12.6...UF committed just 12.6 turnovers per game last year, the lowest total ever by a Billy Donovan-coached team, and the lowest by a UF team in 21 years

15.3...Calathes' 15.3 points per game a year ago were the most ever by a Billy Donovan-coached freshman at UF

Back To Work...

When the horn sounded and the 2007-08 season came to a conclusion, the University of Florida basketball team had evolved from a group filled with youth and inexperience, to a team that posted the sixth-highest win total in school history.

But the group had only scratched the surface of its potential. Rather than feel satisfied with a 24-win season, the Gators returned home and set their minds on 2008-09.

Back to work. With a majority of its key components in place and another promising incoming class, the Gators will learn from 2007-08 and build on it as the new season arrives.

The Nucleus In Tact

Returning four of five starters is a good place to begin. Despite the departure of NBA First Round Draft pick Marreese Speights, the Gators still return nearly 80 percent of its scoring, over 70 percent of its rebounding and over 95 percent of its three-point shooting.

SEC Newcomer of the Year and co-Freshman of the Year Nick Calathes led the Gators in scoring at 15.3 points per game, led the SEC in assists per game, and shattered the UF single season record for assists and assists per game, as well as the UF freshman record for points, assists, assists per game, free throws made and attempted. His uncanny court vision set the tone for the Gators in his memorable freshman campaign. He was one of only two players in the nation to average better than 15.0 points, 5.0 rebounds and 6.0 assists, and on March 21, posted just the second triple-double in school history in the Gators' NIT win over Creighton.

Walter Hodge returns for his senior season as the most experienced member of the Gator roster by far, having been a key member of its 2006 and 2007 national title teams. Hodge does a bit of everything for the Gators, as a career 40-percent shooter from three-point range, while being able to involve teammates, he finished second on the team in assists a year ago.

Dan Werner made an incredible leap from his freshman to sophomore years, averaging 9.1 points and 6.4 rebounds per game. Werner became a physical presence for the Gators, recording three double-doubles. Just as important is that his all-around game continues to evolve, something the 2008-09 Gators will look to, as he also finished third on the squad in assists and assists per game.

Jai Lucas started all 36 games for the Gators a year ago and Chandler Parsons was UF's top scorer off the bench, as both earn SEC All-Freshman honors. Lucas gave the Gators another point guard on the floor, and also a solid offensive option, as he led UF in three-point shooting at 43.5 percent. Parsons averaged 8.1 points and 4.0 rebounds off the bench, both tops among Gator reserves, and knocked down 35 threes. His ability to both rebound, and stretch defenses with his threat of shooting threes with his 6-9 frame will make him critical in the Gators' attacking style this season.

Alex Tyus and Adam Allen provide experience and strength in their respective areas after showing strong glimpses in their freshmen seasons a year ago. Tyus is an active offensive rebounder and the Gators' top returning shot-blocking who will pick up an expanded role with Speights' departure. Allen has a smooth stroke from three-point range, and at 6-8, 225 lbs., can line up at the two spot or as a forward depending on if the Gators go bigger or smaller.

Another Strong Incoming Class

A year ago the Gators relied heavily on its freshmen class, as with the departures of its top six players from the previous year, the group became the core of the 2007-08 squad. UF will not have to rely as heavily on its newcomers this year, however, they still have managed to add a top-level class that compliments each position on the court.

Erving Walker is one of the top points guards to come out of the New York area, as the 5-8 point averaged 16.0 points, but more impressively, 11.0 assists per game for history-rich Christ the King. Walker can create his own offense, but is at his best when getting his teammates involved.

Swingman Ray Shipman can do a bit of everything, and averaged 26.5 points, 6.0 rebounds and 3.0 assists per game at Monsignor Pace. Shipman also possesses a solid athletic frame that should help the Gators defend the perimeter better than they did a year ago.

UF's frontcourt has been bolstered by the addition of 6-8 Allan Chaney, and a pair of 6-10 power forward/centers in Kenny Kadji and Eloy Vargas. Chaney averaged 26.0 points and 15.0 rebounds per game for New London High School and brings the ability to play down low or step outside to create his offense. Kadji averaged 28.0 points and 12.0 rebounds at Pendleton/IMG Academy, while Vargas averaged 21.0 points and 14.0 rebounds for American Heritage. Both averaged 4.0 blocks per game and will add size and shot-blocking ability to the Gator frontcourt this season.

Position-By-Position Outlook

Point Guard

Nick Calathes, So., 6-6/194, Casselberry, Fla.
 Jai Lucas, So., 5-11/155, Bellaire, Texas
 Walter Hodge, Sr., 6-0, 170, Guaynabo, Puerto Rico
 Erving Walker, Fr., 5-8/161, Brooklyn, N.Y.

The Gators return a trio of solid options at the point and add another, as there will be no shortage of ball-handlers in 2008-09... A year ago, people looked to UF's inexperience in the backcourt with the loss of Taurean Green... The Gators responded by leading the SEC in assist-to-turnover ratio despite its young roster... Nick Calathes led the SEC in assists and assists per game and set the UF school records in both, dishing out 221 assists and averaging 6.1 per contest... The SEC Newcomer of the Year and SEC co-Freshman of the Year, Calathes possesses uncanny court vision and an ability to lead the Gators in transition... Walter Hodge finished second on UF with 103 assists his junior year, and is by far the most experienced Gator guard... Hodge can play all three guard positions in the Gator lineup, but has the ability to create open looks for his teammates when handling the point... Jai Lucas gives the Gators three guards in the starting lineup all capable of scoring or handling the ball... A natural point guard, Lucas can break down defenders and find the open shooter. Lucas had 81 assists his freshman year... Newcomer Erving Walker is a true point guard out of basketball power Christ the King in New York and averaged 16.0 points, but more impressively, 11.0 assists per game his senior year, as he is a perfect fit to get up and down the floor in the Gators' up-tempo offense.

17.5...UF finished with 17.5 assists per game as a team, the fourth-highest total in school history

20...UF won 20 games for the 10th consecutive year, the fifth longest streak in the nation and the longest streak in the SEC

24...Despite turning over its roster, UF won 24 games a year ago, tied for the sixth-highest total in school history

43.5...Jai Lucas led UF in three-point shooting a year ago, hitting 43.5 percent from beyond the arc, and virtually an identical 43.2 percent during SEC play

51...The Gators have gone 51-6 at home over the last three years, a winning percentage of 89.5 percent

55...UF is 55-5 against non-conference opponents the last three years

236...Florida has won 236 games this decade, the most of any program in the Southeastern Conference, an average of 26.2 per year

279...Despite losing almost all of its perimeter options from the previous year, Florida knocked down 279 three-pointers a year, the sixth-highest total in school history, and brings back 259 of those threes in 2008-09

Shooting Guard

Walter Hodge, Sr., 6-0, 170, Guaynabo, Puerto Rico
Jai Lucas, So., 5-11/155, Bellaire, Texas
Nick Calathes, So., 6-6/194, Casselberry, Fla.
Adam Allen, So., 6-8/225, Milton, Fla.
Ray Shipman, Fr., 6-4/212, Miramar, Fla.

Despite losing some of the greatest shooters in school history, the Gators responded last year by hitting 272 three-pointers, an average of nearly eight per game... The Gators bring nearly all of their three-point shooting back, including six players that knocked down 30+ three-pointers... Walter Hodge is a career 40-percent shooter from beyond the arc, and was second on the squad with 55 three-pointers a year ago... Nick Calathes knocked down a team-high 58 three-pointers and hit 37 percent from three-point range... Jai Lucas led UF in three-point accuracy, hitting 43.5 percent of his threes, and was just as accurate during SEC play, hitting 43.2 percent... Adam Allen is able to stretch defense with his ability to knock down shots from the perimeter, as 32 of his 52 baskets a year ago (61.5 percent) were threes, as he hit 42.1 percent from beyond the arc as a freshman.

Small Forward/Three Guard

Walter Hodge, Sr., 6-0, 170, Guaynabo, Puerto Rico
Dan Werner, Jr., 6-7/235, Middletown, N.J.
Nick Calathes, So., 6-6/194, Casselberry, Fla.
Chandler Parsons, So., 6-9/208, Casselberry, Fla.
Adam Allen, So., 6-8/225, Milton, Fla.
Ray Shipman, Fr., 6-4/212, Miramar, Fla.

The Gators return a wealth of options at the small forward/three guard position, giving them the ability to provide a number of different looks... The Gators can go smaller with Walter Hodge, who has started at various times at the three-guard spot throughout his first three years in Gainesville... They can slide Nick Calathes to the small forward/three guard spot due to the overwhelming number of ball-handlers, and give the Gators a 6-6 option at the position... They can go bigger with players like Chandler Parsons, Dan Werner and Adam Allen, who play big, but are all also capable of knocking down threes... They can play in between with newcomer Ray Shipman, a gifted athlete who can knock down jumpers, but can also lock down the perimeter defensively.

Power Forward/Center

Dan Werner, Jr., 6-7/235, Middletown, N.J.
Alex Tyus, So., 6-8/220, St. Louis, Mo.
Chandler Parsons, So., 6-9/208, Casselberry, Fla.
Kenny Kadji, Fr., 6-10/245, Douala, Cameroon
Eloy Vargas, Fr., 6-10/215, Moca, Dominican Republic
Allan Chaney, Fr., 6-8/231, Baltimore, Md.

Losing a frontcourt player to the NBA is nothing new for the Gators, they will need to replace Marreese Speights, however, with a mix of youth and experience and a number of different looks... Dan Werner started 35 games at the power forward spot for the Gators a year ago and showed an ability to grind it out, finishing second on the Gators in rebounding, while posting three double-doubles... Werner also finished third on the team in three-pointers made, knocking down 42 on the year, as he is able to step out and stretch defenses, much like Chandler Parsons will have to do if placed at the power forward. Parsons knocked down 35 threes a year ago and grabbed 4.0 rebounds per game... Alex Tyus showed great glimpses of his athleticism, finishing with 4.3 points and 2.6 rebounds per game... Tyus is extremely active on the offensive glass and gives the Gators a solid shot-blocking presence, as he was second on the team with 23 swats a year ago... Newcomers Kenny Kadji, Eloy Vargas and Allan Chaney give the Gators great size of front, with Kadji and Vargas both 6-10 with rebounding and shot-blocking ability, while Chaney is a thick 6-8, 231, and can score and rebound.

As a player he was known simply as "Billy the Kid." A player with fire, passion and discipline. An overachiever.

A kid no more, Donovan has done the unthinkable in his first 12 years at Florida. He has taken a program that experienced pockets of success and has made history.

Two National Championship and three appearances in the title game.

Three consecutive SEC Tournament titles, the only three in UF history.

The No. 1 ranking in the nation in four of the last six years, including starting and finishing the 2006-07 season in that spot.

Ten straight 20-win seasons, two 30-win seasons, including a school record 35 wins in 2006-07.

Eleven consecutive postseason appearances.

There was a time when any of these goals seemed unattainable for the University of Florida basketball program. Until March 27, 1996 when Florida athletic director Jeremy Foley hired the up-and-coming Donovan who has turned the Gators into a perennial national power.

Under Donovan the once unattainable goals of the program have become a reality, as he taken the University of Florida and established it among a very short list of elite programs in the nation. He has joined the greats in his profession and elevated the University of Florida to be mentioned among the great programs in college basketball. In 2007 his Gators became just the seventh team in NCAA history and the first in 15 years to win back-to-back titles. He joined Adolph Rupp as only the second coach in SEC history to guide his team to multiple national titles.

For those who have followed Donovan's career it should come as no surprise that he has made Florida basketball a winner.

He was a winner at Providence College, where he led the Friars to their best season in school history and a trip to the Final Four in 1987. He was a winner when he laced it up as a New York Knick with the elite athletes in the NBA. He was a winner in five years as an assistant at Kentucky and was part of the Wildcats' Final Four run in 1993. He was a winner as a head coach when he inherited a struggling Marshall program and in two short years won more than 60 percent of his games and put fans back in the seats. And now he has created Hoop Hysteria in Gainesville. Donovan is one of only two people in the history of Division I college basketball who have played in a Final Four, served as an assistant coach on a Final Four team and participated in the Final Four as a head coach.

Under Donovan, Florida has set a school record with 11 straight post-season appearances, including a record nine straight NCAA Tournament bids from 1999-2007, and put together 10 consecutive 20-win seasons for the first time in school history.

UF made the school's first-ever appearance in the National Championship game in 2000 before winning the title in both 2006 and 2007. Donovan has won 22 NCAA Tournament games, more than triple all previous UF coaches combined, and on Dec. 20, 2006, became the school's all-time leader in career wins, posting his 236th at UF, a total he has since risen to 285.

After the school had just one Southeastern Conference Championship in 77 seasons prior to his arrival, Donovan has tallied three SEC titles (2000, 2001 and 2007). Florida and Kentucky are the only two SEC schools to capture consecutive league crowns in the past 32 years. Florida has captured four SEC East titles under Donovan and won three straight SEC Tournament titles from 2005-07, the only three in school history.

Florida has won 236 games this decade, the third-highest total in the nation and the highest total in the SEC in that time. The Gators have won 116 games in the last four years alone, the best four-year stretch in school history (29.0 wins per season).

His winning percentage at UF (.713) is the best among all Gator coaches who spent more than one season in Gainesville and he reached the 100-victory mark at UF quicker than any coach in school history, needing just 154 games to reach the century plateau. He won his 200th game at UF on Dec. 3, 2005 and broke the school record for wins on Dec. 20, 2006, doing so in 92 games fewer than previous record-holder Norm Sloan. With 15 wins, he'll become the first Gator coach to reach 300 wins at UF. He owns a mark of 285-115 in 12 seasons at Florida and is 320-135 in 14 seasons overall as a head coach.

Donovan's teams have knocked off 47 ranked opponents during his tenure, including a 14-2 mark during the Gators' two-year run as NCAA champions. UF has won 38 of its last 60 meetings with ranked teams.

Donovan's squads have led the SEC in a statistical category 43 times, including 34 offensive categories. Despite losing his starting backcourt and frontcourt after the 2006-07 season, the Gators with an unproven and young squad still led the SEC in assist-to-turnover ratio and defensive rebounding in 2007-08. A total of 26 of his players have earned All-SEC honors while 13 of his freshmen have been recognized as among the best in the league, including in 2007-08 when Nick Calathes was selected SEC Newcomer of the Year at co-SEC Freshman of the Year.

Eight of Donovan's players have been first round draft picks in the NBA Draft, after the school boasted only two before his arrival and he has inked 11 McDonald's All-Americans after UF had just three prior to his arrival. In 2007, the University of Florida became the first school to have three players taken in the top 10 picks of the NBA Draft, as Al Horford went third overall, Corey Brewer seventh and Joakim Noah ninth. UF had five players taken in the 2007 NBA Draft and with Marreese Speights being taken in the first round in 2008, UF has had five first round picks since 2005. The fans have taken notice, attendance is up by over 5,000 spectators a year since Donovan's arrival and UF shattered the school record for average attendance in 2006-07 with an 11,826 average per game, including a school record 12,621 in the Gators' thrashing of Ohio State on Dec. 23, 2006. A record 226,815 fans passed through the turnstiles of the O'Dome in 2007-08.

Off the court, Donovan's players have excelled in the classroom. A league-best 47 Gators have been named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll under Donovan, including a league record six in 1997 and 1998. In 2002-03, Matt Bonner earned his second consecutive Academic All-American of the Year award while earning First Team Academic All-America honors for the third straight year. Carrying a 3.98 GPA, Bonner is also the only player in school history to be named to the Academic All-American team three times. Lee Humphrey added to that list in 2005-06, earning Second Team Academic All-America honors, while earning First Team honors in 2006-07. Humphrey was the two-time winner of the SEC Scholar Athlete of the Year Award. Twenty of the 23 seniors who have suited up to play for Donovan have graduated from the University of Florida.

The 43-year old Donovan, who was officially hired as Florida's 17th head coach on March 27, 1996, has certainly lived up to his national reputation as one of the nation's top young coaches who preaches an up-tempo, full-court, pressing style of play built around a tremendous work ethic.

The work ethic at Florida started in the recruiting trenches. Just eight months into the job in Gainesville, Donovan landed two of the premier prep players in the state (4A Player of the Year Major Parker and 6A Player of the Year Brent Wright). With a full year under his belt, Donovan and his staff pushed themselves even harder and the results showed. Once again, the focus of the recruiting efforts remained in Florida and the Gators got early commitments from four of Florida's best – Teddy Dupay, LaDarius Halton, Udonis Haslem and Sylbrin Robinson. Those early commitments allowed Donovan and his staff to pursue one of the nation's most coveted high school stars, South Dakota standout Mike Miller. Miller, who joined Dupay on the prestigious McDonald's All-American team, chose Florida over Kansas and Kentucky to give the Gators a consensus top-five recruiting class. Proving that class was no fluke, Donovan put together another consensus top-five recruiting class in 1999. This one landed another pair of McDonald All-Americans (Brett Nelson and Donnell Harvey joined Matt Bonner and Justin Hamilton as freshmen in 1999-2000). Florida was the only school in the nation to have multiple selections in the 1998 and 1999 McDonald's All-American games. The 2000 class included a Parade All-American, Orien Greene. The 2001 class featured a nation's best three McDonald's All-Americans - Kwame Brown, David Lee and James White, although Brown declared for the NBA Draft. Donovan's five-man recruiting class in 2002 - highlighted by another McDonald's All-American Anthony Roberson and Matt Walsh again ranked among the nation's best. Corey Brewer was the ninth McDonald's All-American recruited by this current coaching staff, while 2007-08 newcomers Jai Lucas and Nick Calathes are the 10th and 11th McDonald's All-Americans signed by Donovan.

The recruiting efforts have paid dividends on the floor. After inheriting a squad that scored 66.8 points a game, shot .429 from the field and won just 12 games the year before his arrival, Donovan's squad's have ranked among the nation's best, averaging 26.2 wins per season during the last nine years while scoring nearly 80 points per game.

Despite losing nearly its entire roster in 2007-08, the Gators finished with a 24-12 mark, tied for the sixth-highest win total in school history. The Gators got 87.6 percent of its scoring from freshmen and sophomores, the second-highest percentage in the nation. With an inexperienced lineup, the Gators reached the NIT semifinals, posted 17 home wins and led the SEC in field goal percentage, assist-to-turnover ratio and defensive rebounding. Nick Calathes was the SEC Newcomer of the Year, the SEC co-Freshman of the Year, broke the UF record for assists and assists per game and averaged 15.3 points per contest, the highest total ever by a Billy Donovan-coached freshman.

The 2006-07 squad will go down as one of the great teams in college basketball history, closing out with a 35-5 mark, starting the year as No. 1 in the nation, and finishing the year in the same spot after another convincing NCAA Tournament run. With the pressures of college basketball's first possible repeat champion in 15 years, Donovan pushed all the right buttons, managing the complex personalities of one of the most talented lineups in the history of college basketball.

Florida dominated the Southeastern Conference, going 13-3 and winning the school's fourth SEC title and only its second outright title. The Gators demolished the field at the SEC Tournament to win the school's third straight title in the event.

Each of Florida's top six players were honored by the league, as Joakim Noah, Al Horford and Corey Brewer earned First Team All-SEC honors, Taurean Green earned Second Team honors, while Lee Humphrey was the SEC Scholar Athlete of the Year and Chris Richard the Sixth Man of the Year. Noah (Second Team) and Horford (Third Team) earned AP All-America honors for their tremendous efforts.

The Gators went 8-1 against ranked opponents, including 3-0 against top-five teams. The Gators won their first six games of the season before dropping two out of three with a depleted roster. Donovan then led the team to its third 17-game winning streak in the last two years, as the Gators held the No. 1 spot from Jan. 15 until Feb. 19, the longest continuous run in school history.

After winning the SEC regular season title, the Gators shifted into another gear as the postseason approached. Florida won each of its three SEC Tournament games by 17+ points, waltzing to a third straight title behind an MVP performance from Horford.

After dismantling Jackson State in the NCAA Tournament opener, the Gators rallied from a two-point halftime deficit against Purdue to advance to the school's fourth Sweet 16 in the last nine years. Donovan guided the Gators to wins over Butler and Purdue to advance to the Final Four for the third time in his tenure and the second straight year behind a regional MVP performance from Green.

At the Final Four, the Gators proved to once again be the dominant team in college basketball, easily defeating UCLA in the national semifinal, then completing a dream season with a nine-point victory over Ohio State in the national title game, as Brewer earned MVP honors.

The 2006-07 Gator squad led the nation in field goal percentage (.526) and margin of victory (+17.2), while leading the SEC in seven major categories.

The 2005-06 team was one of the truly special teams in recent basketball history, tearing through the NCAA Tournament field to the Gators' first NCAA title. Donovan led the Gators to a then-school record 33 wins, including a record 17 straight to start the season. Florida served notice early in the season starting the year unranked and marching to the title of the Coaches vs. Cancer Classic at Madison Square Garden, beating ranked and much more experienced opponents, Wake Forest and Syracuse in the process.

Florida reached New Year's undefeated for the first time in school history and finished regular season non-conference play a perfect 14-0. After finishing second in the SEC East, Florida turned it up a notch once the calendar turned to March. Florida defeated Kentucky at Rupp Arena for the first time since 1998, taking a 15-point decision on Senior Day. The Gators then stormed Nashville and took home their second straight SEC Tournament title, defeating Arkansas, LSU and South Carolina to claim the crown.

Florida then raced through the NCAA Tournament, demolishing its opponents by an average of 16.0 points per game in its six victories. The Gators opened with 26 and 22-point wins respectively over South Alabama and Wisconsin-Milwaukee and then swept Big East opponents Georgetown and Villanova in the Minneapolis Region to advance to the Final Four. Once in Indianapolis at the Final Four, Florida left no doubt about the most dominant team in the 2006 tourney, beating George Mason by 15 in the national semifinal, then UCLA by 16 in the national title game. Florida became the first school since UCLA in 1968 under legendary coach John Wooden, to win both the national semifinal and the final by 15+ points.

Joakim Noah earned Final Four MVP and Minneapolis Region MVP honors and was tremendous during the NCAA Tournament. The 6-11 forward averaged 16.2 points, 9.5 rebounds and swatted an NCAA Tournament record 29 shots over the six games.

Noah earned First Team All-SEC honors while Donovan's ideal plan of balance was executed to its fullest potential in 2005-06. All five starters averaged in double-figures. All five were honored by the SEC. Florida finished second in the nation in field goal percentage and was among the national leaders in assists, as the group took Donovan's lead, made the extra pass and played the game unselfishly.

During the Gators' two-year run as national champions, Donovan has led the squad to 18 straight postseason wins, the longest by any program since the great UCLA teams of John Wooden won 28 straight games. Donovan's teams have broken 64 school (individual and team), SEC and NCAA Tournament records over the past two years.

The 2004-05 season did nothing but solidify Donovan's place among the coaching elite, as he guided the Gators to a 24-8 mark and the school's first SEC Tournament title. Donovan blended a team with returning upperclassmen David Lee, Anthony Roberson, Matt Walsh and Adrian Moss with a group of talented freshmen and sophomores.

The Gators won 12 games in SEC play for the fourth time under Donovan and led the league in scoring and scoring margin. Most notably, however, the Gators finished third in the league in points per game surrendered, a vast improvement after finishing 11th the year before.

Anthony Roberson was runner-up for SEC Player of the Year, earned Honorable Mention All-America from the Associated Press and First Team All-SEC from both the league coaches and AP. David Lee became the first Gator in 15 years to average a double-double in SEC play and earned Second Team honors across the board while Matt Walsh was a Second Team choice by the league coaches.

Florida reached the NCAA Tournament and held off a solid Ohio team in the opening round before running into one of the hottest teams in the nation in Villanova in the second round. When it was all said and done the Gators had won 20 games for the seventh straight year, reached the NCAA Tournament for the seventh straight year, made history in the SEC Tournament and had finished with the fourth most wins in school history.

In 2003-04, Donovan came up with, arguably, one of his finest coaching efforts, molding the third youngest team in the nation into a squad that reached the SEC Tournament Championship game for the first time in a decade.

Eight of the 10 scholarship players at the season's end were in either their freshmen or sophomore years, as Donovan used a combination of seven different starting lineups throughout the year. Staring at 14-8 on Feb. 18, Donovan inspired his team to six wins in their final eight games heading into the NCAA Tournament, as the Gators won 20 games for the sixth straight season and reached the Dance for the sixth straight year.

Anthony Roberson earned Honorable Mention All-American honors and First Team All-SEC honors from both the coaches and Associated Press, while Matt Walsh earned Second Team honors from each and David Lee earned Second Team honors from the league coaches and Third Team honors from the AP. Roberson averaged 17.9 points per game, the highest ever by a Donovan-coached player at UF, while Walsh's 15.8 points per game were the fifth best single season average by one of his players at the time.

The 2002-03 team reached uncharted territories in one of the most successful seasons in school history. The Gators set a school record with 24 regular season wins, while reaching No. 1 in the nation for the first time in school history on Feb. 3, 2003. The Gators earned a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament, their highest positioning ever in the postseason, while their 25 wins overall were the third most in school history.

A year after finishing just 2-7 in games decided by five points or less, Donovan's squad became a gritty bunch that found a way to win the close ones, claiming seven games decided by five points or less in 2002-03. The Gators tied the school record with a 14-game winning streak, while setting a new O'Connell Center record with a 19-game home winning streak that extended over the final four games of the 2001-02 season until the 2002-03 home finale. Florida was ranked wire-to-wire for the fourth straight year, while matching the school record for SEC wins in a 16-game season with 12.

Anthony Roberson earned SEC Freshman of the Year honors, the first Gator to do so in nearly two decades, while Matt Bonner earned First Team All-SEC honors, Honorable Mention All-America honors, was the Verizon Academic All-American of the Year for the second straight year and was honored as the Men's College Basketball Student Athlete of the Year.

The 2001-02 squad set school records with its fourth consecutive NCAA appearance and a fourth consecutive 20-win season while Donovan led the Gators to a share of their third straight SEC Eastern Division Championship. Florida put together a school-record 14-game winning streak and climbed to a then program-best number two ranking in both polls in the January 14th rankings. Florida posted a final record of 22-9, with the nine losses coming by just an average of 5.0 points per game - the lowest margin of defeat in school history. Florida trailed by more than 10 points just twice all year and seven games came down to the final possession. Florida boasted a league-high five SEC Academic Honor Roll selections and the squad featured the National Academic All-American of the Year (Matt Bonner). In all the Gator squad set 12 team records, including a then-school-best attendance average of 10,805.

The 2000-01 squad tied a school record with a third straight 20-win season and a third consecutive bid to the NCAA Tournament. At the NCAA Tournament, UF won its opening round game for the third straight year for the first time in school history. The final tally showed 24 wins and a share of the Southeastern Conference Championship for the second consecutive year. UF was ranked No. 8 in the final Associated Press Poll, the highest finish in school history. Reaching those milestones wasn't easy. Florida players missed a combined 33 games because of injuries during the season and UF players had four surgeries during the SEC schedule. UF played at full strength for just nine games and none after December 28th. Florida played one game with seven scholarship players, 11 games with eight scholarship players and 10 games with nine scholarship players. Three of Florida's starters went down with injuries in a week span of the SEC schedule and after a 1-3 start to the SEC slate, the outlook was not good. UF's character and will prevailed, as the Gators won 11 of its final 12 league games, with the only loss a buzzer beater at Kentucky.

The 1999-2000 squad will go down as one of the greatest in school history. With preseason expectations higher than ever, the squad became the first in school history to be ranked in the national polls wire-to-wire. The season began with a sold out crowd of 12,487 to witness Florida's 35-point win over Florida State in the O'Connell Center. The season ended with 43,116 fans on hand at the RCA Dome in Indianapolis to watch the school's first-ever appearance in the National Championship game.

In between, there were a lot of other firsts for the Gator hoop program. For the first time in school history season tickets were sold out before November. The Gators went 12-4 in Southeastern Conference action to share the league championship with Kentucky, Tennessee and LSU - only the second SEC crown in the 81-year history of the program. UF faced a school-record 11 ranked opponents during the year and knocked off the nation's top-ranked team (Duke in the NCAA East Regional Semifinal) for the first time in school history. A day later UF topped Oklahoma State to advance to the Final Four for the second time in school history and make Donovan just the sixth coach to both play and coach in the Final Four. He then became the fifth of those coaches to appear in the national title game after Florida defeated North Carolina in the National Semifinals.

Donovan's third squad won 22 games (the fourth most in school history at the time), advanced to the Sweet 16 for the third time in school history and averaged 80.3 points per game. UF's 1998-99 regular-season winning percentage of .731 was the third best in school history and its 10 conference wins were the second most at UF since the league went to a 16-game league format in 1992. En route to setting or tying 30 school records, the 1998-99 Gators became only the second squad in school history to be ranked in the Final Polls (17th in ESPN and 23rd in Associated Press).

Donovan's 1997-98 Florida squad made the school's first post-season appearance in three years and won more games and league contests than the year before despite playing a school-record tying eight ranked opponents. The Gators led the nation in an offensive team category for the first time in school history after posting an NCAA best 9.83 three pointers per game and they also led the Southeastern Conference in three point field goal percentage accuracy. The offense continued to get better, averaging 76.1 points per game, the highest total in 11 years and up 9.3 ppg since Donovan's arrival. The defense set school records for steals and turnovers forced per game. All told, the 1997-98 team set six single-season records and four game records, while a league-record six student-athletes were named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll. The Gators defeated No. 7 Kentucky at Rupp Arena to mark the first time in 10 years Florida had defeated a ranked SEC team on the road and ended a 10-game slide to the Wildcats. The win also marked the first time the Gators would defeat the eventual national champion in the regular season. UF attendance increased more than 1,300 fans a game, the 19th best jump in the nation in 1997-98.

The first order of business on the court in season number one for Donovan was conditioning. The Gators lost a combined 61 pounds and decreased their body fat by a combined 27.7 percent before he ever coached a game at UF. Despite replacing three starters and more than 50 percent of the scoring from a club that won 12 games the year before and playing with just six scholarship players for over half of the SEC schedule, Donovan's first Florida squad broke nine school records during the 1996-97 season and won more games than the year before. Every player who scored during the season set or tied career highs in single-game scoring, while seven of the eight players scored more points in 1996-97 than they did in their entire career entering the season.

Donovan's work ethic also gave Marshall University, home of Donovan's first head coaching job in March of 1994, a basketball facelift. Donovan inherited a program that went 9-18 the year before his arrival and turned a nine-man squad into believers. The result - an 18-9 record and a North Division Championship in the Southern Conference. Marshall averaged just 13 victories a season in the six years before Donovan arrived and finished the 1993-94 season as one of the 10 most improved teams in the nation. Along the way, six school records fell as smooth as three-pointers swishing in the net in Donovan's fast-paced offense. The Thundering Herd set school records for three pointers in a game (17), three-point attempts in a game (35), three-point attempts in a season (693) and three-pointers made in a season (253). Marshall led the Southern Conference in scoring (84.4), scoring margin (+6.8), free throw percentage (74.2), blocked shots (4.1), steals (11.2), turnover margin (plus-123) and attendance (6,574). Donovan was named the National Rookie Coach-of-the-Year by Basketball Times and added Southern Conference Coach-of-the-Year and West Virginia College Coach-of-the-Year (by West Virginia Sportswriters Association) honors.

It was more of the same in Donovan's second season in 1994-95. Marshall went 17-11, set five school records and led the league in scoring (91.4), field goal percentage (.495) and three-pointers per game (10.1). Nationally, the Thundering Herd offense ranked third, while its field goal percentage and three-pointers a game ranked sixth and second, respectively.

In two short years, his Marshall teams posted an overall mark of 35-20 (.636) and captured a league championship. In 55 games at the helm of the Thundering Herd his teams averaged 88.8 points a game, shot .472 from the field, .382 from three-point range and .717 from the line. On the average, his squads attempted 25 three-pointers a game and connected on 9.8 per game. Eleven times his squads had 100-plus points in a game and there was a 2,000-fan increase at the turnstiles in his two-year tenure. The average attendance was 6,039 in his two years after Marshall averaged 4,064 in the 1993-94 season prior to his arrival.

Prior to his coaching job at Marshall, Donovan spent five years on Rick Pitino's staff at Kentucky. Donovan joined the Kentucky staff as a graduate assistant coach in 1989. Prior to the 1990-91 season he was promoted to assistant coach and then to associate coach before the 1993-94 season. During his five-year stay at Kentucky, the Wildcats posted a 122-38 (.762) record and advanced to the Final Four in 1993. In addition to his duties with on-floor coaching, Donovan also had a hand in recruiting all of the upperclassmen on the 1996 National Championship team.

As much as any assistant has digested and learned from the up-tempo, full-court, pressing philosophy adapted by Pitino, Donovan may have as good a grasp as any. Not only did he spend five years under Pitino at Kentucky, he also played the style under him at Providence and later, with the New York Knicks in the NBA.

A native of Rockville Centre, N.Y., Donovan was a part-time player for the Friars in his first two seasons, averaging just over two points as a freshman and three points as a sophomore. Enter Pitino as head coach at Providence in 1985, and "Billy the Kid" was born. Once considered undersized and underdeveloped, Donovan thrived under the new system and

DONOVAN ON COACHING AND RECRUITING IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS

“When you recruit and you’re getting guys that no one anticipated you getting or signing, sometimes that makes more news. I look at myself this way. I played the game my whole entire life. I’ve been around some great coaches: Jeff Van Gundy, Rick Pitino, Ralph Willard, Tubby Smith, Herb Sendek. These are guys that either coached me or I worked for and worked with at Kentucky and at Providence. When you’re around those type of people for eight, nine, 10 years, you’re going to absorb and grasp a lot from them. From a coaching standpoint, my big thing right now is if the guys got better. From a media standpoint and fans standpoint, they’re judged on wins and losses, but to me the true sign of a coach is are the guys that are in your program better than when they came? Are they getting better and improving every year? That’s what I really measure; and the other thing I’m going to measure my coaching career on is how did I impact the kids I coached while I was here? If those guys can say that Billy Donovan impacted their life, then I think from a coaching standpoint I’ve done my job.”

finished his career as one of the premier players in Providence history. As a junior he averaged 15.1 points a game and shot better than 50 percent from the field at the guard spot. Donovan then averaged 20.6 points a game and earned honorable mention All-America honors (UPI) as a senior, capping off a magical ride to the 1987 Final Four by being named the Southeast Regional Most Outstanding Player. Donovan still holds four Providence school records (single season three pointers - 97; three-point attempts in a game - 16; three-point attempts in a season - 237; minutes played in a season - 1234). Donovan was inducted into the Providence College Hall of Fame in June of 1999 and was named to the 10-man All-Time Providence Civic Center Team in January of 1999.

In the 1987 NBA Draft, Donovan was drafted in the third round (68th overall) by the Utah Jazz, where he played in the preseason before being waived. After a brief stint in the CBA with Wyoming, Donovan rejoined Pitino after signing a one-year contract as a free agent with the Knicks. Donovan played in 44 games, averaging 2.4 points and 2.0 assists per game.

After his one-year stint in the NBA, Donovan worked with an investment banking firm on Wall Street for a year before joining Pitino at UK.

Donovan’s work ethic and never-say-die attitude was instilled at a young age, when he played at St. Agnes High School in Long Island, New York. Never having enough time at the gym, Donovan was known to have propped open the door to the gym before leaving practice so he could return on his own to shoot. On at least one occasion, his worried mother, Joan, found his bed empty at 2 a.m. No worry, said his father, William, who was a standout guard at Boston College and graduated in 1962 as the third leading scorer in school history. Check the gym, and you will find him. Eventually, the school custodian gave Billy a key to the gym, and later his father built a lighted court in the back yard. The results paid off as Donovan earned first-team All-Long Island honors his last two seasons and led St. Agnes to the Long Island Catholic High School Championship his senior year.

Donovan and his wife, Christine, have four children, William (15), Hasbrouck (13) and Bryan (10) and Connor (5).
