■ PRESEASON NOTEBOOK

OFF AND RUNNING

WARLICK ERA OFF TO STRONG START

- What a difference a year makes, as Holly Warlick enters her second campaign as head coach at Tennessee with a successful season under her belt and no lingering questions about the future of the program.
- Rather than being picked to finish as low as fifth in the Southeastern Conference and 20th nationally in the preseason polls, as they were last year, the Lady Vols are projected by most observers to contend for another conference title and vie for a spot in the NCAA Women's Final Four.
- Warlick led the Lady Vols to a 27-8 record, an SEC regular season championship and an NCAA Elite Eight appearance during her first year at the helm of the Big Orange in 2012-13.
- The Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) voted Warlick as its Spalding Maggie Dixon Division I Rookie Coach of the Year and bestowed that honor on the UT skipper at the organization's annual convention in New Orleans in April 2013.
- The league's coaches and the Associated Press chose Warlick as 2013 SEC Women's Basketball Coach of the Year.
- Members of the Tennessee Sports Writers Association selected Warlick as their 2013 TSWA Women's Basketball Coach of the Year.

GRIND FOR 9

DESTINATION NASHVILLE

- The Lady Vols have adopted the slogan and hashtag #GrindFor9 this season, signifying their quest for the program's ninth NCAA Championship.
- The team equates grinding with rising early and staying late, getting dirty and going the extra mile in pursuit of NCAA trophy No. 9.
- This year's NCAA Final Four is being held in the Volunteer State, taking place April 6 & 8, 2014, at Bridgestone Arena in Nashville.
- According to MapQuest, Bridgestone Arena is 180 miles from UT's Thompson-Boling Arena.

SEASON SYMBOLS

STANDARD, COIN SERVE AS REMINDERS

- A plated steel standard, forged and ground into the shape of the state of Tennessee, serves as an everyday reminder to the Lady Vol players and staff about their commitment to do what it takes to make it to Nashville and compete for a national championship.
- Special coins, which list the program's eight NCAA titles, have been made. Before each game, players will be given a coin, and if they are willing to provide their maximum effort for the team to win No. 9, they will put their coin in a bucket resembling a basketball goal.

■ PRESEASON NOTEBOOK (CONTINUED)

MORE EXPECTEDLADY VOLS HIGH IN PRESEASON POLLS

- The Lady Vols were ranked third in Charlie Creme's espnW.com 2013-14 preseason top 25, the first poll to come out back on April 18, 2013.
- UT is sixth in Lindy's Sports Annuals Preseason Top 25.
- Tennessee was picked by the media to win the 2014 SEC title, while senior Meighan Simmons was projected as the SEC Player of the Year, and she and sophomore Bashaara Graves were selected to the five-member pre-season All-SEC team.

VETERANS APLENTYLOADS OF STARTING EXPERIENCE

- Tennessee returns three full-time starters in 5-9 senior guard Meighan Simmons (16.8 ppg.), 5-7 junior guard Ariel Massengale (7.9 ppg., 4.5 apg.) and 6-2 sophomore forward Bashaara Graves (13.2 ppg., 8.0 rpg.).
- Isabelle Harrison, a 6-3 junior center (9.5 ppg., 7.5 rpg.), and 6-2 junior forward Cierra Burdick (8.4 ppg., 6.6 rpg.) were part-time starters a year ago, getting the nod for the opening tip 17 and 16 times, respectively.
- Andraya Carter, a 5-9 redshirt freshman (5.3 ppg., 1.6 rpg.), got seven games' worth of experience in 2012-13, including five as a starter, before suffering an injury to her right shoulder that required season-ending surgery.
- Jasmine Jones, a 6-2 sophomore forward (4.7 ppg., 3.9 rpg.), and 6-3 sophomore center Nia Moore (2.8 ppg., 1.9 rpg.) also return with plentiful experience as reserves.

PAIR OF ROOKIESOREGON DUO JOINS PROGRAM

- Tennessee signed three players last November during the fall signing period, with two players joining the squad during the second session of summer school.
- Both of those players hail from the state of Oregon.
- Mercedes Russell, is a 6-6 center from Springfield, while Jordan Reynolds is a 5-11 guard from Portland.
- Russell was the 2013 Gatorade National Girls Player of the Year and rated the No. 1 player in the nation by ESPN/HoopGurlz.
- Reynolds was the nation's No. 42 player and No. 10 guard, according to ESPN/HoopGurlz.
- Tennessee's third signee was Jannah Tucker, the No. 8 player and No. 5 guard on the ESPN/HoopGurlz list, but she did not enroll in school due to personal reasons.

SEC'S BEST RETURNSIMMONS, GRAVES HIGHLY-DECORATED

- Meighan Simmons returns after a junior season that saw her named 2013 SEC Co-Player of the Year by the league's coaches, while Bashaara Graves is back after being named SEC Freshman of the Year by the coaches and SEC Newcomer of the Year by the Associated Press.
- Simmons was a first-team All-SEC selection by both the coaches and Associated Press.
- She earned third-team All-America accolades by the Associated Press and Full Court.
- Graves, meanwhile, was a first-team All-SEC choice by the coaches and a second-team pick by AP.
- She also was named Full Court National Freshman of the Year and a first-team Full Court Freshman All-American.
- Both were WBCA honorable mention All-Americans.

WADE WATCHGRAVES, SIMMONS ON LIST

- Bashaara Graves and Meighan Simmons have been named to the 25-player "Wade Watch" list by the WBCA.
- Now in its 37th year, The Wade Trophy is named in honor of the late, legendary three-time national champion Delta State University coach Lily Margaret Wade.
- Regarded as "The Heisman of Women's Basketball," the award is presented annually to the NCAA Division I Player of the Year by the National Association of Girls and Women in Sport (NAGWS) and the WBCA.
- Simmons was a finalist for last year's Wade Trophy as well as the Naismith and Wooden Awards.

SEC SUCCESSLADY VOLS HAVE WON 33 TITLES

- With its SEC regular-season title in 2012-13, Tennessee claimed its 33rd all-time SEC trophy.
- The Lady Vols have won 17 SEC regular-season championships, including three in the past four seasons.
- UT has 16 league tournament titles to its credit, including three straight from 2010 to 2012.
- Since 1985, there have been only five seasons where Tennessee didn't win at least a regular season or tournament title. Those were 1986, 1987, 1991, 1997 and 2009.
- The Lady Vols have swept SEC regular-season and tournament championships on eight occasions. Those years were 1980, 1985, 1994, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2010 and 2011.
- Tennessee stands first in regular season and tournament titles in conference history with Georgia ranking second with seven regular season trophies and Vanderbilt standing sixth in tourney hardware with six pieces.

ON THE SCHEDULEFIRST TWO ON THE ROAD AGAIN

- The Lady Vols open with their first two games on the road on Nov. 8 (Middle Tennessee) and Nov. 11 (North Carolina) before returning home for three in a row at home from Nov. 14-24 (Chattanooga, Georgia Tech and Oakland).
- The schedule features a trip to the Bahamas for the Junkanoo Jam at Freeport/Lucaya on Grand Bahama Island over Thanksgiving, Nov. 28-29, with a game vs. Virginia and another vs. either Kansas State or SMU.
- A trip to Stanford on Dec. 21 rounds out the non-conference road schedule.
- UT also has non-conference home games vs. Texas (Dec. 8), Troy (Dec. 14), Tennessee State (Dec. 17), Lipscomb (Dec. 29) and Notre Dame (Jan. 20).
- Add to that an SEC slate that includes seven teams that went to the NCAA Tournament a year ago and four more who also saw postseason play.

TV TIMELADY VOLS A POPULAR DRAW

- Tennessee has 22 games slated for television this year, including eight games on the ESPN family of networks.
- All 16 Big Orange SEC contests will be televised, and every road game except the season opener at Middle Tennessee and the two games in the Junkanoo Jam will be carried by at least a regional television network.
- Those three non-television tilts are slated for live streaming on the internet.

■ PRESEASON NOTEBOOK (CONTINUED)

- There also will be five non-televisioned home games (vs. Carson-Newman, Chattanooga, Oakland, Tennessee State and Lipscomb) that will be live streamed on UTSports.com, free of charge.

NCAA 1ST/2ND RDS. TENNESSEE HOSTING AGAIN

- For the second-straight season and the 15th time overall, UT will play host to the NCAA Women's Basketball First and Second Rounds.
- Knoxville was chosen as one of 16 sites for the 2014 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championship, as selected by the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Committee.
- The Lady Vols will play host to three other teams between March 22-25, 2014, at Thompson-Boling Arena, with game times and exact dates to be set later.
- Tennessee is the only school to appear in all 32 NCAA women's tournaments and sports a 50-1 all-time record in first- and second-round action, including a 40-0 mark at home in those rounds.
- The Lady Vols have played host in three of the past four seasons, excluding 2012, defeating Oral Roberts and Creighton in Knoxville a year ago.

RECORD BOOKS

WHO'S MOVING UP THE CHARTS

- Meighan Simmons stands No. 21 on UT's all-time scoring list with 1,487 points and needs 513 to become the fifth Lady Vol to reach the 2,000-point plateau. The others are Chamique Holdsclaw (3,025), Bridgette Gordon (2,462), Candace Parker (2,137) and Tamika Catchings (2,113).
- Simmons' 13.8 career scoring average ties for 10th at UT.
- Simmons stands fourth on the career three-point field goals list (183),
- Bashaara Graves' 8.0 career rebounding average after one season ranks her sixth all-time at Tennessee.
- Ariel Massengale is poised to move onto the career top ten list for assists in 2013-14, entering the year with 320.
- Her 4.7 career assists per game average ranks No. 3 at UT, and her totals of 162 (2011-12) and 158 (2012-13) the past two years were the No. 8 and No. 9 single-season totals in school history.
- Through two seasons, Isabelle Harrison has the No. 7 career blocks per game average by a Lady Vol at 1.23.
- Tennessee's .759 free throw percentage in 2012-13 was the best shooting display in school history.

MCDONALD'S A-AS

UT NOW HAS SIX ON THE ROSTER

- Tennessee has six McDonald's All-Americans on the 2013-14 roster.
- Veterans of the McDonald's All-American Game include Cierra Burdick, Bashaara Graves, Ariel Massengale, Meighan Simmons, Jordan Reynolds and Mercedes Russell.
- Russell (16 pts., 12 rebs.) and Reynolds (10 pts., 11 rebs.) each recorded double-doubles for points and rebounds for the victorious West squad during the 2013 McDonald's contest, with Russell being named Most Valuable Player.
- Tennessee has had 23 McDonald's All-Americans on its roster through the years.

USA BASKETBALL

GRAVES, MASSENGALE CLAIM GOLD

- Bashaara Graves and Ariel Massengale represented their country over the summer in international competition, and both came away with their fourth career gold medals with USA Basketball.
- Massengale was a member of the USA World University Games team, averaging 4.0 points and 2.5 assists for a team that went 6-0 and struck gold in Kazan, Russia.
- Graves played on the USA U19 squad that captured gold at the 2013 U19 Championships in Lithuania, starting all nine contests as the Americans went undefeated.
- She averaged 8.4 points and 6.2 rebounds, and led the team with a .592 field goal percentage.

HONORING "CP"

PARKER'S JERSEY TO BE RETIRED

- Candace Parker will be honored by having her jersey retired on Jan. 2, 2014, when Tennessee hosts LSU at 7 p.m. in Thompson-Boling Arena.
- Parker's banner will become the seventh honoring a member of the Lady Vol program, joining head coach emeritus Pat Summitt as well as five other players whose jerseys have been retired.
- That group of Lady Vols includes Holly Warlick, Bridgette Gordon, Daedra Charles, Chamique Holdsclaw and Tamika Catchings.
- Parker was at Tennessee from 2004-08, earning WBCA All-America accolades in 2006, 2007 and 2008 and helping the Lady Vols to back-to-back NCAA Championships in 2007 and 2008.
- No. 3 ranks third all-time at UT with 2,137 points and is sixth in rebounding at 972.
- "CP" dunked seven times during her career and was the first woman to record a slam in an NCAA Tournament game, doing so twice vs. Army on March 19, 2006.

REMEMBERING "MO"

SQUAD TO HONOR MARY OSTROWSKI

- On July 19, 2013, one of the all-time greats in program history, Mary Ostrowski, passed away at the age of 51. She had been diagnosed with multiple myeloma, a type of blood cancer, in 2007.
- To honor Ostrowski's memory, the 2013-14 Lady Vols will wear a black patch with "MO" inscribed with white lettering on their uniforms this season to honor a player known as "Mary O" or "Mo" during her prolific playing career.
- Ostrowski, the first No. 1 recruit signed by Pat Summitt, played at UT from 1980-84 and scored 1,729 points and grabbed 994 rebounds during her career.
- She was a 1982 Kodak All-American and All-SEC in 1982 and 1984, helping Tennessee to Final Fours in 1981, 1982 and 1984.

MILLIONS OF FANS

UT NEARS ATTENDANCE MILESTONES

- The Lady Vols enter the season 94,088 away (4,905,912) from crossing the five-million mark in home attendance.
- The Tennessee women also are drawing near to two other milestones, standing 107,771 away (3,892,229) from four million in attendance at road games and 201,859 from nine million (8,798,141) in overall attendance.

COACHING CAREER

1985-2005	Tennessee	Assistant Coach
2005-12	Tennessee	Associate Head Coach

For more than three decades, Holly Warlick has been instrumental in the phenomenal success story that is Tennessee Lady Vols basketball. Her impact on the program stretches from her ground-breaking days as a three-time All-America point guard at UT (1976-80), to her 27 highly-productive years as a loyal assistant for Hall of Fame coach Pat Summitt, to her ascension to the head coaching position at UT.

Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics Dave Hart named Warlick head coach of the Lady Vols on April 18, 2012, as Summitt stepped into the role of head coach emeritus. In a touching and symbolic gesture the following day at a press conference announcing the changes, Summitt presented her coaching whistle to her long-time aide and former floor general.

Warlick proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that she was up to the task with her debut effort in 2012-13. Despite having a young, inexperienced team that was picked to finish as low as fifth in the SEC and 20th nationally, the first-year head coach impressively directed her troops to a 27-8 overall record and a 14-2 mark in league play. That effort earned Tennessee its 17th all-time SEC regular season title, and it enabled a team that saw injuries force players to miss a combined total of 53 games to advance to the NCAA Elite Eight for the 26th time in school history.

Improvement demonstrated by players not only translated into wins on the court, it also resulted in postseason attention. Meighan Simmons was named a third-team A.P. All-American, SEC Co-Player of the Year and first-team All-SEC. Bashaara Graves was chosen a Full Court Freshman All-American, SEC Freshman of the Year and first-team All-SEC. Kamiko Williams, meanwhile, was taken in the second round of the WNBA Draft by the New York Liberty.

Warlick also was singled out for her performance, which included scoring a top-three recruiting class complete with the nation's No. 1-ranked player in 6-foot-6 Mercedes Russell. The members of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association named her the Spalding Maggie Dixon Division I Rookie Coach of the Year. She was selected by the A.P. and league coaches as the SEC Women's Basketball Coach of the Year, and members of the Tennessee Sports Writers Association also chose her as TSWA Women's Basketball Coach of the Year.

After Warlick helped shape the direction of Lady Vol basketball as an assistant on Summitt's staff for more than a quarter of a century, the pupil took on greater responsibility and oversaw daily supervision of the basketball office during the 2011-12 season. She also handled a large measure of the media obligations after Summitt's Aug. 23, 2011, announcement regarding the diagnosis of early onset dementia, "Alzheimer's type."

Providing an excellent example of how people rally around each other, the Tennessee staff members pulled together remarkably in the face of that adversity. The end result was a 27-9 overall record, a league-best 16th SEC Tournament Championship and advancement to the NCAA Regional Final.

It's worth noting that Warlick was by Summitt's side, either as a player or an assistant, for 949 of the coach's NCAA-record 1,098 wins and all eight NCAA National Championships. Her value to the program has been evident for some time, as she had held the role of associate head coach since the 2005-06 campaign.

The WBCA also had recognized Warlick's contributions to Tennessee's success through the years, naming Warlick the nation's top assistant coach after she helped lead UT to its seventh national title in 2007. The NCAA Division I women's basketball coaches also recognized Warlick as one of the nation's top assistants in 1998, ranking her prominently in The Women's Basketball Journal poll.

In addition to the NCAA title and coaching honor in 2007, Warlick also teamed up for the first time with former fellow Lady Vol player and assistant Nikki Caldwell, the current head coach at LSU, to pursue her other passion. That pursuit is riding a motorcycle and raising money for the fight against breast cancer.

Warlick and Caldwell created the Champions For A Cause Foundation, a long haul motorcycle ride dedicated to raising funds and awareness for a cure for breast cancer. The charitable organization has raised and donated more than $150,000. Past trips include the inaugural ride from San Francisco to Knoxville as well as trips from the Badlands to Las Vegas and from Knoxville to Key West, Fla., New Orleans, Niagara Falls and, most recently in 2013, Panama City, Fla.

On Feb. 10, 2008, Warlick and Caldwell presented a $10,000 check to the late N.C. State Head Coach Kay Yow and the Kay Yow/WBCA Cancer Fund. At Tennessee's "Live Pink, Bleed Orange" game vs. Vanderbilt on Feb. 17, 2013, three checks worth $15,000 were presented by Champions for a Cause to the UT Breast Health Outreach Program, Kay Yow Cancer Foundation and the Brady James Foundation to help raise money for breast cancer research.

Head coach Holly Warlick also presented a special pink basketball to her sister, Marion Ferrill, prior to the start of that game. Ferrill was diagnosed with breast cancer in the fall of 2012 and was pronounced cancer free on Sept. 30 after undergoing surgery shortly after her diagnosis.

With all of her accomplishments in coaching and in her charitable endeavors it might be easy to overlook the fact that Warlick left just as powerful a mark on women's hoops as a player at UT. It doesn't seem that long ago that the charismatic Knoxville native was flying up and down the court as an All-America Lady Vol point guard. For more than three decades, Warlick has been considered the finest point guard ever to play for the Lady Vols. In addition to being selected to the CONVERSE/Lady Vol Team of the Decade for the 1980s in January of 1994, five different halls of fame opened their doors to her.

On Feb. 27, 2004, she was inducted into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame. In October 2002, she became a member of the University of Tennessee Lady Vol Hall of Fame in the second class of inductees. In June 2001, the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame selected Warlick as one of 10 inductees enshrined into the Hall for the Class of 2001. For the hometown girl, who grew up in the Rocky Hill section of Knoxville and graduated from Bearden High School, it was a dream-come-true.

In the summer of 1994, Warlick gained admission to her first hall of fame. She was honored as one of the City of Knoxville's finest all-time athletes with her inclusion in the Greater Knoxville Sports Hall of Fame.

Including the 2012-13 season, Warlick has invested 32 years in the program, having helped shape UT into a national powerhouse with tenure as both a player and a coach. Warlick's expertise and major contributions to the team as an assistant came from her work with the guards. In 2010-11, Simmons was the SEC Rookie of the Year, and guard Shekinna Stricklen was the 20th Lady Vol named to the WBCA/State Farm All-America Team.

Additionally, Warlick has been a highly-successful recruiter for the backcourt, attracting some of the nation's finest players to UT to continue the excellence she helped establish as a player. The Lady Vols welcomed another top flight guard to the Orange and White for 2010-11 when she landed McDonald's All-American Ariel Massengale.

As a rookie in 2011-12, Massengale lived up to her billing, earning Full Court Freshman All-America and SEC All-Freshman Team honors. The point guard posted a UT freshman record of 162 assists, ranking second in the SEC in that category, and leading the conference in assist-to-turnover ratio at 2.1.

Warlick's tutelage also helped to strengthen the game of four-time All-SEC selection Angie Bjorklund, Kodak All-American and four-time Lady Vol All-SEC performer Kara Lawson and three-time All-SEC selection Shanna Zolman. That trio accounts for the school records for most of UT's three-point marks.

Warlick's association with the Lady Vols started in 1976 when she joined the program as a scholarship 400-meter track athlete who ended up walking on to the basketball team. Soon, she would become the most prolific player in the history of Tennessee Lady Vol basketball.

Warlick was the first player in Tennessee athletics (men or women) to have her jersey retired (number 22) at the end of her career in 1980. Bearden, her prep alma mater in Knoxville, retired Warlick's high school jersey (also No. 22) prior to a home football game on Oct. 26, 2012.

Known as a play-making wiz during her four years as UT's point guard, Warlick was once tabbed the "best player in the South." As a rookie, Warlick helped lead the Lady Vols to their first Final Four appearance in school history in 1977. She had no trouble adjusting her enthusiasm and knowledge of the game into the coaching role.

In 19 of the past 32 years Warlick has been affiliated with UT, she has found herself at the Final Four as a player (1977, 1979, 1980) or as a coach (1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1991, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 2000, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2007 and 2008). Her best Final Four showing as a player was national championship runner-up in her senior season. As a coach, she has helped the Lady Vols grab the brass ring all eight times (1987, 1989, 1991, 1996, 1997, 1998, 2007 and 2008).

A three-time All-American while playing for Summitt from 1976-80, Warlick previously held UT records for most assists in a game (14), most steals in a contest (nine), most assists in a season (225) and most games in a career (142). She continues to hold the Lady Vol single-season steals record with 141 in 1978-79.

Warlick possesses vast international experience as well. A member of the 1980 U.S. Olympic basketball team, Warlick also participated in the Jones Cup, Pan American Games and World Championship competition. In addition, she was a WPBL All-Star, leading the Nebraska Wranglers to the championship of the Women's Professional Basketball League in 1981. She has served as a player representative on the USA BASKETBALL council and was a member of the USOC Advisory Council for Basketball.

In recognition of being a former Olympian, Warlick earned the distinct honor of running the Olympic torch through Knoxville as it made its way to the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta, Ga.

Prior to joining the Tennessee staff for the 1985-86 season, Warlick gained experience at two other stops on the coaching circuit. She was an assistant coach at Virginia Tech from 1981-83 and an assistant from 1983-85 at Nebraska.

A native of Knoxville, Warlick earned her B.S. in marketing from Tennessee in 1981 and her master's degree in athletic administration from Virginia Tech in 1983. Warlick added "biker" to her vitae in 2001. To commemorate her induction into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame, a number of Warlick's friends got together and presented her with a Harley-Davidson "Sportster" motorcycle. Just six years later, Warlick already was using her love of the bike towards a greater cause, establishing the Champions For A Cause Foundation with Caldwell.

SECOND YEAR AS HEAD COACH EMERITUS/40TH YEAR ON STAFF
TENNESSEE-MARTIN '74

For four decades, the University of Tennessee Lady Vols basketball program has been among the nation's elite and, in the process, has changed the way women's collegiate hoops is perceived across the country.

No one did a better job of managing what goes on inside the 94x50 rectangle known as a college basketball court. Her unfathomable victories, eight NCAA Championships and 32 combined Southeastern Conference titles speak to her incredible management and mastery of the 4,700 square feet of round ball real estate. And few have even come close to accomplishing what she did outside the lines for those 38 years as head coach (1974-2012). To her peers, she is forthright, well-respected, ethical, and a winner who serves as a shining example in the sport of collegiate basketball and beyond.

"She" is Pat Head Summitt, head coach emeritus of the University of Tennessee Lady Volunteer basketball team, who concluded a 38-year tenure at the helm of the Lady Vols on April 18, 2012, with a 1,098-208 overall record after raising the bar in the collegiate basketball world every time she stepped out on the court.

On Aug. 23, 2011, Summitt may have raised the bar on courage, as she bravely revealed the toughest opponent she will ever have to battle, early onset dementia, "Alzheimer's Type," after the doctors at the Mayo Clinic diagnosed her at the age of 59. To be sure, Summitt took on this invisible opponent with her signature game plan.

The Tennessee skipper didn't look at it as a bold move; rather continuing her lifelong practice of both herself and her program being an open book.

In the 2011-12 season, the most demanding on Summitt and her program, the Lady Vols finished the year with a 27-9 overall record and carried the banner as the 2012 SEC Tournament Champions.

UT finished the year losing to No. 1-ranked Baylor while battling for a spot in the NCAA Final Four. The Lady Vols were stopped just short of their goal of cutting down nets in Denver, site of the 2012 Final Four.

All season long, all eyes were on Summitt and her team. They were greeted in arenas nationwide with standing-ovation tributes to Summitt, as she guided her team through the nation's toughest schedule while playing in front of a sea of "We Back Pat" t-shirts.

The "We Back Pat" campaign sprang up overnight and went viral in the social media world following Summitt's medical announcement. A t-shirt was born with the slogan, and proceeds started pouring into Summitt-picked organizations, Alzheimer's Tennessee and the UT Medical Center.

In November 2011, Summitt announced the formation of her foundation, the Pat Summitt Foundation Fund, with the proceeds going toward cutting-edge research. On May 31, 2012, the Southeastern Conference and its member institutions announced an incredibly-generous contribution, donating $100,000 to the effort. On June 13, 2012, NASCAR driver and Knoxville native Trevor Bayne, in conjunction with YourRaceCar.com, announced he would be driving a "We Back Pat" themed car in the Aug. 24 Nationwide Series Food City 250 race in Bristol to help raise awareness for the foundation.

The site of the race, Bristol Motor Speedway, also announced that Summitt would be serving as grand marshal and commanding the drivers to "start your engines."

Summitt received a $1000 donation from Food City for her foundation, and YourRace.Car.com helped raise more than $10,000 for the cause from the "We Back Pat" car and merchandise sales. Late Tennessee Titans owner K.S. "Bud" Adams also aided the foundation, contributing $25,000 on Sept. 9, 2012. On that date, he also had Summitt serve as the esteemed "12th Titan" at the NFL franchise's season opener vs. New England. Many more recognitions and donations have followed.

In announcing her diagnosis in August of 2011, Pat was being just Pat, but a number of organizations hailed her courage to come forward.

The United States Sports Academy awarded Summitt its 2011 Mildred "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias Courage Award for her indomitable spirit in her public battle with early-onset dementia, Alzheimer's type. On Oct. 4, it was announced that Summitt would receive the 2011 Maggie Dixon Courage Award. Also in October, The Huffington Post named Summitt a 2011 Game Changer - an innovator, leader and role model who is changing the way we look at the world and the way we live in it.

The honors continued. Among those was Summitt being announced by President Barack Obama as the recipient of the Presidential Medal of Freedom on April 19, 2012, and honored at the White House on May 29. She also earned a Lifetime Achievement Award from the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Sports & Nutrition on May 3 and was named a member of the U.S. Department of State's Council to Empower Women and Girls Through Sports on June 21. Additionally, she has been announced as the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame's 2012 Tennessean of the Year, the winner of the 2012 Pop Warner Female Achievement Award and the 2012 Global ATHENA Leadership Award, the recipient of NACDA's 2012 Michael J. Cleary Merit of Honor Award and the recipient of the Arthur Ashe Courage Award, which was presented to her by former Vol and current NFL quarterback Peyton Manning after a poignant video tribute on July 11 at the 2012 ESPYS in Los Angeles.

Recognition continued to come Summitt's way in summer 2012, as she received the Billie Jean King Legacy Award, presented by the USTA in New York, the UT Alumni Association's Distinguished Alumna Award and the Knoxville Association of Women Executives Notable Woman Award. The Billie Jean King Legacy Award honors individuals whose outstanding courage and contributions have helped to change the global cultural landscape.

A review of Summitt's résumé shows she kept her elite program in the winner's circle for almost four decades, producing a mind-boggling record of 1,098-208 (.840) that included the most victories in NCAA basketball history. During her tenure, the Lady Vols won eight NCAA titles as well as a combined 32 Southeastern Conference tournament and regular season championships. Tennessee made an unprecedented 31 consecutive appearances in the NCAA Tournament and produced 12 Olympians, 34 WNBA players, 21 WBCA/Kodak/State Farm All-Americans earning 36 honors, and 39 All-SEC players earning 82 recognitions. Along with the success on the court, Summitt's student-athletes had tremendous productivity in the classroom. Coach Summitt held a 100 percent graduation rate for all Lady Vols who completed their eligibility at Tennessee.

Her honors and achievements over the years number in the hundreds. The Sporting News named the 50 Greatest Coaches of All-Time. Summitt was voted the 11th best of all-time and was the only woman on the list. She was inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame on June 5, 1999, the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on October 13, 2000, and the FIBA Hall of Fame on June 19, 2013. Other accolades include a resolution by the U.S. House of Representatives on June 5, 2009; an honorary doctorate from the United States Sports Academy on May 19, 2009; receiving the 2009 WNBA Inspiring Coach Award on April 7, 2009, and being honored by her peers with the RUSSELL ATHLETIC/WBCA Victory Club Award for 1,000 career wins on April 6, 2009. She was inducted as the third member of the Tennessee Women's Hall of Fame on June 17, 2011, and was announced on Dec. 5 as the 2011 Sports Illustrated Sportswoman of the Year alongside 2011 Sportsman of the Year, Duke men's basketball coach Mike Krzyzewski.

Much like the Presidential Medal of Freedom, a couple of other honors recognized her career longevity and the impact she has made on sports and American culture. On May 17, 2012, the Women's Sports Foundation/espnnw/Women in Cable Telecommunications observed the 40-year anniversary of Title IX by creating a 40 FOR 40 list of those who have been key figures in the growth of women's sports. Summitt, of course, was on that list.

ESPN paid tribute to her impact on women in sports during the summer of 2013, creating the documentary film, "Pat XO," for its Nine for IX series. ABC's Robin Roberts was the executive producer of the film, which was screened at a private event in the Regal Riviera Theatre in downtown Knoxville on June 26 and made its ESPN world television premiere on July 9.

The University of Tennessee also honored Summitt in three additional ways in 2013. First, she was inducted into the Lady Vol Hall of Fame on Nov. 2. Next, her banner was raised to the rafters in Thompson-Boling Arena on Jan. 28. Then, on June 26, it was announced that Pat Summitt Plaza, featuring a statue of the legendary coach, would be built at the corner of Lake Loudoun Blvd. and Phillip Fulmer Way. Dedication is set for Nov. 22, 2013.

KYRA ELZY

ASSISTANT COACH/RECRUITING COORDINATOR

SECOND YEAR ON STAFF
TENNESSEE '99

With two positions to hire on her first staff as head coach at Tennessee, Holly Warlick looked to a former Lady Vol to fill the initial one. On April 26, 2012, Kyra Elzy answered the call to return to her alma mater and serve as assistant coach/recruiting coordinator.

Elzy, an associate head coach/recruiting coordinator at the University of Kentucky from 2008-12, came back to Knoxville to fill a vacancy created when Mickie DeMoss joined the staff of the WNBA's Indiana Fever.

It didn't take long for the UT alumnus to make a difference for the Big Orange. She helped Tennessee reel in the No. 2 signing class in the country in 2012, including a pair of McDonald's High School All-Americans (Jordan Reynolds, Mercedes Russell) and the nation's No. 1-ranked player in Russell.

She also contributed to a 2012-13 Lady Vol season that exceeded the expectations of nearly everyone. After Tennessee was picked to finish as low as fifth in the conference and preseason No. 20 in the Associated Press poll, a young squad won the program's 17th SEC regular-season championship and fashioned a 27-8 record while advancing as far as the NCAA Elite Eight.

As a successful role model on campus, Elzy was chosen as the 2013 keynote speaker for UT's fifth-annual Multicultural Student Symposium. She also was honored as the Lady Vols' SEC Legend during last year's conference tournament in Duluth, Ga.

In 2011-12, Elzy completed her fourth season at Kentucky, where she served as the recruiting coordinator and was responsible for coaching the guards of the 2012 SEC champion Wildcats. It marked her second season as associate head coach after being promoted in August 2010.

As a student-athlete at Tennessee from 1996-2001, Elzy's game excelled under the nation's all-time winningest coach in Summitt. A four-year letterwinner who actually spent five seasons in a Lady Vol uniform after missing the 1998-99 season with an injury, Elzy was a member of two national championship teams (1997 and 1998) and a national runner-up squad (2000). During her time in Knoxville, she played in 126 games and earned the Holly Warlick Defensive Player of the Year award in 1997, the Unsung Hero Award in 1998 and was on the USA Today All-Injury Team that recognized athletes that competed while overcoming medical issues in 2000.

Elzy became just the fifth freshman in Tennessee history to start her first game as a Lady Vol when she started at guard in the 1996-97 season opener against Austin Peay. She also earned another distinction during her playing career, becoming the first UT player to earn her master's degree while still playing.

Also excelling in the classroom, Elzy was named to the 2000 and 2001 SEC Academic Honor Rolls. She was a three-time member of the Lady Vol Academic Honor Roll (over a 3.0 GPA) and earned UT Dean's List honors each semester while in graduate school. She holds a bachelor's degree in psychology (1999) and a master's in cultural studies in education with an emphasis in sports psychology (2001).

As a coach at Kentucky, Elzy was considered one of the top recruiters in the nation and helped UK sign a top-10

She was instrumental in helping UK advance to three consecutive NCAA Tournaments and chart back-to-back 20-win seasons, including two NCAA Elite 8 appearances in 2010 (losing to Oklahoma) and 2012 (losing to UConn).

Elzy's guards received SEC recognition in 2011-12, as A'dia Mathies was named the SEC Player of the Year and rookie Bria Goss was named the SEC Rookie of the Year.

Under Elzy's tutelage, Mathies received UK's first SEC Freshman of the Year honor in 2010 and was named UK's first freshman All-American since Valerie Still in 1980.

Prior to Kentucky, Elzy spent four years as an assistant coach at Kansas. As the recruiting coordinator, she helped the Jayhawks land their first top-20 signing class in 2007 under head coach Bonnie Henrickson. She also helped KU earn two postseason bids in her four seasons. In 2006-07, KU finished 17-16 overall and advanced to the third round of the WNIT, while guard Danielle McCray was named honorable mention All-Big 12.

Elzy made a coaching stop at Western Kentucky for two seasons under head coach Mary Taylor Cowles. She coordinated the recruiting efforts for the Lady Toppers and also worked with the guards and handled individual workouts. The Lady Toppers posted 20+ wins in both of her seasons at WKU, and in 2002-03 WKU won the Sun Belt Conference championship and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Elzy helped coach Sun Belt Player of the Year Shala Reese and Newcomer of the Year Tiffany Porter-Talbert. In 2003-04, WKU was the Sun Belt runner-up and advanced to the quarterfinals of the WNIT.

Prior to her first coaching job, Elzy spent one year as an administrative assistant under Henrickson at Virginia Tech. She was responsible for team travel, scheduling community service events and working with the women's basketball summer camps.

Her outstanding prep career earned her induction into the Kentucky Lions Club Hall of Fame in 2009 after a standout prep career at Oldham County High School. She had guided the Lady Colonels to four district championships, two regional titles and a state semifinal appearance during her prep career.

In addition to starting a new job at Tennessee in 2012, Elzy was wed that August to Dexter Lander.

JOLETTE LAW

ASSISTANT COACH

SECOND YEAR ON STAFF
IOWA '90

Jolette Law is in her second season as an assistant coach at the University of Tennessee. Formerly the head coach at the University of Illinois from 2007-12, Law joined the Lady Vol family on May 2, 2012, and is part of head coach Holly Warlick's first staff.

Law works with the UT guards and saw Meighan Simmons named 2013 SEC Co-Player of the Year and Kamiko Williams taken in the second round of the WNBA Draft (15th pick overall) by the New York Liberty. During the summer of 2013, point guard Ariel Massengale earned another victory with the USA team at the World University Games, capturing her fourth career gold medal.

Her work with that trio was instrumental in Tennessee going from being picked as low as fifth in the conference and 20th nationally during the preseason to winning the SEC regular season title and advancing to the NCAA Elite Eight in 2012-13.

On the recruiting front, Law helped Tennessee reel in the No. 2 signing class in the country in 2012, including a pair of McDonald's High School All-Americans (Jordan Reynolds, Mercedes Russell) and the nation's No. 1-ranked player in Russell.

Long regarded as one of the top assistant coaches in the country, Law was named the seventh head women's basketball coach at the University of Illinois on May 11, 2007. During her tenure in Champaign, she led the Illini to a pair of postseason appearances while turning heads on the recruiting trail.

Law went to Illinois following 12 years on C. Vivian Stringer's staff at Rutgers, including her last four as associate head coach. Known as a dynamic recruiter during her time with the Scarlet Knights, Law wasted no time establishing herself as a top recruiter at Illinois.

In November of 2008, she inked the No. 3 recruiting class in the country and the top-rated signing class in Illinois school history. Law followed up the historic 2009 signing class by inking two more top-100 recruits in 2010 and one more in 2011.

On the court, Law led Illinois to 69 wins in five seasons, including two trips to the postseason WNIT. During her first season with the Illini in 2007-08, she guided the Illini to 20 victories, marking Illinois' first 20-win season since 1999-2000. The Orange and Blue made a historic run in the 2008 Big Ten Tournament, advancing to the championship game but falling just short of an NCAA Tournament bid in losing to Purdue on a buzzer-beater. The Illini earned a 2008 WNIT bid and advanced to the third round.

In 2008-09, Law had a young Illini squad playing its best basketball at the end of the season, as the team finished 6-5 in the final 11 games. That momentum carried over into 2009-10, when the Illini started 7-1 out of the gates and finished the season with 19 wins and a trip to the WNIT quarterfinals. The team finished strong down the stretch in both 2010-11 and 2011-12.

During Law's fourth season at the helm of the program, the Illini reached the Big Ten Tournament semifinals once again and downed No. 7-seed Wisconsin and No. 3-seed Michigan. Illinois followed up with five wins in the final half of the 2011-12 conference slate, including a victory over No. 10 Ohio State, 66-65, at Assembly Hall.

In addition to the team's progress, Law helped develop Jenna Smith into one of the premier post players in the country. A 2010 Illinois graduate, Smith became the highest WNBA draft pick in school history when she was taken with the 14th overall pick by the Washington Mystics in the 2010 WNBA Draft. Smith left Illinois as the program's all-time leading scorer, rebounder and shot blocker, thanks in large part to Law's tutelage.

Before arriving at Illinois, Law made a name for herself as a driving force behind Rutgers' rise to the top of women's college basketball. During her tenure, the Scarlet Knights saw remarkable success, including two Final Fours, three Elite Eights and three Sweet Sixteen appearances, among them the 2007 national championship game in Cleveland versus the Lady Vols.

Rutgers compiled a record of 257-125 (.673) during Law's tenure in New Brunswick, N.J., winning BIG EAST regular season titles in both 2005 and 2006 and the BIG EAST Tournament title in 2007. The Scarlet Knights featured 22 All-BIG EAST honorees, three BIG EAST Defensive Players of the Year and three BIG EAST Rookies of the Year. They also produced seven All-America selections and had eight players drafted in the WNBA during that span.

Law was a prep All-American at Wilson High School before graduating from the University of Iowa in 1990 with a degree in sports studies/corporate fitness. As the Hawkeyes' floor general, she helped Stringer lead the Hawkeyes to four consecutive Big Ten titles and a record of 105-18 from 1987-90. A Kodak District V All-American in 1990, she was a four-year letterwinner at Iowa and a two-time first-team All-Big Ten Conference selection (1989 and 1990).

Following her collegiate career, Law joined the Harlem Globetrotters from 1990-94 as the only female team member at the time, completing three worldwide tours with the team. As an ambassador of goodwill with the Globetrotters, she coordinated several basketball seminars and clinics in addition to her on-court performances. During her stint with basketball's greatest team, her picture was featured on Wheaties cereal boxes with her Globetrotter teammates, and she also appeared in M.C. Hammer's video for the song "Too Legit To Quit."

After her playing career came to a close, Law spent one season coaching at Ball State (1994-95) before joining Stringer at Rutgers.

CENTRAL ARKANSAS '00

In assembling her new staff, Tennessee head women's basketball coach Holly Warlick's third hire was Director of Basketball Operations Michael Beaumont. He now is in year two in that capacity.

Previously, Beaumont was on the staff at Ole Miss as the Assistant Athletics Director for Football Operations from January 2008-12, working for (then) head football coach Houston Nutt.

"I have known Michael for a number of years and have always been impressed with the way he goes about his business," said Warlick. "Houston Nutt had nothing but glowing things to say about him, and it will be great to have Michael's operations knowledge and experience on our staff."

A graduate of the University of Central Arkansas (2000, B.S.E in health education) and Arkansas State (1994, B.S. in kinesiology & exercise science), Beaumont served as an academic counselor for the University of Arkansas Men's Athletics Department (2006-08), working primarily with football, before joining the Rebels.

It was during his time in the high school ranks that Nutt took notice of his abilities and invited Beaumont to join his staff at the University of Arkansas in 2006.

In 2008, Beaumont remained with Nutt's staff in a move that brought him new duties at the University of Mississippi. At Ole Miss, Beaumont was the personal assistant to the head coach and the head administrator for all matters that related to the staff, the student-athletes and the program. Beaumont also served as one of the main contacts and liaison with all institutional departments, external agencies and public relations for the football program. While at Ole Miss, the Rebels played in the Cotton Bowl in 2008 and 2009. During his time in Oxford, Beaumont had the opportunity to be part of a team that included now NFL greats Mike Wallace, Dexter McCluster and Michael Oher.

At Arkansas, he served as the academic counselor for the football team. Beaumont also served as the liaison between the faculty and the athletic department. He assisted in the management of tutors, mentors and learning specialists for his student-athletes with zero academic casualties. Additionally, he worked with camps and on-campus official visits during recruiting. At Arkansas, Beaumont also had the opportunity to be a part of a team that enjoyed an SEC West Championship in 2006 and back-to-back January 1 bowls in 2006 and 2007. His student-athletes included current NFL stars Darren McFadden, Felix Jones and Peyton Hillis.

Prior to his stint in Fayetteville, Beaumont was a football and baseball coach at Lincoln (Ark.) High School and also served as assistant athletic director in addition to teaching from 2001-06. As the head baseball coach, he led his team to the 1-AAA conference championship in 2004 and was voted by his peers as the 2004 Conference Coach of the Year. The defensive coordinator on the high school football staff, he was the head coach of the junior high squad and guided Lincoln to the 2005 conference championship on the gridiron.

Beaumont served as the head video coordinator at UCA in Conway during the 1999 football season while completing his degree in health education. He then moved to Mountain View (Ark.) High School to work as the defensive and offensive line coach for the 2000 and 2001 seasons.

Married to the former Susan Patton, Beaumont and his wife have two daughters - Monica (16) and Rachel (12).

DAVE HART

VICE CHANCELLOR/DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

THIRD YEAR AT TENNESSEE
ALABAMA '71

The University of Tennessee named Dave Hart vice chancellor and director of athletics on Sept. 5, 2011. Hart has held leadership roles in athletics administration at East Carolina University, Florida State University and the University of Alabama.

"I am very pleased to have Dave as our new vice chancellor and director of athletics," University of Tennessee Knoxville Chancellor Jimmy Cheek said upon Hart's hiring. "He has extensive experience as an athletics director, and he has the passion and drive to lead our great athletics program."

Among the many challenges and goals being addressed in the first 10 months of his tenure at Tennessee, Hart has led efforts which included the following:

- » Restructured the athletics department and developed an organizational flow chart.
- » Redefined and clarified the athletic department Mission Statement.
- » Created a new Governance Structure going through a "right-sizing" effort in conjunction with the implementation of combining the men and women's athletic programs into one while setting a direction and vision for all units within the department.
- » The Compliance Department has been reorganized and capital projects have been reprioritized to dovetail into a strategic plan, which is in the process of being finalized, for the next 5-to-10 years.
- » Policies and procedures have been strengthened throughout the department, as has overall communication.
- » Fan enhancement options at Neyland Stadium and Thompson-Boling Arena have been prioritized as well.

Comprehensive athletic success exemplified Hart's tenure as the Florida State athletic director, as a combined 35 ACC Championships were won by 10 different Seminole athletic programs during his tenure. Additionally, the Seminole football team won nine ACC titles and appeared in four national championship games, winning the 1999 BCS National Championship with a Sugar Bowl victory over Virginia Tech.

The men's outdoor track and field team also claimed two national championships during his tenure, while the baseball program appeared in the College World Series five times and the softball program won nine ACC titles and played in the Women's College World Series. During Hart's last year at Florida State, the Seminoles finished 15th in the Directors' Cup, an all-time high for the institution at that time.

Additionally, during Hart's three years at Alabama, the Crimson Tide football team claimed the 2009 BCS National Championship and the individual athletic teams posted a combined eight top-three finishes nationally over the last three years. Hart has more than 20 years of service as a director of athletics.

"It is a privilege to be named Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics at the University of Tennessee," Hart said. "To be entrusted to lead one of the nation's elite athletics programs is an exciting opportunity."

"I want to thank Chancellor Cheek, and all of those involved in this process for their confidence and commitment. I am anxious to demonstrate my passion for Tennessee and the Volunteer Nation."

Highly respected as a visionary and industry leader, Hart's career has featured service as the president of both the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the Division IA Athletics Directors' Association. A former recipient of the Robert R. Neyland Award honoring lifetime achievement, Hart has also been named by his colleagues as the Athletic Director of the Year for the Southeast Region in both 2000 and 2005, one of a few select individuals to receive the honor multiple times.

During his 13 years at Florida State, Hart negotiated unprecedented, multi-million dollar contracts for the department totaling in excess of $175 million. He also devised and executed an extensive and comprehensive facilities master plan for athletics that eclipsed the $150 million mark. Hart initiated a multi-faceted Student Development/Life Skills program for all student-athletes at FSU, an endeavor recognized nationally as a "Program of Excellence" by the Division I-A Athletics Directors' Association. He spearheaded the rewriting of the department's mission statement to put the student-athlete at the core of athletic department priorities in its goal to build comprehensive excellence throughout all components of the department.

"Dave is as good an athletic director as there is in the country," legendary Florida State Head Football Coach Bobby Bowden said. "He's as sharp of an AD as I've been around in 57 years. He knows what's important, and he's a builder."

Hart took a leadership role in the FSU athletics department's first major capital campaign, in concert with Seminole Boosters, which raised more than $75 million for athletics facilities and served as the catalyst for a subsequent effort. Within the Facilities Master Plan, there were several state-of-the-art facilities constructed, including a soccer/softball facility, a state-of-the-art golf facility and teaching center, a basketball training center and major renovations to the tennis and volleyball facilities.

The Moore Athletics Center and Dick Howser Baseball Stadium ranked among the nation's best. A new aquatics facility and a renovation to the track facility were finalized in 2008.

In recognizing Hart's position within intercollegiate athletics, ACC Commissioner John Swofford said, "Dave Hart is one of the best and most respected athletics administrators in the business. He thoroughly understands the nuances of major college athletics, and he has superb values to go along with his vast experience in the field. He is a proven leader at the conference and national levels."

While at FSU, Hart made many key hires, including the hiring of FSU's first two African-American basketball coaches, including current men's coach Leonard Hamilton, as well as their first African-American senior-level administrator. Under Hart's direction, FSU formalized a varsity club to encourage the participation of former student-athletes in athletic department activities. He also placed a significant focus on the growth of women's athletics at FSU, a commitment reflected in increased funding, competitive success and facility upgrades.

Academic success also accompanied Hart's time at FSU, as the school became home to the inaugural National Student-Athlete of the Year, a State of Florida Woman of the Year recipient, and two Rhodes Scholars. A record number of FSU student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll, were recipients of NCAA post-graduate scholarship awards and obtained degrees.

Student-athlete community service involvement became a priority under Hart with student-athletes contributing more than 5,000 hours in community outreach projects.

Hart has also earned the Athletics Directors' Award for advancing the quality and progress of student-athletes and the athletics program while at Florida State. In 2008, he received the James J. Corbett Award, the highest honor bestowed by National Association of College Directors of Athletics.

Hart's commitment to service includes considerable time on numerous national and conference committees, including the NCAA Council, the NCAA Honors and Awards Committee and the NCAA Special Events and Postseason Bowls Committee, and he has been a consultant to the NCAA Student-Athlete Advisory Council.

Hart was one of 11 athletic directors nationally who worked with an advisory group of athletic directors to presidents and conference commissioners in ongoing meetings and discussions regarding post-season football format options and similar issues related to the football postseason. In addition to his prominent leadership roles nationally, Hart chaired and had direct involvement with the renegotiations of both of the ACC's football and basketball television contracts and chaired the ACC Television Committee as well as the ACC Men's Basketball and Football committees.

Hart also played an integral role in the ACC expansion process that resulted in the addition of three new members in Miami, Virginia Tech and Boston College. He also served as Vice Chairman of the NCAA Football Board of Directors where he represented NACDA and served with commissioners of Division I-A conferences as well as past NCAA President Myles Brand.

Hart served as Executive Director of Athletics at Alabama since August of 2008. A 1971 Alabama graduate, Hart played basketball for the Crimson Tide under legendary head coach C.M. Newton and earned a master's degree from UA in 1972 while working as a graduate assistant basketball coach.

A popular speaker at the national level, Hart has made numerous speaking presentations nationally and presented seminars on such topics as student-athlete welfare, marketing, gender equity, facility master planning, negotiation skills and personnel transition. He was an instructor at the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics Management Institute for 10 years and currently is an annual presenter at the Division I-A Athletics Directors' Institute sharing with peers his knowledge and experiences relating to athletics administration.

Hart met his wife, the former Pam Humble, while at Alabama. Pam is a 1970 graduate of The University of Alabama, and the couple has three children: Rick, who serves currently as the athletic director at UT Chattanooga, Jamie and Kelly. The Harts are the grandparents of five grandchildren: Trevor, Caroline, McKinley, Olivia and Kingsley.

REVIEW

■ 2012-13 POSTSEASON NOTEBOOKPASSING THE BATON*SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION FOR UT

- Tennessee executed a successful hand-off of leadership between legendary skipper Pat Summitt and first-year head coach Holly Warlick in 2012-13, managing to keep the program on track toward reaching its annual goals.
- After a first-game loss to Chattanooga, Warlick righted the ship and directed Tennessee toward a 27-8 overall record and a 14-2 mark in league play.
- Ranked 20th in the first AP poll of the season, Tennessee dropped to 24th briefly before climbing as high as No. 8 and then winding up the campaign at No. 10.

SEC CHAMPSLADY VOLS WIN 17TH TROPHY

- In Warlick's first season at the helm, she led her troops to the SEC regular season championship, becoming only the second coach to accomplish that feat.
- Tennessee clinched the crown on its home floor, knocking off No. 13/15 Texas A&M, 82-72, on Feb. 28, 2013.
- The Lady Vols won the league crown on "Senior Night" at Thompson-Boling Arena, no less, with Kamiko Williams scorning the nets for a career-high 18 points and contributing seven rebounds and three assists in her finest hour and final regular-season game in orange.
- The title was the 17th in program history and the third in the past four seasons.

NCAA ELITE EIGHTLADY VOLS FALL IN REGIONAL FINAL

- At the beginning of the season, no one expected Tennessee to contend for a berth in the NCAA Final Four, and yet the Lady Vols came within one win of punching their ticket to New Orleans.
- After defeating Oral Roberts (83-62) and Creighton (68-52) in Knoxville, and Oklahoma (74-59) in the Sooner State's capital city, Tennessee fell, 86-78, to Louisville in the Oklahoma City Regional Final game on April 2, 2013.
- Seniors Taber Spani and Kamiko Williams scored 20 and 12 points, respectively, in their final contest wearing Tennessee uniforms.
- Both seniors were named to the All-OKC Regional Team.
- It marked the third-straight campaign where the Big Orange's season came to an end in that round.
- In its 26th appearance in the NCAA Elite Eight, UT fell to 18-8 all-time in those contests and saw its record in regional play go to 44-13.
- After beating Oklahoma in the regional semifinal, Tennessee stands 26-5 in Sweet 16 play.

CORAL GABLES, Fla. - Bashaara Graves had 20 points, Ariel Massengale hit big free throws at the end and the No. 24/20 Lady Vols survived No. 23 Miami's two big second-half runs to defeat the Hurricanes, 79-67.

With the win, UT ended Miami's 4-game home winning streak.

After storming out of the gate to a 4-21 halftime advantage thanks to Graves and Andraya Carter, Tennessee (3-1) watched Miami (2-1) mount a huge comeback in the second half as the Hurricanes climbed to within six points.

Graves scored 10 points in each half to lead the Lady Vols with 20 points to go with six rebounds. Carter did much of her work from long distance, totaling 16 points on 4-0-5 shooting from 3-point range and 4-0-4 work from the free-throw line.

Massengale added 14 points off the bench, going a perfect 10-of-10 from the charity stripe and dishing out a team-best 11 assists. Cierra Burdick led UT with 10 rebounds.

Trailing 21-25 three minutes out of halftime, Miami went on 18-7 run climb back into the game. Maria Brown sparked the run on a jumper in the paint at 16:14 and Michelle Woods scored Miami's next nine points.

With 9:35 left in the game and Tennessee's lead at 58-43, the Lady Vols responded by trading baskets with the Hurricanes over the next minute and a half to keep the lead at 16 points. Then, with 6:28 remaining, UM's Morgan Stroman hit a jumper on a fast break that opened a 14-4 run that pulled the Hurricanes to within 71-65 with 2:30 left.

UT closed out the game with an 8-2 run thanks to Massengale's clutch shooting at the line (6-6) in the final minute to halt Miami's comeback attempt.

At the half, Tennessee had a 46-21 advantage with Carter (11 points) and Graves (10 points) leading the way. UT never trailed in the first 16:40 of the game. Up 23-17 with 6:53 until halftime, the Lady Vols broke loose as a layup by Massengale sparked a 23-4 run to close out the period.

Tennessee's defense limited the Hurricanes and minimized their outside game. Miami shot just 31.9 percent from the floor and a 19.0 percent (4-of-21) from beyond the arc. The Canes also struggled from the free-throw line, hitting just 59.4 percent (19-of-32).

UT shot 42.1 percent from the floor and went 6-of-17 from 3-point range. The Lady Vols also shot a crisp 80.6 percent from the stripe (25-of-31).

KNOXVILLE - Senior Kamiko Williams came up huge on both ends of the court to lead the #16/14 Lady Vols to an 88-81 overtime win over in-state foe Middle Tennessee State for UT's fifth win in a row before 10,768 at Thompson-Boling Arena.

Williams' clutch shooting and defense spurred the Lady Vols in the second half and overtime. She finished with nine points, five rebounds and three assists to go along with numerous intangible plays.

Junior Meighan Simmons topped the scoring charts for Tennessee (5-1), as she netted 19 points. Freshman Bashaara Graves, who has scored in double-figures in all six of her college games, had 15 points. She also corralled 12 rebounds for her second double-double in her rookie season.

Sophomore Cierra Burdick put UT ahead for good, 79-77, with a pair of free throws with 2:04 left in OT. Then Williams' stole the ensuing possession from MTSU and set up Simmons for a layup with 1:52 left to move the lead to 81-77. Williams finished the next sequence with a layup to make it 83-77 with 40 seconds left. Then Williams drew a charge seconds later. Harrison's bank shot was the final dagger finishing the run of 10 points in a row.

After being down for the game's first 35-plus minutes, Tennessee finally grabbed a lead for the first time late in the second half. Williams' steal and bankshot put the Lady Vols ahead at 64-63 -- their first lead of the game with 4:24 left in regulation. Massengale hit a jumper to put UT ahead by three and the Lady Vols never trailed after that.

Tennessee was on the cusp of taking a lead several times, getting to within one possession four times in the second half before finally breaking through as Williams used her defense to create offense and UT's first advantage.

The Lady Vols used a 10-2 run to comeback from a 63-60 deficit to lead 70-65 on a Simmons jumper. Williams nailed a 3-pointer with 55 seconds left to put the Lady Vols up at 73-68. But MTSU scored the final five points of regulation to send the game to overtime.

Tennessee has never lost to MTSU, leading the all-time series, 20-0.

KNOXVILLE - In the first meeting between longtime foes in five years, No. 16/14 Tennessee dominated No. 22 North Carolina, 102-57. UT handed UNC its first loss of the season before 11,342 at Thompson-Boling Arena. The Lady Vols (6-1) extended their winning streak to six games while the Tar Heels fell to 7-overall.

Junior Meighan Simmons, who scored her 1,000th career point in the game, led all scorers with a career-high 33. Her point total was the most since All-American Candace Parker scored 34 vs. Notre Dame on March 30, 2008.

Sophomore Isabelle Harrison scored a career-high 18 points and grabbed 11 rebounds for her third double-double this season.

Freshman Bashaara Graves tallied 15 points, as she has scored in double-figures in all seven of her college games.

Sophomore Cierra Burdick netted 15 and grabbed 10 rebounds for her second-career double-double. Taber Spani had 11 points.

The 45-point margin of victory over a ranked team was the largest since UT beat No. 22 Illinois, by 49 points (111-62) in Hawaii on Nov. 25, 2000.

The 102 points vs. the 22nd-ranked Tar Heels were the most by UT against a ranked team since beating No. 15 DePaul, 102-68, on Jan. 2, 2008.

The Lady Vols opened the game with a 10-2 lead and never looked back. A Simmons' 3-pointer just over seven minutes into the action put the Lady Vols ahead by 10 at 17-7 and UT never let UNC cut the margin below double-figures for the remainder of the game.

Tennessee led by as many as 46 on a 3-pointer by Burdick with 44 seconds left in the second half. The closest the Tar Heels got in the second half was 16 points on two occasions, but UT opened up the jets midway in the second half to blow open the game.

Tennessee controlled the boards outrebounding UNC, 54-40 with Harrison leading the way with 11 boards.

The Lady Vols closed the first half on a 14-4 run to lead 49-28 at intermission. Simmons had 22 points in the first half on the way to her career day.

Simmons became the 37th Tennessee player to score 1,000 career points with a free throw with 11:44 left in the first half. She achieved the plateau in just her 80th college game.

Lady Vols went on an 8-0 run capped by a Taber Spani 3-pointer as the shot clock expired to put Tennessee ahead, 22-7, with 12:36 left in the first half.

Sunday's game was the first meeting since Lady Vols beat UNC, 83-79, five years ago to the date on Dec. 2, 2007.

WACO, Texas - Third-ranked Baylor raced out to a 17-0 lead as the Bears ended Tennessee's seven-game win streak, handing the No. 10 Lady Vols a 76-53 defeat.

Baylor moved to 9-1 overall, as Brittney Griner tallied 17 points and grabbed 12 rebounds. Kimetria Hayden netted 16 points. Brooklyn Pope corralled a game-best 16 rebounds to go along with 11 points.

Tennessee (7-2) was led by Meighan Simmons, who scored 16 points. Kamiko Williams had a season-high 15 points, two off her career high of 17. Williams posted her first career double-double with a career-high 10 rebounds.

Tennessee played without 6-3 center Isabelle Harrison, who was sidelined with a sprained ankle.

The loss of 23 points equaled the eighth-largest in school history.

Baylor out-rebunded the Lady Vols, 54-47.

The Lady Vols missed their first 11 shots of the game before scoring for the first time, with 13:05 left in the first half, on a Cierra Burdick jumper to make it 17-2.

Tennessee tried to climb out of the early hole, but it proved to be too tall of a mountain.

UT cut the deficit to 12 at 21-9 and 23-11, but Baylor continued its sharp shooting in the first half and regained a 21-point lead at 32-11 on a 3-pointer by Hayden with 6:49 left in the first half. The run expanded to 13-0 to give Baylor a 36-11 lead with five minutes left in the half. Taber Spani ended the drought with a 3-pointer at the four-minute mark.

Tennessee trailed 41-16 at halftime. The 25-point deficit was the largest at halftime in school history. The previous largest margin was 20 against Rutgers in 2009, as the Lady Vols rallied from down 33-13 to win 55-21 on the road.

Both Griner and Hayden had 11 points at halftime.

The Lady Vols began the second half scoring eight of the first 12 points, as Simmons canned a 3-pointer to cut the deficit to 45-24.

Tennessee continued to battle and chip away, but the margin never got below 19 points in the second half. A Williams jumper made the score 70-50 with three minutes left. Nia Moore's layup with 93 seconds left cut the score to 72-53.

The lead ballooned to 30 on a Kamiko Williams putback with 6:37 left in the game, making it 63-33.

Tennessee had its second-best defensive game this season in terms of scoring defense, allowing just 40 to the Wildcats. It was the third time Hild held an opponent to less than 50 points. It was also Tennessee's fourth win by 35 or more points.

The Lady Vols went on a 12-run spanning six minutes as Tennessee took a 23-11 lead before the Wildcats broke an 0-for-6 drought from the floor on a Jasmine Calin juniper with 7:21 left in the first half. Harrison had three of UT's six baskets on the spurt.

KNOXVILLE - Tennessee beat Rutgers for the ninth time in a row, as the Lady Vols used tenacious defense on the way to a 66-47 victory. The victory was the 1,200th in the 1,200th in the illustrious history of Lady Vol basketball, the most of any women's basketball program in the nation. UT is now 1,200-268 (817) all-time in its 68th season.

The Lady Vols (9-3) jumped ahead early and led wire-to-wire with their second convincing win in a row. Tennessee had a double-figure lead for the final 33 minutes.

Tennessee limited the Scarlet Knights (8-4) to just 34.6 percent from the floor in the game, including 22.2 percent in the first half.

Sophomore Isabelle Harrison tied her career high with 18 points. She grabbed 11 rebounds for her fourth career double-double.

Harrison also had a career-high six steals, the most by a Lady Vol since Alicia Manning had six vs. Old Dominion last season.

Freshman Bashaara Graves hauled down a career-high 14 rebounds to go with 11 points for her sixth double-double of the season -- tying for the most among player in the SEC this season. Junior Meighan Simmons added 15 points.

Tennessee has responded with back-to-back efforts that have pleased head coach Holly Warlick and her staff after dropping consecutive games to No. 3 Baylor and No. 1 Stanford. Combined with the 75-42 win over Davidson on Friday, the Lady Vols have outscored opponents 141-87, a margin of 27 points per game.

After holding a 20-point halftime lead, the Lady Vols continued to stand stout in the second half on both ends of the court.

The 47 points were the second-fewest Rutgers has scored in the 22-game series between the teams that dates to 1979. The all-time low of 46 came in the 2007 National Championship game when UT beat Rutgers, 59-46.

Tennessee dominated on both ends throughout the first half, building a 33-13 lead at halftime. The Lady Vols shot 45.2 from the floor and limited Rutgers to 22.2 as the Scarlet Knights didn't make a 3-pointer (0-of-6). UT also forced Rutgers into 14 turnovers, as Harrison had four of the Lady Vols' eight steals.

It was sixth time this season the Lady Vols held an opponent to less than 25 percent from the floor in a half.

In allowing just 13 points, the Lady Vols had their best defensive effort in a first half this season. Twice last year UT limited foes to 13 points at intermission.

Tennessee took control of the game early, building an 18-4 lead midway through the first half thanks to a parade of layups. The Lady Vols had 14 of their first 18 points in the paint.

It was the first meeting between Tennessee and Davidson.

COLUMBIA, S.C. - A 28-2 run in the second half spurred #12/13 Tennessee to a 73-53 victory at #18/15 South Carolina. In a game that was not separated by more than five points for the first 25 minutes, Tennessee exerted its power on both ends of the floor to secure a win in its SEC opener and move to 10-3 overall. It was Holly Warlick's first win in the SEC as head coach of the Lady Vols.

Sophomore Isabella Harrison had a monster night, as she scored a career-high tying 18 points and corralled a career-high 14 rebounds for her fifth double-double of the season. She also swatted a career-high seven blocks.

Four Lady Vols scored in double-figures overall as Harrison was joined by Taber Spani, who had a season-high 18 points, making 4-of-5 on 3-pointers. Ariel Massengale (13) and Meighan Simmons (10) also tallied 10-plus.

Tennessee has won every SEC opener since 1998.

South Carolina (12-2, 0-1) suffered its second loss of the season as the Gamecocks shot just 29 percent from the floor. Tiffany Mitchell scored 14 to lead USC. Ashley Bruner added 12.

Down 40-39, Tennessee scored 14 points in a row to take a commanding 53-40 lead with 11:30 left in the game.

The teams traded baskets and the lead on four consecutive possessions as Simmons' layup put UT ahead for good, 41-40 with 16 minutes left in the half. A Harrison lay-up and a pair of free throws by Simmons gave Tennessee a five-point lead at 45-40. Spani took a feed from Massengale to move the margin to seven.

A swooping layup and a jumper by Simmons extended the run to a dozen points in a row. Kamiko Williams scored the first bench points of the game -- for either team -- on a runner for UT's 13th and 14th points in a row. Tennessee led 53-40 with 11:33 left in the game.

South Carolina missed 11 field goals in a row as the Lady Vols took control of the game. Tennessee's defense kept USC off the board for 5:06.

South Carolina's struggles continued as the Gamecocks made just one of 22 shots as Tennessee's run burst to 28-2 as Spani canned back-to-back 3-pointers to put UT ahead 67-42 with 4:44 left in the game.

Tennessee outrebounded South Carolina, 30-19 in the second half after grabbing just nine rebounds in the first half.

The Lady Vols held a one-point edge at halftime, 32-31, as neither team led by more than five points in the first half. Harrison had 12 points in the first half alone as Tennessee shot 55 percent from the floor.

Thursday's game was Tennessee's first without sophomore Cierra Burdick, who suffered a broken bone in her right hand on Dec. 31. The Lady Vols had just nine healthy players suited up for the game.

KNOXVILLE - Tennessee scored the first nine points of the second half and led the remainder of the way as the No. 12/13 Lady Vols knocked off No. 10/11 Georgia, 79-66 before 12,319 at Thompson-Boling Arena.

A pair of freshman keyed the Tennessee (11-3, 2-0 SEC) win as Bashaara Graves scored a career-high 23, making 8-of-11 from the floor. Jasmine Jones also had a career-high with 12 points as she saw significant minutes with Isabella Harrison in foul trouble.

Graves' point total was the most by a Lady Vols' freshman since Meighan Simmons had 23 from 10. Stanford on Dec. 19, 2010. Graves has scored in double-figures in 12 of her 14 games as a freshman.

As a junior on Sunday, Simmons scored 11 of her 16 in the second half and finished 4-of-5 from 3-point range. Taber Spani had 11 and grabbed seven rebounds.

Georgia suffered just its second loss of the season as the Lady Bulldogs fell to 13-2 and 1-1 in the league. Jasmine Jones led UGA with 18. Khalidah Miller added 14.

Tennessee moved to 6-2 against ranked teams this season. It was also the Lady Vols first win over a Top 10 team this season and first since thrashing No. 7 Kentucky last February.

Tennessee opened the second half with nine consecutive points to take control of the game with a lead 49-42 after a fastbreak layup by Spani four minutes into the half. The Lady Vols led the remainder of the way.

Georgia missed its first eight shots of the second half as Tennessee buckled up on defense and crashed the glass. The Lady Vols hauled down 10 of the first 12 rebounds in the second half.

Overall, UT outrebounded UGA, 46-29 with a 28-9 second-half margin.

The Lady Bulldogs cut the deficit to two, 52-50, on a jumper by Jasmine Jones with 12:24 left in the half. But, Tennessee responded with the next five points punctuated by a Simmons 3-pointer with 11:26 left. The run expanded to 14-3 on back-to-back layups by Graves with nine minutes left. That gave the Lady Vols a lead of 13 points, 66-53 with 8:53 left.

The lead ballooned to 19 with three minutes left on Simmons' fourth 3-pointer of the game, making it 79-60. Tennessee had three 9-0 runs in the second half.

The Lady Vols outscored Georgia, 39-24 in the second half and held the Lady Bulldogs to just 29 percent from the floor including 25 percent from 3-point range.

A highly-entertaining first half saw both teams shoot well and play up tempo as Georgia led 42-40 at intermission.

Graves led all scorers with 12 in the first half.

The Lady Vols now lead the all-time series, 45-15 with a 19-4 mark in Knoxville. Tennessee has won the last five meetings and 13 of the last 14 overall.

KNOXVILLE - The #9 Tennessee Lady Vols routed Missouri, 84-39, in the first meeting between the teams as SEC foes before 10,967 at Thompson-Boling Arena. The win was UT's fifth wire-to-wire win this season as the Lady Vols moved to 12-3 overall and 3-0 in the SEC. Missouri dropped to 12-5, 1-2 in the SEC.

The win by 45 points was the largest for the Lady Vols in a conference game since UT thumped Alabama by 65 points, 110-45 on Jan. 6, 2011.

Meighan Simmons led the Lady Vols in scoring with 18 points.

Isabelle Harrison posted her sixth double-double of the season with 12 points and a career-high 15 rebounds.

Bashaara Graves tallied 16 points for her 12th game this season in double-figures. Taber Spani chipped in 11.

Tennessee limited Missouri to just 19.7 percent from the floor. That is the best defensive effort for the Lady Vols since holding Arkansas to 18.2 percent last season.

The Lady Vols forced 22 turnovers while committing just six.

Missouri made just four 2-point shots in the game on 30 attempts. The Tigers' 36 3-point attempts set a Thompson-Boling Arena record for a women's game.

Some huge advantages for Tennessee came in the following categories: points in the paint (40-6), points off turnovers (24-5), second-chance points (22-0) and fast break points (21-2).

After building a 27-point halftime lead, the second half was more of the same for Tennessee. The lead continued to grow throughout the final 20 minutes as the double-figure scorers piled up.

Graves' 3-point play with 13:25 left put UT ahead 59-26. A 14-2 run by the Lady Vols put UT ahead 65-28 on a layup by Harrison with nine minutes left.

The lead hit 40 with just under seven minutes left.

Missouri was led by Morgan Eye, who tallied 18 points. She set a Thompson-Boling Arena with 17 3-point field goal attempts as she made six. She broke the record of Tennessee's Angie Bjorklund, who attempted 16 in 2008.

Tennessee led 48-21 at intermission as Harrison nearly had a double-double with nine points and 11 rebounds. The point total of 48 and margin of +27 were the largest for the Lady Vols in an SEC game since leading Alabama 58-22 (+36) on Jan. 6, 2011.

Tennessee limited Missouri to just 19.4 percent from the floor in the first half including 1-of-17 on 2-point field goals.

The Lady Vols are a perfect 4-0 against the Tigers, winning twice in 1978 and once in 2010 prior to Thursday.

The Lady Vols (13-3 overall) have now won six games in a row and remain perfect in the SEC at 4-0. The win by three points was Tennessee's first by fewer than five points since a 61-58 win at Ole Miss on Feb. 11, 2010.

Simmons led all scorers with 27, 17 of which came in the first half. Graves notched her seventh double-double of the season with 17 points and 12 rebounds.

After sitting much of the first half with foul trouble and not scoring, Isabelle Harrison's 10 points -- all in the second half and overtime. She also added nine rebounds. Ariel Massengale chipped in 12 and handed out four assists.

The Gators were led by Jaterra Bonds, who had 18. January Miller and Carlie Needles each added 11. Florida was without their top player Jennifer George for most of the afternoon after she suffered an injury late in the first half.

Harrison's layup 11 seconds into overtime was the only basket of the extra session for the first 2:30. Christine Mercer made Florida's first shot -- after missing the first four attempts -- on a jumper to give the Gators a 73-72 lead.

Williams tallied her first point of the game on a free throw with 1:36 left, deadlocking the game at 73. Bonds quickly answered to regain a lead for the Gators with 75-73 lead with 7:29 left.

Tennessee would score the next five points while keeping Florida off the board. Simmons tied the game at 75 all on a jumper with 1:12 left in OT.

Williams made the first of two free throws with 24.3 left for a 78-75 lead.

With a chance to tie the game or give Florida the lead, Mercer missed two free throws with 8.9 left. Florida fouled on the rebound sending Graves back to the foul line where she made both foul shots with a 78-75 lead with 8.4 left.

Lewis' 3-point attempt from the left wing bounced off and the Lady Vols kept their streak going.

Tennessee is 45-3 all-time against Florida. Simmons had 17 of her points in the first half as Tennessee took a 37-34 lead at intermission. The junior guard had 17 of UT's first 33 points.

Florida has lost eight consecutive games in the series dating to their last win over the Lady Vols -- in Gainesville, on Feb. 8, 2009.

KNOXVILLE - On "We Back Pat" day at Thompson-Boling Arena, Tennessee honored its legendary coach Pat Summitt with a complete 96-69 victory over Alabama. The No. 9 Lady Vols have won eight games in a row overall and stand at a perfect 6-0 in the SEC and 15-3 overall.

Tennessee had it most points in an SEC game since trouncing Alabama, 110-45 on Jan. 6, 2011.

The Lady Vols have won 39 consecutive games in the series with Alabama, tying the second-longest active streak in the NCAA. Only Stanford has beaten Washington State more times in a row, 53.

Freshman Bashaara Graves tallied 19 points to lead the Lady Vols. It marked the 15th time in 18 college games she scored in double-figures. Graves also corrallled a team-best eight rebounds as the Lady Vols outrebounded the Crimson Tide, 50-38. UT also outscored Bama, 50-32 in the paint.

Five Lady Vols scored in double-figures for the fourth time this season. Junior Meighan Simmons had 16, while sophomore Isabelle Harrison, senior Taber Spani and freshman Jasmine Jones all scored 14 points. It was a career-high for Jones. Sophomore Ariel Massengale added eight points and handed out six assists.

Tennessee shot a 54.3 from the floor, just shy of a season-best 56.8 vs. Rice, back on Nov. 15.

Alabama (11-7, 7-4 SEC) was led by Daisha Simmons, who scored 19 points.

The entire coaching staff and players greeted Summitt prior to the game with hugs and well wishes as she sat in her normal seat at mid-court across the from the team benches. The Pat Summitt Foundation has continued to raise awareness in the fight against Alzheimer's and Sunday's game concluded a week of "We Back Pat" games in the SEC. Several presentations and donations were made to the Pat Summitt Foundation throughout the afternoon.

Up by 14 at halftime, the Lady Vols continued to pull away in the second half as the hot shooting continued. The lead reached 20 less than four minutes into the second half. A 3-point play by Spani with 16:09 left in the game, put UT up 62-40.

The lead ballooned to 27 on a Massengale jumper with 12:38 left to make it 73-46. UT hit the 80-point plateau on a Massengale free throw with 10:28 left on the clock. Nia Moore's short jumper put UT ahead 61-56 with 5:28 left in the game.

Tennessee shot a blistering 62.9 percent from the floor in the first half to hold a 49-35 lead. The shooting percentage was the highest by the Lady Vols in a first half all season. The 49 points also equaled the most points in a first half as UT also scored 49 vs. North Carolina on Dec. 2, 2012.

Graves (13) and Harrison (10) each had double-figures at halftime.

KNOXVILLE - Despite a 19-point, 13-rebound effort by UT freshman Bashaara Graves, No. 2/3 Notre Dame defeated No. 9/9 Tennessee 77-67 at Thompson-Boling Arena in front of a crowd of 13,556, the largest home crowd of the season. UT lost ended a nine-game win streak for the Lady Vols dating back to Dec. 28, 2012.

The Lady Vols (16-4) kept the Fighting Irish (19-1) in check during the first half, but an early second half surge by the visiting team was too much for Tennessee to overcome as they fell to Notre Dame for the third-straight meeting.

Skylar Diggins led the Fighting Irish putting up 33 points on the night, the most against the Lady Vols this season and most since A'dia Matthews had 34 for Kentucky on Jan. 12, 2012. Twenty-two of her 33 points came in the second half.

Graves double-double was her team-leading eighth of the season, and 10 of her rebounds came on the offensive glass, a career best. Nine of her 19 points came from the charity stripe, yet another career best for the freshman.

The Lady Vols took advantage of their second chances outscoring Notre Dame 17-14, while also putting up 18 points off turnovers. But the Irish had the edge in the paint, 38-28.

Ariel Massengale dished out nine assists on the night, a season-high for the sophomore.

Notre Dame opened the second half on 8-3 run extending its lead to 41-32, the largest of the game. Just a few minutes later the Fighting Irish took a 17-point lead thanks in part to an 11-0 run to make it 54-37 after the under-the-break.

The Lady Vols turned it on putting up six points in just 24 seconds extending that run into an 18-5 offensive onslaught to cut the deficit to just six points with less than five minutes remaining in the game.

But the Irish's shots continued to fall as they went 53.6 percent from the field in the second half, including a 66.7 percent effort from behind the arc, finishing with the 77-67 victory.

The night began with a presentation honoring Lady Vol Head Coach Emeritus Pat Summitt who became the 11th Vol to have a banner raised in their honor at Thompson-Boling Arena, and just the sixth Lady Vol.

Summitt's banner was raised in the rafters alongside Daedra Charles, Brigitte Gordon, Tamika Catchings, Chamique Holdsclaw, and Holly Warlick. The final three Lady Vols were in attendance for the ceremony along with Candace Parker.

The Hall of Fame coach, who led the Lady Vols from 1974-2012, accumulated 1,098 wins and eight National Championships during her tenure. Summitt became the first Lady Vol since Catchings Dec. 7, 2003 to be honored within one.

KNOXVILLE - The Lady Vols stayed perfect in the SEC with an 88-45 victory over Mississippi State at Thompson-Boling Arena. The ninth-ranked team in America moved to 17-4 overall and 8-0 in league play. The Bulldogs dropped to 9-12 overall, 1-7 in the SEC.

Junior Meighan Simmons tallied a game-high 21 points, her 18th game this season in double-figures including the last 10 games in a row. It was also her seventh game this season with 20-plus points.

In her first start in two years, senior Kamiko Williams posted her second-career double with 10 points and a career-high 13 rebounds. She also had a career-high six steals and tied her career-high with six assists.

Senior Taber Spani netted 15 points and hauled down seven rebounds. She has scored double-figures in eight of the last nine games. Spani is averaging 14.3 points and 5.3 rebounds in SEC play.

Freshman Bashaara Graves had 10 points and seven rebounds. He 18th game double-figures this year.

In her return to action after missing the last eight games with a fractured hand, sophomore Cierra Burdick played 16 minutes and scored four points.

The 43-point margin of victory was the fifth largest of the season. Tennessee beat both Alcorn State and Rice by 53 points and both North Carolina and Missouri by 45.

The Lady Vols won their 34th consecutive game against Mississippi State -- every meeting between the teams. Only four of the meetings have been decided by five points or less. The 34 wins rank as the seventh-longest active streak in any series in the NCAA.

The Bulldogs were led by Martha Alwal, who had 16 points. The win was the eighth wire-to-wire win this season and third in SEC play.

Tennessee jumped out to a 10-0 lead in the first three minutes and never looked back. Jasmine Jones' jump shot with 7:48 left in the half extended the lead to 25-10.

The highlight of the first half came when Burdick returned to the court after being sidelined since New Year's Day. Burdick played the final six minutes of the half in her SEC debut this season. She scored her first bucket on a layup with three minutes left in the first half, making it 35-16.

Simmons' jumper finished the first half scoring as she hit 10 points and gave the Lady Vols a 42-18 lead at intermission.

The second half was more of the same as Tennessee outscored the Bulldogs, 46-27 in the final 20 minutes.

BATON ROUGE, La. -- In dramatic fashion, the No. 12/13 Lady Vols battled down to the wire with LSU as freshman Bashaara Graves sank the game-winning bucket with .8 seconds left to defeat the Tigers, 64-62, at the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

In the first meeting between first-year head coach Holly Warlick and former Lady Vol and current LSU coach Nikki Caldwell, Tennessee (18-5, 9-1 SEC) powered through the LSU defense to earn its ninth SEC win of the season, and seventh straight victory over the Tigers. LSU fell to 13-10 overall and 4-6 in league action.

Junior Meighan Simmons led the team as she posted 18 points, while Graves followed with 17. Sophomores Ariel Massengale and Cierra Burdick added nine apiece. Burdick grabbed a team-best nine boards with senior Kamiko Williams bringing down six.

The Lady Vols shot 49.1 percent (27-of-55) from the field for the game, while shooting 60 percent in the second half alone. UT went 41.7 percent (5-of-12) from the 3-point range and 50 percent (5-of-10) from the free throw line.

LSU's Theresa Plaisance led all players as she tallied 20 points for the Tigers. Bianca Lutley added 13, while freshman Danielle Ballard contributed 10.

The Lady Vols jumped to a 9-0 lead to start the game, gaining as much as an 11-point lead as they went up 13-2 before the Tigers battled their way back. LSU scored eight straight to cut it to three, then went on to a 7-0 run to give them a one-point lead at the under-9 minute mark in the opening half. UT led 28-26 heading into the locker rooms at the halfway point.

Coming out of the break, the Lady Vols kick started their efforts as they went up 34-27 before LSU responded again.

For every basket UT made, LSU would respond with its own. With four minutes remaining, a charge was called on Massengale as momentum seemed to turn in the Tigers' favor.

LSU hung on to the lead until 71 seconds left when Burdick was fouled. She missed the first free throw before making the second to tie it up, 62-62. A UT steal on the Tigers' inbounds pass would give Tennessee the ball back, before Graves made the final basket with .8 seconds on the clock to give UT the lead and victory.

KNOXVILLE - Led by junior Meighan Simmons who finished with 24 points, the Tennessee women's basketball team jumped out to an early lead and never looked back finishing with a 97-68 victory over Ole Miss (8-15, 1-9 SEC) in front of a crowd of 11,727 at Thompson-Boling Arena.

It was the ninth wire-to-wire win of the season for the Lady Vols (19-5, 10-1) and their fourth in conference play.

Five Tennessee players tallied double-double scoring for the sixth time this season en route to a 59.4 shooting percentage, the highest of the season. With their team-leading 24 points, Simmons moved into 26th place on the all-time scoring list finishing the day with 1,319 points passing Tonya Edwards (1,309).

It was the eighth time this season that Simmons registered over 20 points and the 18th time in her career.

Aiding Simmons was sophomore Ariel Massengale who dished out eight assists off of her season-high (9) while Kamiko Williams added five helpers, one off of her career-high (6).

The Lady Vols began the game off on a 16-2 run and cruised the rest of the way holding Ole Miss to just one field goal in the first seven and a half minutes of play.

The Rebels briefly got back into the game closing the gap to 28-23 with six minutes left in the first half. However, the Lady Vols finished the half on a 12-4 run to earn a 13-point, 40-27 halftime lead, marking the 12th time that Tennessee tallied at least 40 points at the half this season.

In the second half, the Lady Vols grabbed a 20-point lead on a 3-pointer by Taber Spani, extending a 14-4 run with just under 13 minutes remaining in the game.

The Lady Vols extended their lead to 22-points as Simmons took a no-look pass from Cierra Burdick and drained her second three of the game with 8:21 left to play en route to the 29-point victory.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. - Down by as many as 11 early in the second half, No. 10 Tennessee rallied for a 60-54 win at Bud Walton Arena. The win keeps the Lady Vols sole possession of first place in the SEC with a 13-4 league mark to go with a 22-5 overall record.

Meighan Simmons led Tennessee with a game-high 18 points, while grabbing seven rebounds. The Lady Vols have won five games in a row heading into their final two regular-season games against the teams pushing for the perch in the SEC: Kentucky and Texas A&M, as each stands at 11-2 in the league. Both teams are in action on Sunday, but have not completed their games.

It was the fourth time this season Tennessee rallied from a halftime deficit and second-largest overall comeback. UT trailed by as many as 12 vs. MTSU on Nov. 28, 2012, but rallied to win in overtime, 88-81.

Taber Spani netted 14 while Bashaara Graves tallied 11 and grabbed a game-best nine rebounds.

Arkansas (17-10, 5-9 SEC) was led by Quistelle Williams, who had 15 points.

Tennessee used a 10-0 run early in the second half to rally from a 36-33 deficit with 15:35 left to take a 43-36 lead on a Spani 3-pointer with 12:48 remaining. The Lady Vols never trailed after that point.

Arkansas continued to battle and keep the game within striking distance but were unable to pull off the upset.

The Razorbacks cut the margin to one at 51-50 on a Sarah Watkins jumper with 3:32 left in the second half.

A big bucket as the shot clock was winding down by Spani with 43 seconds left on the clock put the Lady Vols ahead, 56-55.

Free throws sealed the game in the final minutes as Ariel Massengale and Spani each made a pair in the final 25 seconds.

The Razorbacks outscored Tennessee 19-5 over the final 10 minutes of the first half to hold a 28-19 lead at halftime. Tennessee had built a 14-7 lead midway through the half, but turnovers (13) and poor shooting (26.9 percent) led to the Lady Vols falling behind.

Tennessee leads the all-time series with Arkansas, 24-2 including a 12-1 mark in Fayetteville. The win for the Lady Vols gained a measure of revenge as Arkansas upset UT last season, 72-71 in overtime in Knoxville on Feb. 23, 2012.

KNOXVILLE -- #8 Tennessee secured the outright regular-season SEC championship with an 82-72 victory over #13/15 Texas A&M night before 12,213 at Thompson-Boling Arena. The Lady Vols claimed their 17th regular-season crown overall. Senior Kamiko Williams scored a career-high 18 points and classmate Taber Spani scored eight as the duo won their third SEC regular-season crown.

The Lady Vols (23-5 overall, 14-1 SEC) have won 18 of their last 19 games against conference foes dating to last season. That includes a perfect 8-0 mark at the SEC contests this year.

First-year head coach Holly Warlick became the second coach in SEC history to win the regular-season title in her first year as a head coach in the league, joining Pokey Chatman, who won it at LSU in 2005.

Texas A&M, which had won 21 of their last 25 games, fell to 21-8 overall and 11-4 in the SEC.

Meighan Simmons netted 17 for her 17th game in a row in double-figures. Cierra Burdick had her fourth double of the season and second in three games with 15 points and a career-high 14 rebounds.

Freshman Bashaara Graves tallied 14 points for her 25th game this season with 10 or more points.

Playing her first home game in a month, Isabelle Harrison returned with 10 points -- all in the second half for UT's fifth player in double-figures. After missing close to a month with an injury, Harrison was hurt late in the action and missed the final 1:52.

Texas A&M was led by Adrienne Pratcher, who scored a game-high 20. Leading scorer and rebounder Kelsey Bone was limited to 14 points and five rebounds.

Keyed by a 12-2 run just prior to halftime, the Lady Vols never relinquished the lead in the second half. A 13-2 run by the Lady Vols expanded the lead to 66-52 on a Burdick jumper with nine minutes left in the half.

Texas A&M continued to threaten, but the Lady Vols took the Aggie punches and stood strong.

Down by as many as 14, Pratcher scored eight points in a row to bring the Aggies back within four with 7:45 remaining.

But the Lady Vols wouldn't be deterred, after another Pratcher bucket cut the deficit to three, 67-64. Tennessee ripped off seven points in 51 seconds to regain a double-figure lead at 74-64 with 5:52 left.

UT's lead was cut to four with 3:50 left, but again, Tennessee withstood as Williams put the final dagger in the Aggies on a jumper with 10 seconds left for the final of 82-72. UT had the game's final six points.

LEXINGTON, Ky. - With the SEC regular-season championship and the No. 1 seed in the SEC Tournament secured, the No. 8 Tennessee Lady Vols dropped a 78-65 decision at No. 10 Kentucky at Memorial Coliseum.

The Lady Vols play their first game in the SEC Tournament on Friday, March 8 at 12 Noon. Tennessee will take on the winner of the No. 8 Arkansas/No. 9 Florida game.

Tennessee finishes its first season under head coach Holly Warlick with an overall record of 23-6 and a 14-2 mark in the SEC. Kentucky finishes second to the Lady Vols in the league at 25-4 overall and 13-3 in the league.

For the 17th time this season, Meighan Simmons led the lady Vols in scoring putting up 15 points to go along with seven rebounds and two assists.

Four Lady Vols notched double-digit scoring including Bashaara Graves who had 12 points and five rebounds. Cierra Burdick who notched her third double-double in the last four games on 11 points and 11 rebounds and Taber Spani who hit a three at the end of the game to give herself 11 points on the day.

Kentucky's leader board was topped by senior A'dia Mathies, playing in her final game at Memorial Coliseum, and Jennifer O'Neill who each tallied 16 points in the game. Five different Wildcats notched double-digit scoring.

Turnovers played a big part in the Kentucky victory as the Wildcats used 19 Tennessee turnovers in the first half, a season high for the Lady Vols, to put 21 of their 36 points on the board. The previous season-high was 17 at Chattanooga in the first game of the season on Nov. 9, 2012.

The Lady Vols finished the game with a season-high 31 turnovers as Kentucky capitalized by tallying 33 points off of those turnovers. Tennessee's previous high in 2012-13 was 26 turnovers in a game, also at Chattanooga.

The Lady Vols cut the once-13 point first half lead to just two at 34-32 nearing the end of the half using a 13-2 run sparked by Graves and Williams. Graves put up eight of the 12 points tallied during the run while Williams pulled down three defensive rebounds while tallying a bucket.

Williams came out of the game after injuring her right ankle with under-45 seconds remaining in the first half getting back on defense. At the time of the injury Williams tallied nine points and seven rebounds. Williams returned in the second half.

The Wildcats opened the second half on a 9-0 run to extend its lead to 13 points and later extending the lead to 19 points using back-to-back A'dia Mathies 3-pointers and a 52-second, 8-0 run.

Kentucky led much of the second half by double-digits en route to the 78-65 victory.

KNOXVILLE - No. 2 seed Tennessee won its 51st consecutive home game in the NCAA Tournament with a 83-62 victory over No. 15 seed Oral Roberts at Thompson-Boling Arena.

The Lady Vols are 49-1 all-time in first-round games, with the lone loss coming in 2009 to Ball State, Tennessee -- the only team to play in all 32 tournaments -- remained perfect in home games in the NCAA Tournament dating to the start of the event in 1982 including a 39-0 mark at Thompson-Boling.

Junior guard Meighan Simmons led Tennessee with 18 points. She added five rebounds and three steals. Ariel Massengale netted 13, for her best scoring game in more than a month, and handed out six assists. Cierra Burdick also added 13 to go along with eight rebounds.

SEC Freshman of the Year Bashaara Graves scored in double-figures for the 28th time in 32 games during her rookie campaign with 11 points. She also grabbed seven rebounds. All 10 Lady Vols to play scored.

With 10 blocked shots -- all in the first half -- Oral Roberts tied a Thompson-Boling Arena for blocks by a Tennessee opponent in any game. The mark was set by Baylor set in 2011. Six-foot-three-inch center Sarah Shelton swatted six shots, one shy of the TBA record for blocks by a Tennessee opponent. The mark of seven is held by three players, most recently Baylor's Brittany Griner in that game from 2011.

Up 13 at halftime, Tennessee continued to add its lead as the second half unfolded. UT tallied the first 11 points of the half to take a 24-point lead at 55-31.

The Golden Eagles missed 13 consecutive shots as the Lady Vols took command. Oral Roberts didn't score for the first 5:34 of the second half until Christian Key canned a 3-pointer.

Freshman Nia Moore, making her NCAA Tournament debut, put home her first postseason points for a 77-51 lead with six minutes remaining.

The Lady Vols finished the game off in style and gave Tennessee head coach Holly Warlick her first postseason win in charge of the Lady Vols.

Tennessee held a 44-31 lead at halftime. Simmons was all over the court in the first half as she scored 14 points, grabbed four rebounds and came away with three steals. All eight Lady Vols who played in the first half scored. UT held a significant advantage in the statistical areas after the first 20 minutes: points off turnovers (15-1), second chance points (11-2), bench points (10-2) and points in the paint (18-11). Oral Roberts was led by Cooper, who had 10 points.

KNOXVILLE - Tennessee advanced to the Sweet 16 for the 31st time in 32 years with a 68-52 win over Creighton.

Tennessee is now 52-0 all-time in home NCAA Tournament games including a 40-0 mark in first and second-round games. The Orange & White has a 50-1 overall record in first and second round games.

In their final game in Thompson-Boling Arena, seniors Kamiko Williams (15) and Taber Spani (10) combined for 25 points to lead the Lady Vols' scoring chart. Junior Meighan Simmons and sophomore Ariel Massengale each added 10 points.

Tennessee used tremendous defense to limit Creighton to just 4-of-22 from 3-point range -- the Bluejays' specialty. It marked the fewest treys in a game for Creighton this season. The 18.2 percent was also a season-low for CU from 3-point land. The Jays came into the NCAA Tournament, second in the NCAA in made treys per game (9.2).

The Lady Vols dominated the paint as expected, outscoring the Jays, 26-16. Tennessee also showed its quickness with 15 fastbreak points to two for Creighton. Creighton (25-8) was led by Alexis Akin-Otiko, who had 12.

Tennessee opened the second half with stifling defense and up-tempo offense. The Lady Vols' 13-0 run gave UT a 48-31 lead on a sweet give-and-go finish by Williams and 3-pointers by Massengale and Simmons with 15 minutes left in the half.

After Creighton cut the deficit to 12 points, Spani answered with a 3-pointer with 7:44 left in regulation, put UT ahead, 59-44.

The Bluejays kept battling and cut the margin to single-digits on a pair of free throws by Ally Jensen with 4:42 left in regulation at 59-50. But, once again the Lady Vols answered as Simmons knocked down a 3-pointer to give UT a 62-50 advantage.

The Lady Vols sealed the game with a 9-0 run in the final minutes.

The Lady Vols shot 50 percent from the floor in the second half. Tennessee held the Jays to just one 3-pointer on defense as Creighton shot just 25.9 in all field goal attempts (1-of-12 in 3-pointers).

Williams (10 first-half points) was the difference for the Lady Vols late in the first half as she scored twice in the final minute to put Tennessee ahead 35-29 at the break. The game was tied on five occasions and the largest lead was eight over the first 20 minutes.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. - Tennessee used a 25-5 first-half run and cruised to a 74-59 victory in the Sweet 16 at the Chesapeake Energy Arena.

Tennessee advanced to the Elite Eight for the 26th time in school history and third year in a row. The Lady Vols are a remarkable 26-5 all-time in regional semifinal games and an NCAA-best 15-23 all-time in 138 NCAA Tournament contests.

Senior Kamiko Williams continued her torrid late-season play with 15 points. Fellow senior Taber Spani added 12 points to give the senior combo 27 points. Two other Lady Vols scored in double-figures. Sophomore Isabelle Harrison had her best game since returning from a late-season injury, posting 12 points and eight rebounds. Sophomore Cierra Burdick notched 13 points.

The Lady Vols' defense was incredible all game, limiting Oklahoma to just 30.7 percent from the arc.

Sixth-seeded Oklahoma (24-11) was led by Sharane Campbell, who scored a game-high 22 points. Joanna McFarland had 14 points and 16 rebounds. The Sooners suffered a major blow when guard Morgan Hook was injured early in the game and did not return.

For the second postseason game in a row, Williams keyed the Lady Vols as they built a sizeable first-half lead. Williams tallied 13 in the first half as UT held a 44-27 lead at halftime. With the game tied at 11, five minutes into the action, Tennessee outscored Oklahoma, 33-16, over the final 15 minutes to lead by 17 at halftime.

Tennessee's defense held Oklahoma to just 28.2 percent from the floor in the first half. The Sooners had a significant drought midway through the first half, making just 1-19 shots in just under 10 minutes of action.

Williams' sparked a 15-2 spurt to put the Lady Vols ahead, 26-13 with 10 minutes left in the first half, causing OU to call timeout. The Lady Vols held Oklahoma without a point for 4:25 before McFarland ended a 10-0 spurt. UT also had a run of holding the Sooners without a field goal for 5:27 later in the half.

The Lady Vols shot 53 percent in the first half. Tennessee opened the game making nine of its first 13 field goal attempts including its first three 3-point tries.

Ahead by 17 at halftime, Tennessee struggled early in the second half as the Lady Vols were held off the scoreboard for the first 4:41 after Ariel Massengale knocked home a jumper after Oklahoma had cut its deficit to 13 points. Once UT got on track, the Lady Vols got it going on both ends of the floor.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. -- The Lady Vols nearly rallied from a 20-point deficit in the second half, but came up short as their season came to an end in a 86-78 loss to Louisville in the Elite Eight at the Chesapeake Energy Arena. No. 2 seed Tennessee finished with a 27-8 record in Holly Warlick's first season at the helm of the program.

The Lady Vols were led by the senior duo of Taber Spani (20 points) and Kamiko Williams (12 points) for the third game in a row in the postseason. The pair, who played their final game in Orange & White combined for 32 points with all of Spani's points coming in the second half. Meighan Simmons scored all of her 12 points in the second half during UT's rally. Bashaara Graves and Isabelle Harrison each added 11 points.

Louisville was led by Shoni Schimmel, who scored 24 points. Sister Jude Schimmel scored 15 to give the duo 39 points. Bria Smith (15), Monique Reid (12) and Sara Hammond (11) also scored in double-figures for the Cardinals.

Down by as many as 20 points early in the second half, Tennessee cut the deficit to three points with 4:28 left in regulation, but the Lady Vols were unable to finish what would have been their largest comeback since 2009.

Simmons' first field goal -- after seven misses -- came on a 3-pointer with 8:28 left in regulation to cut it to 64-56. Spani's jumper brought UT within six. 64-58. Spani's free throws inched the Lady Vols to within five points at 66-61 with six minutes left.

Williams' jumper with 4:28 on the clock, made the game a one possession game (68-65) for the first time less than five minutes into the game (8-5). That was as close as the Lady Vols would get after a furious comeback in the second half.

The Schimmel sisters scored nine straight points for the Cardinals as Jude nailed a 3-pointer with 2:06 left followed by a layup from Shoni to regain a commanding eight-point lead with 1:45 left in the game at 79-71. An Antonia Slaughter layup regained the double-figure lead at 81-71 with 1:09 left. That proved to be the final blow for the Lady Vols and ended their season.

Shoni Schimmel knocked down a 3-pointer to put Louisville ahead by 20 at 49-29, just 90 seconds into the second half. Spani answered with her first points of the half on a 3-pointer of her own seconds later.

Louisville led 41-26 at halftime thanks to 17 total points from the Schimmel sisters as Shoni led all players with 10. Tennessee's top three scorers (Simmons, Graves and Spani) combined for just three points -- all from Graves -- in the first 20 minutes. The Cardinals outrebounded the Lady Vols, 24-14 in the first half, including 10 offensive boards.

Tennessee had rallied to win from double-digit deficits three times this season vs. MTSU (down by 12), at Auburn (Down by 12) and at Arkansas (down by 11). The Lady Vols rallied from 14-point deficit to win in the Sweet 16 last season vs. Kansas.

RETired JERSEYS

Tennessee has recognized the careers of five Lady Vols and a legendary coach with the hanging of jersey-banners from the rafters of Thompson-Boling Arena. A sixth player is slated to be added to the elite group on Jan. 2, 2014, when a No. 3 banner honoring Candace Parker is hoisted skyward.

Holly Warlick, Bridgette Gordon, Daedra Charles, Chamique Holdsclaw, Tamika Catchings and Pat Summitt all have banners hanging in UT's basketball venue and will welcome Parker to the club just after the new year.

NO. 22 HOLLY WARLICK

Guard » 1976-80 » Knoxville, Tenn.

The first Tennessee athlete, either male or female, to have her jersey retired was Holly Warlick. Her uniform was retired on Feb. 18, 1980, in a ceremony after Tennessee's 89-72 win over Clemson in Stokely Athletics Center. A play-making wizard for the Lady Vols from 1976-80, Holly earned All-America honors three times. At the time of the ceremony, she held UT records for most assists in a game (14), most steals in a game (9), and most assists in a season (225).

Holly could not hang up her uniform right away. She played six more games after the retirement party. The final time she donned No. 22 was in the AIAW National Championship game when the Lady Vols fell to Old Dominion, 68-53.

During her years at Tennessee, the Lady Vols produced a 118-23 overall record, three trips to the Final Four and a first-ever SEC Tournament title. She later went on to become a member of the 1980 U.S. Olympic Team.

Now the head coach of the Lady Vols, Warlick's No. 22 banner hangs in the rafters above the court in Thompson-Boling Arena.

NO. 30 BRIDGETTE GORDON

Forward » 1985-89 » DeLand, Fla.

Ten years later, the second Lady Vol basketball jersey was retired. Bridgette Gordon returned to Thompson-Boling Arena after a stellar career at Tennessee to see her No. 30 honored during halftime of Tennessee's 76-70 win over Texas on Jan. 17, 1990.

Bridgette led the Lady Vols to a 115-21 record during her four years at UT. She was the driving force behind an NCAA-record four consecutive trips to the Final Four as well as two NCAA and two SEC Championships.

Bridgette was the first freshman ever to lead UT in scoring, and she earned co-SEC Rookie of the Year and All-SEC honors. The next year she led Tennessee to its first NCAA title, earned All-SEC honors again and was named to the All-Final Four team. She copped All-SEC honors and was named MVP of the SEC Tournament as a junior. She also earned her first of two Kodak All-America honors that year.

After earning a gold medal as a member of the 1988 U.S. Olympic basketball team, Bridgette returned to Tennessee for her senior season. She led the Lady Vols to the 1989 NCAA title and was named MVP of the Final Four. She finished her career as the all-time leading scorer in NCAA Tournament history.

Bridgette graduated in 1989 with a B.S. in political science. She was basketball's nominee for the 1989 Honda-Broderick Award, which is symbolic for women's academic and athletic achievement.

NO. 32 DAEDRA CHARLES

Center » 1988-91 » Detroit, Mich.

When Tennessee hosted the SEC-Big 10 Challenge in Dec. 28, 1991, Daedra Charles became the next Lady Vol to have her jersey retired. Charles returned to Knoxville from Como, Italy, where she was playing professional basketball with former Lady Vol teammate Bridgette Gordon. Charles came to surprise Lady Vol head coach Pat Summitt by announcing the endowment of the Pat Head Summitt Scholarship, presented by Charles, Gordon and another former Lady Vol, Lisa McGill Reagan. Summitt, who was unaware of the endowment, had planned the retirement ceremony as a surprise for Charles.

A two-time Kodak All-American at Tennessee, Daedra was the 1991 SEC Woman Athlete of the Year. She became the first player from the SEC to win the Wade Trophy, the highest honor in women's basketball. All this came after leading Tennessee to its third NCAA title in five years.

She finished her career seventh on the UT scoring list (1495), sixth in rebounding (858) and second in shots blocked (95), despite missing her freshman season as a Prop 48 student. Still, Daedra graduated in four years, earning a bachelor's degree in child and family studies.

NO. 23 CHAMIQUE HOLDSCLAW

Forward » 1995-99 » Astoria, N.Y.

During halftime of the Lady Vols' 92-88 home triumph over archrival Connecticut on Feb. 1, 2001, the collegiate career of arguably the greatest women's player to ever play the game was officially closed when Chamique Holdsclaw became just the fourth Lady Vol to have her jersey retired.

The Naismith Player of the Century and one of only six four-time Kodak All-Americans in the history of women's basketball, Holdsclaw led the Orange and White to a 131-17 overall record and an unprecedented three consecutive national championships from 1996-98, while establishing herself as the program's all-time leader in scoring (3,025 points) and rebounding (1,295).

The NCAA Tournament's most outstanding player in 1997 and 1998, Holdsclaw still holds the record for points (479 points, 21.8 ppg) and rebounds (198 rebounds, 9.0 rpg) accumulated in tournament games.

The first two-time winner of the Associated Press Player of the Year Award, Holdsclaw garnered 34 individual awards during her career, including 21 player of the year honors from a variety of organizations. In 2006, Holdsclaw was named to the NCAA 25th Anniversary Team. She was previously named to the Kodak 25th Anniversary Team in 1999.

RETired JERSEYS (CONTINUED)NO. 24 TAMIKA CATCHINGS

Forward » 1997-01 » Duncanville, Texas

The fifth Lady Vol jersey to be retired belonged to Tamika Catchings in a halftime ceremony on Dec. 7, 2003, against Louisiana Tech. From the moment she stepped on the court in the number 24 orange and white jersey, we knew from her contagious smile that she was a special person, and from her deadly baseline-to-baseline hustling for all 40 minutes, a truly phenomenal player.

This special six-foot, one-inch forward had the heart of a champion and could play anywhere on the court. Her UT career was shortened during her senior year when she went crashing to the floor with a torn anterior cruciate ligament in game 17 versus Mississippi State.

Her list of awards was staggering, as she captured a slew of them while being tabbed as UT's second four-time Kodak All-American. What she accomplished in the span of her collegiate career is the stuff of legend. She played in 127 games as a Lady Vol. Her assault on the record books is legendary for both scoring, with 2,113 points, and rebounding, 1,004 boards. Both marks rank her third all-time. She also finished her career second all-time in steals with 311 and blocked shots with 136. And remember, she missed half of her senior season.

Her teammates will tell you how special it was to earn a blue adidas headband after Catchings went out with the injury. Earning one meant they hustled like "Catch" would have. The Eleanor Roosevelt League for the Hard of Hearing honored her in 1998 – as a special role model for youngsters and adults with hearing impairments. Her UT academic counselors will relate stories about Catchings graduating ahead of her class in December 2000. People in the Knoxville community will tell you of the countless hours she put in with youths from all walks of life – from playgrounds to hospitals.

An WNBA All-Star for the Indiana Fever, Catchings added to her collection of accolades in the Summer of 2004 with a gold medal as a member of the USA Women's Basketball Team at the Athens Olympic Games. She also added gold medals at the 2008 and 2012 Olympiads as well.

PAT SUMMITT

Head Coach » 1974-2012 » Henrietta, Tenn.

The sixth woman and first non-player to be honored with a banner at Thompson-Boling Arena was Pat Summitt, who coached Tennessee for 38 years and compiled a 1,098-208 career record with the most wins in NCAA women's or men's basketball history. Summitt's banner was hoisted prior to a nationally-televisioned game vs. Notre Dame on Jan. 28, 2013.

The legendary Summitt directed Tennessee to eight NCAA National Championships, 31-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and 18 NCAA Final Fours. At the conference level, she directed her squads to 16 SEC regular-season titles and 16 SEC tournament championships, including a tourney title in her final season at the helm in 2012.

During her career, Summitt produced 21 WBCA/Kodak/State Farm All-Americans, 39 All-SEC players, 12 Olympians and 34 WNBA draft picks, including 15 first-round selections. The number she was most proud of, however, was the 100-percent graduation rate for the 122 players who completed their careers and earned degrees at Tennessee.

Collecting an incredible array of honors during her career, Summitt was named SEC Coach of the Year eight times – 1993, 1995, 1998, 2001, 2003, 2004, 2007 and 2011. She was named the 1987, 1989, 1994, 1998 and 2004 Naismith Women's College Coach of the Year and WBCA/Converse Coach of the Year in 1983 and 1995 and the IKON/WBCA Coach of the Year in 1998.

Summitt belongs to the FIBA International, Naismith Memorial, Women's Basketball, Women's Sports Foundation, Tennessee Lady Vol, Tennessee Sports, Greater Knoxville Sports, and National Association for Sports and Physical Education Hall of Fame. Her most esteemed honor, however, came on May 29, 2012, when she received the Presidential Medal of Freedom (presented by President Barack Obama) at White House.

LADY VOLS IN THE PROFESSIONAL RANKS

Until recently, there have been a limited number of opportunities for women to play basketball in the professional ranks. However, 46 Lady Vols have taken advantage of the opportunity to play past their collegiate days in overseas leagues and in the United States. In 2013, nine former Lady Vol standouts were employed in the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA).

LADY VOLS IN THE WNBA DRAFT

The Lady Vol basketball program has produced 46 professional players over the years, including 37 alumnae who went on to play in the WNBA. Of those 37 who continued their careers at the professional level in the WNBA, 15 were selected in the Draft's first round.

Tennessee has placed two or more players in the first round of the draft five times. The 2012 draft was the Lady Vols' best yet, as Shekinna Stricklen (2nd, Seattle), Glory Johnson (4th, Tulsa) and Kelley Cain (7th, New York) all went in the first round. Vicki Baugh was taken in the third round (25th overall pick) by Tulsa.

Candace Parker and Alexis Hornbuckle were taken in 2008. The Sparks chose Parker with the first overall pick. Hornbuckle followed closely behind as the Shock picked her up with the fourth selection.

Dena Head and Daedra Charles were selected first and eighth respectively in the 1997 draft. Lady Vols doubled up again in 1999, with Chamique Holdsclaw going first to the Mystics and Tonya Edwards going seventh to the Lynx. Kara Lawson and Gwen Jackson were taken with back-to-back picks in 2003, with Lawson going fifth to the Shock and Jackson going sixth to the Fever.

THOMPSON-BOLING ARENA

The Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena is one of the largest on-campus arenas in the country and a very tough place for visitors to leave with a win. The Lady Vols own a 369-25 (.937) record at the facility entering the 2013-14 season.

A mammoth structure located on the banks of the Tennessee River, it was named for B. Ray Thompson and retired UT President Edward J. Boling. The building is 448 feet long and 310 feet wide. It contains more than 411,000 square feet of floor space and more than 17 million cubic feet of space.

Following renovations in 2007, Thompson-Boling Arena now has an official seating capacity of 21,678. As part of a $19 million renovation of the arena prior to the 2007-08 season, 32 luxury suites were added to the existing north balcony along with a loge area just below the suites that included 166 side court seats. A $3 million center-hung scoreboard, new black seats and several concourse refurbishments were also part of the renovation.

The enormous facility houses the Tennessee women's and men's basketball offices. The UT Ticket Office is located on the Phillip Fulmer Way level on the west end of the building.

A continuous-ring concourse encircles the building, permitting entrance to eight restrooms, six concession areas and 32 portals that lead to the arena. The playing floor level provides access to team dressing rooms, the press room and storage rooms. The distance from the playing floor to the roof is 120 feet, the equivalent of a 12-story building. The structure contains 142,000 square feet of roof area, which is approximately three and one-quarter acres.

In recent years, UT women's basketball has enjoyed a number of lengthy home winning streaks. On Dec. 28, 2003, Texas snapped a 24-game run that dated back to the 2001-02 season. A previous streak of 26 consecutive wins in the home confines ended on Jan. 5, 2002, with an 86-72 loss to Connecticut. The Lady Vols broke the NCAA homecourt winning streak record with 69 consecutive victories before Connecticut spoiled the streak with a 59-53 win in game number 70 on Jan. 6, 1996. Tennessee claimed 64 straight home SEC victories before third-ranked LSU snapped the streak with a 72-69 victory – its first ever in Knoxville – on Feb. 9, 2006. The Lady Vols took a 36-game home winning streak into the 2011-12 season before Baylor snapped it at 38 on Nov. 27, 2011.

In 1998-99, the Lady Vols played before the largest average home crowd in the history of women's collegiate basketball, as 16,565 spectators per game clicked through the turnstiles. In all, 231,915 fans viewed home games in Knoxville. During the 1997-98 season, Tennessee set several collegiate attendance records. On Jan. 3, 1998, the Lady Vols entertained a new women's collegiate record 24,597 fans for the game with Connecticut. A month later, the first advance sell-out in UT women's basketball history occurred when the Lady Vols were set to meet Old Dominion in Knoxville. For the record, 24,373 fans attended the UT-ODU game. The all-time attendance mark was reset during the 2001-02 season when 24,611 fans visited the arena for a #1/#2 clash between UT and Connecticut. It was again reset on Jan. 7, 2006, when the Huskies came to Knoxville in front of 24,653 spectators. The women's basketball attendance mark was established at the 2002 NCAA Final Four when 29,619 people filled the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas, for the championship game.

The Lady Vols started the record-breaking trend in women's collegiate basketball attendance in 1987. That season, the Lady Vols broke the (then) world record for single game attendance at a women's basketball game with 24,563 at the Tennessee versus Texas game on Dec. 9, 1987. Three years later, UT established new NCAA Women's Final Four attendance marks on March 30 and April 1, 1990, with a total paid attendance of 39,490 for the three-game event. The turnstile count of 34,196 (17,601 semis/16,595 finals) also broke all other attendance marks.

In 2012-13, UT led the NCAA in attendance for the 10th-straight season and the 16th time in the last 17 years.

STOKELY ATHLETICS CENTER ►

Stokely Athletics Center was the home to the offices of both the Women's Athletics Department and the Lady Volunteer basketball team from 1976-87. It was formerly home to the Lady Vol volleyball team, which moved its matches to Thompson-Boling Arena in the fall of 2008. Many offices of the UT Athletics Department are still housed in Stokely, including Athletic Training, Media Relations and Strength & Conditioning, as well as several coaching staffs.

The Stokely Arena, which is encircled by a four-lane Tartan indoor track, seated 12,700, while the building housed the former men's and women's athletics department offices. The building was originally called the UT Armory Field House in 1958 and seated just more than 7,000 spectators. Through the generosity of the late William B. Stokely, Jr., further construction was completed and on Dec. 1, 1966, the facility was renamed to honor the Stokely family.

In 1986, Stokely took on a new look as a wood playing surface replaced the old tartan court. The Horner "Pro King" hardwood was painted with the traditional outline of the state of Tennessee in the center of the floor and the familiar end line markings. The court was special-made for the University by the same manufacturer who supplied the basketball court to the Forum for the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Games.

Stokely Athletics Center was the site of some historic games for the Lady Vols. The first women's contest played in SAC pitted Tennessee versus Kentucky on Nov. 13, 1976. The Lady Vols not only trounced the Lady Kats, 107-53, but UT's Patricia Roberts tossed in a Field House record 51 points. Along the way, Tennessee hosted the great gold medalist USSR Olympic Team in 1979, the USA All-Star team in 1979 and the first Southeastern Conference Championships in 1980.

The last Lady Vol game in Stokely, before moving to Thompson-Boling Arena, was a 77-61 win over Auburn in the finals of the NCAA Mideast Regionals on March 21, 1987. A week later, the Lady Vols returned to Stokely to celebrate UT's first NCAA basketball title with thousands of fans in attendance.

Although no formal attendance figures were kept prior to 1982, Tennessee most-assuredly was among the nation's elite in fan support.

ALUMNI GYM ►

Constructed in the 1930's, Alumni Gym was the first real home to the inaugural Lady Vol team in 1974, which was coached by Pat Summitt. The court in the tiny arena (seating 3,000) was the centerpiece of an encircling tri-balcony seating arrangement.

► PRATT PAVILION

In October 2006, Tennessee Athletics had a groundbreaking ceremony to officially recognize construction on the Pratt Pavilion, the state-of-art basketball practice facility named in UT alumnus Larry F. Pratt's honor for his $5 million lead gift to the basketball programs. The Pratt Pavilion, which opened in the fall of 2007, houses two full-size gymnasiums, one each for the men's and women's basketball teams, as well as space for an athletic training room, weight room, film study room and a recruiting lounge.

Directly connected to Thompson-Boling Arena, Pratt Pavilion has convenient ground level parking. The 70,000-square-foot structure has four short courts within each of the two full-size courts. The facility is equipped with secured practice facilities, spacious locker rooms and recruiting rooms as well. Balconies at the south side of the building overlook the practice courts.

Pratt Pavilion had a total project cost of $16 million, funded entirely through private gifts. Lead donor Pratt's commitment in April 2006, coupled with leadership gifts from other campaign donors, including Jim Haslam, Brenda Lawson and Robbie Nutt, enabled UT to move forward with the project.

This is not Pratt's first donation. In the 1990s he honored his father Floyd by creating an endowed scholarship in his name as a member of the Nathan Dougherty Society. He also was recognized at the Tennessee vs. Georgia football game in 2003 for a $1 million donation to the STEP-UP Campaign. Pratt, an Athens, Tenn., native, currently resides in McLean, Va. He graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1972 from the college of business and serves as president and CEO of First Savings Mortgage Corporation, the largest private mortgage banker in Washington D.C.

THE FEW. THE PROUD. THE NCAA CHAMPIONS.

The few. The proud. The NCAA Champions. During Pat Head Summitt's tenure as head coach (1974-2012), only 161 women were selected to wear the Orange and White of the University of Tennessee Lady Volunteers.

Fifty-eight players of 161 (through the 2011-12 season) have earned the distinction of being an "NCAA Champion" during their playing days at the University of Tennessee. That's practically 40 percent! And that is truly remarkable. Additionally, forty percent of the 58 players have brought home two or more titles.

A total of 12 coaches have helped to bring the eight titles to the Knoxville campus. The common denominator of the eight championships with coach Summitt was (then) associate head coach Holly Warlick. In her first tenure with the Lady Vols, Mickie DeMoss claimed six rings (1987, 1989, 1991, 1996, 1997 and 1998). Former assistants Al Brown (1996, 1997 and 1998) and Nikki Caldwell (2007, 2008) are the only former aides with numerous titles. Current assistant Dean Lockwood picked up his first national titles as a Lady Vol coach in 2007 and 2008. Seven graduate assistant coaches have had the opportunity to experience one title each.

1987 National Champions

Tennessee may have failed in its first bid at the national championship, but the second time was the charm for the Lady Vols. Tennessee thumped Louisiana Tech, which was vying for its second title, 67-44.

"Well, the monkey's off my back," head coach Pat Summitt said. "I do not think I could go without recognizing that it was a tremendous team effort...has been for the last three weeks. This team has played as hard and as smart as I could ask any team to play."

The Lady Vols built a 33-24 halftime edge and never looked back. Seven minutes into the second half, Tennessee had increased its lead to 14, 47-33, and the rest was history as Tennessee took its first NCAA title.

Tennessee attempted 19 more field goals and grabbed 11 more rebounds than the Lady Techsters. A championship-game record crowd of 9,823 watched Tonya Edwards net 13 points and grab seven rebounds en route to most outstanding player honors. Two additional Lady Vols contributed 13 points - Bridgette Gordon and Sheila Frost. Gordon joined Edwards on the All-Championship team, as she also led the Tennessee carom parade, pulling down a game-high 12 rebounds.

1989 National Champions

It was a battle of Southeastern Conference powerhouses - Tennessee versus Auburn for all the marbles.

The Lady Vols looked to regain the national title they earned in 1987. Although they were up against a Lady Tiger team that had made its second straight national championship final, Tennessee took home its second NCAA championship in three years with a 76-60 win.

Playing in her triumphant final game, All-America forward Bridgette Gordon treated the 9,758 spectators to a spectacular 27-point performance, tying a championship-game record. She also collected 11 boards on the way to most outstanding player honors.

Gordon's seven first-half baskets helped the Lady Vols to a 35-27 halftime lead. Auburn was able to stay close, cutting the score to 50-47. But after a timeout, the Lady Vols went on a 13-4 run to put the game out of reach. The keys to the victory were the battle of the boards, where Tennessee outrebounded Auburn 45-30, and the free throw line, where Tennessee shot 20-26, while Auburn was 8-12.

Sheila Frost joined Gordon on the All-Championship team. Playing in her final game at Tennessee, Frost had six points and 12 boards. Also coming up big for the Lady Vols in the final was Dena Head, with 19 points.

National Champions

Vindication was finally Tennessee's in the 1991 NCAA women's final, as the Lady Vols downed a talented Virginia Cavalier club, 70-67, in the first NCAA Final Four overtime title game. Virginia had eliminated Tennessee before it could reach the 1990 Women's Final Four - which just happened to be held in Knoxville. But the Lady Vols took New Orleans and their third NCAA title in five years.

The first half was tight, with Tennessee holding a paper-thin 27-26 advantage at the intermission. But the Lady Vols opened up a small lead in the second half. Small lead; small comfort.

Virginia's Dawn Staley, who was named the most outstanding player, led the Virginia comeback to tie the game at 60 at the end of regulation. But the overtime belonged to Tennessee and Dena Head, who scored a championship record 28 points in the final.

Wade Trophy winner Daedra Charles added 19 points and 12 boards for Tennessee and joined Head on the All-Championship Team. Tennessee's effort was also aided by the play of Lisa Harrison, who poured in eight points and 13 boards.

With the victory, the Lady Volunteers kept their streak of odd-year championships going. Tennessee also won national titles in 1987 and 1989.

National Champions

It seemed only fitting that the Lady Vols would win another NCAA crown in the "Queen City" of Charlotte, N.C. And it was equally fitting that the Lady Vols' fourth NCAA title would come over a fierce SEC rival in the Georgia Lady Bulldogs, 83-65.

After the emotionally draining overtime win versus Connecticut, the skeptics wondered if UT would have enough emotional energy left for the title game. They did...and then some. Although Georgia held a modest three point lead early in the game and led by two with 14:11 to go in the first half, it would be their only lead in the title contest. UT senior Linda Davis put the hand cuffs on Player of the Year Saudia Roundtree in the first half as the Lady Vols grabbed an early nine point lead, 28-19 with 7:36 to go in the first half. Georgia recovered to trail by just five at the half, 42-37.

In the first three minutes of the second half, UT took off and never looked back. Abby Conklin's trey (her first of four) with 14:55 left gave UT a 16-point lead, 57-41. Davis upped the ante to a 21 point lead with 2:25 showing, 81-60. The celebrating started early as the Final Four MVP, Michelle Marciñiak, and All-Tournament Team members Chamique Holdsclaw and Tiffani Johnson left the game to wildly cheering fans. Davis, who held Roundtree to 17 points below her average, was UT's quiet heroine.

On the night, Holdsclaw and Johnson tallied 16 points to lead UT, while Conklin added 14 points, Pashen Thompson a dozen, and Marciñiak 10 in the final game of her career.

1997 National Champions

No team had ever won the NCAA championship coming in with more than six losses. But proving that it's wise to save your best for last, Tennessee took its fifth NCAA championship and second straight title with a 68-59 win over Old Dominion despite entering the tournament with a 23-10 record.

"Of all our runs to a championship, this one is really the most unexpected," said coach Pat Summitt. "It came from a team with tremendous heart and desire."

Tennessee took control quickly at the start of the title game, jumping out to a 20-8 lead. By halftime, the Lady Vols still had a comfortable lead, 34-22.

In the second half, Old Dominion clawed its way back, taking its first lead at 44-43 with 9:06 left in the game. The Lady Monarchs extended the lead to two, 49-47, before Chamique Holdsclaw led the Lady Vols on a 12-2 run to put the game away for Tennessee.

Holdsclaw was a unanimous choice as the most outstanding player, as she poured in 24 points and seven rebounds. Six of her points came during the decisive run at the end of the game. Joining Holdsclaw on the All-Championship team was Kellie Jolly, who only scored five points, but set a championship record with 11 assists in the final game and a Final Four record with 20.

With the win, the Lady Vols earned their fifth national title, played in their seventh championship game and became only the second team to win consecutive championships. (Southern Cal, 1983 and 1984).

1998 National Champions

The 1998 Tennessee Lady Vols will be remembered as history-makers. A perfect 39-0 record and the most wins ever in women's collegiate basketball... an NCAA unprecedented three consecutive titles... and the systematic blowout night-after-night of the opposition.

When the team finally reached the NCAA title game against a dear old rival in Louisiana Tech, the contest started out tight with UT taking an 8-6 lead. Then "the greatest team ever to play the game," according to Louisiana Tech head coach Leon Barmore, exploded out to a 34-11 run over the next seven minutes. The points were coming in bunches to the tune of 63% field goal accuracy as these Lady Vols were on a mission.

By the halftime break, Tennessee led 55-32 and had registered an NCAA record for the most points scored in a half at the Final Four. Leading the way for UT in game 39 were the Three Meeks - MVP Chamique Holdsclaw, Tamika Catchings and Semeka Randall—who collectively tallied 62 points and 25 rebounds in the Lady Vols' 93-75 victory.

Holdsclaw, who scored 25 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, won the top player honors in the final game. She was joined on the All-Tournament Team by Catchings, who recorded 27 points in her first title game, and an honorary "Meek", Kellie Jolly, who added a career-high 20 points.

With the win, the Lady Vols earned their sixth national title, played in their eighth championship game and became the first team to win three consecutive NCAA titles.

2007 National Champions

On April 3, 2007, the Tennessee Lady Vols captured an elusive seventh national title, beating Rutgers to the ball for second and third shots in a 59-46 win to reclaim their customary place above all other programs.

Parker scored 17 points to lead her squad to a 34-3 final record, but the tournament's most outstanding player got plenty of help from Shannon Bobbitt who scored 13 points — nine of them on three treys in a lightning-quick span in the second half — and Nicky Anosike had 16 rebounds for the Lady Vols, who had 24 offensive boards.

After building a 16-point lead and then holding off a late push by Rutgers, the Lady Vols could finally celebrate, dribbling out the final 30 seconds under the Rutgers basket until Tennessee's players, some in tears, danced at midcourt as orange, blue and gold confetti fell from above.

"To win anything you have to be a tight team," Summitt said. "They believed in each other and they all had one goal, to be here in Cleveland and cut down the nets. I'm real, real proud of this team."

A three-pointer by Rutgers ended a 7-0 UT run that brought the Scarlet Knights to 50-42, but Parker made six straight free throws in 37 seconds to make it 56-44 with 1:08 left. As she went down the floor, Parker looked at the bench where senior Sidney Spencer was knowing, all the hard work during the offseason would end the best way possible.

The 2007 NCAA tournament ended the same way it has nearly one-third of the time since it started — with Tennessee setting up ladders to cut down the nets.

National Champions

On April 8, 2008, the "under-rated" Tennessee Lady Vols captured their eighth national title, defeating Stanford 64-48. Incredible defensive pressure by UT forced 25 Cardinal turnovers which the Big Orange converted into 26 points.

"They came out with a great mentality to play hard, especially on the defensive end," Pat Summitt said. "On offense, we got more people involved, but it was our defense that got it done."

Tennessee standout Candace Parker, despite playing with a dislocated shoulder, scored 17 points and grabbed nine rebounds to help the Lady Vols capture their second straight championship, but unlike earlier games in the tournament when she had to carry the Lady Vols, her supporting cast came through. Shannon Bobbitt scored 13 points and Nicky Anosike added 12 points, eight rebounds and six steals for the Lady Vols. Freshman Vicki Baugh had eight points before tearing her ACL in the second half.

Bobbitt scored all of her points in the first half as the Lady Vols jumped out to a 37-29 advantage. Trailing by one early, Tennessee used a 13-4 run to take a 17-9 lead midway through the half. Bobbitt hit two three-pointers and made a nifty layup to cap the spurt. The teams traded baskets before two free throws by Bobbitt gave the Lady Vols a 35-25 lead - their biggest of the half.

Parker didn't shoot nearly as many jumpers as usual, instead taking the ball to the basket on an array of moves. She converted one steal in the second half into a pretty layup that gave the Lady Vols a 10-point advantage. She then followed it up with a three-point play on a driving layup. The Cardinal, who had a season low for points, would get no closer than eight the rest of the way. With the game in hand and a minute left, Parker went to the Tennessee bench for the final time, holding up four fingers on each hand to signify the eight titles the Lady Vols have won.

"One is disputable, but two, you can't stumble onto two national championships, so we're pretty good," Parker said.

GREAT LADY VOL SCORERS

The Tennessee Lady Vol basketball program has seen 38 of its 166 all-time players (through the 2012-13 season) join the 1,000-point club at UT since the modern era of basketball. That's an amazing average of nearly one 1,000-point scorer for every year at Tennessee from 1974-2013.

Chamique Holdsclaw's career total of 3,025 points sets the basketball standard for men or women at the University of Tennessee.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATION

Senior transfer All-Americans and Olympians Patricia Roberts and Jill Rankin played for the Lady Vols during their senior year only. Though they didn't become 1,000-point scorers at UT, their career marks are some of the nation's all-time bests.

MEDIA POLICIES

COVERING PRACTICE

Please contact Eric Trainer at the Media Relations Office at least a week in advance to arrange player or coach feature interviews. If you plan to cover an open practice session, please contact the Media Relations Office on a daily basis to check about changes in the schedule.

PLAYER AND COACH INTERVIEWS

Media wishing to interview coaches or players are encouraged to set up interviews in advance with the Media Relations Office. Generally, the best time to conduct an interview is on a designated day with an open portion of practice and pre-practice media opportunity. The Media Relations Office will help with all requests.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Media outlets interested in obtaining credentials to cover Lady Vol basketball home games must apply for those online via Sports Systems. To apply, please visit: <http://www.sportssystems.com/seccredentials>. Applications for single-game credentials should be submitted five days prior to a game. Once you receive your approval letter via email, you will be provided options for credential pick-up.

PHOTOGRAPHER CREDENTIALS

Credentials will be issued only to accredited photographers or those individuals on special assignment. During regular season games, work area includes the floor area at both ends of the court and alongside the corners of the playing floor opposite the team benches. Special arrangements for strobes or catwalk access must be made through the Media Relations and Arena Management Offices no later than one week in advance of the game. UT's arena security policy requires that all photographers placing strobes will go through a screening process and must be accompanied by a UT police officer or representative when placing strobes.

THE SEC MEDIA POLICY

By acceptance and use of an SEC media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions for any and all athletic events hosted by the SEC and its member institutions:

1. The SEC and its member institutions grant a media organization a limited license to use certain gathered information on the media organization's own Internet or online site beginning at the start of an athletic event and up to the conclusion of such event, all subject to the following limitations and conditions:

(a) No more than 10 still photographs may be used for news coverage of the game and other editorial purposes during the event.

(b) Video tape may only be shown as part of a single, non-archived, online "simulcast" of a television station's regularly-scheduled news program.

(c) While a game is in progress, the use of textual statistical information is time-delayed and limited in amount (e.g., updates pertaining to score, injuries and national, conference or institutional record-breaking performances, a condensed half-time story) so that an organization's Internet or online game coverage does not undercut the authorized and rights-paying fee organization's rights to play-by-play accounts of the game and/or exclusivity as to such rights.

2. Any proposed media use on an Internet or online sight of the game information that is more detailed and/or more than described above will require separate written authorization by the SEC and/or its member institutions. However, such written authorization will not permit the use of game information in entertainment contexts and will not authorize game coverage that, due to immediacy or detail, constitutes or approaches a play-by-play account of a game.

3. Should any of these conditions be breached, the SEC and/or its member institutions will issue a written warning for the first violation. If this violation occurs during the last game of the institutions' regularly-scheduled season, the media organization may not be credentialed for the SEC Tournament. A second violation of this policy will result in revocation of credentials to cover future basketball games hosted by the SEC and/or its member institutions.

MEDIA PARKING PASSES AND MEDIA ENTRANCE

Parking space is limited. The media must request parking access along with other credential requests. Media coverage on a regular basis will insure first priority in UT parking garage G-10. The media entrance is located adjacent to this parking area on Phillip Fulmer Way.

PRESS ROW

Press row is located on the east end of the arena behind the baseline nearest the G-10 garage. Only accredited media will be allowed in this area. Children are not permitted on press row.

PRESS ROOM SERVICES

The press room and interview rooms are on the east end of the arena. Soft drinks, a pre-game meal, and a halftime snack will be offered in the basketball media area. Post-game interviews also will be conducted in this area. Adjacent to the area, the working press room has numerous telephones and electrical outlets available. Wireless Internet is available both courtside and in the media workroom. If you choose to install a phone line on press row, please contact UT Telephone Services at (865) 974-3121.

STATISTICAL SERVICES

Services provided include statistics generated from the STATCREW computer statistics program. Wireless monitors are placed on press row for immediate access to statistics. Hard copies of halftime stats, final stats and play-by-play highlights at the end of each half also will be distributed. Coaches' quotes will be provided following the post-game interview sessions.

To access up-to-date stats during a game, visit UTstats.com for a live feed.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

A formal post-game interview is held in the basketball media room following each game. The media will be solicited for player names with five minutes left in the game. After a 15-minute cooling-off period, the visiting team coach and selected players will be brought to the media room. Following the visiting team's media session, UT head coach Holly Warlick will come to the media room, followed by select UT players. Risers for television cameras and a distribution box for radio will be available in the back of the area.

LADY VOL BASKETBALL PROGRAMMING

The Tennessee Lady Vols first found a home on the radio during the 1977-78 season. At that time, a handful of games were aired with John Ward, former play-by-play guru of UT football and men's basketball, handling the microphone.

The flagship station of Lady Vol basketball broadcasts is The Sports Animal, WNML (990 AM, 99.1 and 99.3 FM) in Knoxville, Tenn. This will mark the 37th year of Lady Vol games on the air. Typically, 20 or more stations air the regular season broadcasts as the network expands into many of the "Vol Network" stations. For more information about joining the Lady Vol Network, contact Glenn Thackston at IMG (865) 212-3570.

Additionally, Lady Vol basketball games will again find a home on the Internet at www.utsports.com, as fans worldwide will be able to access the broadcasts. (For more information, visit www.utsports.com/allaccess/)

Calling the play-by-play action again this season will be Mickey Dearstone, who took over full-time duties from Bob Kesling after the 1998-99 season.

VOL CALLS DURING BASKETBALL SEASON

This season the Vol Network is proud to partner with Calhoun's on the River, the home for the official call-in show of UT Athletics: Vol Calls! SEC ON THE WEB: For all you need to know about the Southeastern Conference and its member schools, access the SEC Web Page at www.SECDigitalNetwork.com. The site contains team information, scores, conference standings and statistics, awards recipients, history and records, feature stories, television information on conference events, details about tickets to SEC events, SEC merchandise and much, much more.

WEEKLY HONORS: The SEC will name a Player and Freshman of the Week each week throughout the regular season. Each week's selections will be released on Monday afternoon for Tuesday morning publication and will also be announced in the league's weekly release. The league women's basketball sports information directors make nominations for the award each week.

SEC HISTORY: The Southeastern Conference was formed Dec. 8-9, 1932, and included 13 schools at the time: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane, and Vanderbilt. The league's first president was Frank L. McVey of Kentucky. Due to the continually increasing amount of work administering the league, the office of Commissioner was established by its member institutions in 1940. Former Mississippi governor Martin Conner was named as the first commissioner, a post he held until 1948. Following Conner were Bernie Moore (1948-66), A.M. Coleman (1966-72), Dr. Boyd McWhorter (1972-86), Dr. Harvey Schiller (1986-90), and Roy Kramer (1990-2002). Mike Slive is currently Commissioner of the Southeastern Conference and its 14 member institutions.

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track. Cross country, golf, swimming, tennis and indoor track were added later. The SEC began recognizing women's championships during the 1979-80 academic year. The conference office officially took over regulation of women's athletics on Sept. 1, 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and twelve women's sports. Baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming and diving, tennis and track (indoor, outdoor, and cross country) are currently sanctioned for men. The women's sports are basketball, equestrian, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track (indoor, outdoor, and cross country) and volleyball.

SEC WOMEN'S HOOPS BY THE NUMBERS

With eight national championships, ten runner-up finishes, a nation-leading 34 Final Four appearances and 112 first-team All-America honors, the SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE stands firmly as the nation's premier intercollegiate women's basketball conference.

The SEC has posted impressive non-conference records in the last decade. The SEC compiled a 166-52 (.765) non-conference record during the 2012-13 season.

Since the 1990 season, the SEC has compiled a 3,295-983 (.770) record against other conferences. The league has recorded 150+ wins during nine seasons and has never recorded a non-conference winning percentage below .723.

SEC teams have earned appearances in 25 of 31 NCAA Final Fours, an accomplishment unmatched by any other league.

Overall, SEC squads have filled 34 of the 128 Final Four berths, including having two Final Four teams in 1988 (Auburn, Tennessee), 1989 (Auburn, Tennessee), 1995 (Georgia, Tennessee), 1996 (Georgia, Tennessee), 1998 (Arkansas, Tennessee), 2004 (LSU, Tennessee), 2005 (LSU, Tennessee), 2007 (LSU, Tennessee) and 2008 (LSU, Tennessee).

SEC teams have made 18 appearances in a nation-high 16 NCAA Championship games, winning eight NCAA Championships (Tennessee: 1987, 1989, 1991, 1996, 1997, 1998, 2007 and 2008).

The league also had the distinction of providing both national finalists twice in its history in 1996 (Tennessee 83, Georgia 65) and in 1989 (Tennessee 76, Auburn 60).

Southeastern Conference teams have won 361 NCAA Tournament games against 187 losses (.659) for an average of 11.3 NCAA wins per year. In addition, all 14 current members have made appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

WEEKLY AWARDS

The SEC names a Player of the Week and Freshman of the Week in women's basketball every Monday during the season. Each week's selections are released for Monday afternoon publication. Nominations for the awards are made each week by the women's basketball SIDs.

SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE (CONTINUED)

The SEC has paced the pack in NCAA tournament bids 22 times in its 32-year history.

The SEC was the first league to ever have eight teams invited to the NCAA Tournament, doing so in 1999, 2002 and 2012.

The SEC was also the first league to ever have seven teams invited to the NCAA Tournament and earned this honor a nation-leading nine times (1986, 1991, 1995, 1996, 1997, 2003, 2004, 2009 and 2013).

The SEC is one of a handful of leagues to have won three national tournament titles with eight NCAA, two WNIT and three NWIT. Along with the eight NCAA championships won by Tennessee, Arkansas (1999) and Auburn (2003) captured the current Women's NIT titles. But the first-ever SEC national title belongs to Georgia, winners of the 1981 NWIT which predates the current NCAA tournament. LSU (1985) and Kentucky (1990) also won NWIT titles. Both Arkansas (1987) and South Carolina (1979) won the WNIT as members of their previous conferences.

The SEC has had 60 student-athletes named as first-team All-America selections. Those 60 have been named a total of 87 times since the 1982-83 season (first year of SEC sponsorship).

The Southeastern Conference had 24 former SEC student-athletes make 2013 WNBA opening day rosters. In this year's WNBA draft, a total of seven SEC women's basketball players were taken. Since the inaugural WNBA draft in 1997, the SEC has had 126 former players drafted for the professional league, including five No. 1 picks.

SEC schools have produced 39 Olympians since 1976, with 35 coming since the league began sponsoring women's basketball. Seimone Augustus, LSU; Tamika Catchings, Tennessee; Sylvia Fowles, LSU; and Candace Parker, Tennessee were part of the USA's gold-medal effort in London in 2012. They helped the Red, White and Blue win gold for the fifth-consecutive Olympiad.

MEDIA INFORMATION

The media credential system for the 2014 SEC Tournament will be available online from early Jan. until late February. Go to www.SECsportsmedia.com for the online credentialing system.

For further information concerning media coverage of the 2014 SEC Tournament, please contact the SEC Media Relations Department.

TOURNAMENT INFORMATION

On Feb. 7, 1980, the first SEC women's basketball tournament began play. It ended four days later with Tennessee defeating Ole Miss for the title. Fast forward 35 years later and the SEC Tournament is still enjoying success and increased popularity.

Beginning with its inception and through 1986, the tournament was held at campus sites. The tournament was then sent to Albany, Ga., which served as the site for six years from 1987-92. The tournament then moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., where it was held from 1993-2000, with the exception of 1998 when the tournament moved to Columbus, Ga.

Since 2001 the tournament has enjoyed many new sites, including Memphis (2001), Nashville (2002, 2004, 2008, 2011, 2012), North Little Rock, Ark. (2003, 2006, 2009), Greenville, S.C. (2005) and Duluth, Ga. (2007, 2010, 2013).

This year the SEC Women's Basketball Tournament is once again in Duluth, Ga., where it previously was held in 2007, 2010 and 2013.

The winner of the 13-game tournament will receive the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds and conference champion will be determined by the 16-game regular-season SEC schedule. The top four seeds earn a bye for the first two rounds.

The 2014 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament will once again enjoy live television coverage. FOX Sports South and SportSouth continue their dedication to SEC events, televising all first, second and third-round games on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. ESPNU will carry both semifinal games on Saturday and ESPN will air the championship game on Sunday.
