ANOTHER CHAPTER OF ARIZONA IN THE NBA DRAFT

The 2018 NBA Draft saw freshman Deandre Ayton selected with the No. 1 overall pick by the Phoenix Suns, marking the first time a Wildcat was selected first overall. Ayton became the fifth top ten NBA draft pick during the Sean Miller era (2009-present) and the 72nd NBA Draft pick in UA history. He also advanced another impressive NBA Draft stat, as 13 of the last 16 former Wildcats selected in the first round have gone in the lottery. In 2017, both Lauri Markkanen and Kadeem Allen hear their names called. Markkanen, the freshman forward, was selected with the seventh overall pick by the Minnesota Timberwolves before being traded to the Chicago Bulls. Kadeem Allen was the 53rd overall selection of the Boston Celtics.

BACK FOR MORE

The 2019-20 Arizona Wildcats return just one starter from the 2018-19 season - senior Chase Jeter - after sophomore Brandon Williams had knee surgery in the offseason and will not play this year. The Wildcats welcome in four freshmen and two graduate transfers that will look to lead Arizona back to the NCAA Tournament after missing out a year ago. Arizona's four returning scholarship players have played in a total of 262 games while grad transfers Max Hazzard (UC Irvine - 106 games) and Stone Gettings (Cornell - 85 games) combine for 191.

Arizona's Returning Production from the 2018-19 Season

Scoring:	858 points out of 2269 (37.8 percent)
Rebounding:	466 rebounds out of 1115 (41.8 percent)
Assists:	86 assists out of 398 (21.6 percent)
Steals:	52 steals out of 165 (31.5 percent)
Blocks:	52 blocks out of 73 (71.2 percent)
3FG Made:	55 3FG Made out of 235 (23.4 percent)

LEADER OF THE PAC(K)

Arizona head coach Sean Miller is entering his 11th season leading the Wildcats in 2019-20. He has accumlated eight conference titles - five regular season and three tournament - and a Pac-12 winning percentage that ranks third in conference history behind only John Wooden and Lute Olson. His eight titles are more than all other active Pac-12 men's basketball coaches combined.

Coach	Pac-12 Regular Season	Pac-12 Tournament	Total
Sean Miller (ARIZ)	5	3	8
Dana Altman (ORE)	2	3	5
Tad Boyle (COLO)	0	1	1
Mike Hopkins (WASH)	1	0	1

Miller has also posted a winning record in each of the 15 seasons he has been a head coach, incluing his five seasons at Xavier before arriving at Arizona.

ARIZONA: A FREQUENT HOME FOR MCDONALD'S ALL-AMERICANS

A pair of McDonald's All-Americans joined Arizona as part of the 2019 recruiting class and another joined the program as a transfer. Nico Mannion and Josh Green were the 25th and 26th McDonald's All-Americans to attend Arizona and that number increased to 27 when Jordan Brown - a 2018 McDonald's All-American - tranferred to UA from Nevada. After landing 15 All-Americans from 1984 to 2007, Arizona has inked 12 since 2012.

MCKALE CENTER DOING WHAT IT ALWAYS DOES

With a conference-leading average home crowd of 13,744, Arizona and its beloved McKale Center have now led the Pac-12 in attendance for a 35th consecutive season. UA's average home crowd was 2,500 people larger than second place Utah. The 13,744 average for the 2018-19 season ranked 20th nationally and accounted for 93.85 percent capacity for the season.

School	# Of Home Games	Average Home Crowd
Arizona	17	13,744
Utah	15	11,067
Arizona State	16	10,538
Oregon	17	8,531
UCLA	18	8,269
Washington	16	7,846
Colorado	17	6,868
California	16	5,627
Oregon State	16	5,161
Stanford	14	3,894
USC	17	3,247
Washington State	17	2,318

HIGH PERCENTAGE SHOTS

As a sophomore, forward Ira Lee shot .626 from the floor in Pac-12 play, which is the highest mark by an Arizona player with at least 75 attempts since Joseph Blair shot .630 in 1993-94. Lee finished the season by going 22-of-25 from the field in his final six games of the season. Lee was perfect from the field in three of those games, including going 5-of-5 from the floor in the final game of the season against USC. Lee hit his final eight shots of the season, as he went 3-of-3 from the floor in the regular season finale against Arizona State.

Ira Lee Pac-12 Play Production

2017-18:	13 games	6.6 mpg	1.3 rpg	1.1 ppg	.500 FG%
2018-19:	18 games	19.9mpg	4.4 rpg	7.8 ppg	.626 FG%

Last year, center Chase Jeter shot .574 from the floor, which was the sixth-best mark in the Pac-12 Conference. Jeter connected on 128-of-223 total field goal attempts on the season.

Guard Dylan Smith shot .405 from 3-point range in Pac-12 games last year, which ranked 12th in the conference and tops on the team.

ELITE COMPANY IN THE CONFERENCE OF CHAMPIONS

Through his 10 seasons in Tucson, head coach Sean Miller has posted a record of 129-51 (.717) in Pac-12 games. With the 2019-20 season on the horizona, Miller will look to further improve his standing among some of the great coaches the conference has seen that coached for six or more seasons:

John Wooden (UCLA)	304-74 (27 seasons)	.810
Lute Olson (Arizona)	321-101 (21 seasons)	.764
Jim Harrick (UCLA)	107-37 (8 seasons)	.743
Sean Miller (Arizona)	129-51 (10 seasons)	.717
Pete Newell (Cal)	63-26 (6 seasons)	.708

ONE OF THE WINNINGEST PROGRAMS OVER THE LAST SIX YEARS

As the 2019-20 season approaches, Arizona has solidified itself as one of the winningest programs in the nation in the past six seasons.

Most wins in the NCAA since start of 2013-14 season

1st	Gonzaga	194 wins
2nd	Villanova	191 wins
3rd	Kentucky	182 wins
4th	Virginia	178 wins
5th	Duke	175 wins
6th	Kansas	173 wins
7th	North Carolina	171 wins
8th	Wichita State	169 wins
9th	Arizona	168 wins
10th	Michigan State	167 wins

It's just part of the winning culture instilled on the Arizona Basketball program since the arrival of head coach Sean Miller. In Miller's 10 seasons in Tucson, UA has averaged 26.4 wins per season. Since the start of the 2010-11 season, the Wildcats have a 248-74 (.770) record, both the most wins and best winning percentage in the Pac-12 in that span and seventh nationally in wins.

ROAD WARRIORS

In addition to holding one of the highest home court winning percentages in the nation, Arizona has shown a knack for continuing its winning ways outside of Tucson. Since Sean Miller's arrival prior to the 2009-10 season, the Wildcats have posted a record of 114-70 (.620) away from McKale Center. That mark improves to 48-28 (.632) at neutral site locations. UA's records in the last six seasons are 74-38 (.661) outside of Tucson and 32-16 (.667) in neutral sites.

BENCH PRODUCTION

Below is a look at how Arizona's bench produced at a high level during the 2018-19 season:

115: Arizona's bench outscored the opponent's bench by 115 points in 18 Pac-12 games
16: Arizona's bench scored 20 or more points 16 times
19: The Wildcats bench outscored the opponent 19 times
118: Arizona's bench scored 103 points over the final five games combined

SEAN MILLER
HEAD COACH
11TH SEASON
PITTSBURGH '92

After being known as one of the best young coaches in America, Sean Miller has cemented his place as one of the top coaches in college basketball while leading the University of Arizona program to powerhouse status nationally. Miller has established Arizona as the pinnacle of the Pac-12 Conference, a pipeline to the NBA Draft and a beacon of academic success for student-athletes.

In his 10 seasons in Tucson, Miller has guided UA to five regular season conference championships, three conference tournament titles and a Pac-12 winning percentage that trails only John Wooden and Lute Olson. Arizona has produced ten NBA draft selections, including five top-ten picks, during that span as well. The impressive streak of 37 of Miller's college seniors who completed their eligibility as part of his program, at Arizona and Xavier, have earned their college degrees.

Widely respected by coaches throughout college basketball, a proven winner at the international level and a rallying figure for Wildcat fans, Miller has established a winning culture and developed Arizona Basketball into "A Players Program".

A bona fide winner at every level, Miller owns a 384-136 (.738) record in 15 years as a head coach, while attaining a 264-89 (.748) mark at Arizona and a 129-51 (.717) record in Pac-12 play. In 27 years on the collegiate sidelines, Miller's teams have produced 24 winning seasons and averaged better than 20 wins per year. He also has three gold medals as a member of the USA Basketball program, one as a player, one as an assistant coach and one as a head coach.

Miller has been a part of 17 NCAA Tournament teams as a player, assistant coach and head coach, including 11 in his 15-year head coaching career. He has guided teams to seven Sweet 16's and four Elite Eights, and owns a 20-11 (.645) record as a head coach in the NCAA Tournament.

Success at Arizona didn't happen overnight, but is instead a product of a tireless first year of work that instilled a process of daily hard work and dedicated effort that has been followed by each member of the program since those early days.

From an initial team meeting that featured just six players, Miller worked exhaustively to build from within and fashion an attacking system in which defensive intensity and offensive cohesiveness form a relentless unit on both ends of the court.

Additionally, Miller has reestablished and rejuvenated recruiting ties that have aided the Wildcats in assembling seven recruiting classes with top-ten national rankings in nine seasons.

Arizona is averaging 26.4 wins per seasons under Miller's guidance, best in program history for a coach with at least four years at the school. The Wildcats have reached the 20-win mark in eight of Miller's 10 seasons at the helm, including four 30-win campaigns. The Arizona Basketball program has recorded 30 or more wins in seven different seasons with four of those coming with Miller at the helm.

Miller's ninth season in Tucson saw Arizona win the 2017-18 Pac-12 regular season crown and the 2018 Pac-12 Tournament, becoming just the second team in conference history to win four conference championships in two years. Deandre Ayton, a consensus First Team All-American, became the first player in the history of the Pac-12 Conference to win Player of the Year, Freshman of the Year and Tournament Most Outstanding Player in the same season. Allonzo Trier, Rawle Alkins and Dusan Ristic joined Ayton in earning all-conference honors with Ristic graduating as the all-time winningest player in program history with 115 wins.

The Wildcats were one of the nation's top offenses last season with the fourth-highest field goal percentage in the country. The team's 50.4 percent shooting mark from the field was its highest since the 1991-92 season. Arizona's offense also finished in the top 20 nationally in efficiency for the seventh time in nine seasons, according to KenPom.com. UA propelled the legacy of McKale Center during the 2017-18 season with a home mark of 15-1 to push Arizona's home record from 2014 to 2018 to a ridiculous mark of 82-3. The nation's best home record in that time is matched by the 2017-18 season becoming Arizona's 34th consecutive year leading the Pac-12 Conference in attendance.

The 2016-17 season saw the Wildcats finish with a record of 32-5, which was the fourth-best record in program history. The high mark was fueled by UA's 16-2 record in league play, which tied for the sixth best league mark in program history. Arizona was especially successful on the road in conference play in 2016-17 with a mark of 8-1. Only the 9-0 mark posted by the 2002-03 Wildcats was a better conference road record.

Over the two-year stretch from 2014-15, Arizona won 67 games, which tied for the most nationally over those two seasons and represented the best two-year total UA has ever produced. Those two campaigns were also the first back-to-back 30 win seasons ever at Arizona.

Miller's "A Player's Program" philosophy has been a guideline that has tied together the program's reemergence. Under the plan, everything that takes place within the program is geared toward three focal points: honoring the past players and coaches who laid the groundwork, ensuring that the current student-athletes have the best means and opportunities to maximize their potential, and attracting high-level prospective student-athletes who will embrace the challenge of building on the program's storied tradition.

ARIZONA HIGHLIGHTS

Miller's first season in Tucson was one that befit his penchant for honoring the process, as the Wildcats finished 16-15 despite making drastic improvements over the course of the 2009-10 campaign.

Though the first season of the Miller Era was trying, it didn't take long for the larger benefits of that initial struggle to be felt within in the UA program.

The 2010-11 squad had a banner year by even the lofty standards of the Arizona program, winning 30 games, capturing the Pac-10 regular-season championship and roaring to the Elite Eight with a convincing victory over top-seeded Duke in the regional semifinal.

The overall improvement of the program from year one to year two was personified by the rise of the forward Derrick Williams. A late addition to Miller's first UA recruiting class, he garnered Pac-10 Freshman of the Year honors in 2010 before blossoming into a consensus All-American and the conference Player of the Year as a sophomore.

Miller's 2011-12 UA team won 23 games and earned a postseason berth in the NIT, securing back-to-back 20-win seasons for the Wildcats for the first time in five years. For the second-straight season, UA finished in the top five nationally in three-point field goal percentage defense and limited opponents to an average of 62.7 points per game, a figure that was, at the time, the lowest for the program in more than two decades.

The Wildcats placed three players on the All-Pac-12 teams following that season, as Kyle Fogg and Solomon Hill garnered first-team recognition and Jesse Perry was an honorable mention honoree.

The 2012-13 edition of the Wildcats captivated the nation with its electrifying 14-0 start before tying for second in the Pac-12 and earning the second NCAA Tournament berth of Miller's tenure. UA reached its second Sweet 16 under Miller, where it fell to Ohio State in a back-and-forth affair to finish with a 27-8 record.

Hill was rewarded for a stellar senior season with his second-consecutive inclusion on the All-Pac-12 first team and was joined by teammate Mark Lyons, who led the Pac-12 in free throw percentage in his lone season at UA.

With high expectations swirling around the program prior to the 2013-14 campaign, the Wildcats didn't disappoint. Instead, UA turned in a season for the ages. Arizona finished the season 33-5, at the time the second-best single-season win total in school history, claimed its 13th Pac-12 regular-season title, secured a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the second Elite Eight of the Miller Era.

Miller's charges won the Pac-12 regular-season title by three games in a tightly-contested year that saw just three games separate the second and ninth places in the league.

The Wildcats spent eight-straight weeks during the season ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, establishing a new program record for longevity in the top spot, and its No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament was a first for the program since 2003.

Arizona was a major factor in the national statistical rankings in 2013-14, ranking fourth nationally in field goal percentage defense (38.0), sixth in scoring defense (58.6) and ninth in rebound margin (+7.1). The 2013-14 squad was the first UA team to lead the Pac-12 in scoring defense since the school joined the conference in 1978, and its mark of 58.6 points allowed per game was the program's best since the 1950-51 season.

In a tribute to both Miller's pedigree and that of the UA coaching staff, the Wildcats established a program record with an average of just 10.2 turnovers per game and ranked 12th nationally with a 1.48 assist-to-turnover ratio.

As would be expected following a season of that caliber, individual accolades were forthcoming for numerous Arizona players. Foremost among that group was Nick Johnson, whose hard work and dedication paid off with a meteoric rise from all-conference-caliber player to first-team All-American, Pac-12 Player of the Year and a finalist for all three major national Player of the Year awards.

Aaron Gordon was rewarded for a thunderous rookie season with third-team All-America and Pac-12 Freshman of the Year honors, as well as first-team All-Pac-12 accolades. He was also one of six finalists for the Wayman Tisdale National Freshman of the Year award.

Rondae Hollis-Jefferson was honored as a member of the Pac-12 All-Freshman Team along with Gordon, while T.J. McConnell was a second-team All-Pac-12 performer. Both Johnson and McConnell were also named to the Pac-12 All-Defensive Team.

Despite losing both Gordon and Johnson to the NBA Draft following the 2013-14 season, Arizona seemingly didn't miss a beat in 2014-15, when the Wildcats produced one of the finest seasons in the history of the program.

Miller's sixth UA team went 34-4, swept the Pac-12 regular season and tournament championships and made another Elite Eight run after garnering the No. 2 seed in the West Region of the NCAA Tournament. The Wildcats' 34 wins marked the second-best single-season total in school history and gave UA its first-ever set of consecutive 30-win seasons, while their run to the West Regional final represented just the second time in school history that they went to the Elite Eight in back-to-back years.

Arizona won the Pac-12 by three games with a 16-2 record in the league, its best since 2003 and the best by any team in the conference since 2008.

The Wildcats were a handful on both ends of the floor in 2014-15, finishing the season as one of just two teams nationally to rank in the top 10 in both offensive and defensive efficiency. With McConnell ranked among the national leaders in both assist average and assist-to-turnover ratio, UA ranked fifth nationally in field goal percentage (.488), while also leading the nation in defensive rebound percentage (.776) and ranking second in rebound margin (+8.8).

Arizona was also the best team in the nation at getting to, and converting at, the free throw line in 2014-15, leading the country in both makes (700) and attempts (974).

That 2014-15 team success led to numerous individual accolades for Arizona players, headlined by Stanley Johnson earning third-team NABC All-America accolades, USBWA Freshman All-America honors and the inaugural Julius Erving Small Forward of the Year Award. He also became the second

Arizona player in as many seasons to be named Pac-12 Freshman of the Year.

Johnson joined Hollis-Jefferson and McConnell on the All-Pac-12 first team, while the latter two were also named to the Pac-12 All-Defensive Team. Brandon Ashley was recognized as an All-Pac-12 performer with inclusion on the honorable mention squad, and he also took home Pac-12 Tournament MOP honors after helping lead UA to the championship in Las Vegas.

The 2015-16 season saw Arizona advance to the NCAA Tournament for a fourth consecutive season. Miller moved into third place in Arizona coaching history in just his seventh season in Tucson, trailing only Fred Enke (509) and Lute Olson (589) who spent a combined eight decades at the helm of the program. His .722 winning percentage in conference games is the fourth highest in the history of the Pac-12 for head coaches with at least six seasons spent in the league. Miller trails only John Wooden, Lute Olson and Jim Harrick in that distinction.

Under Miller's tutelage, Ryan Anderson (First Team), Kaleb Tarczewski (Second Team) and Gabe York (Second Team) earned all-conference honors from the Pac-12 while Allonzo Trier was named to the All-Freshmen team. Tarczewski was also named to All-Defensive team. The senior center also graduated from the program tied with Matt Muehlebach as the winningest Wildcat in program history with 110.

Miller's eighth year in Tucson, coming during the 2016-17 season, saw Arizona continue to rewrite the program's record books. The team split the regular season Pac-12 title with Oregon before winning the Pac-12 Tournament in Las Vegas. It was the fifth time UA has won at least a share of the conference title and won the league's tournament in the same year. The Wildcats were ranked in every AP poll of the season for a fourth consecutive year, extending the nation's second-longest active ranking streak to an impressive 97 polls.

For his efforts, Sean Miller was named the 2017 John R. Wooden Pac-12 Coach of the Year. The conference coach of the year award was the fourth of his coaching career and third while leading the Arizona program. Miller, alongside his brother Archie Miller at Dayton, became the first brothers in the history of the NCAA to win conference coach of the year awards in the same season.

UA would place Wildcats throughout the league's postseason awards list, starting with Lauri Markkanen's selection to the Pac-12 All-Conference First Team. A pair of Cats, Allonzo Trier and Kadeem Allen, took home All-Pac-12 Second Team accolades. Allen would also be voted to the All-Defensive team. Markkanen, joined by Rawle Alkins, was named to the Pac-12 All-Freshmen Team.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Throughout his coaching career, Miller has made player development a top priority, matching one of his biggest talents as a coach with one of his biggest passions about the profession.

At Xavier, Miller helped mold Indianapolis product Justin Cage from a little-used freshman into a three-time All-Defensive Team selection in the Atlantic-10. While with the Musketeers, he also did the same for Justin Doellman and Derrick Brown, who went from seldom-used reserves to a first-team All-A-10 pick and the No. 40 pick in the 2009 NBA Draft, respectively.

That track record has more than been extended during Miller's time at Arizona, starting with a player who would go on to become the No. 2 overall pick in the 2011 NBA Draft.

Williams was considered to be the least prolific player in Miller's first UA recruiting class. However, from the time he set foot on campus, Williams steadily improved to the point where he was named Pac-10 Freshman of the Year following his first season. In 2010-11, his explosiveness and ferocity on the court made the nation take notice, and before submitting his name for the 2011 draft, he has consensus All-America honors and Pac-10 Player of the Year accolades to his credit.

Hill became the second member of that recruiting class to hear his name called during the first round of an NBA Draft when he did so in 2013. Hill steadily evolved from a role player as an underclassman to the Wildcats' undisputed leader as a senior, finishing his career as one of the most statistically well-rounded players in program history.

Johnson followed a path similar to Hill's, adding to his game each year before breaking out as one of the nation's most versatile and explosive players as a junior in 2013-14. The first-team All-American nearly doubled his scoring average from his freshman year by the time he was a junior, and was taken 42nd overall by the Houston Rockets in the 2014 NBA Draft.

Kadeem Allen showed what buying in to Miller's player development program means. The former National Junior College Player of the Year, and leading scorer in the nation in the NJCCA, would transfer to Arizona and redshirt the 2014-15 season. Allen bought in to his coach's plan for him and was the team's everyday starting point guard as a junior in 2015-16. The lone senior of the 2016-17 class was an all-defensive team selection and made the Pac-12 All-Conference Second Team despite averaging fewer than ten points a game. Allen starred at the Portsmouth Invitational after graduation and was later selected by the Boston Celtics with the 53rd pick of the NBA Draft.

THE NEXT LEVEL

In 10 years under Miller's direction, the Arizona program has produced a total of ten draft picks, including five lottery picks among a total of seven first-round selections.

In a testament to the player-development prowess of Miller and his UA coaching staff, Williams became the first Wildcat drafted under Miller's watch when he went No. 2 overall to the Minnesota Timberwolves in 2011. In just two years' time, Williams went from the least heralded of Miller's initial five-man recruiting class to matching Mike Bibby as the highest overall draft picks in Arizona history at the time.

The 2013 NBA Draft was a significant night for the UA program under Miller, as Hill became the 18th first-round pick in program history when the Indiana Pacers selected him 23rd overall. Grant Jerrett gave Arizona two picks in a single draft for the first time since 2009 when his name was called with the 40th overall selection.

Miller and the UA staff sent two more Wildcats into the NBA ranks via the 2014 draft, when Gordon was taken fourth overall by Orlando to become the second lottery pick of the Miller Era and Nick Johnson was chosen 42nd overall by Houston.

The 2015 NBA Draft was the third in a row in which multiple Arizona players were chosen, but the first since 1998 in which UA had multiple first-round picks. Stanley Johnson became the third lottery pick of the Miller Era when he was chosen No. 8 overall by the Detroit Pistons, and Rondae Hollis-Jefferson became the 21st first-round pick in program history when he was taken by the Portland Trail Blazers with the 23rd overall pick.

Lauri Markkanen and Kadeem Allen wrote the 2017 NBA Draft chapter of Miller's impressive coaching career. Markkanen was selected seventh overall by the Chicago Bulls while Allen was taken 53rd overall by the Boston Celtics.

The 2018 NBA Draft was a historic one for both Miller and Arizona. Freshman Deandre Ayton, coming off perhaps the most decorated season in program history, became Arizona's first-ever No. 1 overall pick courtesy of the Phoenix Suns.

The first player to be drafted during Miller's head coaching career came in 2009, when the Charlotte Bobcats made Brown a second-round pick.

Numerous players who have been part of Miller's programs at both Arizona and Xavier have forged successful professional careers overseas. In 2014, Fogg was named Player of the Year in Finland after averaging 27.0 points and 6.4 rebounds per game for Lapua, while Doellman was named MVP of La Liga Endesa in Spain the same year.

HONORS AND AWARDS

As the architect of some of the finest seasons in the history of two storied college basketball programs, it is only fitting that Miller recognition from both his coaching peers and the media for his efforts.

Miller has been named Pac-10/12 Coach of the Year three times in the last eight years, receiving the honor in 2011, 2014 and 2017. Combined with his Atlantic-10 Coach of the Year honor in 2008, Miller has been a conference coach of the year four times in his coaching career.

His coaching peers in the NABC have also recognized Miller's coaching prowess three times in his career, naming him District 10 Coach of the Year in 2008 and District 20 Coach of the Year in both 2011 and 2014. The 2014 season also saw Miller recognized by the United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) as its District IX Coach of the Year.

His award history also includes international accolades after being named the 2015 USA Basketball National Co-Coach of the year after helping the U.S. earn the gold medal in the 2015 FIBA U19 World Championships.

PRIOR TO ARIZONA

Miller's path through the college coaching ranks began at Wisconsin in 1992, when he served as a graduate assistant on a UW staff that also included current Detroit Pistons head coach and president of basketball operations Stan Van Gundy.

Following one season in Madison, Miller spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Miami (Ohio). During his time at Miami, Miller helped lead the Red Hawks to a 42-18 (.700) record, the 1995 MAC regular-season title, a 1995 NCAA Tournament appearance and a 1994 NIT berth. Miller spent the 1995-96 season as an assistant at his alma mater, Pittsburgh.

Starting with the 1996-97 season, Miller had a five-year term as an assistant coach at North Carolina State. During his tenure in Raleigh, NCSU made four postseason appearances, including a run to the 2000 NIT semifinals.

Miller made the move back to southwestern Ohio in 2001, joining the staff at Xavier as the program's first-ever associate head coach. In three years as the top assistant on Thad Matta's staff, Miller helped lead XU to a 78-23 (.772) record, two regular-season A-10 titles and a pair of A-10 Tournament championships. The Musketeers made the NCAA Tournament in each Miller's three seasons as associate head coach, reaching the program's first-ever Elite Eight in 2004.

Miller took over as Xavier's head coach prior to the 2004-05 season and proceeded to embark on one of the best five-year runs in program history. Miller led XU to a 120-47 (.719) record, winning at least 25 games in each of his last three seasons at the helm. The Musketeers captured three A-10 regular-season crowns and one conference tournament title during the Miller Era, while making four NCAA Tournament appearances that yielded two Sweet 16s and an Elite Eight run.

In total at Xavier, Miller helped the school post a 198-70 (.739) record, make seven NCAA Tournament appearances and win seven conference titles (four regular season/three conference tournament). His 120 wins as XU's head coach still rank third on the program's career list for coaching victories.

FOCUS ON THE TOTAL PERSON

In Miller's head coaching career, winning championships and helping student-athletes reach their potential on the basketball court have gone hand-in-hand with helping them flourish as students and members of a broader community.

In Miller's first 13 seasons as a college head coach, all 37 players who have completed their eligibility under his direction have earned their college degrees. Sixteen of those graduates came during his time at Xavier, and he has helped 21 players earn their degrees in eight years at Arizona.

Under Miller's watch, Arizona has also experienced Academic Progress Rate (APR) success, as evidenced by its most recent multi-year score of 1,000, which reflects the program's performance from 2011-14. The Wildcats produced single-year APR scores of 1,000 in both 2010-11 and 2011-12 and exceeded the 1,000-point mark in 2013-14 by earning bonus points from former student-athletes returning to obtain their degrees. Arizona went on to earn another perfect score of 1,000 in APR for the 2017-18 season.

Part of Miller's philosophy is also centered on community involvement and giving back to those who support the UA program. To that end, the Wildcats have been frequent visitors to Diamond Children's Hospital at the University of Arizona Medical Center during Miller's tenure, as well as taking part in activities with other local organizations.

Miller has also been active in the annual Coaches Charity Challenge, competing against other coaches across the nation for votes to raise money for Ronald McDonald House Charities of Southern Arizona and Casa de los Ninos in Tucson.

THE INTERNATIONAL STAGE
In addition to establishing his place among the elite coaches in the college game, Miller is also a prominent figure in the international arena with USA Basketball for his abilities both as a coach and an evaluator of international-caliber talent.

After being elevated from assistant coach to head coach of the U.S. Men's U19 National Team in 2015, Miller led the United States to the gold medal at the FIBA U19 World Championship in Crete, Greece. The win was the second-straight gold medal at the event for the U.S., marking the first time a team repeated at the event since the U.S. in the late 1970s and early 1980s.
Miller's U19 squad posted a perfect 7-0 record en route to the gold medal, winning its games by an average margin of 25.3 points. Current Arizona guard Allonzo Trier was a key member of the team, averaging 8.7 points on 55.3 percent shooting from the floor to earn his second international gold medal.

In June 2014, Miller served as an assistant coach with U.S. Men's U18 National Team at the FIBA Americas Championship, helping lead the United States to a gold medal. During that tournament, Miller helped mentor Stanley Johnson to tournament MVP honors and his third international gold medal, while Trier collected his first piece of international basketball hardware.

In 2013, Gordon claimed tournament MVP honors at the FIBA U19 World Championship after leading Team USA to a gold medal.

Miller got his USA Basketball coaching start in 2011, when he was a court coach at the USA Basketball Men's World University Games Team training camp.

Miller's first gold medal with USA Basketball came as a player in 1991, when he helped propel the U.S. to gold in men's basketball at the World University Games in Sheffield, England.

PLAYING CAREER
Regarded as the best three-point shooter in the history of the Pittsburgh program, Miller was a Big East All-Rookie Team pick in 1988.

Miller helped lead the Panthers to the 1988 Big East regular-season title, as well as three NCAA Tournament appearances. He was an integral part of one of the most famous plays in college basketball history, delivering the assist to Jerome Lane for "The Dunk," which Bill Raftery immortalized with the phrase, "Send it in, Jerome!"

A member of the Pitt All-Centennial Team that was convened in 2005, Miller currently ranks 18th on the program's career scoring chart with 1,282 points. He also ranks 10th on the NCAA Division I free throw shooting list at .885 and stands third on the Big East's career assists chart (744).
He served as the Panthers' team captain for the 1991-92 campaign.

A legend at Blackhawk High School in the Pittsburgh area, Miller was inducted into the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League Hall of Fame in June 2012.

JACK MURPHY
ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH
FIRST SEASON
ARIZONA '02

Jack Murphy was named associate head coach in June of 2019 after serving as the head coach at Northern Arizona. Murphy brings a wealth of experience at both the college and professional ranks, while bringing deep Wildcat ties back with him to Tucson.

Murphy has valuable head coaching experience after spending seven seasons as the leader of the Lumberjack program. He's also a dynamic recruiter that helped Memphis land a top-five recruiting class in 2010, while he served as an assistant. Murphy also spent time in the NBA with the Denver Nuggets as an advance scout for three seasons, after an eight-year stint in Tucson on Coach Lute Olson's staff as a team manager, recruiting coordinator, administrative assistant, video coordinator and director of operations.

Murphy began his basketball career with some of Olson's most successful teams in Tucson. In his eight years with the program, the Wildcats went 199-66 (a .751 winning percentage), won three Pac-10 Championships, one conference tournament, made eight NCAA tournament appearances, while making two Elite Eight appearances and a Final Four appearance.

Murphy spent time as a team manager, recruiting coordinator, administrative assistant, video coordinator and director of operations while with the Wildcats.

In Tucson, Murphy worked with future NBA players Luke Walton, Richard Jefferson, Andre Iguodala, Mike Bibby, Miles Simon, Michael Dickerson, Jason Terry, Gilbert Arenas, Michael Wright, Channing Frye and Hassan Adams. He left a memorable impact on the players he worked with, many of who still remain close with him today.

Following his time in Tucson, Murphy spent three years with the Nuggets, working for coach George Karl, who is one of nine NBA coaches with at least 1,000 career wins. Murphy worked with NBA All-Stars Allen Iverson, Chauncey Billups and Carmelo Anthony, while with Denver and had a strong influence on the Nuggets success. Denver averaged nearly 50 wins a season during Murphy's time with the organization and made the postseason in each of his three seasons.

While at Memphis, Murphy was known as a relentless recruiter, who helped the Tigers secure four players ranked in the nation's Top 100 and two McDonald's All-Americans in the 2010 recruiting class alone. The class was ranked No. 2 by Rivals.com and Scout.com. He then went on to land three more Top 100 players and two more McDonald's All-Americans. The Tigers went 75-29 in Murphy's three seasons with three 20-win seasons.

Murphy, who earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Arizona, remains close with Olson and has continued to use all the lessons the Hall of Famer taught him while leading the Arizona program.

Murphy and his wife, Michelle, have twin daughters, Emma and Isabella, and a son, Dylan.

JUSTIN GAINEY
ASSISTANT COACH
SECOND SEASON
NC STATE '00

Justin Gainey was named assistant coach at the University of Arizona in May of 2018, joining head coach Sean Miller's staff from Santa Clara University. Gainey reunites with Miller in a relationship that dates back two decades.

Gainey's career in college basketball began as a three-year starter at NC State from 1996 to 2000 for head coach Herb Sendek whose staff included Sean Miller as an assistant coach. He earned honorable mention All-ACC honors for the Wolfpack. Gainey helped guide NC State to the ACC Tournament Championship game as an eight seed in his freshman season, playing in all forty minutes of all four games to earn ACC All-Tournament honors.

His coaching career began with a three-year stint at his alma mater, NC State, as Administrative Coordinator and Director of Basketball Operations from 2006 to 2009. Gainey broke into the coaching ranks with Elon University in the 2009-10 season as the program during coach Matt Matheny's rebuild on the program. During his time with the Phoenix, Elon defeated SoCon power Davidson in the conference tournament.

Gainey spent four seasons, from 2010 to 2014, as an assistant coach at Appalachian State where he worked primarily with the Mountaineers' guards. His work with the perimeter players was highlighted by Donald Sims' ascension to first team all-conference honors and the program's all-time scoring record.

He went on to spend three seasons as the Director of Basketball Operations at Marquette under head coach Steve Wojciechowski before joining his former coach, Herb Sendek, as an assistant coach at Santa Clara. While with the Broncos, Gainey worked with SCU's perimeter players that included First Team All-WCC selection K.J. Feagin. Santa Clara's 2018 recruiting class ranks among the ten best mid-major recruiting classes in the nation.

Gainey and his wife, Courtney, have three sons - Jordan, Jayson and Jaxson.

DANNY PETERS
ASSISTANT COACH
SECOND SEASON
OHIO STATE '10

Danny Peters was named assistant coach at the University of Arizona in April of 2018 following a four-year stint as an assistant coach at Ball State University. The appointment marks Peters' second stint as a member of head coach Sean Miller's staff, following his four years in Tucson from 2010 to 2014.

During his time with the Cardinals, Peters aided in head coach James Whitford's overhaul of the program. Ball State posted the nation's fourth largest turnaround in 2015-16 as it earned the first of its two 20-win seasons and shared the MAC West Division championship. The program's first postseason trip of Peters' time in Muncie, Ind., the 2016 CIT, was BSU's first postseason berth in 14 years.

Peters spent four seasons in Tucson from 2010 to 2014, working as a graduate manager for two years before being promoted to assistant director of basketball operations for the final two. The Wildcats won a pair of conference championships and advanced to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament twice during Peters' first stint with the Wildcats.

The Cincinnati native was a four-year letterwinner at Ohio State from 2006 to 2010, appearing in 42 games for head coach Thad Matta. The Buckeyes won two Big Ten regular season championships and a pair of Big Ten Tournaments during his playing career while also advancing to the national championship game of the 2007 NCAA Tournament.

Peters is the son of the late Dan Peters, a longtime college basketball coach. The elder Peters was the head coach at Walsh University (1983-88), St. Joseph's College (Ind.) (1991-93) and Youngstown State (1993-99). He was the 1998 Mid-Continent Conference Coach of the Year after leading YSU to a 20-win season.

RYAN REYNOLDS
ASSISTANT A.D. FOR MEN'S BASKETBALL OPERATIONS
11TH SEASON
XAVIER '07

Longtime Sean Miller staff member Ryan Reynolds is in his 11th year running the Wildcats' basketball operations. In that position, Reynolds has streamlined the day-to-day operations of the program.

Originally hired as an administrative assistant for the 2009-10 season, he was promoted to the Director of Basketball Operations in May 2010. He was promoted to Assistant Athletic Director for Men's Basketball Operations in July 2019. Reynolds has worked alongside Miller in 14 of his 15 seasons in college basketball.

During his tenure in Tucson, Reynolds has controlled the program's internal operations. He has overseen major renovations to McKale Center, the weight room addition to Richard Jefferson Gymnasium, the 2010 men's basketball locker room renovation and the McKale Center hallway project.

Reynolds is also responsible for scheduling the Wildcats' non-conference games, working closely with Miller to annually construct a challenging non-conference schedule. He is also the program's compliance liaison, director of the Sean Miller Basketball Camp, liaison to CATS Academics, budget manager and team travel coordinator.

He has been part of seven NCAA Tournament teams at Arizona, with UA advancing to the Sweet 16 five times and Elite Eight three times with Reynolds on staff. The program has also captured five Pac-12 regular-season titles and three Pac-12 Tournament crowns during his time at UA.

Reynolds joined the Arizona basketball family after spending the 2008-09 campaign as a member of the Wake Forest men's basketball staff, where he was the Demon Deacons' assistant coordinator of basketball operations under head coach Dino Gaudio. He was responsible for assisting with team travel and meals, scheduling and additional logistics within the basketball office. He also coordinated the program's recruiting databases.

In his lone season in Winston-Salem, Wake Forest opened the season 16-0, earning the nation's No. 1 ranking, before finishing the year with a 24-7 record.

Prior to his stint at Wake Forest, Reynolds spent the previous five years working under both Miller and Thad Matta at Xavier University. Four of those seasons were as an undergraduate student manager and the last was as a Graduate Program Assistant, where he prepared and provided scouting videos, film exchange, equipment, administrative assistance and supervision of managers.

Reynolds was part of four NCAA Tournament teams during his tenure at Xavier, including XU's Elite Eight squads in 2004 and 2008. The Musketeers won the Atlantic-10 regular season or tournament title four times in that span.

The Cincinnati native graduated from Xavier University in 2007 with a bachelor's in sports management and a business minor. He earned a Master of Education in sport administration from Xavier in 2008.

IN THE POLLS

The University of Arizona has become a fixture in the men's college basketball rankings. Over the last 31 seasons, the Wildcats have been ranked in the nation's top 25 in 445 of 539 Associated Press polls released in that span (82.5 percent). In fact, the Wildcats' string of 312 consecutive regular-season appearances in that span (Nov. 30, 1987-Dec. 12, 2005) is an AP poll record.

Until being left out of the 2001-02 preseason poll, Arizona had been ranked in the polls for six straight seasons, covering 109 consecutive ranking periods, dating back to Nov. 20, 1996.

Arizona's record in the coaches' poll is almost as impressive. Since the 1989-90 campaign, the Wildcats have been ranked in 422 of 522 polls (80.8 percent) dating back to Dec. 4, 1990. The only breaks in that streak prior to 2005-06 were the 2001-02 preseason and the 2003-04 final poll.

Arizona has been the No. 1 team in the country for 38 different polling periods, with the last coming on a program-record eight-consecutive occasions in the 2013-14 season. The team's initial climb to No. 1 came Dec. 21, 1987 and also happened during the 1988-89, 1990-91, 1996-97, 1997-98 and 2000-01 seasons.

The Wildcats' four-year streak ranked in the AP Top 25 reached 100 weeks during the 2017-18 season, which was the second-longest such streak in the nation behind only Kansas.
