ANNIVERSARIES

The 2012-13 season marks a few important anniversaries related to Tennessee basketball.

- The 2012-13 season marks the 60th anniversary of legendary head coach Ray Mears' first season at UT. Mears was the head coach at Tennessee for 15 years from 1962-63 to 1976-77 and boasted a .713 winning percentage (278-112). He passed away on June 11, 2007.
- The 2012-13 campaign also is the 70th anniversary of Tennessee's 1943 SEC Championship team, which finished 14-4 (6-3 SEC) under head coach John Mauer.
- Twenty years ago, Allan Houston captured the 1993 SEC scoring title (22.3 ppg) – and he also broke Ernie Grunfeld's school scoring record. And Ron Slay was the league's scoring champion 10 years ago, averaging 21.2 ppg in 2003.

20 = 100 FOR MARTIN

If Tennessee reaches the 20-win mark this season, win No. 20 also will be the 100th victory of Cuonzo Martin's young head-coaching career. Martin enters this season with an 80-56 record in four previous seasons as a head coach (three at Missouri State, one at Tennessee).

VOLS FEATURE PEACH FLAVOR ONCE AGAIN

For the second straight season, Tennessee's roster includes four players from the state of Georgia. UT's three returnees from the Peach State are responsible for more than 47 percent of the total Division I points scored (2,541) by this year's roster. Trae Golden (555), Kenny Hall (331), Jordan McRae (311) combine for 1,197 points entering this season.

FRONTCOURT DUO MAKES CBS "TOP 100" LIST

Tennessee's frontcourt tandem of Jeronne Maymon and Jarnell Stokes was honored by CBSSports.com in the preseason, as each player landed on the website's list of "College Basketball's Top 100 Players."

- Stokes and Maymon were listed at Nos. 25 and 69, respectively.
- Tennessee was one of 22 schools (and one of four in the SEC) to place multiple players in the list's top 70.
- Stokes and Maymon headline what CBSSports.com college basketball expert Gary Parrish touts as "one of the nation's best front courts."
- The pair weighs in at 530 pounds and combined for 22.3 points and 15.5 rebounds per game a season ago.

ROSTER BREAKDOWN

- The Vols' 2012-13 roster features 15 players (13 scholarship student-athletes) representing three nations and seven states.
- Four Vols hail from the state of Tennessee, while four are from Georgia.
- Tennessee has five seniors, three juniors, four sophomores and three freshmen.
- The roster includes nine guards, five forwards and one center.
- Six Vols stand 6-5 or shorter, and nine are 6-6 or taller.

During their playing days, Tennessee's four full-time coaches combined for more Division I points than any other staff in America.

SUMMER VACATION: VOLS IN ITALY

Cuonzo Martin took the Tennessee basketball team on a 10-day, four-game exhibition tour of Italy Aug. 5-15. The tour began in Rome and progressed north through Florence, Pisa and The Republic of San Marino before concluding in Como.

The Volunteers plowed through each of their four exhibition opponents en route to a perfect 4-0 record. The competition included All-Star Italy (a collection of Italian professional players), the Lithuanian second-division champion BC Atletas, BC Zeta Golubovci from Montenegro and Amici del Campetto.

BC Atletas provided the biggest test for Tennessee – the Lithuanian pros defeated Georgia just days before facing the Vols. Atletas also added a victory over Purdue two days after playing UT. Tennessee handed BC Atletas an 82-68 defeat in what would prove to be the Vols' lowest-scoring game of the tour.

In total, the Big Orange boasted an average margin of victory of 49.3 points in its four outings. Twice, in a display of sportsmanship, the Vols requested a running clock during the second half.

In an effort to make the trip an educational opportunity for a team with numerous players who had never traveled abroad, Martin called upon UT professor Dr. Robert Bast, who crafted a three-credit course (History 491) appropriately named "Renaissance Men." The class met for several on-campus lectures before the trip, preparing the student-athletes for the culture, cities and landmarks they would encounter once they stepped foot on Italian soil.

Highlights of the trip included visits to the Roman Colosseum, the ruins of the Roman Forum, Vatican City – including St. Peter's Basilica and the Sistine Chapel – Michelangelo's famous sculpture of David in Florence, the Leaning Tower of Pisa, the three towers of San Marino and a cruise on Lake Como (the first-ever boat ride for four team members).

WEBSTER EARNS PROMOTION

Cuonzo Martin announced on July 3 that he had promoted Tracy Webster to associate head coach. Webster, who, like Martin, is entering his second season with the Volunteers, previously held the title of assistant coach since his hiring on April 5, 2011.

• "This is about the work that Tracy has put in," Martin said. "He's a tireless worker, and he's driven to see this program be successful. His efforts to develop our current players, along with his efforts in recruiting, deserve to be rewarded."

• Webster works closely with Tennessee's guards, and his player development efforts last season helped the Vols finish second in the SEC after initially being projected to finish 11th in the then-12-team league.

MARTIN TABS CHRISTOPHER AS NEW STRENGTH COACH

Cuonzo Martin, along with UT's head strength and conditioning coach, Ron McKeeferly, announced on May 31 that Nicodemus Christopher had been hired to oversee all strength and conditioning efforts related to the men's basketball program.

• Christopher was responsible for the sports performance programs for softball and track and field at Purdue during the 2011-12 academic year, while also assisting with men's basketball as a speed and conditioning coordinator.

• A native of San Diego, Calif., Christopher has previous experience as an assistant sports performance coach at Accelerate Performance Enhancement Center (APEC) in Tyler, Texas, and he worked as a sports performance coach at the Michael Johnson Performance Center in Dallas.

• During his time in Dallas, he helped train members of the NHL's Dallas Stars and the FC Dallas MLS franchise.

• He also assisted with NFL training camp preparation and off-season workouts for NFL standouts such as Marion Barber, Bradie James, Akin Ayodele, Donald Driver and Weslye Saunders, just to name a few.

• Christopher received a bachelor's degree in health and human performance from Baylor (2007) and a master's degree in kinesiology with an emphasis on biomechanics and anatomical kinesiology from the University of Texas at Tyler (2010).

BRING ON THE BEST

In keeping with recent tradition, Tennessee's schedule will once again rank among the most difficult in the nation.

• At least 17 games against teams that won 20 or more games last season

• At least 13 games against teams that played in the NCAA Tournament last season (and at least seven games against teams who advanced to the Sweet Sixteen)

• At least 12 games against teams with a top-50 RPI last season

STOKES STARS ON USA BASKETBALL U18 TEAM

Sophomore power forward Jarnell Stokes starred this summer for the USA Basketball Men's U18 National Team, which won the gold medal at the 2012 FIBA Americas U18 Championship June 16-20 in Sao Sebastião do Paraíso, Brazil.

• The Memphis, Tenn., native started all five of Team USA's games at the championship, averaging 14.0 points and 5.6 rebounds in 20.2 minutes per game.

• The team's second-leading rebounder and scorer, Stokes was remarkably efficient offensively, shooting .689 from the field.

• Stokes was the only player on the U.S. squad who boasted any collegiate experience.

• "You leave the SEC and come back to playing with your age group — it's crazy how much easier it gets and how much smaller the other guys are," Stokes said. "I can bury guys better. Sometimes I buried them early, before I'd catch the ball, and I already had them sealed."

• Florida head coach Billy Donovan was Stokes' head coach at the FIBA Championship and was impressed by Stokes' ability to physically dominate.

• "There was no one guy down there who could match up to him physically," Donovan said. "He just overwhelmed other teams' frontcourts."

80 = THE TIPPING POINT

In his previous four seasons as a head coach, Cuonzo Martin's teams are 15-2 when they score at least 80 points. That's not surprising given the emphasis Martin places on unrelenting defensive pressure, tenacity and technique.

LAST YEAR'S SEC SCORING DEFENSE BEST SINCE 1969

Tennessee's scoring defense of 61.6 ppg in SEC play last year was the program's best in the shot-clock era (1986-present).

• Not since 1968-69 had a UT team stifled league opponents like last year's Vols

• The 1968-69 squad held SEC opponents to just 60.9 ppg; at that time, the SEC was composed of only 10 teams and the league schedule featured 18 games.

VOLS SEEKING EIGHTH STRAIGHT SEASON OF TOP-FIVE ATTENDANCE

The Vols finished fifth nationally in average regular-season home attendance last year, drawing 17,411 fans per game.

• As of Oct. 18, 2012, Tennessee had already sold more season tickets for the 2012-13 season than there are total seats at five different SEC arenas.

NICODEMUS CHRISTOPHER

CUONZO MARTIN PRESEASON Q&A

Q: In what areas within the team do you see the biggest need for improvement from last season?

"Offensively, one area for improvement is being a consistently good perimeter-shooting team. We also need to become an improved passing and decision-making team – those things go hand-in-hand. Defensively, each individual player needs to take pride in their effort on the defensive end. Overall, I think we'll be a solid defensive team as a whole. But each guy has to become a better defender individually. Also, our guards need to do a better job rebounding for us."

Q: Within the structure of your offensive system, talk more specifically about the importance of having dependable shooters in the backcourt.

"It's very important to have guys who can make shots because it opens up other things within the spacing of our offense. We may have big guys around the rim getting double-teamed, so we need to have reliable guys around the perimeter who can knock down shots and make plays to open things up down low."

Q: Some may point to frontcourt depth as a major strength of this year's team. How do you plan to make use of that depth?

"We'll essentially keep doing what we've been doing. You always want to keep fresh legs, which helps keep guys within the flow as much as possible. At times we should be able to let the offense go and flow through (our guys in the post). Yemi Makanjuola is really the only post player who will play exclusively at the No. 5 position. All our other bigs – especially Jeronne (Maymon), Kenny (Hall) and Jarnell (Stokes) – can play the 4 or the 5. Those guys can go inside and outside."

Q: If this team stays healthy and you have the full roster at your disposal, what is your ideal style of play for this team? How deep would you like the rotation to be?

"My ideal style of play always has been to score the ball at a high level. That obviously has a lot to do with your offensive capabilities. Who can score for you consistently? Who are your go-to guys? Defensively, we want to be the same team every year. But again, offensively, it varies and changes depending on your personnel."

"As far as the rotation goes, I like to have eight solid guys – maybe a ninth guy, depending on the situation. It's just hard to have a consistent flow and have the necessary confidence to play the way you need to play when you're in a rotation with 10-plus guys. I think that's tough to do. So I would say eight or nine guys."

Q: 80 percent of this roster has played in your system for a year now. Does that give you confidence to install more facets and variations of your motion offense? It was generally understood that you kept the motion fairly basic last season.

"I guess you could say that. It wasn't as if I didn't have confidence to (introduce new facets) before. It's just that last year we were putting a totally new system in place. As a program, we'll gradually grow within the framework of that system. It's a natural progression to add things as your personnel becomes more comfortable in the system. You don't want to keep adding every year – you don't want to have 1,000 variations. You just tweak things as you go, according to your personnel."

Q: Which players have stood out during spring and summer workouts as individuals who can provide leadership on this team?

"Leadership is something that is still a work in progress. We have a lot of guys who have worked hard, but it's one of those scenarios where we have a core group of guys who lead more through their actions as opposed to being vocal."

Q: If you had to identify a most improved player in the frontcourt and backcourt, which two players come to mind?

"In the frontcourt, right now I'd say Kenny Hall. He's put a lot of work in to improve his perimeter shooting and get his body right. In the backcourt, I would say it's Trae Golden."

Q: Golden played an average of 32.0 minutes per game at the point guard position last season. Has anyone on this year's roster proven capable of adding reliable depth at that position, and how many minutes would you prefer to see Golden average this year?

"I've never been a guy who uses minutes as a gauge. You want guys to be fresh, and my gauge is how hard they're playing. But you always want to have fresh legs in there. I think Armani Moore will be a guy who can compete with Trae for some of those minutes at point guard."

Q: Entering the preseason, break down the Nos. 2 and 3 positions.

"The guys in those positions will be Skylar McBee, Josh Richardson, D'Montre Edwards, Jordan McRae... Quinton Chievous will be in there some, too. Those guys will play most of those minutes. Really, in our offense, our 2s and 3s are all the same. They do the same thing, just on different sides of the floor. The guys who play the most comes down to, who can defend? And offensively, who's better at making plays? When we determine those things, then we as a coaching staff need to put them in the right position."

Q: Edwards, a 6-6 junior-college newcomer, averaged 8.0 rebounds per game during the team's summer tour of Italy. Do you anticipate him having a similar impact on the glass against collegiate competition, and who stands out as potentially being the team's top-rebounding guard?

"He did a good job rebounding in Italy. So I think he can definitely be a force going to the glass. Rebounding is one of those things where you've just got to have that desire to really go and get the ball. Quinton Chievous is like that - he likes to be physical and battle hard for rebounds. He and D'Montre are two of our better-rebounding guys on the perimeter. I think Jeronne Maymon is our best low-post guy as far as going and getting rebounds. He's not afraid to give his body up."

Q: It's no secret you expect your team to possess a high level of toughness. Is this team's level of toughness where you'd like for it to be?

"We'll find out. Again, we have the capability of playing with the level of toughness I expect, but it's hard to say until you prove it."

Q: Does anyone on this roster have the potential of being a “lockdown” defender, whether it be on the perimeter or in the paint?

“I think we have several guys who have that ability. Off the top of my head, I think of Josh Richardson, D'Montre (Edwards), Jeronne (Maymon), Kenny Hall – those guys all have the potential to be that. Other guys have it within them, because they possess all the necessary tools. But those guys I named have shown they have a real opportunity to be lockdown guys consistently.”

Q: With a full offseason training regimen under his belt and valuable experience gained on the gold-medal-winning USA Basketball U18 team, in what areas do you see sophomore power forward Jarnell Stokes displaying the most improvement from his abbreviated SEC All-Freshman Team campaign?

“I think his overall game has improved. The next step for him is conditioning from start to finish – playing long minutes and having fresh legs down the stretch in games. And I'd also like to see him knocking down perimeter shots, because I think he's gotten stronger around the rim, facing up and making plays. I'd like to see him add that consistent 15- to 17-footer.”

Q: How has one season of head coaching experience in the Southeastern Conference benefited you?

“I guess you get a gauge and a feel for the lay of the land, so to speak. You get a feel for how certain coaches coach – how they rotate guys, certain lineups they like to use, their systems and styles. Going through that for one full season helps me from that standpoint as a head coach. But, really, every couple years the personnel is changing, with different players coming in and out of the league. So most coaches adjust their system to fit their personnel and who they have coming into their program.”

Q: Your entire coaching staff – once again the highest-scoring staff in the nation during their collegiate playing days – remains intact from last season. That has to help further build consistency within the program.

“I think it's great. I have a staff that's been with me. They know how I think and know what I'm trying to do. That really helps because it then trickles down to the players.”

After just one exciting season as the University of Tennessee's head basketball coach, Cuonzo Martin (pronounced: KAHN-zo) has the national hoops landscape abuzz about the Volunteers' future built upon a foundation of defense, discipline and toughness.

Martin's first UT squad was picked in the preseason to finish 11th in the brutal Southeastern Conference, but his Vols won eight of their last nine regular-season games en route to a 10-6 record in league play and second place in the final conference standings.

"We are excited about the future of Tennessee basketball under Cuonzo Martin," said UT Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics Dave Hart. "Cuonzo has proven that he and his staff can develop players and compete on the court and on the recruiting trail. He's fostered an atmosphere of compliance, discipline and toughness and our fans have responded to his focused, intense and genuine personality."

Player development really stood out during the 2011-12 season, as junior forward Jeronne Maymon increased his scoring output from 2.6 ppg and 2.8 rpg the previous year to 12.7 ppg, 8.1 rpg and All-SEC honors. Similarly, sophomore point guard Trae Golden increased his points per minute by more than 82 percent from his freshman season.

While the Vols shot .438 as a team in 2001-12, they were also stoppers on the defensive end. Tennessee's scoring defense of 61.6 ppg in SEC play was the program's best since 1969.

Florida - a team that went on to reach the NCAA Elite Eight - suffered losses to Tennessee in both Knoxville and Gainesville. The Vols defeated defending national champion UConn, and a veteran-laden Vanderbilt club also left Rocky Top tasting defeat.

Tennessee averaged 17,411 fans at Thompson-Boling Arena, marking the seventh straight year that UT finished in the top five nationally in average home attendance during the regular season. Blue Ribbon took notice of Martin's wide-ranging impact on Rocky Top, naming him its SEC co-Coach of the Year.

On the recruiting front, Martin made national headlines in late December when five-star power forward and consensus top-20 prospect Jarnell Stokes signed with the Vols. Stokes enrolled in January and appeared in 17 games, averaging 9.6 points, 7.4 rebounds and 1.4 blocks per game while shooting .558 from the floor.

Although Stokes early high school departure caused him to miss out on being named a McDonald's All-American, he made up for it by garnering SEC All-Freshman Team laurels from the SEC's head coaches.

"Cuonzo Martin is outstanding," ESPN college basketball analyst Jimmy Dykes said. "I think he's a leader of men. His teams are always going to guard. They're always going to rebound. They're always going to have a toughness about them. They're always going to be well-disciplined and well-prepared. Tennessee is a big-time job. He was a terrific hire."

While Martin's walk to the podium on March 28, 2011 - the day he was introduced as the program's 18th head coach - was only a few short steps, it called to mind the inspiring journey that brought him from a single-parent home in the drug-ravaged streets of East St. Louis, Ill., to the hardwood at Purdue University - where he earned a degree and paved his way into the NBA - to the top echelon of the college basketball coaching ranks.

"This is a top-25 job," Martin said. "But the goal for our program is to one day be the last team standing and be the national champion, and I think we can do that with the right pieces."

Martin, 41, landed on Rocky Top after a remarkable three-year stint as the head coach at Missouri State from 2009-11. In his final season in Springfield, Mo., Martin became the program's first-ever Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year and led the Bears to their first-ever regular season MVC championship. That team posted a 26-9 overall record, and its 15-3 mark in MVC games set a school record for conference wins in a season.

At the 2011 Final Four in Houston, Martin received the Ben Jobe National Coach of the Year Award, presented annually to the top minority head coach in Division I men's basketball.

Martin also was a finalist for the 2011 Hugh Durham "Mid-Major" Coach of the Year Award, and the USA Basketball Junior National Team Committee handpicked Martin to join Matt Painter and Brad Stevens on the United States men's coaching staff at the 2011 FISU World University Games in Shenzhen, China.

"(Coach Martin) is a great person and a great motivator," said former World University Games participant Robbie Hummel, who was recruited to Purdue by Martin. "He demands a high level of effort and performance. That's something you want in a coach. He treats you great, but on the court he expects a lot from you."

In Knoxville, it took very little time for the Tennessee team Martin inherited to appreciate the impressiveness of his coaching style and the staff he assembled.

"I think the coaching staff is really a great group of guys; they are pretty much amazing," former Freshman All-American forward and current Milwaukee Bucks standout Tobias Harris said after taking part in only a handful of individual workouts with Martin and his assistants.

It's easy to see how Martin grew proficient at developing great players. His mentor, Purdue legend Gene Keady, was a six-time National Coach of the Year and is the second-winningest coach in Big Ten history. And in Martin's case, the apple didn't fall far from the tree.

"I don't like to put labels on any of my players," Keady said. "But in 50 years of coaching, he's the best leader I ever had."

Martin was a standout player for the Boilermakers as a collegian, scoring 1,666 points in 127 career games. Purdue posted a 90-37 record during his four-year career, including a combined 54-12 mark in his last two seasons. He made 45.9 percent of his 3-point attempts (179-for-390) over his junior and senior seasons and was an 80 percent free-throw shooter.

During Martin's senior year (1994-95), he averaged 18.4 points per game while leading Purdue to the second of three consecutive Big Ten championships, earning first-team All-Big Ten honors. Broadcaster Dick Vitale also named Martin to his All-Defensive Team in 1995.

After his first two years at Purdue, Martin was 0-for-7 from 3-point range. But by the time his career was over, he was the school's all-time leader with 179 3-pointers made.

Martin also set the Purdue school record for 3-pointers made in a game, draining eight treys in an NCAA Tournament Sweet Sixteen contest against Kansas on March 24, 1994 – a game hosted at Tennessee's Thompson-Boling Arena. The Boilermakers won that game to advance to the Elite Eight, and Martin's record has yet to be topped (he also holds the Purdue record for consecutive games played, with 127).

The Atlanta Hawks made Martin the 57th overall pick in the 1995 NBA Draft, and he played professional basketball for four years, including NBA stints with the Milwaukee Bucks and the Vancouver Grizzlies. He also was the team captain and leading scorer with the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Hoops of the Continental Basketball Association for three seasons and was the leading scorer for Felice Scandone in Avellino, Italy, in 1997.

In November of that year, Martin was diagnosed with Non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma and returned to the United States for treatment of a malignant tumor between his heart and lungs. He received his last treatment on April 20, 1998, and is now in full remission.

After triumphing against cancer – as he did with every obstacle previously placed in his path – Martin was summoned by Keady back to Purdue and received his bachelor's degree in restaurant, hotel, institutional and tourism management in 2000.

"That was the biggest accomplishment to me," Martin said. "It was very humbling to walk across that stage and get my degree."

From 2000-08, Martin served as an assistant coach at his alma mater, working side-by-side with Keady, Painter and Paul Lusk. During that span, the Boilermakers made three NCAA Tournament appearances while producing three All-Big Ten selections and three Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year honorees.

Martin was instrumental in recruiting several Boilermaker greats, including Hummel, JaJuan Johnson, Carl Landry and E'Twaun Moore. Purdue's 2006 signing class was rated among the top five nationally and was universally considered as the best in the Big Ten, and in September 2007, Martin was promoted from assistant coach to associate head coach.

"He really cares about basketball, and he really cares about winning," Moore said. "Coach Martin is always talking, always communicating and always trying to get you fired up.

"Even if you don't feel like playing, he can get you fired up."

In March 2008, Martin was introduced as the head coach at Missouri State. After finishing 11-20 in his first season with the Bears, the team improved to 24-12 and won the CollegEInsider.com postseason tournament title in 2009-10.

The Bears' 13-game turnaround in the win column made them the fifth-most improved team in the nation, and they tied Kansas for the national lead in home wins with 19.

Martin also saw six of his players earn 2010 MVC post-season honors, as Kyle Weems was named second-team All-MVC and Adam Leonard was tabbed as the MVC Newcomer of the Year.

That 2009-10 MSU team also led the MVC in scoring and assist-to-turnover ratio while ranking among the top 25 nationally in turnovers per game (11.3).

In 2010-11, Missouri State earned the No. 1 seed in the MVC Tournament and advanced to the championship game. The Bears then appeared in the NIT, defeating Murray State in the first round before falling at Miami (Fla.).

When the curtain fell on the 2010-11 season, Missouri State ranked seventh nationally in turnovers per game at 10.3; led the MVC in 3-point percentage (.376, 39th nationally) and assist-to-turnover ratio (1.28, 27th nationally); and ranked second in the conference in winning percentage (.743, 30th nationally), scoring offense (69.8 ppg), and scoring margin (+6.7 ppg).

Martin's last two Missouri State squads averaged 25 wins, a year-end RPI of No. 57 (including a high of No. 39 in 2011) and posted a combined record of 50-21 for a .704 winning percentage. The Bears also went a combined 36-3 (.923) at home during that stretch, and the three home losses were by a combined total of five points.

All told, from his first season to his third and final year in Springfield, Martin increased Missouri State's win total from 11 to 26, and the Bears' conference victories increased from three to 15 – an improvement of 400 percent.

Finding a more impressive two-year turnaround would prove to be a tall order.

Martin graduated from Lincoln High School in East St. Louis, Ill., and, along with eventual NBA Lottery Pick LaPhonso Ellis, led the Tigers to a pair of IHSA Class AA state championships. In 2007, Martin was honored as one of the 100 Legends of the IHSA Boys Basketball Tournament.

He also has used his courage and experience with cancer to promote awareness of cancer research and support numerous cancer charities.

In 2008, Martin served as a spokesman for the inaugural Purdue Center for Cancer Research Challenge, which attracted more than 1,000 runners and walkers to Ross-Ade Stadium and raised more than $30,000 for cancer research at Purdue. In his honor, the Cuonzo Martin Challenge Award was established.

Immediately following Martin's prep career at Lincoln, he attended New Hampton (N.H.) Prep School before embarking on what would become a tremendously inspiring career in college basketball.

Cuonzo LaMar Martin was born Sept. 23, 1971, in East St. Louis, Ill. He and his wife, Roberta, have two sons, Joshua and Chase, and a daughter, Addison.

► SPEAKING VOLUMES

"Coach Martin has a vision of what he wants Tennessee men's basketball to be all about, and I've been impressed with his commitment. What I have found in the short time I've known him...First and foremost, I love that he preaches defense. He wants his players to be a non-negotiable defensive squad. Second, he is determined to bring the toughness out of his players; there is an innate toughness factor about Cuonzo himself. And third, his attitude is that he wants the Vols to be the last team standing at the end of the season. I'm excited to have him at Tennessee."

— Pat Summitt, Lady Vols Head Coach Emeritus

"He's a class guy who works hard. He's gone through all of the hard knocks of moving up in the coaching ranks. He has great integrity and will be very easy to work with."

— Gene Keady, former Purdue head coach

"I value his coaching experience; I value all that he's learned; I value his tactical approach to the game from both sides of the floor, and I feel Tennessee has found a gem."

— LaPhonso Ellis, former Martin teammate and NBA standout

"Coach Martin helped me understand the game and helped me become the player I am today. I'm not sure I knew what hard work was, but I feel like I'm a blue-collar player right now. (His) team won't be soft, I'll tell you that right now."

— Carl Landry, New Orleans Hornets forward

Tracy Webster is embarking on his second season on staff at Tennessee alongside head coach Cuonzo Martin. The Harvey, Ill., native boasts nine seasons of high-major Division I coaching experience, with four NCAA Tournament berths and one Final Four appearance to his credit.

Webster was promoted to associate head coach on July 3, 2012.

Martin and Webster have known one another since their days as hardwood rivals and All-Big Ten selections at Purdue and Wisconsin, respectively, in the early 1990s. And in September 2009, HoopScoopOnline.com ranked Webster as one of the top 50 assistant coaches in the nation.

"Tracy Webster was a great point guard," Martin said. "He has a great understanding and a great feel for how to play the game. He's a great teacher for our guards, because he was a really complete basketball player and he has a great mind for the game.

"He also adds great experience coaching in the SEC, Big Ten and Big East."

Tennessee's backcourt benefited from Webster's tutelage in 2011-12. Sophomore point guard Trae Golden led the Vols in scoring (13.6 ppg), and his 4.5 assists per game ranked fourth in the SEC. He also shot .439 from the field and was the SEC's top free-throw shooter (.903 in league games). ESPN.com's Jason King tabbed Golden as the SEC's Most Improved Player.

Golden and fellow starting backcourt mates Skylar McBee and Cameron Tatum combined to account for 28.3 points and 7.8 assists per game.

Prior to Webster's arrival on Rocky Top, he spent the 2010-11 season as an assistant at Nebraska. That was immediately preceded by one year at DePaul, during which he was elevated to the position of interim head coach in mid-January.

Webster is no stranger to the Southeastern Conference, having spent two seasons as an assistant on Billy Gillispie's staff at Kentucky. The Wildcats earned postseason bids each year, appearing in the NCAA Tournament in 2008 and reaching the NIT quarterfinals in 2009.

Webster's first foray into college coaching came at Division III Wisconsin-Parkside in 1998-99. He spent one year there before eventually moving on to Ball State, which advanced to the NIT quarterfinals during his second season on the bench in Muncie, Ind.

Gene Keady then summoned Webster for an assistant coaching position at Purdue, where Martin also was on staff. That 2003-04 Boilermakers squad also reached the NIT, giving Webster the second postseason run of his young coaching career.

Postseason success became the norm for Webster during his time as an assistant coach in the Big Ten. He spent three seasons on Bruce Weber's staff at Illinois (2005-07), helping to lead the Fighting Illini to three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances. The 2005 squad posted an incredible 37-2 record (tying the NCAA record for wins in a season), advanced to the Final Four and finished as the national runner-up.

That 2005 Illinois team featured five eventual NBA players in James Augustine, Dee Brown, Luther Head, Roger Powell and three-time All-Star Deron Williams.

After twice earning All-State honors as a point guard at Thornton High School in Harvey, Ill. - a career that led to the Chicago Sun-Times naming him the sixth-best point guard in Chicago prep history in 1992 - Webster starred at Wisconsin under head coaches Steve Yoder and Stu Jackson from (1991-94).

Webster lettered three years for the Badgers and finished his career with 1,264 points and a school-record 501 assists. He was a three-time All-Big Ten selection, including first-team accolades in 1993 when he set Wisconsin's single-season assists record with 179. In 1992, he set the school record for 3-point percentage, shooting .490 percent from beyond the arc.

After his collegiate playing career, Webster served as the coordinator of community outreach programs at Wisconsin from 1994-97 before joining the coaching ranks as the freshman head coach and assistant varsity coach at Verona Area High School in Verona, Wis., from 1997-98.

Webster spent 1999-2000 as the director of Webster Extramural Basketball Productions and as a care coordinator at Willowglen Academy in Milwaukee, Wis.

He joined Martin's Tennessee staff on April 5, 2011.

After Cuonzo Martin was introduced as Tennessee's head basketball coach on March 28, 2011, he wasted no time selecting Jon Harris as the first member of his coaching staff. A native of Edwardsville, Ill., and a former collegiate standout at Marquette, Harris had spent the previous three seasons as an assistant coach on Martin's staff at Missouri State.

In his first season on Rocky Top, Harris' impact on the Vols' post players was immense. Junior forward Jeronne Maymon increased his scoring output close to 400 percent (.388) and rebounding output nearly 200 percent (.189) while going from rarely-used bench player to UT's most consistent starter and second-team All-SEC honors.

"Coach Harris has been great for us," Maymon said. "He's shown me a lot of ways to use my body against defenders. He's also polished and sharpened some of the toughness I already had in me.

"He really influenced my season in a big way."

Harris' tutelage also was key to freshman power forward Jarnell Stokes' ability to contribute immediately after enrolling in January and missing months of preseason training. The two worked closely together as Stokes averaged 9.6 points and 7.4 rebounds per game, shot .534 from the field and earned a spot on the SEC All-Freshman Team.

In SEC play last season, Tennessee ranked second in the league in rebounding (36.0 rpg), rebounding defense (32.2 rpg) and rebounding margin (+3.8 rpg).

Harris also proved himself as a capable scout in one of the nation's strongest leagues, as he was responsible for the scout in both of Tennessee's regular-season triumphs over eventual NCAA Elite Eight participant Florida.

Harris and Martin's partnership at Missouri State yielded similarly extraordinary results. The Bears averaged more than 20 wins per season, earned a pair of postseason berths and captured the program's first-ever Missouri Valley Conference regular-season championship in 2010-11.

MSU improved from 11 wins in the 2008-09 campaign to a 24-12 record and the CollegelInsider.com postseason tournament title in 2009-10. The Bears' 69.8 points per game led the MVC that year, and their 19 home wins tied Kansas for the most among Division I programs.

"Jon Harris played at Marquette with one of the greatest players in the game in Dwyane Wade, so Jon really knows what it takes to be a great role player," Martin said. "And because of his effectiveness as a communicator, he can really help our guys understand and accept their roles - what does it take to be a great rebounder, a great post defender, to play with passion, energy and toughness around the basket? Those are things he can teach."

Harris' leadership was instrumental in MSU's stellar 2010-11 MVC championship run and subsequent NIT berth. Missouri State advanced to its conference tournament title game, ranked seventh nationally in turnovers per game (10.3) and led the MVC in 3-point shooting (.376) and assist/turnover ratio (1.28).

Prior to his three successful seasons on the bench at Missouri State, Harris served a five-year stint as an assistant coach at Wisconsin-Green Bay under Tod Kowalczyk, preceded by one season on staff at Marquette.

Harris' first taste of college coaching came at his alma mater during the 2002-03 season. It proved to be quite an initiation into the profession, as the Golden Eagles - led by current NBA All-Star Wade - powered their way to a 27-6 record and a run to the Final Four.

Highlights from Harris' five seasons in Green Bay included the development of eight All-Horizon League performers and a pair of Academic All-Americans. The Phoenix never finished worse than fourth in the final league standings in Harris' tenure, during which several players moved on to careers in professional basketball.

It was during Harris' time spent recruiting the state of Indiana for Green Bay that he grew to know Martin, then an assistant coach at Purdue.

Harris was a two-year captain during his playing days at Marquette under head coach Tom Crean. Harris finished his career ranked 20th on Conference USA's all-time rebounding list (494). He made 22 starts and shot 53 percent from the floor during his career, which culminated in a 2002 NCAA Tournament berth after he and Wade helped lead the Golden Eagles to a 26-7 record and No. 9 ranking in the Associated Press national poll.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch High School Player of the Year as a senior in 1998, Harris also was a first-team All-State selection while starring at Edwardsville High School. His senior year honors haul also included honorable mention All-America acclaim from USA Today.

Harris received his bachelor's degree in Psychology from Marquette in 2002, and he is married to the former Heidi Bowman, a 1,000-point career scorer and All-Conference performer for the Marquette women's basketball team from 1998-2001.

The couple has two daughters, Hailey and Leah, and a son, Jaxson.

Kent Williams followed Cuonzo Martin to Tennessee in April 2011 after working as an assistant under Martin for three seasons at Missouri State. Williams now enters his second season with the Volunteers and his fifth overall under Martin.

An elite scorer during his collegiate playing days, Williams helped Tennessee's guards become efficient shooters and savvy all-around scorers during the 2011-12 season.

Tennessee shot an impressive .438 as a team, and starting point guard Trae Golden shot .439 overall while leading the SEC in free-throw shooting (.903 in league games).

Long-range shooting specialist Skylar McBee posted a career-best scoring average and shot a team-best .391 (63-of-161) from beyond the 3-point arc.

"Coach Williams is a really good teacher," McBee said. "He played at a really high level and knows his X's and O's. He spends a lot of time with us on the court and off the court, watching film and breaking things down.

"He always finds ways of helping you understand a concept so that you can apply it your own game."

During his three-year tenure as an assistant in Springfield, Mo., Williams helped the Bears average more than 20 wins per season, earn a pair of postseason berths and capture the program's first-ever Missouri Valley Conference regular-season championship in 2010-11.

MSU improved from 11 wins in the 2008-09 campaign to a 24-12 record and the CollegenInsider.com postseason tournament title in 2009-10. The Bears' 69.8 points per game led the MVC that year, and their 19 home wins tied Kansas for the most among Division I programs.

"Kent Williams is the second-leading scorer in Southern Illinois history," Martin said. "He knows how to score, how to get shots off, how to come off screens, how to read screens. He's another guy who our players can really relate with and learn from."

Williams' input from the bench was instrumental in MSU's stellar 2010-11 MVC championship run and subsequent NIT berth. Missouri State advanced to its conference tournament title game, ranked seventh nationally in turnovers per game (10.3) and led the MVC in 3-point shooting (.376) and assist/turnover ratio (1.28).

A native of Mt. Vernon, Ill., Williams graduated from Southern Illinois University in 2003 after an outstanding four-year playing career under head coach Bruce Weber (Matt Painter was an assistant coach). Williams' 2,012 points at SIU from 2000-03 make him the Salukis' second-leading all-time scorer, and he ranks 13th on the Missouri Valley Conference career scoring chart.

He earned first-team All-MVC honors in each of his last two seasons at SIU after collecting second-team honors as a sophomore. He was the MVC Scholar-Athlete of the Year in 2002 and 2003 and the MVC Freshman of the Year and Newcomer of the Year in 2000. Williams also was one of 50 players named to the MVC All-Centennial team, which was announced in 2007.

He is the only player in SIU history to lead the team in scoring four straight years, helping his team to the NCAA Tournament in 2002 and 2003, including a run to the 2002 NCAA Sweet Sixteen.

Following his graduation from SIU, Williams spent one season playing in the NBA D-League, leading the league in 3-pointers made and 3-point percentage.

He spent one year working for TEKsystems in St. Louis before joining Purdue's basketball staff as supervisor of basketball operations in 2005.

Williams was selected by Athletes in Action to serve as head coach for a team of Division I All-Stars during the summer of 2010 on a tour of Poland. That squad finished the tour undefeated.

By age 28, Williams had already been enshrined in three different halls of fame: Mt. Vernon Township High School Sports Hall of Fame (2005); Illinois Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame (2006); Southern Illinois University Department of Athletics Hall of Fame (2010).

Williams is the career scoring leader at Mt. Vernon Township High School.

He and his wife, Jessica, have a 2-year-old daughter, Kennedy, who was born on Christmas day 2009, and son, Hudson, who was born in June 2012.

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

4th Season at Tennessee Middle Tennessee, 1988

Shortly after his hiring as Tennessee's 18th head men's basketball coach, Cuonzo Martin quickly decided to retain former Appalachian State University head coach Houston Fancher as director of basketball operations.

The 2011-13 season marks Fancher's fourth at UT, as he previously held the title of coordinator of video scouting and – under athletic director appointment – interim head coach during the national search that netted Martin.

Fancher's resume includes more than 20 years of collegiate coaching experience, with 12 as a head coach.

"I'm excited about having Houston on our staff," Martin said. "He brings a lot to the table because he's familiar with the university and has great relationships here.

"He has the trust and respect of our student-athletes, and as a former Division I head coach, he knows exactly what it takes to run a successful program."

A native of Newport, Tenn., Fancher posted a 137-136 overall record at ASU. His tenure included Southern Conference North Division championships in 2003, 2007 and 2008.

He was named the 2003 SoCon Coach of the Year after winning the first of his three divisional crowns. Then in 2006-07, he was a mid-major national coach of the year finalist after leading Appalachian State to a school-record 25 wins, the San Juan Shootout championship – which included consecutive victories over Virginia, Central Florida and Vanderbilt – and a berth in the NIT.

In 2007-08, Fancher led the Mountaineers to a second consecutive division crown as well as another victory over a Southeastern Conference opponent – defeating Arkansas in North Little Rock. His triumphs over Vanderbilt and Arkansas represent Appalachian State's only wins over SEC opponents in the program's history.

Fancher recruited and coached more All-SoCon players than any other coach in Appalachian State history, and he also won more Southern Conference games than any other Mountaineers hoops coach. In total, 18 school records were set during Fancher's tenure, and he also produced 15 players who continued their careers as professionals overseas.

In addition to their success on the court, Fancher's squads also were presented with NCAA Academic Progress Rate scores in 2005-06 and 2006-07. The NCAA Academic Progress Rate honor programs that rank among the nation's top 10 percent in their sport in Academic Progress Rate scores. The ASU men's basketball program fell just hundredths of a percentage point shy of receiving the recognition for a third consecutive year in 2007-08.

Fancher began his collegiate coaching career as an assistant at Division III Maryville (Tenn.) College from 1988-92. He then compiled a 44-41 record as the head coach at North Greenville College from 1993-95 before taking a position as an assistant coach at Vanderbilt for the 1995-96 campaign.

From 1996-2000, Fancher worked as an assistant coach (1996-98) and associate head coach (1998-2000) at Appalachian State, and he was named that program's 14th head coach following the 1999-2000 season.

Fancher received his undergraduate degree in Physical education in 1988 from Middle Tennessee and later earned a master's degree in Educational administration and supervision from Lincoln Memorial University.

He is married to the former Cathy Reagan of Jamestown, Tenn., who played basketball at Maryville College. The couple has two sons, Hayden and Ethan, and a 3-year-old daughter, Cameron.

STUDENT-ATHLETE WELFARE COORDINATOR

2nd Season at Tennessee Southwestern Oklahoma State, 1994

Marco Harris joined the Tennessee basketball staff in June 2011 as the program's student-athlete welfare coordinator and is now in his second season on Rocky Top.

Harris' relationship with Vols head coach Cuonzo Martin dates back more than 30 years, as both hail from East St. Louis, Ill. Harris began his college career as a baseball player at Southern Illinois University but transferred to Southwestern Oklahoma State to play basketball after one season on the diamond in Carbondale. He developed into the starting point guard at SWOSU from 1992-94 and also served as a team captain.

Harris works with Tennessee's basketball student-athletes to ensure they perform at the highest level on the court, in the classroom and as members of the community. He functions as the program's liaison to the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center as well as the housing, admissions and financial aid offices.

"Marco and I grew up together, and he's like a brother to me," Martin said. "He's got a genuine passion for developing young men and making sure they reach their full potential on and off the court. His years of experience working in public school systems demonstrate that he's drawn to helping young people meet life's challenges and overcome adversity."

In his first season with the Vols, Harris' efforts resulted in the team winning UT's men's Community Outreach Team of the Year Award. Additionally, two Vols were named to the SEC Winter Academic Honor Roll, and the team posted its highest combined Fall GPA in five years.

Over the past decade, Harris has enjoyed success both as a private business owner and as a high school and AAU basketball coach. He has owned and operated a Subway Restaurant in Sand Springs, Okla., since 1999. He also has held various teaching, coaching and athletic administration positions during that time.

His most recent coaching position was at Booker T. Washington High School in Tulsa. As the assistant boys' varsity coach in 2010, Harris helped guide the Hornets to the Oklahoma Class 5A state championship. Harris took over as interim varsity head coach from January to March of 2011 and led the program to a second consecutive OSSAA state title. The Hornets finished the 2011 season with a perfect 21-0 record - despite not playing a single game in its home gym due to construction - and a 25-game win streak dating to the 2010 campaign.

In 2005, Harris was an assistant boys' basketball coach at Nathan Hale Magnet High School in Tulsa. As a head coach on the summer circuit, Harris led the Tulsa Titans from 2004-06 as well as the "Playing with a Purpose" program from 2006-09. His 2008 "Playing with a Purpose" squad captured the Mid America Youth Basketball (MAYB) National Championship.

At the administrative level, Harris held the title of athletic director at Tulsa's Monroe and Gilcrease Middle Schools from 2000-05. He also has held various teaching positions with the Tulsa and St. Louis public schools systems. From 1995-96, Harris worked with St. Louis Arc, helping mentally disabled young men and women develop work and life skills.

Harris received an associate's degree in Business management from Southwestern Illinois College in 1992 before going on to earn his bachelor's degree in Business management at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1994.

Harris is married to the former Ramona Knight, of Frogville, Okla.

MARK PANCRAZ

COORDINATOR OF VIDEO SCOUTING

7th Season at Tennessee
UW-Milwaukee, 2006

Mark Pancratz is in his seventh year as a member of the Tennessee basketball staff after getting his start with the Vols as a graduate manager during the 2006-07 season.

Pancratz, 28, already boasts 18 games of NCAA Tournament experience as a player and/or administrative staff member.

After spending his first two seasons on Rocky Top as a graduate assistant, Pancratz held the title of video coordinator during the 2008-09 season before assuming an administrative assistant role in the summer of 2009. For the past three years, Pancratz also has served as the program's liaison to UT's athletic marketing and development offices.

As coordinator of video scouting, Pancratz's responsibilities include oversight of all the staff's video editing needs and assisting with on-campus recruiting. He also is the men's basketball camp director and will continue to serve as the program's liaison to various branches of the campus and athletic department.

"Mark's been a mainstay in this program for years," Vols head coach Cuonzo Martin said. "He's done a great job building relationships, assuming administrative roles and helping assistant coaches with video preparation. He brings a contagious energy, enthusiasm and work ethic to our office every day. I know he'll be very successful."

A native of Schaumburg, Ill., Pancratz was a four-year letterwinner at UW-Milwaukee. In 2005, Pancratz played a key role in helping the Panthers advance to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament.

In 2001, Pancratz led Schaumburg High School to one of the biggest upsets in Illinois high school basketball history with a 20-point, 10-assist effort in beating a Thornwood team that featured future NBA Draft pick Eddy Curry in the Class AA championship game.

Pancratz was inducted into the Illinois High School Basketball Hall of Fame in 2008 and was voted as one of the 100 Legends of Illinois High School Basketball.

He graduated from UW-Milwaukee in 2006 with a degree in marketing and finance before receiving his master's in Sports management from Tennessee in 2008.

Pancratz is married to the former Brooke Waddell, of Greeneville, Tenn., and the couple has a 2-year-old daughter, Charli.

CHAD NEWMAN

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF SPORTS MEDICINE

18th Season at Tennessee
Tennessee, 1994

Chattanooga native Chad Newman is an associate director on the sports medicine staff. Newman currently directs the athletic training efforts on behalf of the Vols basketball squad in addition to working with Tennessee's cheerleading, dance and men's golf teams.

In January 2010, the Tennessee Athletic Trainer's Society (TATS) named Newman the Collegiate Athletic Trainer of the Year.

Newman is in his 18th year with the UT athletic training staff and his 17th with the men's basketball program. During his tenure with the basketball team, the Vols have advanced to postseason play 13 times - including 10 NCAA Tournaments and three NIT berths. Newman has been a part of four NCAA Sweet Sixteen teams, one Elite Eight team and two SEC Championship squads.

Under his care, the Volunteers men's tennis team also advanced to three consecutive NCAA semifinals from 2000-03.

Newman has helped numerous Vols overcome adversity and challenges in recent years. He oversaw the management of Chris Lofton's successful battle with testicular cancer following Lofton's junior season.

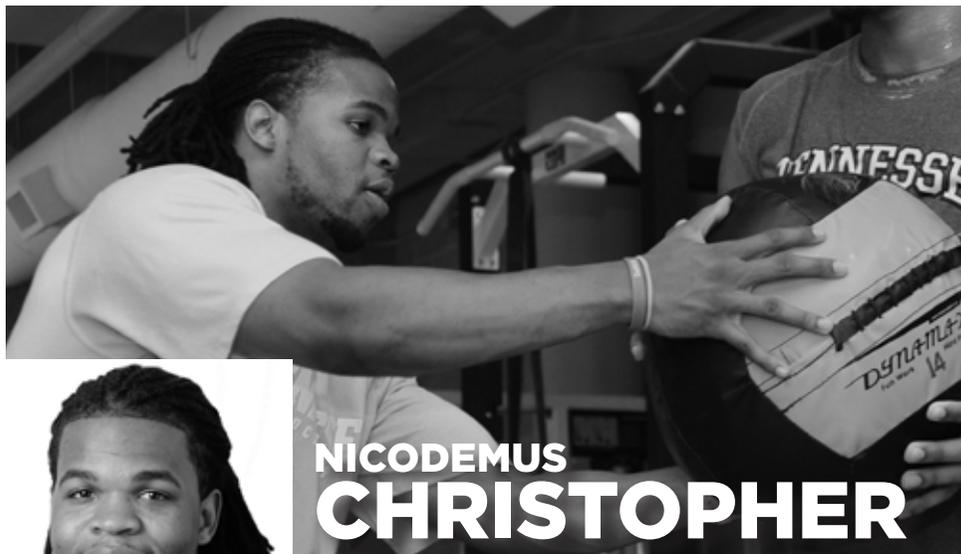

And in September 2009, Newman was instrumental in reviving Tennessee sophomore Emmanuel Ngedu after Ngedu collapsed following a sudden cardiac arrest. Newman successfully administered the use of an AED and CPR until emergency medical services arrived on-site. For his efforts, he received a "Certificate of Heroism" from the Sudden Cardiac Arrest Association and also was named the 2010 Most Distinguished Award recipient by the "Hoops for Heart Health" organization, which was founded by NBA player Ryan Gomes.

When Newman first joined the Tennessee training staff in a full-time role in 1997, he was no stranger to the UT training room, having served as a volunteer student trainer and a graduate assistant before his full-time appointment. During that time, he worked with UT's football, men's tennis and men's track & field teams.

He earned his B.S. in Exercise science from UT in 1994 and completed his master's in Kinesiology in May 1997. Newman is a member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA), the National Academy of Sports Medicine (NASM) and the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM).

In the fall of 2009, Newman authored an article about Lofton's successful return from cancer entitled "The Toughest Opponent," that was published in Training & Conditioning Magazine. And in 2010, he gave sudden cardiac arrest case study presentations at the Southeastern Conference Sports Medicine Seminar and the Collegiate Athletic Trainers' Society Spring Symposium.

Newman is married to the former Stacey Perry. The couple has two daughters, Katherine (9) and Natalie (5).

NICODEMUS CHRISTOPHER

ASSOCIATE STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

1st Season at Tennessee
Baylor, 2007

Tennessee basketball coach Cuonzo Martin, along with UT's head strength and conditioning coach, Ron McKeefery, announced on May 31, 2012, the hiring of Nicodemus Christopher to oversee all strength and conditioning efforts related to the men's basketball program. Christopher spent the previous year as a sports performance assistant at Purdue.

"He's the kind of guy that has the ability to drive you at a high level," Martin said. "He pushes you to that wall, forces you to knock that wall down and doesn't allow you to give up. But then he also gives you a big hug after the workout and lets you know we're going to do the same thing tomorrow."

It didn't take long for Tennessee players to notice that Christopher blends an intense energy with a big-brother approach.

"He's going to push all of us," point guard Trae Golden said. "But he's going to listen to us and take care of us, too. And that's all you can ask for at the end of the day. I think he's going to help us get where we want to get."

Christopher was responsible for the sports performance programs for softball and track and field at Purdue during the 2011-12 academic year, while also assisting with men's basketball as a speed and conditioning coordinator.

"I'm excited about the opportunity to come to Tennessee and work with one of the best and most progressive coaching staffs in college basketball," Christopher said. "I'm also excited about the vision for the program under coach Martin's guidance."

A native of San Diego, Calif., Christopher has previous experience as an assistant sports performance coach at Accelerate Performance Enhancement Center (APEC) in Tyler, Texas, and he worked as a sports performance coach at the Michael Johnson Performance Center in Dallas. During his time in Dallas, he helped train members of the NHL's Dallas Stars and the FC Dallas MLS franchise. He also assisted with NFL training camp preparation and off-season workouts for NFL standouts such as Marion Barber, Bradie James, Akin Ayodele, Donald Driver and Weslye Saunders, just to name a few.

He received a bachelor's degree in health and human performance from Baylor (2007) and a master's degree in kinesiology with an emphasis on biomechanics and anatomical kinesiology from the University of Texas at Tyler (2010).

As a graduate instructor for biomechanics and anatomical kinesiology at Texas-Tyler from August 2008 through May 2010, Christopher taught students to apply the principles of physics to human movement, such as athletic tasks, in order to improve performance and reduce the risk of injury. His courses also examined how the laws of physics apply to biological systems such as the human body.

Christopher was a volunteer assistant strength and conditioning coach at Stanford in the fall of 2010, and he is a USA Weightlifting (USAW) certified sport performance coach.

During his time as an undergraduate at Baylor, Christopher sat on the executive boards of both the African Student Association and the Association of Black Students.

DAVE HART

VICE CHANCELLOR/DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

2nd Year At Tennessee Alabama, 1971

The University of Tennessee named Dave Hart vice chancellor and director of athletics on Sept. 5, 2011. Hart has held leadership roles in athletics administration at East Carolina University, Florida State University and the University of Alabama.

"I am very pleased to have Dave as our new vice chancellor and director of athletics," University of Tennessee Knoxville Chancellor Jimmy Cheek said upon Hart's hiring. "He has extensive experience as an athletics director, and he has the passion and drive to lead our great athletics program."

Among the many challenges and goals being addressed in the first 10 months of his tenure at Tennessee, Hart has led efforts which included the following:

- » Restructured the athletics department and developed an organizational flow chart.

- » Redefined and clarified the athletic department Mission Statement.

- » Created a new Governance Structure going through a "right-sizing" effort in conjunction with the implementation of combining the men and women's athletic programs into one while setting a direction and vision for all units within the department.

- » The Compliance Department has been reorganized and capital projects have been reprioritized to dovetail into a strategic plan, which is in the process of being finalized, for the next 5-to-10 years.

- » Policies and procedures have been strengthened throughout the department, as has overall communication.

- » Fan enhancement options at Neyland Stadium and Thompson-Boling Arena have been prioritized as well.

Comprehensive athletic success exemplified Hart's tenure as the Florida State athletic director, as a combined 35 ACC Championships were won by 10 different Seminole athletic programs during his tenure. Additionally, the Seminole football team won nine ACC titles and appeared in four national championship games, winning the 1999 BCS National Championship with a Sugar Bowl victory over Virginia Tech.

The men's outdoor track and field team also claimed two national championships during his tenure, while the baseball program appeared in the College World Series five times and the softball program won nine ACC titles and played in the Women's College World Series. During Hart's last year at Florida State, the Seminoles finished 15th in the Directors' Cup, an all-time high for the institution at that time.

Additionally, during Hart's three years at Alabama, the Crimson Tide football team claimed the 2009 BCS National Championship and the individual athletic teams posted a combined eight top-three finishes nationally over the last three years. Hart has more than 20 years of service as a director of athletics.

"It is a privilege to be named Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics at the University of Tennessee," Hart said. "To be entrusted to lead one of the nation's elite athletics programs is an exciting opportunity.

"I want to thank Chancellor Cheek, and all of those involved in this process for their confidence and commitment. I am anxious to demonstrate my passion for Tennessee and the Volunteer Nation."

Highly respected as a visionary and industry leader, Hart's career has featured service as the president of both the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the Division IA Athletics Directors' Association. A former recipient of the Robert R. Neyland Award honoring lifetime achievement, Hart has also been named by his colleagues as the Athletic Director of the Year for the Southeast Region in both 2000 and 2005, one of a few select individuals to receive the honor multiple times.

During his 13 years at Florida State, Hart negotiated unprecedented, multi-million dollar contracts for the department totaling in excess of $175 million. He also devised and executed an extensive and comprehensive facilities master plan for athletics that eclipsed the $150 million mark. Hart initiated a multi-faceted Student Development/Life Skills program for all student-athletes at FSU, an endeavor recognized nationally as a "Program of Excellence" by the Division I-A Athletics Directors' Association. He spearheaded the rewriting of the department's mission statement to put the student-athlete at the core of athletic department priorities in its goal to build comprehensive excellence throughout all components of the department.

"Dave is as good an athletic director as there is in the country," legendary Florida State Head Football Coach Bobby Bowden said. "He's as sharp of an AD as I've been around in 57 years. He knows what's important, and he's a builder."

Hart took a leadership role in the FSU athletics department's first major capital campaign, in concert with Seminole Boosters, which raised more than $75 million for athletics facilities and served as the catalyst for a subsequent effort. Within the Facilities Master Plan, there were several state-of-the-art facilities constructed, including a soccer/softball facility, a state-of-the-art golf facility and teaching center, a basketball training center and major renovations to the tennis and volleyball facilities.

The Moore Athletics Center and Dick Howser Baseball Stadium ranked among the nation's best. A new aquatics facility and a renovation to the track facility were finalized in 2008.

In recognizing Hart's position within intercollegiate athletics, ACC Commissioner John Swofford said, "Dave Hart is one of the best and most respected athletics administrators in the business. He thoroughly understands the nuances of major college athletics, and he has superb values to go along with his vast experience in the field. He is a proven leader at the conference and national levels."

While at FSU, Hart made many key hires, including the hiring of FSU's first two African-American basketball coaches, including current men's coach Leonard Hamilton, as well as their first African-American senior-level administrator. Under Hart's direction, FSU formalized a varsity club to encourage the participation of former student-athletes in athletic department activities. He also placed a significant focus on the growth of women's athletics at FSU, a commitment reflected in increased funding, competitive success and facility upgrades.

Academic success also accompanied Hart's time at FSU, as the school became home to the inaugural National Student-Athlete of the Year, a State of Florida Woman of the Year recipient, and two Rhodes Scholars. A record number of FSU student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll, were recipients of NCAA post-graduate scholarship awards and obtained degrees.

Student-athlete community service involvement became a priority under Hart with student-athletes contributing more than 5,000 hours in community outreach projects.

Hart has also earned the Athletics Directors' Award for advancing the quality and progress of student-athletes and the athletics program while at Florida State. In 2008, he received the James J. Corbett Award, the highest honor bestowed by National Association of College Directors of Athletics.

Hart's commitment to service includes considerable time on numerous national and conference committees, including the NCAA Council, the NCAA Honors and Awards Committee and the NCAA Special Events and Postseason Bowls Committee, and he has been a consultant to the NCAA Student-Athlete Advisory Council.

Hart was one of 11 athletic directors nationally who worked with an advisory group of athletic directors to presidents and conference commissioners in ongoing meetings and discussions regarding post-season football format options and similar issues related to the football postseason. In addition to his prominent leadership roles nationally, Hart chaired and had direct involvement with the renegotiations of both of the ACC's football and basketball television contracts and chaired the ACC Television Committee as well as the ACC Men's Basketball and Football committees.

Hart also played an integral role in the ACC expansion process that resulted in the addition of three new members in Miami, Virginia Tech and Boston College. He also served as Vice Chairman of the NCAA Football Board of Directors where he represented NACDA and served with commissioners of Division I-A conferences as well as past NCAA President Myles Brand.

Hart served as Executive Director of Athletics at Alabama since August of 2008. A 1971 Alabama graduate, Hart played basketball for the Crimson Tide under legendary head coach C.M. Newton and earned a master's degree from UA in 1972 while working as a graduate assistant basketball coach.

A popular speaker at the national level, Hart has made numerous speaking presentations nationally and presented seminars on such topics as student-athlete welfare, marketing, gender equity, facility master planning, negotiation skills and personnel transition. He was an instructor at the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics Management Institute for 10 years and currently is an annual presenter at the Division I-A Athletics Directors' Institute sharing with peers his knowledge and experiences relating to athletics administration.

Hart met his wife, the former Pam Humble, while at Alabama. Pam is a 1970 graduate of The University of Alabama, and the couple has three children: Rick, who serves currently as the athletic director at SMU, Jamie and Kelly. The Harts are the grandparents of five grandchildren: Trevor, Caroline, McKinley, Olivia and Kingsley.

Junior forward Kenny Hall recorded a season-high 11 points and grabbed six boards ... Antonio Barton's jumper with 1:14 left in the second OT gave the Tigers the decisive basket after Vols junior Dwight Miller had tied the game at 97-97 on a putback with 1:31 on the clock ... Will Barton finished with 25 points and 11 rebounds to lead the Tigers ... Antonio Barton made four 3-pointers en route to 21 points ... Tigers freshman Adonis Thomas added 19 points off the bench for Memphis ... UT won the battle of the boards 49-34, had a 29-6 edge in second-chance points and scored 44 points in the paint.

Notes

Pitt's dominance on the offensive glass—the Panthers scored 18 second-chance points off 17 offensive rebounds—was the difference as Tennessee suffered a 61-56 home setback to the 17th-ranked Panthers Saturday in the 2011 HTC Big East/SEC Challenge ... The game featured 10 lead changes ... Vols senior Cameron Tatum scored a team-high 13 points and grabbed a career-high 10 rebounds to log his first career double-double ... Junior forward Kenny Hall pulled down a career-high 12 rebounds to go along with eight points ... Point guard Trae Golden and forward Jeronne Maymon each add a dozen points for UT ... Tennessee held Pitt guard and National Player of the Year candidate Ashton Gibbs to 7-of-21 shooting, but he still finished with 16 points, six assists and three steals ... Pitt forward Nasir Robinson added 16 points and 12 rebounds (nine offensive) ... Pitt took a one-point lead into halftime (27-26), but the Panthers shot .469 in the second half and finished the game with just six turnovers ... Tennessee shot .451 from the field but made just 4-of-14 shots from 3-point range (.286).

Notes

Tennessee suffered its first loss in the all-time series with Austin Peay and just its second all-time loss to an Ohio Valley Conference opponent as the Governors (2-9) escaped Knoxville with a 74-70 victory over the Volunteers ... UT led by 11 (64-53) with 6:27 to play, but struggled defensively down the stretch ... The Big Orange were hampered by sloppy play, as 18 UT turnovers led to 27 points for the Govs ... Junior forward Jeronne Maymon (18 points, nine rebounds) was one rebound shy of logging his fourth double-double of the season, but Kenny Hall recorded his first of the year by totaling 12 points and 10 boards ... Hall was 5-of-5 from the field, and his seven offensive rebounds were a career-high ... Maymon and Hall combined for 30 points and were a key reason the Vols outscored Austin Peay 42-24 in the paint ... Sophomore guard Jordan McRae added 14 points and three steals for the Vols ... Tennessee's 19 offensive rebounds were a season-high ... The game featured four ties and six lead changes ... The Govs took a 71-70 lead on a Josh Terry (20 points, six rebounds, five assists) with 1:05 to play ... The Vols then missed two layup attempts, and Tyshwan Edmondson (19 points) gave Austin Peay a three-point lead (73-70) on a floater in the lane with 16 seconds to play ... Terry added a free throw in the final seconds to make it 74-70.

Notes

A 20-2 College of Charleston run midway through the second half keyed the Cougars' 71-65 win over Tennessee at a sold-out TD Arena in Charleston, S.C. ... The Vols rallied back from being down by as many as 14 to cut the deficit to just three at 68-65 with 58.9 seconds left as sophomore guard Jordan McRae nailed his third 3-pointer in less than a three-minute span ... But the Cougars (8-1) made three late free throws to hold on for the win and move to 5-0 at home ... McRae finished with a team-high 19 points and also added a pair of blocks ... Forward Dwight Miller scored all of his season-high 13 points in the first half ... Miller also grabbed a season-high seven rebounds and blocked two shots ... Wiggins shot 10-of-12 on the night and also pulled down eight rebounds ... Tennessee was outscored 28-26 in the paint but did hold a 36-30 advantage on the glass.

Notes

Cameron Tatum scored 14 of his 17 points in the second half and hit two critical 3-pointers late in the game as Tennessee rallied for a 72-68 comeback victory over UNC Asheville at Thompson-Boling Arena ... Renaldo Woolridge matched Tatum with a career-high 17 points behind three 3-pointers that kept Tennessee within striking distance in the first half ... Jeronne Maymon added 10 points and 13 rebounds for his fourth double-double of the season ... The victory snapped a four-game losing streak for the Vols in which they dropped each contest by eight points or less ... Three consecutive 3-pointers - two by Tatum and one by Skylar McBee - helped transform a 6-point deficit into a 1-point lead for the Vols midway through the second half ... Tatum third try during that stretch gave UT a lead 56-55 with 7:37 remaining ... UNCA cut it to just a point when Chris Stephenson made one of his free throws to make it 68-67 Vols with 52 seconds to play ... The teams exchanged free throws to make it 69-68, but the Bulldogs were then forced to foul ... UT made 4-of-6 free throws down the stretch ... J.P. Primm led UNC Asheville with 25 points.

Notes

Yemi Makanjuola notched his first career double-double with a late-game scoring barrage to cap off Tennessee's 86-55 victory over The Citadel at Thompson-Boling Arena ... Makanjuola came into the game late with Tennessee in full control, but he proved his worth scoring all 18 of his points in a row and grabbing 11 rebounds (both career-highs) in just 11 minutes of action in the second half ... Makanjuola's 18 consecutive points tied the school record set by Reggie Johnson against Ole Miss on Jan. 27, 1979 (Johnson scored UT's first 18 points in that contest) ... Tennessee (6-6) had three other players score in double figures, led by Skylar McBee's 12 points off four 3-pointers ... Renaldo Woolridge continued his stretch of solid performances with 10 points ... Trae Golden also added 10 points on 5-of-7 shooting from the floor ... The Vols shot a scorching 59.3 percent from the floor in the first half and finished at 55.9 for the game, making 9-of-22 from 3-point range and outscoring the Bulldogs 42-22 in the paint ... The Citadel shot 39.3 percent from the floor ... The Citadel was led by Mike Groselle's 21 points.

Notes

Trae Golden tied a career-high by scoring 29 points and Skylar McBee added a career-high 16 points as Tennessee beat pesky Chattanooga 76-63 at Thompson-Boling Arena ... The Vols made their living from beyond the 3-point arc, going 13-of-39 from long range and simply out-shooting the Mocs ... The 39 3-point attempts were the second-most in school history, falling short of the record 50 set against North Carolina A&T on Nov. 27, 2007 ... Golden was the spark for the Vols, just three days after having surgery to repair a nasal fracture ... He scored 19 of his points in the first 20 minutes and combined with McBee to turn a tie game into a 12-point Tennessee lead just before the half ... The Mocs came out in the second half and cut the margin to five points behind three consecutive 3-pointers ... But UT responded with a 3-pointer from Jordan McRae and were able to make inside baskets from driving the basketball to keep Chattanooga at arm's length ... Ricky Taylor led Chattanooga with 17 points as the Mocs had four players score in double figures.

Notes

Tennessee placed four players in double figures as the Volunteers opened SEC play with a 67-56 upset victory over No. 13 Florida at Thompson-Boling Arena ... In head coach Cuzno Martin's conference debut, his defensive-minded Vols held Florida's three-guard attack in check by winning the edge in the paint (32-20) and holding the Gators to just 29.6 percent shooting in the second half ... Florida shot a season-low 35.7 percent in the game to Tennessee's 51 percent ... Tennessee only attempted 10 3-pointers and made five of them ... Martin altered the Vols' starting lineup for the first time all season, inserting freshman guard Josh Richardson and senior forward Renaldo Woolridge ... Kenny Hall and Jordan McRae responded off the bench ... Hall led the inside presence for UT by scoring 13 points, and McRae got going midway through the first half and finished with 10 points ... Jeronne Maymon and Trae Golden both added 12 points ... The Vols outscored the Gators' bench 25-1 ... Kenny Boynton and Erik Murphy led the Gators with 13 each ... The game marked the ninth time an unranked UT squad defeated a Florida team that was ranked in the AP top 25 ... Newly enrolled freshman forward Jarnell Stokes sat on the Tennessee bench but did not dress ... The game was played on Stokes' 18th birthday.

Notes

The Vols made a valiant comeback at No. 20 Mississippi State, but fell 62-58 at Humphrey Coliseum ... Tennessee cut its deficit to two points in the final seconds, but were unable to complete the rally ... Trae Golden led all scorers with 20 ... Jeronne Maymon netted 13 before fouling out ... Kenny Hall added 12 points in his new role, scoring in double-figures for the second game in a row off the bench ... Dee Bost, Renardo Sidney and Arnett Moultrie all scored 13 points for Mississippi State ... A 3-pointer by Vols senior Renaldo Woolridge with 44.2 left in regulation brought the Vols to within two at 60-58 ... The Vols played tough defense on the ensuing possession, as Skylar McBee stole a Bost pass and gave the Vols the ball with 16 seconds left in regulation ... But Bost redeemed himself by stealing the ball from Golden with 7.7 seconds left and finished a fastbreak dunk to punctuate the win ... Golden connected on 7-of-11 field goals, including four 3-pointers, and he also recorded four assists and rebounds ... UT freshman forward Jarnell Stokes dressed for the first time after receiving final eligibility clearance earlier in the day, but he did not see action.

Notes

Freshman Jarnell Stokes notched his first career double-double in just his third collegiate game as Tennessee upset defending national champion and 13th-ranked UConn 60-57 at Thompson-Boling Arena ... Stokes, who earned his first start since joining the Vols, poured in 16 points and grabbed 12 rebounds as UT relied primarily on its inside game against the physical Huskies ... Connecticut came into the game shooting a scorching 47.9 percent from the floor, but the Vols held the Huskies to just 36.4 percent shooting ... It was the second-lowest shooting performance by the Huskies this season and their lowest point output of the year ... The Vols kept UConn's big men in check, as the Huskies were led by their guard combo ... Jeremy Lamb had a game-high 23 points, and Shabazz Napier added 18 as the only Huskies in double figures ... The game was tight from wire to wire ... Both teams led by just 4 points in the first half, and the game was tied five times in the first 20 minutes, with the Huskies taking a 27-25 advantage into the break despite shooting just 33.3 percent in the first half ... UT broke loose early in the second half with nine unanswered points in the first four minutes to lead 34-27 ... Connecticut fought its way back when Tennessee missed nine consecutive shots before Stokes broke the drought ... The Huskies did not go down without a scrappy fight as the clock ticked down ... Lamb hit a 3-pointer with 37 seconds left to make it 55-51 Vols. ... Trae Golden made a free throw, then Napier hit another 3-pointer to cut it to 56-54 with 23 seconds remaining ... Skylar McBee hit two clutch free throws for Tennessee, and Kenny Hall added a foul shot, but Napier answered with yet another 3-pointer for the Huskies to make it 59-57 Tennessee with 6 seconds remaining ... Cameron Tatum was fouled but made just one of his free throws ... The ensuing desperation heave by Napier from nearly halfcourt as the clock expired was off as the Vols secured the upset.

Notes

The Vols suffered a 65-47 defeat at Vanderbilt ... Jeronne Maymon led Tennessee with 15 points and eight rebounds ... Jeffery Taylor topped the Commodores (15-5, 5-1 SEC) with 23 points and nine rebounds, and John Jenkins added 16 points ... Vanderbilt scored the game's first nine points and never looked back as the Vols battled but couldn't cut the deficit below double-figures after the game's first nine minutes ... Vanderbilt converted 25 Vol miscues into 30 points ... UT had 10 turnovers in the game's first 10 minutes ... The Vols shot just .353 from the floor and didn't make a 3-pointer until Josh Richardson canned one with 6:34 left in the game, finishing 1-of-10 from beyond the arc ... Vanderbilt shot .426 from the floor and made .444 percent from 3-point range (8-of-18) ... During the second half, Vanderbilt led by as many as 27 points as they doubled the Vols at 54-27 on a fastbreak 3-pointer by Jenkins with 10:57 left ... That was the largest margin Tennessee trailed by all season ... Vanderbilt led 40-21 at halftime thanks to 49-percent shooting from the floor and holding the Vols to just 29 percent ... It was UT's largest halftime deficit of the season ... Vols head coach Cuonzo Martin debuted his version of the legendary orange Ray Mears blazer, but it couldn't stir up the magic for Tennessee.

Notes

Trae Golden came off the bench for Tennessee to score a team-high 16 points and lead the Volunteers past Georgia 73-62 at Thompson-Boling Arena ... Golden, who had started the previous 22 games this season, was replaced by Skylar McBee in the starting lineup; it was McBee's first career start ... McBee took advantage, dropping 10 points in the game and scoring three points in the final 19 seconds thanks to two technical fouls on Georgia head coach Mark Fox that resulted in his ejection ... Jeronne Maymon added 15 points and Jordan McRae scored 14 ... UT's guard combination of Golden, McRae and McBee combined for 40 points on the night ... The Vols were 28-of-37 from the foul line, led by Maymon's 9-of-12 performance ... Three Bulldogs scored in double figures, led by Kentavious Caldwell-Pope's 16 points ... Dustin Ware added 15 points behind 6-of-7 shooting, while Gerald Robinson had 13 ... UGA led 27-19 with 5:10 remaining in the first half when Tennessee shifted its offensive focus from behind the arc to inside the paint ... The Vols closed the first half on an 11-1 run behind three jumpers from Golden to lead 30-28 at the break ... Georgia, however, responded with its own 11-4 run to start the second half and take back the lead before the Vols' guards finally got hot from behind the arc.

Notes

Skylar McBee scored a career-high 18 points behind four 3-pointers as Tennessee held off South Carolina to win 69-57 at Thompson-Boling Arena ... The Vols shot 50 percent from the floor, including a 10-of-20 clip from beyond the 3-point line ... South Carolina hit seven 3-pointers to keep pace, but 33.9 percent shooting from the floor slowed the Gamecocks ... Tennessee broke open a tight game late in the second half when McBee made three consecutive 3-pointers and two foul shots to help spark an 8-0 run and give the Vols a 35-27 lead at the break ... A 14-4 run by UT in the second half gave the Vols a 49-34 lead, but the Gamecocks cut the margin to just four points at 54-50 with 6:36 to play, mostly thanks to pressure defense that forced four turnovers during that span ... Senior guard Cameron Tatum scored six points, but it was all he needed to reach the 1,000-point mark for his career at Tennessee ... Sophomore guard Bruce Ellington led South Carolina with 12 points, while Damien Leonard and Brenton Williams added 11 each.

Notes

Trae Golden scored 17 points, Jeronne Maymon added 15 points and 11 rebounds, and the Volunteers upset No. 8 Florida 75-70, ending the Gators' home-winning streak at 19 ... It was Tennessee's most complete game of the season; somewhat surprisingly, it came on the road, where the Vols had been 0-7 ... The Gators trailed by double digits early and never mustered anything resembling a legitimate comeback ... The Vols outscored the Gators 36 to 14 in the paint on Saturday and had more than double the amount of second-chance points ... UT took it to Florida from the start, driving the lane repeatedly and getting big men Patric Young and Erik Murphy in foul trouble ... Tennessee finished with 36 points in the paint, 12 offensive rebounds and its first series sweep of Florida since 2009 ... Florida's Bradley Beal and Kenny Boynton led the Gators with 16 points apiece ... Boynton had four of the team's 11 3-pointers ... UF led the nations in 3-pointers made per game, but shot 37.9 percent (11 of 29) from behind the arc ... Tennessee used a 15-2 run midway through the first half to take a 24-12 lead ... Jordan McRae scored seven points in the spurt, most of them off Florida turnovers ... The Gators finished with 15 turnovers ... With the loss, Florida head coach Billy Donovan's career record vs. Tennessee dropped to 16-17.

Notes

An early 19-0 run proved to be the knockout punch as the Vols won their fourth game in a row, 77-58 over Arkansas ... The Vols had a season-high six players score in double-figures, led by Jordan McRae, who had 14 off the bench ... All five starters scored in double-figures for the first time since Jan. 6, 2010: Trae Golden (13), Jeronne Maymon (12), Skylar McBee (12), Cameron Tatum (11) and Jamell Stokes (10) ... The Vols shot 56 percent from the floor and limited Arkansas to 42.9 percent shooting ... It was the fifth time UT held an SEC opponent to fewer than 60 points this season ... For Maymon, it was his seventh game in a row in double-figures ... McBee scored in double-figures for the fourth game in a row—the first four starts of his career ... Tatum fell just short of a double-double with nine rebounds ... The Vols led 47-30 at halftime as Tennessee shot 68 percent from the floor to take the large lead ... Down, 6-4, the Vols went on a 19-0 run to take a commanding 23-6 lead, including back-to-back 3-pointers by Golden and McRae with 13:31 left in the first half. Tennessee made nine of its first 10 shots from the floor and held Arkansas without a field goal for a 4:23 span ... Arkansas was led by B.J. Young, who had 18 points.

Notes

Tennessee senior Cameron Tatum scored 18 points to lead the Volunteers in a 68-61 upset victory over in-state rival Vanderbilt in the regular-season finale at Thompson-Boling Arena ... Trae Golden added 17 points, and Jarnell Stokes recorded his second career double-double with 11 points and a career-high 14 rebounds despite having flu-like symptoms ... Jeronne Maymon added 12 points for the Vols ... Tatum was honored during a pregame Senior Day ceremony along with fellow seniors Renaldo Woolridge and Tyler Summitt ... The victory gives Tennessee (18-13, 10-6 SEC) an opening-round bye in the SEC Tournament, as the Vols finished tied for second in the SEC standings and earn the tournament's No. 2 seed by virtue of a tiebreaker ... The back-and-forth game swayed in Tennessee's favor when Tatum converted a three-point play to give the Vols a 37-33 lead with 17:24 remaining ... A minute later, Jordan McRae found Tatum for an open 3-pointer, and Josh Richardson hit a layup in the paint to cap an 11-0 run by the Vols and make it 43-36 ... The run shifted the game for the rest of the evening, despite Vanderbilt's efforts to play physical underneath and shoot the 3-point shot ... Tennessee led by as many as 9 when Tatum drained another 3-pointer with 8:04 to play to make it 51-42 Vols ... The Commodores were able to chip away down the stretch and cut Tennessee's lead to just 3 points when John Jenkins nailed a jumper and Jeffery Taylor got a layup to make it 56-53 at the 4:23 mark ... That was as close as the Commodores cut it as Tatum, Maymon and Golden made free throws down the stretch and Vanderbilt's quick-fire 3-pointers never found net.

-SEC Commissioner Mike Slive suspended head coach Bruce Pearl for the first eight SEC games of the 2010-11 season, so associate head coach Tony Jones served as "acting head coach" for those contests. The Vols went 5-3 during that span. However, those wins and losses were officially credited to Pearl's career record in the NCAA, SEC and UT records books (institutional decision made in advance of the affected games).*

TENNESSEE OLYMPIANS

Ernie Grunfeld helped the United States avenge its controversial loss to the Soviet Union in the 1972 Olympic Games by leading the Americans to Olympic gold in the 1976 games in Montreal, Canada. Although the Americans never got a rematch with the Soviets, they posted wins over Italy (106-86), Puerto Rico (95-94), Yugoslavia (112-93), Egypt (2-0 forfeit), Czechoslovakia (81-76) and Canada (95-77) to earn a spot in the gold-medal game. In a rematch with Yugoslavia, a team that had beaten the Soviets in the semifinals, the United States took a 95-74 win.

"This one is the best ever," Grunfeld said after the gold medal was draped around his neck. "When they were handing out the medals, I was on top of the world."

Grunfeld averaged 3.5 points per game in the Olympics but found his role on the team as a distributor of the ball — ranking third on the squad in assists — and as a defender.

"Everybody had a role," he said. "Mine was to play tough defense, set some picks, get the ball moving and add some life to the team. That's what coach (Dean Smith) wanted me to do."

The 1976 Olympics wasn't the first time that the Romanian-born Grunfeld had represented the United States in international competition. In high school he became the first prepster to represent the United States at the Maccabiah Games in Israel. Then, in 1975 he helped lead the Americans to a gold medal at the PanAm Games in Mexico City. He was the second-leading scorer in the PanAm Games with 110 points. He also participated in the International Cup, which was played throughout Europe.

Allan Houston became the second Vols basketball player to represent the United States in the Olympic Games when he helped lead the USA Basketball Men's Senior National Team to the gold medal at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia. Houston joined Ernie Grunfeld as Vols who have played in the Olympics. Grunfeld helped lead the USA to the gold medal at the 1976 Olympic Games.

The 2000 Olympic Games wasn't the first time that Houston had played for USA Basketball. In 1999, he averaged 10.4 points in leading the 1999 USA Pre-Olympic Tournament of the Americas Team to a 10-0 record and a gold medal. In 1992, he was a member of the elite eight-man USA Olympic Developmental Team that scrimmaged for a week against the "Dream Team" that eventually cruised to the gold medal at the 1992 Barcelona Olympics.

Between his freshman and sophomore seasons at Tennessee, Houston was a member of the 1990 USA Junior World Championship Qualifying squad. He ranked third on the team by averaging 13.7 points per game to go with 4.1 rebounds and 3.7 assists.

The Southeastern Conference went to divisional play starting with the 1991-92 season. Prior to that season, the league only recognized the regular-season (overall) champion and the tournament champion.

Then, starting with the 2011-12 season, the league abandoned divisional play, and the standings went to 1-12 (later 1-14 when Missouri and Texas A&M joined the conference in 2012-13).

The SEC Tournament champion earns the league's annual automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

NCAA INFRACCTIONS REPORT: FAQ

Why did The University of Tennessee have to appear before the NCAA Committee on Infractions?

After an extensive NCAA investigation, it was determined that representatives of Tennessee's football and men's basketball programs had violated NCAA bylaws. After being presented with the NCAA's official Notice of Allegations in the spring of 2011, Tennessee officials were required to respond during an in-person hearing before the Committee on Infractions in June 2011.

Did members of the current Tennessee men's basketball coaching staff violate NCAA bylaws?

No. It is important to note that all of the violations occurred under previous coaching staffs. The violations, which the University admitted in its response to the Notice of Allegations, included secondary violations in the football program and multiple major violations in the men's basketball program related to impermissible phone calls by the former coaching staff, impermissible off-campus contacts by the former coaching staff, and an institutional failure to monitor the men's basketball program related to impermissible phone calls. The former head men's basketball coach was cited for unethical conduct and failure to monitor and promote an atmosphere for compliance, while three former assistant men's basketball coaches were charged with failure to cooperate and act with honesty and sportsmanship.

What are the penalties that have been imposed on the Tennessee men's basketball program?

Tennessee chose to self-impose penalties on its football and men's basketball programs. The self-imposed penalties related to men's basketball include a two-year probationary period for the athletic department as a whole (which began August 24, 2011) and a restriction on providing any occasional off-campus meals by the men's basketball staff during the 2011-12 academic year.

The University had also implemented penalties on the previous men's basketball coaching staff, including salary reductions and significant restrictions on off-campus recruiting.

The NCAA accepted all of Tennessee's self-imposed penalties and commended the cooperation of the University.

Did the Tennessee men's basketball program lose any scholarships or receive a postseason ban?

No. Tennessee has all 13 of the allowable scholarships for men's basketball, and it is eligible for all postseason events, including the NCAA Tournament.

Is there anything else I should know about the NCAA infractions process as it relates to Tennessee?

It is worth noting that the NCAA commended Tennessee's institutional cooperation throughout the process. All individuals associated with the men's basketball program who were found to have violated NCAA bylaws are no longer associated with the program. The University and men's basketball program are moving forward under the guidance of head coach Cuonzo Martin and his staff.

COACHING HISTORY

Zora Clevenger
1911-16

A football coach by trade, Zora Clevenger was one of the first coaches in school history to simultaneously hold the head coaching jobs for the basketball and football teams. In five seasons as the basketball coach, he led the Vols to a 50-14 record. The 1904 Indiana University graduate's winning percentage of .781 still rates as the best in Tennessee history. On the gridiron, he recorded a 26-15 record in five seasons and led the Vols to the 1914 SIAA championship.

The Muncie, Ind., native got his coaching start at his alma mater in 1905 with a 5-12 record. A year later he led the Hoosier cagers to a 7-9 mark. Later, Clevenger coached four seasons (1917-20) at Kansas State Agricultural College, where he posted a 54-16 record on the hardwood. Following administrative positions at the University of Missouri and Nebraska Wesleyan, Clevenger returned to Indiana where he was named the director of athletics. In 1968 he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame as a halfback.

Blair Gullion

Considered one of the nation's top basketball tacticians, Blair Gullion (pronounced: GULL-yin) took over the Vols before the 1935-36 season and promptly won the school's first SEC championship in any sport. The first full-time basketball coach in school history, Gullion posted a 47-19 (.712) record in his three seasons in Knoxville.

A precise tactician who had written numerous textbooks on the game, Gullion ran a tightly patterned, multiple-screening offense that caused defenses to get lost. Described by one of his star players, Biggy Marshall, as a person who "lived, dreamed, ate and slept basketball," Gullion gave the Vols their first glimpse of national basketball prominence. Two times he led the Vols to the SEC championship game, winning it in 1936. Under his tutelage, Harry Anderson became the school's first All-America honoree in 1936.

Just weeks prior to the 1938-39 season, Gullion abruptly left for Cornell where he stayed for several years. He also coached at Washington University at St. Louis and the University of Connecticut before retiring.

John Mauer
1938-47

After Blair Gullion departed with such short notice before the 1938-39 season, John Mauer was tabbed by Major Robert Neyland as the man to take over for the popular Gullion.

Prior to coming to Tennessee, the Aurora, Ill., native proved himself as an athlete when he was named the Outstanding Athlete and Scholar in the Big Ten Conference while competing for Illinois. A college roommate of Harold "Red" Grange, Mauer was one of the first college basketball players to use the "one-hand" shot.

After college, he began his coaching career at Kentucky, where he preceded Adolph Rupp, and posted a 40-14 record in three years. In the early 1930s, he moved to Miami of Ohio, where he coached with Paul Brown and Weeb Ewbank on the gridiron and directed the Miami cagers for eight seasons.

After a shaky start in his first season, Mauer cemented his place in the hearts of Tennessee fans with a 30-29 win over Kentucky in Lexington. The Vols went on to a 14-7 overall record and a 6-5 mark in the SEC in 1939. Two years later, Mauer led UT to the first of two SEC championships over a three-year period with a 36-33 win over Kentucky in the SEC championship game.

In his eight seasons at Tennessee, Mauer recorded a 127-41 record. In addition to his duties with the Vol cagers, Mauer also served as an assistant football coach to Neyland and was the head baseball coach. On the gridiron, he helped lead the Vols to three SEC titles and the 1940 national championship.

Emmett Lowery
1947-59

An All-America guard as a player for coach Ward Lambert at Purdue in the early 1930s, Emmett Lowery brought that same success to Tennessee. A college teammate of John Wooden, Lowery brought a tightly-patterned, fast-break offense and man-to-man defense to Knoxville. In fact, he could often be heard yelling "Pass and cut, pass and cut," from the sidelines.

Other coaches in the Southeastern Conference took notice of Lowery's mastery of the fast-breaking offense. "The Tennessee fast break under Lowery was the best I've ever seen," famed Auburn mentor Joel Eaves said. "It was beautifully patterned, beautifully executed."

In his first season at Tennessee, the gentlemanly Lowery brought the Vols their first 20-win season in school history when UT posted a 20-5 overall mark. Over a 12-year career at Tennessee, Lowery was 169-110 before leaving to pursue business opportunities in Florida. On Jan. 14, 1950, he directed the Vols to a stunning 66-53 win over Kentucky, ending the Wildcats' 44-game conference winning streak that stretched more than five years.

In a time when many SEC schools were building newer and bigger arenas, Lowery saw Tennessee take the first steps towards building a new facility. In Lowery's final season, Tennessee moved out of the smaller Alumni Memorial Gymnasium and into the 7,500-seat Armory-Fieldhouse. Opening night in the new facility went down to the wire, with Vols guard Kenny Coulter hitting a last-second shot to defeat a strong Wyoming team 72-71.

John Sines
1959-62

After eight years on the bench as an assistant coach to Emmett Lowery, John Sines became the first, and still the only, assistant to be promoted to head coach at Tennessee.

Like his predecessor on the UT bench, Sines was a product of Ward Lambert's Purdue teams from the 1930s. A captain of the Boilermakers' 1938 Big Ten championship team, Sines went on to play in the National Basketball League. A forward for the Indianapolis franchise, Sines was named to the 1940 NBL All-Star Team.

His first Tennessee squad returned only Dalen Showalter from the previous year's starting lineup but finished the season 12-11. That first season was capped off with a 65-63 win at Kentucky, the Vols' first win in Lexington since 1939.

His second season was marred by eight losses by five points or less as the Vols dropped to a 10-15 record. Sines, whose Vols were rocked by scandal following the 1961 season, resigned one year later after posting a 4-19 record in 1961-62.

Although the finish of Sines' career at UT may have been disappointing, he left the school with one of best recruiting classes in its history. A.W. Davis and Bobby Hogsett spent the 1961-62 season on a freshman team that regularly defeated the varsity in practice.

Ray Mears
1962-77

A showman comparable to the legendary P.T. Barnum, Ray Mears was also one of the top college basketball coaches in his era.

Mears came to Tennessee in the spring of 1962 following a successful stint at Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio, where he had a 114-22 record and won the 1961 NCAA college division championship.

Mears took just one season to reverse Tennessee's fortunes. Inheriting a team that won just four games the previous year, the Vols won 13 Mears' first year and were recording 20-win seasons within three years.

His 21-year career record of 399-135 (.747) ranked second in the nation among active coaches at the time of his retirement. In his 15 seasons at Tennessee, Mears recorded a 278-112 (.713) record. During his time in Knoxville, the Vols won 20 or more games seven times, finished third or better in the SEC in 13 of his 15 seasons and won three SEC championships (1967, 1972 and 1977).

Under Mears' direction, Tennessee made seven postseason appearances. The Vols made three NCAA Tournament appearances, two National Invitation Tournament showings and participated in the now-discontinued Collegiate Commissioners Association meet.

Nine of his players went on to earn All-American honors, including three-time first-team All-American Bernard King and two-time first-team pick Ernie Grunfeld, perhaps the most famous duo in Tennessee history. The two-time Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year (1967 and 1977) saw one of his pupils named the SEC Player of the Year four times.

Mears was the ultimate showman. Not only did his teams provide plenty of excitement on the court, but there also was plenty of excitement around the game. Just before tipoff of games, he would have his team run through a giant wooden "T" onto the court. When the starting lineups were introduced, Tennessee was one of the first schools to have the lights in the arena dimmed and a spotlight placed on the Vol player. The pregame warmups featured Harlem Globetrotter hi-jinks, including an orange and white ball during passing drills. Additionally, Mears had a student dressed in a bear costume ride a unicycle and perform a pre-game act to help create a festive atmosphere at the games.

A disciplinarian and stern taskmaster who also was the consummate entertainer, Mears was a study in contrasts. While he studied statistics, poring over diagrams while plotting strategy like a military general planning an attack, Mears also created an exciting environment at games that left Tennessee fans thirsting for more.

Mears was sidelined for the 1977-78 season and decided to retire from active coaching. During his absence, assistant coach Cliff Wettig stepped up as acting head coach for that season.

Mears passed away on June 11, 2007.

Don DeVoe
1978-89

When Tennessee began its search for a replacement for Ray Mears, Don DeVoe's name was one of the first to be mentioned.

A successful mentor at Virginia Tech, where he won an NIT championship, and at Wyoming where he quickly turned the Cowboys into one of the top Western Athletic Conference teams, DeVoe was given the task of keeping Tennessee as one of the top teams in the Southeastern Conference.

A 1964 graduate of Ohio State, DeVoe was a member of OSU's 1962 squad that featured Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek and finished runner-up in the NCAA Tournament. He later served as an assistant coach to Bobby Knight at Army. It was there that DeVoe learned the nuances of the sticky man-to-man defense that he became known for throughout his career.

DeVoe's first season at Tennessee was met with instant success. Taking a team that had struggled to an 11-16 record in 1977-78, he directed the Vols to a 21-12 record, an SEC Tournament championship and an appearance in the Sweet Sixteen in the NCAA Tournament.

Behind SEC Player of the Year Dale Ellis, DeVoe's 1981-82 squad was one of his best in Knoxville. The Vols tied with Kentucky for the SEC championship on their way to a 20-10 record and yet another NCAA Tournament appearance.

A three-time selection as the Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year, DeVoe led the Vols to nine postseason appearances in his 11 seasons in Knoxville. UT's streak of five consecutive NCAA Tournaments (1979-83) is tied for the best in school history. The second-winningest coach in UT history, DeVoe's 204-137 record trails only Ray Mears' 278 wins.

DeVoe left Tennessee following the 1988-89 season and spent the next campaign as an interim coach at Florida. There, he led the Gators to a 7-21 record. After taking over the helm of Navy's basketball program in 1992, DeVoe won his 500th career game during the 2002-03 season.

He retired from coaching following the 2003-04 campaign.

Wade Houston
1989-94

Denny Crum's top assistant coach at Louisville for 13 seasons, Wade Houston was named the 13th coach in Tennessee history prior to the 1989-90 campaign.

Houston, who grew up in Alcoa, Tenn., just 14 miles south of the Tennessee campus, helped Crum direct Louisville to 11 NCAA Tournaments, four Final Fours and two (1980 and 1986) national championships.

Houston's first season at Tennessee presented the challenge of replacing all five starters from a team that had gone 19-11 and received an invitation to the NCAA Tournament. In that rookie campaign, the Vols fashioned an impressive 16-14 record and appeared in the National Invitation Tournament.

In 1991, the Vols struggled to a 12-22 record but made an improbable run through the Southeastern Conference Tournament in Nashville. Drawing the ninth seed in the tournament, the Vols defeated Mississippi in the first round before upsetting top-seeded Mississippi State in the second round. After beating Georgia in the semifinals, an exhausted UT squad fell to Alabama in the championship game.

The 1992 season saw the Vols rebound to go 19-15, finish third in the Southeastern Conference and advance to the National Invitation Tournament. The next season, Houston's son, Allan, became the school's all-time leading scorer with 2,801 career points and was the 11th overall pick in the NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons.

In his five seasons at Tennessee, Houston recorded a 65-90 record while leading the Vols to two appearances in postseason tournaments. He resigned his position late in the 1994 season.

Kevin O'Neill
1994-97

Tennessee basketball fans got a preview of the 14th coach in school history when Kevin O'Neill brought his Marquette squad to Knoxville to battle Duke in the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament. After leading at halftime, Marquette fell to the eventual national runner-up, but made a lasting impression on Vol fans.

The high-energy O'Neill, whose wit, candor and basketball insight captivated fans around the Southeast, was charged with restoring the Vols to national prominence. With a legendary work ethic, O'Neill hit the recruiting trail to fill the Vols' roster with top players. One of his first recruiting scores came when Nashville's Brandon Wharton turned down several football scholarship offers to ink with the Vols prior to the 1995-96 season. Then, during the summer of 1995, McDonald's All-America Charles Hathaway committed to play for O'Neill's Vols. That commitment laid the groundwork for another prep All-American, C.J. Black, and eventually Isaiah Victor.

On the court, O'Neill's Vols used a stifling defense to frustrate opponents. In his three seasons at Tennessee, O'Neill recorded a 36-47 record and directed the Vols to an appearance in the 1996 National Invitation Tournament. Although he didn't get to enjoy the full fruits of his recruiting success before bolting to take a job at Northwestern following the 1996-97 season, O'Neill laid the groundwork to return Tennessee to the national power it was two decades earlier under Ray Mears.

After three seasons at Northwestern, O'Neill spent time as an NBA assistant coach. His post-Northwestern head-coaching stints included tenures with the NBA's Toronto Raptors (2003-04), the University of Arizona (interim coach in 2007-08) and University of Southern California (2009-present).

Jerry Green
1997-2001

Jerry Green came to Tennessee prior to the 1997-98 season fresh from resurrecting a floundering Oregon program and taking the Ducks to NCAA and NIT tournament berths. In his four seasons in Knoxville, he achieved the same level of success, and then some, with the Vols.

Green's first Tennessee squad in 1997-98 achieved the 20-victory plateau, his second won the Eastern Division championship of the Southeastern Conference and his third earned a share of the regular-season SEC crown.

His fourth year at Tennessee saw the Vols win 20 games for the fourth consecutive season and advance to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in as many years.

In four seasons at the helm of the Tennessee program, the former University of Kansas assistant coach directed the Vols to an 89-36 (.712) overall record and a 41-23 (.641) mark in SEC games. While Tennessee's school record for most wins in a season when he came to Knoxville was 22 (1985 and 1977), Green averaged 22.3 wins per year at UT.

For his efforts in guiding Tennessee to the most wins (26) in school history in 2000 and gaining a share of the SEC title for the first time since 1982, Green was named National Coach of the Year by CBS.Sportsline.

com. He also was named the District VII Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

Green's memorable achievements during his reign at UT include leading the Vols to their third-ever Sweet Sixteen appearance, guiding his teams to two straight SEC Eastern Division titles, back-to-back 12-win SEC campaigns, a school-record six-game SEC road winning streak, four consecutive 20-win seasons and four straight NCAA Tournament bids.

Buzz Peterson
2001-05

A native of Asheville, N.C., whose father was a graduate of the University of Tennessee, Buzz Peterson grew up attending Vols athletic events.

Selected the North Carolina high school player of the year over Michael Jordan, he later teamed with Jordan to help lead North Carolina to the 1982 NCAA championship.

After learning the game under coaching legends such as Dean Smith, Bill Guthridge, Eddie Fogler and Roy Williams, Peterson embarked on a successful coaching career that included stops at Appalachian State, East Tennessee State, North Carolina State and Vanderbilt before landing his first head-coaching gig at Appalachian State. After leading the Mountaineers to Southern Conference division championships in four seasons, he moved to Tulsa where he directed the Golden Hurricane to the 2001 National Invitation Tournament title.

In four seasons at Tennessee, Peterson led the Vols to postseason appearances in 2003 and 2004 while posting a 61-59 record. In 2003 he directed the Vols to their first win over an opponent ranked in the top five in more than a decade when UT defeated fourth-ranked Florida 66-59. Several of his players earned regional and national honors under his tutelage. Ron Slay was named the SEC Player of the Year in 2003 after leading the league with 21.2 points per game. Two Vols were selected in the 2002 NBA Draft, including lottery pick Marcus Haislip. Peterson is now the head coach at UNC Wilmington.

Bruce Pearl
2005-11

Having arrived on Rocky Top following successful head coaching stints at Division II Southern Indiana (1992-2001) and Wisconsin-Milwaukee (2001-05), Bruce Pearl presided over the most successful six-year period in the storied history of Tennessee basketball.

With the longtime Dr. Tom Davis pupil patrolling the bench, the Volunteers pushed aside perennial powerhouses Kentucky and Florida while asserting themselves as the Southeastern Conference's winningest program during his tenure.

Tennessee under Pearl averaged more than 24 wins per season, earned the nation's No. 1 ranking for the first time in program history, boasted an average year-end RPI of 17.2 and never failed to make the NCAA Tournament — tying a school-record with six consecutive berths in the Big Dance.

In SEC annals, Pearl's 145 victories rank 31st all-time, while his .704 win percentage stands as the ninth-best in league history. Such dominant success within one of the nation's premier college basketball conference also yielded three SEC Eastern Division titles and the 2008 regular-season SEC championship.

With Pearl at the helm, Tennessee had a record of .500 or better against 10 of its 11 SEC rivals, and UT's 65 regular-season SEC wins from 2006-11 led the league.

Tennessee ranked in the top five nationally in average home attendance in each of Pearl's six seasons, and he also lured a pair of top-10 recruiting classes to UT.

The Vols under Pearl sought out non-conference matchups with the most prominent teams and players on the collegiate landscape. During his time in Knoxville, the Vols defeated Kevin Durant and Texas, Derrick Rose and Memphis, Greg Monroe and Georgetown, Matt Bouldin and Gonzaga, Sherron Collins and Luke Aldrich of Kansas and Ohio State with National Player of the Year Evan Turner. That's in addition to logging SEC wins against future NBA standouts such as John Wall, Ronnie Brewer, Glen Davis, Al Horford and Rajon Rondo.

Twice in the Sharon, Mass., native's last four years as coach, UT landed in the top 10 in the final national rankings, with a high of No. 5 after logging a school-record 31 wins in 2007-08.

Cuonzo Martin
2011-Present

Cuonzo Martin was introduced as the 18th head basketball coach at Tennessee on March 28, 2011.

The East St. Louis, Ill., native starred at Purdue under legendary coach Gene Keady before being selected in the 1995 NBA Draft.

Martin's arrival at UT was preceded by three successful seasons as head coach at Missouri

State (2009-11).

In his first year with the Vols, the Big Orange were picked in the pre-season to finish 11th in the then-12-team SEC. But Martin led Tennessee to a 10-6 conference record and a second-place SEC finish.

THOMPSON-BOLING ARENA

Tennessee's Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena is widely recognized as one of the nation's premier basketball facilities. The venue has hosted ESPN College GameDay twice in the past four seasons.

Named for the late B. Ray Thompson and former UT President Dr. Edward J. Boling, the arena is set for another busy sports schedule this year with the Vols and Lady Vols.

In the last 25 years, Thompson-Boling Arena has played host to record crowds for the Vols, Lady Vols and NBA basketball. The Vols have ranked in the top 20 in regular-season attendance nationally the past 14 seasons, including ranking fifth nationally with 17,411 fans in 2011-12. UT's 1989 battle with Kentucky set an SEC regular-season record with a crowd of 25,610. The Lady Vols drew 24,597 for their 1998 game with Connecticut to establish a women's NCAA record, while a preseason contest between the Boston Celtics and Washington Bullets in 1988 attracted a then-record NBA exhibition crowd of 23,611.

UT has hosted the men's NCAA regional tournament in 1994 and 1999 in the spacious facility. The 1990 NCAA Southeast Regional's first- and second-round games, followed by the NCAA Women's Final Four, made Knoxville a basketball hotspot. The 1989 SEC Tournament was the first of what proved to be many postseason tournaments to be held in Thompson-Boling Arena. The riverfront arena has drawn rave reviews from teams, administrators and media for the building's modern facilities needed for hosting major tournaments.

The Vols opened the facility in grand fashion during the 1987-88 campaign. The opening game saw the Vols thrash Marquette 82-56 before a then-record crowd of 25,272. The 1987-88 season saw the Vols shatter all of their previous attendance records, finishing third nationally by averaging more than 20,000 per game.

Thompson-Boling Arena underwent a $19 million renovation prior to the start of the 2007-08 season — the first major renovation to the building since it was built 20 years earlier. The first phase of the renovation included the addition of 32 luxury suites that are located in the existing north balcony, a loge area just below the luxury suites that includes 166 side court seats, new seats for the entire arena, a $3 million center-hung scoreboard and concourse refurbishments, such as graphics and other amenities. After the renovations, Thompson-Boling Arena's capacity was reduced to 21,678.

Additionally, a $16 million practice facility was constructed next door to Thompson-Boling Arena. Pratt Pavilion houses two full-size gymnasiums, one for each of the men's and women's basketball teams, as well as space for an athletic training room, weight room and film-study room

Cuonzo Martin and his staff, along with Holly Warlick and the women's basketball staff, occupy spacious office suites in the arena — completely renovated in 2010 — on the Phillip Fulmer Way level. New ticket facilities also are located on the west end of the building.

The distance from the playing floor to the roof is 120 feet, the equivalent of a 12-story building. The arena is 448 feet long and 310 feet wide. It contains more than 411,000 square feet of floor space and more than 17 million cubic feet of space. The structure's roof measures 142,000 square feet, which is approximately three and one-quarter acres.

PRATT PAVILION

Pratt Pavilion is located adjacent to Thompson-Boling Arena and houses two full-size basketball courts, one for each of Tennessee's men's and women's teams, as well as an athletic training room, a weight room, a film-study room and recruiting lounges.

Directly connected to the arena, Pratt Pavilion features convenient, ground-level parking. The 70,000-square-foot structure boasts balconies at the south side of the building which overlook the practice courts. The west facade of the building is glassed from the first floor to the second floor, allowing visibility of gallery and display areas from the street. The building is a significant element to the picturesque south entrance to the University of Tennessee campus.

The facility is named after lead donor Larry Pratt, whose love for Tennessee athletics began at a young age, when his father, Floyd, brought him to various sporting events at Neyland Stadium, Alumni Gym and Stokely Athletics Center.

In the 1990s, Pratt honored his father by creating an endowed scholarship in his name as a member of the Nathan Dougherty Society. Larry Pratt also was recognized at the Tennessee-Georgia football game in 2003 for a $1 million donation to the STEP-UP Campaign.

A native of Athens, Tenn., Pratt currently resides in McLean, Va. He graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1972 with a degree from the College of Business and serves as president and CEO of First Savings Mortgage Corporation, the largest private mortgage banker in Washington, D.C.

Pratt's $5 million commitment in April 2006, along with 341 other individual contributors through the Campaign for Tennessee Basketball, made Pratt Pavilion possible.

The UT Athletic Department first broke ground on the Pratt Pavilion in August 2006, and teams began practicing in the new structure on Oct. 12, 2007.

Tennessee's newest world-class basketball facility was officially unveiled and dedicated on Saturday, Jan. 19, 2008.

Select areas within Pratt Pavilion have been named in honor of other donors whose support for UT also helped make the project a reality:

- Brenda Lawson Court (women's)
 - Kathleen M. Bolze Locker Room (women's)
 - Frankie Ellis Wade Balcony
 - Kevin & Michelle Clayton Locker Room (men's)
 - John Ward Film Room
 - Chris Lofton Room
- (gifts by Jerry and Nancy Fortner and Brian and Craig Nelson)*

HISTORICAL HOME VENUES

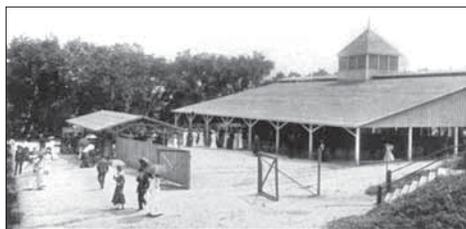

The game of basketball was a dozen years old before UT students organized their first class teams in 1903; and Naismith's brainchild was almost 20 years old when the first UT varsity five went into action.

The first UT players soon discovered that the YMCA gym was woefully lacking as a place for the fast-paced game of basketball. The court in the tiny arena was wall-to-wall. Spectators hung from an encircling balcony, built to accommodate a track. So, after two seasons of cramped activities, the Vols made their first of several moves to larger and better arenas.

In 1988, the Vols opened the 24,535-seat Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena. Oddly enough, the new arena could hold all of the seats in the previous gyms; and, in inflated dollars, it cost five times as much as all the others combined.

Through nearly 100 years of Volunteer basketball, these previous local arenas provided a decisive home-court advantage. The home-game record from 1909 to 1987 stood at 677-172, a winning edge of .800.

JEFFERSON HALL

UT YMCA Gymnasium 1909-12 12-6 (.666)

The UT YMCA Gymnasium served as the Vols' home from 1909-12. The building, which was built at a cost of $18,000, gave the school its first adequate central heating system and bathtub while also providing a gym, bowling alley, ball game, reading room, assembly hall and a few dormitory rooms. The Vols won their first home game, a 55-16 decision over TSD on Jan. 29, 1909. Probably the most exciting game in the facility was its final game, when "Skeet" Klein hit a shot at the buzzer to give the Vols a 36-35 win over the Knoxville YMCA Tigers in front of a packed house of 200 fans.

Knoxville YMCA Gymnasium 1913-22 53-9-1 (.856)

As the need for more seating grew, officials made arrangements to practice and play games at the downtown YMCA. Because the Vols shared the facility with their rivals, the Knoxville YMCA Tigers, Tennessee was only able to practice on the court three days a week. When not able to practice downtown, the Vols were forced back to the UT YMCA Gym. However, the downtown facility allowed more than double the seating capacity than the campus building. The Vols were 53-9-1 in 10 years downtown.

Jefferson Hall 1923-32 72-27 (.727)

Built in early 1922 at a cost of $19,095.01, Jefferson Hall was a multi-purpose facility that allowed the Vols to move back on campus in time for the 1922-23 season. Collapsible bleachers from Shields-Watkins Field were brought into the building after football season to allow seating for 1,500 fans. An improvement over past arenas, Jefferson Hall created problems with a stage and a court in the facility and heating being a difficult matter. Tennessee capped off a decade of play in the building, which looked like a wooden barn, with a 27-22 win over Vanderbilt on Feb. 19, 1932. After being converted to a National Guard Armory, the wooden building caught fire on Dec. 20, 1934, providing a spectacular fireworks display from the National Guard's ammunition supply.

Alumni Memorial Auditorium-Gymnasium 1933-58 231-61 (.823)

Alumni Memorial Auditorium-Gymnasium was built in 1932 to recognize alumni who lost their lives in World War I and the Spanish-American War. Almost the size of a football field, it was one of the largest buildings on campus. Upon its completion, UT's games were moved to the arena, and the athletic department offices were moved from Carrick Hall. A multi-purpose facility that served the needs of the academic, athletic and entertainment departments of the University, the building held 3,200 fans for basketball games and 3,800 for stage performances. The grand opening of the arena saw the Vols defeat Lincoln Memorial University 41-18 on Dec. 17, 1932, just one week after the formation of the Southeastern Conference. In 1936, UT stars Harry Anderson and Biggy Marshall brought the school its first SEC championship when the Vols won the SEC Tournament in the building. Regarded as one of the best facilities in the entire South, Alumni Gym served as the host of the SEC Tournament four times (1936, 1937, 1939 and 1940). But as the popularity of basketball grew with Tennessee's 26-game home winning streak in the early 1940s, the Vols soon began to outgrow the building.

Armory-Fieldhouse/Stokely Athletic Center 1959-87 321-69 (.823)

Initially built to accommodate up to 7,000 fans, Armory-Fieldhouse was designed so the arena could eventually be doubled in size. The $1.5 million structure used steel trusses that were 208 feet long and weighed 66 tons to support the roof. The building was used for several other university functions in addition to basketball games, such as commencements, occasional concerts and a speaking engagement by vice president Hubert Humphrey. The Volunteers opened the facility with a 72-71 win over Wyoming on Dec. 2, 1958.

Armory-Fieldhouse was expanded thanks in large part to a $500,000 gift from William B. Stokely, chairman of Stokely-Van Camp, Inc., of Indianapolis, that helped offset the $3 million expansion costs. Work on the expansion began in early 1966, and the larger arena was ready in time for the 1966-67 season. In the first game of the expanded facility, the Vols upset three-time defending Big Ten Conference champion Michigan 72-54 on Dec. 1, 1966. That was a sign of things to come for Ray Mears' squad, as the Vols went on to win their first 23 games in the arena, including a 14-0 home record in 1966-67.

Stokely Athletic Center served as the home for the Vols for 29 years and presided over some of the most successful teams in school history. When Thompson-Boling Arena was completed before the 1987-88 season, the Vols had an impressive 321-69 record at Stokely. Though the Vols have not played in Stokely for more than a decade, the facility has remained an integral part of the UT athletic department. Several athletic offices are still housed in the building, along with ROTC offices and classrooms.

Stokely will be vacated during the winter of 2012-13, however, as the facility is scheduled to be razed in order to repurpose the land it occupies.

What's a Volunteer? Not your run of the mill school nickname, the proud legacy of the Volunteer calls Tennessee student-athletes to compete at an elevated standard when the stakes are highest. A Volunteer is the bravest breed of human from the boldest nation on Earth, fiercely proud to call Tennessee home whether the battle lies within its borders or in a land far away.

THE FIRST VOLUNTEERS

In the aftermath of the Declaration of Independence, Americans were determined to create a nation that was free of the evils that had required them to resort to revolution. Among these was the fear of a large standing army. Such a force could be used to impose the will of an evil monarch and was therefore a threat to individual liberties. Instead, they would rely upon a volunteer army, citizen soldiers who would be called into service at times of crisis to serve their country.

When the people who would later be known as Tennesseans were first asked to volunteer for such an army, they had been living along the upper tributaries of the Tennessee River, near modern day Elizabethton. The call went out for volunteers to gather at Sycamore Shoals in September 1780 and march across the Smoky Mountains to meet this British threat. When finally assembled, the volunteers totaled almost 1,000 men, virtually the entire fighting force of the settlements. These "Overmountain Men" defeated the British at King's Mountain to turn the tide of the war in favor of the fledgling nation.

The tradition of the Tennessee Volunteer was thus already initiated when, in the War of 1812, the nation once again went to war. As they had done over 30 years before, Tennesseans responded enthusiastically. Instead of the 3,500 troops requested, 25,000 Tennesseans joined, participating in battles from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

ANDREW JACKSON

Earlier in the War of 1812 the British torched Washington. The Tennessee Volunteers made sure New Orleans would suffer no such fate. Under future President Andrew "Old Hickory" Jackson at the Battle of New Orleans, Tennessee Volunteers took part in the greatest victory of the war when they helped to defeat an army of crack British regulars. Facing more than twice their number, the Tennessee Volunteers joined a New Orleans militia, a group of former Haitian slaves fighting as free men and a band of outlaws headed by the notorious pirate Jean Lafitte. Thanks in no small part to the deadly Volunteer riflemen of Tennessee, the U.S. took a lopsided victory where more than 2,000 British were killed or wounded compared to eight killed and 13 wounded on the American side.

Jacob Hartsell, a captain in the 2nd East Tennessee militia, was among the Tennesseans who took part in the battle. He was so inspired by his fellow Tennesseans that he wrote a heroic poem in their honor. Entitled "The Brave Volunteer," this poetic journal entry is the earliest known written reference to Tennesseans as Volunteers.

DAVY CROCKETT

Two decades later, Tennesseans advanced their reputation as volunteers when, unsolicited, several hundred made the journey south to assist the Texans in their war for independence from Mexico. The best known of these was David Crockett. His already legendary status was only enhanced by his dramatic death at the Alamo in 1836.

But before the Alamo fell, 33 Tennesseans, the largest number of defenders provided by any state — nearly four times as many as from Texas — kept Mexican General Santa Anna's overwhelming army at bay for 13 days against unbelievable odds. On March 6, 1836, the brave Tennessee Volunteers and the other Alamo defenders were overrun and breathed their last.

However, the crucial days the Volunteers slowed down the Mexican army gave another Tennessean, Sam Houston, enough time to gallop through Texas raising an army to defend what would become the Lone Star State. This army defeated Santa Anna in no small part because of the contributions of Tennessee's Volunteers. There can be no doubt Texas owes a great debt of gratitude for its statehood to the fierce men from Tennessee.

TENNESSEE... THE VOLUNTEER STATE

But Tennessee's status as the "Volunteer State" was solidified 10 years later when the United States War Department called for volunteers in the War with Mexico. Moving quickly to meet their allotted quota of 2,800 recruits, state officials were overwhelmed by 30,000 volunteers.

It was during the Spanish-American War that the students of the University of Tennessee began to lay official claim to the Volunteer nickname for themselves. In 1897, the student yearbook was christened, The Volunteer.

In 1902, the Atlanta Constitution used the term "Volunteers" to describe the football team when recounting a game between UT and Georgia Tech. However, the university sports teams continued to operate without an official nickname until 1905. In March of that year an article in the Knoxville Journal announced a nickname had been chosen.

"One of the admirers of the old school has suggested 'the Volunteers,'" the newspaper reported. In classic understatement the report concludes, "The name sounds good, and it is likely that it will stick."

THE VOLUNTEER SPIRIT

There have been other men who symbolized the indomitable Tennessee Volunteer spirit on and off the field of battle. One of the most famous proved to be Alvin York in World War I. York was drafted and nearly single-handedly captured 132 Germans, took out about 35 machine guns which had been decimating his battalion and killed no fewer than 25 of the enemy, according to officers' reports. Indeed, Marshall Ferdinand Foch said of York's heroism, "What you did was the greatest thing accomplished by any private soldier of all the armies of Europe."

Humbly, the reluctant hero returned home to Tennessee as the toast of the nation. Yet York wasn't interested in celebrity or cashing in on his fame, saying, "This uniform ain't for sale."

Tennessee Volunteers took part in every theater of World War II, whether helping secure the deadly beaches of Normandy to working in their own backyard in Oak Ridge on The Manhattan Project and the atomic bomb that brought an end to war in the Pacific.

Not every Volunteer story was forged in wartime. Part of the Volunteer legend deals with self-sacrifice for the good of others. Take Tennessee train engineer Casey Jones, for instance. Steaming full-bore in the early morning in Vaughan, Miss., in 1900, Jones saw boxcars in the distance on the tracks in front of him. When it became apparent the passenger train he was driving was destined for a catastrophic collision, Jones was faced with a desperate choice — he could jump out of the engine and save his life before the crash or he could stay in the engine and try to slow the train enough to save more passengers' lives. After ordering his fireman to jump from the racing locomotive and save himself, Jones died that day saving dozens of lives in an amazing display of self-sacrifice. But his story and heroism live in the ballad devoted to the Tennessean who saved so many lives that day in his casket of splintered wood and twisted steel.

The legend of the Tennessee Volunteer also applies to great minds who create items of great cultural value in interesting ways. The first constitution ever written by white men in America was drafted in 1772 by the Watauga Association near present day Elizabethton. Take the example of the Cherokee silversmith Sequoyah, the only known man in the history of the world to single-handedly create an alphabet, the first written language for a Native American people.

Similarly, Tennessean Alex Haley became one of America's most famous authors after recounting the experience of African-Americans in his highly-acclaimed "Roots." Haley chose to make his home in Norris, just a short drive from the University of Tennessee.

Every time since the nation's birth to this very day, when the U.S. needs an extraordinary effort to brush back the dark curtain of hopelessness, the Tennessee Volunteers are called. The bravery, heroism, wisdom and ferocity of the Volunteers place them on a pedestal of great American legends.

BLOGGING & REAL-TIME UPDATES

By acceptance and use of a Tennessee media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions as established by UT and the Southeastern Conference: In-Game Blogging, including periodic updates of scores, statistics or other brief descriptions of the competition (such as Tweets and social-networking status updates) throughout the event, is acceptable provided that the bearer conforms to the blogging policies separately published by the SEC, as such policies may be revised from time to time. No bearer may produce or disseminate in any form a "real-time" description or transmission of the event in any manner that constitutes, or is intended to provide or is promoted or marketed as, a substitute for television or video coverage of the event. The bearer agrees that the determination of whether a blog is a real-time description or transmission shall be made by the SEC in its reasonable discretion. If the SEC reasonably determines that a bearer is producing a real-time description of the event, the SEC reserves the right to pursue all available remedies against the bearer and to revoke the credential.

INTERNET USE - VIDEO AND AUDIO

Upon execution of a separate agreement with terms and conditions governing the use thereof, the bearer will be afforded access to video and audio of broadcast events for use on the bearer's official news website(s), at no premium or charge. Otherwise, except as specifically permitted (with respect to online, non-archived simulcasts), the bearer shall not post, place or distribute or make available video (or audio from broadcast feeds) of game action of any event (including bearer-generated video of game action of an event) on or through the Internet or any other new media distribution platform (any other platform than print media or a form of television not available or viewable over the Internet, except for non-archived simulcasts specifically permitted) including, without limitation, wireless handsets, podcasts, cell phones or PDAs.

PRACTICE COVERAGE GUIDELINES

NOTE: For the purposes of these guidelines, the term "practice" refers not only to standard on-court basketball practice sessions but also any other practice-related activities, including, but not limited to: conditioning, weights, film sessions and individual workouts.

MEDIA VIEWING AREAS

Thompson-Boling Arena: Media must observe practice from the top row of media seating along the east baseline. If this area is unavailable, media must observe practice from the seats in the South 100 Level (Sections 119-123). Videographers and photographers may shoot from the floor but should return to the aforementioned area when not shooting or when asked by a member of the UT Media Relations staff. Producers and announcers from the television network that is scheduled to air the next Tennessee game may observe from the television position on the south end of the arena (midcourt).

Pratt Pavilion: Media must observe practice from the balcony overlooking the court on the west side of the facility. Videographers and photographers may shoot from the floor but should return to the aforementioned area when not shooting or when asked by a member of the UT Media Relations staff.

RADIO OR ONLINE BROADCAST

Participating in a live radio or online broadcast, during which University of Tennessee athletics is a topic of conversation, is prohibited while the participant is in view of practice or any practice-related activities (conditioning, weights, film session, etc.). Any and all exceptions — such as live radio remotes during preseason media day — must be approved at least one day in advance by the UT Media Relations Department.

SOCIAL MEDIA, INTERNET & BROADCAST UPDATES

Posting — either directly or via an intermediary — updates related to practice is prohibited. This also applies to message boards and all forms of social media.

Media members also are prohibited at all times from posting practice photos or video while that day's practice is taking place. Exceptions are made for B-Roll video shown during daily newcasts.

VIDEO

With the exception of videographers from network television affiliates (game crews), all media members wishing to shoot video at practice must receive prior approval from the UT Media Relations Department. And with the exception of pre- or post-practice interviews, all video content that is broadcast or posted online must be less than three minutes in duration, per practice. Posting video that includes offensive audio content (such as cursing) or gameplan-specific audio is prohibited.

SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

Mike Slive
SEC Commissioner

Throughout the history of men's college basketball, the Southeastern Conference has captured 11 NCAA Championships and four NIT titles, putting the SEC as one of the nation's top basketball conferences.

During the 2006-07 academic year the Southeastern Conference became the first conference to win the Division I National Championship in Football (Florida), Men's Basketball (Florida) and Women's Basketball (Tennessee) in the same school year.

Only the SEC and the Big East have ever won both the men's and women's basketball titles in one season. The SEC won both three times (1996, 1998 and 2007). The Big East has won both twice (2003 and 2004).

The SEC recorded a .500 record or better against the other five major conferences in 2012. SEC teams posted a .700 (7-3) mark against Big 12 teams, .643 (9-5) against the ACC, .555 (5-4) against the Pac-12 and .500 (5-5) against the Big Ten.

The SEC has won at least 68 percent of its non-conference games since the league expanded to 12 teams in 1991-92.

In the 2012 NCAA Tournament, the SEC posted a 7-2 record against the other five major conferences.

The SEC led all other conferences with 12 players selected in the 2012 NBA Draft, including eight that were selected in the first round.

Over the last six NBA Drafts, 42 SEC players have heard their names called.

A total of eight SEC teams received postseason invitations in 2012. Four received NCAA Tournament bids (Alabama, Florida, Kentucky, and Vanderbilt) while four (LSU, Ole Miss, Mississippi State and Tennessee) were invited to play in the National Invitation Tournament.

The SEC has won 11 NCAA men's basketball tournament titles. Since 1993, the SEC has won six men's basketball national championships - Arkansas (1994), Kentucky (1996), Kentucky (1998), Florida (2006), Florida (2007) and Kentucky (2012). Only the ACC (6) has won as many men's basketball titles during this time.

The SEC is the one of just three conferences in the nation to have all of its teams ranked at least one week in the Associated Press top 25 (excluding preseason polls) since 1999-00. Simply stated, every SEC team has been a top-25 team nationally at one point in the last 10 seasons.

More than 2.4 million fans have witnessed SEC basketball in each of the last six seasons. Kentucky and Tennessee were both ranked among the top six nationally in average attendance in 2012. The Wildcats led the nation with an average of 23,721 fans per game while the Vols were sixth with an average of 16,543.

Every team in the SEC has made at least one NCAA Tournament appearance in the last 10 editions of the NCAA Tournament.

The SEC is 48-26 (64.9 percent) in the first round of the NCAA Tournament over the last 14 tournaments (since 1999). In 1999 the SEC won each of its six first round games, becoming the first conference to have six teams win their first round games in the same season.

The Southeastern Conference has had at least one team advance to the Sweet Sixteen in 22 of the last 23 years. The SEC record for most teams advancing to the Sweet Sixteen is four which was accomplished in 1986 (Alabama, Auburn, Kentucky, LSU) and in 1996 (Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi State).

Thirteen of the SEC's 14 members have advanced to the Sweet Sixteen since 1996.

Each of the 126 conference games will be televised live as part of the SEC's historic 15-year agreements with CBS Sports and ESPN that began in 2009-10. Almost half of the SEC's league games will be distributed nationally with ESPN or ESPN2 televising 31 contests, ESPNU showing 18 and CBS Sports five. Additionally, nine games will be offered on ESPN3. The SEC's games on ESPN platforms are exclusively branded as the "SEC on ESPN."

UT ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT COMPLIANCE STATEMENT

Compliance with NCAA rules is one of the highest priorities for the University of Tennessee and our athletics department. As a member of the NCAA, the University of Tennessee is responsible for the actions of its boosters and fans. Even the best intentions may violate NCAA rules. We need your help in observing all SEC and NCAA regulations. Boosters and fans must be careful of their interaction with prospective and current student-athletes. Therefore, we encourage our boosters and fans to "Ask Before You Act" by contacting the Compliance Office at 865-974-3871.

REPRESENTATIVES OF ATHLETICS INTERESTS, "BOOSTERS"

There are many ways an individual can be classified as a representative of Tennessee's athletics interests. You are a "representative of The University of Tennessee's athletics interests," if you have been involved in a booster club, made financial contributions to the athletics program or booster organizations; provided benefits to an enrolled student-athlete; assisted in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes, or been involved in the promotion of UT athletics. Please note that once you have been identified as a representative of University of Tennessee athletics interests, you retain that identity indefinitely.

RECRUITING, EXTRA BENEFITS AND INDUCEMENTS

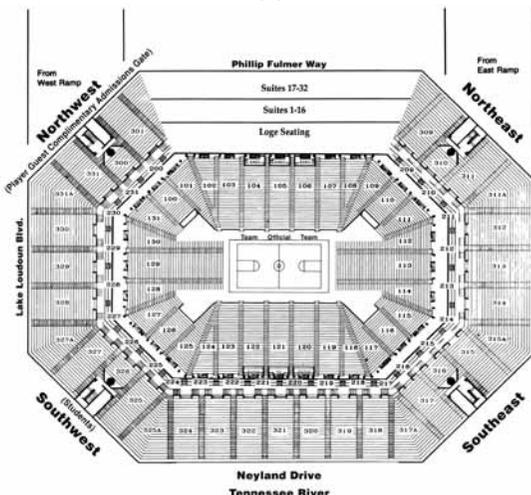

Only coaches and athletics department staff members can be involved in the recruiting process. All "athletics representatives" who are not employees of UT are prohibited from contacting a prospect by telephone, letter or in-person, on- or off-campus, for the purpose of encouraging participation in athletics at UT. It is not permissible for prospects, student-athletes or their relatives and friends to receive any extra benefits or special arrangements from a booster. Extra benefits include, but are not limited to: cash or loans in any amount; co-signing or arranging a loan; providing gifts of any kind (e.g. clothing, airline tickets, or holiday cards); providing special discounts for goods and services; use of an automobile.

If you are an established friend or neighbor of a prospect, you may have contact with the prospect provided you do not try to recruit the prospect on behalf of UT, and that such contacts are not made at the direction of UT's coaching staff. Please note that a prospect is a person who has started classes for the ninth grade.

EMPLOYMENT

The Compliance Office must keep written records verifying all student-athlete employment. NCAA rules stipulate that compensation may be paid to a student-athlete only for work actually performed and at a rate commensurate with the going rate in that locality for similar service. NCAA rules also prohibit employers from using the name or picture of a student-athlete to directly or indirectly advertise, recommend or promote the sale or use of a commercial product or service of any kind. Do not provide an honorarium to a student-athlete for a speaking engagement. Compensation may not include any remuneration for value or utility that the student-athlete may have for the employer because of publicity, reputation, fame or personal following that he or she has obtained because of athletics ability.
