saw the Vols defeat Lincoln Memorial University 41-18 on Dec. 17, 1932, just one week after the formation of the Southeastern Conference. In 1936, UT stars Harry Anderson and Biggy Marshall brought the school its first SEC championship when the Vols won the SEC Tournament in the building. Regarded as one of the best facilities in the entire South, Alumni Gym served as the host of the SEC Tournament four times (1936, 1937, 1939 and 1940). But as the popularity of basketball grew with Tennessee's 26-game home winning streak in the early 1940s, the Vols soon began to outgrow the building.

Armory-Fieldhouse/Stokely Athletics Center 1959-87 321-69 (.823)

Initially built to accommodate up to 7,000 fans, Armory-Fieldhouse was designed so the arena could eventually be doubled in size. The $1.5 million structure used steel trusses that were 208 feet long and weighed 66 tons to support the roof. The building was used for several other university functions in addition to basketball games, such as commencements, occasional concerts and a speaking engagement by vice president Hubert Humphrey. The Volunteers opened the facility with a 72-71 win over Wyoming on Dec. 2, 1958.

Armory-Fieldhouse was expanded thanks in large part to a $500,000 gift from William B. Stokely, chairman of Stokely-Van Camp, Inc., of Indianapolis, that helped offset the $3 million expansion costs. Work on the expansion began in early 1966, and the larger arena was ready in time for the 1966-67 season. In the first game of the expanded facility, the Vols upset three-time defending Big Ten Conference champion Michigan 72-54 on Dec. 1, 1966. That was a sign of things to come for Ray Mears' squad, as the Vols went on to win their first 23 games in the arena, including a 14-0 home record in 1966-67.

Stokely Athletics Center served as the home for the Vols for 29 years and presided over some of the most successful teams in school history. When Thompson-Boling Arena was completed before the 1987-88 season, the Vols had an impressive 321-69 record at Stokely. After Thompson-Boling Arena became the new home of Tennessee basketball, several athletic offices were still housed in Stokely, along with ROTC offices and classrooms.

Stokely was vacated during the winter of 2012-13, and the facility was razed in the summer of 2014 to repurpose the land it occupied.

THOMPSON-BOLING ARENA

The third-largest on-campus arena in the country, Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena is one of the nation's biggest and brightest stages for college basketball.

Named for the late B. Ray Thompson and former UT President Dr. Edward J. Boling, Thompson-Boling Arena regularly hosts Tennessee men's and women's basketball and volleyball matches as well as concerts, camps, conferences and other special events throughout the year.

Ticket facilities are conveniently located on the Phillip Fulmer Way level on the west end of the building. The Tennessee men's basketball staff, along with the women's hoops staff, occupy offices in the arena on the Phillip Fulmer Way level. The arena's dining center, also located on Phillip Fulmer Way and highlighted by a Which Wich, opened in 1989. It operates on a daily basis, catering to the university's staff.

Entrances to the building are located on the east and west ends, with protection from the elements provided by tucking the doors under the structure. There are a total of 132 entrance doors to the arena.

A continuous-ring concourse encircles the building permitting entrance to eight large restrooms, six concession areas and 32 portals leading to the arena. The playing floor level provides access to team dressing rooms, press work areas and storage rooms.

The distance from the playing floor to the roof is 120 feet, the equivalent of a 12-story building. The arena is 448 feet long and 310 feet wide. It contains more than 411,000 square feet of floor space and more than 17 million cubic feet of space. The structure's roof measures 142,000 square feet, which is approximately three-and-one-quarter acres. In the fall of 2008, the University of Tennessee Athletics Department unveiled Phase I of a two-phase renovation project for Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena.

The $35 million project marked the first major renovation to Thompson-Boling Arena since it opened in 1987. In that time, more than 24 million patrons have attended thousands of arena events, including basketball games, concerts, graduations and other special events.

Phase I included new seats for the entire arena, a center-hung scoreboard and concourse refurbishments, such as graphics and other amenities.

Phase I also included new luxury suites and loge seating, which were a primary funding source for much of the renovations. The 32 luxury suites are located in the north balcony of Thompson-Boling Arena. The loge area features 166 side court seats, located directly below the luxury suites and includes private adjoining hospitality areas.

Phase II also included the construction of a bridge connecting the G-10 parking garage to the arena at concourse level, and a 360-degree LED ribbon board located between the upper and lower decks also was added.

Finally, the installation of state-of-the-art LED light fixtures—first put to use in February 2014—Thompson-Boling Arena became one of the first venues in the world to feature lights that are smaller, brighter, and up to 85 percent more efficient than conventional arena metal halide lights.

In 2018, an extensive facelift took place to the existing men's and women's basketball locker-room space along the arena's north corridor on event level. Both locker rooms were enlarged and modernized with state-of-the-art technological and aesthetic enhancements. In addition, an expanded and enhanced athletic training facility, featuring world-class hydrotherapy systems, was completed for use by both basketball programs.

That new "Larry Pratt Basketball Locker Room Complex" cost $5 million, funded entirely through private gifts. Lead donor Larry Pratt's commitment of $2 million during the Campaign for Comprehensive Excellence—coupled with other leadership gifts—enabled UT to fund the project.

MEDIA INFO

Pratt Pavilion is located adjacent to Thompson-Boling Arena and houses two full-size basketball courts, one for each of Tennessee's men's and women's teams, as well as an athletic training room, a weight room, a film-study room and recruiting lounges.

Directly connected to the arena, Pratt Pavilion features convenient, ground-level parking. The 70,000-square-foot structure boasts balconies at the south side of the building which overlook the practice courts. The west facade of the building is glassed from the first floor to the second floor, allowing visibility of gallery and display areas from the street. The building is a significant element to the picturesque south entrance to the University of Tennessee campus.

The facility is named after lead donor Larry Pratt, whose love for Tennessee athletics began at a young age, when his father, Floyd, brought him to various sporting events at Neyland Stadium, Alumni Gym and Stokely Athletics Center.

In the 1990s, Pratt honored his father by creating an endowed scholarship in his name as a member of the Nathan Dougherty Society. Larry Pratt also was recognized at the 2003 Tennessee-Georgia football game for a $1 million donation to the STEP-UP Campaign.

A native of Athens, Tennessee, Pratt currently resides in McLean, Virginia. He graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1972 with a degree from the College of Business and serves as president and CEO of First Savings Mortgage Corporation, the largest private mortgage banker in Washington, D.C.

Pratt's $5 million commitment in April 2006, along with 341 other individual contributors through the Campaign for Tennessee Basketball, made Pratt Pavilion possible.

The UT Athletic Department first broke ground on the Pratt Pavilion in August 2006, and teams began practicing in the new structure on Oct. 12, 2007.

Tennessee's newest world-class basketball facility was officially unveiled and dedicated on Saturday, Jan. 19, 2008.

Both courts were completely refinished after the 2014-15 season, and the weight room was renovated and expanded to 4,350 square feet in the summer of 2016.

Select areas within Pratt Pavilion have been named in honor of other donors whose support for UT also helped make the project a reality:

- Brenda Lawson Court (women's)
 - Kathleen M. Bolze Locker Room (women's)
 - Frankie Ellis Wade Balcony
 - Kevin & Michelle Clayton Locker Room (men's)
 - John Ward Film Room
 - Chris Lofton Room*

What's a Volunteer? Not your run of the mill school nickname, the proud legacy of the Volunteer calls Tennessee student-athletes to compete at an elevated standard when the stakes are highest. A Volunteer is the bravest breed of human from the boldest nation on Earth, fiercely proud to call Tennessee home whether the battle lies within its borders or in a land far away.

THE FIRST VOLUNTEERS

In the aftermath of the Declaration of Independence, Americans were determined to create a nation that was free of the evils that had required them to resort to revolution. Among these was the fear of a large standing army. Such a force could be used to impose the will of an evil monarch and was therefore a threat to individual liberties. Instead, they would rely upon a volunteer army, citizen soldiers who would be called into service at times of crisis to serve their country.

When the people who would later be known as Tennesseans were first asked to volunteer for such an army, they had been living along the upper tributaries of the Tennessee River, near modern day Elizabethton. The call went out for volunteers to gather at Sycamore Shoals in September 1780 and march across the Smoky Mountains to meet this British threat. When finally assembled, the volunteers totaled almost 1,000 men, virtually the entire fighting force of the settlements. These "Overmountain Men" defeated the British at King's Mountain to turn the tide of the war in favor of the fledgling nation.

The tradition of the Tennessee Volunteer was thus already initiated when, in the War of 1812, the nation once again went to war. As they had done over 30 years before, Tennesseans responded enthusiastically. Instead of the 3,500 troops requested, 25,000 Tennesseans joined, participating in battles from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

ANDREW JACKSON

OLD HICKORY

Earlier in the War of 1812 the British torched Washington. The Tennessee Volunteers made sure New Orleans would suffer no such fate. Under future President Andrew "Old Hickory" Jackson at the Battle of New Orleans, Tennessee Volunteers took part in the greatest victory of the war when they helped to defeat an army of crack British regulars. Facing more than twice their number, the Tennessee Volunteers joined a New Orleans militia, a group of former Haitian slaves fighting as free men and a band of outlaws headed by the notorious pirate Jean Lafitte. Thanks in no small part to the deadly Volunteer riflemen of Tennessee, the U.S. took a lopsided victory where more than 2,000 British were killed or wounded compared to eight killed and 13 wounded on the American side.

Jacob Hartsell, a captain in the 2nd East Tennessee militia, was among the Tennesseans who took part in the battle. He was so inspired by his fellow Tennesseans that he wrote a heroic poem in their honor. Entitled "The Brave Volunteer," this poetic journal entry is the earliest known written reference to Tennesseans as Volunteers.

DAVY CROCKETT

VOLUNTEERS AT THE ALAMO

Two decades later, Tennesseans advanced their reputation as volunteers when, unsolicited, several hundred made the journey south to assist the Texans in their war for independence from Mexico. The best known of these was David Crockett. His already legendary status was only enhanced by his dramatic death at the Alamo in 1836.

But before the Alamo fell, 33 Tennesseans, the largest number of defenders provided by any state — nearly four times as many as from Texas — kept Mexican General Santa Anna's overwhelming army at bay for 13 days against unbelievable odds. On March 6, 1836, the brave Tennessee Volunteers and the other Alamo defenders were overrun and breathed their last.

However, the crucial days the Volunteers slowed down the Mexican army gave another Tennessean, Sam Houston, enough time to gallop through Texas raising an army to defend what would become the Lone Star State. This army defeated Santa Anna in no small part because of the contributions of Tennessee's Volunteers. There can be no doubt Texas owes a great debt of gratitude for its statehood to the fierce men from Tennessee.

TENNESSEE... THE VOLUNTEER STATE

But Tennessee's status as the "Volunteer State" was solidified 10 years later when the United States War Department called for volunteers in the War with Mexico. Moving quickly to meet their allotted quota of 2,800 recruits, state officials were overwhelmed by 30,000 volunteers.

It was during the Spanish-American War that the students of the University of Tennessee began to lay official claim to the Volunteer nickname for themselves. In 1897, the student yearbook was christened, The Volunteer.

In 1902, the Atlanta Constitution used the term "Volunteers" to describe the football team when recounting a game between UT and Georgia Tech. However, the university sports teams continued to operate without an official nickname until 1905. In March of that year an article in the Knoxville Journal announced a nickname had been chosen.

"One of the admirers of the old school has suggested 'the Volunteers'," the newspaper reported. In classic understatement the report concludes, "The name sounds good, and it is likely that it will stick."

THE VOLUNTEER SPIRIT

There have been other men who symbolized the indomitable Tennessee Volunteer spirit on and off the field of battle. One of the most famous proved to be Alvin York in World War I. York was drafted and nearly single-handedly captured 132 Germans, took out about 35 machine guns which had been decimating his battalion and killed no fewer than 25 of the enemy, according to officers' reports. Indeed, Marshall Ferdinand Foch said of York's heroism, "What you did was the greatest thing accomplished by any private soldier of all the armies of Europe."

Humbly, the reluctant hero returned home to Tennessee as the toast of the nation. Yet York wasn't interested in celebrity or cashing in on his fame, saying, "This uniform ain't for sale."

Tennessee Volunteers took part in every theater of World War II, whether helping secure the deadly beaches of Normandy to working in their own backyard in Oak Ridge on The Manhattan Project and the atomic bomb that brought an end to war in the Pacific.

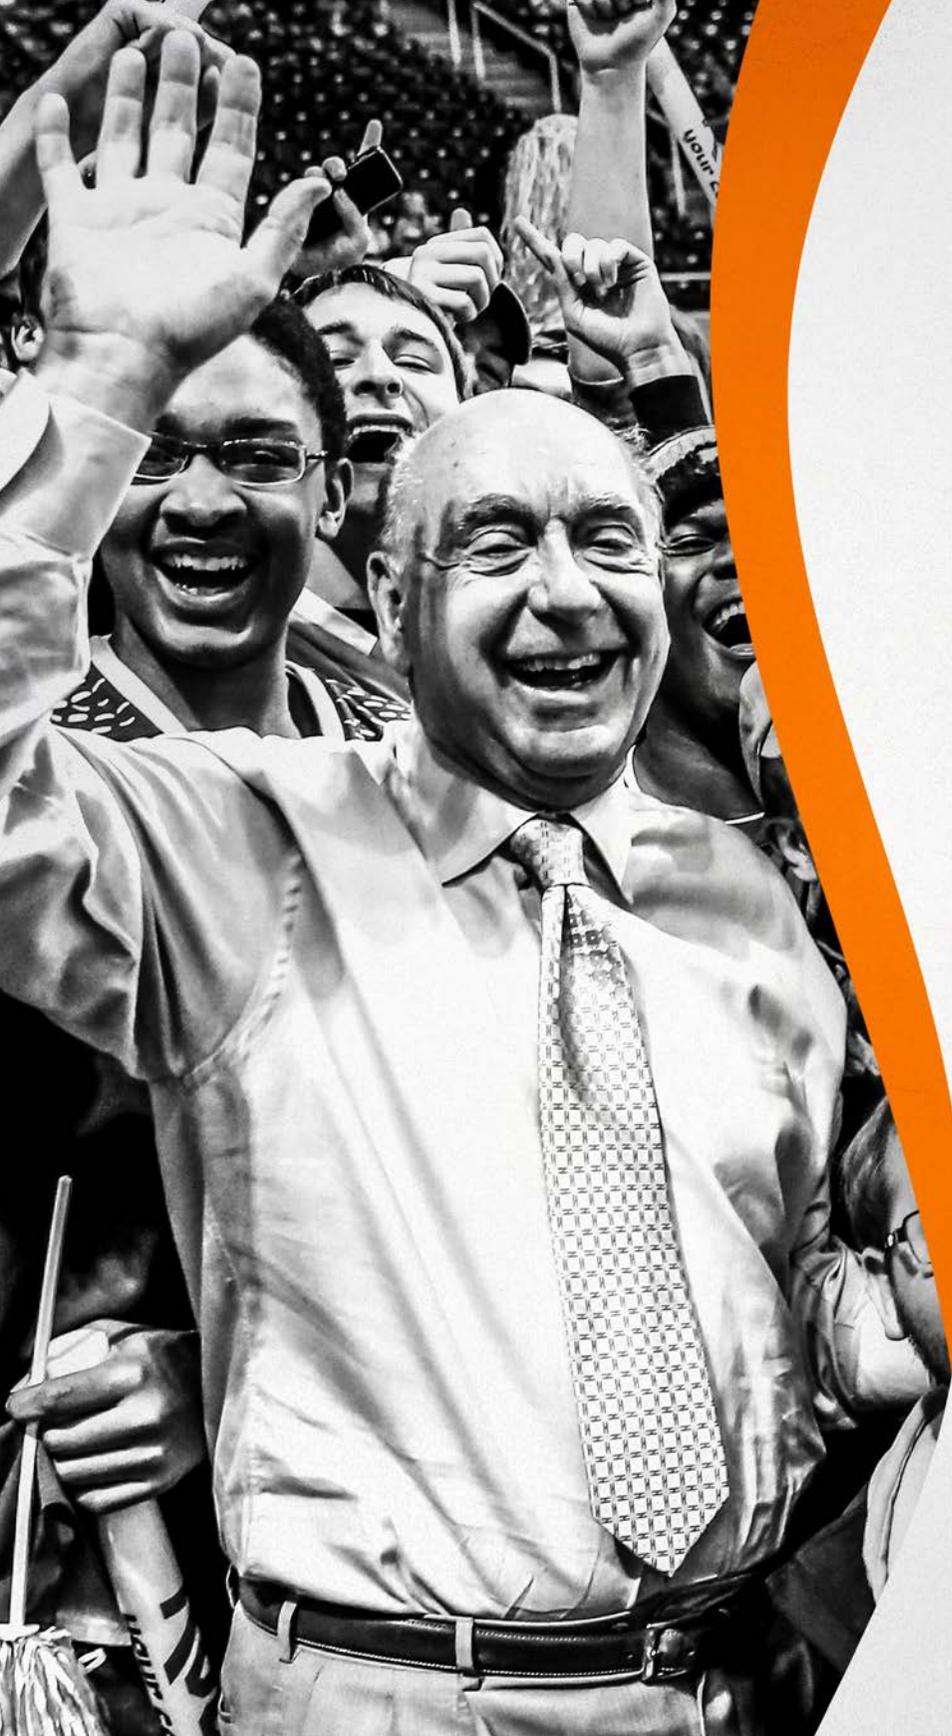

Not every Volunteer story was forged in wartime. Part of the Volunteer legend deals with self-sacrifice for the good of others. Take Tennessee train engineer Casey Jones, for instance. Steaming full-bore in the early morning in Vaughan, Miss., in 1900, Jones saw boxcars in the distance on the tracks in front of him. When it became apparent the passenger train he was driving was destined for a catastrophic collision, Jones was faced with a desperate choice — he could jump out of the engine and save his life before the crash or he could stay in the engine and try to slow the train enough to save more passengers' lives. After ordering his fireman to jump from the racing locomotive and save himself, Jones died that day saving dozens of lives in an amazing display of self-sacrifice. But his story and heroism live in the ballad devoted to the Tennessean who saved so many lives that day in his casket of splintered wood and twisted steel.

The legend of the Tennessee Volunteer also applies to great minds who create items of great cultural value in interesting ways. The first constitution ever written by white men in America was drafted in 1772 by the Watauga Association near present day Elizabethton. Take the example of the Cherokee silversmith Sequoyah, the only known man in the history of the world to single-handedly create an alphabet, the first written language for a Native American people.

Similarly, Tennessean Alex Haley became one of America's most famous authors after recounting the experience of African-Americans in his highly-acclaimed "Roots." Haley chose to make his home in Norris, just a short drive from the University of Tennessee.

Every time since the nation's birth to this very day, when the U.S. needs an extraordinary effort to brush back the dark curtain of hopelessness, the Tennessee Volunteers are called. The bravery, heroism, wisdom and ferocity of the Volunteers place them on a pedestal of great American legends.

MEDIA RELATIONS

All media requests related to the Tennessee men's basketball program should be directed via phone or email to Tom Satkowiak (865-696-2897, tomsid@tennessee.edu).

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Outlets interested in obtaining credentials to cover Tennessee basketball home games must apply for credentials via Sports Systems.

LINK:

<http://www.sportssystem.com/tennessee>

Upon visiting the link provided above, applicants must check a box indicating that they agree to the Southeastern Conference's media credentialing terms and conditions for use before selecting "Tennessee men's basketball." Applications for single-game credentials should be submitted at least one week in advance of the game(s) one plans to cover. Credentials may be mailed or left at the media entrance on the southeast end of Thompson-Boling Arena (event level). Only working media, staff and professional basketball scouts will be issued credentials, and all credentials remain the property of the University of Tennessee. Credentials are non-transferable, and UT reserves the right to revoke credentials for misuse.

MEDIA INFORMATION

- Media Parking is in Lot G-10, the parking garage on the east side of the arena.
- Media Entrance is located on the lower southeast side of the arena and opens two hours before tipoff.
- Media Seating is located behind the south end of the east baseline.
- Live Stats can be accessed via a web browser at UTstats.com.
- A Media Work Area is located on the lower east side of the arena. Wireless Internet is available, as are a limited number of hard-line Ethernet connections for photo transmission.
- The Postgame Press Conference is held in the lower east end of the arena following a brief cooling-off period after the game. The visiting head coach conducts his postgame press conference first, followed by Tennessee head coach Rick Barnes. Selected Tennessee student-athlete interviews then take place in the same room in a breakout group setting.

HEAD COACH INTERVIEWS

Media may request interviews with Rick Barnes by calling or emailing basketball SID Tom Satkowiak at 865-974-7501 or tomsid@tennessee.edu.

STUDENT-ATHLETE INTERVIEWS

All requests for student-athlete interviews must be directed to SID Tom Satkowiak. Please make your requests at least 24 hours in advance. On gamedays, players are not available for interviews until after the game. Under no circumstances should a member of the media contact a player directly (calling/texting/emailing/social media) for the purpose of obtaining news content. Players are instructed not to grant any interviews unless prior arrangements are made through the media relations office.

WEEKLY PRESSER/LUNCHEON

Throughout the SEC season, Rick Barnes hosts a weekly press conference in the Ray and Lucy Hand Digital Studio (typically on Mondays at noon). Media members who attend will be provided with lunch immediately afterward in the Media Relations office.

TENNESSEE BASKETBALL E-MAIL DISTRIBUTION LIST

If you wish to receive the most up-to-date information regarding Tennessee basketball (including all press releases and media availability notices) via email, please send a request to SID Tom Satkowiak at tomsid@tennessee.edu.

PHOTO/VIDEOGRAPHERS

During games, photographers are restricted to areas along the baselines of the court. At no time are photographers or videographers allowed behind the team benches.

RADIO BROADCAST ORIGATION

In games at Thompson-Boling Arena, opponents are permitted one free origination, to be designated by the school's athletics director. Requests should be directed to Tom Satkowiak in the media relations office. Information about clearance to broadcast games should be directed to Steve Early, IMG College/Vol Network, P.O. Box 11125, Knoxville, TN 37939 (865-212-3570).

BLOGGING & REAL-TIME UPDATES

By acceptance and use of a Tennessee media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions as established by UT and the Southeastern Conference: In-Game Blogging, including periodic updates of scores, statistics or other brief descriptions of the competition (such as Tweets and social-networking status updates) throughout the event, is acceptable provided that the bearer conforms to the blogging policies separately published by the SEC, as such policies may be revised from time to time. No bearer may produce or disseminate in any form a "real-time" description or transmission of the event in any manner that constitutes, or is intended to provide or is promoted or marketed as, a substitute for television or video coverage of the event. The bearer agrees that the determination of whether a blog is a real-time description or transmission shall be made by the SEC in its reasonable discretion. If the SEC reasonably determines that a bearer is producing a real-time description of the event, the SEC reserves the right to pursue all available remedies against the bearer and to revoke the credential.

INTERNET USE - VIDEO & AUDIO

Upon execution of a separate agreement with terms and conditions governing the use thereof, the bearer will be afforded access to video and audio of broadcast events for use on the bearer's official news website(s), at no premium or charge. Otherwise, except as specifically permitted (with respect to online, non-archived simulcasts), the bearer shall not post, place or distribute or make available video (or audio from broadcast feeds) of game action of any event (including bearer-generated video of game action of an event) on or through the Internet or any other new media distribution platform (any other platform than print media or a form of television not available or viewable over the Internet, except for non-archived simulcasts specifically permitted) including, without limitation, wireless handsets, podcasts, cell phones or PDAs.

TEAM WEBSITE/SOCIAL MEDIA

Tennessee's official athletics website is UTsports.com. You also can stay up-to-date on Tennessee basketball using popular social networking services Facebook (Tennessee Basketball), Twitter and Instagram (@Vol_Hoops). Information on SEC athletics can be accessed online at SECsports.com.

PRACTICE COVERAGE GUIDELINES

NOTE: For the purposes of these guidelines, the term "practice" refers not only to standard on-court basketball practice sessions but also any other practice-related activities, including, but not limited to: conditioning, weights, film sessions and individual workouts.

MEDIA VIEWING AREAS

Thompson-Boling Arena: Media must observe practice from the media seating area behind the east baseline. If this area is unavailable, media must observe practice from the seats in the South 100 Level (Sections 119-123). Videographers and photographers may shoot from the floor but should return to the aforementioned area when not shooting or when asked by a member of the UT Media Relations staff. Producers and announcers from the television network that is scheduled to air the next Tennessee game may observe from the television position on the south end of the arena (midcourt).

Pratt Pavilion: Media must observe practice from the balcony overlooking the court on the west side of the facility. Videographers and photographers may shoot from the floor (west sideline and north baseline) but should return to the aforementioned area when not shooting or when asked by a member of the UT Media Relations staff.

ITEMS OFF-LIMITS TO MEDIA

The publishing, posting or broadcasting of—either directly or via an intermediary—information specific to player personnel, lineups, an opponent or game-specific strategy gleaned from practice is prohibited. This also applies to message boards and all forms of social media. Any communication between Tennessee personnel and/or staff and players that is not intended to be made public is off limits. Media members may not talk to players during practice.

If a player is limited in practice or not participating—or if a player is injured during the course of practice—any reporting related to their status is prohibited until the coaching staff has had a chance to address it (every reasonable effort will be made for that to take place immediately after practice). Please respect that there may be instances in which the coaching staff asks media not to report on the situation at all.

RADIO OR ONLINE BROADCAST

Participating in a live radio or online broadcast, during which University of Tennessee athletics is a topic of conversation, is prohibited while the participant is in view of practice or any practice-related activities. And all exceptions—such as live radio remotes during preseason media day—must be approved at least one day in advance by the UT Media Relations staff.

VIDEO

With the exception of videographers from network television affiliates (game crews), all media members wishing to shoot video at practice must receive prior approval from the UT Media Relations staff. And with the exception of pre- or post-practice interviews, all video content that is broadcast or posted online must be no more than three minutes in duration, per practice. Posting video that includes offensive audio content (such as cursing) or gameplan-specific audio is prohibited. The use of live video-streaming platforms (such as Facebook Live and Periscope) inside the practice site is prohibited at all times.

SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

Greg Sankey
SEC Commissioner

Throughout the history of men's college basketball, the Southeastern Conference has captured 11 NCAA Championships and four NIT titles, cementing the SEC as one of the nation's top basketball conferences.

THE NATION'S BEST COACHES

- 13 of the 14 SEC coaches have led their teams to the NCAA Tournament. The one not included in that list is entering his first season coaching collegiately and was previously named NBA G League Coach of the Year.
- Eleven SEC coaches have taken their teams to the Sweet 16, nine have advanced to the Elite Eight and six have gone on to the Final Four (includes Division II).
- Six SEC coaches have been head coaches in the Final Four (includes DI) with two winning national championships.
- The coaches have combined for 206 seasons of head coaching experience, more than 4,500 career wins, 54 conference titles and 117 NCAA Tournament appearances.
- Six SEC teams were ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 on January 21, 2019, tying for the most in a single AP poll in league history.

THE NATION'S BEST PLAYERS

- Twelve SEC players were picked at the 2019 NBA Draft, including six who were chosen in the first round.
- The 2018 NBA Draft marked the third time (1988 and 2015) that the SEC has had four lottery picks in a single NBA Draft.
- The SEC has produced 26 NBA Lottery Picks since 2010.
- Over the last nine NBA Drafts, 77 SEC players have heard their names called. Forty-five of those were selected in the first round and four were the No. 1 overall pick.

POSTSEASON SUCCESS

- The SEC's 15 NCAA Tournament selections of the last two years are second-most in the nation.
- The SEC had 10 teams advance to postseason play in 2018 (eight in the NCAA Tournament, two in the NIT), tying for the most in league history.
- SEC teams are 67-36 (.641) in the NCAA Tournament since 2012.
- Thirteen SEC teams ranked in the top 60 in Strength-of-Schedule in 2018, including five teams in the top 15.
- The SEC had representatives in both the men's and women's Final Four for the 13th time in 2017.
- The SEC has had at least one team advance to the Sweet Sixteen in 29 of the last 30 years. All of the SEC's 14 members have advanced to the Sweet Sixteen since 1996.

ACADEMICS

- A total of 73 men's basketball students were named to the 2018-19 SEC Academic Honor Rolls for having a GPA of 3.00 or better for either the preceding academic year or a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or above.
- 362 men's basketball students have been named to the SEC's Academic Honor Rolls over the last five years.

TENNESSEE BASKETBALL PROGRAMMING

Tennessee Tipoff Show: Vol Network coverage begins with this informative and entertaining show, which airs 30 minutes before tipoff. Bob Kesling and Bert Bertelkamp set the stage from the game site. Network host John Wilkerson previews action around the country and the SEC.

Game Broadcast: Bob Kesling and Bert Bertelkamp provide exciting play-by-play action of Tennessee Volunteers basketball.

Big Orange Scoreboard: After each game, John Wilkerson gets listeners caught up with scores, reports and updates from the SEC and around the country. The Vol Network provides an exclusive courtside interview with the player of the game, and Bob Kesling recaps the game with a review of the final statistics.

Rick Barnes Show: Following each game, UT head coach Rick Barnes gives an exclusive courtside interview with Bob Kesling and Bert Bertelkamp. Fans are encouraged to stay and listen near the broadcast position.

VOL CALLS

The Vol Network is proud to partner with Calhoun's on the River, home of the official call-in show of University of Tennessee Athletics: Vol Calls. The weekly call-in show fields questions from fans throughout the Southeast and the rest of the country. Vol Calls is entering its 28th year on the air, making it the longest-running sports talk program in Tennessee.

The show is hosted by the Vol Network's Bob Kesling and Brent Hubbs and features weekly guests. Vol Calls broadcasts live in Knoxville and airs statewide from 8-9 p.m. ET (7-8 p.m. CT).

Vol Calls is heard on Wednesday nights until UT's football season ends, at which point it transitions to Monday nights.*

UT ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT COMPLIANCE STATEMENT

Compliance with NCAA rules is one of the highest priorities for the University of Tennessee and our athletics department. As a member of the NCAA, the University of Tennessee is responsible for the actions of its boosters and fans. Even the best intentions may violate NCAA rules. We need your help in observing all SEC and NCAA regulations. Boosters and fans must be careful of their interaction with prospective and current student-athletes. Therefore, we encourage our boosters and fans to "Ask Before You Act" by contacting the Compliance Office at 865-974-3871.

REPRESENTATIVES OF ATHLETICS INTERESTS, "BOOSTERS"

There are many ways an individual can be classified as a representative of Tennessee's athletics interests. You are a "representative of The University of Tennessee's athletics interests," if you have been involved in a booster club, made financial contributions to the athletics program or booster organizations, provided benefits to an enrolled student-athlete, assisted in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes, or been involved in the promotion of UT athletics. Please note that once you have been identified as a representative of University of Tennessee athletics interests, you retain that identity indefinitely.

RECRUITING, EXTRA BENEFITS AND INDUCEMENTS

Only coaches and athletics department staff members can be involved in the recruiting process. All "athletics representatives" who are not employees of UT are prohibited from contacting a prospect by telephone, letter or in-person, on- or off-campus, for the purpose of encouraging participation in athletics at UT. It is not permissible for prospects, student-athletes or their relatives and friends to receive any extra benefits or special arrangements from a booster. Extra benefits include, but are not limited to: cash or loans in any amount; co-signing or arranging a loan; providing gifts of any kind (e.g. clothing, airline tickets, or holiday cards); providing special discounts for goods and services; use of an automobile.

If you are an established friend or neighbor of a prospect, you may have contact with the prospect provided you do not try to recruit the prospect on behalf of UT, and that such contacts are not made at the direction of UT's coaching staff. Please note that a prospect is a person who has started classes for the ninth grade.

EMPLOYMENT

The Compliance Office must keep written records verifying all student-athlete employment. NCAA rules stipulate that compensation may be paid to a student-athlete only for work actually performed and at a rate commensurate with the going rate in that locality for similar service. NCAA rules also prohibit employers from using the name or picture of a student-athlete to directly or indirectly advertise, recommend or promote the sale or use of a commercial product or service of any kind. Do not provide an honorarium to a student-athlete for a speaking engagement. Compensation may not include any remuneration for value or utility that the student-athlete may have for the employer because of publicity, reputation, fame or personal following that he or she has obtained because of athletics ability.
