MEDIA INFO

In early October, we sat down with veteran associate head coach Rob Lanier for an in-depth, position-by-position breakdown of the 2017-18 Tennessee roster.

POINT GUARD

"We have a lot of depth at the point guard position. We have four legitimate guys who we can put it on the floor and play the point. Experience-wise, inside the program, (returners) Jordan Bone and Lamonté Turner have played point the most for us. Chris Darrington and James Daniel III joined the program (this past summer) and bring a lot of experience. We have a lot of options, versatility and different kinds of players who bring different things to the table at that position.

"Jordan is much improved. He has shown a lot of significant improvements during the preseason. First, he has gotten in much better shape. He has developed an ability to play harder for longer periods of time, and that was a real challenge that Coach Barnes issued toward him last year and during the offseason.

"Lamonté is also more familiar with the way we do things, and he has shown a level of maturity and progress. He has more of a scoring mindset than Jordan, but he is very capable of shooting the ball at a high level. Lamonté has always been one of our hardest workers. He has improved as a ball handler, and his general understanding of what we are doing has gotten better.

"The two new guys are both highly skilled and want to score first. Chris is one of those guys who what you see is what you get from him. You can pretty much go into the season and expect a certain level of production from him. He has an unflappable nature about him. He has thick skin and will be able to play through the peaks and valleys with a level of consistency. There is reliability in his personality. Whether he starts or comes off the bench, you are going to get the same player.

"With James, the big thing for him is to get accustomed to the program, since he has gotten such a late start (due to the injury that caused him to miss last season and this summer). Everyone knows he scored a lot of points at Howard. He missed the majority of summer and didn't play when we went to Europe, so however long we have been practicing, that is the extent of his experience in the program. The skill level, ability and toughness are there. He is just on a different learning curve because the other guys have more experience picking up the things we are doing. He is playing catch-up in that regard, but there is plenty of time for him to do it. We anticipate that he will, and he will be a major contributor once we get going."

WINGS

"Right away, Jordan Bowden is the one who stands out. He spent some time out (with an injury) this summer, but he's back to 100 percent and is looking good. He looks like a guy who has a good year of experience under his belt and has come back with a level of confidence and a grasp of everything consistent with what a second-year player taking the next step in his career would look like. We expect good things from him.

"(Redshirt freshman) Jalen Johnson had surgery (in the summer) and is rebounding from that. Even though we mentioned the four guys at point guard, they are capable of playing off the ball as well. You can look at Lamonté Turner and Chris Darrington as guys who would be two-guards first, even though they are capable of giving us quality minutes at the point.

"With our depth at the guard, sometimes we are going to play three guards. It won't make one of those guards a true three, but sometimes, there will be a third guard on the floor. With our depth, that can be a number of guys, because we have a multitude of combinations we can put out on the floor. Because of that versatility, you also have to look at Jordan Bowden as one of those wings. Jalen Johnson as well when he gets back to full speed. We have two bigger guys who can play in those spots also in Yves Pons and Admiral Schofield.

"Yves is starting to show signs of improvement and comfort. Everything is so new to him from the language, the style and just acclimation into this particular community and society. He is facing so many new things. He is such a humble kid. He will do things in an organic way. He won't impose himself. The big thing for him is learning the system and learning to use his athleticism and physical gifts in a way that he can be consistent and allow himself to grow from there.

"Admiral has established himself as possibly the hardest worker in the group to this point. Although he has great deal of growth ahead of him as a player, it is a pretty good starting point to establish yourself as a worker. Turning that into production will require some other things that he is still learning, but we are proud of his development and drive. He can shoot the ball around the perimeter, score in the paint and make free throws. He will give us some quality minutes there."

GRANT WILLIAMS

FRONTCOURT

"With versatility being the theme, we talk about Yves Pons and Admiral Schofield as wings, but they can also move up a spot on the floor and give us minutes at the four.

"Obviously, Grant Williams can play both front-court positions, but John Fulkerson and Derrick Walker can also play both positions as well. With each position, we have multiple guys who can play, which gives us a lot of flexibility. The challenge will be finding the lineups that work. It's one thing to have a lot of depth and possibilities, but sometimes, all the possibilities can become more of a problem than a solution because you don't settle on a group. The challenge for us coaches is finding the right pieces that fit together to be the best team that we are capable of becoming.

"John Fulkerson has to get healthy. He (had a season-ending elbow injury last year) and also had shoulder surgery (in the summer). He plays a very physical, high-motor, dynamic style of play. When you have those injuries, it creates a dilemma. We have to be deliberate with his return, but we miss him. He brings a great deal of energy to our team and represents our culture as well as anyone in our program. We can't wait to get him back.

"Derrick is an outstanding rebounder. He can be one of the best young rebounders in the conference. When he is on the floor, he is physically tough and aggressive. He is extremely vocal. He's one of our loudest guys on the defensive end. He's very competitive, and we expect him to be a contributor right away.

"For Grant, this is a great opportunity for him. Personally, I think Grant is a guy who came into college with a chip on his shoulder and wanted to prove that he belonged. Any time you're an undersized guy, people doubt if you can do the things that he is able to do at this level, and he proved that he can produce. Now, he has to maintain that chip on his shoulder and approach every day like he still has to show people that he belongs. As long as he plays with that chip, he will continue to do great things. He's an extremely talented kid who can do a lot of things that we can't teach, and we need that as coaches at this level. He has to maintain an approach that suggests he is playing with a chip on his shoulder.

"Derrick, Grant and Admiral are all possibilities to move over to center. Zach Kent, who most would peg as a five-man, could slide to the four because the best thing he does on offense is shoot the ball from the perimeter.

"Zach came into the program with a pretty accurate perspective of where he's at as a player. He knew that he would need time to adapt to this level, and we knew that, too. His expectations and our expectations for him are perfectly in line. We have always looked at him as someone who is a long-term contributor and has a chance to be very good at this level. Everything is new to him, from the conditioning to the physicality. He has met everything head on, and since the time we started back in June, he is probably the most improved player on our team.

"Kyle Alexander is really starting to grow and beginning to develop as a premier rebounder on our team. That is one of the dynamics that Derrick has brought. He's raised the temperature in the paint a little bit, and when the ball is up on the glass, he goes after it like the ball belongs to him. That has become contagious, and that's why we can't wait for John Fulkerson to get back. John has that same approach. I think that's had an impact on Kyle. He has the instincts, the hands and the athleticism to be an effective rebounder. Although he's always been a pretty good rebounder, I think he has been exposed to a guy in Derrick who is a really hungry rebounder, and he's fed off that a little."

WALK-ONS

"I think this is the best group of walk-ons I have ever been around. They work so hard at becoming better players. I haven't been around a group of walk-ons that work as hard at being good players as Brad Woodson, Lucas Campbell and Jacob Fleschman. They all want to be really good individuals. Most of the time, you're happy if you can get guys who are team-oriented, get good grades and stay out of trouble. These guys have all that and can play. They spend just as much time working to get better as the scholarship players. We have reached a point where we don't feel like there is a drop off when those guys are in practice. It's a credit to those guys. From year to year, those guys have continued to get better. It's a reflection of our culture, but they have held themselves to a higher standard than most walk-ons do, and we have benefitted from it."

TEAM'S MOST IMPORTANT INTANGIBLE

"It is going to have to be toughness, but that remains to be seen. I can sit here and say that I like where we are in that regard. I think you go into every year expecting that to be the identity of your team, but we have yet to truly make that our identity. We have shown signs, and there have been moments throughout the course of a season where people saw that in us, but it hasn't been consistent or become the brand of our program, which we aspire for it to be. I think we are ahead of where we were this time the last two seasons. Back during the spring, we asked our guys, 'Who is the toughest team in our league?' Until everyone on our team says that it's us, and they believe it and is true, we have a long way to go."

BRAD WOODSON & LUCAS CAMPBELL

ROSTER BREAKDOWN

- The Vols' 2017-18 roster features 16 players (13 scholarship student-athletes) representing nine states as well as Ontario, Canada, and France.
- There are five Vols who hail from the state of Tennessee, two from North Carolina and one each from Alabama, Delaware, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, Texas and Virginia.
- This is the first time since 2006-07 that the Vols' roster has not included at least one player from the state of Georgia.
- Tennessee has one senior (a graduate transfer), five juniors, four sophomores and six freshmen (including three redshirt freshmen).
- Thirteen Vols stand 6-5 or shorter, and three players are 6-6 or taller.
- This is the tallest roster third-year head coach Rick Barnes has had at Tennessee. This season's team includes six players listed at 6-7 or taller. For each of the previous two seasons, UT had just three players listed at 6-7 or taller.

ANNIVERSARIES

- The 2017-18 season marks the 10th anniversary of Tennessee's 2007-08 SEC Championship team. The Volunteers went 14-2 in SEC play and posted a final record of 31-5. Led by senior Wooden All-American guard Chris Lofton (15.5 ppg), the Vols reached the Sweet Sixteen in Charlotte, where they fell to Louisville. Tennessee's 31 total victories that season stand as a program record.
- That 2007-08 team also holds the school record for total points in a season (2,946), assists in a season (637).
- Also in 2007-08, Lofton set the school record for 3-pointers made in a season by draining 118 shots from beyond the arc.
- Former UT All-American Gene Tormohlen, arguably the program's greatest all-time rebounder, logged five 20-20 games 60 years ago during the 1957-58 season. He accomplished the feat against Auburn, Florida, Georgia Tech, LSU and Auburn.
- This season marks the 20th anniversary of C.J. Black recording a school-record for blocks in a season. He swatted 73 shots as a sophomore during the 1997-98 campaign. His 2.52 blocks per game that season also stand as a program record.
- Tennessee moved into its current home facility, Thompson-Boling Arena, for the 1987-88 season. That year, the Vols set a school record for average home attendance, drawing 20,823 fans per game at their brand new venue. This season marks the 30th anniversary of Thompson-Boling Arena.

VOLS LOOKING TO EXTEND 13-YEAR STREAK OF TOP-20 ATTENDANCE

- Tennessee finished 20th nationally in average regular-season home attendance last year, drawing an average of 13,636 fans to 16 games at Thompson-Boling Arena.
- The Vols have ranked among the top 20 in men's college basketball attendance for 13 consecutive years, including six seasons ranked in the top five nationally.
- Tennessee has played in front of 50 home crowds larger than 20,000 over the last 12 seasons.

HIGHEST-SCORING FRESHMAN CLASS LOOKS TO BUILD ON IMPRESSIVE DEBUT CAMPAIGN

- Last season's Tennessee basketball freshmen combined to score 1,140 points, making that group the highest-scoring freshman class in program history.
- Forward Grant Williams led the way with 402 points in 32 games (12.6 ppg). His 402 total points rank sixth all-time among Tennessee freshmen, trailing legendary names such as Bernard King (661), Allan Houston (609), Tobias Harris (521), Ernie Grunfeld (453) and Chris Lofton (410).
- The next highest-scoring members of last year's freshman class were guards Lamonté Turner (263 points in 32 games; 8.2 ppg), Jordan Bowden (238 points in 30 games; 7.9 ppg) and Jordan Bone (166 points in 23 games; 7.2 ppg). Forward John Fulkerson added 47 points in 10 games (4.7 ppg) before suffering a season-ending injury.
- The 1,140 points accounted for 47.8 percent of Tennessee's total point production last season.
- Last year's freshmen also combined to account for 59.0 percent of the team's total assists and 57.7 percent of the team's total steals.

SCHOFIELD STEPPING INTO LEADERSHIP ROLE

- Junior forward Admiral Schofield, is uniquely prepared to shoulder more of a leadership role heading into the 2017-18 season. He spent the 2016-17 academic year as one of 18 members of Tennessee's VOLEaders Academy program.
- The first-of-its-kind program is a dynamic partnership between the UT Center for Leadership and Service, the Center for Sport, Peace and Society and the Athletics Department. By using their platform in sport, student-athletes admitted into the VOLEaders Academy learn how to positively impact their team, campus and local and global communities. The program aims to inspire student-athletes to find ways to use their passion of sport and their influence to enact positive change that transcends their athletic success.
- And back in May of 2016, Schofield attended the Athletes in Action "Captain's Academy" leadership camp and conference in Xenia, Ohio.
- Entering his third year with the Tennessee basketball program, Schofield is the most experienced returning Vol in terms of career minutes played (1,131). In 60 career games, the Zion, Illinois, native has averaged 7.9 points and 4.2 rebounds per game while shooting .449 from the field and .336 from 3-point range.

WILLIAMS STALKING TENNESSEE BLOCKS LEADERS

- Despite standing just 6-7, Grant Williams broke the Tennessee single-season record for blocks by a freshman last season. Williams posted 61 blocks in 32 games, destroying the previous record of 38, set by C.J. Black in 1996-97.
- Williams' 61 blocks also ranked as the second-most ever recorded in a single season by a Vol (regardless of class). And his 1.9 bpg average ranked third all-time for a single season.
- During Tennessee's win at Texas A&M on Dec. 29, 2016, Williams tied the UT record for blocks in a game, with six. Five other Vols share that record, including current Vols junior Kyle Alexander.
- If Williams at least matches his blocks total from a season ago, he would rank tied for ninth on Tennessee's career leaderboard with two years of eligibility remaining.

VOLS' ROSTER BOASTS INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR

- Junior forward Kyle Alexander is just the second Canadian ever to letter for the Vols (joining Hamilton, Ontario, native Bobby Croft, 1967-70).
- From his freshman to sophomore campaigns, Alexander saw an increase in his minutes, points, rebounds and blocks per game. His field-goal percentage also improved.
- Tennessee head coach Rick Barnes boasts an impressive history of signing and developing Canadian standouts, including Cory Joseph (Toronto; now plays for the Toronto Raptors), Myck Kabongo (Toronto; now plays in Romania) and Tristan Thompson (Brampton, Ontario; now plays for the Cleveland Cavaliers).
- Barnes added another international team member this season in true freshman wing Yves Pons, from Fuveau, France.
- Pons—who was born in Port-au-Prince, Haiti—attended the INSEP (National Institute of Sport and Physical Education) Academy in Paris. Other notable INSEP basketball alums include Boris Diaw, Tony Parker and Ronny Turiaf.
- Pons is Tennessee's first-ever men's basketball player from France and just the eighth international player in program history.
- The Tennessee roster has included at least one international student-athlete every year since Barnes took over as head coach.

BACKCOURT DEPTH A STRENGTH

- The addition of two veteran guards during the offseason has given Tennessee arguably its deepest backcourt of head coach Rick Barnes' tenure on Rocky Top.
- Grad transfer James Daniel III and junior-college transfer Chris Darrington each are proven scorers who figure to provide significant contributions this season. Daniel was the leading scorer in all of Division I in 2015-16 (see next note), while Darrington was a first-team juco All-American last season.
- Daniel and Darrington join a talented trio of returning underclassmen guards in Lamonté Turner (8.2 ppg), Jordan Bowden (7.9 ppg), Jordan Bone (7.2 ppg). Each member of that trio averaged at least 20 minutes per game last season.

BARNES ADDS ELITE SCORER IN GRAD TRANSFER DANIEL

- Graduate transfer guard James Daniel III enrolled at Tennessee this past summer after scoring 1,933 career points—the most in Howard University's basketball history and just 342 shy of the MEAC's all-time scoring record.
- For his career, Daniel enters the 2017-18 season averaging 21.5 points, 2.4 assists, 2.3 rebounds and 1.7 steals per game.
- As a junior in 2015-16, Daniel led all Division I scorers with an average of 27.1 points per game (Oklahoma's Buddy Hield ranked second in the nation with 25.0 ppg).
- His career shooting percentage stands at .366, including a .335 mark from 3-point range and an .822 mark at the charity stripe.
- Daniel has averaged more than 30.0 minutes in each of his collegiate seasons, logging more than 3,000 total minutes (33.9 mpg) over his career.
- He led the Bison in scoring in each of his three full seasons with the program and totaled 14 30-point games.
- Daniel has failed to score in double figures only six times in 90 games played during his career.
- He holds several Howard University season, game and career records, including 3-pointers attempted in a season (241, 2015-16), field goals attempted in a season (582, 2015-16), free throws attempted and made in a season (280-331, 2015-16) and 3-pointers made in a career (239).

SUMMER EUROPEAN TOUR A SUCCESS

- Tennessee completed a 10-day European tour that saw them post a 3-0 record in exhibition play while visiting Barcelona and Valencia, Spain as well as Paris, France.
- All three games were played against local professional clubs and were contested with a FIBA ball under international FIBA rules.
- Chris Darrington finished the tour with the highest scoring average on the team (14.3 ppg)—barely edging out Lamonté Turner (14.0 ppg).
- True freshman forward Derrick Walker averaged 13 points and eight rebounds over the three games.
- Tennessee's top rebounders in Europe were forwards Grant Williams (9.3 rpg) and Kyle Alexander (9.0 rpg).

VOLS WELL REPRESENTED IN THE NBA

- Tennessee alums enjoyed a noteworthy presence in the NBA during the 2016-17 season—highlighted by Tobias Harris (2010-11) leading the Detroit Pistons in scoring.
- In his sixth NBA season, Harris played in all 82 games for the Pistons. He made 48 starts but thrived in the team's sixth-man role during the second half of the season. His 16.1 points per game led the team. For his career, the forward averages 13.8 points, 5.6 rebounds and 1.6 assists per game.
- Miami Heat guard Josh Richardson (2011-15) completed his second NBA season with the Miami Heat in 2016-17, and he agreed to a new four-year, $42 million contract in September 2017. In his first two seasons in the league, the 24-year-old has appeared in 105 games and averaged 8.4 points, 2.6 rebounds and 2.0 assists. He also shoots at a .374 clip from 3-point range.
- Point guard C.J. Watson (2002-06) completed his 10th NBA season in 2016-17 as a member of the Orlando Magic. He appeared in 62 games, with nine starts, and averaged 4.5 points and 1.8 assists. For his decade-long NBA career, Watson has seen action in 600 games and averages 7.2 points and 2.5 assists while shooting .373 from 3-point range and .812 from the foul line.
- Shooting guard Jordan McRae (2010-14), a member of the Cleveland Cavaliers 2016 NBA Finals championship team, saw action in 37 games with the Cavs last season before being released. In 59 career NBA appearances, the 2014 draft pick averaged 4.4 points and shot .384 from 3-point range.
- 2014 NBA Draft pick Jarnell Stokes (2011-14), who has played for three different franchises during his three-year professional career, appeared in two games with the Denver Nuggets last season before suffering a season-ending foot injury. Stokes owns a .581 field-goal percentage in 28 career NBA games played.
- A pair of Tennessee alums continue lengthy tenures as NBA front-office executives in 2017-18. Washington Wizards President Ernie Grunfeld (1973-77) completed his 14th season as the team's top executive last year. And New York Knicks Assistant General Manager Allan Houston (1989-93) continues to play a key insider's role with that storied franchise.

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE (NOV. 10)

- First-year head coach Dustin Kerns takes over the reins at PC following the retirement of longtime head coach Gregg Nibert.
- A native of Kingsport, Tenn., Kerns is a first-time head coach, arriving at his new post after spending the last four seasons as associate head coach at Wofford. His coaching résumé yields a brief stint on Rocky Top, as he spent the 2003-04 season at Tennessee as a graduate assistant under then-head coach Buzz Peterson. The Vols earned a berth in the NIT that season. Kerns received a Master's of Science from UT in 2004.
- Tennessee and Presbyterian are meeting for the second consecutive season. The Vols picked up a 90-50 win over the Blue Hose last December in Knoxville, led by a season-high 24 points Lamonté Turner and 21 points from Jordan Bowden—also a season-best.
- The Blue Hose return their top two scorers from last season in sophomore guard Jo'Vontae Millner (10.8 ppg) and redshirt senior guard Reggie Dillard (9.8 ppg).

at GEORGIA TECH (DEC. 3)

- There is plenty of history in this series as the programs met annually from 1945-68 (Tech was a member of the SEC from 1932-64). This year's showdown is the third meeting of a four-game contract signed prior to the 2015-16 campaign.
- Tennessee has split its two previous meetings with the Yellow Jackets. The Vols fell in Atlanta, 69-67, in November 2015 before picking up an 81-58 victory in Knoxville last December.
- UT is 15-19 against GT in games contested in Atlanta.
- Arriving from Memphis prior to last season, Josh Pastner earned ACC Coach of the Year honors in 2016-17 after leading the Yellow Jackets—picked to finish 14th in the preseason ACC poll—to 21 wins. Tech finished the year as the 2017 Postseason NIT runner-up, falling to TCU in the championship game.

NORTH CAROLINA (DEC. 17)

- The defending NCAA champions visit Knoxville on Sunday, Dec. 17 as the Vols and Tar Heels close out a two-game, home-and-home series, which began last season.
- Visiting Chapel Hill last December, Tennessee took the Tar Heels to the wire before dropping a 73-71 decision.
- This will be the Tar Heels first-ever appearance at Thompson-Boling Arena and their first visit to Knoxville since 1949.
- Senior guard Joel Berry II is the only double-digit scorer set to return for the Tar Heels. Named the Most Outstanding Player at the Final Four, Berry (14.7 ppg, 3.6 apg) withdrew his name from NBA Draft consideration in late April.

at WAKE FOREST (DEC. 23)

- The Vols and Demon Deacons meet for the first time since the 2013 Battle 4 Atlantis tournament in The Bahamas, where UT posted an 82-63 victory.
- Tennessee leads the all-time series with Wake Forest, 8-2.
- Led by third-year head coach Danny Manning, Wake Forest returns 12 of the 16 players from last year's roster, including three starters. Junior guard Bryant Crawford (16.2 ppg, 5.5 apg, 3.8 rpg) started all 33 games for the Deacs and led the team in assists and steals a season ago.

KENTUCKY (JAN. 6)

- When border rival Kentucky visits Thompson-Boling Arena on Jan. 6, Tennessee will look to extend its home win streak over the Wildcats to three games. The Vols have successfully defended their home court against UK in each of the last two seasons.
- Under third-year head coach Rick Barnes, the Big Orange are 2-0 against Kentucky in Knoxville. Tennessee posted an 84-77 win over the 20th-ranked Wildcats on Feb. 2, 2016, and also logged an 82-80 triumph over the Cats on Jan. 24, 2017.
- Tennessee's 69 all-time victories over the Wildcats are the most of any Kentucky opponent.

at IOWA STATE (JAN. 27)

- The Vols and Cyclones will meet on the hardwood as part of the 2018 Big 12/SEC Challenge, presented by Sonic. It's the third matchup between the two programs and the first since 1977.
- Tennessee's all-time series with Iowa State is tied, 1-1.
- Third-year Tennessee head coach Rick Barnes—who spent 17 seasons in the Big 12 before transitioning to Knoxville prior to the 2014-15 season—owns a 158-94 record against current Big 12 teams. He is 15-9 all-time against Iowa State.
- The Cyclones posted a 12-3 home record last season, pushing their all-time record at Hilton Coliseum to 534-172 (.756). Over the last seven seasons, ISU is 88-10 at home.
- Sophomore forward Solomon Young (4.4 ppg, 3.3 rpg) is the Cyclones' only returning starter, and rising senior guard Donovan Jackson (6.4 ppg) is the team's top returning scorer. Still, the ISU roster will be bolstered by the arrival of three 4-star prospects in guards Lindell Wigginton, Terrence Lewis and Darius McNeill. That trio headlines a Cyclone recruiting class that was ranked 18th nationally by ESPN.

HEAD COACH

Third Season at Tennessee

Lenoir-Rhyne University, 1977

Tennessee's fortunes on the hardwood have never looked brighter, as Rick Barnes, the most decorated and accomplished head coach in school history, will enter his third season guiding the Volunteers in 2017-18.

The marriage of Barnes' Hall of Fame-worthy résumé—highlighted by 635 career Division I head coaching wins, the eighth-most among active coaches—and Tennessee's world-class facilities, fervent fan base and outstanding athletic and academic resources, sets the Vols on a course to consistently compete for championships.

"I'm proud to have a future Hall of Fame coach in Rick Barnes guiding our program," Tennessee Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics John Currie said. "He ranks among the winningest active coaches in the game, he's developed some of the best basketball players in the world, and he leads with integrity while pouring himself into the overall development of our student-athletes. He takes a hands-on approach with his players, is honest with those around him and wants nothing more than to help young men achieve their dreams."

Despite the fact that his first Tennessee squad was undersized—with an average roster height of 6-4—Barnes guided the 2015-16 Volunteers to multiple wins over ranked teams and victories over traditional rivals Florida, Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

Barnes personally worked with guard Kevin Punter Jr. on a complete mechanical overhaul of his jump shot, and that endeavor paid huge dividends for the senior, as Punter more than doubled his scoring average from his junior year and finished the season as the nation's 13th-leading scorer with 22.2 points per game. Punter's field-goal percentage also rose from .419 to .460 as he earned 2016 All-SEC honors.

In 2016-17, Barnes took another undersized roster that featured only three upperclassmen and exceeded preseason expectations, as well as the previous year's overall and SEC win totals.

The play of 2017 SEC All-Freshman Team forward Grant Williams highlighted the collective contributions of the highest-scoring freshman class in program history (1,040 points). Freshmen led the 2016-17 team in nine different statistical categories and were responsible for 44 percent of the squad's scoring.

The highlight win of Barnes' second season at Tennessee was an upset victory over fourth-ranked Kentucky. It gave the Vols back-to-back home wins over the Wildcats, who have not tasted victory in Knoxville since Barnes' arrival at UT.

In fitting with UT's mantra of "comprehensive excellence," Barnes' commitment to his players' academic achievement cannot be overstated. His teams have posted a perfect 1,000 score in five of the last six multi-year APR reports as well as perfect single-year APR scores every year from 2005-06 through 2014-15.

Immediately prior to Barnes' arrival on Rocky Top, he oversaw a prolific, 17-year run at Texas that included 16 trips to the NCAA Tournament.

In 30 overall seasons as a Division I head coach, Barnes has led his teams to 22 total NCAA Tournament berths, six Sweet Sixteens, three Elite Eights and one Final Four in 2003.

"RICK IS ONE OF THE
COACHES IN THE GAME."

His success on the "power conference" sidelines is simply staggering. He coached Providence to three NCAA Tournament berths in six seasons. He then guided Clemson to the Big Dance three times in four years. And his 16 NCAA appearances during his 17-season stint at Texas gives him 19 tournament berths in the last 22 years.

From 1995 through 2016, every player Barnes coached for four years made at least three trips to the NCAA Tournament.

Not only do his players find themselves perennially positioned to play for national championships, but they also carry themselves with a top-25 swagger. During his 17 years at Texas, Barnes' teams have spent 180 total weeks in the Associated Press Top 25, including 84 weeks in the Top 10. His Texas squad earned the program's first-ever No. 1 national ranking on Jan. 11, 2010. And he had previously coached Clemson to a No. 2 national ranking—the highest in that school's history—during the 1996-97 campaign.

On the flipside, Barnes has collected 99 career wins over Top-25 opponents. And his squads have topped Top-10 teams a total of 35 times.

Nationally respected in player development, Barnes is the only coach in the nation that can claim two different National Players of the Year in the last 15 seasons (T.J. Ford in 2003 and Kevin Durant in 2007). Barnes also produced four consensus first-team All-Americans and three National Freshman of the Year honorees.

Barnes has produced 24 total NBA Draft picks, including 14 first-round selections. Durant—who refers to Barnes as "more than a coach," but also a "father figure"—was the No. 2 overall pick in the 2007 NBA Draft. Durant has won an NBA Most Valuable Player Award, four NBA scoring titles, the NBA Rookie of the Year Award, and is a two-time Olympic gold medalist.

"I think Rick is one of the elite coaches in the game," ESPN college basketball analyst Jay Bilas said. "There is not a better person in the game. He is a man of great character, both his athletic character and his overall character are championship level. I am thrilled for Tennessee with this hire.

"Hiring Rick brings immediate credibility and immediate stability. Rick has always been a rock in his level of his competitiveness, but at the same time being a players-first coach. He's built programs everywhere he's been. He's an amazing guy."

Barnes was handed the reins to the Tennessee program on March 31, 2015.

A native of Hickory, N.C., Barnes was born on July 17, 1954. He was a standout player at Hickory High, from which he graduated in 1973. Barnes moved on to Lenoir-Rhyne College (Hickory, N.C.), where he lettered for three seasons and won the Captain's Award for Leadership as both a junior and senior.

He earned a bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Lenoir-Rhyne in 1977 and was named the college's Distinguished Alumnus in 1997. Barnes was inducted into the Lenoir-Rhyne College Hall of Fame on Oct. 5, 2002, and received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from Lenoir-Rhyne on May 7, 2005.

He and his wife, Candy—who is also a Hickory native—have a son, Nick, and a daughter, Carley. Carley and her husband, Josh Lickteig, have three children: Avery, Caleb and Emma.

Lanier signed and/or coached each player listed here

Rob Lanier (pronounced: luh-NEER) has spent two seasons as associate head coach at Tennessee, but the 2017-18 campaign will be his ninth year working alongside head coach Rick Barnes.

In addition to boasting four years of Division I head coaching experience at Siena, the 47-year-old Lanier also has coached in the Big 12, SEC, ACC, Big East Atlantic 10 and MAAC. He has worked on the bench for eight teams that advanced to NCAA Tournament play.

Immediately prior to his hiring at Tennessee in April 2015, Lanier served four seasons as Barnes' associate head coach at Texas from 2011-15. It was Lanier's second stint on Barnes' staff in Austin.

Lanier spearheads the Vols' scheduling efforts and has put together consecutive non-conference schedules that rank among the most challenging in the country, featuring matchups against the likes of Georgia Tech, Gonzaga, North Carolina and Wake Forest.

A highly effective communicator and relentless tactician, Lanier has handled the scouting duties for Tennessee's upset wins over ranked Kentucky teams each of the last two years.

Known for his prowess on the recruiting trail, Lanier played a key role in the assembly and development of Tennessee's 2016-17 freshman class, which was responsible for 44 percent of the team's scoring last season and finished the year as the highest-scoring crop of freshmen in program history (1,040 points).

Texas' three-man recruiting class in 2014 featured McDonald's All-American Myles Turner (No. 2 recruit by ESPN), No. 86-ranked prospect Jordan Barnett and transfer Shaquille Cleare, who was rated the No. 30 prospect nationally in 2012 by ESPN.

Texas' six-man freshman class in 2012 was ranked No. 4 nationally by ESPN and included McDonald's All-American Cameron Ridley, while the Longhorn's six-man freshman crop in 2011 was tabbed the No. 4 recruiting class in the country by ESPN and included McDonald's All-American Myck Kabongo.

In total, Lanier has played a role in signing eight McDonald's All-Americans. And 11 players that he either signed or coached have gone on to become NBA Draft Picks.

Before returning to Texas, Lanier served as assistant coach under Billy Donovan at Florida for four seasons. In those four years, Lanier helped the Gators advance to postseason play every year while posting a 99-44 (.692) cumulative record.

Florida totaled 24 and 25 victories in 2007-08 and 2008-09, respectively. In 2009-10, the Gators went 21-13 and earned an NCAA Tournament berth. Florida then registered a 29-8 mark in 2010-11, won the SEC regular-season championship (13-3 record) and advanced all the way to the NCAA Elite Eight.

Lanier's tenure at Florida was preceded by a two-year stint as an assistant coach on Dave Leitao's coaching staff at Virginia. During his second year in Charlottesville (2006-07), the Cavaliers posted a 21-11 record and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Despite being picked to finish eighth in the conference, Virginia registered an 11-5 mark in league play and claimed a share of the ACC regular-season championship with North Carolina. It marked the first league title for the Cavaliers since 1994-95.

Lanier spent four years as the head coach at Siena from 2001-05. During that span, the Saints posted a 58-70 mark and advanced to one NCAA Tournament and one NIT.

Siena won the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference Tournament Championship in 2002 and then defeated Alcorn State in an NCAA Tournament opening-round game before losing to eventual national champion Maryland in the first round. During the 2002-03 campaign, Lanier guided Siena to a 21-11 record a third-place MAAC finish with a 12-6 league mark. The Saints earned a berth in the NIT, where they defeated Villanova in the opening round and Western Michigan in the first round, before falling to UAB in the second round. Siena also defeated Providence during the regular season, marking the first time in school history that the Saints had defeated two Big East teams (Villanova and Providence) in the same year.

Prior to becoming the head coaching at Siena, Lanier worked alongside Barnes as an assistant coach at Texas for two seasons from 1999-2001. During that first stint in Austin, the Longhorns recorded a two-year mark of 49-18 (.731) and advanced to a pair of NCAA Tournaments. Texas posted a 24-9 record in 1999-2000, finished second in the Big 12 with a 13-3 league mark and advanced to the second Round of the NCAA Tournament.

In April of 2000, Texas earned a No. 15 national ranking in the final Associated Press poll (best in school history at that time) and occupied a spot in the AP top 25 all season for the first time in program history.

Junior center Chris Mihm developed into one of the top players in the nation during that 1999-2000 season, earning consensus first-team All-America honors, and he was selected as the No. 7 overall pick in the 2000 NBA Draft by the Chicago Bulls (traded to the Cleveland Cavaliers on draft night).

Lanier was a vital part of Texas' recruiting success, helping the Longhorns land a consensus national top 10 signing class in 2000 that included Brian Boddicker, Royal Ivey, Jason Klotz, Brandon Mouton and James Thomas. During the 2000-01 season, Texas finished with a 25-9 record, tied for second in the Big 12 with a 12-4 league mark and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Lanier helped mold four true freshmen and eight total newcomers into a squad that ranked No. 18 in the final AP poll.

Also in 2000-01, the Longhorns tied a school record for most home wins in a season (16-1) and defeated two AP top-10 teams at home in the same season for the first time in school history (No. 5 Illinois, No. 6 Iowa State).

Prior to Lanier's departure to take over the program at Siena, he played a major role in the recruitment of T.J. Ford, who went on to earn National Player of the Year honors with the Longhorns in 2002-03.

Lanier served as an assistant coach at Rutgers University for two seasons from 1997-99. While at Rutgers, he was instrumental in helping the Scarlet Knights secure back-to-back nationally-ranked recruiting classes. Included in Lanier's first class was guard Dahntay Jones, who went on to earn 1999 Big East All-Rookie Team honors. Jones currently plays for the NBA's Los Angeles Clippers.

Lanier's first full-time collegiate coaching experience came at his alma mater, St. Bonaventure, from 1992-97. Prior to that, he broke into the college coaching ranks as a graduate assistant and then a restricted-earnings assistant coach at Niagara from 1990-92.

Lanier received his first head coaching experience in the summer of 1995, when he led a group of American collegians on a tour of the Netherlands. He also coached summer All-Star teams in Italy (1996), Germany (1998) and Greece (1999 and 2000).

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., Lanier graduated from St. Bonaventure in 1990 with a bachelor's degree in psychology. A four-year letterman with the Bonnies who scored 868 career points, he was a three-year starter and team captain during his senior season. Lanier earned Atlantic 10 Conference All-Freshman Team honors in 1986-87 and was named the team's Most Improved Player in 1988-89. A two-time scholar-athlete nominee, he went on to earn a master's degree in educational counseling from Niagara in 1993.

Born July 24, 1968, Lanier and his wife, Dr. Dayo Lanier, have one son, Emory, and one daughter, Kai.

Lanier's cousin, Bob Lanier, is enshrined in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. Bob Lanier led St. Bonaventure to the NCAA Final Four in 1970 before embarking on a 14-year NBA career that included eight All-Star selections.

The 2017-18 season marks Desmond Oliver's third year as an assistant coach at Tennessee. Before joining the Vols, he spent five seasons as an assistant coach at Charlotte.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., Oliver has spent 20 years in the Division I coaching ranks and has experience in the Atlantic 10 (St. Bonaventure, 2000-01; Rhode Island, 2001-04; Charlotte assistant, 2010-15), Big 12 (Texas A&M, 1997-98), Ivy League (Cornell, 1998-00), Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (Canisius, 2009-10) and SEC (Georgia assistant, 2004-09).

A gifted relationship builder, Oliver played a key role in the recruitment of Tennessee's 2016-17 freshman class, which was responsible for 44 percent of the team's scoring last season and finished the year as the highest-scoring crop of freshmen in program history (1,040 points).

At Charlotte, Oliver played a major role in all aspects of head coach Alan Majors' program, including recruiting, player development, game preparation, life skills, academics and community relations.

During his five seasons working to rebuild the 49ers program, Charlotte won a pair of holiday tournament titles (2013 Great Alaska Shootout and 2014 Puerto Rico Tip-Off), knocked off three top-15 opponents, posted back-to-back winning seasons for the first time since 2007 and received votes in both the AP and coaches' poll. In 2012-13, Charlotte recorded its first 20-win campaign since 2007-08 and earned a berth in the NIT.

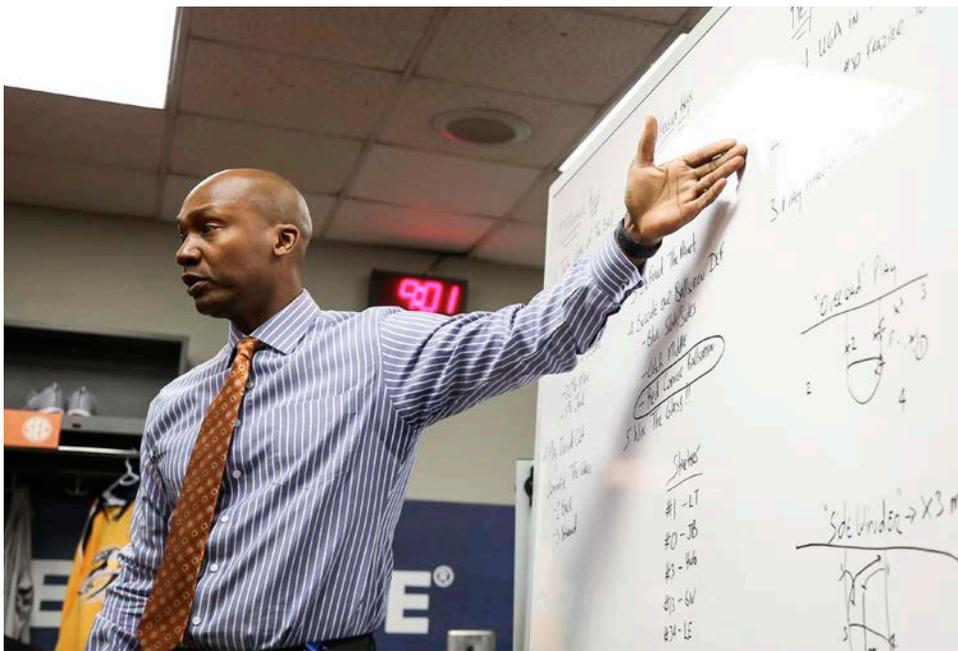

He spent the 2009-10 season as an assistant coach at Canisius, helping guide the Golden Griffins to the program's highest single-season wins total in nine years.

Oliver brought with him to Tennessee five years of SEC coaching experience logged at Georgia from 2004-09. The Bulldogs made consecutive postseason appearances in 2007 (NIT) and 2008 (NCAA Tournament). And Oliver was on staff during one of the most memorable conference tournament runs in recent history when Georgia won two games on the same day to capture the 2008 SEC Tournament championship.

Prior to his tenure at UGA, Oliver spent three seasons as an assistant coach at Rhode Island, arriving at URI in 2001 with head coach Jim Baron after one season together at St. Bonaventure. In those three years of rebuilding at Rhode Island, the Rams improved from an 8-20 campaign in 2002 to consecutive 20-win seasons and postseason berths.

Oliver broke into the collegiate coaching ranks in his hometown under head coach Jack Armstrong at Niagara University in 1994. While serving the Purple Eagles, he helped recruit Alvin Young, who went on to lead all NCAA Division I players in scoring in 1999 and earn MAAC Player of the Year honors.

Oliver stayed at Niagara for three seasons before accepting an assistant coaching position at Texas A&M (then a member of the Big 12) prior to the 1997-98 season. After one year in College Station, he then spent two years at Cornell (1998-2000) and then joined Jim Baron's staff as an assistant coach at St. Bonaventure for the 2000-01 campaign.

Oliver is a 1992 graduate of Dominican College in Orangeburg, New York, where he was a three-year starter on the basketball team (1989-92) and a two-year team captain. He also earned a Master's degree in student personnel administration from Buffalo State in 1994.

While attending Buffalo State, he began his coaching career as a varsity assistant and head junior varsity coach at Turner-Carroll High School in Buffalo.

Following an outstanding prep career at DeSales High School in Lockport, New York, Oliver played one year at Genesee Community College in Batavia, New York, under coach Bill Van Gundy (father of NBA head coaches Jeff and Stan).

Oliver is married to the former Annette Applewithe and they have two children: Dante and Dallas.

 2015-16 Tulsa Assistant Coach
 2016- Tennessee Assistant Coach

A former staff member under Rick Barnes at Texas, Michael Schwartz rejoined Barnes at Tennessee in April 2016 as an assistant coach for the Volunteers, and the 2017-18 campaign will be his second season on Rocky Top.

Schwartz's close ties to Barnes and UT associate head coach Rob Lanier—along with his 17 years of coast-to-coast coaching experience in the Division I ranks—made the Los Angeles native a perfect fit in Knoxville.

He has 14 games of NCAA Tournament experience under his belt as either a coach or administrative staff member.

"Mike was one of our first G.A.'s at Texas, and he's always been a guy I knew I wanted to bring back on my staff," Barnes said. "This was a quick and easy choice. I love everything about him. He's the whole package. He fits in with our staff and he's got a great family. We're all excited."

An outstanding scout and floor coach, Schwartz played a key role in the development of Tennessee's 2016-17 freshman class, which was responsible for 44 percent of the team's scoring last season and finished the year as the highest-scoring crop of freshmen in program history (1,040 points).

Schwartz spent the 2015-16 season as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Tulsa, helping the Golden Hurricane advance to the NCAA Tournament. Prior to that, he spent four seasons as the lead assistant under Rodney Terry (another former Barnes assistant) at Fresno State, including one year as associate head coach.

Shouldering responsibility for Fresno's in-game coordination, recruiting, scouting and skill development, Schwartz helped guide the Bulldogs to their first 20-win season and postseason appearance in seven years—the finals of the College Basketball Invitational—in 2013-14. That same year, Paul Watson was named Mountain West Freshman of the Year and selected to the Kyle Macy Freshman All-American Team.

Fresno State produced an NBA guard during Schwartz's time on staff there, as Tyler Johnson (2011-14) has spent the past two seasons with the Miami Heat. During Johnson's three seasons with Schwartz on staff at FSU, his scoring average, field-goal percentage, 3-point percentage and free-throw percentage all improved each year.

Schwartz also helped spearhead the assembly of some of Fresno State's highest-rated recruiting classes. The Bulldogs beat out several Pac 12 schools to sign shooting guard Marvella Harris, who in 2016 became Fresno's all-time leading scorer, the Mountain West Player of the Year and also earned Associated Press All-American acclaim.

No stranger to the Southeast and East Coast, Schwartz spent six years on staff at Miami (Fla.) in the Atlantic Coast Conference—the first two as Coordinator of Basketball Operations and the final four as a full-time assistant coach.

As an assistant in Coral Gables, Schwartz helped lead the Hurricanes to an 83-52 record, appearances in the top-25 rankings and three postseason appearances in four years. His impact was immense during Miami's historic 2007-08 campaign, which included the second-most wins in school history (23), a school-record 14 home wins and a program-best fifth-place finish in the ACC.

Miami earned a No. 7 seed in the 2008 NCAA Tournament and defeated St. Mary's before falling to Barnes' No. 2-seeded Texas squad in the second round.

In Schwartz's operations role at Miami, he handled video responsibilities, film breakdown, opponent scouting, oversight of recruiting mailings and also served as a liaison with the program's managerial staff.

Schwartz's tenure in South Florida was preceded by a one-year stint as an assistant coach at the University of Texas at San Antonio, a position he attained after working as Barnes' video coordinator at Texas for two seasons.

While working in a full-time capacity alongside Barnes at Texas, Schwartz was a part of a Longhorns program that posted a two-year record of 51-15, produced a pair NBA Draft picks (guards T.J. Ford and Royal Ivey) and advanced to the 2003 Final Four and the 2004 Sweet Sixteen.

Following his prep career at Beverly Hills High School, Schwartz played two seasons of college basketball at Sonoma State University in Rohnert Park, California. He then transferred to Texas where he concluded his playing career and was a member of Barnes' 1999 Big 12 championship team. After Schwartz earned his degree in Speech Communication Studies from Texas in 1999, Barnes appointed Schwartz to a graduate assistant position, which he held from 1999-2001. Current Vols associate head coach Rob Lanier was an assistant at Texas throughout Schwartz's graduate tenure there.

Schwartz also boasts valuable experience with USA Basketball, having served in a support capacity for the 2000 USA Youth Development Festival, the 2000 USA National Select Team—coached by Mike Jarvis and Bob Huggins and featuring future NBA stars Shane Battier and Jason Richardson—and the 2001 Young Men's World Championship Trials.

Schwartz and his wife, Stephanie, have two daughters: Sydney and Samantha.

COACHING EXPERIENCE

2012-14	Texas	Graduate Manager
2014-15	Texas	Strength & Conditioning Intern
2015-	Tennessee	Strength & Conditioning Coach

Garrett Medenwald (pronounced: MAY-dih-n-wald) is in his third year as the Tennessee basketball program's strength and conditioning coach.

The Green Bay, Wisconsin, native, arrived in Knoxville with three years of experience working alongside head coach Rick Barnes, as Medenwald served the Texas basketball program as both a graduate manager and a graduate strength and conditioning intern from 2012-15.

Medenwald worked with both the men's and women's basketball programs at Texas, focusing in on-court development and sports performance.

"Garrett's methods and approach to elite performance training are on another level," Barnes said. "He's a rising star in his profession, and our students are going to enjoy not just how he trains them, but also the personal relationship he develops with each of them."

During his tenure with the Longhorns, the 27-year-old Medenwald honed his philosophy as an elite performance coach while working closely with nationally known industry innovator Todd Wright—assistant coach/head of strength and conditioning with the NBA's Philadelphia 76ers—and learning the philosophies of Shaun McPherson.

Medenwald simultaneously spent two years as the Director of Athletic 3D Performance Training Systems at the "Train 4 the Game" facility in Austin, Texas, where he programmed for numerous NFL and NBA athletes.

"G is a very direct and consistent coach," said Vols forward Admiral Schofield, who worked closely with Medenwald to dramatically reshape his frame as a freshman. "I love getting a new challenge from him every day. His energy and passion is what motivates me when it's time to 'get jacked.'"

In the summer and fall of 2016, Medenwald played an instrumental role in the design and planning of a $98,000 renovation to the expanded, 4,350 square-foot basketball performance training area in Pratt Pavilion. Additions included a full-court-length stretch of synthetic turf, a custom rubber floor, a 40-foot, steel-reinforced throwing wall, six Keiser Functional Trainers, four TRUESstretch Cages, three custom, 10-foot Power Lift pulley units (ideal for taller student-athletes), seven sets of 90-pound PowerBlocks and a zoned, high-powered stereo system. Medenwald graduated from Wisconsin-Whitewater in 2013, earning a bachelor's degree in Health, Human Performance and Recreation while minoring in Athletic Coaching Education. He then received his master's degree in Kinesiology from Texas in 2016.

He married the former Brittany Henderson of Burlington, Wisconsin, in May 2016.

CHAD NEWMAN

ATHLETIC TRAINER

22nd Season at Tennessee

Chattanooga, Tenn.

Tennessee, 1994

@trainerchad

In January 2010, the Tennessee Athletic Trainer's Society (TATS) named Newman the Collegiate Athletic Trainer of the Year.

"Chad's the best," former Vol and NBA guard Jordan McRae said. "He genuinely cares about all of us and always looks out for what's best for us. He spends a lot of time making sure minor bumps and bruises don't turn into bigger injuries. Whenever we need him, Chad is always there."

The 2017-18 academic year will be Newman's 23rd with the UT sports medicine staff and his 22nd with the men's basketball program. During his tenure with the basketball team, the Vols have advanced to postseason play 15 times—including 11 NCAA Tournaments and four NIT berths. Newman has been a part of five NCAA Sweet Sixteen teams, one Elite Eight team and two SEC Championship squads.

He also serves as treasurer of the SEC Sports Medicine Committee after previously serving as vice president for two years.

Newman has helped numerous Vols overcome adversity and challenges in recent years. He oversaw the management of Chris Lofton's successful battle with testicular cancer following Lofton's junior season. Lofton went on to become the SEC's all-time 3-point king.

And in September 2009, Newman was instrumental in reviving Tennessee sophomore Emmanuel Ngedu after Ngedu collapsed following a sudden cardiac arrest. Newman successfully administered the use of an AED and CPR until emergency medical services arrived on-site. For his efforts, he received a "Certificate of Heroism" from the Sudden Cardiac Arrest Association and also was named the 2010 Most Distinguished Award recipient by the "Hoops for Heart Health" organization, which was founded by NBA player Ryan Gomes.

When Newman first joined the Tennessee training staff in a full-time role in 1997, he was no stranger to the UT training room, having served as a volunteer student trainer and a graduate assistant before his full-time appointment. During that time, he worked with UT's football, men's and women's tennis, men's golf and men's track & field teams, as well as both spirit squads.

He earned his B.S. in Exercise Science from UT in 1994 and completed his master's in Kinesiology in May 1997. Newman is a member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA) and the National Academy of Sports Medicine (NASM). Newman currently holds Performance Exercise Specialist (PES) and Corrective Exercise Specialist (CES) certifications through the NASM.

In the fall of 2009, Newman authored an article about Lofton's successful return from cancer entitled "The Toughest Opponent," that was published in Training & Conditioning Magazine. And in 2010, he gave sudden cardiac arrest case study presentations at the Southeastern Conference Sports Medicine Seminar and the Collegiate Athletic Trainers' Society Spring Symposium.

Newman is married to the former Stacey Perry. The couple has two daughters, Katherine and Natalie.

2017-	Tennessee	Director of Player Development

Riley Davis accompanied head coach Rick Barnes to Tennessee in the role of video coordinator in the summer of 2015 and assumed the title of director of player development in the summer of 2017.

Davis had four previous years of experience as a member of Barnes' basketball staff at Texas as well as experience in the NBA scouting ranks.

Davis' seven total years at Texas were split into two separate stints. He began his history with Barnes by serving two years as a volunteer student assistant with the Texas program (2009-11) and one year as a graduate assistant (2011-12). In those roles, he assisted in film exchange as well as all aspects of video coordination and internal operations.

"I've known Riley for years, and his work ethic is second to none," Barnes said. "He's got incredible knowledge of the game, he's someone I trust a great deal and he is a huge asset for our program."

The 30-year-old Davis left Austin in 2012 and spent the 2012-13 season as an assistant coach at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas. He then spent one year as a regional advance scout for the NBA's Charlotte Bobcats (now the Charlotte Hornets) in 2013-14.

Davis returned to Barnes' Texas staff for the 2014-15 campaign in the full-time role of special assistant/video coordinator. The Longhorns posted a 20-win season, defeated three ranked opponents and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Davis then made the transition to Tennessee.

Davis played basketball at Western Texas College in Snyder, Texas, in 2006-07. He then transferred to Howard College in Big Spring, Texas, where he played the following season. At Howard, Davis received team awards for academic excellence while maintaining a perfect 4.0 grade-point average.

After completing his junior-college eligibility, Davis served as a student assistant at Howard during the 2008-09 campaign. He coordinated travel, scheduling, scouting, assisted with recruiting and also coached the junior-varsity squad.

During his two seasons spent at Howard, the Hawks went a combined 49-12 while winning the Western Junior College Athletic Conference (WJAC) title and advancing to the Region V NJCAA (National Junior College Athletic Association) Tournament both years. The WJAC is widely referred to as the most competitive NJCAA conference in the nation.

Davis also helped recruit a signing class at Howard that later went on to win the 2010 NJCAA national championship.

A native of Seminole, Texas, and a 2006 graduate of Seminole High School, Davis earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Texas in 2011.

divisional dean for social sciences. She began her academic career at Kentucky, where she rose to the rank of associate professor and chaired the Department of Communication.

An accomplished scholar, she has published three books on issues of work life and workplace civility and has authored more than 100 papers. She has served as principal investigator or co-principal investigator on more than $19 million of funded research projects and has been recognized for advancements in technology-infused learning and health communication, including telemedicine and telehealthcare.

Davenport earned a PhD in communication with a minor in organizational behavior from Michigan, and bachelor's and master's degrees in communication and journalism from Western Kentucky. She also completed Harvard's Institute for Management and Leadership in Higher Education.

She is a native of Bowling Green, Kentucky, and has two grown children: daughter Sloan Sypher, who graduated from Vanderbilt with a degree in biomedical engineering and is a graduate student at Cincinnati's School of Design, and Ford Sypher, who studied international affairs at Columbia and served in the 75th Ranger Regiment of the U.S. Army. # JOHN CURRIE

VICE CHANCELLOR/DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Wake Forest, 1993

Follow John Currie on Twitter at @John_Currie. He welcomes comments, questions and ideas, which can be submitted online via the "Hey John" portal at UTsports.com.

University of Tennessee-Knoxville Chancellor Beverly Davenport named John Currie as the school's vice chancellor and director of athletics on February 28, 2017. Currie, who began his duties on April 1, 2017, previously served as the director of athletics at Kansas State.

"John exemplifies all the qualities we were seeking in an athletics director," Davenport said. "He is a man of high integrity, strong values, a progressive thinker, he fully understands the importance of being compliant in everything we do, and he is a leader who will put the well-being of our student-athletes above everything."

Currie was no stranger to Knoxville, as he earned his master's degree from UT and served the Tennessee athletic department in various capacities from 1997-98 and 2000-09, including involvement in external operations, development, capital project management, marketing and ticketing. He left UT in May of 2009 to accept the AD position at Kansas State.

"It is a very exciting time for my family and me as we return to a place that remains very special to us," Currie said at his hiring press conference. "We spent 10 years in Knoxville prior to taking the job at K-State, and I appreciate Chancellor Davenport and the University of Tennessee for providing us this special opportunity. As a graduate of the University of Tennessee, I know how much UT athletics means to the people in the state, and I look forward to serving all of Big Orange Nation, its wonderful coaches, staff and student-athletes, for many years to come. We are excited to return to Rocky Top."

Prior to the start of the 2017-18 academic year, Currie laid forth his vision for UTAD, which is to stand as "America's model intercollegiate athletics program." That vision centers on five specific mission goals:

- » World-class student-athlete experience
- » Responsibility and integrity
- » Win championships
- » Value to the university, community and state
- » Best fan experience in the SEC

In the first six months of Currie's AD tenure on Rocky Top, he hired two new head coaches (men's tennis coach Chris Woodruff and baseball coach Tony Vitello), completed a reorganization of the athletics reporting structure and senior leadership team and accelerated the Neyland Stadium Master Plan project, which aims to renovate the iconic structure for a second century of service to the people of Tennessee and the college football world. Neyland Stadium will mark its centennial in 2021.

And on Sept. 14, 2017, following an extensive and thorough review, Currie and Davenport announced that Tennessee was implementing branding measures to restore the official visibility of the iconic "Lady Vols" name and logo for all UT women's programs. Prior to that announcement, the "Lady Vols" brand had been exclusive to women's basketball since 2014.

Currie, 46, returned to Knoxville after an eight-year tenure at K-State in which the Wildcats experienced perhaps their greatest period of across-the-board success ever—academically, athletically and financially. The special run included seven straight bowl games for the football program and the program's first-ever No. 1 ranking, Big 12 Championships in football (2012), men's basketball (2013) and baseball (2013), the 2017 women's outdoor track title (shortly after his departure), 56 individual Big 12 championships, 11 individual NCAA titles in track and field, six men's basketball NCAA Tournament appearances, four in women's basketball, four in volleyball and three in baseball.

Across the board, K-State bested in-state rival KU 56-47 in head-to-head team sport competitions, including an 8-0 mark in football. And 162 Kansas State student-athletes earned All-American distinction.

The 2012-13 academic year was one for the ages as Kansas State became just the fourth BCS school since 1998 to win league titles in football, men's basketball and baseball in the same year.

Currie's tenure at K-State also was highlighted by academic excellence, with all Wildcat programs boasting multi-year APR marks of at least 944, with football, men's golf, women's golf, men's cross country and women's cross country posting Big 12-leading scores. Football's Tyson Hartman (2011) and Tyler Lockett (2015) both earned National Football Foundation recognition as finalists for the Campbell Trophy, known as the "academic Heisman."

In Currie's final year leading Kansas State athletics (2016-17), the department produced a balanced budget and achieved a surplus for the eighth consecutive year, while K-State was one of just five FBS institutions in 2016-17 to play in a bowl game, NCAA volleyball tournament, NCAA men's basketball tournament and NCAA women's basketball tournament. Wildcat grads also were selected in each of the NFL, NBA, WNBA and MLB drafts.

The recipient of the 2013 Bobby Dodd AD Award and a 2013 Under Armour AD of the Year, Currie served as chair of the Big 12 ADs in 2013-14 and was a member of the NCAA Division I Administrative Cabinet. He was one of only two intercollegiate ADs named to Sports Business Journal's 2011 prestigious "Forty Under 40" list of national sports leaders.

When Currie—who views intercollegiate athletics as an "educational enterprise with business principles"—took the reins at K-State, he and his staff faced a budgeted deficit but instead turned K-State into one of the NCAA's most financially solvent programs.

K-State became the only university in Kansas and one of just two dozen in the country to operate in the black without any state tax or university tuition dollars or subsidies. Under Currie, K-State Athletics eliminated approximately $3 million in annual state and direct university funding of the athletics department, was recognized as boasting the “best pregame football tradition in the Big 12,” and Manhattan, Kansas, was ranked as “America’s No. 1 College Town.”

Under his leadership, K-State completed more than $210 million of comprehensive facility improvements, all privately funded with zero state tax or university tuition dollars, including the Vanier Family Football Complex, West Stadium Center, Basketball Training Facility, Intercollegiate Rowing Facility, Mike Goss Tennis Stadium and soccer competition/football practice fields.

K-State’s fundraising efforts were completely overhauled under Currie’s leadership, with more than $230 million in cash contributions raised for athletics—more money over that period than in the previous 48 years combined. K-State donors stepped up with 27 private gifts in excess of $1 million during Currie’s tenure, while grassroots Ahearn Fund membership reached all 50 states. The department operated with a budget surplus in all eight of his years as athletic director, allowing for annual investments and budget growth from $44 million to $73 million. K-State’s $46 million in cash contributions raised in the 2014 fiscal year almost quadrupled the annual total prior to his arrival and was the third-highest total nationally that year behind only Texas A&M and Michigan.

Currie and his staff worked closely with then-President Kirk Schulz and the KSU Foundation to secure the largest individual donation in university history, a $60 million gift benefitting various academic and athletic initiatives, while the department reached its $50 million private gifts goal for the Vanier Family Football Complex in just 13 months.

With the tag line of “Welcome to K-State” symbolizing the goal of providing The Best Fan Experience in the Big 12—a goal that has accompanied Currie to Tennessee and the SEC, along with the tag line “Welcome to Rocky Top”—K-State’s marketing and fundraising efforts were completely overhauled during his tenure.

New ticket initiatives led to 42 sellout crowds from 2009-16 at Bill Snyder Family Stadium, including a streak of 33 straight. The Wildcats also set season total and average attendance records in baseball, sold a record number of season tickets for volleyball and baseball and ranked among the top 35 nationally in attendance in men’s basketball, women’s basketball, volleyball and baseball.

Currie joined the Tennessee staff in 1997 as Executive Director of the Volunteer Athletic Scholarship Fund (VASF). Following a two-year stint as Assistant Athletics Director at Wake Forest, Currie returned to Knoxville in August of 2000 as Assistant Athletics Director for Development and progressed to Executive Associate AD by 2008.

At UT, Currie was responsible for the direct management of units that annually produced $84 million in revenue and gifts, including the department’s fundraising, marketing, ticketing, media relations, public relations, Internet and broadcasting offices. Currie also provided oversight for the men’s basketball program and other department initiatives.

Currie’s accomplishments at Tennessee included helping the university secure a $50 million commitment in 2006 for academic and athletic needs, a gift which represented the largest from an individual in Tennessee history. Under his leadership, giving to Tennessee athletics more than doubled from $19.5 million in 2003 to $41.6 million in 2008.

An integral member of the facility planning team for UT’s original 2004 $200 million master plan renovations for Neyland Stadium, Currie led the negotiation and implementation of new student season-ticket sales for football in 2008. He also implemented new regular-season football sales strategies that helped Tennessee set a school single-game attendance record of 109,061 during the Vols’ 30-28 victory over Florida on Sept. 18, 2004.

Currie also oversaw a $36 million renovation to Thompson-Boling Arena as well as the Pratt Pavilion basketball practice facility construction project that was completed in the fall of 2007. He developed and implemented the revenue models to fund both projects without outside funding from the state or local government, tax dollars or university-derived support.

Tennessee’s athletic facilities as a whole benefitted from Currie’s efforts as the development office secured individual-naming recognition gifts that included $4 million for Allan Jones Intercollegiate Aquatics Center, $2 million for Sherri Parker Lee Stadium (softball), $1.5 million for Regal Soccer Stadium and $2 million for baseball renovations. During Currie’s last year at UT before transitioning to K-State, ground was broken for the Mack and Jonnie Day Golf Facility.

Currie began his professional career at Wake Forest in 1993 as a Deacon Club intern before being named Assistant Deacon Club Director in 1994, a position he held until 1997.

Currie earned his master’s degree in Sport Management from Tennessee in 2003 and is a 1993 Wake Forest graduate. He and his wife, Mary Lawrence, have three children: Jack, Virginia and Mary-Dell.

- Taking the court with its youngest lineup in 20 years, Tennessee dropped its season-opener 82-69 to Chattanooga Nov. 11, 2016 in Thompson-Boling Arena.
- The Vols took a 17-10 lead on freshman guard Jordan Bone's 3-pointer with 10:32 to go in the first half, which marked their biggest lead of the night and their only made shot from long range. Tennessee finished 1-16 from 3-point range and shot just 32.8 percent from the field.
- Bone, whose older brother Josh played at UT from 2009-11, led the Vols with 21 points on 8-of-14 shooting in his Tennessee debut. Another freshman, Lamonté Turner added 12 points off the bench. Grant Williams, a 6-foot-5 freshman, had a team-high 10 rebounds for Tennessee.
- Senior Justin Tuoyo led Chattanooga with a game-high 22 points, while Tre' McLean added 20. Tuoyo (11) and McLean (10) posted double-digit rebound totals.
- The Mocs had plenty of success on the road last season, picking up victories at Georgia, Illinois and Dayton on their way to a school-record 29 victories and the second-round of the NCAA Tournament. All three of Chattanooga's leading scorers from last year were on the court.
- The loss marked just the third time Tennessee has lost its season-opener in 30 years at Thompson-Boling Arena.

- Tennessee overcame a 17-point deficit to take a second-half lead against 16th-ranked Wisconsin, but the Badgers' experience enabled them to hold off the UT charge and hand the Vols a 74-62 loss on Nov. 21, 2016, the opening day of the Maui Jim Maui Invitational.
- Sophomore guard Shembari Phillips led the Volunteers with 16 points against the Badgers, including 10 in the second half. Senior Robert Hubbs III and junior Detrick Mostella each scored 12. Sophomore forward Kyle Alexander grabbed a team-high six rebounds, while redshirt freshman guard Lamonté Turner totaled five points, three steals and two assists with no turnovers.
- After trailing 40-32 at halftime, the Big Orange opened the second half with a 12-0 run, taking their first lead of the game, 42-40, on a jumper by freshman forward Grant Williams.
- Tennessee held Wisconsin scoreless for the first 4:25 of the second half until preseason All-Big Ten forward Bronson Koenig broke the Badger's drought with a layup, which keyed a 14-6 run by the Badgers.
- At the under-eight-minute media timeout, Tennessee found itself trailing by eight, 56-48. Koenig and senior teammate Nigel Hayes accounted for 13 of Wisconsin's final 16 points spanning the final four and a half minutes of the game.
- After missing the first two games of the season with a foot injury, true freshman point guard Kwe Parker made his debut for the Vols, logging six minutes off the bench and handing out one assist.

Last FG - UT 01-00:45, ORE 07-00:22
 Largest lead - UT by 8 1st-02:40, ORE by 11 2nd-12:00
 UT led for 08:05, ORE led for 29:55. Game was tied for 07:00.

- Oregon preseason All-American Dillon Brooks nailed a 3-pointer with 22.5 seconds left in overtime to break a 65-65 deadlock and lift the 13th-ranked Ducks to a 69-65 victory over Tennessee at the Maui Jim Maui Invitational on Nov. 22, 2016, at Lahaina Civic Center.
- Brooks, who led the Ducks with 17 points, added a free throw in the final second of overtime for the final margin.
- Detrick Mostella led the way for Tennessee, finishing with 22 points and a career-high nine rebounds in 25 minutes. The junior fouled out with 2:04 to play.
- True freshman forward John Fulkerson also had a significant impact during his season-high 37 minutes. The Kingsport, Tennessee, native came off the bench to log 12 points, 10 rebounds, five blocks and a pair of steals.
- A sloppy start to the second half by Tennessee—which committed six turnovers during the first four minutes—keyed a 19-2 run for Oregon spanning both halves that had the Ducks leading, 45-34, at the 11:26 mark.
- But the Big Orange clawed their way back behind big baskets by freshmen Kwe Parker, Jordan Bowden and Lamonté Turner. Fulkerson added five free throws during the final 10 minutes of regulation.
- Tennessee out-rebounded the Ducks 42-37 and received 43 points from its bench players. But 25 UT turnovers proved to be too much to overcome.
- The Vols' largest lead of the first half was eight points, with 2:40 left on the clock. But Oregon strung together a 6-0 run over the final 90 seconds of the half to make it 32-32 at the break.

- Tennessee led No. 7 North Carolina by five with just 4:32 remaining in regulation on Dec. 11, 2016, at the Dean E. Smith Center, but the upset bid came up short as the Tar Heels outscored UT 10-5 over the decisive stretch, handing the Vols a 73-71 loss.
- Tennessee was led by senior Robert Hubbs III, who scored a game-high 21 points on 9-of-11 shooting. He also had a team-high six rebounds. Freshman Jordan Bowden added 12 points with five boards.
- After leading by as many as 15 in the first half, the Vols successfully fended off North Carolina's comeback attempts for much of the second half. Vols freshman Grant Williams—a North Carolina native—knocked down a short jumper in the lane to give UT a 68-63 lead with just over 4:30 to play, but a 7-1 run gave the Tar Heels their first lead since the 15:34 mark in the first half. The rally was capped by a driving layup from Carolina's leading scorer, Justin Jackson, which gave the Tar Heels a 70-69 lead with 2:14 left in the game.
- The Vols hung around, trailing 73-71 with nine seconds left. Lamonté Turner drove the length of the court and into the lane, but his potential game-tying shot attempt was blocked with just two seconds remaining.
- Turner, coming off a 24-point outing against Presbyterian earlier in his home state, posting seven points, six rebounds and four blocks.
- After UNC scored the first four points of the game, the Vols went on a 27-9 run—at one point scoring on 10 consecutive possessions. The Big Orange shot 65 percent as a team in the first half and were 3-of-6 from beyond the 3-point arc.

Last FG - GON 2nd-02:02 UT 2nd-02:26

 GON led for 38:50, UT led for 00:00, Game was tied for 01:10.

- After trailing by as many as 21, Tennessee fought back to within a couple possessions of No. 8 Gonzaga, but the second-half push went no further as the Vols fell to the unbeaten Bulldogs, 86-76, at Bridgestone Arena on Dec. 18, 2016.
- Tennessee was led offensively by junior guard Detrick Mostella, who spurred the Vols' comeback attempt with 15 of his 17 points coming in the second half. Grant Williams added 11 points while Robert Hubbs III finished with 10.
- Billed as The Battle on Broadway, Sunday's game between Tennessee and Gonzaga was a rematch of last season's Battle in Seattle. This season's edition played out in a similar fashion as the one before it, with the Bulldogs jumping out to a big early lead and the Vols nearly erasing it.
- Facing a 14-point deficit at halftime, Tennessee finally whittled the Gonzaga lead to single digits with 8:42 to play when Mostella knocked down a pull-up jumper. A Bulldog free throw pushed the lead back to 10, but Mostella promptly buried one his three 3-pointers on the night to make the Gonzaga lead 68-61 with 7:12 to play.
- A trey from Lamonté Turner and a put-back from Jordan Bowden in the ensuing minutes got the Vols to within four at 70-64. Gonzaga answered with a 5-0 spurt, but another rally—highlighted by a Lew Evans three and a tough jumper in the lane from Hubbs—had the Vols within striking distance again at 75-71 with 2:26 to play. It was as close as UT would come, though, as Gonzaga's Josh Perkins hit a jumper late in the shot clock and the Bulldogs ultimately saw out the game at the foul line.
- Tennessee forced 20 Gonzaga turnovers and pulled in a season-high 20 offensive boards.

 UT led for 26:28, ETSU led for 04:43, Game was tied for 08:49.

- A career-high 25 points from Detrick Mostella led Tennessee to its first true road win of the season, a 72-68 victory over ETSU on Dec. 22, 2016, at Freedom Hall in Johnson City.
- Robert Hubbs III also finished in double figures, scoring 11 for the Vols. UT also got a defensive boost from true freshman forward Grant Williams, who finished the game with a game-high nine rebounds (seven defensive) and four blocks.
- A tight one throughout, the Vols and Buccaneers battled through nine ties and 12 lead changes. Tennessee took its largest lead of the game at the halftime break, leading 32-23 after Mostella reeled off 13 straight points over the final 2:33 of the first half.
- Playing in front of a sell-out crowd at Freedom Hall, ETSU responded quickly after intermission. The Bucs hit five of their first six shot attempts, leveling the score at 36-36 before the half's first media timeout. Tennessee was able to stave off the push from the home team, responding with layups from Kwe Parker and Lew Evans to push the lead back to two possessions. That advantage would grow to as many as seven when Mostella hit yet another jumper to situate things at 51-44 near the 12-minute mark.
- Refusing to go away, ETSU scored 11 of the game's next 15 points and took its first lead of the second half at 55-54 with nine minutes remaining.
- The lead teeter-tottered from there, with neither side gaining more than a two-point advantage until Mostella broke a 65-65 deadlock with two free throws and then a pull-up jumper with 29 seconds to play. Mostella's final points, coupled with some strong defensive possessions down the stretch for the Vols, proved enough to settle the in-state battle.
- Williams' four blocks matched his previously established season-high, which also came on the road at North Carolina on Dec. 11.

- Williams stuffed the stat sheet for the Vols with 12 points, five rebounds and six blocks. Those six swats matched the most ever recorded in a game by a Volunteer.

- The two teams played to a 29-29 deadlock in the first half, but the Vols used a 20-5 second-half run to break the game open. UT would lead by as many as 20 late in the period as it handed Texas A&M its second home loss of the season.
- Williams kick-started the decisive spurt, completing a three-point play to give the Vols a 37-34 advantage near the 13:30 mark in the second half. Phillips would add baskets on each of the next two possessions and the lead finally reached double digits when Robert Hubbs III got into the lane for two of his six points. Kyle Alexander added a one-handed slam while Mostella and Jordan Bowden each knocked down 3-pointers during the flurry, capped by Alexander's free throw that made the score 57-39 with 7:25 to play.
- Tennessee forced 16 Texas A&M turnovers—the most committed by the Aggies in a game this season. And the Aggies' .344 shooting percentage also was their lowest of the season.

- Strong efforts from Admiral Schofield and Jordan Bowden weren't enough for Tennessee, as the Volunteers lost to 24th-ranked Florida, 83-70, in Gainesville on Jan. 7, 2017.
- Schofield turned in his most complete performance of the season for Tennessee, finishing with 18 points and 10 rebounds for his first career double-double. He was joined in double figures by Bowden, who hit three 3-pointers en route to 15 points.
- A back-and-forth contest for much of the way, Tennessee grabbed a 33-32 halftime lead after shooting 48 percent in a first half that featured eight lead changes. The Vols were boosted over the opening stanza by a strong defensive effort. UF held Florida to just 37.5 percent shooting while forcing nine Gator turnovers. Those takeaways translated into 15 points for Tennessee and the Vols also owned a 12-2 edge in fast-break points through the opening 20 minutes, contributing to the slim halftime lead.
- The script flipped in the second half, however, as defensive stops became difficult to come by for the Vols. Florida shot 16-of-24 from the field after halftime, including a key second-half stretch that featured nine consecutive made field goals.
- During a key, six-minute stretch in the second half, UF made nine straight field goals and grabbed a 56-52 lead with 11:20 remaining.
- A couple free throws and a jumper from Schofield leveled things at 56-56, but a quick 10-3 spurt gave Florida some breathing room with just under seven minutes to play. UF whittled that deficit to three, 66-63, but timely 3-pointers from KeVaughn Allen (23 points) and efficient free-throw shooting allowed Florida to secure the win.

- Grant Williams scored 15 points and Robert Hubbs III and Lamonté Turner added 12 each as Tennessee fell to South Carolina, 70-60, on Jan. 11, 2017, at Thompson-Boling Arena.
- Tennessee shot just 32.7 percent in a game that was even on turnovers (each team had 22) and nearly even off the glass as South Carolina had 38 rebounds to the Vols' 37. The big difference was 3-point shooting. The Gamecocks were 7-for-13 from beyond the arc while the Vols suffered a 1-for-11 night.
- Williams scored 12 of his team-high 15 points in the second half and added six rebounds. Hubbs collected a team-high seven rebounds and also had two assists. Turner scored 11 of his 12 points after halftime.
- South Carolina's Sindarius Thornwell led all scorers with 22 points on 6-of-12 shooting. Hassani Gravett had 12 points and Duane Notice finished with 11. Gravett and Notice were each 2-for-4 from 3-point range.
- Both teams struggled offensively early on. Through the first 10 minutes of the game, the Gamecocks built a 13-7 lead despite committing seven turnovers. Tennessee was 3-of-15 in that span with five turnovers.
- South Carolina led 27-12 with 4:41 remaining in the first half, but the Vols' defense clamped down and UF closed the half with a 9-0 run to head into the break down just 27-21. After Hubbs, Jordan Bone and Williams combined for five made free throws, Admiral Schofield and Bone made layups in the final two minutes as the Gamecocks briefly went cold.
- A pair of free throws by Turner with 10:32 remaining drew the Vols to within 48-41, but that was as close as Tennessee would get for the remainder of the game.

- Despite three players scoring in double figures, Tennessee suffered an 80-69 setback at the hands of Ole Miss on Jan. 17, 2017.
- After trailing most of the first half, the Vols shot out of the gate in the second and raced to a 52-39 lead after Admiral Schofield converted a layup along the baseline at the 15-minute mark. Very little went right for UT following that basket as the homesteading Rebels outscored UT 41-17 over the final 15 minutes.
- Tennessee was led by 15 points apiece from Robert Hubbs and Lamonte Turner. Jordan Bowden finished with 14 points. Hubbs paced the Vols on the glass with seven rebounds as UT was out-rebounded 50-42 on the night.
- Ole Miss used a 13-2 run to regain the lead at 57-56 with 9:23 to play, but Tennessee kept the game within striking distance. The Vols pulled within one at 68-67 when Lew Evans knocked down two freebies, but the Rebels responded with a 10-0 spurt to seal the outcome.
- The game was slowed by a combined 66 free throws attempted by the two teams. Neither team flourished at the line as Tennessee shot 13-of-24 (.542) at the line and Ole Miss was 27-of-42 (.643). A total of 55 fouls were whistled in the game, including 28 in the first half which left seven Vols entering intermission with two fouls.
- The Vols trailed by as many as 11 points before halftime and trailed for a total of 15:31 in the opening 20 minutes. Tennessee ended the half on a 7-0 run that included two field goals by Hubbs and a Turner triple just before the halftime buzzer, to enter intermission tied, 38-38. UT then scored 14 of the first 15 points after halftime, marking a 21-1 run on either side of the break.
- The game marked Tennessee's first appearance in "The Pavilion at Ole Miss."

 UK led for 06:50, UT led for 29:50, Game was tied for 03:14.

- Tennessee earned its first win over an AP top-five opponent since 2010 with an 82-80 victory over No. 4 Kentucky on Jan. 24, 2017, at Thompson-Boling Arena. The Volunteers' last win over a top-five team came on Dec. 11, 2010, when UT defeated No. 3 Pitt, 83-76.
- The win also marked the first over a ranked opponent this season for the Volunteers after losing their previous five against ranked foes. UT has now defeated the Wildcats in their last two visits to Knoxville after securing an 84-77 victory on Rocky Top last year.
- Tennessee put forth one of its most complete performances of the year on both ends of the floor. The Vols scored the third most points of any of UK's opponents this season while shooting 47 percent from the field (30-for-64) and holding the Wildcats to their third-lowest point total of the year.
- The Big Orange came up big on the defensive end all night long, holding the Wildcats to 12 points under their season average. Tennessee also held Kentucky to 42 percent shooting, well below their season average of nearly 50 percent.
- The trio of Robert Hubbs III, Admiral Schofield and Grant Williams led the Vols throughout the night with 25, 15 and 13 points, respectively. Hubbs' 25 points were tied with UK's Malik Monk for a game high. Williams did a little bit of everything for the Vols, setting career-highs with six assists and three steals while also pouring in 13 points, grabbing six rebounds and posting four blocks.
- After a back-and-forth start to the game, UT grabbed a 31-30 lead with 4:19 to play in the first half and never trailed the remainder of the evening. The Tennessee bench played a huge part in the win, outscoring Kentucky's, 37-4.

- Tennessee used an explosive first half and saw four players finish in double figures as it downed the Auburn Tigers, 87-77, on Jan. 31, 2017, at Auburn Arena. With the victory, the Volunteers extended their win streak to a season-best four games.
- Admiral Schofield paced the Vols, scoring 18 points in 24 minutes off the bench. Grant Williams scored 17 points—15 of which came in the first half—before fouling out late in the contest, and Jordan Bowden dropped all 15 of his points in the second period. Robert Hubbs III came up a rebound shy of a double-double, finishing with 11 points and a team-high nine rebounds.
- Tennessee used a 15-0 run spanning more than five minutes to build a first-half lead that grew as large as 18 points at the 6:11 mark. That rally allowed the Vols to take a 46-30 lead into intermission.
- The Vols—who shot 53 percent during the opening 20 minutes—could have led by much more at the half, as the Tigers' 29 percent shooting was bolstered by five 3-pointers by freshman guard Jared Harper. He led all scorers at the break with 18 points and finished with 21 for the game.
- Tennessee grew the lead to as much as 22 in the second-half, reaching that advantage on two occasions. Bowden opened up his scoring barrage early in the period, completing a three-point play at the 17:45 mark that put UT ahead 54-32. Minutes later, a Lew Evans 3-pointer gave the Vols a 63-41 lead with 11:55 still to go.
- Utilizing a trapping full-court press and a fast tempo, the Tigers got to within eight with under a minute to play, but UT knocked down enough free throws down the stretch.

- Poor free-throw shooting and a sluggish second half spelled trouble for Tennessee as Mississippi State snapped the Vols' four-game winning streak with a 64-59 victory on Feb. 4, 2017, at Humphrey Coliseum.
- Tennessee was led by 13 points from freshman Jordan Bone—his first game scoring in double figures since Jan. 14. Bone also notched a team- and season-high eight rebounds.
- Fellow freshman Grant Williams was the only other Vol in double figures, finishing with 11 points.
- UT led by as many as 19 in the first half, but saw the lead slip away in the second period as MSU took control inside. The Bulldogs finished the game with 28 points in the paint, 22 of which came in the second half. MSU also controlled the glass, out-rebounding the Vols by a 55-45 margin, including a 31-17 edge in the second half.
- The Vols, who shot a season-worst 45.5 percent (10-of-22) from the foul line had difficulty weathering Mississippi State's second half runs. Chipping away at the deficit, MSU got to within single digits with 11:26 to play after Schneider Herard hit two free throws. Tennessee answered with a Williams jumper and two free throws from Jordan Bowden, but the Bulldogs countered with a 12-1 run that tied the score at 51-51 with 6:10 on the clock.
- Over a minute later, Bone broke the deadlock on a drive to the basket, but MSU knocked down threes on its next two possessions to take a 57-53 lead it would never surrender.
- Tennessee controlled the first half, racing out to a 17-2 lead. The Vols would lead by double figures for the remainder of the frame, pushing the advantage to 29-10 at the 4:50 mark.

- After going into the second half down by four and struggling to contain the Ole Miss Rebels, Tennessee turned around a close game to win, 75-66, on Feb. 8, 2017, in Thompson-Boling Arena.
- Tennessee took control of the game with 3:49 left, finishing on a 17-2 scoring run. Robert Hubs III was the hero the Volunteers were looking for, as he ignited two major back-to-back plays under the basket, one of those being a layup that would give the Vols a 66-64 lead with 1:52 left, their first lead since the 5:54 mark of the first half. Jordan Bowden drained a huge 3-point dagger with under a minute to play. The Rebels were plagued by fouls in the second half, with 27 of their 46 coming in the closing half.
- Grant Williams led the way for the Vols with 18 points and seven rebounds. Three Vols found themselves in double-digit scoring in the win, including Hubs with 18 points, while Bowden added 12.
- After a fast-scoring start by both teams, Tennessee enjoyed an 8-0 scoring run two minutes into the game that was sparked by a slam dunk from Kyle Alexander. The run left the Rebels struggling to score for four minutes. The Vols would find themselves holding their largest lead of the first half during that run at seven points.
- Ole Miss turned things around after spending a majority of the first half shooting less than 30 percent. The Rebels went on a 15-6 scoring run nearly halfway through the first, highlighted by three 3-pointers. Tennessee struggled from the free-throw line but made them when they were needed in the second half. After making all eight attempts in the first half, Tennessee was 16-of- 25 over the final 20 minutes. The Vols made eight of nine free throws in the final four minutes.

- Despite freshman Grant Williams tying his career-high 30 points, Tennessee fell to Georgia in a nailbiter 76-75. The loss snapped a five-game winning streak at Thompson-Boling Arena for the Volunteers.
- Williams (10-of-16) was the only Vol to shoot better than 50 percent on the day. Robert Hubbs III added 10 points, but struggled from the field, shooting 3-for-13. The Vols excelled at the free-throw line, going 19-for-24 from the charity stripe.
- The first half was back and forth, including eight lead changes and four ties with neither team holding a lead of more than four points.
- In the second half, UT jumped out to a 14-point lead sparked by a 15-5 run. However, the Bulldogs, led by J.J. Frazier (29 points and six assists) chipped away at the deficit until they took a 65-64 lead with 3:34 remaining in the game, after which they never trailed. The Bulldogs shot 52 percent from the field, and Tyree Crump added 13 points in his first career start.
- Despite forcing 11 turnovers on defense, Tennessee struggled to contain Georgia for much of the second half, allowing Frazier to log 20 points.
- UT guard Lamonté Turner made two 3-pointers in the final minute of play; however, it was not enough as Georgia converted efficiently from the free-throw line to solidify its victory. Tennessee sophomore Kyle Alexander also tied his season-high for rebounds with nine.
- Tennessee's freshman accounted for 57.3 percent of Tennessee's scoring, netting 43 of the Vols' 75 points.

- Admiral Schofield scored 17 points and Jordan Bone had 15, but Tennessee could not keep pace with Kentucky's strong 3-point shooting early on, falling to the Wildcats, 83-58, on Feb. 14, 2017, at Rupp Arena.
- Tennessee struggled from the floor, shooting just 34.6 percent on the night and 18.8 percent (3-of-16) from 3-point range. Kentucky shot 44 percent (11-of-25) from 3-point range with 10 treys in the first half.
- Schofield scored 11 of his 17 points in the second half. He was 6-of-10 from the floor for the night and collected a team-high seven rebounds. Bone's 15 points featured a pair of 3-pointers.
- Kentucky's Malik Monk scored a game-high 20 points to go with eight rebounds and a 4-of-7 effort from 3-point range. Derek Willis, who rained seven treys in last year's UT-UK contest in Lexington, enjoyed another strong night from beyond the arc, scoring 16 points and connecting on four of his seven 3-point attempts.
- Kentucky took control of the game midway through the first half, going on an 18-3 run to build a 31-15 advantage. The Wildcats made five 3-pointers in that stretch, with Willis and Monk draining two each. Willis was 4-of-4 from downtown in the first half. Monk also made all four of his treys before the break.
- The Wildcats took a 47-32 lead in to halftime with 30 of those points coming on 3-pointers (10-of-18). Monk led all players with 16 points in the first 20 minutes, and Grant Williams paced the Vols with eight. UK prevented Williams from scoring in the second half.

- In the second half, the Vols carried over their momentum from the first stanza and outscored Missouri, 49-42, to cruise to the win. Tennessee's lead was insurmountable for the Tigers, who never pulled closer than seven points in the game after UT's first-half run.

 VU led for 09:20, UT led for 00:00. Game was tied for 00:03.

- Robert Hubbs III scored 16 points, including the 1,000th of his Tennessee career, as the Vols fell to Vanderbilt 67-56 on Feb. 22, 2017, at Thompson-Boling Arena.
- Admiral Schofield added 11 points and Grant Williams recorded his second double-double of the season with 11 points and 10 rebounds, but a slow start and inefficient shooting prevented the Volunteers from climbing back into the game.
- Jeff Roberson led the Commodores with 15 points, shooting 5-of-10 from the floor. Nolan Cressler scored 11 points, including three key second-half 3-pointers.
- Vanderbilt stormed out to an 18-4 lead over the first nine minutes and went into halftime holding a 28-18 advantage. Tennessee began the game on a 0-for-5 shooting drought, and its 18 points were the lowest total it has scored in a half this season.
- Schofield kept the Vols close with eight first-half points, including a layup to cut the Vanderbilt lead to eight with under two minutes in the half. Roberson led the way for the Commodores with nine points.
- Tennessee cut the deficit to one after a Williams free throw with just over six minutes left, but it proved to be the closest they would get as Vanderbilt outscored the Vols 23-13 to close out the game.
- Tennessee's 56-point effort was its lowest scoring total in a game under Rick Barnes. The Vols' .290 field-goal percentage was their worst since Jan. 25, 2014, when UT shot .268 percent at Florida.
- Hubbs became the 48th Vol to score 1,000 points in his career, and the first since Josh Richardson in 2015.

Last FG - UT 2nd-01:45, SC 2nd-00:11
Largest Lead - UT by 2 1st-19:16, SC by 27 2nd-00:11
UT led for 00:11, SC led for 37:51. Game was tied for 01:58.

- Tennessee struggled from the field against the SEC's top-rated defense, suffering an 82-55 defeat at South Carolina on Feb. 25, 2017. Senior guard Robert Hubbs III was the only Volunteer to finish in double figures, scoring 16 points on the afternoon.
- Statistically, South Carolina entered Saturday's game allowing its opponents only 64.7 points per game on a 39.8 field goal percentage—both conference-bests. Those figures held true, as Tennessee was limited to 55 points—its lowest scoring output of the season—on just 33.3 percent shooting.
- Looking to get back on track after a home loss to Vanderbilt three days prior, the Vols got off to a rocky start, committing five turnovers over the first four minutes of action. Those miscues allowed South Carolina to race out to an early 8-2 lead—an advantage that would grow to as many as 27-9 after a pair of 8-0 runs.
- The Vols would respond late in the opening frame, though, as Hubbs and freshman Grant Williams led a charge that saw UT pull back to within single digits by intermission. The pair finished with eight points apiece in the opening frame.
- UT looked poised to maintain the momentum after halftime, whittling the deficit to four after a coast-to-coast layup from Hubbs. But not long thereafter, South Carolina got back-to-back 3-pointers from Duane Notice, opening up a 12-3 run that restored the Gamecocks' lead to double figures and ultimately put the home side out of reach for good.
- Along with his eight points, Williams led UT with eight rebounds to go along with a season-high four steals. Admiral Schofield and Lamonté Turner—who made his fifth career start—finished with seven points apiece. Sophomore Kyle Alexander added five points and a team-high three blocked shots. UT finished with 20 turnovers and just three assists.

Lamonté Turner scored 10 points in the second half, knocking down a couple of late threes, to finish with 14 points.
- Despite holding LSU leading scorer Antonio Blakeney (17.9 ppg entering the game) to just six points, four Tigers finished in double figures, including two 20-point scorers. Brandon Sampson finished with 24 points while Jalyn Patterson finished with 22 off the bench.
- Tennessee took a 46-42 lead into the intermission after shooting 57 percent over the first 20 minutes.
- LSU also displayed some offensive efficiency in the first half, shooting 50 percent overall to keep pace with Tennessee's best offensive half in the last three games.
- After halftime, though, the Vols went cold. UT made only three field goals over the first 16 minutes of the second half, ultimately shooting 27.3 percent (9-of-33) in the final period. Meanwhile, LSU kept up its sharp shooting from the first half, going 14-of-28 from the field and 19-of-26 (.731) at the foul line en route to 50 second-half points.

- Grant Williams recorded a double-double with 16 points and 10 rebounds, Lew Evans added 13 points, and Tennessee surged in the second half to take a 59-54 win over Alabama in the Vols regular-season finale on March 4, 2017, in Thompson-Boling Arena.
- Despite offensive struggles in the first half, Tennessee came roaring back, outscoring Alabama 37-18 in the final period of play. Evans knocked down three of the team's six second-half 3-pointers.
- Williams recorded his fourth double-double of the year. Evans scored 13 points on 4-7 shooting while grabbing five rebounds in his final regular-season game in Thompson-Boling Arena. Admiral Schofield scored seven of his 10 points in the second half, including an emphatic dunk that sealed the win with 10 seconds remaining.
- Tennessee's Senior Day saw a slow offensive start for both the Vols and Alabama. UT was only behind 13-10 after a Schofield 3-pointer with 11:48 left in the period ended a five-minute streak without a made basket. The Tide's Ar'Mond Davis then answered with a 3-pointer of his own, which sparked a 13-2 Alabama run to extend its lead to 26-12. The Tide led 36-22 heading into halftime. Alabama's bench scored 23 during the first half.
- Three minutes after the intermission, Tennessee came charging back to flip the first half's script. Evans knocked down a 3-pointer from the left wing to start a 21-7 run for the Vols. The run came to a head as Williams hit a three as the shot clock expired from the right corner, giving UT a 48-47 lead with 8:35 remaining.
- Alabama regained the lead momentarily during a cold-shooting stretch by the Vols, who were 0-of-8 over the next five minutes. But UT rallied back behind a flurry of threes.

- Tennessee dropped a tightly-contested contest to Georgia, 59-57, on March 9, 2017, in the second round of the SEC Tournament at Bridgestone Arena in Nashville.
- The low-scoring affair came down to the final possession with the Volunteers trailing by two after a pair of missed free throws by the Bulldogs on the other end. Admiral Schofield had a good look from three for the win but his shot came up short and No. 8 seed Georgia held on to advance to face No. 1 seed Kentucky in Friday's quarterfinals.
- UT was held to just 33 percent shooting while UGA shot 43 percent but committed 15 turnovers to keep the Vols in the game. Georgia dominated the glass, outrebounding the Vols, 39-29, for the game with Tennessee's SEC All-Freshman team selection Grant Williams in foul trouble for much of the afternoon.
- Nashville native Jordan Bone had one of his better performances of the season to lead the ninth-seeded Vols. The freshman guard scored a team-high 14 points and tied a career-high with four 3-pointers on the afternoon.
- Lamonté Turner was UT's second leading scorer with 13 points but was held to 1-of-7 from long range. Schofield finished one point shy of a double-double and pulled down a game-high 11 rebounds. He scored all nine of his points in the second half.
- JJ Frazier once again proved to be a thorn in the Vols' side, finishing with a game-high 17 points, including 10 in the second half to lead Georgia to its fourth straight win over the Big Orange.
- Tennessee lead by one at halftime thanks to 17 combined points from Turner and Bone. The backcourt duo combined to go 6-of-9 from the field and 3-of-5 from long range in the first half.

OFFENSIVE REBOUNDING

OFFENSIVE REBOUNDS

Tennessee first started tracking "offensive" rebounds as an official stat beginning with the 1996-97 season. Thus, all records listed here only reflect offensive rebounding totals since the stat has been recorded.

Some former Vols who played before 1996-97 and would likely have been among the leaders listed on this spread include, but are not limited to: Tom Boerwinkle, Willie Burton, A.W. Davis, Steve Hamer, Reggie Johnson, Rob Jones, Bernard King, Len Kosmalski, Ian Lockhart, Dyrone Nix, Austin "Red" Robbins and Gene Tormohlen.

ALTERNATE UNIFORM HISTORY

Dating to 1979-80, Tennessee has traditionally worn white jerseys at home and orange jerseys on the road. In the late 1970s, the SEC played a Saturday-Monday conference schedule during which half the league's teams hosted two games and the other half traveled. Tennessee during that period commonly wore white for one of those games and orange for the other, meaning that each jersey color was worn both at home and on the road.

For portions of the program's first 40 seasons, black and grey were staples of the Tennessee basketball program's uniform color palette.

Below is a listing of the program's alternate uniform history.

The following are the criteria by which former student-athletes will be eligible for the honor of jersey retirement at the University of Tennessee:

- The student-athlete must have demonstrated outstanding character, integrity, and commitment to UT during his/her athletic career.
- Any student-athlete under consideration must have graduated or have left UT in good academic standing, which would have made them eligible to return and compete.
- Former student-athletes are eligible for this honor five years after exhausting their eligibility. If they left school early without exhausting their eligibility, they are eligible eight years after leaving UT.
- Extenuating circumstances may be considered by the committee, and modifications of the policy may be considered under such circumstances by mutual agreement of the Faculty Athletics Representative and the Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics.

- Career record holder in a significant category (as determined by the committee) at the UT, SEC, or national level upon completion of career

1967 NCAA Midwest Region — Regional Semifinal

Tennessee (21-6)	52
Dayton (23-5)	53

March 17, 1967 • McGaw Hall • Evanston, Ill.

A cold-shooting first half was too much for Tennessee to overcome as the Volunteers fell 53-52 to Dayton in their first NCAA Tournament appearance.

Tennessee trailed 36-25 at the break as Dayton hit 58 percent from the field compared to the Vols' 23 percent. Tennessee hit only seven buckets in 31 attempts. Tennessee fought back, though, and whittled the lead down to 50-48 with 8:01 left on the clock when both teams started holding the ball.

The Vols had possession of the ball and were looking for the perfect shot to tie the game, but Tom Boerwinkle was called for walking, and Dayton took over possession.

Tennessee regained possession when Billy Hann came up with a steal with 3:10 remaining. Bill Justus then knotted the score at 50 when he hit a jumper with just over two minutes left in the game.

Dayton then held the ball looking for a game winning shot. The Vols forced the issue with 24 seconds remaining and fouled Bobby Joe Hooper. Hooper was good on one of his free throw attempts giving the Vols a chance for the final shot and the win.

The man picked to take the shot was Ron Widby, who had hit the game-winning shot against Mississippi State in the Vols' regular season finale to clinch the SEC championship.

But Widby's jumper from 20-feet was off the mark, and Dayton eventually regained possession. Two free throws later, the Flyers led 53-50. Widby hit an uncontested lay-up at the buzzer to finish the scoring.

"Somebody has to take the last shot," Widby said. "I never mind the pressure. I thought the ball was going in."

The Vols held All-America Don May, who came into the game averaging 22 points, to nine points on 2-of-10 shooting, but the guard duo of Hooper and Gene Klaus led the Flyers with 14 and 12, respectively. They shot a combined 11-of-14 from the field.

"We did a fine defensive job on May, but got beat by the outside shooting of their guards," UT head coach Ray Mears said. "They surprised us. We just didn't think they could shoot so well from long range."

Widby finished with a game-high 20 points to pace four Vols in double figures.

1967 NCAA Midwest Region — Regional Consolation

Indiana (18-8)	51

March 18, 1967 • McGaw Hall • Evanston, Ill.

Tennessee struggled from the field in a 51-44 defeat at the hands of Indiana in an NCAA Tournament regional consolation game.

The Vols stayed close throughout the game and had as much as a three-point lead in the second half, but eventually faltered down the stretch. Tennessee connected on 14-of-46 shots from the field for 30.7 percent. Indiana did not fair much better at 37.2 percent, but dominated the boards 43 to 27.

A short jumper from Ron Widby gave the Vols an 18-16 lead with just over five minutes left in the first half. Indiana then went into a stall in attempt to take the last shot of the half. They eventually got to a bucket from Bill Joyner to tie the score. Tennessee failed to score on its next possession, and Vernon Payne gave the Hoosiers a 20-18 lead. Bill Justus hit a jumper at the halftime buzzer to pull the Vols even.

Justus hit two free throws in the opening minutes of the second half to give the Vols a 27-24 advantage, but Indiana outscored the Vols 21-11 to open up a 45-38 lead.

Justus and Widby hit back-to-back buckets for the Vols to cut the lead to three, but Russell and Jack Johnson hit two free throws each to put the game out of reach.

The game was physical from the start which did not suit the playing style of Tennessee.

"We played as hard as we could under the conditions," Tennessee coach Ray Mears said. "They are taking the finesse out of the game when they depend on brute strength. We were not real sharp, but there were a lot of bumps and bruises out there."

NOTES: Indiana coach Lou Watson signed a scholarship with Tennessee coach John Mauer in 1946, but eventually played at Indiana ... Widby was named to the All-Tournament Team ... Widby scored 619 points during the 1966-67 season which was the most ever by a Vol ... Widby surpassed the mark of 522 points set by Carl Widseth during the 1955-56 season ... Widby averaged 22.1 points per game, which was tops in the SEC ... Indiana was the Big Ten champion.

1976 NCAA East Region — First Round

Tennessee (21-6) 75
VMI (21-9) 81
March 13, 1976 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

VMI placed five players in double figures and shot a sizzling 66 percent from the field to upset the Volunteers 81-75 in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament.

The "Bernie" was missing from "The Ernie and Bernie Show" in this game, as Bernard King was out of action with an injured left thumb. Ernie Grunfeld held up his end of the show as he poured in 36 points and grabbed eight rebounds.

"I'm not embarrassed that we lost to VMI," Grunfeld said. "I'm never embarrassed if we try, and we tried hard. We just didn't get enough done. We can't let them shoot like that and expect to win."

Grunfeld scored 12 straight points for Tennessee to close the first half, and the Vols had as much as a six-point lead during that stretch.

The score stood tied at 60 with 5:42 left in the game when the Keydets reeled off eight unanswered points. Tennessee had three shots blocked during that stretch, and Dave Montgomery scored six of the eight points for VMI. Two free throws from Austin Clarke pulled the Vols to within 70-67 with 2:08 remaining, but the Vols could get no closer.

Tennessee coach Ray Mears made a move at halftime in hopes to give the Vols an emotional lift as King dressed out.

"We let him dress out to see if it would give us a mental lift," Mears said. "I wasn't about to play him. We were not going to risk his future. Most of you don't realize how much he means to us. We were just hoping to get through this first game."

Will Bynum led the Keydets with 20 points, followed by 19 from Ron Carter. John Krovic added 17, Curt Reppart tossed in 11, and Montgomery finished with 10.

Mike Jackson was the only other Vol in double figures with 14 points.

NOTES: VMI lost 91-75 to Rutgers in the Regional Semifinals.

1977 NCAA Mideast Region — First Round

Tennessee (22-6) 88
Syracuse (26-3) OT 93
March 13, 1977 • Assembly Center • Baton Rouge, La.

Syracuse posted a 93-88 overtime victory to put an end to the famed "Ernie and Bernie Show" at Tennessee.

Things looked good early for Tennessee as the Vols raced out to a 20-10 lead against a pressing Syracuse defense. But the Orangemen regained their composure and eventually tied the score at 32 with just under five minutes left in the first half.

Tennessee held strong, though, and an Ernie Grunfeld jumper put the Vols up eight at 47-39 with 17:51 left in the second half. Syracuse then staged a 14-2 run over the next five minutes to take a 53-49 advantage.

Syracuse held a 78-74 lead with 1:31 left in the second half, but Reggie Johnson hit a short jumper and converted two free throws to tie the game. Larry Kelley's shot at the end of regulation could have won the game for the Orangemen, but it was off the mark.

A Ross Kindel steal and layup gave Syracuse an 86-80 lead with 2:03 left in overtime. Syracuse then hit 7-of-9 free throws in the final minute of overtime to seal the victory.

"We didn't score when we needed to score," Tennessee coach Ray Mears said. "The break worked well early then went dry. Our game is based on King, Grunfeld and Jackson playing 40 minutes each. Maybe that is a fallacy. If you live by that idea, you die by it."

It certainly hurt the Vols as Grunfeld, Bernard King and Mike Jackson all watched the end of the game from the bench. Not helping matters were the 26 turnovers the Vols committed.

Grunfeld led the Vols with 26 points and 12 rebounds, King tossed in 23 and also grabbed 12 rebounds. Reggie Johnson added 17 points and 10 boards.

"I hope what happened against Syracuse won't wash out the things we've done all year," King said. "It was a great year for me and the team."

NOTES: The 22 wins by the Vols set a school record at that time ... Tennessee won a share of the SEC championship along with Kentucky ... Syracuse was led by first-year head coach Jim Boeheim ... Syracuse lost 81-59 to UNC Charlotte in the Regional Semifinals to finish its season 26-4.

#9	Eastern Kentucky (21-8)	81
#8	Tennessee (21-11)	97

March 9, 1979 • Murphy Athletic Center • Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Tennessee turned an early 10-point deficit into a 44-38 halftime lead and eventually logged a 97-81 victory over the Colonels. This was Tennessee's first-ever win in the NCAA Tournament.

The Vols fell behind 15-5 in the first five minutes of the game before finally getting things on track. Gary Carter made three consecutive field goals to spark a Tennessee rally and pull the Vols within 16-13. Johnny Darden then hit a long jumper, and the Vols had the Colonel lead to one.

Eastern Kentucky regained its composure and had the lead back out to 30-26 with 4:44 left in the first half.

Terry Crosby then reeled off three consecutive buckets for the Vols, and Tennessee held a 32-30 advantage with just under four minutes left in the half.

"This game was won in the final eight minutes of the first half," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "By getting the ball to Terry Crosby, we were able to turn it around. We played poorly in the first 10 minutes but our kids snapped out of it."

The game was still close five minutes into the second half, but Tennessee went on an 18-6 run to turn a 54-50 lead into a 72-56 advantage with 8:21 left in the game.

"We were too psyched up at the beginning," Reggie Johnson said. "That was a terrible start. We had to come down from our high before we could play."

Johnson led the Vols with 20 points and nine rebounds. Carter added 18 points with a game-high 11 rebounds. Crosby finished the game with 19 points.

James Tillman led Eastern Kentucky with 21 points. He was one of five Colonels in double figures as Dave Tierney netted 13, Bruce Jones had 12, and Vic Merchant and Kenney added 11 each.

NOTES: Eastern Kentucky was the Ohio Valley Conference champion.

1979 NCAA Mideast Region — Second Round

#1	Notre Dame (23-5)	73
#8	Tennessee (21-12)	67

March 11, 1979 • Murphy Athletic Center • Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Notre Dame outscored the Vols 14-4 to open the second half to turn a 32-32 halftime tie into a 46-36 lead. Tennessee got no closer than five points the rest of the game and fell 73-67 to the Irish.

"It was one of our poorest games in terms of poise and concentration," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "We hustled and worked the boards hard in the first half, but Notre Dame made us play as if we were scared in the first two minutes of the second half."

Notre Dame opened the second half with a full-court press, forcing four Tennessee turnovers in the first 2:05 of the half.

"We noted that Tennessee made 21 turnovers against Eastern Kentucky, so our staff decided to go right after them with the press," Notre Dame coach Digger Phelps said. "We played it loosely at the start then went to a closer press with a quick-trap. That forced some turnovers and gave us some breathing room."

Both Terry Crosby and Reggie Johnson had poor games shooting the ball for the Vols. They combined to hit 7-of-21 field goal attempts. Johnson also missed five of his 10 free-throw attempts.

"Neither Terry Crosby and Reggie Johnson had a good offensive game," DeVoe said. "When that happens, we have problems."

Johnson finished with 13 points, eight below his season average. Gary Carter led the Vols with 16 points. Chuck Threeths added 10 points and eight rebounds.

"I was taking normal shots, but there was a lid on the basket," Crosby said. "Almost any night we play, Reggie and I have to have good games offensively for us to win. Neither of us scored as we must to win."

NOTES: Tennessee had won nine consecutive games before losing to the Irish, including two games in the SEC Tournament on its way to the tournament title ... Notre Dame lost 80-68 to Michigan State in the Regional Finals ... 1979 was the first year tournament seeding was used.

ALL-TIME NCAA GAME RECAPS

#10	Furman (23-7)	69
#7	Tennessee (18-10)	80

March 6, 1980 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

A change in the starting lineup proved fruitful for the Vols as they posted an 80-69 victory over the Palladians.

The Vols inserted Steve Ray and Chuck Threeths in the starting lineup for Dale Ellis and Kevin Nash, respectively. The change was made so the Vols could use their quickness against Furman's man-to-man defense. The strategy worked.

Tennessee was able to get the fastbreak going early with the lineup change and jumped out to a quick 8-2 lead. Furman rallied, though, with a 13-4 scoring spree to hold a 15-12 advantage with 13:08 remaining in the first half.

But two baskets by Howard Wood, a layup from Nash and two free throws from Reggie Johnson gave the Vols a 20-15 lead with just under 10 minutes left in the half. It was all Tennessee from there on out.

"The way we came out and clicked and got our open shots to drop made all the difference in the world," Nash said. "It gave us the feeling we weren't going to lose."

Adding to Furman's woes was a poor performance from the free-throw line. Furman's starters entered the game shooting better than 70 percent from the line. Furman hit only 17-of-32 free throws for 53 percent.

"We missed a potential 13 points at the line in the first half, and that was the difference in the game," Furman coach Eddie Holbrook said. "Almost everything that went wrong in this game goes back to the free throws. Once we got behind, we got out of what we wanted to do."

Tennessee held a 40-29 lead at the halftime break, and Furman trimmed it down to 49-41. But three straight baskets by Wood capped a 9-2 run that broke the game open. Tennessee led by as many as 21 points in the second half.

Wood was one of three Vols in double figures with 19 points. Reggie Johnson had a game-high 28 points along with 14 rebounds. Jonathan Moore led Furman with 22 points and 17 rebounds.

NOTES: Future Vol assistant coach Michael Hunt (1994-97) was on the Furman team ... Furman's berth in the NCAA Tournament came via its Southern Conference championship.

1980 NCAA East Region — Second Round

#7	Tennessee (18-11)	75
#2	Maryland (24-6)	86

March 8, 1980 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

Foul trouble for Reggie Johnson spelled doom for Tennessee, as Maryland posted an 86-75 victory over Tennessee.

"When you have a team that relies on one man to score and he gets in foul trouble, your team is in serious trouble," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "When Reggie doesn't play, you don't win."

Tennessee was rolling in the first half, and Johnson was nearly unstoppable. He scored 17 points in the game's first 14 minutes to help Tennessee to a 29-18 lead. Johnson picked up his second foul of the game with just under three minutes left in the first half, but Tennessee still held a 40-32 advantage at the break.

Johnson scored two buckets in the opening minutes of the second half, and the Vols led 46-39 with 16:23 left in the game. Then, in a matter of 10 seconds, Johnson got whistled for his third and fourth fouls and went to the bench with 15:06 left in the game. He didn't score again.

"I guarantee we got the short end of the officiating in the second half," DeVoe said. "You don't win in the tournament play when you get the short end. The two fouls on Johnson were the turning point."

Greg Manning pulled the Terrapins even at 50 with a rebound basket at the 13:26 mark in the second half. Maryland eventually pulled out to a 70-62 lead, but the Vols rallied back and pulled within 78-75 on a short jumper from Howard Wood with 45 seconds remaining. Manning then had back-to-back three-point plays for Maryland to squelch any Vol hopes for a victory.

Gary Carter also had 21 points for the Vols along with eight rebounds. Bert Bertelkamp dished out a career-high 16 assists against only two turnovers in 39 minutes of action.

Manning led Maryland with 28 points to pace four Terrapins in double figures. Albert King added 20, Buck Williams 19 and Ernest Graham 14. Maryland also shot a hot 63.2 percent from the field compared to 47 percent for Tennessee.

NOTES: Maryland's Albert King is the brother of former Vol All-America Bernard King ... Maryland lost in the Regional Semifinals 74-68 to Georgetown.

1981 NCAA East Region — Second Round

#5	VCU (24-5)	56
#4	Tennessee (21-7)	OT 58

March 15, 1981 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

Dale Ellis drilled a 15-foot jumper at the buzzer to lift Tennessee to a 58-56 overtime victory over Virginia Commonwealth.

"I just stood there after I shot that ball," Ellis said. "That was the greatest feeling to make that shot."

Ellis' shot was the only shot taken in the five-minute extra period. Virginia Commonwealth got the opening tip in overtime and stalled away the first half of the period. The Rams lost their chance at attempting a shot when Steve Ray forced Danny Kottak out-of-bounds.

Tennessee then held the ball the second half of overtime and called a timeout with 19 seconds remaining. Michael Brooks passed the ball over to Ellis with five seconds left, and the sophomore from Marietta, Ga., hit the game-winner. Ellis was not the Vols' first option to take the shot, though.

"The ball was supposed to come to me, and I was supposed to pass it to Howard (Wood) in the corner," Ellis said. "It was Howard that kept us in the game, and it's usually (him) who takes the final shot."

The play was the same play the Vols ran at the end of regulation in attempt to make the game-winner. But Ellis threw an ill-advised pass to Steve Ray, and the Vols lost their opportunity to win at the end of regulation.

Tennessee coach Don DeVoe told Ellis to go with the shot if the opportunity arose again. It did, and Ellis made good.

"I don't think there's been a bigger shot in Tennessee basketball in a long time than the one Dale Ellis made," DeVoe said. "We were able to make the play at the end because they gave us the opportunity by making a turnover."

Overtime initially looked unlikely, as Tennessee built a 14-point first-half lead and led 38-25 at the start of the second half on a dunk by Ellis. The Rams erased the last two points of the deficit with a bucket from Kottak with 2:24 left in regulation to put the score at 56-56, which eventually forced the overtime.

Ellis finished with 22 points, and Wood scored 18. Greg McRay led the Rams with 23 points on 10-of-14 shooting.

NOTES: Tennessee received a first-round bye ... Tennessee's victory ended Virginia Commonwealth's 16-game winning streak, which was the longest in the nation.

1981 NCAA East Region — Regional Semifinal

#4	Tennessee (21-8)	48
#1	Virginia (27-3)	62

March 19, 1981 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

Virginia outscored Tennessee 27-4 over a 12-minute span in the second half en route to a 62-48 regional semifinal victory.

Tennessee stayed close in the first half but could never take the lead against the Ralph Sampson-led Cavaliers. The Cavaliers shot 61.5 percent from the field during the first 20 minutes, but could only manage a 27-26 lead at the break.

The Vols got things rolling early in the second half. Virginia made the first bucket of the half with a putback by Jeff Lamp. The Vols then outscored Virginia 10-2 over the next six minutes to take a 36-31 lead.

Lamp then scored six of the game's next eight points, with the other two coming from a jumper by Virginia's Othell Wilson. The Cavaliers led 39-36 with 11:14 left in the game and never looked back.

"We knew Lamp was their money player, but we didn't realize it on the floor today," Tennessee guard Michael Brooks said. "They had a great player who took control, made the great plays and got back and played defense. If he hadn't taken control at that point, they wouldn't have won."

Lamp scored a game-high 18 points. Jeff Jones and Lee Raker added 10 apiece for Virginia. Tennessee did slow down the All-America Sampson by holding him to a season-low nine points and five rebounds. He had only one point and one rebound in the second half.

The sagging defense to stop Sampson may have proved costly for the Vols. Sampson hit on only 4-of-13 shots, but the rest of the Cavaliers combined to hit 20-of-30 for 66.6 percent.

"You may take Ralph out of the offense, but you leave yourself vulnerable somewhere else," Virginia forward Terry Gates said. "Raker and Lamp have thrived off that."

1982 NCAA East Region — First Round

#9	Tennessee (20-9)	61
#8	Southwestern Louisiana (24-8)	57

March 12, 1982 • Market Square Arena • Indianapolis, Ind.

Michael Brooks hit six free throws for Tennessee in the game's final minute to secure a 61-57 victory over Southwestern Louisiana.

"We did some things right that assured the win," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "The key was having the lead going into the final five minutes. We had our best foul shooters in the game, and we kept the ball in the best man's hands."

The Vols trailed 35-33 with 16:58 to play. Back-to-back buckets by Tyrone Beaman gave the Vols a 37-35 advantage, but a lay-up from Dion Brown for the Ragin' Cajuns tied the game at 37.

The Vols then outscored Southwestern Louisiana 14-6 over the game's next nine minutes to hold a 51-43 lead with 6:39 left to play. Two free throws from Dan Gay and a lay-up each from Alford Turner and Johnny Collins off of Vol turnovers cut the margin to 51-49.

Two free throws and a jumper from Dale Ellis opened the margin back up to 55-49 with just under four minutes to go.

"We got the ball to Dale Ellis in the second half," DeVoe said. "Those two turnovers were the turning point that allowed Southwestern Louisiana to come back. They got themselves back in the game because of their ability to persevere."

Ellis finished with a game-high 23 points, and Brooks finished with 16. Turner had 14 points to lead Southwestern Louisiana.

"We expected Ellis to be outstanding, and he certainly was," Southwestern Louisiana coach Bobby Paschal said. "We knew if they had the lead as the clock ran down, it would be difficult. They are an excellent free-throw shooting team. Near the end, we knew it was a calculated risk to foul, but there was no other way."

NOTES: Dale Ellis was named the SEC's Player of the Year, and Don DeVoe was named the league's Coach of the Year following the 1982 season.

1982 NCAA East Region — Second Round

#9	Tennessee (20-10)	51
#1	Virginia (30-3)	54

March 14, 1982 • Market Square Arena • Indianapolis, Ind.

Tennessee missed 4-of-5 free throws in the final 3:12, and Virginia's Ricky Stokes hit two with 15 seconds remaining to lift Virginia to a 54-51 victory in a rematch of a 1981 NCAA Tournament game.

Tennessee had made 10 consecutive free throws during the second half, but those shots didn't fall during crunch time. Tyrone Beaman missed the front end of a one-and-one and then missed the back end of a one-and-one. Michael Brooks, who hit six straight in the final minute of the first-round Vol victory two days prior, then missed the front end of a one-and-one. Dan Federmann followed that with a miss.

"When it got down to it, we choked at the foul line," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "We just did not do what it takes internally to win. Stokes just did what we could not do."

The one free throw the Vols did make in the game's closing minutes gave them a 51-47 lead, but Ralph Sampson hit back-to-back buckets to pull the Cavaliers even at 51. Tennessee had a chance to regain the lead, but Federmann missed the front end of his one-and-one. Stokes then made his two to give Virginia a 53-51 lead.

"We had the game under control," Tennessee forward Dale Ellis said. "All we had to do was hit the free throws. That has been a problem."

Tennessee had a chance to tie the game at 53, but the play never developed, and a long jumper by Brooks was off the mark. Jones then hit a free throw for the final margin of victory.

"We had the right person taking the shot," DeVoe said. "Michael was a little anxious. I didn't think the shot was that poor, but we never got into our play."

The Vols got off to a fast start and opened up a 10-point lead at 24-14 in the first half behind 14 points from Brooks. Jones finished the first half by scoring five points in the final 21 seconds to pull Virginia to within 32-25 at the break.

Virginia continued to rally in the second half, as Jones and Sampson sparked a 15-2 rally to give the Cavaliers a 43-40 lead with 10:41 to go.

Brooks then scored eight straight points for Tennessee to give the Vols a 48-45 lead with 6:11 left in the game.

NOTES: Virginia was upset by UAB 68-66 in the regional semifinals.

1983 NCAA Mideast Region — First Round

#9	Marquette (19-11)	56
#8	Tennessee (20-11)	57

March 18, 1982 • Roberts Municipal Stadium • Evansville, Ind.

Michael Brooks hit two free throws with five seconds left in the game to secure a 57-56 NCAA Tournament victory over Marquette.

Brooks only had 11 points in the game, but four came via the charity stripe in the game's final 61 seconds. Brooks' two free throws with 1:01 remaining gave the Vols a 55-53 lead. Dale Ellis and Jerald Hyatt had just missed opportunities at the foul line before Brooks gave the Vols their two-point lead.

Kevin Woods then came up with a steal on Marquette's ensuing possession and was fouled. He came up empty on the front end of a one-and-one. Doc Rivers countered by making one of his two free attempts on the next possession to cut the UT lead to 55-54 with 20 seconds left.

Brooks then brought the ball up court and was tied up in front of the Tennessee bench. It looked as though Brooks was going to be called for a five-second violation, but instead was fouled by Rivers. Brooks then sank the two free throws. Marquette's Kerry Trotter hit a lay-up at the buzzer to provide the final score.

"I wanted the ball," Brooks said. "I knew they would have to foul me because time was running out. I felt I could ice the game."

Brooks' free throws were his most obvious contribution to the Vol victory, but he also turned in a stellar performance on the defensive end. He held Rivers to 10 points and ran the Volunteer offense for 40 minutes. Rivers only hit 4-of-13 shots as Brooks guarded him most of the game.

"Michael sank those two free throws, but defense won this game," Tennessee guard Tyrone Beaman said. "He played probably his best defensive game. He came through for us in the clutch."

Tennessee trailed 43-38 with 11:38 remaining in the game, but a three-point play by Willie Burton, a bucket from Dale Ellis and two more free throws by Burton gave the Vols a 45-43 lead with 9:15 left. Tennessee then hit 10-of-15 free-throw attempts the rest of way including the two from Brooks. The only field goal the Vols scored in the last 10 minutes was a long jumper from Brooks.

NOTES: The victory over Marquette was the 100th for Don DeVoe at Tennessee ... Tennessee was only one of six teams to appear in the past five NCAA Tournaments, with the other teams being Arkansas, Georgetown, Iowa, Louisville and North Carolina.

1983 NCAA Mideast Region — Second Round

#8	Tennessee (20-12)	57
#1	Louisville (30-3)	70

March 20, 1982 • Roberts Municipal Stadium • Evansville, Ind.

Louisville used an 11-2 run midway through the second half to halt a Tennessee rally and post a 70-57 victory over the Vols.

The Cardinals used their pressure defense in the first half to force 10 Tennessee turnovers, which enabled Louisville to open up a 34-27 halftime lead. A 15-foot jumper from Lancaster Gordon and a layup from Charles Jones pushed the lead to 42-30 with 15:26 left in the game.

The Vols then mounted a rally. Two buckets apiece from Dale Ellis and Willie Burton keyed a 13-3 scoring run for the Vols as they pulled to within 45-43 with 10:26 on the clock.

Louisville then called timeout to regroup. The Cardinals responded with an 11-2 rally to open the lead back out to 56-45 with just under six minutes left in the game. Tennessee could get no closer than eight points the rest of the way.

"We had worked so hard to get that close," Tennessee point guard Tyrone Beaman said. "They get a couple of quick, easy baskets and it took a little bit out of everybody."

Ellis was held to 13 points, nine below his season average, on 6-of-13 shooting. Louisville's man-to-man defense made him work hard to get the ball, and the Cardinals' fast-break offense continually put pressure on the Vols to get back on defense.

"This is as tired as I've ever been on the court all year," Ellis said. "This is one of the worst shooting games ever. I missed a lot of easy shots."

Michael Brooks led the Vols with 18 points, and Beaman added 10. Louisville was led by Milt Wagner's 15 points and Scooter McRay's 10.

NOTES: The Mideast Regional Semifinals were held at Stokely Athletic Center ... Louisville advanced to the Final Four before losing 94-81 to Houston ... Ellis finished his career as the third all-time leading scorer at Tennessee behind Ernie Grunfeld and Reggie Johnson.

#10	Tennessee (19-11)	68
#7	West Virginia (26-4)	84
March 16, 1989 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

Tennessee fell behind by 10 points less than five minutes into the game and never recovered as West Virginia cruised to an 84-68 victory.

It was the Vols' first NCAA Tournament appearance in six years, but the Mountaineers made UT's visit a short one. West Virginia scored on its first nine possessions, and its defense frustrated the Vols throughout the game.

"West Virginia got the upper hand about as quickly as you can in an NCAA Tournament game," Tennessee coach Don DeVoe said. "It was obviously a game where we didn't do many things right. West Virginia did a lot of things right, and the scoreboard took that out."

Tennessee shot 29 percent from the floor in the first half and fell behind as many as 15 points. The Vols battled back to go into the break trailing 35-23, but the opening minutes of the second half once again put the Vols in a deep hole.

The Mountaineers scored the first six points of the second half, which keyed a 12-4 run that opened the lead to 47-27 with 16:51 left in the game. Tennessee got back to within 57-45 on a 3-pointer from Doug Roth, but West Virginia answered with two buckets. Tennessee never got closer than 12 points the rest of the game.

West Virginia shot a blistering 77 percent from the field in the second half on 17-of-22 shooting and finished the game at 62 percent. Tennessee finished the game shooting 38 percent from the field.

"It looked like to me the guys were playing a little tight at both ends of the floor," DeVoe said. "I know it's the NCAA (Tournament), but that's when you should bring your game up to another level."

Dyron Nix led the Vols with 22 points, and West Virginia native Greg Bell added 14. Starting guard Clarence Swarengen, who was averaging 12 points a game, played only 14 minutes and did not score.

NOTES: Tennessee had won five consecutive first round NCAA Tournament games before losing to West Virginia ... West Virginia lost to Duke 70-63 in the second round.

#9	Illinois State (25-5)	OT 82
#8	Tennessee (20-9)	81
March 12, 1998 • Arco Arena • Sacramento, Calif.

The Vols had taken an 81-80 lead on C.J. Black's layup off a pass from Tony Harris with 15.4 seconds left before the game-winning bucket by Muller.

The Vols struggled in the second half with foul trouble and poor shooting. They finished the game shooting 36.7 percent from the field and had nearly a five-minute stretch in the second half without scoring. A free throw by Harris at the 7:13 mark finally broke the scoring drought, but the Vols found themselves down 66-58.

The Vols battled back to tie the score at 70 on Black's rebound and basket with 2:53 left. Tennessee took a 72-70 lead on Black's slam dunk off a pass from Brandon Wharton, but Illinois State tied the score on Steve Hansell's layup with 53 seconds left.

That gave the Vols the ball back with a chance to win. They worked the shot clock down to 17 seconds and the game clock down to 34.6 before calling a timeout.

Wharton took a 3-pointer from the top of the key with 22 seconds left, but missed and Illinois State rebounded.

The Redbirds had their own chance at a game-winning shot, but Hill missed a 14-foot jumper. The Vols rebounded and threw a desperation pass, but it was on to overtime.

Tennessee had opened up a nine-point lead in the first half but could not put the Redbirds away. Back-to-back 3-pointers from Rico Hill and Steve Hansell at the end of the half enabled the Redbirds to pull within 41-38 at the break.

NOTES: Illinois State's starting backcourt during the season did not play due to injury ... Skipp Schaeffbauer broke his leg in the MVC tournament; Jamar Smiley didn't start because of back problems ... Smiley got into the game, but immediately came out with a pain and was taken for treatment ... This was Tennessee's first appearance in the NCAA Tournament in nine years ... The Redbirds lost 82-49 to Arizona in the second round.

#13	Delaware (24-6)	52
#4	Tennessee (21-8)	62

March 12, 1999 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

Tennessee's offense was sputtering, but the Vols turned up their defensive pressure to post a 62-52 victory over Delaware. It was the Vols' first NCAA Tournament win in 16 years.

The Vols shot only 33 percent from the field but held Delaware to 30 percent shooting. Forward Mike Pegues did score 23 points for Delaware, but it came on 7-of-23 shooting. Tennessee's perimeter defense held the Blue Hens starting perimeter players to 2-of-13 shooting from 3-point range.

"As long as we play defense like we did today, we have a chance to win, no matter how bad we shoot the ball," Tennessee guard Brandon Wharton said.

Wharton scored all 16 of his points in the second half after missing seven shots in the first half, including an uncontested layup after a steal.

"I just kept telling the players 'Continue to play good defense, and the shots are going to fall. Believe me. Trust me. They're going to fall,'" Tennessee coach Jerry Green said.

Two free throws from Pegues gave Delaware a 20-14 lead with 3:45 left in the first half. Tennessee then reeled off 11 unanswered points to open a 25-20 lead with 35 seconds left in the half. Pegues hit a jumper at the first half buzzer to pull the Blue Hens to within three at the break and then opened the second half with a 3-pointer to tie the game at 25.

Tennessee then got the offense rolling with a layup from Wharton, a 3-pointer from Tony Harris and a C.J. Black dunk. The Vols led 32-25 and never trailed again.

"We were almost too ready to play," Green said. "Survive and advance. That's what it's all about."

NOTES: Tennessee's win snapped Delaware's 13-game winning streak ... Delaware's point total and field-goal percentage were its lowest of the season ... Delaware won the America East Conference Tournament to earn its bid to the NCAA Tournament.

#9	SW Missouri State (22-10)	81
#4	Tennessee (21-9)	51

March 14, 1999 • Charlotte Coliseum • Charlotte, N.C.

Poor shooting proved costly for the Vols as Southwest Missouri State gave Tennessee its worst loss ever in NCAA Tournament action with an 81-51 final.

Tennessee shot 29.5 percent from field and hit only 6-of-29 3-point attempts for 20.7 percent.

"Their defense didn't give us many open looks," forward Isiah Victor said. "And when they did, we weren't making those shots either, so it really didn't matter."

Southwest Missouri State, on the other hand, shot 51.9 percent from the field and hit 9-of-22 3-pointers. It was a 3-pointer at the end of the first half that seemed to douse all hopes of a Vol victory. Ken Stringer banked in a 25-footer at the buzzer to give the Bears a 36-26 halftime lead.

Southwest Missouri then opened the second half by scoring on nine of its first 10 possessions. The lead expanded to 58-33 with 12:38 to play.

"I'd say they played a perfect ball game," Tennessee coach Jerry Green said. "The more shots they hit, the more confident they got and the less we got. It seemed all the basketball gods were on their side and not on ours."

Tennessee never led in the game, as the Bears jumped out to a 9-2 lead 3:10 into the game. The Bears got two easy buckets off of Tennessee turnovers caused by a full-court press. It was all uphill from there.

NOTES: Southwest Missouri State lost to Duke in the Regional Semifinals ... Southwest Missouri State won the Missouri Valley Conference to earn its trip to the NCAA Tournament ... A Missouri Valley Conference team (Illinois State) also eliminated the Vols from the 1998 NCAA Tournament.

2000 NCAA South Region — First Round

#13	Louisiana-Lafayette (25-9)	58
#4	Tennessee (25-6)	63

March 17, 2000 • Birmingham-Jefferson Civic Center • Birmingham, Ala.

Tony Harris made two free throws with 10.8 seconds to play to help Tennessee seal a 63-58 victory over Louisiana-Lafayette.

Louisiana-Lafayette cut UT's lead to two at 60-58 on Brett Smith's jumper with 45 seconds to play. With the shot clock running down, Harris made a move to the basket and appeared to turn the ball over to Smith. But Smith was called for a reach-in foul that sent Harris to the line with 15 seconds to play. He missed the front end of the one-and-one, Ron Slay got the rebound and was flagrantly fouled by Smith with 13 seconds to go, allowing Tennessee to keep the ball after the free throws.

Slay missed both free throws, and UT in-bounded the ball to Harris, who was quickly fouled. Harris hit both shots to seal the victory.

Tennessee trailed most of the game. The Vols were down 48-42 with just under 10 minutes left to play. Slay, a freshman from Nashville, then got the Vols' offense rolling. Slay scored 11 of his 15 points in the final 8:15, including a coast-to-coast drive that he converted into a three-point play. Slay's drive cut what had been a six-point Louisiana-Lafayette lead to 48-45 with 8:15 remaining.

"When Ron took it all the way, I felt we had 'Mo' (momentum) back on our side and had it going the right direction," UT coach Jerry Green said.

Slay's 8-footer inside the Cajuns' variation of a 2-3 zone defense broke a 54-54 tie at the 4:07 mark. He hit a similar shot to make it 60-56, Vols, with 1:48 to play.

"We struggled offensively, but our defense kept us in the game," Green said. "We did just exactly what we had to do down the stretch to win the game."

Harris and Slay led Tennessee with 15 points each. C.J. Black added 14 while shooting 10-of-10 from the foul line, and Vincent Yarbrough scored 11. Lonnie Thomas led the Cajuns with 19 points.

NOTES: Louisiana-Lafayette earned its bid to the NCAA Tournament by winning the Sun Belt Conference.

Tennessee capitalized on an ankle injury that limited Connecticut point guard Khalid El-Amin to one basket in 13 minutes and posted a 65-51 victory. The Vols made school history by winning two games in the NCAA Tournament for the first time.

The Vols trailed only once, at 4-2, and had the upper hand, 32-22 by halftime. The Huskies cut a 12-point deficit to 38-34 when El-Amin hit his only basket, a 3-pointer, with 13:36 to play.

Vol freshman Jon Higgins answered with his own 3-pointer 14 seconds later, igniting a 16-4 run that put the game away.

Connecticut went 6:15 without scoring during the major portion of that stretch, missing six consecutive shots and turning the ball over twice.

One was a Higgins steal and break-away that ended up being juggled and dishes to Vincent Yarbrough for a dunk and subsequent free throw. The three-point play restored the margin to 44-34.

Tony Harris led the Vols with 18 points and shot 9-of-12 from the foul stripe. Yarbrough got 11 of his 14 in the first half, helping shoot the Huskies out of a zone defense with three 3-pointers. C.J. Black added 13 points, 10 in the second half, as UT penetrated UConn's defense for dunks and free throws.

The Vol defense also stood tall by converting seven steals into 14 points and holding the Huskies to 38.6 percent shooting. UT shot 44.7 percent from field which was up from 33.3 percent in the first round victory.

"We played awfully good," Tennessee coach Jerry Green said. "That could have been as good as we played all year. Time and again, making the extra pass - or passes - produced good looks against the UConn defense."

Albert Mouring scored 17 points to lead the Huskies, and El-Amin was limited to three points, 13 below his season average.

NOTES: The 51 points was a season-low for the Huskies ... Connecticut was the defending NCAA champion, having won the 1999 NCAA Tournament with a 77-74 title-game victory over Duke.

2000 NCAA South Region — Regional Semifinal

#8	North Carolina (21-13)	74
#4	Tennessee (26-7)	69
March 24, 2000 • Frank Erwin Center • Austin, Texas

Ed Cota spurred a late second-half comeback, then he and freshmen Joseph Forte and Julius Peppers hit six straight free throws in the final 34.9 seconds, giving North Carolina a 74-69 victory over Tennessee in the South Regional semifinals.

The Tar Heels' winning rally kicked into top gear when Forte drilled a 3-pointer and Jason Capel hit a layup to get the Tar Heels within 64-63. Cota made a running jumper in the lane and then hit another floater to make it 66-64 with 2:00 left. Tennessee's scoring drought, which left the Vols without a field goal since 7:15, ended with 13.6 seconds left when Tony Harris made his first basket of the night, a 3-pointer.

"I thought for about 35 minutes, we played awfully well," Tennessee coach Jerry Green said. "Then we started trying to make hard plays, and it wasn't just one person, it was about four or five different people. And while we were making hard plays, they were making baskets."

Tennessee got off to a slow start as North Carolina led by seven early. Then, the Vols' speed and athleticism carried them to a 22-7 run and a nine-point lead. Capel kept the Tar Heels close by scoring the last five points of the first half, pulling North Carolina to within 39-36.

"I can't really put it into words," Vincent Yarbrough said of the loss. "I thought we had the game won, but they just out-played us in the last four minutes. We came out of the last timeout and still thought we had the game, but they made some shots and that was the game."

C.J. Black led the Volunteers with 17 points, Yarbrough had 13 and Ron Slay added 12. Isiah Victor had 11. Forte scored a game-high 22 for the Tar Heels, while Brendan Haywood and Cota each scored 11, followed by Kris Lang with 10.

NOTES: North Carolina defeated Tulsa 74-69 in the Regional Finals to advance to the Final Four ... The Tar Heels then lost to Florida, 59-71, in the national semifinals in Indianapolis.

2001 NCAA Midwest Region — First Round

#9	Charlotte (22-10)	70
#8	Tennessee (22-11)	63
March 16, 2001 • University of Dayton Arena • Dayton, Ohio

Poor shooting in the second half was too much for Tennessee to overcome, as the Vols fell 70-63 to Charlotte in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

The Vols finished the game shooting 42 percent from the field but shot only 31 percent in the second half. The Vols also hit only 1-of-7 free-throw attempts and 1-of-11 3-point attempts in the second half. Free-throw shooting plagued the Vols the entire game as they made only 7-of-18. The Vols missed four free throws late in the second half, including the front-end of two one-and-ones.

"We just couldn't make a shot," UT head coach Jerry Green said. "From a coach's perspective, it's frustrating and you feel like you missed an opportunity. But again, those same guys are the ones over the last several years who have made those free throws."

Tennessee opened the game by hitting 10 of its first 17 shots to take a 26-18 lead. Foul trouble proved costly though, and Charlotte was able to come back and tie the game at 43 at the half.

The opening of the second half was the mirror opposite of the first half. The Vols scored only four points in the first 10:30 of the second half and were down 52-50 after a 3-point shot by Jon Higgins with 9:20 to play.

By that point, Tennessee had hit only two of 12 shots in the half while committing nine turnovers.

Charlotte eventually opened up a 59-50 lead with 6:59 to play. The Vols battled back and had the ball down 66-63 with just under 40 seconds left in the game. Tony Harris' 3-point attempt was off the mark, and the 49ers got the rebound. Jobey Thomas made four free throws in the final 24 seconds to seal the victory for Charlotte.

NOTES: Tennessee was seeded eighth and Charlotte was the No. 9 seed ... Charlotte lost to No. 1 seeded Illinois in the second round ... UT fell to 8-14 all-time in the NCAA Tournament ... The Vols made their first appearance in the Midwest Region ... UT's 191 blocked shots on the season ranked second all-time in school history.

2006 Washington D.C. Region — First Round

#15	Winthrop (23-8)	61
#2	Tennessee (22-7)	63

March 16, 2006 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

Dane Bradshaw found a streaking Chris Lofton with an inbound pass with 2.9 seconds left, and Lofton buried a jumper over Winthrop's Torrell Martin to give Tennessee a 63-61 victory to advance to the second round of the Washington D.C. Regional.

"It was a good look, but he was all up on me," Lofton said. "It still felt good."

The frantic finish capped a heart-pounding game that featured nine ties and eight lead changes, the final one coming on Lofton's shot. His were the only points in the final 2:42, as both teams squandered chances to advance to the second round.

"It was a real gut check for both teams," UT head coach Bruce Pearl said. "Both teams were physically exhausted at the end of that game."

The Vols had a couple of opportunities in the final seconds. Point guard C.J. Watson missed a 3-pointer, but Tennessee retained possession when Bradshaw chased down a long rebound on the other end of the court. Pearl called a timeout to set up the play, with Bradshaw throwing it in.

The first option was for a lob pass to 6-foot-7 Andre Patterson, but when he was covered, Bradshaw looked for Lofton.

"I thought they were going to come to me the whole time, unless we got an easy shot, of course," Lofton said.

His was anything but, and after it went in with four-tenths of a second on the clock, the Tennessee players mobbed Watson. Winthrop coach Gregg Marshall used his final timeout, and James Shuler's long pass bounced off the backboard to Craig Bradshaw. Bradshaw's shot clanged off the rim, allowing the Volunteers to hang on.

The Volunteers survived despite its All-SEC backcourt of Watson and Lofton shooting a combined 8-of-24 from the field and 3-of-15 from 3-point range. It was Tennessee's frontcourt of Major Wingate and Patterson that carried the Vols. Wingate had a team-high 15 points, and Patterson had a double-double with 12 points and 11 rebounds.

"You can definitely make the case that this was good for us, the way it turned out," Dane Bradshaw said. "Coach says the teams we play obviously will continue to get better, but the situation we were in won't get any tougher."

2006 Washington D.C. Region — Second Round

#7	Wichita State (26-8)	80
#2	Tennessee (22-8)	73

March 18, 2006 • Greensboro Coliseum • Greensboro, N.C.

Wichita State went on a 7-0 run to break a 65-all tie and the Shockers never looked back, defeating Tennessee 80-73 to advance to the Sweet Sixteen in Washington D.C.

Karon Bradley hit a short jumper to break the tie, and on the next possession, with the shot clock winding down, P.J. Cousinard stepped back and launched a straightaway 3-pointer that swished through the net giving the Shockers a lead they wouldn't relinquish. Wichita State advanced to the NCAA Tournament's round of 16 for the first time in 25 years.

Chris Lofton - who hit a last-second shot to beat Winthrop 63-61 in the first round - and eventual NBA point guard C.J. Watson each scored 20 points to lead the Volunteers. Major Wingate finished with 15 points, seven rebounds and five blocks.

"We'll be back," Pearl said. "I'm very, very proud of these young men. I can't tell you how many people have written or called and said how much they enjoyed this basketball team. This Tennessee basketball team will go down as one of the all-time best, and this was the group that got it started."

Tennessee led 63-58 on a pair of free throws from Watson with 5:42 left, but the Shockers rallied to tie it at 63 on a 3-pointer from Sean Ogirri.

After the teams traded baskets, Bradley drained a jumper from just outside the lane for a 67-65 lead with 2:12 left. Cousinard followed with the stepback 3-pointer over Dane Bradshaw for a 70-65 lead with 1:05 left.

Ogirri closed the spurt with two free throws for a 72-65 lead with 50.5 seconds left. Tennessee twice cut the deficit to three points in the final seconds. But the Vols got no closer, as Wichita State went 8-for-10 at the foul line in the final minute to seal it.

"I think we were in a position where we had them where we wanted them," said Bradshaw, who had two points and three steals. "I guess we just didn't execute. I'm not sure really what happened."

NOTES: Wichita State lost to eventual Final Four participant George Mason 63-55 in the Sweet Sixteen.

2007 South Region — First Round

#12	Long Beach State (24-8)	86
#5	Tennessee (23-10)	121
March 16, 2007 • Nationwide Arena • Columbus, Ohio

Tennessee scored early, often and then scored some more as the Vols matched the most points ever scored by a team in a first-round NCAA Tournament game in its 121-86 dismantling of Long Beach State.

Chris Lofton led the way with 25 points. JaJuan Smith added 24 points, Ramar Smith 22, Duke Crews 12 and Wayne Chism 10 points, while Dane Bradshaw dished out a career-best 11 assists.

"It really was (fun)," Lofton said. "We're used to playing like that. When a team plays (uptempo) like that, we get excited. It was just a fast-paced game, and we put the 'fast' back in 'fast break.'"

Both teams came in averaging 80 points - putting them among the top 11 in the nation - so it wasn't a shocker that baskets came in bunches.

"I like an identity for a program. This is our identity," UT coach Bruce Pearl said. "We've never finished second in (any league in) scoring in 14 or 15 years I've been a head coach. I enjoy being uptempo and being aggressive in transition. We'll put four or five guys on the floor that can score, and they've got a lot of freedom."

Lofton led the way, as the Volunteers shot 59 percent from the field and made 14 of 27 3-pointers. He hit half of his eight shots behind the arc and JaJuan Smith hit 4-of-6.

Each team hit seven 3-pointers in a wild opening half that featured the Volunteers racing to a 29-12 lead in the opening seven and a half minutes. They did it with precision shooting, their full-court press and trapping pressure.

Lofton keyed the defense, with two steals leading to a pair of layups in a 5-second span.

Ahead 57-45 at the break, the Volunteers ran off 12 of the first 14 points in the second half - seven by Lofton - to build the lead to 69-47.

From then on, the points mounted. The Volunteers reached 90 with 10 minutes left.

"We knew we had to score," Ramar Smith said. "We knew it was going to be a high-scoring game, and we came out and scored."

2007 South Region — Second Round

#4	Virginia (21-11)	74
March 18, 2007 • Nationwide Arena • Columbus, Ohio

JaJuan Smith scored 13 of his 16 points in the second half, Ryan Chidress scored all 10 of his points in the second half and Chris Lofton made six consecutive free throws in the final seconds as the Volunteers held off Virginia 77-74 in the second round of the NCAA Tournament to propel fifth-seeded Tennessee (24-10) to the round of 16 for the first time since 2000.

"When you reach the Sweet Sixteen at the University of Tennessee with the way we've had to rebuild, you've made a special place in history for yourself," Vols veteran Dane Bradshaw said.

The Vols had to hold on for dear life to advance past the second round. After taking a 10-point lead midway through the game, Virginia came roaring back, cutting the lead to two after an Adrian Joseph basket.

But in the end, the Volunteers advanced by having their best player make the easiest shot of all. Lofton, the Southeastern Conference's Player of the Year, hit all six of his free throws in the last 27.7 seconds, keeping Tennessee ahead. He finished with 20 points.

"I started forcing shots," said Lofton, who was an uncharacteristic 4-of-16 from the field but 9-of-10 on free throws. "Coach (Pearl) kept telling me to be patient. Luckily, I got to the foul line and came through."

Virginia still had a chance as they got the ball back after Lofton's last made free throw, but point guard Sean Singletary missed an open 3-pointer with one second left.

In the opening minute, Reynolds and Lofton turned it into a game of H-O-R-S-E. Reynolds hit a 3-pointer from the top of the key on Virginia's first possession, and Lofton responded with a longer try a minute later.

The challenge was on, and Reynolds was on his game. He was at his best during an 18-3 spurt that gave Virginia a 36-25 lead.

Then, it was Tennessee's turn.

JaJuan Smith had a three-point play and a steal-and-layup during a 15-2 spurt early in the second half that put Tennessee ahead for good 54-44. At that point, Singletary brought Virginia back, cutting the lead to 61-59.

Smith ended the comeback by hitting a 3-pointer, then taking a charge from Singletary.

2007 South Region — Regional Semifinal

#1	Ohio State (33-3)	85

March 22, 2007 • Alamodome • San Antonio, Texas

With talented freshman center Greg Oden mired in foul trouble, the top-seeded Buckeyes fell behind by 20 points before halftime. But senior Ron Lewis and fellow freshman Mike Conley bailed out Oden and lifted Ohio State past Tennessee, 85-84, in the semifinals of the NCAA South Regional.

"We played about as well in the first half, I think, as we can play," Tennessee coach Bruce Pearl said. "We're terribly disappointed. We've proven we can beat some of the best teams in the country. We've also proven we can come close to beating some of the best teams in the country."

Conley had nine of his 17 from the foul line - including the winner with 6.5 seconds left.

But Conley missed a second shot, giving Tennessee one last chance. Ramar Smith grabbed the rebound and went all the way to the rim with Conley defending him. Smith's shot went up just before time expired.

Then it was Oden to the rescue, swatting the ball into the Volunteers' cheerleaders, while Smith landed hard in front of the Tennessee bench.

After trailing 49-29 in the final minute of the first half, the Buckeyes got a little back with a three-point play in the final second before intermission. Then came a 16-5 spurt, keyed by six Conley free throws. Fittingly, his pair of foul shots tied it at 64.

Things went back and forth from there, with 6-9 Ryan Childress hitting two 3-pointers for Tennessee and Conley making a three-point play but also missing a pair of free throws.

Ohio State tied it at 79 with 2:44 left on David Lighty's eighth 3-pointer of the season. It was a biggie because the Buckeyes never trailed again.

SEC Player of the Year Chris Lofton scored 24 points to lead Tennessee. He was 6-of-13 on 3-pointers, including one that tied it at 82 only seconds after Lewis had put Ohio State ahead with a trey of his own.

Smith scored 15 points and JaJuan Smith added 14 points and eight rebounds. Childress had 12, hitting 4-of-5 behind the arc.

Tennessee avoided Oden from the start by shooting 3-pointers over him, taking a slim lead. Then, he got his second foul with 10:48 to go in the half, and the Vols began attacking inside and out.

NOTES: Ohio State advanced all the way to the national championship game, where it fell to No. 1-seeded Florida 84-75.

2008 East Region — First Round

#15	American (21-12)	57
#2	Tennessee (30-4)	72

March 21, 2008 • BJCC Arena • Birmingham, Ala.

Tennessee avoided a massive first-round upset in the NCAA Tournament, breaking away from American 72-57 in the first round of the East Regional.

Believing the Volunteers deserved better than the No. 2 seed given them, guard JaJuan Smith wrote "No. 1 seed" on his orange-and-white sneakers. Facing a team making its NCAA Tournament debut, it was hardly a walkover.

Sluggish at the start and outthrust nearly the whole way, the second-seeded Vols turned it on late to avoid the upset.

Ahead 53-51 with 5:45 left, Tennessee held the 15th-seeded Eagles to only one basket the rest of the way.

"We just weren't playing our game," Smith said. "We were a little sloppy, but we turned it on at the end."

Smith finished with 19 points. Wayne Chism added 16 and helped Tennessee wear down the Eagles.

Tied at 40 with 11 minutes left, Tennessee finally put together a 10-0 run with Smith hitting a big 3-pointer. A pair of treys by Brian Gilmore gave American its late chance.

"I thought they came in confident. I thought they came in knowing that they could play with us," UT head coach Bruce Pearl said.

Garrison Carr, the MVP of the Patriot League Tournament, poured in 24 points. The sharpshooter tried to keep American close all by himself, taking on the whole Tennessee team in a game of H-O-R-S-E. The Vols threw five different defenders at him, hoping to weave through a staggered series of hard picks.

"One person can't guard him. He comes off eight or nine screens," All-American Tennessee guard Chris Lofton said. "I had to take a break in the first half. I was dead."

Tennessee relies on a controlled brand of chaos, but they struggled at the start, and Lofton was a non-factor. Starting UT point guard Ramar Smith sat out the first half.

The Eagles threw their bodies around more than the Vols and held a 39-27 rebounding edge, including 18-6 on the offensive end.

#9	Tennessee (21-13)	75
#8	Oklahoma State (23-11)	77
March 20, 2009 • University of Dayton Arena • Dayton, Ohio

After 40 hard-fought minutes of basketball, Oklahoma State outlasted Tennessee to earn a 77-75 decision in the first round of the NCAA Tournament at University of Dayton Arena in Dayton, Ohio.

"We played a lot of good basketball out there today, and we played against a really good team, one of the better teams we played in a few weeks, and we're right there," UT head coach Bruce Pearl said.

Cowboys point guard Byron Eaton put his team ahead for good after a three-point play with 7.2 seconds showing on the clock. Eaton drove to the basket for a layup and made the ensuing free throw after being fouled by Vols forward Tyler Smith.

With one final shot for the Vols, Smith came off a ball screen and launched a 3-pointer, only to see it rim out at the buzzer.

"It's a shot that he takes and makes a lot at the end of practice," Pearl said. "I didn't want anybody else taking that last shot."

Smith led the Big Orange with 21 points, including a perfect 10-for-10 performance at the foul line. Redshirt freshman guard Cameron Tatum followed with 12 points, and junior Wayne Chism added 11 points.

Paced by Eaton's 20 points, Oklahoma State also received a lift from Marshall Moses' double-double performance of 16 points and 11 rebounds.

The game concluded Tennessee's fourth consecutive NCAA Tournament bid under Pearl.

NOTES: Oklahoma State lost to No. 1-seeded Pittsburgh 84-76 in the second round.

2010 Midwest Region — First Round

#11	San Diego State (25-9)	59
#6	Tennessee (26-8)	62
March 18, 2010 • Dunkin' Donuts Center • Providence, R.I.

Melvin Goins made his fourth 3-pointer with 19 seconds left after San Diego State cut the deficit to one point, and Tennessee held off the Aztecs 62-59 at the Dunkin' Donuts Center in Providence, R.I., to advance to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

Goins and J.P. Prince scored 15 points apiece for the sixth-seeded Volunteers on coach Bruce Pearl's 50th birthday.

"That was a very defensive-minded game," Pearl said. "Both teams can really defend. The way we won the game was the way the kids have been winning all year long — really resilient. We didn't play very well. San Diego State had a lot to do with that."

D.J. Gay had 16 points for No. 11 seed San Diego State, which won the Mountain West Conference. Future NBA standout Kawhi Leonard scored 12 with 10 rebounds for SDSU, but he missed a well-guarded 3-pointer at the buzzer that would have tied it.

Making their fifth straight tournament appearance, the Vols did their best to erase the memory of last year's first-round loss to Oklahoma State — the only time they've failed to win a game in the tournament under Pearl (a native of nearby Sharon, Mass.).

Up six before Gay's 3-pointer made it 53-50 with 4:15 left, the Vols made it a five-point lead on Bobby Maze's free throws. Kelvin Davis hit a pair of free throws and Billy White made a jumper for San Diego State to make it 55-54 with just under two minutes left.

Brian Williams and Gay exchanged free throws, then J.P. Prince missed a pair of foul shots with 47 seconds left and the Vols still nursing a one-point lead. But Wayne Chism grabbed the rebound, and Tennessee ran another 28 seconds off the clock before Goins hit a 3-pointer to make it 60-56.

"I think the shot clock was at about seven seconds," said Goins, who was right in front of the Tennessee bench when he got the ball. "Even before I got the ball, I heard coach yelling, 'Stick, stick, stick.' That gave me confidence to shoot."

Goins then fouled Gay during a 3-point attempt, and the San Diego State guard made all three foul shots. But Chism made two free throws at the other end with 7.4 seconds left and then hustled to contest Leonard on the final shot.

Goins was 4 for 5 from 3-point range, and the Vols went 8 for 17 from beyond the arc.

2010 Midwest Region — Second Round

#14	Ohio (22-15)	68
#6	Tennessee (27-8)	83

March 20, 2010 • Dunkin' Donuts Center • Providence, R.I.

J.P. Prince scored 18 points and Scotty Hopson had 17 to lead sixth-seeded Tennessee to an 83-68 victory over Ohio at the Dunkin' Donuts Center in Providence, R.I., helping the Volunteers reach their third Sweet Sixteen in four years.

"J.P. Prince was the best player in this regional," UT head coach Bruce Pearl said. "He played as well as any player in the tournament this weekend."

Tennessee earned a matchup with No. 2-seed Ohio State in St. Louis. The Volunteers have never gotten past the third round, including losses to Ohio State and Louisville under Pearl in 2007 and 2008.

"I've been there twice already and came up short twice," said Wayne Chism, who had nine points and 12 rebounds. "I'm happy to be back on that stage again, I can't wait to get there."

Chism joined former Tennessee All-Americans Chris Lofton and Dale Ellis as the only Vols ever to score 100 career points in the NCAA Tournament, as his nine-game total stands at 101.

Tommy Freeman scored 23 points for Ohio, which was the lowest-seeded team to get out of the first round. But he didn't get enough help from Armon Bassett and D.J. Cooper, the guards who starred in a first-round victory over third-seeded Georgetown before combining for 23 points on seven-for-23 shooting against Tennessee.

"The plan from the jump was to stop those guards," UT junior center Brian Williams said, "and then dominate underneath and on the boards."

The Vols did just that, outscoring the Mid-American Conference champions, 58-12, in the paint and winning the battle of the boards 41-33.

The Bobcats trailed by six points midway through the second half before the Volunteers went on a 10-1 run to put it away.

The Volunteers took the lead with an 18-2 run that started with 12 minutes left in the first half, turning a 2-point deficit into a 14-point lead. Ohio kept firing 3-point shots — they attempted 26 in the game, making 10 — but never got any closer than 50-45.

"Our top five guys aren't necessarily going to win in this tournament, but our 10 can," said Pearl, whose bench held a 28-0 advantage over the Bobcats. "This is a team with many dimensions, and when we defend and rebound we've got a chance to win."

2010 Midwest Region — Regional Semifinal

#2	Ohio State (29-8)	73
#6	Tennessee (28-8)	76

March 26, 2010 • Edward Jones Dome • St. Louis, Mo.

Brian Williams scored the go-ahead basket on a tip-in with 32 seconds left, Bobby Maze converted a pair of late free throws and J.P. Prince blocked a desperation 3-pointer at the buzzer, leading Tennessee past Ohio State 76-73 in the Midwest Region semifinal and into the NCAA Tournament's round of eight for the first time in UT's 101-year hardwood history.

Wayne Chism finished with 22 points — all but four in the second half — and 11 rebounds for the sixth-seeded Vols, who pulled out a back-and-forth tussle after going 0-5 in its previous regional semifinal chances.

As the final buzzer sounded, Tennessee players let out screams of joy and sprinted onto the court.

Ohio State's Evan Turner — the National Player of the Year — finished with 31 points, 21 in the second half, but the rest of the Buckeyes were just 3-of-16 from the field in the second half. Jon Diebler, so big for Ohio State in the first two rounds, shot 1-of-7 from 3-point range.

William Buford scored 15 points, and David Lighty added nine for OSU, which had won four of its previous five meetings against UT, including a matchup in the 2007 regional semifinals.

After making only three baskets in the first half, Turner surpassed that output in the first 5:12 of the second half. Lighty finally gave him some help, scoring on a layup to put Ohio State in front 59-56 with 7:37 to play.

But Tennessee responded with a 12-4 run, getting contributions from four different players.

Chism gave the Vols a 72-70 lead with 1:39 to play. Turner came up with yet another big play, swishing a 3-pointer from just beyond the arc with less than 42 seconds to go. But Williams, a big, bruising center, tipped in Prince's miss on a layup.

Turner missed at the other end and Kyle Madsen lost the ball under the basket. With less than 13 seconds left, Turner fouled Maze, who after a timeout, coolly blew a kiss to someone in the Tennessee fan section. He made both free throws, giving Tennessee a 76-73 lead.

Turner had two more opportunities — and he had knocked down last-second shots before. But this time, he missed from deep in the left corner, then got the ball back. His last shot from near the top of the key didn't even get to the rim, as Prince managed to elevate, extend his arm and make an athletic block.

"Turner got a little bit of a look, but it wasn't very good," Pearl said. "Now we're going to go see if we can live every kid's dream."

2010 Midwest Region — Regional Final

#5	Michigan State (28-8)	70
#6	Tennessee (28-9)	69

March 28, 2010 • Edward Jones Dome • St. Louis, Mo.

Tennessee outshot Michigan State, equaled the Spartans — statistically, the nation's best rebounders — on the boards and had one fewer turnover.

"The numbers look pretty good," Volunteers coach Bruce Pearl conceded, glancing at the box score.

But defensive lapses at the end of both halves during the Midwest Regional Final at the Edward Jones Dome doomed the Vols, as MSU advanced by a score of 70-69.

"This one won't go away... forever," Pearl said.

Tennessee led 41-37 as the last seconds ticked off before intermission. After a couple of missed shots, MSU retained possession with one second left when the ball went out of bounds under its basket.

Forward Draymond Green cut through the lane, took a pass from guard Durrell Summers and laid in a shot at the buzzer, halving the Vols' halftime edge.

After surviving a 14-1 Spartans run and charging back from an eight-point deficit in the second half, UT forged a 69-69 tie when Scotty Hopson made the first of two free throws with 11 seconds left. Hopson missed the second, setting up the final, decisive sequence.

Spartans guard Korie Lucious corralled the rebound, hustled into the frontcourt then dished to Green near the top of the circle. Green wheeled to his right and spied forward Raymar Morgan under the basket, waving his arms frantically.

Green whipped a pass to Morgan, who was fouled by UT senior guard J.P. Prince with 1.8 seconds remaining.

Morgan made the first free throw, then purposely clanked the next. The Vols called a timeout with 1.6 seconds left, but Prince's half-court heave at the buzzer fell short.

"We didn't get back defensively," Pearl said. "They got the ball way too close to the basket, got way too good a look."

Despite the wrenching defeat, Pearl declared that Tennessee took a "major step" by reaching its first-ever Elite Eight and posting the second-highest win total in school history (28).

"We came to this regional to win it and get to the Final Four," Pearl said. "But I'm proud of my seniors and proud of our basketball program."

NOTES: Michigan State lost to Butler 52-50 in the Final Four.

2011 West Region — Second Round

#8	Michigan (21-13)	75
#9	Tennessee (19-15)	45

March 18, 2011 • Time Warner Cable Arena • Charlotte, N.C.

Tennessee's NCAA Tournament run ended early as the Volunteers were dealt a 75-45 loss to eighth-seeded Michigan at Time-Warner Cable Arena in the second round of West Region action.

It was a tale of two halves for the Volunteers. During the first 20 minutes of play, UT shot 45 percent from the floor on 9-of-20 shooting and went 10-of-12 from the free-throw line. Trailing 33-29 at halftime, the game remained close until a stretch of Tennessee turnovers fueled a 16-0 Michigan run.

The Vols shot a humble 26 percent from the floor in the second half and only managed to get to the stripe four times. Michigan pulled away, outscoring UT 42-16 after shooting 18-of-28 in the second half.

To Michigan's credit, the undersized Wolverines out-rebounded Tennessee 36-26 and outscored UT in the paint 46-22. Both marks were nails the Vols had hung their hat on all year.

After a perfect 6-of-6 shooting performance in the first half, Tennessee Freshman All-American Tobias Harris went a scoreless 0-of-5 shooting in the second half. Still, the Dix Hills, N.Y., native led the Vols with 19 points.

"We just didn't play with heart out there," Harris said. "Michigan came out and made shots and we just did a terrible job of trying to cover them. On the offensive end, we rushed too many shots."

The loss marked the first time UT finished with fewer than 20 wins during head coach Bruce Pearl's tenure.

NOTES: The game marked the end of Bruce Pearl's six-year tenure as head coach, as he was relieved of his duties March 21, 2010 ... The game also was the first in NCAA Tournament history in which a team won a game despite failing to make a free throw; UM attempted just one ... Michigan lost to No. 1-seeded Duke 73-71 in the third round.

2014 Midwest Region — First Round (First Four)

#11	Tennessee (22-12)	OT 78
March 19, 2014 • UD Arena • Dayton, Ohio

Tennessee advanced to the NCAA Tournament Second Round with a thrilling 78-65 comeback overtime victory over Iowa in the First Four at UD Arena.

Josh Richardson was tremendous after a slow start as he was 0-of-5 in the first half. The junior finished with 17 points -- all after halftime. Jordan McRae led the team with a team-high 20 points.

Jarnell Stokes posted his 20th double-double of the season with 18 points and 13 rebounds.

The Hawkeys were led by a pair of reserves that entered the game averaging a combined 9.6 points. Iowa's leading scorer Roy Devyn Marble (17.3 ppg) was limited to just seven points on 3-of-15 shooting from the floor.

Stokes opened the scoring with a 3-pointer play to put Tennessee up 67-64. McRae's bucket put the Vols up by five with 3:55 left.

Tennessee took its first lead of the game on a 3-pointer by Antonio Barton with 3:07 left in the game. That put the Vols up 59-57. Iowa quickly answered as Marble converted a 3-point play nine seconds later. That put Iowa up 60-59.

Stokes gave the Vols back the lead at 61-60 on two free throws with 2:40 left in the game. Iowa came right back as Adam Woodbury laid one home with 2:24 on the clock.

Maymon powered up and scored with 54 seconds left to put Tennessee up 63-62. He was fouled and missed the free throw, but the rebound went off Iowa and the Vols retained possession.

Stokes was fouled with 25.5 left in the game and proceeded to make the first of two free throws.

Marble sent the game to overtime with a jumper in the paint with 17.5 on the clock. That tied the game at 64 all.

Down by as many as 12 in the first half and three at the half, the Vols saw Richardson tie the game at 37 on a 3-pointer with 14:37 left.

Iowa broke out of the gates scoring the game's first eight points as Tennessee missed its first seven shots from the floor. The Vols finally got on the scoreboard with 6:02 elapsed in the game on an Armani Moore runner.

#11	Tennessee (23-12)	86
#6	Massachusetts (24-9)	67
March 21, 2014 • PNC Arena • Raleigh, N.C.

Tennessee won its second NCAA Tournament game in less than 48 hours as the Vols dominated UMass, 86-67, in the NCAA Tournament Second Round.

UMass was making its first NCAA appearance in 16 years.

Jarnell Stokes (career-high 26 points and 14 rebounds) and Jeronne Maymon (11 points and 11 rebounds) each posted double-doubles in the game. For Stokes, it was his 21st double-double of the year, one shy of Bernard King's school record of 22 in 1976-77.

With two double-doubles, the Vols had multiple double-doubles in an NCAA Tournament game for the second time in history. The only other came in 1977 when Ernie Grunfeld (26 points, 12 rebounds), Bernard King (23 points, 12 rebounds) and Reggie Johnson (17 points, 10 rebounds) achieved the feat in an overtime loss to Syracuse.

Stokes' 14 rebounds tied the Tennessee NCAA Tournament record for rebounds in a game. The record of 14 was previously reached by Isiah Victor (1999) and set by Reggie Johnson (1980).

Senior Jordan McRae finished with 21 points. Josh Richardson tallied 15 points.

UMass was led by senior Chaz Williams, who scored 12 and handed out five assists. Maxie Esho had 12 points and Derrick Gordon scored 10.

Tennessee shot 53.6 percent in the game, including 58.3 in the first half while the Vols' defense forced UMass into 42.4 percent shooting for the game.

After UMass scored the game's opening basket, Tennessee scored the next eight and the Vols led for the entire afternoon.

The Vols went up by as many as 23 points on a pair of Stokes' free throws with 8:36 left, making it 67-44.

The Vols dominated throughout the first half, taking a 41-22 lead at halftime behind 14 points from McRae. Tennessee held UMass to a season low in points for any half (22), as the Minutemen had 10 turnovers and shot just 33.3 percent from the floor.

2014 Midwest Region — Third Round

#11	Tennessee (24-12)	83
#14	Mercer (27-9)	63

March 23, 2014 • PNC Arena • Raleigh, N.C.

The Tennessee Volunteers advanced to the Sweet Sixteen for the fourth time in eight years. The 11th-seeded Vols topped 14-seed Mercer, 83-63, Sunday night at PNC Arena to reach to the Sweet Sixteen for the seventh time in school history.

Tennessee previously played in the Sweet Sixteen in 1967, 1981, 2000, 2007, 2008 and 2010.

Junior Jarnell Stokes posted his Tennessee-record-tying 22nd double-double this season with 17 points and 18 rebounds. Stokes' equalled the mark set by Basketball Hall of Famer Bernard King in 1976-77. Stokes also set the Vols' NCAA Tournament for rebounds in a game with 18. He had tied the record in the second-round win over UMass with 14.

Stokes almost had as many rebounds (18) as the entire Mercer team (19), as the Bears were out-rebounded as a team, 41-19. The Vols dominated the offensive glass, 18-7.

Vols junior Josh Richardson tallied a career-high 26 points, 16 of which came in the first half.

UT senior Antonio Barton netted 18 points as he made 4-of-9 from 3-point range. Senior Jordan McRae added 14 points.

Mercer was led by Langston Hall, who scored 15 points. Mercer scored its first points 3:09 into the game on an Ike Nwamu 3-pointer. The Bears tied the game at 8 and 10, but Tennessee regained the lead seconds later on a pair of Barton free throws and a baseline jam from McRae.

Stokes' tip-in with 5:06 left in the half gave the Vols their first double-figure lead at 31-20.

Tennessee took firm control of the game as the Vols made seven of eight shot attempts to grab a 13-point lead on Stokes' layup with three minutes left in the half, 38-25.

The Vols finished the half with a defensive stance that forced the Bears into their second shot-clock violation.

The Vols led 42-27 at intermission thanks to 16 first-half points from Richardson and a dominating performance on the glass, 24-4.

In the second half Tennessee continued to maintain a lead of at least 11 points. Barton nailed three 3-pointers in the half as Mercer was unable to close the gap.

2014 Midwest Region — Semifinal

#11	Tennessee (24-13)	71

March 28, 2014 • Lucas Oil Stadium • Indianapolis, Ind.

After a magical run of three consecutive NCAA Tournament victories, Tennessee saw its season end in the Sweet Sixteen at Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis, Ind. The 11th-seeded Vols suffered a 73-71 defeat at the hands of No. 2-seeded Michigan before the largest crowd to ever watch a Tennessee basketball game (41,072).

The Vols won three NCAA Tournament games for just the second time in history and reached the Sweet Sixteen for the seventh time.

Michigan advanced by virtue of red-hot shooting. The Wolverines shot .550 from the floor in the game, including .615 in the first half as they built an 11-point halftime lead.

Tennessee senior Jordan McRae scored a game-high 24 points in his final college game. Junior Josh Richardson, who had been torrid throughout the postseason, added 19 points. Senior forward Jarnell Stokes finished with 11 points and six rebounds.

The Wolverines were led by senior forward Jordan Morgan, who scored 15. He was joined by three other Michigan players in double-figures: Nik Stauskas (14), Glenn Robinson III (13) and Caris LeVert (10).

Down by as many as 13 in the first half, the Vols fell behind by 15 midway through the second half before battling to within one point with 10.8 seconds left in regulation.

A Stauskas 3-pointer with 3:37 left in the game regained a double-figure lead for the Wolverines. After Stokes and McRae scored to cut the margin to six again, Morgan dunked one home for an eight-point Michigan lead, 72-64 with 2:22 left.

McRae's 3-point play brought the Vols within five, 72-67 -- the closest the Vols were since trailing 27-22 with 6:43 left in the first half.

McRae's layup with 10.8 seconds left off a Michigan turnover, made it one point, 72-71.

A controversial offensive foul call was whistled on Stokes with six seconds left as the Vols had a chance to take the lead. Stauskas then made one of two free throws in the final seconds for the final of 73-71.

NOTES: Michigan lost to No. 8-seeded Kentucky 75-72 in the Elite Eight.

13 JALEN JOHNSON

By Ben Byrd

"Intercollegiate basketball will make its initial appearance in Knoxville tonight when in the YMCA gymnasium at the University of Tennessee, the Volunteers will meet the five hailing from the Central University of Kentucky at Danville."

— The Knoxville Journal and Tribune
Thursday, Dec. 16, 1909

It had taken the new game invented by Dr. James Naismith 18 years to arrive on campus, but UT students were ready for it. A capacity crowd of 200 crammed into the box-like YMCA gym atop "The Hill" that night to watch the beginning of a new chapter in the school's athletics history. They came away excited and pleased, for the Vols won that historic game, 33-31, with an assist from a slow train from Kentucky. The Central Kentucky team was more than one hour late arriving at the gym. During the wait the fans were entertained, if one can call it that, by a skirmish between the UT women's team and the Central High girls, which was won by the Lady Bobcats 21-1.

The starting lineup for that first Tennessee team was composed of Howard Sandberg and DeWitt Welcker at forwards, Jasper Ring at center, and Captain Solon Kipp and Earl Ketchen at guards. Sandberg, who stood all of 5-9 at his forward position, led the scoring with 13 points. The Vols were off and running.

That first Tennessee team did not have a coach, but in the following season, 1910-11, football coach Alex Stone donned a second hat and served in that capacity. After that season the Vols moved their home court to the Downtown YMCA gym at the corner of Commerce and Vine, where both playing and practice conditions were better than those afforded by the little gym on The Hill. The early Vol teams were neither especially good nor particularly bad, generally hovering around the .500 mark against a mixed schedule of college and YMCA foes. But the 1913-14 team broke that pattern by recording a 15-2 won-lost record and the reason was the appearance on the scene of Tennessee's first genuine superstar cager.

Lum Reeder, the son of a Knox County sheriff, had honed his skills shooting at a basket that had been hung up for him at the county jail. Two-hand shots were the standard in those days, but young Lum broke with tradition and learned to unload deadly one-hand shots while on the move. He made his UT debut by scoring 27 points in his first game as a freshman forward, this in an era when entire teams averaged little more than 20 points per game. A few games later in that campaign he rang up 41 points in a 49-16 victory over Maryville College, a UT scoring record that stayed on the books until Carl Widseth scored 47 in a game against Auburn in 1956. Unfortunately for UT, his career was interrupted twice, once when he transferred to the University of Delaware where he made the All-Eastern team in 1916, and later by World War I.

Early Tennessee basketball teams played a game that would scarcely be recognizable to today's fans. The ball was returned to center court after each score for a center jump, thus interrupting the flow of play. The small gyms of the time often featured overhanging balconies which forced a lower trajectory on shots from the corner, and the home floor advantage was a tangible reality and not just a psychological factor. Home teams furnished the referees in most instances, often from the ranks of their own former players. Reeder once protested a call in a game at Virginia and woke up a few minutes later stretched out on the floor. The referee also was the host school's heavyweight boxing champion!

There were no basketball scholarships then, and local youths made up a large percentage of the Vol squads. Reeder, Vic Klein, Lloyd Wolfe and Frank Callaway, all later Knoxville business or civic leaders, were among the outstanding cagers of the teens. Basketball was the only UT sport to stay at it through the WWI years, although many of the better players, including Reeder, were away in service. The 1917-18 team played a nine-game schedule, winning two, losing six, and tying one. The deadlock came about when the Maryville College team, enraged by a call that had enabled the Vols to tie the game at the end, walked off the floor and refused to return for an overtime period.

The basketball team finally had an on-campus home of its own when Jefferson Hall was built at the site of the old Waite Field at the corner of Cumberland Avenue and Fifteenth Street in time for the opening of the 1922-23 season. The cage program appeared to have gotten an immediate lift from the new arena as the '23 team went 15-2, led by such stalwarts as David Beane, Roe Campbell and Earl Keister. That team was perhaps the best-equipped to make a run at the Southern Conference championship of any of the 1920s Volunteer teams, but its best player, Beane, was declared academically ineligible shortly before the conference tournament, and the Vols lost in the first round to the University of Georgia Bulldogs.

Head football coaches had continued to serve as head basketball coaches through the teens and early 1920s, but Robert R. Neyland put a stop to that practice when he succeeded M.B. Banks as the head grid coach in 1926. Neyland put the basketball job off on his end coach and good friend, Bill Britton. The Britton era of UT basketball was largely a win-some, lose-some operation except for the memorable season of 1927-28, which produced the only winless varsity team in UT history. The Vols of that infamous campaign finished 0-12, despite boasting one of the South's finest players in center Elvin Butcher. With Butcher playing brilliantly, the Vols had a narrow escape in their season-finale with Vanderbilt at Jefferson Hall, leading most of the game before Vandy pulled out a 28-26 decision at the end.

Stars from the great football teams of the late 1920s and early 1930s, Bobby Dodd, Buddy Hackman, Beattie Feathers and Hugh Faust were among the grid standouts who doubled as cagers in the winter. But the teams remained rather ordinary, for the most part, and when the Southeastern Conference was formed in 1933, the UT program was no better than middle-of-the-pack in this new league.

Clevenger Leads Vols to First Winning Season and an Undefeated Campaign

World War I didn't give college students much to cheer about, as all collegiate sports on the University of Tennessee campus came to a halt - all of them except basketball. Many college athletes left the athletic scene to turn their focus on fighting for the United States. During that same time, Tennessee basketball produced some of its finest years as a young program in search of success.

After struggling through the pioneer years of Tennessee basketball, the Vols finally broke through during the 1913-14 season, finishing with a 15-2 record under coach Zora G. Clevenger. The Vols cruised past several area colleges, including Maryville, Carson-Newman and Chattanooga, as well as future conference foe Alabama. Two YMCA teams were on the schedule, and even a Feb. 3 contest with Knoxville High School created interest. The game, however, was less than a showdown as the Vols crushed KHS 52-18.

The only losses of the 1913-14 season were consecutive setbacks to Kentucky on back-to-back days. In the middle of a road trip in which Tennessee played six games in six days, Kentucky defeated the Vols by scores of 20-14 and 20-18. Still, the Volunteer basketball program was enjoying its first taste of success.

The following season was another respectable campaign for Tennessee, as Clevenger's troops went 9-2 on the season. Over one-third of the schedule was spent playing the Vols' new rival, Kentucky. The Vols split a four-game series with Kentucky, winning both games in Knoxville while losing both in Lexington.

Perhaps the pinnacle of the early years of Tennessee basketball came during the 1915-16 season, Clevenger's final season as the Vols' coach. But it was one to remember, as the nine players on the squad put Tennessee basketball on the map. UT finished the season with a perfect 12-0 record and was recognized as the best team in the South. It still stands as Tennessee's only basketball season without a loss.

During the perfect season, the Vols won by an average of more than 15 points per game. They capped off the year with a five-day, five-game road trip through Kentucky. The trip was started with a 63-33 victory over Cumberland College, the Vols' largest margin of victory, and finished with a two-point win over Transylvania, UT's smallest margin of victory. The road trip included a 28-17 win over Kentucky, the only meeting between the schools that season.

In a three-season span, Tennessee produced a 36-4 record. All four losses came at the hands of basketball powerhouse Kentucky. Other than the men in blue, the Vols swept through the rest of the South. Those three seasons were just what the Vols needed to jump-start memorable years to come for Tennessee basketball.

First All-American Brings First SEC Crown

A number of events took place in the mid-1930s that combined to move Tennessee into the front ranks of college basketball. First, Neyland took a year's leave from UT to rejoin the Army for duty in Panama. That moved Britton into the head football coaching position for the season of 1935 and prompted the school, for the first time, to hire a full-time basketball coach in Blair Gullion (pronounced: GULL-yin), a former Purdue player. When Gullion reported for preseason practice in the fall of 1935, he was greeted by perhaps the three best players ever to adorn a Volunteers roster at the same time: senior center Harry Anderson, junior forward Floyd "Biggy" Marshall and junior guard Gene Johnson.

Responding positively to the new coach's strict discipline and emphasis on the basics, the 1935-36 Vols posted a 12-6 regular-season record that included the Vols' first-ever win over an Adolph Rupp-coached Kentucky team. Here another happenstance entered into the picture. UT was now playing its home games at the Alumni Memorial Gymnasium just north of the football stadium, Jefferson Hall having burned down a couple of years earlier. By good fortune the SEC postseason championship tournament was held at Alumni Gym in March of 1936, giving Gullion's troops the home floor advantage to go along with their considerable playing skills. The time had arrived for the basketball Vols to step forward.

They did. After blowing past Auburn in the first test, the Vols ousted pre-tourney favorite Kentucky in the semi-finals, 39-28, the same score by which they had beaten the Wildcats in regular-season play. In the championship game with Alabama, they fell behind badly with just two minutes left in the first half, trailing by the rather embarrassing score of 13-4. This was the last season that college basketball was played under the old center-jump rule, and it was the agile Anderson's ability at winning the tip that enabled the Vols to rally. With the captain controlling the tip on every possession, the Vols reeled off seven straight points to cut the halftime lead to 13-11. Tennessee then took command in the second half to win 29-25 and bring the school its first SEC championship; in no other season and in no other sport had Tennessee won an SEC title until March 2, 1936.

The triumph established basketball as a major sport on campus. Anderson became UT's first All American and he, Marshall and Johnson were elevated to hero status formerly reserved for football stars. All over Knoxville backyard baskets sprang up, and for the first time Dr. Naismith's crazy game had become a local craze.

But the man who had put UT on the college cage map didn't stay around to build on his success. After three seasons at the Vol helm, Gullion abruptly resigned a few weeks before the 1938-39 season to take a similar position at Cornell. He was succeeded by a proven veteran who had previously enjoyed successful tenures at Kentucky and Miami of Ohio, John Mauer.

Anderson is UT's First All-American

When Harry Anderson walked out of Alumni Gym on March 2, 1936, he left the building a winner. Wearing an orange jersey with "Vols" scripted across his chest for the last time, Anderson had just led Tennessee to its first SEC championship.

While Anderson played before Tennessee's modern records, he remains one of the greatest players ever to suit up for Tennessee. And he was Tennessee's first All-American honoree.

Anderson, who was a 6-foot-3 center, was joined by teammates Floyd "Biggy" Marshall and Gene Johnson as perhaps the best trio of UT basketball players to ever hit the hardwood in one season. Although Anderson's size was short compared to today's standards for big men, Anderson could dominate a game due to his outstanding leaping ability. His bread and butter, though, was his uncanny pursuit of jump balls at mid-court.

"No one who played in the SEC in our time had as much leaping ability as Harry," Marshall once said of his former teammate.

During Anderson's playing days, each time a team scored a basket, the ball was reset at half court and a jump ball was conducted. Anderson's control of jump balls was the key to UT's run through the 1936 SEC Tournament.

The Vols had beaten Auburn and Kentucky to get to the finals against Alabama. Tennessee trailed 13-4 with two minutes remaining in the first half before Anderson brought the Vols back into the game. He controlled every tip for the remainder of the half, allowing UT to cut the deficit to 13-11. The Vols went on to win the game 29-25 and claim their first SEC championship in any sport.

Anderson's dominating performance in the SEC Championship and his regular-season success opened eyes and earned him a spot on the Converse All-American team. It was the first time a UT basketball player had earned such an honor.

Also a track star, Anderson was inducted into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame in 1999.

Mauer Leads Vols to Two SEC Titles

The momentum that Gullion had established didn't miss a beat under Mauer. The new coach found the nucleus of a future championship team already on hand in sophomore guard Gilbert Huffman, sophomore center Frank Thomas and freshman forward Bernie Mehen. Two seasons later that trio led the Vols to the 1941 SEC championship with a 36-33 win over top-seeded Kentucky in the finals of the conference tourney at Louisville, Ky. Mehen, called "Houdini" because of his ball-handling wizardry, became the school's second All-American and Huffman the third.

Mauer then chalked up a second SEC title two years later, when his 1942-43 team, led by center Dick Mehen, Bernie's younger brother, handed Kentucky another stunning upset loss in the tourney finals at Louisville, 33-30, with Dick Mehen scoring 18 points.

The Mauer years were a time of plenty for UT basketball. In addition to the two conference titles, the big, jovial coach authored one of the great Vol cage victories of all time when his '41-42 team put an end to then-No. 1-ranked Long Island University's 23-game win streak, 36-33, in the Sugar Bowl Tournament. When he left to take the Army coaching job after the 1946-47 season, Mauer departed with an eight-season record of 127 wins and only 41 losses for a .756 winning percentage, highest ever by a Vol coach.

Emmett Lowery, another former Purdue star, succeeded Mauer in 1947 and brought a new dimension to Tennessee basketball. An acknowledged master of the fast-break offense, Lowery soon had the Vols racing up and down the floor at full steam. Led by a holdover standout from the Mauer regime, forward Paul (Lefty) Walther, the new coach's first two Vol teams posted records of 20-5 and 19-7 and drew capacity crowds at Alumni Gym with their entertaining style of play. Walther, who had joined the growing list of All-Americans, was part clown at heart, and his pre-game passing and dribbling antics often brought down the house.

Alumni Gymnasium Gives Vols The Best Homecourt In The Region

It was Dec. 17, 1932, and the season-opener was minutes away. Fans walked through the five arched doorways decorated with streetlights and tiny windows above. Inside, protected from the cold, nearly 400 spectators occupied the 3,200 wooden seats, most of which were lofted in the balcony more than 10 feet above the floor.

Although the crowd was somewhat small for Tennessee's first basketball game at the new Alumni Memorial Gymnasium, the Vols didn't hesitate to put on a show, pounding Lincoln Memorial University 41-18. The victory was the first of many at the new gym on The Hill, rated the best facility in the South in 1932.

Located on the south side of The Hill adjacent to the football field, Alumni Gym was built in 1931 to be the new basketball home of the Vols. UT alumni had wanted to build a memorial to those graduates who had lost their lives in World War I and the Spanish-American War. Thus, Alumni Memorial Auditorium-Gymnasium was built to take the place of Jefferson Hall as the campus' primary multi-purpose facility. Along with basketball, the gym was used for indoor physical education and auditorium events since the three-story facility was one of the largest buildings on campus at the time.

The interior of the facility fit the mold of a 1930s basketball gym. The basketball court was the centerpiece surrounded by three walls of seats and a stage serving as the fourth wall. A handful of rows were tucked below the balcony to provide court-side seating, while the majority of the seats were located on the steep overhang above the floor. The stage, however, provided the opportunity to use the facility as an auditorium with a seating capacity of 3,800. Surrounding the gym were wings used for physical education. Each wing contained an auxiliary gymnasium suitable for handball and other intramural sports. But it's the basketball memories that keep the gym alive today.

1950s: Stars Widseth and Tormohlen Set Scoring and Rebounding Records

The Emmett Lowery era reached an early peak in January 1950 when his third Vol team put an end to Kentucky's five-year, 67-game winning streak within the Southeastern Conference, 66-53. Captain Art Burris outdueled his opposite center, the Wildcats' seven-foot Bill Spivey, with a 28-point performance as the Vols led from buzzer to buzzer. After the game, the overflow crowd stormed onto the court to lift Burris and the other Vol players for a victory ride to the dressing room in one of the wildest scenes UT basketball has ever produced.

The gentlemanly Lowery stayed on for 12 seasons, fashioning a solid winning record of 169-110 and developing such headline players as scoring champion Carl Widseth and his mid-1950s sidekick Ed Wiener, Herman Thompson, big Gene Tormohlen, the Vols' all-time rebound leader, and Dalen Showalter. His successor, longtime assistant John Sines, fared less well, and after his third season, 1961-62, ended in a 4-19 disaster, UT basketball underwent a historic coaching change.

Tormohlen: Chairman of the Boards

One thing about Tennessee basketball in the 1950s was that if a shot went up and didn't go in, Gene Tormohlen was almost a sure bet to bring down the rock. Grabbing a school-record 1,113 career rebounds will make you "Chairman of the Boards."

"Bumper," as he was referred to due to his physical play, was a master at rebounding. He helped turn rebounding into an art form during his college playing days. And although the post play was as physical as it gets, Tormohlen says it was his finesse that helped him own the boards.

"Rebounding is hard work," said Tormohlen, who is considered Tennessee's first accomplished big man. "There are certain ingredients you look for in rebounding, but the key is to go after every rebound as if it were

From 1956-59, the 6-foot-8 Tormohlen owned the middle of the paint for the Vols. His art of rebounding became a trademark of sorts, making him a regular vacuum cleaner around the rim, as well as a two-time All-SEC performer. But what may be most impressive about his longstanding rebounding records at Tennessee is that Tormohlen accomplished all his feats in a three-year career with the Vols. In his playing days, freshmen were limited to the freshman squad and only upperclassmen were welcome on the varsity.

Still, only three years of playing time didn't limit Tormohlen's potential or achievements. During the 1957-58 season, Tormohlen's junior year, he pulled down 384 boards for the season, a Tennessee record. His 372 rebounds his senior season ranks second on the school list. His name is on the list one more time for his sophomore campaign, when he grabbed 357, good enough for fourth. Sixteen times during his career he had at least 22 rebounds in a game. One time, while playing with a cut that required eight stitches on a shooting-hand finger, he scored 15 points and gathered 17 rebounds.

"I'm proud of the fact that I hold some of those rebounding records," Tormohlen said. "But I'll be honest, we didn't make many shots."

No matter how many shots Tennessee missed, "Bumper" was reliable enough to clean up the garbage under the rim. Tormohlen, who is a member of the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame for having led tiny Holland High School to its first sectional championship as a sophomore in 1953.

He amazingly averaged 16.9 rebounds in his career with the Vols, another rebounding record. On the season average list, Tormohlen's senior year saw him grab an average of 17.7 boards per game for a UT record. He also earned Converse All-America honors that year for his accomplishments on the hardwood. His junior year he averaged 16.7, and his sophomore year he averaged 16.2 to sweep the top three spots on the season rebounding average list.

One rebounding record that Tormohlen does not hold at Tennessee is most rebounds in a single game. Herb Neff holds that honor for having grabbed 36 against Georgia Tech in 1952. However, Tormohlen ranks second with 31, third with 28 and fourth with 27. His name appears 16 times among the top-23 performances on the list.

"Rebounding is one thing in basketball that you can go after and it's not a selfish thing," he said. "It's hard work that benefits the team. We all played rough, but I always felt I could play against anybody."

Former Knoxville Journal writer Ben Byrd perhaps paid best tribute to Tormohlen in 1959 when he penned: "There will be others just as big, maybe bigger. Some will shoot better, some will play defense better, some run more gracefully. But when there is elbow-flying, rib-thumping, eyeball-scratching action under the boards, you can lay long odds that there won't be another like Gene Tormohlen. Not for a long, long time."

Following his successful career at Tennessee, the Holland, Ind., native was a second-round selection of the Syracuse Nationals in the 1959 NBA Draft. He went on to a nine-year professional career that included a six-year stint with the NBA's St. Louis and Atlanta Hawks.

After his playing career was over, he moved to the bench where he was an NBA assistant coach for 12 years. Twice he served as an interim head coach in the NBA. After his time coaching, Tormohlen also served as a collegiate scout for several years.

Enter Ray Mears; Vols Become SEC Champions

The new man's name was Ray Mears. A Miami (Ohio) graduate, he was fresh off winning the NCAA small college championship at Wittenberg University. His style featured a deliberate offense, a zone defense, a heavy dose of discipline for his players and a bagful of sideshow tricks for the paying customers. He introduced the practice of a pep band blaring out at the court level, and his players executed fancy pregame drills and, later on, even had one of his athletes riding around the court on a unicycle to help get the home crowd excited.

Behind that carnival-show exterior was a shrewd tactician and strategist. Mears' teams played basketball in much the way Gen. Robert R. Neyland's teams had played football. They didn't beat themselves.

The new coach was fortunate in inheriting a rich stockpile of good young talent from the Sines era, most notably sophomore forward A.W. Davis and junior point guard Danny Schultz. Although both would have flourished as high scorers in a higher-powered system of offense, Davis and Schultz gladly accepted the deliberate pace of the new coach's game and led the way to a quick resurgence in Tennessee basketball fortunes. The 1962-63 team posted a 13-11 worksheet, which included a pair of upset wins over mighty Kentucky, and the 1963-64 team climbed to 16-8. In Mears' third season, when Davis was the captain and heartbeat of the team, the Vols reached the 20-win level for the first time in 17 years and finished second in the Southeastern Conference race. The 1966 Vols provided a harbinger of things to come by closing out the season with a 69-62 victory over Kentucky, which came to Knoxville with a 23-0 mark.

UT basketball had been moved into a new home, the Armory-Fieldhouse, in 1959, but the interest stirred by Mears's success soon rendered the 7,500-seat facility obsolete. Thanks to a generous gift by industrialist William B. Stokely, Jr., the old fieldhouse was remodeled and enlarged into a 12,700-seat arena, Stokely Center. The timing was perfect. The Vols were about to unveil their first SEC championship team in 24 years.

The 1966-67 team was short on experience and depth as it set out on what promised to be an uphill journey. But somehow the chemistry turned out just right for a lineup composed of senior Ron Widby and junior Tom Hendrix at forwards, junior Tom Boerwinkle at center and sophomores Billy Justus and Billy Hann in the backcourt. The two guards had never played a minute of varsity action, and Boerwinkle, UT's first seven-footer, had played very sparingly. But the Fearless Five, as they came to be known, overturned the odds with three magnificent road wins against the other contenders.

First they knocked off Florida, the eventual runner-up, with an almost perfectly played game at Gainesville, 66-53. Then they outlasted Kentucky, 52-50, in a tense overtime duel at Lexington. But those two were just warmups for the stormy season-finale at Mississippi State.

The Vols had to win that game to take the SEC title, and they couldn't have picked a tougher foe. With Tennessee's Widby and State's David Williams swapping dead-eye jumpers from the perimeter, the two teams wound up all even at 64-64 after regulation time. A cautious first overtime ended 66-66. After Justus missed a pair of free throws with four seconds left, the second overtime also wound up in a tie. But in the third extra period, with players and fans alike near exhaustion, Justus got one last chance. With the count tied at 76, he once again went to the stripe with four seconds remaining. This time he made them both, and the Vols held on to win what many longtime observers believe was the greatest game in UT basketball history.

That not only earned the Vols the SEC crown; it also won them the school's first-ever berth in the NCAA Tournament. This time, the cat jumped the other way. In another tense battle at Evanston, Ill., the Fearless Five was ousted in its first test by Dayton, 53-52, as Widby's last-second shot caromed off the rim.

Vols Celebrate First Season in Stokely with SEC Championship

The first Tennessee basketball game in the Armory-Fieldhouse was nothing but a glimpse of the future. The 72-71 victory over Wyoming gave the idea that basketball in the new arena would be a successful era. And the temporary wall that stood on the east side of the arena was a hint that expansion was on the way.

To kick off the 1958-59 season, the University of Tennessee had erected a new facility for basketball. Replacing Alumni Gym was a difficult thing to do, but the state-of-the-art arena would quickly remind the team and fans that the new facility was worth the $1.5 million.

Equipped with huge steel trusses that lined the walls and roof, the gigantic new arena could seat 7,000 people in its opening years. The west end of the arena had two levels of permanent seats while temporary bleachers lined the baselines. On the east end, more temporary bleachers rose from the floor to the temporary wall. Along each baseline was a row of folding chairs, primarily for the teams to sit. Other than basketball, the Armory-Fieldhouse was home to supply rooms for Army and Air Force ROTC, offices and classrooms.

The temporary wall was the key to the Armory-Fieldhouse. In 1965, a $500,000 gift from William B. Stokely Jr. jump-started a $3 million expansion on the facility - an expansion that had been designed in the original blueprints of the facility. By the 1966-67 season, the Armory-Fieldhouse was doubled in size and seating capacity rose to 12,700 just in time for the SEC championship season. Stokely had died before the completion of the expansion project, and the Armory-Fieldhouse became William B. Stokely Athletics Center.

Stokely Athletics Center was a special home to Tennessee basketball. It housed more fans than ever before. It featured a newly designed Tartan rubber playing surface after the expansion to the arena. But more importantly, it featured great teams. Tennessee teams were extremely successful in the arena, compiling a 321-69 record at Stokely and winning four SEC championships.

Stokely was vacated during the winter of 2012-13, as the university has plans to raze the facility and repurpose the land it occupies.

Ray Mears Brings Showmanship And Championships

Ray Mears was hired as head basketball coach in 1962 after he had just won the NCAA small college championship the previous year as coach at Wittenberg University. But this was Division I, and Mears was brought in to revitalize a struggling Tennessee basketball program. The Vols were coming off back-to-back losing seasons and were caught in a decade and a half of finishing no higher than fourth in the SEC.

All that changed when Mears took over. His first year saw the Vols finish with a 13-11 record, including a season sweep over archrival Kentucky. In fact, Adolph Rupp's Kentucky teams grew to be Mears' top foe, despite the fact that Mears and Rupp were friends away from the court.

"Beating Adolph Rupp was my favorite," Mears admitted. "We ended up tying Kentucky, but seven of them were against Joe Hall so I can't claim I beat Rupp every time. We had the best record against Kentucky and the best record against Rupp."

In Mears' second season at Tennessee, the Vols were 16-8 and finished second in the conference. Then there was a 20-5 year, an 18-8 year, a 21-7 SEC title year and so on. Mears had sent a breath of fresh air through the Tennessee basketball program.

Not only did the legendary coach bring success to the hardwood, he brought entertainment to the fans. Mears instructed the pep band to play in the stands of Stokely Athletics Center during games - a first for its time. With the pep band blasting traditional fight songs, Mears' squad would perform dazzling tricks during pre-game warm-ups. From fancy passes to mind-boggling dribbling skills, the Vols looked more like the Harlem Globetrotters as they prepared for their opponent. It's said Mears even went to the extent of having one of his players ride around the court on a unicycle to fire up a sleepy crowd at Stokely.

"We brought the pep band and marched the band around the floor and all that kind of stuff," Mears said. "We had a guy that juggled basketballs and we had warm-up drills. We did a lot of things like that. We were trying to get people interested in basketball. I tried to get the crowd excited. We got people coming at 7:00 for a 7:30 game."

People flocked to campus to see the newest attraction - the Tennessee basketball team. But they also enjoyed the side antics as well. Record numbers came to Stokely Athletics Center, eventually forcing the expansion of the facility in 1966 to twice its original size.

On the sidelines, Mears was a basketball mastermind. His slow, deliberate offense gelled with his zone defense. His strict and disciplined basketball style carried the Vols to an SEC championship in the 1966-67 season and the school's first NCAA Tournament appearance.

Success was common during the Mears era. During his 15 years (1963-77) as head coach of the Vols, Mears collected 278 wins against 112 losses for a .713 winning percentage. Tennessee won three conference titles under Mears - 1966-67, 1971-72 and 1976-77. And during his tenure, only twice did UT finish lower than third in the SEC. He was hired to turn the program around. He did his job and then some.

Texas Western Wasn't the First to Challenge Rupp's Runts

On the evening of March 5, 1966, the Tennessee Volunteers had nothing to do but finish a decent basketball season. The Vols were 17-8 and 9-6 in the SEC heading into their final game of the season, and the NCAA Tournament only took conference champions at the time. On the other side of the court, the No. 1-ranked Kentucky Wildcats were planning their run at a national championship. They had played 23 games and won every one of them.

Labeled Rupp's Runts, coach Adolph Rupp's squad was loaded with talent but short on size. The tallest players on the team, center Thad Jaracz and guard Tommy Kron stood at 6-foot-5. Forwards Larry Conley and Pat Riley stood 6-4, and the other guard, Louie Dampier, was 6-0.

Probabilities said the Vols were going to get whipped by the 'Cats. A week earlier, Tennessee had gotten beat in Lexington by top-ranked Kentucky, 78-64. But this time, probabilities were wrong. UT captains Larry McIntosh and Howard Bayne helped push the overmatched Vols past Kentucky 69-62 to give the Wildcats their first loss of the season.

Tennessee closed the season at 18-8 and finished tied for third in the SEC. Kentucky, however, went all the way to the NCAA finals where they faced Texas Western (now UTEP). In one of the most memorable and influential finals in NCAA history, Texas Western shocked the Wildcats with a 72-65 upset to win the NCAA championship. Texas Western became the first school to win the title with five black starters when they beat an all-white Kentucky team, which paved the way for cultural diversity in college basketball.

An unbeatable Kentucky team rolled into Knoxville in 1966 but left with a loss. The win for UT paved the way for a successful 1966-67 campaign in which the Vols won the SEC.

1970s:

Success Continues Under Mears; Grunfeld/King Combo Propels Vols

Consistent excellence was the trademark of the program under Mears. Twenty-win seasons became the rule rather than the exception, and the Vols became contenders in the SEC title race on a yearly basis. It took Mears five seasons to win his second conference title, and that one had a rather sour taste to it.

The 1971-72 team, built around the sharp shooting of guard Mike Edwards and 6-11 center Len Kosmalski, came into the season-ending game with Kentucky at Stokely Center one game ahead of Rupp's Wildcats. With five seconds left in a hard-fought battle, UK held a 67-66 lead. But Tennessee got one last chance when Edwards was fouled as he started into his shooting mode. Referee Bobby Hartsfield called it a non-shooting foul, and the usually unflappable guard missed the free throw. Kentucky rebounded to gain a tie for the title, and because they had swept the season's series with Tennessee, the Wildcats also won the SEC's berth in the NCAA Tournament. The Vols were so downcast by the loss that they voted not to accept a bid to the NIT, where they had reached the semifinals in 1969 and 1971.

The 1971-72 season also marked a new chapter in Volunteer cage history when Larry Robinson, a 6-5 high-post player out of Ferrum (Va.) Junior College became the school's first black player. A tireless worker and the ultimate team player, Robinson made a big hit with the fans and teammates alike, and as evidence of the respect they felt for him, his mates elected him captain of the 1972-73 team despite the fact that he had played only one season of varsity basketball with them.

Mears had stuck with his deliberate offense through his first decade at UT, but the appearance of two remarkable offensive performers in the mid-1970s prompted him to speed up his attack. Assistant coach Stu Aberdeen, who had strong recruiting contacts in the New York City area, hit the jackpot two years in succession when he signed Ernie Grunfeld of Forest Hills in 1973 and Bernard King of Brooklyn in 1974. Never before or since has UT basketball boasted two such enormous talents on the same team.

Grunfeld, a 6-6 wing who could move into the post when needed, broke Widseth's all-time Volunteers scoring record during his four-year career with 2,249 points, for an average of 22.3 per game. King, a brilliant post player, who played only three seasons before turning to the professional ranks, posted a new career average record of 25.8 points per game. Known as the "Ernie and Bernie Show," the two great players led the Vols to a record of 61-20 during their three seasons together, 1974-75, 1975-76 and 1976-77. During that run, the Volunteers made two NCAA Tournament appearances and won one SEC championship in 1977. Wherever they played they drew standing-room-only crowds; Sports Illustrated even featured them on its cover ("Double Trouble from Tennessee"), and for the first time in its cage history, Tennessee had become a household word in the world of college basketball.

The one thing that even King and Grunfeld couldn't do was to bring their coach an NCAA Tournament victory. In 1976 the Vols fell out in first-round play at Charlotte, losing to darkhorse VMI in a game that King had to sit out because of a hand injury suffered in practice a few days earlier. And then, in the biggest disappointment of all, the 1977 team went down in overtime to the Orangemen from Syracuse University (93-88) in a game played in Baton Rouge, La., as both King and Grunfeld fouled out during second-half action.

Mears soon followed his two great stars in farewell. A longtime sufferer from depression, the Vols coach could not answer the bell for the 1977-78 season, and assistant coach Cliff Wittig led the team through a tough rebuilding phase that produced the school's first losing campaign in 16 years. When it became clear that Mears could not return to his post, UT hired a new head coach, Don DeVoe, in the spring of 1978.

Mears left an enviable record behind him. In 15 seasons, his teams had won 278 games against only 112 losses for a .713 winning percentage, had captured three SEC championships and had played old rival Kentucky to a dead heat with 15 wins in 30 meetings. His acts of psychological warfare, such as the long walks at Nashville that brought the Vanderbilt crowds to a boil, had won him more than his share of detractors, but underneath all the boos, there was a grudging respect for one of the best coaches of his time.

John Ward and The Vol Network

John Ward sat atop Mississippi State Gymnasium on March 8, 1967, peering down on the Vols as time expired on the clock. Mississippi State had just taken Tennessee into overtime in the season-finales for both teams. The Vols were in a battle in Starkville, Miss., but they were in a three-way war for the SEC championship, along with Florida and Vanderbilt.

Ward, thanks to the Vols playing in the Central Time Zone, already knew both Florida and Vanderbilt had finished at 14-4. Should the Vols win, they would finish at 15-3 and win their first SEC title in more than 20 years. And it all came down to overtime. Then a second overtime. Then a third.

By then, Ward's voice was getting rougher and rougher. He, along with color analyst Lowell Blanchard, were located high atop the gym to get a bird's eye view of the game.

"When I do broadcasts, I prefer to be working upstairs because I can see the game unfold better," Ward said. "We were upstairs near the top of the gym and against the wall. Well, with a window behind us, a draft kept blowing onto my neck and it was cold. By the second overtime, I just looked at Lowell - just a wonderful man - and said, 'I can't finish the game.'"

Ward's throat was getting tight due to the cold air on his neck and he was losing his voice. Quick to aid Ward, Blanchard retrieved a towel from the Tennessee bench at courtside and Ward wrapped it around his neck. The treatment warmed and opened Ward's throat, and he was able to finish broadcasting the Vols' 78-76 triple-overtime win over the Bulldogs. A 1967 SEC Championship and Tennessee's first trip to the NCAA Tournament came courtesy of the win.

Of course, the towel became a trademark of Ward's during his 35-year run as "Voice of the Vols." But according to Ward, it was always used for medical purposes.

"I always wore it to protect my voice and throat," he insisted after he recalled his most memorable UT basketball game. "Never was it intended to be a trademark."

There are other games that stick out in Ward's mind - especially the Kentucky games. Games like the one in 1976 when Tennessee rallied from 14 points down to beat the Wildcats in overtime in Memorial Coliseum. Or the game that very next year when Tennessee beat Kentucky in its first trip to the new Rupp Arena. Then there's Tennessee's 1979 SEC Championship.

"Tennessee won the SEC championship in '79 and they beat who? Kentucky," Ward said. "You've got to understand, Kentucky didn't lose back then. They just didn't."

For those fans not able to attend the games in person, they depended on Ward to paint the picture over radio broadcasts. He never failed.

"Prior to around 1980, there were no TV games," Ward said. "So obviously, radio broadcasts became the dominant medium to follow those games."

Through the late 1950s and early 1960s, UT basketball games were not heard over the radio on a regular basis. Only big games, like Kentucky and Vanderbilt, made the airwaves. But in 1966, athletics director Bob Woodruff, with the assistance of Bill Petty, Ward and basketball coach Ray Mears, began the groundwork for a Vol Basketball Network. The Vol Network already covered football games, and now it was time for basketball coverage.

The 1966-67 season was the first full season of basketball broadcasts for Ward and the Vol Network, and it could be heard on one station. But thanks to the marketing mindset of Mears and the successful teams he put on the floor, Tennessee basketball was exploding in popularity.

"Nothing defined the ascendancy of basketball on the UT scene more clearly than the game's identity with John Ward's broadcasting style," said Haywood Harris, UT's long-time sports information director. "The presence of Ward at UT games was as much a part of the basketball presentation as Mears' pre-game warm-ups and Roger Peltz' unicycle act."

In the following years, Ward began to work more closely with the network, and the program increased the number of stations that carried the broadcasts to around 15 throughout the state.

The unique aspect of the Vol Network was that small, community-based radio stations carried the broadcasts. Instead of relying on larger radio stations in Nashville to broadcast the games to larger areas, the Vol Network targeted the small stations in Tennessee and created a down-home atmosphere for listeners.

"My primary goal was to involve the local stations throughout the state," Ward said. "Our philosophy was that it's not the number of stations but amount of coverage in the state. We wanted to touch every county in Tennessee."

The Vol Network came pretty close to doing that. By choosing to reach the small-town audiences through smaller stations, the network expanded and eventually had more than 50 stations carrying the sports broadcasts. Now, the Vol Network is one of the largest radio networks in the nation with affiliates in four surrounding states. The Vol Network also can be heard in 28 states after dark and worldwide on the Internet. Bob Kesling inherited the title "Voice of the Vols" in 1999 and currently pairs with former Vol basketball player Bert Bertelkamp to bring Tennessee basketball to life on the radio.

"To grow from one station to more than 50 stations was a great accomplishment," said Ward, who retired after the 1998-99 basketball season. "But the key to that was the sponsors, not me. I was only a broadcaster."

John Ward was never only a broadcaster. He was music to Vol fans' ears.

Dec. 15, 1973: UT, Temple Combine for 17 Points

It was Dec. 15, and it was the championship game of the 1973 Volunteer Classic at Stokely Athletics Center. Tennessee's high-powered offense was looking to dispose quickly of Temple to win yet another Classic title on its own floor.

Tennessee put points on the board at will. They scored 80 points in a season-opening victory in 1973 over North Texas State and 85 in a loss to Marquette. But in the two games leading up to the clash with Temple, the Vols had scored 117 and 96 points, respectively. Needless to say, fans were expecting a show.

If anything, a show was not what the fans got. Temple coach Don Casey had instructed his squad to merely pass the ball back and forth to keep the rock away from the Vols. That's exactly what they did. And with Mears' strict discipline, Tennessee wasn't about to stray from their traditional zone defense. Neither team would budge. But the fans did. They booed and complained throughout the chess match between the Vols and Owls.

When the buzzer sounded, the crowd had something to cheer about. Tennessee came away victorious 11-6. That's right, 11-6. Temple had effectively taken the ball out of Tennessee's hands, yet the Vols also had proven a point that they were sticking to their game plan.

Throughout the rest of the season, Tennessee was content at scoring in the 60s, 70s and 80s, even topping the 100-point mark against LSU to finish 17-9. But the UT-Temple fiasco will live in the record books forever. The game holds the NCAA record for fewest points scored by both teams - something that may never be broken with today's fast-paced game. The NCAA record for fewest points allowed since 1938 also goes to Tennessee (tie) for holding the Owls to a mere six points.

1980s: Vols Enjoy NCAA Success; Thompson-Boling Arena Opens

Just as Mears had done a decade and a half earlier, Don DeVoe put his stamp on Tennessee basketball in quick order. Inheriting a team built around All-America Reggie Johnson in the post and Terry Crosby and freshman Gary Carter at the wings, the 37-year-old former Ohio State player soon put whatever doubts there may have been about his appointment to rest. In that first season of 1978-79, DeVoe achieved a number of "firsts" for a Tennessee cage coach.

That first DeVoe team posted an overall record of 21-12 and a regular-season SEC mark of 12-6, good for the runner-up spot. That happened to be the season when the postseason conference tournament was revived after a 27-year hiatus, and when the Vols beat Kentucky 75-69 in the finals, it was the first conference tourney title for Tennessee since 1943. And since his team had swept the Wildcats in regular-season play, DeVoe became the first Vol skipper ever to beat the Wildcats three times in one campaign. The tourney championship also put the team in the NCAA playoffs, and when the Vols dusted off Eastern Kentucky 97-81 in the first round of play in Murfreesboro, Tenn., he became the first UT coach ever to record an NCAA Tournament victory. The Vols then lost in the second round to Notre Dame, but it had been a storied maiden season for the tall man from the Buckeye state.

The good times rolled on. With such standout performers as Carter, Howard Wood and All-American forward Dale Ellis leading the attack, DeVoe's first five teams all participated in NCAA tourney play, all of them winning first-round games before being later eliminated. The 1981 team advanced to the NCAA Tournament's Sweet Sixteen before being eliminated 62-48 by Virginia and college player of the year Ralph Sampson. The best of the lot, 1981-82, won the school's seventh SEC title and posted a 20-10 record. That team felt just shy of upsetting powerful Virginia, led by Sampson, in an NCAA second-round game at Indianapolis, Ind., losing 54-51.

The 1983-84 team went 21-14 overall and went three rounds deep into NIT tournament play, and the 1984-85 team went 22-15 and reached the NIT's semifinals before losing to Indiana at Madison Square Garden. But after seven post-season tourney appearances in as many seasons, the DeVoe program suddenly made a sharp downward turn with two consecutive losing seasons in 1985-86 and 1986-87. But there were still bright spots. Guard Tony White scored 51 points in a game against Auburn in 1987, bettering by one point an old school single-game scoring record set by Ron Widby against LSU 20 years earlier.

The 1987-88 team turned things around with a 16-13 record and an NIT appearance, and when the 1988-89 team went 19-11 to get the Volunteers back into the NCAA playoffs, the program seemed to be moving in the right direction. But an 84-68 loss to West Virginia at Greensboro, N.C., in the first round of play sealed DeVoe's doom. After an 11-year tenure that had produced a 204-137 record, one SEC championship, one SEC tourney title, six NCAA playoff appearances and three trips to the NIT, DeVoe resigned.

In a way, DeVoe was a victim of his own accomplishments. The rousing successes of his early years, combined with Mears' long run, had raised expectations among Tennessee basketball fans. Overflow crowds at Stokely Center had sparked a drive for a new facility, and in the 1987-88 season the Vols moved into one of the most palatial college basketball homes in the country. The $30 million, 24,535-seat Thompson-Boling Arena and Assembly Center. It was named after philanthropist B. Ray Thompson and then-UT president Ed Boling, and it signaled the school's commitment to competitive excellence.

Vols Open New Arena on River

No one ever thought the Tennessee Volunteers would outgrow Stokely Athletics Center. The 12,700-seat arena was gigantic compared to the previous basketball arenas that the Vols called home. But with a winning basketball team and loads of excitement surrounding the program, a new basketball arena was inevitable.

Work began to raise money for a new and larger basketball facility. There was one goal for the new arena - make it larger than any arena in the SEC. In the early 1980s, Kentucky's Rupp Arena was tops in the SEC with its 23,000 seats. The big question was if an arena of that size would be large enough for the Vols. The demand for Tennessee basketball tickets was outrageous, and school officials were concerned.

The spark for the fire was an anonymous gift of $5 million. That was followed by $5 million in private UT donations, a $7 million pledge from the state of Tennessee, $10 million from Knox County and $3 million in ticket and parking revenue. The ball was officially rolling.

Everything, however, came to a screeching halt after work on the arena had already begun. The Kansas contractor, who had obtained the contract with a bid of $23 million, pulled out after multiple delays had pushed the completion date back several times. A Nashville contractor took over the responsibilities, and the new 24,535-seat arena was completed for the 1987-88 season.

It was discovered that B. Ray Thompson was the man responsible for the original donation for construction, and he was convinced to have his name attached to the new arena. However, the only way he would comply was if then-UT President Edward J. Boling's name was attached also. So, on Sept. 25, 1987, the new basketball facility was officially named the Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena.

The largest on-campus basketball-only facility in the nation, Thompson-Boling Arena opened its doors to the Vols in good fashion when Tennessee beat Marquette 82-56 before 25,272 people. An arena-record crowd of 25,610 showed up Jan. 21, 1989, when UT hosted Kentucky.

Houston Sets UT Scoring Mark; Vols Return to NCAA Tournament

Ironically, UT's hoops fortunes slumped badly in these luxurious new surroundings. DeVoe's successor, Wade Houston, was never able to get the program rolling. Houston, an Alcoa, Tenn., native who had played at Louisville and served as an assistant coach there, was warmly welcomed in his pioneer role as UT's first black head coach. He was enormously popular on the personal level, but he was able to post only two winning records in five seasons, and after a 5-22 campaign in 1993-94, he was replaced by Kevin O'Neill.

Even so, the name Houston still stands tall in UT history. The coach's son, Allan Houston, rewrote the Volunteer scoring record book during his four years under his father's tutelage, 1989-93. A velvet-match guard, he zoomed past Grunfeld to set the school career mark with 2,801 points and also set records in single-season scoring, field goals and 3-point goals. The younger Houston led his dad's teams to NIT appearances in 1990 and 1992, both ventures ending in second-round losses. Houston's successor, O'Neill, was a much fiercer sideline coach than his laid-back predecessor. O'Neill had enjoyed great success at Marquette, where he had won a reputation as a standout recruiter and defensive specialist. He took over the Vols program when its stock was at a very low ebb, and was not able to turn the program around in regard to wins and losses. Of his three Volunteer teams, only one, 1995-96, managed to break even during the regular season, 14-14, before suffering an NIT opening-round loss to the College of Charleston at Thompson-Boling Arena on a bitterly-cold March evening. But he did make headway in recruiting, and when he departed to take the head coaching job at Northwestern after the 1996-97 season, he left behind a healthy crop of young players.

Jerry Green's initial season of 20-9 in 1997-98 was the best for a first-year Volunteer cage coach since Emmett Lowery's 20-5 record in 1947-48. And it ended on a high note when the Vols won their way into the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1989. Even an overtime loss to Illinois State at the Arco Arena in Sacramento, Calif., in the opening round could not rub the shine off Tennessee's best season in a decade. A South Carolina native who had a successful tenure as the head coach at Oregon and as Roy Williams' top assistant at Kansas, Green seemed to strike the right chord among players and fans alike with his down-home style. And his first-year success didn't end with the season. His signing of Cleveland, Tenn., high school superstar Vincent Yarbrough was perhaps Tennessee's greatest recruiting coup since Grunfeld and King.

Under Green's direction, Tennessee continued to achieve milestones for the program during the 1998-99 season in which the Vols went 21-9. The Vols returned to the NCAA Tournament, giving UT its first back-to-back bids since 1982-83, and won their first NCAA tourney game since 1983. The Vols won their last six SEC games, including a season-ending showdown with Kentucky to win their first SEC Eastern Division crown since divisional play started in 1992. UT's 21 wins were the most for the Vols since 1985 and just one short of the school's single-season record. Tennessee's season sweep of arch-rivals Kentucky and Vanderbilt also were cause for celebration. The Vols' win at Lexington was the first at Rupp Arena in 20 years.

Vols Run for 1991 SEC Tournament Title

After enjoying peaks of success in the 1970s and '80s, the Tennessee Volunteers hit a treacherous valley in the early 1990s. Despite a tremendous scoring threat in Allan Houston (23.7 points) and a sharp-shooter in Lang Wiseman (13.2 points), the Vols fell on hard times during the 1990-91 season.

Tennessee began the season red-hot, winning five of its first six games. However, the Vols would only win four more games the rest of the season. Losing streaks highlighted the schedule, as the Vols saw consecutive streaks hit three, four and five games, as well as a seven-game losing streak to end the regular season. Tennessee won four straight during the first six games but never could win back-to-back games again. Wins over Florida, No. 19 LSU and Vanderbilt gave the Vols a 3-15 record in the SEC and placed them in a tie for eighth heading into the SEC Tournament in Nashville.

In the first round, Tennessee avenged two close losses to Mississippi with a 94-85 win over the Rebels. It was an upset, but no one was searching for a Cinderella slipper until the Vols upset No. 18 Mississippi State 87-70 in the second round. An underrated Tennessee team was having its way with the conference's best teams, and the magic ride continued with an 85-65 thrashing of Georgia in the semifinals.

The same Tennessee team that had won only three conference games in the regular season had just won three consecutive conference games in three straight days. They were the talk of the tournament, and they were looking to write a happy ending to the fairy tale. The underdog Volunteer teers met No. 24 Alabama in the finals of the SEC Tournament, and the Crimson Tide washed away Tennessee's hopes of completing the dream with an 88-69 victory.

Tennessee ended the season with a 12-22 record in 1991. There wasn't much to cheer about other than an appearance in the conference tournament finals. But for three consecutive nights, the Vols were the Cinderella of the SEC Tournament, dreaming of an invitation to "The Big Dance."

2000s: Vols Start New Millenium with Regular Postseason Appearances

UT continued its return to the national spotlight with the dawn of the new century. The Vols began the new millennium as a consistent name in national polls and with a pair of trips to the NCAA Tournament.

The 2000 season was one of the most successful in school history, with the Vols winning a school-record 26 games and advancing to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. UT won a share of its eighth SEC title and its second straight SEC Eastern Division crown. Not only did the Vols win 20 games for the third consecutive season, but they did so faster (23 games) than any other team in school history. They spent the entire season ranked in the top 25, reaching as high as No. 5, and finished the season ranked 11th in the final Associated Press poll.

The 2001 season saw the Vols ranked No. 9 in the Associated Press preseason poll, and they climbed as high as No. 4 during the year. The No. 4 ranking tied for the highest in school history. For the fourth straight year, the Vols won 20 games, finishing the season with a 22-11 record. At the end of the regular season, UT made its fourth trip to the NCAA Tournament in as many years, bowing to Charlotte in the first round.

Buzz Peterson was named the 16th head coach in school history on April 4, 2001, following the resignation of Jerry Green after the season. Peterson, who attended UT football games while growing up in Asheville, N.C., came to Knoxville after leading Tulsa to a 26-11 record and the NIT championship.

In his four seasons in Knoxville, Peterson led the Vols to a 61-59 overall record and appearances in the National Invitation Tournament in 2003 and 2004.

Ron Slay, who missed the second half of his junior season with a knee injury, returned to the Vol lineup in 2003 to lead the Southeastern Conference in scoring with 21.2 points per game and was named the league's Player of the Year.

In 2005, freshman guard Chris Lofton took the league by storm by making 93 3-pointers, the most-ever by a freshman in the Southeastern Conference. His 46.5 shooting from behind the 3-point arc led the SEC and ranked fourth nationally.

On March 28, 2005, Bruce Pearl took over the reins of the Tennessee program just days after leading UW-Milwaukee to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament.

Pearl made his presence felt in his first season in Knoxville, leading the Vols to the 2006 SEC Eastern Division championship with a 12-4 league record and a 22-8 overall mark. The Vols received a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament, the highest seeding in school history.

After the season, the honors came rolling in. Pearl was named the Associated Press SEC Coach of the Year and also was a finalist for the Naismith Trophy Men's College Coach of the Year in addition to earning national coach of the year honors from The Sporting News and CBS Sportsline.com.

Lofton rewrote Tennessee's single-season record books in 2005-06 with his 3-point shooting on his way to earning consensus first-team All-SEC honors and several All-American awards. The sophomore broke school records for 3-pointers made (114), 3-pointers attempted (261) and 3-pointers per game (3.80 3pg). His 114 3-pointers in 2005-06 were the second-most in Southeastern Conference history.

Tennessee's second season under Pearl's guidance produced the second-most wins in school history and one of the most memorable NCAA Tournament runs in school history. The Vols completed the 2006-07 campaign with a 24-11 overall record, and their 10-6 SEC mark was tied for the second-best in the league. In the first round of the NCAA Tournament, the Vols tied a school scoring record in defeating Long Beach State 121-86. UT held on for a 77-74 win over Virginia in the second round before falling to eventual national runner-up Ohio State in the Sweet Sixteen.

Lofton was named the 2007 Associated Press SEC Player of the Year and was a consensus second-team All-America selection after leading the conference with 20.8 points and 3.42 3-pointers per game/team.

Pearl's third season in Knoxville produced a school-record for wins with a 31-5 overall mark, and the Vols won their first outright SEC title since 1967 with a 14-2 league record. Tennessee spent most of the season ranked in the top 10 and achieved the program's first No. 1 ranking after a 66-62 win at then-No. 1 Memphis in late February.

Tennessee advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive year with wins over American and Butler before falling to Louisville in the Regional Semifinals.

Lofton earned second-team All-American honors for the third time in his career. He finished his career with 2,131 points, and his 431 3-pointers were the most in SEC history and ranked third all-time in the NCAA. Tyler Smith joined Lofton in garnering first-team All-SEC honors, and JaJuan Smith was a second-team pick. Bruce Pearl was named SEC Coach of the Year and was honored as national coach of the year by the Adolph Rupp Cup.

In 2008-09, Pearl again led the Vols to an SEC Eastern Division title, a 20-win season and a berth in the NCAA Tournament. The Big Orange finished the year 21-13 (10-6 SEC) and became the first program in SEC history to finish ahead of Kentucky in the league standings for four straight seasons.

Chris Lofton Wins His Biggest Battle

Chris Lofton beat everything thrown his way during his four-year career at Tennessee, and he often did it with people lining up to tell him he couldn't.

But the toughest battle he faced at Tennessee was not resurrecting the basketball program or quieting the doubters who thought he couldn't be a producer on a major Division I basketball team.

It was something much worse, much more vicious and much more devastating than any challenge the simple game of basketball can provide.

It was cancer.

And in true Lofton fashion, he beat it.

It was already a bad night when Lofton and his parents were taken into a San Antonio hotel room mere hours after the Vols had fallen to Ohio State in the Sweet 16 in 2007. In the room, Lofton was told that one of the randomly-administered NCAA drug tests had come back positive.

The test had come back showing high levels of beta hCG. It could mean Lofton was using steroids, or it could be an early warning sign of cancer.

It was the latter, and six days after the Ohio State game, Lofton had surgery to remove a cancerous tumor.

He began radiation treatments on April 25, 2007, that left him cancer-free, but they also drained 15 pounds of muscle off his body and put him far behind the curve in getting ready for his senior season.

Lofton was not going to let cancer stand in the way of his senior year, a season that was predicted to be one the best in school history as he turned down an opportunity to redshirt.

The season turned out to be everything hoped for. UT achieved its first No. 1 ranking in history, had a school-record 31 wins and won the SEC title.

But the face of the team was not producing on the levels people had expected. Lofton's face had adorned the cover of Sports Illustrated, but he was not putting up numbers to match his junior campaign, during which he was named SEC Player of the Year after averaging 20.8 ppg.

Lofton started the season shooting just 34 percent from the field and had everyone questioning if something was wrong with him.

It turns out the only thing that matched Lofton's work ethic was his ability to keep a secret. The select group of people who knew about his cancer didn't include any teammates.

"I wanted to deal with it on my terms," Lofton said. "I didn't want it to be a distraction for our team. I knew if it came out, everything would change. I didn't want it that way."

So Lofton quietly led his team, with a 15.9-point average, to another Sweet Sixteen appearance. In doing so, he shot 49 percent from 3-point range the rest of the regular season, returning to the Lofton every SEC opponent had feared from previous encounters.

He finished his career with an SEC-record 431 3-pointers made and was fourth on UT's all-time scoring list with 2,131 career points. But he will forever mean more to UT than simply numbers.

"You look at what he has gone through ..." head coach Bruce Pearl said. "He's still going to be remembered as one of the best players to wear orange.

2010s:

Transition on Rocky Top;

Pearl, Martin, Tyndall Precede Barnes

In terms of NCAA Tournament success, the 2009-10 season was the best in Tennessee's storied history, as the Volunteers fell just one-point shy of the Final Four.

After coach Bruce Pearl led the Vols to an 11-5 conference record and a third-place finish in the SEC Eastern Division, Tennessee began its NCAA Tournament journey in Providence, R.I. Led by seniors Wayne Chism, Bobby Maze, J.P. Prince and Brian Williams, the sixth-seeded Vols defeated San Diego State and then Ohio University to advance to the Sweet Sixteen for the third time in the Pearl era.

The Edward Jones Dome in Kansas City, Mo., was UT's next tournament stop. And a 76-73 come-from-behind victory over No. 2-seeded Ohio State and National Player of the Year Evan Turner lifted Tennessee into the Elite Eight for the first time in school history.

Two days later, the Midwest Regional Final saw UT tip off against fifth-seeded Michigan State. After surviving a 14-1 Spartans run and charging back from an eight-point deficit in the second half, Tennessee forged a 69-69 tie with 11 seconds left. But MSU's Raymar Morgan made the game-winning free throw to end the Vols' season at 28-9.

Pearl Era Ends After Six Seasons

The 2010-11 season saw Tennessee make its sixth consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance, but the entire year was clouded by an ongoing NCAA investigation.

Head coach Bruce Pearl had provided the NCAA with "false and misleading information" in the course of its official inquiry prior to the season, and Southeastern Conference commissioner Mike Slive had suspended Pearl for Tennessee's first eight regular-season SEC games (associate head coach Tony Jones led the Vols to a 5-3 mark during that span).

After a disappointing and lopsided loss to Michigan in the NCAA Tournament's round of 64, UT athletics director Mike Hamilton relieved Pearl and his staff of their duties on March 21, 2011.

Pearl was later given a three-year "show cause" penalty by the NCAA, while each of his full-time assistant coaches received a one-year penalty.

Tennessee under Pearl averaged more than 24 wins per season, earned the nation's No. 1 ranking for the first time in program history, boasted an average year-end RPI of 17.2 and never failed to make the NCAA Tournament — tying a school-record with six consecutive berths in the Big Dance.

Martin Maintains UT's Winning Ways

On March 28, 2011, Tennessee named Cuozzo Martin the 18th head coach in program history.

The East St. Louis, Ill., native starred at Purdue under legendary coach Gene Keady before being selected in the 1995 NBA Draft.

Martin's arrival at UT was preceded by three successful seasons as head coach at Missouri State (2009-11).

In his first year with the Vols, the Big Orange were picked in the pre-season to finish 11th in the then-12-team SEC. But Martin led Tennessee to a 10-6 conference record and a second-place SEC finish.

The 2012-13 season saw Martin lead Tennessee to 20 wins, as well as victories in each of the team's final nine regular-season games (for the second straight year).

Martin also joined Jerry Green and Bruce Pearl as the only UT head coaches to lead the Vols to victories over at least three AP Top-25 teams in each of their first two seasons on Rocky Top. Those triumphs included wins over Wichita State, eighth-ranked Florida and a 30-point victory over Kentucky that marked UT's largest-ever margin of victory against the Wildcats.

In Martin's third and final season at Tennessee, the Vols totaled 24 wins, earned the program's first NCAA Tournament berth since 2011 and advanced all the way from the "First Four" in Dayton to the Sweet Sixteen.

That team was led by seniors Jeronne Maymon, Jordan McRae and Antonio Barton as well as junior Jarnell Stokes. McRae and Stokes both were selected in the 2014 NBA Draft after the season, while Maymon and Barton each signed professional basketball contracts overseas.

Martin accepted the head coaching position at Cal in April 2014 and was replaced at Tennessee by Southern Miss head coach Donnie Tyndall later that month.

Tyndall's Short Stay Sets Stage for Barnes Era

Tyndall's 2014-15 Tennessee squad was among the youngest and least experienced in the nation — boasting only four returning scholarship players and just one player who had ever scored in double figures in an SEC game. Due to injuries, the Vols entered SEC play with just nine healthy scholarship players.

Despite its challenges, that team finished 16-16 overall, and its 10th place SEC finish was three spots better than where the team was picked to finish in the preseason. The Vols defeated a pair of top-20 opponents in No. 15 Butler and No. 19 Arkansas, and senior point guard Josh Richardson earned first-team All-SEC honors from both the Associated Press and the league's head coaches before being drafted 40th overall by the Miami Heat.

Tennessee terminated Tyndall's contract on March 27, 2015. And just four days later, on March 31, Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics Dave Hart hired legendary head coach Rick Barnes to lead the Volunteers program.

In Barnes' 28 previous seasons as a head coach — 17 of which he spent at Texas — his teams reached the NCAA Tournament 22 times.

Zora Clevenger

A football coach by trade, Zora Clevenger was one of the first coaches in school history to simultaneously hold the head coaching jobs for the basketball and football teams. In five seasons as the basketball coach, he led the Vols to a 50-14 record. The 1904 Indiana University graduate's winning percentage of .781 still rates as the best in Tennessee history. On the gridiron, he recorded a 26-15 record in five seasons and led the Vols to the 1914 SIAA championship.

The Muncie, Ind., native got his coaching start at his alma mater in 1905 with a 5-12 record. A year later he led the Hoosier cagers to a 7-9 mark. Later, Clevenger coached four seasons (1917-20) at Kansas State Agricultural College, where he posted a 54-16 record on the hardwood. Following administrative positions at the University of Missouri and Nebraska Wesleyan, Clevenger returned to Indiana where he was named the director of athletics. In 1968 he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame as a hallfack.

Blair Gullion

Considered one of the nation's top basketball tacticians, Blair Gullion (pronounced: GULL-yin) took over the Vols before the 1935-36 season and promptly won the school's first SEC championship in any sport. The first full-time basketball coach in school history, Gullion posted a 47-19 (.712) record in his three seasons in Knoxville.

A precise tactician who had written numerous textbooks on the game, Gullion ran a tightly patterned, multiple-screening offense that caused defenses to get lost. Described by one of his star players, Floyd "Biggy" Marshall, as a person who "lived, dreamed, ate and slept basketball," Gullion gave the Vols their first glimpse of national basketball prominence. Two times he led the Vols to the SEC championship game, winning it in 1936. Under his tutelage, Harry Anderson became the school's first All-American in 1936.

Just weeks prior to the 1938-39 season, Gullion abruptly left for Cornell where he stayed for several years. He also coached at Washington University at St. Louis and the University of Connecticut before retiring.

John Mauer

After Blair Gullion departed with such short notice before the 1938-39 season, John Mauer was tabbed by Major Robert Neyland as the man to take over for the popular Gullion.

Prior to coming to Tennessee, the Aurora, Ill., native proved himself as an athlete when he was named the Outstanding Athlete and Scholar in the Big Ten Conference while competing for Illinois. A college roommate of Harold "Red" Grange, Mauer was one of the first college basketball players to use the "one-hand" shot.

After college, he began his coaching career at Kentucky, where he preceded Adolph Rupp, and posted a 40-14 record in three years. In the early 1930s, he moved to Miami of Ohio, where he coached with Paul Brown and Weeb Ewbank on the gridiron and directed the Miami cagers for eight seasons.

After a shaky start in his first season, Mauer cemented his place in the hearts of Tennessee fans with a 30-29 win over Kentucky in Lexington. The Vols went on to a 14-7 overall record and a 6-5 mark in the SEC in 1939. Two years later, Mauer led UT to the first of two SEC championships over a three-year period with a 36-33 win over Kentucky in the SEC championship game.

In his eight seasons at Tennessee, Mauer recorded a 127-41 record. In addition to his duties with the Vol cagers, Mauer also served as an assistant football coach to Neyland and was the head baseball coach. On the gridiron, he helped lead the Vols to three SEC titles and the 1940 national championship.

Emmett Lowery

An All-American guard as a player for coach Ward Lambert at Purdue in the early 1930s, Emmett Lowery brought that same success to Tennessee. A college teammate of John Wooden, Lowery brought a tightly-patterned, fast-break offense and man-to-man defense to Knoxville. In fact, he could often be heard yelling "Pass and cut, pass and cut," from the sidelines.

Other coaches in the Southeastern Conference took notice of Lowery's mastery of the fast-breaking offense. "The Tennessee fast break under Lowery was the best I've ever seen," famed Auburn mentor Joel Eaves said. "It was beautifully patterned, beautifully executed."

In his first season at Tennessee, the gentlemanly Lowery brought the Vols their first 20-win season in school history when UT posted a 20-5 overall mark. Over a 12-year career at Tennessee, Lowery was 169-110 before leaving to pursue business opportunities in Florida. On Jan. 14, 1950, he directed the Vols to a stunning 66-53 win over Kentucky, ending the Wildcats' 44-game conference winning streak that stretched more than five years.

In a time when many SEC schools were building newer and bigger arenas, Lowery saw Tennessee take the first steps towards building a new facility. In Lowery's final season, Tennessee moved out of the smaller Alumni Memorial Gymnasium and into the 7,500-seat Armory-Fieldhouse. Opening night in the new facility went down to the wire, with Vols guard Kenny Coulter hitting a last-second shot to defeat a strong Wyoming team 72-71.

John Sines

After eight years on the bench as an assistant coach to Emmett Lowery, John Sines became the first, and still the only, assistant to be promoted to head coach at Tennessee.

Like his predecessor on the UT bench, Sines was a product of Ward Lambert's Purdue teams from the 1930s. A captain of the Boilermakers' 1938 Big Ten championship team, Sines went on to play in the National Basketball League. A forward for the Indianapolis franchise, Sines was named to the 1940 NBL All-Star Team.

His first Tennessee squad returned only Dalen Showalter from the previous year's starting lineup but finished the season 12-11. That first season was capped off with a 65-63 win at Kentucky, the Vols' first win in Lexington since 1939.

His second season was marred by eight losses by five points or less as the Vols dropped to a 10-15 record. Sines, whose Vols were rocked by scandal following the 1961 season, resigned one year later after posting a 4-19 record in 1961-62.

Although the finish of Sines' career at UT may have been disappointing, he left the school with one of best recruiting classes in its history. A.W. Davis and Bobby Hogsett spent the 1961-62 season on a freshman team that regularly defeated the varsity in practice.

Ray Mears

A showman comparable to the legendary P.T. Barnum, Ray Mears was also one of the top college basketball coaches in his era.

Mears came to Tennessee in the spring of 1962 following a successful stint at Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio, where he had a 114-22 record and won the 1961 NCAA college division championship.

Mears took just one season to reverse Tennessee's fortunes. Inheriting a team that won just four games the previous year, the Vols won 13 Mears' first year and were recording 20-win seasons within three years.

His 21-year career record of 399-135 (.747) ranked second in the nation among active coaches at the time of his retirement. In his 15 seasons at Tennessee, Mears recorded a 278-112 (.713) record. During his time in Knoxville, the Vols won 20 or more games seven times, finished third or better in the SEC in 13 of his 15 seasons and won three SEC championships (1967, 1972 and 1977).

Under Mears' direction, Tennessee made seven postseason appearances. The Vols made three NCAA Tournament appearances, two National Invitation Tournament showings and participated in the now-discontinued Collegiate Commissioners Association meet.

Nine of his players went on to earn All-American honors, including three-time first-team All-American Bernard King and two-time first-team pick Ernie Grunfeld, perhaps the most famous duo in Tennessee history. The two-time Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year (1967 and 1977) saw one of his pupils named the SEC Player of the Year four times.

Mears was the ultimate showman. Not only did his teams provide plenty of excitement on the court, but there also was plenty of excitement around the game. Just before tipoff of games, he would have his team run through a giant wooden "T" onto the court. When the starting lineups were introduced, Tennessee was one of the first schools to have the lights in the arena dimmed and a spotlight placed on the Vol player. The pregame warmups featured Harlem Globetrotter hi-jinks, including an orange and white ball during passing drills. Additionally, Mears had a student dressed in a bear costume ride a unicycle and perform a pre-game act to help create a festive atmosphere at the games.

A disciplinarian and stern taskmaster who also was the consummate entertainer, Mears was a study in contrasts. While he studied statistics, poring over diagrams while plotting strategy like a military general planning an attack, Mears also created an exciting environment at games that left Tennessee fans thirsting for more.

Mears was sidelined for the 1977-78 season and decided to retire from active coaching. During his absence, assistant coach Cliff Wettig stepped up as acting head coach for that season.

Mears passed away on June 11, 2007.

Don DeVoe

When Tennessee began its search for a replacement for Ray Mears, Don DeVoe's name was one of the first to be mentioned.

A successful mentor at Virginia Tech, where he won an NIT championship, and at Wyoming where he quickly turned the Cowboys into one of the top Western Athletic Conference teams, DeVoe was given the task of keeping Tennessee as one of the top teams in the Southeastern Conference.

A 1964 graduate of Ohio State, DeVoe was a member of OSU's 1962 squad that featured Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek and finished runner-up in the NCAA Tournament. He later served as an assistant coach to Bobby Knight at Army. It was there that DeVoe learned the nuances of the sticky man-to-man defense that he became known for throughout his career.

DeVoe's first season at Tennessee was met with instant success. Taking a team that had struggled to an 11-16 record in 1977-78, he directed the Vols to a 21-12 record, an SEC Tournament championship and an appearance in the Sweet Sixteen in the NCAA Tournament.

Behind SEC Player of the Year Dale Ellis, DeVoe's 1981-82 squad was one of his best in Knoxville. The Vols tied with Kentucky for the SEC championship on their way to a 20-10 record and yet another NCAA Tournament appearance.

A three-time selection as the Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year, DeVoe led the Vols to nine postseason appearances in his 11 seasons in Knoxville. UT's streak of five consecutive NCAA Tournaments (1979-83) was tied for the best in school history at that time. The second-winnest coach in UT history, DeVoe's 204-137 record trails only Ray Mears' 278 wins.

DeVoe left Tennessee following the 1988-89 season and spent the next campaign as an interim coach at Florida. There, he led the Gators to a 7-21 record. After taking over the helm of Navy's basketball program in 1992, DeVoe won his 500th career game during the 2002-03 season. He retired from coaching following the 2003-04 campaign.

Wade Houston

Denny Crum's top assistant coach at Louisville for 13 seasons, Wade Houston was named the 13th coach in Tennessee history prior to the 1989-90 campaign.

Houston, who grew up in Alcoa, Tenn., just 14 miles south of the Tennessee campus, helped Crum direct Louisville to 11 NCAA Tournaments, four Final Fours and two (1980 and 1986) national championships.

Houston's first season at Tennessee presented the challenge of replacing all five starters from a team that had gone 19-11 and received an invitation to the NCAA Tournament. In that rookie campaign, the Vols fashioned an impressive 16-14 record and appeared in the National Invitation Tournament.

In 1991, the Vols struggled to a 12-22 record but made an improbable run through the Southeastern Conference Tournament in Nashville. Drawing the ninth seed in the tournament, the Vols defeated Mississippi in the first round before upsetting top-seeded Mississippi State in the second round. After beating Georgia in the semifinals, an exhausted UT squad fell to Alabama in the championship game.

The 1992 season saw the Vols rebound to go 19-15, finish third in the Southeastern Conference and advance to the National Invitation Tournament. The next season, Houston's son, Allan, became the school's all-time leading scorer with 2,801 career points and was the 11th overall pick in the NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons.

In his five seasons at Tennessee, Houston recorded a 65-90 record while leading the Vols to two appearances in postseason tournaments. He resigned his position late in the 1994 season.

Kevin O'Neill

Tennessee basketball fans got a preview of the 14th coach in school history when Kevin O'Neill brought his Marquette squad to Knoxville to battle Duke in the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament. After leading at halftime, Marquette fell to the eventual national runner-up, but made a lasting impression on Vol fans.

The high-energy O'Neill, whose wit, candor and basketball insight captivated fans around the Southeast, was charged with restoring the Vols to national prominence. With a legendary work ethic, O'Neill hit the recruiting trail to fill the Vols' roster with top players. One of his first recruiting scores came when Nashville's Brandon Wharton turned down several football scholarship offers to ink with the Vols prior to the 1995-96 season. Then, during the summer of 1995, McDonald's All-American Charles Hathaway committed to play for O'Neill's Vols. That commitment laid the groundwork for another prep All-American, C.J. Black, and eventually Isaiah Victor.

On the court, O'Neill's Vols used a stifling defense to frustrate opponents. In his three seasons at Tennessee, O'Neill recorded a 36-47 record and directed the Vols to an appearance in the 1996 National Invitation Tournament. Although he didn't get to enjoy the full fruits of his recruiting success before bolting to take a job at Northwestern following the 1996-97 season, O'Neill laid the groundwork to return Tennessee to the national power it was two decades earlier under Ray Mears.

After three seasons at Northwestern, O'Neill spent time as an NBA assistant coach. His post-Northwestern head-coaching stints included tenures with the NBA's Toronto Raptors (2003-04), the University of Arizona (interim coach in 2007-08) and University of Southern California (2009-13).

Jerry Green

Jerry Green came to Tennessee prior to the 1997-98 season fresh from resurrecting a floundering Oregon program and taking the Ducks to NCAA and NIT tournament berths. In his four seasons in Knoxville, he achieved the same level of success, and then some, with the Vols.

Green's first Tennessee squad in 1997-98 achieved the 20-victory plateau, his second won the Eastern Division championship of the Southeastern Conference and his third earned a share of the regular-season SEC crown.

His fourth year at Tennessee saw the Vols win 20 games for the fourth consecutive season and advance to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in as many years.

In four seasons at the helm of the Tennessee program, the former University of Kansas assistant coach directed the Vols to an 89-36 (.712) overall record and a 41-23 (.641) mark in SEC games. While Tennessee's school record for most wins in a season when he came to Knoxville was 22 (1985 and 1977), Green averaged 22.3 wins per year at UT.

For his efforts in guiding Tennessee to the most wins (26) in school history in 2000 and gaining a share of the SEC title for the first time since 1982, Green was named National Coach of the Year by CBS.Sportsline.

com. He also was named the District VII Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

Green's memorable achievements during his reign at UT include leading the Vols to their third-ever Sweet Sixteen appearance, guiding his teams to two straight SEC Eastern Division titles, back-to-back 12-win SEC campaigns, a school-record six-game SEC road winning streak, four consecutive 20-win seasons and four straight NCAA Tournament bids.

Buzz Peterson

A native of Asheville, N.C., whose father was a graduate of the University of Tennessee, Buzz Peterson grew up attending Vols athletic events.

Selected the North Carolina high school player of the year over Michael Jordan, he later teamed with Jordan to help lead North Carolina to the 1982 NCAA championship.

After learning the game under coaching legends such as Dean Smith, Bill Guthridge, Eddie Fogler and Roy Williams, Peterson embarked on a successful coaching career that included stops at Appalachian State, East Tennessee State, NC State and Vanderbilt before landing his first head-coaching gig at Appalachian State. After leading the Mountaineers to three Southern Conference division championships in four seasons, he moved to Tulsa where he directed the Golden Hurricane to the 2001 National Invitation Tournament title.

In four seasons at Tennessee, Peterson led the Vols to postseason appearances in 2003 and 2004 while posting a 61-59 record. In 2003 he directed the Vols to their first win over an opponent ranked in the top five in more than a decade when UT defeated fourth-ranked Florida 66-59. Several of his players earned regional and national honors under his tutelage. Ron Slay was named the SEC Player of the Year in 2003 after leading the league with 21.2 points per game. Two Vols were selected in the 2002 NBA Draft, including lottery pick Marcus Haislip.

Peterson went on to serve as head coach at Coastal Carolina (2005-07), Appalachian State (2009-10) and UNC Wilmington (2010-14).

Bruce Pearl

Having arrived on Rocky Top following successful head coaching stints at Division II Southern Indiana (1992-2001) and Wisconsin-Milwaukee (2001-05), Bruce Pearl presided over the most successful six-year period in the storied history of Tennessee basketball.

With the longtime Dr. Tom Davis pupil patrolling the bench, the Volunteers pushed aside perennial powerhouses Kentucky and Florida while asserting themselves as the Southeastern Conference's winningest program during his tenure.

Tennessee under Pearl averaged more than 24 wins per season, earned the nation's No. 1 ranking for the first time in program history, boasted an average year-end RPI of 17.2 and never failed to make the NCAA Tournament—tying a school-record with six consecutive berths in the Big Dance.

In SEC annals, Pearl's 145 victories rank 31st all-time, while his .704 win percentage stands as the ninth-best in league history. Such dominant success within one of the nation's premier college basketball conference also yielded three SEC Eastern Division titles and the 2008 regular-season SEC championship.

With Pearl at the helm, Tennessee had a record of .500 or better against 10 of its 11 SEC rivals, and UT's 65 regular-season SEC wins from 2006-11 led the league.

Tennessee ranked in the top five nationally in average home attendance in each of Pearl's six seasons, and he also lured a pair of top-10 recruiting classes to UT.

The Vols under Pearl sought out non-conference matchups with the most prominent teams and players on the collegiate landscape. During his time in Knoxville, the Vols defeated Kevin Durant and Texas, Derrick Rose and Memphis, Greg Monroe and Georgetown, Matt Bouldin and Gonzaga, Sherron Collins and Luke Aldrich of Kansas and Ohio State with National Player of the Year Evan Turner. That's in addition to logging SEC wins against future NBA standouts such as John Wall, Ronnie Brewer, Glen Davis, Al Horford and Rajon Rondo.

Twice in the Sharon, Mass., native's last four years as coach, UT landed in the top 10 in the final national rankings, with a high of No. 5 after logging a school-record 31 wins in 2007-08.

Cuonzo Martin

Cuonzo Martin led the Volunteers to a 63-41 record during his three years guiding the UT program.

The East St. Louis, Ill., native starred at Purdue under legendary coach Gene Keady before being selected in the 1995 NBA Draft.

Martin's arrival at UT was preceded by three successful seasons as head coach at Missouri State (2009-11).

In his first year with the Vols, the Big Orange were picked in the pre-season to finish 11th in the then-12-team SEC. But Martin led Tennessee to a 10-6 conference record and a second-place SEC finish.

The 2012-13 season saw Martin lead Tennessee to 20 wins, as well as victories in each of the team's final nine regular-season games (for the second straight year).

Martin also joined Jerry Green and Bruce Pearl as the only UT head coaches to lead the Vols to victories over at least three AP Top-25 teams in each of their first two seasons on Rocky Top. Those triumphs included wins over Wichita State, eighth-ranked Florida and a 30-point victory over Kentucky that marked UT's largest-ever margin of victory against the Wildcats.

In Martin's third and final season at Tennessee, the Volunteers totaled 24 wins, earned the program's first NCAA Tournament berth since 2011 and advanced all the way from the "First Four" in Dayton to the Sweet Sixteen.

He accepted the head coaching position at Cal in April 2014. After three seasons with the Golden Bears, he was named head coach at Missouri in March 2017.

Donnie Tyndall

After averaging more than 21 wins during his eight-year head coaching career—including an unprecedented 56-17, championship-winning two-year run at Southern Miss—Donnie Tyndall was tabbed to lead the Tennessee program on April 22, 2014.

Tyndall's lone Tennessee squad was among the youngest and least experienced in the nation—boasting only four returning scholarship players and just one player who had ever scored in double figures in an SEC game. Due to injuries, the Vols entered SEC play with just nine healthy scholarship players.

Despite its challenges, that 2014-15 Tennessee team finished 16-16 overall, and its 10th place SEC finish was three spots better than where the team was picked to finish in the preseason. The Vols defeated a pair of top-20 opponents in No. 15 Butler and No. 19 Arkansas, and senior point guard Josh Richardson earned first-team All-SEC honors from both the Associated Press and the league's head coaches and was selected 40th overall by the Miami Heat in the 2015 NBA Draft.

Tyndall is now an assistant coach with Raptors 905 of the NBA G League.

Rick Barnes
2015-Present

Tennessee's fortunes on the hardwood have never looked brighter, as Rick Barnes, the most decorated and accomplished head coach in school history, was handed the reins to the men's basketball program on March 31, 2015.

The marriage of Barnes' Hall of Fame-worthy résumé—highlighted by more than 600 previous career Division I head coaching wins, the ninth-most among all active coaches—and Tennessee's world-class facilities, fervent fan base and outstanding athletic and academic resources, sets the Volunteers on a course to consistently compete for championships.

Barnes first Tennessee squad featured a roster with an average height of 6-4, and the Vols lost their leading scorer, senior point guard Kevin Punter Jr., to injury in mid February. Despite those challenges, Barnes guided the 2015-16 Volunteers to 15 wins and impressive victories over rivals Florida, Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

In 2016-17, Barnes took another undersized roster that featured only three upperclassmen and exceeded preseason expectations, as well as the previous year's overall and SEC win totals.

Bill Gibbs
Assistant Coach, 1962-64

When Ray Mears was named the head coach at Tennessee in the spring of 1962, he quickly tabbed Bill Gibbs, who was then coaching at Fairborn (Ohio) High School, as his assistant coach.

Early in their first season at UT, when Mears fell ill with physical and emotional exhaustion, it was Gibbs whom acting athletic director Bowden Wyatt asked to fill in.

After starting league play with two losses in their first three SEC games, things were not looking good for the Vols, as they had to travel to league-power Kentucky. Behind All-American Cotton Nash, the Wildcats raced to a 15-point lead, but the Vols rallied behind Tommy Wilson's 28 points for a 78-69 upset.

The Vols struggled for consistency during the 1962-63 season but managed some big wins under Gibbs. UT also knocked off league-leader and ninth-ranked Auburn, and then completed the season sweep of Kentucky with a 63-55 win in Knoxville.

Mears returned for the 1963-64 season, and Gibbs went back to his role as assistant after building a reputation as one of the bright young coaches in the field.

Gibbs, in his second season at Tennessee, had just finished giving the scouting report for the Vols' game at Florida on the morning of Feb. 3, 1964, when he boarded a plane for another scouting assignment against Auburn. The small commuter plane bound for Jacksonville, Fla., crashed shortly after takeoff, killing Gibbs and the eight others aboard.

His name lived on for several decades at the University of Tennessee, where one of the dormitories that was used by several student-athletes, Gibbs Hall, bore his name. The building was finally razed in 2014 to make room for a new, more modern residence hall.

HISTORICAL HOME VENUES

The game of basketball was a dozen years old before UT students organized their first class teams in 1903; and Naismith's brainchild was almost 20 years old when the first UT varsity five went into action.

The first UT players soon discovered that the YMCA gym was woefully lacking as a place for the fast-paced game of basketball. The court in the tiny arena was wall-to-wall. Spectators hung from an encircling balcony, built to accommodate a track. So, after two seasons of cramped activities, the Vols made their first of several moves to larger and better arenas.

In 1988, the Vols opened the 24,535-seat Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena. Oddly enough, the new arena could hold all of the seats in the previous gyms; and, in inflated dollars, it cost five times as much as all the others combined.

Through nearly 100 years of Volunteer basketball, these previous local arenas provided a decisive home-court advantage. The home-game record from 1909 to 1987 stood at 677-172, a winning edge of .800.

JEFFERSON HALL

UT YMCA Gymnasium 1909-12 12-6 (.666)

The UT YMCA Gymnasium served as the Vols' home from 1909-12. The building, which was built at a cost of $18,000, gave the school its first adequate central heating system and bathtub while also providing a gym, bowling alley, ball cage, reading room, assembly hall and a few dormitory rooms. The Vols won their first home game, a 55-16 decision over TSD on Jan. 29, 1909. Probably the most exciting game in the facility was its final game, when "Skeet" Klein hit a shot at the buzzer to give the Vols a 36-35 win over the Knoxville YMCA Tigers in front of a packed house of 200 fans.

Knoxville YMCA Gymnasium 1913-22 53-9-1 (.856)

As the need for more seating grew, officials made arrangements to practice and play games at the downtown YMCA. Because the Vols shared the facility with their rivals, the Knoxville YMCA Tigers, Tennessee was only able to practice on the court three days a week. When not able to practice downtown, the Vols were forced back to the UT YMCA Gym. However, the downtown facility allowed more than double the seating capacity than the campus building. The Vols were 53-9-1 in 10 years downtown.

Jefferson Hall 1923-32 72-27 (.727)

Built in early 1922 at a cost of $19,095.01, Jefferson Hall was a multi-purpose facility that allowed the Vols to move back on campus in time for the 1922-23 season. Collapsible bleachers from Shields-Watkins Field were brought into the building after football season to allow seating for 1,500 fans. An improvement over past arenas, Jefferson Hall created problems with a stage and a court in the facility and heating being a difficult matter. Tennessee capped off a decade of play in the building, which looked like a wooden barn, with a 27-22 win over Vanderbilt on Feb. 19, 1932. After being converted to a National Guard Armory, the wooden building caught fire on Dec. 20, 1934, providing a spectacular fireworks display from the National Guard's ammunition supply.

Alumni Memorial

Auditorium-Gymnasium 1933-58 231-61 (.823)

Alumni Memorial Auditorium-Gymnasium was built in 1932 to recognize alumni who lost their lives in World War I and the Spanish-American War. Almost the size of a football field, it was one of the largest buildings on campus. Upon its completion, UT's games were moved to the arena, and the athletic department offices were moved from Carrick Hall. A multi-purpose facility that served the needs of the academic, athletic and entertainment departments of the University, the building held 3,200 fans for basketball games and 3,800 for stage performances. The grand opening of the arena saw the Vols defeat Lincoln Memorial University 41-18 on Dec. 17, 1932, just one week after the formation of the Southeastern Conference. In 1936, UT stars Harry Anderson and Biggy Marshall brought the school its first SEC championship when the Vols won the SEC Tournament in the building. Regarded as one of the best facilities in the entire South, Alumni Gym served as the host of the SEC Tournament four times (1936, 1937, 1939 and 1940). But as the popularity of basketball grew with Tennessee's 26-game home winning streak in the early 1940s, the Vols soon began to outgrow the building.

Armory-Fieldhouse/

Stokely Athletics Center 1959-87 321-69 (.823)

Initially built to accommodate up to 7,000 fans, Armory-Fieldhouse was designed so the arena could eventually be doubled in size. The $1.5 million structure used steel trusses that were 208 feet long and weighed 66 tons to support the roof. The building was used for several other university functions in addition to basketball games, such as commencements, occasional concerts and a speaking engagement by vice president Hubert Humphrey. The Volunteers opened the facility with a 72-71 win over Wyoming on Dec. 2, 1958.

Armory-Fieldhouse was expanded thanks in large part to a $500,000 gift from William B. Stokely, chairman of Stokely-Van Camp, Inc., of Indianapolis, that helped offset the $3 million expansion costs. Work on the expansion began in early 1966, and the larger arena was ready in time for the 1966-67 season. In the first game of the expanded facility, the Vols upset three-time defending Big Ten Conference champion Michigan 72-54 on Dec. 1, 1966. That was a sign of things to come for Ray Mears' squad, as the Vols went on to win their first 23 games in the arena, including a 14-0 home record in 1966-67.

Stokely Athletics Center served as the home for the Vols for 29 years and presided over some of the most successful teams in school history. When Thompson-Boling Arena was completed before the 1987-88 season, the Vols had an impressive 321-69 record at Stokely. After Thompson-Boling Arena became the new home of Tennessee basketball, several athletic offices were still housed in Stokely, along with ROTC offices and classrooms.

Stokely was vacated during the winter of 2012-13, and the facility was razed in the summer of 2014 to repurpose the land it occupied.

THOMPSON-BOLING ARENA

The third-largest on-campus arena in the country, Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena is one of the nation's biggest and brightest stages for college basketball.

Named for the late B. Ray Thompson and former UT President Dr. Edward J. Boling, Thompson-Boling Arena regularly hosts Tennessee men's and women's basketball and volleyball matches as well as concerts, camps, conferences and other special events throughout the year.

Ticket facilities are conveniently located on the Phillip Fulmer Way level on the west end of the building. The Tennessee men's basketball staff, along with the women's hoops staff, occupy offices in the arena on the Phillip Fulmer Way level. The arena's dining center, also located on Phillip Fulmer Way and highlighted by a McAlister's Deli, opened in 1989. It operates on a daily basis, catering to the university's staff.

Entrances to the building are located on the east and west ends, with protection from the elements provided by tucking the doors under the structure. There are a total of 132 entrance doors to the arena.

A continuous-ring concourse encircles the building permitting entrance to eight large restrooms, six concession areas and 32 portals leading to the arena. The playing floor level provides access to team dressing rooms, press work areas and storage rooms.

The distance from the playing floor to the roof is 120 feet, the equivalent of a 12-story building. The arena is 448 feet long and 310 feet wide. It contains more than 411,000 square feet of floor space and more than 17 million cubic feet of space. The structure's roof measures 142,000 square feet, which is approximately three-and-one-quarter acres. In the fall of 2008, the University of Tennessee Athletics Department unveiled Phase I of a two-phase renovation project for Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena.

The $35 million project marked the first major renovation to Thompson-Boling Arena since it opened in 1987. In that time, more than 24 million patrons have attended thousands of arena events, including basketball games, concerts, graduations and other special events.

Phase I included new seats for the entire arena, a center-hung scoreboard and concourse refurbishments, such as graphics and other amenities.

Phase I also included new luxury suites and loge seating, which were a primary funding source for much of the renovations. The 32 luxury suites are located in the north balcony of Thompson-Boling Arena. The loge area features 166 side court seats, located directly below the luxury suites and includes private adjoining hospitality areas.

Phase II also included the construction of a bridge connecting the G-10 parking garage to the arena at concourse level, and a 360-degree LED ribbon board located between the upper and lower decks also was added.

Finally, the installation of state-of-the-art LED light fixtures—first put to use in February 2014—Thompson-Boling Arena became one of the first venues in the world to feature lights that are smaller, brighter, and up to 85 percent more efficient than conventional arena metal halide lights.

The light-emitting diode fixtures use an ORNL-developed lightweight graphite foam that cools the LED, making them more efficient and reliable. This enables ninety 400-watt LED fixtures to bathe the arena's floor with 200 foot-candles per square foot, compared to the 130 foot-candles produced by the arena's 110 old 1,100-watt fixtures.

Funding for the arena renovations projects came from donors to the Campaign for Tennessee Basketball and revenue from new premium seating areas such as the north luxury suites and loge seats. The aforementioned capital projects bolstered Thompson-Boling Arena's reputation as one of the nation's premier basketball facilities.

PRATT PAVILION

Pratt Pavilion is located adjacent to Thompson-Boling Arena and houses two full-size basketball courts, one for each of Tennessee's men's and women's teams, as well as an athletic training room, a weight room, a film-study room and recruiting lounges.

Directly connected to the arena, Pratt Pavilion features convenient, ground-level parking. The 70,000-square-foot structure boasts balconies at the south side of the building which overlook the practice courts. The west facade of the building is glassed from the first floor to the second floor, allowing visibility of gallery and display areas from the street. The building is a significant element to the picturesque south entrance to the University of Tennessee campus.

The facility is named after lead donor Larry Pratt, whose love for Tennessee athletics began at a young age, when his father, Floyd, brought him to various sporting events at Neyland Stadium, Alumni Gym and Stokely Athletics Center.

In the 1990s, Pratt honored his father by creating an endowed scholarship in his name as a member of the Nathan Dougherty Society. Larry Pratt also was recognized at the 2003 Tennessee-Georgia football game for a $1 million donation to the STEP-UP Campaign.

A native of Athens, Tennessee, Pratt currently resides in McLean, Virginia. He graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1972 with a degree from the College of Business and serves as president and CEO of First Savings Mortgage Corporation, the largest private mortgage banker in Washington, D.C.

Pratt's $5 million commitment in April 2006, along with 341 other individual contributors through the Campaign for Tennessee Basketball, made Pratt Pavilion possible.

The UT Athletic Department first broke ground on the Pratt Pavilion in August 2006, and teams began practicing in the new structure on Oct. 12, 2007.

Tennessee's newest world-class basketball facility was officially unveiled and dedicated on Saturday, Jan. 19, 2008.

Both courts were completely refinished after the 2014-15 season, and the weight room was renovated and expanded to 4,350 square feet in the summer of 2016.

Select areas within Pratt Pavilion have been named in honor of other donors whose support for UT also helped make the project a reality:

- Brenda Lawson Court (women's)
  - Kathleen M. Bolze Locker Room (women's)
  - Frankie Ellis Wade Balcony
  - Kevin & Michelle Clayton Locker Room (men's)
  - John Ward Film Room

What's a Volunteer? Not your run of the mill school nickname, the proud legacy of the Volunteer calls Tennessee student-athletes to compete at an elevated standard when the stakes are highest. A Volunteer is the bravest breed of human from the boldest nation on Earth, fiercely proud to call Tennessee home whether the battle lies within its borders or in a land far away.

THE FIRST VOLUNTEERS

In the aftermath of the Declaration of Independence, Americans were determined to create a nation that was free of the evils that had required them to resort to revolution. Among these was the fear of a large standing army. Such a force could be used to impose the will of an evil monarch and was therefore a threat to individual liberties. Instead, they would rely upon a volunteer army, citizen soldiers who would be called into service at times of crisis to serve their country.

When the people who would later be known as Tennesseans were first asked to volunteer for such an army, they had been living along the upper tributaries of the Tennessee River, near modern day Elizabethton. The call went out for volunteers to gather at Sycamore Shoals in September 1780 and march across the Smoky Mountains to meet this British threat. When finally assembled, the volunteers totaled almost 1,000 men, virtually the entire fighting force of the settlements. These "Overmountain Men" defeated the British at King's Mountain to turn the tide of the war in favor of the fledgling nation.

The tradition of the Tennessee Volunteer was thus already initiated when, in the War of 1812, the nation once again went to war. As they had done over 30 years before, Tennesseans responded enthusiastically. Instead of the 3,500 troops requested, 25,000 Tennesseans joined, participating in battles from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

ANDREW JACKSON

OLD HICKORY

Earlier in the War of 1812 the British torched Washington. The Tennessee Volunteers made sure New Orleans would suffer no such fate. Under future President Andrew "Old Hickory" Jackson at the Battle of New Orleans, Tennessee Volunteers took part in the greatest victory of the war when they helped to defeat an army of crack British regulars. Facing more than twice their number, the Tennessee Volunteers joined a New Orleans militia, a group of former Haitian slaves fighting as free men and a band of outlaws headed by the notorious pirate Jean Lafitte. Thanks in no small part to the deadly Volunteer riflemen of Tennessee, the U.S. took a lopsided victory where more than 2,000 British were killed or wounded compared to eight killed and 13 wounded on the American side.

Jacob Hartsell, a captain in the 2nd East Tennessee militia, was among the Tennesseans who took part in the battle. He was so inspired by his fellow Tennesseans that he wrote a heroic poem in their honor. Entitled "The Brave Volunteer," this poetic journal entry is the earliest known written reference to Tennesseans as Volunteers.

DAVY CROCKETT

VOLUNTEERS AT THE ALAMO

Two decades later, Tennesseans advanced their reputation as volunteers when, unsolicited, several hundred made the journey south to assist the Texans in their war for independence from Mexico. The best known of these was David Crockett. His already legendary status was only enhanced by his dramatic death at the Alamo in 1836.

But before the Alamo fell, 33 Tennesseans, the largest number of defenders provided by any state — nearly four times as many as from Texas — kept Mexican General Santa Anna's overwhelming army at bay for 13 days against unbelievable odds. On March 6, 1836, the brave Tennessee Volunteers and the other Alamo defenders were overrun and breathed their last.

However, the crucial days the Volunteers slowed down the Mexican army gave another Tennessean, Sam Houston, enough time to gallop through Texas raising an army to defend what would become the Lone Star State. This army defeated Santa Anna in no small part because of the contributions of Tennessee's Volunteers. There can be no doubt Texas owes a great debt of gratitude for its statehood to the fierce men from Tennessee.

TENNESSEE... THE VOLUNTEER STATE

But Tennessee's status as the "Volunteer State" was solidified 10 years later when the United States War Department called for volunteers in the War with Mexico. Moving quickly to meet their allotted quota of 2,800 recruits, state officials were overwhelmed by 30,000 volunteers.

It was during the Spanish-American War that the students of the University of Tennessee began to lay official claim to the Volunteer nickname for themselves. In 1897, the student yearbook was christened, The Volunteer.

In 1902, the Atlanta Constitution used the term "Volunteers" to describe the football team when recounting a game between UT and Georgia Tech. However, the university sports teams continued to operate without an official nickname until 1905. In March of that year an article in the Knoxville Journal announced a nickname had been chosen.

"One of the admirers of the old school has suggested 'the Volunteers'," the newspaper reported. In classic understatement the report concludes, "The name sounds good, and it is likely that it will stick."

THE VOLUNTEER SPIRIT

There have been other men who symbolized the indomitable Tennessee Volunteer spirit on and off the field of battle. One of the most famous proved to be Alvin York in World War I. York was drafted and nearly single-handedly captured 132 Germans, took out about 35 machine guns which had been decimating his battalion and killed no fewer than 25 of the enemy, according to officers' reports. Indeed, Marshall Ferdinand Foch said of York's heroism, "What you did was the greatest thing accomplished by any private soldier of all the armies of Europe."

Humbly, the reluctant hero returned home to Tennessee as the toast of the nation. Yet York wasn't interested in celebrity or cashing in on his fame, saying, "This uniform ain't for sale."

Tennessee Volunteers took part in every theater of World War II, whether helping secure the deadly beaches of Normandy to working in their own backyard in Oak Ridge on The Manhattan Project and the atomic bomb that brought an end to war in the Pacific.

Not every Volunteer story was forged in wartime. Part of the Volunteer legend deals with self-sacrifice for the good of others. Take Tennessee train engineer Casey Jones, for instance. Steaming full-bore in the early morning in Vaughan, Miss., in 1900, Jones saw boxcars in the distance on the tracks in front of him. When it became apparent the passenger train he was driving was destined for a catastrophic collision, Jones was faced with a desperate choice — he could jump out of the engine and save his life before the crash or he could stay in the engine and try to slow the train enough to save more passengers' lives. After ordering his fireman to jump from the racing locomotive and save himself, Jones died that day saving dozens of lives in an amazing display of self-sacrifice. But his story and heroism live in the ballad devoted to the Tennessean who saved so many lives that day in his casket of splintered wood and twisted steel.

The legend of the Tennessee Volunteer also applies to great minds who create items of great cultural value in interesting ways. The first constitution ever written by white men in America was drafted in 1772 by the Watauga Association near present day Elizabethton. Take the example of the Cherokee silversmith Sequoyah, the only known man in the history of the world to single-handedly create an alphabet, the first written language for a Native American people.

Similarly, Tennessean Alex Haley became one of America's most famous authors after recounting the experience of African-Americans in his highly-acclaimed "Roots." Haley chose to make his home in Norris, just a short drive from the University of Tennessee.

Every time since the nation's birth to this very day, when the U.S. needs an extraordinary effort to brush back the dark curtain of hopelessness, the Tennessee Volunteers are called. The bravery, heroism, wisdom and ferocity of the Volunteers place them on a pedestal of great American legends.

UT ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT COMPLIANCE STATEMENT

Compliance with NCAA rules is one of the highest priorities for the University of Tennessee and our athletics department. As a member of the NCAA, the University of Tennessee is responsible for the actions of its boosters and fans. Even the best intentions may violate NCAA rules. We need your help in observing all SEC and NCAA regulations. Boosters and fans must be careful of their interaction with prospective and current student-athletes. Therefore, we encourage our boosters and fans to "Ask Before You Act" by contacting the Compliance Office at 865-974-3871.

REPRESENTATIVES OF ATHLETICS INTERESTS, "BOOSTERS"

There are many ways an individual can be classified as a representative of Tennessee's athletics interests. You are a "representative of The University of Tennessee's athletics interests," if you have been involved in a booster club, made financial contributions to the athletics program or booster organizations, provided benefits to an enrolled student-athlete, assisted in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes, or been involved in the promotion of UT athletics. Please note that once you have been identified as a representative of University of Tennessee athletics interests, you retain that identity indefinitely.

RECRUITING, EXTRA BENEFITS AND INCUCEMENTS

Only coaches and athletics department staff members can be involved in the recruiting process. All "athletics representatives" who are not employees of UT are prohibited from contacting a prospect by telephone, letter or in-person, on- or off-campus, for the purpose of encouraging participation in athletics at UT. It is not permissible for prospects, student-athletes or their relatives and friends to receive any extra benefits or special arrangements from a booster. Extra benefits include, but are not limited to: cash or loans in any amount; co-signing or arranging a loan; providing gifts of any kind (e.g. clothing, airline tickets, or holiday cards); providing special discounts for goods and services; use of an automobile.

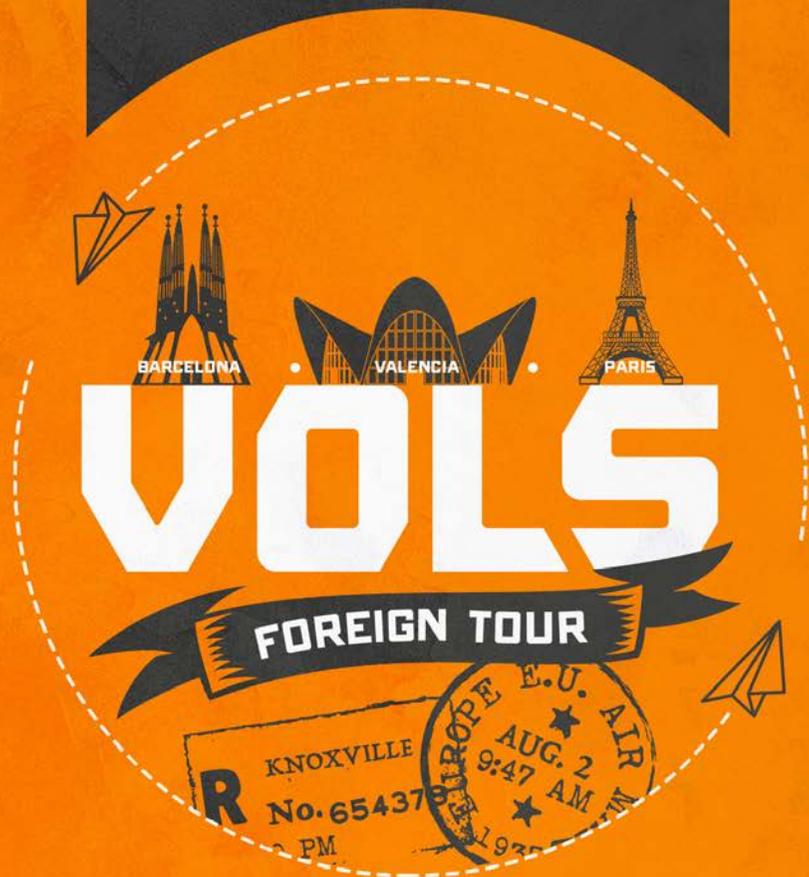

If you are an established friend or neighbor of a prospect, you may have contact with the prospect provided you do not try to recruit the prospect on behalf of UT, and that such contacts are not made at the direction of UT's coaching staff. Please note that a prospect is a person who has started classes for the ninth grade.

EMPLOYMENT

The Compliance Office must keep written records verifying all student-athlete employment. NCAA rules stipulate that compensation may be paid to a student-athlete only for work actually performed and at a rate commensurate with the going rate in that locality for similar service. NCAA rules also prohibit employers from using the name or picture of a student-athlete to directly or indirectly advertise, recommend or promote the sale or use of a commercial product or service of any kind. Do not provide an honorarium to a student-athlete for a speaking engagement. Compensation may not include any remuneration for value or utility that the student-athlete may have for the employer because of publicity, reputation, fame or personal following that he or she has obtained because of athletics ability.

Tennessee completed a 10-day European tour that saw them post a 3-0 record in exhibition play while visiting Barcelona and Valencia, Spain as well as Paris, France.

The trip included an academic credit component, as team members were enrolled in HRT 494: Global Leadership and Cultural Business Awareness. Assistant Professor Dr. James Williams accompanied the team in Europe and facilitated a daily lecture and group discussion, in addition to conducting preparatory lectures in Knoxville leading up to the trip.
