MILLER'S FIRST FOUR SEASONS AMONG BEST IN PAC-12 HISTORY

Arizona has compiled a 48-24 (.667) league record in Sean Miller's first four seasons in the Pac-12. Not only does that mark tie for the best in the conference over that span, but stands as the second-best win total by a coach in his first four years since the league expanded to 10 teams in 1978-79. Only Steve Lavin's 49-23 record in his first four seasons at UCLA is better.

His 96 wins in his first four years are more than any other UA coach or any other current Pac-12 coach in his first four seasons in the league. The Wildcats are averaging 24.0 wins per year under Miller's guidance, and UA's 19 Pac-12 road wins over the last four years are a conference high.

UA SHOWING STEADY IMPROVEMENT IN ADJUSTED DEFENSIVE EFFICIENCY

While known for its offensive prowess and lofty scoring numbers, Arizona has actually improved its adjusted defensive efficiency in each of Sean Miller's first four seasons in Tucson.

From a national rank of 108th in his first campaign at UA, Miller has brought a defensive emphasis that saw the Wildcats move up to 32nd nationally in 2012-13. In each of the last two seasons, Arizona has ranked in the top five in the Pac-12 in adjusted defensive efficiency.

That number could improve yet again in 2013-14, as UA brings back its steals leader in Nick Johnson and three of its top five shot blockers from last season. Arizona also adds transfer point guard T.J. McConnell, who ranked among the national leaders in steals in each of his two seasons at Duquesne, and long, athletic forwards in freshmen Aaron Gordon and Rondae Hollis-Jefferson.

ARIZONA ADJUSTED DEFENSIVE EFFICIENCY SINCE 2009-10

	National Rank	Rating
2009-10	108	97.9
2010-11	71	96.4
2011-12	43	93.8

STOUDAMIRE, BLAIR ADDED TO COACHING STAFF

In a pair of moves that go hand-in-hand with Arizona's "Player's Program" philosophy, Sean Miller added two members of UA's 1994 Final Four team to the Wildcats' coaching staff in the summer of 2013.

Damon Stoudamire, one of the most decorated players in the history of the program, was named assistant coach in May. Prior to his return to Tucson, Stoudamire spent five years as a coach and administrator between the college and pro levels following the end of his 13-year NBA career.

Joseph Blair, a starter on the 1994 squad, was added to the staff as an undergraduate assistant coach later in the summer. The founder of the Blair Charity will work with the Wildcats while pursuing his undergraduate degree.

WILDCATS CONTINUE TO LEAVE MARK ON USA BASKETBALL

Freshman forward Aaron Gordon became the latest Wildcat to leave an Arizona stamp on USA Basketball in the summer of 2013, leading the U.S. to gold at the FIBA U19 World Championship in Prague.

The San Jose native led Team USA in scoring (12.6) and rebounds (6.2), while averaging 2.0 steals per game and shooting 61.2 percent from the floor, in earning tournament MVP honors.

Gordon's success added to an Arizona legacy with the national program that saw Andre Iguodala help the U.S. capture gold medals at both the 2010 FIBA World Championship and the 2012 London Olympics. Iguodala's international record in a USA uniform is a spotless 17-0.

ARIZONA'S NBA DRAFT LEGACY STILL GOING STRONG

Over the last two-and-a-half decades, NBA Draft night has been a night of celebration for members of the Arizona men's basketball program, as 36 UA players have heard their names called since 1988.

The Wildcats' 36 selections over that time are tied for the national lead:

MOST NBA DRAFT PICKS SINCE 1988

1. Arizona	36
Duke	36
Kentucky	36
4. Kansas	33
5. North Carolina	31
UCLA	31

In the summer of 2013, ESPN ranked Arizona sixth among all college programs in terms of producing top NBA talent over the last two-plus decades.

UA has produced a total of 65 NBA draft selections in its men's basketball history, including 18 first-round picks. Ten of Arizona's last 12 NBA draft picks have been first-rounders.

ARIZONA PLAYERS ARE A MODEL OF NBA SUCCESS

UA players have been far from content by just hearing their names called on draft night, however. As has been reported by various media outlets, the fraternity of Arizona's NBA players is nearing the collective $1 billion mark in career earnings, with the total haul set to exceed $960 million during the 2013-14 season.

Collectively, the Wildcat players who have been drafted since 1988 are an accomplished group, having won 13 NBA championships and made six All-Star appearances. The group also boasts a Rookie of the Year (Damon Stoudamire), a Sixth Man of the Year (Jason Terry) and a Most Improved Player (Gilbert Arenas).

There have been at least eight former Wildcats in the NBA in each of the last 13 seasons.

CONTINUING A WINNING TRADITION

At Arizona, winning isn't simply expected - it's part of the program's culture. Since the 1984-85 campaign, the Wildcats have strung together a Pac-12-best 29-consecutive winning seasons.

Over that same time span, UA is tied for fourth nationally in terms of 20-win seasons with 26 such performances. The Wildcats have won an average of 24.7 games per season during that time.

20-WIN SEASONS, 1985-2013

3. Duke	27

FOCUSED ON WINNING CHAMPIONSHIPS

Arizona has claimed or shared 25 conference championships in its 109-year men's basketball history. In 83 seasons as a member of a conference since joining the Border Conference prior to the 1931-32 season, UA has won a league crown on an average of once every 3.3 years.

The Wildcats' 12 conference championships since joining the Pac-12 in 1978-79 are the most in the league.

RECRUITING EFFORTS PAYING OFF IN A BIG WAY

In each of the last three seasons, Arizona head coach Sean Miller and his coaching staff have worked diligently to land recruiting classes that ranked in the top 10 nationally. Having done so, UA is one of only two schools in the nation to boast three-straight top-10 classes, along with Kentucky.

The Wildcats' haul was ranked seventh nationally in 2011 and third in 2012. The 2013 class, headlined by current freshmen Aaron Gordon and Rondae Hollis-Jefferson, was tabbed fifth nationally.

ARIZONA A FREQUENT HOME FOR MCDONALD'S ALL-AMERICANS

With 2013 McDonald's All-Americans Aaron Gordon and Rondae Hollis-Jefferson joining the fold this season, Arizona has now been the college destination for 19 members of that prestigious fraternity.

In each of the last two seasons, Sean Miller and staff have welcomed multiple McDonald's All-Americans, with 2012 honorees Brandon Ashley and Grant Jerrett arriving on campus prior to last season.

GRADUATING PLAYERS A PRIORITY FOR WILDCATS

Over the past seven seasons, Arizona has graduated all 16 of its basketball-playing seniors. Additionally, all 29 student-athletes to complete their eligibility under Sean Miller have earned their degrees since Miller became a head coach in 2004-05.

In the spring 2013 semester, the Wildcats posted the highest single-season semester GPA in program history.

WILDCATS CONTINUE TO RANK AMONG NATION'S ELITE IN ATTENDANCE

In 2012-13, Arizona led the Pac-12 in attendance for the 29th-consecutive season, averaging 14,157 fans in 16 home dates. The season also saw McKale Center go over the eight million-mark in lifetime attendance.

Arizona has ranked in the top 20 nationally in attendance in each of the last 27 seasons, and has won more than 83 percent of its home games since McKale opened on Feb. 1, 1973.

SEAN MILLER HEAD COACH FIFTH SEASON PITTSBURGH '92

As Sean Miller begins year five at the helm of the University of Arizona men's basketball program, he does so knowing that his multifaceted approach to building a program has paid lasting dividends in Tucson. The facts certainly justify the assertion:

His 96 wins in his first four years are more than any UA coach and more than any other current Pac-12 coach in his first four seasons in the league. Arizona is averaging 24 wins per season under Miller, an improvement over the average of 20.0 victories per year in the four seasons before his arrival.

Arizona has compiled a 48-24 (.667) league record in Miller's first four seasons in the Pac-12. Not only does that record tie for the best in the Pac-12 in that span, but since the conference expanded to 10 teams in 1978-79, Miller is one of only two coaches to win 48 conference games in his first four seasons in the league, joining UCLA's Steve Lavin, who went 49-23 (.681) from 1996-2000.

No Pac-12 team has more road wins in conference than Arizona's 19 since Miller took the reins of the program.

After allowing 72.0 points per game in 2009-10, UA has yielded fewer than 70 points on average in each of the last three seasons: 67.9 in 2010-11, 62.7 in 2011-12 and 63.6 in 2012-13. The Wildcats have held opponents to 60 points or less on 40 occasions during Miller's tenure.

UA has been one of the nation's top teams at defending the three-point line under Miller's guidance, allowing opponents to shoot just .312 from long range in that time. In 2010-11 and 2011-12, Arizona opponents shot just a combined .289 from the arc.

Arizona's climb back to the elite level of college basketball began on April 7, 2009, when Sean Miller was named just the program's sixth appointed head coach in the last 87 years. In the time since that announcement, Miller has given the Wildcats the stability, confidence, focus and guidance of a leader who's found success everywhere he's been.

From an initial team meeting that featured just six players, Miller's first 12 months were a whirlwind of activity as he worked tirelessly to rebuild from within. He quickly added eight players to solidify the roster and rebuilt a system in which defensive intensity and offensive cohesiveness form a relentless unit at both ends of the court. Those early efforts have paid off with consistent success.

Arizona went 16-15 in Miller's first season in Tucson, making drastic improvements along the way and establishing his belief that there is no such thing as a quick fix. Hard work and a dedicated effort each day breed success, and his student-athletes have honored that process each day since.

The 2010-11 squad won 30 games, captured the Pac-10 regular-season championship, advanced to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament's West Region and produced the No. 2 pick in that year's NBA Draft. Additionally, Miller reestablished and rejuvenated recruiting ties that have allowed the Wildcats to land three-consecutive top-10 recruiting classes.

In Miller's second season, Arizona essentially increased its production across the board, while simultaneously lowering the production of its opponents in key statistical categories. That improvement culminated in a 30-8 record and the Pac-10 title, Miller's fourth in his first seven years as a college head coach.

Those statistical improvements were also evident on the individual level, as the 2010-11 Wildcats displayed more poise, were more fundamentally sound and were stronger and more assertive on the court, all of which were a testament to Miller's total program development.

Nowhere was that individual development better displayed than with Derrick Williams. After garnering Pac-10 Freshman of the Year honors in 2010, he blossomed into a consensus All-American and the conference Player of the Year as a sophomore. In two years' time, Williams went from the least heralded of Miller's initial five-man recruiting class to the second overall pick in the 2011 NBA Draft.

Miller was rewarded for a season in which Arizona reached as high as No. 10 in the national polls with Pac-10 and NABC District 20 Coach of the Year accolades.

The 2011-12 UA team won 23 games and advanced to the postseason, collecting back-to-back 20-win seasons for the first time in five years. For the second-straight season, UA finished in the top-five nationally in three-point field goal percentage defense and limited opponents to an average of 62.7 points per game, a figure that was the lowest for the program in more than two decades. The Cats played in the Pac-12 Tournament final for the second year in a row and had a pair of all-conference honorees.

Miller's 2012-13 Arizona team captivated the nation with its electrifying 14-0 start before tying for second in the Pac-12 and earning the second NCAA Tournament berth of his tenure. UA reached its second Sweet 16 under Miller, where it fell to Ohio State in a classic back-and-forth affair. The Wildcats finished with a 27-8 record, their third-straight 20-win season.

Two Miller protégés – Solomon Hill and Mark Lyons – were rewarded for outstanding seasons with first-team All-Pac-12 honors.

The 2013 NBA Draft was a significant night for the UA program under Miller, as Hill became the 18th first-round draft pick in program history when the Indiana Pacers selected him 23rd overall. Grant Jerrett gave Arizona two picks on the night when his name was called with the 40th overall selection.

Prior to moving west, Miller completed five seasons as head coach at Xavier from 2004-09. He owns a career coaching record of 216-90 (.706) in nine years as a collegiate head coach to go with four conference regular-season championships, one postseason tournament title and two 30-win seasons.

While at XU, his clubs posted four-consecutive 20-win seasons and NCAA Tournament appearances. The Musketeers won three Atlantic-10 regular-season championships, and Miller guided the school to the Elite Eight in 2008 and the Sweet 16 in 2009.

Miller's 30-7 record in 2007-08 set a Xavier record for victories in a season and helped earn him A-10 Coach of the Year honors. The NABC named Miller its District 10 Coach of the Year, and he was a finalist for a number of other national coaching honors.

His record at Xavier (120-47) ranks him third on the school's coaching wins list behind only Pete Gillen and the late Skip Prosser.

Miller took over as head coach at XU in 2004 following three seasons on Thad Matta's staff as the school's first-ever associate head coach. In that role, he helped the Musketeers record three-straight 26-win seasons and make a run to the 2004 Elite Eight.

Miller began his stint at Xavier after stops at North Carolina State, Pittsburgh, Miami (Ohio) and Wisconsin. He has coached for 17 teams that have advanced to postseason play in 21 years on the collegiate sidelines, including six NCAA Tournament berths in his nine years as a head coach. He has two Elite Eight and two Sweet 16 appearances to his credit and owns an 11-6 (.647) record in the tournament.

As a player at Pittsburgh, Miller participated in three NCAA Tournaments (1988, 1989 and 1991), coached in one as an assistant at Miami (1995) and coached in three as Xavier's associate head coach from 2002-04.

Additionally, Miller's teams have produced 18 winning seasons and averaged better than 20 wins per year in his 21-year career to date.

Moreover, Miller's work with student-athletes off the court has paid outstanding dividends with all 29 of the basketball seniors who have completed their eligibility since 1996 earning their degrees. While a head coach, 16 Xavier players earned their degrees with an additional pair expected to do so in the near future. Since his arrival at Arizona, all 13 of the Wildcats to complete their eligibility under Miller have earned degrees.

Considered the best three-point shooter in the history of the Pittsburgh program, Miller was a Big East All-Rookie Team pick in 1988. He currently ranks 18th on the program's career scoring chart with 1,282 points. Miller also ranks 10th on the NCAA Division I free throw shooting chart at .885 and stands third on the Big East's career assists chart.

He played on the United States' 1991 World University Games Team after his final season at Pittsburgh, earning a gold medal. He was named to the Pitt All-Centennial Team in 2005.

A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Miller was born Nov. 17, 1968. He and his wife, Amy, have three sons, Austin, Cameron and Braden. He attended high school at Blackhawk High School and earned his bachelor's degree in communications from Pittsburgh in 1992.

Miller was inducted into the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League Hall of Fame in June 2012.

JOE PASTERNAK ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH THIRD SEASON INDIANA '99

Joe Pasternack is in his first season as Arizona's associate head coach, having been promoted to the position in June 2013.

He joined the UA staff in May 2011 and has helped the Wildcats to a 50-20 (.714) record and a Sweet 16 appearance in two seasons on the bench. He has helped guide teams to nine NCAA Tournament appearances in 14 years as a college coach and administrator.

Pasternack has also been a key component of an Arizona recruiting effort that has landed three-consecutive top-10 classes, including top-five classes in each of the last two seasons.

A New Orleans native, Pasternack served as head coach at the University of New Orleans from 2007-11 before arriving in Tucson. He led the Privateers to 19 wins in his first season, while establishing himself as a dogged recruiter with one of the Sun Belt's best recruiting classes.

His final season at UNO saw Pasternack lead the program to 16 wins despite losing the majority of his roster to transfer in the wake of the school's decision to become an NCAA Division I independent.

Prior to his tenure at UNO, Pasternack spent eight seasons (2000-07) at the University of California, where he oversaw the Bears' scouting and game preparation efforts, worked with the team's guards on a day-to-day basis and was involved in coordinating a recruiting effort that landed several top-25 classes.

Pasternack got his start in college basketball as a four-year manager under Bob Knight at Indiana, where he broke down game film and assisted in scouting opponents. He graduated from Indiana in 1999 with a degree in marketing.

Pasternack played four years of varsity basketball at Metairie Park Country Day School in New Orleans. He and his wife, Lindsay, have a son, Joe IV, and a daughter, Lilly.

EMANUEL RICHARDSON ASSISTANT COACH FIFTH SEASON PITTSBURGH-JOHNSTOWN '98

Now in his fifth season at Arizona, "Book" Richardson has firmly established himself as one of the finest recruiters in college basketball.

Richardson joined the Arizona basketball family in the spring of 2009, and is in his seventh season as a member of Sean Miller's coaching staff.

His efforts in building and strengthening UA's recruiting ties across the country has helped Arizona land a top-10 recruiting class in 2011 and back-to-back top-five classes in 2012 and 2013.

Richardson spent two seasons at Xavier (2007-09) before his arrival in Tucson, helping guide the Musketeers to 57 wins, two conference titles and a pair of deep NCAA Tournament runs. XU posted a school-record 30 wins and advanced to the Elite Eight in his first season on the bench.

Prior to his tenure at Xavier, Richardson was the Director of Basketball for the New York Gauchos/Teamwork Foundation in the Bronx from 2005-07. He also served as an assistant coach at St. Raymond's High School for Boys in 2004 and was the head coach for ninth and 10th-grade players in the New York Gauchos system in 2003.

Richardson's U-18 red team captured the gold medal at the 2007 USA Basketball Men's Youth Development Festival, making him the youngest coach ever to win the event, and the first AAU coach to be selected by USA Basketball as a festival head coach.

Richardson was an assistant coach at Marist College in 2004-05, where he coordinated the Red Foxes' recruiting, scouting and individual workouts, focusing on guard play and offensive skill development. He spent three seasons as an assistant at Monroe College, an NJCAA program in the Bronx. His 2002-03 club went 31-3, won the Region 15 and District 3 titles and finished fifth at the NJCAA national tournament.

A 1998 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown with a bachelor's degree in business marketing and management, Richardson's coaching career began at his alma mater as the associate head coach in 1999. He helped lead the Division II Mountain Cats to a 23-4 record, the best in school history.

A native of the Bronx, Richardson and his wife, Erin, have three children, daughters Chassidy and Sere, and son E.J.

DAMON STOUDAMIRE ASSISTANT COACH FIRST SEASON ARIZONA '08

One of the most storied players in Wildcat basketball history, Arizona alumnus and former NBA great Damon Stoudamire joined the coaching staff at his alma mater in May 2013.

In just a short time in the coaching ranks, Stoudamire has proven himself a dynamic recruiter and an adept on-court instructor. During his playing career on both the college and professional levels, he had the opportunity to learn the nuances of the profession from such luminaries as Lute Olson and Gregg Popovich.

Stoudamire returned to Tucson after two years as an assistant coach at the University of Memphis, where he helped the Tigers to a combined 57-14 (.803) record from 2010-12. Memphis swept the Conference USA regular season and tournament titles and advanced to the NCAA Tournament in both of Stoudamire's seasons on the bench.

Stoudamire had a two-year run as an assistant with the Memphis Grizzlies from 2009-11. During his tenure, he helped the Grizzlies complete what was at the time the most successful season in franchise history, finishing third in the Southwest Division with a 46-36 record in 2010-11.

Eighth-seeded Memphis shocked the top-seeded San Antonio Spurs in the opening round of the 2011 playoffs before falling to Oklahoma City in the Western Conference semifinals.

In Stoudamire's first season on the Grizzlies' bench, he helped orchestrate a 16-game turnaround from the previous year. In 2010, he also coached the organization's entry into the NBA's Las Vegas Summer League.

Prior to joining the Grizzlies' staff, Stoudamire was the director of player development at Rice during the 2008-09 campaign.

One of the most dynamic guards in Arizona history, Stoudamire led Arizona to a 101-24 (.808) record from 1991-95, winning Pac-10 championships in 1994 and 1995 and leading the Cats to the 1994 Final Four. He received three All-America honors during that 1993-94 season, including consensus first-team accolades. As a senior, he was a finalist for the John R. Wooden Award and captured a share of the Pac-10 Player of the Year award.

Stoudamire finished his collegiate career ranked fifth on the UA career scoring list with 1,849 points, which still ranks sixth today, and his 663-career assists were the second-most in the Lute Olson era. He is the only player in Arizona history to score 40 points in a single game twice and one of only three Wildcats to score more than 600 points in a season twice, finishing his career as the program record holder with 272 three-point field goals (now ranks third). Nearly two decades after the completion of his UA career, Stoudamire still ranks in the top 10 on eight different program career charts.

Nicknamed "Mighty Mouse," Stoudamire was the seventh overall selection in the 1995 NBA Draft by the Toronto Raptors. He played 13 seasons in the league (1995-2008) for Toronto, Portland, Memphis and San Antonio, averaging 13.4 points, 6.1 assists and 3.4 rebounds in 878-career appearances.

In his initial NBA season in 1995-96, Stoudamire averaged 19.0 points, a career-best 9.3 assists and 4.0 rebounds on his way to Rookie of the Year honors. He also claimed the NBA Rookie All-Star Game MVP trophy that season.

During his second NBA season, he averaged a career-high 20.2 points and also posted averages of 8.8 assists and 4.1 boards in 81 games.

Stoudamire was traded to his hometown Portland Trailblazers during the 1997-98 season and played in front of his home fans for eight years. His final year in Portland was his most productive from a scoring standpoint and 15.8 points per game to go along with an average of 5.7 assists. He tallied a career-high 54 points against New Orleans on Jan. 14, 2005, a mark that still stands as the Trail Blazers' single-game record.

From 2005-08, Stoudamire played in 118 games for Memphis, averaging 8.4 points and 4.6 assists in two-plus years. He finished the 2007-08 season – the final year of his career – in San Antonio.

In his NBA career, Stoudamire played on six playoff teams, including five in Portland. He led the 1999-2000 Blazers to the Western Conference finals, where they were defeated by the Los Angeles Lakers in seven games.

RYAN REYNOLDS DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS FIFTH SEASON XAVIER '07

Longtime Sean Miller aide Ryan Reynolds is in his fifth year as the Wildcats' director of basketball operations. In that position, Reynolds oversees the day-to-day operations of the program.

Originally hired as an administrative assistant for the 2009-10 season, he was promoted to his current position in May 2010. Reynolds has worked alongside Miller in nine of his 10 seasons in college basketball.

During his tenure in Tucson, Reynolds has streamlined the program's internal operations, overseen the renovations to the Richard Jefferson Gymnasium, locker room and the McKale Center hallway project, and helped position the program for long-term success.

Reynolds joined the Arizona basketball family after spending the 2008-09 campaign as a member of the Wake Forest men's basketball staff, where he was the Demon Deacons assistant coordinator of operations under Dino Gaudio. He was responsible for assisting with team travel and meals, scheduling and additional logistics within the basketball office. He also coordinated the program's recruiting databases.

In his lone season in Winston-Salem, Wake Forest opened the season 16-0, earning the nation's No. 1 ranking, before finishing the year with a 24-7 record.

Prior to his stint at Wake Forest, Reynolds spent the previous five years (2003-08) working under both Thad Matta and Sean Miller at Xavier. Four of those seasons were as an undergraduate student manager and the last was as the Graduate Program Assistant, where he prepared and provided scouting videos, film exchange, equipment, administrative assistance and supervision of managers.

Reynolds was part of four NCAA Tournament teams during his tenure at Xavier, including XU's Elite Eight squads in 2004 and 2008. The Musketeers won the Atlantic-10 regular season or tournament title four times in that span.

The Cincinnati native graduated from Xavier in 2007 with a bachelor's in sports management and a business minor. He earned his Master's in sport administration from Xavier in 2008.

Reynolds was a standout in both basketball and football at Madeira High School. Playing on the hardwood for his father, Jim, the Cincinnati prep coach of the decade for the 1990s, Reynolds led Madeira to conference, sectional and district titles and a berth in the state tournament's Sweet 16 as a senior. He was a two-time all-league selection in football.

DANNY PETERS ASST. DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS FOURTH SEASON OHIO STATE '10

Danny Peters is in his second year as assistant director of basketball operations, having been promoted to that position in August 2012. He is in his fourth year as a member of the UA staff.

Peters oversees Arizona's video scouting efforts and is responsible for the organization, breakdown, scouting and presentation of game film. He also handles player edits for individual players' use, creates recruiting videos and cuts recruiting film for coaches' evaluation.

Administratively, Peters supervises the academic progress of student-athlete within the program, as all 29 players to complete their eligibility under Sean Miller have earned degrees. Peters is also the co-director of the Sean Miller Basketball Camps and coordinates outreach with former UA players.

Starting his career as a manager at Ohio State for the 2005-06 season, Peters helped train OSU guards such as Mike Conley Jr., Jamar Butler and Evan Turner. Short on players for the 2006-07 campaign, Peters was added to the active roster.

He made a total of 35 appearances in his four-year career, helping the Buckeyes to 110 victories, which was a school record at the time of his graduation. OSU won three Big Ten championships and two Big Ten Tournament titles, advanced to the 2007 Final Four and won the 2008 NIT during Peters' tenure.

Peters originally joined the Wildcat staff as a graduate manager in August 2010, aiding the coaching staff in player and team workouts, in addition to a multitude of video and operational responsibilities.

A Cincinnati native, Peters earned a bachelor's degree in special education from Ohio State in 2010. His father, Dan, is the director of basketball operations at the University of Akron.

CHRIS ROUNDS ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF PERFORMANCE ENHANCEMENT FIFTH SEASON BUFFALO '97

Now in his fifth year as a member of the UA staff, Chris Rounds is directly responsible for the strength and conditioning efforts of the Arizona men's basketball program.

Rounds' efforts in the weight room have paid big dividends for the student-athletes within the program in terms of significant gains in strength, agility and conditioning. With the Cole and Jeannie Davis Strength & Conditioning Center – a state-of-the-art basketball-specific facility housed within the Richard Jefferson Gymnasium – at his disposal, Rounds has been able to implement a vision that has positioned the Wildcats for long-term success.

Rounds has constructed a program that has seen five former players rank in the top four in 185-pound bench press reps at the NBA Draft Combine. In 2011, Derrick Williams led all NBA hopefuls with 19 repetitions.

Prior to arriving in Tucson, Rounds served as head strength and conditioning coach at Xavier for five years (2004-09), overseeing each of its 16 Division I sports. His efforts with the XU men's basketball program paid off in the fact that that former Musketeers were routinely judged to be among the strongest players at NBA pre-draft camps.

Rounds spent four years (2000-04) as the strength and conditioning coach at Loyola Marymount. While at LMU, he directed the fitness of 17 varsity teams and its more than 32 student-athletes. Rounds opened eyes at LMU with the vast improvement in strength and conditioning for the men's basketball program.

Prior to his time at Loyola Marymount, Rounds was an assistant strength coach at the University of Kentucky from 1997-2000. In three years in Lexington, his main responsibilities were the men's and women's basketball programs, as well as tennis and golf. He was part UK's 1998 men's basketball national championship team.

Rounds received his bachelor's degree in exercise science from the University at Buffalo in 1997, and has been a certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) by the National Strength and Conditioning Association since that time. He earned his Master's degree in exercise science from Kentucky in 2000.

IN THE POLLS

The University of Arizona has become a fixture in the men's college basketball rankings. Over the last 26 seasons, the Wildcats have been ranked in the nation's top 25 in 366 of 441 Associated Press polls released in that span (82.8 percent). In fact, the Wildcats' string of 312 consecutive regular-season appearances in that span (Nov. 30, 1987-Dec. 12, 2005) is an AP poll record.

Until being left out of the 2001-02 preseason poll, Arizona had been ranked in the polls for six straight seasons, covering 109 consecutive ranking periods, dating back to Nov. 20, 1996.

Arizona's record in the coaches' poll is almost as impressive. Since the 1989-90 campaign, the Wildcats have been ranked in 340 of 420 polls (81.0 percent) dating back to Dec. 4, 1990. The only breaks in that streak prior to 2005-06 were the 2001-02 preseason and the 2003-04 final poll.

Arizona has been the No. 1 team in the country for 30 different polling periods, with the last coming on five consecutive occasions in the 2002-03 season. The team's initial climb to No. 1 came Dec. 21, 1987 and also happened during the 1988-89, 1990-91, 1996-97, 1997-98 and 2000-01 seasons.

Sean Miller Interview Procedures

Arizona head coach Sean Miller is available for interviews by pre-arranged appointment through the UA communication services office. Miller's weekly press conference will be held in McKale Center on Monday or Tuesday afternoons in either the communication services work room (room 109C) or the Ashley Lohse Room (room 329). Check with the UA communication services office for start times and locations. Another way to get in touch with Miller is through the weekly Pac-12 head coaches teleconference. Media members are advised to call the Arizona or Pac-12 media services offices in advance to get the accurate time and date for each week's call.

UA Player Interview Procedures

Arizona players will be available to the media around the time of Miller's weekly press conference and as scheduled through the communication services office. Players are not to be contacted outside of McKale Center and home/cellular phone numbers will not be given to the media. For interviews with assistant coaches, contact the communication services office. Please respect the student-athletes' academic responsibilities when requesting longer interviews. Requests for coach and player interviews should be made at least 24 hours in advance. Players are off limits on game days (except postgame) and on days in between games on the road.

Press Releases

The UA communication services office will produce regular basketball press releases that will generally be available by mid-day on Mondays and mid-day on the day after a game during the week. These will be available via the UA athletics' website (www.arizonawildcats.com), at the weekly Sean Miller press conference, and in the communication services office. Please contact Cory Walton to receive releases via e-mail.

Credentials

Seating at press row, access to the press room, the interview room, photo areas and locker rooms are restricted to accredited media only. Credentials are issued by game to members of the professional working media only, and should be requested at least 48 hours in advance on company letterhead or via e-mail. Credentials and media parking passes shall be granted on a space-available basis to daily newspapers, television and radio stations on assignment and other coverage approved by the UA's communication services director. Due to limited space on press row, not all requests will be approved. Credentials will not be issued to station general managers.

Media Parking and Entrance

For the 2013-14 season, media parking will be located on the UA Mall (center strip immediately north of McKale Center). All credentialed media should enter the arena at the northeast corner of the arena, through the doors off Martin Avenue next to the Hillenbrand Aquatic Center.

Media Will Call

All credentials will be available for pickup at the communications services office until three hours prior to game time, and then will be available at the media entrance (northeast corner of McKale Center). Please have proper forms of identification when picking up press credentials. Except for special cases, credentials will not be mailed.

Game Day Media Services

Game notes, media guides and rosters will be available in media work room, which is located just off the hallway under the seats in the north end of the arena (McKale Center Room 109C). Halftime statistics will be distributed along press row and in the media work room. Final statistics will be delivered to the interview room and the work room. Full statistics, play-by-play sheets, postgame notes and quotes will be distributed in the work room as well. Phone lines will be available on a shared basis along press row. Additionally, there is wireless internet access in McKale Center. The communications services office will transmit a final box at your request. Radio/TV statisticians, spotters, runners, etc. are available via request through Cory Walton in the UA communication services office. We request that when prior arrangements are made to use the statisticians, they must be paid whether they are employed or not.

Postgame Procedures

Arizona's locker room is closed postgame. Selected players and Coach Miller will be brought to a designated interview area (room 109C at home) following a 5-10 minute cooling off period. Sean Miller has a primary obligation to television networks and the Wildcat Radio Network and then will proceed to the interview room (109C). Visiting teams will follow their own policies in McKale Center.

Phone Lines

The Wildcat Radio Network has installed phone lines for visiting radio on a reciprocal basis. Contact Brian Jeffries at (520/626-7660) for additional information. Media needing their own phone lines on press row can contact the University of Arizona phone office (520/621-5232).

Still Photographers

Courtside photo access will be granted only to working media photographers and must be requested by editors or sports directors. Tripods are prohibited. Strobe lighting for non-NCAA Championship games may be installed on a case-by-case basis, but must be approved and installed well in advance of any game. Still photographers are restricted to the designated baseline areas (northwest and southeast floor area). Additionally, anyone with permission to access strobes in the rafters MUST EXIT the rafters 90 minutes prior to tip-off. NO EXCEPTIONS. Access to this area is for technical purposes related to strobes ONLY and NOT as a vantage point for photos. Access onto the catwalks is restricted during events. Failure to obey this policy affords the University the right to press charges that include endangerment and trespass.

RESERVING PHOTO BOXES: The baseline photo boxes marked for photographers will be assigned to photographers possessing a UA season media credential. All other available spots remain available on a first-come, first-served basis. However, boxes CANNOT be reserved with a card any more than three hours prior to tip-off. Cards placed in the boxes in advance of that deadline will be removed.

News Television Photographers

Television photographers are restricted to the same baseline areas as still photographers. No live shots will be permitted on the floor prior to or during any game. Additionally, no arena live shots can take place in areas that restrict spectator views or access to walkways or the seating area.

Broadcast Television

Live television crews have locations at mid-court. There is opportunity for baseline camera locations next to the basket supports. Per Pac-12 rules, at no time will cameras be allowed in the team bench area. All television cables are permanently installed.

Broadcast Rights

All requests for radio and television rights and fees should be directed to James Francis, UA senior associate director of athletics (520/621-8001).

Press Row

Press seating is located on the floor along the west side of the McKale Center playing floor and in the middle level of seating in section 24. Press row is reserved for working media members only. Friends, spouses and children are not allowed to sit at press row, in compliance with the United States Basketball Writers Association working code. Cheering of any sort is not permitted.

Media guides and game notes will be available for all NBA scouts in the work room (McKale Center Room 109).
